

GC
977.202
F77SOUT,
1961-1962

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2021 with funding from
Allen County Public Library Genealogy Center

<https://archive.org/details/sstimes19611962fort>

BIND ENTIRE _____ NO. COVERS _____ REMOVE ADV _____ INDEX BACK _____ INDEX FRONT _____ COLOR NO. _____ PATTERN ON FILE _____ RUB SENT <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> _____ NEW BINDING _____	SPINE LETTERING 40 1961-62
---	---

PAPER GOLD BLACK WHITE OTHER _____	SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS NO. COVERS _____ RE _____
--	--

SOUTH SIDE H.S.	QUANTITY TRIM _____
-----------------	------------------------

VOL. _____	OF _____	COVER SIZE _____
JOB NO. _____		X

REF	REB	BOOK	BR. PAM	MAG. PAM	NEW CASE	MISC

SPECIAL PREP. _____	INSERT MATS _____	LABELS _____	BEN. SEW _____
---------------------	-------------------	--------------	----------------

2 VOLS BD IN 1	TAPE STUB	GUM FILLER	STUB FILLER
V	T	G	F
FILLER W/STUB	SEP. SHEETS	PAPER PKT.	BARN PKT.
W	S	P	R
PTS. BD. IN PAPER	PTS. BD. IN CLOTH	PERMA - FILM
UP TO 12" _____	OVER 12" _____
A	J	D	E

BINDERY USE ONLY

1

THE HECKMAN BINDERY, INC.

NORTH MANCHESTER • INDIANA

WRITE HEAVY. THIS IS A FIVE PART FORM.

40
J-100-100

2

• SOUTH SIDE R.R.

Archer Antics

Faculty, Pupils Inspect School

PUZZLED SENIORS . . . Wondering about the mysteries of the chem lab are, from left to right, Sue McGinnis, Dian Leath, Steve McDonald, and Allen Sheldon, seniors. These Archers will undoubtedly have some of these "mysteries" revealed to them after they delve into that exciting senior course, chemistry.—Photo by Lowden

SPRUCE-UP STADIUM . . . Junior girls, from left to right, Tonya Hines, Diana Ornas, and Betsy Junker seem more interested in football player Bob Leininger than in the Archers' rejuvenated stadium, where crumbling edges and cracks have been repaired for the coming seasons.—Photo by Lowden

STUDIOUS SOPHOMORES . . . Sporting new locker-room doors, the study hall attracts four sophomores, from left to right, Mary Crowder, Brad Zieg, Myra Rubino, and Jim McMahan. Evidently, these Kellys are expecting a year of hard work, so they intend to get off on the right foot.—Photo by Lowden

FRESHMAN TRADITION . . . All incoming freshmen and sophomores milled around this morning in the gym looking for the appropriate doorway where they could find their schedules, while many upperclassmen offered a "helping hand." From left to right are Sally Byers, Lydia Budowski, and Bill Collins.—Photo by Lowden

NEW ENGLISH OFFICE . . . Looking over textbooks in Room 102, the new English office this year as well as the office of the senior counselor, Mr. Jack Weicker, are English instructors, from left to right, Mr. LaVerne Harader, Miss Mary Graham, Mr. Ronald Gersmehl, and Mr. Charles Billiard, head of the English Department.—Photo by Lowden

Times Staff Launches Circulation Drive, Sets $1250 As First-Day Subscription Goal

Books!

Rental Prices, Fees Published For Fall Term

To simplify the task of renting and purchasing textbooks, Kelly students are provided with the book rental price list. To rent texts, each student will receive a book rental card during the first homeroom period for a $1 fee.

He must take the book rental card to each class and have it signed by his instructor when textbooks are issued. The card should then be returned to the homeroom teacher during the second homeroom period.

If the student wishes to purchase his textbooks, he may do so by contacting Mrs. Jack Weicker, secretary, in the book store at the south end of the gym.

The rental price of some books has been doubled because they are used only one semester a year. The increased price is necessary in order to have the books pay for themselves within the five-year period that it takes other books, used two semesters a year, to pay for themselves.

Since fees must be collected from students of certain departments, they are also included in the following list:

Books	English	Price
English—7x pupils
Fee 45 cents per semester
Building Better English 9	38	3.02
Building Better English 10	38	3.02
Enjoying English 11	37	2.95
Guide to Modern English	40	3.13
Warriner's English Gram.	36	2.81
Adventures for Americans	49	3.92
Adventures in American Lit.	51	4.07
Adventures in English Lit.	52	4.10
Adventures in Living	45	3.56
Adventures in Modern Lit.	49	3.92
Adventures in Reading	45	3.56
Adventures for Today	45	3.56
Exploring Life Through Lit.	46	3.64
Good Times Through Lit.	44	3.49
Prose and Poetry for
Appreciation	48	3.78
Prose and Poetry of America	49	3.92
Prose and Poetry of the World	56	4.50
Readings in Contemporary Lit.
Essays and Drama	30	1.50
Fiction and Poetry	30	1.50
Hie to the Hunters	50	2.02
Jane Eyre	34	1.36
Jonathan Goes West	58	2.30
Les Miserables	54	2.16
Odyssey	54	2.16
Ramona	54	2.16
Scarlet Pimpernel	54	2.16
The Spy	54	2.16
T Model Tommy	46	1.80
Johnny Tremain	48	1.94
The Virginian	58	2.30
The New American Speech	43	3.42
Contrasts, Idea, and
Technique	1.00	4.00
English Sentence, Null50
Thread That Runs So True	86	2.43

Health	Science	Home Economics
All Students
Fee 50 cents per semester
Your Health and Safety	45	3.56
Modern Physics	54	4.28
Modern Chemistry	68	6.04
Chemistry
Fee $1 per semester
Modern Biology	55	4.39
Biology
Fee 50 cents per semester
Modern Physical Science	47	3.74
Earth and Its Resources	70	5.58
Botany	97	7.75
Botany
Fee 60 cents per semester
Physics	62	4.93
Physics
Fee 50 cents per semester
Physics Lab Book	30	1.23
General Science
Fee 25 cents per semester
Physical Geography
Fee 25 cents per semester
Home Economics
All Students
Fee 50 cents per semester
Clothing Const. & Wardrobe
Planning	47	3.77
Experiences With Food	52	4.14
Managements for Better
Living	45	3.60

(Continued on Page 6)

Principal Sets Rules For Excusing Pupils From Regular Class

To standardize the procedure of excusing students from classes, the following plan has been arranged by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, for the fall semester.

Students requesting unexcused absences or to be excused from regular assignments must file a request blank in the office by Thursday evening of the week before the pupil wants to be excused. The list of pupils will be issued in the Monday bulletin.

In cases in which a general school event is not concerned, the consent of the teachers whose classes are missed must be secured.

Teachers who wish to use their own classes to perform specific tasks, need not file the request blanks since it will not affect other classes.

Procedure for excusing students from the Study Hall will be the same as last year. The teacher must send a study hall out slip requesting the presence of the student.

School Changes Include Office, Doors, Rooms

During summer vacation, the Indiana Construction Company, assisted by the custodians, has effected several improvements to the interior and exterior of South.

New doors have been installed at certain doorways, and other doors have been rehung.

A major project, to modernize the Chemistry Department, which has not been remodeled since 1922, has not been finished. It will be completed during Christmas vacation. In Rooms 2 and 4, the chemistry rooms, the demonstration tables are being rebuilt and refinished; the floor and ceilings are being redone; and new desks and experimental tables are being installed.

In order to accommodate Mr. Jack Weicker, the new senior counselor, Room 102 was made into an office. Mr. Charles Billiard, head of the English Department, will also share these quarters.

Kelly Pupils Commit 69 Traffic Violations During School Year

Because Archers compiled 69 of the 269 traffic violations during the 1960-61 school year, South Side ranked second highest for disobeying laws in the city. However, in marked contrast to past years, the traffic violations of Fort Wayne students decreased during that time period.

North Side had the highest number of violations during the year. Central placed third; Central Catholic, fourth; and Concordia, fifth. Bishop Luers had the least amount of traffic violations.

The cause of this decrease was attributed to the efforts of each school Safety Council, to the concern of the school officials, and to the parents' concern for their children's driving abilities.

Of all offenses, reckless driving and speeding compiled the most numerous violations. In the six city schools, 95 students were fined for reckless driving; South Side students committed 28 of these offenses.

Kellys received 16 of 62 tickets given during the year for speeding. Inadequate equipment resulted in 37 offenses; five of these were fined to South Side drivers.

Archers received nine of 30 violations charged against students running stop signs or traffic signals, four of ten violations for failure to yield another car, and seven of 22 miscellaneous violations.

"We were very pleased with this year's decrease in traffic violations, and we hope the students become even more conscious of the law next year," stated Officer Kenneth Waldrop of the School Safety Division. He also believes that the schools should support not only their Safety Councils but also the Allen County Safety Council.

Rules In Study Hall Set For New Term

As Kellys settle down to begin work once again, the rules of order in the study hall are brought to the attention of the student body.

Students are to be in their seats when the bell sounds. No student is to leave his seat during the study period until he has secured permission from the supervisor.

No talking or visiting is to be permitted.

Student messengers bringing notices to students must give them to the supervisor, or secure permission from the supervisor to deliver them.

The taking of attendance will be done by the students selected by the supervisor.

Students are not to be excused from the study hall for work in a teacher's room unless they present requests for such an excuse before the period starts.

Any student who is sent back to the study hall because of misconduct in the library is to be deprived of the library privilege for the remainder of the semester. Mrs. Frances Stewart will have charge of all attendance records, she will check absences, and will issue admit slips. Admit slips will be issued before school from the supply room opposite the book-room at the south end of the gym. Mr. Wayne Scott, athletic director, will assist her.

Picture Deadline Set For Seniors

Seniors wishing to have their pictures in the 1962 Totem must have them taken by Waters Studio on or before October 31, according to an announcement by Babette Jones, editor-in-chief.

Any senior who did not receive information concerning the pictures is to go to the Totem office in Room 16 as soon as possible.

SUPER SALESMEN . . . Times circulation staffers are happy at the coming of the first day of school that signals the beginning of their campaign. Standing from left to right are Dick Parke, Bill Wilder, Rosie Capps, Sally Sweet, Nancy Redding, and Sue Smith. Seated are Sharon Eitman, left, and Sue Burdick, circulation manager.—Photo by Seaman

Program, Rules For First Day Announced To Aid Kelly Pupils

- The program for the day will be:
8:05-8:35 . . . Homeroom
8:40-9:00 . . . 1st period
9:05-9:25 . . . 2nd period
9:30-9:50 . . . 3rd period
9:55-10:15 . . . 4th period
10:20-10:40 . . . 5th period
10:45-11:05 . . . 6th period
11:10-11:30 . . . 7th period
11:35 . . . Second Homeroom Period

ALL PUPILS MUST ATTEND SECOND HOMEROOM PERIOD!

Announcements of the beginnings and ends of periods will be made by means of the Public Address System.

Program cards are to be taken to the rooms as indicated and are to be signed by the teacher in charge.

All program cards must be returned to the teacher in the second homeroom period.

a. During the lunch period pupils must go to the gym and remain there.

b. During the study period pupils must go to their assigned seats in the study hall.

c. Gymnasium pupils must report to the physical director's offices to have their cards signed.

d. Health teachers will be in the gym during the gym periods. Pupils taking health will have their cards signed by both gym and health teachers.

5. No programs will be changed unless an error has been made.

6. DURING HOMEROOM PERIOD, STUDENTS MUST FILL ALL BLANKS ON PROGRAM CARD.

7. Lockers will be issued during the second homeroom period in all homerooms. These should be secured the first day. None will be issued again until Friday evening of the first week, in Room 112, from 3:25 to 4 p.m.

8. Pupils who live outside the city limits, or whose parents live outside, must bring transfers. These should be in the office by Friday of this week.

9. Pupils who do not have chorus, orchestra, or band on their cards and who want to take one or all of these subjects, should go to the Music Department in Room 40. Periods for these subjects can be arranged only if the pupils have vacant periods at the proper times.

10. Attention of all pupils is called to the method of handling absence excuses. For absence excuses, pupils will report to the Attendance Office. A written excuse, giving the date or dates of absence and the reason, signed by a parent or guardian, must be brought by a pupil after an absence. Admit slips will be issued on presentation of the excuses.

11. Arrangements can readily be made to secure books for those pupils who cannot secure their own at the present time. Students who want help in securing their textbooks should take their lists to Room 104 between 1 and 2 p.m. today.

12. Students who want lockers furnished them are to get an approval in Room 104 the second day of the semester. Lockers will be issued in the office on presentation of this approval.

Students To Buy Paper For $1 Per Semester

Today's Top Salesman To Receive $3; Rooms To Get Snickers Bars

With a first-day goal of $1,250, the South Side Times circulation staff launches this semester's sales campaign today. Students can purchase The Times for $1 or a down payment of 25 cents from any agent on the first day of the campaign; after the first day, they can only buy from their homeroom agents.

The agent that sells the most subscriptions today will receive a $3 prize, and the second high salesman will receive $2.

"We hope to achieve the goal we set for today, but our most important goal is that every homeroom have 100 per cent sales by the end of the campaign," said Sue Burdick, circulation manager.

Subscribers in homerooms that obtain 100 per cent sales will receive candy bars at the end of the campaign, and those in homerooms that had 100 per cent the first day will receive an extra candy bar. The first three issues of The Times will be distributed free to every student, but the fourth issue will be given only to subscribers.

"Certainly, it is anticipated that the school will respond during this campaign as it has in the past. I believe that students will find The Times to be as outstanding as it has been in the past years," stated Mr. James Rohrabugh, publications adviser.

Assisting Sue as bookheads are Nancy Redding, Rosie Capps, Sally Sweet, Sharon Eitman, Dick Parke, Betsy Adams, Janet Calvert, and Bill Wilder. Sue Smith is outside circulation manager.

The following are homeroom agents and the number they must sell to achieve 100 per cent homerooms:

Book I—Nancy Redding, head
S-1 Alice Ashton	22
Tamara Beatty
S-2 Kaylene Gebert
Ann Golden	29
S-3 Susan Horth	25
S-4 Sandy Miller
Sue Phillips	18
S-5 Sandy Thorn	23
2 Bonnie Russell	25
4 Sharyn Yerger	27
6 Sue Berk	31
8 Sharon Eitman	33
Book II—Rosie Capps, head
10 Joyce Lockwood
Becky Baughman	29
12 Joyce Dunlap	33
22 Cindy Jackson	27
24 Babbette Jones	29
26 Peggy Schmidt	28
28 Roberta Twitchell	28
30 Terry Newendorp	28
32 Barrie Spear	32
34 Susan Robinson	33
Book III—Sally Sweet, head
36 Sue Burdick	30
44 Cheryl Nadolny	27
46 Gunther Bauer	32
48 Cindy Miller	23
52 Karen Simmons	29
54 Diana Ornas
Harriet Ochstein	29
56 Doris Hesser	28
58 Susan Lawry	31
Book IV—Sharon Eitman, head
60 Larry Brown	30
Sue Borgmann	30

(Continued on Page 6)

Six Teachers Join South's Staff To Assist In Four Departments

Mr. Robert Kelly

Mrs. Marlene Schang

Mr. David Fell

Being welcomed to South Side's faculty this fall are Mrs. Marcella Elliott, Mr. Ralph Boling, Mrs. Marlene Schang, Mr. Robert Kelly, Mr. Jerry Fatters, and Mr. David Fell.

Mrs. Elliott, an alumna of Ellitsville High School, was graduated with honors from Indiana University in 1952, receiving a B.S. degree in home economics. She also attended Cornell University, where she attained her M.S. degree. She is married and has three children.

Mrs. Elliott is a member of the Indiana State Teachers Association, the Home Economics Exchange Club, and Pi Lambda Theta, Omicron Nu, and Phi Kappa Sororities. She enjoys traveling and has toured the United States extensively and also parts of Canada.

MR. BOLING, who is married and the father of four daughters, was graduated from Scotland High School in 1941. He received his B.S. degree in 1949 and his M.A. in 1955 from Ball State Teachers College, where he majored in business and physical education. He has been teaching for eleven years and has also served as a high school principal.

Mr. Boling is a member of the Waynedale Methodist Church, the Indiana Schoolmen's Club, the Zanesville Lions Club, and Phi Delta Kappa. He has served in the United States Army, and he has visited 31 States and eight foreign countries.

MRS. MARLENE SCHANG, who will be teaching business courses and also working in the library, is returning to South Side after one year at Lakeside Junior High School. A 1955 graduate of Tipton High School, Mrs. Schang attended Ball State Teachers College, where she received her bachelor's degree in 1959.

(Continued on Page 6)

Summer School Becoming Attractive To More People

More students than ever are trying to keep up with the world's fast and frantic pace by extending their education. With many books containing new discoveries being written all the time, it has become necessary for the well-educated person to spend almost as much of his life studying as he does applying his studies.

Therefore, these students have become aware of the one-fourth year that they waste each summer—vacationing.

Education must be continuous for a student to reap its full benefits. After three full months of ignoring current news and trying to "forget it all," the student spends still another month reconditioning his brain, sleeping and eating habits before he can advance any further from where he left off in June.

A mandatory establishment in modern countries—summer school—is now being demanded on a voluntary basis by many United States students and educators. Summer classes give enthusiastic students a chance to, maybe, graduate from high school sooner, or select many courses of personal interest that they may not be able to fit into their school-year schedule.

The enrollment at Central High School this summer was high, illustrating the Fort Wayne students' eagerness for a summer school. New Haven High School made summer courses available at no cost to the students in its area.

Besides wasting students' time, the public is also wasting the large and expensive school buildings, by utilizing them only part of the year. The schools need continuous maintenance care regardless of whether they are being used or not.

Since other schools have begun to offer courses to its students during the summer for free, why shouldn't Fort Wayne public schools begin this advantageous project?—By Ellen Stanbery

Paper Judged Valuable, Useful To Kelly Buyers

An article may be inexpensive, and it may be interesting; but it's not a true bargain unless it's useful.

One's pocketbook tells him whether one dollar is or isn't a large sum. However, when, with that dollar, a student can purchase a semester's publications of The South Side Times, one dollar is a small price for almost anyone.

The paper's staff is composed of high school students. It is concerned with their scholastic accomplishments, social activities, their place in the community, their goals, and their futures. Every week it strives to set forth the best possible printed example of South Side life.

On the pages of The Times are articles of interest to every type of reader. Local and world-wide news, club notes, sports items, information about teachers, classes, and students, teen views, and even jokes may be read weekly. Pictures, numbering almost twenty, along with a cartoon, may be seen in The Times. A calendar, which is helpful in co-ordinating dates with activities, appears monthly.

During the past 39 years, The South Side Times has become widely known and respected for its high standards and achievements in the journalistic field. It has received the highest rating from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association and awards from other equally respected organizations including the International Honor Rating and the George H. Gallup Award from Quill and Scroll. To continue to be successful it needs your support.

Make a wise and worthwhile investment of one dollar and receive the dividends all semester. Buy The Times; get a bargain!—By Janet Dinius

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating; George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

General Manager.....Sandy Thorn
Managing Editor.....Roberta Twitchell
Copy Editors.....Jenny Manth, Ann Golden, Sally Mallozzi, Janet Stern, Steve Pratt, Sue Kelley
News Editor.....Beth Burnett
Feature Editor.....Sue Smith
Acting Editorial Editor.....Kathy DeVore
Editorial Editor.....Sarah Finch
Boys' Sports Editor.....Stuart Schmitz
Girls' Sports Editor.....Jan Nahrwald
Make-Up Editors.....Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee
Picture Editor.....Ken Lowen, Mike Loeber, Marlene Photographers.....Margie Terry
Head Typist.....Margie Terry
Business Manager.....Sue Kelley
Assistant Business Manager.....Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager.....Sue Burdick
Assistant Circulation Manager.....Sue Smith
Circulation Assistants.....Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parker, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sharon Edman, Betty Adams
Family Adviser.....James Rohrbaugh

MINOR STAFF
News Writers.....David Flanagan, Ann Flickinger, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parker, Nancy Redding, Julie Rhinehart, Bonnie Strickland, Margie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Tony Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Comer, Rosalee Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Kathy Kline, Jane Kneitel, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Susan Smith, Patty Somers, Nancy Stewart, Ann Weber, Virginia Baran, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Bowers, Pat Cameron, LeVonne Cusack, Marcia Evilsizer, Debby Decker, Karen Franko, Christine Fruehenthal, Mary Graham, Karen Hardy, Kim Klingerman, Stephen Lowen, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Larry Norman, Pat North, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lili Weikart
Feature Writers.....Mary Graham, Kim Klingerman, Bonnie Strickland, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Sueellen Borzmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormby, Sandy Farmer, Steve Pratt, Lili Weikart, Ann Golden, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jim Rose, Vicki Sutterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmitz, Susan Loeber, Kay Bradley, Jane Kneitel, Annelise Rittenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marlan Johnson, Karen Franko, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lorraine Ford, Lisa Wehert, Sue Weisner, Karen Miller, Jodi McKay, Barbie McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jean Ann McGinley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Robbins, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Rennie, Jane Kneitel, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yarger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Badi, Cynthia Duncan, Shirley Davis, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carol Ladick, Gail Brumm, Karen Snavely, Jane Springer, Kay Bradley, Alice Halberger
Editorial Writers.....Peggy Schmitz, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruehenthal, Sally Adams, Mary Brase, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Horth, Sue Kline, Carol Ladick, Larry Norman, Shirley Davis, Paul Mittelstadt, Stephen Lowen, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Marlene Horth, Jane Kneitel, Annelise Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Halberger, Lynelle Dill
Copy Readers.....Beth Burnett, Bill Wilder, Kaylene Gebert, Sharon Stettner, David Flanagan, Beth Nelson, Paul Mittelstadt, Tony Hines, Christie Cousman, Ann Allmeyer, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Douglas Hansen, Cynthia Snider, Sharyn Yarger, Bonnie Smith, Janet Calvert, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Marlene Horth, Kay Bradley, Annelise Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Halberger, Lynelle Dill
Boys' Sports Writers.....Bill Killeen, Roger Post, Bob Leintinger, Kerry Lindlinger, Stephen Lowen, Jon Poto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Typists.....Lorraine Braden, Lili Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Corrie, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Badi

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Allen Sheldon... age, 17... hair, blond... eyes, blue... height, six feet, two inches... course, college... favorites: food, Big Busters... color, blue... subjects, algebra... pastime, wasting gas... sport, basketball... record, "School is Out"... singers, Four Freshmen... T.V. show, "Dobie Gillis"... pet peeve, kids with "souped-up" cars.

Steve McDonald... age, 17... hair, blond... eyes, brown... height, five feet, ten inches... course, college... favorites: food, chicken... color, blue... subjects, algebra... pastime, singing... fad, pegged pants... sport, golf... record, "Michael"... activity, Masque and Gavel... singers, Four Freshmen... T.V. show, "Route 66"... pet peeve, people who turn left in front of cars.

Barb Spiers... age, 17... hair, brown... eyes, blue... height, five feet, three inches... course, college... favorites: food, steak... color, turquoise... subject, math... pastime, homework... fad, current hair styles... sport, swimming... record, "Exodus"... activity, Totem... singer, Ricky Nelson... T.V. show, "Hawaiian Eye"... pet peeve, snobbery.

Mike Stedje... age, 17... hair, brown... eyes, blue... height, five feet, eleven inches... course, general... favorites: food, pizza... color, blue... subject, botany... pastime, homework... sport, wrestling... record, "Young at Heart"... singers, Four Preps... T.V. show, "Bugs Bunny"... pet peeve, girls smoking.

Judy Hollister... age, 17... hair, blonde... eyes, blue... height, five feet, three inches... course, college... favorites: food, pizza... color, pink... subject, English... pastime, "buzzing" Hall's... fad, pleated skirts... sport, swimming... record, "Who Put the Bomb"... activity, styling hair... singer, Johnny Mathis... T.V. show, "Surfside 6"... pet peeve, two-faced people.

Dave Meek... age, 17... hair, dark brown... eyes, blue... height, six feet, one inch... course, college... favorites: food, pumpkin pie... color, blue... subject, algebra... pastime, football... sports, swimming, skiing... record, "Moody River"... singer, Pat Boone... T.V. show, "77 Sunset Strip"... pet peeve, inconsiderate people.

Gretchen Brumm... age, 17... hair, brown... eyes, blue... height, five feet, two inches... course, college... favorites: food, steak... color, blue... subject, English... pastime, tennis... sports, tennis, ice skating... record, "Mountain So High"... activity, Junior Red Cross... singers, Jan and Dean... T.V. show, "My Three Sons"... pet peeve, people who clutter the halls.

Larry Gerig... age, 17... hair, blond... eyes, blue... height, five feet, ten inches... course, college... favorites: food, steak... color, baby blue... subject, history... pastime, drag racing... sport, weight lifting... activity, basketball... singer, Roy Orbison... T.V. show, "Untouchables"... pet peeve, girls who sit at an end spot at Hall's for a long time.

Alumni News

By Lynelle Dill

Allen Steere, '61, spent two months this summer at Meadowmont Camp, a camp for especially talented violinists. One hundred talented youths attended the camp which is about 300 miles north of New York City and near Lake Placid, site of the Winter Olympics. Allen is attending Columbia University in New York and will continue his studies with Mr. Ivan Galamian.

Martha Milnor, '59, and John Bauer of Evanston, Ill., are planning their wedding on December 23 in Plymouth Congregational Church. Martha is a member of Delta Gamma and Tri Kappa Sororities. The couple will live in Evanston where the bride-elect will continue her education at Northwestern.

Arnold Pierson, '58, and Barb Fredrick, '60, caravanned for the Lutheran Church this summer. Arnold is a senior at Wittenberg and Barb is a sophomore at Indiana University.

Jack Winder, '61, spent the last part of his summer vacation in Europe with his family. He will be attending the University of Michigan.

Sandy Klingerman, '61, and Bill Harader, '60, were married July 15 in the chapel of Simpson Methodist Church. Bill is a sophomore at Wabash College.

Sue Ann Stafford, '60, and Ritchie Ireland III of Charleston, West Virginia, are planning to be married. Both are attending Ohio State University. She is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Mary Jane Downy, '61, entered the Parkway School of X-ray Technology yesterday.

Six '61 graduates are entering Indiana University on scholarships. Tom Felger, David Dill, Steve Pohl, and Joan Stanton have won the Merit Fee Remission scholarships; John Bite-man, a State Fee Remission scholarship; and Carolyn DeVore, a Personal Faculty scholarship.

Past Recollections Begin School Year

S tucked-up seniors
C rowded locker rooms
H omework
O dors from the chemistry lab
O rchestra and band practices
L ukewarm water in fountains

A rising before daybreak
G ood grades?
A pple polishing
I nitiation for frosh
N otebooks and note-taking

Ask A Dumb Question...

Short Hemlines, Stretch Slacks Comprise New Fall Fashions

By Susan Horth

Up, up—higher, higher... a man into space? Nope, it is the hemline of the '62 fashions!

Now that wail you hear is not the sound of a zooming supersonic jet, but the annual lamenting ritual of the high school girls as they spend the last days of summer laboriously hoisting the hems of their dated wardrobe.

Fanciful dreamers that we are, we keep on hoping that next year the stylists will consider the woes of student vs. "la mode." Of course, we know this day will never come for we're told that, like history, fashions run in a continuous cycle and we, the fashion buyers of today and tomorrow, are doomed.

LAST YEAR "the look" began with a gentle lifting of the hemline and a streamlining of the bulky look. Now they tell us—not so gently—to renovate the '20's knee tickler for everyday wear. Not only that, but cloche hats are also "in"—and so are long, dangling necklaces and that ancient straight-line look.

But "in" school, faculty and students agree, these fashions are "out."

Pity the chemistry lass gracefully attempting to sit atop her stool with short skirt itching up her thigh, long necklace clanging against test tubes, point-toed sneakers catching stool rungs, and bleary eyes (from long hours at hem-stitching) focusing on chemistry reactions. Ah, for those childhood years when striped t-shirts and plaid slacks were naturally acceptable!

ACTUALLY, THE fashion scene is not that bad. Even though there are many impractical clothes from the pocketbook standpoint, there are some tempting new ideas and colors that are destined to last.

Taking its turn in the yearly turnover of "the color" is burgundy, a reddish-wine color. Yet, rare as it seems, this shade is not dominating the styles that belong to this year alone. Basic straight skirts and ordinary style sweaters have latched onto this hue, but the colors featured on magazine covers and in this year's wardrobe is BRIB instead. (That's fashion lingo for brick red and ivy blue.)

But you want to be stylish? Okay, then here goes. Short skirts, just lingering over the knee-cap, are for you. The actual knee-tickler (the skirt prominently above the knee) is also

Small Snaps

This lad begins his sophomore year. He may be seen in football gear. He works strenuously many an hour to give our varsity reserve power. On waterski he can be found circling the lake around. Baseball is his favorite game; Brown Trucking Company was his team's name. He spent a thrilling day in Disneyland.

The seals at Knot's Farm ate from his hand. In Denver he saw fast dogs do their paces. As he watched the greyhound races. From the Bob Cummings' Show he gets his kicks; He likes to see the pretty chicks. If his name you do seek, Look in the ad section for this week.

'Just 83 School Days Remain In Semester,' Say Columnists

By Rosemary Capps and Martha Lanning

Let's start this column off on a cheerful note (ha, ha!) — only 82½ more days until the end of this semester! It'll be here in no time at all (sure, sure).

Welcome, freshmen and new sophomores (and old sophomores and all juniors and all seniors and all school employees, too). Now, did we leave anybody out? Don't you all agree that our summer vacation was much too short (only three months)? Oh, well, think of all the things we have to look forward to this semester... like Teachers' Convention and Thanksgiving vacation and Christmas vacation!

Advice to freshmen and new sophomores:

1. Believe everything upperclassmen say.
2. Date on school nights.
3. Don't study.
4. Seriously, do buy The Times immediately, if not sooner (only $1)! Remember, freshmen, you're our last ninth grade class (sniff, sniff). Make us proud of you!

Well, let's see what everybody did this summer. Boy, do we have some energetic Archers! While many South Siders loafed at lakes and while Margy Winder toured Europe, our noble football team spent hours and hours during August training for this season.

Let's show the team how much we appreciate their work by really supporting the team wholeheartedly all season long! Girls, let's prove to the boys that we can understand football and not go to the games merely to show off our new clothes and chat with our friends, okay?

While so many sophomores were whooping it up out of town this summer, there were a few who were industrious enough to earn money at various jobs here and there around town. Working at Sears were Sue Perry, Don Sievert, Debby Brooke, and Sharon Eitman. Sharon is really a terrific salesgirl—she works in the candy department and has fun (?) trying to measure candy properly. Just ask her about the time she finally got the right amount for a poor old man and promptly spilled peanuts all over the floor!

Sophomores Ruth Russ and Ginny Barnes journeyed to Africa. Find any headhunters, girls?

Halls has been the scene of several humorous incidents. Were you there when our own Ann Gallmeyer was caught with a car but without a license? Policemen are a kid's best friends (chortle) yeah, we know, Ann.

If any of Tom Shine's friends have discovered strange extras on their telephone bills since a certain girl left for Denver, Colo., they must think nothing of them. Tom has taken to calling Denver long distance every night and charging the calls at random to any little old number he happens to think up.

Seniors! Don't forget to make your senior picture appointments before the last minute!

Did anyone see the eclipse of the moon on August 25?

Say! How do you like South's brand new green doors? And the rearranged Times room? What a change—the upperclassmen will have as hard a time finding their way around as the new students will!

Chemistry students, beware of your experiments! Just remember this poem:

A green little chemist
On a green little day
Mixed some green little chemicals
In a green little way.
Now the green little grasses
Tenderly wave
O'er the green little chemist's
Green little grave.
Sometimes a blown vase can be very embarrassing, can't it, Sue Burdick? Especially when you and Jon Poto have planned an evening of reading!

Hey, Sue Smith, and Beth Burnett, how much did you win at the slot machines in Reno, Nevada? You lost? Oh, you say you were asked to leave the premises? Well, we don't think you look 21 either...

Much thought for the day: You will have a much better chance of leaving your footprints on the sands of time if you wear work shoes.

Traveling Kellys Relive Joys Of Europe; Display Purchases

Bonjour, mes amies! Welcome home!

With these words of greeting, Kellys welcomed their fellow classmates home from a summer's tour of Europe. Docking at New York on September 4, they boarded a plane for Fort Wayne.

During the flight Jon Poto remarked to his companion Sue Burdick that after things settled down at school, the group of travelers should get together to view their pictures. Sue agreed enthusiastically and leaned across the aisle to tell Julie Wadlington and Jerry Kline of the plan.

IN THE MIDST of the conversation, the co-pilot announced, "Fasten your safety belts; we are about to land in New York." Descending the stairs after a smooth landing, Jim Grove (N.S.) and Barrie Spear were met by Dave Tipton and Annel Hoover, who were unable to go. Also among the awaiting crowd were Ruth Russ and Jim More, Monica Cramer and Terry Smith, and Dave Meek and Sharon Graffia.

THE NEXT NIGHT at the jamboree Sue Smith, dressed in the latest casual apparel from Paris, was seen smiling at her date Ken Lowden. Weaving their way through the crowd Tonya Hines and Gary Probst happened upon Karen Miller and Vaughn Correll ('61).

In the bleachers, cheering loudly for John Addington and Eddie Johnson were Honey-K Martindale and Diana Ornas. At the close of play, Betsy Junker, Ron Simon ('61), Susie Smith, and Jim Ellingwood left the crowds to go to get a pizza over which they could relive the fun they had in Italy.

The rest of the week both in school and out, conversation always centered the trip. "I liked London the best, even though it did rain most of the time," commented Steve Gard to Mike Tubino.

"Me too," she replied. "I'm not sure, but I think I enjoyed Venice the most. Didn't you, Mike?" spoke Barb Spiers to Mike Stedje. "No," replied Mike, "I'll never forget Rome with its ancient, beautiful buildings."

Other travelers like Dian Leath and Fred Locke ('61), Pat Somers and Joe Emerson (Hanover), Babs Jones and Tom Merkert (Purdue), Bill Honeck (N.S.) and Dian Bright, and Yvonne Wilson and Ray Thompson (Ball State) enjoyed all the cities, but assuredly the memory of the trip lives on in their minds.

Archers Test Theatrical Talents In Musicals Against Rain, Bats

"The show must go on" became the motto of many aspiring Archers who tested their theatrical talents against wind, rain, bats, and a critical newspaper columnist, at the Festival Music Theater this summer.

Located at Franke Park and directed by Mr. Travis Selmier, the Festival Music Theater presents a season of three productions every year. "Destry Rides Again," "Guys and Dolls," and "Fanny" were the 1961 presentations. Tickets were available to the public for six evenings of each production.

Pre-season Theater try-outs resulted in stage roles for four South Siders. Senior Brenda Harper appeared in "Guys and Dolls" as a "hat box girl" and as a dancer in "Destry Rides Again." Junior Karen Miller and Tom Furnish, sophomore, took part in the chorus ensemble of "Fanny." Bob Buckles, senior, sang in the chorus of "Destry Rides Again."

THE FESTIVAL orchestra was not only conducted by South Side's music director, Mr. Robert Drummond; but also composed of many Kellys. Playing instruments for "Destry Rides Again" were Doris Atzoff, Sally Boyer, Rosemary Capps, Kathy DeVore, Beverly Flanagan, Dave Flanagan, Fran Krandel, Dian Leath, Barbara Nelson, Linda Newell, Steve Pratt, Jack Seigel, and Sandra Stouder.

Accompanying "Guys and Dolls" were Rosemary Capps, Anita Ferber, Dave Flanagan, Martha Lanning, Dian Leath, Barbara Nelson, Steve Pratt, Jack Seigel, Nancy Stauffer, and Sandra Stouder.

Doris Atzoff, Rosemary Capps, Kathy DeVore, Marcia Evilsizer, Anita Ferber, Dave Flanagan, Fran Krandel, Martha Lanning, Dian Leath, Gay Muser, Barbara Nelson, Jack Seigel, Bonnie Smith, Nancy Stauffer, and Sandra Stouder were members of the orchestra in "Fanny."

Several Archers proved to be vital parts of the stage shows because of their backstage assistance. For "Destry" Tom Furnish and Tony Rydell were in charge of shifting sets, which Tony and Logan Smith had helped to construct. In "Guys and Dolls," Logan painted sets. In "Fanny" props were handled by Sherry Spencer and Logan, who also did construction.

The performers found much truth in Shakespeare's saying, "All the world is a stage," for they spent much free time living their parts and going over their routines.

THEATER PRACTICE, moreover, was just as demanding. Several weeks in advance of each opening night, daily rehearsal from 7:30 to 11:00 p.m. took place. In addition entire week-ends were devoted to further preparation.

The orchestra received its music two weeks preceding the productions and began practice at the Fort Wayne Ballet Academy every evening. After a few sessions it joined the cast rehearsal and trained at Franke Park.

Despite the fact that the members of the three productions were of different backgrounds and ages, they worked well together. "We did have trouble keeping up with costume changes," divulged Karen Miller, who recalls slipping into the chorus late.

ANXIOUS TO ENTER the stage world, the Archers discovered the general behind-curtain atmosphere to be one of calm expectation instead of nervous panic. However, there was obvious concern over the contents of forthcoming newspaper reviews.

Although those who took part in the Festival Music Theater presentations found the emphasis of their vacation endeavors placed upon work, they were amply rewarded by the gain of experience, knowledge, fun, and friends.

Frustrated Frosh, Scared Sophs Enter South's Gates To New Life

Smart, Ben F. Geyer Send Largest Groups From 413 Enrollments

Many new faces, belonging to the incoming freshmen and sophomores, will be seen in the corridors of South. The incoming freshmen number 309, and there are 113 new sophomores.

All incoming sophomores are graduates of Ben Geyer Junior High School. They include the following people: Claudia Adams, Jerrie Adams, Dave Bacon, Betty Barnes, Tom Barry, Michael Bauer, Karen Beher, David Becher, Linda Bevington, Jill Bieber, Thomas Blossom, Pat Bobay;

Terrill Borne, Donna Brandenberger, Ginger Brown, Billie Burgo, Mike Byrd, Elaine Chipko, Deanna Clem, Pat Conney, Carol Culver, Linda Dudley, Cynthia Duncan, Jerry Dunlap, Joyce Dunlap, Joyce Dunn, Jim Eller, Cheri Lynn Elani, Diane Ewald, Kenneth Ford, Terry Fuhrman, Rick Fuller;

Carol Gater, Stephen Graves, Paul Green, Dot Gudakunst, Charles Hager, Bill Hanke, Phillip Harding, Barry Harrison, Jeanne Hege, Charles Helton, Dave Hicks, Jean Holley, Tom Hollingsworth, Diane Hollister, Steven Hoepengardner, David Hunsche, Linda Johnson, Denise Jones, Nadine Kapyinos;

BARRARA KRAUSKOPF, Rosie Kreidt, Ronald Larimore, Mike Laughlin, Deborah Love, Howard Lowden, Tom Mack, Anne Markland, Bill Marsh, Nita Jane Martz, James McCall, Bonnie McGraill, Donald McKinley, Carol McMeekin, Susan Meeks, Patricia Miller, Tricia Miller, Sally Morris, George Mueller;

David Mullins, Harold Neal, Robert Platz, Donald Potter, Sharon Radcliff, Chris Raptis, Joyce Ann Raquet, Mary Jane Rice, Connie Richardson, Rebecca Rickert, Steven Riedel, Mary Ann Roach, Tom Roberts, Susan Robinson, Susan Sales;

PAUL SCHEIDEMANTLE, William Schultz, John Simpson, Connie Spencer, Susan Steegman, Marcia Stephens, Donald Stevens, Jim Stilwell, John Stirling, Jackie Thornburg, Raymond Tinkler, Tom Tracey, Gary Tracy;

Patrick Twitchell, Joan VanOsdale, Patty Van Patten, Alan Vaughn, Richard Vordran, Mary Ann Waldrop, Cynthia Wallace, Janet Wenig, Rochelle Werling, John Whiteside, Diane Wilcoxson, Bob Williams, Carmen Wilson, and Barry Winn.

One hundred sixty-five incoming freshmen represent James Smart School and the largest body of freshmen. Next is Hoagland with 67, Bethlehem with 23, and Zion with eight.

THE NEW FROSH from Smart are Linda Arney, John Arnold, John Austin, Keith Babcock, Sharon Barker, Janice Bates, Joyce Bates, Linda Becher, Stanley Beer, Marjorie Belton, Dianne Bercot, Larry Boltz, Cheryl Brady, Jesse Brown, Lydia Budowski, Val Budowski, Debbi Burr, Sandra Burton, Connie Callahan;

Robert Case, Sandra Chamness, Carol Channell, William Charleston, Sharon Cheslock, Paulette Christman, Steven Clem, Linda Sue Churchward, Pamela Cleveland, William G. Collins, James Edward Crenshaw, Kay Crozier, Ted C. Culler, Vicki Culp;

Anna Marie Dekker, Harold Disler, JoAnn Dixon, Margie Dorsett, Lynette Downing, Delbert Durst, Eurayna Edwards, James (Mike) Ensley, Pamela Ensley, Nancy Enz, James F. Evans, Ronald Everson, Jacklyn Figel, James A. Fletcher;

Dan Fortney, Diana Foulks, Sherry Fox, Suzanne Freeman, Leslie Froebe, Sandra Gentit, Janet M. Gerig, Jocelyn Good, Boris Gosheff, Laura Graham, Teddy Graham, Donald Grier, Linda Grimm, Russell Grose, Linda Handy;

Valentina Harabosky, Judith Harden, Linda Harding, Orlo Hart, Michael Hartsox, Susan Haycox, Sally Henderson, James Hensley, Shirley Ann Henson, Walter E. Hess, Doris H. Hessler, Benita Houser, Marilyn Hughes, Wayne Hughes;

LINDA LOU KEENER, Robert Kinsey, Judy Koehl, Carl Koop, Sharon LeFever, David Linsky, Marjorie Long, Linda Loomis, Richard Lump, Jerry Machamer, Beverly Malone, Phil Malott, Nancy Markin, Sandra Marsh, Ronald Martin, Marcella McMillan, Daniel N. Merica, Linda Metzger;

Janet Miller, Kerry Alan Miller, Steve Mills, Martha Moore, Vicki Masure, Terry Mullins, David Mundt, Darlene Neireiter, David Nesbitt, Diana Nordblom, Bruce Overman, Tom Parrish, Norbert K. Porrot, Ducie (Kay) Patrick, Bonnie Post;

Terry Potts, Ronnie Prasuhn, Judy Putnam, Nita Quinn, Stephen Quinn, Tom Raines, Connie Ray, Carol Rice, Pamela Richardson, Elizabeth Richter, Carol J. Riley, Greg Riley, Richard Robbins, Ed Rogers, Thomas Rogers, Mike Rossetto, Frederick W. Rothert;

ROY RUSSELL, Charles Ryan, Kevin Shinaberry, Karen Shroyer, David Siddall, Alvin Silvers, Laurel Skinner, Don Slane, Steven Benton Smeth-

Vesta Club To Meet

"To increase the members' knowledge and enjoyment of home economics is the main aim of Vesta this year," stated Nancy Stauffer, president. She also said that any girl interested in home economics is invited to the Greeley Room on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. for the organization meeting.

New members can join at any of the first three meetings. Mrs. Murphy is the sponsor.

Real Estate & Insurance Robert H. Carto & Associates
2414 South Calhoun Street
H-5916 K-4909

NEW STUDENTS, NEW DOORS . . . Bright new doors, part of the face-lifting South Side has undergone during the summer months, greeted Kells returning from vacations this morning. Entering Archerland are new freshmen and sophomore students, from left to right, Jessie Frost, Malinda Cunningham, Howard Lowden, and Fred Rothert.—Photo by Seaman

ers, Albert Soil, Janet Stanton, Rodney Stone, Mary Ann Stults, Steven Jay Summers, Jerry Sutter;

Nina Szeveczenko, David Taylor, Garland Taylor, Joanne Thomas, Karen Thompson, Rudolph Thurman, Tom L. Tindall, Barbara Trainovitch, Cheryl Trulock, Ron Van Ryn, Ed Warren, Jerry Waters, Dick Webb, Keith L. Williams, Mike Willibey, Kathleen Wyss, Paul Yarnman, Jr., Pamela Young, and Deborah Zollinger.

Freshmen from Hoagland are Bernice Acton, Roger Allmandinger, Richard L. Astrom, James E. Bailey, Steven Becker, William M. Bischoff, Phyllis Bixby, Kerry Blauvelt, Aileen Booty, Joan Brooks, Sally Byers, Lewis Campos, Richard E. Campos, Janice Cerveris;

Steve Cochran, Donna Coleman, Rodney Consalvo, Ramona Cornelius, Debora Craig, James A. Crick, Paul Cuel, Mary Melinda Cunningham;

JUDY CURTIS, Robert Cushman, Mickey Donahoo, Daniel Dunscombe, David Fishbaugh, Dianne Gilliom, Suezette Glass;

Steven Griebel, Sandy Haneline, Brian Haycock, Marsha Heater, Jeff Herman, Frances Hudlow, Kathy Hughes, Gary M. Hurlinger, Daniel G. Junk, Linda Sue Knox, Sherrill Kreigh, Cheryl Lynn Krudop, Connie Kumfer, Joy Elaine Locke, Mark Lowens;

Wendy McDermott, Elbert McKinney, Rodger Meadows, Julia Merchant, Carolyn Mielke, Thomas M. Muha, Cheryl Nadolay, Claudia Neat, Nancy O'Connell, Max Parrott, Lynn Raby, Sandra Reed, Darlene Richard, Barbara Rife, Dennis Ruch, Richard A. Rutkowski, Beverly Strawser, Linda Thornburg, Pat Turfingier, Diana Tyler, and Barbara Wible.

Bethlehem sent Richard Ahlersmeyer, Margo Lynn Betz, Suzanne Boylan, Steven W. Butz, Kay E. Chen, Russell Clavson, Marilyn Gerke, San-

Kelly Steve Lowens Attends Boys' State

Having been chosen by the Temple Brotherhood, Steve Lowens, senior, attended Boys' State at Indiana University in Bloomington.

The purpose of Boys' State is to interest high school students in the government and make them aware of its functions. Steve was one of about nine hundred juniors who went to the school.

While at Boys' State, Steve was assigned to the Federalist Party. After participating in government classes, the students formed their own government. Having nominated candidates for the city, county, and state positions, an election campaign was conducted. The chosen officers then carried out their duties.

In addition to the main officers, policemen, firemen, campaign committee members, and a marriage counselor were elected.

During a morning and evening assembly, the boys listened to a speaker who gave some of the phases in the government. Later they had political activities, athletics, and marching practices for those who played instruments.

"I think Boys' State is fine for anybody interested in the government or in entering politics," stated Steve.

GERDING'S DRUGS
3414 Fairfield
H-1185
2638 South Anthony
H-3381

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

Archers Begin Use Of Library Today; Rules, Hours Given

Opening for students' use today, the library in Room 114 will have hours from 7:50 a.m. to 4 p.m.; it will be closed during the fifth period. "Each student who uses the library must comply with its rules and procedures, although no card is necessary," stated Miss Willodeen Price, librarian.

BECAUSE OF THE library's limited seating capacity, students intending to study from their textbooks must remain in the study hall. No students are to work together in the library during school hours; however, they may do so either before or after school.

Upon entering the library at the beginning of the period, each student is given a roll slip indicating the table and chair to which he is assigned for that period. He is to immediately sign his slip and remain in his seat until all slips have been collected. Any student not in his seat when the bell rings will be given an eighth period for tardiness.

Books are loaned for either two-week periods or overnight. Those loaned for two weeks may be renewed once. Reference materials are for overnight use only. Only those books, pictures, magazines, and clippings which have been dated at the desk may be taken from the library.

ALL BOOKS ARE due by 8 a.m. on the date stamped on the checkout card. Any student with an overdue book will receive a notice on the following morning and will be fined five cents each day until the book is returned, two weekly notices are sent to its borrower.

Withholding the book longer requires the student to see the librarian. If the student returns the book but does not pay the fine, he will be sent notices for three weeks. Failure to return the book or pay the fine will hold the student's grades at the close of the semester.

Six Teachers Quit Positions At South

Leaving South's faculty this fall are Miss Nell Covalt, Mrs. Karen Frankenstein, Mr. Richard Shellenberger, Mr. Don Weaver, Mrs. Ramona Ransburg, and Miss Edna Shideler.

Miss Covalt and Mrs. Frankenstein have retired from the teaching profession and are living with their families in Kokomo and Fort Wayne, respectively. Both instructors formerly taught in the Business Department.

Mr. Weaver is teaching mathematics at Harrison Hill and Mrs. Ransburg and Miss Shideler have taken jobs at North Side. Mrs. Ransburg teaches French; Miss Shideler teaches home economics.

In the mornings, Mr. Melchi is an instructor in industrial arts at James Smart. He will teach at South in the afternoons.

Miss Frances Stobaugh, former secretary, hopes to leave for Texas where she will live with her mother. Mr. Shellenberger, former science teacher, has accepted a teaching position in Iowa.

Alice Ashton Attends Red Cross Council

During the summer Alice Ashton, senior A, attended a Junior Red Cross Convention at Miami University in Oxford, O., along with five delegates from the Fort Wayne area.

Girls from all over Northeastern United States and six girls from Chile attended. "I enjoyed meeting everyone, especially the six girls from Chile," stated Alice.

During Alice's week at the convention, she attended classes every day and learned about the different phases of the Red Cross, both in this country and abroad. She also learned how a Red Cross chapter is formed. Although the girls attended classes during the day, they had parties in the evenings; on the last night they had a formal banquet.

"At the first meeting of the Junior Red Cross Club I will give an introduction to Red Cross work," stated Alice.

Marks CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision
3720 South Calhoun St.

McDonald's DRIVE-IN
Cheeseburger 19¢
McDonald's 100% PURE BEEF HAMBURGER WITH DELICIOUS MELTED CHEESE!
TREAT your Family TO A VISIT TO McDonald's the home of the All American Meal
100% Pure Beef HAMBURGER 15¢
FRENCH FRIES 10¢
MILK SHAKE 20¢
ALL FOR JUST 45¢
2—LOCATIONS—2
CALIFORNIA ROAD & HI-WAY 30 EAST

Principal, Dean, Guidance Counselor Extend Welcome To New Kelly Pupils

Mr. R. Nelson Snider

Miss Pauline Van Gorder

Mr. Ora Davis

The start of the school year 1961-1962 brings together over two thousand people in South Side High School. Of these, slightly over four hundred are students new to the school this year, and six are new teachers. To all of the students and teachers who have been here before, and to all who are starting their work here this September, the school extends a most hearty welcome.

South Side High School offers each student an opportunity to develop as fast as his abilities and desires will take him. Interesting and valuable extra-curricular activities are available for those who have time for them after they have completed the work for which the school is established. Many fine young men and women are here with whom new students may establish pleasant friendships. Excellent teachers are provided to direct the educational development of the students, and they are always ready to help with personal problems.

This should be one of the finest years our school has experienced. I am sure it will be so if each student will make his best contribution to the joint effort.

R. Nelson Snider

Greetings to the freshmen and to the sophomores who are new to South Side High School.

To have the opportunity of attending a school like South Side is a privilege of which anyone should be proud. The school offers an excellent program of studies. It is staffed by competent teachers, and the student body is extremely friendly.

What you as an individual get from South Side depends largely on what you put into it.

My best wishes to each of you for a happy and successful semester. If I can help you in any way, please come to my office, Room 104.

Pauline Van Gorder

I wish to extend my personal greetings to all students who are returning to South Side and add my sincere welcome to all new students.

I shall be happy to serve you in any capacity that is offered in my office. There will be a number of times during the year when you will be asked for information for my office. I hope you will give it correctly and gladly when asked.

You can set the tone for your whole year during the first few days; so why not work hard, be punctual, be attentive, and be dependable from the very first? May you have a good school year!

Ora M. Davis

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

WESELOH'S PHARMACY

Prescription Druggist

2302 South Calhoun
Corner Creighton Ave.
Phone H-5139—H-6107

Compliments from

ESHCOFF'S DOGHOUSE

3811 S. CLINTON

H-5151

NEW!
SWISH-CLEAN CASUALS WITH THE GOOD-LOOKS GIRLS PREFER

School girls really go for smart-looking Hush Puppies and go for the way they stay like new. A fast brush-up does it. Wolverine pigskin "Hell-Cat" tanned to resist dirt, repel water. Solid comfort, too, with crepe sole and steel shank. In fashions finest sports wear colors.

Hush Puppies
BREATHIN' BRUSHED PIGSKIN ■ WOLVERINE

$8.98

3 COLORS

SHOE STORE

Kelly Gridders To Battle Powerful Knights Friday

Luers Squad Boasts Experience, Power, Led By Joe Lebrato

South Side's mighty Archers will discover just how strong they are in a crucial football test Friday at 8 p.m. against the Knights of Bishop Luers in the home stadium.

In the season opener for both teams, the Archers will match their strength against an experienced Luers team. This encounter will go a long way toward determining the success of the Kelly's 1961 football season.

Since this year is the first year that Luers has had a senior class, and the second year that they have had a varsity football team, every player on the team has had a year of varsity experience.

Considering that all eleven starters for South last year have graduated, Luers has an advantage over the Archers.

ALTHOUGH THE KNIGHTS had a varsity team last year and had compiled a very good 5 wins, 2 losses, and 1 tie record, they did not play any city schools. Therefore, it is questionable whether or not they would have fared that well against city competition.

Not only is this game a test for the Archers, but also it will prove if the Knights are as good as their record seems to show.

The Knights are led by head coach John Gaughan, who has proved a very good football coach not only last year, but also by his record before he came to Fort Wayne.

While a backfield coach at Roger Bacon High School in Cincinnati, O., his team compiled 39 wins, 8 losses, and 1 tie record for five years, a fantastic .829 winning percentage.

With capable assistance from Mr. Fred Jamroy and Mr. Bill Dilleo, Mr. Gaughan heads a very good coaching staff which has molded the Luers team into a strong group.

LEADING THE KNIGHTS' charge this year will be all-city fullback Dan Broderick, who is back for what Luers fans hope to be a bigger and better year. Standing 5-11 and weighing 180 pounds, Broderick combines speed and sheer power to make fine gains through the line.

When not handing off to Broderick or one of his fine halfbacks, quarter-back Joe Lebrato who is 5-9 and 155 pounds can pass with good accuracy. A very fine signal caller, Lebrato was a thorn in the side of all Knights' opponents last year as he not only passed well, but also ran very well.

The two leading halfbacks for the black and red are Mike Burns and Bob Shiry. Both of them are small, Burns who is 5-9 and 155 pounds, and Shiry who is 5-8 and 150 pounds. However, both are very fast and shifty.

ANCHORING THE Knight's line is center Steve McArdle who is 6-1 and 175 pounds. McArdle is known as a fine blocker and a very rough defensive man.

Supporting the Knights' offense are ends Charles Niezer and Jim Snyder. This pair is rated as probably the finest pair of ends in the city, both are big and tough. Niezer is 6 foot and 175 pounds, and Snyder is 6-1 and 180 pounds.

The other interior linemen besides McArdle are guards Bruce Loos, Fred Tone, and tackles Bob Groves and Steve McKee. All four are of good size, with Loos who is 5-10 and 215 pounds, Tone is 5-10½ and 165 pounds, Groves is 5-11 and 195 pounds, and McKee is 6 foot and 180 pounds. However, the ability of these four is questionable.

COACH GAUGHAN stated, "We're interested in establishing a good, friendly relationship with South. We feel that the game could go either way. The team that pays the price in pre-game preparation should win."

First Team Pos. Second Team
Charlie Niezer LE, Dennis Fletter
Steve McKee LT, Rich Gillig
Bruce Loos LG, Stan Urbine
Steve McArdle C, Ron Fritz
Fred Tone RG, Ted Egts
Bob Groves RT, Jim F'burger
Jim Snyder RE, Robin Russel
Joe Lebrato QB, Jim Still
Mike Burns LH, Terry Mills
Bob Shiry RH, John Tholen
Dan Broderick FB, John Bush

Herman Klingler's
WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

FOR MORE THAN 50 YEARS
Headquarters for

- Ring Binders
- Brief Cases
- Billfolds
- Luggage
- Purses
- Gifts

REDUCED!!

Scripto Cartridge Pen with Extra Cartridges... NOW $1
Shaver and Pen Center at King's A and I

KING'S - A and I

Downtown
814 Calhoun

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Promoting good sportsmanship, good conduct, and a competitive spirit are some of the purposes of the intramural program at South.

Mr. Clair Motz, head of the intramural program, encourages everyone to join and be active in the many sports that are offered. There are sports in which a person may enter with a team and others for individuals. To enter team sports, a person may either make up a team or sign with Mr. Motz, who will try to place him on a team already formed.

Popular team sports are football in the fall; basketball in the winter; and softball, track, and tug-of-war in the spring. The most popular individual sports are tennis, cross country, horse-shoe, golf, and bowling.

Intramural letters are awarded for outstanding ability and faithful participation. One receives points for entering a sport and additional points for being a team captain or winning a championship.

For the first letter, 140 points are needed. An additional 140 points are needed for an underclass second letter, and 125 points for an upperclass second letter. The same system is used for additional letters.

To prevent any weight advantage in intramural sports, weight divisions have been established. The lightweight division consists of all boys weighing 125 pounds or less. The middleweights are from 125 to 140 pounds. Boys weighing over 140 pounds are in the heavyweight division.

The passport to participation in intramural sports is the parent consent card which may be obtained in the gym office at any time.

Cross country and football are the first two events this fall. Boys may sign up for these sports in the gym office any time. Following the fall sports are tennis, horse-shoe, and golf. More information will be available concerning these sports at a later date.

No boy should feel that he is not qualified to participate in intramurals. Each sport is set up to give every boy a chance to take part and have a good time.

Kelly Game Tickets To Sell For $3.50

"Selling for $3.50, season tickets, covering all home football and basketball games, may be ordered in the home rooms tomorrow," announced Mr. Wayne Scott, athletic director.

Season tickets, also enabling the owner to purchase passes to road contests at a discount, will be distributed in home rooms on Friday.

The football game with Bishop Luers on opening day is one of the few changes in the schedule. The newly-formed Elmhurst squad has also been added to the list of potential victims on the gridiron.

Seven of the eight varsity football games will be played in Fort Wayne. In basketball competition, Anderson Madison Heights and Bishop Luers are the new opponents and the squad will take part in the holiday tournament at Columbia City.

Following are the varsity schedules:

	Football
September
8	Bishop Luers, here
15	Open
23	Hammond Morton, here
29	North Side, here
October
6	Central, there, at North
13	Warsaw, here
20	Elmhurst, there, at South
27	Penn of Mishawaka, there
November
3	Central Catholic, here
	Basketball
November
17	Bluffton, here
22	Southport, here
25	Concordia, there
December
2	Huntington, there
9	Kendallville, here
15	Central Catholic, here, at Coliseum
16	Michigan City, there
28	Holiday Tournament at Columbia City
January
5	North Side, there
6	Mishawaka, there
12	Bishop Luers, here
17	Central, there, at Coliseum
19	Anderson Madison Heights, here
20	Elmhurst, here
26	North Side, here
27	Goshen, there
February
3	Gary Froebel, there
9	Central, here, at Coliseum
16	Logansport, there

TRY
LAUNDRY

"A Complete Music Store"
Everything Musical and Music Studios
Cliff Smith Music
"Where Artist and Student Meet"
At 3108 South Calhoun Street

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista
Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 & 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

GOLLER'S
DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3354
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Phone: T-1141
ALLEN
DAIRY
FOREMOST IN QUALITY CONTROL

Welcome Back!

our milk machines
have missed you . . .

PURE SEALED DAIRY

Archers Excel In Swim Meets During Summer

Archers who participated in summer swimming meets gained many titles in competition at McMillan Park. Those who participated were Jenny Stater and Ed Glick, both three time winners. Jenny had firsts in the girls breast stroke, free style, and individual medley. Ed had his three firsts in the butterfly, free style, and individual medley.

Two time winners were Kaylene Gebert and Alan Schlie. Kaylene got her firsts in the 400-meter free style and 50-meter free style, while Alan got his in the 100-meter back stroke and the 100-meter breast stroke.

Also capturing two firsts, Alan Mason won 25-and-100-meter breast strokes. He also took second place in the 75-meter individual relay behind Dave Rodenbeck and another second in the 25-meter free style.

Marilyn Cole took a first in the 50-meter back stroke, while Susie Hines won the 100-meter breast stroke. Then Susie joined with Sally Bash, Liz Stone, and Sarah Finch to win the 100-meter medley relay.

In the first annual championship swim meet, Rick Meeks established a new record for points in the boys' 1-meter diving contest, beating the old record of Archer Dave Fairweather. Sue Borgmann showed her talent by winning the junior girls' diving.

Basketball Mentor Instructs At Clinic

Mr. Don Reichert, varsity basketball coach, has directed a basketball clinic at Concordia College during the last three summers. He and Mr. W. W. Stelzer, athletic director at Concordia Senior College, taught a group of boys the basic fundamentals of the game. These include everything from foul shooting to setting up a block for a teammate. As the boys improve in their fundamentals, teams are drawn for scrimmage sessions.

The main purpose of the clinic is to start boys out correctly in their high school careers as basketball players. Most of the boys participating in the clinic are of the junior high age group, and all have hopes of making their respective high school teams. It is Coach Reichert's job to show them what they are expected to learn if they wish to better themselves.

Many of the boys get individual attention so that they can improve their styles in the correct way. For some boys, this is their first break from the alley basketball game; and some of the other boys may have played grade school ball. But no matter what former experience the boys may have had, Mr. Reichert tries to teach them good sportsmanship plus basketball.

Munro's Standard
Service
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Want Results?
use
Want Ads

Fort Wayne
Newspapers, Inc.
News-Sentinel
Journal-Gazette
CALL E-0111

Football Coaches' Experiences Show Ability To Guide Squad

CAPABLE COACHES . . . Leading the Kelly football team in a rebuilding year are from left to right, Mr. Warren Hoover, Mr. Wayne Scott, athletic director, Mr. Gene Melchi, Mr. Glen Stebing, assistant coaches, and Mr. Robert Gernand, head coach. Despite the Archers' lack of depth, the coaching staff hopes for a successful season.—Photo by Seaman

This year's varsity football will again be under the direction of Mr. Robert Gernand, head coach. Assisting Coach Gernand with this year's grid prospects will be Mr. Gene Melchi, line coach, and Mr. Warren Hoover, reserve coach. Mr. Glen Stebing will command the freshman squad with assistance from Mr. Wayne Scott.

Head Coach Gernand has helped former Archer teams to victory by starting on Archer attacks in the early '40's. Later he played at Penn State and at Michigan State. He spent one year in Pigeon, Mich., and two years in Stevenson before returning to the service during the Korean crisis.

After returning to South for a year as assistant coach, he traveled to Escanaba, Mich., to serve as head coach for a year. He returned to South in 1955 and has since served as head coach here.

WHEN ASKED ABOUT this year's grid prospects, Coach Gernand stated that South Side would be hurt by lack of experience, but the squad could become a winning team if not plagued by injuries. The coach also slated a weak bench as another soft spot.

Coach Gene Melchi, who will be in charge of the line this year, played center and tackle for Decatur High School and was named to the Little All-State team in 1947 at Ball State.

Before coming to South, Coach Melchi had three major posts. He was assistant coach at Seymour and Lawrence Central, and later took over the head coaching position at Maplewood Junior High School for four years.

Mr. Hoover will coach the reserves and aid with varsity training. Coach Hoover attended Valparaiso University for his bachelor of arts degree and Indiana University for his master's in physical education. During his college days, Mr. Hoover was active in football and tennis.

WHEN QUIZZED about this year's reserve team, Coach Hoover said that the boys out for the first time this year would be an asset to the team and that the squad should prove to be better than average with hard work.

This year's small freshman team will be under the direction of Coach Glen Stebing. Coach Stebing was on the All-State team at Manchester College. He attended Indiana University for his master's degree in physical education and his director's license.

"The frosh team will be small because of fewer incoming freshmen, but they have high spirits and a will to learn," stated the coach, when questioned about the disadvantages facing the freshman team. Another chief problem will be getting a schedule set up because of the complications of the four-year high schools and the junior high schools.

Mr. Scott, assistant freshman football coach, has commanded football squads for 19 years. Before his coaching days, Mr. Scott starred in basketball and baseball at Michigan State.

Summer Sports Attract Archers

Many Archers participated in Fort Wayne golf and tennis tourneys this summer.

Several Kelly golfers played in the City Junior Medal Golf Tournament at Foster Park. Jeff Roth was in the lead at the end of the first round but Bill Miller of Elmhurst won the contest with a 54-hole total of 209. Roth copped third with a 221. Jack Harms ('61), had a score of 226; John Bitman, ('61), 227; Dave Stewart, ('61), 237; Jim Mann, 238; and Vaughn Correll, ('61), 250.

Larry Schneider and Jim Littlejohn, upcoming Archer golfers, competed in the 14-15 age division.

SOUTH SIDE GOLFERS did not score as high in the City Junior Match Golf Tournament at the Elks Country Club. There were only six that took part in the tourney, Larry Schneider, Jim Mann, Jack Harms, Dave Stewart, Jim Littlejohn, and Ray Lerch. The tourney was won by Dave Foreman of Elmhurst, one of the cities finest junior golfers.

Representing South Side on the tennis courts this summer were Al Purdy, Jim Lantz, Matt Cornacchione, Jim McMahan, John Knight, Pat Fiske, Lex Swartz, and Joyce Lockwood.

Al Purdy, Jim McMahan, and John Knight played in many of the tournaments with great success. Al Purdy copped the Fort Wayne Center Championship which qualified him to participate in an Elkhart meet. He also won the Jaycee tournament in Fort Wayne which gave him the chance to compete in Columbus, O.

JIM MCMAHAN placed second in the novice boys singles and John Knight was seeded first in the Tennis League Tourney.

Janice's sister, Cherylene, placed first City Park's junior girls singles and in the Girls 18 League Tourney. Janice's sister, Cherylene, placed first in the City Park's girls singles and in the Girls 15 League Tournament. Both sisters won the state-wide Jaycee Tournament in their own division and qualified for the tournament in Lansing, Mich. Janice and Cherylene won the Fort Wayne Center Tournament, which qualified the champions in Elkhart, Ind.

Mr. Everett Havens, tennis coach, supervised all the tennis tournaments.

Majorettes Make Plans

"An organizational majorette meeting will be tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 50," stated Mr. Robert Drummond, sponsor. All majorettes are expected to attend.

calf . . .
in
• black
• stone
• olive • green robinette.

new fashion toes
in fun-time flats

Favorites of the high school crowd — these sleek, soft Robinettes with their up-to-the-minute fashion and easy-to-pay price.

5.95
black or otter calf

TAE
Cr. A. JAE
121 W. Wayne St.

'Green' Grid Squad Faces Rebuilding Campaign

Coach Expects Strong Defense On Slow Team

Kelly Tom McMahan, Veteran Quarterback, To Lead Aggregation

South Side's game with Bishop Luers Friday will mark the beginning of a long season of rebuilding for the Archer gridiron corps.

Eleven of last year's starters, the bulk of the bench strength, were graduated last June. Only nine boys who were on last season's roster are returning to the squad this fall.

Consequently, the Kellys will truly be "green" this year. The team will have to stock up a lot of experience in practice sessions and the first couple of games to produce the seasoned ball handling which last year's team delivered.

WHILE THE BACKFIELD is coordinating itself, the defense should be holding out. Most of the returnees played defense in several games last fall. Five of them started on defense against Penn of Mishawaka in a late-season tilt.

Archer veterans are Tom McMahan, Nate Norment, John Weaver, Chuck Parker, and Don Sievert. Other experienced players are Dave Meek, Jon VanOosten, and the "twins" Jerry Scherrer and Mark Hagerman.

Mr. Robert Gernand, coach, is expecting defense to be the strongest part of the Archer game, at least until late in the season. Even though there is a lot of power in the line, the Green are extremely short on speed. The guards and tackles will have to get their timing down to a science to make up for uncovered ground.

HARD-WORKING GRIDDEERS . . . Preparing for Friday's game with Bishop Luers, Don Sievert, center, gets ready to snap the ball to Tom McMahan, quarterback, while Sid Sheray, fullback, watches the action. These boys typify the hard-working spirit of the Archer gridirers, who have been practicing since August 15.—Photo by Lowden

BACKFIELD speed will be average as far as the whole squad is concerned. Several speedsters are from the track team, but they might lack the power for runs through the line.

The guard post is the strongest link in the Archer forward wall. Scherrer, Hagerman, Weaver, and Bill Rastetter combine punch and thinking ability to form a top flight quartet for alternation on offense and defense.

THE POSITION of end is, as usual, a little unsettled for South. At present, the best prospects are Senior Jon VanOosten; Dave Meyer and Bob Lohman, juniors; and Tom Frazell, a senior speedster.

VanOosten is troubled with a bad knee which invariably acts up each year in football practice. If his leg holds out, his height and experience could help the team.

Meyer and Frazell are fairly reliable at their positions. Track dshman Lohman, who has just started practicing, could prove to be starting material by mid-season.

DEPTH IS A PROBLEM at the tackle posts, but the first stringers are good. Chuck Parker, a 206-pound senior, and speedy Dave Meek form an experienced, determined wall on offense and defense.

Dave Pritchard, also a senior, weighs in at 270 pounds. If he could pick up some speed, he could be a valuable asset at tackle. Jim Wolfe, a 202-pound junior, is also a good candidate for this position.

NOT SO LUCKY as these guards is big Don Sievert who will probably be playing nine-tenths of every game at center and linebacker for the Green. Due to poor support Sievert will have to pace himself to last the entire game, rather than go all out on every play.

The position of quarterback presents almost the same dilemma as center. Tom McMahan is a qualified, capable field general with three years' playing experience, but untried underclassmen are his only help. Though he won't have to play every minute on defense, McMahan will be in on almost every Archer offensive play throughout the season.

THE FLASHY Johnson brothers, Dick and Ed, and fiery Nate Norment give the Green three good halfbacks with lots of get-up-and-go for end sweeps. Mart Platup and Sid Sheray are two husky, fighting fullbacks who give the Kellys a strong attack through the line.

If the blocking materializes, South should have a well balanced, inside-outside running combination with which to gain needed yards and points.

At present, the Archers do not have the strongest team in the city. But all of the squads were hit hard by last year's graduation, and there is no outstanding team in the city with which to cope.

First GAA Meeting To Organize Work

The first meeting of the Girls' Athletic Association will be September 18 for upperclassmen and September 22 for freshmen from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the girls' gym. The meetings are planned for those girls who are interested in athletic activities.

Sponsors for GAA are Mrs. Alice Keegan, upperclass GAA, and Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, freshman GAA. Mrs. Keegan and Mrs. Armstrong stated that they hope to see those girls who are interested in sports and who would like to know more about sports.

Keitzer Pharmacy
4302 Fairfield
H-5104

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

What you want
is a
Coke

"Coke" is a registered trademark.
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY OF
THE FORT WAYNE
COCA-COLA BOTTLING
WORKS, Inc.

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitz

The football season has once again forged into view as Archer fans turn their thoughts to this popular fall sport. This year it appears that the city gridiron squads will be somewhat weaker than last season's prep teams.

South, who lost 11 starters from the 1960 aggregation, will definitely face a rebuilding year. This year's squad will have to be up for every game in order to match or better last season's final tally of 5-3-1, Archerland's best pigskin record in seven years.

Escaping injuries will be a must for the Archers if they are to stay in contention for city title honors. Good depth will be lacking this season, and an injury in the starting lineup could kill South's run for the money.

Despite the loss of All-City backs Bob Bolyard, South's leading scorer last season, and John Somers, this year's backfield will still be a fairly tough four-some. The boys will have fair speed, but will lack experience in the first few games.

Although South has plenty of size on the line, they will be lacking good speed. The line also is shallow as far as good utility backing goes.

Defensively, the Archers look real strong; and this factor will be the key to the Green's success. South will probably rely on an aerial attack as much as they can during this year's grid campaign unless the backfield shows signs of moving the ball better on land.

At the outset of the season, North Side looks on paper like the city's top contender. They have 13 returning lettermen and are a sure bet to better last season's 1-1-6 record. Coach Bill William's Redskins are well experienced and don't lack depth, a problem which several other city squads are facing.

North, led by Scott Werling and Bill Kelly have a pretty strong backfield but they have yet to find an effective combination on the line. Their main problem is finding a rough crew of guards and tackles which will probably iron out as the season progresses.

On the other hand, Central was stripped of some excellent material and will have a squad with little experience and hardly any depth. Coach Paul Bienz's Tigers lost 11 starters including J. C. Lapsley, Willie Rozier, J. C. Beachem, and Walt Raines.

This year's Tiger edition won't be as rough as last year's group, but they will still be fair if they avoid injuries. The backbone of the Tigers, who have an average-size line and backfield but less speed than last year's group, is the returning lettermen.

Central's top returnees include ends Gary Gemmer, Jim Goodson, and Sam Kelsey, guard Ron Smith, halfback Ned Moore, and fullback Sam Turner.

City Champion Central Catholic lost the backbone of their squad but will be city contenders again. Despite the loss of All-City back Bob O'Reilly, the city's top scorer during the 1960 grid campaign, Jim Taylor, Ed Bobay, and Dave Langas, the Irish will again be strong.

Bishop Luers, sporting their second varsity season, will also give a bid in the city race. This being the first senior class, no one was lost from last year's group. Luers will be led by Dave Broderick and Joe Lebrato, their top two prospects.

Sizing up the city title race, North Side will probably be the next city champs with South and C.C. strong contenders. If the Archers overcome their difficulties early in the campaign, they might upset North's bid as could defending champs Central Catholic or possibly Luers. As far as South's overall record, the prediction is 4-3-1 if the Archers escape injuries.

Harrier Squadron Loses Eleven; Coach To Use 'Young Blood'

Severely jolted by graduation losses, South Side's 1961 cross country team, admittedly in a rebuilding season, faces an uphill climb in its efforts to match last year's fine 7-3-1 record and fifteenth-place finish in the State Meet.

Having departed via the diploma route are lettermen Al Rainbolt, Ron Zigler, Jim Porter, Al David, Acie Eldridge, and Don Eisenacher. In addition, Denny Jones, third fastest two-miler in the state in 1960, will now run for Kokomo.

Advancing to fill a large part of the gap left by these graduation departures are the returnees, Juniors Stu Schmitz and Bob Camp, Senior Larry Lee, and Sophomore Steve Myers. Still, with not one letter-winner back, Coach Holt must look to "young blood" in order to replenish his weakened ranks.

New faces that have shown exceptional promise are Ken Ellingwood and Jim More, sophomores, and Jim Burton, a strong-running senior. Other varsity prospects include Bob Piercy, Al Schlie, and Evert Mol, the Archer track squad's fine half-miler.

SOPHOMORES Jim Abramson, Bill Badders, and Jon Lyon and Junior Louie Culbertson, who are in their first year running the two-mile event, have shown some encouraging signs in practice.

Senior Karl Schladehan, two-year veteran as a long-distance man but, primarily, a sprinter, has been progressing slowly. To add to its woes, this year's young squad will take on a 12-meet schedule that is tougher than last year's. Changes are the substitution of Huntington for weaker Wabash and the addition of rugged Warsaw.

STARTING FRIDAY with Central Catholic, the Kellys will go on to battle North, Central, Elmhurst, New Haven, Warsaw, Huntington, Kokomo, Central in a triangular meet, Marion, Elmhurst again, Concordia, and finally New Haven again before moving into Sectionals on October 24.

In Kokomo and New Haven, South faces two teams as tough as any in the state this year. Marion, Warsaw, and Central with perennial "wonder-boy" Henry King, are strong again.

Explorers Find Thrills, Spills On Fifty-Mile Canoe Journey

ARCHER BOATMAN . . . A canoe trip on the Pine and Manistee Rivers in Michigan was a highlight of the summer for four Kellys, from left to right, Paul Cochran, John Lyon, Bruce Baldwin, and Ned Stewart, who demonstrate their skill as woods-men.—Photo by Seaman

Stroke! Stroke! Stroke! Forty-eight miles to go. . . stroke. . . stroke. . . stroke. With these words the Explorer Scout Fifty Miler Award became reality to canoeists Bruce Baldwin, Jim Hall, Paul Cochran, John Lyon, Ned Stewart, John Powers, Charles Golden, Tom Meyers, Victor Martin, South Side graduate Dave Martin, and former Archer, Richard Gough.

Under the direction of Mr. Gathings Stewart, adviser, and Mr. Judson West, assistant adviser, the 11 scouts spent a week's canoe trip on Pine River and Manistee River near Cadillac, Mich.

THE FIFTY MILER AWARD required camping out at least five nights, hiking or canoeing 50 miles, plus 10 hours of service on the trail, improving the surrounding territory.

To meet these goals, the boys took trips down the Manistee River and the raging rapids of the Pine River. At every camping spot, the scouts cleaned up the grounds, so that when they left, the site would be in better condition than when they arrived.

Along their way they repaired roads by burying boulders lodged on the side and removing stumps. On the river banks, erosion was common; so they planted small trees and placed brush in the gullies to prevent further damage.

BY THE END OF the trip, not only had the boys earned the Miler Award, but they had also received the Wildlife Management Merit Badge. In order to obtain the merit badge, each boy was assigned a five-acre tract to survey and identify the wildlife and plants. Then they had to study two different areas, the river bank and the open field, to make a comparison of the habitat.

"All in all," summed up Mr. Stewart, "the trips have been very wonderful and rewarding experiences for the whole troop."

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

SLICK'S
H-3232
Who Leads? Who Best?

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
Early American Furniture
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2350 Fort Wayne, Indiana

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers & Contractors

For

HEATING & AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

it takes only ONE organization

It takes only one to do the job. Fort Wayne Engraving Company has the only complete printing plate service. It costs less to do your job under one roof, Fort Wayne Engraving Company, 120 West Superior Street.

Complete printing plate service.
We do no printing, but cooperate with the printer of your choice.

fort wayne engraving co.

20 WEST SUPERIOR REBERMOR
COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

for your modern dance class

DANSKINS®

LEOTARDS AND TIGHTS!

LEOTARDS . . . 14 COLORS

• Cap Sleeves
3.50 child's
4.50 adults'

• Long Sleeves
4.50 child's
5.50 adults

TIGHTS . . . 14 COLORS

To Match Leotards
3.50

Capezios!
Soft toe ballet slippers!

4.25

SHOE

STORE

115 W. Wayne

Jenny Manth, Sandy Thorn Take Northwestern Journalism Classes

Furthering their knowledge of journalism, Jenny Manth and Sandy Thorn, seniors, attended a five-week journalism institute, from July 2 to August 5, offered by Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Conducted by Professor Benjamin H. Baldwin, associate professor of journalism, Medill School of Journalism at Northwestern, the journalism institute was one of five offered. Similar sessions were conducted in music, education, speech, and technical sciences. Special clinics were offered for those students primarily interested in yearbook or literary magazine work.

In order to enter the school, each applicant was required to present a grade transcript and three character recommendations. The two Archer journalists were among 110 students who attended the institute from 50 states.

Each morning, lectures on some phase of journalism were planned for all the students to attend together. These lectures were followed by laboratory sessions in which the students were given information on a certain subject and asked to write a typical newspaper story, using these facts. These papers were then graded on a college level by Mr. Baldwin and the seven assisting counselors.

IN THE AFTERNOON, the girls attended either contemporary thought lectures, in which they were divided into small groups to discuss current world problems, or lectures and laboratory sessions.

Evening lectures were planned for the journalism students, featuring speakers on various current world problems. One night a week, the students were required to write a contemporary thought paper on one of their own problems.

MEMORIES OF NORTHWESTERN . . . Reminiscing about five weeks spent this summer at Northwestern University, Jenny Manth, left, and Sandy Thorn, look at N.U.'s yearbook, "Syllabus." Sandy, Times general manager, and Jenny, Pegasus editor, were enrolled in the Medill School of Journalism.—Photo by Seaman

The students went on field trips on Wednesdays. Jenny and Sandy toured the Art Museum; the Museum of Science and Industry; Abbott Laboratories, a pharmaceutical concern; Tribune Tower; United States Steel South Works; and the studios of WGN television.

DURING THE FINAL week the students had a "Chicago Night Out" and went to the Empire Room of the Palmer House where Andy Williams was appearing.

On the final night of the institute, an Awards Banquet was staged; and each student was presented a certificate showing that he had attended and completed the work of the journalism seminar. In addition, the student outstanding in each phase of the journalism laboratories, covered at the institute, including contemporary writing, news writing, feature writing, and editorial writing, was presented a special award.

This year, Jenny is serving as editor-in-chief of the fall edition of the Pegasus and as a copy and make-up editor for The Times. Sandy is presently general manager of The Times.

Circulation

(Continued from Page 1)

61 Erin Rose	22
62 Karen Miller	28
64 Nancy Enz	28
66 Suzette Glass	28
68 Brenda Dull	21
70 Tom Erb	22
72 Cindy Christman	28
74 Ann McCallister	30
Book V—Dick Parke, head
75 Susi Hines	28
76 Susan Smith	23
77 Barb Nelson	29
80 Lynelle Dill	32
82 Maria Reiber	28
84 Cheryl Trulock	28
88 Sandra Duff	28
90 Phyllis Pierson	30
91 Sue Korte	30
92 Mary Graham	30
Book VI—Betsy Adams, head
94 Julia Merchant	28
96 Christie Counsman	26
98 Gwen Welling	26
108 Gail Woodruff	26
110 Nancy Stewart	29
116 Donna Summers	30
118 Sharon Karst	30
120 Nancy Redding	30
138 Carol Ladig	31
Book VII—Janet Calvert, head
140 Tonya Hines	30
142 Bev Flanagan	30
144 Karen Franks	31
144 Jane Knettle	31
146 Diane Johnson	23
150 Linda Churchwood	28
152 Nancy Augsburg	28
154 Joyce Spindler	28
156 Sue Weinraub	28
172 Rosie Capps	25
Book VIII—Bill Wilder, head
174 Ann Gallmeyer	29
176 Kathy DeVore	27
178 Martha Hoard	32
182 Ann Brase	29
184 Phyllis Bixby	28
186 Karen Shroyer	27
188 Liz Richter	27
190 Ann Flickinger	34

Music Section Head Gives Try-out Plans

"Any student with instrumental music ability and interest to try-out for a position in the band or orchestra should come to me as soon as possible," stated Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music director. He further commented that interested students should contact him in Room 50 this week so that a more accurate schedule might be posted.

This year the band will play at pep sessions, football and basketball games and music assemblies; the orchestra will perform at PTA meetings and make requested appearances. Both groups participate in annual school concerts.

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.

H-515 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments
1236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES!

Choose from thousands of LP's featuring world famous artists.
• Monaural • Stereo

All first-quality merchandise. No seconds. All your favorite artists. We guarantee all our merchandise to be of first quality.

Whirling Disc Record Shop

1030 S. Calhoun E-9960

Week-day Store Hours:
Wed. and Fri., 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Mon., Tues., Thurs. and Sat.,
10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Cheering Squad To Lead Fans In Pep Session

Varsity cheerleaders for the school year are Sharon Carrel, senior A, one year reserve and one year varsity; Marla Habecker, junior B, one year varsity; Sharon Eitman, senior B, one year reserve; and Babette Jones, senior B, one year reserve.

Returning as a reserve cheerleader is Nancy Robinson; other members of the reserve squad are Sue Harrod, senior B; Martha Dixon, junior B, one year alternate; Sharon Bass, junior B; and Barbie Rea, sophomore B.

Throughout the summer the cheerleaders have had get-togethers, such as the one given by a Concordia cheerleader for all the yell leaders from the Fort Wayne high schools. During the party, the guests became acquainted and taught each other new cheers.

Concerning the coming games, Sharon Eitman stated, "Enthusiastic cheering will boost the team's morale. I hope that the student body will really back the team."

Book Rental

(Continued from Page 1)

Languages
First Year Latin	49 3.85
Second Year Latin	55 4.25
Third Year Latin	58 4.61
Aeneid	52 4.14
Latin Grammar	31 2.41
Latin 4 Pamphlet	10 .50
Le Francois, Book 1	45 3.53
Le Francois, Book 2	52 4.14
A New French Reader	58 2.84
Premier Etape	32 2.50
El Camino Real, Book 1	48 3.78
El Camino Real, Book 2	49 3.85
Mathematics
General Mathematics	41 3.24
Algebra, First Course	45 3.56
Algebra, Second Course	46 3.67
New Plane Geometry	47 3.74
New Solid Geometry	43 3.42
College Algebra	142 5.71
Trigonometry with Tables	96 3.78
Analytic Geometry	102 4.08
Social Studies
9B, 10B, 11B, 11A, 12B, 12A
Fee 25 cents per semester
Civics	54 4.32
Our American Economy	49 3.92
History of a Free People	50 4.79
History of Our World	63 5.04
High School Sociology	50 3.98
Our American Government	53 4.14
Story of Our Country	47 3.74
Commercial
Gregg Transcription	70 2.81
Gregg Shorthand Manual	62 2.45
Gregg Speed Builder	70 2.81
Gregg Dictation Simplified	72 2.84
Most Used Shorthand
Words and Phrases	86
Consumer Econ. Prob. G-16	36 2.88
Fundamentals of Selling	35 2.81
Economic Geography G-89	42 3.35
Economic Geography
Workbook G-89	90
General Business G-10	36 2.88
Gen. Business Wk'bk G-101	79
Gen. Business Wk'bk G-102	79
Effective Bus. Eng. E-15	68 2.70
Business Principles and
Mt. G-24	36 2.81
Business Law L-78	32 2.52
Bus. Law Wk'bk L-781	79
Typewriting Prac. Set E-83	1.87
Bookkeeping Texts, 1st yr.
B-65	32 2.52
Bookkeeping Texts,
Advanced B-68	36 2.88
Bookkeeping Working
Papers B-682	97
Bookkeeping Wk'bk B-611	72
Bookkeeping Grocery Sets
B-613	75
Business Workbooks B-641	61
20th Century Typing
Comp. T-50	35 2.81
Clerical Office Practice	62 2.45
Secretarial Practice
Fee 25 cents per semester
Clerical Practice
Fee 25 cents per semester
Industrial Arts
All students
Fee 50 cents per semester
Art
All students
Fee 50 cents per semester

After the Times meeting, members of the 1500 Club are to assemble to elect officers for the fall semester.

School Adds Six Faculty Members

Mr. Jerry Fettes

(Continued from Page 1)

A former student teacher at South, Mr. Robert Kelly is a 1952 North Side alumnus. He attended the University of Cincinnati and Wayne State University, but received his degree in business from Indiana University in 1959. While at Indiana he received numerous typing and shorthand awards and was on the Dean's List. He spent two years teaching at the Bel River Perry Elementary School.

MR. JERRY FETTES received his diploma from Bluffton High School in 1954 and a B.S. in education from

Mrs. Marcella Ellitt

Ball State in 1957. In 1960, he attended the Graduate School at Ball State, where he concentrated on social studies. He has had three years of teaching experience in the elementary, junior high, and senior high schools of Jefferson Township and Wells County.

Mr. Fettes is a member of the Indiana State Teachers Association, the National Council for Social Studies, the Mississippi Valley Historical Association, the Indiana Historical Society, the National Council for Geographic Education, and the Wells County Historical Society.

Mr. Ralph Boling

David Fell received his degree in education at Ball State Teachers College in 1961. He majored in social studies and minored in English. He belongs to Kappa Delta Pi, Education Honorary; Pi Tau Mu, Social Science Honorary; and Epsilon Gamma Delta, English Honorary.

Mr. Fell was the department nominee for the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. He was also a member of the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll in high school.

REBER'S South Wayne Market

SPECIAL MEAT CUTS
FREE DELIVERY
South Wayne at Cottage
Phone H-9783

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

Two Kellys Represent Church At National Lutheran Conclave

Where but at a convention could one expect to publicly see muu-muus, bare feet, straw hats of all varieties, and sweatshirts emblazoned with the words Illinois University worn in 90-degree weather? What type of convention could this possibly be but a National Lutheran League get-together of over two thousand delegates?

Sally Gilbert, senior, and Barbara Nelson, sophomore, both members of Trinity English Lutheran Church, attended the biennial convention during the week of August 14 as youth visitors along with four other members of their church.

Pastor Richard Frazier, Trinity's youth director, served at the convention as a staff member while Barb Frederick, '60, and Arnold Pierson, '58, attended as youth leaders. The convention theme was "Lord, I Believe," and was designed to help each Leaguer renew and increase his faith.

EACH MORNING the conventioners gathered in Huff Gym at Illinois University to participate in Matins conducted by Pastor William B. Downey, a noted youth speaker who had served in World War II as the chaplain to the air division that dropped the atomic bomb over Hiroshima.

After Matins, the Leaguers went to their respective discussion groups, with the pastor or youth adviser leading the group which centered the discussions around what had been given in the morning service.

After the discussion groups ended, the youth visitors either attended the business session or watched filmstrips and religious movies. Discussion groups dealing with the problems of youths were also conducted at this time.

Workshops were in the afternoon. Sally studied effective methods of worship for the Lutheran League; Barb studied program planning.

During the free time after the workshops, the Leaguers could swim; play baseball, volleyball, or tennis; watch movies; or just relax.

AFTER SUPPER, the conventioners gathered in Huff Gym for the evening programs. U Kyaw Than, a Christian from Burma, spoke of the difficulties of being a Christian in some foreign lands. Another evening the program was a panel which discussed the beliefs of the Lutheran Church.

"We enjoyed all of the programs," said Sally and Barb, "but the one we will never forget is the evening with Mahalia Jackson, inspiring gospel singer."

Closing the convention was a service conducted by Bishop Hanns Lilje of Germany. In his sermon entitled "Help, Thou, My Unbelief," he spoke of the world today and of the hardships of being a Christian.

"This convention has been the highlight of our entire summer, for there we gained a deeper faith, increased our friendships, and received a deeper knowledge of the world in which we live," agreed Sally and Barb.

Shutterbugs To Meet

"Anyone interested in photography will be welcomed into the Camera Club at the first meeting Tuesday in Room 70 at 3:30 p.m.," stated Eugene Gallagher, president.

Sponsoring the club this year is Mr. Richard Sage, mathematics teacher.

Music Section Head Gives Try-out Plans

"Any student with instrumental music ability and interest to try-out for a position in the band or orchestra should come to me as soon as possible," stated Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music director. He further commented that interested students should contact him in Room 50 this week so that a more accurate schedule might be posted.

This year the band will play at pep sessions, football and basketball games and music assemblies; the orchestra will perform at PTA meetings and make requested appearances. Both groups participate in annual school concerts.

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.

H-515 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments
1236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES!

Choose from thousands of LP's featuring world famous artists.
• Monaural • Stereo

All first-quality merchandise. No seconds. All your favorite artists. We guarantee all our merchandise to be of first quality.

Whirling Disc Record Shop

1030 S. Calhoun E-9960

Week-day Store Hours:
Wed. and Fri., 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Mon., Tues., Thurs. and Sat.,
10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

magnifico! sweater fashions from Italy

make a hit on the U.S. scene

Long in line, in fashion, in value . . . these sweaters, full-fashioned, hand loomed in Italy expressly for us, will capture your hearts without emptying your pocket-book. Choose big, bold, bulky long sleeved cardigans or pullovers in exciting styles, stitch details, colors and color trims. You'll love every one of them . . . won't know which to choose first. Come in, these are Italian fashions truly magnifico. You can afford as many as you like at this price.

888

club collared cardigan, novelty block stitch. White, gold, turquoise. Sizes 34 to 40. . . . 8.88

Peter-Pan collared cardigan, over-all rack stitch. White, bright green or rust. Sizes 34 to 40. . . . 8.88

cowl collared pullover. Cable stitch front panel and sleeves. White, red, orange. Sizes 34 to 40. . . . 8.88

SWEATERS—MAIN FLOOR

"CHARGE IT"

CLINTON at RUDISILL BLVD.
OPEN MON., WED., THURS., FRI. TILL 9

at the head of the class

4.99

Campus Cords in YOUR School Colors

STA-KLEEN CUSHION INSOLE won't absorb dirt and moisture — keeps feet clean and fresh.

AIRY DURA-DUK FABRIC UPPERS actually breathe — are smartly styled for wear and blue jeans.

CREPE PATTERN SOLES give you sure grip for active gym work. Non-marking.

VILLAGE SHOE STORE

Anthony Wayne Village Center

HOURS: Daily 9:00-9:00; Saturday 9:00-6:00

Clubs Offer Choice Of Activities To Interested Archer Students

Mr. Jack Weicker Assists In Guidance Department

For the excluded students, Mr. Weicker will discuss their problems in school and help them try to improve themselves.

The guidance education includes helping students get ready to enter college and to choose a college to suit the individual's plans.

Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude
Tests will be given to those juniors and seniors wishing to take it on October 21. The enrollment fee, $1, will be collected in homerooms on Monday. Since no other date may be used, any student who has to be absent on that day should send his or her enrollment fee to school with a friend.

Wedding bells rang for Mr. Richard Sage, mathematics teacher, and Miss Carolyn Eickhoff, a graduate of Elmhurst High School, on August 19. The couple was married in Mount Zion Lutheran Church.

617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623

Don't postpone those studies until the "heats off!" Let Reddy beat the heat for you with an electric fan or air conditioner.

THE PURPOSE of Junior Red Cross is to promote a better understanding of the medical, social, and economic needs of the community and to provide assistance where the club's help will prove to be an advantage. The members of the club take part in field trips, group discussions, and attend lectures. Mr. John Arnold is the adviser; meetings are alternate Wednesdays at 8:30 p.m. in Room 12.

Know-Your-City Club was organized to acquaint members with Fort Wranglers is open to all students who desire to further their interest and develop their skill in speech activities. Meetings are alternate Mondays at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room; Mr. Robert Storey is sponsor.

136 E. Berry St.

“Across Calhoun Street from South Side”

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Adams & Walda, Inc.

Furniture and Interiors

SEPTEMBER 1961

Keep Posted On Future School Events---Observe The Times Calendar

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
	Art's Standard Service 4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025 Fort Wayne, Ind. Atlas Times—Batteries —Accessories Pick-Up and Delivery S&H Stamps	Schmidt's Pharmacy Ed Schmidt, R.Ph. Your Neighborhood Health Center 4001 South Wayne Avenue H-0626	 For Dependable Electric Light and Power Service Call A-1331 INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY <small>An American-Owned Public Utility</small>	Goodness consists not in the outward things we do, but in the inward thing we are. To be is the great thing. —E. H. Chapin	1 Oxford Pharmacy Hanna at Oxford Phone H-1373 High School Supplies Gene Yoder, Prop.	2 Glory follows virtue as if it were its shadow.—Cicero
3 For the Lord is good; His mercy is everlasting; and His truth endureth to all generations.—Psalm 100:5	4 “Honesty” is the best policy! The next best is— A Policy Written By Young-Punsky Co. 415 Central Bldg. Insurance Brokers Labor Day	5  Football Jamboree Zollner Stadium	6 Opportunity is rare, and a wise man will never let it go by him.—Bayard Taylor	7 Munro's Standard Service Free Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing. Southgate Plaza H-5300 Cross Country, Central Catholic, There	8 Every gift which is given, even though it be small, is in reality great, if it be given with affection.—Pindar Football, Bishop Luers, Here	9 South Side Barber Shop FIVE BARBERS Appointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments. Across from Main Entrance of South Side. Harold Henry, Proprietor 3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502
10 Attend the Church of Your Choice Today	11 City Carriage Works Fort Wayne's Oldest Body and Fender Shop 709 East Washington A-0155 Wranglers, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Speedball	12 Pequignot Auto Sales and Service New and Used Cars 2606 South Calhoun Fort Wayne, Ind. K-7260 Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Cross Country, North Side, Here	13 Knowledge is the hill which few may hope to climb; duty is the path that all may tread. —Lewis Morris Vesta Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Honorary Arts, Room 61 Astro-Physics Section, Room 96 Times' Agents	14 Baber's Jewelers 801 S. Calhoun A-7306 E-4197 Jr. Academy of Science, Room 76 Safety Council, Room 178 Y-Teens, Room 112 Lettermen, Room 112, 7 p.m. Cross Country, Central, There	15 Dill & Dill Insurance 1127 S. Clinton A-1119 All Forms of Insurance Over 26 Years of Service Lawrence G. Dill Clifford D. Dill GAA Speedball	16
17 God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.—Psalms 46:1	18 Broadview Florist & Greenhouses 5801 Winchester Road S-3146 Philo, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Speedball	19 Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six Years Keefer Printing Co. A-1484 Meterite, Room 112 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Electronics Section, Room 96 Cross Country, Elmhurst, There	20 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home 50 Years of Continuous Service 2123-27 Fairfield Avenue H-2334 Art Club, Room 26 Red Cross Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Times' Agents	21  Masque and Gavel, Room 112 Biology Experimenters, Room 91 Math Section, Room 36 Cross Country, New Haven, Here	22 Fort Wayne Lumber Co., Inc. Phone A-6469 Material of Merit Lumber—Milwork—Roofing Yard & Office 2047 Broadway Fort Wayne, Ind. GAA Speedball	23 Cease to inquire what the future has in store, and to take as a gift whatever the day brings forth.—Horace Football, Hammond-Morton, Here
24 	25 Greiner's H-2124 2802 S. Calhoun Lawn Boy Mowers Toro Mowers Evinrude Outboards Grumman Boats Wranglers, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Speedball	26 South Side Shell Service Lafayette and Rudisill Phone H-5177 Wheel Balance Free Pick-Up and Delivery Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Societas Latina, Room 112 Cross Country, Warsaw, There	27 Books, like friends, should be few and well chosen. —Samuel Paterson Vesta Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Honorary Arts, Room 61 Astro-Physics Section, Room 96 Times' Agents	28 Bob's Barber Shop 2814 S. Calhoun Safety Council, Room 178 Y-Teens, Room 112 Faculty Picnic, McMillen Park, 5:30 p.m. Cross Country, Huntington, There	29 Klachn Funeral Home 420 W. Wayne A-0228 Ambulance Service Workshop, Room 152 GAA Speedball Pep Session Football, North Side, Here	30 Dur-Enamel Paints Dur-Enamel Co., Inc. When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices. E-3011 1015 Taylor

Patronize These Advertisers.
Their Prices Are Fair---Their Goods
Are The Best Found Anywhere

Planning Higher Education

Mr. Jack Weicker Begins Interviews To Aid Seniors In Selecting Colleges By Suggesting Vocations, Scholarships

To help the graduating senior in concluding his high school career and in making plans for his future, Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, is conducting interviews with all members of the Class of 1962.

These interviews, which are part of a program carried on each year by the Guidance Department, began yesterday and will continue throughout the semester. Each student will be contacted during a free period and asked to report to Room 102 for consultation.

THE FIRST MATTER that Mr. Weicker brings to the attention of the student is his status according to the records. The pupil is given his grade average and information concerning his graduation from South Side.

Next, the student is asked about his plans for the future. If he wants employment, he is referred to Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director, for help. If he desires a college education but is uncertain of which school to attend, he is given information about the colleges that interest him; and he is urged to take advantage of the college catalogues in Mr. Weicker's office.

If the student has not selected a profession, he is informed of the aptitude tests available in the Guidance Office. These are used to inform the student of fields in which he has particular talent.

OTHER HELP GIVEN by Mr.

DILEMMA AFTER DIPLOMA? . . . Many seniors will be seeking advice in the near future concerning their college or career plans after graduation. Senior Sandra Yaggy finds that Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, is very helpful in answering doubtful questions about college entrance requirements and job opportunities.

—Photo by Seaman

Weicker concerns the student's college entrance and his actual work at college. The senior is given information as to what scholarships are available to him and how he may compete for them. He is asked what tests he has taken as steps toward college and what tests he plans to take in the near future. Furthermore, he is given information concerning housing and employment at the school of his choice. In order that the senior interviews be as helpful to each student as possible, Mr. Weicker has suggested that each senior should prepare a list of questions he has concerning his high school completion or his future and continue adding to the list over a period of time as ideas occur to him.

"If all seniors will do this," commented Mr. Weicker, "we can accomplish more, so that the senior interviews will be as beneficial as possible to all concerned."

Seniors, Underclassmen Earn Honors During Annual Recognition Ceremonies

Excitement from last June's Recognition Day ceremonies has become a memory. Recognition was awarded to students who gained outstanding achievement scholastically and to those who gained merit in extra-curricular activities.

The students assembled in the auditorium twice, one day for the graduating seniors and another for the underclassmen. The awards were presented by teachers, by sponsors of clubs, or by students. The recognized student accepted his award, received a ribbon, and signed the record book.

The senior recognition was on June 2. The valedictorian of the Class of 1961 is James Carter; the salutatorian is Robert Shine. Students of the 1961 graduating class receiving the Null Grammar Trophy, Sally Capps; Senior English Honorary Scholarship Award, Ann Plogsther; National High School Poetry Anthology, Carol Abramson, Bonnie Adams, Linda Adams, Tom Felger;

Rozann Hancher, Carl Knabe, Sharon Longenberger, Annette Plesniak, Susan Ringenberger, Marie Rohn, Dave Schwalm, Bob Shine, Linda Silberman, and Pamela Stech.

BOB SHINE EARNED the Lettermen's Trophy; Jim Carter, Publications' Writing Trophy; Sally Capps, Columbian Award; Bob Shine, Rowena Harvey Publications Award; Jim Carter, Philo Essay Cup; and Becky Davis, Randolph Jacobs Cup.

The underclassmen had their Recognition Day Assembly June 5. Receiving awards in social studies were Patricia Oglesbee and LaVonne Custance in citizenship; Karl Krause and Richard Fisher, general history; and Ann Golden and William Kleifgen, United States history.

Janet Brenn, Deborah Decker, Karen Pine, and Ann Petrie were recognized for their work in French. Charles Bodenborn excelled in Spanish 4 and received four awards. Janice Robson was recognized for Spanish 2. Highest awards in Latin were earned by Andy Christon, Janet Dinius, and Douglas Hansen.

The English Department presented the Junior English Scholarship Award to Lyall Morrill Jr.; Sophomore English Scholarship Award, Joanne Rose and Janet Dinius; Freshman English Scholarship Award, Deborah Decker.

THE NATIONAL High School Poetry Anthology winners included Ann Golden, Victor Churchward, Lissa Hoffman, Ann McCoy, Daniel McCroskey, Cheryl Summers, Deborah Tourkow, Dave Yaney, and Alan Zimmerman.

Students recognized in botany were Betsy Adams, Sue Gerig, Lissa Hoffman, Susan Smith, and Mike Stedger. Dayna Harader received the Gould Award. Biology awards were made to Stanley Black, Doug Hansen, Roberta Hofherr, Barb Nelson, and Janice Robson.

Bill Branning, Jim Feustel, Evert Mol, and Bill Mueller received physics awards. Lyall Morrill was given the Hull Award in physics. Joleen Crumrine and Fran Krandall were recognized for general science.

Physical geography awards were given to Thomas Liby and Richard McCormick. Stanley Black placed first in the health recognition tests.

Awards in mathematics included Algebra 1, John Stewart; plane geometry, Victor Churchward and Gary Probst; solid geometry, Barbara Altevogt, Karl Krause, Jack Seigel, and Barbara Spears; Algebra 3, Dave Planigan, Karen McFarland; Special Math 2, Alan Ferber; Special Math 4, Richard Fisher; Special Math 6, Babette Jones; comprehensive math, Lyall Morrill.

EARL IRWIN AND Tom Romanowski were recognized in industrial arts. Home economics awards were given to Carol Jo Becher, Diane Gebhard, Sally Gilbert, and Nancy Redding.

The Art Department gave awards to Judy Godman, James Hill, Sue Martin, Julie Wadlington, and Sandra Yaggy.

The Underclassman's Publications Trophy was presented to Sandy Thorn and the Photographer's Trophy to Ken Lowden. Michael Bradley and Rhonda Roehm won the Meterite awards.

Kellys Increase School Credits During Summer

South Side had the largest enrollment in summer school, according to an announcement by Miss Emma Adams, principal. Of the 552 students attending the Central High School session, 208 were from South. This was over forty per cent of the entire enrollment.

Forty-six two-hour classes were offered in the eight weeks' course. Subjects covered were English, mathematics, social studies, health, typing, bookkeeping, and science.

Faculty members from South who taught are Mr. John Arnold, Mr. David Cramer, Mrs. Evelyn Spray, Miss Lottie Young, and Mr. Richard Ober.

THE FOLLOWING Archers attended the summer sessions:

John Addington, David Allen, David Anderson, Linda Antibus, Gregory Arnold, James Bailey, John Bailey, Michael Raney, Lynda Barnhill, William Batchelder, Richard Bear, Thomas Bear, Carol Jo Becher, Linda Becker, Ron Becker, John Belling, David Benbenek;

William Borgmann, Linda Jean Bevington, Jerry Blessing, Thomas Blossom, James Bly, Steve Boerger, Dean Borden, Dean Brandenberger, Janet Brenn, Larry Britton, Rick Brown, Gretchen Brumm, Bill Campbell, Russell Campbell, Herschel Case, Susan Case, Stephen Chapin;

Cynthia Christman, Ross Clark, Dennis Cook, Joyce Cossairt, Robert Cross, Mary Crowder, Judy Curtis, Thomas David, Janet Davies, Terry Dibert, Michael Dicker, Dorothy Dilline, David Dill, Lynelle Dill, Martha Dixon, Fred Dobler, Richard Dobson;

MICHAEL DUNN, Ray Allen Fanger, Rebecca Farver, Kenneth Fehmen, Barbara Fischer, Pat Fiske, Barbara Fitzgerald, Ann Flotemesch, Patrick Fraizer, Sara Franklin, Bob Fruehly, Kenneth Fueling, Louise Fulton, Ann Gallmeyer, Gary Gibson, James Gibson;

Sally Gilbert, George Gilmore, Joanne Goble, Steven Griffin, Marsha Grenauer, Marla Habecker, Steve Haifley, Rozann Hancher, April Hanner, Susan Harrod, Robert Hart, Diana Hays, Danny Herney, Diane Hess, William Hess, Steve Hill, Tonya Hines, John Hite;

Daniel Holloway, James Stephen Holmes, Steve Hoopengardner, Kyle Howard, Steve Huffman, Tonda Hume, David Hunsche, Earl Irwin, Gerald Isch, Clem Juhl, Thomas Johnson, Steven Jugloff, Ramon Juncal, Mary Kee-

(Continued on Page 3)

Philo Invites Prospects To First Meeting Monday

Filling out cards and paying dues will be the main features of the Philo's organizational meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

Membership in Philo is open to any junior or senior girl who has an average of "B" or above in English. Invitations will be sent to all girls eligible to join.

Officers serving with Lissa Hoffman, president, are Kaylene Gebert, vice-president; Ann Golden, treasurer; Cheryl Summers, secretary; Erin Rose, program chairman; and Bonnie Smith, sergeant-at-arms.

KYC To Organize

An organizational meeting of the Know-Your-City Club will be at 3:30 p.m. next Tuesday in Room 110. Mr. Richard Block, sponsor, urges all interested students to join.

Times Wins Recognition As 'Superior' Newspaper

International Honorary Society for High School Journalists

The Society grants to South Side High School Fort Wayne, Indiana for distinctive achievements in scholastic journalism the

Quill and Scroll AND INTERNATIONAL HONOR AWARD

in the annual examination of school newspapers conducted by

Quill and Scroll Society through the Select Board of Critical Service Judges

this fifteenth day of September nineteen hundred fifty-nine

Backers Lack Enthusiasm; Fans Needed For Victory

The team pressed quietly into the locker room. An atmosphere of disgust, the hush of defeat dominated the air around a crew of weary, dirt-torn young men. They had done their best; they thought that they had given all they had. Their bruised limbs and strained muscles testified to that. But the fruits of their labors were only a blot on the record and a termination of the beauties of a crisp autumn night.

"Why?" some of the tired boys asked themselves as they solemnly gazed at their mud-smudged uniforms. "Why didn't we have that little extra punch at the right time to make a winning play click?" "Why," as steam began to fill the room, "couldn't we gain the impetus to push across a winning counter? Where was that game-winning spirit that just couldn't seem to be found tonight?"

A look toward the west stands might well have afforded the weary young men the answer. Yes, there in the stands was the answer, there was the spirit, the school spirit, the game-winning spirit. Yes, there in the cheering group of a few hundred huddled under the over-looking press booth.

"What," one exclaims, "that surely can't be our school's presentation, that small group of young people! I know for a fact that we have over two thousand students at our school and . . . well, I'm sure that can't be our only team support. It can't be!"

Well, not only can it be, but it was, upon more than one occasion last year. How can the toiling young men on our team possibly gain the initiative to play and to win when from that lonely field they gaze to see only a handful of friends and followers viewing them from the stands? How can they fairly represent their school with only a small number of the potential student support weakly cheering the team?

How much better if the student body turns out in masses, filling the entire stadium, swelling the stands to capacity, cheering in one great body to the heritage and spirit of our school.

Then, as the team readies and sets for a tallying play against the opponent, a roar of unrestrained enthusiasm rises and swells from the stands, echoing and resounding the unfailing support of the huge student body for their team.

Amid their concentration on the field, the boys hear the stirring cheers; as the play breaks, a new spark is instilled in them, a new spirit to dig in and fight for their school. Yes, a spirit of victory, perhaps victory itself, too.

All this, students of South Side! All this, only if each and every one comes out and avidly swell the crowd to the teams' support. May this consistently be our objective throughout the season!—By Paul Mittelstadt

Early Preparation Needed For University Acceptance

Would-be college-goers take note. Each year college competition grows keener, the expenses mount, requirements are made stiffer, and the demand for big-name colleges rises.

Now is the time to prepare for one's future education. Real planning and saving are essential. Students with the capabilities should become conscious of their goals by the eighth grade. It is a good idea to visit campuses at this time and to find out entrance requirements.

Because of the demand for big-name colleges which exceeds their quota, schools just below that level are receiving the overflow, thus raising their standards. By the time the student is a junior in high school, he should have chosen three colleges that are attractive to him.

Selecting the right school goes beyond making certain that a department is topnotch, and that the school's diploma is honored in graduate schools. A student must feel at home, socially as well as academically.

Smaller schools are often overlooked, although they are often just as good as the larger institutions. The problem is money and the severe shortage of scholarship aid. Small schools lament that the big colleges are able to offer much greater financial assistance to students.

Still, yearly, about one hundred fifty thousand able students fail to go on to higher education for lack of funds. One answer to this problem is the public junior college. These offer a terminal course for technicians and adult-education courses, and a two-year program for academic students who may transfer to the state's university system.

California, with 63, leads in the number of these institutions. As this pattern spreads across the country, it is bound to improve many big schools, even in the face of soaring enrollment.

To have it mean something to say that one graduated from a certain college is the goal to work toward. College should mean much, and one that does can be found. It takes early preparation, steady saving, wise selecting, and the resolution not to be trampled in the race.—By Janet Dinius

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Jane Ladig . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, tomato juice, popcorn . . . color, blue . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, avoiding work . . . fad, flagpole sitting . . . sport, swimming . . . record, "Bongos, Flutes, and Guitars" . . . activity, Assemblies Workshop . . . TV show, "Surf-Side 6" . . . pet peeve, people who chew apples in cars.

Tom McMahan . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, six feet, two inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, brownies . . . color, sky blue . . . subject, math . . . pastime, sports . . . fad, going to Ab's . . . sport, football . . . record, "Harry Belafonte in Carnegie Hall" . . . activity, playing in the band . . . singer, Harry Belafonte . . . TV show, "Bonanza" . . . pet peeve, little brothers.

Judy Chapman . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, one inch . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, watermelon . . . color, pastels . . . subject, English . . . pastime, reading . . . sport, football . . . record, "Horowitz Concerto in E Flat Minor" . . . activity, listening . . . singer, Harry Belafonte . . . TV show, "Perry Mason" . . . pet peeve, girls who call other girls "honey."

Gaylene Hilsamer . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak, pizza . . . color, baby blue . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, talking on the phone . . . fad, storing shoes in locker . . . sport, water skiing . . . record, "Mountain So High" . . . activities, Service Club, Philo . . . singer, Johnny Ray . . . TV shows, "Thriller," "Untouchables" . . . pet peeve, girls who chase other girls' boyfriends.

Kay Carrier . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, green . . . subject, English . . . pastime, collecting trophies . . . fad, tennis shoes . . . sport, water skiing . . . record, "Michael" . . . activity, Junior Red Cross . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . TV show, "Surfside 6" . . . pet peeve, people who are not sincere.

Alumni News

By Lynelle Dill

Mr. and Mrs. Lowell S. Coats had a get-together at their home for the 1961 graduates in the special English class. Those who were present and the colleges which they plan to attend are David Schwalm, Carleton; James Carter, Yale; Thomas Halley, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Allen Steere, Columbia; David Dill, Indiana University; Stanley Redding, Michigan; Michael Callahan, Purdue; Sally Capps, Mount Holyoke; Carolyn Sievers, Michigan; Ellen Crowder, Indiana University; Pamela Stech, Indiana Central; Barbara Steiner, Bible College; Ann Erickson, Swarthmore; and Marie Rohn, Denison.

Robert Shine, '61, former general manager of the Times, worked during the summer at the School Press. He is attending Dartmouth College where he plans to study medicine.

Jane Felger, '57, is teaching Spanish this year at North Side High School. Last year she was graduated from Indiana University. David J. Fell, '58, is teaching social studies at South Side and Pamela Manth, '57, is teaching English and French at Franklin Junior High.

David Cormany, '61, competed in the National Drag Races at the new Raceway Park Speedway in Indianapolis. Dave had never competed in a drag race before, but was accepted for the national on his first application. He built his car from scratch, taking a year to complete it. Dave is a freshman at Purdue.

Small Snaps

The girl seen in the picture here is in the midst of her junior year. While spending a week at Clear Lake, futile attempts at skiing she's made. She may be found on a tennis court. For that is a favorite sport.

A Spanish guitar she does play, And sings whether night or day. The Buick is a sharp automobile, Where she likes to sit behind the wheel.

In the Times room she's planning and devising Ways and means of advertising. Philo is an organization In which she enjoys participation. If her name you do not know, The ad section is where to go.

Literature Among The Lilies. . .

"Golly, only 723 pages to go!"

Times Poll-Seeker Exasperated; Fort Wayners' Fads Out-Dated

by Susan Horth

"Hey you, I'm a Times poll-seeker, what's your favorite fad?"

"Duh—sneakers and trenchcoats. Yup, that's a good one."

The same old fads year after year. And Webster says fads are the "passing fashion, a craze." I guess we'll never learn.

It is odd how Fort Wayners can never seem to find anything to do or to initiate. Teens in other areas of the country, however, are always on the go with new fads, activities, and other ideas.

Take Los Angeles, for instance. There on the coast, surfing is the only way to live (and the most dangerous), but it's different and it enhances the thrill of the ocean for those who love it. Beach parties are frequent, and flawless tans become the mark of distinction.

Those westerners flock to offbeat cottages where berrudas are natural and cool jazz is the high point of casualness. Music is usually "beat" or progressive jazz. Bongo drums are considered "passe"; percussion is supplied by stomping on the floor, pounding on the coffee table.

All this leads to a casual atmosphere. Nothing is planned. Parties develop whenever teens have dates but no where to go. They're called "instant parties" (just add people).

Window shopping is an example of a casual date, as is dropping in on Disneyland at night to hear a name band play. Dance? They'd rather listen, but limbo dancing (when dancers keep taking turns going under a horizontal pole as it is lowered and lowered) is "in," along with the "mashed potato" (combination of the shimmy and the Charleston).

RIGHT IN THE HEART of the Old West, high schoolers check new foals and calves on ranches each spring. This nearness to ranch country affects fashions (girls shop methodically for frontier clothes as well as party dresses) and the boys' jobs (many work as ranch hands in the summer).

In these mountain central states everyone goes skiing in winter and mountain climbing in spring. Even the dream of a midwesterner, to work in a resort can easily come true.

In spring, schools even allow one day for everyone to play hooky legally. Teens then go for tennis at dawn, followed by a pancake breakfast and a hike up the mountains.

Dateless boys in Denver hole up in someone's house for an Epicurean party—a weekend with an eat-sleep-eat again cycle; no girls, no games, no distractions. Gals have Friday night slumber parties, early tennis dates, and Bermuda Brunches later (where diets disappear).

And out there, something that is definitely "out" is the lengthening of school days from six to eight periods. I guess we'd go along with that.

A LITTLE BIT CLOSER to home, in Milwaukee, students have fishing parties on the beach of Lake Michigan or join other fans to watch a Braves' baseball game. Even girls and children from five on up feel depressed when Eddie Matthews has a slump.

All Wisconsin students go for miniature golf. An after-prom standard is to play a few rounds while the couples are still in party clothes and everything turns out hilarious.

Folk-singing parties are the rage. Here everything from traditional songs to TV commercials are harmonized. The newest idea is to sing folk songs from foreign countries. The result: a mishmash of mispronunciation and plenty of laughter.

Boys wear three-quarter sleeves and poplin pullover jackets, and girls combine colors of olive green and light blue. These Midwesterners are reading "Gone With the Wind" and "Hawaii" and eating any and all kinds of pancakes. New paucate restaurants that feature everything from Aunt Jemima to crepe suettes are just "the thing."

Everyone rides bicycles, go-carts, and disdains automatic shifts. Sounds like home.

OUT EAST, IN Philadelphia, people are supposed to be straight-faced humans with conservative ideas. But teenagers are normal. They join all the young-at-heart for the need of parties, fun spots, and romantic places.

In spring and summer, libraries open up their rooftop study areas and book learning becomes almost enjoyable.

Amusement parks are frequented; and eating out on Sunday night to try different restaurants is "the thing" to do. Almost everyone digs yo-yos. Ahmad Jamal, doing the slop, and nonconformity (if it's not too boorish). Here they've found that tape recordings make any slow party alive, and ice cream in all sizes, shapes, and forms can be better than pizza.

These teens can fit in with anything from serious discussions over Cuba and Berlin, the space race, and getting into college—to any dance featured on their own American Bandstand.

So how about it? Are you ready to try something new? Stop complaining about this dead town and make your own good clean fun. If they can make new fads—so can we.

Teens and Tangles

By Martha Lanning and Rosemary Capps

Archers! How did you like that Lners football game? Wasn't it terrific? It certainly is exciting to see our team thundering to victory in the VERY FIRST GAME! Next order of business: BEAT HAMMOND! Crush 'em, Crosier! Maul 'em, McMahan!

Honestly, Marcia Anderson, are you a duck? If not, you certainly must have been thirsty! (Don't worry, we'll never tell a soul that Ned Krouse, Ted Banet, and cohorts finally managed to make you sit on a sprinkler after they had failed to throw you into that pool.) Has anybody seen the rest of those ELUSIVE sophomore girls? The last report was that they were sitting it out on the roof of the Unitarian Church with some of the sophomore boys. Perhaps Martha Hoard and Cheryl Craig could give us some answers.

Tinfoil medals to Jane Ladig, Sue Kelley, Sue Horth, and Sharon Eitman for slaving seven long hours in 90-degree temperatures to clean out the Assemblies Workshop storeroom. It seems that Mickey (Mouse, naturally) and the gang had been creating a tasty chaos among the costumes, papers, and props.

You say you heard blood-curdling howls from the north last Saturday night? Hold it! Don't get excited. It was only Martha Dixon, Ann Brace, Lissa Hoffman, and Sharon Eitman, all from Plymouth Church, making like coyotes during their retreat at Camp Potawatami. Another shrill scream rips the air . . . could it possibly have been Ned Stewart crying that he wasn't the mother? Maybe it was that water-logged woman, Peggy Brasse, who finally decided to go swimming—in a sweatshirt and clam-digger! In case you're wondering, there were some stable persons at that retreat—like Doug Hansen, Julie Breidenstein, Jim McMahan, Dave Fairchild, Charlotte Dinius, Pat Lee, and Becky Harsch.

NEW HOBBIES: Karl Bandemer: girl-sitting. (Wipe that wicked smirk off your face, H. Persons!) Joyce Spindler and Susie Lawry: tip-toeing around at night and dropping in on suspicious places.

Steve McDonald: Whacking stones and people with golf clubs.

Sarah Finch: Wearing thongs to school.

Larry Lee: Dancing with plain-clothes-policewomen.

Due to Susie Smith's inability to count, last week this column published the wrong number of days until the end of the semester. . . so now, you enlightened Archers, you may get out the old beads and figure out just how many days we really have.

Leader Opens Door

West Faces Mr. K's Audacity, Testing Of Nuclear Weapons

By the General Manager

To a suddenly wide-eyed world Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev announced that the Soviet Union would resume testing its nuclear weapons because in his words, "The Soviet government has been compelled to take this step under the pressure of the policy of leading National Atlantic Treaty Organization powers," and because "This aggressive bloc leaves the Soviet Union no other choice."

Thus ended a three-year moratorium on nuclear testing by the U.S. and the USSR. The moratorium which resulted from world alarm over the increasing contamination of the earth's atmosphere by atomic explosions was signed on October 31, 1958, in Geneva's Palais des Nations.

The West was under the impression that Russia wanted the nuclear test-ban agreement because, after all, the Russian people were smart enough to realize that nuclear fallout—even from their own weapons—could kill Communists as well as non-Communists.

At Geneva the U.S. and Britain demanded a well-planned system of inspection and control to prevent any cheating after a test ban went into effect. The West demanded 20 inspections a year; Russia insisted that three were enough. The compromise was 12.

WHEN ANNOUNCING the resumption of testing, the Soviet leader boasted of a superbomb that had the force of 100 million tons of TNT. Just 49 hours later, the Kremlin tested a medium-sized bomb in Central Asia. But to U.S. onlookers the 100 megaton monster described by Khrushchev was labeled a "scare"—nothing more. For, according to scientists, the Kremlin monster would be a "sheer waste" for there is no major city in the world that cannot be wiped out with one well-directed 20-megaton bomb.

With the "sticks and stones won't break my bones" attitude President John F. Kennedy relaxed at his summer home at Hyannisport over Labor Day. Loading 18 of his relatives' children on his golf cart and going to the candy store was proof enough that Nikita Khrushchev did not frighten him.

Kremlin's boss had other objectives which included (1) to divide and depress, by fear, the Western powers themselves in the approach to the negotiation table, and (2) to frighten the neutrals into clamoring for Western concessions in Berlin at any cost.

WHY THE SUDDEN announcement from Khrushchev? All the evidence indicates that the Soviet Premier decided at least six months ago against the whole idea of joining a test-ban treaty. The leader, in all probability, had been under heavy pressure from his own generals who demand an armory of refined small nuclear weapons to match the superior variety of weapons already developed by the U.S.

While the state of the weapon stock in the U.S. remains "top secret," no U.S. authority can be found who does not believe that the U.S. is far ahead of the Russians in both quantity and quality of nuclear explosives. And conclusively, both countries have more than enough weapons stored away to devastate each other—and to kill much of the human race simultaneously.

As is frequent, the USSR took the first step, but this time she left the door wide open for the West. The Soviet action gave the West a free hand to resume their own tests. The decision was President Kennedy's. The U.S. won a major propaganda victory and in the so-called cold war of nerves the U.S. had won its bet that it could outlast the Russians at the test-ban conference table.

STANDING AT THE open door, President Kennedy, with the solid backing of Congress, made the basic decision to resume U.S. tests in the near future. To say that the President wasn't under pressure would be a falsification—he was. But the important thing is that President Kennedy kept his part of the bargain as far as the U.S. was concerned—Khrushchev didn't.

There appears, according to all reports, little inherent danger in renewed testing itself, particularly if the tests are kept underground. Atomic war still depends, as it has in the past, on the "yes" or "no" of the bald-headed man in the Kremlin. Now Khrushchev is flirting with terror and force. Conceivably, he could misjudge the resolution of the West and bring on himself and the world a war he never expected.

The West is not only faced with the resumption of nuclear testing or Khrushchev's flirtations—but his nerve. The world is entangled in the cold war of nerves.

Fall Means Sneezing, Coughing For All Sufferers Of Hayfever

When warm breezes gently tempt the winter-worn soul to venture forth into nature, why do various Archers choose instead upon entering a state of near hibernation? Have these few really managed to escape the grasp of spring fever? More likely they have fallen prey to the heartless hold of hay fever!

Named for its time of most frequent occurrence, hay-making, hay fever is characterized by symptoms similar to the common cold and asthma.

Attacks of hay fever are caused by air-borne pollen grains which irritate and inflame the bronchial passages. The severity of each attack is dependent upon the concentration of pollen in the atmosphere and the degree of sensitivity in the receiver of the pollen.

SINCE THERE ARE 4,000 different types of grasses plus a greater number of weeds, all producing pollen in the spring and summer, it is extremely important that the hay fever victim be aware of plants in his locality which are most likely to affect him.

Contrary to popular belief, brightly colored flowers seldom prove troublesome, for their pollens are heavy and do not scatter widely. Small, light pollen grains of weeds and grasses are the most dangerous.

In the East and Midwest ragweed, goldenrod, plantain, and timothy are on the hay fever "black list." However, their season is usually terminated by the first frost; while many grasses continue to afflict hay fever victims for nine months of the year.

Bermuda grass, blue grass, and rye grass are among the longer living grasses. Cocklebur, hemp, marsh elder, Mexican fireweed, rabbit-bush, and sage also add to the victim's misery.

THROUGH MICROSCOPIC study of air in specific localities, pollen can be typed and counted for any given day. The hay fever victim can recognize the kinds of pollen most irritable to himself by the use of skin tests and, keeping abreast of the daily pollen count, aid his condition by staying indoors and quiet during the periods of high pollen concentration.

Although positive reactions to pollen may be revealed in infants and children by skin tests, hay fever may not become active until later years; or, as in many cases, it may never appear.

Individuals sensitive to pollen experience the greater relief from their sneezing and sniffling following a change in environment. Sylvan settings and shores swept with sea winds are often the most effective. Air filtration and potassium therapy also have corrective qualities.

BEARING IN MIND the magnitude of his pollen problems (a large ragweed plant is capable of producing eight billion grains in five hours), the hay fever victim is struck with terror at the mention of nature excursions. Three suffering seniors in particular shudder at the thought of a stroll through the fields.

"Whenever I walk through grass I nearly die of the sneezes," admits Susi Hines.

"People think I've been crying when they see my hay fever eyes," states Becky Baughman.

Marna Reiber laments that she must revert to wearing glasses during vacation months, since her contact lenses aggravate her vision even further.

All three found hay fever to run in the family and enjoy some relief from shots and pills.

Marna experienced added easement in Northern Michigan; yet, Susi discovered a "hay fever heaven" at Yellowstone National Park.

Though modern medicine has failed to completely rid these afflicted Archers of their ailment, Susi, Marna, and Becky can give thanks for their era. According to a book of household medicine published in 1898, the hay fever victim of yesteryear was daily dosed with quinine, pargoric, salts, and rhubarb.

Modern Tom Sawyers Travel Three Days On Indiana River

Paddling canoes up the outstretched and treacherous river, the five adventure-seeking girls searched the shoreline for any signs of danger that might be hazardous to their journey into the wilds. When dusk began to fall, they looked for a suitable bluff on which to make camp.

No, the trip didn't take place on South America's Amazon but on Indiana's own beautiful Tippecanoe River. Those five modern day Tom Sawyers and Huckleberry Finns aren't characters from an adventure book, but are none other than Martha Dixon, Molly Dixon, (Cottley College for Women), Ann Golden, Sylvia Grant (N.S.), and Marsha Grant (University of Mich.).

THE THREE DAY canoe trip which lasted from September 2 to September 4, started at Tippecanoe and ended at Delong, Indiana. The trip has been an annual affair for six years now, and each trip becomes elongated.

Two canoes, the "Cheeze Whiz" and a so-far nameless blue one, carry the girls and equipment on their travels.

When the "Whiz" began sinking due to a hole in the bottom, it was used only for carrying the food supply of beans, stew, and cheese. The canoes were also put into use at night when they were set up on their sides and draped with mosquito netting.

Nightly entertainment consisted of a long session of song singing and joke telling. The day's adventures were also retold several times around the campfire. These tales ranged from brushing teeth with 7-Up, due to lack of clean water, to dragging the canoes through the water when rain and mosquitoes stopped the journey.

ANN GOLDEN, senior, remarked "Canoe trips and outdoor living are wonderful. There is nothing like having to depend on oneself and nature for a few days. Lasting friendships are made and memories of the fun of 'roughing it' are never forgotten."

When questioned about next year's plans for a canoe trip, the campers' enthusiasm answered, "We plan to paddle up the Pine River into Canada for a long stay with mother nature."

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1102, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager, Sandy Thorn

Managing Editor, Roberta Twitchell

Copy Editors, Jenny Manth, Ann Golden, Sally Malough, Janet Brenn, Steve Pratt, Sue Kelley.

Feature Editor, Beth Burnett

Editorial Editor, Sarah Finch

Boys' Sports Editor, Stuart Schmitt

Girls' Sports Editor, Jan Nahrowild

Make-Up Editors, Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee

Picture Editors, Kathy DeVore

Photographers, Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman

Head Print, Marge Jerry

Business Manager, Sue Kelley

Campaign Enters Second Week; School Nears 100 Per Cent Goal

Soph Nancy Redding Cops Bookhead Race On Third Sales Day

With 600 subscriptions needed to reach the 100-per-cent sales goal for the entire school, the Times circulation campaign goes into the second week today.

Students may purchase the Times from their homeroom agent for $1 or a down payment of 25 cents. Over sixteen hundred subscriptions have been sold.

All students will receive one more issue of the Times free; then it will be distributed to subscribers only. Subscribers in homerooms with 100-per-cent sales will receive candy bars, and those in homerooms that had 100 per cent the first day of the campaign will be given two.

"WE WERE FAIRLY well pleased with the first week, but the agents are going to have to keep working to reach our goal," stated Sue Burdick, circulation manager.

High salesman the first day was Sue Horth with $54. She will receive a $3 prize. Winning a $2 prize was Doug Hansen.

Agents who obtained 100-per-cent sales the first day are Nancy Redding, 120; Carol Ladig, 138; Kathy DeVore, 176; Susie Hines, 75; Diane Fredrick, 146; Kaylene Gebert and Ann Golden, S-2; Sue Horth, S-3; Sandy Miller and Sue Phillips, S-4; Sandy Thorn, S-5; and Terry Newendorp, 30.

BOOK I, HEADED by Nancy Redding, obtained 100-per-cent sales after the first three days of the campaign.

Assisting Sue Burdick as bookheads are Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Rosie Capps, Sue Berk, Dick Parke, Bill Wilder, Janet Calvert, and Betsy Adams. Sue Smith is in charge of outside circulation.

Agents and the number of subscriptions they must sell before having 100 per cent homerooms are as follows:

Book I—Nancy Redding, head
S-1 Alice Ashton-Tamara Beaty 100%
S-2 Kaylene Gebert-Ann Golden 100%

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-515 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Self-Service or Drop-Offs

Washed, Dried, and Folded.
Finish Same Day.

1-Day Shirt Service.

Dry Cleaning

SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT
4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald
Res. K-1188

4235 Fairfield
Bus. H-9661

Marks Motto: A liar will not be believed, even when he speaks the truth.

3720 South Calhoun St.

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT

Dining Room

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

A LIFETIME OF MEMORIES

Your class ring is a symbol of achievement.

For the finest in quality and a wide selection of patterns choose from JOSTEN'S copyrighted originals shown only at

BABER'S

CORNER CALHOUN AND BERRY

CLASS RING HEADQUARTERS

TIMES CAMPAIGNERS ... Working toward its goal of 100 per cent sales in every homeroom, the Times circulation staff starts into the second week of the campaign. Standing, from left to right, are Sue Burdick, Betsy Adams, Sally Sweet, Janet Calvert, Nancy Redding, Bill Wilder, Sue Berk, and Dick Parke. Seated is Rosie Capps.—Photo by Lowden

S-3 Sue Horth 100%

S-4 Sandy Miller-Philips 100%

S-5 Sandy Thorn 100%

2 Bonnie Russell 100%

4 Sharyan Yerger 100%

6 Sue Berk 100%

8 Sharon Eitman 100%

Book II—Rosie Capps, head

10 Joyce Lockwood-Becky Baughman 1

12 Joyce Dunlap 4

22 Bette Jackson 7

24 Bette Jones 100%

26 Peggy Schmidt 100%

28 Roberta Twitchell 9

30 Terry Newendorp 100%

32 Barrie Spear 8

34 Susan Robinson 2

Book III—Sally Sweet, head

36 Sue Burdick 3

44 Cheryl Nadolny 17

46 Gunther Bauer 13

48 Cindy Miller 3

50 Karen Simmons 100%

52 Diana Ornas-Harriet Ochstein 2

54 Doris Hessert 10

56 Susan Lawry 15

Book IV—Sue Berk, head

60 Larry Brown-Cindy Borgman 12

62 Erin Rose 11

64 Nancy Enz 18

66 Suzette Glass 17

68 Brenda Dull 12

70 Tom Erb 4

72 Cindy Christman 5

74 Ann McCallister 11

Book V—Dick Parke, head

76 Sue Burdick 100%

78 Sue Smith 100%

79 Barb Nelson 100%

80 Lynelle Dill 10

82 Marna Reiber 4

84 Cheryl Trulock 15

86 Sandra Duff 17

90 Phyllis Pierson 12

91 Sue Korte 4

92 Mary Graham 11

Book VI—Betsy Adams, head

94 Julia Merchant 13

96 Christie Counsman 6

98 Gwen Welling 14

108 Gail Woodruff 7

110 Nancy Stewart 6

116 Donna Summers 6

118 Sharon Karst 9

120 Nancy Redding 100%

138 Carol Ladig 100%

Book VII—Janet Calvert, head

140 Tonya Hines 7

142 Bev Flanagan-Karen Franks 4

144 Jane Kettle-Marian Johnson 6

146 Diane Fredrick 100%

150 Linda Churchward 13

162 Nancy Augsburg 12

164 Joyce Spindle 11

166 Sue Weinraub 11

172 Rosie Capps 100%

Book VIII—Bill Wilder, head

174 Ann Gallmeyer 8

176 Kathy DeVore 100%

178 Martha Hoard 11

182 Ann Brase 8

184 Phyllis Bixby 13

186 Karen Shroyer 19

188 Liz Richter 9

190 Ann Flickinger 12

Two Teachers Attend Parley

Miss Helen Burr, English teacher, and Miss Lurie Young, math teacher, attended the 12th Annual Indiana State Teachers' Association Leadership Conference from August 7 to 9 at the French Lick Hotel, French Lick, Ind.

Six hundred educators from Indiana gathered for the conference. The purpose was to develop leaders in the field of education. Attendance was by invitation only by the state association through the city of Fort Wayne.

Discussions based on the theme of the conference, Quality Education through Cooperative Personnel Policies, were scheduled in morning and afternoon sessions. Each group consisted about thirty people with 20 groups in all, each studying a different topic.

"I gained valuable information from the conference," stated Miss Young, "and I felt quite fortunate to have had the opportunity to attend."

Sue Horth Cops Award

Sue Horth, senior, has won the Times Writer-of-the-Week Award for her article on fall fashions in the September 6 issue. She will receive 100 bonus points for her efforts and will be eligible for the Times Writing Trophy to be presented on Recognition Day.

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

COLLER'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

What you want is a Coke

THE FORT WAYNE COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, Inc.

YES Discovers Students Favor Part-Time Jobs

"Part-time jobs are in much greater demand than steady jobs," stated Mr. Robert H. Fitzpatrick, supervisor of the Fort Wayne Youth Employment Service. "Part-time jobs are ideal for those who want to go with their family on vacation trips or relax in the sun, but also want to apply themselves and earn extra money."

Almost every student registered this summer was given temporary work and some filled several jobs. The 750 registered applicants were used in a total of 968 jobs during the summer.

Boys were employed more often than girls because most of the jobs offered were lawn care or basement and garage cleaning.

THE YOUTH Employment Agency was contacted by both home and business personnel who needed the services of the youth for different jobs. Many types of jobs were offered, including babysitting, clerking, secretarial work, waitress work, house work, lawn care, painting, construction work, taking inventory, and working as caddies and carry-out boys.

Each registered applicant was interviewed and given tests to determine his qualifications. An attempt was made to place each applicant in the vicinity near his home.

SOME YOUTHS were assigned unusual summer jobs. The agency received a call the day before they were to close for 100 boys to be used as caddies at an Orchard Ridge Country Club tournament.

One man called during the hottest part of the summer to employ a boy for shoveling snow this winter. Another boy was employed for three weeks as a dog sitter.

Many youths have been offered their jobs for next summer, and many may continue with their work when they graduate.

The success of the Youth Employment Agency has been growing in leaps and bounds since 1954 when only 843 jobs were available. Its success is in the hands of the hard-working youth and Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Thursday, September 14
Junior Academy of Science, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.

Safety Council, Room 178, 3:30

Y-Teens, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Times Homeroom Period

Lettermen, Room 112, 7 p.m.

Times Staff Meeting, Study Hall, 3:30 p.m.

Cross Country, Central, there

Friday, September 15

GAA Speedball, Girls' Gym, 3:30

News Staff Meeting, Room 14, 3:30 p.m.

Monday, September 18

Philo, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.

Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, September 19

Meterite Officers' Meeting, Room 116, 3:30 p.m.

Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

Electronics Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Cross Country, Elmhurst, there

Wednesday, September 20

Art Club, Room 26, 3:30 p.m.

Red Cross Club, Room 112, 3:30

Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.

Times Agents Meeting, Study Hall, 3:30 p.m.

News Writers To Attend Times Class Tomorrow

"All news writers on the Times staff are required to attend a meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 14," stated Beth Burnett, news editor. "Everyone interested in becoming a news writer must attend the meeting."

During the meeting, various points will be discussed, including how to check stories in and out, the proper questions to use when interviewing students and teachers, where to receive the corrected stories, and where the stories are to be turned in when finished.

Roberta Twitchell, managing editor, will relate many of the rules from the style book and give suggestions on how to write news stories. The typing rules will be discussed by Margie Terry, head typist.

"If any news writer is unable to attend this meeting, he must speak to me before the meeting," said Beth.

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See JASPER

Engine & Transmission Exchange

3504 S. Calhoun H-1221

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011 1015 Taylor

'Know-It-All' Seniors Readily Give Advice To 'Swimming' Frosh

After swimming the school stream up to the twelfth grade, Archer seniors have met disappointments and learned much about school work, extra-curricular activities, and social life. After receiving much advice on which clubs to join, how to handle certain situations, what to do, and what not to do, these seniors now feel that it is their turn to give advice.

Kenny Leakey: I feel that extra activities should be chosen wisely. It is possible for a person to join too many clubs and let his studies lag.

Martha Lanning: Don't play around! It is most important to get good grades and be sweet to all of your teachers.

Debby Brooke: My advice is not to get too wrapped up in social life. Don't follow the crowd; just remember what is right and wrong.

Sally Bash: Be conscientious and study as hard as possible. Remember that school work comes before social life and outside activities.

Allen Sheldon: All frosh should try to make a good impression on their teachers from the start, and knuckle down to work the very first day.

Logan Smith: Study very hard and choose courses well. Try to get as much out of high school as possible.

Sue Perry: I advise all freshmen to be nice to seniors and put all of their efforts into studying.

Kellys Increase

(Continued from Page 1)

gan, Stephen Kelleher, Suzanne Kelly, Edward Kimble, Kent King;

DAVID KNIGHT, John Kurtz, Carol Lake, Susan Lawry, Carolyn Dian Leath, James Leiter, Frank Lewis, Suzanne Link, Steve Locker, Joyce Lockwood, Ken Lowden, Larry Lyman, Ann McCallister, Karen McClouds, Sandra McCombs, Sharon McDonald, Jean Ann McGinley, Robert McKinley;

John McNett, Maria Marshall, Daniel Merica, Sandra Meyers, Alan Mitchell, Paul Mittelstadt, James More, Jean Morris, Susan Moyer Sheila Meyers, Linda Newell, Jerry Norman, Diana Ornas, Scott Orum, Donna Ostrom, Argiris Porpos, Skevas Pavlou, David Pennell, Valentina Perpelkin;

Henry Persons, Robert Pio, Joyce Politt, Karen Ponader, Stephen Putnam, Eileen Ray, Marna Reiber, Kenneth Reue, Schella Reynolds, Marsha Ringle, Mary Lydia Robles, Michael Rogan, Darwin Romey, Joanne Rose, Karen Rowley, Myra Jane Rubino, Margaret Saalfrank;

Thomas Schaefer, Jerry Scherrer, Karl Schlademann, Michael Seaman, Wayne Seale, Stephen Sefton, Kay Selking, Michael Seltentright, Byron Sexton, Stephen Shambaugh, Diana Shilling, Patricia Shuler, Larry Siwert, Fred Slater, Paul Slick, Keith Snively, Herbert Somers, Janice Spulter;

NANCY STAUFFER, David Stewart, Nancy Stewart, Walter Stuelpe, Steven Summers, Margaret Terry, Bonnie Tescula, Steve Sharp, Sharon Thiele, Thomas Thieme, Linda Thompson, David Tipton, Mary Jane Tobey, Michael Tomkinson;

James Tomson, Gary Tracy, Tony Trice, Denny Truitt, Monda Tucker, Connie Vallance, Bernard Van Osedale, Patty Wallace, Kathleen Walsh, Robert Wasson, Thomas Watson, John Weaver, Martha Ann Weber, Robert Weiss, Tom Wells;

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

James Tomson, Gary Tracy, Tony Trice, Denny Truitt, Monda Tucker, Connie Vallance, Bernard Van Osedale, Patty Wallace, Kathleen Walsh, Robert Wasson, Thomas Watson, John Weaver, Martha Ann Weber, Robert Weiss, Tom Wells;

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams, Pat Wilson, Margery Winder, Pat Wirick, Thomas Wooding, Sharon Wright, Sharyan Yerger, Judy York, and Mark Zinn.

Janet Wening, Richard Werling, Jane Whitenack, Sara Williams,

Football Squad Records City Series Victory Over Bishop Luers, 13-2, By Early Scoring

Tom McMahan Leads Gridders In Opening Win

Bob Lohman Scores Winning Touchdown With 30-Yard Sprint

South Side's fighting Archers started off the regular season with a bang last Friday night when they tromped Bishop Luers by a 13-2 count.

Under the steady leadership of quarterback Tom McMahan, the Green piled up a 13-0 lead by halftime and then fought off several threats by the Knights to emerge victorious. The only points which Luers did gain were a result of intentional grounding of the ball for a safety by Tom McMahan.

The game got under way with Nate Norment of the Kellys running back the kick-off 19 yards to the Archer 34-yard line. On the very next play, Norment penetrated the enemy's territory by sweeping over end for 18 yards. A pass play from McMahan to Norment and two nice gains by Ed Johnson got the ball down to the Luers' 22-yard line, but there the Green had to relinquish it.

LUERS FIRST PLAY from scrimmage was an incomplete pass by quarterback, Joe Lebrato. One play later, halfback Mike Burns fumbled a hand off, losing 12 yards and forcing his team to punt.

Ed Johnson received the punt on the Knights' 45-yard line and scampered to the 30. On the second play, McMahan pitched out to Norment, who followed his blockers around the right end and charged 30-yards for the touchdown. Dave Meyer added the point-after from placement.

Three plays after the Kellys kicked off to Luers, Tom McMahan intercepted a Lebrato pass on South's 45-yard line and was tackled. The Archers then ran out the clock in the first quarter.

THE SECOND QUARTER began with South punting to Luers. After just a few plays, the Knights were forced to kick back to the Kellys. Suffering from a 15-yard clipping penalty which wiped out a long running gain, South again punted.

On the second play from scrimmage, McMahan again pulled out the stops, he fired a pass to Bob Lohman who took the ball on the Knights' 30 and outran all the defenders to the goal line for the second touchdown. Van Oosten's attempt for the point after touchdown failed.

A FINE RUNBACK of the kick-off took the ball to the Luers' 30-yard line where Lebrato and Burns began a two man assault on the Green's defense. In eight plays, including two fumbles which lost valuable yardage, the Knights rolled to the Archer 7-yard line, with just seconds left in the half.

As Lebrato rolled out to pass, Chuck Parker, Dave Meyer, and Mark Hagerman ran him back to the 26 where Meyer and Parker hit him, causing a fumble which Hagerman recovered. The Kellys retired to the dressing room at halftime unmarrred.

The first play was a pass from McMahan to Ed Johnson which covered 32 yards, taking the ball to the Luers' 40. With very little time left in the quarter, South couldn't move the ball.

Burns and Lebrato poured on the coal and pushed their team down to the Archers 4-yard line, but South's big defensive line of Bill Rastetter, Chuck Parker, Don Sievert, John Weaver, and Dave Meek forced the Knights' offense to grind to a halt.

WHEN SOUTH COULDN'T move the ball because of penalties, McMahan grounded the ball for a safety, giving Luers two points and the Kellys a free kick. With time running out, Lebrato and Burns again piloted their squad from mid-field down to the Archer 7, but they could not get the ball across the goal line before the end of the game.

ARCHER GRIDDERS . . . Having proven themselves a capable squad after Friday's win over Bishop Luers, the Archer football team is preparing for its next opponent, Hammond Morton. Players are, from left to right, first row, John Weaver, Eddie Johnson, Tom McMahan, Bob Lohman, Charley Parker, John VanOosten, Don Sievert, Dave Meek, Dave Meyer, Nate Norment, Sid Sheray, Mark Hagerman; second row, Jim Wolfe, Martin Platupe, Dave Platz, Dick Johnson, Tom Frazell, Dave Pritchard, Henry Persons, Bill Rastetter, Jerry Scherrer, Tom Wright, Tom Shine; third row, Dave Brumm, Bob Leininger, Bill Cupp, Walt Stuelpe, Mike Houser, Dave Moody, Rick Werling, Glen Crosier, Paul Slick, Dave Eaton; fourth row, Bruce Hilby, Bill Bergman, Bob Bartel, Mike Tomkinson, Jon Poto, John Addington, and Dave Tipton.—Photo by Lowden

Forty Players Join Grid Team

South Side Football Roster 1961
No.	Name	Pos.	Ht.	Wt.	Class
10	Ed Johnson	H	5-10	155	11
14	Tom Wright	H	5-8	150	12
16	Dick Johnson	H	5-7	138	12
19	John Addington	Q	5-8	148	12
20	Jon Poto	Q	5-7	135	11
23	Tom Shine	Q	5-9	160	11
27	Tom McMahan	Q	6-2	165	12
31	Mart Platupe	F	6-1	169	12
32	Sid Sheray	F	5-9	175	11
34	Rick Werling	F	5-7	150	11
40	Mike Tomkinson	H	5-6	136	11
43	Nate Norment	H	6-1	170	12
45	Dave Platz	H	5-6	150	11
47	Bruce Hilby	H	5-10	146	12
52	Don Sievert	C	6-3	204	12
55	Mike Houser	C	5-8	155	11
60	Bill Rastetter	G	5-6	153	11
61	Bob Leininger	G	5-9	151	11
62	Dave Tipton	G	5-8	183	11
63	Walt Stuelpe	E	5-10	140	11
64	John Weaver	G	5-6	147	12
65	Jerry Scherrer	G	5-7	195	12
66	Mark Hagerman	G	5-8	180	12
70	Dave Moody	E	6-0	154	11
72	Bill Bergman	T	5-7	164	11
75	Jim Wolfe	T	6-0	202	11
76	Bob Bartel	T	6-0	227	11
77	Dave Meek	T	6-1	175	12
78	H. Persons	C	5-10	190	12
79	Chuck Parker	T	6-3	206	12
80	Glen Crosier	E	5-10	146	11
81	Tom Frazell	E	6-0	146	12
82	Dave Brumm	E	5-10	155	11
84	Dave Eaton	E	5-10	135	11
87	Bob Lohman	E	6-1	175	11
88	Dave Meyer	E	6-3	175	11
89	Jon VanOosten	E	6-5	205	12
91	Bill Cupp	C	5-10	151	11
93	Paul Slick	C	5-10	156	11
95	Dave Pritchard	T	6-3	270	12

"A Complete Music Store"
Everything Musical and Music Studios
Cliff Smith Music
"Where Artist and Student Meet"
At 3108 South Calhoun Street

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Ingeborg's Frisur Salon
(Beauty Shop)
617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

ALLEN DAIRY
Phone: T-1141
"FOREMOST IN QUALITY CONTROL"

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Dove's Beauty Salon
Distinctive Individual Hair Styling
A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers
• Open Evenings •
2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

RECORDS AT DISCOUNT PRICES!
Choose from thousands of LP's featuring world famous artists.
• Monaural • Stereo
All first-quality merchandise. No seconds. All your favorite artists. We guarantee all our merchandise to be of first quality.
Whirling Disc Record Shop
1030 S. Calhoun E-9950
Week-day Store Hours:
Wed. and Fri. 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Mon., Tues., Thurs. and Sat. 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mural Men
By Dave Rodenbeck

Cross country, touch football, tennis, horseshoe, golf, and bowling will be the first sports on the Intramural program this fall.

The deadline for signing for cross country is tomorrow. Thirty runners came out for cross country last year and Mr. Clair Motz, athletic instructor, hopes that even more boys will try out this year. Last year's winners were Gary Butz, heavyweight; Larry Norman, middleweight, and Dave, James, lightweight.

Lightweight, middleweight, and heavyweight are the three divisions. Lightweight is 125 pounds or less; middleweight is 126 to 140 pounds; and heavyweight is over 140 pounds.

Cross country consists mainly of calisthenics, sprints, relays, running laps, and distance of running. The runners run in one meet against the reserves at Foster Park. Points are given for participating and additional points are given for placing in the final meet.

Touch football will be the first team event this year. Teams can be turned in at any time in the gym office.

Coney Island WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

McDonald's DRIVE-IN
Cheeseburger 19¢
TREAT Your Family TO A VISIT TO McDonald's the home of the All American Meal
100% PURE BEEF HAMBURGER WITH DELICIOUS MELTED CHEESE!
45¢
TREAT Your Family TO A VISIT TO McDonald's the home of the All American Meal
100% PURE BEEF HAMBURGER WITH DELICIOUS MELTED CHEESE!
45¢
2—LOCATIONS—2
CALIFORNIA ROAD & HI-WAY 30 EAST

Girls' Athletic Teachers List Rules For Speedball Classes

Girls enrolled in gym classes are requested to learn the speedball rules. Student leaders are to cut out the rules and show them to the gym teachers.

Playing Privileges:

1. A fly ball may be caught, passed, dropped, kicked, punted, or juggled.
2. A stationary, rolling, or bouncing ball is a ground ball.
3. A player kicking the ball in the air is eligible to catch it herself before it hits the ground.
4. The goal tender has no special privileges.
5. The ball may be juggled by feet, but only one overhead juggle is allowed.
6. A player is allowed one step in any direction while holding the ball and pivoting. If running, two steps are allowed.
7. A player may legally guard an opponent who has the ball. Holding is not allowed.
8. The ball: When the ball is held by any two opposing players simultaneously or when a referee is in doubt which side last played the ball out of bounds, a tie ball is called. The ball is also put into play at center after a double foul.
9. Free kick: Whenever a free kick is awarded a team, the ball is put in by a place kick, the opposing team being required to stay five yards from the ball in every direction until it is kicked. The kicker may not kick the ball again until it is touched by another player.

Violations:

1. Crying the ball.
2. Touching the ball with hands or below the elbows.
3. Making two successive overhead dribbles.
4. Violating kick-off rule. (Ball must not be played again by center forward until played by another person; all players of her side shall stand behind the ball when kicked, and no opponent shall pass the restraining line until the ball is kicked.)
5. Violating out-of-bounds rule. (Playing the ball again herself or taking more than five seconds to play ball.)
6. Violating the tie ball restriction.

Penalties:

1. If a player commits a personal foul outside her own area, the opponent shall be awarded a penalty kick.
2. If a personal foul is committed outside a player's own penalty area, two kicks are awarded. The ball is in play after the second one is missed.
3. If a technical foul is committed outside a player's own penalty area, the opponent shall be awarded a penalty kick.
4. If a technical foul is committed inside a player's own penalty area, the opponents are awarded one penalty kick. As soon as the ball is kicked it shall be considered in play, and a follow-up is allowed.
5. If a violation is committed by a player outside her own penalty area, a free kick is awarded at the spot of the violation.
6. If a violation is committed by a player inside her own penalty area, opponents shall be awarded a penalty kick with the opportunity of a follow-up if it is missed.

LAUNDRY

Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Yet Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service
QUICK CHICK
213 DECATUR RD.

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS
818 CALHOUN ST. KOEBER'S SINCE 1865 818 CALHOUN ST.

it takes only ONE organization
MATS
IDEA
ART
ELECTROS
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET ENGRAVING
to do the job!
In Fort Wayne and the tri-state area it takes only one to do the job. Fort Wayne Engraving Company has the only complete printing plate service. It costs less to do your job under one roof, Fort Wayne Engraving Company, 120 West Superior Street.
Complete printing plate service.
*We do no printing, but cooperate with the printer of your choice.
fort wayne engraving co.
COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

South Runners Lose To Redskins, Whip Irish, To Face Tigers Today

Stuart Schmitz Cops Fifth Spot At Foster Park

Soph Ken Ellingwood Leads Run In 10:02 Against C.C.'s Squad

A rain-soaked course and a rugged North Side Redskin squad proved too much for South Side's Archers Tuesday night at Foster Park, as Coach Rolla Chambers' harriers ruined the Archers' chance for victory number two after South's impressive opening win over Central Catholic last Thursday at Franke Park.

North, who was trying to avenge last year's loss, had the first four runners home in scoring their 18-37 victory over the Archers. Good groupings by the Redskins spelled out the Archers' loss as the Kelly runners were unable to break up North's first four harriers who grabbed the top four positions.

NORTH'S NEWEST running sensation, Gary Meyers, paced the pack with a fine clocking of 10:05, finishing far ahead of his followers.

However, South's Ken Ellingwood matched Meyer's fast pace for the first mile and one-half, but the firing Ellingwood who ran the wrong pace for the race, slipped back to sixth place by the end of the two-mile run.

Following Meyers were Redskins Tom Summers, Bob Milton, and Steve Konow, also finishing under the 10:23 mark. This range of times show that the Redskins are a pretty rugged bunch.

Kellys Stuart Schmitz and Ellingwood were the first runners in for South. Time-wise both runners finished in 10:23 along with North's fourth-place finisher, but Schmitz finished just a shute ahead of Ellingwood.

DAVE MUNSON of South took seventh place with a time of 10:31, followed closely behind by Redskin Randy Harter. Sophomores Steve Meyers and Jim More who finished ninth and tenth, respectively, under the 10:40 mark were the only other Archer runners figuring in the scoring.

Although the Archers lost the meet they still came through with a pretty good showing. Team balance is a little weaker this season, but the good times are still prevalent.

The Redskins were victorious in the reserve meet also as they defeated the Archers 16-44. Al Schlie, who placed fifth, was the first runner in for the Archers.

Opening the 1961 campaign on a most encouraging note, South Side's young, up-and-coming harriers white-washed Central Catholic 15-45 Thursday at the winding two-mile course in Franke Park. The Archers' sparkling performance vanished much of the pessimism that flavored the predictions for their current campaign.

Sophomore Ken Ellingwood established himself not only as Coach "Porky" Holt's top man, but also as one of the city's finest distance prospects with his 10:02 victory against the hapless Irish.

THOUGH KEN'S teammates were well back at the finish, South did display a balanced attack in its season's debut. Stu Schmitz, Jim Burton, and Jim More all finished under the 10:30 mark; while Bob Camp and Steve Meyers also beat Central Catholic's first boy to amass a perfect score.

South Side's opening meet had the flavor of an intra-quad right from the starting gun. Ellingwood and Schmitz commanded a short lead over More and Burton up to the mile mark, but "Ed" stepped up the tempo in the second half of the race to breeze home well ahead of all pursuers.

COACH HOLT'S reserves looked less impressive in their outing, dropping a 22-35 decision to the Irish's second team. Junior Louis Colbertson made a strong showing, but the rest of the Kelly squad appeared in inadequate shape.

Following is a list of the top ten varsity finishers and their times:

1. Ellingwood (SS) 10:02
2. Schmitz (SS) 10:20
3. Burton (SS) 10:22
4. More (SS) 10:26
5. Camp (SS) 10:46
6. Meyers (SS) 10:47
7. Yerrich (CC) 10:52
8. Lee (SS) 11:13
9. Ranley (CC) 11:13
10. Glassley (CC) 11:41

BOOSTERS! WRANGLERS!
Does your group need money?
We have a painless plan that makes it roll in!

Old Fort Specialty Corp.
3923 S. Calhoun
Call K-6711
ASK FOR MR. WEBER

REIFF PHARMACY
Complete Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitz

We're off to a good start in the city title race! Last Friday night's 13-2 victory over Bishop Luers not only gave Archer fans something to howl about; but South's 1961 debut, the City Series opener, served notice to the other city contenders that we mean business.

A fairly good-sized crowd witnessed the pigskin battle, and the Archers received some fairly good support from the enthusiastic fans. With six of South's seven remaining games to be played in the city, Archer fans will be able to continue their fine backing for the rest of the season.

South looked nothing short of impressive and anything but inexperienced on the gridiron. After their poor showing in the Jamboree, the Archers got down to earth; and by game time last Friday night, they were really keyed up for the Knights.

The Green's defensive unit really looked sharp and appeared to have the makings of a fine aggregation—nothing like their Jamboree showing against New Haven. Luers knocked on the Archers' front door three times, but the strong Kelly line kept the Knights from paydirt on every occasion.

The quick-moving line stymied Luers' quarterback Joe Lebrato on the majority of the plays by rolling over the poor Knights' line and forcing the all-city pilot to throw quickly and often inaccurately.

Statistically, however, the Knights outplayed the Archers. They outgained South 210-192 in total yards, had eight more first downs, and completed two more passes than South. The Archers were also penalized 44 yards while Luers received no penalties.

As usual it is difficult to single out the best defensive performers, but it goes without saying that halfback Dick Johnson and guard John Weaver did outstanding jobs. Both players were in on many key plays and proved to be tremendous assets in the game. Center Don Sievert and guards Mark Hagerman and Bill Rastetter also turned in good performances.

Coach Robert Gernand was well pleased with the defense, especially with the blocking and tackling which was exceptionally good for the first game. However, South still has a lot of things to learn.

To go along with the strong front wall was South's backfield. The four-man crew executed some fine plays. Archer quarterback Tom McMahan labeled himself as one of the city's top pilots with his polished performance. He faked, passed, and handed off very well. His best play of the night was a 52-yard play to Bob Lohman who ran to paydirt for South's second touchdown.

Backs Nate Norment and the Johnson brothers, Dick and Ed, also drew some attention from the crowds with several tremendous drives. South's backs thought well, ran hard, and didn't fall easily.

There were few substitutions in the game, so it is hard to tell whether or not depth is still a prominent problem.

The Archers are idle this week, and will concentrate on their September 23 tilt with second-rated Hammond Morton. This game will really test the Archers' strength and will probably be South's toughest grid contest.

Central Team Boasts Speed, 'State' Talent

Bengals Considered Well-Balanced Group With 'Living Legend'

South Side's surprisingly strong harriers tangle with a genuine powerhouse when they face a veteran Central squad this afternoon at Foster Park. Once again the Tigers will be paced by the local "living legend," Henry King.

A perennial state stand-out, King has aroused much comment with his uninhibited style during the three years he has been competing and winning for Mr. Lester "Pete" Williams, coach. Now again, for the fourth straight year, Centralites are talking of a state crown that so far has eluded Henry.

KING'S MANY TITLES include three Sectional championships; the two-mile Franke Park course record of 9:23; and the state half-mile mark of 1:56.8. In dual cross country meets, he has been unbeaten; though past-Concordia great Steve Hibler did tie him twice.

Still, the Bengals are not a "one-man team." Returning from last year's squad that twice trimmed South's finest aggregation ever assembled are Seniors Charlie Davis, Chuck Kammerer, Wade Clark, and Juniors John Curry and Bob Hubbard.

Davis and Kammerer each run the mile on Central's track squad. Clark was right behind King in the 880-yard run last spring, while Hubbard proved to be an outstanding hurdle prospect.

THOUGH THE ARCHER squad is less experienced, it might upset the downtown boys if the newcomers, Ken Ellingwood, Jim Burton, and Jim More, continue to improve. Coach "Porky" Holt's main concern, however, will be getting all or any of the trio of Bob Camp, Steve Meyers, and Larry Lee home in front of the number five Tiger runner.

Coach Calls Meeting

All boys not out for football or cross country who are interested in going out for the basketball team this year are to report to the gym today at 3:30 p.m. according to Mr. Don Reichert, coach. Managers should also report at this time.

Auto Collision Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.
5208 S. Hanna H-0691

Remember To Include TOWN TALK BUTTER BREAD on your shopping list!

Ed Parrish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

Home of eatin' treats!

NEW! HOT FUDGE ICE CREAM CAKE!
Next to South Side High
3701 South Calhoun K-6278
"Order by Phone"

Azar's BIG BOY
DRIVE-IN RESTAURANTS
Also at 2440 W. Washington Rd. and U.S. 427 at Calif. Rd.

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Players' Corner Tom McMahan Calls Grid Plays

Senior A Tom McMahan, an outstanding four-sport athlete, is the key man in South Side's backfield this year. Having played defensive quarterback and end last year, Tom, the only member of the quarterback corps with previous varsity experience, will be doing most of the signal calling on this fall's team.

Tom McMahan

Regarding the football team, Tom feels that the Archers will be stronger than is popularly expected, and, "with the breaks," will be a contender for the city title. He expects that Hammond Morton, a team that defeated South Side with underclassmen last year, will be the Archers' roughest opponent.

Resides football, Tom has played one year each of reserve and varsity basketball for South Side. During the track season, he was a valuable asset to the Archer cause participating in the broad jump and the high jump.

Tom regards baseball as his best sport. Starting as a Little Leaguer, he worked his way through various leagues. Reaching his peak during the past summer, he pitched the Pal's Truck Stop team of the Junior Federation League to the runner-up spot in the regional tourney.

Tom is undecided as to his future athletic plans, but leans toward baseball for his main concentration.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

3717 S. Clinton St.

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc.

News-Sentinel
Journal-Gazette

CALL E-0111

New Haven Shut Out Gridders; Purple Squads Steal Jamboree

Even though the grid squad showed much aggressiveness, it was defeated by the New Haven Bulldogs, 7-0, at the Football Jamboree in Zollner Stadium September 5. The six other city teams competing were Central, North Side, Central Catholic, Concordia, Elmhurst, and Bishop Luers.

The honor of the game was given to Central Catholic's 1960 team which won the city championship. Their school colors of purple and gold were represented by each of the eight teams. South Side, C.C., Central, and Elmhurst wore the Gold while North, New Haven, Concordia, and Bishop Luers represented the Purple.

Central and North were not able to chalk up a score in the first 16-minute exhibition. New Haven trimmed the Archers 7-0; Central Catholic defeated Concordia 13-0; and Luers downed Elmhurst 21-0.

North Side and Central had been matched in three previous Jamboree games with the Tigers leading in total scoring by 33-0. Near the end of their game the score was a 0-0 knot; and North Side had possession of the ball on Central's six-yard line.

THE REDSKIN quarterback, Steve Larimer attempted a field goal which was blocked by Central, but the Tigers were off sides, and North was given another chance to score. With no time remaining, Steve Larimer kicked the ball; but, as before, the Tigers blocked the ball; and the game ended scoreless.

The Archers took the ball on their own six-yard line and retained possession of the ball throughout the whole first half. However, they were kept from scoring by the stubborn New Haven defense. Tom McMahan did a good job of handling the plays, while the big Archer line opened up the holes for an aggressive backfield.

During the second half, the Bulldogs took over on their 33-yard line; and Mike Dennis, quarterback, carried the ball 68 yards in six plays for the first score of the day. Then the conversion point was carried over to make the final score 7-0.

CENTRAL CATHOLIC'S first score against Concordia came on a recovered fumble which left them 16 yards from home. Then the C.C. halfback, Steve Meier, shot through the middle to score. After having blocked the extra point attempt, the Cadets started a fine move down field.

However, an Irish guard intercepted a pass and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Then Central Catholic scored the conversion point on a pass play to make their game score 13-0.

At this point in the Jamboree, the Gold had a 13-7 advantage. Bishop Luers' first touchdown was made by quarterback Mike Burns; and fullback Jack Rauch ran for the extra point, making the overall score 13-13.

The Knights' second string scored on an end run by quarterback Jim Still. Next came the conversion, leaving the score 21-13 in favor of the Purple. Then Joe Lebrato from the Luers team threw a touchdown pass.

The fullback got the extra point by catchin'; another pass, giving the Luers Knights a final game score of 21-0; and the Jamboree score ended 26-13 in favor of the Purple team.

SOUTH SIDE SHELL SERVICE

Lafayette and Rudisill Ph. H-5177
WHEEL BALANCE
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Established 1876

KLA EHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service

420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Hall's Drive-Ins

7up
"Fresh up"

FOR MORE THAN 50 YEARS

Headquarters for

- Ring Binders
- Brief Cases
- Billfolds
- Luggage
- Purses
- Gifts

REDUCED!!

Scripto Cartridge Pen with Extra Cartridges... NOW $1
Shaver and Pen Center at King's A and I

KING'S-A-I

Downtown
814 Calhoun

Twelve Scholars Selected As Merit Semi-Finalists

Totem Sales To Begin Monday; 2,000 Copies Of Edition Ordered

Students To Purchase
Yearbooks For $3.50
Before Deadline Date

With a college-size yearbook for sale, the 1962 Totem staff will begin its circulation campaign Monday and end on October 25. The '62 Totem, which will be nine inches by twelve inches as compared to last year's eight and one-half by eleven book, will cost $3.50 of which at least 50 cents must be paid during the campaign.

Students who pay the entire price during the campaign will have their names engraved on their annuals without charge. Only 2,000 books have been ordered from the printer.

All underclass pictures will be placed in the yearbook free of charge. The senior agent and the underclass agent who sells the most Totems during the entire campaign will each receive a free Totem.

THE '62 TOTEM is being produced under the direction of Babs Jones, editor-in-chief, and Diane Fredrick, associate editor. Susi Hines and Barb Spiers are the circulation managers.

Circulation meetings will be conducted for all Totem agents each Wednesday night at 3:30 p.m. during the campaign.

Agents for this year's Totem campaign are Judy Chapman, S-1; Mary Fawley, S-2; Sue Phillips, S-4; Debby Tourkow, S-5; Karen Rowley, 2; Jane Whitenack, 4; Ann Arnold, 6; Dave Flanagan, 8;

SALLY BASH, 10; Pat Bobay, 12; John Varner, 14; Cindy Jackson, 22; Mary Keegan, 24; Rhonda Roehm, 26; Denny Truitt, 28; Bill Mueller, 30; Tom Shine, 32; Connie Spencer, 34;

Peggy Brase, 36; Sue Nettour, 44; Sharon Graffis, 46; Leanna Morris, 48; Barb Spiers, 52; Al Purdy, 54; Joy Locke, 56; Nancy Loughhead, 58;

Kathy Branning, 60; Diane Petznik, 61; Tom Meyers, 62; Alice Fruechtent, 64; Janice Wilborn, 66; Elaine Edwards, 68; Suelen Gerig, 70; Shari Busch, 72; Karen Miller, 74;

South Outnumbers Other High Schools With 2,020 Students

With a total enrollment of 2,020 students, South Side outnumbers all other public high schools in Fort Wayne this year. North ranks second with 1,887, Central is third with 1,882, and Elmhurst is last with 761. The total number of students in the four schools is 6,050.

This fall South has 326 freshmen, 629 sophomores, 517 juniors and 548 seniors. Comparing today's number of 2,020 students with the initial enrollment of 792 in 1922, South has increased its student body by an impressive 1,228 pupils.

South Side had its largest enrollment last year with 2,253 Kellys. Since this year's freshman class is the last that will enter South Side, the enrollment is expected to drop in the future.

Next year, however, South will receive new sophomores from four junior high schools. This year's ninth grades at Ben Geyer, Harrison Hill, Portage, and Keklonga will join the Class of 1965 at South Side.

City Hi-Y Members To Receive Training

To carry out a fall training session, the South Side Hi-Y Club will meet with all of the Hi-Y Clubs in the city and county on Monday at 7:15 p.m. at the YMCA. Starting at 5:30 p.m., the officers' training sessions will be led by Mr. Earl Schwalm, president of Lincoln National Bank; Mr. Walter Helmke, attorney with Helmke, Phillips, and Beams;

Mr. Joe Rowden, director of personnel for Lincoln National Life Insurance Company; Mr. Eugene Bingham, head of city agency for Lincoln National Life Insurance Company; and Reverend Robert Long, assistant pastor at First Presbyterian Church.

Highlighting the general session will be an address by Mr. John Lehman, general secretary of the YMCA, entitled "What Hi-Y Can Do for You, the YMCA, the School, and the Community." After Mr. Lehman's speech, the Hi-Y members will divide up into work groups. These groups will be led by the club advisers.

Topics for discussion include money-raising projects, club program planning, city-county-wide events, club service projects, how do we achieve Christian emphasis in Hi-Y, and what Hi-Y means to me as a club member. A question and answer period will follow with the South Side Hi-Y Club giving closing devotions.

Philo To Discuss Humor

Four groups will discuss humorous writing at Monday's meeting of Philo at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room, according to Erin Rose, program chairman.

Members have been asked to bring samples of different types of humor which will be discussed.

TOTEM TEMPTERS . . . The office managers for the 1962 Totem are shown here looking over plans for the circulation campaign which will be launched October 2. The managers are under the direction of Barb Spiers and Susi Hines, co-circulation managers. The managers are left to right Barb Spiers, Susi Hines, Sharon Eitman, Sue McGinnis, Jo Ellen Bobay, Sue Harrod, Elizabeth Ellis, Sue Perry, Sarah Finch, and Marilyn Cole.—Photo by Seaman

Sue Hines, 75; Sharon Stettner, 76; Patti North, 77; Debby Decker, 80; Sue Perry, 82; Kathy Wyss, 84; JoAnn Dixon, 88; Patty Phelps, 90; Lois Lerch, 91; Charles Golden, 92;

JULIA MERCHANT, 94; Mary Crowder, 96; Ronald Martz, 98; Gail Woodruff, 108; Vicki Wismer, 110; Connie Vallance, 116; Jane Ladig, 118; Ruth Russ, 120; Sally Mallough, 138; Loretta Kimmel, 140; Christine Fruechtent, 142; Jim Knapp, 144; Lane Grile, 146; Suzanne Boylan, 150; Mary Ann Waldrop, 162; Cheryl

Brenda Dull Wins Junior Queen Title During Bluffton Fair

Senior Brenda Dull, having been chosen Junior Miss Indiana at the Bluffton Street Fair last Friday evening, will be eligible to compete for the title of Miss Teenage America at Dallas, Tex., from October 15 to 21.

Brenda won the title over 16 contestants by doing an oriental jazz dance which she also did at last year's Junior Banquet. She is undecided about what she will perform at Dallas. Beauty, poise, and personality were considered in the judging also.

Runners-up in the contest were Rita Lynn Lockridge of Beaverdam High School, Akron; Deeda Carmichael of Lew Wallace High, Gary; Carolyn Park of East Rock Creek High, Uniondale; and Judy Carnall of Bluffton High, Bluffton.

THE CONTEST IN Dallas will offer $100,000 in college scholarships as prizes. The first prize will be a $4,600 scholarship to the college of the winner's choice.

Brenda won a $100 cash award from the Street Fair Association and another $100 from the Gooding Amusement Company. The girl that placed second Friday received $50; third, $25; fourth, $15; and fifth, $10.

Brenda also received the title of "Miss Congeniality." Miss Pat Schiller, 17, Miss Adams County, won the Friday morning talent contest.

IN MARCH, BRENDA was a finalist on the Ted Mack Amateur Hour try-outs which took place in Fort Wayne. Brenda has been dancing and singing since she was three years old, and aspires to a dramatic career. She also likes art and may take courses in both at Indiana University after she graduates from South Side.

Judges were Hilda Woehrmeyer of WOWO; Mrs. June Gunkler, a professional model at Wolf and Dessauer; Mrs. Linda Menefee, a former Bluffton Fair contestant and now a television weather girl; and Don Johnson, an investigator for the Allen County Prosecutor's Office.

"I thought all the girls were wonderful and winners in themselves. I never thought of who would be crowned, and never thought I would be," stated Brenda.

Charles Bodenhorn Ranks Fifth On Test

Competing in the Spanish 2 Achievement Test given in Indianapolis last April by the National Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese, Todd Thompson, '61, and Chuck Bodenhorn, junior, ranked first and fifth, respectively, in the state.

Scoring 92 out of a possible 100 points, Todd was awarded $10; both boys received certificates. The test consisted of three sections, comprehension, grammar and composition, and sight-translation.

Todd had previously won one of two Gold Medals awarded in the Indiana University High School Spanish Achievement Test. In this contest, Chuck received honorable mention.

Both boys were under the teaching of Mrs. Myrtle Grimshaw, Spanish instructor.

Majoring in linguistics, Todd is now enrolled as a freshman at New York University.

PTA Mothers Receive Duties For New Year

Among the active participating members of PTA are the homeroom mothers who are selected to represent each homeroom, including serving as "go betweens" for the parents of students and the PTA. Homeroom teachers have the job of selecting the mother and one assistant to represent his or her room. Homeroom mothers may serve for one or more years.

This year Mrs. Robert Spencer, the PTA membership chairman, will give homeroom mothers their duties for back-to-school night. These duties include the responsibility of obtaining PTA memberships and collecting dues. They also include acting as hospitality chairman on Back-to-School Night and contacting each mother in the room which she represents about the forthcoming teas.

HOMEROOM MOTHERS and the rooms they represent are Mrs. H. Burr, 150; Mrs. G. C. Collins, 88; Mrs. Carl Greiner, 66; Mrs. William Fruechtent and Mrs. Richard Galbreath, 64; Mrs. John W. Kinsey, 56; Mrs. D. H. Grodrian and Mrs. L. M. Harader, 92; Mrs. Robert Hughes and Mrs. Francis Hoffman, 178; Mrs. Frank Krandell and Mrs. Howard Kramer, 144; Mrs. John Littlejohn, Mrs. Wayne Lowery and Mrs. William McMillan, 58; Mrs. Evert A. Mae and Mrs. Richard North, 77; Mrs. Carl J. Quick and Mrs. William J. Rastetter Jr., 90; Mrs. Lowell Redding and Mrs. Donald Robinson, 120; Mrs. B. L. Shirley and Mrs. L. W. Smith, 154; Mrs. Herman Steegman and Mrs. David Stephens, 34; Mrs. C. H. Weideman and Mrs. Donald Weber, 156; and Mrs. Les Merica and Mrs. Luella Laue, 94.

Mrs. Jean Nadolny and Mrs. William Baer, 44; Mrs. Edgar Shank, 188; Mrs. R. D. Siddall, 186; Mrs. A. W. Zollinger and Mrs. Roger Westerman, 84; Mrs. Laura M. Alfeld, 152; Mrs. William Elam, 12; Mrs. Eva Brown, 60; Mrs. J. Downing, 110; Mrs. Vaughn Custance and Mrs. A. J. Cress, 96; Mrs. Lawrence Dill and Mrs. Myron Dinius, 80; Mrs. Horace Freeman and Mrs. F. A. Gerhold, 142; Mrs. Dudley C. Wass and Mrs. Andrew Wallace, 14; Mrs. Chester L. Graftis, 45; Mrs. Karl Spicer, 98; Mrs. Howard M. Walker and Mrs. Paul R. Calvert, 22; Mrs. Doris Yergler, 4; Mrs. Vincent C. Truex and Mrs. Hugh Triggles, 116; Mrs. Donald Schumm, 32; Mrs. Guy L. Scheib and Mrs. John Schmitz, 26; and Mrs. Rodger H. Nordeen, 54.

MRS. R. G. BRADFIELD, 36; Mrs. Thomas Gallmeyer, 174; Mrs. J. W. McCallister and Mrs. A. L. Perry, 74; Mrs. D. S. Ladig and Mrs. Herman Korte, 138; Mrs. William Cupp and Mrs. Vaughn Bailey, 172; Mrs. Lloyd Hoover and Mrs. Oliver Kimball, 140; Mrs. Paul Dinius, 190; Mrs. Bert DeVore and Mrs. Elmer Deihl, 176; Mrs. Frank Bodenhorn, 6; Mrs. Karl Krause and Mrs. R. M. Lohman, 46; Mrs.

(Continued on Page 3)

NATIONAL MERIT SEMI-FINALISTS . . . Six of the twelve South Siders announced as semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition are, from left to right, Lyall Morrill, Terry Newendorp, Steve Pratt, Babbette Jones, Bill Borgmann, and Jim Walker.—Photo by Lowden

SENIOR SCHOLARS . . . Semi-finalists, from left to right, Jeff Roth, Dan McCroskey, Ann Golden, David Schele, Evert Mol, and Phil Spray are among over two hundred students chosen from Indiana and over sixteen thousands from the United States to continue in the scholarship competition.—Photo by Lowden

Students Should Observe Rules For Successful School Dances

Dances are being scheduled after football games this year; therefore, the following rules should be observed by all students who attend these activities.

All school dances must be over at 11:30 p.m.

All students including guests from other schools are expected to remain until the end of the dance or until 11:15 p.m. unless previous arrangements have been made with Miss Pauline VanGorder, dean of girls.

Guests at South Side's social affairs are never permitted to take the decorations home for favors. The decorations are the property of the school or the club sponsoring the dance. If items are to be given to the student who made them, the sponsor of the activity should give them to the student personally.

Students should wear school clothes; no slacks or jeans are allowed.

Smoking in the building is a violation of the state law.

Cokes and other drinks sold are not to be taken into the dance room.

Students are not permitted to enter the room where the dance is taking place with their topcoats or wraps. Loud and boisterous conduct is considered discourteous and cannot be permitted.

Good manners dictate that students should greet chaperones.

Tickets are not sold at the door. All tickets must be purchased before the dance.

Pass-outs are not given.

At the beginning of the dance students will enter from the main building by way of the hall to the cafeteria. After the first 30 minutes, the inside entrance will be closed. All latecomers will have to use the north outside door to the cafeteria. Students attending the dance should bring wraps and have them checked. No students will be permitted to enter the main building after the dance.

Art Club To Feature Character Readings

Miss Ann Arber, English instructor, will present character selections from literature and comedy readings at the Art Club meeting Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 26.

All students interested in art are eligible for membership in the Art Club. The dues for the semester are 25 cents.

The events for the coming year include a trip to the Fort Wayne Art Museum, a talk given by Junior Julie Waddington on her art work and trip to Mexico, a trip to the Historical Museum, a report by Junior Cynthia Snider on her uncle who is a fashion designer in Italy, a talk on ceramics, and a Christmas party.

"Special invitations for membership in the Art Club are extended to all new freshmen and sophomores," stated Jane Van Buskirk, president. A reading of the constitution for the club will be included in the business part of the meeting.

Other officers are Barrie McCombs, vice-president; Jane Prill, secretary; Patty Somers, treasurer; and Marilyn Headford, sergeant-at-arms.

YFC Club Organizes Teen Social, Quizzes

Plans for the annual Teen Round Up will be made at the Youth For Christ meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. All students are invited to attend meetings of the club which tries to prepare teenagers to serve their country as capable leaders.

To sharpen intelligence Bible teams are formed, one from each high school consisting of eight members. City-wide, state-wide, and national music contests are offered.

This Christian youth organization has been established in South Side since 1955. In 1959 the Bible quiz team consisting of Judy Dunlap, '61; Linda McNeal, '61; Sue Harrold, '60; Wendell Eicher, '60; Roger Diffendorfer, '61; and Grant Osborn, '60, won the district trophy.

Archers Rank High In State On Percentage

Students To Achieve
Scholarship Awards
On Leadership Basis

Twelve South Side students have been named semi-finalists in the 1961-62 National Merit Scholarship competition. They are William Borgmann, Ann Golden, Babbette Jones, Daniel McCroskey, Evert Mol, Lyall Morrill, Terry Newendorp, Steve Pratt, Jeffrey Roth, David Schele, Philip Spray, and James Walker.

On the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, a test of educational development given in more than fifteen hundred high schools last spring, these semi-finalists are among the high-scoring students. The percentage of semi-finalists from South Side is a little over four times the state percentage. Each semi-finalist is now a step closer to winning a four-year Merit Scholarship to the college of his or her choice.

These 12 students will take another examination, the three-hour Scholastic Aptitude Test of the College Entrance Examination Board, to be given on December 2.

STUDENTS WHOSE scores on the second test substantiate their performance on the qualifying test, and who are approved by their high schools will become finalists in the competition. More than 95 per cent of the semi-finalists have become finalists in past years.

The students, as finalists, will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by 115 business and industrial organizations, professional societies, foundations, private individuals, and the National Merit Scholastic Corporation itself.

High school grades, extra-curricular activities, school citizenship, and leadership qualities of the students will be judged as well as their test scores.

Each scholarship awarded will cover the four-year undergraduate work. The amount of money the student receives depends upon his needs. Stipends have been averaging about seven hundred fifty dollars a year.

FOR STUDENTS WHO require financial aid, awards may reach a maximum of $1,600 per year. Awards of $100 are granted to students who already have financial resources which will enable them to attend the college of their choice.

Finalists name the college they wish to attend and the course of study they plan to take. Scholars in most instances also receive cost-of-education grants ranging up to $500 per year.

On or about May 1, the names of the Merit Scholars will be announced, the exact number depending on the extent of sponsor support of the Merit program.

"MERIT SEMI-FINALISTS represent the most promising brains in the nation. From this group of able, at-

(Continued on Page 6)

News Shorts

By Sandy Thorn
General Manager

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.: Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is expected to hold fast to the Kremlin's stand in reply to President John Kennedy's call for new negotiations on disarmament and the Berlin Crisis. While western diplomats and many neutrals were impressed by Kennedy's proposals, UN delegates saw little hope that the Soviet Union would soften its position.

NEW YORK, N.Y.: President Kennedy signed a bill creating a disarmament agency to provide the tools for a disarmament program which the United States could place before the world as a solution to the threat of future devastating wars. William C. Foster, former foreign aid administrator and assistant secretary of defense, is to head the agency.

MOSCOW, RUSSIA: Pravda, Communist party newspaper, printed a two-column article about President Kennedy Tuesday at the invitation of the editor of the New York Post, James Wechsler. The article pointed out that almost everything about Nikita Khrushchev is printed in U.S. newspapers, but little appears about Kennedy in Soviet newspapers.

WILSON, LA.: Charles E. Wilson, former president of General Motors and defense secretary in the Eisenhower administration, died of a heart attack Tuesday at the age of 71. While running the Defense Department he touched off a storm by remarking that "what's good for General Motors is good for the country." He resigned as Defense Secretary on October 30, 1957, and was re-appointed as a member of the board of General Motors.

CHAPEL HILL, N.C.: An advertisement in the Daily Tar Heel newspaper at the University of North Carolina, read "For Sale: One 1949 black Pontiac, straight-eight. Extras include no clutch, dead battery, and five parking tickets."

After The Victory, The Reward

Times Agents Sell 2,153 Subscriptions, Attain 100 Per Cent Homeroom Goal

Students To Receive Candy After Payment Of Promissory Notes

Selling 2,153 subscriptions, the Times circulation staff reached its goal of 100 per cent sales in every homeroom after a three-week campaign that ended Friday.

"I would like to thank all the agents and bookheads for their hard work during the campaign, enabling us to reach our goal," stated Sue Burdick, circulation manager.

When all the promissory notes, due November 22, are paid, every subscriber will receive a candy bar, or two if he is in a homeroom that had 100 per cent the first day of the campaign. Snickers candy bars will be distributed.

Sue Horth, senior, was the high salesman for the first day of the campaign, selling $54 worth of subscriptions. She received a $3 prize, and Doug Hansen was awarded $2 for being the second highest salesman.

Nancy Redding was the first book-head to have a 100 per cent book, achieving it in three days. Book 11, headed by Rosie Capps, obtained 100 per cent the first week of the campaign.

Agents who had 100 per cent homerooms the first day are Ann Golden and Kaylene Gebert, S-2; Sue Horth, S-3; Sandy Miller and Sue Phillips, S-4; Sandy Thorn, S-5; Babette Jones, 24; Terry Newendorp, 30; Susie Hines, 75; Nancy Redding, 120; Carol Ladig, 138; Diane Fredrick, 146; and Kathy DeVore, 176.

Circulation assistants are Nancy Redding, Rosie Capps, Sally Sweet, Sue Berk, Dick Parke, Betsy Adams, Janet Calvert, and Bill Wilder.

The agents and their homerooms are as follows:

Book I—Nancy Redding, head
S-1 Alice Ashton-
Tamara Beaty	100%
S-2 Kaylene Gebert-
Ann Golden	100%
S-3 Sue Horth	100%
S-4 Sandy Miller-
Sue Phillips	100%
S-5 Sandy Thorn	100%
2 Bonnie Russell	100%
4 Sharyan Yarger	100%
6 Sue Berk	100%
Sharon Eitman	100%
Book II—Rosemary Capps, head
10 Joyce Lockwood-
Becky Baughman	100%
12 Joyce Dunlap	100%
22 Cindy Jackson	100%
24 Babette Jones	100%
26 Peggy Schmidt	100%
28 Roberta Twitchell	100%
30 Terry Newendorp	100%
32 Barrie Spear	100%
34 Susan Robinson	100%
Book III—Sally Sweet, head
36 Sue Burdick	100%

JOB WELL DONE . . . Times circulation bookheads are shown here depositing money at the Fort Wayne National Bank after the two-week school campaign in which they succeeded in obtaining a 100 per cent subscription drive. The bookheads are left to right Janet Calvert, Bill Wilder, Nancy Redding, Betsy Adams, Sue Burdick, Sally Sweet, Dick Parke, and Rosemary Capps.—Photo by Lowden

44 Cheryl Nadolny	100%
46 Cindy Miller	100%
52 Karen Simmons	100%
54 Diana Ornas-
Harriet Ochstein	100%
56 Doris Hessert	100%
58 Susan Lawry	100%
Book IV—Sue Berk, head
60 Larry Brown-
Sue Borgmann	100%
61 Linda Siebel	100%
62 Karen Miller	100%
64 Nancy Enz	100%
66 Suzette Glass	100%
68 Brenda Dull	100%
70 Tom Erb	100%
72 Cindy Christman	100%
74 Ann McCallister	100%
Book V—Dick Parke, head
75 Susie Hines	100%
76 Sue Smith	100%
77 Barb Nelson	100%
80 Lynelle Dill	100%
82 Marina Reiher	100%
84 Cheryl Trulock	100%
86 Joan Dixon	100%
90 Phyllis Pierson	100%
91 Sue Korte	100%
92 Doug Hansen	100%
Book VI—Betsy Adams, head
94 Julia Merchant	100%
96 Christine Counsman	100%
98 Gwen Welling	100%
108 Gail Woodruff	100%
110 Nancy Stewart	100%

Safety Council Plans Year

Homeroom representatives for Safety Council are to meet tonight at 3:30 p.m. in Room 182. The chairmen and co-chairmen of various committees will be announced and assignments will be made for posters and the flasher box slogan.

SLICK'S H-3232

116 Donna Summers	100%
118 Sharon Karst	100%
120 Nancy Redding	100%
138 Carol Ladig	100%
Book VII—Janet Calvert, head
140 Tonya Hines	100%
142 Bev Flanagan-
Karen Franks	100%
144 Jane Knettle-
Marian Johnson	100%
146 Diane Fredrick	100%
150 Linda Churchward	100%
152 Nancy Augspurger	100%
154 Joyce Spindler	100%
156 Sue Weinraub	100%
Liz Weikart	100%
172 Rosemary Capps	100%
Book VIII—Bill Wilder, head
174 Ann Gallmeyer	100%
176 Kathy DeVore	100%
178 Martha Hoard	100%
182 Ann Brase	100%
184 Phyllis Bixby	100%
186 Linda Thornburg	100%
190 Ann Flickinger	100%

PTA Mothers

(Continued from Page 1)

Russell Erb and Mrs. H. Frank Fin-frock, 70; Mrs. Leiland Bradley, 182; Mrs. Robert Bumgardner, 72; Mrs. Wayne Dibert, 68; Mrs. Charles B. Fine, 8; Mrs. Wm. George and Mrs. George Fredrick, 146; Mrs. John Hoffman Jr., 24; Mrs. Dean Lockwood and Mrs. Fredrick Russell, 10; Mrs. J. S. Newell and Mrs. Lawrence W. Mueller, 30; Mrs. Jack Seigel, 61; Mrs. Eugene Smith, 76; Mrs. Godsell L. Perry and Mrs. Alice Mitchell, 82; Mrs. Charles M. Lee and Mrs. Frank M. Meek, 91; Mrs. W. D. Simmons and Mrs. Orin A. Simpson, 52; Mrs. Charles F. Harrod and Mrs. Donald Himes, 75; Mrs. W. A. Summers and Mrs. Jack TenEyck, 28; Mrs. Harry Woodside, 108; Mrs. Sally Hall and Mrs. Howard Estep, S-2; Mrs. Delmar Arnold, S-1; Mrs. August E. Miller and Mrs. Richard Merchant, S-4; Mrs. Louis Snow and Mrs. Wayne Thieme, S-5; and Mrs. Donald Leaman, 118.

Workshop To Organize

All people interested in joining Assemblies Workshop are invited to attend the first meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 152. The meeting will be highlighted by the introduction of officers and the planning for an after-game dance on October 13. Officers for the coming year are Susan Horth, president; Rosemary Capps, vice-president; Judy Chapman, fall secretary; Susan Bumgardner, spring secretary; Jane Ladig, treasurer; Sharon Eitman and Susan Phillips, sergeant-at-arms.

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON
WEEKDAYS

(For Semester—Applies on Purchase)
Increase Your Grades—Improve Your Speed
Learn Typing—A College Must!
RENT A TYPEWRITER . . . $1.00 WEEK
BUSINESS MACHINES SUPPLY
S-3735 5816 Gates Drive

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Journalism Students Fill Assistant Posts On Newspaper Staff

Nine students have been selected for assistant positions on the Times staff by Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser. These assistants, chosen from Mr. Rohrabough's journalism class, include Debby Brooke, classroom news editor; Sue Harrod, point recorder; Jean Hatfield, mailing manager;

Krystyna Kriworotow, auditor; Steve Leitz, copy returner; Vicki Adams, exchange editor; Charlotte Powell, credit manager; Sonya Flagg, librarian; and Ken Lowden, paper disseminator.

Each assistant has a job of importance to the Times staff. The classroom news editor's job is to assign names of teachers to writers who will, in turn, bring word of the classroom activities.

The point recorder's job is to record the points of all Times members who have turned in a point sheet. The mailing manager's job is to mail a newspaper to everyone of the advertisers; the auditor's job is to send out bills to the advertisers.

The copy returner is to return all stories to the writers' envelopes in the Times Room. The duty of the exchange editor is to exchange our paper with other school papers in the city or out of town.

Senior Caron Fine Leads City Chapter Of B'nai B'rith Girls

Writing 25 letters a week and traveling throughout the Midwest are two time-consuming jobs that Caron Fine, senior, experiences as she fulfills her duties as recently elected president of the Fort Wayne Chapter of B'nai B'rith Girls.

Caron presides at the bi-monthly chapter meeting, heads chapter delegations to conventions, and plans programs and projects with Sue Berk and Jani Brenn, vice-presidents.

THE B'NAI B'RITH Youth Organization is the largest Jewish club for young people in the world. Its members are girls and boys of high school age, separated into two groups, B'nai B'rith Girls and Aleph Zadik Aleph.

Goals of B'nai B'rith Girls are to help its members become better citizens, acquire a better feeling for their religion, and grow in character and intellect as individuals. These goals are accomplished by the six-fold plan including service, Jewish heritage, citizenship, fellowship, creativity, and recreation.

The entire international organization is divided into levels, each of which has its own set of officers. The primary level is the chapter; Caron was elected president of the Fort Wayne Chapter last spring.

THE REGION AND the district are the next levels. The Midwestern district is composed of eight states stretching from Ohio to Wyoming. On the district level, Caron's office is corresponding secretary; she works with the district president, writing letters and releases to the two thousand four hundred B'nai B'rith Girls in the district.

Last August, Caron attended the seven-day international convention at Starlite, Pa., in the Pocono Mountains. As a climax to the convention, she was chosen International Fellowship chairman. The Fellowship Fold emphasizes meeting people, learning about them, and through this knowledge, learning about oneself.

Thursday, September 28
Safety Council, Room 178, 3:30 p.m.
Y-Teens, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Faculty Picnic, McMillen Park, 5:30 p.m.
Cross Country, Huntington, there
Friday, September 29
Assembly Workshop, Room 152, 3:30 p.m.
GAA Speedball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Pep session
Football, North Side, here
Monday, October 2
Philo, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.
Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
GAA Speedball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Tuesday, October 3
Meterites, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
Electronics Section, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.
Cross Country, Kokomo and Central, there
Wednesday, October 4
Art Club, Room 26, 3:30 p.m.
Red Cross, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.
Music Assembly, Gym, 8:20 a.m.
Times' Agents Meeting, Study Hall, 3:30 p.m.

Cheers To Pep Fans For Game

To arouse spirit, tomorrow's pep session at 8:30 a.m. in the gymnasium will consist of such cheers as the school song, "S-Letter," "Victory Chant," "Roll Call," and "Train Team" by the varsity cheerleaders. The band will then join in "Over Hill."

In addition, "Sass Boom" and "Now Hey, Hey" will be led by the reserves. In the yell contest, each class will be competing against the other, yelling "1-2-3-4"; "S-o-u-t-h," "Give us the Green," "Good Luck," and "Go Archers" will conclude the pep session.

Sharon Carrel, varsity cheerleader, and Sharon Bass, reserve, are in charge of this pep session.

For the benefit of all new students, the following cheers are the ones most often used:

The School Song

To the school that has no equal, the dear old South Side High,
To whose teams there are no equal, for you we will gladly die.
Though the odds may be against you, we'll still stand for your rights.
And in the end we'll greet you, our dear old Green and White. Fight! Fight!

Victory Chant

Go, team, go. Fight, team, fight. Yea, team fight, fight, fight!
T-E-A-M team, team, Green and White on the beam.
V-I-C-T-O-R-Y vic-to-ry win tonight. (music)
South Side (music) South Side (music) South Side
(Music) South Side — Go, team, go! Fight, team, fight!
Rah! Rah! Rah! Fight, Fight, Fight!

Over Hill, Over Dale

Over hill, over dale, we are on the victory trail, as those Archers go rolling along.
Fighting hard all the way, we will shout 'hip, hip, hurrah!' as those Archers go rolling along.

We're from South Side High, and we never will say die, while the Green and the White float above;
At victory we'll shout; at defeat we'll never quit; but we'll cheer for the school that we love.

Go, Archers

Go, Archers, we're behind you, Go, Archers, we will cheer you,
Go on to victory; let's win this game tonight.
Go, Archers, beat those Redskins, Go, Archers, beat those Redskins,
Go on to victory and win this game tonight.
Go you Archers! Go you Archers! Win this game!
Go you Archers! Go you Archers! Win this game!
Go—You—Archers!

Electronics Club To Meet

An outline of club activities will be discussed at the first meeting of the Electronics Section of the Junior Academy of Science Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 96.

"A Complete Music Store"
Everything Musical and Music Studios
Cliff Smith Music
"Where Artist and Student Meet"
AT 3108 SOUTH CALHOUN STREET

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Ruth Russ, Ginny Barnes Visit Famous Sites In England, Italy

Spears and native dances, riots and revolutions . . . This is modern Africa as pictured in the average newspaper. However, this is not Africa to Sophomores Ruth Russ and Ginny Barnes.

During the past summer, Ginny and Ruth took a "whirlwind" tour through England, France, Italy, Monaco, and Morocco. On June 12 the girls left buyers and sellers haggle over the wares. Tourists are not encouraged to purchase food here because it is stored in the open without refrigeration.

The dress of the natives of Morocco is a source of fascination to most visitors. Both men and women wear long, flowing robes. Women's robes are called Jalvas, and they wear veils which almost cover the entire face, and must be worn at all times on the street. They are permitted to remove them in their own home or in a home of a friend.

Religion plays a big part in the life of the Moroccan people. The majority of the people are Moslems; A number are of the Jewish faith. The Moslem religion permits a man to have a number of wives, but very few men take advantage of this. The divorce laws are equally lenient and in the man's favor.

MOSLEM CHURCHES ARE large, ornate buildings called mosques. One of the most unusual customs practiced by these people concerns their prayers. At five prescribed times throughout the day, a Moslem must kneel, facing east to the holy city of Mecca, and say his prayer.

Religious influences are also prevalent in the Moslems' choice of pork, which is strictly forbidden them. Ruth and Ginny sampled a Moroccan food called couscous, which is made from meal, turnips, raisins, and any other ingredients they care to add. This is a main food, and can be used in anything from stew to dessert.

In Morocco the land is arid and dry. Although there is little rain, there is greenery in the form of trees. The weather is very hot and humid, and people who can afford tents live at the seashore during the summer.

While the French controlled this section of Morocco, there was no compulsory education; as a result, illiteracy is widespread throughout the older people. Since it has become a monarchy, there is required education to the eighth grade. Several high schools and one college are in Morocco.

For souvenirs both girls purchased many leather items, products for which Morocco is noted.

Ruth Russ and Ginny Barnes

Fort Wayne for Chicago, where they flew to New York to board a jet for London.

At London's International Airport they were greeted by Ginny's sister, with whom they stayed for three days. While in England, the girls visited Windsor Castle, St. Paul's Cathedral, Hampton Court, Buckingham Palace, Trafalgar Square, and Piccadilly Circus.

While still in Europe, the girls joined a tour sponsored by a local radio station. Traveling through France, Italy, and Monaco by bus, both Ginny and Ruth were impressed with the "Old World" charm, the ancient statues, temples, and the people.

FROM EUROPE RUTH and Ginny went to Morocco, Africa, Casablanca, where Ginny and Ruth stayed, is a city of contrasts. On one hand, it is a modern, up-to-date city; on the other hand, one may see customs and dress dating back thousands of years. The majority of the natives live in poverty and filth.

Sanitation services are almost nonexistent and everywhere there are evidences of years of backward conditions. Sometimes as many as ten people live in one-room shacks. Food is purchased at a public market, where

Ingeborg's Frisor Salong

(Beauty Shop)
617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

WE WILL NOT BE UNDERSOLD!
Choose from thousands of LP's featuring world famous artists
At Discount Prices
All your favorite artists. We guarantee all our merchandise to be of first quality.

VISIT OUR NEW GREETING CARD AND BOOK DEPT.
Whirling Disc Record Shop
1030 S. Calhoun E-9960
Weekday Store Hours:
Wed. & Fri. 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.
Mon., Tues., Thurs., Sat.
10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Phone: T-1141

Hall's Drive-Ins

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Morton Downs Gridders With First-Quarter Score

Nate Norment Gains Yardage In Losing Effort

Tenth-Rated Governors Conquer Archers, 7-0, Leave Record At 1-1

Although Hammond Morton won Saturday's game, South Side was able to hold the Governors to seven points. The Governors put in the only score of the night with a 53-yard run by halfback Dennis Palmer and then a short sack by the quarterback. South was surpassed in statistics in most departments but was still able to keep good control of the ball for the last three quarters.

The Governors outrushed the Archers by 121 yards; but Kelly quarterback, Tom McMahan, gained 28 yards to Hammond's 18 yards in the passing attack. South received the greater share of penalties by losing 60 yards. The Archer punter, Ed Johnson, sent off four good punts for a 36 yard average.

IN THE FIRST HALF Jon Van-Ooston kicked the ball to the Hammond Morton 10-yard line, and they ran the ball to the South 25-yard line in seven plays. However, Ed Johnson of the Green and White made the first interception of the day and South got the ball for the first time on their own 20. Nate Norment did the bulk of the distance running for South, but the Archers couldn't get past the Hammond tacklers.

The Governors got control of the ball again and a few plays later ran around left end for the only touchdown of the night. The conversion was kicked through the up-rights making the score 7-0.

SOUTH SIDE, HAVING the ball once more, put on a tremendous drive led by fullback Sid Sherry and the three halfbacks Ed Johnson, Dick Johnson, and Nate Norment.

For the rest of the half the big Archer line held down the Governor attack. Prichard, Shearer, Weaver, and Parker did a good job of stopping the swift Morton runners. Just before the final gun of the half, McMahan threw a pass to Ed Johnson on the one-yard line. Then the Archer quarterback tried to sneak the ball across the goal line but was stopped, and the first half ended before another play could be run.

NEITHER TEAM MADE much yardage in the third quarter, and Morton had to kick for the second time. Nate Norment caught the ball and made a gallant effort to the Governor's 30-yard line. The Archers were able to get within the Morton 15-yard line but were just short of the first down and lost the ball for the final scoring threat of the night.

Morton got the ball and drove to the South 36-yard line and tried for a field goal; the attempt was short and wide. The ball changed hands a few more times and then the game ended, leaving South scoreless.

It was South's first loss of the season against one win, and the third win for the Hammond Morton squad which is ranked tenth in the state this year.

South Reserves Put Bengals Down, 12-7

Led by the long runs of Bob Williams and Andy Christon and the fine quarterbacking of Dave Banet, South Side's reserves eased their way to a 12-7 victory over Central Catholic, September 18.

On the attack from the beginning, the Archers received the opening kick-off and returned it to their 40-yard line. Their ensuing drive for a goal, sparked by a 35-yard run by Christon, was climaxed by fullback Bill Kinsey's two-yard plunge. The extra point attempt failed.

THE ARCHERS CONTINUED to dominate the first half but failed to score, and the Irish never threatened.

The third quarter was played on even terms until, in the waning moments, the Irish were forced to punt. Bob Williams received for South on his 20-yard line and ran back 80 yards for the winning touchdown. The try-for-point was not good again.

CENTRAL CATHOLIC finally broke its scoring ice near the end of the game with a short, touchdown pass. Their point attempt was successful, making the final score 12-7.

The fourth quarter was marred when Christon, who had sprained an ankle earlier, received a slight concussion when he bumped into Kinsey. Knocked unconscious, he was immediately hospitalized; but the injury was not serious.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE
202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Harriers Continue Win Streak, Trounce Warsaw, New Haven

With unexpected ease South Side's harriers picked up their fourth and fifth wins of the year, downing Warsaw 19-42 Tuesday, and New Haven 19-40 last Thursday. Once again the almost unbeatable combination of strong team balance and the individual efforts of Ken Ellingwood resulted in an overwhelming victory.

Ellingwood took first place against the Tigers, his third such success in six outings; but he had to battle Gawthrop of the host school in the last quarter-mile to clinch it. His time was 10:26, which was good for the rough, hilly Kosciusko County Fairground layout.

After Gawthrop, South captured the next four places. Stu Schmitz, Dave Munson, Jim More, and Jim Burton finished in that order, all within four seconds of each other.

AS IN THE RECENT New Haven conquest, the entire nine-man Kelly varsity beat the number four enemy runner home. Such squad balance is nothing short of fabulous and should carry Coach "Porky" Holt and crew far in their bid for statewide recognition.

Ever since the days of Max Truex, the Tigers have built an enviable record in cross country. Truex, a 1956 graduate, was one of the nation's top prep milers during his high school days at Warsaw and today is an inter-

Frosh Speedballers Post Two Shutouts

Freshman girls interested in joining GAA met Friday at 3:30 p.m. for a game of speedball. Squad leaders for this first event were elected, and teams were formed. Playing out in the field, Squad 2, captained by Jo Elynn Good, beat Sally Henderson's Squad 1 by a score of 4-0.

On the other end of the field, Squad 3, led by Joy Locke, won over Valentina Harabosky's Squad 4 by a 2-0 margin. Those making points and assisting the plays for Squad 2 were Janis Pflueger, Bonnie Post, and Diana Nordblom. Kathy Hughes of Squad 3 assisted Lynn Raby to score points over Squad 2.

GIRLS PLAYING FOR Squad 1 were Sally Henderson captain, Joan Brooks, Carol Channell, Suzanne Freeman, Laura Graham, Doris Hesser, Vicki Mosure, Janet Miller, Darlene Neireiter, Judy Putman, Roseann Wagner, Pat Walton, and Kathy Wyss.

Squad 2 players were Jo Elynn Good captain, Pam Ensley, Marcelle Flandrois, Leslie Froebe, Judy Koehl, Nancy Markin, Marcella McMillan, Diana Nordblom, Janis Pflueger, Bonnie Post, Rise Precise, and Mary Stults.

Squad 3 were Joy Locke captain, Aileen Booty, Beverly Dougherty, Kathy Hughes, Suzie Knox, Cheryl Krudop, Julia Merchant, Debbie Meryl, Lynn Raby, Sandra Reed, Mary Sherlock, and Debbie Zollinger.

SQUAD 4, INCLUDES Valentina Harabosky captain, Lynette Downing, Alice Fruechtenicht, Candy Greiner, Linda Grimmer, Cynthia Johns, Linda Loomis, Sharon Lynch, Jo Richter, Sue Richter, Linda Stanger, and Carol Westernman.

The upperclassmen who scored and umpired were Ann Henderson, Beth Randall, Jane Knettle, Margaret Shirley, R. D. Hartley, Jan Spuller, Mary Marker, Toni Sorensen, Marsha Good, and Nancy Miles.

Riflers To Practice Shots

Members of the Boys' Rifle Club will continue to practice shooting in the prone position at the meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. on the rifle range. Officers for this semester are David Schele, president; Dale Smith, vice-president; and Jim Walker, treasurer.

SOUTH SIDE SHELL SERVICE
Lafayette and Rudisill Ph. H-5177
WHEEL BALANCE
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete
Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette McKinnie H-2247

NATIONAL PETROLEUM, Inc.
and
Their Friendly Pure Oil Dealers
PURE FIREBIRD GASOLINES

Players' Spotlight

Dick, Eddie Johnson Promote Defensive Action As Halfbacks

Dick Johnson

Eddie Johnson

One of the stalwart halfbacks of the football team this year is speedy Dick Johnson, senior. Standing 5-7 and weighing just 138 pounds, Dick is one of the smallest players on the Archer squad. However, once he puts on the Kelly green and white, he is just as rough as some of the other players twice his size.

Because of his fierce football, Dick has earned himself a place on the first string defensive team. Not only proving himself outstanding on defense, in the first two games Dick was also a spectacular break-away offensive halfback, reeling off long gains.

This is Dick's second year on the varsity squad. Last season he saw limited action, partly due to illness; so it was not until this season that Dick blossomed into the outstanding football player which he is.

DICK IS TAKING FIVE academic solids, creating a heavy schedule along with football work. His subjects include English, government, speech, metal workshop, and chemistry.

Not only a football standout, he

Job's Daughters To Host Officers Of Area Bethels

Job's Daughters will host a "Friend's Night" Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. Officers from the Fort Wayne area bethels will be invited to attend this meeting by the members of the local bethel.

Girls who are interested in obtaining membership to the organization should obtain a petition from any Job's Daughters' member, fill it out, and then give it back to the girl from whom they received it, or send it to the Fort Wayne Masonic Temple.

The main officers of Job's Daughters for this year are Roxanne Smith, honored queen; Diane Simmers, senior princess; Ellen Stanbery, junior princess; Carol Botterton, guide; and Sharon Earler, marshal.

Graves & Hageman, Inc.

Commercial Floor Covering Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.
Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

Wanted—Alive

SALES BOYS OR GIRLS
TO SELL SKATING PARTIES FOR KREE'S RINK
ON COMMISSION BASIS
See Les Kreigh
at the Rink

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Chairs and Tables That Fold

LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

After the first week of action, the intramural cross country and touch football programs are now in full swing. A total of 62 runners is participating in cross country. This is one of the largest groups Mr. Clair Motz, intramural director, has ever had.

Already one record has been broken and another seriously challenged. Dale Hilsmer, Phil New, and Dave James combined to break the three-lap record of John McMillen, Al Schlie, and Dennis Jones. In running a 3:31.5 race, they broke the old record by nearly three seconds.

Dale Hilsmer led off the relay by running a 68-second lap; Phil New then turned in a 71-second lap; and Dave James romped home in 72 seconds. In this relay, each person runs one lap around Packard Park, or a little over a quarter of a mile.

In the other relay, in which four men competed, Tom Marshall, Larry Barnett, Dale Hilsmer, and Jim Barker came in four seconds shy of breaking the record of 4:21.8. This mark currently belongs to two teams, Gary Butz, Bob Camp, Dennis Jones, and Phil Gallmeier and John McMillen, Al Schlie, Mike Ferverda, and Doug Smith.

Marshall, Hilsmer, Barnett, and Barker ran the distance in 4:25, which is very good for their first time. This is a progressive relay in which each person runs a third of the way around the track and taps the next runner. He then waits there until he is tapped. This procedure is continued until each person has finished one full lap.

In touch football, six new teams have been added. They are Steve Evans' Screamin' Demons, Gary Tinkel's Champs, and Larry Brown's Blockbusters in the heavyweight division and Gary Shanks' Terrifiers, Jim Lawson's Drillers, and Dave James' Untouchables in the lightweight division.

In the only lightweight action this week, Mike Beltz quarterbacked the Nature Boys to a 26-0 trouncing over the Drillers. Beltz threw four touchdown passes, two to Dave Rodenbeck and one each to Ricky Meeks and Don Carlo. He also threw to Pat Fiske and Ricky Meeks for the only extra points of the game.

In the heavyweight division, there were three games. The Screamin' Demons clobbered the Yogi Gang, 26-0. Steve Evans' passing and running and a stout defense allowed the Screamin' Demons to win.

Evans threw two touchdown passes, both to Mike Clemmer, and caught another pass from Clemmer to account for the three touchdowns. The Yogi Gang was caught for three safeties, two by Don Dawson and one by Bill Joy.

The Grippers III and the Rascals played to a 0-0 tie in the first game of the year. To break the tie, each team was given two chances to advance the ball. The Rascals gained about 5 yards, while the Grippers III lost yardage, thus providing the Rascals with the win. In the only other scheduled game, the Yogi Gang forfeited to the Grippers III.

Boys may now enter the annual fall golf tourney, October 6, 7, and 8 at Foster Park, by registering in the gym office. A participant must play 18 holes, both the front and back nines, with another entrant. Last year, 21 golfers entered this popular fall sport.

Last year's winners were Don Reiling, lightweight, 86; Larry Schneider, middleweight, 79, and John Schmitt, heavyweight, 76.

Gerig Super Service

MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service

3501 Bowser H-5269

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Auto Collision Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.
5208 S. Hanna H-0691

FOR

- Film Developing
- Film and Flash Bulbs
- Records
- Sheaffer Pens
- Papermate Pens
- Pen Repairing
- Greeting Cards
- Russell Stover Candy

COME TO HOWARD'S
Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

COLONIAL Restaurant

E-2000

Wm. A. Didier & Sons

Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With
Dyna-Vision

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO—
T & T TAILORING
525 Oxford H-2185

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service

McDonald's DRIVE-IN
Cheeseburger
McDonald's 100% PURE BEEF HAMBURGER WITH DELICIOUS MELTED CHEESE!
19c
TREAT your Family TO A VISIT TO McDonald's the home of the
All American Meal
HAMBURGER 15c FRENCH FRIES 10c MILK SHAKE 20c ALL FOR JUST 45c
2—LOCATIONS—2
CALIFORNIA ROAD & HI-WAY 30 EAST

Kellys To Battle 'Fighting' Redskins Tomorrow

Quarterback Jack Aiken Leads Inexperienced Northern Squad

Tomorrow night the Archers will face their second encounter in City Series play when they play host to the North Side Redskins at 8 p.m.

Although Coach Bill Williams' boys have composed anything but a respectable record they still pose a serious threat to the Archer squad. In the first three games, North battled with Elkhart, Michigan City, and South Bend Adams, three of the toughest teams in northern Indiana.

Because of inexperience, the Red and White did not do well against those rivals. However, with three games under their belt, and with the prospect of playing "old rival South" dangling before them, Coach Williams' men should provide stiff competition, quite possibly stiffer competition than the Kellys can handle.

EVEN THOUGH THE records show that 14 lettermen are returning to North's squad this season, Coach Williams still feels that he started with an inexperienced team. Five of his starters on the line are juniors, but all are getting considerable game experience. All of the rest of the first string are seasoned performers.

If he uses his standard starting line-up, Coach Williams will have Bill Reeves and Dick Ungerer at ends, Roger Bryan and Jim Griffith at tackles, Berry Donovan and Bud Parker at the guard posts, and Roger Macy at center. The backfield will

City Scoreboard

	W	L	T	GB	Pct.
South	1	0	0	—	1.000
North	0	0	0	½	.000
Central	0	0	0	½	.000
C.C.	0	0	0	½	.000
Luers	0	1	0	1	.000

	Overall
	W	L	T	GB	Pct.
Concordia	2	1	0	25.7	7	18.7
South	1	1	0	25.7	4.5	2
Luers	1	1	1	9.3	4.3	5
C.C.	1	1	1	12.3	14	-1.7
North	0	2	1	4.7	13	-8.3
Central	0	2	1	7	25	-18
Elmhurst	0	0	3	2.3	26.7	-24.4

	W	L	T	GB	Pct.
Porter, Con.	2	1	0	10	13
Burns, Luers	2	1	0	10	13
Durnell, Central	2	0	0	12
Bauch, Con.	2	0	0	12
Nancarrow, C.C.	2	0	0	12
Schoenfeld, Con.	1	2	0	8

consist of Jack Aiken calling signals; and Scott Werling, Bill Kelley, and Bill Pool driving the ball through the line.

This appears to be a formidable line-up, but mistakes in fundamental blocking and tackling were profuse in early games, according to Mr. Williams. He also added that the superior teams made the weaknesses look even greater than they were.

THE COACH'S MAIN complaint was that his Redskins weren't scoring enough points, jokingly referring to the fact that the opponents kept getting two points for every one by North. This complaint may soon vanish, however, as the Archer defense is not as tough as that of Elkhart or Michigan City.

If Pool, Aiken, and Kelley continue to turn in their superb performances in the backfield, the Archer defense which couldn't hold Burns and Lebrato of Luers may give in and allow itself to be walked over.

On the other hand, the Redskin defense has proved itself to be strong and durable. Bud Parker at 202 pounds, Roger Macy at 187, Al Haney at 252, Roger Bryan at 193, Jim Griffith at 201, and Barry Donovan at 178 are big enough, strong enough, and tough enough to do a good job of retaining South's backs. Pass defense might be another matter though.

It should be an interesting game for everyone involved. It will probably be one of the most evenly played games in our stadium this year. The game can go either way, but with a little luck South could be victorious.

Guitar or Accordion Lessons $2 Per Week
We furnish an instrument to beginners.
ENROLL NOW—Free Parking—H-4165
CLIFF SMITH MUSIC
Piano—Banjo—String Bass—Sax Lessons
2165 South Calhoun Street

Jocquel Supply Co.
Four Generations of Service of
All Types Building Material
2206 Broadway H-3141

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Yet Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818 CALHOUN ST.
KOERBER'S Jewelers
SINCE 1865
818 CALHOUN ST.

Stu's Sideline shots

By Stu Schmitz

Although South Side lost to tenth-ranked Hammond-Morton last Saturday night, they came through with a great moral victory which could touch off the Archers' bid to take the city crown.

The Governors, who were two to three touchdown favorites over the Archers, found that South was quite a bit more than an "eleven-man squad with uniforms" as were their previously victimized foes. South played heads-up ball in all but the first quarter of play, when the somewhat nervous squad allowed a 53-yard run by Dennis Palmer reach pay dirt for the only score of the game.

An extra time-out in the first half for South might have made a difference in the final outcome. With just seconds to go before the half-time intermission, South had the ball on the one-yard line first and goal to go. Had they been able to call for time to plan an effective play, they might have knotted the score; but with just seconds left they were forced to rush the play which was stopped cold on the one-yard line.

Again as was true in the Luers game, the Archers were beaten statistically. The Governors outrushed and outpassed the Archers while being penalized 25 yards to the Archers' 60. Punting was the only department that the Archers were able to outdo the Governors. Halfback Ed Johnson, who played a tremendous offensive game, handled the kicking chores with a 36-yard average punt.

Archer fans were able to witness perhaps one of the best high school football games played at South Side Stadium in the past few years. Although off-and-on showers provided discomfort for the unprotected spectators, they still saw high school football in its best form.

The rain-soaked field undoubtedly hindered both squads and was partly responsible for the low-scoring affair. Hammond's backfield looked as sharp and quick as was expected, but experienced quarterback Ron Royer, who really looked good against South last year, wasn't too impressive in last week's contest as two of his five passes were intercepted by the Kellys.

South, led offensively by backs Johnson and Nate Norment, controlled the ball during most of the second half but was unable to reach Hammond's front door.

South goes for City Series victory number two tomorrow night as they take on North Side's winless Redskins. North's gridders, who at the outset of the season appeared to have had the makings of possible city champs due in part to their good depth and strong backfield, aren't playing up to their expectations.

In three games, all against rough Northern Indiana Conference teams, the Redskins have averaged less than five points per game while allowing their opponents an average of 13 points per game. Their backs, Scott Werling and Bill Kelley, provide a pretty solid offensive attack but their quarterback and ends are weak in comparison to the Archers.

After dropping last week's close game, the Archers will be out to beat everyone, and grab city title honors. Although the squad has little depth, they look like one of the best teams South has had in many a year.

My prediction for the North-South game is 13-7, in favor of the Archers.

Marks CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

Watching television doesn't make one want to be a big shot... just a good one.

The Small Snaps for this week is Sandy Thorn

3720 South Calhoun St.

Grid Managers To Help Squads In Scrimmages

Aiding this year's football squad as managers are Dick Koch, Mike Beltz, Bob Bohlender, and Paul Boergert. Senior Dick Koch, entering his fourth year as a football and track manager, qualifies as the elder statesman of the group. He has earned his letter jacket as a manager.

During football games Mike's tasks vary from caring for the water jugs to running in the kicking tee and collecting the stray footballs.

EMBARCKING ON HIS second year as a football and track manager, Bob Bohlender, a junior on the college course, is taking English, U.S. history, Latin, and plane geometry.

"Managing is probably easier than going out for the sport, but they keep us pretty busy," stated Bob. While track is his favorite spectator sport, Bob also enjoys football a great deal. His greatest thrill while working as a manager came last spring when South won the Regional track meet.

Watching scrimmages, participating in game activities, and being familiar with the players and coaches are the main pleasures Bob derives from being a team manager. Planning to continue as a manager throughout his years in high school, Bob finds this activity very profitable.

AS A SOPHOMORE this season, Paul Boergert is entering his first year at South as a "unsung hero." However, Paul is not completely inexperienced as a manager. He served in this capacity at Indian Village School and Kekionga in the lower grades.

Dick enjoys his job very much. "Helping the team is often very interesting because I never know what is going to happen," stated Dick. A 12A on the college preparatory course, Dick is taking chemistry, English, government, metal, and drawing.

HAVING MANAGED three full years, Dick is in a firm position to judge this year's squad. He feels a winning season will be forthcoming if South stays clear of injuries and learns quickly from experience.

Junior Mike Beltz likes being a part of the Athletic Department for several reasons. He enjoys being around both athletes and coaches as well as gaining a further insight into the sport itself.

Paul's observations on the Archer crew include their ability to get worked up for a tough game. He feels this will be a very valuable asset for upcoming rugged contests.

GAA Members Elect Officers; Janice Nahrwold To Preside

BIG PLANS . . . Shown outlining plans for the many major GAA activities this fall are the officers who were recently elected for this semester. They are left to right, Beth Randall, Dodie Kessler, Ann Heckler, and Janice Nahrwold, president.—Photo by Lowden

The newly elected GAA officers for this school year are Janice Nahrwold, president; Ann Heckler, vice-president; Dodie Kessler, secretary; and Beth Randall, sports' manager.

Janice Nahrwold, senior B, has found GAA an interesting club to join. "I've always liked sports and found it fun to participate in them. As a freshman, I joined GAA for this reason," she stated.

Jan, who chose the business course, is taking typing, clerical practice, algebra, government, and marketing. She is girls' sports editor for the Times, and is presiding secretary for the youth organization of her church.

SINCE PHYSICAL education wasn't offered to students in my grade school, I never had the opportunity of participating in gym activities. I enjoyed sports so much that I decided in my freshman year to enter GAA," stated Ann Heckler, senior B.

Taking the business course, Ann has government, speech, English, and Business Organization and Management. When questioned about her pastimes outside of school Ann replied, "I find bowling and ice skating two of my most pleasing hobbies."

ON THE STENOGRAPHIC course, Dodie Kessler is taking shorthand, U.S. history, physical geography, English, and typing. Dodie, junior B, was the GAA freshman representative two years ago. "I've always liked sports and found GAA a club with many sports. I find that people who belong to this club and play in most of the games develop good sportsmanship," she stated.

Dodie's extra-curricular activities include singing in her church choir, participating in the youth organization, playing in a tennis league, and playing for the Kessler baseball team which placed first this summer.

BETH RANDALL, sophomore B, keeps the club's equipment in good repair at all times. Beth said, "I have always found sports interesting and I have fun participating in activities with a group of students."

On the business course, Beth is taking bookkeeping, physical geography, English, and general history. In her spare time she serves for Mrs. Alice Keegan, physical education instructor.

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

What you want

is a
Coke

THE FORT WAYNE
COCA-COLA BOTTLING
WORKS, Inc.

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.
Private and Industrial Catering
Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188 4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

tomorrow's homemakers learn

AUTOMATIC COOKING

with GAS!

The marvelous new features of today's Gas Ranges teach the wonders of automatic cooking to America's future homemakers. Under the direction of experienced home economics teachers, tomorrow's homemakers learn to use the automatic roast control, the burner-with-a-brain, and the versatile rotisserie . . . three exciting features of modern Gas Ranges which have been awarded the Gold Star!

The automatic roast control is a boon to both beginners and experienced cooks. With this Gold Star feature your roasts come out exactly the way you want them. Simply place the thermometer in the roast . . . set the dial . . . and the automatic roast control takes over! You get perfect results every time.

This Gold Star symbol on a Gas Range is a sign of quality!

The GAS Company
NORTHERN INDIANA PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

Drawing, Cutting, Finishing Students Design Model Autos To Enter Fisher Body Contest

DESIGNERS' DELIGHT . . . These members of Designers' Associated look over the scale models of cars they have designed and put together themselves. These models may be entered in a model car contest as an extra club project. The members are Jerry Young, Glenn Linsky, and Ray Juncal.—Photo by Seaman

Building original model cars to enter in the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild Automobile Designing Contest is one of the main interests of Archers Glen Linsky, senior; Ray Juncal, junior; and Jerry Young, sophomore. As members of Designers' Associated, the boys learn to draw and construct their miniature automobiles.

The boys worked on the models last year during the club meetings, starting first with three-dimensional sketches, then drawing up full scale blueprints, ironing out details on dimensions, and finally cutting out the pieces and finishing the models.

The Fisher Body contest was open to any boy between the ages of 10 and 21, with the grand prize being a $5,000 college scholarship.

"Even though these boys didn't win a prize, they learned more about automobile design from the constructive criticisms they received from the judges," stated Mr. Thomas Polite, sponsor of Designers' Associated. "I always urge the members of the club to submit their models because they never have anything to lose by doing so, and have much to gain by the experience."

DESIGNERS' ASSOCIATED is open to any boy with an interest in and a knowledge of drafting. Its purpose is to stimulate interest in creative design. Past members have designed such things as stools, door knobs, and drinking glasses.

"One of the main advantages of having a club of this sort is that it provides a means of exchanging ideas," stated Mr. Polite.

Glen Linsky, who has been in Designers' Associated one year, started working on his model sports car last March. He finished it in June, just in time to enter it in the contest. Glen sketched his car first, making sure it did not exceed the sports car dimensions set forth by the Craftsman's Guild. He decided that his biggest problem was finishing his car in time for the contest.

"TO DO THE BEST job, I should have started in September and worked until June," stated Glen. He further declared, "I learned a lot from the judges' comments; that is, I should have spent more time on the finishing. I also learned that working on a model requires a great deal of patience."

Ross wood was the "starting block" of Ray Juncal's model sports car, which, as he stated, "turned out to look more like a small sedan." Like Glen, Ray decided he would start earlier this year and try to get a better finish on his car. He plans to continue his interest in automotive design in college.

Sophomore Jerry Young combined many ideas from other cars to form his model sports car; however, due to lack of time, many things had to be modified on the final model. His interest in cars and their design led him to build his own go-cart and join a go-cart racing team.

Librarian Discusses Unusual Situations, Redeeming Of Books

One of the problems faced by Mrs. Robert Tompson, librarian at the Shawnee Branch of the Public Library, is the fantastic excuses she receives from people returning overdue books.

For instance, one teenager told the librarian that his book fell into a swimming pool and disintegrated. In another case, a woman who paid for the library book she thought she had lost, found it a year later under the seat of her car. When she returned it to the library, her money was refunded.

Some of the things librarians are called on to do are almost unbelievable. Mrs. Tompson stated that so many people have asked her to name their babies that she has lost count.

LIBRARIANS HAVE been asked to assist people in the choice of stocks to buy, make suggestions for plans for patios and porches, and even to make recommendations as to the make of washer to buy for the home.

As of September 1, anyone deliberately defacing or stealing a library book is liable to a jail sentence. Many library books have been found at the Goodwill Industry and the Salvation Army.

ONE OF THE MORE common places to find lost books, however, is in one's own bookcase. Somehow it seems that after days of searching, the book finally turns up in the bookcase.

When a book is overdue at the Shawnee Branch, Mrs. Tompson sends two notices through the mail; and the Collection Office sends one more. Then, if the book is still not returned, the collector makes a personal call to collect the dues and return the book to the library.

Teenagers Disagree On Paying For Use Of Private Phones

The shortest distance between two points may be the distance between a teenager and the phone. Where the telephone sits, there also sits the teenager.

Although the younger set is accused by elders of spending too much time on the telephone, the telephone does have a definite value—parents know in an instant where to locate their offspring. Interviewed Archers were asked, "Would you pay 50 cents a month for a private phone?"

Andy Christon: No, I don't use the phone enough to have one of my own.

Paul Slick: I would, if the girls would call me.

Sandy McCombs: No, I would not. If I had my own telephone, there would be no more arguments at home.

Judi McKay: Yes, definitely. I just think, no more five-minute phone calls.

Dianne Ball: Yes, then I could have all the privacy I want and no time limit.

Jim Littlejohn: Yes, so I could talk to all of my girl friends.

Nancy Augspurger: Yes, then I could stay on the phone longer without my parents always telling me to say "good-bye."

Officers To Present Skit At Meterite Club Session

Initiating new freshman and sophomore members is the main project for the Meterite Club's meeting next Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 112. Girls who did not join at the last meeting may join this week. The new officers will present a skit.

The officers for this semester are Barb Nelson, president; Sally Adams, vice-president; Sharon McEachern, secretary; Judy Ruhl, treasurer; Nancy Redding and Christine Fruechte-nicht, talent chairmen;

Karen Franks, point recorder; Ginny Barnes, house chairman; Nancy Ormsby, program chairman; Marsha Hughes and Sue Klasehn, publicity chairmen; and Nancy Stewart and Suellen Borgman, sergeants-at-arms.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Increasing Number Of Students Utilize Enlarged Public Library

ADDED FACILITIES . . . The Allen County Public Library has increased the Young Adults' Room by 50 per cent so that more high school students will be able to use its facilities. Taking advantage of the added space, Archers, from left to right, Ed Freed, Jim Littlejohn, and Diane Gebhard study diligently.—Photo by Lowden

LIBRARY IMPROVEMENTS . . . South Side students shown here are enjoying the new and improved filing section in the main branch of the Allen County Public Library. The writing table and the filing cabinets are now behind the main desk on the first floor. Students pictured left to right are Barbara Gantz, Aletha Staight, and Allen Mason.—Photo by Lowden

Several improvements have been made in the Fort Wayne Public Library including an enlarged card catalog and Young Adults Room. Mr. Robert Vegeler, co-ordinator of Adult Services for the library, stated that the card catalog was enlarged and moved directly inside the library doors because such a vast number of persons use it.

The Young Adults' Room has been enlarged by a progressive series of changes in the location of various book collections.

The wall of the room which previously housed the Indiana and local history collection of books and archival material on local, state, and mid-western history has been removed. This collection was moved to the second floor where the picture collection had been located.

The picture collection has been moved to the location formerly occupied by the United States Government document collection on the second floor. The library, which is a United States depository for government documents, has moved the collection of documents to an annex.

This progression of changes has enabled the Young Adults' Room to be enlarged by fifty per cent over last year's seating capacity. It will now accommodate approximately one hundred fifty students.

Mr. Vegeler also stated that he was happy to see the library so greatly used by high school students. He further commented that as far as usage of the library is concerned, the Young Adults' Room is the most heavily used.

THE LIBRARY PROVIDES five major services to its patrons. The general reference service provides works of a general reference nature such as encyclopedias, dictionaries, and yearbooks, plus specific information from reference books.

It gives guidance on bibliographical sources, and makes available back issues of general periodicals, materials from the art collection, picture files,

South Star Sunoco C. F. LAHRMAN, JR. H-515 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Archers Rank High In State

(Continued from Page 1)

tructive students will come the scholars and intellectual leaders of tomorrow," stated Mr. John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, which conducts the annual program.

The Merit Scholarship program is now in its sixth year. It was founded in 1955 with grants from the Ford Foundation and the Carnegie Corporation of New York. The National Merit Scholarship Corporation and sponsors have thus far contributed direct financial aid to nearly four thousand students and their colleges.

Bill Borgmann is interested in chemistry and is planning to study dentistry. He is undecided as to which college he will attend.

"I am fortunate in being a semi-finalist and appreciate all the help teachers have given me in past years," stated Bill.

ANN GOLDEN PREFERS Latin and is planning to study history or political science. She has not decided on what college she would like to attend. Her extra-curricular activities include the Totem, The South Side Times, Library Club, Philo, and Service Club.

Ann stated, "I was really surprised and thrilled about becoming a semi-finalist."

Babs Jones has a preference for mathematics and government. She is thinking of studying mathematics or political science at DePauw University or Purdue University. She enjoys being Totem editor and captain of the cheerleaders.

"SINCE THE PERCENTAGE of students from South Side who are semi-finalists is four times greater than the state percentage, it is apparent that South Side ranks among the best high schools in the state," stated Babette.

Dan McCroskey's favorite subject is mathematics. He is undecided as to a career and a college. His extra-curricular activities include band, the Math Club, Boys' Rifle Club, and Know-Your-City Club.

Evert Mol has a preference for chemistry and is planning to study chemical engineering. He is undecided as to which college to attend. His outside activities include Lettermen's Club and participating on the cross country team.

LYALL MORRILL likes math and is planning to study science or mathematics. He will attend the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His time is taken up outside school by the Junior Academy of Science, the

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Troy LAUNDRY

CARRIAGE Inn

3717 S. Clinton St.

Remember To Include Town Talk BUTTER BREAD

on your shopping list

Ed Parrish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

The Corner House

Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Want Results
use
Want Ads

Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc.
News-Sentinel
Journal-Gazette
CALL E-0111

DIGGS - H-4286
R HARRISON HILL
3828 S. Calhoun
U Fountain
G School Supplies
S Vitamins
S Prescription
Specialists

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear
and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

Home of eatin' treats!
NEW!
HOT FUDGE
ICE CREAM
CAKE!
Next to South Side High
3701 South Calhoun
K-6278
"Order by Phone"
Azar's BIG BOY
DRIVE-IN RESTAURANTS
Also at 2440 W. Washington Rd. and U.S. 427 at Calif. Rd.

Dove's Beauty Salon
Distinctive Individual Hair Styling
A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers
• Open Evenings •
2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

REAL COOL!
Don't postpone those studies until the "heats off!" Let Reddy beat the heat for you with an electric fan or air conditioner.

BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

Calling all students . . .
time to order your

BABER CLASS RINGS
Phone
A-7306 . . . E-4197
BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

7up
"Fresh up"

Parents To Attend PTA Open House Monday

Larry Lee, Tonya Hines, Rick Meeks Chosen To Lead Classes

Officers To Plan Year's Events, Class Activities

Cheryl Summers, Gary Probst, Paul Cochran
Fill Veep Selections

Elected Monday to lead their respective classes for the 1961-62 year are Larry Lee, senior; Tonya Hines, junior; and Rick Meeks, sophomore.

Senior officers are Cheryl Summers, vice-president; Diane Fredrick, secretary-treasurer; Sharon Carrel, chairman of the social planning council; and Deborah Brooke and Mark Hagerman, social council members.

Heading the Class of '63 will be Gary Probst, vice-president; Nancy Robinson, secretary-treasurer; Jerry Klaehn, social council chairman; and Rosemary Capps and Kenneth Davis, social council members.

OFFICERS OF THE sophomore class are Paul Cochran, vice-president; Deborah Decker, secretary-treasurer; Andrew Christon, social council chairman; David Banet and Richard Robinson, social council members.

Senior officers plan the Senior Reception, the Alumni Dance, the Senior Banquet, and the Senior Prom. Junior class officers plan the Junior Banquet and the Junior Prom. The Sophomore Party is the activity planned by the sophomore officers.

Larry Lee was vice-president of his class last year; Cheryl Summers, social council member; Diane Fredrick, secretary-treasurer; Sharon Carrel, social council member; and Deborah Brooke, social council chairman.

Tonya Hines was vice-president of her class; Gary Probst, secretary-treasurer; Nancy Robinson, president; and Jerry Klaehn, social council chairman.

NAMES APPEARING on the senior ballot included Robert Acker, Deborah Brooke, Sharon Carrel, Brenda Dull, Diane Fredrick, Mark Hagerman, Susan Horth, Babette Jones, Larry Lee, Jennifer Manth, Terry Newendorp, Henry Persons, Robert Ramage, Barbara Spiers, Cheryl Summers, Sandra Thorn, Tamara Vyhovsky, and Richard Waterfield.

Nominated on the junior ballot were Barbara Altevogt, Sharon Bass, David Brumm, Rosemary Capps, Kenneth Davis, Tom Erb, Maria Habecker, Tonya Hines, Ed Johnson, Jerry Klaehn, Rick Lohman, Karen Miller, Gary Probst, Nancy Robinson, Erin Rose, Sid Sheray, Julia Wadlington, and Robert Wasson.

The sophomore ballot included David Banet, Frederic Brown, Andrew Christon, Paul Cochran, Christie Counsman, Deborah Decker, Karen Franks, Donald Hilsmer, Martha Hoard, Sue Klaehn, Nancy Loughead, James McMahon, Rick Meeks, Barbara Nelson, Phyllis Pierson, Steven Riedel, Richard Robinson, Ruth Russ, and Patricia Wallace.

Mr. Charles Billiard Re-enters Air Force

Mr. Charles Billiard, head of the English Department and supervisor of English for Fort Wayne Community Schools, was called to active duty with the Indiana Air National Guard last Sunday.

Being in the One Hundred Sixty-Third Weather Flight of the Indiana Air National Guard, which is a support element of the One Hundred Twenty-Second Tactical Fighter Wing, Mr. Billiard is a major.

HAVING RECEIVED both the B.S. and M.S. degrees from Ball State Teachers College, Mr. Billiard joined the Fort Wayne school system in 1947. He came to South as an English teacher and head of the department in 1950. Last year, he was named supervisor of Junior and Senior English in the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

During the 1951-52 school year, Mr. Billiard was also called to military service. However, he returned in September, 1952, to resume teaching at South.

MR. LESTER GRILE, superintendent of Fort Wayne Community Schools, said, "Mr. Billiard has been a tremendous factor in the total language arts program in Fort Wayne Community Schools."

Mr. Grile stated that he has contemplated no changes or replacements at this time. "If Mr. Billiard is gone for any length of time, it will be a terrific problem for us. At the present, we will use the momentum he has established to continue the program," he added.

Dramatists Plan Schedule

Announcing the schedule for the fall semester, officers of Masque and Gavel will conduct a meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 112.

Officers are Martha Lanning, president; Steve McDonald, vice-president; Christie Counsman, secretary; Phyllis Pierson, treasurer; and Stan Black and Altha Staigh, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. David Cowdrey, English teacher, is the new sponsor.

Barbara Altevogt To Assume Junior Totem Editor's Duties

Barb Altevogt, junior A, has been named to serve as a junior Totem editor by Mr. James Rohrabach, publications adviser. Barb is the first of five juniors to be selected during a six-month period to serve as an apprentice under Babette Jones, editor.

Barbara Altevogt

tor, and Diane Fredrick, associate editor of the 1962 yearbook.

The junior Totem editor's tasks include learning about the yearbook and submitting a 200-page dummy on their individual proposals for the 1963 Totem. Mr. Rohrabach emphasized that the junior editor is in no way connected with the 1962 book.

AFTER EVALUATION of the work done by each junior editor, the 1963 editor will be selected. However, the editor will not necessarily be one of the five junior editors or will not be the one compiling the newest and best 200-page dummy. Students will also be judged by their grades, dependability, and past achievements in publications.

School Gets Chairs For Greeley Room

New chairs were purchased for the Greeley Room during the summer vacation by the city school system.

"Since the Board is not going to purchase another set of expensive chairs for Room 112 in the near future, it will be the task of all students using the room to keep the chairs in good condition," stated Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls.

In order to accomplish this task, certain points of common sense must be remembered. Students are requested to refrain from carving or printing names and initials on the chairs, cutting or tearing the leather, and using the chairs in a rough manner.

Except for club refreshments, no food or drinks are allowed in the room. Since these new chairs are curved they should not be stacked. If it is necessary to remove the chairs, they should be set in the hall.

204 Yearbooks Sold On First Day Of 1962 Totem Circulation Drive

Editors To Include Underclass Pictures With No Extra Cost

Two hundred four Totems were sold on the first day of the '62 Totem circulation campaign, which will continue through October 25 to give students an extra three days in which to purchase their Totems.

The entire price of $3.50 need not be paid all at once. A down payment of 50 cents must, however, be paid during the circulation campaign. Those students who do pay the entire price during the campaign will have their names engraved on the covers of their yearbook at no charge. Seniors may have their pictures entered at a cost of $1.50. The deadline for senior portraits to be taken at Watters Studio is October 31.

HEADED BY Barb Spiers and Susi Hines, co-circulation managers, the circulation assistants are Sharon Eitman, Sue Harrod, Marilyn Cole, Elizabeth Ellis, JoEllen Bobay, Sue Perry, Sue McGinnis, and Sarah Finch.

The homeroom agents are as follows: Book I, Judy Chapman, S-1; Mary Pawley, S-2; Sue Phillips, S-4; Debby Tourkow, S-5; Cindy Russell, 2; Jane Whittenack, 4; Ann Arnold, 6; Judy Evans, 8; Sally Bash, 10; Book II, Pat Bobay, 12; John Varner, 14; Janet Calvert, 22; Mary Keegan, 24; Rhonda Roehm, 26; Karen Swygart, 28; Bill Mueller, 30; Sharon Snyder, 32; Connie Spencer, 34;

BOOK III, PEGGY BRASE, 36; Sue Nettroar, 44; Sharon Graffia, 45; Leanna Morris, 46; Barb Spiers, 52; Al

"The reason for this type of program is that South Side's yearbook is becoming such a large undertaking that it is not only difficult but almost impossible to train a new staff each fall to put out a superior book," said Mr. Rohrabach.

He continued, "Certainly, the Totem is a senior project, and I shall maintain that status; however, I do believe that in the long run the books can be made better if the student is acquainted with the requirements of producing a book before he accepts a major position."

BARB SAID, "I AM very honored to be chosen, and I will try my best to learn as much from Babs as I can. I feel this is a wonderful opportunity and am anxious to learn more about yearbooks. I hope the program is successful; it sounds like an excellent idea."

Presently advertising manager of the Times, Barb was formerly in Meteorites and Assemblies Workshop.

Dr. Peter Mousolite To Deliver Address At Education Forum

Presenting the keynote address at the seventh annual Allen County Forum of Education will be Dr. Peter S. Mousolite, regional representative of higher education, Division of Higher Education, U.S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. His topic will be "American Higher Education in the 1960's: Quo Vadis?"

Dr. Mousolite came to his present post after two years in Washington, D.C., where he directed the Institute Program of Language Development of the National Defense Act of 1958.

PRIOR TO ENTERING government service, Dr. Mousolite, who received his doctorate degree from the University of Iowa, served for 20 years as a member of the faculty and administration at Iowa, the University of Minnesota, and the Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn.

During his three years of government service, Dr. Mousolite has traveled in more than forty states and Latin America and visited over four hundred colleges where he talked to presidents, deans, and other college officials. Having traveled extensively in Latin America he taught at the University of Mexico.

"I AM WELL AWARE of the most excellent accomplishments of your organization. It is to be congratulated for its efforts in promoting the cause of education particularly in the area of keeping the public well informed on such an important subject," stated Dr. Mousolite.

The Forum, which is sponsored by the Fort Wayne Citizens' Education Council, is open to the public. Those interested in attending should contact Mrs. Curtis Stein, chairman, or Mr. Jack Terry, president of the Citizens Education Council.

Upperclassmen To Participate In Career Day

To provide guidance for students interested in careers which do or do not require college education, the General Career Conference for high school juniors and seniors will be at Indiana Technical College November 16. Mr. Lester L. Grile, superintendent of Fort Wayne Public Schools, has been named general chairman.

The past conferences have attracted an average of three thousand pupils and parents, representing Adams, Allen, DeKalb, Huntington, Noble, Wells, and Whitley Counties in Indiana and Defiance, Paulding, and Van Wert Counties in Ohio.

MEMBERS OF THE executive committee of the conference are Mr. Grile, chairman; Russell Steiner, superintendent of Allen County Schools; Earl Schwalm, president of Lincoln National Bank and Trust Co.; Clyde Cover, research assistant to Mr. Schwalm; David Cunningham, consultant to the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co.; and Dr. Lon D. Randall, dean at Indiana Tech.

Serving as the advisory group to the executive committee will be representatives of Indiana Tech. They are Dr. A. T. Keen, president; C. A. Overholt, vice-president; Dr. Ralph W. Young, dean of faculty; Robert C. Ruhl, dean of engineering; Mac Fuelber, business manager; Louis C. Culp, director of public relations; and Harold A. Belt, assistant to the president.

AN EARLY PLANNING session will take place among members of the executive committee, county and city school superintendents, and high school principals representing the ten counties involved.

In the coming weeks, the executive committee will undertake the task of recruiting some three hundred counselors and assistant counselors who will provide information on one hundred fifty types of business, professional, and industrial careers.

Former Teachers Attend Staff Picnic

Attending the annual faculty picnic last Thursday in McMillan Park at 6 p.m. were eight former faculty members.

These teachers and the subjects they taught are Mr. Lloyd Whelan, physical geography; Miss Mable Thorne, mathematics; Miss Margery Sutter, drama; Mrs. Betty Kelley Tait, English;

Miss Susan Peck, English; Mr. Ward O. Gilbert, chemistry; Mr. Martin Rothert, former head of the foreign language department; and Miss Rosemary DeLaney, English.

Mr. Martin Rothert, who is 94 years old, continued his annual tradition of attending the picnics.

Special invited guests were Mr. Lester Grile, superintendent of Fort Wayne Community Schools, and his family.

PARENTS' OPEN HOUSE . . . Like many other students Jack, seated left, and Susan Seigel, seated right, are filling out their individual program schedules for their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Seigel Sr., standing, to follow on October 9 for Open House Night at South Side.—Photo by Lowden

William Mueller To Represent South Side As Junior Rotarian

Bill Mueller, senior B, has been chosen as Junior Rotarian for the month of October by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal. He will attend luncheon meetings of the Rotary International Club each Monday at the Chamber of Commerce.

As Junior Rotarian, Bill will listen to speeches given by various Rotary Club members. He will also meet and talk with representatives from other schools. The purpose of Junior Rotarians is to acquaint students with the function and program of the Rotary Club, a service organization.

ROTARY CLUB WAS originally organized to promote better relations in business interests. Membership is comprised of not more than two men from each classification of business.

"This opportunity of being Junior Rotarian will help me gain an understanding of the organization and how it serves the community," Bill stated. "I feel honored to represent my school as October's Junior Rotarian. Since the club is international in scope, I can also gain knowledge from the speakers about international affairs," continued Bill.

Bill is a member of the Latin Club, where he serves as secretary-treasurer. He is a Totem agent in his homeroom and has represented South Side on the Hi-Quiz television show.

OUTSIDE ACTIVITIES consume Bill's spare time. Being an active member of Trinity English Lutheran Church's Luther League, he has served on the League's social council.

Administrators Talk To Kellys About Colleges

Throughout the semester administrators from colleges and universities will come to South to have private and group interviews with those students interested in attending their schools. These interviews have been arranged so that the seniors can ask questions concerning the colleges of their choice without having to travel to each of them.

MR. T. R. BARTON, admission counselor from DePauw University, conducted interviews with eleven interested seniors September 26. These students are Sandy Hadley, Ann Golden, Becky Baughman, Phil Spray, Bruce Hilby, Susie Horth, Allan Hicks, Babette Jones, Tom Wright, Sue Hines, and Gaylene Hilsmer.

Mr. Russell E. Ballard from Illinois Institute of Technology had interviews with Phil Spray and David Schele.

Each student wants or does not want specific things connected with the colleges of his choice; therefore, many questions have been asked the administrators. The students want to know what the college have to offer in scholarships; social activities, including sororities and fraternities; academic courses.

They are also interested in the grounds of the campus; loans that can be obtained through the college; employment aid on the campus; the faculty standings; sports; and housing accommodations.

On October 10 Mr. Darrell M. Beane from Earlham College and Mr. Robert Slater of Cornell College, Iowa, will conduct interviews with interested seniors.

"The purpose of these interviews is to give students who are interested in attending college a chance to talk personally with the college personnel," stated Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor. Interested seniors should watch for the announcements concerning the coming college administrators in the Monday bulletins read in homeroom and then sign for a personal interview.

Kelly Teachers To Tell Plans, Study Courses

Members To Register; Five Students To Sell Calendars, Magazines

To acquaint the South Side parents with the teachers and aims of the school program, the initial meeting of the PTA year will be Open House next Monday at 7:30 p.m. Membership fees of 50 cents per parent and contributions will be collected in the homerooms by homeroom mothers.

In the classrooms, the teachers will explain their course of study and some of the activities they are planning for the semester. The parents will also be given a chance to ask questions. Many rooms will have displays for parents to view.

Appointment calendars, Indiana Parent-Teacher Magazines, and the National Parent-Teacher Magazine may be bought at the Calhoun, Darrow, and cafeteria entrances. These will be sold by Jackie Berry, Dayna Harader, and Suzanne Link, seniors; and Carol McVay and Nancy A'Hearn, juniors.

THE PUBLICATIONS chairman is Mrs. James Perry. Mrs. Robert Spencer, membership chairman, is in charge of PTA dues and contributions. Mrs. William Kelly is senior membership chairman; Mrs. C. M. Stanbery, junior membership chairman; Mrs. D. I. Robinson, sophomore membership chairman; and Mrs. Herbert J. Dixon, freshman membership chairman.

Mrs. Arthur Bowman heads the finance and budget committee with Mrs. Arthur Huber. Mrs. Ray Newell, and Mrs. Herbert Miller, assistants.

Officers for the coming year are Dr. and Mrs. V. K. McMahon, presidents; Dr. and Mrs. Pat Russ, first vice-presidents; Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne Harader, second vice-presidents; Mrs. Howard McVay, secretary; and Mrs. Herman Korte, treasurer.

COMMITTEE CHAIRMEN are Mrs. Ray S. Flagg, class chairman; Mrs. Arthur Bowman, budget and finance chairman; Mrs. John Rhinehart, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Don Klas, assistant hospitality chairman;

Dr. and Mrs. Russ, program chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Harader, study group chairman; Mr. Robert Waldrop, legislation chairman; Mrs. James Berry, publications chairman; Mrs. Jim Kelley, welfare chairman; Mrs. Anne Redmond, scholarship chairman; Mr. James Rohrabach, publicity chairman; and Mrs. Lawrence Mueller, character and spiritual life chairman.

News Shorts

By Sandy Thorn
General Manager

DETROIT, MICH.: The United Auto Workers Union called one hundred twenty thousand workers off their jobs in a nation-wide strike against Ford Motor Co. Tuesday. This was the second major strike in the auto industry in less than a month and was called when the union's deadline passed without a new national contract agreement having been reached.

WASHINGTON, D.C.: United States space officials announced that the U.S. aims to have a rocket with a nuclear engine ready for flight testing in about five years. Plans call for launching the nuclear rocket on a short-range ballistic flight from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

DAMASCUS, SYRIA: Premier Mamoun Kuzbari launched his revolutionary regime on a neutral course in foreign affairs and encouraged private ownership at home. Kuzbari followed President Gamel Abdel Nasser's foreign policy of nonalignment in the cold war and put a brake on the United Arab Republic's nationalization program that stirred unrest in Syria.

PARIS, FRANCE: President Charles de Gaulle served notice that he is determined to carry out self-determination for rebellious Algeria. He made it clear that he will not be sidetracked by those who want to keep Algeria a part of France.

MEMPHIS, TENN.: Four schools, backed by a massive show of police power, admitted 13 Negro children to four previously white schools. It was the end of rigid segregation in Memphis public schools and came voluntarily, under the indirect pressure of a federal court lawsuit.

DETROIT, MICH.: A four-year-old girl was told by her parents that the family was moving to Boston. The little girl, undecided about whether to go or not, finally decided that if she must move, she would. During her final night in Detroit, she was saying her prayers. She concluded, ".... God bless Mommy and Daddy and this is goodbye God, we're moving to Boston."

Early Enlistment Presents Less Problems, Uncertainty

In the modern world of today, the United States is confronted with more problems and difficulties than it has ever before faced. To remain firm in the wake of these problems we have developed strong military services. Now, more than ever, it is necessary for a high school student to have a knowledge of his obligations to these military services and a good idea of how he can fulfill them.

Basically, every able-bodied man between the ages of 18 and 26 is eligible to be drafted into the services at any time. At the age of 18 he must register with the local Selective Service Board in order to be drafted later. When the date of his induction has been decided, he is notified and must report immediately for duty.

Two years on active duty, two years on reserve duty, and two years in the standby reserve comprise his obligation. This method of fulfilling the military requirements is unfavorable because it is not predictable and often disrupts the life of the individual. However, other methods of enlistment are available.

By voluntary enlistment, one eliminates guessing and is better able to plan his future years. This method permits anyone who meets the necessary mental and physical qualifications to enter active service for a period of from three to six years. The minimum age for enlistment is 17, but it is the standard policy to encourage boys to first complete high school.

By enlisting early, many opportunities present themselves. One may choose what service he wishes to enter. With the return to civilian life in mind, he can select what specialized training he thinks will benefit him the most. He may even decide into what part of the world he is to be sent. As can plainly be seen, this plan is far superior to the Selective Service method.

Entering the reserve forces presents another way of completing a young man's military service. A short period of active duty is required and then he is placed in the reserves. In this status, one participates only on a part-time level. Many people find this the easiest means for fulfilling their military obligations.

Completing the military obligation should not be looked upon with disdain but should rather be met with mature understanding and anticipation. Because the military services are the backbone of our democratic society, we should be proud to be a part of them. No better means of serving our country and mankind than military service can be found.

Beyond this, though, the service helps each participant as an individual. As a character developer it teaches honesty, loyalty, and obedience while instilling respect for superiors. Through it, technical skills can be acquired, the mind developed, getting along with others assured, and the world seen; self-confidence and leadership ability are its natural outgrowths. The service is a discipline of the mind and body which will help in successfully meeting the challenge of future years.—By Frank Lewis

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Steve Leitz . . . age, 18 . . . height, six feet, one inch . . . eyes, hazel . . . hair, blond . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . pastime, ice skating . . . activity, Times . . . sport, ice skating . . . fad, bongos . . . record, "Crying" . . . TV show, "Untouchables" . . . singer, Keely Smith . . . subject, speech . . . pet peeve, conformity.

Pam Himes . . . age, 17 . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . eyes, blue . . . hair, brown . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, fillet . . . color, light blue . . . subject, English . . . activity, Service Club . . . record, "Hit the Road Jack" . . . TV show, "Father Knows Best" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . sport, swimming . . . fad, tennis shoes . . . pet peeve, two-faced people. Bob Martin . . . age, 17 . . . height, five feet, seven inches . . . eyes, brown . . . hair, brown . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, yellow . . . pastime, avoiding homework . . . activity, DeMolay . . . sport, basketball . . . fad, sissy sticks . . . record, "Hit the Road Jack" . . . TV show, "SurfSide 6" . . . singer, Kingston Trio . . . subject, algebra . . . pet peeve, people who chew on crockets.

Jeanne Braden . . . age, 17 . . . hair, red . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, eight inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, green . . . pastime, going to basketball and football games . . . activity, Junior Red Cross . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . record, "Take Good Care of My Baby" . . . TV show, "Naked City" . . . fad, unusual purses . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, shorthand . . . pet peeve, cars that stall.

Sue Lee . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, mushrooms . . . color, lavender . . . pastimes, horseback riding, avoiding work . . . subject, speech . . . fad, short skirts . . . activity, servicing in the library . . . TV show, "Hawaiian Eye" . . . record, "Let Me Belong to You" . . . sport, football . . . singer, Bobby Darin . . . pet peeve, people who aren't sincere.

Gary Tinkel . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, ten inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, blue . . . subject, algebra . . . sport, basketball . . . record, "I Just Don't Understand" . . . activities, bowling, golf . . . singer, Ricky Nelson . . . TV show, "The Rebel" . . . pet peeve, female snobs.

Alumni News

By Lynelle Dill

Engaged are Gay Heller, '59, and Marlene Kurtz, a graduate of Salem Center High School and employee of the Food Marketing Corporation. After graduation, Gay served two years in the United States Army; he is employed by the International Harvester Company.

Donald Nelson, '61, attended Pan American Institute in Edinburg, Tex., last summer to learn more about astronomy and astro-physics. Don is a freshman at Purdue University, majoring in physics.

Don and Bill Stelthorn, '61, former general manager of the Times, took a leadership training course just before school started so they could help orientate the new freshmen. Bill has been accepted for membership in Purdue's "All-American" Marching Band.

The engagement of Janet Rupp, '57, to Fred L. Prociase has been announced. Miss Rupp attended Ball State Teachers College and is now teaching at St. Henry's. Her fiancé attended Purdue Extension Center and Ball State Teachers College. He is an agent with E. B. Bingham and Associates of Lincoln Life Insurance Company. The couple will be married Thanksgiving Day.

MINOR STAFF

David Flanagan, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Sharon McCaskey, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Julie Rhinehart, Bonnie Strehlow, Margie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brase, Lee Cameron, Pat Conner, Rosemary Capps, Sharon Kari, Kathy Kline, Jane Knettle, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Susan Smith, Patty Somers, Nancy Stewart, Ann Weber, Virginia Barrow, Sue Bergmann, Singer Brown, Pat Cameron, LeVonne Cushman, Marcia Evisler, Debby Decker, Karen Francis, Christine Fruentlicht, Mary Graham, Sharon Hardy, Sue Klingerman, Stephen Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McKee, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Larry Norman, Pat North, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart.

Feature Writers

Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Snellen Bergmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Lartha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Sims, Ben Rose, Vicki Scatterlin, Becky Hatch, Barb Russell, Cheryl Gracie, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Rhineberg, Mary Barretto, Sue Smith, Jeanne Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Bergmann, Lorraine Ford, Liz Weikart, Snellen Bergmann, Karen Miller, Julie Gracie, Marcie McGinnis, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Ann McGinnis, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kari, Myra Rubin, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McKee, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Kewin, Jane Knettle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yeager, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Hade, Cynthia Dunno, Betty Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carol Ladie, Gail Brumm, Karen Stanley, Janie Sprunger, Kay Bradley, Alice Hebecker, Debby Brooke, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruentlicht, Sally Adams, Mary Bonduy, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Ellen Stanberry, Sue Horth, Klara Carroll, Larry Ladie, Larry Norman, Paul Mittelstadt, Stephen Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Reed, Jane Knettle, Annell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Hebecker, Lynelle Dill, Bill Wilder, Kaylene Gebert, David Flanagan, Karen Minkin, Christine Cushman, Ann Gallinger, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Douglas Hansen, Sharyn Yeager, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Stanley, Margie Terry, Sally Sweet, Lenna Morris, Kathy DeVore.

Readers

Bill Klineforn, Roger Post, Bob Leininger, Kerry Rose, Sports Writers, Stephen Lowens, Jon Fots, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Tylaia, Jeanne Braden, Martha Hoard, Rosalia Curtis, Patty Phelps, "Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Mary Hade.

Ad Solicitors

Rubenberg, Dan Schwartz, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Julie Rhinehart, Pat Bailey, Marnie Reiber, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Kathy Grady, Myra Rubin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwander, Phyllis Picewon, Karen Finckoff, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Otis, Cindy Jackson, Donna Sommers, Linda Reibel, Lorraine Ford, Sue Gracie, Falt, Bradfield, Dill, Vicki Scatterlin, Cheryl Gracie, Vicki Adams, Mayle, Sharon Kravner, Charlotte Powell, Jane Flinnell, Janie Sprunger, Karen Francis, Ruth Russ, Liz Weikart.

Classroom News Editor

Point Recorder, Kristyna, Steve Letz, Credit Manager, Vicki Adams, Exchange Editor, Cheryl Gracie, Falt, Editor, Sharon Carrell, Paper Dissimilator, Ken Lowden.

Parents Go Back To School . . .

Now parents, do you all understand what your child is doing in class?

High Hopes Survive

United States' Voting Power Decreases In United Nations

By The General Manager

All possible agenda items to be placed before the United Nations faded as member nations viewed the late Dag Hammarskjold's empty chair—the Secretary-General of the UN fell victim to his duty. Delegates feared that the UN would return to "a glass and steel" soapbox as it was before Hammarskjold's reign.

Founded amid great expectations 16 years ago, the United Nations was based on great hope but little reality. The San Francisco conference in 1945 had no comparable key. It merely said "security." By stressing the goal rather than the winding and treacherous path, the UN opened the door to all opportunities as well as all contradictions.

Dag Hammarskjold reduced the great but impossible hope of the UN as the mold of world peace to the small but possible hope of the UN as an arbiter, and a policeman, in relatively minor trouble areas. He had pushed that hope to its limits. It is conceivable that had Mr. Hammarskjold lived, his effectiveness as Secretary-General might have been near its end.

As an exponent of the hope, Hammarskjold had performed a great service—he died in that service. The best measure of his success was that the Russians had vowed to destroy him and his office ever since last year when he moved UN troops into the Congo, preventing a Kremlin-run regime.

AT NEWS OF Hammarskjold's death the hope in the UN was close to being wrecked, and the United States, which lately has relied too heavily upon the UN, stood committed to salvage what it could of the wreckage. However, to salvage the parts is easier said than accomplished.

The United States, as leader of the non-Communist world, at one time dominated the Assembly. This is no longer true under the Assembly rule of "one nation, one vote." The U.S. and its allies are in a minority position with Asia's and Africa's "new nations" in the majority bloc.

The so-called "new nations" are unstable, unpredictable, backward not only economically but backward in their acquaintance with liberty, their experience in government, and their ability to defend themselves.

The U.S. has challenged Soviet Premier Khrushchev, but what sort of court does the U.S. have to challenge him? At present the United Nations hosts 99 members of the Assembly, and the 50 smallest and least-powerful nations could, if they chose to vote as a bloc, control the Assembly. The votes of the "new nations" will be a major factor in the decisions.

SOME OF THE "new nations" have a total population less than that of many U.S. cities, and few, if any, have anything approaching the wealth of any state within the United States. As new nations have been created and sought membership in the UN, they

Guess Who

Who likes to run into tree and telephone poles?

1. Squirrels
2. Larry Lee

Who doesn't heed stoplights?

1. Jim Lighter
2. Chief of Police

Who collects jay-walking tickets?

1. Marian
2. Betsey Adams

Who walks out of the middle of a class?

1. Bill Rastetter
2. Class treasurers

Who comes to school at 6:30 a.m.?

1. Locker guards
2. Dian Petznik

Who enjoys the Columbia City boys?

1. Other Columbia City boys
2. Elaine Edwards

Who sits on church roofs?

1. Birds
2. Martha Hoard

Who understands Government II?

1. Sharon Carrell
2. Mr. Wilson

have been welcomed by the Soviet Union, eager to cut down U.S. voting power.

UN membership has been extended to the strangely-named places of Central African Republic, Chad, Dahomey, Gabon, Malagasy, Somalia, and the Volta Republic. The Congo Republic is listed twice; once for a former French colony containing less than one million people, once for an area now in chaos and occupied by a UN army.

Gabon, until last year a French colony, has about four hundred twenty-five thousand people and a total output of thirty million dollars a year; Gabon has one vote in the United Nations' General Assembly. The U.S. with one hundred eighty million people and a total output of five hundred million dollars a year has one vote in the UN General Assembly.

To better emphasize the U.S. lack of voting power, any two nations can outvote the U.S. It takes four nations to outvote Russia, which clings to extra votes for Ukraine and Belorussia, ruled as provinces of the Soviet Union.

IT IS TO THIS Assembly, in which the U.S. power to vote stands at a new low, that President John F. Kennedy has decided to take the major problems facing the world. The U.S., losing out in UN votes, is seeking to recapture UN leadership and hopes to stiffen a few neutral spines to stand up against Russia.

With the loss of Hammarskjold, the task looks more difficult than before. Thwarted, so far, in his attempt to establish a three-man troika, representing the East, West, and neutrals, Khrushchev has worked at infiltrating the UN staff with Communist appointees. Here, the Kremlin boss has had success.

Under Soviet pressure, Hammarskjold was forced to downgrade his closest adviser, Andrew Cordier—because Cordier is an American. Two Russians have been given high-ranking UN staff jobs and the UN personnel chief has had to recommend that Communists be given 110 of the 118 professional jobs to be opened this year and next.

WHATEVER BECOMES of the U.S. initiative to save the United Nations, the world organization can never be the same again. The fact stems from things far deeper than Dag Hammarskjold's death—the very nature of the United Nations and the nature of Hammarskjold's policies in it.

Dag Hammarskjold's favorite motto, a quotation from Shelley's Prometheus Unbound, was "... one should hope till Hope creates from its own wreck the thing it contemplates." There is still the four-lettered word "hope"; it must continue.

Small Snaps

By Diane Saalfrank

This boy in the picture does appear at South Side for his junior year. Since the baseball season began he has been a Dodger fan. He likes baseball, football, and such. Participates in sports very much. Advanced swimming he did learn, A Junior Life Saving badge he did earn.

Last fall when the CIT had election, He was made vice-president of that organization.

If you want his identification, You must look in the ad section.

United Fund Distributes Help, Not Money, For Necessities

To fail to help the sick in mind, in body, and in spirit could be the doom of our nation. These words may seem very strong now, but they speak the truth. Because of this, our nation has set up many welfare and recreation agencies specifically to distribute human service to human necessity. The United Fund is just one of these specialized agencies.

Founded in 1952 following unsuccessful campaign efforts, the United Fund was the result of community leaders from business, industry, labor, and other groups working together to solve a common problem—that problem being adequate financing of our community's health, welfare, and recreation services.

The agencies under the United Fund provide the needed services, not the money, for the sick, the troubled, the handicapped, and the motherless or the fatherless. Contributions help to rehabilitate people with multiple sclerosis, polio, heart diseases, arthritis, and disabilities caused by other diseases or accidents. Part of the United Fund contributions go to cancer research, as did $13,500 did last year.

THE UNITED FUND also helps to strengthen families through family service agencies. The demand for case-work service is greater than the services to meet these needs. Therefore, each agency's service is needed and fully used by the people in the community.

The advantages of the United Fund are many. Because it assures the giver that his dollar will be spent where it is most needed with just about four cents of every dollar going toward campaign and administrative costs, the United Fund is more economical. It saves time, for all of the agencies can devote time to serving people, rather than spending staff time in campaigning.

The United Fund also has realistic budget controls and agency budget reviews to assure the giver that his money is being spent wisely. The United Chest council also helps to do this by making sure that the United Fund services are the best possible for the largest number of people at the least amount of cost.

THIRTY-EIGHT LOCAL and national agencies which provide welfare and recreation are supported by the United Fund. These services include, among others, the Allen County Cancer Society, Allen County Home for Crippled Children and Adults, American Hearing Society, American Red Cross, American Social Health Association, the Boy Scouts, Campership Fund, Catholic Social Service, and Child Guidance Service.

Family and Children's Service, Allen County Committee on Alcoholism, Fort Wayne Committee on Multiple Sclerosis, Fort Wayne Jewish Federation, the Girl Scout, Goodwill Industries, Indiana Mental Health Association, International Social Service, Legal Aid Society, Lutheran Social Services, National Recreation Association, and the Rescue Home and Mission.

THE ALLEN COUNTY LEAGUE for the Blind helped 220 people by counseling, placement, and Braille instructions. The Lutheran Social Services counseled 142 people and assisted in 98 adoptions and the distribution of eight thousand pints of blood was carried out by the Red Cross. About twelve thousand visits were made by the Visiting Nurse Service in 1960. Forty-three families were helped by the Family and Children Service by counseling in marriage and family problems.

These are just a few of the human needs which received services last year. There are more this year on the waiting list to be helped with the money each fortunate American willingly contributes to the United Fund.

Teens and Tangles

By Martha Lanning and Rosemary Capps

Autumn, the season of football games, falling leaves, hayrides, and trick-or-treating, arrived officially at 1:43 a.m. on September 23. Summer may be gone, but have you noticed the hordes of those little green pens with flowers on the top? Not only are they bright and cheery, but they taste good, too.

Why doesn't South Side have postcards, Jenny Manth, Sue Horth, and Sue Phillips? Miss Olive Perkins has the right answer: South is so popular that it could never keep postcards in stock anyway!

Congratulations to: Paul Johns for finally burning that proverbial hole in his clothes (in the seat of his pants!) in chemistry class.

The great Archer football team and the loyal school spirit! . . . (So what if it did rain at the Hammond game?) . . .

All frazzled frosh who survived the first weeks of school . . .

All sophomores for passing their freshman year . . .

All juniors who are studious and who love their dear teachers . . .

Those noble, noble seniors—just for being seniors, of course . . .

Roberta Hoffer for knocking down so many bowling pins. (Was it when you threw the ball or when you fell on the alley, Roberta?)

LARRY LEE, YOU'RE OFF to a good start! Keep it up. Larry has finally outgrown his mania for running into trees; now his favorite trick is getting into the wrong cars for Cross Country meets!

Laurels are in order for the fairest of the fair—the Bluffton Street Fair, that is. There, our own Kelly, Brenda Dull, surpassing numerous beauties from all over the state, was crowned Junior Miss Indiana. Next in order for our beauty queen is national competition in Dallas, Tex.

Honestly, you teachers! How could you:

Keep your room so cold, Mr. Rusard?

Store a canoe paddle in your room and conduct those wild speech classes, Mr. Storey! (Did Rick Nialinger have to put his arms around Diane Gebhardt for his golf demonstration?)

Eat your lunch in front of your period three botany class, Mr. Weber?

Really, now, Doris Atzoff, can't you even manage to recognize your own mother? Don't you think it was rather silly to start to get into that strange car—the lady and her maid must have been shocked!

SUCH PERSISTENCE! Such utterly dogged determination! Such cold, cold girls! Next time it's chilly after school, Bonnie Russell, Sue Phillips, and Mary Shilling, you'd better check to see how soon Lissa Hoffman is coming back to her car before you crawl into it. An hour and a half can get to be pretty tiresome, especially when you're all crammed into the back seat!

Jim Hill, do you have an insane desire to strangle your brother, Stephen? You certainly have a logical motive when he rigs up that crazy device on the telephone and listens in on all our conversations!

Thought for the day: There are people who make things happen, and people who watch things happen, and people who don't know anything happened. Which are you?

Strong Silent Type, Forgetter Frustrates Tortured Teachers

Every Archer student, at one time or another, attempts to see himself through the teacher's eye; often the result is surprising. Each student should check himself against the seven most unwanted schoolroom types, to discover whether he is the teacher's pet or pest.

The Hardy-Tardy, commonly known around school circles as the prize procrastinator, is the pupil who is seen slipping into his seat less than a second before the bell rings. His complete lack of consideration disrupts lessons and wastes valuable class time.

The Silent Partner is a classroom gem; that is, he is valuable to the teacher who enjoys talking to the wall. This unique type of pupil fails to question, comment, or indicate whether he has any comprehension of the subject at hand. Many times it is extremely difficult to tell if he is dozing or even breathing.

USUALLY FOUND in every class is the Apple Polisher. A teacher needs only to step into the room to find our friend, even on the very first day, bubbling around him with chatter of all sorts. Apple Polishers never realize that sincere interest in any class accomplishes much more than insincere attention before and after class.

The Note Cracker is an inkblot on any teacher's record. A member of this species is never happy unless he is receiving or sending undeciphered messages. He is not only irritating to the teacher but to the other students as well.

Another prize example of a teacher's pest is the Sloppy Joe. When preparing a paper, he slouches in his chair, creating a blob of loops and lines which seems to have come from outer space.

THE BORN FORGETTER is the pupil who always forgets absolutely everything and usually begs and borrows. Strangely enough, this type always manages to be seated by a student who is loaded with enough supplies for two. Of course, the whole class must wait while Forgetter gets just exactly what he needs.

The Gum Moll is the most common of all unwanted schoolroom types. Enjoying the bovine jaw action, a Gum Moll never passes up an opportunity to chew at least a pack of his favorite brand a day. He needs only a few friends to keep him company, and the classroom sounds like target practice on the rifle range.

Frustrated Frosh In Endless Agony

Hi! I'm a frustrated frosh and I'm always late to class . . . getting eighth periods for gum chewing . . . forgetting to get admit slips . . . losing my books . . . forgetting my locker combination . . . buying elevator tickets . . .

Getting lost when I ask seniors for directions . . . forgetting my study hall seat number . . . falling down the ramps . . . forgetting Times deadlines . . . making excuses for late homework . . . forgetting to fill in all the blanks on five-in-one cards . . .

Paying fines on overdue library books . . . trying to make an impression on seniors . . . joining too many clubs . . . looking at the games instead of cheering . . . failing to remember Latin vocabulary words . . . bisecting the wrong parts in biology . . .

Golly, I guess I could go on forever with this list. Maybe by the time I'm a sophomore I can be called a "situated soph" rather than a "frustrated frosh."

'Touchdown' Festivities

Assemblies Workers To Present Dance Following Football Battle

Homeroom Agents Sell Tickets For 50 Cents; Susan Horth Arranges

"Touchdown" is the theme of Assemblies Workshop's first after-game dance October 13 after the Warsaw game. The dance will begin in the cafeteria immediately after the game and last until 11:30 p.m. All girls are required to wear skirts.

Sue Horth, Assemblies Workshop president, stated, "Since basketball is the primary sport in Indiana, the football players do not get as much recognition; therefore, Assemblies Workshop is honoring the football players for a change."

THIS IS THE FIRST money-making project Assemblies Workshop has attempted. With the proceeds of the dance, the club expects to purchase new equipment and be more self-sufficient, since in previous years the school has provided its financial backing.

Tickets cost 50 cents per person. Every homeroom will have a ticket agent to enable the students to easily purchase a ticket. Pam Punskey is chairman of the ticket committee and will be in Room 152 every night after school to collect receipts and distribute tickets. All officers will also be selling tickets.

TONYA HINES, general chairman, is co-ordinating the various committees. Committee chairmen are Karen Miller, decorations; Tom Ogles, publicity; Honey-K Martindale, programs; Nancy Robinson, invitations; Rosie Cappe, chaperones; Nancy Stewart, music; Sue Kelley and Jane Ladig, refreshments; Ken Davis, cloak room; and Tom Erb, clean-up.

Several teachers in addition to Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean, Miss Ann Arber, Assemblies Workshop sponsor, and the football coaches, are special guests.

Pupils Give Opinions Of Lovelorn Column

Sound advice or just some writing to take up space in the morning paper—that is the question. Just what does the column "Letters to Landers" mean to most teenagers? Because this syndicated column is publicized in the American newspaper, some of the South Side students were asked to give their opinions of it.

Sharyan Yergler: Ann Landers' column is definitely good; her advice is tops.

Gary Probst: I really don't have an opinion of Ann Landers; for like most of the teenage boys, I don't read her column.

Sue Burdick: I think that Ann Landers' advice is good, but I don't believe that the people who write to her have much sense.

Larry Lee: I believe that Ann Landers has done a wonderful service to the American society with her invaluable aid and advice. The number of persons she has helped to get back on the right track is a real credit to her and the outstanding job she has done.

Ken Lowden: I don't think that there is much truth in any of Ann Landers' advice. I rarely read the column and I don't see why so many people do.

Amateur Wranglers Compete For Titles In Three Divisions

Highlighted by an Inexperienced Speech Meet, Wranglers will meet Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Three divisions, dramatic, humorous, and radio, will be represented, with humorous being divided into two groups.

Competing for ribbons with dramatic declamations will be Peggy Brase, Charlotte Powell, Karen Ponader, Martha Lanning, and Dianne Ball.

Humorous division entrées include Pat Slater, Bob Wasson, Charlotte Dinjus, Pam Punskey, Pam Buzzard, Marti Morrell, Martha Dixon, Jackie Kuhns, Ann Brase, and Ann McCallister. Lex Smuts, Elaine Cole, and Tim Grodrian will participate in radio.

Judging the meet will be Logan Smith, Sharyan Yergler, and Margee Terry, dramatic; Shari Busch, Tom Erb, Leanna Morris, Barb Nelson, Pat Bailey, and Christie Counsman, humorous; and Ken Davis, Debby Decker, and Margaret Shirley, radio.

The winners of this speech meet will qualify for the Howe Inexperienced Speech Meet, November 4. This meet and future contests will be discussed at the meeting.

DeMolay To Sell Tickets

Tickets for the DeMolay hayride to be Saturday from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at Robinson Park may still be purchased today and tomorrow for $2 per couple. Sam Carter, senior deacon, is head of the ticket sales at South Side.

Haywagons will go out each half hour, and one of Fort Wayne's top disk jockeys will spin records for the dance.

Ed Parrish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists

H-5307

Hanna at Oxford

"Fort Wayne's Finest"

FIRST AFTER-GAME DANCE... Preparing for Assemblies Workshop's first after-game dance, and the first after-game dance of the year, are Ken Davis, seated, and left to right, Tom Ogles, Sue Horth, Tonya Hines, and Karen Miller. The dance will be next Friday after the game with Warsaw.—Photo by Lowden

Foreign Teenagers Resemble Americans In Customs, Dress

With the world growing smaller and smaller, everyone is being brought closer to the people of other countries. However, even with modern communication and transportation it is still hard for most Americans to believe that the teens in other countries resemble them.

Since dress and customs have ceased to be a barrier in today's modern society, teens of other countries enjoy many of the same sports and pastimes while Americans participate in theirs. Julie Wadlington, junior, noticed while visiting Mexico this summer that the teenagers are listening to the same popular records, only translated into their own native tongue.

Julie said, "Most of the girls in Mexico dress the same as Americans, including wearing bermudas or slacks."

ON THE OTHER HAND, countries such as Africa show a comparison in still another way. Ruth Russ and Ginny Barnes, sophomores, found the African teens quite different from those in the United States, during their visit this summer. Ruth stated that many of the teens never attended school but usually stayed home and worked to support the family.

"The African dress is quite different," stated Ginny. "The girls wear long skirts and blouses with a hooded cloak to cover their heads. These cloaks, called jalavas, also have a veil to cover their faces."

In England teens spend a great deal of their time dancing. They even have their own version of an "American Bandstand." Nanette Simpson, senior, who lived in England for two years, found that the English girls are not so style conscious as American girls.

ENGLISH CLOTHES are much plainer, and girls do not wear as much make-up. As in America, some schools require students to wear uniforms. "English leisure time is spent in playing such sports as cricket, rugby, and soccer; everyone rides bicycles, even on dates," she said.

Mike Levy, junior, visited Israel this summer. During his stay there, Mike found these teenagers to be very much like the ones of the United States. He said that many of the teens enjoy dancing to the same popular records and participating in sports such as swimming and soccer.

Bill Mueller, Sandy Yaggy To Lead Musicians' Guild

Bill Mueller and Sandra Yaggy, seniors, were recently elected president and vice-president, respectively, of the Student Music Guild of the Morning Musical.

Sandy composed a Suite for Small Orchestras to be given at a recital which over twenty students will present at the Fort Wayne Art School on January 22.

Students from all the public high schools in the Fort Wayne area are members of this organization which meets the third Sunday each month; and programs are presented by individual members.

The Student Music Guild was organized five years ago and is affiliated with the National and State Federation of Music Clubs.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

SOUTH SIDE SHELL SERVICE

Lafayette and Rudisill Ph. H-5177

WHEEL BALANCE
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY

3717 S. Clinton St.

Sue Berk Finds Knowledge, Fun At Youth Parley

Attending the International Leadership Training Conference of the B'nai B'rith Girls contributed much to the enjoyment and the knowledge gained by Sue Berk, junior, this summer.

Camp B'nai B'rith in Starlight, Pa., was the setting for the conference from July 29 to August 17. The purpose of the conference was to train better leaders for the youth groups.

Jewish teenagers from almost all the states including some from Canada and Great Britain attended the conference, most of them being presidents or other high officers in their states. Sue is the southern area chairman for the region of Indiana, Ohio, and Kentucky.

To attend, she was presented with a $250 scholarship by the District Two Women of B'nai B'rith. District Two includes Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico, and Wyoming.

Sue traveled the "Wear" Erie" railroad to the conference with Bonnie Dolnick of North Side. They prepared for the conference by reading books of Jewish content, such as "Exodus" and "This Is My God."

In the mornings, Sue attended lectures on Judaism given by a rabbi and then participated in a discussion group in which the lecture was discussed.

Each afternoon there was a seminar which concerned the psychology of leadership, human relations, B'nai B'rith relations, Zionism, Israel, and recreational leadership.

Programs on the arts, socials, campfires, and special speakers came in the evenings. Two of the speakers were Dr. Arthur Fletcher, executive editor of the World-Wide Press Service, who spoke on the United Nations; and assistant professor of history at Columbia University, Dr. Frank Randall, who was a freedom rider. There also were speakers from India, Ghana, South America, and Israel.

Concerning the three hours of free time during the day, Sue said, "There were fantastic opportunities for us to develop certain skills, such as singing, dancing, swimming, boating, archery, tennis, and Hebrew."

Sue believed that her experiences at the conference were very rewarding. She stated, "I really enjoyed making so many friends, participating in the fantastic programs, and hearing such important people speak. In short, I learned, lived, and loved every minute of it!"

A trip to New York City was one of the highlights of the conference. On August 17, while the boys' group was starting its convention, the 75 girls took a supervised jaunt to the city and stayed at the Shelton Towers Hotel. They visited the Empire State Building, Central Park, Gimbel's Department Store, Greenwich Village, and saw the play "All the Way Home."

Touring Harlem, the United Nations Building, and taking a three-hour boat trip around Manhattan were also included in the girls' tour.

After their trip, they returned to the camp for the co-ed B'nai B'rith Youth Organization National Convention which lasted seven days. During this convention, the youths heard guest speakers, voted on business issues, had seminars and workshops, and had national elections for B'nai B'rith Girls and Aleph Zadick, the boys' organization.

Sandy Thorn Cops Award

Winning the Times Writer of the Week Award for the second time this semester, Sandy Thorn, senior A, is eligible for the Times Writing Trophy to be presented on Recognition Day.

Sandy's column on world affairs, entitled "East Germany's Walter Ulbricht Bows to Top Russian Leaders," appeared in the September 28 issue.

Munro's Standard

SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

INSURANCE

SURETY BONDS

O'BRIEN & SANDERSON

203 East Berry Street

Phone E-3308

Fort Wayne, Indiana

The Small Snaps for this week is Mike Zehender

Home of eatin' treats!

NEW!
HOT FUDGE
ICE CREAM
CAKE!

Next to South Side High
3701 South Calhoun
K-6278

"Order by Phone"

Azar's

DRIVE-IN RESTAURANTS

Also at 2440 W. Washington Rd. and U.S. 427 at Calif. Rd.

Date Patterns Differ From Carriage Day

Since the advent of the automobile, television, radio, and talking pictures, the dating pattern of teenagers has changed according to experts in the field of psychology.

In the good old days, the boy might pick up his date in a horse-drawn buggy, and they would go riding or to a young people's meeting at church. For entertainment in the evening when a boy would come calling, the girl might have a treat such as home-made candy. While talking, they might look at a kaleidoscope, an instrument containing colored glass, or keep the fire going. The boy always left by 10 p.m. which was considered proper, so his horse wouldn't get too cold outside.

LITERARY SOCIETIES were another activity in which everyone took part. One might sing, dance, and take part in debates on world affairs.

During the school year, young people might have two dinner parties, and sing popular songs until the end of the evening. Everyone came at 7 p.m. and left by 10 p.m.

The next generation's transportation advanced to walking, buses, and on special occasions, the use of the family car. After basketball games, there were dances once in a while. Church socials that lasted all evening were highlights in the summer, along with silent movies.

EMPHASIS WAS placed on group activities at school and at church. Hot chocolate, cider, doughnuts, and popcorn were among the favorite refreshments.

Today there are many more social functions at school, and transportation for dating is usually by car. Current food fads are cokes, potato chips, pizzas, and the ever-popular hamburger. Hayrides, barbecues, all sports activities, movies, and just talking with the gang at a favorite hangout are present teen favorites.

Phones, Foods Aid 'Studying' Students

The question "What do you do during your study hours?" brought answers from Archers that make one wonder if the question ought to be replaced by "Do you really think you'll graduate?"

Sandy McCombs: I talk on the telephone and go to the library only to be expelled from there!

Carol Davis: I talk on the telephone, eat, scream at my brother and sister. I occasionally study.

Sue Klaehn: I mostly daydream of the coming dances and games. When I do study its usually with a bottle of pop in my hand and frequent pauses to comb and style my hair. I suppose it should be just the opposite, that I drink pop and comb my hair with pauses to do homework.

Linda Seibel: I come home from school thinking of doing my homework; but television, eating, and the telephone mainly interrupt my studying.

Tucker Schiebel: I play football, eat, sleep and be merry!

Room 22 Leads Banking

A total of $155.25 was banked by 28 rooms last week. Miss Edith Crowe's Room 22 led with $26.50. Miss Mary Crowe's Room 142 banked $26.45. Miss Lutie Young's Room 166 banked $19, and Mr. Leon Smith's Room 61 banked $11.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Seniors, Juniors To Compete In Scholastic Aptitude Tests

IT'S TEST TIME AGAIN... Happily paying their fee for the Scholastic Aptitude Test to Mrs. Agnes Sosenheimer, seated, are left to right, Jane Ladig, Lola McLaughlin, Paul Johns, and Vic Lewandowski, senior A members of Homeroom 118. The SAT will be taken in the cafeteria October 21.—Photo by Lowden

Students Tell Pro, Con Ideas Of Living In Large Families

Families represented by students at South Side are indeed different, especially in size. Some students have the idea that living in a very large family is trying, but Sandra Figg, freshman, and Kathy Otis, junior, disagree.

When Sandra and Kathy speak of large families, they mean really large families, for they are members of the two largest families represented at South, each of which contains fourteen members.

Sandra has six brothers and five sisters. Her three oldest brothers, Edward, Charles, and Jerry, who are 26, 21, and 18 respectively, are in the Navy. Ronald, seven, is attending South Wayne School, while William, 16, and Paul, two, are at home.

SANDRA'S OLDER SISTERS are both married, but she has three younger sisters, Irene, 12; Dotty, six; and Barbara Michele, three.

Sandra believes that the principle advantages of having a large family is obvious. She stated that with so many brothers and sisters, there is much less for each member of the family to do. Sandra also added, "With such a large family, activities are much more fun. This brings us together, and we find that we have developed a closer family circle."

Kathy Otis is the oldest of the 12 boys and girls in her family. "Being the oldest," says Kathy, "I have a great deal of extra responsibility. My brother Dana and I have solved this problem by taking shifts. I do my homework while he watches the children, and he does his while I take care of them."

BESIDES HER BROTHER Dana, who is 14 and attends Harrison Hill, Kathy has seven brothers. Five of them—Stephen, 13; Tom, 11; Kenny, nine; Ronnie, eighth; and Rickey, five, attend South Wayne School.

Kathy also has two brothers at home. They are two-year-old Phillip and Charles who was born a month ago. Her sisters are Sue, Christie, and Carol, whose ages range from four years to one year.

Kathy stated that she was glad to be a member of such a large family. She commented that she never gets lonely and that a large family has a great deal of fun together. Kathy also added, "I think the greatest attribute a person gains from living in a large family is the ability to get along with other people."

Times Extends Sympathy

On behalf of the faculty and student body, The South Side Times wishes to extend its sympathy to Mrs. Evelyn Spray, English instructor, on the death of her father, Mr. Charles E. Richey.

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.

H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service

Washing

Battery and Tire Service

DIGGS-H-4286

R HARRISON HILL

3828 S. Calhoun

U Fountain

G School Supplies

S Vitamins

S Prescription

Specialists

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2350 Fort Wayne, Indiana

PEDWIN'S NEW PERFORATED MOCCASINS

Score a direct style hit

They're the latest... and greatest! See this handsome moc with the distinctive perforated toe. Pedwin's comfort and long wearing qualities will make this a campus favorite.

10.95

pedwin.
young ideas in shoes

Black
Calf

121 W Wayne St

Thinlies Beat Vikings, Place Third As 'Cat' Teams Tie In Triangular

Runners Defeat Vikings 19-52 In Sixth Victory

Ken Ellingwood Battles Paul Rider To Take Meet By Five Seconds

Paced once again by Ken Ellingwood, South Side's cross country harriers made Huntington their sixth victim of the year 19-52 Thursday. The Kellys aced the Viking athletic field four times in 10:22 to win individual honors.

Paul Rider of the host school, running a fine race, battled Ken every step of the way. However, he had to settle for a second place and a 10:27 time. South Side runners then cornered the next eight positions to wrap up the meet.

HUNTINGTON, WHICH has been humbled by most of its foes this season, is only in its second year in cross country. In addition the Vikings were hit hard by graduation losses and by injury to their number one man early in the campaign.

As usual, Coach Charles "Porky" Holt's men provided much intra-squad competition. Sophomores Dave Munson and Jim More had elbow room in placing third and fourth. Jim Burton, senior, and Stu Schmitz, junior, tied for fifth in 10:42 while Bob Camp, junior, and Steve Meyer, sophomore, were both one second back of them.

FOLLOWING IS A summary of the Huntington meet:

1. Ken Ellingwood (SS)	10:22
2. Paul Rider (H)	10:27
3. Dave Munson (SS)	10:36
4. Jim More (SS)	10:40
5. Jim Burton (SS)	10:42
6. Stu Schmitz (SS)	10:42
7. Bob Camp (SS)	10:43
8. Steve Meyer (SS)	10:43
9. Larry Lee (SS)	11:04
10. Al Schlie (SS)	11:36

Studio To Take Pictures

The underclassman pictures for the 1962 Totem will be taken next Wednesday and Thursday by Ward Studios. Appropriate colors in clothing are dark shades, or light shirts or blouses with dark offsets.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Plaza Beauty Salon

H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

(For Semester—Applies on Purchase) Increase Your Grades—Improve Your Speed

RENT A TYPEWRITER $1.00 WEEK
BUSINESS MACHINES SUPPLY
S-3735 5816 Gates Drive

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering
Phil A. Steigerwald 4235 Fairfield
Res. K-1183 Bus. H-9661

Science teachers show us how to sail under the North Pole and fly over the moon, but you're on your own when you cross the street.

3720 South Calhoun St.

The Corner House

Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Cross-country and touch football remained at a heavy pace throughout the week. Eight games were played in football, and the runners in cross-country began to lengthen their runs to two and three laps.

In lightweight touch football action this week, the Nature Boys won two games to remain undefeated. Mike Beltz hit Ricky Meeks for the only touchdown of the game as the Nature Boys edged out the Clods, with a score of 7-2. Beltz also ran for the extra point, but the Clods gained two points when Doug Henschen caught Beltz in the end zone.

For their second win of the week, the Nature Boys defeated the Untouchables, 15-0. Again Beltz led the attack, throwing two touchdown passes; one to Ricky Meeks and the other to Dave Rodenbeck. Pat Fisk accounted for two points as he caught the Untouchable quarterback for a safety.

The Drillers then eliminated the Clods by a score of 26-2. Bill Speck and Jim Lawson paced the Drillers' attack. Speck passed for two touchdowns; one to John Gustafson and one to Lawson. Gustafson and Speck both ran for the other touchdowns. Ken Hill received two points on passes. The Clods' scored two points when Young caught Hill in the end zone. In the only other scheduled lightweight game, the Terrifiers forfeited to the Untouchables.

In the heavyweight division, the Screamin' Demons moved into the finals by winning two games. Steve Evans passed the Screamin' Demons with a 21-0 victory over the Rascals by throwing three touchdown passes. He hit Mike Clemmer and Ken Fehman for another. Bill Joy scored the only extra point on a pass from Evans. Don Dawson accounted for the other two points by catching Larry Schneider for a safety.

The Screamin' Demons remained undefeated champs by clobbering the Champs, 20-7. Steve Evans led the attack again by throwing two touchdowns and running another.

Officers To Show Cameras

Demonstrating various cameras will highlight the meeting of the Camera Club Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 70.

The officers will first explain the simple box camera, then the more complex varieties of cameras. Shutter speeds, range finders, and light meters will all be mentioned. New members are still welcome.

Math Club To Hear Soph

Alan Ferber, sophomore, will give a presentation of "Seven Bridges of Königsberg" at the next meeting of the Math Club, today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 74.

Presiding over the meeting will be Chris Junker, president.

Established 1876

KLA EHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

Bob Symonds and Mike Clemmer were on the receiving end of Evans' passes. Gary Tinkel provided the Champs with their only score by running around left end for the touchdown. Tinkel then hit Lee McClymonds for the extra point to end the scoring.

Gary Tinkel led the Champs to a hard fought victory over the Blockbusters. Tinkel ran for the only touchdown and Bill Borgman caught Russ Wickham for a safety to make the score 8-0. The Rascals trounced the Blockbusters with a score of 27-0, in the other game. Larry Schneider fired three touchdown passes and scored one himself as the Rascals ran up the highest score this year. Schneider hit Tom Meyers twice and Duane Goodwin once for the touchdown.

In cross country, two and three lap runs have begun and Dave James has turned in the best times for both. James ran 2:36; Ken Leakey had 2:42; Ricky Meeks, 2:43; Dale Hillsmier, 2:52; Larry Barnett, 2:54; and Brad Zieg ran a 2:57 for the two laps. For the three lap race, excellent times have been turned in by Dave James, Russ Wickham, Jim Williams, and Ricky Meeks. James ran a 4:26; Wickham, 4:28; Williams, 4:28; and Meeks ran 4:31.

The annual Intramural bowling tournament will meet October 26 at the Village Bowl. Cost for three games is one dollar. Last year's winners were Ray Lerch, lightweight; Jack Garrison, middleweight; and John Addington, heavyweight.

Pianists, Referees Chosen For Dance, Gym Classes

Taking attendance, keeping things tidy, offering assistance to visitors, and checking Study Hall in and out slips for girls doing special work are the duties of the new service workers in the girls' gym. They also must know all the game rules and be prepared to referee the games. All the responsibilities are divided among the three girls servicing each period.

The following girls do service work in the girls' gym for Mrs. Alice Keegan and Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, gym instructors: period 1, Martha Grimm, Loretta Kimmel, and Beth Randall; period 2, Darlene Bauer, Margaret Cox, and Mary Jo McDonald; period 3, Virginia Kachiamenis, Marsha Good, and Jenny Slater; period 4, Joyce Berberich, Mary Jo McDonald, and Jenny Slater; period 5, Connie Belschner, Sandy Meeks, and Mary Simmons; period 7, Judi Koop, Cynthia Russel, and Nanette Simpson.

The dance classes depend on the pianists who play games regularly and also put in extra time with the girls. They must be able to sight read music, and be able to play all types of music. Two of them will be selected to play for the Spring Show.

Pianists are Linda Becher, Diane Petznik, period 1; Tricia Miller, period 2; Fran Krandell, period 3; Sue Mowery, periods 4 and 6; and Karen Ponader, period 7.

DeMolay Plans Initiation

Initiating about ninety new members, the first Initiatory Degree meeting of DeMolay will be Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. Bill Branstrator, Master Counselor, will be in charge of conducting the ceremony.

Coney Island WIENER STAND

131 West Main A-0783

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See
JASPER
Engine &
Transmission Exchange
3504 S. Calhoun H-1221

KOEGEL JEWELERS

Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway
E-7671

Wildcats, Tigers Conquer Kellys By 37-49 Score

Bengals' Henry King Captures Top Honors With Swift 9:31 Time

South's thinlies placed third in a triangular meet with Central and Kokomo on the two-mile course at Fort Wayne's Franke Park Tuesday. The final score was 37-37-49.

Since all three of these teams have state-championship material, the final placing times were unusually fast. Tenth place, which is usually done in over ten minutes and twenty seconds, was won in a time of 10:02.

Henry King, last year's state half-mile champion from Central, won this meet in a burning time of 9:31, with Dennis Jones, ex-Archer now running for the Kokomo team, second.

THE ARCHER'S HIGHEST varsity place was Sophomore Ken Ellingwood. He completed the race on a 9:51 time for fifth place. South's next place winner, Jim Burton, finished under ten minutes in the eighth place position. The final score of the meet left South in last place with Central and Kokomo tying for first honors.

At the starting gun, there was a rush for positions; and as expected King of Central, Jones of Kokomo, and Ellingwood from South were running in the first group. Henry King's pace was fast, and he led the pack with Jones only a step away from him.

Ellingwood had a slow first mile; but by the mile mark, he was battling for positions with the leaders. At the mile turn, Johnson of Kokomo followed close behind Jones in third place.

THE MANY HILLS and sharp turns didn't take too great an effect on the leaders, and they sprinted the last 220 yards. King nosed out Jones and Johnson for first place. Next came the Bengal's Curry and then Ellingwood. Burton from South was the last boy in the meet to finish under ten minutes.

The Archers captured five of the first fifteen places but came in last as a team. This is the second defeat against six wins for the Archers.

According to previous races, South was expected to win first or second place. After Central lost to the Kellys in their first meet this year, they have improved greatly.

In this triangular, the Bengals placed three boys under ten against the two boys under ten from South. In the earlier meet, Central had four boys under ten minutes. South also improved with some boys clipping seconds off their times each meet. By Sectional time, all the city teams will be in peak condition; and this year's race promises to be one of the all-time best.

THE FINAL RESERVE score was 27-41-60 in favor of the Central Tigers. South was handed last place in this contest. The fastest Archer time was 10:40 recorded by Mike Weinraub for fourth place. Bob Piercy of South had a good time of 10:59. Two Central boys sprinted to a finish for first and second place. The third place was taken by Kokomo and the fourth by the Archers. The Archer reserves have a record of two wins against seven defeats.

The following is a summary of the varsity meet:

King (C)	9:31
Jones (K)	9:32
Johnson (K)	9:37
Curry (C)	9:50
Ellingwood (S)	9:51
Grag (K), Kammeyer (C), Burton (S), Frazer (K), Schmitz (S), More (S), Bowen (C), and Dadds (C)	are the remaining runners.

South's Faculty Has 10 Roving Teachers

Ten roving teachers are members of South's faculty this semester. These teachers have no homeroom and often conduct their classes in a different room each period.

The roving teachers are Mr. Preston Brown, health teacher; Mrs. Marcella Ellitt, home economics instructor; Mr. Donald Reichert and Mr. David Fell, social studies teachers; Mr. Eugene Melchi, industrial arts teacher;

Miss Jeanne Smith, English and French teacher; Mr. Glen Stebing, drivers' training instructor; Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong and Mrs. Alice Keegan, physical education instructors; and Mr. Robert Drummond, director of instrumental music.

Mr. Brown and Mr. Reichert can be found before school and after school in Mr. Reichert's office, located opposite Room 6; Mrs. Ellitt is in Room 77 before school and during homeroom period; Mr. Fell can be found in the teacher's lounge, next to Room 116; and Miss Smith will be in either Room 72 or the teacher's lounge.

Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Keegan can be found in the Girls' gym before and after school; Mr. Drummond will be in the band room; Mr. Melchi will be on the football field after school; and Mr. Stebing will usually be in the teacher's lounge before school and on the football field after 3:30 p.m.

Chairs and Tables That Fold LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Players' Spotlight

Nate Norment, Donald Sievert Spark Team's Backfield, Line

Nate Norment

Don Sievert

Sparking the Kelly backfield this year is Senior A Nate Norment, one of the Green's most outstanding runners. This is Nate's second year on the varsity squad; although he did not play much last year, he has become one of the best halfbacks in the city.

During the spring, Nate participated on the track team. Last year he ran the low hurdles and the 880-yard relay, placing first in the Sectional, second in the Regional, and third in the State meet in the low hurdle event.

Nate started to play football at the age of eight in Memphis, Tenn. While attending junior high school at Gary Tolleston, he played basketball and ran cross country and track.

When asked about the games this year, Nate stated, "All the games will be tough, but with a little luck we will end up with a fine season. The game with Central Catholic should prove to be the roughest game of the year."

Nate continued, saying that he thinks the Green should win the City Series race if they can beat North Side; but the top competitor will be Central Catholic. Nate plans to go to college at Ball State next fall. If he receives a scholarship in sports, he will probably take part in football and track.

Dads' Group Plans Banquet For Boys

Performing service projects beneficial to the school and to the student body is the purpose of the South Side Dad's Club, a 35-member organization of students' fathers.

Projects planned by the Dad's Club include a football banquet at the end of the season to honor boys on the team and their fathers and a spring picnic given in honor of participants in other fields of athletics.

Although the club at present consists mostly of parents of football players, the members are urging other men to join. In order to encourage new members, the club will install a special booth at the South Side Open House next Monday, at which parents may become members.

Also, the group of fathers is planning a Dad's Day Homecoming Event at the football game of October 13 for the purpose of honoring the players' fathers, increasing game attendance, and enrolling new members.

Officers of the club are Dr. Robert M. Lohman, president; Mr. N. Sherry, vice-president; Mr. Donald Fleming, secretary; and Mr. George Crozier, treasurer.

Dave Schele To Speak

Dave Schele, senior B, will speak at the meeting of Junior Academy of Science Thursday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 76. Members will elect officers at this time. The meetings have been changed to the second and third Tuesdays of the month.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Gerig Super Service

MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Ingeborg's Frisor Salong

(Beauty Shop)

617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

Evansville Panthers Receive Top Rating

Unbeaten, unscored-upon Evansville Reitz, who boasts a 16-game winning skien over a three-year period, topped the Associated Press poll this week quite convincingly.

The sports writers and broadcasters voting in the weekly poll had no problem in voting the Panthers as the state's top-rated squad. In their three games, the powerful Evansville squad has averaged 47 points per game while keeping their opponents scoreless.

The ratings are as follows:

	W	L	T
1. Evansville Reitz	4	0	—
2. East Chi. Washington	3	0	—
3. Indianapolis Cathedral	4	0	—
4. East Chi. Washington	3	0	1
5. Michigan City	3	0	1
6. Ind. Broad Ripple	3	0	1
7. Anderson	4	1	—
8. So. Bend Washington	3	0	1
9. Frankfort	3	0	1
10. Mishawaka	4	0	—

'Update' Features News, Interviews By Students

"Update," a weekly television news program produced especially for teenagers, is telecast each Saturday at 12 noon on WKJG-TV, Channel 33. NBC News' Washington correspondent Robert Abernathy serves as the on-the-air editor.

The program accents the "how and why" of the week's news events in order to give high school and junior high school students a better understanding of world and national affairs.

Among the program's regular features are a review of the week's major news events, an analysis of an important news story, and a student reporter segment in which a high school correspondent interviews some prominent person of his choice. The late news is presented with liberal use of maps, charts, photos, and other visual aids. Another segment points out the people, places, and events to watch during the coming week.

In addition, various programs will include reports on subjects of interest from NBC newsmen in the United States and overseas, and filmed feature stories that will give the teenager a new insight into the world around him.

Seniors Beat Sophs In Upperclass GAA

Sixty-five students participated in the GAA speedball game on September 25. The seniors beat the sophomores' Team 4 by a score of 10-2. Winning points were scored by Seniors Jan Spuller, Sue Johns, who made two points each, and Virginia Kachiamenis, who contributed six points. The two points earned by Team 4 were scored by Mary Ann Waldrop.

The game between the juniors and sophomores' Team 1 was a 4-4 tie.

Toni Sorensen, junior, and Sharon Karst, sophomore, scored. Although sophomore Team 2 and sophomore Team 3 scored no points in the first half, the game ended with a 6-6 tie. Scoring points for sophomore Team 2 were Diane Shelling, two points, and Jane Hahn, four points. Sue Eversman and Jean Longardner earned three points each for Team 3.

Get yours at Goldens!

Super-Slim!
Super-Tapered!

CASINOS

The Slacks With New Rounded
13-Inch VENTED Bottoms

$4⁹⁵

- 17½ Inch Knee
- Extension Waistband
- Hidden Side-tabs
- Pleatless! 1-In. Flap On Back Pocket
- 29 to 36 Waist Size, 29 to 33 Inseam

CROSS-RIB
Textured Cotton
In Wood Brown
Or Olive

New, interesting horizontal rib that's wash-and-wear and "Sanforized-Plus."

South Side To Face Inexperienced Central In Important City Series Battle Tomorrow

Tigers Nip C. C. For First Win; Kelsey, Goodson Spark Squad

South Side's Archers will open their third City Series game against the Central Tigers at North Side tomorrow night at 8 p.m. The Central team is weak both on size and speed.

Lack of experience will also hurt Central, which lost 20 boys this year unexpectedly by ineligibility, quitting school, and dropping the sport.

Central's record of 1-2-1 is not impressive; however, the Kellys will have to be on their toes until the final gun. The Bengals have a few very capable lettermen; Sam Kelsey and Jim Goodson at ends, and Brad Durnell at quarterback who could all pose threats to the Green.

RON SMITH at guard; Sam Turner at fullback, and Ned Moore at halfback are other returning lettermen. Gary Gemmer is the punter and will probably get a good workout tomorrow evening. Jim Goodson is the kick-off and extra-point man.

Ends Sam Turner and Jim Goodson both are fair receivers, but neither has exceptional speed. Tackles Jim Jenison and Art Stahlhut, who weigh 185 and 190, respectively, are fairly light compared to Kelly tackles.

BOB FORD, A 6-3, 240-pound junior, could beef up the Tiger line somewhat. Either Stahlhut or Ford will start the game. Ron Smith and Arley Hatch will play at the guard posts; Hatch is 6-7 and weighs 165 pounds, Smith is 6-11 and 185 pounds.

Rounding out the line is sophomore center George James. Sophomore tackle Steve Derrickson will be sidelined until after the South game because of a knee injury received in the Hobart game in which Central was defeated 47-0.

Coach Paul Bienz stated that South Side was undoubtedly one of the best teams in the city and should go far in the City Series race. He said his Tigers would be up for this game and would try to give South as good a battle as possible.

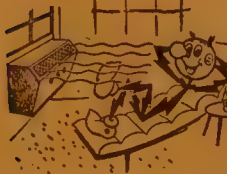

SOUTH OBVIOUSLY has an edge on the Tigers but will have to be alert to hold down Central's threats. Central's defense is not as strong as it could be, and the Archers should be able to move the ball well against them.

Probable Starting Lineups

Central	Pos.	South
Goodson	LT	Meyer
Jenison	LT	Meek
Hatch	LG	Hagerman
James	C	Sievert
Smith	RG	Weaver
Stahlhut	RT	Parker
Kelsey	RE	VanOosten
Moore	QB	McMahan
Durnell	HB	Ed Johnson
Harris	HB	Norment
Turner	FB	Sheray

Lettermen To Plan Potluck

Initiation of new members and discussion of the annual Potluck will be the main project at the Lettermen's meeting today at 7 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

REAL COOL!

Don't postpone those studies until the "heats off!" Let Reddy beat the heat for you with an electric fan or air conditioner.

Don't postpone those studies until the "heats off!" Let Reddy beat the heat for you with an electric fan or air conditioner.

Wanted—Alive

SALES BOYS OR GIRLS TO SELL SKATING PARTIES FOR

KREE'S RINK

ON COMMISSION BASIS

See Les Kreigh at the Rink

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hanging in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO—

T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford H-2185

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

QUICK CHICK

2213 DECATUR RD.

City Scoreboard

	W	L	T	GB	Pct.
South	2	0	0	—	1.000
Central	1	0	0	½	1.000
C.C.	0	1	0	1	.000
Luers	0	1	0	1	.000
North	0	1	0	1	.000

Overall

	W	L	T	GB	Pct.
Concordia	3	1	0	25.5	5.3 20.2
South	2	1	0	9	5.3 3.7
Luers	2	1	1	17	4.8 12.2
Central	1	2	1	7.3	20.3 -13
C.C.	1	2	1	10.8	12.5 -1.7
North	0	3	1	5.3	13.3 -8
Elmhurst	0	4	0	3.3	30 -20.7

Top Four

Name	School	TD	Exp	FG	T
M. Burns, Luers		5	1	0	31
Schoenfeld, Con.		3	6	0	24
Porter, Con.		3	1	0	19
Lebrato, Luers		3	0	0	18

Eight players are tied with 12 points each.

Frosh Speedballers Score Shutout, Tie

In Freshman GAA, Valentina Harabosky's Squad 4 whipped Sally Henderson's Squad 1 by a 4-0 score. Jo Elynn Good's Squad 2 deadlocked Joy Locke's Squad 3 with the score at 9-9 in a second game Friday night.

Scoring points and assisting plays were Linda Thornburg and Janice Bates making a pass for Squad 4. Squad 2's help came from Jo Elynn Good scoring and Bonnie Post assisting. Bonnie also assisted Pam Ensey to make a goal; Janis Pfeuger scored a goal and a touchdown with Jo Elynn Good's help.

Cheryl Krudop scored three times for Squad 3 with Lynn Ruby assisting twice and Mary Sherlock passing the third time, the other three points being scored by an unidentified person.

Umpiring and scoring this week were Toni Sorensen, Barbara Shodde, Jan Spuller, Mary Marker, Beth Randall, Margaret Shirley, and Pat Abbott.

New girls assigned to teams are Martha Moore on Squad 1; and Susan Haycox, Diane Porter, and Janice Bates, Squad 4, for the first GAA event.

It now stands that Squad 1 has been "left in the dark." Squads 2 and 3 have both won one and tied one, and Squad 4 has won one game. Squad 1 has failed to triumph in two starts.

Designers To Sketch

To work on the preliminary sketches of model cars, which will be entered in the Fisher Auto Body contest, the members of Designers' Associated will meet Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120. They will also discuss additions and improvements to each members' car.

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP

Sunny Schick Camera Shop

407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

Wanted—Alive

SALES BOYS OR GIRLS TO SELL SKATING PARTIES FOR

KREE'S RINK

ON COMMISSION BASIS

See Les Kreigh at the Rink

Stu's Sideline shots

By Stu Schmits

A victory over Central tomorrow night will assure South of a tie for the city title. Coach Robert Gernand's gridders who were expected to have a "so-so" season after losing practically their entire first string from last year, have remolded their squad into perhaps the city's finest.

It has been 13 years since the goal posts have come tumbling down in Archerland, but the 1961 Archer edition looks like the squad to end the long, "fruitless" famine. South, who was considered the underdog 14 years ago, compiled a 6-1-1 record under the direction of Coach Marion Feasel. They climaxed the city title series with a convincing 25-0 victory over Central.

Central, who carries a 1-2-1 record to date, presents no problem to the Archers on paper; but they can give the Archers a real battle on the gridiron. Coach Paul Bienz's Tigers, who have an average offensive attack of only seven points per game while allowing their opponents 20 points, can hardly be counted out on that factor alone. They have competed against some of the state's finest ball clubs, including Hobart who shellacked them by a 47-0 count.

The downtowners, who defeated the Archers last year 12-0, do not have nearly as tough a squad this season. They are very inexperienced, have a poor quarterback, and their defensive line is not nearly as effective as South's.

Although Central will give the Archers a good battle, the Archers have proved themselves to be the better squad both offensively and defensively. The prediction for tomorrow's contest is South 19, Central 13.

An alert and aggressive defense by South and some well-executed plays gave the Archers City Series victory number two last Friday night. It was the Archers third consecutive win over arch-rival North. The Kellys really made the Redskins loose defense look "sick."

Quarterback Tom McMahan set up some plays which had North's defense going everywhere but the right place. On a few plays, notably, the one which Nate Norment, back, ran for a touchdown, South's offensive line made a hole big enough to drive a truck through.

When the time comes to choose the 1961 all-city football squad, South is apt to have several names on the slate. Although the season is still young, South's fine gridders have won city-wide appraisal and might possibly win state-wide approval by the season's end.

Baseball's annual fall classic, the World Series, is once again under way. This year's pennant drives proved to be exciting up until the last few weeks of action. In the junior circuit, the Yankees finished on top as usual; but the Detroit Tigers presented the Bronx Bombers with a strong challenge until the Yankees took a nine-game lead after a quick Tiger downfall.

The highly publicized home run derby of Roger Maris and Mickey Mantle to break Babe Ruth's 1927 record of 60 kept the interest of baseball fans all over the world.

In the senior loop the Cincinnati Redlegs, who were picked to finish no better than fourth, fooled the experts with their tremendous pennant victory.

Who will win the Series? This is, as usual, a tough question. The Yankees unquestionably have the power offensively; the Redlegs have the better pitching staff. This was also true in the 1939 Series, which the Yankees took from Bill McKechnie's champions in four games.

Manager Fred Hutchinson has good pitching in south-paws Jim O'Toole, Joey Jay, Bob Purkey, and Ken Johnson as well as reliever Bill Henry. The Yanks have their pitching strength in 25-game winner Whitey Ford and relief ace Louis Arroyo who has a frequent habit of saving Ford's games.

Bill Stafford and Ralph Terry round out the Yanks' pitching staff. Arroyo, who could pitch in relief every game if necessary, will have to be sharp against the unpredictable Redlegs if the Yanks hope to win the Series.

Hutchinson's offensive lineup is nothing to disregard either. They have good power in Frank Robinson, Vada Pinson, Wally Post, Gene Freese, and Jerry Lynch.

Although the majority of experts pick the Yanks in six games, the prediction from here is the Redlegs in seven games.

Headquarters For

OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818 CALHOUN ST.

818 CALHOUN ST.

Dove's Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

• Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street

H-1171

Grid Prospects Improve Team's Future Success

By Larry Lee

With the establishment of a full scale junior high school football league, the prospects for better pigskin play in the future years at South Side and the other local public schools are good.

The organization, composed of Kekionga, Harrison Hill, Portage, Ben Geyer, Northwood, Lakeside, and Franklin, has already completed its own Jamboree—before 4,500 fans—and six games of its 36-game schedule. Backed by intense fan interest and support, this junior high program has succeeded brilliantly so far through its crucial early stages.

Through the primary purpose of this new set-up is to have more sports competition for boys on the junior high level, the city high schools will naturally benefit from the experience that their players-to-be will get prior to their admission as sophomores.

IN ADDITION, THE governing bodies, the Athletic Commission and the Coaches' Association, hope that this step will help place Fort Wayne back into the gridiron picture in Indiana. They also feel that it will bring increased, permanent spectator support by having football introduced early in school.

Many large cities in the state as well as Fort Wayne's Roman Catholic school system started organized football in the sixth grade several years ago. Consequently, prep teams from Evansville, Indianapolis, Anderson, Elkhart, and Muncie perennially top the weekly pigskin ratings.

As for the new league's make-up, each school has 30 squad members. It plays each of the other six contenders once in a game of four eight-minute quarters under regular high school football rules. Each team has three home and away contests plus one open date during the campaign.

PRACTICE SESSIONS began September 6; the final games of the 1961 season will be played on November 7. Thursday at 4 p.m. is the date for all league battles.

An organized "flag" football program has been launched in the seventh and eighth grades, too. The inter-school schedule for this type of play is identical to the one that the ninth graders follow. Games are played Tuesday at 4 p.m.

Head coaches for the junior highs include Ed Innis of Harrison Hill, John Grantham of Kekionga, Bob Short of Portage, Bruce Scott of Ben Geyer, Mel Zehner of Franklin, Chuck Adams of Lakeside, and Don Bruick of Northwood.

As for the future, this league hopes to expand as new junior high are formed. Also, there is a possibility of starting tackle football in the seventh grade next year. All and all, present and future plans add up to a better brand of high school football for this city in the years to come.

Grade Period To End

Since the first grading period ends tomorrow, S and U grade cards will be issued next Tuesday. These cards must be signed and returned to the homerooms by Thursday.

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY

AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

Gridders Scalp Redskins, 14-7, Lead In City Series Scramble

LONG REDSKIN . . . Archer Henry Persons makes a game try to down Redskin Bill Kelley in Friday's game with North Side. Coming to his aid are Dave Platz (45), Charley Parker (79), Dave Meyer (88), and Don Sievert (52), on the ground.—Photo by Seaman

Using grit and fiery determination to throw up a rugged defense, Archer gridders stopped North Side's Redskins by a 14-7 score last Friday night. The win gave South a 2-0 in city play and moved them one step closer to the city crown.

All the action was in the first half, as the Archers tallied in the middle of the first and second quarters, and North scored in the second period. The second half was a brilliant defensive exhibition by both teams.

South kicked off to the Redskins to start the game, and soon the Green line was busy trying to contain halfback Bill Kelley of North. After an exchange of punts, Kelley began rolling toward the goal line behind excellent blocking. In three plays, the red-shirted hotshot took the ball 27 yards to the Archer 20-yard line.

THEN THE BOWMEN GOT their first break as Redskin quarterback Jack Aiken fumbled his hand-off to Kelley, and Dave Meek, senior, pounced on the ball on the 25-yard line for the Green.

Despite an offside penalty against South, a pass from Tom McMahan, quarterback, to Nate Norment, back, on the second down and Senior Sid Shera's plunge picked up a first down for the Archers on the 35.

On the second down, Norment broke loose from the right tackle and outraced the secondary for a 66-yard romp for six points. A fine block by Eddie Johnson, junior, on North's 45-yard line insured Nate's safety for the run. Dave Meyer, junior, added the extra point from placement as the ball just skimmed over the crossbar.

NORTH CAME ROARING right back, as Kelley ran the kick-off back 48 yards to the Archer 47. A penalty moved the ball back to their 38-yard line; and on the following play, Mark Hagerman, senior, recovered Aiken's fumble on the Redskin 30.

The Archers ground out some yardage, most of it nullified by offside infractions by the tense, jumpy Green backfield. In the second quarter, the Kellys continued to pound out short yardage until McMahan hit Eddie Johnson with a pass to the five-yard line.

On the next play, McMahan fired a strike to Jon VanOosten, senior.

for the second touchdown for South. Meyer again added the point after. Three plays later, fullback Bill Pool of North galloped 45 yards for the Redskins' touchdown. Steve Larimer booted the point left-footed.

AFTER SOUTH LOST the ball on downs, Kelley began grinding out yardage again. He had advanced the 'Skins to the Green's 37 when Bill Rastetter, senior, recovered the third fumble of the night. South could not get anywhere with the ball and immediately fumbled it back to North on the 40.

Pool and Kelley moved the ball to the 19-yard line, but Rastetter threw Aiken for a loss on the last play of the half.

Neither South or North could overpower the other's defense in the third quarter as the ball see-sawed back and forth with few long gains. The only big gain for the Archers was a pass from McMahan to Meyer to the 'Skins 35, but they lost the ball there.

IN FIVE PLAYS, POOL and Kelley gained 26 yards, but Don Sievert, senior, and Ed Johnson cracked down when necessary and stopped the Northerners.

South had the ball at the beginning of the fourth stanza, but Ed Johnson punted out of bounds on North's 20 when his team ran out of stamina. Kelley and Pool racked up 25 yards in the four rushes good for only two first downs with the ball on mid-field.

Then big VanOosten went pouring in on Aiken, throwing him for a four-yard loss. A few more gains by Kelley picked up two first downs, but losses put the ball back near the mid-field stripe.

Auto Collision Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.

5208 S. Hanna H-6591

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at 631 W. Jefferson A-6371

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For

HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield H-6141

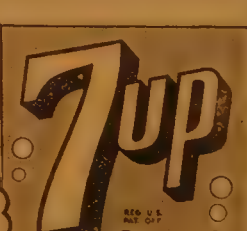

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT Dining Room

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

7up

"Fresh up"

Lively Lassies

Varsity Cheerleaders Find Spirit, Cooperation Give Team Boosters

Anxious for jewels of athletic achievement to be added to the Kelly victory crown, the varsity cheerleaders, Sharon Carrel, Sharon Eitman, Marla Habecker, and Babs Jones are always on hand to lead South Side spectators in boosting their team.

Many hours of instruction and practice under the guidance of Miss Helen Pohlmeier, sponsor, compose the yell leaders' training. Tuesday afternoons from 3:30 to 5 p.m. are always devoted to going over cheers; similar drill sessions take place on Thursday afternoons before pep rallies.

"We would like to compliment the Archer crowd on the wonderful job they do," stated Sharon Carrel, speaking for the group. "Our effectiveness and much of the team's success are determined by the support of the spectators."

The cheerleaders were of the opinion, however, that school spirit sometimes lags until after the game is won, making the task of the boys in green doubly difficult.

WEARING THE VARSITY letter has provided some exciting moments for Sharon, Marla, and Babs. Sharon and Babs rate their first pep session as their finest experience.

"Finding out I'd made varsity was my most thrilling moment," recalls Marla. Sharon Carrel was impressed by the mutual regard prevalent among cheerleaders of opposing schools at the sectional basketball tournament last season.

What is a cheerleader's darkest moment? Perhaps, as Marla noticed, it is when she appears at the game in the wrong costume; or when she finds herself out of time with the group.

Trying to lead an unresponsive crowd and facing an audience that ignores the code of spectators' courtesy are also difficult situations for the cheerleaders.

ALTHOUGH CHEERLEADING has provided many rich rewards such as new friends and experience in appearing before the public, it has also presented a few drawbacks.

"The cheerleader must always be aware of her actions, since she is constantly in the public eye," observed Sharon Carrel. Others felt the demands of practice time both with the group and individually were hard to meet.

Thirty-Nine Students Get Part-Time Jobs

To earn funds for college, spending money, and family needs, 39 South Side students found employment this semester with the help of Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director.

These students are working in banks, groceries, offices, drive-ins, dress shops, florist shops, cleaners, and downtown stores. They got their jobs by filling out cards in homeroom and sending them to the guidance office.

When Mr. Davis found an opening, he gave the job to the student who best fitted the job. Mr. Davis has also set rules regulating the number of hours that the student can work each week.

If a working student has a full schedule, he can work only 20 hours a week. Those with three subjects are permitted to work 30 hours a week; two subjects, 40 hours; and one subject, 50 hours.

"Students who have jobs usually don't do as well in school as they could; however, if the person is a good student, it doesn't hurt him to work approximately ten hours a week," stated Mr. Davis.

Vesta Club To Sell Paper, Order Pins

Distributing stationery and ordering pins and guards will be the main business at the Wednesday meeting of Vesta Club at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Stationery to sell will be given to all members who will be competing in sales. To receive a pin, a member must have 300 points; a guard requires 200 additional points.

The initiation and refreshment committees will confer about the initiation of new members, which will be at the next meeting.

Graves & Hageman, Inc.

Commercial Floor Covering Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

FOR

- Film Developing
- Film and Flash Bulbs
- Records
- Sheaffer Pens
- Papermate Pens
- Pen Repairing
- Greeting Cards
- Russell Stover Candy

COME TO HOWARD'S

Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

Calling all students . . . time to order your

BABER CLASS RINGS
Phone A-7306 . . . E-4197

BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

PEP PUSHERS . . . Cheering South's teams on to hoped-for victories are varsity cheerleaders, from left to right, Sharon Eitman, Marla Habecker, Sharon Carrel, and Babs Jones, captain. These girls, besides cheering at varsity football and basketball games, plan the pep sessions.—Photo by Lowden Sharon Carrel belongs to the Concert Choir, and serves as a Totem copy editor and South Side representative for the Frances Shop Junior Haven. She enjoys reading, writing, modeling, and outdoor sports.

On the College Course, Sharon plans to become an English teacher. She is thankful for her educational background and wishes to help others to have the same opportunities that have been afforded her.

Swimming and bicycling are the hobbies of Sharon Eitman, who hopes to attend Indiana University after receiving a high school diploma. Though undecided as to what career to follow, Sharon intends to do her best to help others no matter what field she chooses.

A Times agent, Totem office manager, sergeant-at-arms for Assemblies Workshop, and member of Pilgrim Fellowship, Sharon also finds time to work behind the Sears' candy counter.

TOE, TAP, BALLET, modern jazz, and character dancing are accomplishments of Marla, who belongs to Philo and Assemblies Workshop as well as the Fort Wayne Ballet Company. Planning for the future, Marla desires to attend college and keep on with dancing. "Practice what you preach" is Marla's motto.

Editor-in-chief of the 1962 Totem, Babs also manages to knit and do service work. Summer days find her water skiing. Babs would like to attend DePauw or Purdue University, studying math and political science.

The varsity advise those desiring to don the cheerleader's uniform to develop a genuine interest in sports, to fire themselves with enthusiasm and school spirit, to develop a sense of rhythm, and to practice suppleness and coordination.

Miss Ann Arber Visits Islands Of Caribbean Sea For Vacation

The sun, the sand, and the sea are what Miss Ann Arber, English teacher, remembers about her thrilling trip to the British West Indies this past summer.

Accompanied by Miss Cynthia Cantelon and Miss Patricia Ewing, Miss Arber traveled through the islands of Antigua, Barbadoes, Grenada, and St. Thomas. The three travelers left Fort Wayne on June 10, and traveled by plane to New York. After spending a day in New York, they left by plane for the West Indies.

The scenic city of Grenada, on the island of Grenada, was 21 miles away from the airport through mountainous country.

MISS ARBER COMMENTED that she could see why Grenada is called "The Island in the Sun."

The island in the West Indies that Miss Arber liked best was St. Thomas. She stated, "I found the island of St. Thomas my favorite because it had so many things that we Americans take for granted. For instance, on the other islands, the only means of transportation is a taxi.

In Antigua she became acquainted with a couple who were building their own resort. She also met a couple who owned their own silk screen plant and was taken on a personally guided tour. In a plant of this type, beautiful and exquisite printing is done on silk cloth.

Most of Miss Arber's time was spent swimming, sunning, sailing, and skin diving. On her birthday she went spear fishing on a 40-foot yawl. To her surprise, she added to her collection of sea specimens, a lobster and a sting ray.

She said, "The beautiful colors and intricate formations of underwater life were beautiful, along with the bright orange and blue fish that added a glow to the water."

AS SHE TRAVELED through the country of Barbadoes, she picked nutmeg directly off the trees. Miss Arber also enjoyed watching the natives of the different islands trading spices at the various docks.

When asked about the weather in the Indies, she said, "The weather always seemed to be just perfect until we reached the island of Grenada, where the rainy season had just begun."

Among the many souvenirs that Miss Arber brought to Fort Wayne with her were silk screens, sea shells, coral sea fans, gloves, china figurines, cultured pearls, materials, and spices.

School Plans Fire Drill

With the annual broadcasted fire drill, Fire Prevention Week will be observed next week. A fire truck will be stationed outside the school during the drill, and the results will be heard over the radio.

Other events planned for the observance include a parade and fire fighting demonstrations. In the parade on Monday will be two new fire trucks, along with antique and modern fire fighting equipment.

REIFF

PHARMACY

Complete

Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

Studying Results In Top Grades, College Diploma

Time marches faster than one thinks, and today's high school students will have to step lively to get into college. It takes even more energy to stay there.

Today, more people than ever before are applying for admission to colleges and universities; and according to statistics, applications will increase every year. There is also a shortage of well-trained teachers.

Applicants for college are so numerous now that at least one of every six students who enter a major eastern college or university leaves without a diploma. The competition for admission is going to be so keen that the "prestige schools," both public and private, will have to raise their standards and accept only those at the very top in ability and achievement.

College today is work! One can't stay in a good college today just because he can pay. He has much less time than years ago for dates and mauls at the soda shop. One of the toughest things today is learning how to go about getting a college education. More time needs to be spent on just plain learning and keeping up with the professor's assignments day by day.

Many high school students have never learned how to go about doing homework in the most efficient and effective ways possible. Now is the time to learn, while they are still in preparation for the tough years ahead.

Thursday, October 5
Masque and Gavel, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Biology Experimenters, Room 91, 3:30 p.m.

Math Section, Room 74, 3:30 p.m.
Lettermen, Room 112, 7 p.m.

Cross Country, Marion, here

Friday, October 6
GAA Speedball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Grade Period Ends

Football, Central, there, at North Side

Monday, October 9
Wranglers, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Philo Officers' Meeting, Room 164, 3:30 p.m.

Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.
Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

GAA Speedball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Open House, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, October 10
Meterite Officers' Meeting, Room 116, 3:30 p.m.

Know-Your-City Club, Room 110, 3:30 p.m.

Grades Issued
Cross Country, Elmhurst, here

Astro-Physics Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, October 11
Vesta Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.

Honorary Arts, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.

Biologists Elect Officers

Anyone wishing to join the Biology Experimenters Club will have a final opportunity at the meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 91.

Officers include Stanley Moreo, president; Doug Hansen, vice-president; Margaret Shirley, secretary; and Edward Kimble, program chairman.

GOLLER'S

DRY CLEANERS

608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista

Lodge Motel

"Yet Your Guests Be Our Guests"

Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

October 5 Brings Back Memories Of Events In South Side's History

The date is October 5, 1930. The night is crisp and clear, perfect for a football game at the South Side Stadium. Excitement is running high because the Archers are to clash with the high-rated Auburn Red Devils.

Five newly-chosen cheerleaders conducting important yells throughout the game are Morris Neuman, freshman; Louise Hoffman, sophomore; Allan Collins, sophomore; Dick Moore, senior; and Hugo Winterawd, freshman.

In order to promote enthusiasm for athletic activities in the different schools, 575 pupils from Harrison Hill have been the first to be invited to see the Archers play.

Coach Lundy Welborn reviewed the strategy to be used against the Lindblom eleven at an important meeting September 24. Hanging a small blackboard on the wall at the home of Mrs. George Wehrmeister, he diagrammed several plays to be used.

OCTOBER 21 WAS THE date for an important tea dance in the cafeteria sponsored by the Math-Science Club.

Urging all eligible boys to go out for cross-country this season, Mr. Briner stated that boys haven't been responding as expected.

Meanwhile, South Side girls are also learning new and interesting activities. Meeting fifth and sixth periods, the girls' dancing classes, coached by Miss Alice Patterson, have proven very popular.

The Times agents are being encouraged to work their hardest and sell the 240 remaining subscriptions. My, how time does fly. Ten years of South Side history have flown by and it is now October 5, 1940.

WHAT IS THIS? A NEW teacher has been added to the staff? Why yes, the new Kelly addition is Mr. Lester Hostetler as choral leader. His first words to the Times were "Everybody who knows anything whatsoever about South Side has told me that I would find the finest group of students I could possibly meet."

The efficient yearbook staff has set 300 as their goal this year. "It's a Step in the Right Direction to Buy a Totem" is to be the subscription theme.

Six exciting and fascinating social dances will follow basketball games this season. "Orchestras and decorations will be allowed," stated the dean of girls.

Miss Pearl Rehorth will sponsor the home economics club, Wo-Ho-Ma. Leading the senior, junior, and sophomore classes respectively are

Purpose, Regulations Told For Fire, Air Raid Drills

Fire drills are performed to teach students how to get out of the building quickly and in an orderly manner in case of a fire.

During a fire drill, everyone is to leave the building. Teachers are to be at the head of the lines, and students must walk, not run, by twos on the designated side of the hall, keeping quiet.

The signal for a fire drill is one long blast of the siren, followed by three short blasts. In case of a real fire the signal will be repeated short blasts of the siren.

Air raid drills are to teach students how to protect themselves in case of an air attack. Each room must wait for the room in front of it, then follow. Each teacher is to be at the head of his line; students are to move quickly and quietly to their appointed stations in the building.

The warning signal is a series of two short rings on the bell.

Jocquel Supply Co.

Four Generations of Service of All Types Building Material

2206 Broadway H-3141

Self-Service or Drop-Offs

Washed, Dried, and Folded. Finish Same Day.

1-Day Shirt Service.

Dry Cleaning

SOUTH SIDE

LAUNDROMAT

4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

the new class officers James McClure, Ralph Shimer, and Elizabeth McKay.

IN THE SCIENCE DEPARTMENT, Mr. Elma Gould's botany classes are very interested in their large weed collections.

The sale of season athletic tickets has reached the outstanding total of 329. The Times, meanwhile, now has 950 orders.

Mr. Wayne Gift, South Side's new football coach, was introduced to the student body at the big pep session last Friday.

The Archers shutout the Woodwardites by a 16-0 score. Two touchdowns with conversions and a safety accounted for the points.

BAD NEWS FOR THE students came when the board of trustees announced the decision to resume school after the Christmas holidays on December 30, earlier than had been expected.

The date is now October 5, 1950, and once again we have a new club sponsor. Replacing Mr. Francis Fay as Rifle Club sponsor is Mr. Jack Bobay, industrial arts teacher.

Class elections have just ended and Tsigloff has been elected senior class president.

About seventy present and former teachers plus their wives, husbands, and children will attend the annual faculty picnic tonight at 8 p.m. at the Sears pavilion.

JIM KNAPP AND Roger Etzler, football managers, disclosed their pet peeves as well as their favorite pastimes before the big game between the Archers and the Michigan City Imps, who defeated the Kelly squad last year.

Miss Leif's Home Economics II class made delicious stuffed tomato salad.

Once again it is October 5, but the names will now be familiar as the year is 1960.

The senior have elected Chris Parrott president of his class for his third consecutive term. Tom McMahan will lead the junior class throughout the year, and Nancy Robinson was elected sophomore president.

Dave Schwalm, the outgoing president of the Latin club, has installed

Mr. Jack Weicker Visits College Entrance Parley

The "First Congress on College Admissions," sponsored by the Indiana High School and College Committee, met September 26 at Butler University in Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, helped to formulate the organization, while Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, served as South Side representative.

The object of the Congress was to allow college admittance officials and the high school officials of Indiana to meet. It gave the representative of the high schools a chance to ask important questions students need to know before entering college.

The college representative answered these questions, and gave advice. They stated that high school records and SAT and PSAT are most important in placing freshmen. Suggestions were made on ways to improve the relationship between high schools and colleges.

Dick Waterfield as the new president and Marcia Disler as vice-president.

MRS. ANNE REDMOND, Latin teacher, and Mr. Richard Sage, math teacher, received their masters degrees this summer.

Office managers Leslie Malone, Phyllis Cozmas, Edece White, Pam Brown, and Margee Mercer were pleased when 536 students purchased yearbooks on the campaign's first day.

In was reported that Joannie Carroll fell down the ramp fifth period and no one offered to pick her up. Meanwhile, Dave Schwalm lost his contact lens playing football at the Times picnic; Bill Hess smashed his 1947 Plymouth; Larry Lee and Jon Poto keep being mistaken for each other; and Sharon Carrel is having grand times at away games.

Judy Dunlap sets her aim in life to be a missionary nurse. She wishes to do work in the far east.

Last, but not least, Jim Carter and Chuck Weinraub are delegates to the first Indiana Youth General Assembly sponsored by the Governor's Youth Advisory Council.

Thirty years have passed and now the date is October 5, 1961. It is interesting to imagine what will transpire during the next 30 years at South.

PTA To Celebrate Fifty-Year Jubilee

(Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of PTA articles written by Mrs. Robert Spencer, assistant publicity chairman, to be printed in the Times to encourage membership in the South Side PTA.)

The Golden Jubilee, 50 years, of PTA beginning in Indiana, will be celebrated during the year 1962.

As a local unit, the South Side PTA is eligible to win the 100 per cent Membership Award this year. The teachers who join the membership will give the unit the "Trunk Award", and then with the attainment of as many members as enrolled students, it would bring the group up to 100 per cent. This in turn brings parents and teachers satisfaction in working together, knowing the school, and getting better parent-teacher-student relationships.

All parents are needed in PTA. A membership card of 50 cents entitles them to a membership which may be obtained by attending Open House, Monday night at 7:30 p.m.

NICKLES

BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Lowrey Organs

Kimball Pianos

Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS

MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

Hall's Drive-Ins

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE

PRINTING PLANT

SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

McDonald's DRIVE-IN
Cheeseburger 19¢
TREAT your Family TO A VISIT TO McDonald's the home of the All American Meal
HAMBURGER 15¢
FRENCH FRIES 10¢
MILK SHAKE 20¢
2—LOCATIONS—2
CALIFORNIA ROAD & HI-WAY 30 EAST

Archers Finish First Quarter With Overwhelming Grades

Students in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 1 class who made the best grades on a test over short stories are Ann Arnold, Bob Current, Mike Dunn, Dianne Friedman, Dick McCormick, Susan Moller, Pat Scheib, and Martha Scott.

Students in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 7 class who made high grades on a test over the Anglo-Saxon Period are Sue Burdick, Kathy DeVore, Alice Hubegger, and Karen Snively.

Students in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 6 class who made high grades over the Anglo-Saxon Period are Sally Boyer, Ron Bultemeier, and Anita Kimball.

Students in Mr. Cowdrey's period 3 English 6 class who made high grades on a test over writers of the eighteenth century are Harb Buckles, Beth Burnett, Bob Miller, and Kay Heemsoth.

Students in Mr. Cowdrey's English 5 period 2 class who made high grades on a test over short stories are John Billings, Dennis Berryhill, Sandy Gustafson, Bill LeFever, Kay Selkling, and Claudia Stennes.

Mr. Storey's speech classes have been telling humorous stories and ice-breakers.

Scoring 100 per cent on a test in Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 period 5 class is Sharon Snyder. Those who received 90's on the same test are Pat Bailey, and Janice Bechtold.

The fall program of the boys' gym classes is organized. Teams have been formed and gym class schedules of touch football will be played. Running and calisthenics are also being emphasized, according to an announcement by Mr. Motz.

Scoring 90 or above on a test over early man in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 7 class are Stan Black, 100; Jim Cress, 100; Vicki Phillips, 96; Carol Koeck, 96; Victor Seowald, 96; Susan Smith, 96; Nancy Blackney, 92; Beverly Flanigan, 92; and Dave Hoffman, 92.

Those obtaining 90 or above in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 3 class are Steve Reidel, 100; Christine Fruchtenicht, 100; Jon Lyon, 96; Dan Dewald, 96; Thomas Blossom, 96; Susan Seigel, 92; Russ Shickham, 92; Karen Miller, 90; Walt Halley, 92; and Charles Brineman, 92.

Students who have given their first book reports in Miss Graham's English 5 period 6 class are Judy Schumm and Terry Usher.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
INCORPORATED
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Dur-Enamel
Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel
Company, Inc.
E-3011 1015 Taylor

Phone: T-1141

ALLEN DAIRY

The proper lighting in your home is very important for reading and study... It protects your eyesight.

Better Lighting
means better grades

UTILITIES
Light & Power • Water Filtration • Sewage Disposal

PAUL M. BURNS, MAYOR OF FORT WAYNE

Mr. Morey's English 5 classes are creating poetry in the old Anglo-Saxon style.

Making special reports in Miss Osborne's English 5 period 1 class are Judy McGeehan, Janet Brenn, David Brumm, Mary McDonald, Janet Diell, Lex Smuts, and Ann McAllister.

Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 1 class is studying the French Revolution and the peace treaty after Waterloo.

Mr. Feasel's General History 1 periods 2, 4, 6 and 7 classes are studying the life of primitive man and the Egyptian Civilization.

Students who have given their first book reports in Miss Graham's English 3 period 3 class are Lynelle Dill and Patricia Phelps.

Scores of 100 in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 1 were earned by Terry Borne, Charlie Golden, Kent Hagerman, Margaret Shirley, and Steven Riedel.

In the same class grades of 95 and above were merited by Pat Cameron, Martha Hoard, Mike Lepper, and Phil Malone.

Receiving perfect scores of 100's in Mrs. Luse's fourth period college algebra classes are Bob Martin, Dave Meek, Howard Miller, and Bob Miller. Scoring ninety or above are Bill Borgmann and Frank Lewis.

Earning 100's in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 2 class on a recent geometry test are Suellen Borgmann, Mike Comer, Bev Flanigan, Chuck Hager, Roberta Hoffner, Janet Kelly, Thomas Liby; Bob Markiton, Tom Meyers, Sally Morris, James Kildon, Greg Rozelle, Janice Sprunger, Nancy Stewart, and Rus Wickham.

Receiving 95 and above on the same test are Mary Bade, Nancy Blankney, Lynelle Dill, Sue Klingerman, Vicki Phillips, June Poneleit, and Mike Young.

The classes of Mrs. Murphy's Clothing 3 in Home Ec. are making a study of fabrics before starting their projects for the semester. They are learning to fit more intricate patterns for their advanced sewing projects such as dresses and skirts.

Mrs. Murphy's Clothing 1 Home Ec. class is learning about the history of costumes, lines and colors of materials, and how to fit patterns. After this preliminary study, they will start on skirts.

The following students scored above ninety on the first test in Mr. Compton's English 5 classes during first and second periods: Sharyan Yenger, Sally Sweet, Larry Norman, and Paul Mittelstadt.

Mr. Collier's General History 2 classes have been studying the French Revolution and Napoleon.

Mr. Collier's World History 1 classes are studying about ancient men and making oral reports on life in Egypt and Mesopotamia.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Herman Klingler's
WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Sydney Schinbeckler and Sondra Stouder are the first in U.S. History 2 period 7 to turn in reports from books on the reserve shelf in the library. Sydney used John F. Kennedy's "Profiles in Courage." Sondra used Rhodes's "History of the U.S."

Special reports about the Line of Demarcation have been given in Miss Mary Crowe's U.S. History 1 classes by Mike Zehender, Tom Shine, and Tom Wooding.

Students scoring 100 per cent on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 1 class are Vicki Miller, Carol Molanien, Flora Reynolds, Tom Libby, and Linda Chaney.

Receiving 95 per cent on the same test is Bob Symonds.

Those making over 90 per cent on a test on biological terms and the scientific method in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 6 class are Tim Easton and Susan Jorgensen.

The students in Miss Burr's period 1 English 4 class try to avoid sentence fragments, run-on, and incomplete sentences in their daily assignments. The best themes with fewest technical errors were by Pamela Foust and Steve Myers.

Receiving grades of 90 or above on a recent test about early man in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 5 class are Judi McKay, 96; Linda Lee Miracle, 96; Valerie Evans, 92; Kay Wollman, 92; Mike Lepper, 92; and Mike Haulin, 92.

Dorothy Dildine, Linda Evil-sizer, Steve Gater, Patricia Miller, Gene Rovison, and Jim Lambert made grades of 90 per cent or above on two review tests on verbals in Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 2 class.

Perfect French dictation papers were turned in by Mary Bowman, Janet Deihl, Janet Dinius, Sue Gerig, Annell Hoover, and Sue Lohman in Miss Jeanne Smith's period 3 class.

Frances Hudlow, Carol McVay, and Marta Munson turned in perfect papers written from the dictation of Miss Jeanne Smith in her French 1 period 3 class.

Receiving A on dication in Miss Smith's period 6 French 2 class are John Harold, John Kurtz, Linda Myers, and Val Persepkin.

Students in the period 5 English 1 class have written letters to their teacher, Miss Jeanne Smith, concerning their past study of English.

John Esslinger, Linda Johnson, Patricia Radu, and Janice Rose wrote A+ themes in Mrs. Schang's period 6 junior business training class. The title of the assigned theme was "Why I would like to (or would not like to) go into business for myself."

In Miss Smith's period 7 French 1 class Karen Finrock, Mary Jane Reiff, and Roberta Twitchell wrote perfect dictation papers.

Mrs. Schang's junior business training classes have written themes on why they would like to or would not like to go into business for themselves. Those who wrote outstanding themes in her period 2 class are Tom Barry, Jim Gordon, Bill Marsh, and Chris Raptis.

Miss Rehorst's period 2 home economics class found a dress designed by a former South Side student, Bill Blass, while they were checking present day designers in magazines.

Karen Dowty, who is in Miss Rehorst's first period home economics class, is using a new material called Aerotheim, which has no grain.

Scoring 100 per cent on a test on biological terms and the scientific method in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 class is Mark Lowens. Other students in the same class making scores over 90 per cent are Marilyn Gerke, 96; Lydia Budowski, 92; Jim Evans, 90; and Cherylne Nahrwald, 92.

Since the students in Miss Burr's period 6 English 4 class started "Our Town," Nancy A'Hearn and Jeffery Bloom have done A work.

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

What you want is a Coke

DRINK Coca-Cola

"Coke" is a registered trademark. BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

THE FORT WAYNE COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, Inc.

Those receiving 100 per cent on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 6 class are Sue Bevington, Sandra Heldbrink, Oma Ake, Tamara Beuty, and Kay Heemsoth.

Scoring 95 per cent on the same test is Marsha Ringle.

Miss Burr's period 3 English 4 class has started work involving sentence fragments, run-on, and incomplete sentences. In recent themes Bonnie Tescula and Bruce Fletter did exceptional work with few technical errors.

Doing A work in Miss Burr's period 4 English 3 class on dependent clauses are Ann Henderson and Monica Kramer.

In Miss Burr's period 7 English 4 class the people with A work on the dependent clauses include Elaine Chipko, John Grandstaff, and John Stewart.

Louisa Porter made the highest grade in Mr. Brown's period 6 Health 1 class on Chapter 2, "Your Body."

Mike Corver made the highest grade in Mr. Brown's period 4 Health 1 class.

Over a test on Chapter 2, "Your Body," Judy Zimmers made the highest score in Mr. Brown's period 3 Health 1 class.

Dennis Love scored the highest grade in Mr. Brown's period 2 Health 1 class on Chapter 2, "Your Body."

Charles Roemer made the highest grade on a recent test over Chapter 2, "Your Body," in Mr. Brown's period 1 Health 1 class.

Mrs. Keegan announced that the girls' gym classes are practicing the speedball techniques.

Students in Mr. Polites period 2 Drafting 2 class who are working on their geometric constructions are Ralph Addikson, Merlin Overman, David Lane, and Richard Koch.

Mr. Smith's Art 3 period 2 class is studying commercial art.

Making high scores on a test in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 2 class are Martin Haut, Ann Mol, and Lavonne Custis.

Those receiving high scores on a test in Miss Young's period 7 general math class are Romona Cornelius, Nancy Dolmanic, Allen Carpenter, Margie Dorsett, Carol Westmore, and Barbara Libal.

Scoring high on a test in Miss Perkins second year Spanish class are Linda Newell, Susie Bungegndner, Janice Robson, Michael Selterright.

Mr. Smith's Art 1 period 1 is studying the Gothic alphabet.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 2 class are Mike Byrd, Kathy Klas, Bob Quick, Kay Wollman, and John Stewart.

Mr. Ober's Chemistry 1 classes periods 3 and 5 are working on work sheets and trying their first experiments in the laboratory.

Mrs. Fleck's Art 5, 6, and 7 classes are studying oil paintings and the Frederic Taubes method of oils. They have made a plan in water color for their first painting to be done in flat purist colors. Other subjects for future paintings are still lifes, flowers, portraits and landscapes.

Mrs. Fleck's Art 4 classes are working with various media and techniques. The students have been doing work with leather tooling and carving on coasters, and making layouts for supply envelopes.

Mrs. Fleck's Art 1 classes have lettered a monogram for their own names and have made it into a stencil for use on such things as loose-leaf notebooks, handkerchiefs and blouses. These stencils will be applied with textile paint. They are learning the Gothic alphabet and the upper and lower cases of the manuscript alphabet.

Stanley Nelson received a perfect score on an exam given in Mr. Kelly's period 7 junior business class.

Gene Rowilson, Donna Ostim, Marsha Muncy, Jeanne Rondot, and Deanna Clem received A+'s on a Junior Business Training 1 test covering four chapters in Mrs. Schang's period 6 class.

Ginny Kachiamenis and Joan Van Osdale received A— on a French 2 review test in Miss Smith's period 6 class.

Mrs. Fleck's "Art 7 of the Week" for his oil design was Bill Cartwright.

Mr. Weber's botany classes have just completed studying a unit on flowers.

Mr. Reichert's citizenship classes will begin the study of school personnel.

Scoring the highest grades in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 1 period 6 class over a test on the first unit are Linda Gremme 91, Pat Hieber 97, and Dick Robbins 91.

Reading classes have made an average improvement of 100 words a minute, according to Mrs. Spray, developmental reading teacher.

Cole & Howell
REALTORS
OFFICE H-4107—H-4108
"Always Deal with a Realtor"
Service with You in Mind!
We belong to Multiple Listing Members of Trade-In Corp.
Romane Cole Res.: H-2752 "Red" Howell Res.: H-3696

Brice Overman received 100 on a fraction test in Miss Young's general math period 7 class. Those receiving 97 are Sally Byers, Margie Dorsett, JoAnn Pichter, Barbara Vorndran, and Carol Westman.

Scoring 100 on a vocabulary test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 3 class are Mary Jane Miller and Lane Grile.

Mr. Stebing's driving training classes are studying the parts of a car. Next week the classes will begin driving in the Foster Park area.

Tom Blossom, Larry Brown, Dan DeWald, Christine Fruchtenicht, Steve Riedel, and Mary Truly received A's on a map about civilization, continents, oceans, and seas in Mr. Smith's General History 1 period 3 class.

Rehearsal has begun for a new organization known as the concert band, which is composed of 47 members chosen from the symphonic band. The new organization will rehearse and perform music of a rather difficult nature. It is expected that this group will appear in a music assembly, November 8. Membership at the present time is limited to these 47 but any student demonstrating outstanding ability with any instrument may be promoted to the other band.

Scoring high grades on a test over kinds of sentences in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 7 class are Judy Koehl, Lupe Gomez, Janice Bates, Debby Munk, Kevin Schinabery, Mary Stultz, and Linda France.

Receiving 100 per cent on a test over kinds of sentences in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 3 class are Cheryl Krudop, Tim Easton, Linda Becher, Vicki Culp, and Bill Timme.

Students receiving 100 per cent on a test over pronunciation in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 6 class are B. D. Hartley, Janet Kelley, Jim More, Gary Shank, and Janis Sprunger.

Lavonne Custance, Kitty Fay, Christine Fruchtenicht, Maxine Hecht, Roberta Hoffner, Sandra Meeks, Sarah Petrie, Barbara Ross, and Cynthia Wallace made A— on two dictation lessons involving use of quotation marks in Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 4 class.

Receiving 95 or above on a vocabulary test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 3 class are Cynthia Christman, Jim Littlejohn, John McMillan, Susie Bungegndner, Patricia Johnson, Kathleen Knettle, Janice Robson, and Michael Selterright.

Receiving A's in Mr. Fell's period 4 World History 1 class on an early test over world history are Elaine Chidlo, Rosalie Curtis, Bob Plotz, Ted Rolf, and Steve Schamberg.

In Mr. Fell's period 6 World History 1 class, Debby Decker, Carmen Wilson, Jackie Kessler, and Carol Harard received A's on an early test covering world history.

Stan Moreo scored an A+ on a test in Mr. Fell's world history period 2 class. Bruce Baldwin and Roberta Hoffner received A's.

Making A's on special reports in Mr. Coats' English 7 period 7 class are Steve Pratt, Ann Petrie, and Warren Burns.

Receiving A's on a test over the French Revolution and Napoleon in Mr. Feasel's General History 2 period 1 class are Andy Christon, Paul Spicer, and David Fairchild.

Scoring high on a test over measurement in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 1 are Joanne Rose, Paul Dalde, and Mary Broden.

Jim Stirn, Ann McCallister, Tom Erb, and Pam Buzzard received high grades on a pantomime in Mr. Storey's period 5 speech class.

Students in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 5 who received the highest scores on a test on measurement are Sally Sweet, Victor Churchward, and Honey-K Martindale.

Dale Hilsmer received a perfect score on a graph test in Miss Fortney's Algebra 3 period 2 class.

"A Complete Music Store"
Everything Musical and Music Studios
Cliff Smith Music
"Where Artist and Student Meet"
AT 3108 SOUTH CALHOUN STREET

Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc.
News-Sentinel
Journal-Gazette
CALL E-0111

Those receiving 100's in Miss Edith Crowe's period 7 health classes are Margo Betz, Cheryl Krudop, Patricia Hieber, Susan Jorgensen, Sandra Reed, and Kathleen Wyss.

Tim Grodrian and Sondra Stouder scored high on a recent test in Mr. Hussard's Physics 2 period 2 class.

Students making high scores on a recent test in Mr. Hussard's Physics 1 period 4 class are Janet Dinius, Mike Levy, Gary Probst, and Lex Smuts.

Scoring high on a recent test in Mr. Hussard's Physics 2 period 6 class are Barbara Altevogt, Dave Blanton, Beth Burnett, Tom Erb, Jack Seigel, and Karl Krause.

Scoring high on a recent test in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 5 class are Carol Brooks, Herald Disler, Butch Goshoff, Jody Hilgemann, Carry Miller, and Bev Strawser.

Lynette Downing, Candy Greiner, Ron Koenig, and Darlene Neireiter made near-perfect grades on a test over "A New Type of Number" in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 3 class.

June Blessing and Mary Sherlock received high grades on a recent test in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 7 class.

Larry Lee, Paul Johns, Mary Ella Braden, and Karen Ponader received high grades on a pantomime in Mr. Storey's period 3 Speech 1 class.

Students receiving high grades on a pantomime in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class are Leanna Morris, Lydia Sutto, Karen McFarland, and David Margerum.

Students in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class who received high grades on a pantomime are Aletha Staigh, Henry Persons, Margie Lampel, Diane Gebhart, and Mike Carter.

Scoring A+'s on the "Flower Identification" test in Mr. Pipino's Botany 1 period 7 class are Ann Shilling, Barrie Spear, Martha Dixon, Cindy Jackson, Sue Smith, and Sue Lohman.

Students in Miss Fortney's Algebra 3 period 7 class receiving 100 per cent on a graph test are Bill Cupp and Susan Smith. Those scoring 98 per cent on the same test are Beth Burnett and Donna Summers.

Chris Raptis and Linda Campbell earned A+'s on a test covering the first four chapters of the junior business training book in Mrs. Schang's period 2 class.

Receiving A—/A on the first theme assigned by Miss Jeanne Smith in her English 1 period 5 class are Nancy Dominy and Pat Ward. Tom Tracey received A+/A and Martha Moor A—/A—.

Miss Rehorst's Home Economics 3 period 3 class has been testing for sunlight fading on various samples of fabrics.

Receiving highest grades on a unit grammar test in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class are Nate Norment, Sharon Todd, and John Nickels.

STEPHENSON
DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Mary Ann's
BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

STUDENTS!
See It Now!
A BEAUTIFUL NEW CLASS RING
AT LOWER PRICES! COMPARE!
prices starting at $11.50

$1 Coupon $1 Coupon
GOOD FOR $1.00
ON THE PURCHASE OF ANY CLASS RING
The Jewel Case — Jewelry Dept.
M&M REDEMPTION STORE
Good Until Dec. 1, 1961

PLENTY OF FREE PARKING!
Five Weeks for Delivery, Nov. 7th for Christmas
Near Hall's and Clyde Theater
Quimby Village Bluffton Road
Open Wed. and Fri. Till 9

AUTUMN'S HERE

1961 OCTOBER 1961

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
1 God be merciful unto us, and bless us; and cause His face to shine upon us. Psalm 67:1	2 Broadview Florist & Greenhouses 5801 Winchester Road S-3146	3 If a man deceive me once, shame on him; if twice, shame on me. Proverb	4 Munro's Standard Service Free Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing. Southgate Plaza H-5300	5 Cross Country  Masque and Gavel, Room 112 Lettermen, Room 112, 7 p.m. Cross Country, Mairon, here	6 Top Hat Dry Cleaners Three Locations 1309 Oxford 1604 Sherman 4215 Bluffton Rd. GAA Speedball Grade Period Ends Football, Central, there (Played at North Side)	7 South Side Barber Shop FIVE BARBERS Appointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments. Across from Main Entrance of South Side. Harold Henry, Proprietor 3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502
8 Remember To Go To Church	9 Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six Years Keefer Printing Co. A-1484 Wranglers, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Speedball Open House	10 Camera Club  Club Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Grades Issued Cross Country, Elmhurst, here	11 Common sense is not so common. Voltaire Vesta Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Honorary Arts, Room 61 Totem Agents Meeting	12 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home 50 Years of Continuous Service 2423-27 Fairfield Avenue H-2334 Safety Council, Room 178 Y-Teens, Room 112 Cross Country, Concordia, there	13 Oxford Pharmacy Hanna at Oxford Phone H-1373 High School Supplies Gene Yoder, Prop. GAA Speedball Football, Warsaw, here	14 Dill & Dill Insurance 1127 S. Clinton A-1119 All Forms of Insurance Over 26 Years of Service Lawrence G. Dill Clifford D. Dill
15 	16 Weseloh's Pharmacy 2302 S. Calhoun At Creighton H-6107 or H-5139 Prescription Pharmacy Philo, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Speedball	17 To lose a friend is the greatest of all losses. Syrus Meterite, Room 112 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Cross Country, New Haven, there	18 Jet Parcel Delivery T-34200 Art Club, Room 26 Red Cross Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Totem Agents Meeting	19 Dur-Enamel Paints Dur-Enamel Co., Inc. When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices. E-3011 1015 Taylor Masque and Gavel, Room 112 Service Club Potluck	20 BEAT  ELMHURST GAA Speedball Workshop, Room 152 Football, Elmhurst, there	21 "Honesty" is the best policy! The next best is— A Policy Written By Young-Punsky Co. 415 Central Bldg. Insurance Brokers
22 By humility and fear of the Lord are riches, and honour, and life. Proverbs 22:4	23 Greiner's H-2124 2802 S. Calhoun Lawn Boy Mowers Toro Mowers Evinrude Outboards Grumman Boats Wranglers, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club GAA Speedball	24 RENT A TYPEWRITER from NEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co. 723 South Clinton A-7395 Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Societas Latina, Room 112 Cross Country Sectional	25 Last Day to Buy Your Totems Vesta Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Honorary Arts, Room 61 Totem Agents Meeting	26 Art's Standard Service 4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025 Fort Wayne, Ind. Atlas Times—Batteries —Accessories Pick-Up and Delivery S&H Stamps Teachers' Convention	27 Conceit may puff a man up, but never prop him up. John Ruskin Teachers' Convention	28  For Dependable Electric Light and Power Service Call A-1331 INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY <small>An American-Owned Public Utility</small>
29 Clouds and darkness are round about him; righteousness and judgment are the habitation of his throne. Psalms 97:2	30 Harlequin Costume Studio 3421 South Wayne H-2306 Complete Line of Costume Rentals	31 	South Side Shell Service Lafayette and Rudisill Phone H-5177 Wheel Balance Free Pick-Up and Delivery	That man is worthless who knows how to receive a favor, but not how to return one. —Plautus	Schmidt's Pharmacy Ed Schmidt, R.Ph. Your Neighborhood Health Center 4001 South Wayne Avenue H-0626	Klaehn Funeral Home 420 W. Wayne A-0228 Ambulance Service

These Advertisers' Services Are Best,
Patronize Them

Help Prevent Fires;
Use Common Sense

The South Side Times

Score That 'Touchdown,'
Attend Assemblies' Dance

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

Vol. XL—No. 6

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, October 12, 1961

Price Ten Cents

Students Inspect Truck Used For Fire Fighting

FIRE PREVENTION PROMOTERS . . . Three students are shown here during a fire drill during Fire Prevention Week. Shown on the fire truck are, left to right, Nanette Simpson, Pam Himes, Firemen Don Alspaugh and Howard Keller. Those pictured on the ground are Mr. R. Nelson Snider, Lieutenant Art Barrille, and Evert Mol.—Photo by Lowden

Eight Journalists To Participate In Press Association Conclave

Eight South Side journalists have been chosen to attend the fortieth annual Indiana High School Press Association convention, October 27 and 28 at Franklin College, Franklin, Ind.

Students selected by Mr. James Rohrbach, publications adviser, are Sue Kelley, Jenny Manth, Stu Schmitz, Babette Jones, Diane Fredrick, Ken Lowden, Beth Burnett, and Roberta Twitchell.

Sandy Thorn, present Times general manager, will also be attending the convention as student secretary of the state press association.

AFTER REGISTERING and getting acquainted with other journalists from throughout the state Friday, the Archers will attend the opening convocation in Stott Hall Auditorium.

Delegates to the convention will be welcomed to the college by Franklin President Harold W. Richardson and Ron Carson, president of the Student Council. Tom Merrill, student Indiana High School Press Association president from Indianapolis Broad Ripple High School, will give the response for the journalism delegates.

Following this, Miss Norma Lee Browning, reporter and feature writer for the Chicago Tribune, will give an address entitled, "Feature Writing as a Profession."

MISS BROWNING HAS been on the staff of the Tribune since 1944 and is the first woman to win the E. S. Reek Award for her page one series, "City Girl in the Country," in which she hitch-hiked through the middle west talking to farmers and small town people and recording her impressions.

Vocational interest classes are next on the agenda from 11:20 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. Topics to be discussed in the classes include futures in journalism, journalistic photography, circulation, public relations, and columnists.

AFTER LUNCH, WHICH will be served to delegates in the college dormitories and advisers in the Lambda Chi Alpha House, class sessions will follow from 1:45 to 2:40 p.m. Executives in the various fields will lead the class sessions.

Topics for the first afternoon classes are "The Reporter and the News Story," "Features are the Dessert," "Editorials—The Clue to the Calibre of Every Newspaper," "What Is a Good School Newspaper?" "How Good Is Your Theme?" "How to Effectively Cover Sports for the Yearbook," "Where and How to Get Advertising," "Staff Morale is the Key to Top Rated Publications," "Yearbook Style, 1962," and "How to Make Top-Notch Group and Informal Pictures."

Following a meeting of the Indiana School Public Relations Association in the main lobby of Elsey Hall, a second class session will be conducted.

TOPICS FOR THIS CLASS period will deal with tips for columnists; the use of pictures in a school paper, reporting school news, yearbook problems such as meeting engraving deadlines and selecting a cover, writing news and sports stories, and headlines, taking good pictures for advertising, and developing skill in interviewing others for a story.

The student campaign for elective offices in the state press association will follow the second class period. Sandy Thorn and Willa Mood, state vice-president from Bloomington, will assist master of ceremonies Tom Merrill with the anniversary party, talent show, and gift exchange in the Stott

(Continued on Page 6)

TV Program To Show Kellys' Scholastic Skills

Featuring outstanding students from the seven high schools in Fort Wayne, the Indiana and Michigan Hi-Quiz program will begin its second season Sunday at 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV, Channel 15. Bishop Luers and Central Catholic will challenge each other.

Hi-Quiz is a weekly program presented every Sunday throughout the school year. Mr. Jim Jackson, lawyer, will again be the quizmaster. A team of four top students will be selected each week by the school principal to contest scholastically against another school's team. This year three teams from each school, one of seniors, one of juniors, and a team of sophomores, will appear on the show.

THE SENIORS WILL participate on Hi-Quiz from October 15 to November 19; the juniors, November 26 to January 7; and the sophomores, January 4 to February 18.

A round robin tournament open to all classes will be conducted February 25 through April 1, and a special Christmas program will be presented on December 24.

The principals of the seven Fort Wayne high schools drew up the 1961-62 schedule by drawing for positions. The team which receives the highest score each week will be challenged by another the next Sunday.

The questions for the I. and M. Hi-Quiz program are compiled and documented by the staff of the Public Library of Fort Wayne and Allen County. Among the topics used on the Hi-Quiz are science, history, literature, government, current events, and mathematics. Questions are also chosen from the categories on fine arts, semantics, sports, and other areas of general interest.

The Indiana and Michigan Company presented the Hi-Quiz program last January in recognition of the academic achievements of the high school youth of Fort Wayne; and due to the very favorable response of the public and of school officials, they are again presenting it.

THE PRINCIPAL of each school chooses the students with the highest academic records, whom, he feels, will best represent the school on the program.

The rules for the Hi-Quiz program are as follows: the first student to push the button, when the challenge question is presented, receives 10 points; if the challenge question is answered correctly, the team whose member answered it correctly gets a chance to answer the premium worth 25 points; if the challenge question is missed, the premium question is given to the opposing team.

Philo To Initiate Girls

Philo members will form four groups to discuss the various aspects of humor at the meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

The discussion groups will be led by Leanna Morris, Elaine Cole, Pat Bailey, and Karen Finfrack. Each member is to bring a piece of humorous writing, not found in a textbook, to discuss.

New Philo members will be initiated at this meeting.

Assemblies Workers To Recognize Gridders With Dance, 'Touchdown'

J. A. Provides Part-Time Jobs For Teenagers

More than four hundred fifty young people are participating in the 25 businesses of Junior Achievement, which meets once a week from 7 to 9 p.m. In its ninth year, Junior Achievement offers youth the opportunity to experience by doing on a miniature scale the operation of adult business.

J.A. companies are composed of 12 to 20 teen-agers counseled and guided by adult sponsors. Each company elects its own officers, decides on a product to manufacture, and finance their operation by selling stock at 50 cents a share.

The young people make all the decisions and operate their companies. With working capital from $100 to $150, a J.A. company purchases raw materials, leases equipment, pays rent, wages, and commissions.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS of a company, consisting of teenagers, makes top level decisions on such items as the promotion and sales of the product, setting of the pay scales for the members of the working force, and commissions and incentives to the salesmen.

At the end of the school year, the companies liquidate their assets, pay all bills and close the enterprise. They pay a liquidation dividend if the year has been successful.

In addition, each company is required to pay income taxes in order to graphically illustrate the effect of taxes on adult business. These taxes are used for the benefit of local achievers for scholarships and other activities.

Each J.A. company is sponsored by an adult firm which provides three or more volunteer businessmen advisers, who explain the factors involved in solving the business problems that face the young businesses. The advisers, however, let the youth make the decisions in the problems.

THE FIRMS THAT ARE sponsoring J.A. companies this year are General Electric Company, American Hoist and Derrick Company, American Institute of Banking, Bowmar Instrument Corporation, Central Soya Co., Dana Corporation;

Fort Wayne National Bank, General Telephone Company, Indiana and Michigan Electric Company, Kroger Company, International Harvester, ITT Federal, Lincoln National Life Insurance Company, North American Van Lines, Inc., Tokheim Corporation, Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corp., Indiana Rod and Wire Division;

Fruehauf Trailer Company, Wolf and Dessauer, Midwestern United Life Insurance, Phelps Dodge Copper Products Corp.-Inca Division, Lincoln National Bank, Northern Indiana Public Service Company, Magnavox, and Fort Wayne Club or Printing House Craftsman

'TOUCHDOWN!' WORKERS . . . Decorating for tomorrow's first after-game dance of the year are Assemblies Workshop members, left to right, Tom Erb, Toni Heathman, Cindy Jackson, Marti Morrell, and Ann Arnold. The dance will have "Touchdown!" as its theme.—Photo by Lowden

Miss Ann Netterfield, '58, Helps As Student Teacher Of English

Student teaching in Miss Lucy Osborne's English classes is 1958 South Side graduate Miss Ann Netterfield, a Ball State senior who is completing her requirements for a bachelor of science degree in education.

Miss Netterfield will finish her student-teaching term December 8 after acquiring the necessary 36 hours of teaching experience and 48 hours of observation. Tentatively, she is planning to go on to Indiana University to start work on her master's degree because teaching openings are rare at mid-term.

Before Miss Netterfield began her work at South Side, special conferences were given at Ball State that consisted of round-table discussions on what to expect while student teaching. One thing with which the conferences were most concerned was the student teacher-student attitude and the student teacher-critic attitude.

ADMINISTRATION POLICIES and legal aspects were also discussed. Miss Netterfield admits these conferences eliminated many questions, but observation has brought these topics to reality.

"On the whole," Miss Netterfield stated, "it is nearly what I expected, although I haven't done much actual teaching yet. However, many times the students know more about the subject at hand than I think they do, and then again, sometimes they know less than I had expected. The hardest thing, I believe, is always keeping one jump ahead of the class."

When asked why she chose teaching for her profession, Miss Netterfield replied that it was because she liked people and felt that teaching is a very challenging field.

WHILE AT SOUTH SIDE, Miss Netterfield was a member of 36 Workshop, Times, Service, Camera Club, Math-Science Club, Philo, Bio-Con, Junior Academy of Science, USA, Hi-C Club, and the Yell Block. She also had Miss Osborne for English 5, but at that time never thought she would be student teaching under her because then she wasn't even planning to teach school.

Miss Ann Netterfield

At Ball State, Miss Netterfield is affiliated with Phi Gamma Mu, social science honorary. She is also a member of the English Club, the Baptist Student Foundation, and the Religious Council, an organization wherein each student center of each church sends representatives to sponsor interdenominational activities. In her spare time, Miss Netterfield enjoys swimming and social dancing; and she has also participated in amateur theater plays.

Pupils To Buy Tickets Costing 50 Cents Each

Senior William Wilder
To Provide Equipment,
To Play WGL Records

To honor the football players, the Assemblies Workshop dance, "Touchdown!" will start immediately following the Warsaw game tomorrow in the cafeteria and will end at 11:30 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased for 50 cents from homeroom agents, officers or committee heads. Pam Punskey, ticket chairman, will be in Room 152 after school to collect receipts and distribute tickets.

William Wilder, senior, will spin records from WGL's collection and provide the record player and equipment. Refreshments will be served in Room 118.

DECORATIONS WILL include football-shaped programs and silhouettes of four cheerleaders and football players. The main scene will be a mannequin dressed as a football player, and little dolls dressed as cheerleaders will stand in front of it.

In the refreshment room, each table will be decorated in a different school's colors, and each will have a football player holding the banner for the school it represents.

"Were hoping to have a big turnout and see everyone there," stated Tonya Hines, general chairman of the dance.

Students helping Tonya are Karen Miller, decorations chairman; Honey-K Martindale, program; Tom Ogles, publicity; Tom Erb, clean-up; Nancy Stewart, music; Ken Davis, cloakroom; Pam Punskey, tickets; Jane Ladig and Sue Kelley, refreshments; Rosie Capps, chaperones; and Nancy Robinson, invitations.

THE INVITED GUESTS and chaperones are Miss Ann Arber, Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline VanGorder, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gernard;

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Stebing, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Melich, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hoover, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Weber, Mr. and Mrs. David Crammer, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Horth, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Capps, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Chapman, Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Ladig, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Eitman, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Phillips.

North Door To Be Open

All students attending after game dances at South Side are to use the north outside door to the cafeteria. All other entrances will be closed. No one except those working on the dance will be admitted into the building until after the game.

Eighteen Officers Elected To Lead Classes During 1961-62

Students Chosen To Plan Proms, Banquets, Party

Officers To Supervise
Sophomores, Juniors,
Seniors In Activities

Seniors, juniors, and sophomores voted October 4 to elect a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, social council chairman, and two social council members to lead their respective class activities during the 1961-62 year.

The officers were selected from a ballot listing 18 names. The ballot had been composed from the results of preliminary voting, when each senior, junior, and sophomore had listed the names of six classmates whom he wanted to be officers.

Larry Lee, 12B, president of the Class of '62, stated, "To say I was surprised when I heard the news would be an understatement. As for my duties, I realize much hard work lies ahead; but with the wonderful seniors we have, I know it will be a pleasure. I'll do everything in my power to make the senior class functions successful."

LARRY IS A MAKE-UP editor and a copy editor for the Times, a book-head for the "Pegasus," and orator for the Fort Wayne Chapter of DeMolay. He runs varsity track and cross country, and is a member of Hi-Y and Service Club. Last year Larry, who would like to study law, served as vice-president of his class. He is taking English 7, Chemistry 1, Speech 1, French 3, and Government 1.

SENIOR LEADERS . . . Chosen by the Class of '62 to direct its activities are, front, left to right, Mark Hagerman, Cheryl Summers, and Larry Lee; back, Diane Fredrick, Debby Brooke, and Sharon Carrel. The officers will have the Senior Reception at their first responsibility.—Photo by Seaman

Vice-president of the senior class family tradition. Thirty years ago her mother, Mrs. Adrian Summers, was elected vice-president of South's Class of '32. Cheryl is currently secretary of Philo, Totem copy editor, and a member of the editorial board of the "Pegasus" and Service Club. Cheryl stated that she was honored to be elected.

In her junior year she was a member of the social council. She is taking Latin 7, English 7, Government 1, and solid geometry.

Diane Fredrick, 12B, secretary-treasurer of the senior class, is associate vice-president of South's Class of '62. Cheryl is currently secretary of Wranglers, and a member of the Times staff and Service Club. She plans to attend Indiana University next fall to study education.

Her academic courses are English 7, French 3, Government 1, and Chemistry 1. This being her third year as a class officer, Diane in her sophomore year was president of the Class of '62, and in her junior year, secretary-treasurer.

WINNING JUNIORS . . . Planning the Junior Banquet and the Junior Prom will be the duties of the officers of the Class of '63. They are, front, left to right, Nancy Robinson, Rosie Capps, and Tonya Hines; back, Jerry Klahn, Ken Davis, and Gary Probst. Tonya is president of her class.—Photo by Seaman

TO BE AN ENGLISH teacher is the ambition of social council chairman Sharon Carrel. Sharon, a 12A, is a varsity cheerleader and a Totem copy editor. She is taking English 8, French 3, Government 2, and Concert Choir.

"I'm still so excited that the lump hasn't left my throat yet! I just can't wait to start helping plan the senior activities," Sharon said when asked her reaction to being elected.

Also a class officer for the third time is Debby Brooke, 12B, a member of the social council. Last year Debby was chairman of the social council, and in her sophomore year she was secretary-treasurer. Presently she is junior class editor of the Totem, classroom news editor for the Times, and a member of Service Club.

Working at Sears occupies her time

SOPHOMORE OFFICERS . . . These sophomore students were elected by the members of their class to plan this year's social activities. They are Rick Meeks, center; second row, Dick Robinson, left, and Andy Christon; and third row, Debby Decker, Paul Cochran, and Dave Banet, right.—Photo by Seaman

after school. She hopes to attend either Denison or Hanover to study English or retail merchandising. Debby is taking Journalism 1, Latin 7, English 7, Government 1, and Concert Choir.

Mark Hagerman, a member of the social council, is studying Government 2, English 8, Algebra 4, and Chemistry 2, and is a member of the Concert Choir. Mark, a 12A, is a member of the varsity football team, president of Lettermen's, and belongs to Hi-Y, DeMolay, and Service Club.

THE DUTIES OF these six officers will be to plan and supervise the work for the Senior Reception, the Alumni Dance, the Senior Banquet, and the Senior Prom.

Heading the planning for the Junior Banquet and the Junior Prom will be Tonya Hines, 11B, president of the Class of '63. "I'm very pleased and

(Continued on Page 6)

Troubled Teenagers Rebel; Parental Authority Ignored

Caught between the simple pleasures of childhood and the frightening responsibilities of adulthood, the troubled teenager often treads the road of rebellion in his attempts to attain and yet hold back maturity.

The revolt of youth is perhaps most alarming to parents who sometimes find their authority not only challenged, but also ignored. Remembering the days when Dad's leather belt put a quick end to any questioning of parental judgment, parents are often in a quandary whether to tighten or loosen the reins of control.

Several queries arise concerning teenagers and their one-man stand against the world. Is rebellion necessary in adolescence? Why do teenagers rebel? Is guidance poison or gospel to the teenager?

It must be realized that today's teenager is much different from his "seen and not heard" ancestor. He is more outgoing, more opinionated, more aware of his situation, and more demanding that a share of family decisions be placed in his hands. Isn't it only natural that as the bonds of discipline tighten upon this freedom-loving youth, he must and will rebel?

If an adolescent is exposed to a gradual expanse of the limits and restrictions which governed his earlier actions, he has no need for obstinance and disobedience. Families with a democratic basis allow the teenager to experience freedom of decision step by step and greatly decrease the slight, yet natural, degree of unruliness.

While many teens realize the value and truth of their parents' words, few are aware of their personal need for such help. Therefore, counsel is frequently not entirely accepted; or, if forced upon the teenager, it becomes a source of conflict.

The teenager uses revolt as a personal "declaration of independence." He finds his rebellious endeavors to be exhilarating and vitalizing, and are real tests of his ability to stand on his own. Often he discovers that his hostility brings him the attention, if not the respect, of his age group.

However, when hostility results from a feeling of rejection, or is employed as an expression of aggression, it no longer follows the normal pattern of defiance. Violent outbreaks and unrestrained tantrums are usually the result of maladjustment. The teenager who indulges in them is confused and in need of understanding.—By Peggy Schmidt

Ignorance, Family Beliefs Cause Personal Prejudice

Although narrow-mindedness is supposed to be a by-gone thing, it is present today under a different name, prejudice. In fact, many of the "standard" prejudices might well be called plain stubbornness.

Probably the most common prejudice is being unwilling to concede a point or abandon a view. However, this situation should be met with an open mind so that both sides can be considered intelligently and evaluated before making a decision.

Ignorance is the foremost cause for prejudices. For example, modern art is despised and laughed at by many people who probably don't know much about it. It is human nature to jeer at things one doesn't understand.

Another bad point about prejudices is that they are not always their owners' own views. They have been acquired from friends and one's family. The question should be handled with an open mind, considering all sides. Then a wise conclusion is possible.

It is unpopular to have prejudices, but a certain amount is only healthy. The important thing is to think, then decide which side to take.—By Janet Dinius

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922
CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International
Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class March 12, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 10, 1922.

Published weekly by the South Side Times Publishing Co., Fort Wayne, Indiana. Second-class postage paid at Fort Wayne, Indiana. Subscription price per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager.....Sandy Thorn
Managing Editor.....Roberta Twitchell
Copy Editors Jenny Manth, Ann Golden, Sally Mallough, Janet Dinius, Sue Kelley, Barb Nelson, Larry Lee
News Editor Beth Burnett
Feature Editor Sue Smith
Editorial Editor Sarah Finch
Sports Editor Stuart Schmitt
Girls' Sports Editor Jan Nahrwald
Make-Up Editors Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee
Picture Editor Sue Smith
Photographers Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman
Head Typist Marjorie Torrey
Business Manager Sue Kelley
Assistant Business Manager Pat Bailey
Advertising Manager Barb Altvort
Circulation Manager Sue Burdick
Circulation Assistant Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams
Faculty Adviser James Rohrbraugh

MINOR STAFF

News Writers David Flanagan, Ann Flanagan, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Sharon McElroy, Dick Hertz, Nancy Redding, Marjorie Rinschert, Bonnie Strublow, Marjorie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brue, Larry Brown, Pat Cooney, Rosalee Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Kaut, Kathy Kline, Jane Kneitel, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Susan Smith, Kathy DeVore, Nancy Stewart, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Bergmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Cusack, Marcia Evlinier, Debby Decker, Karen Franks, Christine Fruchtlicht, Mary Graham, Sharon Hardy, Sue Klingerman, Stephen Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Larry Norman, Pat North, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Soules, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strublow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Susan Bergmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Marjorie Terry, Nancy Redding, Nancy Grady, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Sue Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Stettin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheryl Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Robinson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Marlene Robinson, Mary Barretto, Sue Smith, Jeannie Branden, Marion Johnson, Karen Franks, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Schinckel, Sue Bergmann, Lorraine Ford, Liz Weikart, Susan Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McDonald, Marjorie Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Ann McGinley, Julie Shadle, Beth Bruff, Mary Miller, Sharon Karl, Mary Rubio, Doris Atzoff, Cheryl Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Rowle, Jane Kneitel, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharon Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bader, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carol Ladig, Gail Brumm, Karen Snavely, Jane Sprunger, Kay Bradley, Alice Haberger, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruchtlicht, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudry, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Liane Shanberry, Sue North, Sue Klesch, Carol Ladig, Larry Norman, Paul Mitoelson, John Lowers, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Northford, Jane Kneitel, Annel Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haberger, Lynelle Dill.
Copy Readers Beth Burnett, Stuart Schmitt, Jan Nahrwald, Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee, Sue Kelley, Barb Nelson, Sally Mallough, Janet Dinius, Sue Berk, Betty Adams, James Rohrbraugh, David Flanagan, Ann Flanagan, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Sharon McElroy, Dick Hertz, Nancy Redding, Marjorie Rinschert, Bonnie Strublow, Marjorie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brue, Larry Brown, Pat Cooney, Rosalee Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Kaut, Kathy Kline, Jane Kneitel, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Susan Smith, Kathy DeVore, Nancy Stewart, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Bergmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Cusack, Marcia Evlinier, Debby Decker, Karen Franks, Christine Fruchtlicht, Mary Graham, Sharon Hardy, Sue Klingerman, Stephen Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Larry Norman, Pat North, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Soules, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strublow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Susan Bergmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Marjorie Terry, Nancy Redding, Nancy Grady, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Sue Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Stettin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheryl Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Robinson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Marlene Robinson, Mary Barretto, Sue Smith, Jeannie Branden, Marion Johnson, Karen Franks, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Schinckel, Sue Bergmann, Lorraine Ford, Liz Weikart, Susan Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McDonald, Marjorie Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Ann McGinley, Julie Shadle, Beth Bruff, Mary Miller, Sharon Karl, Mary Rubio, Doris Atzoff, Cheryl Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Rowle, Jane Kneitel, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharon Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bader, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carol Ladig, Gail Brumm, Karen Snavely, Jane Sprunger, Kay Bradley, Alice Haberger, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruchtlicht, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudry, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Liane Shanberry, Sue North, Sue Klesch, Carol Ladig, Larry Norman, Paul Mitoelson, John Lowers, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Northford, Jane Kneitel, Annel Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haberger, Lynelle Dill.
Boys' Sports Writers Bill Klinefelter, Roger Post, Bob Leininger, Kerry Nallinger, Stephen Lowens, Joe Pato, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp, Ad Sullivan, Cynthia Seider, Barb Nelson, Alice Haberger, Marlene Rinschert, Dan Schwartz, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Julie Rinschert, Pat Bailey, Marlene Reiber, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Kathy Grady, Mary Rubio, Judy Shadle, Beth Bruff, Mary Miller, Sharon Karl, Mary Rubio, Phyllis Plesner, Karen Pfinkrock, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Oll, Cindy Jackson, Donna Summers, Linda Seale, Lorraine Ford, Sue Gerie, Kay Feltz, Beth Bruff, Harriet Seibelt, Cheryl Dinius, Julie Schinckel, Marjorie, Sharon Krawover, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Jane Sprunger, Karen Franks, Ruth Russ, Liz Weikart.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Miss Thorn:

Your column of October 5 on the United Nations brings to mind the exaggerated respect which many people, including the majority of our nation's leaders, have for that organization.

It is the opinion of many Americans that we should base our foreign policy on world opinion as expressed through the United Nations. These Americans believe that we should make the success of the UN our principle goal, that we should determine our policies on the basis of how much they will benefit the UN. These people are failing to put the importance of the United Nations in its proper perspective.

It is not our purpose to maintain an international debating forum for its own sake; our goal is to overthrow the forces of Communism and to "make the world safe for democracy," as well as for human liberty. To the extent that it helps us to attain this end, the UN is a beneficial influence in world affairs.

However, UN policies are certainly not chosen for their effectiveness in destroying Communism. After all, Russia herself has veto power in the Security Council; and voting rights in the General Assembly are largely in the hands of nations which, if they are not totally hostile to the cause of democracy, are less devoted to it than the United States.

Therefore, in formulating our foreign policy, we must ignore world opinion and the demands of the UN; we must choose the course most effective in freeing the world from the menace of Communism. Matters of United States policy should be decided by our government, not by a discordant gathering in which we hold only one per cent of the total voting power.

Lyall Morrill, senior

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Sue Harrod . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, two inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . pastime, Hall's . . . activity, Assembly Workshop . . . record, "Sweets for my Sweet" . . . TV show, "Huckleberry Hound" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . sport, boating . . . fads, bracelets, pleated skirts . . . book, "Totem" . . . actor, John Gavin . . . future plans, fashion merchandising, store display . . . pet peeve, undependable people . . .

Dick Hirschberg . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, roast beef . . . color, black . . . subject, algebra . . . pastime, bridge . . . activity, AZA . . . TV show, "Hawaiian Eye" . . . singer, Sammy Davis . . . sport, bowling . . . book, "Atlas Shrugged" . . . actor, Cary Grant . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, back seat drivers, like Tom Irmischer . . .

Sandi Hadley . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak, pizza . . . color, blue . . . subject, French . . . pastime, writing letters . . . activity, Philo . . . record, "The Way You Look Tonight" . . . TV show, "Thriller" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . sport, football . . . fad, tennis shoes . . . book, "Exodus" . . . actor, Rock Hudson . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people that lie . . .

Alan Mitchell . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, eleven inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, green . . . subjects, history, government . . . pastime, sports . . . activity, DeMolay . . . record, "Run-around Sue" . . . TV show, "Gun-smoke" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . sports, basketball, volleyball . . . fad, sneakers . . . book, "The Young Carvers" . . . future plans, college, advertising business . . . pet peeve, freshmen that know everything . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

Beth Burnett . . . Sue Smith . . . Sarah Finch . . . Stuart Schmitt . . . Jan Nahrwald . . . Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee . . . Sue Kelley . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman . . . Marjorie Torrey . . . Sue Kelley . . . Pat Bailey . . . Barb Altvort . . . Sue Burdick . . . Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betty Adams . . . James Rohrbraugh . . .

A Pint-Size Contribution . . .

"I guess I didn't lower the kindling temperature far enough . . ."

Tough Climb Over Fence

President, Steel's Management Wrangle Price-Raising Question

By The General Manager

Without much debate it is generally agreed that reducing prices or attempting to curb increasing prices has popular appeal. When a loaf of bread is sold for a penny cheaper, the American public is happy. Likewise, when John Q. Public says "fill it up" at a local gas station and then discovers that the price of gasoline has increased a penny on the gallon he is disturbed.

On September 6, President John F. Kennedy wrote a letter to 12 major steel companies asking them not to raise prices on October 1, when a wage increase averaging eight and one-half cents an hour was received by nearly half a million steelworkers. It appeared, at the time that Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Public were in a state of ecstasy—that is, unless Mr. Public were in the management end of the steel companies.

As to most questions, there are two sides to this controversy. Certainly, the President has his arguments and, undoubtedly, he made the decision only after his assistants had studied the situation. President Kennedy cited the possibility of wage-price inflation if the steel companies failed to maintain a price line.

'PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S apparent reason for the action—he was trying to herd off inflation. Under present laws the government can (1) clamp down on money and credit, force rates higher, make loans harder to get; (2) reduce or delay government spending, impound funds voted by Congress, stretch out contract payments for arms, military construction, public works;

(3) restrict home loans by stiffening terms on mortgages backed by the government, and by selling or holding back or buying of mortgages in open market; (4) manage public debt in a way to restrict the money supply;

pass government! "Take Good Care of my Baby" . . . after all, it's her first date "Foot Stompin'" . . . our main defense against Elmhurst? "Mexico" . . . where I sometimes wish that I could go "Private Eye" . . . Tom McMahon scouting for our next game "Don't Blame Me" . . . that you flunked your test because I had the wrong answers "The Mountains High" . . . that I have to climb to pass algebra "Starlight, Starbright" . . . one of the satellites is passing overhead "Bristol Stomp" . . . a new kind of plant, Mr. Weber? "A Wonder Like You" . . . a singed hall pass "Dreamboat" . . . Paul Slick's definition of his car "Kissin' on the Phone" . . . a new way to do homework? "I've Got a One Track Mind" . . . and it's usually on the wrong track "Big Cold Wind" . . . Brrrrrr! Please close the windows, Mr. Bussard! "Michael" . . . Hey, Mr. Tomkinson! "Without You" . . . I'd never pass geometry "Signed, Sealed, and Delivered" . . . the fines paid by six junior girls for jaywalking "Sad Movies Always Make Me Cry" . . . Really, fresh, those health movies aren't that bad! "Anybody But Me" . . . that's who I want to be after the history test! "The Great Imposter" . . . the senior boy who is going trick-or-treating "Hollywood" . . . can't wait for our concert choir "This Time" . . . I'm determined to

The year 1940 was used as a starting point rather than 1947 because, during the war-affected years of 1940 through 1944, steel wages rose substantially, as did the level of wholesale prices; but steel prices did not increase.

WAGE-EARNER employment costs per hour worked increased from 90 and one-half cents in 1940 to $3.82 in 1960 and far exceeded any productivity gains that could be achieved even though fifteen billion dollars were invested in new and more efficient plants and equipment during the period.

The most useful measurement of the profit trend in a single industry, over an inflationary period, is profit as a percentage of sales. Profits in the steel industry have only once in the past twenty years equaled the eight per cent level of 1940 and have averaged only six and one-half per cent in the past five years. Thus, the steel price increases during this period have not fully covered the rapid rise in total steelmaking costs.

However, the industry-wide basis used to show profits is merely an average—and averages can be dangerously misleading. Some companies will earn far above the average, while some will be suffering losses which they cannot sustain indefinitely.

After the steel company pays its costs, the profit is remaining. But, the profit must make up for the serious inadequacy in depreciation, repay borrowings, pay dividends, and provide for added equipment. If the profit is lacking, these things cannot and will not be done.

COMPETITIVE FACTORS which are constantly changing have affected the steel industry and other industries. These competitive factors include competition among domestic steel products, competition among other materials such as aluminum, glass, cement, paper, and plastics, competition from foreign steel producers, and total customer demand as well as changing customer requirements.

Mr. Blough said, "We cannot have inflationary wage increases, higher taxes, and other rapidly increasing costs on the one hand, and enjoy reduced and unrealistic price levels on the other, without endangering national growth and jeopardizing jobs."

The subject is still controversial. There are two sides to the story—separated by a high fence which is hard to see over and is hard to climb.

Mr. Blough said, "We cannot have inflationary wage increases, higher taxes, and other rapidly increasing costs on the one hand, and enjoy reduced and unrealistic price levels on the other, without endangering national growth and jeopardizing jobs."

The subject is still controversial. There are two sides to the story—separated by a high fence which is hard to see over and is hard to climb.

Mr. Blough said, "We cannot have inflationary wage increases, higher taxes, and other rapidly increasing costs on the one hand, and enjoy reduced and unrealistic price levels on the other, without endangering national growth and jeopardizing jobs."

The subject is still controversial. There are two sides to the story—separated by a high fence which is hard to see over and is hard to climb.

Mr. Blough said, "We cannot have inflationary wage increases, higher taxes, and other rapidly increasing costs on the one hand, and enjoy reduced and unrealistic price levels on the other, without endangering national growth and jeopardizing jobs."

The subject is still controversial. There are two sides to the story—separated by a high fence which is hard to see over and is hard to climb.

Graduate Reveals Pros, Cons Of Educational Television

(Editor's Note: Nicholas A. Roembke, '60, is a junior at Western Michigan University, Kalamazoo, Mich. He wrote a guest editorial for the Times hoping to inform students of a new area of learning—educational television.)

Years ago, even before our ingenuity had contrived such forces as nuclear energy, guided missiles and adult TV Westerns, a noted historian looked over mankind's record and concluded that human history becomes more and more a race between education and catastrophe.

Today, history stands at the point where the race is very close. It seems inevitable that within the next generation or so will come the fateful decision whether our new-found physical powers will be used for production or destruction, for exploring our own world or exploring the worlds around us.

I consider myself very lucky to be attending a university where I can participate in the field of educational television. Being a speech major in secondary education, I found myself interested in this new profession; and I also found myself working at our closed-circuit television station helping to prepare lectures for university classes. My reason for writing this article is to acquaint you, the students of South Side, to this new field.

THERE WERE, THIS fall, 135,000 too few teachers and 130,000 too few classrooms. To top this off, one out of every fourteen teachers had a sub-standard teaching certificate. Yet even with its inadequacies, our educational system costs us over fourteen billion dollars a year; and we are going to have to educate close to a million additional students every year for the next decade, at a cost of about three hundred seventy dollars per student.

A country-wide experiment with classroom television has been quietly going on for the past few years. Well over a million students have participated, and educators have found the results to be wonderfully hopeful. According to Dr. Harold Hunt, Eliot Professor of Education at Harvard, "Television is our best hope for bringing today's outworn restrictive and unimaginative educational system out of the Oxcart Age and into the Twentieth Century." Arnold Perry, dean of the University of North Carolina's School of Education, says, "The weight of evidence is overwhelmingly in favor of teaching by television."

LET US THEN explore some of the good and bad effects of television teachers. First, however, I will list the good effects.

(1). Students on all grade levels who receive part of their daily instruction by television in large classes seem to learn as much as, and in some cases more than, students who receive their instruction by conventional methods in conventional-sized classes.

(2). Careful planning and the absence of interruptions enables the television teachers to teach more than is taught in a conventional classroom situation.

(3). Television brings students educational experiences far beyond the potential of the conventional classroom.

(4). Outstanding resource people can be seen and heard by many more students than is possible in the conventional method.

(5). Through television students can visit many places of interest and significance that they would not be able to visit otherwise. Incidentally, this would also save teachers the trouble of finding a movie projector and screen to show somewhat similar pictures to the students or save teachers the trouble of marching, in South Side's case, the students off to the Greeley Room.

(6). Students are learning early in their educational career the art of taking notes and the ability to concentrate.

(7). In many cases, students in television classes have been stimulated to make greater use of the school library than others.

THERE ARE MANY more good effects, but I think I have revealed most of the major ones. Let us now turn to the bad or con issues of television teachers.

(1). Obviously, you cannot ask a television set to repeat a certain point or to discuss further a certain question.

(2). The original cost of television is great. Schools can spend anywhere from two thousand five hundred dollars just for sets to two hundred fifty thousand dollars for a studio and television sets. Take for instance the MPATL The Midwest Program in Airborne Television Instruction which is now in operation and can be picked up in Fort Wayne homes. The cost of this was an estimated seven million dollars. Luckily, the Ford Foundation contributed four and one-half million dollars and the rest was contributed by businessmen. This has been solved in many cases by the reduction in educational costs after the initial investment.

(3). Television is a neutral medium; therefore, the input has to be superior to gain superior instruction.

(4). Standardized achievement tests are not adequate in measuring all of the learnings that take place in television.

I cannot stress the importance of this new field too much. I would like to ask those of you, seniors as well as underclassmen, who are interested in teaching to look into the field of educational television. Many colleges, like Western Michigan University, are offering classes and also some colleges are offering whole courses in this new profession.

In concluding, I would like to refer to my introduction and the race between education and catastrophe.

None of us would harbor any thoughts of trying to "fix" a race, but this is a situation in which it is clearly "fair" to do some judicious handicapping in education's favor.

Fittingly and fortunately, our new technologies—having first given comfort to catastrophe's cause—have given us new tools for speeding education's progress. The same medium which has acquainted us with the heroic exploits of Marshall Dillon and Pat Masterson is riding hard to head off catastrophe at the pass.

Teens and Tangles

By Martha Lanning and Rosemary Capps

In the very middle of this tender season of falling leaves and bruised football players, Archers, picture a terribly sweet little scene with a boy and his best girl in the moonlight? Especially on a farm . . . They walked the lane together;

The sky was filled with stars. They reached the gate in silence;

He lifted down the bars. She raised her brown eyes to him—

There's nothing between them now. For he was just a farmer's boy

And she—a jersey cow!

Now that we survived that clever bit of literature, let's look at something really hilarious—like Diane Foster in biology class. The story is that one day when she walked into the room, some wise guy skirted her hair with gray spray. (No wonder the kids in her next class thought they were seeing a ghost!)

Everyone Contributes To Meal Service Club To Sponsor Potluck, To Present Randolph Jacobs Cup

Members To Choose
Senior; Superintendent
To Give Main Speech

Full atmosphere will be achieved by bright-colored leaves, pumpkins, and gourds decorating the tables at the twenty-sixth annual Service Club Potluck, next Thursday at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria.

"Since this is a potluck, anyone bringing a dish should sign up for it in the office of Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director, this week," stated Jane Ladig, general chairman of the event. The dish should cost the donor about a quarter. Anyone not bringing a dish will be charged $1 for his meal.

Service workers may bring meat dishes, relishes, jello salads, baked beans, and other vegetables, potato salad, and desserts.

BILL KLIEFGEN, 12B, will be toastmaster for the banquet. The invocation will be given by Ken Davis, 11A. Mr. Ronald Gersmehl, English instructor, will deliver "The Appreciation of Service" and Susan Horth, 12A, "The Opportunity for Service" before a talk by the main speaker, Mr. Lester L. Grile, superintendent of Port Wayne Community Schools.

The main purpose of the annual potluck is to elect an outstanding senior service worker who will be presented the Randolph Jacobs Cup. This award was presented to the school by the parents of Randolph Jacobs, a South Side student who was killed in action in World War II.

During the course of the evening, everyone attending will vote for one person. The votes are then tabulated and the results announced. Marilyn Cole, 12B, will make the presentation. All senior service workers who think they are eligible for the award should check the list in Mr. Davis' office. This gives the voters a complete list of nominees from which to choose.

SUSAN HORTH is working with Jane as co-chairman. The committee heads are Susie Bumgardner, entertainment and presentation; Jim Hill, decorations; Sandy Miller, invitations; Brenda Arnold, programs; Victor Levandowski, clean-up; Judy Ashman, food; and Jenny Manth, publicity.

The decoration committee, under Jim Hill, is comprised of Bob Hendrickson, Janet Davies, Sharon Eitman, Brenda Harper, Howard Miller, Sharon Krackower, and Alice Ashton.

POTLUCK PLANNERS . . . Committee heads for the Service Club Potluck are shown here compiling a list of all eligible seniors for the Randolph Jacobs Service Trophy. Committee heads are, left to right, Susie Bumgardner, Sandy Miller, Jim Hill, Jane Ladig, and Sue Horth.—Photo by Lowden

Eastman Company To Sponsor Annual Photography Contest

Open to all students in grades nine through twelve who are interested in photography, the annual Kodak High School Photo Contest will begin January 1 and end March 31. Eastman Kodak Company, sponsor, is offering $400 in prizes.

Only students in grades nine through twelve in daily attendance at public, parochial, or private high schools in the United States and its territorial possessions are eligible.

Pictures should be taken without professional help, but they may be cropped. Any make of camera or film may be used. The developing or printing does not have to be done by the student. Pictures can either be mounted or unmounted.

EVERY EFFORT WILL be made to return transparencies at the end of the contest, except those that win cash awards; however, a safe return cannot be guaranteed. The sponsor assumes no responsibility for negative prints or transparencies.

Pictures or transparencies may have been used for school publication, but in no other type of periodical before submission. They must not have been previously submitted to any national competition unless that competition has closed, and the winners and all entrants have been notified of the results.

ALL PICTURES THAT receive cash awards become the property of the sponsor, including original negatives and transparencies and picture rights. Negatives should not be sent unless the entrant is told to do so.

Each picture will be placed in one of the four classifications of the black-and-white section including school activities, people of all ages away from school, pictorials, and animals and pets. The color section has no division into classifications.

The sponsor reserves the right to place unclassified entries into proper categories, or to change those which, in the opinion of the sponsor, are improperly classified.

If recognizable people appear in proposed entries, their names and addresses must be included. If called upon by the sponsor to produce original negative or transparency for award, written consent of any recognizable person or persons must be obtained for display, advertising, or publication purposes. These forms will be supplied by the sponsor when negatives are requested.

AN ENTRANT must write clearly on the back of each print his name; street address; city and state; his grade in high school; the name of his school and its address, specifying if the school is in a different town from where he lives; and category in which the picture is entered.

The entry is to be mailed to Kodak High School Photo Awards, Rochester 4, N. Y.

Fire Prevention Program To Ring City-Wide Alarm

Participating with over eight hundred other schools, South Side students will be in a massive fire drill today at 9:45 a.m. This drill will be conducted as any other drill but will have added importance as a part of Fire Prevention Week.

This week is Fire Prevention Week, which is observed annually to emphasize the added hazards of fire brought on by the dry, fall weather. A special broadcast which emphasizes the importance of fire prevention will be heard in all rooms as the time for the drill approaches.

This annual observance is sponsored by the Fort Wayne Fire Department, Fort Wayne Fire Prevention Bureau, and the Fire Prevention Committee of the Chamber of Commerce Safety Council.

Progressive Music, New Sounds Attract Modern Teenagers

New trends in music and rhythm are rapidly sweeping the country, with such titles as "Bongos! Bongos! Bongos!" and "Bongos, Flutes, and Guitars" captivating teenage album-buyers' interests. New sounds and original beats are becoming selling points for new platters, while the old monotonous sounds of "rock and roll" are rapidly making their departures.

This "beat" fad might have been influenced by the increasing popularity of progressive jazz and exotic rhythms, as the modern teenager seems to be learning to appreciate a wider variety of sounds.

However, many teenagers will continue to listen to popular-for-a-while songs because they are assured of a constant change in the songs they hear. Susie Moyer insists that, although she doesn't always go along with what everyone else likes, she still chooses the popular songs as her favorites because she likes to dance and listen to the beats.

Carole Ladig admits that even though she likes the popular records, the more she hears progressive jazz, the better she likes it. She feels that jazz is more appealing because it is relaxing and requires greater talent on the part of the musician than does popular music. "However," she said, "some of the variations on the tunes are too erratic and not as effective as original numbers."

Karl Bandemer likes popular music also, but he became interested in polka music last summer while visiting a lake in northern Wisconsin. He likes to listen to the lyrics, especially those of his favorite folk singer, Frankie Yankovich, the "polka king."

Ever since she was old enough to really appreciate good music, Suelen Borgmann has loved the Broadway hits. She supports her choice by stating, "I believe that show music will not lose popularity and that many of the present tunes will eventually become standard favorites." Selections from the "Sound of Music" rank high at her favorite Broadway album, and she also likes singing groups such as the Four Freshmen.

Kellys Say Decisions On Sunday Closings Rest With Individual

Perhaps one of the more important questions before the community is whether or not stores and other businesses should remain open on Sunday. According to a law passed for the state of Indiana in the early part of this century, only necessities should be sold on the seventh day.

The problem arises when one tries to define the word "necessities." Several Archers have been asked to give their opinions on this controversial subject.

Tom Erb: While I am in favor of Sunday closing, I am also in favor of letting the individual decide for himself whether or not he keeps his business open on Sunday. Since the law doesn't provide for the owner choosing, it should be repealed.

Charlotte Powell: This law is a good idea. No one should have to work on Sunday including clerks, carry-out boys, and other employees. It is just as easy for people to do their shopping on one of the other six days of the week.

Bill Branstrator: I believe filling stations and restaurants should be open for the people who travel. In my opinion, grocery stores and discount department stores should not be open on Sunday; but, of course, this decision should be the owner's. It has been said that God was busy on six days and rested on the seventh; why can't we follow His example?

Roger Vorholzer: My opinion is that it is a commandment of God that we should observe His day. It seems impossible for persons to observe this day while at work in a grocery store or any other place of business.

Rosemary Capps: I feel that some businesses, such as drug stores, gas stations, and restaurants, almost have to be open on Sunday. However, I feel that instead of all these establishments being open, only one in an area should do business on Sunday. I think that if other religious groups wish to close their businesses on their Sabbath Day, it is their decision and not ours to make.

Totem Agents Sell 1,113 Subscriptions, Require 50 Cents For Initial Payments

THE 'LINE-UP' . . . Totem agents "line up" by the door of the Totem office to turn in money already paid for the 1962 Totem. Agents shown here are, left to right, Alice Fruechtenicht, Maria Habecker, Cindy Russell, Ruth Russ, and Patti North.—Photo by Lowden

Jenny Manth, Kaylene Gebert Announce 1961 Pegasus Staff

Announcing the 1961 "Pegasus" staff, Jenny Manth and Kaylene Gebert, editor and associate editor, respectively, stated that they hope the 1961 literary magazine will be as successful as last year's book.

The staff includes Ann Golden and Cheryl Summers, editorial staff; Lyall Morrill and Tamara Vyhovsky, copy staff;

Jeanne Braden and Jeanne Davis, typists; Julia Wadlington, art editor; Sally Sweet, circulation manager; and Ken Lowden, photographer.

Bookheads are Larry Lee, Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Dan Schwartz, Janet Dinius, Sharyn Yerger, Harriet Ochstein, and Sally Malough.

ANN AND CHERYL help the editors read and select the articles to be published; they will also read and correct the first draft of the "Pegasus." Lyall and Tamara will read all copy for punctuation errors and misused words and will also help read the first draft.

Julia will design the cover and draw all sketches and block prints used as illustrations in the book; Jeanne Davis and Jeanne Braden will type all copy.

Sally Sweet will head the circulation and distribution of the "Pegasus." Kenny Lowden will take the pictures.

JENNY AND KAYLENE are contacting all English, Latin, French, Spanish, and social studies teachers for material to be used in the literary magazine.

The "Pegasus" is to be the same size as last year's, but the cover will have a new and different design. It will be distributed a short time after Christmas vacation.

Highlighting this year's "Pegasus" campaign, from November 13 to November 22, will be a literary contest for creative writing, sponsored by the Times. Anyone may submit any piece of literary work that they have written during the years they have been at South Side. No limitation is on classification.

ORIGINAL SHORT stories, original essays, editorials, and original poems may be submitted for the contest. The rules for this contest will be published in the Times at a later date, along with the price of the "Pegasus."

Jenny and Kaylene, several English teachers, and Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser, will judge the contest. The three first-place winners will receive prizes and have their names published in the "Pegasus."

The contest is to encourage more people to submit copy for the "Pegasus" publication without the teacher first suggesting it.

Indiana Tech Sells Tickets For Shows

Tickets for Indiana Technical College's second annual Artist-Celebrity Series are now being sold by Tech students.

Opening the season in the college gym October 30 will be Ferrante and Teicher, pianists who are widely acclaimed for their recordings and television appearances.

William Warfield, American baritone who is remembered for his prize-winning performances in "Green Pastures," "Porgy and Bess," and "Showboat," will also perform.

Appearing in the January presentation will be Ogden Nash, noted humorist. He will be followed by the Pilar Gomez Dancers, March 13.

To conclude the Artist-Celebrity Series, Meredith Wilson and his wife Rini will present a program titled, "Mirth and Music," on May 8. Wilson is the composer of "The Music Man" and "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," a hit still running on Broadway.

Doctor Lon Randall, dean of students at the college, is handling mail orders for season tickets. Additional information may be secured by calling E-9686, Extension 44.

Seniors To Pay $1.50 For Photos To Appear In Annual Publication

Having sold 1,113 subscriptions, Totem agents continue the sales campaign which will end on October 25. Since only about eight hundred yearbooks are left, students should buy their Totems as soon as possible to be assured of having one.

To subscribe for the Totem, students must make a down payment of at least 50 cents during the campaign. The full purchase price of $3.50 must be paid by December 8 if the student wishes to have his name appear on the cover of his Totem.

Seniors who want their pictures to appear in the 1962 book must have their pictures taken by Watters Studio by October 31 and must pay an additional $1.50.

BARB SPIERS AND Susi Hines are serving as co-circulation managers, assisted by Sharon Eitman, Sue Harrod, Marilyn Cole, Elizabeth Ellis, Jo Ellen Bobay, Sue Perry, Sue McGinnis, and Sarah Finch.

Homeroom agents are as follows: Book I, Judy Chapman, S-1; Mary Fawley, S-2; Sue Phillips, S-4; Debby Tourkow, S-5; Cindy Russell, 2; Jane Whitenack, 4; Ann Arnold, 6; Judy Evans, 8; Sally Bash, 10;

Book II, Pat Bobay, 12; John Varner, 14; Janet Calvert, 22; Mary Keegan, 24; Rhonda Reehm, 26; Karen Swygart, 28; Bill Mueller, 30; Sharon Snyder, 32; Connie Spencer, 34;

Book III, Peggy Brase, 36; Sue Nettrott, 44; Sharon Grafis, 45; Leanna Morris, 46; Barb Spiers, 52; Al Purdy, 54; Joy Locke, 56; Nancy Loughheed, 58; Kathy Branning, 60;

Book IV, Diane Petznik, 61; Tom Meyers, 62; Alice Fruechtenicht, 64; Maryann Harper, 66; Elaine Edwards, 68; Suelen Berger, 70; Shari Busch, 72; Karen Miller, 74; Sue Hines, 75;

Book V, Sharon Stettner, 76; Patty North, 77; Debby Decker, 80; Sue Perry, 82; Kathy Weiss, 84; Jo Ann Dixon, 88; Patti Phelps, 90; Lois Lerch, 91; Charles Golden, 92.

BOOK VI, JULIA MERCHANT, 94; Mary Crowder, 96; Ronald Martz, 98; Gail Woodruff, 108; Vicki Wismer, 110; Connie Valance, 116; Jane Ladig, 118; Ruth Russ, 120; Sally Malough, 138;

Book VII, Loretta Kimmel, 140; Christine Fruechtenicht, 142; Jim Knapp, 144; Lane Grile, 146; Suzanne Boylan, 150; Mary Ann Waldrop, 152; Cheryl Scott, 154; Margie Winder, 156; Jane Augspurger, 172;

Book VIII, Maria Habecker, 174; Judy Conley, 176; B. D. Hartley, 178; Debby Brooke, 182; Richard Astrom, 184; Janet Stanton, 186; Sandra Reed, 188; and Martha Dixon, 190.

Projectionists Earn Pins

Archers belonging to the Visual Education Club are working toward Service Club pins while operating the movie projector when needed.

These projectionists either were taught at after-school sessions by Mr. Ralph Boling and Mr. Ernest Walker, business instructors; or they have had previous year's experience.

Mr. Boling stated, "Any girl or boy interested in joining the Visual Education Club is urged to contact me in Room 184."

INSURANCE
SURETY BONDS

O'BRIEN & SANDERSON

203 East Berry Street

Phone E-3308

Fort Wayne, Indiana

DON STROEBEL'S OXFORD MARATHON

MOTOR TUNE-UP
FREE PICK-UP and DELIVERY
COURTESY CAR AVAILABLE
TIRES—TUBES—BATTERIES—ACCESSORIES

Winter and Oxford

Brake Service

H-5243

ASSOCIATE BSC DEGREES

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE

Phone A-1354 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Winter Term December 11

* Business Administration & Finance
* Secretarial Science
* Professional Accounting

With I.B.M.

Ravens Croft Beauty College

Better Training By Well-Trained Instructors Using
AUDIO VISUAL AIDS

Hair Styling, Permanent Waving, Coloring,
Hair Cutting, Hair Conditioning.

WORK DONE BY STUDENTS AT HALF PRICE

Call A-7403

and make an appointment to visit the area's finest.

1114 So. Calhoun St. Across from the Cathedral

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista Lodge Motel

"Yet Your Guests Be Our Guests"

Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE

Science
Engineering
General Education

Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.

Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.

Indiana Technical College

HAVE YOU EVER SEEN A DOLL WALKING? Well she's when you wear this charming cutie . . . "Swiss Doll" cunningly continental . . . in a casual sort of way!

Brass Suede
Black Suede
Black Calf
Loden Green Calf

8.95

121 W. Wayne St.

Favored Archers Battle Tigers To 0-0 Stalemate

Pass To Meyer For Touchdown Ruled Unlawful

Junior Eddie Johnson Sparks Offensive Play In Deadlocked Game

After 42 games which let at least one school's fans go away happy, South Side and Central battled to a 0-0 tie last Friday night, to the satisfaction of virtually no one.

The Archers, pre-game favorites, were stopped by bad luck and a big, spirited Central line. The Tigers were inconsistent on the ground and couldn't get valuable yardage inside the Archer 20-yard line.

One of Central's best drives of the entire contest came at the very beginning of the game. South received the kick-off and punted to Central's 30-yard line. On the second play from scrimmage, Tiger quarterback, Brad Durnell ran out of his pass protection and raced 15 yards to the 45.

THEN SAM TURNER fought for 2 yards on two consecutive plays to gain first down. Ned Moore carried the ball to South's 29-yard line, and Durnell plunged to the 25 for another first down.

But, just as the Bengals appeared to have six points in their grasp, Ed Johnson intercepted Durnell's pass on the 10-yard line. He raced across mid-field to their 48-yard line where the Central quarterback finally hauled him down.

As the first quarter ended and the second started, the Kells turned on the steam and started rolling toward the goal. Sid Sherry carried the ball down to the 27 in three plays, and then he and Nate Norment moved the ball to the 25-yard marker.

ED JOHNSON CARRIED the ball to the eight on an end sweep and Norment got the ball to the four where the Archers had first down and goal to go.

Then misfortune struck and Norment fumbled the hand-off from McMahon, South's quarterback, and Central's guard Arley Hatch recovered on the five-yard line.

Turner and Moore began fighting their way upfield with sporadic gains through the tough Green line. In eight plays the two workhorses gained 38 yards and three first downs. But once again fumble-itis struck as Norment recovered Durnell's fumble for South on the Central 4-yard line.

THE KELLYS THEN used just three plays to get to the 20-yard line as Norment swept around right end for 15 yards and Ed Johnson took off around the other end for eight big yards. Norment then crashed over tackle to the 13-yard line and a first down.

The Archers ground machine came to a jarring halt as Central buckled down with a nine-man line. When quarterback McMahon flipped a pass to Ed Johnson, trying to take advantage of few protectors, South got the ball on the seven with a first down as a result of pass interference.

On the next play McMahon fired a beautiful pass to end Dave Meyer for an apparent touchdown. However, the play was called back because of illegal procedure in South's backfield. With two seconds left McMahon fired another pass to Meyer, but he was brought down two yards shy of pay-dirt at the gun.

THE SECOND HALF was a stalemate even more so than the first. Central came out of the dressing room incensed, but so did the fighting Archers. The third quarter saw little more action than several exchanges of punts as neither offense could make a hole in the other's defense.

Early in the fourth period, South had a good chance to push Central back to the goal line but muffed it. Ed Johnson punted to Ned Moore of the Bengals who dropped the ball on his own 19-yard line.

In spite of his very poor start and inability to find the ball, Moore eluded Archers for a 16 yard run-back to the 35. Then a holding penalty on South moved the ball to the mid-field stripe, and Central was out of the hole.

TURNER PERSONALLY gained 11 yards in three plays to give the Tigers another first down, but the Green defense forced their foe into a punting situation.

South punted back and with one minute and thirty seconds left, the Tigers kicked to McMahon on the 20. The quarterback got off a 25-yard pass play to Ed Johnson, but the game ended before the Archers could get any more yardage.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Running excellent times in intra-mural cross country and competing for the new league lightweight football championship occupied the time of mural men last week.

Breaking the four-lap record, Bill Ausderan, senior, ran a tremendous race in 5:51.5, nearly 15 seconds faster than former Archer Dennis Jones' old record of 6:06. Dave James ran 6:05; Charlie Golden, 6:11; and Ken Leakey and Dave Blanton, 6:12.

By running approximately half the length of Packard Park, touching a telephone pole, and sprinting back, Dale Hilsmier, junior, smashed another record, 32 seconds, with a :31.5 time.

Being undefeated, the Nature Boys became champions in the football lightweight division with a 31-7 trouncing of the Drillers. Mike Beltz, junior, fired five touchdown passes and one extra point. Dave Rodenbeck, junior, was on the receiving end of three passes; and Steve Jones, junior, and Pat Fiske, each scored once. Jones caught the only extra point.

Bill Speck and Jim Lawson, sophomores, combined to give the Drillers their only score. Lawson caught a Speck pass in the end zone. Members of the Nature Boys are Steve Jones, Don Carlo, Rick Meeks, Mike Beltz, Bob Piercy, Pat Fiske, Matt Cornacione, and Dave Rodenbeck.

In heavyweight action, the Champs earned the right to play the Screamin' Demons by edging the Rascals, 4-0. Two safeties proved to be the difference as neither team could get a sustained drive going. Terry Nevendorp caught Tom Meyers in the end zone; and Bill Borgmann got Larry Schneider for a safety.

In earlier action, Larry Schneider paced the Rascals to a 32-13 clobber-

Reserve Gridders Play Scoreless Tilt

Despite the fine all-round play of quarterback Dave Banet and several bruising runs by halfback Bob Williams, South Side's reserves were kept to a 0-0 tie by the Concordia reserves.

Although the Cadets controlled the ball most of the first quarter, the Archers were able to make their yardage. Concordia received the kick-off, returned 25 yards and gained 20 yards on the ground before they were forced to punt.

South was unable to gain a first down and returned the punt. Concordia controlled the ball for the remainder of the quarter.

The second and third quarters showed strong defense as neither team was able to threaten. Concordia showed effects of good coaching as they executed their plays well; but the Archers defense, led by Banet and Larry Dawson, was able to hold them.

South's offense finally caught fire in the fourth quarter. Two plays after he received a punt on the Archer 25-yard line, Williams, aided by fine blocking, broke loose for a 35-yard run.

The Archers, using the running of Williams and the pass combination of Banet to Mark Close, marched a first down on the Cadet nine yard line. Banet again threw complete to Close on the two, but in trying to score, Close was hit hard and fumbled just as he was about to step over for a touchdown.

Stellhorn Hardware
2010 Fairfield
H-2337

ZINN SERVICE STATION
615 East Pontiac
H-5249

ERIE READY MIXED CONCRETE
H-2214

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

ing of the Grippers III, gaining the highest score of the year. Schneider threw five touchdown passes, three to Dale Engle and one each to Doug Baron and Al Zimmerman, also hitting Meyers and Zimmerman for extra points.

Paul Johns was the standout for the Grippers III as he ran for one touchdown and passed to Howard Lowden for the only extra point. Jim Smith scored the other touchdown on a run around end.

The annual fall tennis and horseshoe tournaments were completed September 30 at Packard Park. A total of 24 boys entered horseshoe; and 34 boys played in the tennis matches.

Jim McMahon defeated John Grodrian, 6-0, to win the lightweight crown; Jack Garrison edged Tim Grodrian, 6-2, 1-6, 6-2, for the middleweight honors; and Loren Hinderer defeated Paul Cochran, 6-0, to take the heavyweight title in tennis.

In horseshoes, Dave James, Tim Grodrian, and Hinderer took the championships in the lightweight, middleweight, and heavyweight divisions, respectively.

Boys may sign up any time in the gym office for the annual fall bowling tournament, October 27 at 9:30 p.m. Intramural basketball will begin sometime after bowling in both the noon league and night leagues. Boys will compete in three weight divisions in the noon league and two in the night league.

City Scoreboard

City Series
	W	L	T	GB	Pct.
South	2	0	1	—	.833
Central	1	0	1	½	.750
C.C.	0	1	0	1½	.000
Luers	0	1	0	1½	.000
North	0	1	0	1½	.000

Overall
	W	L	T	GB	Pct.
Luers	3	1	23	6.4	16.6
South	2	1	6.8	4	2.8
Concordia	3	2	0	23.2	13
C.C.	2	2	1	15	13.6
Central	1	2	2	5.8	16.2
North	0	4	1	7	15.6
Elmhurst	0	5	0	3.8	29.4

Top Five
Name	School	TD	Exp	FG	T
Lebrato, Luers	7	1	0	43
Burns, Luers	6	3	0	39
Nancarrow, C.C.	5	0	0	30
Doehrmann, Con.	4	2	0	26
Schoenfeld, Con.	3	6	0	24

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

LAUNDRY
4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Bulldogs Defeat Frosh Gridders In 41-0 Contest

Fumbles proved costly as South Side lost its third straight freshman football game at New Haven last Thursday. The Bulldogs solidly trounced the Green by a score of 41-0.

Their first score came minutes after South had won the toss and elected to receive. On the first play after returning New Haven's kickoff to the South Side 25-yard stripe, the Archers fumbled and New Haven took over on South's 28. Within two ground plays, New Haven had its first touchdown. The extra point was a ground play over the middle that made the score 7-0.

Another fumble led to a second touchdown for New Haven late in the quarter. South had the ball on their own 35-yard line, first and ten, but lost it on a fumble. This time it took New Haven three plays to score the touchdown. Actually, New Haven scored twice in that procession, having the first tally called back for an off-sides penalty. A run over center for the point after made the score New Haven 14, South Side 0.

IN THE SECOND QUARTER New Haven got off to a quick start. After intercepting a pass and returning it to South Side's 38, it took them seven plays and three first downs to score six more points. This time, however, the PAT runner was smothered before he could reach paydirt.

Also in the second quarter, it looked as though South would start an offensive drive. Quarterback Bob Kinsey completed a pass to end Elbert McKinney for a 20-yard gain. Then Kinsey completed a pass to halfback Dan Fortney for another twenty.

Prospects for a score looked good, had a penalty marker not shown of offensive off-sides on South. The ball was brought back to the New Haven forty when the first half ended.

THE SECOND HALF went much the same way with South Side's offense failing to materialize. New Haven scored twice in the third quarter, the first three plays after the opening kickoff. The run for the extra point around left end was successful.

Later in the quarter Kinsey tried a tricky fake punt that did not get the necessary yardage for the first down. So, starting at their own 31, a series of seven plays netted New Haven their fifth six-pointer. Again the extra point run was good, and that made the score 34-0.

Late in the fourth quarter a Bulldog intercepted an Archer pass on the South 40. With that as a starter, New Haven netted its last touchdown with seven seconds remaining. The extra point run was successful, and the game ended with the final score New Haven 41, South Side 0.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Self-Service or Drop-Offs
Washed, Dried, and Folded.
Finish Same Day.
1-Day Shirt Service.
Dry Cleaning
SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT
4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield
H-6141

CRESTWOOD
another outstanding community by Shirmeyer
Here is one of Fort Wayne's best located subdivisions . . . within the city limits, close to everything. Located only two minutes north of Northerest Shopping Center on Highway 427, Crestwood is a delightful community of happy home owners . . . where friendship is found behind every door. Visit Crestwood soon.

8 MODEL HOMES OPEN DAILY IN CRESTWOOD
NATIONAL HOMES
"family approved homes"
SHIRMEYER

Players' Spotlight

John Weaver, Mark Hagerman Support Squad In Guard Spots

Mark Hagerman

John Weaver

Aggressive, hard-hitting players and a hard-nosed fighting line have been largely responsible for the successful football season thus far. John Weaver, 5-7, 150-pound right guard, has shown amazing skill both at offensive line backing and setting up defensive down-field blocking.

Playing four years of football with two years on the varsity squad, John has played various positions including quarterback, halfback, and guard. John has also participated in varsity track.

Although John has been playing most of the season with a bad shoulder, he has shown real stamina by pulling down more than his share of runners.

Concerning the team, John said, "Because of the spirit and willingness of all the boys, our line will continue to improve."

John, whose most important goal is winning the City Series, feels that the toughest game so far this season was against Hammond Morton, but he feels the final game against Central Catholic will be as great a challenge.

Adding extra strength to the varsity football team this year is Senior A Mark Hagerman. Weighing 180 pounds and standing 5-7, Mark is one of the roughest and most experienced players on the team. He is now in his fourth year of football and his second year of varsity football.

Mark has earned a first-string position on both offense and defense, playing a guard position on offense and serving as defensive captain.

Mark's job on offense is opening up the holes through which the backs run. His main job on defense is to

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

KESSLER Super Market
"The Store for Quality and Personalized Service"
3102 BOWSER AVE.
Corner of Bowser at Eckart St.
21st Year in Business

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield
H-6141

CRESTWOOD
another outstanding community by Shirmeyer
Here is one of Fort Wayne's best located subdivisions . . . within the city limits, close to everything. Located only two minutes north of Northerest Shopping Center on Highway 427, Crestwood is a delightful community of happy home owners . . . where friendship is found behind every door. Visit Crestwood soon.

8 MODEL HOMES OPEN DAILY IN CRESTWOOD
NATIONAL HOMES
"family approved homes"
SHIRMEYER

Archer Thinlies To Meet Cadets At Franke Park

Trying to better their already respectable record of 6-3, the cross-country crew will run against the Concordia thinlies at Franke Park at 3:30 p.m. today. The Cadets, coached by Don Reinking, have compiled a 2-5 record thus far with some tough meets yet to come.

Loading the Maroon and White's aggregation will be veteran Dave McAlister, who owns a season's low time of 10:10 for the two and one fourth mile course. Second man on the squad is Tim Wiedman, who despite his inexperience, has recorded a 10:23 time already this year.

The rest of the team is inexperienced and consists of underclassmen. Joe Henzig, a junior, is the third man; and he is followed by Phil Amt and Jim Smith. The sixth and seventh men are Wayne Borchering and Jerry Schoenfeld.

So far, Coach Reinking's men have defeated Central Catholic and Bishop Luers while failing to the powerful runners at New Haven, North Side, Huntington, Central, and Elmhurst.

In contrast to the Cadets, South seems destined to improve its record. Ken Ellingwood, No. 1 man, has easily topped McAlister's low time on many occasions, and most of the Kelly team, has bettered the low times of the third and fourth men of Concordia.

The experience of the Green and White should be a major factor in tonight's contest with the relatively untried Cadet squad.

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

ALLEN DAIRY
Phone: T-1141

Beaver Beauty Salon
1112 Home Avenue
H-3363
MARTHA BUTLER, Owner and Operator
Norma Humbert, Operator Linda Thomas, Operator

EMPHASIS
*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.
Consultation with master craftsman on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?
FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Kellys To Meet Warsaw In Grid Battle Tomorrow

Bengals Sport Five Victories, Single Failure

Visitors Demonstrate Superior Line Speed, Lack Individual Size

Warsaw's gridiron men, who have been victorious in five of their six games this year and winners of the Wabash game by a 27-0 score last Friday, invade South Side's Stadium tomorrow night. Much stronger than they have been in previous years against Archer teams, the Tigers of Warsaw are coming to Fort Wayne with one idea in mind—upsetting South Side's team and gaining revenge for past defeats at the hands of the Kellys.

Under the capable leadership of head coach Bill Goshert, former Portland High mentor, the Orange and Black have assembled a fine team this year. Unlike the weak Warsaw teams of the past, the 1961 eleven has shown more fight and determination. Although they may seem to be somewhat outclassed by the Archers, the Tigers are certain to put up a good battle and will undoubtedly make an effort to upend the Archers.

So far this has proved to be Coach Goshert's best season at Warsaw, the Orange and Black having won five games while losing only once to Huntington with only a 6-0 score. The five wins over good opposition included Plymouth, Rochester, Nappanee, and Madison.

SCRIMMAGE SESSION . . . Hard at work after their disappointing tie with Central's Tigers last Friday, the Archer football team prepares for tomorrow's game with Warsaw, when the grid-ders will be trying to add another victory to their 2-1-1 record.—Photo by Lowden

THE MAIN ADVANTAGE which the Warsaw team has over their opponents this year is good speed, both in the backfield and the line. This advantage makes up for the Tigers' lack of size.

However, the Archers also possess good speed and in addition, the Kellys are larger than the Warsaw team. This may somewhat stymie the Orange and Black since they haven't yet faced a team with South Side's speed and size; however, they may catch the Archers feeling low after their tie with Central. If such is the case, the Green and White may have a real battle on their hands.

The Bengals are paced by senior quarterback Dick Lesh, who at 6-3 and 175 pounds, is the biggest player on the team. A good signal-caller, Lesh runs with the ball; but his best talent is passing, especially to senior end Lee Harmon, 6-1 and 152 pounds, who is his favorite target.

The two best runners on the Warsaw squad are halfbacks Steve Bayne, 5-10 and 165 pounds, and Pat McClure, 5-8 and 141 pounds, both seniors and lettermen, as are Lesh and Harmon. Rounding out the first string backfield is junior Mike Valentine, who at 5-9 and 143 pounds, is the smallest fullback whom the Archers have run against all year.

THE WARSAW LINE is very small with an average of 159 pounds. However, this is misleading because the speed with which these boys block and tackle make up for their size. The only returning letterman is guard Tom Gatke, 5-10 and 160 pounds. So it seems that inexperience may hurt the Tigers in the line when they come up against the Archers.

Rounding out the line besides Gatke and end Harmon, are the following: center, Don Phillips, 5-9 and 155; tackles Ben Shafen, 5-11 and 175, and John Rupe, 5-10 and 170; guard, Paul Howard, 5-7 and 138; and end, Darwin Call, 6-0 and 158 pounds. Of these remaining boys, Shafen is the only second-year man.

IT SEEMS THAT IT will be up to the Archer defensive unit to stop Warsaw. If they can succeed in this, the Kelly offense will be able to ground out a couple of touchdowns.

However, South may still be plagued by some key injuries. Ed Johnson will not be able to play in the game, and his brother Dick may still be bothered by a bad ankle. Also John Weaver might be limping on his bad ankle. Nevertheless, if the rest of the defensive line of Don Sievert, Dave Meeks, Bob Lohman, Mark Hagerman, Martin Platupe, and Bill Rastetter can contain the Tigers, South Side will have a possibility of winning.

The probable starting offensive line-

Warsaw	Pos.	South Side
Lee Harmon	LE	Dave Meyer
Ben Shafen	LT	Dave Meek
Tom Gatke	LG	M. Hagerman
Don Phillips	C	Don Sievert
Paul Howard	RG	John Weaver
John Rupe	RT	Charlie Parker
Darwin Call	RE	Jon VanOosten
Dick Lesh	QB	Tom McMahan
Steve Bayne	LH	Nate Norment
Pat McClure	RH	Dick Johnson
Mike Valentine	FB	Sid Shera

Booster Club To Organize

To welcome new members, the Booster Club will have its first meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 72. The Booster Club was organized to help buy the cheerleaders outfits and also to sell refreshments at the basketball games.

Plaza Beauty Salon

H-6298

Open Evenings Till 9

Southgate

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM

Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Exhibition Game

INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS

VS.

FORT WAYNE KOMETS

Tuesday, October 17

8:00 P.M.

HOCKEY

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitz

Last Friday night's history-making gridiron battle between rivals South and Central slowed down the Archers' bid for city title honors and "reopened" the gap for two other city contenders.

South, who could have assured themselves of at least a tie for the 1961 city championship, found Central to be a great deal better than their ratings, as did C.C. the previous week.

The verdict of their forty-third meeting marked the first time since the beginning of their rivalry in 1922 that they left the score deadlocked. To top that off, it was a scoreless tie.

Both squads were fairly well matched according to the statistics, but the Archers were definitely not playing up to par. The Tigers were really up for the game after edging out their first victory last week by scoring an 8-6 upset win over C.C.

South also appeared to be keyed up for the contest at first, but it didn't take long to see that the Archers weren't playing the type of ball they demonstrated in their first three games.

South's backfield didn't display their usual drive and the line as a whole wasn't as aggressive as normal. Backs Sid Shera and Ed Johnson played well on the offense and linemen Don Sievert, Mark Hagerman, and Jerry Scherrer worked well on the Archers' defensive game.

A note of praise can go to the Archers' student body and South's cheerleaders for their excellent support at the game last week. They backed the squad with continuous cheering, although many spectators are still unaware of the game.

One girl said during the middle of the game, "I thought North was Red and White, not Blue and White." After her friend told her that South was playing Central, she replied, "Oh that's right, we played them last week."

With the season half over, the Archers entertain Warsaw tomorrow evening at South Side Stadium. The Archers trimmed this squad by a 13-2 count last season and hope to repeat again this year. The Kosciusko County eleven has won five out of six thus far against fairly respectable competitors. Even though the Archers have two things going against them in tomorrow night's Dads' Day game, playing a Tiger squad and fighting off Friday the Thirteenth superstitions, the prediction is South, 14-6.

The Archers still stayed on top in the city race with a 2-0-1 record. Central is next with a 1-0-1 tally, followed by C.C., Luers, and North Side with identical 0-1 series records. For South and the rest of the city contenders, November 3 is the big night since South will play C.C. that night.

Both Luers or C.C. can still win, but South and Central are in the best positions. North, who plays only three city games, is out of contention. If Central loses to either North or Luers and South beats C.C., that will put a cap on the Archers' first series victory in 13 years.

In the city scoring race the spotlight is on Bishop Luers' backs Joe Lebrato and Mike Burns. Lebrato scored four touchdowns and one point-after-touchdown last week against Culver to take the lead in the scoring race with 43 points, followed by teammate Burns with 39.

South Side's harriers will get a good taste of rigid competition this Saturday in the Indianapolis Shortridge Invitational. Coach Porky Holt and his "slump-ridden" harriers hope to get back on the road to victory in this tune-up for the Sectional meet which is to be run October 24.

Unusual circumstances caused the Archer downfall last week. In losing to Central and Kokomo in last Tuesday's triangular, Archer Bob Camp was accidentally spiked and sidelined for a week. Camp will return to practice Monday and Coach Holt hopes he will be back to his old form by Sectional time.

The Archers were also without the services of sophomore Steve Meyers, but he returned to action this week. If the Archer runners are not hindered by any more injuries and can get back on the road to success like they did at the beginning of the season, they should be well prepared for the Sectional.

This year's Invitational to be run Saturday morning has three divisions. The Class A is for schools with a population of 1,000 and over, Class B for 500-1,000, and Class C for 500 and under. South, of course, will run in the Class A division. The runners competing in the meet have a chance to win awards and to enter the 10:10 Club or Sub-10 Club.

South has placed two runners, Dave Redding and Dennis Jones in the 10:10 Club. The club is open only to those who have run the distance in 10 minutes 10 seconds or under. The Sub-10 Club is for those runners breaking 10 minutes. Redding is the only Archer member who belongs to this honor club.

Ingeborg's Frisor Salong

(Beauty Shop)

617 West Foster Parkway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

K-3305

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY

4232 S. Calhoun

SERVICE IN DRUGS

Phone K-1864

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

Thinlies Trounce Trojans, Bow To Marion; Injuries Take Toll

Thwarted in two previous bids, the South Side harriers finally notched their seventh win of the year by downing Elmhurst 24-32 at Frank Park Tuesday. Reinhold Mueller, Trojan senior, placed first with a 9:59 time. Although they did not enjoy one of their better meets, the Archers did manage to find the victory trail after the disasters of last week in which Central, Kokomo, and Marion each whipped them. Ken Ellingwood once again paced the Kellys; but Stu Schmitz's fine race, resulting in a third place finish, was a key factor in the triumph.

ELMHURST LOOKED like a much tougher squad than the one that bowed to Coach "Porky" Holt's boys 20-39 three weeks prior. Bill Jackson, a brand new addition to the Trojans, helped his team's cause immensely by placing fourth.

Coach Doug Spencer was without Dave Waldrop who was in bed with the mumps. Waldrop was the individual winner in these two schools' first meeting this campaign. If he gets back into action soon and his teammates continue to improve, Elmhurst will be a definite contender for a third place in the coming Sectionals, behind North and Central.

Two encouraging points on the South Side scene were the return of Steve Meyers after a week-long bout with the flu and Dave Munson's recovery from a long injury. Both of these sophomores ran strong races against Elmhurst.

Still the fact remains that the Archers' ties Tuesday were far from impressive. Only Schmitz and Jim More neared their top performances; the rest of the squad slipped timewise.

IN THE RESERVE meet, Elmhurst crushed the Green 19-51. Only Mike Weinraub's second place saved the losers from a whitewash. The Trojan's Guy Hite was in 10:54, one second ahead of Weinraub.

Following is a summary of the varsity meet:

1. Mueller (E)	9:59
2. Ellingwood (SS)	10:05
3. Schmitz (SS)	10:11
4. Jackson (E)	10:16
5. More (SS)	10:20
6. Munson (SS)	10:25
7. Reinking (E)	10:26
8. Burton (SS)	10:30
9. Thorne (E)	10:30
10. Myers (SS)	10:34

Archers Lose Third

Jolted by unexpected ailments, the young harriers dropped a 24-32 decision to a tough Marion team Thursday at Foster Park. It was the Archers' second straight loss after five consecutive victories.

Harriers suffered from the loss of Bob Camp and Steve Meyers, both of whom did not dress for the meet. In addition, Dave Munson, one of South's top performers, had to drop out of competition at the mile mark because of an injured leg.

Camp, a hard-working junior, was spiked in the foot during the Kokomo-Central triangle battle October 3. Ten stitches were required to close the gash, and Bob is not expected to run any more this season.

Marion's Decker copped individual honors with a mediocre 10:15 time. Ken Ellingwood was four seconds back in second place for South, but he and his mates were obviously not up to par. In fact, not one of the hosts finished within a few seconds of his best effort for the Foster Park course.

The only thing the home forces had to cheer about was the reserves producing their first victory of the year after seven defeats. Juniors Jerry Boyer and Mike Weinraub finished one-two, both in 11:04, to lead South to a narrow 28-29 margin over Marion's "B" team.

Following is a summary of the varsity meet:

1. Decker (M)	10:15
2. Ellingwood (SS)	10:19
3. Hearbey (M)	10:26
4. More (M)	10:27
5. Jackson (M)	10:29
6. Weatherly (M)	10:30
1. Schmitz (SS)	10:34
8. Burton (SS)	10:38
9. Leisure (M)	10:40
10. Webb (M)	10:45

Cardone's Pizze

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974

CARRY OUTS

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun

Fort Wayne, Ind.

H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Pontiac Florist

914 E. Pontiac

H-2223

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

Pep shirts and Levi's a sharp Teen twosome

Fall . . . football . . . wienie roasts, and Teens go everywhere in soft, warm combed cotton pep shirts. Many colors, S-M-L, 2.98; Levi's slim, tapered for the sleek look. Heavy cotton denim, 22-30 inch waist, 4.50

W&D Young Miss Shop, Second Floor

YFC To Host Pianist

Mr. Harold Hatch, gospel pianist, will highlight the Youth for Christ Club program tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

According to Roger Vorholzer, president, plans for October include a fund-raising car wash.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0155 1725 South Anthony

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

DON SCHMIDT ACCORDION SCHOOL
Certified by Amer. Accordion Assn.
Private Instruction & Accordion Band
RENTAL PLAN—SALES—SERVICE
828 Oxford H-9606

KNIPSTEIN Pharmacy
1527 Oxford St.

PARKWAY BEAUTY SHOP
COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE
609 West Foster Parkway H-2244
Fort Wayne, Indiana

DAN'S BARBER SHOP
1307 Oxford
QUICK SERVICE
—TWO BARBERS—
HAIRCUTS—Any Style
For Men or Women

OXLEY TYPEWRITER & OFFICE SUPPLY CO.
"We carry all makes of portable typewriters"
Sold on the rental payment plan
See Us Before You Buy . . . And Buy Where You Get Service
Proprietors: E. A. NELSON — B. M. NELSON
126-28 E. Wayne St. E-1040—E-1049

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Hall's Drive-Ins

Reserve Cheerleaders Enumerate Vital Factors For School Support

Having enthusiasm and being able to convey it to others proved to be two vital factors to this year's reserve cheerleaders: Sue Harrod, Sharon Bass, Martha Dixon, and Nancy Robinson.

Sue Harrod, senior B, was thrilled at being chosen a cheerleader. "To become a cheerleader," she advises others, "one must be friendly to others and show one's enthusiasm in the proper manner." She tries to get the students to yell with her and not against her. Her earlier dancing and music lessons, as far as Sue is concerned, have improved her co-ordination and rhythm.

ENJOYING CHEMISTRY and English as her favorite subjects, Sue participates in Assemblies Workshop, the Totem and Times staffs, Honorary Arts, and services for Mr. Scott, physical education teacher. She is also a member of Westminster Fellowship, her church youth group. Her hobbies include painting, writing poetry, and boating.

Nancy Robinson, junior B, agrees with Sue that enthusiasm is very important. She feels that she must show her zeal before she can expect others to cheer loudly.

NANCY LIKES ALL of her classes, especially solid geometry. Her outside activities include writing for the Times and service work for Mr. Weicker, senior adviser, and Miss Price, librarian. She is a member of Westminster Fellowship at her church. Nancy wants to become an airline hostess after high school.

"I just yell at the fans in hopes that they'll yell also," stated Sharon Bass, junior B. She feels that her interest in ice skating has helped her to become more co-ordinated in cheerleading.

Sharon's favorite subjects are botany and history. Choir, Times writing, Assemblies Workshop, and Philo take up most of her extra time. Sharon, like Nancy, wants to become an airline hostess. She also has dreams of one day rebuilding the Rescue Mission downtown.

MARTHA DIXON, JUNIOR B, the fourth member of the squad, has been taking dance lessons since she was eight years old. This, she feels, has helped her with her cheerleading.

"I was very happy at being chosen a cheerleader," stated Martha. "Students who want to be cheerleaders should expect to work hard," she advised.

Her favorite subject is botany. Outside activities include Philo, Wranglers and Assemblies Workshop. She is also active in Pilgrim Fellowship at Plymouth Congregational Church.

Eight Journalists

(Continued from Page 1)
Hall Auditorium from 7:30 to 8:50 p.m. Friday night.

FRANKLIN COLLEGE radio station personnel will spin the records for the student mixer and sock hop from 8 to 11 p.m. in the college gymnasium. Theta Sigma Phi will supply the refreshments.

After breakfast at 7:30 a.m. Saturday, delegates may attend one of five staff problem clinics. These will discuss such items as increasing reader interest and circulation, advertising, recruiting staff members, money-raising projects for papers that don't use advertising, and topics for editorials.

Student elections and a business meeting will follow in Stott Hall Auditorium.

Mr. John Charles Daly, distinguished radio and television reporter and host of the television program, "What's My Line?", will address the journalism delegates at their final convocation in the gymnasium.

MR. DALY IS RECOGNIZED as a leader in the news reporting field, having won virtually every major award for distinguished radio and television reporting. He was ABC Vice-President in charge of News, Special Events, and Public Affairs from 1953 through 1960.

The "What's My Line?" master of ceremonies has won for ABC the Sylvia, Sigma Delta Chi, and "Look" magazine TV awards for 1952 political coverage. He has received the George Foster Peabody Award for ABC's 1956 political convention coverage and for "distinctive television reporting and news commentary" in 1954.

After the luncheon, served to delegates in the residence halls, the convention will be adjourned.

MORRISON DRUGS
Maynard S. Ahrendt, Owner
Your Prescription Druggist
We deliver all prescriptions—prompt and courteous service.
"Member Retail Druggist Association"
2809 Broadway Phone H-1195

McKay Electric Co.
Contractors
ELECTRIC WIRING and FIXTURES
7671 Bluffton Road
S-4151

ENERGETIC LASSES . . . Cheering for the reserve basketball team this year will be, left to right, Martha Dixon, Sharon Bass, Sue Harrod, and Nancy Robinson. The reserves also assist the varsity cheerleaders at football games and participate in the pep sessions.—Photo by Lowden

Eighteen Officers Elected

(Continued from Page 1)

proud to be elected and hope I'm capable of doing a good job," Tonya stated.

Her activities are the Times, Philo, Assemblies Workshop, Service Club, and the Luther League group of her church. Last year Tonya was vice-president of her class. She is taking Physics 1, U.S. History 2, French 1, English 5, and Concert Choir.

Gary Probst, 11B, vice-president of the junior class, echoed the feelings of all the class officers when he said he felt very honored to be elected. In his sophomore year Gary served as secretary-treasurer of his class.

Gary participates in basketball and track and is a member of Service Club. He is studying English 5, U.S. History 1, Physics 1, and solid geometry.

"I'M HAPPY TO be elected," said Nancy Robinson, 11B and secretary-treasurer of the junior class. Nancy's academic schedule includes English 5, solid geometry, Latin 5, U.S. History 1, and Occasional Choir. Her extra-curricular activities are Times, reserve cheerleading, Assemblies Workshop, and Library and Service clubs. Last year Nancy was president of the sophomore class.

Junior social council chairman is Jerry Klahn, 11B, who said, "I feel privileged in being elected." Jerry plays basketball and runs track, and belongs to Hi-Y. As a sophomore, he was also social council chairman of his class. He is taking Physics 1, English 5, U.S. History 1, and solid geometry.

Ken Davis and Rosie Capps, both 11A's, will serve as members of the social council for their class. Ken's subjects are Physics 2, U.S. History 2, Speech 1, and English 6; while Rosie's are English 6, Algebra 3, U.S. History 2, orchestra, Speech 2, and French 1.

Ken is active in Hi-Y, Assemblies Workshop, Wranglers, Service Club, and the Methodist Youth Fellowship at Simpson Methodist Church. Rosie is a bookhead for the Times, vice-president of Assemblies Workshop, moderator of the youth group of the First Presbyterian Church, and belongs to Service Club.

RICK MEEK, 10B, president of the Class of '64, will supervise the work for the Sophomore Party, the only activity of his class. "I was very surprised and very honored to learn that I had been elected," said Rick.

He currently is out for intramural cross country, participates in basketball and track, and belongs to Assemblies Workshop. He is taking Latin 8, Geometry 1, English 3, and General History 1.

Serving as vice-president of the sophomore class is Paul Cochran, a 10B. Paul plays the saxophone in the band and has mastered the piano.

Oxford Hardware
Housewares—Gifts—Paint
General Hardware
1508 Oxford St. H-3146

ROEHM MARINE SERVICE
Your South Side JOHNSON Dealer
4392 Bluffton Road
Telephone Sherwood 3203

What you want is a Coke

DRINK Coca-Cola

"Coke" is a registered trademark. BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY, INC.

THE FORT WAYNE COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, Inc.

banjo, and guitar. He is active in DeMolay, Explorer Scouts, and the choir and youth group at the First Presbyterian Church. Paul is studying English 5, Latin 3, General History 1, and Special Math 3.

"IT REALLY SURPRISED me," commented 10B Debby Decker, secretary-treasurer of her class, upon her election. Times, Wranglers, Masque and Gave, and Methodist Youth Fellowship at the Wayne Street Methodist Church are Debby's extra-curricular activities. Her academic subjects include Geometry 1, English 3, French 3, General History 1, and Occasional Choir.

Andy Christon, chairman of the social council, is presently playing reserve football. He is taking English 4, Geometry 2, General History 2, and Latin 4.

Dick Robinson and Dave Banet, both 10B's, are members of the social council for the Class of '64. Dick participates in basketball and track, and Dave in football, basketball, and track. Dick is a member of DeMolay and Service Club, while Dave is active in Christian Youth Fellowship at First Christian Church. Both are studying General History 1, Geometry 1, Latin 3, and English 3.

Two Administrators To Tell Of Colleges

Mr. Charles P. Boswell, representative from Hobart and William Smith Colleges both of which are in Geneva, N.Y., will visit South Side Monday at 1 p.m. in Room 102. He will answer questions concerning scholarships, sororities and fraternities, other social activities, and the academic program.

He will also answer questions pertaining to athletic activities, campus grounds, accommodations for housing, eating facilities, employment on the campus, and the faculty.

Mr. Jerry D. Reese, assistant director of administration at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., will come on October 20, at 9 a.m. in Room 102.

All seniors interested in attending this particular college are urged to be present at this time.

Seniors desiring to attend should sign up with Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, in Room 102 before school on October 16 for either or both sessions.

Meterites To Spell

Meterite's annual spelling bee will be Tuesday in Room 112 at 3:30 p.m. with Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, pronouncing the words for the contestants.

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

What you want is a REAL COOL!

Don't postpone those studies until the "heats off!" Let Reddy beat the heat for you with an electric fan or air conditioner.

Ballet Company To Sell Tickets

Fort Wayne Ballet, Inc. opened its 1961-62 ticket campaign Monday. The season will open tomorrow with a performance by the Illinois Ballet Company.

Other productions, all to be staged at the Civic Playhouse, will be "Red Shoes," December 19; and "Symphonic Variations," "Graduation Ball," and "Presentation," April 27.

The week preceding the opening program, October 5 through October 13, will be declared "Ballet Week" by official proclamation of Mayor Paul M. Burns.

Mrs. William Fruechtenicht is chairman of the ticket sales campaign. Committee chairmen include Mrs. Willard Jones, telephone; Mrs. Bruce Broadbeer, reservations; Mrs. Harold Hoffman and John Keenan, publicity; John Habecker and Walter Lupke Jr., special sales promotion; and Mrs. Paul Sauerteig, Mrs. George Fisher Jr., and Mrs. Eugene Senseney, parties.

Members of the telephone committee are Mrs. Joseph Christoff, Mrs. R. W. Paul Jr., Mrs. John Habecker, Mrs. Dunne Lupke, Mrs. Allan Lamont, Mrs. William McKinley, Mrs. Michael Johnson, Mrs. Robert Pleak, Mrs. Robert Blecher, Mrs. Keith Blumhardt, Mrs. Colin Dyer, Mrs. Jon Boyd, Mrs. Harold E. Guenther and Mrs. J. P. Foland.

Teachers Announce Season's Calendar

Fort Wayne Teachers Association events for the 1961-62 school year were announced by Mr. Robert Delinger of Central High School at a F.W.T.A. planning session at the Young Men's Christian Association. All events begin at 4 p.m.

Headed by Miss Meg Robinson, teacher at Indian Village School, the international relations committee will present a program Monday at Lakeside Junior High School.

A program dealing with teacher welfare will be presented November 20 at Central High School with Mr. John Johnson, instructor at J. N. Study School, and Mr. James McFadden, Central High School teacher, in charge.

During the first half of 1962, the meetings will include a program on ethics and professional relations, January 15 at Central; a fellowship session, February 19 at Central; a program on legislation, March 19 at Kekionga Junior High School; and a program by the Teachers' Education and Professional Society Committee, April 16 at Central. The F.W.T.A. is planning an evening program with a guest speaker May 21.

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

FUTURA TRANSISTOR PHONOGRAPH (4-Sp.)
American Made—Dual Needles—Operates on Four Flashlight Cells
Only $34.95
SMITH'S SOUTH SIDE TV & APPLIANCE
3820 South Calhoun H-2100

FASHION WISE SUE KELLEY Insists on ADLER WOOL SOCKS

Sue Kelley

attractive, popular, and style-wise South Side High School senior, insists on ADLER SC WOOL SOCKS. She states: "I can depend on Adlers to compliment every outfit I wear. They're so white, stylish, and wear far better than any others I've ever worn. And, besides, you don't have to worry about runs or snags either!"

AVAILABLE AT:
C. & H. Shoe Company
Hutner's Paris
J. C. Penny Company
and fine stores everywhere

Brenda Dull, 12B, To Compete In Junior Miss Beauty Contest

Having been chosen Junior Miss Indiana at the Bluffton Street Fair, Brenda Lee Dull, senior, will go to

Brenda Dull

Dallas, Tex., to compete for the title of Miss Teenage America, Sunday through next Saturday.

At the contest, Brenda will be judged on beauty, talent, poise, and personality. The finals will be announced at the pageant on Thursday night.

AFTER ARRIVING in Dallas by plane, Brenda and the two runners-up from Indiana will be escorted by the police to the hotel where they will stay.

Among the activities taking place during the pageant are a ball for all the contestants, a tour of the city of

JRC Members To Make Placemats For Hospitals

In order to make Halloween placemats for patients in city hospitals, the Junior Red Cross Club will meet Wednesday in Room 12 at 3:30 p.m. After the business is taken care of, refreshments will be served.

At the November 1 meeting the club members will make Thanksgiving nut cups, which will be placed on the hospital trays also. A skit will be given by Bev Figel, Kay Carrier, and Jeanne Braden on November 29.

The club will present a Christmas talent show at the State School on December 13. At the January 3 meeting new and old members will have a social get-together.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Paul Says:

"There are 4,726 race tracks in the United States not counting the highways and expressways. Please drive carefully."

HESS INSURANCE AGENCY
General Insurance
132 E. Berry St. (2nd Floor)
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana
Phones: E-2424—Res., H-8928

Dallas, and participation in parades. News reporters will interview the girls.

Brenda has taken dancing lessons from Ann Adams School of Dance for 13 years and served as an assistant teacher for Miss Adams. Although she never participated with the dance class in the way of shows, she sang and danced with a combo.

OTHER ACTIVITIES in which Brenda has participated are teaching the modern dance class and modeling for Bobby Rae. She is a member of the Festival Theater and Civic Theater.

In school, Brenda is active in service work, Philo, Times, and Assemblies Workshop. She has participated in every talent show during her years at South Side and has also been a majorette for four years. Brenda put her talents to use this summer by working as a model in the House of Venus.

Designers Continue Work

Continuing work on the preliminary sketches of their projects for the Fisher Body Contest, the members of Designers' Association will meet Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120 to discuss materials available for making the final models.

The members have received copies of a magazine that contains the changes in specifications for this year's entries and talks about how these changes affect their individual designs.

Who Lenders Shirts Best?

SLICK'S
H-3232

Mark's CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-497

McDonald's DRIVE-IN

Cheeseburger 19¢

McDonald's 100% PURE BEEF HAMBURGER WITH DELICIOUS MELTED CHEESE!

TREAT YOUR FAMILY TO A VISIT TO McDonald's the home of the All American Meal

HAMBURGER 15¢
FRENCH FRIES 10¢
MILK SHAKE 20¢

ALL FOR JUST 45¢

2—LOCATIONS—2
CALIFORNIA ROAD & HI-WAY 30 EAST

Children's Theater To Choose Actors

Tryouts for Aurand Harris' "Circus in the Wind," the Children's Theater play that will be presented on November 18 and 19, will be Saturday in the Civic Theater at 2 p.m. under the direction of Miss Ann Arber, English teacher.

"Everyone from 10 to 65 is invited to tryout. I will cast the play by having each person read lines from the script," stated Miss Arber, who has directed plays at South and has acted at the Civic Playhouse. She also taught creative drama classes at the theater.

The story is centered around Johnnie, the leading character, who crawls into a box which belongs to a clown at the circus and accidentally is put on a circus train. His grandfather sets out in pursuit; but he, too, enjoys the circus and both decide to stay.

In desperation, Grandmother begins to look for her two boys. She finds, however, that the job is no easy task. The outstanding feature of this play is involved with incorporating audience participation. "Circus in the Wind" is a revision of Aurand Harris' prize winning "Circus Day."

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2965

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Too many students are hitting the hay when they should be pitching it.

3720 South Calhoun St.

YOU BELONG TO ADLERS

Who's popular on campus, and off? The Adler SC—the world's most popular wool socks for girls. The sock that looks wonderful, feels wonderful whenever, wherever you wear it. Perfect with sweaters, it comes in 13 fashion colors, while included. Just $1 at five stores, or write the Adler Company, Dept. 591, Cincinnati 14, Ohio.

Use Literary Ability,
Enter Pegasus Contest

Vol. XL—No. 7

Refreshments, Chatter

Mothers To Congregate At PTA Fellowship Teas

PTA MEMBERSHIP CHAIRMEN . . . At the PTA fellowship teas October 30, 31, November 1 and 2, class membership chairmen will welcome the mothers. They are, seated, left to right, Mrs. D. D. Robinson, junior chairman; Mrs. William Kleifgen, senior; standing, Mrs. Herbert Dixon, freshman; and Mrs. E. M. Stanbery, sophomore.—Photo by Seaman

Mothers will have the opportunity to become better acquainted with the programs and activities of the school at the Annual PTA Class Fellowship Teas on October 30 and 31 and November 1 and 2 at 2:15 p.m. in the cafeteria. Mothers of the freshmen will meet on October 30; sophomore, junior, and senior mothers will meet on October 31, November 1 and 2, respectively.

Class chairmen for the four teas will be Mrs. L. Zuzner Fishbaugh, freshman; Mrs. Karl Spicer, sophomore; Mrs. Kenneth Bohlender, junior; and Mrs. Curtis Stein, senior. Music by the string ensemble from the Music Department will precede each tea.

AT THE FRESHMAN Mother's Tea, Miss Pauline VanGorder, dean of girls, will discuss the extra-curricular activities available to South Side students. Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director, will tell about the courses of study open to freshmen, and Mr. Jack

E. Weicker, senior counselor, will discuss the general class rules. The speakers will also answer questions.

Mrs. Evelyn Spray, English instructor, will speak about the developmental reading program at the Sophomore Tea. Mr. Glen Stebing, drivers training teacher, will explain the drivers training program; and Mr. Clair Motz, intramural director, will discuss physical education. Class President Rick Meeks will acquaint the mothers with the activities of the sophomore class.

Mothers of the junior class will hear Mr. Weicker explain college admissions procedures and the testing program for the students. Mr. Clarence Murray, industrial arts teacher, will discuss the shop program. Tonya Hines, class president, will speak about the various activities of the junior class.

AT THE SENIOR Mothers' Tea, the concert choir, under the direction of Mr. Lester Hostetter, will begin the program. Larry Lee, class president, will explain the traditions and the activities of the senior class. Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will present a speech entitled "College and Employment."

"I hope that all the South Side mothers who can possibly come will attend our Fellowship Teas," stated Mrs. V. K. McMahon, PTA president.

Committee chairman Mrs. Ray S. Flagg has announced that Mrs. Patrick Russ, who will head the program committee, will be assisted by Mrs. Ted Hagerman, Mrs. John Martindale, Mrs. John Phelps, and Mrs. William Fruehnticht Jr. Mrs. Curtis Stein will introduce the program chairman.

MRS. JOHN RHINEHART, chairman of the hospitality committee, will be aided by Mrs. Donald Kias, Mrs. Willard Jones, Mrs. Judson West, Mrs. Geoff McEachern, and Mrs. Daniel Hughes.

The membership committee will accept PTA memberships and contributions before and after each tea. Committee members are Mrs. Robert Spencer, chairman, and assistants, Mrs. William Kleifgen, Mrs. E. M. Stanbery, Mrs. D. D. Robinson, Mrs. Herbert Dixon. The membership committee will also sell PTA calendars.

Seniors To Pay $1.50

All seniors desiring to have their pictures in the 1962 Totem must have them taken by October 31. Babette Jones, yearbook editor, stated that each senior must pay a fee of $1.50 to his home-room agent to have his picture printed in the Totem.

Nine Students Obtain Letters Of Recognition

Receiving Letters of Commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, nine seniors have been honored for their high performances on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, a three-hour exam given to junior last spring. The commended students are Shirley Davis, David Flanagan, Kaylene Gebert, William Kleifgen, William Mueller, Robert Ramage, Frederic Schoen, Cheryl Summers, and Ellen Williams.

"The semi-finalists and commended students together constitute less than two per cent of all high school seniors, and this certainly signifies noteworthy achievements," explained Mr. John M. Stalmaker, president of the NMSC.

"The Merit Program has several objectives," Mr. Stalmaker continued. "One is the selection of Merit Scholars. However, it also strives to foster the pursuit of excellence among all students whose high performance indicates great promise. We urge the students honored to make every effort to attend college and to develop to the fullest their promise of achievement."

THE NMSC SENDS NAMES, home addresses, and test results of all commended students to the two colleges they indicated as their preferred choices at the time they took the qualifying test.

Commended students as well as semi-finalists who do not win scholarships are considered for certain other scholarships offered through the facilities of the NMSC.

"I am proud to have received this award," said Bob Ramage, who hopes to attend Purdue University.

"I was quite happy to have received this fine honor," said Fred Schoen. Fred belongs to Hi-Y and Masque and Gavel, and plans to study medicine at DePauw University.

A member of the Library Club, Shirley Davis said, "I am very happy to have received a Letter of Commendation."

Bill Kleifgen expressed his pleasure of receiving a Letter this way, "I was honored and pleased to receive a Letter of Commendation and hope to still further my education." Bill, who is a member of Hi-Y, the Times, and Totem, would like to attend Duke University to study medicine or business.

CHERYL SUMMERS, vice-president of the senior class made this comment, "I am very delighted to have received a Letter of Commendation. I know this will help my chances for entering college."

"I was very pleased and honored to have received a Letter of Commendation," stated Ellen Williams. Ellen plans to go to college and feels this award will help her.

Kaylene Gebert said, "I was greatly honored and surprised to have received this fine award. It signifies the ability of the student and the school. I know this will help me on my way to further education."

Math, Social Studies Instructors To Advise 1961-62 Senior Class

Mr. Samuel Jackson

Mrs. Mildred Luse

Mr. Alfred Hemmer

Mrs. Mildred Luse, mathematics teacher, Mr. Samuel Jackson, and Mr. Alfred Hemmer, social studies instructors, have been selected to serve as senior class advisers by the class officers. The advisers will be in charge of the Senior Reception, the Senior Banquet, Ivy Day, the senior play, the Senior Prom, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Formerly teaching at Hoagland Junior High School, Mrs. Luse, has spent eight years on the faculty of South Side. She has twice been adviser of the junior class and once served in that capacity for the sophomore class.

Mrs. Luse lists as her hobbies her family and fishing trips. She spends much of her leisure time during the summer on midwestern lakes, competing with her husband for catching the most fish.

COMMENTING ABOUT her appointment, Mrs. Luse said, "I consider myself greatly flattered, and I am looking forward to my ensuing experiences with the Class of 1962, its officers and the other advisers."

Mr. Jackson, who teaches government, U.S. history, and citizenship, is only in his second year at South, although he spent three years at Hunterdawn High School. He has not previously served as a class adviser.

An avid sports fan, Mr. Jackson has an interest in most sports and Archer teams in particular. Another of his favorite pastimes is reading, and he is an ardent bridge fan. Furthermore, he spends his leisure time pursuing the game of bowling.

At school, Mr. Jackson is co-sponsor of Know-Your-City Club, a group which is interested in learning about Fort Wayne and taking field trips for that purpose.

"I AM AS GREATLY interested in this excellent senior class as other members of the faculty, and I am looking forward to a great year with the Class of 1962," stated Mr. Jackson.

Another member of the faculty giving his spare time for the senior class is Mr. Hemmer, who teaches U.S. history and citizenship. This is Mr. Hemmer's fourth year on the staff.

Singing is Mr. Hemmer's favorite hobby. He is a member of the baritone section of his church choir, and he has demonstrated his singing skills at several assemblies. While at college, he was honored by being chosen a member of the Purdue Glee Club, with which he toured the country.

Previously, Mr. Hemmer has served as adviser for the sophomore and junior classes.

MR. HEMMER SAID, "I feel greatly honored to be a senior adviser, and I will do my best to carry out my duties."

Larry Lee, president of the senior class, commented about the selection of these advisers, "These teachers, I believe, are all dynamic and enthusiastic individuals and seem genuinely interested in working with the class. I am sure our class will benefit."

Other class officers are Cheryl Summers, vice-president; Diane Fredrick, secretary-treasurer; Sharon Carrel, chairman of the social council; and Debby Brooke and Mark Hagerman, social council members.

An Editorial

Daily Newspapers Symbolize America's 'Doorstep' Freedom

By The General Manager

Freedom on the doorstep! Each day as thousands of presses roll, and likewise millions of newspapers are printed, Americans can enjoy one of America's greatest freedoms, freedom of the press.

The newspaper on the doorstep shows frankness, boldness, and the right to certain privileges. This right is not enjoyed by all countries, and Americans are fortunate to have this freedom.

The interference with what is printed in a newspaper comes from levels within the organization—not from the United States Government. The government does not control the press. For example, if a city newspaper were to criticize the local government, the editor or publisher of the newspaper could reject the story—but the city government could not interfere.

The powers of the press are overwhelming. A glance at the services presented in the daily newspaper emphasizes the need for freedom of the press. Included in the average daily paper are editorials, political cartoons, advertising, amusements, sports, cartoons, radio and television programs, weather reports, market prices, and news.

News must top the list for people buy the paper to learn what is happening. News is one of the greatest powers of freedom—whether it be a small report on the last meeting of the local ladies' club buried on page nine or a front-page spread carrying the announcement of a world leader's death. Whether the news affects only one person or if it affects the entire world—it is news and free from interference by the government when printed.

Russians were recently astounded to read a two-part profile of President John F. Kennedy, written by the New York Post's Editor James A. Wechsler. Without changing a line, Russia's two leading dailies, "Pravda" and "Izvestia" (with a combined circulation of over eight million three hundred thousand), printed the articles. They prefaced the articles with "This article is of definite interest, although the editors cannot agree with some of its propositions." This, to say the least, is unusual.

It will be a sad day in America when only one side is presented. Granted, some of the presentations are exaggerated, ridiculous, and even false, but there are usually two sides presented. If only one side is presented, it usually means that there is only one side to present.

Freedom of the press must continue. As National Newspaper Week is celebrated, Americans must take a stand to reaffirm the strength of the American press. The press must stand as a living symbol of one of America's greatest freedoms . . . freedom on the doorstep.

Mr. Lester L. Grile To Give Speech At Service Club's Annual Potluck

Discussing the broad aspects of service at tonight's annual Service Club Potluck at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria will be Mr. Lester L. Grile, superintendent of the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

Mr. Grile secured his bachelor of arts and master of arts and doctor's degrees in education at Indiana University. He has taught in Gass City, Frankfort, and in Fort Wayne at Harrison Hill, Hoagland, and Bloomingdale Grade School.

After serving as principal at South Wayne and Franklin schools,

Mr. Grile became administrative assistant in 1955. This year he accepted the position of superintendent of the Fort Wayne Community Schools.

DECORATIONS FOR THE tables will be centerpieces of leaves sprayed with gold paint, orange pumpkins, purple grapes, gourds, and brown or orange crepe paper, and the food will be served buffet style.

The Randolph Jacobs Cup will be awarded to an outstanding senior service worker tonight. Those attending the banquet will select the winner by secret ballots. The person who receives the highest number of votes wins the cup. The seniors eligible are Brenda Arnold, Linda Arnold, Judy Ashman, Linda Antibus, Dave Allen, Sheri Busch, Jo Ellen Bobay;

BILL BORGSMANN, Becky Baughman, Sally Bash, Ann Brase, Debby Brooke, Elaine Cole, Cindy Christian, Dennis Cull, Dennis Cook, Jack Carrier, Marcia Dieler, Trudy Estep, Sharon Eitman, Judy Evans;

Elaine Edwards, Diane Fredrick, Sarah Finch, Mary Fowley, Sally Franklin, Carol Fine, Lane Grile, Ann Golden, Kaylene Gebert, Marge Grieser, Sally Gilbert, Bill George;

Diane Hall, Sherry Hall, Susie Hines, Dayna Harader, Terry Hoff, Susi Horth, Elizabeth Hostetler, Brenda Harper, Mary Jane Hake, Bob Hendricksen, Gaylene Hilsmer, Diane Hess;

Pam Hines, Mark Hagerman, Jim Hill, Judy Hutshens, Sue Harrod, Judy Hollister, Louise Jackson, Susan Johns, Babette Jones, Susan Korte, Bill Kleifgen, Mary Keegan, Sue Kelly;

SHARON KRAKOWER, Judith Koop, Jane Ladig, Dian Leath, Frank Lewis, Suzanne Link, Larry Lee, Ken Lowden, Pat Lee, Sharon Lee, Marsha Lepper, Ellen Lowe;

Mary Jane Miller, Jenny Manth, Howard Miller, Sandy McCombs, Sue McGinnis, Judy Merrill, Linda Melchinger, Sandy Miller, Tom McMahon, Lola McLaughlin, Marti Morell;

Terry Nevedorp, John Nickels, Pam Orchard, Tom Plesniak, Fred Plothe, Sue Penland, Bob Ramage, Bonnie Russell, Cynthia Russell, Dave Schele, Mike Seaman, Dale Smith, Earb Spiers; Nettette Simpson, Delores Shadowens, Karen Swygart, Roberta Twitchell, Denny Truitt, Sandy Thorn, Mary Jane Tobey, Roger Vorholzer, Jim Walker, Bill Wilder, Linda Winkleman, and Nadine Wilson.

Students To Submit Original Documents For Poetry Contest

The National Poetry Anthology Contest, which is sponsored by the National Council of English Teachers, continues from now until November 29.

Regional anthologies are published each spring. This region includes five mid-western states. Poems from junior and senior high schools are published. Any student from grades seven through twelve is eligible to compete.

The poems must be original and must be written during the school year either as a class assignment or as an outside project. However, they must be approved by the student's teacher. A student may submit, with the approval of an English teacher, as many poems as he wishes.

ANY SUBJECT and poetic form may be used for the poems. The poems should not be longer than 20 lines.

Certificates of recognition are sent to the pupils whose entries are accepted. On Recognition Day, students whose entries have been published in the anthology will be recognized.

All poems to be judged this semester should be sent by the English teachers to Miss Mary Graham in Room 54 by November 27.

The National Poetry Association publishes, during the summer after the regional anthologies come out, another book in which they print, for a second time, about three hundred poems that the judges consider the best in the United States.

EVERY FIVE YEARS the National Poetry Association publishes a hard-cover book which includes what the judges consider the best student poetry printed during the previous five years.

"Any student, regardless of grade classification, is welcome to submit his poetry to his English teacher," stated Miss Graham, head of the contest at South Side.

Senior B Sandra Yaggy To Present Composition

Senior Sandra Yaggy, pianist, has added to her various musical talents by writing an original musical composition. Having considered the idea for quite some time, she completed "Cryptograms" at the beginning of the summer.

She wrote the music at the suggestion of a counselor of the Student Music Guild of the Morning Musical, an organization of Fort Wayne high school students interested in music. The Morning Musical organization, the largest in the whole country, is part of the National Federation of Music Clubs.

"Cryptograms" will be presented by the Student Music Guild Orchestra, which was recently organized. Written in four parts, it was composed entirely for the orchestra and has no piano music in it. The orchestra is composed of approximately twenty-three members.

So far, the orchestra has had three rehearsals under the direction of Mr. Loren Yaggy, Sandra's father. They plan to play for the January 22 recital of the Student Guild, which will be open to the public.

Students To Give Money

Contributions to the United Fund will be taken in the homerooms this morning. Students are requested to give 25 cents per person. The United Fund solicitation is the only drive in which South Side students are asked to participate.

Seniors To Compete For College Awards

Seniors are eligible to compete for the 100 four-year scholarships offered by General Motors under its National Scholarship Plan, according to Mr. Jack E. Weicker, senior guidance counselor.

The competition is open to young men and women who are high school seniors and United States citizens. Interested students must make application for both the G.M. National Scholarship and the Scholastic Aptitude Test of College Boards. Applicants may take the SAT either December 2 or January 13, 1962.

At least one G.M. award is offered in each state, the District of Columbia, and Puerto Rico. Those awarded scholarships under this G.M. national plan may pursue any course of study and attend any accredited college or university.

Selection of award winners is made by a group of leading educators representing various parts of the country. This is the eighth year the National Scholarships have been offered by G.M.

Under its college plan, General Motors also offers 305 four-year college scholarships, which are awarded annually by 182 colleges and universities located in 50 states and the District of Columbia. A list of the participating colleges may be obtained from the senior guidance office.

Selection of award winners under the college plan is made by the respective colleges and universities. Students wishing to be considered under this plan should apply directly to the college of their choice. Awards under both plans range from $200 to $2,000 each year depending on the student's needs.

This fall 1,630 students will be sponsored by G.M. in 219 colleges and universities under its college plans.

KYC To Present Party

A Halloween party will highlight the October 31 meeting of the Know-Your-City Club at 3:30 p.m. in Room 110. Special games have been planned for the occasion, and an appropriate story will be read.

Students To Submit Materials For Pegasus Writing Contest

The South Side Times is sponsoring a Pegasus writing contest for all members of the student body, according to an announcement by Jenny Manth, editor, and Kaylene Gebert, associate editor.

Entries must be original work submitted for one of the three contest categories—poetry, short story, and essay or editorial. Winning articles in each division will be published in the literary magazine's winter issue, and their authors will receive $3 prizes.

Judges for the contest will be Miss Mary Graham and Miss Lucy Osborne, English instructors; Jenny, Kaylene, and Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser. Entries must be submitted to either Kaylene or Jenny by November 10 in Room 16.

THE AUTHOR'S name, classification, and a title must be on all material. Students may submit an unlimited number of entries. The material should be typed if possible.

Judges reserve the right to edit all copy, and no copy will be returned. Winners will be announced in the Pegasus, which will be distributed after Christmas vacation.

"We want to emphasize that we will

Individualism Has Benefits, Requires Strength Courage

When advertisements and sales pitches are presented to the public, one cannot escape the message, "Use this product because nine out of ten leading persons prefer it." Wherever an individual turns, he hears the chant, "Conform! Adjust! Fit in with the group."

Individualism—the quality that characterizes each individual—what has happened to it? Is it as out-moded as high-button shoes and cobblestone streets? It has been warned that if today's citizens continue to plod along the well-beaten path, the dead end of blind conformity will soon be reached. Along the way, much talent, possible leadership ability, and freedom will be sacrificed.

Individualists cannot be weak and fainthearted. They must know how and when to make decisions—and stick to them. This ability requires iron will, a keen mind, and willingness to accept the consequences when a stand is taken on a certain subject.

For example, suppose a student sees his best friend using "crib notes" during a test. After class the cheater explains he didn't have the time to study because he was socializing the previous evening. Should the honest friend assert his individualism and tell the cheater of his wrong-doing? There is a chance that the friendship might come to an end, but is a friend of that type really a person with whom to be associated? To be an individualist also has other rewards.

To operate in terms of one's true personality is perfectly natural, comforting, and satisfying. It permits a person to be creative and to use his capacities fully. As an individualist, a person has only one competitor—his own self. In that way, his progress cannot be slowed down to the pace of another person's.

An individual will not be forced to choose a life's work that is beyond his ability. He will select the vocation that corresponds to his likings, even though it is not "the thing to do" in his family. If a person chooses his own life's work, he will find enjoyment in working toward, as well as achieving, his goal.

Doctor Jonas Salk is an excellent example of this fact. For six years, he worked 16 hours a day to perfect the polio vaccine. Obviously he enjoyed his work or he could not have worked so intently and enthusiastically for such a period of time. This illustrates how being an individualist can be very rewarding. If one chooses a vocation with which he is not satisfied, his entire life could very easily be ruined.

But then there is the question of how far one can go in being an individualist. One can only go so far in being his own self, without being careless of others' feelings. He should always act according to his true personality, not being offbeat in his behavior. The genuine individualist should not stand against most everything, treating insignificant details like world issues.

There is no pat formula for deciding if individualism is worthwhile, but there are methods for uncovering one's real character traits and encouraging him to be himself. A person should ask himself how many of his characteristics and thoughts are being borrowed from other people. These should be eliminated in favor of his own.

Others should be granted the privilege of being individuals too. If a person seems "different," it doesn't follow that he is odd or unworthy of respect.

To be an individual, one must follow a rough, steep course. A person cannot be preoccupied with wealth, popularity, or security. In fact, these elements of life may have to be sacrificed along the way. However, these sacrifices should be balanced with life's challenges and responsibilities that are met by the new individual. It will be discovered that the scales will tip heavily with personally satisfying rewards.—By Sarah Finch

Senior Summary

Points Per
Prominent Persons

Sandy Horstman . . . age, 17 . . . hair, black . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, light blue . . . pastime, having fun . . . sport, football . . . fad, bracelets . . . subject, typing . . . TV show, "Doctor Kildare" . . . singer, Bobby Darin . . . record, "Hit the Road Jack" . . . book, "Miracle of the Bells" . . . actor, Jimmy Stuart . . . future plans, private secretary . . . pet peeve, people who try to be something they aren't.

Evert Mol . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blond . . . eyes, blue . . . height, six feet . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . fad, collecting records . . . pastime, listening to records . . . activity, Letterman's Club . . . sport, track . . . TV show, "Jack Parr" . . . record, "Mexico" . . . singer, Harry Belafonte . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . subject, chemistry . . . actress, Liz Taylor . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, moochers.

Trudy Estep . . . age, 17 . . . hair, red . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, eight inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, blue . . . fad, colored knee socks . . . subject, BOM . . . pastime, reading . . . activity, Service Club . . . sport, football . . . TV show, "My Three Sons" . . . record, "The Way You Look Tonight" . . . singers, The Platters . . . actor, Paul Newman . . . book, "War and Peace" . . . future plans, dental technician . . . pet peeve, tight shoes.

Jack Harter . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, six feet, two inches . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, steak, pizza . . . color, hondas maroon . . . fad, being bad . . . pastime, dancing . . . activity, horsing around Miller's . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, shop . . . TV show, "Dr. Ben Casey" . . . record, "You Don't Know" . . . singer, Rol Donner . . . actor, Charleton Heston . . . future plans, work . . . pet peeve, snobs.

Terry Newendrop . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, hazel . . . height, six feet, one inch . . . course, college . . . favorites: foods, steak, lobster . . . color, green . . . fad, burning down club houses . . . pastime, playing football . . . activity, Hi-Y . . . sport, football . . . subjects, chemistry, math . . . TV show, "Twilight Zone" . . . record, "Runaround Sue" . . . singers, Kingston Trio . . . future plans, college . . . book, "Crime and Punishment" . . . pet peeve, poor drivers and people who jump to conclusions.

Craig Miller . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, six feet . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, light mignon . . . color, red . . . fad, tennis shoes . . . pastime, dances . . . sport, basketball . . . activity, school . . . subject, chemistry . . . TV show, "Ozzie and Harriet" . . . record, "Everlovin'" . . . singer, Ricky Nelson . . . actor, Bob Cummings . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, smoking.

Foolish Frosh Wins Classmates' Votes, Teachers' Disgust

By Martha Lanning

Zordinda was a freshman who had just entered high school. She could do everything—climb ramps, infuriate teachers, cut classes—you name it; she could do it. In fact, she was so gifted that her friends called her "Zorro."

One day she discovered a book on how to get ahead in life, particularly in high school. She found it most helpful. The first bit of advice for true success, "Cheat on all tests," proved to be a great boon; Zorro got the highest test grades in all her classes. Of course, it never mattered that each of her dishonest acts made her unpopular in the eyes of those who witnessed them.

DISREGARDING HER initial failure (she had not achieved the desired results with her cheating), Zorro continued with her readings until she came upon the next handy hint for life in the Big World, the chapter entitled "Insult and Deceive All Who Would Be Your Friends" or "Anything for a Laugh."

With great relish Zorro proceeded to spread choice bits of gossip. She made fun of everybody who looked or spoke in a manner different from her own. Especially satisfying were the laughs she got when ridiculing others.

ZORRO CLIMAXED her many successes when she pursued the final chapter in her book, "How to Polish Apples." Her full energies were now devoted to hanging around teachers after school and trying to win their favor by gushing over each one. Most annoyed were the teachers in whose classes she was slipping, for they received a concentrated attack. More devastating was Zorro's effort to sign up for "service work" in these fields of influence.

Needless to say, her shining example of meeting life and its problems was a big hit. At the close of the school year, Zorro was voted by her freshman class, "Girl Most Likely to Succeed."

Do You Know . . . When South Side was first opened in 1922, there was a total enrollment of 782 students. Today there are 2,020 enrolled.

In 1922, there were only 38 faculty members; today there are 90.

There is now a total number of 80 schools in the city of Fort Wayne.

The first newspaper printed in the city was "The Weekly Times and Peoples' Press," published in January of 1845.

Fort Wayne, "the city of churches" now has 142 churches.

It Sounds Reasonable . . .

Has anyone got any new excuses for excluding pupils?

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

"Should old acquaintance be forgot . . ." Tearfully, we bid a fond "au revoir" to Miss Martha Lanning, ex-Teens and Tangles contributor who will be writing a humorous column in the Times; and with a trumpet fanfare, we welcome Sue Harrod to the Royal Society of Teen and Tangles Writers. Her first contribution is this bit of wit:

Definition of a psychoceramic: a crackpot.

Say! How do you like South Side's new mascot (compliments of Cheryl Summers)? Granted it's the right color (green), but an octopus? Really!

For sale: 3/5 of a season ticket good only for the September 29 South-North game. Contact Mike Levy for a lawn-mower mutilated ticket!

Life's most embarrassing moments are often remembered as the funniest (or are they?). Take, for example, the time Mr. Billiard found Mr. Thomas Compton deeply engrossed in a Mad magazine!

Writing on scraps of dry cleaners' bags rather than stationery, Larry Lee and Lyall Morrill have struck up quite a correspondence of late. These priceless messages are, "Hi, Lyall!" and "Hi, Larry!"

Culture at South Side: Barrie McCombs appearing in "Becket" and Mike Ferveda in the percussion section of the Philharmonic Orchestra. Sore-footed ushers at the Philharmonic included Fran Krandle, Sue Seigel, and Monica Cramer. Don't worry, girls, we'll never tell you took your shoes off when no one was looking.

Who is South's safest driver? Well, there are so many, it's really hard to determine; but we feel that some of the more qualified candidates are the following:

Dian Leath for running a red light right in front of a police car.

Eria Rose for backing into a tree in Linda Seibel's driveway—poor tree.

Cindy Christman for driving on the curb down the Bluffton Road.

Nancy Robinson for driving through Julie Wadlington's front lawn.

Bob Miller for unbelievable reasons—just ask him.

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's—the Sharon Davis' pen exploding and flying through the air in Miss Jeanne Smith's French class. The only object in the missile's path of destruction was Tonya Hines.

Mr. Hemmer: Why were the Dark Ages so named?

Karl Krause: Because there were so many knights.

Latest fads: Dollar bill rings—see Lois Lerch. The dollar bill must be provided.

Custom-made steering wheel covers—see Nanette Simpson.

Every day, Nancy Stewart faces the same earth-shaking problem. Which book should she stand on so she can see the mirror in the girls' locker room? Any large-size contributions would be deeply appreciated!

Wanted: instructions on how to change a diaper by Susi "Big Sis" Hines.

Brain teaser: How can Jimmy take home eleven gallons of water to his mother when he has only an eight-gallon can and a five-gallon can with which to measure and carry the water?

Thought for the day: You can be as tall as she is—stand on her kneecaps!

Alumni News

By Lynelle Dill

Cindy Miller, '61, is a freshman at Purdue University and has been chosen to play three roles in the Purdue musical called "Salad Daze."

Fleanor Dinius, '57, was graduated last June from the University of Michigan. She is now in San Francisco, working at the Bank of America.

Melinda Moravec Marshall, '57, and Ty Marshall, '57, have been blessed with a son, Ervin Kimberly, who was born last July. They both graduated from Iowa and now Ty is taking graduate work in law at the University of Michigan.

John Somers, '61, has been pledged by Beta Theta Pi Fraternity at DePauw University. In the fall football practice, John was injured and returned to Fort Wayne to have a leg operation.

Fred Musser, '61, has been pledged by the Alpha Tau Omega Fraternity at DePauw University. Fred is attending DePauw University on a scholarship.

Beverly Ann Backstrom, '57, now living in Nashville, Tenn., has been awarded a U.S. Public Health Service traineeship covering full tuition and all expenses to Emory University Graduate School of Nursing, Atlanta, Ga. She received the Bachelor of Science Degree magna cum laude from Evansville College in 1961, where she was elected to membership in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

Charles Weinraub, '61, recently began studies at the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md. Chuck is a pre-medical major.

The engagement of Miss Judith Little to Kenneth Myers, '67, has been announced. Mr. Myers attended Purdue University, is a graduate of International College, and is employed by Delmer and Lipp. The couple plans a December 2 wedding at the First Presbyterian Church.

Jim VaChon, '58, is again a key figure in the Western Michigan University football line. VaChon, a senior, has won two varsity letters and plays either guard or tackle.

The engagement of Barbara Ann Hamilton, '59, to William Guthrie has been announced. The bride-elect attended the Ravenscroft Beauty College. She is presently employed by the Mary Ann Beauty Salon. The wedding will be January 13.

Mary Johns, '57, was a June graduate from the University of Michigan where she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa. She is presently getting her master's degree in history at the University of California in Berkeley, Calif.

Richard Boergert, '59, is a junior at Indiana University and is a member of the Acacia Fraternity. He is active in the Advanced Air Force ROTC with possibilities of becoming a jet pilot.

Allen Steere, '61, visited James Carter, '61, former Times general manager, last week end. Allen, a freshman at Columbia University in New York, visited Jim, a freshman at Yale, and was a spectator at the Columbia-Yale football game last week end.

Stan Redding, '61, has pledged Theta Chi at the University of Michigan and is working on the school's daily newspaper.

John M. Stein, '61, has pledged Phi Sigma Delta at the University of Michigan. John is participating on the volleyball, soccer, and rugby intramural teams.

Looking To 1964

Antiquated State Laws Prevent Americans From Casting Votes

By The General Manager

At least sixteen million United States citizens of voting age were unable to participate in last November's election which elected John F. Kennedy President.

Ancient state, county, and district residence requirements, many adopted over a century ago, present the greatest single barrier to voting. It appears that it is no longer so much a problem to get the citizens out to vote; the problem is that the answer to "Get out and vote!" is "But I can't vote."

Reader's Digest published the fantastic number of voters who were unable to vote. An estimated eight million voters out of the thirty-three million people who moved last year were disfranchised in the November elections.

Inadequate absentee-balling systems in many states prevented the casting of millions of votes. Approximately two and a half million citizens who were traveling couldn't vote. Five million others who were sick, hospitalized, or disabled, found it impossible in some states, or extremely difficult in others, to vote by absentee ballot. Added to these non-voters are an estimated five hundred thousand citizens living abroad.

NEVER WAS THE importance of absentee voting as important as it was during the last election. It was dramatized when California, counted safely in the Kennedy column the day after election, swung its vote to former Vice-President Richard Nixon when the absentee ballots were counted.

Residence-requirement victims include employees of oil companies, chain stores, large corporations that transfer employees constantly from state to state, and engineers and managers who are on the move. A General Electric spokesman reports that approximately six per cent of the company's executive personnel were disfranchised in 1960 because of shifts. This usually disfranchises two votes, sometimes more.

Voting requirements differ and probably are lost because people do not realize that their moving will affect their voting. The minimum length of United States citizenship before voting is one month in Pennsylvania; three months in Minnesota, New York, and Utah; six months in New Hampshire; one year in California, Colorado, Delaware, North Carolina, and Virginia; and five years in Arkansas and South Dakota.

There are residency requirements in all the states. The requirement is six months in Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, and Oregon; and two years in Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi, Rhode Island, and South Carolina. All others have a one-year requirement.

RESIDENCY IN THE county where voting varies from a period of 40 days to one year, with the six-month period being the most popular. Living from ten days to one year in the particular district where voting is the requirement; a one-month period is the most common.

Literacy tests have been adopted in 13 states including Alabama in 1946; Arizona, 1912; Connecticut, 1856; Delaware, 1897; Georgia, 1877; Maine, 1892; New Hampshire, 1905; New York, 1921; North Carolina, 1901; Oregon, 1924; South Carolina, 1895; Virginia, 1902, and Wyoming, 1899.

The non-partisan American Heritage Foundation is conducting a nationwide educational program on the need to modernize the antiquated election laws and thus protect the right of all qualified citizens to vote. They suggest that the following suggestions be given careful consideration.

Reduce state residence requirements for local, state, and Congressional elections to six months, and county requirements to 30 days.

PROTECT THE MOBILE voter by reducing state residence requirements for voting for President and Vice-President or adopt arrangements that allow a new resident to vote for President if he can meet all other requirements and can show that he was a qualified voter in the state of his previous residence.

Permit voters moving within a state to vote in all elections in person or by absentee ballot in their former election district, should moving disqualify them from voting in the new district.

Allow absentee voting by mail in both primary and general elections by all citizens of voting age who are away from their city or state on election day.

Extend absentee-voting privileges to the hospitalized, sick, disabled, and others unable to get to the polls.

MAKE IT POSSIBLE for all citizens of voting age outside the United States to obtain absentee ballots sufficiently in advance so that the ballots may arrive at election boards before election day.

Allow citizens away from the county or state during registration periods—for example, the five hundred thousand Americans abroad—to register by mail.

A New York Herald Tribune editorial said, "State legislatures can correct this before 1964, if they will. The danger is that, elections past, the disfranchised will be forgotten until again it's too late. It's high time the legislatures got busy and set the laws right."

Possibly, uniformity is the answer. If not, consideration for the United States citizen as a voter is.

UNICEF Furnishes Money, Aid, Helps Underprivileged Children

The United Nations' International Children's Emergency Fund, UNICEF, gives aid to 80 per cent of the world's children who are underfed and under-clothed because they live in countries where the per capita annual income is less than one hundred dollars.

This organization believes that every child born into this world is entitled to the best that mankind can give.

Special recognition is given this fact in the preamble of the Declaration of the Rights of the Child, adopted by the United Nations General Assembly on November 20, 1959.

After carefully noting the special needs of the child because of his physical and mental immaturity, the Declaration proclaims in ten clearly stated principles the rights of every child.

AMONG THE STANDARDS that it sets forth are the necessity for the child's special protection and the need for him to develop in a healthy and normal manner.

It further states that the child shall have a name and a nationality from his birth; that he shall have adequate nutrition, housing, recreation, and medical services; that, if he is handicapped, he shall receive special treatment, education, and care.

It says that the child shall grow up in the care of his parents; that he shall be among the first to receive aid in times of disaster; that he shall be protected against neglect, cruelty, and exploitation; and that he shall be protected from practices of race discrimination.

UNICEF WAS originally established in December, 1946, to provide for the emergency needs of children in the areas devastated by World War II. It was financed by the contributions of the member countries of the United Nations.

Its work among the destitute children of the world was so effective, that in 1953, it was made a permanent organization of the UN under its present name, the United Nations Children's Fund.

This agency of the UN provides not only for the basic nutritional and clothing requirements of the children of the underdeveloped countries, but it also supplies the medical aid necessary to prevent such communicable diseases as tuberculosis, whooping cough, and diphtheria.

At present, UNICEF is providing supplies, equipment, and technical training for millions of children and mothers in more than one hundred countries and territories throughout the world.

Diary Shows Daily Occurrences In Life Of Observant Teenager

Dear Diary,

Well, today was a very ordinary day, diary. Not much happened at all. As I came charging into school at four minutes after eight, I ran right into Pam Punskey, Jim Leither, Dian Hall, Kenny Kleinschmidt, Jo Ellen Bobay, and Allen Sheldon. Crash! As everybody's books went flying, Eileen Mayle, Curt Holley ('61), Barb Spiera, Mike Stedje, Margee Terry, and Bob Wasson waddled over to help pick them up.

Fourth period, when I finally made it over to Miller's for lunch, Tom Erb, Ron Hege, Rick Werling, Dave Meek, Terry Hoff, and Tom Frazell were standing in one corner discussing what plays were going to be used in the game tonight. Meanwhile Kathy DeVore, Liz Ellis, Cheryl Lee, Sharon Graffis, Louise Brown, and Mary Jane Hake listened and also discussed the plays that they were going to make tonight!

Trying to do their homework in another corner were Debby Brooke, Bob Hendricks, Judy Evans, Dave Wallace, Janet Bunsold, Steve Leitz, Martha Dixon, and Karl Bandemer. I don't know how they ever did it, especially when Annell Hoover, Dave Tipton, Susie Lawry, Mike Tomkinson, Barrie Spear, Jim Grove (North Side), Erin Rose, Jon Van Gunten (Purdue), Mary Ellen Hite, and Bob Herzog kept pestering them so much!

Wildly discussing Doug Shock (Ball State), Bob Ramage, Jon Lyon, and Don Eisenacher ('61), were Cindy Miller, Susie Bumgardner, Karen Franks, and Nancy Nordeen.

In the fourth and last corner there was, of course, another group talking about sports. However, this group was not made up of males, but instead, females! Marcia Anderson and Sue Moyer were debating how well those two Hilsmer boys, Don and Dale, would do this season in basketball, while Tonya Hines and Jan Spuller were discussing the same subject; but their talk centered around Gary Probst and Tom Marshall.

The game tonight was really the most! Yelling the loudest were Dian Bright, Bill Honeck (North Side), Linda Kattness, George Smith (Central), Marie McCombs, Gary Gemmer (Central), Jeannie Gentis (Elmhurst), and Mike Seaman. I'll never know how those Archers got that Redskin, the Trojan, and those two Tigers to cheer for our team; but they sure were yelling at the tops of their lungs! Also cheering for halfback Nate Norment and tackle Bob Bartel were Sharyn Yerger and Lonnie McLaughlin (Elmhurst). Ahh, what a game!

On my way home I passed Maria Marshall, Tad McKay, Judi Smith, and Rick Nelsly walking slowly home. I certainly hope they made it!

Sweet dreams, dear diary

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879, authorized October 3, 1917, special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 10, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager Sandy Thorn
Managing Editor Roberta Twitchell
Copy Editors Jenny Manth, Ann Golden, Sally Mallowch, Janet Crenn, Sue Kelley, Barb Nelson, Larry Lee
News Editor Beth Burnett
Feature Editor Sue Smith
Editorial Editor Sarah Finch
Sports Editor Stuart Schmitz
Girls' Sports Editor Jan Nahrwald
Make-Up Editors Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Larry Lee
Picture Editor Kathy DeVore
Photographers Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman
Head Typist Marcy Terry
Business Manager Sue Kelley
Assistant Business Manager Pat Bailey
Advertising Manager Barb Altvogt
Circulation Manager Sue Burdick
Circulation Assistant Sue Smith
Circulation Assistants Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilmer, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betsy Adams, James Rohrbach
Faculty Adviser

MINOR STAFF

New Writers David Flannan, Ann Flickinger, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Sharon McPachery, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Julie Rhinehart, Bonnie Strehlow, Margee Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzef, Perry Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Connor, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Kathy Kline, Jane Kettle, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Susan Smith, Patty Somers, Nancy Stewart, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaYonne Costanzo, Marcia Decker, Debbie Decker, Karen Franka, Christine Froehentlich, Mary Graham, Sharon Hardy, Sue Klingerman, Stephen Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Larry Norman, Ann O'Callaghan, Mary O'Connell, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Welkart.
Feature Writers Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Melody Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Susan Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Zart, pol, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suedling, Becky Hazzard, Barb Bussard, Cheryl Criss, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCullister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Klineberg, Marie Kattness, Sue Smith, Jeannie Gentis, Marian Johnson, Karen Franka, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Louanne Ford, Liz Welkart, Sue Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Judy Shurtle, Beth Bradford, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Mary Robbins, Doris Atzef, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jane Kettle, Ann Henderson, Mary Bide, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baumhann, Bonnie Russell, Carol Ladig, Gail Brumm, Karen Savelly, Janis Sprunger, Kay Bradley, Eric Heibner.
Editorial Writers Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCullister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Froehentlich, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudry, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stansberry, Sue Harsh, Sue Kline, Carol Ladig, Larry Norman, Paul Mitzelstedt, Stephen Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Howard, Jane Kettle, Annell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haegezer, Lynelle Dill.
Copy Readers Flannan, Karen Minkin Christie Genneman, Ann Gallmeier, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Douglas Hansen, Sharyn Yerger, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Somers, Margee Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore.
Boys' Sports Writers Bill Kleefgen, Roger Post, Bob Leininger, Kerry Wollinger, Stephen Lowens, Jon Pol, Bill Hestetter, Terry Wollinger.
Ad Solicitors Cynthia Snider, Barb Nelson, Alice Haegezer, Marlene Rineberger, Dan Schwartz, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Julie Rhinehart, Pat Bailey, Mary Reiff, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Kathy Hartz, Mary Robbins, Judy Shurtle, Beth Bradford, Julie Neumanweaver, Phyllis Plesner, Karen Finckoff, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Otis, Cindy Jackson, Donna Summers, Linda Seibel, Louanne Ford, Sue Geris, Kay Faith, Brenda Dill, Harriet Ochstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Sharon Krakower, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finelli, Janis Sprunger, Karen Franks, Ruth Russ, Liz Welkart.

Jones, Carrel, Newendorp, Mueller Students To Appear On 'Hi-Quiz,' To Compete With Luers' Knights

Contestants To Answer
Queries; High Scorers
To Return Next Week

Babette Jones, Sharon Carrel, Terry Newendorp, and Bill Mueller, seniors, will compete with the Bishop Luers team on Hi-Quiz, WANE-TV high school contest, Sunday at 5:30 p.m. The alternates will be Larry Lee and Ann Petrie.

The opposition includes Barb Schmoll, Jim Snyder, Judy Dylhuicen, and Steve Ottewill.

Last Sunday on Hi-Quiz, Bishop Luers defeated Central Catholic 210-205.

The participants for Central Catholic High School were Mike Gladieux, Joel Quercus, Jim O'Dwyer, and Jim DeWald. These people are seniors, and the senior round will continue until November 19.

MR. JIM JACKSON, quizmaster, briefly explained the game. For every challenge question 10 points are given to the team who answers the question correctly. Then a premium question for varied amounts of points is asked. At the end of the game, the team with the highest number of points wins. They in turn appear the next week against another team.

At the end of the first quarter, the score was 70 to 60 in Bishop Luers' favor. In the second quarter, first one team, then the other would be ahead. The second quarter ended with Bishop Luers still in the lead 130 to 125.

During the half time, Mr. Jackson talked to each person about his school subjects, his ambitions, and his plans for the future.

The third quarter began with both teams missing the challenge question. Central Catholic pulled ahead, and the third quarter ended with Central Catholic leading 185 to 180.

In the fourth quarter Bishop Luers again took the lead, and the game ended with Bishop Luers the victor, 210 to 205.

MR. JACK WEICKER, senior counselor, chose the South Side participants on the basis of being top-flight students, outstanding in several activities, and on the recommendation of other teachers. Also considered were a person's poise, personality, and ability to win or lose gracefully.

HI-QUIZ WHIZZES... South Side's representatives for the local Hi-Quiz television show are, sitting left to right, Ann Petrie, alternate, Sharon Carrel, Babs Jones; standing left to right, Larry Lee, alternate, Terry Newendorp, and Bill Mueller.—Photo by Lowden

Mr. Weicker felt that there were many other students capable of being on Hi-Quiz, and it was a very difficult choice. Later contestants for the junior team will be chosen for the same qualities as the seniors.

Terry Newendorp stated that he was very surprised and pleased to be chosen as part of the South Side team. He is particularly studying the newspaper and current events, which he feels are his weak points, in preparation for Hi-Quiz. Terry is taking Special Math 7, English 7, Chemistry 1, and Government 1.

Bill Mueller also feels greatly honored and pleased to represent South Side. Bill is taking Latin 7, English 7, Special Math 7, Chemistry 1, and Government 1. He was also on the Hi-Quiz team last year.

"I am really thrilled and honored to be chosen to be on Hi-Quiz. I hope I can contribute much for South Side," stated Sharon Carrel. She is currently taking English 8, French 3, Government 2, and Concert Choir.

BABS JONES ALSO stated that she was pleased and honored to be chosen as part of South Side's Hi-Quiz team. She is mainly studying current events and geography in preparation for Hi-Quiz. Babs' subjects in school are Special Math 7, Special English 7, Government 1, and Latin 7.

"I'm really thrilled and surprised to be chosen as an alternate," commented Larry Lee. "I look on this experience as a real challenge and hope that South can pull through with team honors." Larry is taking English 7, Chemistry 1, Speech 1, French 3, and Government 1. Larry is brushing up on his current events and geography for Hi-Quiz.

Ann Petrie stated that she was thrilled to be chosen and would try to do her best. Ann's school subjects are Government 1, English 7, Algebra 4, Chemistry 1, and French 3.

Members Of Publication Staffs Attend City Newspaper Dinner

In observance of National Newspaper Week, October 15-21, nineteen members of the Times and Totem staffs attended a dinner last Tuesday as guests of Fort Wayne Newspapers, Inc. at their local plant. The national observance has as its theme, "Your Newspaper: Heritage of Truth, Frontier of Freedom."

Students attending the dinner included Sandy Thorn, Jenny Manth, Sue Kelley, Babs Jones, Diane Fredrick, Ann Golden, Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Sarah Finch, Stu Schmitz, Sue Smith, Dick Parke, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Roberta Twitchell, Sue Burdick, Kathy DeVore, Larry Lee, and Terry Newendorp.

THE JOURNALISTS were served dinner in the newspaper company's cafeteria and then moved on to the second floor meeting room to view the film strip, "Your Newspaper Team," which depicted the aspects of newspaper work.

After the showing of the film, the students were given an opportunity to ask questions concerning the operation of a newspaper. Fort Wayne Newspaper department heads who were present to answer inquiries were

Mr. Park Williams, city editor of the Journal-Gazette; Mr. Bob Johnston, business and advertising manager for Fort Wayne Newspapers; Mr. Ralph Heckman, circulation manager; and Mr. Bill Good, classified advertising manager.

Following the film and discussion, the students toured the newspaper building, observing the News-Sentinel going to press.

IN ADDITION TO the South Side journalists, students from Concordia Lutheran High School and Central High School, accompanied by their advisers, attended the Tuesday dinner. On Monday, the Journal-Gazette hosted students from Elmhurst, Central Catholic, and Bishop Luers High Schools.

Mr. Robert Adams, promotion manager and public relations director for Fort Wayne Newspapers, arranged the journalism programs.

Miss Edith Crowe's Room Leads School In Banking

A total of $183.76 was banked by 32 rooms last week. Miss Edith Crowe's Room 22 banked $29.35 to top the list. Miss Mary Crowe's Room 142 received second place in the banking competition with $16.50. Mr. Clair Motz's Room S-4 was next with a total of $14. The students in Mrs. Myrtle Grimshaw's Room 92 placed fourth with a total of $11.50. Mr. Thomas Compton's Room 88 banked $10, and Miss Olive Perkins' Room 90 banked $8.30.

The banking program is offered to the students during homeroom period every Tuesday. It is designed so that the students can easily bank and save their earnings.

Latin Club To Give Play

A play concerning the life of Julius Caesar will be presented by Sophomores Stanley Moreo, Bob Quick, Kenny Clausen, and Doug Hansen at the meeting of Societas Latina, Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. in Room 112. Refreshments will be served.

Graves & Hageman, Inc.

Commercial Floor Covering Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

Wanted—Alive

SALES BOYS OR GIRLS
TO SELL SKATING
PARTIES FOR

KREE'S RINK ON COMMISSION BASIS

See Les Kreigh
at the Rink

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO—

T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford

H-2185

General Mills Company Plans Homemaker Test For Seniors

General Mills will sponsor the Betty Crocker Homemaker Contest, which is open to all senior girls to take on December 5 at 3:30 p.m. in Room 84.

This test, which will cover all phases of homemaking, has been divided into five sections including the homemaker as an individual, the homemaker and her husband, the homemaker and her home, the homemaker and her children, and the homemaker and her community.

EACH GIRL COMPETING in the contest will receive a copy of "Betty Crocker's Guide to Homemaking." She will also have a greater appreciation of problems she will face as a homemaker and a desire to gain greater knowledge of how to solve them.

The test is given to stimulate a greater interest in homemaking. Each test contains 125 multiple-choice questions based on all subjects and one essay question.

Certified by character and reputation, the winner will be invited to attend the state competition. She will also receive a "Homemaker of Tomorrow" award pin. The state winner receives a $1,500 scholarship and a tour at General Mills in May of 1962. The second place winner will be given a $500 scholarship.

THE NATIONAL homemaker will receive an increase in her scholarship to $3,000. Second place winner will be granted an increase in her scholarship to $4,000, and the third place winner will be granted an increase in her scholarship to $2,000. The school of each state winner will be given a set of the "Encyclopedia Britannica."

Janice Ferber, '60, was South Side's Homemaker of Tomorrow last year.

Girls interested in taking the Betty Crocker Homemaker test should see Miss Pearl Rehorth in Room 84 before October 27.

Pupils Commit 12 Infractions Of Auto Rules

Twenty-four high school student traffic violations were committed during September according to Lt. Roland E. Miller, director of school safety, and Officer Robert Waldrop, high school liaison officer.

Of these 24 violations, South Side had the highest total with 12, Bishop Luers had two, Concordia had none, Central had two, Central Catholic had one, North Side had four, and Elmhurst had one.

Seven violations were reckless driving. These violations were committed in the city limits. South Side students made three of the seven violations; North Side made one; Bishop Luers made one; Central made one; the others had none.

SEVEN VIOLATIONS were given for speeding. South received four of the total violations for speeding. The only other school with violations was North Side with four violations.

A total of three violations were made by the teenagers of Fort Wayne for not having an operators license. One South student committed this violation. Central Catholic had one violation as did Central.

Three violations were given because of improper use of alleys. "South students made all of these violations because they used the alley behind the school for a short-cut," stated Officer Waldrop.

TWO VIOLATIONS WERE made for having improper license plates and not having the proper registration for the cars. One of these was made by a South student. If a person receives 12 violations during a three year period his license will be taken away.

"It is a real tragedy when teenagers don't take time to realize that it takes care and good judgment to be able to drive a car. The responsibility not only lies on the teenager, but also on the adults," commented Officer Waldrop.

Students To Obtain Financial Programs

To gain specific information on numerous scholarship and financial aid programs, students should consult Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, in Room 102.

Scholarships offered include the Procter and Gamble Scholarships, University of Colorado, Harvard University, California Institute of Technology, Manchester College, Wabash College Scholarship, National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students, Boston University, Huntington College, Capital University, Rockford College, Illinois Institute of Technology, National Presbyterian College Scholarships, Aid Association for Lutherans to Valparaiso University, Printing and Publishing Industry National Scholarship Program, the Sperry and Hutchinson Company National Scholarships; Lutheran Laymen's League Scholarships to Valparaiso University, Sweet Briar College Freshman Scholarships, The School of Business of Northwestern University, F. C. Austin Scholarships, Freshman Admission to Columbia University; Mary Baldwin College, Michigan State University, Amherst College, Worcester Polytechnic Institute, United States Scholarship at the Colorado School of Mines, Eastman School of Music, and NROTC Scholarship Program.

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

INSURANCE

SURETY BONDS

O'BRIEN & SANDERSON

203 East Berry Street

Phone E-3308

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Journalists To Represent South At Press Conclave

CONVENTION-BOUND... Eight Times staffers will attend the Indiana High School Press Association Convention next week end at Franklin College, Franklin, Ind. They are, back, left to right, Diane Fredrick, Sue Kelley, Roberta Twitchell, Babs Jones, Beth Burnett; front, Stuart Schmitz and Ken Lowden.—Photo by Seaman

Mr. John Charles Daly, host of the television program "What's My Line" and television reporter, will address the delegates at the fortieth annual Indiana High School Press Association Convention October 27 and 28 at Franklin College, Franklin, Ind.

Eight South Side students have been chosen to represent the Times, Totem, and Pegasus staffs at the conclave. They are Sue Kelley, Jenny Manth, Stu Schmitz, Babette Jones, Ken Lowden, Beth Burnett, and Roberta Twitchell.

In addition, Sandy Thorn, present Times general manager, will be attending the convention as student secretary of the state press association. The group will be accompanied by Mr. James Rohrbach, publications adviser.

HAROLD W. RICHARDSON, Franklin College president, and Ron Carson, Student Council president, will welcome the convention delegates. Giving the response for the journalists will be Tom Merrill, INSPA student president.

Highlighting the convocation will be an address entitled "Feature Writing as a Profession," given by Miss Norma Lee Browning, reporter and feature writer for the Chicago Tribune.

The journalists will next attend classes concerning such topics as futures in journalism, journalistic photography, circulation, public relations, and as columnists.

EXECUTIVES in THEIR respective fields will lead the second class sessions which will follow lunch. Topics which will be discussed will include news and feature stories, editorials, determining factors of newspaper quality, advertising, staff morale, photography, and yearbook themes, style, and sports coverage. The Indiana School Public Relations Association will meet in the main lobby of Elsey Hall between the second and third class session.

Interviewing others for a story, writing news and sports stories and headlines, suggestions for columnists, the use of pictures in a school paper, and yearbook problems dealing with engraving and cover selection are among the topics to be dealt with during the third class period. Following the last class session Friday, the campaign for student-elective officers in the state press association will take place.

Friday evening will find the Archer journalists in the Stott Hall Auditorium from 7:30 to 8:50 p.m. for the anniversary party, talent show, and gift exchange. Willa Mood, IHSPA student vice-president from Bloomington, and Sandy will assist Tom Merrill who is master of ceremonies.

FIVE STAFF PROBLEM clinics are scheduled following breakfast on Saturday morning. Delegates may attend sessions on increasing reader interest and circulation, advertising procedures, recruiting staff members, editorial topics, and financing a school paper without the use of advertising.

Stott Hall Auditorium will be the scene of the student elections after these clinics. Mr. Daly will conclude the formal program of the convention with his talk in the college gymnasium.

Established 1876

KLAHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service

120 West Wayne Street

Phone Anthony 0226

pedwin.

young ideas in shoes

CAGER...

Pedwin scores a basket with the Cager... complete with tasseled tie, pointed toe and the much-in-demand higher, tapered heel.

$10.95
Black Calf

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See

JASPER

Engine &

Transmission Exchange

3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

KOEGEL JEWELERS

Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair

1309 Broadway
E-7671

Chairs and Tables That Fold LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.

Port Wayne, Indiana

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED... AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

STUTZ DRY CLEANERS

4304 S. Fairfield
Phone K-4542

1213 Wells Street
Phone E-2067

Guaranteed Workmanship

EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING
ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING

Pick-Up and Delivery Service

HOCKEY

Berry at Calhoun

Totem Sales Drive Enters Final Week; Circulation Reaches 1457 Subscriptions

Two Agents Achieve 100 Per Cent Goals; '62 Book Costs $3.50

With only seven days remaining in the Totem circulation campaign, only 543 yearbooks remain as 1,457 have been sold. The campaign will terminate Wednesday.

Leanna Morris, junior, and Susi Hines, senior, were the first room agents to attain 100 per cent circulation in their homerooms.

The 1962 Totem costs $3.50 of which a down payment of at least 50 cents must be paid during the campaign. The underclass pictures will be placed in the yearbook at no charge; however, seniors must pay an additional $1.50 by November 10 in order to have their pictures included.

Barb Spiers and Susi Hines are the co-circulation managers and are assisted by Sharon Eitman, Sue Harrod, Marilyn Cole, Elizabeth Ellis, Jo Ellen Bobay, Sue Perry, Sue McGinnis, and Sarah Finch.

HOMEROOM AGENTS are as follows: Book I, Judy Chapman, S-1; Mary Fawley, S-2; Sue Phillips, S-4; Debby Tourkow, S-5; Cindy Russell, S-6; Jane Whitbeck, S-7; Ann Arnold, S-8; Judy Evans, S-9; Sally Bash, S-10; Book II, Pat Bobay, S-12; John Varner, S-14; Janet Calvert, S-22; Mary Keegan, S-24; Rhonda Roehm, S-26; Karen Swygart, S-28; Bill Mueller, S-30; Sharon Snyder, S-32; Connie Spencer, S-34; Book III, Peggy Brase, S-36; Sue Nettroor, S-44; Sharon Graffia, S-45; Leanna Morris, S-46; Barb Spiers, S-52; Al Purdy, S-54; Joy Locke, S-56; Nancy Loughhead, S-58; Kathy Branning, S-60; Book IV, Diane Petznik, S-61; Tom Meyers, S-62; Alice Pruechtenicht, S-64; Maryann Harper, S-66; Elaine Edwards, S-68; Sueleen Gerig, S-70; Shari Busch, S-72; Karen Miller, S-74; Sue Hines, S-75;

BOOK V, SHARON STETTNER, S-76; Patty North, S-77; Debby Decker, S-80; Sue Perry, S-82; Kathy Wyss, S-84; Jo Ann Dixon, S-88; Patty Phelps, S-90; Lois Lerch, S-91; Charles Golden, S-92; Book VI, Julia Merchant, S-94; Mary Crowder, S-96; Ronald Martz, S-98; Gail Woodruff, S-100; Vicky Wismer, S-110; Connie Valance, S-116; Jane Ladig, S-118; Ruth Russ, S-120; Sally Mallowg, S-132; Cheryl Scott, S-154; Margie Winder, S-156; Jane Augspurger, S-172; Book VII, Maria Habacker, S-174; Judy Conley, S-176; B. D. Hartley, S-178; Debby Brooke, S-182; Richard Astrom, S-184; Janet Stanton, S-186; Sandra Reed, S-188; and Martha Dixon, S-190.

STOP, LOOK, AND LISTEN . . . Office managers for the Totem are stopping people in the street and reminding them to be sure and buy the 1962 yearbook. Office managers are, left to right, JoEllen Bobay, Sharon Eitman, Sue Harrod, Sue McGinnis, Sue Hines, and Barb Spiers.—Photo by Seaman

Tennis Shoes Become Objective Of Teenage Decorating Abilities

Tennis shoes have become the basis for one of the nation's hottest fads developed by teenagers. Throughout the United States, the high school girls and boys are designing their shoes with "baubles, bangles, and beads."

For instance, in one part of the country girls who are going steady wear one sneaker laced from bottom to top and the other from top to bottom.

In California, a boy places one half of a felt heart on his shoe, and the girl he is going with places the other half on her shoe. Thus, when they place their feet together, a heart is formed.

Teenagers who place the tongue of their shoe on the outside of their laces are going steady. If the tongues are placed inside the laces, the person is available; one in and out means the wearer is dating steadily.

IN ANOTHER SECTION of California, the fad is to dip all four tips of the shoe laces in red nail polish to signify that the wearer is going steady. One tip on each shoe is colored if the teen is going steady and none if he or she is available.

From another school in California, a fad is writing one's name on the shoe over one big toe and the steady's name on the other. If one is not going steady, he uses question marks.

In other parts of the country, a girl wears black tennis shoes for the entire week after she and her steady break up. This shows that she is in mourning.

Some girls are using their tennis shoes for dress up. They spray them with gold paint and wear them with their party dresses.

IF A TEEN WANTS TO kick up her heels in style, she will paint the bottoms of her shoes with red nail polish as the girls in Texas are doing.

A girl is considered to be in society at a school in California if she wears one black shoe with a white sock and a white shoe with a black sock.

Anywhere in the country one can find shoes with ribbons, lace, rings, buttons, fringe, braid, earrings, beads, sequins, polka dots, leopard spots, lipstick lips, artificial flowers, and numerous other decorations.

A GIRL IN LOUISVILLE, Ky., borrowed a set of "rolly" eyes from her younger sister's doll. She stitched one to the outside of each of her tennis shoes.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

Ingeborg's Frisor Salong
(Beauty Shop)
617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

What you want is a Coke

THE FORT WAYNE COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, Inc.

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

McDonald's DRIVE-IN Cheeseburger 19¢

TREAT your Family to a VISIT to McDonald's the home of the All American Meal

100% Pure Beef HAMBURGER 15¢
FRENCH FRIES 10¢
MILK SHAKE 20¢
ALL FOR JUST 45¢

2—LOCATIONS—2
CALIFORNIA ROAD & HI-WAY 30 EAST

Foreign Pupils To Participate In Asian Show

An Asian Culture Show will be presented by students from nine foreign countries tomorrow and Saturday on the Indiana Technical College campus.

The Asian Culture Show will feature films, handicrafts, paintings, native costumes, and hand-made jewelry. The exhibits will be open to the public, and there will be no admission charge. The exhibits will also be attended by visiting alumni who will return to the college for the two-day homecoming celebration.

Participating in the culture show are students from Thailand, China, Indonesia, Japan, India, Pakistan, Iran, and Arabia. Mohammad Ashraf, a student from Pakistan, is the chairman for the two-day affair.

ALL THE EXHIBITS of handicrafts will be presented from 5 until 9 p.m. tomorrow and from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Saturday in the rooms on the first floor of Hanser Hall.

Films from the various countries will be shown tomorrow starting at 7 p.m. in the auditorium at Schick Hall. Colored films on "Taj Mahal," "Darjeeling," and "Republic Day" will be shown by the India Association.

There will also be several films about Japan and its people. Both motion pictures and slides concerning the Arab states will be presented, and the students of Pakistan will show films of popular dances and the inhabitants of that country.

One of the largest exhibits will be that of the Indonesian students, who will display examples of wood carving, bone carving, batik cloth, other types of hand woven cloth, paintings, samples of Indonesian currency, Gamelan music, and various other handicrafts.

THE STUDENTS of Pakistan will display a variety of native costumes, pamphlets and booklets concerning social life and industry, stamps, and coins of that country.

In the individual exhibits the India Association will display all kinds of handicrafts, which will include dolls and paintings from Japan; displays of antiques, and samples of materials being manufactured by the textile industry in the various Arab states; rugs, hand-made jewelry, musical instruments, and costumes from Iran, plus a number of books written by famous Iranian poets.

Students from the various Asian countries will be present to answer questions.

Seven Students Fill Posts Of Leadership In Methodist Group

In recent elections of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of Christ Methodist Church, seven South Side students were elected to offices. They are Vern Hearn, president; Larry Brown, vice-president; Francis Krandell, secretary; and Bella Dyson, treasurer.

Al Hicks was elected public relations committee chairman; Gloria Barnes, witnessing chairman; and Sherry Davis, fellowship chairman.

Starting the new year for the MYF, the group is sponsoring a car wash Saturday. Future recreational and money-making projects include a hayride, dances, parties, car washes, bake sales, and rummage sales. To close the season, the members will present a stage production of a short story.

Since Christ Methodist Church is being remodeled, the youth group found that it has become too congested to meet there; to remedy this problem, the group decided to meet at the McDowell Barn. "I think our youth group is becoming famous for this. Our attendance is somewhat higher," stated Larry Brown.

Recently, this organization began the publication of its own newspaper, the "Christopher." "I hope the later issues of the paper will be as successful as the first," stated Gloria Barnes.

The officers are planning to have religious leaders of Fort Wayne speak to them concerning religion and the power of faith in Christ.

Times Adviser Plans Class

The techniques of writing, copy editing, and make-up will be the main topics discussed in the classes to be conducted by Mr. James Rohrbach, publications adviser. Beginning November 1 and continuing through November 8, 15, and 21, the class will be compulsory for freshman, sophomore, and junior members of the Times staff who have not passed the course already.

Emphasis will be placed on getting students ready for major staff positions with an attempt for writing quality rather than high scores on the tests. Classes will be in Room 22.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons Incorporated PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Greek Student Enjoys Liberty At South Side

Although the opportunity to live in or even visit another country is not presented to most people, Chris Raptis, sophomore, spent 12 years of his life in Greece before coming to America in 1956. Chris and his family lived in the northern part of Greece, known as Macedonia, in a small village where he went to school with only 25 other children. A four-room structure with a study hall and a teaching room, a storage room, a kitchen where lunches were served, and an unused room composed the school house.

Two teachers composed the entire faculty, one for the kindergarten and one for the first through the sixth grades. Students were not permitted a choice of subjects but were given only subjects the teachers wished to teach. After finishing the sixth grade, a pupil was sent to high school, omitting the seventh and eighth grades.

WHEN CHRIS came to the United States in 1956, he had to adjust to new and different situations. He knew no English, but the teachers at Abbott School and his friends helped him greatly. Unaccustomed to so much personal freedom in his native country where his studying, eating, and going to church were closely supervised at school, Chris found his new liberties surprising.

In Greece, the teenagers spend their time studying; but during the summer, they either have jobs on their fathers' farm or become shepherds for the summer and take sheep to the higher grounds to graze. Some often gather to play games; and once or twice a year, movies are shown at school.

ALTHOUGH HE IS ABLE to converse in three languages, Greek, Bulgarian, and English, Chris stated, "I consider the United States my permanent home, but I think of Greece as my mother country."

Chris is on the business course and has decided to enlist in the army to receive a further education. When asked his opinion of South Side, Chris stated that he liked it very much.

EVENTS TO COME

Thursday, October 19
Masque and Gavel, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Biology Experimenters, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.
Math Section, Room 36, 3:30 p.m.
Service Club Potluck, cafe, 6 p.m.
Friday, October 20
GAA Speedball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Assemblies Workshop, Room 152, 3:30 p.m.
Football, Elmhurst, there
Monday, October 23
Wranglers, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
H-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.
Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
GAA Speedball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Tuesday, October 24
Camera Club, Room 70, 3:30 p.m.
Know-Your-City Club, Room 110, 3:30 p.m.
Meterites Officers' Meeting, Room 116, 3:30 p.m.
Wednesday, October 25
Vesta Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.
Honorary Arts, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.
Physics Club, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Representative To Speak
Mr. Robert C. Ferguson, representative of Western Reserve University in Cleveland, O., will visit South Side Wednesday at 11 a.m. Seniors desiring to attend should sign with Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, in Room 102 before school on Monday.

South Star Smoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Cardone's Pizza
"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield CARRY OUTS H-8974

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Dove's Beauty Salon
Distinctive Individual Hair Styling
A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers
• Open Evenings •
2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

Pumpkins, Costumes, Parades Mark Halloween Celebrations

TRICK OR TREAT? . . . Four freshmen students, dressed for the occasion of Halloween, ring doorbells in hopes of securing a treat and of playing a trick. These costumed freshmen are, left to right, Sally Henderson, Susie Knox, Dan Junk, and Clark Marquart.—Photo by Seaman

Halloween, the festival celebrated on October 31, means hallowed or holy evening because it precedes All Saints' Day, a holy day in some faiths.

Today Halloween is celebrated with pranks and parties, and with customs that are a mixture of many beliefs.

The Druids, an order of priests in ancient Gaul and Britain, had an autumn festival. They called their celebration Samhain, summer's end. It was an occasion for feasting on the food which had been grown during the summer. The modern custom of decorating for Halloween parties with pumpkins, leaves, and cornstalks comes from the Druids.

THEY ALSO BELIEVED that on Halloween, ghosts, spirits, fairies, witches, and elves came out to harm people. They built large bonfires to scare such creatures away. From these Druidic beliefs and customs comes the modern use of witches and ghosts in Halloween festivities.

The early peoples of Europe also had a festival somewhat like the Druid holiday. The old pagan customs and the Christian festival were combined into a holiday which people celebrate today as the Halloween festival.

HALLOWEEN IS A time of many parties for both grownups and children. There are special games which are played at Halloween, such as bobbing for apples and telling fortunes and ghost stories. Schools have parties to which children come dressed in costumes. Prizes are given for the best costumes.

In early times in the United States, Halloween was also a time for playing harmless pranks. But in later years many of the pranks that boys and girls played on the night of Halloween were overtaken, windows broken, and much property was damaged. In some cities, the police work hard on Halloween to prevent damage.

Communities now realize that the best way to stop such pranks is to give a large party instead. Now Halloween parades and community gatherings provide fun in place of pranks.

Park Board Plans Dance

An all-city high school Halloween dance, admission free, will be October 31 at the Memorial Coliseum from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. This dance is being sponsored by the Park Board and the Parent-Teachers Associations. Mrs. Ranck, recreation supervisor for the Park Board, and parents from each high school will be in charge of the dance.

Music for the dance will be furnished by a local band. Mr. David Ison, Park Board special events director, said that the dance should have a band popular to everyone, and that anyone with a specific suggestion of a musical group could contact him at any time.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith Phone H-1297

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne
H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

STUDENTS! See It Now!

A BEAUTIFUL NEW CLASS RING

AT LOWER PRICES! COMPARE!

prices starting at $11.50

$1 Coupon GOOD FOR $1.00 ON THE PURCHASE OF ANY CLASS RING

The Jewel Case — Jewelry Dept.
M&M REDEMPTION STORE
Good Until Dec. 1, 1961

PLENTY OF FREE PARKING!

Five Weeks for Delivery, Nov. 7th for Christmas

M&M REDEMPTION CENTER

Near Hall's and Clyde Theater
Quimby Village Bluffton Road

Open Wed. and Fri. Till 9

K9SWG Calling Anyone!

Howard Lowden, Sophomore, Calls 'DX' Operators On 'Rig'

HAM OPERATOR . . . Howard Lowden, sophomore, spends his leisure time communicating with other ham radio operators all over the United States and the world. He built part of his set himself, and answers to the call letters K9SWG.—Photo by Lowden

"CQ, CQ, CQ, this is K9SWG—K9SWG calling CQ." This might sound like a pilot in distress; but instead it is South's own Howard Lowden, sophomore, K9SWG are the call letters used by Howie in operating his short-wave amateur radio station, and CQ is a general call for another amateur radio operator to answer.

Howie is one of approximately three hundred thousand amateur radio operators in the United States. He gained interest in this hobby from his father, who is also an amateur radio operator. The purchase of a short-wave station two years ago started Howie's conversation with people all over the world. This station was the first of several which led to his present set.

Radio operators have their own language when it comes to discussing their common interest. All equipment including the main set and testing meters compose the "rig." Each operator usually has a room, the "shack," in which his equipment is stored.

CONVERSATION CAN be carried on by code or by voice. Howie has a general class license which is required if both methods are to be used; however, he mainly uses the code system. If the code system is to be employed, the listener must either write or type the message as it comes over the station.

When asked to name some of the most outstanding countries with whom he and his "rig" have made contact, Howie named Australia, Antarctica, South Africa, Japan, different parts of Europe, and Russia. Within the United States, Howie has talked with people in every state including Alaska and Hawaii.

Howie stated that when talking to foreign or "DX" operators, the conversation, which covers just every day talk, lasts about five minutes. The weather, facts about each station, time differences, and location, or "QTH," are among the subjects discussed.

A "phone patch" is the device which has made the best memories for Howie. Once he made a connection with a boy in Louisiana who happened to be Greek and spoke both English and Greek very fluently. This boy's father was a priest on the ship, the USS Hope. One of Howie's friends is a Greek from Macedonia. He called this friend on the telephone and then connected his station to the phone line by means of a "phone patch." In this way, these three Greeks were able to communicate with each other.

INTRAMURAL ACTIVITIES, basketball, hockey, baseball, and skiing are Howard's favorite sports. Two years ago he was a member of a championship Flying Blades hockey team formed at McMillen Park. He played the positions of pitcher, first baseman, and outfielder for a baseball team in the Pony League. He recently participated in cross country in intramurals.

Howie belongs to St. Luke's Lutheran Church where he is a member of the Luther League. After graduation, he would like to study electronics at a school of technology or in a branch of the Armed Forces.

12B Karen Simmons Aspires To Practice Medicine Amid Poor

Speech, swimming, and medical science are the main interests of 12B Karen Simmons. Since grade school, Karen has been active in speech activities. At Harrison Hill, she won the declamation contest which was the beginning of her successful participation in speech. In her freshman year at South, she placed fourth in the Howe Inexperienced Speech Meet, participating in Wranglers. Karen has also placed second and third in school contests.

Since the age of seven, swimming has had a place in Karen's heart. During grade school, she entered state, national, and city meets and has earned approximately seventy ribbons through participation in dual meets.

Karen's outside activities include being a member of the Wesley Players, a drama group at the Wayne Street Methodist Church, and teaching kindergarten class at Sunday School.

At school she is president of the Library Club, faculty editor for the Totem, Times agent, and an active member of Philo. With these extracurricular activities, she still finds time to attend Spanish class at the YMCA.

Karen states, "I intend to visit South America and Europe in the near future and feel it's important that I have a good background in their languages."

A doctor's career is the goal of Karen's life. She would like to study medical science and model her life after the famous humanitarian, Dr. Tom Dooley.

Karen's wish is to practice medicine in the poverty-stricken countries. She explains, "When I think of all the desolate inhabitants of this world, it makes me realize that I could have been born on that side of the fence. I'd like to put a few on my side of the fence. This would be the fulfillment of my life."

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete
Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011 1015 Taylor

Photographic Career Involves Skill, Hard Work Over 'Click'

Professional photography as a career brings to mind the simple and uncomplicated picture of a man behind a camera taking a baby's picture. This profession is not quite as simple as a "click," for it involves much skill and hard work.

Portrait photography and commercial photography are the two main branches of the profession. The larger of the two being portrait photography.

That work which is mainly connected with families is done by the portrait photographer. He may or may not own a studio of his own, for many portrait photographers work for chain business in department stores and do nothing except take pictures.

A STUDIO OWNER, such as Mr. Paul Watters of Watters Studio, is not only a photographer but also a business man. Mr. Watters has a working day of about twelve hours, in which times he takes and develops pictures, does odd jobs, and also runs the business side of his studio.

Mr. Watters employs two other photographers and three receptionists. Many studios in larger cities hire darkroom technicians, printers, retouchers, and print finishers. The technician develops the film, the printer prints the film; the retoucher removes imperfections; and the print finisher dries and mounts the prints.

To set up a studio, such as Mr. Watters has, takes no less than $10,000. Cameras, enlargers, lights, and darkroom equipment are all costly. This is one big disadvantage of studio ownership.

Mr. Watters remarked that besides the money problem there was also the problem of time in setting up a professional establishment, for this field is very competitive. After the business has been established, a small studio earns up to about eight thousand a year, while some chain operations bring in up to one million dollars a year.

MANY COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES offer courses in portrait photography. Early experience on the high-school yearbook helped Mr. Watters in his later work. This type of experience or hobby is invaluable to those planning a career of photography.

Commercial photography is the second main branch. Today jobs can be found in newspaper work, aerial photography, photomicrography (through a microscope), book illustrating, radiography, metallurgy, and motion picture work.

Under commercial photography is fashion photography, a rapidly expanding division. In the United States alone there are 5,000 fashion studios. Some fashion magazines prefer that their photographers be women.

INDUSTRY EMPLOYS thousands of photographers to make catalogs and to reproduce engineers' drawings. Aerial photography is also needed in industry to locate pipelines, make maps, and locate roads.

Government jobs available for the photographer are found in the Department of Agriculture, the Army Map Service, the State Department, and the National Archives.

These fields are less competitive but also require more specialized training. For women, photography offers work in special areas such as x-ray photography, retouching, oil work, and receptionist work.

Pressure Of School Standards Drives Teenagers To Cheating

Pausing before his homeroom, Charlie Cheat glanced through his battered books to make sure he was prepared for another class day. Ah yes, his history crib notes were in place, and the math problems he had copied from a friend were there.

He had his sister's old book report, the name changed, of course; and in his pocket jingled the money he would use to buy a theme from some "A" student. Charlie moved on, a satisfied smile on his face.

An increasing number of high school students have come to realize the shocking existence of such persons as Charlie. They have put forth such questions as what makes a "Charlie Cheat?" Instead of an "Honest Abe," what are the effects of cheating, and what can be done to prevent cheating?

The answers to these queries provide a key to the solution of classroom cheating. Teenagers are sometimes driven to cheating by pressures of family and school standards. If demands are placed upon a student above his ability, or if demands produce a fear of failure, cheating may be used as an escape route.

FREQUENTLY CHEATING is employed once and explodes into a chain reaction. The cheating habit also may result from lack of proper study development as the difficulty and number of school assignments increase.

Laziness and spite are also causes of cheating. More important are the reasons for not cheating.

"O, what a tangled web we weave when first we practice to deceive," reasoned Scott. The students who realize that just one grade unfairly gained will draw him into an undertow of problems concentrates on steering clear of this harmful whirlpool.

Before giving an examination, an Archer instructor requests that his pupils imagine themselves on the operating table of a surgeon who has cheated in medical school and guide their actions by this thought. The effect is remarkable.

IN THE CLASS OF A strict teacher cheating is usually of a considerable lower degree than in that of an easy going educator. A certain junior English teacher announced that anyone who cheated on a test would receive a zero, be called in with his parents for consultation, and have the incident placed on his record. No one cheated.

Though cheating is as malignant an affliction as any disease, there is no sure cure for its victim.

Student councils can be effective in combating dishonesty by promoting articles in the school paper, homeroom discussions, proctoring, meeting of faculty and administrators, and other methods.

Honor systems have also proven helpful. Teenagers could poll fellow students to see if a majority would abide by the system, form a committee to design such a system and present it to the administration, and correspond with schools that already have an honor system.

IN ADDITION, CHEATING can be prevented by a student tutoring service. A student who has outstanding ability in a certain field devotes specified evenings to helping those who are having trouble in the subject.

Teachers also must take steps toward the elimination of cheating. During exams, seats, if possible, should be separated; the class should be divided into two sections, each with a different test form; the practice of having students exchange and correct each other's papers should be stopped.

Small tests, homework, class participation, essay questions, and personal capabilities should all play important parts in the grading system. Guidance programs should be publicized as well as meetings with parents.

The educator should endeavor to produce a well-rounded student with a sense of responsibility to himself and to society.

Eliminating the reasons and results of cheating depends on individuals. Each student must point himself toward definite goals, dissolving the mist that hides them by maintaining high moral standards.

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188 4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

Home of eatin' treats!

NEW!
HOT FUDGE
ICE CREAM
CAKE!

DRIVE-IN RESTAURANTS
Also at 2440 W. Washington Rd. and U.S. 427 at Calif. Rd.

Yearly Conclave To Feature Talk, Students' Bands

Educators belonging to the North-eastern division of the Indiana State Teachers' Association will convene in Fort Wayne next Thursday and Friday for their annual convention.

Activities will begin with the first general session at 8:15 a.m. in the Shrine Auditorium. Because of the expected attendance, a second general session is scheduled for 10:15 a.m.

A keynote address by Mr. William Stringer, Chief of the Christian Science Monitor in Washington, will be presented at both sessions. Entitled "Washington Report," the address by Mr. Stringer is intended to bring teachers up to date with the happenings around them.

The Fort Wayne Community Schools All-City Orchestra will provide music at the 8:15 a.m. session, and the New Haven High School band will play at the second session.

THURSDAY NOON the Association of Childhood Educators have scheduled a luncheon at the St. John Evangelical and Reformed Church.

During the afternoon, using various locations throughout the city, the many different department and section meetings will begin.

The Junior and Senior High School Department meeting is slated for 2 p.m. Thursday at the Scottish Rite Auditorium. Mr. Phillip Geary, manager of the Air Education Series, will address this group on "Education, Door to Understanding."

Elementary educators will have section meetings throughout the afternoon on Thursday. The administrators will be addressed at their department meeting by Dr. Harlan White, director of admissions at Purdue University. Dr. White will speak on "Testing Is Like Sin."

A BREAKFAST FOR special educators or teachers who work with handicapped children will begin activities Friday at 8:30 a.m. in the Plymouth Congregational Church.

"Leadership Is Where You Find It" is the topic of an address to be given at the department meeting for elementary teachers by Dr. Sidney Marland, superintendent of the Winetka Public School System.

Friday junior and senior high school teachers will attend their specific section meetings.

THE YWCA WILL BE the scene of a luncheon Friday noon honoring retired teachers. Unlike previous conventions, there will be no general closing session on Friday afternoon.

"The purpose of Teachers' Convention is to receive professional inspiration in the specific fields in which we are interested. It is an ideal opportunity to hear fine speakers and fine presentations," stated Mrs. Mildred Meece, president of the Fort Wayne Teachers' Association.

Workshop Plans Tryouts

Tryouts for the Assemblies Workshop Thanksgiving Assembly November 22, will highlight the club's meeting tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 152.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

SOUTH SIDE SHELL SERVICE

Lafayette and Rudisill Ph. H-5177
WHEEL BALANCE
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY

Ed Parrish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists

H-5307

Hanna at Oxford

"Fort Wayne's Finest"

IIB Gary Probst Finds Helping With Horse Training Enjoyable

GIDDAP, GARY . . . Gary Probst, junior, demonstrates his equestrian skill in the Probst's stable. Gary, besides being a talented horseman, excels as a student and athlete at South and was recently elected vice-president of the Class of '63.—Photo by Lowden

Long white fences, green rolling hills, and beautiful chestnut horses are one's first impressions of the Meadowbrook Pony Farm, home of Gary Probst, junior.

Primarily Gary's interest lies in riding for pleasure, but he does accompany the horses to various horse shows as a behind-the-scenes helper. Gary states, "I'm the number one fan for the rest of the family."

The Probsts began raising horses and ponies about three years ago in Michigan. This was a result of an interest by Mr. Walter Probst, Gary's father, in some stock there. In Fort Wayne, they raise horses and ponies for show purposes.

The Probsts' pleasure horses are Morgans, large, handsome horses that are considered valuable because of their adaptability to all jobs and American Saddle Horses, similar to the American Quarter Horse. Saddlebreds are popular with ranchmen because of their speed, agility, strength, and calm disposition.

AT MEADOWBROOK, however, the main interest is Shetland, Welch, and Hackney ponies. Gary estimates that they own between thirty and forty ponies.

Training these animals is a year-round task which starts the day they are foaled and continues until their retirement. In May, the yearlings are started on their training program. The ponies start by becoming accustomed to the harness. They are then taken through various steps until they are ready to use the cart.

If the ponies are to be shown in harness, their training is in its final stage. If they are to be ridden, they have to become accustomed to a rider. In the case of showing a horse, the rider must also be proficient, since he himself can change the contest rating one or two points.

Some of the shows the Probsts have entered their ponies in include the Fort Wayne Horse Show, the Chicago International Horse Show, and the Indiana State Fair.

WHILE TRAVELING FROM show to show, the horses are transported in a van, six horses to one van. Accompanying these horses are the trainer, the groom, and the person who will show the horse.

On a very long circuit the horse's final performance is often not on par with his first. For this reason, the trips are usually as short as possible. The horses are shown from May to December, and the rest of the year is spent in training the new stock and keeping the old in condition. During the winter months, training continues indoors.

Gary feels that living with horses has made him appreciate the qualities of animals to a greater extent. On the College Course, Gary is active in school athletics; he is a member of the basketball squad, and high jumps for the track team.

After graduating from South Side, Gary would like to enter Duke University in North Carolina to study electrical engineering or law. His goal is "to be successful in all undertakings, and most of all, to be happy."

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For

HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

The

Corner House

Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO CROWDED . . .

Call INDIANA

AUTO

DRIVING

SCHOOL . . .

- Dual Controlled Training Cars
- Manual or Automatic Transmission
- Professional Instructors
- Convenient Door-to-Door Service
- Individual Instruction

H-3303

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP

Sunny Schick Camera Shop

407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

Beware of Bewitching Witches If...

After A Trick—

A Quick Retreat!

THE MUSIC BOX

3434 Broadway

D. O. McComb & SONS

1140 Lake Avenue at Tecumseh

A-2182

KEARNS DRUGS, Inc.

930 S. Calhoun

A-1223

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING

120 West Superior

E-0505

DALE'S DRIVE-IN

U.S. 24 West at Covington Road

K-8451

FAIRFIELD SHELL SERVICE

2125 Fairfield

H-5369

KORTE BROS.

Lafayette and Murray

K-4941

ROSS RADIO

236 West Main

A-2433

KEEFER PRINTING

714 West Washington

A-1484

Goblins Will Get You

If You Don't Watch Out!

CLAUSER STANDARD SERVICE

1701 S. Anthony Blvd.

C & H SHOE CO.

121 W. Wayne

A-0185

PARKWAY BEAUTY SHOP

609 West Foster Parkway

H-2244

PLAZA APOTHECARY

3610 Brooklyn Ave.

H-2351

OXFORD COFFEE SHOP

1502 Oxford

K-3301

HARLEQUIN COSTUME STUDIO

3421 South Wayne

H-2306

BROADVIEW Florists & Greenhouses

5801 Winchester Rd.

S-3146

AMSTUTZ INS. AGENCY

3901 Calhoun

H-1151

THE PRESCRIPTION SHOP

337 West Berry

Fred Mittelstadt, prop.

E-5424

GARDNER'S DRIVE-INS

TWO LOCATIONS

Parnell and Calif., across from Coliseum
302 West Jefferson

T-32109
A-7481

You Don't Patronize These Advertisers...

Educational Organization Gives Braille Encyclopedia To School

BRILLE ENCYCLOPEDIA . . . South Side was presented the first edition of the Braille World Book Encyclopedia for the use of the blind students in the Fort Wayne Community Schools. Looking at the books are left to right Mrs. Marlene Schang, Dianne Saalfrank, and Miss Willodeen Price.—Photo by Lowden

Presented to South Side recently were the first volumes of the Braille World Book Encyclopedia, the largest single undertaking in the history of Braille. The books were presented by Mr. Paul B. Ward of Field Enterprises Educational Corporation, a non-profit, philanthropic organization for encouragement and aid to education, and publisher of World Encyclopedia.

THE MONEY for the set came from a contribution of $115,500 from Field Enterprises Educational Corporation and the Field Foundation, Incorporated, both non-profit, philanthropic organizations.

The project, which has been called the most important contribution to the education of the blind since the development of Braille, was touched off by a letter from a volunteer Braille translator in New York. The woman requested a set of World Book for her women's group, which planned to transcribe the encyclopedia into Braille by hand.

THE ENCYCLOPEDIA is comprised of 145 volumes, of which the school library has 107. It includes 33,000 pages, and covers 43 feet of shelf space.

The Braille volumes are approximately three times the size as the written ones. The letter of the classification of the volume is on the outside in the upper left hand corner in Braille.

Jane Ladig Earns Jacobs Cup For Outstanding Service Work

MISS SERVICE WORK, 1961 . . . Marilyn Cole, left, presents the Randolph Jacobs Trophy to Jane Ladig for outstanding service work. Jane was chosen the recipient of this award by the votes of other service workers attending the Service Club Potluck October 19. Marilyn made the presentation.—Photo by Lowden

Jane Ladig, senior, has received the Randolph Jacobs Cup for the senior who has contributed the most to the school in service work. The 132 service workers attending the Service Club Potluck October 19 elected her to receive the award.

Doing service work since her sophomore year, Jane has garnered over 538 working hours. This semester, she services two periods for Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director, and one period and after school for Mr. Robert Davis, chemistry teacher.

THE MAIN SPEAKER of the evening was Mr. Lester L. Grile, Superintendent of Fort Wayne Community Schools, who discussed the broad aspects of service. After her votes were tabulated, Marilyn Cole, senior, made the presentation.

Winning the cup, Jane stated, "I was most honored to receive this award."

Besides belonging to the Service Club, Jane is the treasurer of Assemblies Workshop, a Totem agent, and is a member of Walther League at the Peace Evangelical Lutheran Church.

JANE IS UNDECIDED about what she will study in college, but she has considered majoring in chemistry or psychology. Jane is planning to attend Monticello College in Alton, Ill.

Sports of all kinds are favorites with Jane. She especially likes water sports and bowling. Jane also enjoys camping, canoe trips, and hiking.

Mr. Muhamad Ashraf Bestows Pakistan Flag Upon South Side

GOODWILL GIFT . . . During the local observance of United Nations Day, October 24, Mr. Muhamad Ashraf, right, presented the city with the flag of his native Pakistan. Mr. Sam Jackson, left, and Larry Lee were on hand to accept the flag, which will be added to South's extensive flag collection.—Photo by Seaman

Mr. Muhamad Ashraf, a student at Indiana Technical College, presented a flag of his native Pakistan to South Side High School, which accepted it on behalf of the city of Fort Wayne, as a token of international good will at the United Nations' International Friendship Party on October 24 in the main lobby of the Court House.

United Nations Day celebrates the birth of the force of the U.N. Charter on October 24, 1945. By that date the major powers had ratified the charter. In 1947, the UN General Assembly proclaimed October 24 United Nations Day, which the party in Fort Wayne was honoring.

LARRY LEE, PRESIDENT of the Class of '62, accepted the flag for the school. Mr. Samuel Jackson Jr., social studies instructor and a senior class adviser, also attended the party, which was part of the city's observance of United Nations Day and Week.

South Side was chosen to receive the flag because of its extensive flag collection. The collection was made during the last world war by students in home economic classes. The collection contains all the flags of the allied nations. Its purpose is to attract the attention of people to the United Nations and its work.

MR. ASHRAF IS A NATIVE of Wazirabad, West Pakistan, who came to Fort Wayne in November, 1959, to attend Indiana Tech. Recently elected to Iota Tau Kappa, honorary engineering scholastic fraternity, he intends to pursue a career of engineering in one of the underprivileged lands of the world upon his graduation.

The South Side Times

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

Vol. XL—No. 8

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, November 2, 1961

Price Ten Cents

Knights Defeat Kellys 165-120 On TV Hi-Quiz!

Bishop Luers Knights defeated the South Side Archers October 22 on Hi-Quiz at 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV by a score of 165-120.

Participating for Bishop Luers were Barb Schmoll, Jim Snyder, Judy Dykhuicen, and Steve Ottenweller. South Side participants included Babette Jones, Terry Newendorp, Sharon Carrel, and Bill Mueller.

The first quarter began when the Knights' Judy Dykhuicen answered the challenge question correctly; but they did not answer the premium questions. The next two questions were missed by both teams. Then Barb Schmoll of Bishop Luers answered the challenge question, and the Knights received an extra ten points on the premium question. The next question was missed by both teams.

BABETTE JONES answered the following challenge question, but the Archers did not receive any points on their premium. The next question was missed by Terry Newendorp of South Side and was answered by Barb Schmoll. Bishop Luers received ten points on the premium. The first quarter ended with Bishop Luers in the lead, 50 to 10.

After Steve Ottenweller answered the next challenge question, Bishop Luers received ten points on the premium question. Thus, the second quarter ended with Bishop Luers still leading, 70 to 30.

A CHALLENGE question about a music selection began the third quarter. This question and the next two questions were missed by both teams. The following question was answered by Sharon Carrel, and South Side received all of the 30-point premium question. The next question was answered by Terry Newendorp, and the Archers again received all of the 20-point premium question. The third quarter ended with South Side in the lead, 100 to 70.

Last Sunday, the Knights continued their victory streak by defeating the Concordia Cadets, 205 to 165. The Concordia team consists of Keith Markey, Crista Maki, Tom Kage, and Barb Moellering. Bishop Luers will battle the Central Tigers Sunday.

Chemistry Students To Compose Group Of Junior Academy

Announcing a new division of the Junior Academy of Science, Lyall Morrill, president, has stated that the club will form a Chemistry Section. Sponsored by Mr. Robert Davis, chemistry teacher, the new club will meet tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 4.

At an organizational meeting on October 18, it was decided that membership in the club will be open to any South Side pupil, although it is expected that the majority of members will be students who are not taking chemistry and desire to broaden their knowledge of the subject.

Questioned concerning his opinion of the new club, Mr. Davis commented, "Anyone who is interested in taking chemistry beyond the high school level will find this club very beneficial."

Meeting once every two weeks in the chemistry laboratory, club members will work as a group to investigate chemical phenomena and the reasons behind them. At tomorrow's meeting, Terry Newendorp and Lyall Morrill will present a report on the ideal gas law and the kinetic theory of gases. They will point out the differences between ideal and actual gases and the ways in which the gas deviates because of changes in temperature and pressure.

Students To Register For Annual Courses

General Electric is again sponsoring an apprentice school for high school and college graduates. The apprentice school is a program in which high school graduates must work at the G.E. for 8,000 hours, extended over a four-year period, mainly working with machinists' tools or learning drafting.

A regular salary is paid on the basis of a 40-hour week. Qualifications for this program include being a high school graduate between the ages of 18 and 20 and having at least one year of algebra, geometry, and either physics or chemistry.

Mr. Richard Gebert, manager of quality control for specialty motors, stated, "I am in hopes that there will be a large enough variety of vacant jobs, including those of planning and tool making that each person can get the job of his preference at the conclusion of this course." Any student who desires more information is asked to contact Mr. Roy Brokaw, apprentice specialist, or Mr. Dave Bartle, supervisor of apprentice training.

Parents To Study Plan

An information meeting explaining the East-West Split Plan for School Reorganization will be conducted for parents of South Side High School students at Harrison Hill School Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. "All parents are urged to attend," stated Mrs. V. K. McMahan, PTA president.

Choir, Band, Orchestra To Present College, Classic, Modern Melodies

Kelly Orators To Give Talks At Howe Meet

Howe Military School will host a speech meet for inexperienced contestants Saturday. A bus will be chartered from South which will leave at 7 a.m. Students who are entered must be present at a meeting in Room 190 at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Those attending the meet will be Marcia Disler, Dianne Hall, Rosemary Capps, and Kathy DeVore in girls extemporaneous speaking; and Lex Smuts, Larry Lee, and Jim Trulock in boys' extemporaneous speaking.

In the humorous division, Pat Slater, Bob Wasson, Charlotte Dinius, Pam Punskey, Pam Buzzard, Martha Dixon, Ann Brase, Ann McCallister, and Jackie Kuhns will compete.

CHARLOTTE POWEL, Karen Ponder, Martha Lanning, Dianne Ball, Christine Fruechtenicht, and Joyce Cossairt will enter in dramatics.

Oratorical interpretation will include Elaine Cole, Sue Penland, Marti Morrell, Mary Ella Braden, Susan Weinraub, and Vicki Miller.

Judging in the contest will be Shari Busch, Tom Erb, Logan Smith, Lisa Hoffman, and Louise Jackson. These judges will not judge contestants from South.

IN THE HUMOROUS and dramatic division, each contestant has memorized and prepared a declamation which is eight to ten minutes long. Because the declamations are not original, they are judged only on delivery.

Oratorical interpretation is not original either. These are essays written concerning world problems, and the contestants are judged on how well they present the ideas.

Extemporaneous speaking is divided between boys and girls. The contestants draw topics after arriving at the meet and are given an allotment of time for preparation. They are judged on both content and delivery.

New Machine Aids Offices

Greatly facilitating office procedure, a Thermo-Fax Reader-Printer located in Room 102 is used by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, and Miss Marsha Klahn, registrar, in the general office.

Obtained by the school last spring, the reader-printer is now serving a twofold purpose. Records of seniors at South Side, which are recorded on microfilm, are flashed on a screen by Mr. Weicker for observation and discussion during his interviews with seniors.

Miss Klahn operates the machine when conditions necessitate a transcription of the microfilm records to the size of a standard, readable document.

Pegasus Staff To Begin Campaign, Sets First-Day Goal At 500 Sales

Winter Literary Book To Sell For 35 Cents; Room Agents Selected

Launching the winter Pegasus campaign, which will begin Monday and end November 22, the homeroom agents will sell subscriptions for the literary magazine for 35 cents. No promissory notes will be accepted; therefore, the full price must be paid during the campaign.

Sally Sweet, circulation manager, stated, "The goal for the first day is 500 subscriptions, and we want to sell 2,000 before November 22. We are aiming to get the Pegasus circulated throughout the city; therefore, no one should hesitate to try to sell subscriptions outside the school."

Readying for the campaign along with Sally are bookheads Dan Schwartz, Larry Lee, Harriet Ochstein, Sharyan Yerger, and Sally Mallough.

TO BEGIN THE CAMPAIGN, the members of the Pegasus staff will present a skit, written by Peggy Schmidt and Ann McCallister, over the public address system during homeroom on Monday.

For all students who are interested in entering the Pegasus writing contest, sponsored by The South Side Times, the deadline for submissions is November 10. Participants may enter in any or all of the three divisions, original short story, original essay or editorial, and original poetry.

Each contest entry must have a title; and the student's name and classification must appear on the material. An unlimited number of entries may be submitted. The winning article in each division will be published in the Pegasus, and the authors will receive $3 prizes.

AGENTS AND THEIR HOMEROOM numbers are the following: Book I: Alice Ashton and Tamara Beatty, S-1; Kaylene Gebert and Ann Golden, S-2; Sue North, S-3; Sandy Miller and Sue Phillips, S-4; Sandy Thorn, S-5; Bon-

ALL TOGETHER NOW . . . Practicing for the Music Assembly Wednesday is the woodwind quintet consisting of left to right, Sally Boyer, Jim McMahan, Tom McMahan, Nancy Stauffer, and Dave Flanagan. This group will be a main feature in next week's performance.—Photo by Lowden

Cheryl Summers To Represent School As DAR's Best Citizen

Cheryl Summers, senior B, has been named the recipient of the DAR Best Citizen Award, presented annually to the senior girl best fulfilling the requirements of the Daughters of the American Revolution, sponsor.

To qualify for the award, the recipient must be dependable, be of service to her school and community, have leadership qualities, and show patriotism. Added to these qualifications, South Side has always chosen a good student.

"MY REACTION to the honor was one of complete amazement, but I am really honored," said Cheryl. "I will read everything I can get my hands on within the next two or three weeks. Even if I don't go any further in the competition, I consider this a great honor and I'm proud to serve as South's DAR Citizen."

On the college preparatory course, Cheryl is taking Special English, government, Latin 4, and solid geometry. She is vice-president of the senior class, secretary of Philo, on the editorial staff of the Pegasus, copy editor on the Totem, and is a member of the Service Club and the 1500 Club. She is also a member of Luther League at her church.

She was formerly Teen Page editor for the Journal-Gazette, and was a member of the Red Cross Club, Service Club, Times, Meterites, and was on the social council for the Class of 1962 as a junior.

Cheryl plans to enter either governmental work, journalism, or psychology. She plans to further her education at the University of Illinois at Urbana, Ill.

COMPETING WITH GIRLS from other northeastern Indiana high schools, Cheryl will take a test to determine the area winner; this test is scheduled for the beginning of November. The area winners will then have their tests sent to Indianapolis for the selection of the state winner, who receives a trip to Washington, D.C. and $100. A national winner is then chosen at a later date.

Cheryl Summers

The test will cover questions concerning international situations, the federal government, state history, and questions about the community. Cheryl will write an essay which will account for 25 per cent of her test grade.

Certificates and pins are presented to all winners at a social event in the spring. Past DAR Best Citizens are Sharon Ruhl, '59; Penny Hunt, '60; and Marjorie Havens, '61.

String Group, Boys' Chorus To Participate

Assembly To Feature Broadway Musicals, Brass Instrumentalists

College songs, classical works, and show music will be featured in the second Music Assembly of the year Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. in the gymnasium. Under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond, a woodwind quintet and an accordion solo will be spotlighted in addition to the string orchestra, band, and the concert choir conducted by Mr. Lester Hostetter.

First on the program will be the string orchestra, a group of 25 string players who also performed at the last Music Assembly. "Deep Purple," a contemporary selection by Peter de Rose, will be the first offering. Next, the orchestra will play the first movement from "Concertino for Strings," by Adler.

Performing an accordion solo entitled "Czardas" by Monti, will be Monica Kramer, sophomore.

In this assembly the choir is dedicating its portion of the program to the football season and the Archer squad and will sing appropriate tunes.

A MEDLEY OF COLLEGE songs will be performed including such favorites as "All-American Girl," "On Wisconsin," "Hail, Purdue," "The Whiffenpoof Song," "Cornell Song," "Indiana, Our Indiana," and "Hail to the Victors." "The Whiffenpoof Song" is the famous theme of the exclusive club of Yale University.

To complete its portion of the program, the concert choir will perform its rendition of "Go You Archers" for the student body.

The next feature of the assembly will be the introduction of the brass instruments of the band by Mr. Drummond. This family of instruments ranges from the trumpet, a soprano instrument, to the tuba, a large bass instrument.

The special band, a 48-member group consisting of some of the members chosen from the large band, which performed at the last assembly, will play. The first offering will be "Manhattan Beach March," by John Philip Sousa, the well-known bandmaster of the early twentieth century.

A WOODWIND QUINTET chosen from this band will then perform "Ballet Egyptian," by Luigini. This group, Sally Boyer, junior; Jim McMahan, sophomore; Dave Flanagan, senior; Tom McMahan, senior; and Nancy Stauffer, senior, plays instruments which were demonstrated at the last Music Assembly. These woodwind instruments are usually used to play soft "chamber" music.

The special band will then conclude the program with a presentation of selections from "Oklahoma," the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical, which was a great success on Broadway and was later made into a motion picture. The medley will include "Oklahoma," "Surrey With the Fringe on Top," "People Will Say We're in Love," and "Out of My Dreams."

"OKLAHOMA" IS A SHOW concerning the wild west during the "land rush" days, when a large portion of land was opened up and settlers scrambled in whatever vehicle obtainable to acquire land. The tune "Oklahoma" is taken at a quick tempo to give the effect of these mass races.

Fort Wayne Group Gives Students Aid

Established in 1946 to aid students of high character, intelligence, and ideals, who are graduates of Fort Wayne high schools and plan for a college education, the Fort Wayne Educational Foundation has just begun to attract a large number of students who need educational loans.

Because the prices of college education have soared since 1946, more students have been requesting the services of the foundation. Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal and secretary-treasurer of the foundation, stated, "Students have borrowed all of the money in the last four or five years, and we have found ourselves in a situation where we don't have enough money to meet all the demands." Mr. Snider also emphasized that this organization is run strictly on a loan basis.

This fall, ten loans from one hundred to five hundred dollars were made to students from every high school in the city. If a student has not repaid his loan within two years after graduation, an interest rate of four per cent is charged.

Students To Take SAT

Any junior or senior who wishes to take the Scholastic Aptitude Test on January 13, March 3, or May 19, 1962, must get application forms from Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor. This test will be given by the College Board. Applications for the December 2 SAT must be received by the College Board by Saturday.

Harriers Take Second In Sectional, To Travel To State Meet Saturday

Squad Balance Leads Thinlies In Initial Meet

Jim Burton Finishes Seventh; Henry King Of Central Cops First

South Side's tremendous team balance paid off in huge dividends as the sophomore-studded Archer crew copped second place in the Sectional cross country meet at Franke Park October 24. Coach "Porky" Holt's forces totaled 92 points behind winning North Side's 74-point tally.

Central's Henry King won an unprecedented fourth individual title, romping home first ahead of the Redskins' Gary Myers with a 9:34.1 time, best in the eight Sectional meets last week. Bob Taubee of Avilla, Larry Coplen of tiny North Miami, and Reinhold Mueller of Elmhurst rounded out the top five.

Jim Burton was the first Kelly to finish; he had a 10:00.5 clocking good for seventh place. Ken Ellingwood finished twelfth, Stu Schmitz sixteenth, Jim More twenty-fourth, and Steve Myers thirty-third to account for South's total.

As it stands, North, South, plus surprising Elmhurst, which stole third place from powerful Central, will represent the Fort Wayne area at Indianapolis South Grove Golf Course Saturday.

Central's failure to qualify for a State berth was only one of several surprises. King topped Gary Myers with unexpected ease, winning by almost 50 yards in what was supposed to be a tremendous battle.

MYERS HAD TO SPRINT hard in the stretch even to outlast two unheralded harriers, Avilla's Taubee and North Miami's Coplen. The small school's pride was further upheld when Ashley placed fifth with 142 points, beating such squads as Concordia, Central Catholic, Bishop Luers, defending champion New Haven, Peru, and Wabash in the process.

In the conduction of the race, King and Myers ran one-two to pace the 170 striders representing 28 schools. Taubee and Coplen battled each other for all 1.9 miles also, while South's Burton captured fifth place behind these two until the last quarter-mile, when he slipped.

To illustrate the remarkable balance of the Sectional field, it took 74 points for North Side to win this year as compared to South Side's 68-point total of last year in placing a weak third. Thus it is evident that the calibre and competition cross country running in this area has improved immensely over the last year—especially among the out-of-town teams.

LAST YEAR NEW HAVEN captured team honors with 42 points with Central 11 points back. South was third, North a poor fourth, and Elmhurst a disappointing fifth. King is the only individual to repeat a top-five finish.

Tuesday the Bulldogs ran without Berning, Boomershire, and Faust—three of their top-size men who were all sidelined because of disciplinary reasons. Central had their No. 3 man, Chuck Kammeyer, shelved with a broken arm; but they still were picked for the second place honors.

Elmhurst finally got its squad at full strength this season and surprised everyone, particularly Central, by qualifying for the State meet. Behind Mueller, who finally made the top five in individual honor after three years of frustration, the Trojans had Dave Waldrop thirteenth and John Gres nineteenth to give South Side a real battle for second place.

THOUGH THIS WAS THE fourth consecutive year since Coach Holt took over at the reins that South has earned a trip to Indianapolis, it was its biggest finish since the Archers won all the marbles back in 1948.

The Kellys did the trick last week with a solo senior, one junior, and three sophomores. The prospects for a Sectional title in 1962 are bright indeed.

Following are the names of the first four schools and the eight top individuals in the Sectional meet:

Team	Points
North Side	74
South Side	94
Elmhurst	101
Central	119

Individuals	School
Henry King	Central
Gary Myers	North Side
Bob Taubee	Avilla
Larry Coplen	North Miami
Reinhold Mueller	Elmhurst
Hal Sonafrank	Peru
Jim Burton	South Side
Paul Rider	Huntington

ON TO STATE . . . South Side's smart-stepping cross country team placed second in the Sectional meet October 24, thus earning a trip to the State meet Saturday. Team members kneeling left to right are Larry Lee, Jim Burton, Steve Myers, and Jim More; standing left to right, Al Schlie, Stu Schmitz, Bob Camp, Dave Munson, Ken Ellingwood, and Mike Weinraub.—Photo by Lowden

Coaches Show Ability To Lead Grid, Hardwood, Track Teams

By Bill Kleifgen

Besides having outstanding abilities as mentors, South's coaches boast a wealth of personal athletic experience. Their achievements include college high-point honors in basketball, professional football contracts, and a record time for the mile run in high school. Kelly coaches have also received college letters in football, baseball, basketball, boxing, lacrosse, and tennis.

Mr. Don Reichert, head basketball coach, attended South Side and received letters in basketball and track. While studying at Franklin College in Franklin, Ind., Mr. Reichert received four letters in baseball, basketball, and football.

Serving as captain of the basketball team his junior and senior years, he set a record for having scored the highest total number of points in basketball. Having batted .450 in baseball at Franklin, Mr. Reichert was offered a try-out with the St. Louis Cardinals, but had to pass up this opportunity.

ANOTHER AVID baseball fan and player is Mr. Wayne Scott, athletic director. While attending Fort Wayne Central, "Scotty" earned two letters in both basketball and baseball. He was a member of the Central roundball squad which played in the state basketball tournament.

At Michigan State, he concentrated on basketball, although he did play freshman baseball. As a member of the basketball corps, "Scotty" received his three-year letter and served as captain of the team during his senior year. Mr. Scott believes that his greatest thrill was beating the University of Michigan on their home floor while they were co-champs of the Big Ten.

While attending New Haven High School, Mr. Charles "Porky" Holt had the position of catcher for the baseball team and played guard on the basketball squad. During his senior year, "Porky" helped New Haven to an undefeated season in baseball. Concentrating exclusively on baseball while at Ball State Teachers College, he earned three letters as a catcher.

"Porky" played several years of service athletics between his high school and college years. Participating in both baseball and basketball, "Porky" was an active member of the championship teams in both sports.

ANOTHER PARTICIPANT in service sports was Mr. Glen Stebing, who played some football in Berlin following the end of World War II. Earlier in his career, Mr. Stebing attended Auburn High School and participated in basketball, track, and football.

After receiving two high school letters as a 440-man in track and as a halfback in football, he entered Manchester College at North Manchester, Ind., where he made both the football and baseball squads.

Mr. Stebing was selected as a small college All-State tackle and appointed acting football captain in his senior year at Manchester. In recollection, Mr. Stebing remembered a grand slam home run in baseball for his college nine as his greatest thrill.

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista Lodge Motel

"Yet Your Guests Be Our Guests"

Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

we are looking for

HIGH SCHOOL OF THE MONTH!

to find out how YOU can enter YOUR SCHOOL, rush out to your newsstand for a copy of teen time

number 2

... the national magazine that buys fiction, articles, cartoons from teenagers!

Capital's Team Remains Choice For Top Honor

Collective Participation Compensates For Lack Of Individual Standouts

With hopes of placing in the top ten, South Side's harriers journey to the state capital Saturday to compete in the Indiana High School Cross Country State Finals, at Southgrove golf course.

Since its origin in 1945, South Side has managed no better than a fifth place finish. Last year the Archers copped the fifteenth team slot after placing third in the Fort Wayne sectionals.

This season, although the Archers have no individuals standouts, they have a tremendous team balance which led them to a second place finish in Sectionals, South's best finish in over ten years.

COACH "PORKY" HOLT's runners, led by first year senior Jim Burton, who placed seventh in Sectionals for the Archers, can very easily place among the top ten squads. Along with Burton are Ken Ellingwood, Stu Schmitz, Jim More, Steve Meyer, and Dave Munson.

Indianapolis Ben Davis which won its own Sectional with a low tally of 67 and the Shortridge Invitational also established itself as a definite contender, perhaps the strongest and slight favorite. Fort Wayne North Side which copped top honors in the Summit City, Calumet, of the Hobart area, and second place qualifier Richmond from the Anderson sectional should also provide some strong bids for the title. Evansville Central and Terre Haute Gerstneyer, other Sectional winners, might also figure in the runnings.

AS FAR AS INDIVIDUAL favorites, it appears to be between six runners. Henry King, who turned in the best sectional time in winning his fourth outright title, appears to be a good choice this year.

The state championship half-mile will have to be alert physically and mentally to hit the finishing chute first; but since this is his last competitive meet in a high school uniform, he will probably be out to do something.

Larry Simpson of Hobart and Leon Carter of Indianapolis Manual, who both had winning sectional times in the low 9:50's; Earl Deal of Valparaiso; Denny Jones of Kokomo; Gail Lindquist of Battle Ground, the defending state champs; and Jim Midiffer of South Bend Adams were other sectional winners and are capable of claiming the state running title. It promises to be a tight race but King and Lindquist should be the pacesetters.

The state record is presently owned by Jim Bagby of Chesterton, who broke Max Truex's previous clocking of 9:48.8 with a time of 9:48.2 in the '59 finals.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

What you want is a Coke

Allen Wood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets

1013 Wells E-2865

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Established 1876

KLAEHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service

420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

THE FORT WAYNE COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, Inc.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Phone: T-1141

ALLEN FAIRY

FOREMOST IN QUALITY CONTROL

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Intramural boys began play in the annual fall bowling tourney Friday with approximately one hundred entries. These bowlers are not only shooting for championships but for the intramural records. Presently, the high lightweight series score is in the hands of Vaughn Correll, with a 584.

High game in lightweight history is the 201 belonging to Ray Lerch and Correll. Charles Kraus obtained the middleweight record for a three-game set with 520. Larry Carson's 193 stands as the high single game. Ed Gaterman has both heavyweight records, a 568 series and a 225 game.

Bill Ausdran, in winning the middleweight cross country title, set a new record of 5:05, breaking Duane Trim's 5:06 record. Charlie Golden was just two seconds shy of the heavyweight record of 5:08 belonging to John McMillen. Al Rainbolt currently maintains the lightweight record of 5:10; Brad Zieg was far from the record, although he ran a fine 5:25 race.

Mr. Clair Motz, intramural director, is accepting entries for the annual handball tourney. A student can either play in the novice or regular handball singles, depending upon his skills. After-school and noon leagues are being formed. The weight divisions for handball are lightweight, 125 pounds and under; middleweight, 126 to 145 pounds; and heavyweight, 146 and over.

The final team standings and scoring honors for heavyweight and lightweight touch football are as follows:

Heavyweight Division
Team	Won	Lost
Champs	4	1
Scream'n Demons	3	2
Rascals	3	2
Grippers III	1	2
Blockbusters	0	2
Yogi's Gang	0	2

Player
	TD	PAT	T
Mike Clemmer	5	1	31
Dale Engle	5	0	30
Gary Tinkel	4	1	25
Steve Evans	2	1	13
Al Zimmerman	1	1	7
Ken Fehman	1	1	7
Bob Symonds	1	1	7
Lee McClymonds	1	1	7
Al Sheldon	1	0	6
Terry Newendorp	1	0	6
Duane Goodwin	1	0	6
Larry Schneider	1	0	6
Paul Johns	1	0	6
Doug Baron	1	0	6
Jim Smith	1	0	6

Lightweight Division
Team	Won	Lost
Nature Boys	4	0
Drillers	2	2
Untouchables	1	2
Clods	0	2
Terrifiers	0	2

Player
	TD	PAT	T
Dave Rodenbeck	6	0	36
Rick Meeks	3	2	20
Jim Lawson	3	0	18
Steve Jones	1	1	7
Pat Fiske	1	1	7
Don Carlo	1	0	6
John Gustafson	1	0	6
Bill Speck	1	0	6

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Players' Spotlight

Bill Rastetter, Jerry Scherrer Spark Aggregation On Defense

Bill Rastetter

Jerry Scherrer

Because of his speed and aggressiveness, Junior A Bill Rastetter, one of the smallest men on the football team this year, has earned a position on the varsity squad.

Playing a guard position, Bill's main job on offense is to open up the holes through which one of the fleet-footed backfield men can run. If he fails to open up the hole, the team is usually caught for a short gain.

Used mainly on defense, his speed enables him to penetrate into the opponents' territory. His big job is to stop the opponent from opening up holes, thus preventing a sufficient gain in yardage. On punt formation, Bill often plays the end position because he is fast and can get down field to cover the kicks in a short time.

When asked about the all-important City Series game with Central Catholic tomorrow night, he stated that South will probably win, but the team will have to be ready physically as well as mentally.

Although Bill did not participate in freshman football, he came out his sophomore year and gained a first-string position on the reserve squad.

During the summer months Bill enjoys playing baseball. Last summer his team, Jim Kelley Buick, went as far as the final game of the Colt League tourney before they were beaten.

This year's varsity football squad is ably aided by Jerry Scherrer, senior. Jerry has played football at South for all four of his years in high school. He is one of three guards vying for positions on the starting string. As a defensive player, Jerry has a high percentage of tackles. He said that he enjoys defense but would rather play offense. On offense, Jerry plays at either guard post and is a very adept blocker.

During his freshman year, Jerry participated on a very strong track team. Football is his main sport love, and he has not participated to a great extent in any other sport.

Jerry cited Central Catholic as the toughest game yet to play this season. "Morton was a real good football team and was probably the hardest team of our overall schedule," stated Jerry.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Plaza Beauty Salon

H-6298

Open Evenings Till 9

Southgate

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY

Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.

FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

pigantics!

Look what's popping . . . sporty little Pigmillion leathers, cavorting along on spritely Crepe-Aire soles. They're Scotchgard®-protected . . . Sandler-styled in single tingle colors, or all together for a Swatchbook Look! We have 'em — just as you saw 'em in Seventeen!

8.95

The matching Swatchbook
Pocketbook, too! $5.00 plus fed. tax

SANDLER OF BOSTON

THE COCA-COLA SHOES CO.
121 W. Wayne St.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Ingeborg's Frisor Salong

(Beauty Shop)

617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

Kellys To Battle Irish, Compile 4-2-1 Record

Team To Play 'Must' Game Against C. C. Spirit, Power

With the City Series crown at stake, the Central Catholic Irish will roll into South Side Stadium for the final game of the year for both squads.

If the Kellys win or tie the game, they edge out Bishop Luers for the city Championship. If C.C. knocks off the Archers, the Knights will lay claim to their first city football crown. South now has a 2-0-1 record in city competition, and a 4-2-1 slate overall.

The Irish will enter tomorrow's game with a 3-4-1 record. Highly rated at the beginning of the year, the Purple and Gold didn't pan out as expected. They fell to South Bend Central; Central; Luers; and, last Wednesday night, to Richmond.

The turning point of the season was probably the Tigers' 8-6 victory over the Irish on a muddy, rain-swept field. Stunned by this blow, C.C. lost much of its self-confidence. The loss to Luers definitely knocked Coach Bartkiewicz's crew out of the city race.

THE IRISH HAVE scored victories over Indianapolis Secina, Lima Central Catholic, and North Side. In the first game of the season, they tied South Bend St. Joseph, 7-7.

Although the Irish have been relatively free from injuries, Steve Meyers, Phil Charais, and Bill Nancarrow have been out of action at different times, constituting a harmful loss to C.C. Meyers and Charais are now back in uniform and will play against the Archers, but one of the city's best all-around performers, Nancarrow, is a doubtful starter as a result of his bad ankle.

While playing at fullback and end, Nancarrow has racked up five touchdowns for his squad, despite limited service. Replacing him at left end will be Oberinger. Tom Newport and Bob Wehrle will line up next to Oberinger at left tackle and left guard. Coach Bartkiewicz will also start Bob Offerle at center, Hal Coar at right guard, Dick Frantz at right tackle, and Dick Zehner at the end of the right side.

THE BACKFIELD will consist of Tom Walsh, Bob Barnes, Bill Krouse, and Dan Bodecker. Walsh will be quarterbacking the team, Bodecker his fullback, and Barnes and Krouse the halfbacks.

Barnes and Krouse have come on strongly to tie the injured Nancarrow for the club lead in scoring. All three have 30 points—five touchdowns. Walsh has personally accounted for 12 points for his squad.

Unfortunately for the coach, after he fields this fine first eleven, he has poor bench strength for backing. Coach Bartkiewicz complained that his constant experimentation and changing of personnel has resulted in weak reserves and far too many mistakes by the squad on the field. He has finally found a "first string" which is learning to work together as a unit. Previously, his changes were somewhat unco-ordinated in their efforts.

Coach Bartkiewicz sums up the

City Scoreboard

City Series
	W	L	T	G	B	Pct.
South	2	0	1	—	—	.833
Luers	2	1	0	1/2	—	.667
Central	2	1	1	—	—	.600
C.C.	1	2	0	1 1/2	—	.333
North	0	3	0	2 1/2	—	.000
Overall
	W	L	T	O	A	D
Luers	6	1	1	26.1	6.6	19.5
South	4	2	1	10.1	6	4.1
Concordia	5	3	0	21.6	12.2	9.4
C.C.	3	4	1	17.9	16	1.9
Central	2	4	2	7	20.1	14.1
North	0	7	1	5.2	19.4	14.2
Elmhurst	0	8	0	6.6	37.4	30.8
Top Five
Name	School	TD	Exp	FG	T
Lebrato, Luers	13	2	0	80
Burns, Luers	10	4	0	64
Schoenfeld, Con.	5	7	0	37
Northcutt, Elm.	5	2	0	32
Dohrman, Con.	5	1	0	31

Irish season, "We have a good team, but we have made some mistakes that we shouldn't have made. It was mostly because of these mistakes that we lost some of the games that we did."

For the final game, though, the Central Catholic team is molded into a united, strong unit. It has speed on the ground and a strong punch through the air. It is worked up for South, which has allowed more than one touchdown per game only once. As a finale, this will probably be one of the greatest games of the entire season. South will be fighting for the city crown. C.C. will be fighting just for the sake of a good battle.

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Maloley Brothers

Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN ART

PHOTOGRAPHY

OFFSET PLATES

LETTERPRESS PLATES

ELECTROS

DIES, MATS, STEREOS

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.
CONSULTATION WITH MASTER CRAFTSMEN ON ANY OF YOUR GRAPHIC ARTS PROBLEMS, AT NO OBLIGATION OR COST TO YOU. WE ARE INTERESTED IN YOUR "JOB" IN PART OR AS A COMPLETE UNIT. MAY WE BE OF SERVICE?
COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

SKULL SESSION . . . Coach Robert Gernand, left, diagrams a play that may be used in Friday's game with Central Catholic for gridmen, left to right, Jerry Scherrer, Mark Hagerman, John Weaver, and Don Sievert. The Archers' hopes for the City Series title rests on the outcome of this contest.—Photo by Lowden

Stu's Sideline
hots
By Stu Schmitz

Tomorrow night is the long-awaited game—South versus Central Catholic. A victory or a tie would give the Archers their first city grid title since the goal posts came tumbling down in the fall of 1948. A loss would give idle Bishop Luers the coveted crown.

Looking at the 1961 statistics, it would appear that the Archers have a big edge over the Irish. South goes into their season's finale with a respectable 4-2-1 record. On the other hand, the Irish have experienced one of their poorest seasons in the past several years with a present 3-4-1 tally.

Coach Walt Bartkiewicz's gridmen have been playing some real fine football of late, however, after a slow and unimpressive start. In their last two outings they have averaged about thirty points offensively and have given up an average of twenty points.

Although they were victorious in only one of these impressive showings, a 33-7 win over North, they have played a quite aggressive type of football. In their last contest with highly regarded Richmond they were down by 21-0 at the half but stormed back with 26 points in losing 34-26.

The Archers, who have already assured themselves of another winning season, have been playing respectable ball but have not been playing quite as well as they did earlier in the season.

If the Archers have enough desire to win the city title for Coach Bob Gernand and staff, they will be able to stop the Irish from spoiling their chances and allowing their cousins from Luers to grab title honors. Despite Central Catholic's upsurge in the past few weeks, South will put their abilities to meet fully the stiff challenge. The prediction is South by a 19-14 verdict.

This Saturday South Side's harriers travel to Indianapolis to compete in the Indiana high school cross country state finals. It is the third straight year South has earned its way to South Grove Golf Course, the site of the annual running finals for some 24 schools and about 40 individual participants.

Hobart, the defending champion, was ousted in their own Sectional last Tuesday.

They will probably be replaced by either Indianapolis Ben Davis or nine-time state winner Anderson. The individual state champ is a question mark right now but there are several runners who have labeled themselves as definite contenders.

State champ Dale Lindquist of Battle Ground who grabbed the show last year in a fine 10:06.8 clocking ahead of Bob Scott of Elkhart and Denny Jones, then of South Side, is back again as well as Jones. They should get some good competition from Fort Wayne Central's Henry King and Leon Carter of Indianapolis Manual.

Here are some interesting facts concerning the state finals. The state record was established by Jim Bagby of Chesterton, who broke world champion, long-distance runner Max Truex's old record in 1959 with a 9:48.2 clocking.

Since its origin in 1945, Anderson has won the most titles, a total of nine. They won the first seven years from 1945-1952. In 1953 and 1954, Indianapolis Shortridge won top honors but Anderson returned to the top the following year. In 1956 and 1957, Muncie Central won the finals; Anderson won their ninth title in 1959, and last year Hobart won the championship.

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Sophs Drop Central 27-0; Lose Contest To Luers' Reserves

South Side's reserve football team climaxed its season with a bang as it pounded Central 27-0 on October 23, to finish with a 3-2-1 record.

The Archers received the opening kickoff and began their first scoring drive on their 88-yard line after a fourteen yard return by quarterback Dick Robinson. The Archers stayed strictly on the ground on this march. Fullback Bill Kinsey scored on a two-yard burst through the line and also twisted for the extra point.

The Tigers received the kickoff but were able to move for only one first down before Dan Laughlin intercepted a Tiger pass and brought the ball past the mid-field stripe.

A fine pass from Robinson to end Mark Close featured the ensuing scoring drive. Kinsey found a good hole in the Tiger defense in advancing to the five to set up the touchdown, which Williams scored. Another Robinson-to-Close pass scored the extra point.

AGAIN, THE TIGERS were able to produce only one first down, when, aided by a fine defensive play by Ron France, they were forced to punt.

On the first play from scrimmage, Kinsey, playing his best game of the year, advanced 30 yards to the Central 35. Five plays later, Christon found another wide opening, then scored from three yards out. Laughlin ran the extra point to make the score 21-0 at the half.

Picking up where they had left off at the start of the second half, the Archers forced the Tigers to punt as soon as they received the ball. Three plays after the Archers received the punt, Robinson faded back 20 yards and threw a pass to Kinsey at the line of scrimmage. Kinsey picked up six blockers and 42 yards for the touchdown. The try-for-point failed.

WITH THE LEAD apparently unsurmountable, Coach Warren Hoover was able to clear the bench. The second-stringers, with occasional help from the first team, was able to contain the Tigers for the remainder of the game. The Archers made one late touchdown attempt, but time ran out before they were able to score.

Luers Edges Squad
Bishop Luers' Tim Burns proved too much to handle as the Knights handed South's reserves a 13-6 defeat on October 16. Burns scored all the Knights' points by running 45 yards, catching a 5-yard pass for touchdown, and running the only extra point of the game.

After an early exchange of punts in the first quarter, the Archers began a 75-yard drive that led to their only touchdown of the game.

As in their preceding game, the key play was a fake punt, followed by a 15-yard run by Andy Christon. Bob Williams followed with a 17-yard charge through the line, carrying as many as four Knights at one time.

CHRISTON, WILLIAMS, and Dan Laughlin continued to grind out yardage, with Christon scoring from five yards out. The ball carriers were aided by some fine blocking from the line, which continually opened large holes in the Luers defense.

Not to be denied, the Knights took only four plays to tie the score. Their drive was climaxed when Burns broke through the line and sailed 45 yards for an easy touchdown. The half ended in a tie.

The Knights made a final attempt to score in the closing moments of the game. However, a fine goal line stand by the Archers, sparked by Mark Close and Ron France, drove the Knights from South's four to their 23-yard line. The game ended with Luers winning, 13-6.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Hi-Quiz
SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15

I & M
Hi-Quiz
SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15
The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.
This Sunday:
Central vs. Bishop Luers
INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Kelly Offside Rallies Kingsmen; Squad Trounces Trojans, 25-6

Just when it seemed that South Side's Archers had come roaring back to tie a very good Penn Township team, the mighty Kingsmen in Mishawaka scored a touchdown on a 45-yard pass with no time left in the game to beat the Archers, 14-7.

After an early Penn score in the first quarter, for the first three and one-half quarters, it seemed as though the Archers had made the trip in vain. However, they fought back to score with just 32 seconds left and, seemingly, had left the game in a 7-7 deadlock. This set the stage for the Kingsmen's big play.

South Side generally outplayed the Penn Township team, but the Kingsmen had the breaks that turned the tide. The first of these came early in the first quarter after the Black and Gold had kicked off to the Kellys. The Green and White started on a drive from their own 13-yard line and under the leadership of quarterback Tom McMahan they ground out several first downs.

IT SEEMED AS though they were really starting to roll, but McMahan dropped back to pass and the ball slipped when he threw it. The pass intended for the Archer end was short, and a Penn halfback picked it off on his 40-yard line with a clear field ahead.

Picking up several good blocks, the Kingsmen raced to the Archer 12-yard line before Sid Sherry tackled him from behind. From here it was no trouble at all to score on the downhearted Archers.

During the next three quarters the game was a stalemate with neither team getting close to the other's goal. Penn Township was unable to penetrate the Archer defense for any yardage at all. The Archers were able to move against the Kingsmen, but every time that they mustered a serious threat they either fumbled the ball or got set back with a big penalty.

WITH JUST FOUR minutes left in the game, the Archers got possession of the ball for their last time on their 35-yard line after a punt by the Kingsmen. With Tom McMahan calling the plays, the Kellys started to move down field. When it looked as though South was stopped on the Penn 45, McMahan proved a hero as he twisted away from the opposition and scampered 30 yards down the sideline.

McMahan did not falter here as he completed a fine pass to Tom Wright who carried the ball down to the four-yard line. "Mac" stayed in form as he whipped the ball to Bob Lohman in the end zone with just 32 seconds left. This made the score 7-6.

ED JOHNSON, calm and collected, went into the game and had to kick the extra point twice in succession because of an Archer penalty on the first try; but he did it.

Penn brought the Archer kickoff back to their own 35 and called time out with 20 seconds left. The next play was an incomplete pass and it seemed as though the game was over. However, there was an Archer penalty; and since a game can't end with a penalty, Penn got one more try. This was all they needed as the Black and Gold completed a pass to their end who was covered by three Archers, but somehow evaded them to score the winning touchdown.

Kellys Trounce Elmhurst
Even though the Kellys were lackadaisical in their play during the first

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

The Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

home of the Elmhurst game in the home stadium on October 20, they led by a 6-0 score after two quarters. However, they woke up in the second half to sweep past the Trojans, 25-6. Only when Elmhurst tied the score in the third quarter did the Archers spring back to life and knock the opponents off their feet.

The first two times that the squad got the ball, it lost it on fumbles. Quarterback Tom McMahan fumbled to the Trojans on the second play of the game, with the Red and Gray taking over on the Green's 23-yard line. The Archers stood firm, and Dave Foreman's attempted field goal on fourth down was short.

After South took over on its 20-yard line, left halfback Nate Norment rambled 41 yards upfield to the Trojans' 37. There, the Kellys promptly fumbled, losing the ball again.

Elmhurst began rolling when quarterback Foreman completed a quick pass to end Dave Mueller, who went 15 yards to the midfield stripe. Dale Snyder of Elmhurst gained short yardage, and Foreman rolled out around the left end for eight yards to the 39.

TROJAN DAVE JOHNSON got down to the 31 on the next play; but in three more downs, the Trojans couldn't gain the two yards for a first down. The Archers took the ball.

Sid Sherry and Dick Johnson carried very well for South in the waning seconds of the first period; but at the start of the second quarter, McMahan had to punt on fourth down. After four Trojan downs, the Kellys again had the ball, this time on Elmhurst's 49-yard line.

Mart Platupe bulled his way for 16 yards to the 33, and McMahan hit Dave Platz with a pass to the 20. A penalty against Elmhurst then moved the ball to the 11-yard line and Platz cracked through the line for a first down on the three-yard line. Platupe then plunged for the touchdown. The run for the point-after-touchdown failed.

Elmhurst received the kick at the start of the second half and marched to a touchdown in ten plays. Foreman ran the kick back to his 30-yard marker. Two plays later, he dipped a pass to Dave Mueller who carried to South's 46 for an 18-yard gain.

DEWAYNE NORTHCUTT slashed to the 33 and then to the 17-yard line. With fourth down and two yards to go on the 17, Foreman fired to Mueller in the corner of the end zone for Elmhurst's six points.

South took only eight plays to regain the lead for good with Norment reaching pay dirt for the second Kelly score.

From that point on, an Archer victory was just a matter of time as South controlled the ball and started naming their own score as expected. Archer backs Wright, Sherry, and Norment ground out the yardage for South's third T.D., with Sherry driving over for the score.

South followed with a 65-yard scoring drive, climaxed by a two-yard drive by Platz for the final score of the game. Platz also romped for the extra point, which ended the scoring at 25-6.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

1961

NOVEMBER

1961

Observe The Times Calendar For

Important School Activities

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
	Greiner's H-2124 2802 S. Calhoun Lawn Boy Mowers Toro Mowers Evinrude Outboards Grumman Boats	Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six Years Keefer Printing Co. A-1484	1 One man with courage makes a majority. Andrew Jackson	2 "Honesty" is the best policy! The next best is— A Policy Written By Young-Punsky Co. 415 Central Bldg. Insurance Brokers Masque and Gavel, Room 112 Biology Experimenters, Room 91 Math Section, Room 36 Senior PTA Tea, Cafeteria, 2:30 p.m.	3 He is only rich who owns the day.—Emerson GAA Basketball Football, Central Catholic, here	4 Art's Standard Service 4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025 Fort Wayne, Ind. Atlas Times—Batteries —Accessories Pick-Up and Delivery S&H Stamps
5 Life is real! Life is earnest! And the grave is not its goal; Dust thou art, to dust re- turnest Was not spoken of the soul. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow	6 Broadview Florist & Greenhouses 5801 Winchester Road S-3146 Wranglers, Room 112 Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m. Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Basketball	7 I have never met or heard of anyone who could outsmart honesty.—Abe Lincoln Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Astronomy Section, Room 96	8 Music Assembly  Vesta Club, Rm. 112; Designers' Associated, Rm. 120; Honorary Arts Rm. 61; Chem. Sec.; Music Assem.	9 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home 50 Years of Continuous Service 2423-27 Fairfield Avenue H-2334 Jr. Academy of Science, Room 76 Safety Council, Room 178 Y-Teens, Room 112	10 Schmidt's Pharmacy Ed Schmidt, R.Ph. Your Neighborhood Health Center 4001 South Wayne Avenue H-0626 GAA Basketball Workshop, Room 152 Lettermen Potluck, Room 112, 6 p.m. Grade Period Ends	11 South Side Barber Shop FIVE BARBERS Appointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Sat- urday. No Appointments. Across from Main Entrance of South Side. Harold Henry, Proprietor 3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502
12 The Family Who Prays Together Stays Together	13 Dur-Enamel Paints Dur-Enamel Co., Inc. When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices. E-3011 1015 Taylor Philo, Room 112 Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m. Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Basketball	14 BABER'S JEWELRY 801 S. Calhoun A-7306 — E-4197 Meterite, Room 112 Electronics Section, Room 96 Grades Issued	15 I envy no man that knows more than myself but pity men that know less. Franklin Pierce Art Club, Room 26 Red Cross Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Physics Section	16 E. H. Kilbourne Co. 1835 Lincoln Bank Tower A-4373 Masque and Gavel, Room 112 Biology Experimenters, Room 96 Math Section, Room 36	17 BEAT  BLUFFTON GAA Basketball Pep Session Workshop, Room 152 Basketball, Bluffton, here Meterite After-Game Dance	18 Dill & Dill Insurance 1127 S. Clinton A-1119 All Forms of Insurance Over 26 Years of Service Lawrence G. Dill Clifford D. Dill
19 The Lord redeemeth the soul of His servants: and none of them that trust in Him shall be desolate. Psalm 34:22	20 South Side Shell Service Lafayette and Rudisill Phone H-5177 Wheel Balance Free Pick-Up and Delivery Wranglers, Room 112 Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m. Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Basketball	21 RENT A TYPEWRITER from NEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co. 723 South Clinton A-7395 Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Honorary Arts, Room 61 Societas Latina, Room 61 Astronomy Section, Room 96	22 PONTIAC FLORISTS 914 East Pontiac H-2223 Flowers for All Occasions Basketball, Southport, here Chemistry Section Thanksgiving Assembly Astro-Physics Section, Room 96 Vesta Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Honorary Arts, Room 61	23 Thanksgiving  Day Thanksgiving Vacation	24 DOSWELL'S Floral Co., Inc. 301 West Main A-1183 Bouquets and Corsages Thanksgiving Vacation	25 Few things are impossible to diligence and skill. Brisbane Basketball, Concordia, there
26 	27 COFFEE SHOP OXFORD Meet me at the Oxford Coffee Shop for the Best Food in Town 1223 OXFORD Philo, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Basketball	28 Top Hat Dry Cleaners Three Locations 1309 Oxford 1604 Sherman 4215 Bluffton Rd.	29 You may delay, but time will not.—Ben Franklin Art Club, Room 26 Red Cross Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Physics Section	30 Oxford Pharmacy Hanna at Oxford Phone H-1373 High School Supplies Gene Yoder, Prop. Masque and Gavel, Room 112 Biology Experimenters, Room 91 Math Section, Room 36	Klaehn Funeral Home 420 W. Wayne A-0228 Ambulance Service	Munro's Standard Service Free Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing. Southgate Plaza H-5300

"Four Things Come Not Back
—The spoken word
The sped arrow
The past life
The neglected opportunity"

"Teacher, ■ Shakespeare were alive today, would he be considered a remarkable man?"
"Indeed he would! He'd be three hundred and fifty-seven years old!"

For Top Quality Merchandise . . .

Buy From These Advertisers!

Mrs. No. 1: "That's a lovely coat you're wearing, Mrs. Jones." Mrs. No. 2: "Oh, thank you. My husband gave it to me for my 35th birthday."
Mrs. No. 1: "It certainly wears well, doesn't it!"

Passenger (on board ship): "I say my clothes are gone!"
Steward: "Where did you put them?"
Passenger: "In that little cupboard with the glass door."
Steward: "Bless me, that's no cupboard—that's a porthole, sir."

Congrats, Tom McMahan—
South's Junior Rotarian

The South Side Times

Don't Forget To Buy
The Winter Pegasus

Vol. XL—No. 9

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, November 9, 1961

Price Ten Cents

Thanksgiving Presentation To Display Scenes Of Modern Holiday Activities

Judy Chapman Writes
Script; Bonnie Russell
Helps As Co-ordinator

Portraying what really happens on a modern Thanksgiving Day will be the general theme of this year's Thanksgiving Assembly. The holiday activities will be seen through the eyes of a foreigner who comes to America expecting to find the Pilgrims.

Bonnie Russell is the co-ordinator of the assembly, and Judy Chapman was in charge of writing the script. Those who aided her in preparing it were Phil Spray, Ken Davis, Rosie Capps, Karen Finrock, Bonnie Russell, Louise Jackson, Dave Lipp, and Linda McMurtry.

The stagecraft committee, headed by Annell Hoover and Nancy Lougheed, will set the mood by constructing a street scene with shell houses, streets, and sidewalks. The committee has been broken down into individual sections with separate committees.

DAVE TIPTON will head a committee for doing heavy work and building. Honey-K Martindale is in charge of painting the interior of the houses, while Kathy Klas is head of the committee for exterior painting. Betsy Adams heads a group which will print signs for a stadium gate and school.

Other committee heads are Judy Rogers, living room; Pam Buzzard, study room; Mary Jane Reiff, practice room, streets, and sidewalks; and Ann McCallister, school front. Kay Bradley will be in charge of paints and will see that the brushes are clean.

Pam Punskey and Dave Lipp are co-chairmen for the presentation of the program, and Ken Davis will be the narrator.

THOSE WITH SPEAKING parts are Dianne Ball, Tom Erb, Kerry Nidlinger, Mike Levy, Jim Welty, Matt Cornacchione, Sue Klach, Patty Slater, Ann Brase, Terry Hoff, Sandy Miller, Krystyna Kriworotow, Bill Kleifgen, Phil Spray, Kitty Fay, Marcia Hughes, Judy Chapman, Bob Wasson, and Pam Punskey.

Others with walk-on parts are Karen Finrock, Dave Lipp, Lissa Hoffman, Sally Gilbert, Ann Mol, Annell Hoover, Carol Ladig, Bob Bartel, Margie Winder, Martha Lanning, Karen Ponder, Ken Davis, Betsy Adams; Rosie Capps, Dave Rodenbeck, Dave Fleming, John Knight, Susi Bumgardner, Bob Ramage, Barrie Spear, Nancy Redding, Karen Ashe, Jim Powell, Allan Mason, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Lohman, Bonnie Russell, and Bill Rastetter.

College Spokesmen To Talk To Kellys On Fall Enrollment

Representatives from Heidelberg College, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Coe College will visit South Side tomorrow, next Monday, and November 17, respectively.

Mr. Edward D. Murphy Jr., a representative of Heidelberg College, will talk with interested seniors tomorrow at 8:30 a.m.

Heidelberg College, a co-educational school located at Tiffin, O., was founded in 1850 by the Reformed Church and is now part of the United Church of Christ in the United States. Its enrollment is approximately eight hundred seventy.

REPRESENTING THE Massachusetts Institute of Technology is Mr. Douglas Adams, assistant professor of engineering, who will consult with seniors considering MIT at 1:30 p.m. next Monday.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, Mass., is an independent, endowed institution devoted to education and research in science, engineering, industrial management, architecture, and planning, as well as in the humanities and social sciences.

The objective at MIT is to select and educate students who show promise of becoming top-flight teachers, scientists, engineers, industrialists, and managers.

A REPRESENTATIVE of Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Ia., will be at South Side November 17, at 2:30 p.m. Coe College was established in 1851 as an independent Christian, co-educational, liberal arts college dedicated to the search for sound learning.

Seniors who wish to speak with the representatives of MIT and Coe College should sign after next Monday's homeroom period in Mr. Jack Weicker's office, Room 102. They will then be notified when the representatives arrive.

Times Extends Sympathy

On behalf of the faculty and student body, The South Side Times wishes to extend sympathy to Miss Olive Perkins, French teacher, on the death of her sister, Miss Estella Perkins, and to Mr. Robert Gernand, football coach, on the death of his father, Mr. William J. Gernand.

Miss Perkins, a retired teacher, passed away October 26 at the Fairfield Nursing Home. Mr. Gernand, former superintendent of the central district, Missouri Synod Lutheran Schools, passed away October 24 in the Lutheran Hospital.

TURKEY TIME . . . Heralding the upcoming Thanksgiving season are members of Assemblies Workshop who will be in charge of the Thanksgiving Assembly November 23. They are, standing, left to right, Pam Punskey, Dave Lipp, Annell Hoover, Nancy Lougheed, and seated, Judy Chapman.—Photo by Jones

Eleven Times, Totem Members Found New Publications Board

To help with the idea of formulating creative ideas for both the Times and Totem, a publications board has been designed with its primary purpose to set the editorial policy for both publications.

Members are Ken Lowden, Sandy Thorn, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Babs Jones, Diane Fredrick, Kathy DeVore, Jenny Manth, Rosemary Capps, Jani Brenn, and Diane Leath. The board members will change twice a year with the exceptions of Sandy Thorn and Jenny Manth who are permanent members.

The publications board was organized to give students more responsibility and to assure student participation. Every Friday at 4 p.m. the members will meet to formulate staff procedures, creative ideas, and editorial policies.

AS EDITOR OF THE 1962 Totem, Babette Jones believes this board will help publications because the ideas of eleven people rather than just the Totem editors will be used. She stated, "This way we can combine our ideas

Composition Contest To End Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the final day that material may be submitted in the Pegasus writing contest sponsored by The South Side Times. A first-prize article will be chosen from each of three categories, original short story, original essay or editorial, and original poetry.

The prizes will be $3 and publication of each winning article in the Pegasus. Regardless of class standing, any student may submit an unlimited number of entries. The author's name, classification, and a title must appear on all entries. All entries should be typed if possible.

Judges for the contest include Jenny Manth, Pegasus editor-in-chief; Kaylene Gobert, assistant editor; Miss Lucy Osborne and Miss Mary Graham, English teachers; and Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser. The judges reserve the right to edit all copy, and their decisions will be final.

All material must be submitted to Jenny or Kaylene before or after school in Room 10. If the student wants the original entry returned, he may have it after a copy has been typed. The winners will be announced in the Pegasus, which will be distributed after Christmas vacation.

PTA To Debate Problems Of Teenagers Wednesday

One thousand two hundred parents joined the South Side PTA during October, PTA membership month. Membership for the school year is 60 cents per parent.

On Wednesday, the parents of students of South Side, North Side, Elmhurst, and Central will meet at South Side for the symposium "Teenagers and their Crowd." Lasting from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m., this meeting will center around "Cars at School: What's the Idea?", "The Fourth R: Right and Wrong," and "Prom Parties: Madness, Fantastic, Relaxing."

Mr. Bret McGinnis, state recreation director and vice-president of Indiana Congress of PTA, will serve as the symposium moderator. Also participating in the program will be Dr. Dayton Musselman, director of attendance and guidance of the Fort Wayne Community Schools, and Mr. Robert Waldrop, school safety liaison officer.

Meterites To Hear Talks

Lessons concerning poetry will be given at the Meterites' meeting Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Ruth Russ, Nancy Redding, Marcia Hughes, and Marlene Ringerberg, sophomores, will each present an explanation of a different category in poetry and give a demonstration of that category.

Following the explanations, Patty North, Julie Rhinehart, and Joyce Spindler, sophomores, will present the talent.

with those of the board to create a better and more original yearbook."

Diane Fredrick, associate editor of the Totem, agreed that more ideas would make a better yearbook. She said, "By working together the variety of ideas gathered will make a wider background to work and lead to more creativity in all publications."

Ken Lowden, head photographer for Times, Totem, Pegasus, and Intercom, stated, "This publications board will undoubtedly be a great asset to South's publications department because the staffs will be working uniformly for a better product."

ROSIE CAPPS SAID, "I realize it will improve the Times and Totem immensely by pooling ideas in the board's weekly discussions."

Sue Kelley, business manager of the Times, stated, "This board will greatly improve publications because it will help improve staff efficiency." Supporting Sue's beliefs, Jani Brenn, Times copy editor, said, "One thing the board will do is set editorial policy. This will insure a more interesting paper."

MORE PRAISE OF THE board was given by Jenny Manth, editor-in-chief of the Pegasus, when she stated, "I believe this board is a very good idea, because it will distribute responsibility among more people rather than have all the responsibility rest on one person. Oftentimes when one person must make all the decisions, originality is lost."

Bill Wilder and Kathy DeVore both concluded that this board will be very helpful toward the bettering of publications in general. Bill feels that it will succeed in trying to work out publication problems through a joint effort; and Kathy, who is picture editor, feels that Times pictures will improve and become more interesting.

Job's Daughters To Vote

Election of officers will highlight the Wednesday meeting of Job's Daughters at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. Officers to be elected are honored queen, senior princess, junior princess, guide, and marshal. The results will be announced before the meeting adjourns.

Band, Orchestra, Choir Members Launch Annual 'Turtle' Candy Sale

Snack, Regular Boxes
Sell For 50 Cents, $1;
Pupils To Get Awards

Band, orchestra, and choir members have begun their annual candy sale which will continue as long as the supply of candy lasts. Eight-ounce boxes of pecan nuts, usually called "turtles," are on sale for $1; and a new, snack-size box is available for 50 cents.

The larger boxes contain 16 pieces of candy, while the small cartons have eight pieces. Profits from the sale will be used to purchase new band uniforms, choir formal, musical instruments, and sheet music.

At the beginning of the drive, about four hundred fifty members of the Music Department were given five boxes of "turtles" to sell, which composed almost the entire supply. The students have been requested by the instrumental and chorus directors to return the candy they have not been able to distribute; therefore, other musicians, who have already sold their candy, will have a chance to sell this also.

Four high salesmen will be awarded two cameras and two wrist watches, respectively.

Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music director, stated, "We have been very pleased at the success of this year's candy sale. Apparently,

Agents Achieve Subscription Goal, Obtain 500 Pegasus Sales Monday

Principal Visits I. U. Conference For 1961 Class

To attend the Indiana Freshmen Principal's Conference, Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, left for Indiana University this morning. The purpose of the conference is to provide the freshmen students at Indiana University, who were graduates of Indiana high schools, with the opportunity to talk with the high school principal concerning needs and academic achievements.

The one-day conference, which is to be conducted in the Union Building, will begin with the principals from Indiana high schools interviewing the freshmen who were graduated from their respective schools. Mr. Snider stated, "The students are always quite grateful for the chance to see someone from home."

Following the interviews, the principals will gather for a luncheon which will feature a panel discussion concerning Indiana University's new entrance requirements.

MR. SNIDER WILL present the view points of the high schools about these new requirements; while three college professors will represent the university.

The conference will not only give principals the opportunity to meet and talk over a common interest, the inter-workings of a school, but it will also give them a chance to bolster the courage and spirit of those students who need it.

The principals who attend the conference, usually numbering about four hundred, elect ten or twelve of their number to plan the next year's conference. This year the group met September 21 at Indiana University to plan the program.

The University prepares for each principal reports on the freshmen whom he will interview. These reports from their professors include a preliminary grade for each student, any problem the student has had, and the result of their orientation tests.

THE STUDENTS FROM South Side's 1961 class studying at Indiana include Roger Allen, Robert Anderson, Connie Jo Arnold, Richard Baker, Robert Bechert, John Bitman, Robert Bolard, Richard Busch, Betty Carroll, Larry Chen, Ellen Crowder, Beth Curley;

Carolyn DeVore, Barbara Dicker, David Dill, Sally Dill, James Gidson, Sylvia Ehrman, Judy Eisenhut, Thomas Felger, Craig Holmes, James Holmes, Rebecca Hostetler, Carl Johnson, Karen Johnson, James King, Sharon Longenberger, Susan McCall; Larry McDonald, Sarah McDonald, Mary Melly, Murray Munger, William Platka, Steve Pohl, Joanne Reiff, Carolyn Ripple, Paul Romey, Robert Sherry, Susan Slick, Susan Springer, Joan Stanton, Nancy Vanderford, Joseph Weinraub, Edith White, and Jerry Zinn.

Money Deadline Nears

Seniors who want their pictures to appear in the 1962 Totem are to pay $1.50 to their homeroom Totem agent by tomorrow. Seniors who have not paid this fee in full will not have their pictures in the yearbook.

PEGASUS PLANNERS . . . Pegasus bookheads put up posters for the literary magazine campaign which started Monday and continues through November 22. Bookheads are front row, left to right, Harriet Ochstein, Sharyan Yerger, Janet Dinius, Ann McCallister; back row, left to right, Dan Schwartz, Peggy Schmidt, Sally Mallough, and Sally Sweet.—Photo by Seaman

Thomas McMahan To Serve As November Junior Rotarian

Thomas McMahan, senior, has been selected by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, to attend meetings of the Fort Wayne Rotary Club as South Side's Junior Rotarian for November, and to be the luncheon guest of the Rotary Club at the Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of inviting the boys is to acquaint students with the principal of the club and encourage them to join when they become businessmen. The club is international in scope and gives the boys a chance to gain knowledge of international affairs.

AS A JUNIOR ROTARIAN, Tom will listen to various speakers, meet other guests, and gain understanding of the club's activities.

"I am very proud to be chosen for this opportunity to represent my school," stated Tom.

In Hi-Y he serves as vice-president. He also is a member of the Lettermen's Club, Service Club, and the orchestra in which he plays the French horn. Belonging to Plymouth Congregational Church, Tom serves as president of its youth group, Pilgrim Fellowship.

In sports he is active on the basketball team, track team, and plays as a quarterback on the football team. Becoming a veterinarian is his future plan.

MR. WILLIAM RASTETTER, active member of Rotary Club, expressed his congratulations to Tom and stated, "The Rotary Club encourages and fosters the idea of service. It encourages the individual to do responsibilities that are his and not the club's as a whole."

The Rotary Club is the first and oldest founded club in Fort Wayne. It was founded in 1905. Being international, it is present in 122 countries.

Kellys Contribute To Fund

South Side students contributed $221.67 to the annual United Fund Drive October 19. This amount was the largest the student body ever contributed. The total amount received from the faculty and other employees was $3,082.

Proceeds of the United Fund Drive are divided among 38 human service agencies. Some of the members included in this group are the YMCA, YWCA, National Council on Crime and Delinquency, and the Indiana Mental Health Association.

Tom McMahan

pressed his congratulations to Tom and stated, "The Rotary Club encourages and fosters the idea of service. It encourages the individual to do responsibilities that are his and not the club's as a whole."

The Rotary Club is the first and oldest founded club in Fort Wayne. It was founded in 1905. Being international, it is present in 122 countries.

Archer Orators Win Ten Places In Howe Initial Competition

South Side students entered in the inexperienced speech meet at Howe Military School last Saturday won second place as a school and ten individual ribbons. Lafayette Jefferson took first place in the combined scoring.

Ribbon winners in girls' extemporaneous speaking were Diane Hall, first; Kathy DeVore, third; and Rosemary Capps, fourth. In boys' extemporaneous, Lex Smuts took a second-place ribbon. Taking the first three places in the humorous division were Pat Slater, Ann Brase, and Martha Dixon, respectively.

Charlotte Powell received second in the dramatics division, Mary Ella Braden was given a fifth in oratorical interpretation, and Sue Weinraub received a green ribbon in the freshman-sophomore division of oratorical interpretation. Bob Wasson and Ann McCallister made the finals in the humorous division.

Others attending the meet were Larry Lee, Charlotte Dinius, Pam Funskey, Pam Buzzard, Jackie Kuhns, Karen Ponder, Marcia Disler, Peggy Brase, Martha Lanning, Dianne Ball, Christine Fruechtenicht, and Joyce Cossairt.

Judging in the contest were Shari Busch, Tom Erb, Logan Smith, Margie Terry, and Lisa Hoffman. These judges didn't evaluate contestants from South.

Mr. Robert Storey, sponsor of Wranglers, remarked, "I am very proud of everyone who attended the meet. South was able to win first place at the meet last year, and I'm glad we were able to keep on top with second place this year. I hope we do as well at the New Haven Meet Saturday."

Philo To Present Play

"Teacher's Pet," a play, will be presented at the Philo Thanksgiving meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. After the play, which is being directed by Elaine Cole and Karen Simmons, seniors, the girls will sing and have a short business meeting.

Connie Vallance, junior, is the decorating committee chairman for the meeting with Annell Hoover, junior, heading the refreshments committee.

Bev Flanigan Tops Salesmen On Opening Day

Two Representatives
Obtain 100 Per Cent;
Book Costs 35 Cents

Selling 500 subscriptions on the first day, Pegasus homeroom agents began the campaign which will continue through November 22. Books II, V, and VI sold the highest number of subscriptions on the first day.

The Pegasus will be in the hands of the buyers sometime after Christmas vacation. The price is 35 cents, and no promissory notes will be accepted.

Sally Sweet, circulation manager, stated, "We reached our goal for the first day, but there are many more students who haven't bought the Pegasus."

THE PEGASUS is a literary magazine containing literature written by South Side students. Since the English teachers submit compositions of their students which they think observe merit, any student might have material in the Pegasus.

Mr. James Rohrabough, publications adviser, stated, "The circulation department did a good job the first day of the campaign. Selling 500 subscriptions is indicative of another good year for the Pegasus."

The overall goal for the campaign is about two thousand subscriptions. Students who haven't purchased the Pegasus may contact any homeroom agent.

Agents who achieved 100 per cent the first day are Lynelle Dill, Beverly Flanigan, and Karen Franks, sophomores. Another high salesman the first day was Patty Bailey, junior A. There will be a cash prize for the agent who sells the highest number of subscriptions.

AGENTS AND THEIR homeroom numbers are the following: Book I; Alice Ashton and Tamara Benty, S-1; Kaylene Gobert and Ann Golden, S-2; Sue Horth, S-3; Sandy Miller and Sue Phillips, S-4; Sandy Thorn, S-5; Bonnie Russell, 2; Sharyan Yerger and Yvonne Wilson, 4; Sue Berk, 6; and Sharon Eitman, 8;

Book II; Joyce Lockwood and Becky Baughman, 10; Joyce Dunlap, 12; Cynthia Jackson, 22; Babette Jones, 24; Peggy Schmidt, 26; Roberta Twitchell, 28; Terry Newendorp, 30; Barrie Spear, 32; and Susan Robinson, 34;

Book III; Sue Burdick, 36; Cheryl Nading, 44; Gunther Baur, 45; Cheryl Miller, 46; Karen Simmons, 52; Harriet Ochstein and Diana Orms, 54; Doris Hessert, 56; and Susan Lawry, 58;

Book IV; Larry Brown and Sue Porgmann, 60; Linda Seibel, 61; Karen Miller, 62; Nancy Enz, 64; Suzette Glass, 66; Brenda Dull, 68; Tom Erb, 70; Cindy Christman, 72; and Ann McCallister, 74;

BOOK V; SUSI HINES, 75; Sue Smith, 76; Barb Nelson, 77; Lynelle Dill, 80; Marna Reiber, 82; Cheryl Trulock, 84; JoAnn Dixon, 88; Phyllis (Continued on Page 6)

Students To Receive Scholarship Notices

Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, has asked that seniors interested in scholarships stop in Room 102 to look at the college bulletins. They answer many questions concerning scholarships and financial aid at the colleges.

Some of the scholarships offered are The Printing and Publishing Industry; Swarthmore College, Swarthmore, Pa.; Colorado School of Mines, Golden, Colo.; Milwaukee-Downer College, Milwaukee, Wis.;

MARY BALDWIN College, Staunton, Va.; Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind.; The National Foundation of Health, Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.; Northwestern School of Business, Evanston, Ill.; Worcester Polytechnic Institute, Worcester, Mass.;

Rockford College, Rockford, Ill.; Michigan State University, East Lansing, Mich.; Sperry and Hutchinson Company; the Lutheran Laymen's League of Valparaiso University; MASSACHUSETTS Institute of Technology; Huntington College, Huntington, Ind.; Calverton College, Northfield, Minn.; Westinghouse Company; Earlham University; Richmond College; Procter and Gamble; Illinois Wesleyan University, Bloomington, Ill.; Aid Association of Lutherans; Columbia University, New York; California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Calif.; General Motors Company; and Pembroke College, Providence, R. I.

JRC To Make Favors

Junior Red Cross will meet Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. After the business meeting, the members will make tray favors for the Veterans' Hospital.

Dads' Club To Honor Lettermen; Mr. William Borgmann To Talk

'Guest House' To Host
Affair; Coaches, Team
To Receive Recognition

Football players and their fathers will be guests at the annual Football Banquet sponsored by the South Side Dads' Club, Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. in Hall's Guest House.

The banquet, which is the counterpart of the annual spring banquet saluting all other varsity sports at South Side, will open with the invocation. Mr. William Borgmann, a Big Ten official, will present the main talk of the evening which will be focused on Big Ten football.

The purpose of the banquet, according to Dr. Robert Lohman, president of the Dads' Club, is "to show thanks for a job well done by the coaching staff and the team." This purpose will be reflected in comments to be given by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal. Also scheduled to address the group is Mr. Robert Gernand, head football coach.

PLAYERS INVITED to the banquet are David Banet, Gunther Bauer, William Borgmann, Stephen Bill, Alton Bloom, Fredrick Brown, David Brumm, Andrew Christon, Mark Closs, James Crick, Glen Crosier, William Cupp, Larry Dawson, Daniel DeWald, David Eaton, Michael Ensley, Ronald France, Thomas Frazell, Edwin Gaterman, Kent Hagerman, Mark Hagerman, David Hamilton, Michael Haulin, Gary Hensch, Bruce Hilby, John Hite, Robert Holloway, Michael Houser, Ed Johnson, Dick Johnson, Dan Junk, William Kinsey, Michael Laughlin, Robert Leininger, Robert Lohman.

Richard Lump, James Maxon, Thomas McMahon, Richard McVay, David Meek, David Meyer, David Moody, Nathaniel Norment, William Oberkiser, James Ostermeyer, Charles Parker, Henry Persons, Martin Plante, David Platz, Stanley Pohl, Jon Poto, David Pritchard, William Rastetter, Richard Robinson;

GREG ROZELLE, Michael Saalfrank, Jerry Scherrer, Sidney Sherry, Thomas Shine, Donald Sievert, Paul Slick, Walter Stuelpe, David Tipton, Michael Tomkinson, Jon VanOosten, John Weaver, Richard Werling, Robert Williams, Jim Wolfe, Thomas Wright, and Michael Zerminski.

The managers for this season, Robert Bohlender, Karl Bandemer, Dick Koch, Mike Beltz, and Paul Boegerl, are also invited to attend the banquet.

GO, GO, GO . . . Discussing plans for the Dads' Club Banquet are, left to right, Mr. Thomas Frazell, co-chairman; Dr. Robert Lohman, president of the club; and Mr. Donald Fleming, co-chairman for the banquet, which will be at Hall's Guest House—Photo by Lowden

Senior B Dian Leath Accepts Totem Picture Editor Position

Dian Leath, senior B, has been chosen as picture editor of the 1962 Totem, yearbook. In this job, Dian will be in charge of all pictures taken during the school year. She will assign the pictures to be taken, and will know what they are representing.

"Responsibility, being able to do a good job, being dependable, accurate,

Seven Kellys To Vie In Rotary Club Meet

To stimulate an interest in public speaking among students, the Fort Wayne Rotary Club will present its annual speech contest. The preliminary meet will be November 22 at 3:30 p.m. in Room 190. Mr. Robert Storey, speech instructor, has chosen Tom Erb, Margee Terry, Ken Davis, Rosemary Capps, Barb Nelson, Diane Hall, and Marcia Disler to participate.

All participants are to speak about "Nuclear Testing, Good or Evil." This topic does not include specific interpretations. The Rotary Club members are hoping that the students will prepare their discussions on morals, politics, and humanitarianism.

Judging will be based on delivery and content. The time limit of each speech is eight to ten minutes; if a speaker goes above or below this time limit, he will be penalized.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Established 1876
KLA EHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

and thorough all are part of what it takes to be a picture editor for the '62 Totem," stated Babette Jones, editor-in-chief. "I thought that the person to be chosen must have a high average and be good in all her subjects."

OUTSIDE OF SCHOOL, Dian enjoys playing the violin, knitting, and medical technology. She has been playing the violin since the fifth grade, and now plays in the South Side orchestra.

During the past three summers, Dian played in the orchestra for the Summer Music Festival at the News-Sentinel Out-Door Theater in Franke Park. A few musicals she especially enjoyed playing in were "Fanny," "Destiny Rides Again," and "Plain and Fancy."

In her free time, Dian enjoys reading, sewing, cooking, and playing bridge. "I enjoy playing bridge, because it is intriguing and makes a person think," Dian explained.

DIAN ALSO PARTICIPATES in Honorary Arts and has been in the orchestra all four years at South. She also belongs to the Service Club and services for Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music director, and Mr. George Davis, chemistry teacher.

Having set her goal at either being a medical technologist or a dental assistant, Dian, will enter Ball State Teachers College or Purdue University next fall. She will major in math and science.

Commenting about her appointment, Dian stated, "I am very proud and happy to be appointed to the Totem staff, and I hope I will perform my job in a satisfactory manner."

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-3300

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

SUNDAY 5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:
Central vs. Elmhurst

INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Students Diagnose Mysterious Word As War, Medicine

Is "odontoglossum" a simple everyday word? Many Archers submitted their ideas on what they thought this word meant. Their definitions ranged from prehistoric animals to car polish.

David James: Maybe, it's a scientific term.

Cheri Hahn: I think it's some kind of floor wax that makes the floor glossy.

Tim Grodrian: It sounds like a word that I would forget in Mr. Gersmehl's English class.

Sally Newell: I think it's a secret name for a touchdown.

Mike Dickier: It sounds like a medical term for a headache.

Karen Finrock: It's a name for one of Mr. Weber's favorite flowers.

Jack Sanderson: I believe it's the name of another new pizza place!

Pat Bobay: Maybe it's a new course that our teachers are offering.

Ginny Barnes: It sounds like another new dance.

Karen Ashe: I think it is a medicine made from the blood of a dragonfly!

Steve Bill: It sounds like a new type of car polish to me!

Londa Babbitt: It's probably a medical term.

Marcia Anderson: It is either a new French hair style or a multi-colored dragonfly.

Mary Beaudway: It's a new kind of breakfast cereal.

Sue Kluehn: It's something from the chemistry lab!

Carol Davis: Oh, don't drink what's in the glass!

B. D. Hartley: Maybe it's an oriental food.

Kitty Fay: Who's she?

Marcia Hughes: It's probably a girl I haven't met yet!

Karl Krause: It is a word used to mean, that is to say only on certain occasions, when the situation demands, which implies that it could not be at all what you expected it to be!

Thursday, November 9
Junior Academy of Science, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.
Safety Council, Room 178, 3:30 p.m.
Y-Teens, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Friday, November 10
GAA Basketball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.
Assemblies Workshop, Room 152, 3:30 p.m.
Grade Period Ends

Monday, November 13
Philo, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.
Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
GAA Basketball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, November 14
Meterites, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Electronics Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.
Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.
Grades Issued

Wednesday, November 15
Art Club, Room 26, 3:30 p.m.
Red Cross Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.
Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.
Physics Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Magazine Features Times

The South Side Times has received national recognition in the October-November issue of Quill and Scroll magazine, which is printed by the University of Iowa. The article entitled "What Makes a Good Newspaper?" features the three high school newspapers in the United States that received a superior rating. The Times scored a 96.4 per cent out of a possible 100 per cent, the highest newspaper score in the United States. The other leading newspapers scored 96.1 per cent.

A picture of the front page of the May 4, 1961, issue of the Times appeared on the page. The article stated that the key to the Times' success is organization. Its aim is blanket coverage of activities of individuals as well as organizations in a large city high school.

Students Disagree About Safety Value Of Auto Seat Belts

In an effort to persuade people to use seat belts, the automotive industry has used television commercials, magazine advertisements, and newspaper stories.

In spite of such efforts, Benson Ford of the Ford Motor Company has said, "People are not standing in line to buy seat belts, despite their obvious value as a protective device."

Here are the opinions of some Archers on the use of seat belts when asked, "Do you think seat belts are essential?"

Shari Busch: Yes, I think every car should be required to have them. My family doesn't, but I wish we did. Some people say they're uncomfortable, but they really aren't.

Ann Shilling: No, we don't have them in our cars, and I wouldn't use them if we did. I think they're like brushing teeth in the morning and night, it's got to be a habit. On a trip it's just too much trouble to worry if they're on or off.

Ruth Russ: Yes, my dad has them in his car. I've heard from other people's experiences that they do help in accidents.

Jim More: Yes, I believe that many lives could be saved each year in auto accidents if people had seat belts. I don't think they're too uncomfortable.

Nancy Stewart: No, they give me claustrophobia. Really they are good, but they always are such a bother to remember to fasten.

Ann Brase: No, fast drivers need them, but for normal city drivers I don't think they're essential. Our family cars don't have them, and I don't think we need them.

Pam Pansky: No, because they cause too much commotion in the car about whether or not you have them on or off. We have them in our compact car, and I do think they're necessary in small cars.

Students To Attend Scouting Conclave

Margaret Shirley, Toni Heathman, and Ruth Russ, sophomore members of Mariner Troop 213, will be among eight representatives from the Fort Wayne area attending the International Girl Scout Round-up in Button Bay, Vt., next July.

To prepare for the round-up, these girls will practice skills, such as outdoor cooking, firebuilding, and camping all winter. Later this year, they will go to another council in Indiana and camp with other girls.

The girls have had two training sessions. The first, an all-day campout, was at Camp McMillen and served to help them become better acquainted. Last Friday, they had an overnight camp and cook-out.

The purpose of the Round-up is to teach the girls camping skills, but more important to meet Senior Scouts from countries all over the world.

What you want
is a
Coke

THE FORT WAYNE COCA-COLA BOTTLING WORKS, Inc.

STUDENTS!

See It Now!

A BEAUTIFUL NEW CLASS RING

AT LOWER PRICES! COMPARE!

prices starting at $11.50

$1 Coupon

GOOD FOR $1.00
ON THE PURCHASE OF ANY CLASS RING

The Jewel Case — Jewelry Dept.

M&M REDEMPTION STORE

Good Until Dec. 1, 1961

PLENTY OF FREE PARKING!

Five Weeks
for Delivery.
Nov. 7th
for Christmas

Open
Wed.
and
Fri.
Till 9

Near Hall's and Clyde Theater
Quimby Village Bluffton Road

English Club To Sponsor Dance After Bluffton Basketball Game

METERITE DANCE PLANNERS . . . Meterite ladies who head committees for the club's annual dance are, left to right, Ginny Barnes, Karen Franks, Sue Borgman, Lynelle Dill, and Martha Hoard. The dance will be November 17 after the first basketball game of the season with Bluffton.—Photo by Lowden

Tickets costing 50 cents each are now on sale for "Harvest Moon," Meterites' after-game dance, which will be presented on November 17 after the first basketball game with Bluffton. It will last until 11:30 p.m., and no one is to leave before 11:15 p.m.

Suellen Borgmann and Karen Franks are the general chairmen for the dance. Lynelle Dill is the chairman for tickets, and her committee includes Susan Smith, Roberta Hofherr, and Mary Bade.

The checkroom will be situated near the girls' gym. Chairmen of the checkroom are Virginia Barnes and Sharon McEachern. On their committee are Alice Fruechtenicht and Sally Henderson.

JENNY HAMERSTEIN is chairman of the records. She will obtain 25 popular and well-liked records. Ken Davis, junior, will be the disc-jockey.

Refreshments, which will be served in Room 118, are in the charge of Judy Ruhl and Sally Adams. Their committee consists of Ann Weber, Roberta Hofherr, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance;

Mary Ann Harper, Judy Putman, Lois Gallimore, Sherry Spencer, Sharon Graffis, Nina Szweczenko, Ruth Russ, Sharon McEachern, Virginia Barnes, and Karen Franks.

Working on posters for the dance are Barb Fischer, Barb Ross, Sally

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

Featuring New Fall and Winter Formals and Cocktail Dresses

K-2530

2426 S. Calhoun

Home of eatin' treats!

NEW!

HOT FUDGE
ICE CREAM
CAKE!

Next to South Side High
3701 South Calhoun
K-6278

"Order by Phone"

DRIVE-IN RESTAURANTS
Also at 2440 W. Washington Rd. and U.S. 427 at Calif. Rd.

Gladieux Men's Wear Presents
Authentic

"IVY" Sportcoats

The traditional look is combined with the newest fabric ideas in these fine quality 100% wool and wool blend sport coats—yours at a price that is possible only because Brookfield is the world's largest. Get first choice of the Fall crop now.

Gladieux MENS WEAR

926 S. Calhoun St.

Phone A-6496

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS

Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.

BRING THEM TO—

T & T TAILORING

525 Oxford

H-2185

The Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Central Catholic Conquers Grid Squad 6-0, Helps Bishop Luers Take City Series Title

Thomas Hueber Runs 65 Yards For Only Score

Spirited Aggregations Show Power, Ability In Defensive Contest

Friday, November 3, might as well have been Friday the Thirteenth or Black Friday for the South Side Archers. The valiant football team lost a hard-fought 6-0 battle to Central Catholic. With the loss, the City Series championship was snatched from South's fingertips and handed to Bishop Luers in their first full year of football in the city.

The cold weather was hard on the offenses of both teams, but especially hard-hit was the Archer passing game. Quarterback Tom McMahon could connect on only one of 12 attempts or 16 yards. The only score came on the last play of the third quarter, when Tom Hueber of C.C. flashed around his left end and downfield 65 yards for the touchdown.

The Irish threw a scare into South in the first quarter as they received the kick off and in an extended drive marched all the way to the Kelly three yard line. Hueber ran the kick 13 his 38-yard line; and alternating with C.C. quarterback Tom Walsh, he subsequently moved the ball to the Green's 37.

BOB BARNES PICKED up a first down for the Irish when he carried the ball to the 20. Hueber took it to the three, but Archer Mark Hagerman recovered an Irish fumble there, getting the Archers out of a bad spot.

By the end of the first quarter, the Kellys had bounced right back to take the ball to the Irish 49-yard line. Chief gainers in this march were Nate Norment and Jon VanOosten, who caught a McMahon pass.

When the Bowmen could not penetrate much farther into C.C. territory, they punted. Four plays later, the Irish punted back to the Green on the C.C. 35-yard line. Norment and full-back Sid Sherry gained sizable chunks of yardage, giving South a first down on the 13. McMahon hit VanOosten with a pass to the three, but the play was called back for back-field in motion.

WITH THE BALL on the 18, South tried an end-around play, with speedster Bob Lohman supposed to get the ball and move around the right end. Because of the cold, Lohman couldn't handle the hand-off from McMahon, faking a pass; and when the scramble was over, South had the ball on third down and 49 yards to go on the C.C. 43. The rest of the second period was a stalemate, neither team threatening.

The second half started with some brilliant defensive play on both sides. When the Archers were forced to relinquish the ball on downs, the Kelly defense threw up a solid, impassable wall. John Weaver and Dave Platz of South kept Barnes, Hueber, and Walsh to a net loss of four yards, on three plays with some good, strong tackles.

UNFORTUNATELY, WHEN South got the ball, the Archers couldn't connect on passes. On fourth down, Ed Johnson punted to Bob Barnes of C.C. who received it on his own five-yard line. Reversing his field and directing his blockers, he raced upfield unopposed until big Jim Wolfe finally ran him down after persistent pursuit. The play covered 61 yards.

South got the ball back but after picking up some yardage, punted to C.C. again. With the ball on the Irish 25, Hueber ripped off his spectacular run for six points. Dave Platz blocked the kick for the point after, but six points were all that C.C. needed.

The final quarter was a hectic try by South to score; but the Purple and Gold defense, led by Ron Shroyer, controlled the Archers in their vain aerial and ground attempts.

Players' Spotlight

Tom Frazell, Robert Lohman Demonstrate Skill On Gridiron

Tom Frazell

Bob Lohman

Supplying additional speed to the football team this year is Senior A Tom Frazell. Standing an even six feet and weighing 150 pounds, Tom sparks the team on both offense and defense.

On offense, he occupies an end position where he uses his speed to catch passes and watch for end runs. In addition, Tom has played both freshman and reserve football and has just completed two years of varsity.

HE HAS PROVED to be a very important asset to the team this year, notably in the Warsaw game. In this game he sparked by catching an all-important pass on a fourth-down situation to give the Archers their 14-7 victory.

When asked which was the roughest game of the season, Tom replied that it was the game with Hammond Morton. He stated that the Archers played an outstanding game against this highly rated team. Tom also commented that he was very well satisfied with the record this year.

WHEN THE FOOTBALL season is over Tom turns his thoughts toward track season. He was very successful in track last year, running the 440-yard dash and the mile relay. In the mile relay he went as far as the state finals. Although his best time for the quarter is about fifty-one seconds, he hopes to improve even more next spring.

Next year Tom plans to attend Purdue University. He is going to take up agriculture and plans on going out for track there.

In the touchdown pass department, Bob Lohman is one of the leading Archer reserves. This junior A has had one previous season of varsity football on his record. Bob has become a great offensive threat this year by putting to use the experience he gained from playing during the last season.

In the basketball Club, Bob participated in several sports. He was on the basketball team which won the city meet, and last year he won the 200 for the Archer relay team which won the state. In basketball, Bob played as the freshman and reserve guard, and he saw some varsity action. Bob is a well-rounded athlete and a necessary factor in the Archer offense.

Concerning this year's team, Bob said, "We all tried as hard as we could. The main factor in our winning season was team spirit."

Frosh GAA Finishes Speedball Tourney

Squads 3 and 4 chalked up victories in Freshman GAA speedball, Squad 3 beating Squad 1 by a margin of 14-10. Squad 4 won over Squad 2 with a 16-13 score.

Scoring points for Squad 1 were Carol Channell, two points; Laura Graham, two; Judy Putman, four; and Lydia Budowski, two. Assisting these plays were Laura Graham, Sally Henderson, Laura Shadle, and Lydia Budowski. Phyllis Bixley, with three points; Susie Knox, two; and Sharon LeFevor, nine, scored for Squad 3. Julia Merchant assisted Susie Knox.

For Squad 2, Pam Ensley compiled four points; Marcelle Flandrois, three; Diana Nordblom, two; and Bonnie Post, four. Marcelle Flandrois, Diana Nordblom, Bonnie Post, and Nita Quinn assisted these plays. Scoring for Squad 4 were Jan Bates with four points, Alice Fruchtenicht, one; Valentina Harabosky, four; and Sue Richter, six. Assisting were Jan Bates, Candy Greiner, and Sharon Lynch.

Scoring and umpiring this last game of the speedball season were Barbara Shadle, Mary Marker, Beth Randall, Janice Robson, B. D. Hartley, Judy Koop, Marsha Good, Jean Longardner, Sue Eversman, Jane Knettle, Ann Henderson, and Carol Uhrick.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete
Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

QUIK CHICK
5214 DECATUR ROAD

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818 CALHOUN ST. KOERBER'S 818 CALHOUN ST.

COLONIAL Restaurant
E-2000

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. J-2364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP
Sunny Schick Camera Shop
407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitts

A defensive blunder resulting in a Central Catholic touchdown drive spelled a disheartening loss for South last Friday night, and the loss of the Archers' dreams for a twelfth city championship went out of view. Idle Bishop Luers, who wrapped up their fine 6-1-1 season the previous week, won the title as a result.

The game, which was scoreless for practically the first three quarters, proved to be a defensive battle. Outside of Tom Hueber's 65-yard run in which he avoided three Archer pursuers, the contest was a stalemate.

Although the Archers still hold a 25-9 edge in their series with C.C., last week's game marked the seventh time in the last eight years South has yielded a victory to the Irish.

The loss was naturally disappointing to Coach Bob Gernand who had hoped to put the "first notch in his belt" since he took over the reins at South. He lauded several of his players for some outstanding performances in the last week of games and was quite pleased with South's season.

South thereby completed their 1961 grid campaign with a 4-3-1 tally, the second year in a row that Coach Gernand has piloted the Archers to a winning season. At the outset of the season a 4-3-1 slate was predicted; although had the Archers avoided a few breaks, they might have shunned the prediction.

The Archers on the whole had one of their best aggregations in many years. They started the season tremendously, knocking off Luers and North, tying Central, and edging Warsaw; but from that point on injuries entered in and South tapered.

Considerable credit must be awarded to South's outstanding defensive line. They kept their opponents to only seven touchdowns in eight games and played an aggressive game. South's offense, although they pushed across only 11 touchdowns, displayed some fine football, despite the fact that the Archers had no standouts.

Luers finished the season with the best overall record, followed by South. All city squads with the exception of North and non-city opponent Elmhurst managed to record at least three victories. The city scoring race was controlled by the champs, as the Knights' Joe Lebrato topped city honors with a total of 80 points followed by teammate Mike Burns with 64 points.

Another looming outcome for South was the Archer harriers' unexpected and disappointing finish in the state cross country meet last Saturday at South Grove golf course in Indianapolis. After finishing within twenty points of North in the Sectional a few weeks ago, the Archers were hopeful of placing in the top ten; but they fell apart and finished eighteenth.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
13-41 High Street A-3313

Cardone's Pizza
"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
3020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Maioley Brothers Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2350 Fort Wayne, Indiana

Mark's CAMERA SHOPS

A wound from a tongue is worse than a wound from a sword.

3720 South Calhoun St.

LOOK-OUT

"We Serve the Best"
FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Gym Teams Finish Speedball Tourney

In Mrs. Alice Keegan's and Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong's gym classes, a speedball tournament was recently completed. Period 2, Team 1 and Period 4, Team 2 captured top honors in the tourney.

Mrs. Keegan's Team 1, Period 2 placed first; Team 2, Period 3, second; Team 2, Period 1 and Team 1, Period 2, third; Team 2, Period 3, fourth; and Team 1, Period 1, fifth.

The winning team includes Anita Downing, Delores Harte, Cheryl Klenzak, Jean Longardner, captains; Diane Aiken, Joan Brooks, Patty Cash, Sandra Duff, Jo Elynn Good, Joellen Hilgeman, and Darla Lefevra.

Gym class speedball winners in Mrs. Armstrong's groups are Period 4, Team 2, first; Period 6, Team 1, second; Period 6, Team 2, third; Period 7, Team 1, fourth; and Period 7, Team 2, fifth.

Members of the winning team are Judy Doherty and Sandy Ellis, captains, Cheryl Andrews, Edith Burgess, Donna Cartwright, Judy Curtis, Lynette Downing, Irene Flandrois, Connie Kumer, Lois Palmer, Barbara Rife, Mary Stults, Carol Rice, and Ellen Sathanias.

High Scoring Marks GAA Speedball Play

In GAA speedball October 23, the Seniors whipped the Sophomores' Team 1, 15-3; Team 3 lost to the Juniors, 8-6; and Team 2 ousted Team 4, 9-4.

Bella Dyson, Sandy Heidbrink, Susan Johns, Cynthia Russell, and Jenny Slater captured points for the Seniors. Sharon Karst scored three points for Team 1.

Making points for Team 2 and 4 were Joelen Crumrine, Sarah Petrie, Carol Uhrick, and Mary Ann Waldrop. Mary Marker, Toni Sorenson, and Carol Doehrmann scored points in the game between the Juniors and Team 3.

Roundball Prospects Compete For Places

With the first basketball game of the season only three weeks away, Coach Don Reichert is working hard to whip a team into shape. Starting with about fifty-five boys, Mr. Reichert has cut the squad twice, reducing its size to 27.

As yet the introduction of actual plays has been rather limited, most of the emphasis being put on defensive drills and scrimmages. Those boys who now seem to be in the group that will help South the most during the season have also begun tri-weekly weight work-outs.

Stating that all positions are pretty much "for grabs," Mr. Reichert emphasized the need for the boys to keep their grades up, as ineligibility could be a determining factor in final cuts.

Though not too satisfied with the overall picture so far, Coach Reichert felt most of the boys now out were doing a good job. With only nine days of preparation available between South's last football game and the Archers' first court test, steady and rapid progress by the whole squad is necessary in order that it be prepared for a well-regarded Bluffton squad.

Hank's Gulf Service
Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Ingeborg's Frisor Salong
(Beauty Shop)

617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

GO FORMAL
TUXEDO RENTAL

SPECIAL STUDENT RATES

RUSSELL'S
215 W. Washington
Open Evenings

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.
Private and Industrial Catering
Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188 4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

pedwin.
young ideas in shoes

DART...
This trim new Pedwin scores with a lean, low look that's going over in a big way.

10.95

Black, Only

121 W. Wayne

look for the golden arches

McDonald's

2 — LOCATIONS — 2

HI-WAY 30 (East) and the CALIFORNIA ROAD

Speech, Hearing Therapists Gain Rewards From Helping Children

Careers in speech and hearing therapy offer a person the chance to help in forming creative, happy human beings of children who cannot talk or hear. Another advantage of becoming a therapist is that one can learn skills for another job.

For example, if one is working with cerebral palsy, mental retardation, speech handicaps, brain damage, and physical handicaps, he is working with every type of handicapped child except those with vision problems. Therefore, he can acquire a broad knowledge of persons who have all types of problems.

One can also become a business consultant or a hearing aid salesman. He can open a commercial clinic such as the speech and reading clinic in Fort Wayne. One is also given the opportunity to delve deeper into industrial, clinic, and child psychology.

IN ORDER to become a speech and hearing therapist, a person is required to take a liberal arts course in college. When first starting, it is advantageous to take a variety of subjects including English, science, industrial arts, psychology, and general education.

Later, speech and hearing therapy will entail further courses in psychology, anatomy, philosophy, and observation first in the clinic and then actual experience.

Upon graduating, student teachers aid in teaching speech and hearing techniques to the handicapped. They may receive bachelor of arts or special training in language education degrees. Next is the master of science degree which has to be obtained within ten years after graduation and started within five years in order to renew a license. Finally a Ph.D. in special education may be earned.

For a specialized field, a choice of one major and one minor subject must be made. When obtaining a major degree in speech and hearing, it is wise for one to choose a minor field relating to it, such as general speech, English, psychology, philosophy, history, or a further course in the field of special education connected with vision problems and physical and mental handicaps.

IN FORT WAYNE, speech and hearing therapists can participate in the therapy program which was started in March, 1950. This program is being carried out by the SPEECH THERAPY . . . Mr. Ambrose Dulle of the Allen County Society for Crippled Children and Adults assists a four-year-old boy whose leg and arm have been crippled by spinal meningitis. The boy exercises to improve his arm muscles.—Photo by Lowden

Allen County Society for Crippled Children, through a volunteer committee plan.

The only paid workers of the society are professional people working directly with the handicapped. The most important function of this Society is to study the needs of the handicapped children in Allen County and to locate the facilities available for helping them.

The organization cooperates with all similar existing agencies, public and private, in arranging for the prompt, efficient diagnosis of a child and taking part in safety programs dealing with the prevention of crippling diseases.

The Society not only assists in securing vocational training needed by the physically handicapped but also aids in their placement for employment. It provides entertainment and recreation such as plays, creative art, music, dramatics, and readings. Its final purpose is to provide speech and hearing treatment

Y-Teens To Present Show

Presenting a style show and skit on manners, members of the Y-Teens Club will meet today at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. The style show will be divided into sportswear, school wear, and party wear.

Kay Simmons will act as narrator. Nancy Markin, Sandy Duff, and Pat Cameron will model sportswear. School wear will be modeled by Pat Hieber, Laura Graham, Kaylene Bleech, and Kathy Hughes; and party wear will be modeled by Irene Flandrois, Marcelle Flandrois, Leslie Froebe, and Linda Gatchell.

Designers To Carve

Starting the first carvings of their models to be entered in the Fisher Body designing contest, members of Designers' Associated will meet Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120.

Coney Island

WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783

Auto Collision Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.
5208 S. Hanna H-0691

Wanted—Alive

SALES BOYS OR GIRLS
TO SELL SKATING
PARTIES FOR

KREE'S RINK

ON COMMISSION BASIS
See Les Kreigh
at the Rink

Hall's Drive-Ins

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Students Express Advantages, Disadvantages Of Being Twins

People have often wondered if there are more advantages than disadvantages to being a twin. This question perhaps can only be answered truthfully by twins themselves. Most twins at South Side state that they would not trade places with anyone, and many others feel that the advantages at least balance the disadvantages.

Kay and Karen Bragalone have had difficulty proving themselves twins because they do not look or dress alike. Kay, a junior B, has an active interest in dancing, records, and swimming. After being graduated from high school, she plans to become a beautician.

Karen, also a junior B spends most of her time reading, dancing, and watching television. She hopes to become a nurse to help others less fortunate than herself.

During World War II when the Bragalone twins' father was in Germany, his friends teased him, saying that his wife was expecting twins. To his surprise he received a telegram announcing the arrival of Karen and Kay.

JENNY AND JACKIE SLATER, who are active members of MYF at Christ Methodist Church, are also twins. Jenny, a senior B, is active in GAA and spends several hours a day servicing for Mrs. Alice Keegan, physical education instructor. She loves to swim, ice skate, and ski, and is a member of Vesta, Junior Red Cross, Assemblies Workshop, Advanced Tumbling, and Majorettes. Jenny plans to enroll in a modeling school after her graduation from high school.

Her twin, Jackie is a junior B on the business course. Like Jenny she thoroughly enjoys swimming, skiing, and ice skating. The clubs she has joined are GAA, Junior Red Cross, and Assemblies Workshop. After finishing high school, Jackie has intentions of doing secretarial work.

When Brad and Brent Zieg were toddlers, they were identical, and until the age of four, even their relatives had difficulty telling them apart. Today the twins neither look alike, act alike, nor have the same interests. Bradley, a sophomore, enjoys tennis, track, and basketball. He hopes to become a teacher and plans to attend Ball State Teachers College.

Brently is also a 10A, but spends his spare time with cars. His interest in cars has influenced him to the extent that he intends to go to Purdue to study automotive engineering.

ALTHOUGH DARLENE and Charlene Kissinger are not identical twins, they do look somewhat alike, and they dress alike. The Kissinger twins many times argue about what to wear, but they always end up dressed alike.

Charlene is a 10B, planning to become a secretary. Darlene, a 10B, wishes to attend Fort Wayne Beauty College to study to become a beautician.

Both girls dance, roller skate, bowl, collect records, and play tennis. They enjoy being in Y-Teens and GAA. Darlene and Charlene love being twins, dressing alike, and confusing their teachers.

Janis and Joyce Bates, freshmen on the business course, have different appearances, but one of their eighth grade teachers insisted on calling them by the wrong names. They dress alike at times, but their actions are different. Janis' hobbies include all sports in general.

Joyce like Janis, enjoys sports, but prefers cooking and sewing. Both girls participate in GAA and Girls' Rifle Club. After their high school graduation, they both plan to do secretarial work.

Agents Achieve

(Continued from Page 1)

Pierson, 90; Susan Korte, 91; Doug Hansen, 92;

Book VI; Nancy Stewart, 14; Julia Merchant, 94; Christie Counsman, 96; Gwen Welling, 98; Gail Woodruff, 108; Sharon Karst, 110; Donna Summers, 116; Nancy Redding, 120; and Carole Ladig, 138;

Book VII; Tonya Hines, 140; Bev Flanagan, 142; Jane Knettle and Marion Johnson, 144; Diane Fredrick, 146; Linda Churchward, 150; Nancy Augspurger, 152; Joyce Spindler, 154; Sue Weinraub, 156; and Rosemary Capps, 172;

Book VIII; Ann Gallmeyer, 174; Kathy DeVore, 176; Martha Hoard, 178; Ann Brase, 182; Phyllis Bixby, 184; Linda Thornburg, 186; Liz Richter, 188; and Ann Flickinger, 190.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

School Band To March

Approximately sixty members of the South Side band will march in the Veterans' Day Parade at 8 p.m. tomorrow. Diane Simmers, head major, will lead the Archer section of the parade, which includes the rest of the majorettes and the band. All units participating in the parade are expected to assemble in their assigned places at 7:15 p.m.

The procession will begin on Calhoun and travel north on Calhoun to Wayne, east to Barr, north to Berry, and west to Ewing St., where the parade will disband. A reviewing stand will be erected on the south side of the Court House Square.

Allan Flowers Chosen

Allan L. Flowers, '60, has been named to the Dean's List for the second semester of the 1960-61 school year in the Institute of Design at Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago, Ill.

Students whose names appear on the Dean's List have distinguished themselves for their academic work during the semester by maintaining a grade point average of 3.0 to 4.0, the highest possible average.

FASHION WISE BABETTE JONES Insists on ADLER WOOL SOCKS

Babette Jones

attractive, popular, and style-wise South Side High School senior, insists on ADLER SC WOOL SOCKS. She states: "I can depend on Adlers to compliment every outfit I wear. They're so white, stylish, and wear far better than any others I've ever worn. And, besides, you don't have to worry about runs or snags either!"

AVAILABLE AT:
C. & H. Shoe Company
Hutner's Paris
J. C. Penny Company
and fine stores everywhere

Mr. Bob Kelly Plays Ensign In 'Golden Fleecing' At Civic

Mr. Robert Kelly, economics teacher, is playing the role of a navy marine ensign who helps to devise a plan to beat the roulette wheel in the production of the "Golden Fleecing."

Mr. Robert Kelly

ing" which is playing its final performance tomorrow and Saturday evening at the Civic Theatre.

The story is based on two navy men and a civilian scientist who all work together in devising a plan to break the Italian bank through the means of a roulette system and the use of an IBM machine aboard a navy ship which is considered headquarters.

Complications later develop when the Admiral of the Navy discovers the plot, but the ending turns out to be a pleasant one for all concerned.

"BEING IN THIS PLAY is a great deal of work; but I believe that it is valuable experience since it gives one confidence in appearance before the public, cooperating within a group plus a certain amount of civic satisfaction," stated Mr. Kelly.

Mr. Kelly is a '55 graduate of North Side High School and a '59 graduate of Indiana University where he attained his bachelor of science degree and is currently working on his masters degree in sociology and guidance.

"Best Foot Forward," Mr. Kelly's senior play, was the first production that interested him in the field of acting. In this play, he portrayed

Greenie, a young West Point cadet, which is similar to the part which he now has in the "Golden Fleecing."

Other parts in various plays throughout his high school and college years include "Pulver" in which he played Mr. Roberts, "On The Town" by Leonard Bernstein in which he portrayed Chick, a navy man, Sukini in "Tenhouse of the August Moon," and Bobby in "The Boyfriend," a production at Boston University.

During the past two years, Mr. Kelly has written, produced, and directed several children's plays at Eel-River-Perry School in addition to directing two student productions at the University of Cincinnati in Ohio.

"BELLS ARE RINGING" which played last year at the Civic Theatre was the first production in which Mr. Kelly, who played the delivery boy Carl, had the opportunity to act. Since that time, he has served as the publicity manager for the Summer Festival Productions at Frank Park's open air theatre. In addition to that job, Mr. Kelly appeared in all three shows at the Summer Festival Theatre which included "Lil Abner," "Brigadoon," and "Plain and Fancy."

For relaxation, Mr. Kelly indulges in various hobbies which range from training horses and dogs to surf board riding and painting.

Room 22 Banks Highest

A total of $170.93 was deposited last Tuesday by 28 homeowners. Miss Edith Crowe's Room 22 topped other rooms with $24. Mrs. Myrtle Grimshaw's Room 92 placed second with $17; Miss Helen Pohlmeier's Room 188 placed third with $14.10; and Mr. Clair Motz's Room S-4 banked $14 for fourth place.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

GLADIEUX

OIL SALES, Inc.

A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME"
FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

3717 S. Clinton St.

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games

TOLEDO MERCURYS

vs.

FORT WAYNE KOMETS

Saturday, November 11

8:00 P.M.

INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS

vs.

FORT WAYNE KOMETS

Tuesday, November 14

8:00 P.M.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School
Students

50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

THANKSGIVING

Teenagers Forget To Stop, Give Thanks For Privileges

By The General Manager

Thanksgiving—a time to give thanks, a time to be thankful, one day set aside annually to give thanks for our many blessings.

In today's fast-moving world, we find time for the traditional family feast, but does the day pass too quickly to remember what we are celebrating? Do we upset ourselves so over whether to serve mushroom or oyster gravy or cranberry sauce that we forget that this is the one day out of 365 days in the year that we are to be thankful?

The Thanksgiving feast is traditional, but giving thanks isn't traditional. Maybe we should set aside Thanksgiving Day as the day to eat and then give thanks the other 364 days of the year. As Americans, we could think of something completely different every day of which to be thankful.

We say to ourselves, "Oh, I'm thankful. I appreciate everything." But, do we stop and name something for which we are thankful? Do we stop and say, "I'm thankful that I am an American; I'm thankful I can attend a high school in America; and I'm thankful I have a home in which to live?"

Do we become so involved in extra-curricular activities that we forget to be thankful for the opportunity of working with others and the opportunity to further our knowledge? Do we forget to be thankful for the faculty sponsor who spends his extra time with us?

Are we so used to going home to our parents and families that we forget to be thankful that they are with us; do we forget to be thankful that they love us?

The school bell rings and we are off in our car. Do we forget about giving thanks that we have a car; do we forget to be thankful for Dad who picks us up every night? If we walk home, do we forget to give thanks that we are physically able to walk home? We are probably so disappointed that we have to walk that we forget what we have and only think about the things which others have.

We pick up the daily newspaper but somehow, in the frantic search for the cartoon page, the sports section, and "Dear Abby," we forget to be thankful that we, as Americans, have freedom of the press. We forget to be thankful for the countless thousands who make the daily newspaper a reality.

We seat ourselves at the dinner table and because of the disappointment that Mom hasn't fixed hamburger sandwiches, but instead has prepared a roast beef dinner, we forget to pause and give thanks for the food which is before us.

We like to sleep so well on Sunday morning that we would rather crawl back under the covers than go to church, not because we dislike church or that we aren't religious, but just because at the moment we think that something else sounds better.

We forget to realize that millions of people would love to have our opportunity of going to the church of our choice. Do we forget to give thanks for our freedom of religion?

Countless teenagers all over the world would be delighted to have the chance to present a speech in front of a speech class, but we are so mad that no one volunteered and we were drafted that we forget to recognize our freedom of speech.

We are blind to what is obvious. We become so accustomed to our everyday habits, and we become so involved in our own little circles that we forget to look right in front of us; we forget to open our eyes.

We have everything to be thankful for; we should give thanks for everything. We must be optimistic and when things look down for us we must think of others who are less fortunate than we are, and we see that there are many things of which we can be thankful.

What we are thankful for isn't important. The important thing is that we are thankful and that we can recognize the things for which we are thankful. All we have to do is open our eyes and think.

We must enjoy Thanksgiving Day, and the day deserves a special celebration. However, every day should be Thanksgiving Day. On Thanksgiving, we might take extra time and think of other things for which we are grateful, but we can't wait for just the one day on which to give thanks.

We shouldn't look to Thanksgiving Day as only the day when Mom fixes a turkey and bakes pumpkin pie, and then forget Thanksgiving until the next year. Turkey, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pie—they are traditional on Thanksgiving Day; they are a part of the traditional feast. The Pilgrims feasted; but the Pilgrims gave thanks.

So, amid the dressing, pie, olives, and whipped cream, we must remember who made Thanksgiving possible, and then, we must give thanks. We must give thanks every day.

Public Favors Yuletide Joy Overlooks Giving Thanks

The city is ready. She is dusted and decorated, waiting feverishly for the arrival of a famous holiday. Lights are ablaze; greeting cards line the store aisles. Candy canes proudly display their sugary stripes; mamma dolls and toy trains are at their mechanical best. Carols can faintly be heard above the continuous ring of cash registers.

The merchants of the city are completely stocked and stationed for the Yuletide rush. Yet, the calendar reads November 22. Have the shopkeepers forgotten? Have the people forgotten? Surely someone remembers—tomorrow is Thanksgiving!

Indeed, this is the sad picture of a nation that is gradually exchanging mistletoe for mince meat and window-shopping for divine worship.

Perhaps the people of America need to pause in retrospect, to look back upon their glorious Thanksgiving heritages.

Thanksgiving is as old as religion, as aged as bountiful crops. The first Thanksgiving as a recorded celebration occurred when the Pilgrims at Plymouth had a feast with the Indians of the area in light of deliverance from a harrowing winter and the reaping of a splendid harvest.

Fifty years later the Puritans repeated their feast, kept from having one beforehand by the great multitude of neighboring Indians they would have to re- invite.

The Massachusetts Bay Colony and New Amsterdam took up the practice of such a holiday, first in July, then October. However, they spent the entire day in prayer, scorning any revelry.

In the following 200 years, Thanksgiving was a New England celebration only. Then George Washington spread its popularity by proclaiming a day of thanks for his army in 1782.

As President, Washington proposed a national Thanksgiving day, which was nullified by Congress. John Adams ignored protests by Congress during his Presidential term and called the holiday anyway.

President Jefferson, however, felt that the government should have nothing to do with a movement so closely tied to the churches. He disbanded Thanksgiving. "O Lord, endow the President with a goodly portion of Thy grace, for Thou, O Lord, knowest he needs it," prayed the New Englanders.

Other Presidents followed suit save Madison, Lincoln, Grant, and Hayes.

In 1939, Franklin D. Roosevelt set an official date for Thanksgiving as a holiday. Strangely enough, Thanksgiving was made a legal national harvest festival day by the Congress of the mightiest industrial nation on earth.

And still Americans, surrounded as no other race with freedom, stability, security, and high economy, forget.

The nation would do well to also reread President Lincoln's Thanksgiving Proclamation, pondering his closing words.

"No human counsel hath devised, nor hath any mortal hand worked out these great things. They are the gracious gifts of the most high God, Who, while dealing with us in anger for our sins, hath nevertheless, remembered mercy. It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently, and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people."—By Peggy Schmidt

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll; International Honor Rating, George Gallup Award Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879, authorized December 19, 1922, special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF
General Manager.....	Sandy Thorn
Managing Editor.....	Roberta Twitchell
Copy Editors.....	Jenny Manth, Ann Golden, Sally Maloney, Janet Brun, Sue Kelley, Barb Nelson, Larry Lee
News Editor.....	Beth Burnett
Feature Editor.....	Sarah Finch
Editorial Editor.....	Stuart Schmitz
Boys' Sports Editor.....	Ann Golden
Girls' Sports Editor.....	Jenny Manth
Make-Up Editors.....	Larry Lee
Picture Editor.....	Kathy DeVore
Photographers.....	Ken Lowden, Jane Seaman
Head Typist.....	Margie Terry
Business Manager.....	Sue Kelley
Assistant Business Manager.....	Pat Bailey
Advertising Manager.....	Barb Altoroff
Circulation Manager.....	Sue Smith
Outside Circulation Manager.....	Sue Smith
Circulation Assistants.....	Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berke, James Rohrabough
Faculty Adviser.....	James Rohrabough

MINOR STAFF
News Writers.....	David Flannigan, Kaylene Gehert, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Julie Rhinehart, Bonnie Strehlow, Marcee Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Penny Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Conner, Rosalee Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Kart, Kathy Kline, Jane Kneitel, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Susan Smith, Patty Somers, Nancy Stewart, Ann Webster, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Roger Brown, Pat Cameron, LeVonne Cuntance, Marcia Evilsizer, Debby Decker, Karen Franks, Christine Fruchtenicht, Mary Graham, Sharon Hardy, Sue Klingerman, Stephen Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Larry Norman, Pat North, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Weikart, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Rosalee Curtis, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suterlin, Becky Hartz, Barb Busard, Cheryl Grise, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Rinsch, Mary Jane Reiff, Sue Smith, Leanne Johnson, Marie Johnson, Karen Franks, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Louraine Ford, Liz Weikart, Sue Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judy Robin, Laurie McDonald, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Ann McGinley, Julie Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kart, Myra Michay, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Gladys Davis, Jane Kneitel, Leanne Ford, Sue Gerlie, Sharyn Yeager, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bode, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carol Ladie, Gal Brumm, Karen Seavely, Jane Spruvel, Nancy Redding, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruchtenicht, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudry, Cheryl Lee, Debra Adams, Ellen Stashery, Sue Horn, Sue Kline, Carol Ladie, Larry Norman, Pat Mittelstadt, Stephen Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Hoard, Jane Kneitel, Annel Hoover, Gal Brumm, Alice Habsberger, Lynette Hill
Copy Writers.....	Bill Wilder, Kaylene Gehert, David Flannigan, Karen Minkin Christie Conkman, Ann Gallmeyer, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Douglas Eason, Sharyn Yeager, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Seavely, Margie Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanne Morris, Kathy DeVore
Boys' Sports Writers.....	Bill Klinefelter, Roger Post, Bob Leininger, Kerry Mullinger, Stephen Lowens, Jon Peto, Bill Rastetter, Terry Newendorp
Ad Solicitors.....	Cynthia Solder, Barb Nelson, Alice Habsberger, Marlene Rinsch, Dan Schwartz, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Julie Rhinehart, Pat Bailey, Marce Zeller, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Kathy Grady, Myra Rubin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neuschwanda, Phyllis Plesner, Karen Flannick, Nancy Springer, Kathleen Ota, Cindy Jackson, Donna Summers, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerlie, Kay Yarb, Brenda Dill, Harriet Ochstein, Cindy Sue Miller, Ellen Mayle, Sharon Krawaker, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janis Sprunger, Karen Franks, Barb Ross, Liz Weikart

TYPISTS
Clody Korte, Judy Rohl, Mary Bode	Debbie Brooke
Editorial News Editor.....	Sue Harrod
Point Recorder.....	Sue Harrod
Mailing Manager.....	Joe Hatfield
Editor.....	Kristy Krivonozov
Editor.....	Steve Leitz
Exchange Editor.....	Vicki Adams
Credit Manager.....	Charlotte Powell
Literary.....	Sonya Flagg
Paper Dissiminator.....	Ken Lowden

Senior Summary

Points Per
Prominent Persons

Mark Hagerman . . . age, 17 . . . eyes, blue . . . hair, brown . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, blue . . . sport, football . . . activity, sports . . . subject, social studies . . . TV show, "Bonanza" . . . record, "Music Man" . . . singer, Bing Crosby . . . book, "Ben-Hur" . . . actor, Clark Gable . . . future plans, college.

Joyce Lockwood . . . age, 17 . . . eyes, brown . . . hair, brown . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, yellow . . . fad, listening to radio . . . sport, skiing . . . pastime, playing records . . . activity, Junior Red Cross . . . subject, Home Ec . . . TV show, "Bonanza" . . . record, "Run-around Sue" . . . book, "Dracula" . . . pet peeve, people who are late.

Bob Current . . . age, 17 . . . eyes, green . . . hair, black . . . height, six feet, two inches . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . fad, levis . . . sport, ice skating . . . pastime, working on cars . . . activity, getting home as fast as I can . . . subject, metal . . . TV show, "Route 66" . . . record, "Moon River" . . . singer, Chubby Checker . . . book, "Northwest Passage" . . . future plans, going into the service . . . pet peeve, people who gripe.

Judy Merrill . . . age, 17 . . . eyes, green . . . hair, blonde . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, olives . . . color, green . . . fad, culottes . . . sport, ice skating . . . pastime, going to Hall's . . . activity, Honorary Arts . . . subject, art . . . TV show, "My Three Sons" . . . record, "Crying" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Paul Newman . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, erasers that make dirty marks on papers.

Classified Columns List Kelly Notices For Peculiar Items

Wanted:
A fly swatter...Mr. Jackson
Some acid-proof clothes...the senior chemistry students
A year's subscription to "Mad"...Tom Adams
Elevator tickets...the frosh
A pair of matching shoes...Babe Jones
Help on writing research themes...English 6 students
Information on how to motivate through the halls during fourth period without a pass...popular student request
A passing grade from Mr. Gersmehl...Tim Grodrian
Barbequed potato chips...Tom Bear

For Sale:
A second-hand splint for a broken finger...see Jack Sanderson or Larry Lee
A monocle for either eye...see Linda Seibel
A pair of slightly worn crutches...see Bob Camp

Congratulations To:
Jan Ladig...for winning the Randolph Jacobs Award
The "loyal Times workers" . . . who got up at 4:30 a.m.
Will Trade:
A trumpet for lessons in throwing darts...Ken Davis
One dated car fender for a bicycle...Pat Somers
A botany notebook for the classical comic book edition of "The Scarlet Letter"...Victor Lewandowski Instructions Needed On:
How to paint a town in two weeks...Annell Hoover
How to drive an auto...Erin Rose, Cindy Christman, Dian Leath, Nancy Robinson, and Chuck Parker
How to concentrate in the library with Bill Rastetter present...Tom Ogles
How to concentrate in the library with Tom Ogles present...Bill Rastetter
How to crow...Sally Newell

Lost:
One football helmet during the Elm-hurst game...Dave Platz
Ten pounds of peaches . . . anonymous
Nancy Redding in one of the wagons at the DeMolay hayride...by Mike Dicker Found:
Ten pounds of peaches tasting very good...by the janitors
Clunk! One football helmet...by an Elmhurst tackle

Thoughtful Sayings Prove Valuable, Wise

People are collectors and followers of wise sayings; and if the following quotations were observed by all, this world would be a better place in which to live and progress.

If your way does not work, try the right way.

Friendship is like a china cup; once broken it can be mended, but the cracks will always show.

If you're as good as you say you are, do you need to broadcast it?

Put your best foot forward, yet do not step on other's feet in doing so!

Is your conscience clear just because your head is empty?

Put all your eggs in one basket and—watch that basket!

Nothing needs reforming as much as other people's habits.

The grass is always greener on the other fellow's yard because he keeps it neat.

What you do not know would make a great book!

Are you helping with the solution or contributing to the problem?

If you think you know all the answers, you aren't up-to-date on the questions!

Turkeys Telegraph Trouble . . .

Curiosity Provides Excitement May Result In Embarrassment

Curiosity has many times caused embarrassing situations. People say that curiosity killed the cat; but if a cat has nine lives, think how powerful a force it must be. Curiosity can also ruin a clever surprise element, as in Caroline's situations.

It was hard for Caroline to figure out why her friends had been shunning her this week, for these were her last two weeks at Danville High. Soon she would be moving many miles away, leaving her friends and the only home she had ever known.

Whenever her girl friends were huddled together busily chattering, Caroline would try to join them; but the group immediately dispersed in several different directions. At lunch her friends would stop talking as soon as Caroline would get anywhere near them. When she joined them, a couple of girls would get their heads together, then nod their heads sideways as if in disgust.

BY THE END OF THE week, Caroline was very upset and had almost Merrily Musing 'Citizen' Searches For Socks, Loses Self In 'Lingerie'

By Martha Lanning
O, Muse, with countenance more divine than all divinity in this world and the next, whose hand is more powerful than the spirits of the air, whose vision glows with a brilliant radiance where 'ere thou passest and makest known thy presence, see fit to bless this country and this humble spinner of the tale, who doth tremble at thy beneficence.

Here unfoldeth the saga of a brave Citizen who traveled long and far o'er highway and curbstone, past drug-store and stop light, up escalator and down elevator, through revolving door and crowded sidewalk, yea, even from in front of parked car, all in the quest of a pair of socks.

Hear how upon the first of his ventures he was beset by a most fierce one called Salesman when, as the rosy light in the sky signified the time of opening for all Downtown, he entered a Department Store. O, how slowly he crept up, hoping fervently to pass unnoticed by the vigilant Keeper of the Cash Register.

BUT THE FATES chose to look the other way, for the trusty Citizen felt a great hand slap his back with a resounding smack and heard a loud roar directing him to the department wherein one might find equipment worthy of a fine hunter, a section bearing a sign lettered "Sporting Goods."

"Prithee, allow me to show thee how cleverly this reel is formed," quoth a jolly fellow with a meaning smirk. But, the ever-thrifty Citizen, being already wise in the ways of salesmen, made great haste and escaped from his clutches as the sparrow darts from the hawk swooping in the cloudless sky.

Slipping cautiously into lingerie, that is, into the certain department bearing that name, the Trusty One watched a dainty denizen of the deep counters and glass showcases come gliding toward him with all the grace of the maiden Aphrodite. Smiled she, "Methinks thy lovely wife would appear most seemly in these," but, blushing profusely, the Citizen turned away.

Straight into the rack and folds of the coat department dashed he; and, in the twinkling of an eye, a corpulent and greedy-looking little man had, with rapidity no doubt blessed by the wings of Mercury, slipped a coat onto the broad back of the Citizen.

FLINGING ALL CAUTION to the winds and uttering one last enraged shout of defiance, the Citizen, yet courageous of heart and stalwart of purpose, skimmed in frantic flight o'er carpet, down stairs, out door, and along sidewalk, landing at length in the one place free of air and stable of mien, his long-trusted means of conveyance, the car.

Pressing the accelerator nearest through the floorboards, he vanished in a cloud of dust like to that which the beautiful Venus was wont to bestow. Doubtless perceiving at last the fate of all who encounter Salesmen, the Citizen, O dear ones, in that vile place was never seen again.

given up on all her friends. After school her friend Betty rushed by her, but stopped just long enough to ask her if she were doing anything that evening. Caroline replied "no," and then agreed to go over to Betty's to play cards.

This helped her blue feeling a little and she seemed a little happier. Then she saw something which made her curious little head move in circles. Her friends, in a huge drove, were heading downtown to the shopping district, and they hadn't invited her to go alone.

She decided she would follow them; she walked two blocks behind them the entire distance. When they turned into a shop selling women's clothing, she watched from the large front window. The girls gathered around a sweater counter, and soon Caroline saw the salesclerk wrap up a beautiful white sweater and take some money in return.

PARTLY FROM FEAR of being caught watching them and because of her curiosity, Caroline entered the shop. The girls' mouths flew open when they saw her coming near them. Caroline asked the girls about their purchase, but they seemed reluctant to tell her anything. One girl said that she had bought a new sweater and gave Caroline a quick glimpse when she asked to see the content of the package.

They all said good-bye and left. That evening Caroline thought it took Betty an especially long time to open the door. When she walked into the living room, all the bright lights were flashed on and a large group yelled the cry of surprise.

CAROLINE WAS SO happy she nearly collapsed. After an hour of joking and laughter, she was presented with a gift. She carefully unwrapped the package, and when she saw its content, her mouth flew open and her heart dropped about six feet. Inside was the gorgeous white sweater. It made her feel guilty to think she had ruined the entire surprise. Even though the party and the surprise had been ruined and there was a dark spot on her memory of these wonderful years, there was a lesson worth learning for Caroline.

Curiosity is a good thing; it leads to knowledge and wonderful experiences. But curiosity where other people are involved usually leads to trouble, embarrassment, and a guilty conscience.

Small Snaps

The boy on the left's in his sophomore year.

The Lettermen he likes to hear. He's an active member of J.A. For G.E. Bowling League he does play. "Adventures in Paradise" is his hit TV show.

Spaghetti is his favorite chow. "Big John" is his toptotch platter; He goes for the sport that involves a batter.

His sister is a Junior A. Baseball she too does play. For Junior Achievement she is an employee,

And bowls on the Junior League of G.E.

"Bonanza" a television great. She works as a nurse at Parkview, And learns Braille in her spare time too.

If their names cannot be guessed The ad section will end your quest.

'Mr. Clean' Accepts

Burma's U Thant Fills UN Post Vacated By Secretariat's Death

By The General Manager

Russia and the United Nations, as well as the ever-publicized cold war, seem to consume the front pages of America's daily newspaper.

From Russia came news of an incredible event—the moving of Joseph Stalin's corpse from beside Lenin to a cemetery reserved for faintly dubious Red heroes. The posthumous revenge on a man who for years had been on a pedestal came when soldiers emerged from the deep crypt carrying the rigid body of Stalin.

From New York came word of the successor to Dag Hammarskjold, late Secretary General of the United Nations. The man—Burma's permanent UN delegate, U Thant. The selection proved Hammarskjold to be a prophet, for he said, "The Secretary-General who comes after me will be one of the Afro-Asians."

U Thant was selected after Russia and the United States compromised, something which is becoming more common. Russia backed away from its insistence on a troika leadership and the U.S. compromised on the number and authority of assistant secretaries.

THE U.S. WANTED five, one from the United States, Russia, Latin America, Africa, and Western Europe. Russia demanded that either satellite Eastern Europe be included or Western Europe scratched and contended that each should be given virtual veto power. The winner: U Thant. U Thant won the right to choose as many assistants as he saw fit, agreed to consult with them over policy, but would not be bound by the advice they gave.

U Thant appears as the hero of a best-selling novel; he presents qualities needed to describe the hero. Round-faced and greying, U Thant wears black-rimmed glasses and elegantly tailored Western suits, and he prefers English-style striped ties. He does not drink, but smokes small black cheroots, and is the only official allowed to smoke in the presence of Burma's temperate Prime Minister U Nu.

Author of six books, U Thant is still known as "saya" (teacher). His books include a 1933 history of the League of Nations and two recently published volumes in a projected three-volume history of his native country. He speaks fluent English and is exceptionally popular in Burma and the United Nations.

As Acting Secretary-General, U Thant is expected to prove a patient and efficient chairman, rather than a dictator filling Dag Hammarskjold's shoes. U.S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson believes that U Thant will be "very sturdy" in protecting his office against Russian attempts to undermine it.

In a way, U Thant has already accomplished this. During the crisis revolving from Hammarskjold's death, U Thant resisted all maneuvers to pass off the Soviets' troika schemes on the UN Secretariat.

U THANT'S QUIET but firm belief is that "peace cannot be achieved through passive neutralism, which would mean a withdrawal from the battle for peace." He has said, "Whoever occupies the office of the Secretary-General must be impartial, but not necessarily neutral."

Politically, U Thant favors a hard-headed Western view of economics, while maintaining the Eastern mystic's preoccupation with spiritual values. He defines himself as a "democratic socialist," and argues, "There is something wicked about a society in which a successful trader can make a fortune but a successful teacher has to strike to get an adequate reward."

He has been a leader in achieving democratic institutions in Burma which outlawed the Communist Party a few months after achieving independence. He has supported membership for Red China in the United Nations; Red China faces Burma across fifteen hundred miles of frontier. But, at the same time, he is decrying Communism's "violent tactics."

IN 1952, U THANT joined his country's UN delegation, and was appointed permanent delegate in 1957. U Thant has served as chairman of the Development Fund, the Congo Conciliation Commission, and the Afro-Asian Standing Committee on Algeria.

Showing tact in his major assignments, U Thant called on the United Nations to maintain law and order in the Congo, worked patiently and discreetly to end the Algerian conflict, backed the UN resolution condemning Russia's brutal suppression of the Hungarian uprising.

A side-note on the appointment of the 52-year-old U Thant comes from Time magazine. "U is not a first name, but an honorary title roughly meaning minister. Thant means clean, or clear in Burmese. Hence, one reporter's nickname for U Thant: Mr. Clean."

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Hoosier Hysteria season has arrived again at South Side! Our very first basketball game of the season will be played tomorrow night against the Bluffton Tigers. Let's retain the school spirit we showed at the Central Catholic football game, and support our Archer team with enthusiasm plus! Also, remember to attend the annual Meterite Dance, "Harvest Moon."

Best-selling novels: "How to Rat Hair" with added chapters on how to speak extemporaneously by Diane Hall. Congratulations to Diane, who won first place in girls' extemp at the Howe Military Academy Inexperienced Speech Meet; and "How not to Write English 6 Research Papers"—by Betsy Adams.

Even South's grasshoppers and preying mantises are trying to learn something. One grasshopper was bold enough to crawl in the window of Room 90 to get his daily French lesson.

Beware of Martha "the hook" Lanning. Armed only with a partially straightened out coat hanger, Martha terrorized a busload of people coming home from the Howe Speech meet. Cadet Pam Punskey nearly stayed at Howe, disguised in military coat and cap as one of the cadets!

Goodbye, cruel world, I'm off to join the circus! Ann Mol and Kitty Fay have taken up uncycling so they can escape from the rigors of life to the carefree life of the circus.

The latest in music is being provided by a combo composed of Jack Sanderson, Ken Davis, Paul Cochran, and Bruce Baldwin. Their native strains can be heard drifting from the "back room" of Room 50 during fourth periods.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Many times we hear the term "mess" used in reference to people eating together. The term is so commonly used that we seldom, if ever, think about it. Do you know where it came from?

Answer. Originally the "mess" meant a portion of food. The word was derived from the French word, "mets," meaning dish. It is known that as early as 1636, the word was used for the groups into which a ship's company or a regiment is divided for eating meals together. Previous to that time, as early as 1420, it was used to denote a small group of persons eating together.

Question. Have you ever wondered about the naming of hurricanes? Why are they given girls' names?

Answer. The first time girls' names were used to distinguish hurricanes probably goes back to 1941, in George R. Stewart's novel "Storm" in which the hero, a young meteorologist, christens them after girls he had known. During World War II members of the armed forces used girls' names to label these types of storms in the Pacific. The United States Weather Bureau later adopted the labeling system.

Question. Seldom does a politician achieve the status of being Senator-elect and President-elect while being a member of the House of Representatives. Do you know who this man was?

Answer. He was James A. Garfield of Ohio. While serving his ninth term as a member of the House of Representatives, he was elected to the Senate on January 13, 1880, for the term beginning March 4, 1881. On November 4, 1880, he was elected President of the United States. He resigned his seat in the House on November 8, 1880, and declined his election to the Senate on December 23. For four days he was Representative, Senator-elect, and President-elect.

Orator To Deliver Speech On Radio

Phillip Spray To Represent South Side In City's Voice Of Democracy Contest

Rosemary Capps Wins Second; Kathy DeVore Takes Third In School

Representing South Side in the Voice of Democracy city meet will be Phil Spray, senior, winner of South's November 8 contest. Rosemary Capps and Kathy DeVore, juniors, received second and third places, respectively. Other competitors were Diane Hall, Margee Terry, Marsha Disler, Tom Erb, and Mary Ella Braden.

Phil will compete for the city title against the winners from the other city schools in the November 24 contest at 7:30 p.m. over WANE radio. The winner of the city meet will compete in consecutive contests until a national winner is chosen.

THE EIGHT contestants in South's meet gave their speeches over the public address system. The judges could not see the speakers and, therefore, evaluated only on content and voice inflection. Judging the students were Miss Ann Arber, English and speech teacher; Miss Jeanne Smith, French teacher; and Mr. LaVerne Harader, English instructor.

All students taking public speaking were required to write a Voice of Democracy speech. Mr. Robert Storey, speech teacher, and Miss Arber chose the best from their classes, and these people competed in the school meet.

These speeches were from three to five minutes in length and were written on the subject, "I Speak for Democracy."

"I was very surprised and honored to win and will be proud to represent South," stated Phil.

Mr. Storey said, "I was very proud of everyone who participated and know they all did an excellent job. I wish Phil the best of luck in the city meet."

PHIL HAS COMPETED in the Howe Inexperienced Meet, New Haven Meet, North Side Regional, and the Halloween story-telling contest at Wranglers, where he proved his speaking ability by placing first.

His hobbies include sports car racing, scuba diving, and sail plane piloting. Math and science are Phil's favorite subjects.

Rosie is a member of Wranglers, concertmistress in the orchestra, vice-president of Assemblies Workshop, moderator of her church fellowship group, bookhead and editorial column writer on the Times, and a member of the publications board.

Her past record in speech includes receiving first place in the Wranglers' radio contest and fourth place in the girls' extemporaneous division at the Howe speech meet.

Rosie's future plans are a college education and a career in social work. She is not sure what particular field she would like to enter.

"AFTER DREADING my first speech meet, I'm looking forward to the ones to come. The meets are so much fun that even if you don't win a ribbon, they are worth attending," stated Rosie.

Kathy received a third-place ribbon in girls' extemp at the Howe Inexperienced Meet. Her other extracurricular activities include band, orchestra, Assemblies Workshop, and being secretary for the State Luther League. She is the Times picture editor, secretary of the 1500 Club, and a member of the publications board.

WINNING ORATORS . . . Phil Spray topped all other Archers competing in South's Voice of Democracy contest to win the right to compete in the city-wide meet. Rosie Capps, left, was second in the school meet, and Kathy DeVore, right, was third.—Photo by Lowden

Four Thespians Help Present Plays For Children's Theater

Four thespians are currently displaying their talents through the Children's Theater, a branch of the Fort Wayne Civic Theater.

While seven shows produced by the Civic Theater throughout the year are for adults, the Children's Theater schedule includes three plays per season, based on popular stories that all children enjoy.

Sophomore Claryn Birk is an enthusiastic veteran of the Children's Theater, having been active for nearly eight years. She finds great pleasure in acting, for she feels that it gives her an opportunity to become acquainted with and work with other people. Claryn estimates that she spends between two and five hours a night rehearsing for a play.

Dramatics became part of her life after she had seen a production in Florida which she enjoyed. When she returned home, she was encouraged to audition for a part in a play at the Children's Theater. Being given this part began her theatrical career.

She has acted in "The Clown that Ran Away," "Marco Polo," "The Three Clocks," "Simon's Big Ears," "The Camel with the Wrinkled Knees," "Cyranos de Bergerac," "Song of Bernadette," and "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof."

ANOTHER ARCHER who finds Civic Theater work very interesting is Christine Fruechtenicht, sophomore. She has been in the Civic Theater since the fifth grade.

"Although acting takes up quite a bit of time, it is worthwhile, for one learns many things about the theater. It keeps me busy at all times and gives me a chance to portray many different types of people," stated Christine.

She has been in "Mr. Pepper's Penguins," "Raggedy Ann," "The Camel with the Wrinkled Knees," "The Beast in the Blue Glass Tower," "Seven League Boots," and she is currently acting in "Circus in the Wind."

When asked about any odd experiences, she stated, "Once in my dismay, while playing 'Raggedy Ann,' my wig fell off. I can still remember my embarrassment."

Christine is active in ballet dancing.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

GO FORMAL

★ FOR THE "HOLIDAYS"

RENT A TUX

ALL YOUR FORMAL NEEDS AT

—SPECIAL RATES— FOR STUDENTS

✓ TUXEDOS

✓ DINNER JACKETS

RUSSELL'S TUXEDO RENTAL

215 W. Washington

Open Evenings Till 9

Self-Service or Drop-Offs

Washed, Dried, and Folded. Finish Same Day.

1-Day Shirt Service.

Dry Cleaning

SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT

4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

COLONIAL Restaurant

E-2000

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

Females Follow Simple Maxims To Win Wide Spread Popularity

"Popularityitis" is an extremely contagious disease that attacks females between 12 and 18. It may also be found in boys, but it is not as common. Its symptoms, easily recognized by harried teachers and doting parents, include a marked decline in the quality and quantity of homework and little or no work done at home.

Popularity and the rules to follow when working for it may be divided into three categories, relative to one's contemporaries, parents, and teachers.

The rules to follow with contemporaries may be stated simply and shortly, because it is usually accepted that these people are never as intelligent as the person using the rules.

ONE SHOULD FIRST and above all monopolize every conversation, talk about herself, her accomplishments, and all the marvelous things she's seen and done. After all, who leads a more interesting life than she?

Next, one should be two-faced and gossip. What does it matter if one talks about others behind their back? They are not near enough to hear.

People can be used as stepping stones, not really for true friendships. Friendliness can be used with those who can do something for one, advance her social position, do her homework, or get her a date with the star quarterback.

WHEN ON A DATE it is always wise to talk about what a good time one had with that college man last week end. The girl's date should hear about that expensive restaurant he took her to, then be questioned to why he doesn't take her there. He's bound to be impressed by her sophistication.

A good way to gain notoriety is to "join." One should join any and all clubs and run for a class office. She shouldn't stop with joining, but let it be known that she can be depended on to get things done. Of course, one doesn't have to follow through any of these actions, because if she works at all these things, there will be no time to take advantage of all the contacts she has made.

Last in this section of rules is to make fun of anyone who is less fortunate than one in material possessions. In this way, one can run down her competition while building her own ego.

NOW WE MOVE ON to the section on popularity with parents. The first thing to remember in connection with parents is that they know absolutely nothing of current interest. The fact that they've lived twenty or thirty years longer than the youth does not give them the right to advise her on her affairs.

One ought to never confide in parents. How could they help one when they don't know anything about the circumstances?

One shouldn't call her parents when she will be late; they can find her whereabouts after she arrives home. They're bound to appreciate their son or daughter more if left to worry a little.

One should always have a definite time to return the car, for instance, after the gas tank is empty. Talking on the phone for hours on end is very important, particularly if Dad is expecting a long-distance call. Parents must realize that the phone is as much the child's as theirs.

IF, AFTER DOING all this, one finds herself in some kind of an argument with them, she can say, "Everybody else is doing it." Finally, parents shouldn't be allowed the dignity of a name or a title, but be referred to as "he" or "she."

Last, but not least, there are the rules that apply to teachers. Here it is most important to let them know one considers herself on equal footing with them. Just because a teacher happens to have a B.S. or M.A. is

Tigers Win On Hi-Quiz

Central High School defeated Elmhurst High School on WANE-TV's I&M Hi-Quiz program Sunday at 5:30 p.m., 135 to 130. Participating for the Central Tigers were Mike Derickson, Judy Slagle, Pam Kriegbaum, and Rick Weber. Elmhurst's contestants were Phil Johnston, Track Murdoch, Jim Howell, and Judy Habegger.

Next week the Central Tigers will meet North Side High School for the last game of the senior round.

Hi-Y Hears Policemen

Captain Harold Andrews, executive officer of the Fort Wayne Squadron, Indiana Wing of the Civil Air Patrol, and Cadet Major Robert Snyder also of the Fort Wayne Squadron gave a talk on the operation of the Civil Air Patrol at the Hi-Y meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA. Major Snyder also told the club members about his CAP exchange trip to Israel and also showed the film "The CAP Story."

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Senior Sandra Yaggy To Play As Soloist At Teenage Concert

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT . . . Kitty Fay, left, and Logan Smith, right, looks on while Sandra Yaggy practices for the solo she will play Sunday as one of many teenagers who will participate in the Philharmonic Concert at Concordia Senior College.—Photo by Lowden

Sandra Yaggy, senior, will be the featured soloist at the first Teenage Concert in the auditorium of Concordia Senior College Sunday at 2:30 p.m. Conducted by Mr. Igor Buketoff, the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra will present the theme of "Music for Showoffs."

Two hundred tickets for the first concert have been sold. The cost of a season ticket for the series of three concerts is $2.50, but single tickets can be purchased for $1. The dates for the other two concerts are January 21 and March 11 at Concordia College at 2:30 p.m.

THE FIRST CONCERT will depict the evolution of the concerto. Sandy Yaggy will perform the first movement of Schuman's "Concerto in A Minor"; and she will also play, with the Philharmonic String Quartet, Mayuzumi's "Music for Prepared Piano and String Quartet."

Other selections to be played by the orchestra are the "Concerto Grosso in D Minor, Opus 3, No. 11," by Vivaldi, and the first movement of the "Concerto No. 8, for Orchestra" by Holmboe.

SINCE MUSIC CONCERTS have been presented, tuned to the ears of all age groups except teenagers, the Young Peoples' Concerts for children and the Philharmonic series for adults, this special series was developed for teenagers' enjoyment. At these concerts, teenagers will have a chance to better understand music.

After each concert, refreshments will be served for the audience and the orchestra.

Developmental Reading Course Boosts Speed, Comprehension

To enable one to read faster and to increase comprehension are the goals of the developmental reading program at South Side. Taught by Mrs. Evelyn Spray and Mr. Lowell Coats, this is a one-semester, non-credit course substituted for a study period.

First and foremost is the need to prepare one's self for the accelerated college course. The head of Purdue University has stated that to attain an "A" standing it is almost imperative that a student be capable of reading non-technical data at the rate of 800 words a minute.

This, of course, is not the only requirement for an "A" nor is it impossible to be an excellent student and still read at a slower rate. It is, however, an important step in the right direction.

IN ADDITION to college preparation, this course adds to the general background necessary to every person. It also gives information in literature, phonics, word pronunciation, spelling, and word derivatives. There is also the personal satisfaction of knowing one is getting the most out of his reading.

As in any course to develop a skill, there are special tools used. These include the controlled reader, a machine similar to a projector; the Tach-X, a machine used to sharpen the action of the eyes; and the accelerator.

People who have taken this course have realized enormous gains in their reading speed. Junior Bill Rastetter, who took developmental reading as a sophomore, went from 284 words a minute to 1200. Bill feels that the controlled reader was responsible for the largest part of the gain.

PAM PUNSKY, WHO TOOK the program as a junior and went from 250 to 1300 words-a-minute, states that the most beneficial part of the course was the accelerator. Logan Smith, senior, feels that the vocabulary study was a great aid to her. Logan says she would like to take it again to aid her in college work.

There is no average gain. How much one improves in his reading depends entirely on the person. He who works may improve three to four hundred per cent. Almost everyone who takes developmental reading improves at least eighty to one hundred per cent.

There are no requirements; any student at South Side is eligible. Registrations are made through the English Department. To make the most of the course, all that is needed is a true desire to be a better reader.

WILD PLUM

A deep dark delicious treat for handsewn moccasined feet! It's Sandler's newest know color; anything any neutral goes with, Wild Plum positively glows with. As advertised in Mademoiselle.

8.95 to 9.95

For that special occasion . . .

Holiday Formals

Jewelry—Gloves—Evening Accessories

The Bridal Shop

Across From Sears

Open Evenings

Class Of 1962 Formulates Plans For Annual December Reception

Officers, Instructors To Send Invitations, To Welcome Guests

The Senior Reception will be conducted December 5 in the cafeteria from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. Invitations prepared by seniors in homeroom tomorrow will be sent Tuesday to faculty members and parents of all seniors.

"The Senior Reception is an informal, come-and-go affair allowing each parent the opportunity to become acquainted with the other parents, the faculty, and the other members of the Class of '62," stated Larry Lee, senior class president.

This year two receiving lines will be utilized instead of just one as in previous years. The class advisers, Mr. Samuel Jackson, Mrs. Mildred Luse, and Mr. Alfred Hemmer; and the class officers, Larry Lee, Cheryl Summers, Diane Fredrick, Sharon Carrel, Debby Brooke, and Mark Hagerman, will greet the parents.

THREE OFFICERS and Mr. and Mrs. Hemmer will be at one door; while at the other, the remaining three officers, Mr. Jackson, and Mrs. Luse will receive the guests.

Refreshments will be served throughout the evening. A musical program will be presented under the direction of Mr. Robert T. Drummond, instrumental director, and Mr. Lester Hostetler, choral instructor.

Although the committee members have not been announced, nine committees will work at this annual event. They are the invitations, serving, food, decorations, publicity, hospitality, dish-washing, checkroom, and clean-up committees. Work on decorations, initiated by Debby Brooke, social council member, is already in progress.

EACH HOMEROOM has a representative who is responsible for all communication between the class and the sponsors and officers. They are also in charge of all ticket sales for the senior functions. A meeting of all representatives will be conducted tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in Room 94.

The homeroom representatives are Brenda Arnold, S-1; Bob Hendricksen, S-2; Bob Ramage, S-4; Elaine Snow, S-5; Bonnie Russell, 2; Karen Fine, 8; Barton Bailey, 10; Elizabeth Hostetler, 24; Tamara Vyhovsky, 28; Linda Newell, 30; Don Sievert, 52; Karen Dowty, 68; Marilyn Cole, 72; Dayna Harader, 75; Tom Plesniak, 82; Pat Lee, 91; Bill Wilder, 108; Paul Johns, 118; Sally Franklin, 146; and Marilyn Block, 182.

DeMolay To Induct 66

DeMolay will conduct the second initiatory degree ceremony at tomorrow's meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. Bill Branstrator, master counselor; Al Haney, senior counselor; and Jim Tenet, junior counselor, will be in charge of the service.

Sixty-six members will join the organization at this time. After the ceremony refreshments will be served.

Davis Beauty Salon

Tom and Marilyn Davis
Carmen Silvius

Styling • Permanent
Waving

4039 S. Wayne K-9824

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

thank Jr. H.aven

for High School girls who are looking sharper every day

could be our $1-a-week charge

It's for every bright-eyed brain who has a smattering of mathematics. Here's how it works: purchases may be made up to $25, payable at $1 each week for 25 weeks.

As payments are made and the balance goes down, further charges may be made anytime as long as the total balance does not exceed $25.

Credit's strictly on your honor gals!

If the boys want sharper looking dates, you can be with it . . . with a

Jr. H.aven kind of charge account
Frances Shop

118 W. Wayne

FIRST SENIOR ACTIVITY . . . Making preliminary plans for the Senior Reception December 5 are the officers and an adviser of the Class of '62, Larry Lee, standing; and left to right, seated, Mark Hagerman, Sharon Carrel, Mrs. Mildred Luse, Diane Fredrick, and Cheryl Summers. Parents of seniors and all faculty members are invited to this first activity of the year for the seniors.—Photo by Seaman

Early Radio Station Broadcasts Live Bands, Children's Shows

By Diane Smith

As the strains of "Runaround Sue," by Dion, fade from the jarred air waves, and just before the announcer begins his sales pitch for Sudzy-Wudzy soap flakes, one has a few seconds to wonder if radio was always like this. Turning back the clock twenty or thirty years, we find an early Fort Wayne radio station.

At 8 a.m. the station is just coming on the air. The schedule for the day includes "Music and Flowers," a farm broadcast or two, some community singing, perhaps led by an early Mitch Miller, four newscasts, and several other musical interludes. At 1 p.m. the station goes off the air, not to return to broadcasting until 8 p.m. Then the station is on the air until the late hour of 10 p.m.

In each studio, there was a full orchestra for any needed music, even if it were no more than a background. No records were used in the earlier days of radio; everything was live talent. Most stations were affiliated with large broadcasting networks in order to provide their listeners with more varied programs and more talented performers.

PROGRAMS WERE FOR all ages. For the little ones there was "Uncle Tom," a show that was accompanied by very loud, but realistic effects. "Let's Pretend" provided an outlet for active childish imaginations. A third popular children's program was "Irene Wicker, the Singing Lady." Miss Wicker told a story with a musical background. For those too old to appreciate this type of entertainment, there was Buck Rogers and his space heroics.

For mother, there were soap operas. Tears flowed freely during "Lorenzo Jones," "Back Stage Wife," and "Just Plain Bill."

Not to overlook anyone, there were programs for father too. There was Lowell Thomas, H. V. Kaltenborn, and Walter Winchell with their daily commentary on world events. There was "Dr. IQ" perhaps the nation's first quiz program; and "America's Town Meeting."

Parents were sure their offsprings were "headed for rack and ruin" when they swooned over programs like "Rudy Valle" and "Bing Crosby."

Comedy played an important role in early radio. "Ed Winn," "Burns and Allen," "Jack Benny," "Amos and Andy," "Lum and Abner," "Fibber Magee and Molly," "Durante and Moore," "Two Black Crows," and "Duffy's Tavern" were the popular comedy shows of the day.

AS ALWAYS THERE was music. "Band" was the key to the door of an evening of pure heaven. People dreamed along with Sammy Kaye, Guy Lombardo, Wayne King, and Paul Whiteman. Popular band leader Ozzie Nelson had a new girl vocalist Harriet Hilliard. Littering strains flowed from the piano of Eddie Duchin.

Cecil B. DeMille, famous movie producer, had his start in radio. He was connected with the popular "Lux Radio Theater." Also, in the vain of Duma, there was "One Man's Family."

For the sports-minded, there was coverage of the Indiana High School Basketball Tournament. School children enjoyed hearing their classmates dispel their way to victory in the Spelling Bee. Mr. R. Nelson Snider was the able pronouncer.

Early announcers in the Fort Wayne area were Bob Seivers and Howard Acker.

WHEN PEOPLE REFER to "the good days" they probably mean that unbelievable period when the program lasted longer than the commercial. Sponsors bought entire programs instead of single "time seats." As a result, there were only three or four commercials throughout a half-hour show.

The commercial for Sudzy-Wudzy is over now. It's time to come back to the present. As the clock strikes the hour, a news broadcast begins, one of the many throughout a twenty-four hour radio day. Later there will be more music, and perhaps a public service program or two.

The music has changed, the hours have grown by leaps and bounds, the stories have vanished, but one fact remains. The goal of radio is to serve, entertain, and inform Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public and their family.

Artists To Hear Concert

Honorary Arts members will attend the Philharmonic Teen-Age Concert Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at Concordia Senior College.

The members will discuss their Christmas vacation at the meeting Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 61. In previous years the club has visited such places as Chicago, Ill. and Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, Ind. Judy Godman, co-president of the club, will preside at this meeting.

I & M Hi-Quiz

SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:
North Side vs. Central

INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Related Members Of School Faculty Tell Conveniences

Five sets of related teachers and counselors are included in South Side's faculty. Miss Edith Crowe, who teaches health, is a sister to Miss Mary Crowe, teacher of United States history. The latter has taught at South Side for 36 years. During this time, she has taught not only United States history, but general history, citizenship, and government. Before coming to South Side, she was a teacher at Franklin School. Miss Edith Crowe came to South from James Smart School, where she taught home economics.

Both of the sisters agree that it is convenient in most respects to teach at one school. One car can be used for going to and from school. Another convenience is their ability to reach each other at any time. Miss Edith Crowe says, however, that people often mistake one of them for the other.

She also states that it is often inconvenient if one of them has to stay late. Says Miss Crowe, "This occurs more regularly than you might expect. Often the one who doesn't need to stay goes home and returns later to pick up the other one."

MRS. JACK WEICKER also enjoys working at the same school as her husband. This is her third year as book rental secretary. Mr. Weicker has been at South Side for ten years as a history teacher, and this year he is senior counselor.

Mrs. Weicker says, "We see very little of each other during the day, but we are often able to eat lunch together." The Weickers have four children.

Mrs. Sterner, wife of Mr. Earl Sterner, Latin teacher, substitutes frequently at South Side. Mr. Sterner has been teaching here for 30 years, five of which he was in the English Department.

SOCIAL STUDIES teacher at South Side, Mr. John Arnold, is a brother-in-law to Archer speech teacher Mr. Robert Storey. Mrs. Storey is Mr. Arnold's twin sister.

Mr. Storey has taught at South Side for five years. Aside from his teaching duties, he is a sponsor of Wranglers. Because they live in the same vicinity, Mr. Arnold and Mr. Storey sometimes find it convenient to ride to school together.

Son of Mr. Ora Davis, dean of boys, is South Side chemistry teacher Mr. George Davis. The father has been at South Side for 37 years, some of which he spent in charge of athletics. For the last ten years, Mr. Ora Davis has had the position of guidance director. He says, "It gives me a great deal of pride and satisfaction to be working at the same school with my son."

Give Thanks

Students To Visit Family, To Feast On Holiday's Bird

Thanksgiving, the time for big dinners and joyous reunions, is here again! It's the time for festivities for both young and old. When Archers were asked what their favorite festivities were they replied in various answers.

Cindy Snider: Over the river and through the woods to grandma's house I go.

Toni Sorensen: I adore eating turkey.

Jane Ladig: On Thanksgiving, I always visit Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry.

Tom Adams: Eating, naturally!

Rich Dobson: Cutting the head off the turkey always proves exciting!

Sandy McCombs: Visiting my relatives.

Betsy Adams: Oh my achin' stomach! That turkey always tastes sooooo good!

Louise Jackson: I just love (?) munching on ham while everyone else has turkey.

Pam Punskey: Riding to Elwood in my VW.

Sheldon Sheray: Having lots of fun playing basketball and football! Oh! I like to eat, too!

Jane Augspurger: I enjoy going to fabulous Thanksgiving Day formal.

Diane Smith: I just adore spending my Thanksgiving Day at the library working on my research theme. Anybody for TV dinners?

Rick Schaefer: Goofing off, mostly!

Barrie McCombs: A hunting I will go—turkey hunting, of course!

Boys To Apply For Test

Applications for the National Reserve Officers Training Corps test on December 9 must be received by officers in McHenry, Ill., tomorrow. All boys interested in joining the corps may receive applications in the office of Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, Room 102.

Educating and training young adults for ultimate commissioning as career officers in the Marine Corps or Navy is the purpose of the NROTC program.

Juniors Select Plans For 'Project III,' Space Age Banquet, On December 1

Modern Atmosphere To Include Rockets, Stars, Mural, Food

"Project III," the Junior Banquet, will blast off on December 1 in the school cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. and remain in orbit until 9:30 p.m. "Project III" symbolizes the junior year in high school and that soon the juniors will be on their own in the world.

Although no definite plans have been made for decorations, constellations of stars, planets, rockets, modern mobiles, other modern designs, and a modern mural will probably highlight the decorations.

The menu will consist of roast beef, fish, mashed potatoes and gravy, peas, combination salad, pumpkin or apple pie, and milk or coffee. The price for the meal has not been disclosed.

THE DECORATIONS committee is headed by Tonya Hines, chairman; Peggy Schmidt, co-chairman; and Mr. Robert Petty, class adviser. Their committee includes Tom Wooding, Dave Yaney, Mike Zehender, Rick Werling, Mary Arnold, Sharon Bass, Mike Beltz, Alice Habegger; Janet Calvert, Ruth Sprunger, Dave Rodenbeck, Mary Jane Reiff, Joanne Rose, Stu Schmitt, Tucker Schiebel, Nancy Bowman, Bob Bohlender, Sue Moyer, Cindy Miller, Gaynel Musser, Diane Petznik, Erin Rose, Dave Platz, Sally Newell;

Carole Ladig, Krystyna Kriworotow, Nancy Lagemann, Karen Finfrock, Gwen Fireoed, Pat Menze, Sue Smith, Toni Sorensen, Betsy Stephenson, Mikie Tieman, Sally Sweet, Margee Terry, Sylvia Hileman, Dottie Kessler, Betsy Junker, Beth Burnett;

Betsy Adams, Barb Altevogt, Jane Augspurger, Larry Barnett, Pat Bailey, Loretta Grider, Linda Gernand, Louis Culbertson, Dave Fleming, Babs Fitzgerald, Sally Mallough, Judy Schumm, and Pat Serrano.

JERRY KLAHEHN, chairman, and Ann Gallmeyer, co-chairman, will be in charge of publicity. Their assistants are Diane Saalfrank, Jack Sanderson, Bob Camp, Mary Jo Kraus, Susan Witmer; Sally McClain, Nancy McBride, Diana Ornas, Janet Deihl, Rhonda Roehm, Mary Jo McDonald, Mary Bowman, and Krystyna Kriworotow. Mr. Richard Sage, class adviser, will also assist the committee.

Entertainment for the Junior Banquet will be selected by Ken Davis,

Poor Drivers Cause Nine Auto Violations

Thirty-three high school student traffic violations have been committed during October according to an announcement by Officer Robert Waldron, high school liaison officer.

Of these 33 violations, South Side had the highest total with nine; Concordia had six; Bishop Luers, one; Central, seven; Central Catholic, two; North Side, five; and Elmhurst, two.

TWELVE VIOLATIONS were reckless driving. South Side students made three of the 12 violations; Bishop Luers, one; Central, four; Concordia, five; and Central Catholic, two.

South Side received four of the ten violations in speeding. Elmhurst received two, and North Side, four. An Archer was given the only violation for improper use of alleys.

Two violations were made by the teenagers for not having adequate equipment. Central and North Side each received one. Three violations for not having an operator's license showed South Side had one violation; Central, one; and Central Catholic, one.

A CENTRAL STUDENT committed the only violation for the failure to yield the right of way. One violation was given for running a stop sign to a Concordia student.

"Any person who receives 12 violations during a three-year period will have his license revoked," stated Officer Waldron. "Also, I want to express my appreciation to all the students and schools that participated in the recent Allen County Teenage Safety Exhibits. The reports from the committees at both shopping centers were most gratifying."

GREENBLATT'S

For Quality
Furs Since 1900

This week's Small Snaps is Kathleen and Steve Petty

PROJECT PLANNERS . . . Discussing "Project III," this year's Junior Banquet, are from left to right, first row, Rosie Capps, Nancy Robinson, Mrs. Marlene Schang; second row, David Aubrey, Gary Probst, Tonya Hines; back row, Mr. Robert Petty, Kenny Davis, Jerry Klaehn, and Mr. Richard Sage.—Photo by Lowden

chairman of the committee, and Mr. Sage. Sue Burdick, Judy Conley, Linda Seibel, Bob Wasson, Jon Poto, Karen Miller, Leanna Morris, and Bob Leininger will serve on the committee.

The program committee is headed by Gary Probst, chairman; Martha Dixon, co-chairman; and Mr. Petty. Committee members are Nancy Norden, Bob Piercy, Bonnie Smith, and Karen Ann Walker.

GARY PROBST is also in charge of chaperones. Larry Norman, co-chairman, and Mr. Petty will also assist the chairman. Peggy Brase, Sharon Chase, Bonnie Byers, and Rita Waikel will serve on the committee.

The committee in charge of food will be directed by Rosie Capps. She will be aided by Ann Flickinger, Ann

Members Of Publications Staff Receive Pins For Times Work

Bronze, silver, gold, and gold-jeweled pins have been earned recently by members of the Times staff.

To earn a bronze pin a student must have a total of 1,600 points with 760 of them creative points. A silver pin requires a total of 3,000 points; a gold pin, 5,000 points; a gold-jeweled pin, 10,000; and 22,500 points are needed for the special award.

Students who have earned a bronze pin are Suellen Borgmann, Jean Braden, Larry Brown, Sharon Carrel, Christie Counsman, Karen Franks, Honey-K Martindale, Karen Miller, Harriet Ochstein, Phyllis Pierson, Jean Simpson, Bonnie Smith, Cynthia Snider, Sally Sweet, Susie Weinraub, Sharyan Yerger, and Doris Atreft.

Silver pins have been awarded to Ann Brase, Janet Brenn, Lynelle Dill, Tom Erb, Karen Finfrock, Cindy Jackson, Babette Jones, Sharon Karst, Susan Korte, Carol Ladig, Ann McCallister; Cindy Sue Miller, Barb Nelson, Terry Newendorp, Dick Parke, Steve Pratt, Nancy Redding, Marna Reiber, Erin Rose, Karen Simmons, and Bill Wilder.

Gold pin winners are Barb Altevogt, Pat Bailey, Sue Burdick, Beth Burnett, Rosemary Capps, Sharon Eitman, Sarah Finch, Diane Fredrick, Ann Gallmeyer, Kaylene Gebert, Susi Hines, Larry Lee, Leanna Morris, Pamela Punskey, Bonnie Russell, and Peggy Schmidt.

Gold-jeweled pins have been earned by Kathy DeVore, Ann Golden, Susan Horth, Jenny Manth, Margee Terry, Ann Flickinger, Sue Kelley, Kenny Lowden, Mike Seaman, and Roberta Twitchell.

Sandy Thorn has earned the special award.

"Goldens Young Men's Corner"

As The Senior Told The Freshman: Get That Sharp Look . . In

Goldens Natural Shoulder Vested Suits $59⁹⁵

THREE PIECES

Styled by Cricketeer and our famous University Guild, the Vested Suit is every knowing young man's passport to that inner circle of fellows "who rate." Best suit to own, especially for the Holiday and dress-up events, just ahead.

LOCATED CALHOUN AT JEFFERSON

Goldens

LOCATED CALHOUN AT JEFFERSON

even beginners can't miss with Libby's pumpkin

Libby's PUMPKIN

Cage Squad To Battle Southport, To Face Concordia At North Side

Cardinals Boast Speed, Balance As Aggressors

Fred Fleetwood Leads Invaders In Scoring; Dick Putt Plays Pivot

When South Side's Archers meet Southport's Cardinals on the hardwood here on Wednesday, they will need more than a "Steve Hargan" 15-foot jump shot to leave the scoreboard showing a South Side victory.

Last season the Archers won the annual battle by just two points. The winning score was made by Hargan stripping the nets with seven seconds remaining to climax a thrilling 58-56 Archer win.

Coach Blackie Braden's '61-'62 edition hopes to avenge last year's loss and seems to have the makings of a real rugged quintet. The Cardinals have three of last year's starters back this season, and Coach Braden has some real talented players rounding out a well-balanced team.

Returning this year for the Cardinals are two-year varsity veterans Fred Fleetwood, Dick Putt, and Hank Orme, as well as last year's seventh man, Jim Hohlt. Senior Jerry Richardson and sophomore sensation Bob Simpson also have been a pleasant surprise for Coach Braden.

FLEETWOOD, a 6-1 forward, is the Cardinals' big scorer and will present a big problem to South's front line. In their opener against Center Grove, the husky player stretched the "new" nets for a game total of 30 points.

At center position for the Cardinals is 6-4 Senior Dick Putt, who is able to maintain his own quite capably

Place—South Side gym.
Time—At 8 p.m.
Last met—1960; score 58-56, South.
Next foe—Concordia.

off the boards, as well as helping his squad offensively.

Either 6-1 Sophomore Simpson or six-foot Larry Richardson, who connected for 15 points in their first contest, will gain the other forward position.

At the guard slots it will be Orme and Hohlt, both aggressive players, standing under the 5-11 mark. The two guards are fast and quick and will present the inexperienced Archers with some real trouble.

SOUTHPORT, ALTHOUGH they have played just one game to date, looked like a squad having a mid-season form. They are aggressive, fast, good off the boards, and are excellent ball handlers. In addition they have better height than South and are capable of a high-scoring game; whereas the Archers very rarely exceed the 50-point mark.

Defensively the Cardinals can play a varied zone as well as rattling their opponents with a man-to-man pattern.

Although the Archers will be up against a tough quintet, if they are really up for the game, overcome post-season weakness, and play flawless ball, they could very easily defeat the Cardinals.

Probable Lineups
Southport Pos. South Side
Fleetwood . . . F McMahan
Simpson or
Richardson . . . F Probst
Putt C Hilsmer
Orme G Leakey
Hohlt G Platupe

Coach To Introduce Squad At Pep Rally

Introduction of the basketball team by Mr. Don Reichert, head coach, will highlight the pep session at 8:30 a.m. in the gym tomorrow. The cheerleaders will present new yells which they learned at the cheerleaders' clinic in Sweetser, Ind. on November 4.

The school song, spelling out South Side, and the "Victory Chant," will start off the pep session, followed by the "Basketball Hello" and "Basket," led by the varsity. The reserves will lead off "1-2-3-4" with new motions. "Over Hill" will be played by the band before Mr. Reichert introduces the team.

The varsity will continue with "He's A Coach," "There's Our Team," and "S.O.U.T.H." The new clinic yells will be introduced by Babette Jones, captain, and demonstrated by all the cheerleaders. "Clap Fight" will be done by the reserves, followed by "Satisfied" by the varsity. "Give Us The Green," "Good Luck," and "Go Archers" will conclude the pep session. Sharon Eitman, varsity, assisted by Nancy Robinson, reserve, is in charge of this week's pep session.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Port Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With
Dyna-Vision

Stu's Sideline shots

By Stu Schmits

"Hoosier Hysteria" is here again. Tomorrow evening marks the start of the long-awaited 1961-62 season for South. They will be in pursuit of their ninth outright city title, and the defending Sectional champs will be seeking their fifth title in six years.

Coach Don Reichert, beginning his tenth year at the Archer helm, has only three lettermen returning this year and faces a squad green in experience; and to add to his woes, he has no real big man to handle the large rebounding chores.

This year Coach Reichert will probably have to depend on Dale Hilsmer to handle the big job. Dale, the only member returning from last season's starting lineup, did a great job last year, especially during tournament time when he was selected to the Journal-Gazette-News-Sentinel All Tourney Squad.

South's starting lineup, as well as the final varsity roster, still remains a question mark. Hilsmer will undoubtedly start either at the center slot or possibly at forward. Another reasonable selection will be Ken Leakey at one of the guard spots.

The other three positions will probably be filled by Seniors Mart Platupe and Tom McMahan, and Juniors Bob Lohman and Gary Probst. Their positions are not sure in any sense of the word, with other talented prospects seeking to fill their shoes.

It will probably take the Archers a while to get rolling, but the fine spirit and desire which the squad has shown should be a determining factor in the success of this year's team. Some excellent support from the student body throughout the entire season will be necessary to uphold the winning spirit and tradition which Coach Reichert has instilled in Archer basketball over the years.

However, at the outset of the season the Archers look like the top squad in the city, although they are no powerhouse by any means. All the city squads are somewhat weaker than last year's editions, and it will probably be an interesting battle right down to the wire.

Although it is difficult to determine who will be in the running, it looks like South and Central will be battling it out again for city honors. These two squads have had quite a rivalry going in the past several years with South holding a 55-51 margin over the Tigers in their 106 meetings. Both squads are inexperienced, but they have some real fine material and will be pretty tough as the season progresses.

Elmhurst, who has seven returning lettermen, is the most experienced squad in the Summit City and looms as the City Series darkhorse. Despite a poor 4-18 record in 1960-1961, Coach Bill Geyer's boys have the making of a really fine squad.

North has four returning lettermen but doesn't appear to have the making of a city contender, even though their season tally on the hardwood should be "better" than their ragged gridiron record. Concordia and Central Catholic should show some improvement this season, but are not to be regarded as threats. Luers, who stunned the football experts with a city title in their first city showing, doesn't look like a city basketball contender but could prove to be a spoiler to the leaders.

Even though pre-season predictions are just hunches, the following are some of mine:

City Champs—South.

South Side Record—12 wins, eight losses.

Opening Games:

South: Bluffton takes close decision; topped by Southport

November 22; Archers come back with City Series victory over Concordia.

North: Goshen walks over North in the Redskins' opener on November 22, and Muncie Central drops Redskins on November 24.

Elmhurst: Huntington nips Elmhurst in a high-scoring affair on November 24.

Central Catholic: The Irish nip Kendallville in opener tomorrow, win opening series battle over Central.

Luers: Luers drops county squad Hoagland in opener on November 22.

Central: Drops first game to Anderson tomorrow, drops heart-breaker to Irish on November 22.

Concordia: Outplays Lafayette Central in Friday's opener, cops second win over Angola on November 18; then falls hard to the Archers on November 25.

DAN'S BARBER SHOP
1307 Oxford
QUICK SERVICE
—TWO BARBERS—
HAIRCUTS—Any Style
For Men or Women

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY
4232 S. Calhoun Phone K-1864
SERVICE IN DRUGS

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Cadets To Face Building Term In Total Power

Parochial Aggregation Has Height, Accuracy, But Lacks Experience

Having lost the first six men from last year's team, the Concordia Cadets will have to start almost from scratch this year. Gary Novak, one of six graduating lettermen, led the city's scoring race last year with 361 points. Concordia now has to find another scorer to fill Gary's shoes. The man most likely to win the job is Cadet junior guard, Dave Widenhofer who is probably the best shot on the team.

Besides three returning lettermen, Coach John Mader has a new group of players who stand 6-5, 6-4, and 6-3; but they saw little or no action at all last season. Since most of the Place—North Side gym

Time—November 25 at 8 p.m.
Last met—1960; score 84-67
South
Next foe—Huntington

boys are new, Coach Mader who is trying to build for the future has placed his hopes for this season into the second half of the year.

Since this year's squad isn't as fast as last year's, most of the scoring will probably be done by setting up plays to the taller boys.

Harry Edenfield, sophomore, who is the tallest member of the team, stands 6-5 and displays good jump shots. Dave Stauffer, 6-4, and Tom Baach, 6-3, who are next in line have great potential. Two other front line men are Larry Schlegel, 6-1, and Keith Markey, 6-0. Dave Widenhofer and Al Colvin who are good ball handlers and shooters will start in guard positions.

Right now there is only an 11-man squad, so it seems that all the boys will see much action. However, since they have only 11 boys, they lack depth which will probably hurt all season.

Last year the Cadets had 12 victories against 10 losses. Coach Mader hopes to do as good or even better this year. The team has a fine desire; and if they fight hard, they will have a fairly good chance to win the city title.

Girls Receive Points For GAA Speedball

Girls receiving 100 points in Freshman GAA speedball play are Phyllis Bixby, Beverly Dougherty, Lynette Downing, Pam Ensley, Jo Elynn Good, Laura Graham, Candy Greiner, Linda Grimme, Doris Hesser, Susie Knox, Cheryl Krudop, Sharon LeFever, Joy Locke, Marcella McMillan, Nancy Markin, Julia Merchant, Janet Miller, Darlene Neireiter, Diane Nordblom, Jan Pfeueger, Bonnie Post, Judy Putman, Sandra Reed, Jo Richter, Sue Richter, Lynn Raby, and Mary Stultz. Jan Bates, Joyce Bates, Carol Chan-nell, Leslie Froebe, Alice Fruchtenicht, Valentina Harbosky, Sally Henderson, Kathy Hughes, Linda Loomis, Sharon Lynch, Diane Porter, Nita Quinn, Mary Sherlock, Linda Stranger, and Kathy Wyss received 75 points.

Those receiving 50 points are Marcelle Flandrois, Suzanne Freeman, Judy Koehl, Martha Moore, Vicki Mosure, and Linda Shadle; Joan Brooks, Linda Thornburg, Pat Walton, and Carol Westerman received 25 points.

Students Plan Cicero Talk

Cicero will be discussed by David Allen and Paul Mittelstadt at the Latin Club meeting, Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Societas Latina, sponsored by Mrs. Anne Redmond and Mr. Fred Hellman, Latin teachers, will accept new members at this meeting, and refreshments will be served.

McINTOSH
Auto Radio Service
101 S. Clinton E-3281

Did You Know
KEN LOWDEN
Eats at Ab's?
Ab's Drive-In
Clinton and Rudisill
11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Ab's Drive-In
Clinton and Rudisill
11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL . . . Members of Gary Tinkel's intramural football team are, front row, left to right, Bill Borgmann, Mike Stedje, Terry Newendorp, Jeff Roth, and Bob Martin; second row, left to right, Dick Waterfield, Gary Tinkel, and Allan Sheldon.—Photo by Jones

GRID WINNERS . . . Steve Jones' lightweight intramural football team topped all other teams in the grid competition to emerge the champions. Members of the team are, front, left to right, Rick Meeks, Pat Fiske, Dave Rodenbeck, Matt Cornacchione, Don Carlo; back, Steve Jones, Mike Beltz, and Bob Piercy.—Photo by Lowden

Six basketball games and five handball contests were played last week in intramural noon and night league competition.

Sparked by Bob Piercy's 12 points, the Nature Boys turned back the Wildcats, 26-15, in the only noon league middleweight battle. Tom Wooding chipped in with six points for the winning squad. Jim Long led the Wildcat scoring with eight points, and Charlie Golden and Paul Cochran each scored three points.

In noon heavyweight action, the Duals trounced the Church Street Five, 41-28. Rich Clark and Bob Leininger combined their talents to tally 17 and 15 points, respectively. Terry Usher was the only potent scorer for the Five, as he got 12 points; and Dave Wallace chipped in with eight points.

In their next battle, the Duals lost to the undefeated Sophomores, 41-24. Clark of the Duals led both teams in scoring with ten points. Everyone on the Rejects scored, with Howard Lowden hitting for nine points, Tom Meyers and Jim Barker, eight. Leininger got seven points, but lack of balance gave the Duals their first loss.

A second-half rally led by Larry Koelinger's eight points gave the Bombers a 25-24 victory over the Bouncers in the other noon game.

KNIPSTEIN Pharmacy
1527 Oxford St.

FUTURA TRANSISTOR PHONOGRAPH (4-Sp.)
American Made—Dual Needles—Operates on Four Flashlight Cells
Only $34.95
SMITH'S SOUTH SIDE TV & APPLIANCE
3820 South Calhoun H-2100

CRESTWOOD
another outstanding community by Shirmeyer
Here is one of Fort Wayne's best located subdivisions . . . within the city limits, close to everything. Located only two minutes north of Northeast Shopping Center on Highway 427, Crestwood is a delightful community of happy home owners . . . where friendship is found behind every door. Visit Crestwood soon.
8 MODEL HOMES OPEN DAILY IN CRESTWOOD
NATIONAL HOMES "Lambly approved homes" SHIRMAYER

Athletic Association Sets 12 New Rules In Basketball Game

New basketball rules were formulated at the meeting of the members of the Northeastern Indiana Athletic Association, Inc.

One change is that a neutral zone 12 inches long has been established between the first two players under the basket on free throw attempts. If a defensive player steps into this zone, the shooter gets another try if he has missed the conversion.

If a common foul is committed by an offensive player no free throws are presented, but the player is charged with a personal foul.

A PLAYER MAY now come into the game anytime the ball is dead with the official scorer receiving permission from the referee.

When a game ends in a draw, a three-minute overtime is conducted. This continues until one team compiles more points than the other. This rules out the "sudden death" overtimes.

The coach of the team can yell to his players as long as there are no unsportsmanlike comments. The coach may also walk in front of the bench all he wants. Also, the player can walk over and speak with the coach at any time.

When a player commits an obviously bad foul, he is excluded from the game. The player being fouled receives two free throws. If there is a fight resulting, both boys are removed from the game.

A TECHNICAL FOUL is called if two players of the same team wear the same number. A technical foul is also called if a player enters the game and his name is not on the pre-game squad list.

In the center of the floor, a jumper may now have one foot outside the circle. A player standing out of bounds, passing the ball in bounds loses possession of the ball if he bounces it. If the ball hits the backboard when he throws it in, he gets another attempt.

The visiting team has a choice of baskets for the first half. Scorekeepers do not have to indicate positions of players. No free throws shall be attempted from outside the free throw circle.

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

The "Council Shop"
DOWNTOWN & NORTHCREST

Natural Shoulder styling in YOUNG MEN'S VESTED SUITS
Young Men's Worsteds featuring natural shoulder jacket with hooked center vent and pleatless trousers. MATCHING VEST. In shades of Black and Black-Olive.
$49.95
Patterson Fletcher

'Hoosier Hysteria' Starts Tonight With Tigers

Three Lettermen Return; Boys Display Speed, Ability, Desire

By Terry Newendorp

Despite losses and a variety of misfortunes, the Archer basketball squad is planning for another year of continued prosperity under the able leadership of Coach Don Reichert. Although the statistics show that South has only three lettermen back, the experts may very well be fooled about the ability and depth of the team.

The leading returnees are Seniors Ken Leakey and Tom McMahon, who can play either guard or forward, and Junior Dale Hilsmer, who can play pivot-man or forward. Leakey and McMahon are 6-1; Hilsmer is 6-2.

With these three regulars out on the floor, all the Bowmen need is more height to grab those needed rebounds. Hilsmer, though he handles himself well, is several inches too small to cope with most Indiana high schools' towering centers.

THE BIG ANSWER to Coach Reichert's problem could be Jon Van Oosten, 6-5 senior, and an end on the football squad. If Van Oosten can learn the finesse needed in the pivot position, the Archers will indeed have a formidable crew.

Other leading candidates fighting to be on the starting five tomorrow night in the Bluffton game are Senior Mart Platupe and Junior Dave Blanton, Willie Files, Bob Lohman, Ed Johnson, and Gary Probst.

Platupe, a 6-1 guard candidate, played reserve and varsity ball in his sophomore year but dropped the sport altogether last season. Fresh off the football team, he's looking good and is sure to help the club. Blanton, a left-handed hot shot who played reserve last season, has been a bright spot in Coach Reichert's plans, and will probably see a lot of action.

LOHMAN AND JOHNSON are also just back from football and are probably a little rusty in their roundball abilities. Files and Probst are slow starters, but have talent. Both are notoriously good shooters, extremely quick, have good hands and are strong rebounders. Files at 6-foot and Probst at 6-1 promise to add to the overall speed and shooting accuracy of the club.

Prospective candidates who may be up later in the year are Juniors Jerry Klaehn and Tom Shine and Sophomores Don Hilsmer, Tom Myers, and Dave Munson. Myers, a 6-3 center, may be able to add rebounding strength and depth as soon as he gets some game experience.

Two more players are looked for to be back in January. Dave Meyers, a 6-3 junior and Shep Jefferson, also a 6-3 junior, will probably come back near the first of the year. Meyer broke his arm in football and Jefferson is ineligible till next semester.

BOTH OF THESE BOYS got considerable varsity experience last year. Jefferson often played three quarters of the reserve game and then came right back to play half of the varsity contest in one night. Meyer was promoted from the reserves to the varsity one third of the way through the season and performed admirably after that.

Overall, the team will be medium in height, but fast and accurate. There are several good ball handlers on the team and almost every boy is a crack shot. They will be strong on defense and very stingy with points. Rebounding and inexperience are Coach Reichert's two biggest headaches now. After a few games he hopes to have them both solved so that the Archers can better last year's 16-10 record.

And They're Off! Annual Indiana Classic Begins

Presenting Archers' 1961-62 Varsity Cagers . . .

READY TO GO . . . in the basketball opener tomorrow night against Bluffton the Archers will be trying to avenge last year's loss to the Tigers. Top prospects to be going for the Kellys are, back, left to right, Jon Van Oosten, Dale Hilsmer, Gary Probst, Bob Lohman, Ken Leakey, Tom Meyers; front, Tom Shine, Don Hilsmer, Dave Blanton, Martin Platupe, Eddie Johnson, and Willie Files. Absent when the picture was taken were Tom McMahon, Dave Munson, and Jerry Klaehn.—Photo by Lowden

Cats' Front Line Shows Height, Lacks Reliever

Bounds, Hart Provide One-Year Experience; Taylor Becomes Guard

Hoping to start the 1961 season on a good note and attempting to bounce back from last year's 52-44 defeat at the hands of Bluffton, South will host the Tigers tomorrow at 8 p.m. Although the game will be the season opener for the home squad, the Tigers started against Hartford City Friday, scoring an impressive 87-54 victory.

Ready to avenge last year's poor showing in which Bob Purkisher ran rough shod over Archer defenses, South is hoping to stop the annually powerful Bluffton team.

Mr. Jim Rosenstill, Bluffton coach, has rated his front line as much stronger than last year. However, his lack of a pair of backcourt men to match Purkisher and Dave Durr may prove a leading factor in the contest. Returning from last year's squad are Steve Hart, a 6-4, 195 pounder, and Brad Bounds, a 6-5, 186 pounder.

BOTH BOUNDS AND Hart played last year; Hart had added one inch and fifty-five pounds since last season, making him a much more formidable opponent. The Crimson and Black are also grooming guard Dan Taylor, junior, who has never played in a varsity game, for a starting position.

Place—South Side Gym
Time—Friday, 8 p.m.
Last met—1960; score, 52-44, Bluffton
Next foe—Southport

The Bluffton corps, having an even break between upper and underclassmen, possesses a good combination of veterans and newcomers. However, experienced, competent relief for the two big men, Bounds and Hart, is definitely lacking. Should early season foul trouble claim either or both of these boys, Coach Rosenstill will be hard pressed to replace them.

With a smaller and less experienced squad with one returning starter, South would appear to be entering a rebuilding year. However, this was last year's forecast and Archerland witnessed a season of exciting and very fruitful contests.

ONCE AGAIN STICKY defense, superior jumping ability, and crisp passing will characterize the Reichert attack. Dale Hilsmer, precocious sophomore standout of last year, will be returning to handle the center spot. Dale will face the tasks of bottling Hart and Bounds under the boards.

Seniors Ken Leakey, Tom McMahon, and Mart Platupe, along with Juniors Gary Probst and Willie Files will be key factors in helping Hilsmer control the boards. These boys also seem capable of improving South's poor 250 shooting percentage of a year ago.

Gridiron standout Ed Johnson, though still limping slightly, and Bob Lohman look ready to fill in when and if they are needed for relief duty.

If South can shake first game jitters and forget that they lack "experience," they appear capable of stopping anything the Tigers can throw at them.

Weak City Aggregations To Vie In 'Wide-Open' Race For Title

Prospects for a race for the city basketball title this season are very bright; but South Side's well-balanced, well-coached Archers now appear to have the inside track in the struggle to snatch the crown from defending city champ Central.

South, North, and Central Catholic all have starters returning from last year's squads; while Elmhurst and Bishop Luers have their entire first five back this season.

Concordia and perennial power Central lost their starting line-ups of 1960-61 through graduation and thus, will suffer from inexperience in the early stages of the campaign.

As was the case last year, the city lacks the one good, big man such as Tom Bolyard or Bob Pelkington of 1959-60. This year some local cagers reach the 6-5 mark; however, each has a long way to go before he will be of much value to his team.

WITH THE LOSS OF J.C. Lapsley, Ben Lynch, Willie Rozier, Ray Thomson, and J.C. Beachem from last year's powerhouse, Central's Coach Herb Banet must start from scratch in building a team. Forwards Sam Kelsey and Bob VanKyn plus guard Larry Kuhn are the only returning lettermen.

Still the Tigers have the best looking new prospects in the city this season. Senior center Rodney Haywood, 6-4, was a tower of strength on the reserve squad last year and should be the big board man for Central this year. Junior Cletus Edmonds, a 6-3 center, could help if he shows more hustle and desire.

Though Dale Hilsmer is the only starter back from the 1960 Sectional championship team, South Side looks like a top-notch contender in the city for another year. Hard-working seniors Tom McMahon and Ken Leakey, with two years of varsity experience, will probably team up with Mart Platupe and Gary Probst to form one of the most aggressive quintets Archer fans will have seen in a long while.

North Side will struggle through a tough schedule, once again faced with the problem of size. Mark Krieg, 6-2 center; Mike Painter, 6-1 forward; and Steve Esterline, 5-9 guard, are experienced starters. Still, Coach By Roy will sorely miss the services of Roy Cummings, Butch Snow, Denny Krueger, and Don Gaff, all of whom were graduated last spring.

CENTRAL CATHOLIC appears in good shape to rebound from a poor 5-16 record from last year. Coach Terry Coonan has Steve App, Dave Schenkel, John Dullaghan, Pat O'Reilly, Maury Bubb, and Steve Krull, all 6-0 or taller, with at least one year varsity play under their belts.

Having lost the top seven men from the 1960 team including high scoring Gary Novak, Bob Stockamp, and Tom Reiter Concordia's coach John Mader is definitely in a rebuilding frame of mind. "Hard-nosed" Al Colvin and sharp-shooting Dave Widenhofer form a strong backcourt combination, but Keith Markey is the only experienced forecourt man.

Therefore, Coach Mader is gambling on 6-5 Sophomore Harry Edensfield, 6-4 Junior Dave Stauffer, and 6-3 Sophomore Tom Baack. Concordia will be in serious trouble unless two of the three tall underclassmen produce.

Last season the Elmhurst Trojans lost 18 games, eight of them by two points or less. This year the entire starting line-up is back, with hopes of better luck. Coach Bill Geyer feels that his team will be much better, since all-city guard John Gres, 6-5 John Schmutz, and 6-4 Bob Miller have more self confidence.

THE OTHER TWO returnees, Tom Horton and Tom Reinking, also are tougher. Providing a strong reserve punch are Dave Foreman, Bill Beard, and ex-Archer Terry Baker.

Like Elmhurst, Bishop Luers has its entire line-up intact from last year. Though better-balanced than most local quintets, Luers has a big problem regarding size. It looks like Coach John Gaughan will start Dan Brodrick, a mere six-footer at the center position.

Tom Alt, at 6-2, strangely enough plays guard opposite Mike Burns. The starting forwards are Steve Swanson and Jim Snyder, both shorter than Alt.

Thus, no one team stands out as a clear-cut favorite for the city crown. South Side has a good chance; but C. C. is "up" again. Central always comes through with a tough squad; and North could prove strong, too. Bishop Luers and Elmhurst are experienced but not proficient, while Concordia is in a rebuilding year.

A two team race shapes up for the Allen County Athletic Conference basketball crown this season. The Wildcats crown this season. The Wildcats crown this season. The Wildcats crown this season.

Huntertown is given the edge by most of the conference coaches. The Wildcats are strong in experience and have fair height. The loss of Duane Dove and Mike McDougall, forwards who scored nearly 400 points between them last year, will not hurt the 'Cats as much as they have three starters and nine members with varsity experience returning. The starting line-up averages about 5-11 with center Bill Phillips the tallest at 6-8.

Only Hoagland has more experience than Huntertown in the county this season. These Wildcats have four returning regulars from a team that won nine and lost 14 last year. With a year of experience behind them, they are certain to improve.

There is healthy competition for positions on the first team, but the returnees, Larry Saalfrank, Gene Reynolds, Todd Bearman, Evan Werling, plus Sophomore Dave Sprangue are the leading candidates. Lacking size, none of the mentioned starters reach the six foot mark. The 'Cats will rely on solid fundamental basketball to carry them through a winning year.

HARLAN APPEARS to have the best chance to upset the leaders. With only one starter returning, the Hawks will undoubtedly make mistakes in their first games, but with the help of strong reserve and freshmen teams of last year, they should be playing well by county tourney time. The Hawks will also be aided by a lineup that is slightly taller than most in the conference.

Woodlan's Warriors hope to improve on their 10-10 record of the 1960-61 season. Though hurt by the losses of their top scorers, Jim Miller and DeWayne Scheiman, head coach Jim Grand still expects to field a winning squad. Lacking height, the Warriors will feature a good fast break and precision outside shooting.

Falling after two fine seasons, Arcola's Aces will be satisfied with a 500 season this time. The Aces are woefully short on height and experience. Don Graham and Ron Graham are the only players with extensive varsity experience and Graham at 6-0 is the tallest player on the team. The remainder of the cagers with varsity experience averaged no more than seven points apiece last year.

IN DIRECT CONTRAST to the Aces, Monroeville's Cubs will be trying to improve on two dismal seasons. Four members of last year's team have graduated, but these players averaged only 100 points apiece. Coach Loren Grabner is certain to find better scoring punch from this year's squad. Roger Kryder and Larry Merica, who together scored 434 points as juniors, will lead the Cubs in their drive to improve.

Leo's Lions, who have ruled the roost in the county for the past two seasons, are entering a rebuilding year. The Lions lost all five starters from a team that won the county tourney and the conference title last year. Senior Bill Arnold is the only returnee that showed any scoring ability last year, dropping in 131 points.

When it appeared that Lafayette Central would not operate as a school this year, several ACAC teams dropped the Pirates from their schedule. The Pirates were able to fill out a complete schedule, but their games will not count in the conference standings since games with Huntertown, Harlan, and Hoagland could not be procured. The Pirates will field a small team with only Tim Feigner, a junior, considered a consistent scorer.

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

PARKWAY BEAUTY SHOP
COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE
609 West Foster Parkway H-2244
Fort Wayne, Indiana

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE AND HOUSEWARES

KESSLER Super Market

"The Store for Quality and Personalized Service"

3102 BOWSER AVE.

Corner of Bowser at Eckart St.

21st Year in Business

ASSOCIATE BSC DEGREES

Phone A-1354

Fort Wayne, Ind.

Winter Term December 11

* Business Administration & Finance
* Secretarial Science
* Professional Accounting

With I.B.M.

Better Lighting

means better grades

Light & Power • Water Filtration

Sewage Disposal

ZINN SERVICE STATION

615 East Pontiac H-5219

Smart investment . . .

You'll find your stock goes up when you dress well . . . and a W&D vested suit is a smart investment for any young man. Choose from a handsome collection of natural shoulder clothing with matching vest in solids or patterns. 59.95

W&D Squire Shop, Men's Store

KOMET
MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games
INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Sunday, November 19
7:00 P.M.

MUSKEGON ZEPHYRS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Tuesday, November 21
8:00 P.M.

ST. PAUL SAINTS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Saturday, November 25
8:00 P.M.

ST. PAUL SAINTS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Tuesday, November 28
8:00 P.M.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Pegasus Staff Gains 1047 Sales; Student Body's Goal Set At 1250

Six Homeroom Agents Obtain 100 Per Cent; High Salesmen Named

Achieving its goal for the first half of the winter Pegasus campaign which will end Wednesday, the circulation department sold 1,047 subscriptions before last Friday afternoon.

The overall goal for the campaign is about two thousand subscriptions of which one thousand two hundred fifty is the goal for the student body. Students and teachers who haven't bought the Pegasus may contact any homeroom agent on or before next Wednesday.

Sally Sweet, circulation manager, stated, "The campaign has been going better than expected, but more than half of the students still haven't bought the Pegasus. The magazine's contents, design, and cover will be changed this year, but the high caliber of the first edition will be maintained. I'm positive that everyone who reads it will enjoy it."

SUBSCRIBERS TO THE literary magazine will receive it in the homerooms soon after Christmas vacation. The price is 35 cents, and no promissory notes will be accepted.

Books III, VI, and VII have the highest sales in the campaign and Barb Nelson, Lynelle Dill, Beverly Flanigan-Karen Franks, sophomores, and Bill Wilder and Sue Horth, seniors, have 100 per cent homerooms.

Other high salesmen during last week are Cindy Miller, junior; Sharon Eitman, senior; Sharyan Yerger, junior; Ann McCallister, junior; and Peggy Schmidt, junior. The agent who sells the highest number of subscriptions will receive a cash prize.

THE PEGASUS writing contest, sponsored by The South Side Times, ended last Friday. Winners in the original poetry, original essay or editorial, and original short story divisions will be announced in the magazine and will receive $3 prizes.

Agents and the number of subscriptions they have to sell to obtain 100 per cent homerooms are the following:

Book I—Dan Schwartz, head
S-1 Alice Ashton-Tamara Beatty	13
S-2 Kaylene Gebert-Ann Golden	13
S-4 Sandy Miller-Sue Phillips	13
S-5 Nancy Thorn-Russell	18
2 Bonnie Russell	23
4 Sharyan Yerger-Yvonne Wilson	■
■ Sue Berk-Sharon Bass	19
8 Sharon Eitman	16
10 Joyce Lockwood-Becky Baughman	19
Book II—Sally Mallough, head
12 Joyce Dunlap	22
14 Nancy Stewart	17
22 Cynthia Jackson	10
24 Babette Jones-Sue Kelley	14
26 Peggy Schmidt	7
28 Roberta Twitchell	15
30 Terry Newendorp	13
32 Barrie Spear	16
34 Susan Robinson	19
Book III—Peggy Schmidt, head
36 Sue Burdick	13
44 Darlene Neireiter	14
46 Sharon Graffis	19
48 Cindy Miller	8
52 Karen Simmons	9
54 Harriet Ochstein-Diana Ornas	11
■ Doris Hessert	19

MORRISON DRUGS
Maynard S. Ahrendt, Owner
Your Prescription Druggist
We deliver all prescriptions—prompt and courteous service.
"Member Retail Druggist Association"
2809 Broadway Phone H-1195

Ravens Croft Beauty College

Better Training By Well-Trained Instructors Using
AUDIO VISUAL AIDS

Hair Styling, Permanent Waving, Coloring,
Hair Cutting, Hair Conditioning.

WORK DONE BY STUDENTS AT HALF PRICE

Call A-7403
and make an appointment to visit the area's finest.

1114 So. Calhoun St. Across from the Cathedral

Mallough Roth Associates

-- Realtors --

Phone Office A-6396

Carl Riping K-2453 David Roth K-6118

Brown Mallough K-1948 Bob VanWinkle T-31048

John Wagner K-0800

PEGASUS CAMPAIGNERS . . . Pegasus bookheads and their circulation manager total the day's receipts of their campaign which will continue until Wednesday. They are, left to right, Ann McCallister, Lane Grile, Janet Dinius, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, and Sharyan Yerger.—Photo by Seaman

58 Susan Lawry	18	99 Gwen Welling	19
60 Larry Brown-Suellen Borgmann	14	103 Bill Wilder	100%
Book IV—Janet Dinius, head		110 Sharon Karst	16
61 Linda Seibel	11	116 Donna Summers-Sally Sweet	13
62 Karen Miller	20	118 Sue Horth	100%
64 Nancy Enz	19	120 Nancy Redding	11
66 Suzette Glass	25	138 Carole Ladig	11
68 Brenda Dull	12	Book VII—Ann McCallister, head
70 Tom Erb	13	140 Tonya Hines	15
72 Cindy Christman	15	142 Bev Flanigan-Karen Franks	100%
74 Ann McCallister	9	144 Marion Johnson-Kathy Knettle	14
75 Susi Hines	13	146 Diane Fredrick	11
Book V—Sharyan Yerger, head		160 Aileen Booty	12
76 Sue Smith	9	152 Nancy Augspurger	17
77 Barb Nelson	100%	154 Joyce Spindler	15
80 Lynelle Dill	100%	156 Sue Weinraub-Liz Weikart	6
82 Marna Reiber	23	172 Pat Bailey	6
84 Cheryl Trulock	19	Book VIII—Lane Grile, head
■ JoAnn Dixon	27	174 Ann Gallmeyer	20
90 Phyllis Pierson	24	176 Sam Carter	13
91 Susan Korte	20	178 Marcia Hughes	14
92 Doug Hansen	13	182 Ann Brase	20
Book VI—Bill Wilder, head		184 Phyllis Bixby	26
94 Julia Merchant	23	186 Linda Thornburg	17
96 Christie Counsman	20	188 Ellen Rice	13
		190 Ann Flickinger	12

Students Tell Ideas For New Inventions

New ideas and inventions are developed every day to speed progress in our nation. The following Archers were asked about their opinions concerning future occurrences.

Ben Smith: The new space ships with which the United States and Russia are experimenting are now thought of as disastrous, but will probably turn out to be as useful as the invention of the wheel.

Barb Ross: Being able to drive your car over bodies of water, ride escalator sidewalks, and close the windows of a car by pushing a button inside your home is my vision of the future.

Steve Cook: Buzzing Hall's in a helicopter sounds to me like a great sport of the future.

Sandy Stigall: I am looking forward to being able to see the person to whom you are talking to on the telephone.

Designers To Elect Prexy

Designers' Associated will meet Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120 to elect a new president. Richard Hoff, former president of the club, has withdrawn from school because of illness.

Following the business meeting, the members will continue work on their final plans and initial carvings of their entries in the Fisher Body designing contest.

Boat Accident, 'Burro Incident' Remain In Students' Memories

Usually during his lifetime, every one experiences some out-of-the-ordinary happening, which may be shocking, sad, frightening, or hilarious. Archers are no exceptions and have related some of these experiences.

About seven years ago, when he lived out in the country, Bart Bailey, senior, was leading his uncle's Mexican burro to the barn. The animal reared, knocked Bart down, and then sat on him.

Jean Simpson, senior, has become well acquainted with the hospital in Angola, Ind. Three years ago, at Crooked Lake, Jean was getting into a boat; and the driver suddenly started the motor. The boat spun around, grazing the top of her head. She was immediately sent to the hospital.

THE UNUSUAL PART of her experience was that the year before, on the same date, Jean was involved in a similar accident at Lake George, and was sent to the same hospital.

While driving a turbo-jet boat on the St. Joseph River last spring, Jack Harter, senior, ran across the wake of another boat; and the back end of his boat flipped out of the water. The turbo-jet went out of control and crashed into the side of a cement pier. Jack spent the next few weeks on crutches.

As a young girl, Sharon McEachern, sophomore, was not known to spend any more time sleeping than was absolutely necessary. One afternoon, however, she went to bed without letting anyone know. When Mrs. Mc-

Eachern realized that Sharon was missing, she canvassed the neighborhood and then called the police.

LATER THAT afternoon, Sharon, oblivious to all that had been going on, went downstairs. Her mother received quite a shock when she learned that Sharon had been in the house all day.

When a grocery store was sponsoring a dog show, Jon Brown, sophomore, entered his dog. After the show was over and the dog had won nothing, Jon, ready to leave, was persuaded by his sister to stay for the drawing for prizes. In the drawing, Jon won a bicycle and is probably the only boy to win a prize at a dog show.

While at a swimming meet in the Navy Memorial Pool in Minneapolis, Minn., B. D. Hartley, sophomore, missed her 100-meter free-style event. As the crowd was leaving the preliminary swim-off, she suddenly realized her mistake. After she explained to the judges, they let her swim the event by herself, timed by three people. She qualified and placed fifth.

Speech Group Places Second At New Haven

Receiving the second place trophy at the New Haven Speech Meet last Saturday, South topped six ribbons. Winners were Barb Nelson, third place in poetry; Sue Horth, third, Diane Hall, fourth, in girls' extemporaneous; Ken Davis, fourth place in oratorical interpretation; and Phil Spray, fourth, and Tom Erb, fifth, in original oratory.

Marjee Terry also made the finals in oratorical interpretation. Those making the semi-finals were Dianne Ball, Shari Busch, Joyce Cossairt, Marcia Disler, Martha Dixon, Lissa Hoffman, Jackie Kuhns, Martha Lanning, Vicki Miller, Lex Smuts, Bob Wasson, Barb Nelson in oratorical, and Marjee Terry in original oratory.

ALSO ATTENDING the meet were Peggy Brase, Pam Buzzard, Christie Counsman, Charlotte Dinius, Patty Dorton, Kathy DeVore, Diane Fredrick, Louise Jackson, Larry Lee, Ann McCallister, Sue Penland, Karen Ponder, Charlotte Powell, Pam Punsky, Patty Slater, and Logan Smith.

Each contestant participated in two rounds. Those who had received top ratings in these rounds competed in a semi-final round. The five top contestants in each event except oratorical interpretation competed in a final round which determined the winners. In oratorical, eight competed in the final round because five top speakers could not be determined.

SUE HORTH STATED, "I am very glad that South's contestants were able to do so well at our first speech meet for experienced speakers this year. I hope we can do as well the rest of the year."

Barb Nelson remarked, "Competing in two divisions as I did was quite hectic. I ran around all day, but I had lots of fun. I am very proud to have received a ribbon because the competition was very good."

Movie Producer To Talk

Mr. Richard Galbreath, producer of the movie, "Appearance of Evil" that was filmed in Fort Wayne last year, will speak at the Tuesday meeting of the Camera Club in Room 70 at 8:30 p.m. The talk will be about various phases of the modern camera, lighting techniques, and the operation of a large scale production.

No Times Scheduled

Because of the Thanksgiving holidays, there will be no South Side Times published next week.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Established 1876 KLAHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

Phone: T-1141

Students Leave School

Twelve students left South Side during October. Six pupils, Mike Hansen, Jim Hughes, Janice Leslie, Claudia Hershberger, James TenEyck, and Diana Tracey, quit school.

Sherrill Kreigh transferred to Central High School; Barbara Adelsperger is enrolled in Central Night School; and Nanette Simpson moved to New Mexico. Steve Meyer and Jerry Rose left South to go to work. One person was excluded.

Vesta Club To See Film

Mrs. Howard W. Stettner from Howard's Camera and Gift Shop will give a demonstration and show a film on wrapping packages and making bows at the meeting of Vesta Club, Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 112.

Five Industrial Arts Students Construct Identification Board

IDENTIFICATION BOARD . . . These boys have designed and constructed a player identification board which will be added to the gymnasium equipment in time for tomorrow's game. The boys are, left front, Gary Roby; left rear, Clint Wearley; right rear, Larry Haslup; and right front, Dennis Groves.—Photo by Lowden

Miss Dora Dinkendorfer Tries To Solve Depressing Problems

Dear Dora,
I belong to a Botany 1 class, and I'm having quite a time. You see these little bugs under the microscope won't stand still so I can draw my lab sketch. I can't quite give them tranquilizers because they're too small. What should I do to stop them from swimming?

Tired Eyes
Dear Tired,
Kill them! Poisonous gas or chlorine is very effective. Or, if possible, persuade your teacher to proceed with the experiment when the room is below freezing temperature. The bugs will be too stiff to move. (So will you.)

Dear Dora,
Every time I go to a football game I get trampled. I'm tired of being trampled. If anyone is going to do the trampling, I want to do it!

Dear Trampled,
Join the team.
Dear Miss Dinkendorfer,
I have a terrible problem with my hair. It seems it's very dry and uncontrollable. This is not my problem, however, because I think it's very becoming, but all my friends continually ask me why I rat my hair. This is very embarrassing because I don't rat my hair at all!

Dear Frizz,
Don't let it worry you. There are many beauty aids on the market that are suited to your problem. But remember, only two dabs.

Dear Dora,
My friends are constantly mocking my facial expressions. Though they may be strictly a habit, it is not my fault. What are your suggestions?
Frreak and Friendless
Dear Frreak,
I suggest you quit running around with these people; but since no one else will have you, try a muzzle to calm those irritable facial contortions.

Dear Dora Dinkendorfer,
I am in an 11A speech class, and of course, I have to go up on the stage like everyone else. My problem is that I always trip on my way up. What should I do?

Trips All the Time
Dear Trips,
You've got quite a problem. No doubt, it has something to do with your feet. To improve your condition, you could do one of two things: quit speech, or join the Unco-ordinates Club.

Dear Dora,
I feel left out. I wanted to join the football team, but they already had too many "benchers." I tried out for basketball, but they said four feet eight inches was a little too short. I would have tried out for golf, but I haven't broken a hundred in miniature golf yet. I'm fairly good at tennis, but I look pretty bad in those shorts. (I'm knock-kneed.) I have to get a letter so I can prove to my girl that I am a big wheel. Do you have any suggestions?

Co-ordination Plus
Dear C.P.,
There is always GAA.

Dear Dora,
I have a serious psychological problem. While studying in the library, I see these little men walking on the outside window ledges. S.O.S.

Crackin' Up
Dear Crackin',
Next time you arrive at the library request that Miss Price close the curtains so these little men won't bother you. I know how terribly serious your problem is, that's why I've been patronizing the Study Hall.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN/ART
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET PLATES
LETTERPRESS PLATES
ELECTROPS
DES. MATS. SCREENS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

ERIE READY MIXED CONCRETE

H-2214

What you want is a Coke

DRINK Coca-Cola

"Coke" is a registered trademark
BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

ALLEN DAIRY

FOREMOST IN QUALITY CONTROL

NATIONAL PETROLEUM, Inc.

and
Their Friendly Pure Oil Dealers
PURE FIREBIRD GASOLINES

'Needles In The Sky' Reflect Archers' Soaring Grade Waves

Scoring 100 on the foods test in Mrs. Ellett's Home Economics 2 period 3 class is Sue McGinnis.

Tamara Beaty and Marsha Ringle made perfect scores on the spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 6 class.

Mrs. Fleck's "Art 6 of the Week" was Tom Ogles, who had the best design plan for his oil painting.

Thomas Blossom made the only 100 per cent paper in Mr. Petty's Geometry 1 period 4 class.

Over a recent problem test in Mr. Petty's period 6 Algebra 1 class, Clark Marquart and Daniel Merica made the highest scores.

Mark Lowens made the highest grade over a recent 25 problem test in Mr. Petty's period 6 Algebra 1 class.

Walter Halley made the highest score over a recent test in Mr. Petty's Geometry 1 period 7 class.

Students receiving 100 per cent on a quiz in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 7 class were Robert Acker, Deborah Tourkow, and Richard Schafer.

Those receiving 96 per cent on the same test are Larry Gerig, George Gilmour, Richard Hirschberg, and Mary Jane Miller.

Scores of 100 in Mrs. Luse's Algebra 4 period 4 class were earned by Barton Bailey, Bill Borgmann, Bill George, Frank Lewis, Karen McFarland, Bob Miller, Pat Nettrour, and Gary Tinkel.

Grades of 90 or better on the same test were earned by Tom Irmischer, Bob Martin, Dave Meek, Argy Pappas, and Dick Waterfield.

Bruce Hilby is the only student scoring a grade of 100 on a three chapter test of democracy and "The Constitution" in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 6 class.

Carol Becher, Dennis Crill, Thomas Liby, Dave Margerum, and Dave Riegan earned grades of 90 or better on the same test.

Receiving grades of 95 and above on a recent three-chapter test over democracy and "The Constitution" in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 7 class are Marilyn Cole, Vicki Adams, and Larry Lee. Receiving grades of 90 to 94 on the same test are Anita Ferber, Bonnie Russell, Barb Spiers, and Cheryl Summers.

Bev Flanigan is the only student scoring 100 on a geometry test in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 2 class. In the same class, scores of 90 or above were earned by Nancy Bleakney, Suelen Borgmann, Mike Comer, Roberta Hoffherr, Janet Kelley, Thomas Liby, Vicky Phillips, Greg Rozelle, and Janis Sprunger.

Outstanding for his project in leather work was Dwight Arnett, who was chosen "Art 4 of the Week" in Mrs. Fleck's art class.

Larry Brown and Jeffery Tigges are the only students in Mr. Block's U.S. History 1 fifth period class to receive scores of 90 and above.

Jean Davis and Sandy Karst received 100 per cent on the last theory test in Mr. Walker's Shorthand 3 class.

Scoring 100 on a recent test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 3 health class are Sandra Burton, Sandra Channess, Romona Cornelius, Sally Henderson, and Rosemary Reidenbach, Group 1; and Linda Churchward, Nancy Enz, Alice Fruechtenicht, Laura Graham, Linda Metzger, Nila Schmidt, and Sherry Strawser, Group 2.

On a recent test over the daily chart in Mr. Smith's period 2 United States History 1 class, Don Bultemeier, Dave Eaton, Nancy Peterson, Sue Roemer, Stuart Schmitz, Karen Snavely, and Jim Trulock scored 100's.

Ron Bultemeier, Mary Fremion, Stuart Schmitz, and Karen Snavely received A+'s on a chart of explorers in Mr. Smith's United States History 1 period 2 class.

Those receiving 100 on a test over "Colonial Heritage" in Mr. Smith's United States History 1 period 1 class are Pat Dunn, Ed Freed, Marsha Grabner, Mel Kiessling, Jim Markiton, Gary Probst, Ann Stephanson, and Donna Summers.

Bill Powlen, Bruce Brown, and John Hite received A's on a test over world history in Mr. Fell's period 2 General History 1 class.

Miss Mary Crowe's U.S. History 1 classes have just completed maps illustrating French, English, and Spanish claims preceding the French and Indian War. The best maps were drawn by Jean Ann McGinley, Marsha Michels, and Ann Raatz.

Pat Wallace received the highest score on an exam given recently in Mr. Kelly's Junior Business 1 period 7 class.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 1 class who are doing their second drawing on instrument exercises are Mike Young, Phil Snyder, Evert Mol, David Hunsch, Tom Shine, and John Ruple.

Making the best grades over a recent test in Mrs. Grimehaw's Spanish 1 period 1 class include the following: Barbara Adelsperger, Susanne Berk, Llana Elmore, Irene Flaurors, and Laura Graham.

Others who are doing excellent work include Joe McKibben, Sherry Martin, Barb Nahrwald, and Beverly Strawser.

Scoring high recently on a test on measurements in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 3 class are Janet Brenn, Gary Hoffman, Mary Esslinger, and Diane Ball.

Miss Smith gave a vocabulary test in her French 2 period 6 class. Val Perepelkin received an A+; Ginny Kachiamenis and Rosalind Wilson earned A's.

In the same class John Kurtz, Linda Meyers, James Harrold, and Val Perepelkin earned A-'s on a dictation test.

Oxford Hardware
Housewares—Gifts—Paint
General Hardware
1508 Oxford St. H-3146

ROEHM
MARINE SERVICE
Your South Side JOHNSON Dealer
4392 Bluffton Road
Telephone Sherwood 3203

Maloley Brothers
Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Beaver Beauty Salon
1112 Home Avenue H-3363
MARTHA BUTLER, Owner and Operator
Norma Humbert, Operator Linda Thomas, Operator

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO CROWDED . . .
Call INDIANA AUTO DRIVING SCHOOL . . .
• Dual Controlled Training Cars
• Manual or Automatic Transmission
• Professional Instructors
• Convenient Door-to-Door Service
• Individual Instruction
H-3303

Jo Ellyn Good is the only person to receive an A on a test over the present tense of the first declension in Mrs. Redmond's period 7 Latin 1 class.

Mr. Block's government classes are studying public opinion, the meaning of propaganda and its devices, and the objectives of the quota system.

On a test over banking and checking account services given in Mrs. Schang's period 6 junior business training class, Kenny Ford, Jeanne Rondot, and Gene Rowleson received grades in the 90's.

Students scoring A+ on a unit test in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 4 class are Phyllis Pierson and Eric Knabe.

In Mr. Berg's Citizenship 1 classes, those scoring 90 on a test about the school building are Margy Betz, Judy Curtis, Rosemary Reidenbach, and Darlene Richard. Bill Timme was the only one scoring 95 per cent.

Yvonne Wilson received an A+ on a clothing project in Mrs. Murphy's home economics class. Rosalie Hall and Bev Daugherty received A's.

Sue Eversman, Connie Gross, Gary Hensch, and Jim Watson are the students who received grades of 90 or above in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 3 class.

Bill Borgmann is the only student in Mrs. Luse's college algebra class scoring 100 per cent on a recent test.

John Leonard is the only student receiving 90 or above on a test in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 6 class.

In Mrs. Redmond's period 5 Latin 1 class, Elizabeth Richter and Sharon Stettner made A+'s on a test over the present tense of the first conjugation.

The girls in Miss Rehorst's Home Economics 3 classes have started to make their dresses.

Valerie Evans and Mike Havlin made perfect scores on a quiz over the purpose clause in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 3 period 3 class.

Students who have received a grade of ninety or above in Mr. Roland Smith's United States History 1 class over a test about early explorers and discoveries are Ron Bultemeier, Dave Eaton, Lana Elmore, Mary Fremion, John Kokosa, Bob Leininger, Nancy Peterson, Sue Ann Roemer, and Stuart Schmitz.

Marda Munson received an A+ on a review test in Miss Smith's period 2 French 1 class. Carol Ann McVay and Frances Hudlow received A's.

Receiving high grades on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 3 speech class are Mary Ella Braden, Larry Lee, Margee Terry, and Karen Ponader.

James Welty made the highest grade in two English 7 classes on a test over modern short stories.

Students receiving A— on a unit test in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 2 class are Dick McVay and Phil Malone.

On a recent literature unit test in Mr. Harader's English 1 period 4 class the following students achieved A+: Alice Fruechtenicht, Susan Jorgensen, and Gary Stair. Jan Doran received an A. Romona Cornelius, James Pflueger, and Rise Prociase received A-'s.

Making perfect scores on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 1 class are Thomas Liby and Vicki Miller.

Students receiving perfect scores on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 6 class are Louise Brown and Kay Heemsoth.

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313
GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282
STUTZ DRY CLEANERS
4304 S. Fairfield 1213 Wells Street
Phone K-4542 Phone E-2067
Guaranteed Workmanship
EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING
ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING
Pick-Up and Delivery Service

Barbara Spiers scored 100 per cent on the test in Miss Fortney's Algebra 4 period 1 class.

Fran Krandell is the first student in Miss Reiff's Latin 3 period 1 class to make her book report this semester.

Linda Siebel made the only A in Mrs. Ellett's home management test in Home Economics 4 period 4.

Mr. Fetters' Physical Geography 1 classes are studying cloud formations, the wind system, and other related topics in order to gain the ability to predict the weather intelligently.

In a recent vocabulary test in Mrs. Grimshaw's Spanish 1 period 1 class, Marcia Kuhn, Bill Charleston, Kathy DeVore, Ron Martz, Ellen Stanbery, and Tom Wooding scored 100's.

Students in Mr. Polite's Drafting 1 period 3 class who are doing their second instrument construction drawings are David Smith, Ed Morton, Bill Liggett, Bob Current, Steve Tharp, and Richard Platt.

During a recent test in Mr. Petty's period 1 Algebra 1 class the following people made the highest scores: Alice Fruechtenicht, Susan Torgenson, and Jacqueline Kessler.

In Mr. Smith's period 1 United States History 1 class, Kathy DeVore, Marsha Larson, Gary Probst, Virginia Rose, and Karen Walker have made A+'s on a chart of explorers.

Scoring the highest in Mr. Reichert's Citizenship 1 period 1 class over a test over Unit 1 was Sally Henderson.

Sandra Grove, Judy Putman, and Elizabeth Richter had grades of 90 or higher on a test over Unit 1 in Mr. Reichert's period 3 Citizenship 1 class.

Steve Birkenbuel, Bill Kinsey, Harry Luchenko, and Tanya Szweczenko scored A's on an early test over early world history in Mr. Fell's period 1 General History 2 class.

Katie Mishler missed only one problem on an exam given recently in Mr. Kelly's period 1 marketing class.

In Miss Osborne's English 5 period 1 class, Janet Brenn received 100 per cent. Those receiving 94 on the same test are Janet Deihl and Peggy Schmidt.

Receiving top scores on Mr. Kelly's period 2 BOM essay exam on propriety and partnership are Marsha Lepper and Bob Symonds. Sandy Bates, Jean Hatfield, Trudy Estep, Clem Jehl, and Ginny Kachiamenis also scored high.

Susan Jorgensen scored 100 per cent on the flower and seed test in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 6 class.

Barbara Adelsperger received a perfect score on the flower and seed test in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 3 class.

Mr. Hemmer's U.S. history classes are studying the chapters from the U.S. history text. Later they will begin making reports on literature from outside sources and give the reports orally in class.

Patsie Dorton and Charlie Golden received perfect scores on a quiz over the purpose clause in Mrs. Redmond's period 6 Latin 3 class.

Karen Franks received an A+ on a unit test in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 class.

Peggy Schmidt has maintained an A test average in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 1 period 7 class.

The students in Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 1 period 3 class are selecting patterns and materials for a winter skirt.

On a recent test about early explorers and discoveries in Mr. Roland Smith's United States History 1 period 1 class, Nancy Brubaker, Kathy DeVore, Ed Freed, Ann Shilling, Retsy Stephanson, and David West scored a grade of ninety or above.

Students receiving A+'s on a literature test in Mr. Coat's English 1 period 3 class are Marilyn Gerke and Rosemary Reidenbach.

The students who are writing character sketches in Miss Osborne's English 5 period 1 class are Janet Brenn, Janet Deihl, Annell Hoover, Ann McCallister, Marilyn Parke, Peggy Schmidt, and Margaret Terry.

The students who scored in the 90's on a test over the Anglo-Saxon period in Mr. Morey's English 5 period 2 class are Dian Bright, 99; Janet Calvert, 98; Linda Gernand, 98; Cindy Jackson, 98; Donna Rudasky, 98; and Stephen Shambaugh, 97.

Karl Koop received the highest grade on a test over fractions in Miss Young's general math period 7 class.

Scoring high on a test in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 8 class are Jim Abramson, Marsha Leath, Ann Mol, and Kathy Walsh.

Scoring high on a test in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 5 class are Pam Buzzard, Ann Flickinger, Carol Ladig, Ken Leakey, and Vicki Miller.

Making a score of 90 or above on a test over areas of polygons in Mr. Sidell's period 2 Geometry 2 class are Bill Kinsey, Wanda Ripple, Andy Christon, and Nancy Welch.

Receiving high grades in Mr. Roland Smith's period 7 class over a unit test about "The World Has Roots in the Distant Past" are Stan Black, Charlie Golden, Dave Hoffman, Nancy Loughede, Patty North, and Victor Seewald.

Receiving a high score on a test over deductive reasoning in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 2 class are Kathy Kias, Ted Neal, John Stewart, and Debby Love.

Jackie Kuhns and Victor Lewandowski made high scores on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Donald Nobles has maintained an A test average in Mr. Arnold's Sociology 1 period 1 class.

Students in Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 periods 2, 5, and 6 classes had their first cooking experience. They discussed snacks that can be nutritious and beneficial, then they prepared broiled tuna buns and hot chocolate.

Scoring high on a test over the first unit in Mr. Roland Smith's General History 1 period 3 class are Larry Brown, Dan DeWald, Christine Fruechtenicht, Martha Hout, Jon Lyon, and Steve Riedel.

Bruce Baldwin, Sue Borgmann, Patty Phelps, Steve Laymon, and Phyllis Pierson scored 100 per cent on a verb test in Mr. Sterner's Latin 3 class.

Scoring high on a recent test in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 1 class are Dianne Ball, Barbara Gantz, Brenda Harper, John Schmitt, and Karen McFarland.

Students receiving high scores on a test over the Anglo-Saxon period in Mr. Morey's English 5 period 4 class are Beverly Sievers, 98; Judith Smith, 95; Becky Harsch, 99; Sally McClain, 99; and Nancy Nordeen, 97.

Diane Saalfrank has maintained an A test average in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 5 period 2 class.

Kathy Wamsley received A+ on a test over the first unit in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 6 class.

Perfect scores on a unit test were made by Harrold Disler and Richard Lupp in Mr. Yoder's period 6 health class. Dick Ahlersmeyer also made a high score on the test.

Barton Bailey, Bill Borgmann, and Frank Lewis scored grades of 100 on a college algebra test in Mrs. Luse's period 4 class.

Bill George, Chris Junker, Bob Martin, Karen McFarland, Howard Miller, Bob Miller, and Tom Plesniak scored grades of 90 or above on the same test.

John Austin made a perfect score on a unit health test in Mr. Yoder's period 3 class. Other high scorers are Roger Allmandinger, Stan Beer, and Dan Smith.

Cardone's Pizza
"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Rogers Friendly Markets
We Give S & H Green Stamps

Robert Cushman made 100 per cent on a recent test in Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 1 class.

Tim Easton and Kay Crozier received grades of 100 on a quiz over current events in Mr. Berg's Citizenship 1 class. Renee Bogner and Nancy Dominy scored grades of 90 on the same test.

Students making high grades on "Voice of Democracy" scripts in Mr. Storey's period 3 speech class are Larry Lee, Karen Ponader, and Margee Terry.

Those students having the best experimental notebooks in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 1 class are Joanne Rose, Betsy Junker, and Mike Beltz.

John Whiteside is the only person in Mrs. Schang's period 6 class to make an A+ on a Junior business training test. Linda Johnson, Jeanne Rondot, John Esslinger, and Gene Rowleson, earned A's.

Dick Astrom and Dan Merica earned perfect scores on a unit health test in Mr. Yoder's period 7 class. Other high scorers on the test are Kerry Miller and Dave Munson.

Jackie Kuhns and Aletha Straight received high grades on "Voice of Democracy" scripts in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Students scoring 100 on a recent verb synopsis test in Mr. Sterner's Latin 3 period 6 class are Doug Hansen, Barbara Nelson, Patty Phelps, and Phyllis Pierson.

Tom Erb and Connie Vallance received high grades on "Voice of Democracy" scripts in Mr. Storey's period 5 speech class.

Receiving A papers on a recent test in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 5 class are Carol Brooks, Larry Davis, Harold Disler, Butch Gosheff, Kerry Miller, Louisa Porter, and Bev Strawser.

Bill Collins, Lynett Dowling, Rick Galbreath, Jane Hatfield, Joy Lock, and Martha Moore made A's on an equation test in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 3 class.

Mr. Stebing's drivers training classes are practicing left and right turns at Foster Park.

Suzanne Boylan received 100 on a recent test in Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 period 2 class.

Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 1 period 3 class is making wool and corduroy skirts in a variety of colorful materials.

Making high scores on a test over verbals in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 1 class are Bill Powlen, Nancy Redding, Judy Ruhl, Susan Weinraub, Beverly Flanigan, Evelyn Brown, and Jim Long.

Receiving high scores on a test over short stories in Mr. Coat's English 7 period 7 class are Richard Parke, Steve Pratt, and Tamara Vyhovsky.

In Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 2 class, Steve Russ, David Jackson, and Judy Zimmers received high scores on a test over the Greek civilization.

Receiving high scores on a test over Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales" in Mr. Morey's English 5 period 3 class are Jean McGinley, Tom Wooding, Cindy Jackson, and Linda Gernand.

Tracy LAUNDRY

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

In Mrs. Osborne's English 7 period 6 class Judy Hutchins, Bob Symonds, and Karl Bandemer received high scores on a test over modern poetry.

Receiving high grades on a test over verbals in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 6 class are Kayline Bleich, Alan Ferber, B. D. Hartley, and Janice Sprunger.

Sue Kelley, Bob Wenger, and Dick Schafer made the highest scores on a test in Miss Fortney's Algebra 4 period 1 class.

Students in Mr. Polite's period 5 Drafting 3 class that are starting their first development drawing are Fred Plothe, Charles Bowling, and Earl Irwin. Don Sievert is working on his sharp V square type threads.

Receiving high grades on "Voice of Democracy" scripts in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class are Rosemary Capps, Marcia Disler, and Diane Hall.

Students having the best experimental notebooks in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 5 class are Mike Zehndner, Dave Aubrey, and Victor Churchward.

Mrs. Smith's period 1 home management class is putting their knowledge of laundry equipment and methods into practical use by assuming the responsibility of doing all laundry for the Home Economics Department.

Martha Hoad, Phyllis Pierson, Steve Laymon, and Patty Phelps scored 100 per cent on a verb test in Mr. Sterner's Latin 3 period 6 class.

Sondra Gustafson was the "Art 6 of the Week" in Mrs. Fleck's Class with her design for an oil painting.

Receiving the highest grades on a test over drama in Mrs. Spray's English 7 period 6 class are Lyall Morrill, Cheryl Summers, Bill Kleifgen, Lisa Hoffman, Larry Lee, and Babette Jones.

The best papers in Miss Mary Crowe's U.S. History 1 tests over the first section of the text were written by Mike Zehndner, Anita Kimball, Dick Platt, Ann Flickinger, Sally Mallough, Steve Jones, Ann McCallister, and Susan Whitmer.

Those who made excellent scores on a unit grammar test in Mr. Knigge's period 2 English 3 class are Matt Barnes, Linda Evisizer, Steve Gater, Bill Hanke, Linda Johnson, Pat Miller, Sue Moppin, Steve Poiry, Gene Rowleson, Steve Schamberg, Connie Spencer, John Karr, Jim Lambert, and Linda Lowery.

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

Paul Says:
Always behave like a duck. Keep calm and unruffled on the surface, but paddle like the devil underneath.

HESS INSURANCE AGENCY
General Insurance
132 E. Berry St. (2nd Floor)
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana
Phones: E-2424—Res., H-8928

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE
Science
Engineering
General Education
Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.
Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.
Indiana Technical College

Thanksgiving Day

SAND POINT GREENHOUSE, Inc.

2222 Sand Point Rd.
"Everything in Flowers"

S-4133

D. O. McCOMB & SONS

1140 Lake Avenue at Tecumseh
A-2182

CLAUSER STANDARD SERVICE

1701 S. Anthony Blvd.
A-0503

BROADVIEW FLORISTS & GREENHOUSES

5801 Winchester Rd.

S-3146

MUNROE'S STANDARD

Brake Line Up—Wheel Lining—Wheel Balancing
Southgate Plaza Motor Tune-Up H-5300

ROSS RADIO

236 West Main
A-2433

KEARNS DRUGS

930 S. Calhoun
A-1223

PARROT MEATS

HALLMARK HOUSE

Southgate Plaza
K-1522

SOMERS BAKERY

220 E. Wallace
H-2261

DALE'S DRIVE-IN

U.S. 24 West at Covington Rd.
K-8451

KLAEHN FUNERAL HOME

420 West Wayne
A-0228

ALLEN COUNTY MOTORS

500 W. Main
E-0138

PLAZA APOTHECARY

3610 Brooklyn Ave.
H-2351

BOB'S BARBER SHOP

2814 South Calhoun

FLORENTINE FLORAL SHOP

1906 Broadway A-7487
"Flowers for Every Occasion and Free Delivery"

PERFECTION VARNISH CO.

2125 James St.
H-3171

JASPER ENGINE & TRANSMISSION EXCHANGE, Inc.

3504 S. Calhoun H-1224
Give Thanks to the Lord on Thanksgiving Day

TOM BERRY MUSIC CO.

213 West Wayne
E-1947

PONTIAC FLORISTS

914 East Pontiac H-2223
"Flowers for All Occasions"

Seniors To Congregate In Gym For Planning Annual Reception

RECEPTION GREETERS . . . Senior class officers, left to right, Debby Brooke, Larry Lee, Sharon Carrel, Mark Hagerman, and Cheryl Summers prepare to greet parents at the Senior Reception next Tuesday from 7:30 to 9 p.m. in the cafeteria. Diane Fredrick was absent when the picture was taken.—Photo by Jones

The Senior Reception, the first senior activity of the year, will be Tuesday in the cafeteria from 7:30 to 9 p.m. To prepare for the reception, an assembly for all seniors will be conducted tomorrow in the gym during the homeroom period.

"The purpose of the assembly," stated Larry Lee, senior class president, "is to discuss the senior activities for the year, especially the reception."

Larry will outline the year's events, and Tom McMahon will delve into the reception in greater detail. Sharon Carrel will then give instructions for the procedure at the reception. She will also discuss what wearing apparel will be proper for the year's events.

AT THE RECEPTION, two receiving lines will be utilized to greet the seniors and their parents. The lines will be formed by the class advisers, Mr. Samuel Jackson, Mrs. Mildred Luse, and Mr. Alfred Hemmer, and the class officers, Larry Lee, Cheryl Summers, Diane Fredrick, Sharon Carrel, Debby Brooke, and Mark Hagerman.

Refreshments will be served during the evening. A musical program will be presented under the direction of Mr. Robert T. Drummond, director of instrumental music, and Mr. Lester Hostetler, choral instructor.

Larry Lee is the general chairman of the annual event. Each committee will be under the direction of one of the class officers and, in turn, responsible to a class sponsor.

Working with Larry in the cloak room are Bill Kleifgen, chairman, Jim Welty, and Frank Lewis. Cheryl Summers is in charge of the program and publicity.

SHARON CARREL WILL oversee the invitations and hospitality committees. The invitations committee includes Bonnie Russell, head, Sherry

Steven Pratt, Thomas Watson, Paul Johns Cop Writing Prizes

WRITING WIZARDS . . . Discussing their prize-winning compositions in the Pegasus contest with Jenny Manth, editor, are Paul Johns, left, and Steve Pratt. Each will receive a prize. The stories will appear in the winter issue, which will be distributed after Christmas vacation.—Photo by Seaman

Paul Johns, Steven Pratt, and Thomas Watson Jr. have been named the winners of the Pegasus Writing Contest sponsored by The South Side Times. The winners were named by Miss Lucy Osborne and Miss Mary Graham, English teachers, the Pegasus editors, and Mr. James Rohrabugh, publications adviser. The winners were chosen from three categories: original poetry, original essay, and original short story. Each winner will receive $3, and his article will be printed in the Pegasus.

Paul Johns, senior A, won the original poetry division of the contest for his poem entitled "The Empty Things." Upon being named the winner, Paul said, "I was very shocked when I was told I had won, but I was very pleased."

Steven Pratt, senior B, was the winner of the original essay division of the contest for his essay entitled "Idea On The Nature Of A Poet." Steve said, "I am very thrilled that I won, for I am sure there were many excellent essays submitted."

Thomas Watson Jr., senior B, was named the winner of the original short story division of the contest. Tom's Buxter, Pam Bussard, Mary Jane Hake, Gaylene Hilsmer, Elizabeth Hostetler, Dian Leath, Jenny Manth, Ann Petrie, Sue Phillips, and Mary Jane Tobey.

Those on the hospitality committee are Kay Carrier, Marla Reiber, Sue Horth, Jane Ladig, Judy Chapman, Sue Korte, Shari Busche, Sue Perry, Sue Phillips, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Jo Ellen Bobay, Gretchen Brumm; Linda McMurtry, Mary Jane Tobey, Susi Hines, Brenda Harper, Bonnie Russell, Gail Woodruff, Debby Tourkow, Elaine Snow, Mary Jane Miller, Glenda Kayser, Judi Hollister, Suzanne Link, Joyce Ake, Louise Jackson, Susan Johns, and Barb Harding.

Diane Fredrick will take charge of the serving committee which is headed by Sue McGinnis. Members of the committee are Tamara Vyhovsky, Babs Jones, Ann Brase, Joyce Cossairt, Dian Leath, Paulette Lontz, Elaine Cole;

KAREN MCFARLAND, Margie Lehman, Judi Hollister, Suzanne Link, Louise Jackson, Sharon Krakower, Marilyn Cole, Sharon Eitman, Sally Bash, Bonnie Russell, and Barb Heinisch.

The dishwashing and clean-up committees are under the direction of Mark Hagerman. Clean-up will be done by the class officers and anyone else who wishes to help.

Headed by Dave Meek, the dishwashing committee is composed of Frank Lewis, Bill Borgmann, Dale Smith, Bill Kleifgen, Tom McMahon, Karl Schadtman, Karl Bandamer, Victor Lewandowski, Bill Branstrator, Bob Herzog, Keith Snavelly, Kent King, Paul Johns, Phil Spray, and Mike Stedje.

Debby Brooke will supervise the food and decorations committees. Jane Ladig and Sue Horth will work with her on the food committee. Sarah Finch is working on the decorations.

Senior Takes Driver Honors For November

Tom Frazell, senior, has been selected by the South Side Safety Council in conjunction with the Allen County Teenage Safety Council to be South Side's Safe Driver for November.

Selecting a safe driver of the month is a new project initiated by all the city and county schools in Allen County which comprise the Allen County Safety Council. The program is intended to promote safe driving and to recognize those drivers who are especially courteous behind the wheel.

AS SAFE DRIVER OF THE month, Tom will be presented with a citation and a decal for his car at the ceremonies to be conducted every three months by the Police Department and the Allen County Council. The first presentation will be made in January.

At the beginning of each month, homeroom teachers will be presented with a form to be filled out by any pupil in his room who has witnessed an act of courteous driving and wishes to recommend this driver for the monthly award. The only requirements are that the driver have a regular operators' license, and that he has no record of any traffic violation during the present school term.

THESE RECOMMENDATIONS are then evaluated by a committee comprised of Safety Council members and their sponsors before a Safe Driver is selected.

"Driving defensively at all times and exhibiting courteousness to all drivers are those qualities which set a driver apart from a 'safe' driver," stated Tom.

Amateur Wranglers To Give Four Talks In Extemp Division

Wranglers' meeting, Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room, will include an extemporaneous contest open to anyone who has never competed in this division. Those will be Debbie Tourkow, Marge Terry, Sally Franklin, and Bob Wasson.

Contestants will draw their topics Monday night and will prepare their speeches from a magazine article. Topics will be on world events, and the magazines will all be recent.

WINNERS OF LAST week's impromptu contest were Jim Trulock, first place; Jackie Kuhns, second place; and Debbie Tourkow, third. Judges were Logan Smith, Tom Erb, and Shari Busch.

Plans for the Christmas party were announced at the meeting. Christine Fruenticht, sophomore, is decoration chairman; and Pam Buzzard is refreshment chairman.

The Christmas party program will be a play, "Star of Wonder." Logan Smith, senior, is directing the play. Characters are Mrs. Clark, Ann Brase; Mr. Clark, Phil Spray;

MISS PRUETT, Patsie Dorton; Joey, David Jackson; Joseph, David Fairchild; Mary, Debby Decker; two shepherds, Ken Davis and Lex Smuts; Melchior, Bob Bartel; Balthasar, Bob Wasson;

Casper, Tim Grodrian; innkeeper, Jim Trulock; innkeeper's wife, Vicki Miller; and four angels, Jackie Kuhns, Pat Bailey, Joyce Cossairt, and Phyllis Pierson.

Rink Names Hours For Winter Skating

Hours for ice skating at the McMillen Park skating rink for the coming season have been announced by the Park Board. They are as follows: Sunday, 1-3 p.m., 4-6 p.m., and 7-9:30 p.m.; Monday, ice hockey only, 4-10 p.m.; Tuesday, 4-6 p.m., 7-9:30 p.m.; Wednesday, 1-3 p.m., 4-6 p.m., and 7-9:30 p.m.; Thursday, 4-6 p.m., 7-9:30 p.m.; private parties may be scheduled at this period; Friday, 4-6 p.m., 7-9:30 p.m.; Saturday, 1-3 p.m., 4-6 p.m., and 7-9:30 p.m.

The price rate for pre-school through high school students is 25 cents per session; any one over 19 years must pay 50 cents per session.

Archers are represented in the midget ice hockey leagues which have formed their teams at McMillen Park. The three leagues are the Bantams, the Midgets, and the Juveniles. Six teams play in the Bantams, four teams in the Midgets, and four teams in the Juveniles. Archers playing on the teams are Richard Rutkowski, Steve Griebel, Mark Lowens, Tom Muha, Bill Collins;

Dick Astrom, Bill Whitmer, Stan Alfred, Richard Buchanan, Larry Schneider, Bill Cupp, Merlin Overman, Clifford Griener, Steve Mueller, Kenneth Lovden, Mike Seaman, Bill Rattetter, Charles Hohman, Mike Young, Michael Ropa, Russell Clawson, Bill Badders, Rudy Thurman, David Nesbitt, Markiton, and Ronald Woods.

McMillen Park, time for playing will also be given to the leagues at the Memorial Coliseum rink.

Kans Plans Holiday Party

A Christmas party and the election of officers will constitute the program of the December 12 meeting of the Know-Your-City Club at 3:30 p.m. in Room 314.

Juniors To Attend Annual Banquet, To Maintain 'Race To Space' Theme

Faculty Women Plan For Party Of School Staff

The annual faculty Christmas Party, which the women of the faculty give in honor of the other teachers at South Side both active and retired, will be December 13, 1961.

The decorations and room arrangement committee consists of Miss Pearl Rehorst, chairman, Mrs. Ruth Fleck, Miss Helen Burr, Mrs. Lois Murphy, Miss Mary Reiff, and Mrs. Frances Stuart.

The program committee includes Mrs. Anne Redmond, chairman, Mrs. Agnes Sosenheimer, Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, Miss Jeanne Smith, Miss Olive Perkins, and Mrs. Evelyn Spray. Miss Edith Crowe, chairman, and Miss Lutie Young make up the food committee.

The serving committee includes Miss Lucy Osborne, chairman, Mrs. Mildred Luse, Mrs. Marlene Shang, and Mrs. Alice Keegan. Miss Mary Graham, chairman, and Miss Helen Pohlmeier compose the financial committee.

Hostesses are Miss Mabel Fortney, chairman, Miss Willodeen Price, Mrs. Dorothy Arnold, Mrs. Erma Shriner, Mrs. Florence Emswiler, and Miss Ann Arber.

The table committee is composed of Miss Pauline Van Gorder, chairman, Mrs. Mary Smith, and Mrs. Myrtle Grimshaw. The invitation committee includes Miss Mary Crowe, Miss Virginia Ayers, and Mrs. Grace Welty.

The clean-up and dishwashing committee consists of the chairman of the various committees plus any volunteers. The committee is Miss Mabel Fortney, chairman, Miss Pearl Rehorst, Mrs. Anne Redmond, Miss Edith Crowe, Miss Lucy Osborne, Miss Mary Graham, Miss Mary Crowe, and Miss Pauline Van Gorder.

Christmas Bureau To Collect Toys, To Present Dance

Sponsoring the "Toys for Tots" dance tomorrow from 9 to 11:30 p.m. at the American Legion Post 47 are the Christmas Bureau and the Marine Reserve. The admission will be one new toy for a small boy or girl. Rex Steffy's band of the Music Performers Trust Fund will play.

Highlighting the dance will be the crowning of Miss Noel, the Spirit of Giving, and an alternate, Marilyn Hansen, junior, is South's entrant. Junior Achievement companies elected girls to represent them in the contest. After having been voted on by the Junior Achievement Association, the top six girls were named as finalists.

Contestants were interviewed by four judges and then were chosen according to their poise and ability to carry on a sensible conversation. After the girl has been chosen, Miss Noel will officially open the Bureau and will make various radio and television appearances.

Other members in Junior Achievement are Mike Levy, junior, who is now vice-president of the association; and Beverly Figel, last year's Miss Noel, who will hand the crown over to this year's Miss Noel at the dance.

Musical Organizations To Perform At Winter Program December 8

Girls' Choir To Sing Five Religious Tunes; Band To Play March

Five sections of the Music Department will perform at the Winter Concert December 8 at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. The main theme of the Christmas holidays will be emphasized by carols, folk tunes, and hymns.

Tickets may be purchased at the door for 25 cents each. The instrumental groups will be under the direction of Mr. Robert Drummond, while the choirs will be guided by Mr. Lester Hostetler.

In its portion of the program, the choral division will spotlight a 120-member, all-girl chorus, which will perform "Sacred Songs of the Night" by Bright. The selection is divided into five separate tunes, used to describe the five moods of night-time.

THE CONCERT CHOIR will sing numbers related to folk tunes of Christmas. "Farewell to the Shepherds" by Berlioz will start this melody; and "Green Sleeves," "Christmas Roundelay," and "Fum, Fum, Fum" will follow.

Works from Handel's "Messiah" will then be performed by the combined choirs under Mr. Hostetler. "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings," "And the Glory of the Lord," and "Hallelujah Chorus" have been chosen.

The instrumental division will be represented by the concert band and the full orchestra. The band will first

'LULLABY IN BIRDLAND' . . . Practicing their talent number, "Lullaby in Birdland," for the Junior Banquet tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. in the cafeteria are songsters left to right Karen Miller, Bob Wasson, Nancy Robinson, Dave Tipton, Tonya Hines, Dave Brumm, and Karen Ponder at the piano.—Photo by Seaman

Twelve Seniors To Participate In Future Homemaker Contest

Twelve senior girls will compete in the Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Test, sponsored by General Mills Company, Tuesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 84.

Competing will be Jacqueline Berry, Reba Burgess, Judy Chapman, Karen Dowty, Bella Dyson, Diane Gebhard, Sally Gilbert, Dayna Harader, Carolyn

Martin, Elaine Snow, Yvonne Swartz, and Mary Jane Tobey.

After answering questions concerning family relations, child care, health and safety, money management, and home care and beautification, all contestants will receive copies of the booklet "Betty Crocker's Guide to Homemaking."

THE SOUTH SIDE WINNER will be awarded a pin containing the slogan "Home Is Where the Heart Is," and her test, along with tests of all other Indiana high school winners, will be entered in competition to name the state Homemaker of Tomorrow.

A $1,500 Betty Crocker Scholarship will be given to the state winner and her school will receive a set of the Encyclopedia Britannica. The girl will be invited to participate in a General Mills sponsored tour in New York City; Washington, D.C.; and Colonial Williamsburg, Va.

STATE HOMEMAKERS are eligible for the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow competition. The national winner receives a $5,000 scholarship. The second-place award is a $4,000 scholarship. Third and fourth finishers earn $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships, respectively.

In its eight-year history, the Betty Crocker Test has been given to approximately thirteen million girls. This year, over four hundred thousand students in thirteen thousand schools will compete for the scholarships.

All testing and judging in the school, state, and national levels of the contest is conducted by the Science Research Associates.

Vesta To Bake Cookies

Making Christmas cookies will be the first project at the meeting of Vesta Club Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. The cookies will be distributed at rest homes in Fort Wayne where the girls will be caroling. Committees will also be chosen for the style show on January 10.

Dinner Tickets Cost $2 Each; Agents Named

Accordionist, Combo, Comedians To Present Entertainment Program

Scheduled for tomorrow night in the cafeteria is "Project III," the Junior Banquet. Blasting off at 6:30 p.m., it will fly until 9:30 p.m. Tickets are $2 and may be purchased from any homeroom agent.

"Project III" symbolizes the junior year in high school and the fact that soon the juniors will be on their own in the world.

Tomorrow, the cafeteria will be transformed into the world of outer space. The decorations will be centered on three large windows on the south side. Highlighting these decorations will be an inside view of a space ship on the center window.

A three-dimensional view of stars, space ships, and planets will be seen through the ship's window. On the adjacent windows there will be pictures of different methods of transportation, showing how transportation has progressed through the years.

MR. R. NELSON SNIDER, principal, and the Rev. L. W. Fairchild, minister of the Plymouth Congregational Church, will be the guest speakers.

Entertainment will be provided by six acts. "Jose Jimenez" will be given by Jim Bailey and Jim Smith, masters of ceremonies; Virginia Rose will perform a modern dance; and Janet Deihl will play the accordion.

A vocal sextet consisting of Karen Miller, Tonya Hines, Nancy Robinson, Dave Brumm, Dave Tipton, and Bob Wasson, will sing. Pat Slater and Bob Bartel will also perform. Finally, a musical combo including Jack Sanderson, Al Purdy, and Ken Davis will highlight the entertainment.

THE MENU WILL consist of roast beef or fish, mashed potatoes and gravy, peas, combination salad, pumpkin or apple pie, and milk or coffee.

Invited guests are Mr. and Mrs. Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Grile, Mr. Ora Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Weicker, Miss Marsha Klahn, Miss Dian Spencer, Mrs. Richard Sage, Mr. Jack Schang, and Mrs. Robert Spencer. All junior homeroom teachers are also invited to attend.

Each homeroom has a representative who is responsible for selling tickets and reading bulletins concerning the junior class functions. The representatives are Sharyn Yergler, 4; Sharon Bass, 6; Janet Calvert, 22; Joanna Rose, 26; Barrie Spear, 32;

JANI BRENN, 36; Leanna Morris, 46; Jon Poto, 54; Linda Seibel, 61; Tom Erb, 70; Ann McCoy, 74; Bob Wasson, 76; Ellen Stanbery, 116; Carole Ladig, 138; Anita Kimball, 140; Barb Altevogt, 172; Ann Gallmeyer, 174; Carol Davis, 176; and Martha Dixon, 190.

Class officers are Tonya Hines, president; Gary Probst, vice-president; Nancy Robinson, secretary-treasurer; Jerry Klahn, social council chairman; and Rosemary Capps and Ken Davis, social council members.

Junior class advisers are Mrs. Marlene Schang, library assistant and business teacher, and Mr. Robert Petty and Mr. Richard Sage, mathematics teachers.

'61 Totem Receives First-Place Honors

The 1961 Totem has been awarded the first-place certificate in the twenty-seventh annual yearbook critique and contest conducted by Columbia University in New York, N.Y. The prize was awarded on October 13, 1961.

Out of a possible 1,000 points, the Totem scored 885. The two major criticisms were that the theme was too closely related, and it could not be followed. In spite of these, the copy was thought to be excellent, the color good, and the pictures good.

"We were happy to receive first rating," stated Mr. James L. Rohrabugh, publications adviser. "I consider the 1961 Totem a success, not only in meeting the standards of good journalism, but also in receiving the satisfaction of the student body. We hope that the 1962 Totem is as well appreciated by the students."

Archers To Act In Play

Thirteen South Side students will be members of the cast of "Tourists Accommodated," comedy to be presented by the high school drama class at Trinity English Lutheran Church tomorrow at 8 p.m. The play concerns a family and the tourists they take in to send a daughter to school.

Archers participating in the play are Jim Cress, Karen Klahn, Marcia Hughes, Mary Bade, Charlie Golden, Kent Hagerman, Carol Shedron, Patty North, Rod Consalva, Susan Steegman, Nancy Miles, Bruce Baldwin, and Sue Borgmann.

Traffic Light Aids Drivers, Prevents Student Accidents

Traffic lights play a terrific part in the free flow of traffic in our city. Without these lights, the city's streets would be veins for one huge traffic jam.

South Side has been improved in many ways in the past, but the traffic light at the southwest corner is among the greatest. Before the installation, it was very easy for a student to be pushed into the street, thus making it simple for a car to strike him down.

Now with the light to cross by, students wait on the curbs until the sign changes to "walk" before going into the street, thus cutting down the chances of a student being killed.

The light also helps drivers who used to have to pick their way through the throng of students. It was very easy for a driver to hit someone, because the students darted across the street usually without looking in both directions.

Now the flow of traffic is smooth and fluent. Cars are able to move at a steady pace, and drivers are able to relax a bit when driving by South Side.

On bad mornings the light is helpful in keeping the traffic moving. It gives the cars on the side street an equal chance to get close to the school to unload their passengers.

Before, traffic jammed up for blocks southward on Calhoun. Cars on Oakdale had to fight for a space to get across or turn left.

After school the problem of a traffic jam was the same. Mothers and fathers crowded and scurried to pick up their sons and daughters before they were drenched. Sometimes they waited in double lanes to pick up their offsprings. This is not only a hazard, but a violation of traffic regulations. The light now gives them more time to load their children and then move.

It is almost unanimously agreed upon that this traffic light is a great asset to our school and the rest of the city. It has brought down the chance of death to those who were careless and non-observant. It also has helped the traffic problems that occurred in the past.

If one of these lights has done so much to help the students and citizens, think how great another one at the northwest corner would be.

It would stop those students who run in front of cars daring them to hit them. These students too would have to stop and wait before running out into the street.

The traffic problem at that corner could be solved or at least helped as it was in the other spot.

Maybe in the future, after a few more close calls and dented fenders, the city will realize another light would be of great help, and South Side will lose its reputation as being hard to pass without a mishap.—By Annell Hoover

People Seek Outward Glory, Forfeit Self-Respect, Honor

Blended into the background of daily life, honor sometimes is given too little importance. Yet, this quality should be present in everything that has to do with people: in government, in industry, in the home, in the church, and above all in one's self.

All too often it is the outward honors that are sought. And, in order to obtain these honors, the honor of self-respect is lost. Outward honors lose their meaning when they are vied for; many people have their toes stepped on, and certainly cannot respect the person who receives it.

What do outward honors mean? They are just an external sign that someone has achieved something, either falsely or earnestly.

Inward honors are those that aren't extolled. By these a person gains self respect and the respect of others. This quality somehow shines through the personality of its owner, and even though it is not publicized, it can be seen by all.

Internal honors mark achievements also. They have even more significance than those won outwardly.

In stopping to contemplate these views, think of which person is more desirable to have as a friend, the conceited medalist or the unsung hero.—By Janet Dinius

Senior Summary

Points Per
Prominent Persons

Ross Clark . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, eight inches . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, pizza, chicken . . . color, blue . . . sport, basketball . . . pastime, gardens . . . activity, hunting . . . record, "Big Bad John" . . . singer, Brothers Four . . . TV show, "The Untouchables" . . . subject, botany . . . actress, Sandra Dee . . . future plans, loafing . . . pet peeve, two-faced people.

Judy Evans . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, six inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, barbecued ribs . . . color, green . . . fad, tennis shoes . . . sport, golf . . . pastime, sewing . . . activity, Philo . . . record, "Under the Moon of Love" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . TV show, "37th Precinct" . . . subject, chemistry . . . actor, Rock Hudson . . . book, "War and Peace" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, immature boys.

Karl Schladehman . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, six feet . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, corn . . . color, blue . . . fad, Halls . . . sport, track . . . pastime, jazz . . . record, "Take Five" . . . singer, Ella Fitzgerald . . . TV show, "Playboys' Penthouse" . . . subject, chemistry . . . book, "Green Pastures" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who don't pay their debts.

Terry Usher . . . age, 18 . . . hair, light brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, six inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pork chops . . . color, green . . . pastime, mackin' to Hall's . . . activity, Assemblies Workshop . . . record, "Turn Around Look at Me, Please" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . TV show, "Have Gun, Will Travel" . . . fad, taking girls home from school . . . actress, Connie Stevens . . . book, "Northwest Passage" . . . future plans, college . . . subject, typing . . . sport, hockey . . . pet peeve, two-faced women.

Errors Can Benefit Students, Prevent Additional Mistakes

An old and accepted proverb states that "Experience is the best teacher." Yet, even though this is a true statement, it is not a complete one. There should be an addition stating that experience is also the hardest teacher. Everyone makes mistakes—it's only human. The difference is, some people profit by their mistakes, while others regard them as an unfortunate incident to be forgotten as rapidly as possible.

An error may be looked upon as a nail in a building. The nail secures the board in place; without it, and others like it, the building would collapse. In the same way, a mistake fixes an idea securely in the mind. The more glaring the error, the more firmly the incident and its related facts are entrenched in the mind.

ONE MAY ASK "WHY." The reason is relatively simple. Mistakes cause embarrassment and disappointment. These two emotions are associated with the incident that was the cause. Both are retained for a long period. Eventually the cause will be forgotten, but the idea has become a permanent fixture in the mind.

There is a second type of learning by mistakes. This is learning through the mistakes of others. No single life is long enough or full enough to experience every possible situation more than once. Others, usually older than we, seek to give us the benefit of their mistakes pertaining to the same situation.

THEY THEMSELVES now recognize the mistake they made in handling a situation, and wish to prevent others from making the same one. Their advice, if followed, can alleviate the problem with a usable and desirable solution.

The problem is, many people refuse to learn not from their mistakes, but also from those of others. These people are making a grave error. Life is short and we are only allowed to live it once. To clutter it up with unnecessary, useless mistakes is depriving the person making the errors from living his life to the fullest; and, it is depriving those around him of any benefit from his life.

Alumni News

By Lynelle Dill

Sally Dill, '61, represented Reed Center Clark Hall Dormitory for girls in the Homecoming Queen Contest at Indiana University. She competed with twenty other girls to obtain the right to represent Reed Center, which houses sixteen hundred girls. Winning in this step, she reached the top thirty. Sally, a freshman at Indiana, is studying to be an elementary teacher.

Donna Ellen Weinraub, '58, is a junior at Stephens College in Columbia, Missouri. She has been named to the staff of "Within the Ivy," the college guidebook for new students.

The engagement of Juanita Ann Wonderly, '61, and Allen Dean Rainbolt, '61, has been announced. Graduating from the Fort Wayne Beauty College she is employed by the Gold Room Beauty Salon. Al is employed by the International Harvester Company.

Peggy J. Canfield, '58, the former Peggy Robinson, received the honor of having her name inscribed on the "All-A" Honor Roll of Michigan State University. She achieved an "All-A" Academic Record during the spring and summer terms in 1961.

Poses Perplex Photographers

Well, Mother! I was just like this; and he said, "This is only a school picture. Now sit up straight."

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Here is a profound bit of verse by Judy Merrill to contemplate while you are recuperating from Thanksgiving dinner.

Olives, some bolives, and sheep
Climb up trees and fall asleep.

Congratulations to the members of the football team who were named to berths on the all-city roster. Those on first string are Nate Norment, Mark Hagerman, and Chuck Parker; and members of the second team are Tom McMahan, John Weaver, and Dave Meyer. More athletics congrats go to Dale Hilsimer, who was named one of the two most promising young basketball players in Indiana!

Beep!! Beep!! Everybody clear the tracks—here come Cheryl Summers and Louise Jackson charging down the hall honking the latest fixture for deluxe up-to-date wheelchairs, a bicycle horn.

Apply now for admission to TV University. Classes are very easily cut—all you have to do is pull out the TV set plug.

Poor, undomestic Dave Flanigan thinks that he's supposed to wash his leather shoes when they get dirty. Actually, he spilled nitric acid on them and now has an air conditioned shoe.

Another of our more coordinated Archer students is Dave Bacon. In bowling three games, Dave managed to drop the ball on his foot twice! Squashed toes, anybody?

With apologies to Dick Parke, we are running our own "Did You Know" column. Did you know:

That the Northern Maine, Central Vermont, and Southern is America's oldest non-functioning railroad?

That the bite of the Georgia cottonmouth does not kill you; it's his bad breath that's fatal?

That ground hogs are sacred in Carbondale, Ill.?

An evening at the library (working on research papers of course) can really be fun—especially when it's Friday night and especially after you've left the library and especially when there's a Veterans' Day Parade. Studios (and frozen) spectators at the parade included Sue Smith, Pam Punskey, Karen Finck, Barb Altevogt, Beth Burnett, Tom Erb, and Dave Blanton. They saw everything from dogs to frogs—indeed a certain yellow Pontiac containing Tom Shine, Bob Lohman, Sid Sherry, Dave Meyer, Eddie Johnson, and Denny Berryhill. Wonder who asked them to be in the parade—especially amidst the convoy from the New Haven Lions Club! Finally, the South Side Band appeared from the distance. That's a nice little maneuver you do to get back in step, Kenny Davis!

'Gertie's Group,' 'Big Bad John' Contribute To Hallway Turmoil

I am a link between an institution of learning and the outside world. Indeed, I join together the very phases of that institution. I am a pathway to knowledge, a golden road to success. Cold and alone, I spend many hours in silence; yet, at regular fifty-five minute intervals a loud bell rings and I am alive with the pulse of those making use of my services. Yes, I am a hallway, center hallway in South Side High School.

Billy Bookworm is the first student to tread my pitted surface after the bell rings. Billy is a volume vulture of long standing. He races between classes so that he can make full use of every available minute. As he rushes past acquaintances he mutters a weak "Hi-ya" as if a limited vocabulary could produce no more effective greeting.

But it is well-known that Billy practically has the dictionary memorized and can spout off historical speeches on a second's notice. One would think Billy, with all his scholastic accomplishments, would be the school hero. Yet, few are familiar with this intellectual individual because he is either masked by his blur of speed or hidden behind a pile of books.

BILLY'S FLEEING footprints are soon covered with a score of scuffs caused by Gertie's Group. Gertie is a gushing gossip with a multitude of followers. She knows just about everything about everyone. Any questions posed for which she doesn't have a fact or figure are answered with the most malicious story of which she can think.

Gertie gathers her information through a wide network of ears and mouths, working separately to uncover every secret and united in the end by pen and phone. There is not a club or activity to which Gertie does not have a membership; she must be in on all social happenings. It is rumored that she once won a silver dollar in a speech marathon by talking for six hours about members of a non-existent sewing circle.

Big John follows Gertie, trying to stay out of her line of verbal fire, but wishing to attract her attention. Big John is the he-man's he-man. He can puff out his chest like a Charles Atlas and hold his breath until on-lookers beg him to stop. He is adored by the girls, admired by the boys, and feared by other muscle men.

However, he is extremely unpopular with the telephone company which has trouble producing phone books as quickly as he tears them in half. Big John is the star of the football team, a champion shot-putter, and a deadly basketball opponent. His one lament is not making the track team; Big John is just a trifle too big to jump the hurdles.

BEHIND BIG JOHN is Louie the Lover. Louie is a first-rate cassanova and a bonified "two dab man." He wears only the finest fashions, sprays himself with a very masculine perfume imported from New Orleans, and speeds around town in the latest model convertible. Louie spends more time combing his curly locks than a movie queen who does shampoo commercials.

His ambition is to gain a "shiekship" so that he can have a harem. It is regrettably noticed, however, that nature has made a mistake on poor Louie. He is short, light, and homely instead of tall, dark, and handsome. Moreover, the only person he really loves is himself.

These are but a few of my daily patrons. I cater to a vast number. Each who ambles down my length is different from all the rest. I laugh at some, marvel at others. Still, I show them all the way to achievement; I wish them all well as they trace my route traveling to the future.

'Lights, Camera, Action' Infrequent Press Conferences Star John F. Kennedy, Actor

By the General Manager

"Lights, camera, action," "On stage in five minutes," and "Silence" could be heard echoing in the new State Department Auditorium on 23rd Street in Washington, D.C., before the starring actor made his spectacular entrance. The actor—President John F. Kennedy, who has been in the starring role since his historic debut a year ago. The cameras were shooting the leading actor's eighteenth presidential press conference.

There was a "sell-out" crowd. Waiting to applaud the star were 400 anxious reporters, cameramen, radio and television technicians, as well as accredited high school students, foreign visitors, and stenographers. There were no general admissions.

Outside, the star was arriving. "Time" magazine described his entrance: "The President of the United States arrived, trailing a funeral squad of black-suited aides." Nine photographers frantically recorded shots of the President's every move as he proceeded to the stage.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk had a few minutes to brief the President from intelligence cables before the President made his 4 p.m. appearance. The show proceeded according to script for the next half hour. Neither the star nor the supporting players—the reporters—missed a cue.

AFTER THE PRESIDENT'S usual announcements, he started answering questions, which ranged from "the sublime to the ridiculous." There were also the questions which were asked by reporters who must have rehearsed them for a week in advance.

A New York Times reporter asked, "Mr. President, this is the first anniversary of your election last year, and in the campaign that preceded that election there was considerable talk . . ." Eighty-five words later, the reporter asked that if Kennedy were campaigning all over again, would he do it differently. Mr. Kennedy, without hesitation, answered, "No."

Then came the ridiculous. A woman reporter for a Maine newspaper rose and asked what Kennedy was doing for women. Laughter was the answer; Mr. Kennedy didn't reply. When the President was asked if his infrequent press conferences were because he disliked them, Mr. Kennedy said, "Well, I like them." Then he added hesitantly, "Sort of."

Yes, the presidential press conference could now be located under the title of "Show Business" in any leading news magazine. Gone are the days of the easy, intimate pleasantness of Franklin D. Roosevelt; the folksy chats and bursts of temper of Harry Truman; and the improvisations of Dwight Eisenhower.

THE PRESIDENT ACTUALLY has a script to follow. "Time" magazine reported the rehearsal. The day before the conference, Pierre Salinger, Kennedy's press secretary, talked with the press secretaries from all major federal departments. They considered the questions which would be asked the next day; and after talking for an hour and a half, they had composed a list of some seventy questions.

On the morning of the press conference, Salinger gave the list of questions, along with the suggested answers, to the President. At Mr. Kennedy's request, Salinger produced additional material. Over a lunch of ham and spinach, Mr. Kennedy was tutored by six of his presidential assistants.

Then came the spectacular. Only a small, and in some cases preselected, handful of reporters addressed the President. Some of them had been asked by Salinger to raise questions that the President wanted to answer. For example, Salinger asked an ABC reporter to ask about the relative power of U.S. and Soviet nuclear tests. Kennedy was prepared to answer the question—the answer neatly organized on paper.

Thus, the press sees the President's impressive memory for facts and figures; occasionally, the press sees a flicker of hesitation. However, when the young President is faced with a battery of microphones, television cameras, stage hands, the press, and the public, he must prepare a script. He must grope for words that will not antagonize an ally, tip off an adversary, or betray his irritation.

'What If's' Offer Surprising Means To Cure Boredom

The average Archer is a satisfied student, content with the place and pace of his life. What a difference a few additions and subtractions would make to his easy-going existence. For instance, what if:

Chemistry were taught to freshmen?
Rock and roll were replaced by the hula?

Money grew on trees and everybody had a forest?

Girls were allowed to play on the basketball team?

Summer lasted all year?

A Disneyland were built in Fort Wayne?

Girls were born permanent wowed?

Streelights were lavender and chartreuse?

Westerns were taken off television?

The gym were closed fifth period?

Bird watching were a required subject?

The cafeteria were an automat?

Grades were done away with?

Marilyn Monroe taught biology?

Boys came to school in the morning, girls in the afternoon?

Chaperones were required on dates?

Drive-ins were closed down?

Jon Poto made the Olympics?

Kelly halls were narrower?

Girls had to serve army terms?

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Have you ever wondered about the short phrase "In God We Trust," our national motto, appearing on all United States currency? How did it originate and what is its history?

Answer. The phrase was first used by Frances Scott Key in a slightly different form when he wrote the "Star Spangled Banner" in 1814. It originated as an inscription on U.S. coins during the Civil War. On November 13, 1861, when Union morale had been shaken by battlefield defeats, the Reverend M. R. Watkinson of Ridleyville, Pa., suggested it to Secretary of the Treasury Salmon P. Chase. As a result, it first appeared on U.S. coins in 1864. It then disappeared and reappeared on various coins until 1955 when Congress ordered it placed on all paper money and all coins. In 1956, Congress designated it as the United States National Motto.

Question. The space in which our Earth is situated is so immense that it is difficult to fathom its tremendous size. You are all familiar with many aspects of the universe; however, you cannot possibly know about all the different celestial bodies. For instance, you have some acquaintance with Halley's Comet; but what do you know about the Comet Mrkos?

Answer. It is very understandable that little should be known about the Comet Mrkos, seen in 1957, for it probably will not be seen again for about thirteen thousand years. Its orbit has been calculated on a very elongated ellipse that takes it 28 times as far from the sun as the planet Pluto is, and Pluto's average distance from the sun is 3,670 million miles.

Question. With each passing day we hear more and more about the effects of nuclear and hydrogen bomb explosions. Today the subject is more in the limelight, as a result of the recent tests conducted by the Soviet Union. Do you know who first discovered the fission of a uranium atom?

Answer. In January, 1939, it was announced that two German scientists of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute of Berlin, Otto Hahn and Fritz Strassman, had split the uranium atom. Immediately after their discovery of fission was announced in the German scientific publication, "Naturwissenschaften," the experiment was repeated in the United States and in other parts of the world.

Question. Perhaps it is your fate to be presently suffering through the mountains of short story, drama, essay, and poetry reports in English 7. If you have not reached this level of achievement in English, then you may look forward to it with eager anticipation. Let us pause a moment from the great burdens society (and our teachers) have placed upon us to contemplate how a book review of the dictionary would be written. What would you say about a dictionary?

Answer. In Bill Nye's fourth book, "Remarks by Bill Nye," published in 1891, there appears a short article titled "Recollections of Noah Webster." In it Nye calls "Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, or How One Word Led On to Another" a "ponderous but rather disconnected romance . . . jerky in its style and scattering in its statements . . . cold, methodical, and dispassionate in the extreme." He points out that the book does not retain the interest of the reader all the way through, but that "Mr. Webster no doubt had the best command of the language of any American author prior to our day."

The South Side Times
Founded October 6, 1922
CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International
Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1102, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 15, 1922.
Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscription per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-ups by the School Press.

MAJOR STAFF
General Manager Sandy Thorn
Managing Editor Roberta Twitchell
Copy Editors Jenny Manth, Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Maloung, Sharyn Yezzer, Herb Nelson.
News Editor Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor Peggy Schmidt
Editorial Editor Sue Smith
Boys' Sports Editor Stuart Schmitz
Girls' Sports Editor Janice Nahrowald
Make-Up Editors Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Betsy Adams
Picture Editor Uelay Adams
Photographers Ken Lowden, Mike Semman, Steve Jones
Head Typist Leanna Morris
Business Manager Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager Sue Moyer
Advertising Manager Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager Dick Parke
Outside Circulation Manager Nancy Redding
Circulation Assistant Nancy Redding, Sally Sweet, Bill Wilder, Dick Parke, Rosemary Capps, Pat Bailey, Sue Berk, Betsy Adams.
Faculty Adviser Janet Kohrbaugh

MINOR STAFF
News Writers David Flanigan, Ann Pickman, Kevlene Gebert, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Julie Rhinchart, Bonnie Strehlow, Marcey Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brase, Barry Brown, Pat Conroy, Rosalee Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Kathy Kins, Jane Knettle, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Susan Smith, Patty Somers, Nancy Stewart, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LeVonne Curlance, Marie Exlitzer, Bobby Decker, Karen Frank, Dian Bright, Ruth Russ, Julie Rhinchart, Sue Borgmann, Karen Frank, Christine Pruchonicht, Mary Graham, Sharon Hardy, Sue Klingerman, Stephen Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubin, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Welkart.
Feature Writers Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Soudien Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marie Hughes, Nancy Ornsby, Sandy Farmer, Ray Wellman, Ann Mote, Barb Russ, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Ross, Vicki Souterlin, Becky Harach, Barb Russell, Cheryl Craig, Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Mariene Rinzenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jeanine Braden, Marlan Johnson, Laurie Ford, Liz Welkart, Susan Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Laurie McCombs, Marlene Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jean Ann McElroy, Judy Shadle, Beth Brindley, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubin, Doris Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jane Knettle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharon Yezzer, Rosalee Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bedy, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Rossel, Carol Ladice, Carl Brumm, Karen Snavely, Jane Springer, Kay Bradley, Alice Haberger.

Cage Squad Drops First City Series Test To Concordia, Falls To Southport, Bluffton

Fred Fleetwood, Steven Hart Lead Cardinal, Tiger Attacks

Archer errors and the exceptional shooting of Southport's prize forward, Fred Fleetwood, led to the second of three losses of the season for the home aggregation. The Bowmen committed 28 fouls during the main feature, and Fleetwood tallied 30 points before leaving the game with five fouls.

The first quarter saw the Archers nail the tip. They carried the ball down the floor but lost it on the three-second foul lane regulation. Tom McMahan promptly fouled Fleetwood who racked up his first point of the contest.

Fleetwood then completed a field goal, followed by Dampier's drive for another. However, Dampier fouled South's guard, Ken Leakey. Leakey dropped the foul shot to mark up South's first tally after more than two minutes had elapsed on the clock.

THE REMAINDER of the first quarter was as even as the game looked nearly all night. South had started to somewhat regroup against Southport's fine shooting and defense, but simply could not catch the flying Cardinals. The score at the end of the first quarter was the Cardinals 15 and the bewildered Archers 11.

During the second stanza, South was kept to a meager five points; while the Cardinals added 21 to their total. Fleetwood scored 16 points to raise his half-time number to 23, which by itself led the Archers by seven points.

At the half, Fleetwood was hitting close to an .800 average on his shots. However, the rest of Southport's team chipped in 14 points to make the half score 36-16. The Archers were held despite throughout the quarter and, despite substitutions, accounted for only five points.

THE THIRD QUARTER looked like a possible turning point as the Archers applied a very effective full court press which seemed to muzzle the Southport boys for a while.

As the press slackened off, the Cardinals began to burn the nets again. The Cards were very alert and, at one point, intercepted three passes in a row and converted on two of them. Archer center Dale Hilsmer did a fair job considering the defensive pressure put on him by Southport.

Cardinal guard Hohlt looked very good on defense as he scooped away three passes for scores and kept ball handlers alert. By the time the third quarter had run out, the Cardinals maintained a 23-point lead at 57-34.

IN THE FOURTH and final period, South showed a great comeback which was helped by Southport's loss of Fleetwood. Sparked by Hilsmer, everyone on the team worked more smoothly. The Cardinal defense, however, did not slacken and made every point hard to get.

On the other hand, South's defense stiffened and kept the Redbirds to eight points while the Archers marched 17 points toward Southport's lead. With the great effort at the end of the game, the Archers fought to within 14 points of Southport at the final gun but had to bow to the Cardinals, 65-51.

Tigers Roar
Led by 6-6 Brad Bounds and 6-5 Steve Hart, the Bluffton Tigers rallied over South Side by a 58-46 tally Friday in the Archer gym. Hart, who played an outstanding game, hit very well from all over the court, contributing 34 points and a .570 shooting percentage to the Tiger attack. He was closely followed by Bounds, who despite foul trouble, managed to pour in 16 pointers before the final gun. What should have been a closer contest was marred by a poor .2270 shooting percentage on the part of the Archers.

All of the Green starters proved themselves to be full of desire and battle, with only thwarted shooting eyes blinding an otherwise fine performance. The defense was generally aggressive, but lacked the height to contend with Bounds and Hart.

Both of these lads shot more like guards than centers and combined for 50 of Bluffton's 58 markers. Fouls also hurt South seriously. Though fouling more often than the Kellys, Bluffton produced a fine .750 percentage from the charity stripe while the Archers managed to sink on 45 percent of their free shoots.

Even though losing the tip, Hart managed to open the game's scoring with a 15-foot jumper. Bluffton never trailed and had opened an impressive nine point gap by the end of the first quarter. Led by Seniors Ken Leakey and Tom McMahan, the Archers came storming back in the second quarter

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitz

Although the Archers proved to be a big disappointment in their season opener, indicating perhaps one of South's most fruitless campaigns in the last ten years, the season is yet young and they could easily come out of their early slump.

At the outset of the 1961-1962 basketball year South, along with Central, was picked as the pre-season favorite in the city title race. From all indications it looks like disregarded North Side looms as a heavy threat, although they don't open their city schedule until Saturday night.

In their season opener, the Redskins dropped a fairly respectable Goshen team by a 67-62 count, before being bombarded by Muncie Central.

Thus far the Archers' major problem has been shooting. In three games South has shot at a fair .360 mark from the field and has not hit well from the charity stripe either.

Height, as was expected, has been a problem also but the Archers have done a respectable job off the boards despite this factor. Forward Gary Probst and center Dale Hilsmer have done a commendable job in the rebounding department for the Archers.

Defensively the Archers have done fairly well, although there is definitely room for improvement. The Archers haven't presented their opponents with as tough a defense as they are capable, but after they gain a little more experience, defense could be a strong point for South.

South's ball handling has also been shaky, especially in the Southport contest in which they made over twenty-five errors.

If the Archers can start putting the pieces together and profit by their previous mistakes they can get on the victory trail. They have some of the best material in the city and are capable of making many pre-season predictions become realities.

The Archers will have to put aside their disappointments of the first three games, especially their humiliating loss to Concordia, and bear down and concentrate on the next 17 games before them.

Saturday, the Archers invade Huntington's gym to face a rugged Viking squad which ran Elmhurst off their hardwood last week by a 62-39 decision. Although the Archers murdered Huntington last year by a 68-32 score, Coach Bob Staight has a good nucleus of his Semi-State squad returning this season and will be tougher than ever.

South will need more than a pep talk Saturday evening; they will need the school's support. They can't get their support from the so-called "fans" who listen to the game on the radio or read about it the following day, but they need a South Side cheering section.

In the City Series race Concordia and C.C. lead with 1-0 records while South and Central have each recorded opening losses. North and Elmhurst make their city debuts Saturday night.

My pre-season predictions for the opening games were pretty good, as I recorded ten of 12 right. My only bloopers were the North-Goshen game and Concordia's upset over South.

Here are this week's predictions:
South—Takes fourth loss from powerful Huntington squad.
North—Takes second loss tomorrow from South Bend Riley, comes back out with City Series victory over Central.
Central—Falls by over thirty points to South Bend Central, loses fourth to North.

Elmhurst—Drops close decision to Kendallville, then defeats Luers next night.

C.C.—Nips New Haven Friday, followed by second City Series win over Concordia.

Luers—Defeated by Elmhurst Saturday night.

Concordia—Falls at hands of Garrett Friday, then loses City Series battle to C.C.

City Scoreboard

City Series	W L GB OA DA
	W	L	GB	OA	DA
C.C.	1	0	—	49	47
Concordia	1	0	—	59	55
South	0	1	1	55	59
Central	0	1	1	47	49
North	0	0	0	0	0
Luers	0	0	0	0	0
Elmhurst	0	0	0	0	0
Overall
Team	W	L	Pct.	OA	DA
C.C.	3	0	1.000	52	49
Luers	1	0	1.000	38	67
Concordia	3	1	.750	55	56
North	1	1	.500	53	64
Elmhurst	0	1	.000	62	39
Central	0	2	.000	49	52
South	0	3	.000	51	61

press. Despite the facet that few fans had returned to their seats to witness the third quarter, McMahan and Hilsmer each tallied five points apiece to account for all but two of South's third quarter points.

Though the press produced some results, "Mac" drew his fourth foul with only two minutes gone in the quarter and was forced to leave shortly thereafter. It was this time that South pulled to within four points of Bluffton. However, Hart then dropped a couple of free throws, and the Archers were never within six points of the victors again.

The fourth quarter was reminiscent of the first in that the Green was plagued by problems: cold shooting, foul trouble, and too much "Bounds and Hart." Possibly due to weariness, South's press was beginning to lose effectiveness and once again Bounds and Hart were working together to form a terrific one-two offensive punch.

PRAISE SHOULD BE given all the starters as well as Bob Lohman, who replaced McMahan at forward well. Hilsmer, despite a fine collapsing zone defense that put four men on him every time he got the ball in the center position, scored 11 points and did a gallant job of attempting to stop Bounds and Hart.

Probst, as well as stripping the nets for 11 markers, did a terrific job off both the offensive and defensive boards. McMahan, even though playing less than the others, still poured in ten points. The guards, Platteau and Leakey, turned in creditable jobs, but were hampered by early season shooting failures.

Astro-Physicists To Tell Sky Observation Findings

Astro-Physics Section members will report on the portions of the sky assigned to them for observation at the club's meeting Tuesday at 8:30 p.m. in Room 96.

Members and the section of the sky they are studying are Jim Mittelstadt, Ursula Major; Dale Smith, Ursula Minor; Dave Schele, Draco; Jim Feustel, Cassiopeia; Dave Flanagan, Perseus; Steve Riedel, Andromeda; Bob Bartel, Auriga; Cheryl Spangle, Pegasus; Linda Moody, Leo; and Joleen Crumrine, Orion.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT
BEER FIELD
"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Leakey Sparks Archer Offense With 23 Tallies

Baack, Widenhofer, Colvin Add 38 Points To Victors' Scoring

Although the Archers turned in their best performance of the young season last Saturday against Concordia, they went down 59-55 to the Cadets for their third loss in a row. The contest was very close, with the lead changing hands often throughout the night and neither team dominating the play. The Cadets caught fire in the final quarter, however, to nip South.

The leading scorer for the Green was guard Ken Leakey, who poured in 23 points in a losing cause. It was Leakey's highest point production in his three years' experience on varsity. Center Dale Hilsmer followed with 11 points, and Mart Platteau hit for seven for the Bowmen.

South started the game off fast as Ken Leakey sank two field goals and a free throw to offset Colvin's two-pointer, but the Cadets soon started hitting. Keith Markey crammed in five points, half of his total night's output; and Widenhofer and Baack chipped in four each. Leakey picked up another field goal, Hilsmer racked up three, and Gary Probst and Tom McMahan each tallied for two to make the first quarter score Concordia 15, South 14.

THE OFFICIALS SLOWED down the pace of the game in the second period by blowing their whistles at everything that moved. In just a little over four minutes, they called six fouls, three on each team, and allowed only five points to be scored, all on foul shots. With about six minutes left in the stanza, Willie Files and Platteau hit on two quickies to catapult the Archers into a 21-17 lead. Hilsmer and Dave Blanton added two more buckets, but the Cadets got singletons from four different boys to ice the game at 25-25 at halftime.

The third quarter exploded into action with Platteau hitting two fast fielders and Leakey also firing one in, in less than one minute. Leakey continued to hit, collecting four more two-pointers and one free throw in this period. The Archers opened up a four-point lead half-way through the period and hung onto it until the end, despite Colvin's contribution of five points to the Cadet cause. Hilsmer also scored for the Archers to give them a 17 point output in this third quarter and a 42-38 lead going into the final lap.

BUT THE FOURTH stanza was all Baack. The Archers, now in a foul trouble, were forced to be a little more loose on defense; and the Cadets' slim forward took advantage of it to the tune of ten points. Widenhofer added four points, Colvin three, and Markey and Dave Stauffer two each to give the Maroon a 21-point quarter.

Tom McMahan hit for two field goals at critical points to keep the Archers in the game. His second shot, in fact, closed the gap to one point, 54-53. Here the downfall of the Green became evident. Baack and Widenhofer hit four in a row to push the count to 58-53. South's last points were scored by Probst and Colvin who added a free throw after the final gun to make the score read 59-55.

Overall, the Archers outscored Concordia from the field 44-36, but the Cadets hit 23 of 28 free throws while South could manage only a meagre 11 of 22.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald
Res. K-1188

4235 Fairfield
Bus. H-9661

Phone: T-1141

ALLEN DAIRY
FOREMOST IN QUALITY CONTROL

Tracy LAUNDRY

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT
BEER FIELD
"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Boys Gain Post-Season Honors

Six Archer Grid Stars Receive Berths On All-City Aggregation

ALL-CITY GRIDDERS . . . Archers named to the All-City football squad are, front row left to right, John Weaver, guard; Tom McMahan, quarterback; and Mark Hagerman, guard; back row, Chuck Parker, tackle; Nate Norment, halfback; and Dave Meyer, end. Mark, Chuck, and Nate won All-City first team berths; Mark and Nate also received All-State honorable mention. Jon vanOosten, end; Don Sievert, center; Ed Johnson, halfback; and Sid Sherry, fullback, were given All-City honorable mention.—Photo by Jones.

Frosh Roundballers Lose To Leo Lions In Season's Opener

Poor defense proved fatal in South Side's initial freshman basketball tilt, as the Archers lost to Leo's Lions by a score of 45-34.

Going into the fourth stanza and sporting a 23-23 lead, the Green collapsed under a full-court press and were outscored 22-6.

Mr. Preston Brown, coach, pointed out that the offense looked promising. High scorer for South was Jan Doran with ten points. Dave Fishbaugh and Bob Kinsey scored nine and seven points, respectively.

"Compared with previous teams, this year's contingent features as much, if not more, overall height. However, the centers are shorter," stated Mr. Brown.

The team is using a strictly man-to-man defense. Mr. Brown added that the team is weaker than other teams he has coached, but could wind up with an even record.

The following is a summary of the freshman scoring:

Player	Pts.
Mike Vogt, f	2
Chip Bolman, f	0
Bob Kinsey, f	7
Dan Junk, f	0
Dave Fishbaugh, c	9
Greg Riley, c	6
Jan Doran, g	10
Ron Van Ryn, g	0
Steve Butz, g	0

One Exciting Tussle Features GAA Play

Freshman girls played three games as they started their second week of basketball November 17. Team 1 defeated Team 5 with a score of 29-2. Marcelle Flandrois scored 11 points and Candy Greiner 18 for Team 1. Cheryl Krudop made the two points for Team 5.

Team 2 lost to Team 3, 26-20. Lynette Downing made 16 points and Sue Richter made four for Team 2. Team 3 had points scored by Sharon LeFever, 12; Lydia Budowski, 12, and Sharon Lynch, two.

Team 6 whipped Team 4 by a score of 18-2. Doris Hessert made the two points for Team 4. Alice Fruechtenicht scored 14 points; Sally Henderson, two; and Janet Miller, two for the winners.

Beth Randall, Pat Abbott, Sue Eversman, Judy Koop, Marsha Good, Mary Marker, Barb Shadle, and Jean Longardner scored and refereed.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

OPEN BOWLING

9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY

Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.

Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.

FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Ceter
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN/ART
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET PLATES
LETTERPRESS PLATES
ELECTROS
DIES, MATS, STEREOS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.
COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Hardwood Team To Visit 'Tough' Vikings Saturday

Norsemen Boast Height, Power, Rebound Ability

Minnear, Weaver, Hite Lead Quintet For Scoring Honors

Trying for their first win of the season, the Archers will journey to Huntington Saturday night to play the Vikings. At least one factor in the Archers' favor is experience, for the Vikings have played but one game this season, while the Archers have already waded through three.

In their first contest of the year, the Red and Black, coached by Mr. Robert Straight, trounced Elmhurst, 62-39. They will play Alexandria tomorrow night as a warm-up for South the following evening.

The Viking crew that collected 17 victories and rolled all the way to the Semi-State last year is no longer around. The one-two punch of Kent Paul and John Thomas is graduated, as is almost all the rest of the squad. The only player now on the team that made the trip to South last year is Senior Bob Minnear, a 6-2 center.

Although the Vikings have no one big man, they are more consistently tall than they have been in the past. Their roster shows three boys at 6-2 and two more at 6-1. Besides Minnear, on the starting lineup are Mike Weaver and Larry Hite, a pair of 6-2 forwards.

WEAVER, A SOPHOMORE, played varsity ball in the latter part of last year and, like every other player on the basketball squad, was on the football team this year. He scored 14 points in the Elmhurst game.

Hite is in his first year of varsity ball and is a junior. He also scored 14 points for the Norsemen in the Elmhurst game to tie with Weaver as high-point man for that game, one point ahead of Minnear.

With these three big men, Huntington does not have to worry much about getting at least its share of rebounds. With all the sharpshooters on the club, Coach Straight may not even need much power under the offensive boards to roll up the points.

At the guard posts are Jim Hammel, 5-10, and Mike Shumaker, 5-6. Despite their lack of height, these two boys are deadly scorers with accurate shots. Each scored six points on three long field goals in the Elmhurst contest. Hammel is a junior with one year's experience, and Shumaker is a sophomore with an equal amount of experience.

The number one substitute is 6-1 forward Roger Schenkel, a junior. He played on the varsity late in the season last year and has looked good so far this year. He poured in nine points in limited action against the Trojans and turned in a fine job under the boards.

THE REST OF THE bench is fairly weak and none of the boys has any game experience yet. The top prospect is 6-1 Senior Bob Ross, but he hasn't learned how to handle himself very well yet. Phil Underhill is a six-foot sophomore with lots of potential. He may see a lot of action before the year is over.

Larry Eddingsfield, a 5-10 guard, is a senior with no varsity experience, as is Bob Johnson, who stands 5-9. The final member of the traveling squad is 5-9 Junior Van Bailey.

Coach Straight now has a fine-looking nucleus to build with in his first six men. They shot for a .387 percentage from the field in their first game, while allowing Elmhurst only long shots over their zone. They committed few fouls against the Trojans, Elmhurst picking up only five points on foul shots, and made the most of their free throw attempts.

The two squads that will meet Saturday night will be very similar in style and ability, but the class and polish of a Reichert-coached team should be more than a match for Coach Straight's boys.

Three Teams Win In GAA Roundball

In Upperclass GAA basketball November 20 at 3:30 p.m. in the girls' gym, Team 1 was victorious over Team 3, with a score of 10-2. Team 4 was defeated by the Juniors, 16-6 and the Seniors defeated Team 2, 21-6.

Members making baskets and their teams are Team 1, Margie Hubbard, Sharon Karst, and Jan Robson; Team 3, Jennel Jacks; Team 4, Kay Symonds, and Mary Ann Waldrop; Team 2, Jane Hahn and Jackie Kessler; Junior Team, Pat Abbott, Elaine Edwards, and Mary Koop; Senior Team, Sandy Heidbrink and Jan Slater.

Umpires for this game were Mary Marker, Marsha Good, Mary Koop, Loretta Kimmel, Jackie Kessler, Jan Spuller, Janice Degitz, Cindy Koch, and Janice McClain. Virginia Rose, Jan Nahrwald, and Shirley Listenberger kept score.

CARRIAGE INN

3717 S. Clinton St.

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

MAPLE SPILLERS... Winners of the intramural bowling tourney with their scores and weight divisions are, left to right, John Addington, 590, heavyweight; Jim Long, 471, middleweight; and Rick Meeks, 484, lightweight. The tourney was conducted during Teachers' Convention at the Village Bowl.—Photo by Jones

A champion was crowned in basketball as 15 games were contested, and close games were played among the seven handball battles in recent intramural noon and night league activities.

The undefeated Nature Boys shaded the Wildcats, 21-18, to win the midweight hard wood championship. The Nature Boys' balanced attack was led by Pat Fiske's six tallies. Also, Bob Piercy scored five points and Dave Rodenbeck and Tom Wooding got four each for the champs. Paul Cochran of the Wildcats made seven points; Charlie Golden and Jon Lyon each scored four.

In the only lightweight action, the Millbuilders moved closer to the crown by routing the Little Ones, 46-22. Ron Heathman and Jan Doran sparked the Millbuilders' attack with 14 and 17 points, respectively. Mike Beltz potted ten points for the victors. The Little Ones were paced by Bruce Fletcher with 11 points and Dave James with nine.

Hanging a 33-24 reverse on the Church Street Five in noon heavyweight action, the Duals were paced by Rich Clark's eight points. Jim Lantz made eight points; Mike Weinraub, seven; and Bob Leininger and Ed Freed, four each. Lee McClmonds and Kenny Kleinrichert led the Church Street Five with ten and eight points, respectively.

The Lox and Bagels, led by Sid Shera's nine-point drive then defeated the Globetrotters, 27-15. Steve Cook and Dennis Berryhill each hit for six points. Leading the 'Trotters was Kent Hagerman with six points. Dick Robinson and Jim Littlejohn each scored four for the losers.

In night league action, the Screamin' Demons romped over the Unmen-tionables, 66-12. George Wilbur and Dan Hernohon each potted 20 points as the Screamin' Demons completely dominated the game. Byron From scored five points to lead the Unmen-tionables.

The Moles, paced by Al Mitchell, clobbered the Royal Dukes, 52-19. Supplementing Mitchell's 15-point scoring were Evert Mol, nine points, and Karl Baudexer, seven. Greg Riley and Mike Volt scored eight and seven points, respectively, for the Royal Dukes.

Dave Reidenbach sparked as the Excelsiors turned back the Basket Busters, 29-19. Reidenbach poured in 12 points; Steve Petty scored six points; and Ken Richards got five for the Excelsiors. The Basket Busters were led by Lyst, who scored six points.

The Ying Yongs, with three men in double figures, romped over the Foxes, 66-11. Bill Ausderan with 11 points and Larry Barnett and Bob Wasson with 13 points each proved to be too much for the hapless Foxes. Don Fortney dunked four points to lead the Foxes in scoring.

Mike Zehender led Caesar's Crunchers to a 31-15 triumph over the Free Loaders. Zehender scored 14 points; and Dave Moody and Dave West each tallied six points to pace the Crunchers. Steve Putman was the only potent scorer for the Free Loaders, compiling ten points.

The Kentucky Four look like the team to take the divisional championship as they defeated the Champs, 41-39, to remain unconquered. Dave Meek led the Kentuckians with 11 points; Bart Bailey scored ten points; and Bill Kleifgen amassed eight. The Champs had a balanced attack with Jim Burton getting nine points; Dave Haslup, Gary Tinkel, and Al Sheldon, eight points; and Loren Hinderer, six points.

With Bud Lucas' 12 points leading the way, the Chideables then beat Zieg's Zaggers, 41-27. Ken Lowden and Don Nobles each scored eight points for the winners. Bill Van Ryan led Zieg's Zaggers with nine points.

The Kamikazees then proceeded to conquer the Neutrons, 32-20. Dan Belchner sparked the Kamikazees with 18 points, and Bennett got ten points. Dan Holloway and Denver Druedow paced the Neutrons with ten and eight points, respectively.

In handball action, Rick Meeks edged Tim Grodrian, 15-6, 15-7; Larry Schneider shaded Bob Piercy, 15-6, 15-10; and Gary Tinkel clobbered Loren Hinderer, 15-6, 15-7. Dan De-wald beat Clark Roberts by forfeit; Jerry Young smashed Jon Lyons, 15-6, 15-5; Jim Knapp defeated Dick Platt, 15-11, 15-9; and Dave Reidenbach topped McKinley 15-9, 15-13.

Auto Collision Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.
5208 S. Hanna H-0691

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete Prescription Service
Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Home of eatin' treats!

NEW!

HOT FUDGE
ICE CREAM
CAKE!

Next to South Side High
3701 South Calhoun
K-6278
"Order by Phone"

Agar's

BIG BOY

DRIVE-IN RESTAURANTS

Also at 2440 W. Washington Rd. and U.S. 427 at Calif. Rd.

Reserve Basketball Aggregation Clips Cadets, Cardinals, Tigers

Behind a balanced attack, the reserve basketball squad forged to victory over Concordia's Cadets, 32-31, on Saturday; Southport's Cardinals, 29-26, on November 22; and Bluffton's Tigers, 42-21, on November 17. Led by Dave Munson, sophomore, the team has begun the season on the right foot, maintaining a surprising 3-0 record.

Dave Munson's field goal in the last seconds of the reserve contest with Concordia gave the Kellys a 32-31 victory over the Cadets last Saturday at the North Side gym.

The Archers' largest lead in the game was eight points, although most of the contest was very close with both teams sharing the lead on numerous occasions. High scorer for the Archers was Dave Munson with 11 points. Next were Don Hilsmer and Dave Banet with nine and seven points, respectively.

The first few minutes of the game saw the Cadets take an early 3-0 lead. The first quarter ended with a 7-4 score in favor of Concordia. The Archers came back in the second quarter to take the lead, with Dave Munson and Mike Files leading the way with four points each. The score at the end of the first half was 14-13 in favor of South Side.

THE GREEN CHALKED up the biggest lead of the game in the third quarter when the score was 27-19. Don Hilsmer and Dave Munson with six points and five points, respectively, paced the Archers.

The fourth quarter saw the Cadets come back very strongly, capturing the lead with less than a minute of playing time in the game. With about a half minute to go, Dave Munson scored the final two points which put the Archers on top, 32-31. The Cadets were unable to score in the few remaining seconds.

Team Beats Southport
The Archers defeated Southport, 29-26, on Thanksgiving eve in the first of two close, scrappy games over the vacation. Loose ball handling by the Archers slowed their offensive and detracted from a good shooting exhibition.

Dave Munson again hit for three quick field goals to offset a balanced Cardinal attack that was to continue throughout the evening. The teams were tied twice in the quarter with the Archers eventually able to achieve their greatest margin of the game, six points, near the end of the quarter, which ended in the Archers' favor, 10-6.

A close, low-scoring second period followed as the Cardinals tightened the score to 15-14. The teams continued to battle to a standstill in the third quarter. Each scored eight points to conclude the period at 23-22.

TENSION MOUNTED in a low-scoring finale, but the Archers were able to inch away to a 29-26 victory. A breakaway layup and a foul shot by Ted Rolf iced the contest for the Green.

Munson again led the scoring with 13 points followed by Hilsmer and Dave Banet with four points each.

Kellys Conquer Bluffton
Flashy Dave Munson's deadly shooting and excellent ball handling led Coach "Porky" Holt's reserves to victory in their first game against Bluffton on November 17.

The Archers ran away from their opposition in their opening game against Bluffton. All three strings had a hand in doubling the score against the Tigers, 42-21.

On the go from the start, the Archers, led by three 20-foot jump shots by Munson, scored nine consecutive points before the Tigers could dent the twine. The Kellys stormed to a 15-3 lead at the end of the quarter.

WITH THE LEAD well in hand, the second string took over for the second quarter. Four players scored as the hosts built up a 24-7 half-time lead. Fine defensive play by the Archers kept the Tigers to a minimum number of shots.

Balanced scoring featured the second half as the entire bench was gradually cleared. The Archers showed good ball control in executing their pass patterns well and exhibited a fine defense in fouling only three times in the final 12 minutes. The final decision favored the Archers, 42-21.

Munson led the scoring with nine points, followed by Ted Rolf and Bob Williams with six points each. Tom Meyers and Don Hilsmer used their height to good advantage in pulling down many rebounds.

Lettermen To Begin Annual Food Drive

Lettermen's annual Christmas food drive will be conducted December 18 and 19. Students will be asked to bring foods to their homerooms.

At the meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in the Greeley Room, Lettermen will be assigned homerooms. They will explain what foods are acceptable and how much students should try to bring to homerooms.

A member of the Christmas Bureau will speak over the public address system on December 16, telling about the food drive.

A chart will be placed in center hall, listing the homerooms and the number of items each homeroom has contributed.

Before school dismisses on the eighteenth, a letterman will present a progress report over the P.A. system, and Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will give the final outcome of the drive on the nineteenth.

"I hope the food drive can be as successful as it was last year. I'm sure if everyone realizes that it is a time for giving, we will have a successful drive," stated Mark Hagerman, president.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Ed Parish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games
INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Saturday, December 2
8:00 P.M.

TOLEDO MERCURYS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Wednesday, December 11
8:00 P.M.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Basketball Coaches To Instruct Squad Through 1961-62 Season

STRATEGY PLANNERS... South Side basketball coaches, left to right, Mr. Charles "Porky" Holt, Mr. Don Reichert, Mr. Preston Brown, and Mr. Wayne Scott, check plays to be used in the next basketball game of the season against Huntington Saturday night.—Photo by Lowden

The Archer basketball team will again be ably directed by a veteran coaching staff. This well-known quartet is made up of head coach Mr. Don Reichert and assistants Mr. Wayne Scott, Mr. Charles Holt, and Mr. Preston Brown.

Mr. Don Reichert has been in his present position for the past 11 years and in this time has led many teams to top places in the state. He has helped gain wary respect from all who competed against the Archer teams.

After being a graduate from Franklin in 1941, Mr. Reichert took a coaching position at Covington, Ind., for four years before lending his aid to the Navy. After returning to Covington for a short time, Mr. Reichert journeyed to South in 1951. He now serves as head basketball coach and assistant track coach.

UNDOUBTEDLY Mr. Reichert's best year would be 1958 when he led the Archer forces to a state victory. He has guided the teams in several other near victorious years of playing, however, and seems to install some sparkle into any team he coaches.

Mr. Wayne Scott will again be aiding Head Coach Reichert with the hoopsters this year. Mr. Scott's record shows a long and dedicated career in leading Archer teams to victory since he came to South in 1942.

After graduation Mr. Scott stayed at Michigan State for a year as Freshman mentor before returning to Fort Wayne as coach at Harrison Hill. For four years "Scotty" held this position; then he came to South replacing Mr. Burl Fiddle as head coach.

MR. CHARLES HOLT will aid Head Coach Reichert by leading the reserve team this year.

"Porky," has served as head basketball coach at Monmouth High School where he led the Eagles to many victories by his able guidance. Mr. Holt also piloted Manchester basketball teams before coming to South in 1958 as frosh coach.

Mr. Holt has advanced to reserve mentor and also leads the varsity Cross Country team. His Cross Country team did well all year but was held to an eighteenth place in state competition.

Mr. Preston Brown, the youngest member of the Archer staff will head the freshman squad again this year. He will undoubtedly be hurt by the lack of size of the incoming freshman class. He now holds the position of frosh coach and will help prepare the boys for future basketball at South.

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

Featuring New Fall and Winter Formals and Cocktail Dresses

K-2530

2426 S. Calhoun

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

FREE WHEELING FLATS
SANDLER OF BOSTON

They're all for fun and fun for all! Bright-colored, light-footed skimmers and Sportsters... for you who want the world to be fashionably, frolicky flat! See them in Seventeen... and spin in!

8.95 to 10.95

121 W. Wayne St.

Sophomore Barb Nelson Wins First In Rotary Speech Contest

SUPERB SPEECHMAKING . . . Barb Nelson, left, proudly displays her speech on nuclear testing to Marcia Disler, contestant. Barb's speech won her first place in the Rotary Declamation Contest. The other contestants who were absent when the picture was taken were Diane Hall and Phil Spray.—Photo by Lowden

Sophomore Barb Nelson won the South Side Rotary contest Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 190. Phil Spray, Diane Hall, and Marcia Disler, seniors, also competed in the contest.

Barb is now entitled to attend the Rotary luncheon Monday at the Chamber of Commerce. She will compete against winners from the other city schools.

Judging the contest were Mr. Samuel Jackson, social studies teacher; Mr. Lowell Coats, English teacher; and Mr. David Fell, social studies teacher.

THE OBJECT of the contest is to stimulate an interest in public speaking among high school students. Judging is based on delivery and content. The Rotary Contest is a progressive contest going from a local level to district finals and then on to the final

Lyll Morrill To Report

Lyll Morrill, senior, will give a report on "Archimedes' Number System" at the meeting of the Math Club today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 72. This number system gave the Greeks huge, yet more compact, numerals.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto
& Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

KOEGEL JEWELERS

Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair

1309 Broadway
E-7671

What you want

is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Marks
CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

state contest. Jim Carter, '61, represented South Side in the contest for the last two years. Last year he won the local contest with his speech on "Is Our Political System Adequate?"

As in past years, the judges will remain unknown to the city contestants until the close of the contest at which time the winners will be awarded cash prizes.

"THE WEAKER NATIONS of the world are looking to us to answer Russia's threat that she will bury the free world. It is not morally wrong to test if these tests are conducted prudently and only on the basis of necessity, for we must be sure of having adequate and effective defense armaments," stated Barb in her speech for nuclear testing.

Barb has won third place in the Howe Inexperienced Contest in oratorical interpretation, and a third-place ribbon for poetry at the New Haven Speech Meet for two consecutive years. She is point recorder in Wranglers.

In other extra-curricular activities, she is a copy editor, an agent, and a writer for the Times staff; the president of Meterites; a cello player in orchestra; and a member of the library club. Barb is also active in her church youth group, the Luther League.

Teens Tell Methods Of Disposing Weight

In today's world, the style-conscious teenager usually seems to be bothered by the problem of having a few extra pounds "here and there." There is the ever-present problem of a good and easy way to dispose of this bothersome baggage. When asked their favorite way of taking off pounds, Archers voiced their opinions.

Cheri Craig: Sleep, drink Metreol, and be merry; but don't eat.

Karen Miller: Avoid Miller's 25-cent ice cream cones.

Susie Horth: Buy a wardrobe size ten with a figure size 16.

Sue Perry: Eat a lunch of Dean's milk with Sharon Carrel.

Margy Winder: Cut off your head. Ouch!

Sue Phillips: Stay away from rich boys.

Sue Berk: Let's twist again!

Susie Weinraub: Stop eating!

Jane Augspurger: Stay away from Linda Seibel's slumber parties.

Susie Moyer: Buy a hula-hoop.

Christie Counsman: Walk past the chemistry lab. Help—air!

Londa Babbitt: Walk.

Room 28 Banks High

Mr. Earl Sterner's Room 28 topped 28 other rooms on November 14 by banking $25. Other rooms which contributed high to the total of $162.60 were Mr. Clair Motz's Room S-4 with $23 and Miss Edith Crowe's Room 22 with $20.75.

Ingeborg's Frisior Salong

(Beauty Shop)

617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
H-3386

Some people cause happiness wherever they go and some whenever they go.

3720 South Calhoun St.

VIBRATO COFFEE HOUSE

1308 Broadway

OPEN 9:00 P.M.-3:00 A.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY

Featuring Live Folk Music
Unusual Coffees, Teas, Soft Drinks, and Fruit Punches

COME AS YOU ARE

Sloan Program Offers Awards To Top Males

The Alfred P. Sloan National Scholarships Program annually presents nearly one hundred forty scholarships to top male students who are residents of the United States and who meet the requirements of the participating colleges and universities in the fields of liberal arts, science, and technology.

The scholarships, which pay stipends of from $200 to $2,000, may be renewed each year during the regular undergraduate course provided the scholarship holder continues to meet the necessary requirements.

Financial status is not the controlling factor in the selection of a student for a scholarship but rather his record of high character, leadership potential, and scholarly promise.

TO RECEIVE consideration as a freshman for an Alfred P. Sloan Scholarship, one should write to the director of admissions at one or more of the associated colleges and universities at which they are offered.

Institutions offering freshman Sloan Scholarships are Albion College, Albion, Mich.; Amherst College, Amherst, Mass.; Antioch College, Yellow Springs, O.; Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me.; Brown University, Providence, R.I.; California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, Calif.;

Carleton College, Northfield, Minn.; Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Case Institute of Technology, Cleveland, O.; Colby College, Waterville, Me.; Colgate University, Hamilton, N.Y.; Columbia University, New York, N.Y.;

Cornell University, College of Engineering, Ithaca, N.Y.; Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H.; Georgia Institute of Technology, Atlanta, Ga.; Harvard College, Cambridge, Mass.; Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Md.; Knox College, Galesburg, Ill.;

Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pa.; Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Cambridge, Mass.; University of Notre Dame, South Bend, Ind.; Oberlin College, Oberlin, O.; Occidental College, Los Angeles, Calif.;

Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind.; Stanford University, Stanford, Calif.; Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.; Wabash College, Crawfordsville, Ind.; Whitman College, Walla Walla, Wash.; Williams College, Williamstown, Mass.

NEW SCHOLARSHIP material has also been received in the Senior Guidance Office for Knox College, Sullins College, DePauw University, Tulane University, Emerson College, Wabash College, and Coe College.

Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, stated that seniors who have any questions about these and any other scholarship programs should feel free to consult with him in Room 102.

Kraus-Weber Test Reveals Americans Lacking In Fitness

Americans are not physically fit in recent tests administered to American and European school children. It was shown that the latter's physical fitness was 24 per cent better than Americans.

In 1966, tests, known as the Kraus-Weber tests, were applied to American school children. Of the 8,500 Americans who participated, 57.9 per cent failed one or more of these tests, as compared to 8.7 per cent European failures. Forty-four and three-tenths per cent of the Americans failed the flexibility test compared to 7.8 per cent European failures. The European children also excelled in the strength tests.

The lack of physical fitness is attributed to many things. Modern inventions are the main contributors. Such conveniences are electric appliances, telephones, power mowers, television, and movies. Walking seems to have gone out of style. Schools are also blamed for the lack of physical exercise. Modern surveys prove that the American child gets less than two and a half hours of physical education a month.

Yet, with a little effort, everyone could get the necessary exercise if they realized its importance. Simple exercises such as sit-ups, push-ups, and touching-the-toes can help reduce excessive weight. Swimming, running, jumping, and almost anything that calls for strenuous muscle activity can also help to make a person more physically fit.

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica

Custom-Built Cabinets

1013 Wells E-2865

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear
and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For

HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

Indiana University Admissions To Insure Prepared Students

A new admission policy will be put into effect at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., beginning in September, 1961, in order to insure that first-year students are properly prepared for college work.

The new requirements will include graduation from a commissioned high school, successful completion of a college preparatory course, and satisfactory performance on a test in written composition.

At present, an Indiana applicant who ranks below the top half in his high school graduating class is required to take the Indiana University Orientation Test Series before regular admission can be granted. Such an applicant who wishes to enter the Junior Division must take the Orientation Tests at Bloomington and should write the Admissions Office for available test dates.

The student whose preparation for University study is insufficient as shown by the rank in his class and orientation test results will be advised to make further preparation and apply at a later date. Candidates with marginal preparation may be admitted on probation.

In an effort to encourage better high school achievement, Indiana University will admit, without examination, those in-state applicants who rank in the top half of their high school graduating classes.

STUDENTS DESIRING admission should obtain an application for admission from the Office of Admissions, Indiana University. Application to Indiana University may be filed any time during the senior year of high school. No deadline is established for filing applications, except in the case of students who apply for scholarships.

Orientation is a one-week program at Indiana University to establish a better understanding of the relationship between the university and the individual student. During the program the student obtains vital information about his academic ability and specific information about the university. This enables him to visualize more realistically his role as a college student.

The program assists the student in choosing a proper field of major concentration and in selecting courses that will serve as a foundation for accomplishing his goal. The following activities illustrate the nature of the week's events.

During orientation, the academic nature of the university is explained to the new student by the deans of the schools and members of their faculties in an endeavor to be certain that each student is aware of the choices he has in selecting an area of major concentration which will be most adequate for his interest, ability, and satisfaction. A student also receives instruction on taking lecture notes and on effective methods of studying.

Appropriate tests are given during orientation to aid in evaluating a student's high school achievement and his academic ability in science, vocabulary, reading, and English. The results of these tests are made available to the student's faculty counselor for use in counseling and course selection. Each student is thus able to select a program of courses which is appropriate for his individual situation instead of being registered in one of a few established programs.

Indiana University offers two general types of scholarship awards, cash awards and partial fee remission awards. All scholarships are awarded for one academic year and generally may be renewed if a student achieves a high accumulative grade average.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY subscribes to the College Scholarship Service for two services, the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test and the Parents' Confidential Statement.

The PSAT is a means of measuring a student's intellectual development, and is required of all students applying for unrestricted and residence scholarships, and all but five restricted scholarship awards.

The parents' statement is a means by which the Scholarship Office may more accurately estimate the financial strength of the applicant's family. The amount of financial need is determined by the difference between what the applicant and his family can provide and the estimated total cost of attending the university. All Residence Scholarship applicants and students applying for unrestricted scholarships in excess of $125 are required to submit the Parents' Confidential Statement.

Additional information about the Freshman Scholarship Program, including specific names, values, and requirements, may be obtained from the Junior Division or by writing the Director of Scholarships and Financial Aid, Maxwell Hall, Bloomington, Ind.

To apply for a scholarship at I.U. the student must take the PSAT during his senior year in high school and have the scores sent to Indiana University; apply for admission to Indiana University, either prior to or at the same time he makes application for a scholarship; complete the scholarship application; give the scholarship principal or guidance counselor; and submit a "Parent's Confidential Statement" if he wishes to apply for a Residence Scholarship or an unrestricted scholarship in excess of $125 for an academic year. All required information must be submitted by March 31.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY maintains a Student Employment Office to assist students in planning their work-study program. Job opportunities open to students on a part-time basis include food service, janitor and maintenance service, library assistant, stenographer, typist, child care, housework, machinist, draftsman, hotel desk clerk, and many others.

A student may apply for housing in the many university facilities at any time, either prior to or after he has been admitted. Housing assignments are made on the basis of the date the completed application for housing and the $25 deposit are received by the Halls of Residence. To improve his chances of receiving the type of housing he requests, a student is encouraged to fill application for housing at least nine months before matriculation; e.g., a student who plans to enroll in September should submit his application for housing before January of that year.

Seniors interested in obtaining more information on Indiana University are encouraged to see Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, in his office, Room 102.

Designers To Start Work

To discuss final plans and begin work on the final model entries in the Fisher Body Designing Contest, the Designers' Associated Club will meet December 13 in Room 120 at 3:30 p.m.

Senior A Dale Smith Prepares For Career As Flight Engineer

FUTURE FLYER . . . Dale Smith, senior, is pictured here in an airplane as he practices procedures in taking-off and landing. Dale plans to make his future career in the field of aeronautics as a flight test engineer or an aeronautical engineer.—Photo by Lowden

Senior A Dale Smith's spark of interest for flying was aroused through his uncle's occupation as a pilot. Since the first time a "B-29" was shown to him he has never lost interest in the aviation field.

At the age of seven he had his first airplane ride. Retaining this flying interest, he began taking lessons when he was 15. His course was instructed by the Maraden Flying Company at Smith Field.

Having received his student pilot's license on his sixteenth birthday, Dale took his first "solo" flight. He recalls the reaction of noticing how fast the plane gained height without another person's weight in it. His first attempt alone was completed after a few hours of "touch and go" landing, which included taking off, circling around, landing, and taking off again.

SINCE A STUDENT pilot's license only enables Dale to fly solo, he would like to obtain his private license. One must have 40 hours of flying experience which includes several cross country trips. A written test must also be taken which covers the use of the radio, navigation, and meteorology.

Comparing the easiness of getting a driver's license to getting a pilot's license is Dale's pet peeve. He believes that almost anyone can obtain a driver's license. However, one must have taken at least eight lessons in flying to even get his "beginner's."

After Dale receives his private license, he and his father want to purchase a plane of their own. The legend about Helen of Troy.

Dramatists To Give Play

Masque and Gavel will meet in Room 112 at 3:30 p.m. today. Martha Lanning, president, stated that "Helen's Husband," a play by Philip Moeller, will be presented. It is based on the legend about Helen of Troy.

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011 1015 Taylor

specially for the girls at SEARS!

popular teen

CARNIVAL OXFORD

As Seen in
All Your Latest Fashion
Publications

They're All NEW!

AND ONLY

4.99
At Sears!

They're here . . . the "Carnival" oxford! Multi-colored uppers of genuine brushed pigskin with tough Searfoam soles. In sizes 5 to 9—medium width. See these.

Shoe
Dept.—
Main Floor

SEARS ROEBUCK and Co.

Now—Open Every Nite Till Christmas,
Saturdays Too, Till 9 p.m.

Archers Recover From Holiday Feast, Earn Top Grades

The following people in the first and second period English 5 classes in Mr. Compton's room made 95 or above on a series of Chaucer tests: Kay Bradley, Mary Freeman, Karen Ponder, Ellen Stanberry, Sally Sweet, Sharyn Yarger, Marsha Grabner, Carole Ladig, Susan Lohman, and Nancy Sprunger.

Linda Campbell, Carol Gates, Howard Lowden, Kathleen Markoff, and Chris Raptis earned A+ test grades in Mrs. Schang's period 2 junior business training class.

Perfect scores were made by Nancy Dominey and Sally Byers on a grammar test in Miss Smith's English 1 period 5 class. Carl Koop, Lane Hegerfeld, Pat Ward, Tom Rogers, and Roger Almandinger received A—'s on the same test.

Mike Hormann received the highest grade on a unit test in Mr. Yoder's period 4 health class.

Receiving high grades on "Voice of Democracy" scripts in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class are Lydia Sutto, Leanna Morris, and Joyce Cossairt.

Steve Gater and Richard Weibke received high grades on a Latin 3 unit test in Mrs. Redmond's period 1 class.

In Mr. Petty's Geometry 1 period 4 class Bruce Brown, Tom Hollingsworth, and Julie Rhinehart made 95 per cent on a recent test.

Receiving high grades on a test over modern poetry in Mrs. Osborne's English 7 period 3 class are Bill Branstator, Lois Lerch, Ken Leakey, Beverly Figel, and Martin Platupe.

In Mr. Morey's English 5 period 4 class Marcia Kuhn and Beverly Sievers received high scores on a test over Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales."

Receiving high grades on a test over the Greek civilization in Mr. Fensel's General History 1 period 6 class are Bill Graham, Ned Stewart, and Nancy Redding.

Nancy Markin, Jo Ann Brooks, Patty Radu, and Pam Richardson earned high scores on a unit health test in Mr. Yoder's period 2 class.

Receiving grades of 90 or above on a recent test over immigration, public opinion, and the preamble to the Constitution in a Government 1 class are Sally Franklin, Thomas Liby, and Karen Swygart.

On a test over polygons and areas in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 2 period 2 class the following students received 90 or above: Nancy Bave, Brian Bixby, Andy Christon, Dave Fleming, Sharon Graffis, Dan Jones, Bob McKinley, Walt Nestor, Tania Shevchenko, and Mike Zerminski.

Mrs. Armstrong announced that the dance classes are starting their modern ballet techniques.

Janice Bechtold and Sharon Snyder made 100 on a recent test in Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 period 5 class.

Babette Jones, Lyall Morrill, Bill Mueller, and Terry Newendorp received scores of 90 or above on a test over fractions, radicals, and quadratic equations in Miss Young's Math 7 period 3 class.

The students in Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 2 class who made the highest grades are Laura Graham, Sandy Kay Lindeman, and Gary Stair.

Richard Astrom made 100 per cent over a recent test in Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 6 class.

Mike Estom, Dave Fishball, Mary Sherlock, and Bruce Whirling made high scores on an equation test in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 7 class.

Sandy Walton gave an excellent report on schizophrenia in Miss Ellett's Home Economics 2 period 1 class.

Bob Englehart, Tom Frazell, Steve Puttman, Don Rohrbaugh, Sherry Stark, Steve Sharp, and Julie Wadlington received A's on their magazine illustrations in Mr. Smith's Art 3 period 2 class.

Mr. Hauk's general science classes are studying weather and making weather forecasts.

Receiving top scores on a grammar test in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class are Nate Norment, Beth Hinton, and Sandra McCombs.

Scoring 90 or above on a chapter test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 3 class are Mary Jane Miller, Susie Bumgardner, Kathleen Knettle, Janice Robin, and Barb Spiers.

The following students received A's on a spelling test given in Mr. Harader's English 3 period 7 class: Patrick Frazier, Jim Knapp, and Cynthia Koch.

The following students received A's on a grammar test given in Mr. Harader's period 2 English 3 class: Greg Arnold, Jill Bieber, Billy Burgo, Cynthia Duncan, Jeff Freeman, Doug Hemschen, Denise Jones, Sharon Karst, Fran Krandell, Mike Lepper, Sharon McMillan, Julie Neuschwander, and Steve Simmons.

Receiving top scores on a recent exam given in Mr. Kelly's period 2 BOM class are Sandy Bates, Bob Symonds, Marsha Lepper, Jean Hatfield, Trudy Estep, Joyce Ake, and Sandy Horstman.

Nancy Lougheed, Ted Rolf, Stanley Moreo, and Kathy Walsh wrote excellent book reports in Mr. Harader's English 3 period 3 class.

Ron Freeman and Susie Bumgardner received scores of 96 and 94 respectively on a test on the popular process in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 1 class.

Scoring grades of 92 or better on a test over immigration, English documents, and the Constitution in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 7 class are Vicki Adams, Dave Flanagan, Anita Ferber, Larry Lee, Steve Lowens, Karen McFarland, John McMillan, and Barb Spiers.

On a chapter 2 test in Miss Edith Crowe's health classes the highest grades were made by Margo Betz, Carol Channell, Doris Hessert, and Ellen Rice, period 7, Group 1; Janet Gerig and Susan Jorgensen, Group 2.

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Mary Ann's
BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

Lowrey Organs
Kimball Pianos
Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

The best experiment notebooks for the first grading period in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 3 experimental class were made by Dave West, Peggy Schmidt, Ann Kautz, and Janet Brenn.

Tom Erb and Karl Krause made high scores on a recent test in Mr. Bussard's Physics 2 period 6 class.

Scoring high on a test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 6 health classes are Bev Dougherty and Linda Stanger.

Sandy Reed scored the only A+ on a test on foods in Mrs. Ellett's Home Economics 1 period 3 class.

Students in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 6 class who received high grades on a recent test are Rosemary Capps, Marcia Disler, Diane Hall, Bob Miller, and Nancy Stauffer.

The students who scored the highest grades on a test on "The Heart" in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 2 class are John Arnold, Mike Ball, Bill Collins, Ray Everson, and Al Silvers; Tom Woodman, Rick Galbreath, Terry Bodine, Jack Fanning, Jim Fletcher, and Jack Lowens.

Scoring the highest grades on a recent test on "The Heart" in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 1 are Steve Mills and Dick Robbins.

Making high grades on a test over complements, verbals, and phrases in Mrs. Osborne's English 8 period 7 class are Brenda Arnold, Sharon Carrel, Marsha Disler, Richard Hirschberg, Lola McLaughlin, Bob Ramago, Tom McMahon, and Susi Horth.

Receiving high scores on a test over short stories in Mr. Coats' English 7 period 7 class are Richard Parke, Kathy Knettle, and Tamara Vyhovsky.

Scoring high grades on a test over "Silas Marner" in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 6 class are Steve Riedel, Sue Eme, Pat Bobay, Alan Ferber, Janet Kelley, and Jim More.

The pupils who received A+ on a chart over the causes of the Revolutionary War in Mr. Smith's period 1 U.S. History 1 class are Kathy DeVore, Ed Freed, Marcia Larson, Gary Probst, Betsy Stephenson, and Karen Walker.

The three students who have maintained the highest average over the last four week's spelling tests in Mr. Walker's period 4 stenographic class are Sherry Baxter, Cheryl Hall, and Paulette Lontz.

Scoring A's on a chart over the causes of the Revolutionary War in Mr. Roland Smith's period 2 U.S. History 1 class are Chuck Bodenhorn, Linda Neff, and Stuart Schmitz.

Those who have received 95 or above on a test on verbals in Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 4 class are Lavonne Custance, Christine Fruechtenicht, Sarah Petrie, and Susan Kay Wiedelman.

Donna Brandenburger made the highest score in Mr. Post's Book-keeping 1 period 1 class.

In Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 3 class Dayna Harader, Bill Borgmann, and Frank Lewis scored grades of 98 on a test on the popular process.

Mary Ruth Wilson received a 96 on a recent test over Greek people in Mr. Collyer's General History 1 period 1 class. Barb Nelson was next highest with an 86.

Mike Havlin, Kathy Wamsley, and Martha Hout made A's on a literature unit test in Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 7 class.

Judy Doherty made four maps in Mr. Hellman's Latin 2 period 2 class. The maps were titled "Ancient Italy," "Growth of the Roman Power," "Roman Empire in 117 A.D.," and "The Divided Empire."

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

COLONIAL Restaurant
E-2000

Did You
Know
Mark
Hagerman
Eats at Ab's?
Ab's
Drive-In
Clinton and Rudisill
11 a.m. to 12 p.m.
This week's Small Snaps is Denise Jones.

Lavonne Custance received the highest score on a test in Mr. Post's Book-keeping 1 period 1 class.

Scoring 100 per cent on a grammar test over complements, verbals, and phrases in Mrs. Osborne's English 8 period 4 class are Linda Moody and Ellen Williams.

Scoring high on a test in Mr. Storey's period 3 speech class are Martha Dixon, Larry Lee, Karen Ponder, Margee Terry, and Debbi Tourkow.

Those receiving above 90 per cent on a fruit fly lab test in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 3 class are Barbara Adelsperger, Terry Bodine, and Tom Parrish.

Receiving 100 on a vocabulary test in Miss Perkins' French 3 class are Karen Pine, Lisa Hoffman, Ann Petrie, Karen Simmons, and Mary Keegan.

Scoring 19 points out of 25 or above on the test on quadratics in Mr. Hoover's Special Math II period 2 class are Barbara Altevogt, Sarah Barker, Dave Brumm, Tom Erb, Anita Kimball, Judy MacGiehan; Ann McCoy, Dave Moody, Marilyn Parke, Lex Smuts, Sally Sweet, and Sharyn Yarger.

Scoring 90 or above on the test on factoring in Mr. Hoover's Algebra 2 period 3 class are Bob Bryant, Bonnie Holubets, Dennis Lintermuth, Janice Nahrwald, Bill Oberkiser.

Outstanding themes written in Miss Burr's English 4 period 6 were by Andy Christon, Bonnie Holubets, Bill Kinsey, Dan Jones, Tania Szewcenko, and Mike Zerminski.

High scorers on a unit test in Mrs. Grimshaw's Spanish 1 period 3 class are Jane Augspurger, Donna Brandenburger, Karen Briggs, Pauline Gomez, and Lois Palmer.

Receiving A's on a recent spelling test given in Mr. Harader's period 1 English 3 class are Carol Doehrmann, Geraldine Fugate, Robert Markiton, Lydia Myers, Marcia Munson, and Richard Walke.

Making perfect scores on a test in Mr. Ober's Chemistry 1 period 5 class are Lisa Hoffman and Ann Petrie. Evert Mol and David Schele scored 92; Bill Kleifgen and Larry Lee scored 91.

In Mr. Collyer's General History 1 period 6 class Marcia Hughes scored high on a recent test with a 95. Fran Krandall and Bob Quick received 94. Billie Burgo was also high with a 92.

Scoring A's on a literature test in Mr. Coats' English 1 period 2 class are Bernice Acton, Sandra Reed, Jim Evans, Sheri Fox, Marilyn Gerke, Louise Porter, and Ellen Rice.

Receiving 100 on a vocabulary test in Miss Perkins' Spanish 3 class are Norman Rolf, Thomas Wright, Susie Bumgardner, Bonnie Byers, Catherine Menze, and Carol Roche.

Sherry Fox, Marilyn Gerke, and Sharon Lynch scored high on a chapter test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 4 health class.

Bob Cushman, Ed Davis, and Brian Haycock made the highest grades over "The Heart" in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 4 class.

Receiving A's on book reports in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 6 class are Pat Bobay, Alan Ferber, Janet Kelley, Linda Miracle, Jim More, Steve Reidel, and Mary Wilson.

Dolores Harte and Carol Mapes made A's in Miss Burr's English 4 period 3 class on work over prepositions and prepositional phrases.

The students in Miss Burr's English 4 period 1 class have started studying prepositions and prepositional phrases. Those students excelling in this work are Clifford Greiner and Steve Kostick.

The following students in Miss Reiff's Latin 6 period 6 class turned in sonnets written in Latin: Nancy Robinson, Peggy Schmidt, Karen Ponder, Janet Dinius, Steve Shambough, Paul Mittelstadt, Ann McCallister, and Mary Fremion.

Receiving high grades on a test in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 5 class are Tom Erb, Ann Flickinger, Ken Leakey, Ann McCallister, and Vickie Miller.

Self-Service or Drop-Offs
Washed, Dried, and Folded.
Finish Same Day.
1-Day Shirt Service.
Dry Cleaning
SOUTH SIDE
LAUNDROMAT
4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

The
Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Those receiving A's on a map of Greece in Mr. Roland Smith's period 6 General History 1 class are Kay Wallman, Paulette Schmidt, Nila Schmidt, Mike Lepper, John Grandstaff, Ed Gaterman, Valerie Evans, and Virginia Barnes.

Scoring over 90 per cent on the fruit fly lab test in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 1 class are Marilyn Gerke, Louise Porter, Janet Gerig, and Lydia Budowski.

Scoring high grades on a test over German and Italian unification in Mr. Fessel's General History 2 period 1 class are David Fairchild, David Reinhold, and Bradley Zieg.

Susan McGinnis and Sydney Schinbecker received A's on projects on textile paper in Mrs. Murphy's Clothing 3 class.

Others receiving A's are Sue Sales, Pam Buzzard, Joyce Berberick, Donna Brandenburger, Diane Hollister, Martha Jacobs, Susan Korte; Joyce Lockwood, Nancy Peterson, Judy Pio, and Patty VanPatten.

In Mrs. Luse's college algebra period 4 class, Frank Lewis, Bob Miller, and Gary Tinkel scored 100 on a recent test.

Bob Bohlender and Jim Smith received grades of 100 on a quiz in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 6 class.

Those who received grades of 90 or above on the same quiz are Gunther Bauer, Janet Felling, Sharon Hardy, John Leonard, John Grodrian, Ted Rolf, Nila Martz, Jerry McCorkle, and Steve Schamberger.

Those who prepared A+ illustrated compositions in Miss Jeanne Smith's French 1 period 7 class are Robert Cushman, Sally Henderson, Mary Jane Reiff, and Sally Sweet.

French 1 students Janet Deihl, Mary Sherlock, and Ann McCallister wrote A+ illustrated compositions in Miss Jeanne Smith's period 3 class.

Grades of 95 per cent were received by Deanna Clem, Dian Ewald, Sandy Meese, Marsha Muncey, and Donna Ostrom on a test in Mrs. Schang's period 6 junior business training class.

Tom Barry, Carol Gates, Dot Gudakunst, Chris Raptis, and Ron Woods received grades of 95 per cent on a quiz in Mrs. Schang's period 2 junior business training class.

On a test over purpose clauses in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 3 period 3 class Karen Franks, Charlie Golden, and John Powers made the highest scores.

Jimmy Moore and Ann Shilling received high grades on a test in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 class.

Sherry Stack, Jon vanOosten, and lar process in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 6 class are Nancy Byers, Sherry Stack, Jon VanOosten, and Sharon McDonald.

High scores were earned by Billie Burgo, Lavonne Custance, Valerie Evans, Alan Ferber, and Mike Havlin on a test over purpose clauses in Mrs. Redmond's period 3 Latin 3 class.

On a recent test over Greek people, Richard Gantz scored 91 in Mr. Collyer's General History 1 period 2 class. Nadia Vyhovsky scored 90 per cent.

Richard Thompson scored high on a recent test in Mr. Buzzard's Physics 1 period 7 class.

Students receiving the highest scores on the fruit fly lab test in Mr. Pipino's Botany 1 period 7 class are Sue Lohman, Julia Wadlington, and Mary Fremion.

In Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 3 the following students made the highest grades on a recent test over "The Heart": Jim Bailey, Don Slave, Dick Webb, Liana Elmore, Linda Gatchell, and Judy Zimmers.

Hank's Gulf Service
Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9410
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Jocquel Supply Co.
Four Generations of Service of
All Types Building Material
2206 Broadway H-3141

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0223

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT
AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Judy Nern received the highest score on a test in Mr. Post's Book-keeping 1 period 7 class.

Cheryl George is the first student in Miss Rehorts' home economics classes to finish a two piece suit.

Leanna Morris, Peggy Brase, Janet Davies, and Karen McFarland received the highest grades on a test in Mr. Storey's period 1 Speech 1 class.

Scoring high on a test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 6 health classes are Bev Dougherty, Linda France, Jo Ann Dixon, and Janis Pflueger.

Those who received high grades on a test over chapter 4 in Mr. Roland Smith's United States history 1 class are Nancy Brubaker, Kathy DeVore, Pat Dunn, Ed Freed, Marsha Grabner, Carl Hike, Mel Kiessling, Marcia Larson, Jim Markiton, Gary Probst, Ann Shilling, and David West.

Those who were chosen as new majorettes are Gloria Barnes, Mary Bohnke, Sharon Burr, Linda Churchward, Elaine Edwards, Vickie Emberton, Jo Ellen Goo, Linda Harding, Linda Grime, Linda Loomis; Connie McCag, Jan McClain, Bonnie McGrail, Sandra Meeks, Barb Nahrwald, Darlene Neireiter, Diana Norbloom, Nita Quinn, Connie Richardson, Liz Richter, Marcia Stephan, Carmen Wilson, and Pat Wilson.

Obtaining high scores on a Chapter II test in Mr. Roland Smith's General History 1 period 5 class are Julie McKay and Mike Lepper.

Obtaining high scores on a chapter 5 test in Mr. Roland Smith's General History 1 period 7 class are Stan Black, Beverly Flanagan, Charlie Golden, Nancy Keller, Nancy Lougheed, Patty North, and Victor Seawald.

Louraine Ford is doing excellent work in research in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 1 period 7 class.

On themes written in Miss Jeanne Smith's English 1 period 5 class the highest grades were earned by Sally Byers, Nancy Dominey, and Pat Ward.

In Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 1 class James Bailey, Judy Curtis, Lynne Fraser, Tom Parrish, Ed Warren, and Kathleen Wyss made 100 per cent on a recent test.

A's were earned by Mary Bowman, Janet Deihl, Janet Dinius, Kay Falt, Sue Gerig, Linda Gernand, Annell Hoover, Clark Marquart, and Sandra Stouder on a French 1 review test in Miss Jeanne Smith's period three class.

Marda Munson received an A— on the second French review test in Miss Jeanne Smith's period 2 class.

Receiving high grades on a test over capitalization and punctuation in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 3 class are Linda Becker, Vicki Culp, Jim Easton, Cheryl Krudop, Mike Ropa, Ellen Sitianus, Sandra Clouse, and Pat Walton.

Phyllis Pierson scored high on a recent translation passage in Mr. Sterner's Latin 3 class.

In Miss Osborne's English II period 7 class Henry Persons gave an outstanding report on "The Rivals," and Diana Hess gave an outstanding report on "Medea."

Gerig Super Service
MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

Graves & Hageman,
Inc.
Commercial Floor Covering
Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?
See
JASPER
Engine &
Transmission Exchange
3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!
Teenagers find the WANT
AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.
PHONE E-0111
Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

High scores on a junior business training test over writing checks and deposit slips in Mrs. Schang's period 2 class were made by Linda Campbell, Dot Gudakunst, Dale Engle, Howard Lowden, and Byron Fromm.

Those who received high grades on a test over chapter 4 in Mr. Roland Smith's United States History 1 period 2 class are Ron Bultemeier, Liana Elmore, Stuart Schmitz, Karen Snively, and Joe Thorpe.

Herb Fuller made the highest score on a test over circles in Miss Young's Geometry 2 period 5 class.

Mike Byrd and Marian Johnson made high scores on a test over the Roman civilization in Mr. Fensel's General History 1 period 4 class.

In Mr. Fensel's General History 1 period 6 class Jim Long, Bob McKinley, Ted Neal, and Judith Ruhl received high scores on a test over the Roman civilization.

Receiving high grades on a test in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 5 class are Pam Buzzard, Tom Erb, Carole Ladig, Ann McCallister, and Vicki Miller.

Nancy Bleakney, Sandra Duff, Sue Eme, Monda Tucker, and Beverly Flanagan scored 100 per cent on a recent test over speedball rules in the girls' gym classes.

The following people received the highest grades in Mrs. Grimshaw's Spanish 1 period 3 class: Pauline Gomez, Jane Augspurger, Jeffrey Tigges, Joyce Moore, Bob Horn, Brian Bixby, and John Grodrian.

The following students are doing excellent work in Miss Burr's English 4 period 3 class over appositives: William Borgmann, Ralph Elleter, Dolores Harte, Mike Lauben, and Carol Mapes.

Scoring high on a test over the first six chapters of the textbook in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 3 class are Eugene Gallagher, Janet Brenn, Paul Mittelstadt, and Dave Eaton.

Alan Carpenter, Mike Ropa, and Diane Aiken received 100 on a test over per cents in Miss Young's general math period 7 class.

The people with the highest grades over a recent test in Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 1 class include Richard Astrom, Jesse Brown, Debert Duist, and Eugene James.

Students who received 100 per cent on a recent test in Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 8 class include William Charleston, Steve Chan, Irene Flanders, Alice Fruechtenicht, Laura Graham, Jackie Kessler, Valentina Harabosky, Carol Riley, and Gary Stair.

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

GLADIEUX
OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME"
FUEL OIL
It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

I&M
Hi-Quiz
SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15
The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-
Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.
This Sunday:
North Side vs. Bishop Luers
INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

GOLLER'S
DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

FOR
• Film Developing
• Film and Flash Bulbs
• Records
• Sheaffer Pens
• Papermate Pens
• Pen Repairing
• Greeting Cards
• Russell Stover Candy
COME TO HOWARD'S
Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

Calling all students . . .
time to order your
BABER
CLASS RINGS
Phone
A-7306 . . . E-4197
BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

1961

DECEMBER

1961

Keep Posted on Future School Events...
Observe The Times Calendar

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
God has two dwellings: one in heaven, and the other in a meek and thankful heart. Izaak Walton	South Side Barber Shop FIVE BARBERS Appointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments. Across from Main Entrance of South Side. Harold Henry, Proprietor 3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502	Kern's Drugs, Inc. 930 South Calhoun A-1223	We are inclined to believe those whom we do not know, because they have never deceived us. Samuel Johnson	BABER'S JEWELRY 801 S. Calhoun A-7306 — E-4197	1 Greiner's H-2124 2802 S. Calhoun Lawn Boy Mowers Toro Mowers Evinrude Outboards Grumman Boats GAA Basketball, Gym. Junior Banquet	2 Hitch your wagon to a star. Ralph Waldo Emerson Huntington, Basketball There.
3 As the flower is before the fruit, so is faith before good works. Whately	4 Criticism is something you can avoid by saying nothing, doing nothing, and being nothing. Wranglers, Room 112. Hi-Y, YMCA. Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Basketball, Gym.	5 "Honesty" is the best policy! The next best is— A Policy Written By Young-Punsky Co. 415 Central Bldg. Insurance Brokers Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110. Girls' Rifle Club, Range. Astro-Physics Section. Senior Reception of Parents.	6 Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six Years Keefer Printing Co. A-1484 Vesta Club, Room 112. Designers' Associated, Room 120. Honorary Arts, Room 61. Chemistry Section, Room 4. Decorate Room 112.	7 There is no greater immortality than to occupy a place you cannot fill. —Napoleon Jr. Academy of Science, Room 76. Safety Council, Room 178. Y-Teens, Room 112.	8  GAA Basketball, Gym. Workshop, Room 152. Winter Musical.	9 Dill & Dill Insurance 1127 S. Clinton A-1119 All Forms of Insurance Over 26 Years of Service Lawrence G. Dill Clifford D. Dill Philo After-Game Dance. Basketball, Kendallville, Here.
10 	11 Dur-Enamel Paints Dur-Enamel Co., Inc. When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices. E-3011 1015 Taylor Philo, Room 112. Hi-Y, YMCA. Boys' Rifle Club, Range. GAA Basketball, Gym.	12 Schmidt's Pharmacy Ed Schmidt, R.Ph. Your Neighborhood Health Center 4001 South Wayne Avenue H-0626 Meterites, Room 112.	13 A smattering of everything and a knowledge of nothing. Charles Dickens Art Club, Room 26. Red Cross, Room 112. Designers' Associated, Room 120. Faculty Christmas Party Physics Section, Room 96.	14 Art's Standard Service 4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025 Atlas Times—Batteries—Accessories Pick-Up and Delivery S&H Stamps Masque and Gavel, Room 112. Biology Experimenters, Room 91 Math Section, Room 36. Lettermen, Room 112.	15 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home 50 Years of Continuous Service 2423-27 Fairfield Avenue H-2334 GAA Basketball. Workshop, Room 152. Pep Session. Basketball, C.C., Here (to be played at Coliseum).	16 "Be yourself!" is about the worst advice you can give to some people. John Masefield Basketball, Michigan City, There.
17 Sunday is the golden clasp that binds together the volume of the week. Longfellow	18 RENT A TYPEWRITER from NEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co. 723 South Clinton A-7395 Wranglers, Room 112. Hi-Y. Boys' Rifle Club, Range. GAA Basketball.	19 It matters not how a man dies, but how he lives. H. C. Hawk, Jr. Astronomy Section, Room 112. Camera Club, Room 70. Know-Your-City Club, Room 110. Girls' Rifle Club, Range. Societas Latina, Room 112.	20 OXFORD COFFEE SHOP Meet me at the Oxford Coffee Shop for the Best Food in Town 1223 OXFORD Grade Period Ends.	21 Top Hat Dry Cleaners Three Locations 1309 Oxford 1604 Sherman 4215 Bluffton Rd.	22 Munro's Standard Service Free Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing. Southgate Plaza H-5300	23
24 Find the strength of your life—Go to church.	25 	26 Fort Wayne Lumber Co., Inc. Phone A-6469 Material of Merit Lumber—Millwork—Roofing YARD AND OFFICE 2047 Broadway Fort Wayne, Ind.	27 South Side Shell Service Lafayette and Rudisill Phone H-5177 Wheel Balance Free Pick-Up and Delivery	28 Broadview Florist & Greenhouses 5801 Winchester Road S-3146 Basketball Tourney at Columbia City (Columbia City, Goshen, South Side, Mississinewa).	29 Oxford Pharmacy Hanna at Oxford Phone H-1373 High School Supplies Gene Yoder, Prop.	30 Klaehn Funeral Home 420 W. Wayne A-0228 Ambulance Service
31 Love God and do what you want. —St. Augustine

Do Your Christmas Shopping From These Advertisers!

'Belles Et Beaux'—
Attend Philo's Dance

The South Side Times

Congratulations, Jenny—
New General Manager

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

Vol. XL—No. 12

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, December 7, 1961

Price Ten Cents

Jenny Manth, Senior A, Named New General Manager Of Times

Jenny Manth, senior, has been chosen to succeed Sandy Thorn as Times General Manager, effective with the first issue in January. The announcement was made by Mr. James Rohrabach, publications adviser.

Jenny has served as a writer, outside circulation manager, business manager, make-up editor, and a copy editor for the Times. She is presently editor of the winter edition of the Pegasus, literary magazine, and a member of the Board of Publications.

She is also a member of the 1600 Club, having been presented her gold-jeweled pin. Last spring, Jenny was the recipient of a certificate of award for her outstanding work in publications as an underclassman. During the summer, she attended a five-week journalism course at the National High School Institute at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill.

Jenny is active in the Service Club, servicing three periods each day. She is a former member of 36 Workshop, Meterites, and Philo.

Jenny Manth

Times and leading its three hundred-member staff. Her experience in the various departments qualifies her for this position. I should like to commend Sandy Thorn for the excellent way in which she has performed her duties as General Manager during the past four months.

Sandy said, "While I leave the position with regrets, I wish to congratulate Jenny, and I am anxious to work with her and see another person have the opportunities which

CONCERNING HER new position, Jenny said, "I hope that I will be able to live up to the responsibilities and expectations that this position and Mr. Rohrabach have placed on me. I am looking forward to working with such a capable staff, and I hope that we will be able to keep the Times the successful paper that it has been."

Mr. Rohrabach said, "Certainly Jenny deserves the honor of serving as the top executive of The South Side

Belles, Beaux To Attend Dance After Basketball Game Saturday

MASTER DECORATORS . . . Making decorations for Philo's annual after-game dance, "Belles and Beaux," are, left to right, Peggy Brase, Carole Ladig, Cheryl Summers, Karen Finrock, and Martha Dixon. The dance will follow the Kendallville basketball game next Saturday.—Photo by Jones

"Belles and Beaux" will be the theme of Philo's annual Christmas dance Saturday night in the cafeteria after the Kendallville game. The dance will last until 11:30 p.m. Tickets cost 50 cents per person and can be purchased from any Philo member.

The decorations will be large silhouettes of a belle and her beau on the windows, a Christmas tree, a sleigh, a large copper-wire bell stuffed with tissues, and small bells and bows placed around the cafeteria.

Part of the cafeteria will be used for serving refreshments. Only soft drinks will be sold. The program will be in the shape of a bell with a bow on top of it.

ANN GALLMEYER IS chairman of the decorations committee. Members of the group are Mary Jane Reiff, Annette Hoover, Martha Grabner, Carol Forsgren, Ann Flickinger, Karen Snavely, Peggy Brase, Sally Sweet, Connie Vallance, Betsy Adams, Janet Dinius, Sally Mallough, Julie Breidenstein, Karen Miller, Ellen Stanberry, Pat Bailey; Vicki Sutterlin, Janet Calvert, Judy Evans, Sharon Stettner, Bonnie Strehlow, Tonya Hines, Ann Golden, Kaylene Gebert, Bonnie Smith, Brenda Arnold, Sue Burdick, Sue Moyer, and Jane Augspurger.

The program committee is headed by Sue Burdick. Assisting her are Judy Conley, Carol Ladig, Janet Dinius, Betsy Adams, Judy Smith, Carolyn Burns, Pam Punskey, Pat Bailey, Karen Miller, Ellen Stanberry, Ann Golden, and Kaylene Gebert.

Working on the ticket committee, directed by Kay Fair, are Sally Mallough, Pam Punskey, Annette Hoover, Joyce Pollitt, Ann Flickinger, Carol Forsgren, Marsha Grabner, Sally Sweet, Alice Habegger, Judy Conley, Carol Ladig, Janet Dinius, Pat Bailey,

Four Seniors To Compete In Officers' Training Test

Bill Branstator, Rick Schafer, David Smith, and Roger Vorholzer, seniors, will compete with boys throughout the country in the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps test for scholarships, given Saturday at Indiana Technical College.

This examination is given annually to high school seniors and is designed to prepare the young men for careers in the Marines or the Navy. The NROTC scholarship plan enables the young men to earn a regular commission while studying at a college having an NROTC unit.

Times and leading its three hundred-member staff. Her experience in the various departments qualifies her for this position. I should like to commend Sandy Thorn for the excellent way in which she has performed her duties as General Manager during the past four months.

Sandy said, "While I leave the position with regrets, I wish to congratulate Jenny, and I am anxious to work with her and see another person have the opportunities which I have had during my tenure. I also wish to congratulate the major staff members who worked with me for an outstanding job; a general manager must have the cooperation of the staff, and I certainly did."

OTHER MAJOR STAFF personnel are Roberta Twitchell, managing editor; Sue Smith, editorial editor; Kathy DeVore, news editor; Peggy Schmidt, feature editor; Stu Schmitt, sports editor; Barb Altevogt, business manager; Sue Moyer, assistant business manager; Pat Bailey, advertising manager; Beth Burnett, Sue Kelley, and Bill Wilder, make-up editors;

Ken Lowden, head photographer; Mike Seaman and Steve Jones, photographers; Betsy Adams, picture editor; Dick Parke, circulation manager; Nancy Reding, outside circulation manager; Leanna Morris, head typist; Jan Nahrwald, girls' sports editor; and Larry Lee, Ann Golden, Barb Nelson, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Mallough, Janet Brenn, Beth Burnett, Sue Kelley, and Bill Wilder, copy editors. Bookheads will be named at a later date.

Pupils To Buy Hi-Y's Books For 50 Cents

Including several new features, the 1962 Hi-Y directory, which will be on sale soon after Christmas vacation, will have the names, addresses, telephone numbers, and homeroom numbers of all students and faculty members of South Side.

Added to the directory this year, will be a listing of all sports events and social functions of the year. Information about school clubs will be included as in previous years.

"Accuracy will be the key factor in this year's book," stated Phil Spray, general manager. "Hi-Y was dissatisfied with the errors in last year's book and is making every effort to eliminate these errors."

Lyall Morrill, senior, is advertising promoter for the directory; Terry Newendorp, senior, is in charge of the sales campaign. Hi-Y members have been appointed to alphabetize and copy read the names, addresses, and telephone numbers for each class. They are John Knight and Bill Branning, seniors; Ed Freed and Dave Tipton, juniors; Alan Schlie and Louis Culbertson, sophomores; and Jon Poto, freshmen.

"Anyone who finds a mistake in his listing will be refunded the 50 cents he paid for his directory if the mistake wasn't also made on the card he filled out in homeroom Thursday," stated Mr. Robert Weber, adviser.

Outgoing Chorus To Sing At WPTA, Faculty Party

Four singing engagements will highlight the activities of the outgoing choir for the early part of December. On Saturday, the choir will cut a tape for a television show at WPTA-TV.

The schedule for next week includes three dates. On Tuesday, the choir will sing at Plymouth Congregational Church. On Wednesday, they will perform at the Faculty Christmas Party. On Thursday, they will appear at the YMCA for a meeting of the Welcome Wagon Club.

Hark, The Joyous Archers Sing!

Red Cross To Give Talent Show Consisting Of Hillbilly Skit, Band

Audience Participation To Help In Conveying Holiday Spirit, Theme

Members of South's Junior Red Cross will present a talent show at the Fort Wayne State School Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. "Christmas," the theme of the show, will be portrayed by a Christmas tree on stage and the singing of carols.

The Kellys will have a German band, and they will also give a hillbilly skit. Some of the group are readying pantomimes, while others are preparing sport skits.

AFTER THE TALENT show, candy will be given to the members of the audience, who can ask for their favorite carols. The audience will be asked to sing along with the Red Cross members. The show is open to the public, and anyone may attend.

Archers in the show are Joyce Lockwood, Peggy Swartz, Karen Swygart, Diane Hollister, Dot Gudakunst, Diane Ewald, Sue Meeks, Vicki Miller, Linda Neff, Keyes Schmidt, Ann Rantz, Betsy Stephenson, Barbara Heinisch;

CONNIE REED, Judy Evans, Mary Jane Hake, Jeannie Braden, Linda

Six Speakers To Participate In Conference

Representing South Side at the Annual Indiana High School Debaters Conference and Student Legislative Assembly at Purdue University Friday and Saturday will be Seniors Diane Fredrick, Susan Horth, Logan Smith, Lissa Hoffman, and Juniors Tom Erb, and Lex Smuts.

Sue Horth and Lex Smuts will compete in the extemporaneous speaking contest. Diane Fredrick, Logan Smith, Lissa Hoffman, and Tom Erb will participate in the Legislative Assembly which is divided into three groups: the Senate, House A, and House B.

Mr. Robert Storey, speech teacher, and the six contestants will leave South Side at 12:30 p.m. tomorrow in order to arrive at Purdue in time for registration at 4 p.m. The Legislative Assembly will have a committee meeting Friday night. Legislative sessions will be conducted Saturday morning and afternoon.

EVERYONE COMPETING in the Legislative Assembly must prepare a bill to be presented. Logan Smith will present a bill for the resolution to the state congress favoring an amendment to the Civil Defense Act. She will state a desire for the construction of fallout shelters in state-assisted universities. She will explain how to raise the money and the qualifications to be met.

Lissa Hoffman will present a bill to relieve Cuba of Communist oppression. She suggests that private organizations be formed to raise money and secure military equipment, arms, and men to aid the Cuban refugees and the people in Cuba in their fight to overthrow Castro.

CONTINUING, HER BILL explains what aid should be given and the fields that need our help. The last point states that measures should be taken to prevent the exploitation of Cuban resources and people by foreign interests.

Diane Fredrick and Tom Erb will present the same bill since they will compete in different groups of the Legislative Assembly. Their's is a bill favoring a reduction in foreign aid to European countries.

First, they want the sum lessened by one billion dollars. The difference should be supplemented by exporting surplus commodities and sending technical assistance. The savings affected by this proposal should be applied to help balance the budget.

LEX SMUTS AND Sue Horth have selected topics and prepared a speech which will be delivered as an extemporaneous speech on Saturday morning. During the two rounds in the afternoon, they will speak on topics they draw after arriving at the meet.

Honor certificates will be given to the top ten speakers in each chamber of the Assembly and the ten contestants gaining the highest scores for the three rounds of extemporaneous speaking.

Pupils To Buy Totems

To meet the deadline, everyone must completely pay for his 1962 Totem by tomorrow. Totems may still be purchased until February 15, 1962, with names added for 25 cents more. After March 1, 1962, no Totems may be ordered and no partial payments made.

Choir, Bands To Present Annual Winter Concert

INSTRUMENTAL INFORMERS . . . Band and orchestra members, left to right, Carol Jo Becher, Karen Briggs, Dick Parke, Bonnie Smith, and Linda Becher, create a poster announcing the Winter Concert tomorrow evening. A Christmas holiday theme will be emphasized by the performing of carols, folk tunes, and hymns.—Photo by Jones

Faculty To Have Refreshments, Hear Songs At Annual Gathering

PARTY PLANNERS . . . Miss Mary Crowe, seated, completes the invitations list for the Faculty Christmas Party next Wednesday; while, left to right, Miss Lucy Osborne, Miss Pearl Rehorst, Miss Edith Crowe, and Miss Mabel Fortney discuss the refreshments to be served at the affair.—Photo by Jones

The annual faculty Christmas Party will be Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. The women of the faculty give this party in honor of the other teachers at South Side, both active and retired.

Simple decorations will be used on the windows and bulletin board in the Greeley Room. Flowers will be the centerpieces on the serving tables.

The invitation committee has been assisted by Elizabeth Hostetler, senior, and Mr. Ernest Walker, head of the Business Department, who made the stencil for the invitations. Invitations have been sent to teachers at South Side and recently retired teachers. Two short verses along with Christmas decorations make up the invitations. Teachers have been requested to answer the invitation by tomorrow.

GREETING THE teachers as hostesses will be Miss Mabel Fortney, chairman, Miss Willodeen Price, Mrs. Dorothy Arnold, Mrs. Erma Shriner, Mrs. Florence Emshwiller, and Miss Ann Arber.

The refreshments will consist of coffee, egg nog, fruit cake, Christmas cookies, nuts, and mints.

Entertainment will be provided by the South Side Choir, singing Christmas songs under the direction of Mr. Lester Hostetler, vocal director.

THE DECORATIONS committee, headed by Miss Pearl Rehorst, consists of Mrs. Ruth Fleck, Miss Helen Burr, Mrs. Lois Murphy, Miss Mary Reiff, and Mrs. Frances Stuart.

The program committee members are Mrs. Anne Redmond, chairman, Mrs. Agnes Sosenheimer, Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, Miss Jeanne Smith, Miss Olive Perkins, and Mrs. Evelyn Spray. Miss Edith Crowe, chairman, and Miss Lottie Young make up the food committee.

THE SERVING committee includes Miss Lucy Osborne, chairman, Mrs. Mildred Luse, Mrs. Marlene Schang, and Mrs. Alice Keegan. The financial committee consists of Miss Mary Graham, chairman, and Miss Helen Pohlmeier.

The table committee is composed of Miss Pauline Van Gorder, chairman, Mrs. Mary Smith, and Mrs. Myrtle Grimshaw. The invitation committee consists of Miss Mary Crowe, Miss Virginia Ayers, and Mrs. Grace Welty. The clean-up and dishwashing committee includes the chairmen of the various committees plus any volunteers.

12A Tom McMahan To Lead Hi-Y Club

Tom McMahan, senior, was elected president of Hi-Y Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA. Other officers elected are Karl Bandemer, vice-president; Terry Newendorp, secretary; Barton Bailey, treasurer; and Ken Davis, sergeant-at-arms.

Ken Lowden, senior, was appointed chairman of the skating party committee. The party will take place during Christmas vacation. Ken Davis, junior, is chairman of the caroling committee. Hi-Y is going to go caroling this year under the direction of Mark Hagerman and Victor Lewandowski, members of concert choir.

Heading Hi-Y's annual Queen of Hearts dance this year will be John McMullen, senior. John and his committee will work over Christmas vacation on the dance, which will be January 20 at the South Side-Elmhurst basketball game.

Tom McMahan, president, and Bob Wasson, chaplain, gave the program entitled, "Truth or Consequences."

Several members were called upon to answer questions. If they didn't answer before the buzzer, they had to pay the consequences.

Band, Orchestra To Play March, Holiday Medley

Sandra Yaggy To Play Piano Solo; Girl Choir To Sing Night Melodies

Concert band, the all-girl chorus, the concert choir, the combined choirs, and the full orchestra will perform at the Winter Concert tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium. Sandra Yaggy, senior, accompanist for the choirs, will be featured in a piano solo.

Tickets may be purchased at the door for 50 cents each. Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music director, will be in charge of the instrumental portions of the program; while Mr. Lester Hostetler, choral music instructor, will direct the vocal music.

The first organization to perform in this annual concert will be the concert band, a 100-member group, which will perform "The Sentinel," a march by Walter Beeler. Second on the program will be the popular favorite, "Deep Purple," by Peter de Rose.

FOLLOWING THE concert band, the all-girl chorus, consisting of 120 members of the combined choirs, will perform "Sacred Songs of the Night," a medley by Bright. The selection is divided into four separate tunes, each describing a particular aspect of the night. The four parts are "Evensong," "Nightfall," "Dawn," and "Sunrise."

Then Sandra Yaggy will play the piano solo, "Scherzo in Flat Minor," by Frederic Chopin. It is a light, quick selection, intended to transmit a mood of carefree gaiety and joy. "Farewell to the Shepherds," by Berlioz, will be the concert choir's first number of the evening. It will be followed by "Greensleeves," a familiar old English melody which has been adapted to many lyrics.

A Spanish Christmas carol by Vree called "Fum, Fum, Fum," and "Christmas Roundelay," by Young, will complete the concert choir's portion of the program.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT will be continued when the members of the fourth period choir will join the concert choir to sing parts of Handel's "Messiah," the famous oratorio. These combined choirs will do "O Thou That Tellest Good Tidings," "And the Glory of the Lord," and "Hallelujah Chorus." The latter is the selection often heard during the Christmas and Easter seasons.

The concert orchestra, a group consisting of the string section with wind instrumentalists chosen from the concert band, will perform a light number, "Waltz of the Flowers," from Tchaikovsky's "Nutcracker Suite." "A Christmas Festival," a medley of Christmas songs, arranged by Leroy Anderson, light orchestra composer, will complete the program. Included in the medley are "O Come All Ye Faithful," "Good King Wenceslas," "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen," "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "Silent Night," "Joy to the World," and "Jingle Bells."

Seniors To Choose Name Cards, Notes

The second deadline for seniors to order their name cards, which range in price from 85 cents to $2.45 per 100 cards, is December 19. A memory book will be included free with every subscription of 100 cards, which is the minimum order.

The last orders will be sent to the company March 15. It will take approximately five weeks for the completed orders to be delivered. The primary purpose of the cards is to be used in sending graduation announcements; however, they are also used for trading with other students.

The Stylemaster Card Company also offers thank-you cards and personalized informal notes at 25 for $1.50. Homeroom agents and their homeroom numbers selling the cards and note paper are Bill Borgmann, 13; Cindy Christman, 72; Karen Dowty, 68; Elizabeth Ellis, 8; Joanna Goble, 146;

Diane Hall, S-2; Brenda Arnold, S-1; Oma Ake, 10; John Nickles, S-4; DeLores Shadovens, 2; Vicki Miller, 30; Steve Pratt, 82; Dian Leath, 81; Mike Stedje, 52; Susie Hines, 75; Elaine Snow, S-5; Mike Leaman, 118; Denny Truitt, 28; and Bill Wilder, 108.

Safety Council To Debate

Highlighting the Safety Council meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 182 will be a debate on the validity of air raid shelters. Statistics on the possibility of survival and various facts on fallout and its dangers will be presented by Karen Franks, Phil Malone, Bob Bryant, Victor Seewald, and Tamara Vybovsky. Mary Jo Kraus, president, will serve as moderator.

Other business on the agenda will be a discussion of the most effective way to select a Safe Driver of the Month. Anyone with suggestions is welcome to attend.

Answer. Thomas Jefferson and John Tyler played the violin, Harry Truman played the piano, and Calvin Coolidge played the harmonica. As a young man, Warren Harding played the alto horn and cornet.

Squad Gains First Win, Beats Huntington 57-54

Probst Achieves Two Foul Shots In Last Minute

Leakey Paces Archers
By Scoring 26 Points;
Hilsmier Hits For Ten

The Archer cagers broke out of their early-season doldrums on a foreign court last Saturday night at Huntington as they clipped Bob Straight's Vikings, 57-54. They snapped a three-game losing streak and established a 1-3 record. Huntington's slate now reads 1-2, including a victory over Elmhurst and a loss to Goshen.

Kelly Coach Don Reichert juggled the starting lineup somewhat to insert more height for rebounding, as that has been the Archers' main weakness to date. The experiment worked well; and even though the Vikings were taller than the Green, Coach Reichert's boys out-hustled the Red and Black off the boards.

South's starting five consisted of Jerry Klahn and Ken Leakey at the guards, Tom McMahan and Dale Hilsmier at forwards, and big Jon vanOosten at center. Hilsmier played almost the entire game in spite of being ill. He turned in his usual fine game of rebounding and defense and chipped in ten points.

KEN LEAKEY WAS the Archers' big gun and main attack weapon for the night. He collected ten field goals and six free throws for a total of 26 points and a 24.5 point per game average for the last two contests. Van Oosten, who turned in a wonderful game on defense and rebounded very well, tallied nine points for the Green.

Gary Probst and Sophomore Tom Meyers each added four points to the cause, and Mart Platupe picked up two.

The Vikes were led, as expected, by big Bob Minniar and Larry Hite. Minniar scored 19 times for Coach Straight, and Hite scored ten. Mike Weaver and Mike Shumaker followed the leaders with nine and eight points, respectively.

THE RED AND BLACK shot off to an early 8-3 lead on the Archers on some fine shooting, but the persistent Kelly attack ate away at that lead till the score was tied 15-15 at the first-quarter mark.

The second quarter was low-scoring and more of a contest between officials than between teams. South managed a meager 11 points that quarter but kept the Vikings to an even poorer tallies.

South was really fired up at the start of the second half and appeared to have the winning spirit again. The first two times that Huntington brought the ball down the court in the third quarter, Tom McMahan stole the ball and fed it to Leakey, who scored both times. When the Archers jumped off to a 31-25 lead, they appeared to have the game under control, especially with Leakey hitting well. However, McMahan and vanOosten got in trouble and both eventually fouled out of the contest. Leakey himself had to watch his step, as he ended the night with four personals.

HUNTINGTON SCORED two field goals to start off the fourth quarter to suddenly put South behind the eight-ball, 44-43. As Leakey sank some more of his 19 points in the second half, the Kellys went out in front to stay.

McMahan's replacement, Tom Meyers, performed remarkably well in his first varsity experience. He rebounded well and, with Probst and Hilsmier, helped to throw up a tight zone defense in the final period. The Vikes stalled in the switch from man-to-man to zone.

With two minutes to go, Leakey cashed in two free throws to give South a 54-52 lead. With one minute left, Probst hit two from the charity stripe; and Meyers got one to make the final tabulation: South 57, Huntington 54.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974

CARRY OUTS

Auto Collision Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.

5208 S. Hanna H-0691

Ed Parrish Servicenter

Automotive Specialists

H-5307

Hanna at Oxford

"Fort Wayne's Finest"

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251

Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

Stu's Sideline shots

By Stu Schmits

After a dismal start, South Side's Archers have finally begun to find themselves, as they posted their first victory of the 1961-62 season last Saturday night by defeating a well-balanced Huntington squad. Although shooting still remained a rather weak spot, the Archers displayed a style of basketball completely different from their wretched openers.

Even though the Archers as a team have been shooting under par, that hasn't kept senior guard Ken Leakey from stripping the nets as he hit 26 points, a high school career best, giving him a four-game total of 61. Archer fans sure won't argue if Ken continues to shoot the eyes off the basket every game.

South's defense certainly gave those Vikings trouble. Last week I mentioned that the Archers were potentially a good defensive squad, and last Saturday night they began unleashing this proof. Led by the "Kankaroo Kid," Gary Probst, whose big hand prevented several Viking shots from reaching their destination, the Archers kept the Vikings' offensive well intact despite the fact that two Viking players scored in double figures.

Ball handling by the Archers improved somewhat but still necessitates a great deal of polishing if they are to stay on the victory trail.

A few pleasant surprises were quite gratifying to Coach Don Reichert last Saturday night. At the outset of the season, Coach Reichert was very much concerned about the lack of a big man. The results of last Saturday night's game might have ironed out that problem as Senior Jon vanOosten and Sophomore Tom Meyers showed definite signs of filling in the center spot.

VanOosten, who until last week was quite awkward in the pivot, began to prove himself as he connected for nine points besides hauling down 18 rebounds to lead the squad off the boards. If vanOosten continues to become more polished, his efforts could become a valuable asset to South's success this season. Meyers, who saw limited action after playing in the preliminary contest, looked very good off the boards and he might be a big help as the season progresses.

Perhaps one of the most exciting games of the week end was the North-Central contest. North, undoubtedly handicapped without the services of their number one man, Mark Krieg, had to really hustle to keep pace with the rugged Tigers, who, like the Archers, are finally starting to come around.

The game was close almost all the way and could have gone either way. North missed several opportunities to cash in on easy shots near the end of the game, but they rarely got a second chance for the Tigers had good control of those boards.

One of the most interesting scores of the week end was Elmhurst's record-smashing victory over Luers. Coach Bill Geyer's Trojans led a balanced scoring attack and defeated an inept Luers squad by a score of 96-63.

The following are my predictions for this week:
South: The Archers stay on victory trail with homecoming victory over Kendallville, in what figures to be a fairly close game.

Central: Takes loss number four from Attucks on Friday, but comes back with easy victory over New Haven Saturday.

North: I'll take North by a narrow margin over South Bend Washington, but unless Krieg sees action the tables might be turned.

C.C.: Finds victory hard to come by Friday with Decatur, but are able to take the Yellow Jackets; follows with seventh victory Saturday over Garrett.

Elmhurst: Easy victors over Concordia and Arcola.

Concordia: Hit with second City Series loss Friday by Trojans.

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188

4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

OPEN BOWLING

11 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY

Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.

Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.

FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES

Your Neighborhood Bowling Center

AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS

5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Rent Your Tuxes at

Thomas Tailors

ALL NEW STOCK and REASONABLY PRICED

Thomas Tailors

611 Oxford H-1205

Denny Berryhill, Rick Werling, Al Sheldon Help Cage Mentors

HARDWOOD HELPERS . . . Basketball managers for the '61-'62 season are left to right, Denny Berryhill, Al Sheldon, and Rick Werling. Helping to officiate at practice sessions and keeping score during games are some of their responsibilities in helping the team perform as smoothly as possible.—Photo by Jones

Playing a major role in the success or failure of South Side's basketball teams this season are the three student managers, Denny Berryhill, Al Sheldon, and Rick Werling.

As chief assistants to the coaches, these boys keep game records for the Archers and their opponents, care for all equipment, tape ankles, remedy minor ailments of the cagers, and referee in practice sessions.

Denny Berryhill, senior, now in his third year as manager, ranks as the "old-timer" of the trio. He explains that none of the managers have one specific duty since they either share the work or switch jobs every week.

DENNY FEELS THAT though the Kellys have started rather poorly this season, they will be in good shape to defend their Sectional crown in February. Michigan City is his pick as South's toughest foe for this campaign.

Irish Roundballers Beat Frosh, 44-32

Despite great improvement, the freshman team lost its second straight basketball game to a strong Central Catholic team by a score of 44-32, at Central Catholic's gym last Thursday.

Great shooting by Jan Doran enabled the Green to tie the game at 22-22 at the half. He scored 11 points in the first two stanzas.

The Archers suffered a fourth-quarter lapse as the Irish outscored them, 14-5. Good outside shooting and control of the offensive boards spelled the difference for the Irish, who gained many points on tip-ins.

High scorer for South was Doran with 13, followed by Greg Riley with six. Guard Ron Van Ryn displayed his passing talents while Greg Riley, Dave Fishbaugh, and Bob Kinsey pulled down most of the rebounds.

Summary
Greg Riley	6
Dave Fishbaugh	3
Mike Vogt	0
Jan Doran	13
Ron Van Ryn	4
Bob Kinsey	4
Chip Bolman	0
Steve Butz	0
Dan Junk	2

Munro's Standard SERVICE

Free Pick-Up and Delivery

Complete Motor Aid Service

Wheel Balancing

SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith

Phone H-1297

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT Dining Room

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Let Perfection Be Your Guide—CHOOSE A KEEPSAKE

Keepsake DIAMOND RINGS

For outstanding quality, beauty and value, you can not choose better than a Keepsake Diamond Ring. Look for the name Keepsake in the ring and on the tag.

PINECLIFFE TRIO
Men's Ring $42.50
Engagement Ring $200.00
Wedding Ring $35.00

Rings enlarged to show details. Prices include Federal Tax.

Rose & Walsh

"Dispensers of Happiness for 38 Years"

1009 S. Calhoun—Just South of Washington

Junior B Dale Hilsmier Sparks Basketball, Track Aggregations

If South Side's basketball squad is to have a successful year, 6-2 center Dale Hilsmier, junior, will again have to prove strong in offensive and defensive rebounding as well as in scoring.

As a starting member of last year's sectional team, an accomplishment which he considers among his greatest athletic thrills, Dale was instrumental in South's eventual victory and received honorable mention on the all-sectional squad. During the track season Dale ran on the quarter-mile relay team that qualified for the regionals by virtue of a second-place sectional finish.

Dale Hilsmier

Much of Dale's success in high school athletics can be attributed to the skills and confidence gained in previous sports experience. At Harrison Hill, he also participated in basketball and track.

At South Side, he participated in two years of track, being a mid-term student, and a year of freshman basketball before joining the varsity team in his sophomore year.

Dale has already proven his value to this year's cage squad by scoring 11 points and getting several rebounds against a rugged Bluffton Tiger team which collapsed four men around him everytime he got the ball. Looking to the games ahead, Dale feels that Michigan City will be South's biggest problem.

After completing high school, he hopes to continue his cage career in college.

Dance Group Prepares For 1962 Spring Show

"To develop within the girls a creative spirit is the purpose of the modern dance group," stated Mrs. Marjorie Armstrong, sponsor. This group meets Mondays and Wednesdays from 3:30 to 4:30 p.m.

The work now consists of doing bar and floor exercises especially designed for jazz rather than modern ballet. The students will then begin to work on a jazz number with a cha-cha or calypso beat and on an interpretative dance concerning sailors in Paris. All the work will be done in preparation for the Spring Show, which will be March 16, 1962.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments

4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129

BETTE HABIG, Owner

Real Estate & Insurance

Robert H. Carto & Associates

3414 South Calhoun Street H-8916 K-4909

Did You Know

Paul Johns

Eats at Ab's?

Ab's Drive-In

Clinton and Rudisill

11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

pedwin. young ideas in shoes

CAGER...

Pedwin scores a basket with the Cager... complete with tasseled tie, pointed toe and the much-in-demand higher, tapered heel.

10.95

Black Calf

TAE CO. 121 W. Wayne St.

Girls Decorate Greeley Room; School Boasts Trees, Greenery

DECORATING DEBUTANTES . . . GAA members Ginny Kachiamenis, Jenny Slater, and Marsh Good, left to right, examine ornaments to be used in decorating the Greeley Room, the cafeteria, the library, and the general office. Girls in Mrs. Alice Keegan's gym classes will also assist in the decorating.—Photo by Seaman

Christmas trees in the Greeley Room and the cafeteria were decorated yesterday by the first and second period gym classes of Mrs. Alice Keegan, physical education instructor. The trees are green fir and are decorated with balls, lights, and other ornaments.

The Times Room and the Library will also have Christmas trees. Other decorations around the school include a small silver tree decorated with bulbs and lights in the general office.

Some of the outside windows have greens and trimmings in them. For the second year, Santa Claus will ride atop the school above the main Calhoun Street entrance.

Girls who participated in the decorations are Mary Bohnke, Donna Brandemeyer, Linda Bunch, Billie Burgo, Nancy Dornay, Margie Dorsett, Juanita Elzey, Carol Emerich, Marva Evans, Marlou Figley, Maxine Hecht, Martha Grimme, Shirley Henson, Martha Hout, Jackie Kessler, Carol Lake; Loretta Kimmel, Nancy Liby, Nila Martz, Pat Miller, Bonnie Post, Mary Sprunger, Marcia Stephan, Louise Waldrop, Martha Weber, Deborah Zolinger, Rosiland Wilson, Joanne Zych, Susan Meeks;

Sharon Baker, June Blessing, Kathryn Butler, Susan Clevenger, Sue Eme, Pamela Ensley, Dianne Foster, Janet Pette, Barbara Krausopf, Linda Grimme, Susan Haycox, Jackie Hickman, Bonnie Holubetz, Vickie Jobes, Linda Kissel, Paula Kline, Linda Loomis;

Claudia Neat, Judy Preston, Rise Prociase, Judy Putman, Patty Radu, Carol Roche, Pamela Richardson, Jo Richter, Mariam Schachter, Monda Tucker, Nina Scherchenko, Roseann Wagner, Mary Ann Waldrop, Pat Waltenburg, and Betty Wickliffe.

Model, Charm Agencies Give Confidence With Social Grace

"Modeling is a competitive glamour field in which the fresh all-American girl succeeds," explained Bobbi Ray Reynolds, director of the Fort Wayne Finishing School. Bobbi favors a training program which takes from one to two years.

The following four courses are offered: Basic and Advanced 1 and 2, Personal Counseling 1 and 2, Junior Charmers 1 and 2, and the Business Women and Career Girls Course. A course costing $150 provides a lesson once a week for six months.

The purpose of the school is helping the individual increase her potential in beauty, charm, and graciousness. The Finishing School does not take the place of formal education but is an asset to the girl or woman wishing to improve her inherent qualities.

REGARDLESS OF THE career one chooses, the basic finishing courses direct her efforts in the proper way. Modeling prepares her for commercial and demonstrative opportunities, fashion modeling for stores, and photography. The courses enrich her ideas on choosing smart fashions.

A girl or woman does not have to be tall to be a model because today many petite fashions are being advertised. Musts for a modeling career on the whole or part-time basis no longer require beauty alone, but brains as well.

All models are advised to get a college education, although it is not absolutely necessary.

Included on the self improvement and finishing courses are figure proportioning through natural exercise, suppleness and grace of movement, posture correction, graceful hands and head carriage, and ascending and descending stairs.

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Lowrey Organs

Kimball Pianos

Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS

MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

SUNDAY

5:30 p.m.

on

WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:

North Side vs. Elmhurst

INDIANA & MICHIGAN

ELECTRIC COMPANY

Mrs. Marge Hackbarth States Requirements Of Florist Work

Floral work can combine the enjoyment of art and nature into an interesting career. Constructing floral arrangements for holidays and special occasions is part of the work of Mrs. Marge Hackbarth, owner of the Broadview Florist Shop.

Mrs. Hackbarth trained one year with the Pontiac Florists before investing in the Broadview Florists. "Although a college education is not necessary, it will give one the confidence for working purposes," stated Mrs. Hackbarth. At least one year of college should be taken.

In preparation for a florist, one should major in art and minor in chemistry, botany, and English. If one should desire to go directly into the business, refresher courses are necessary every year.

EXPERIENCED WOMEN get from sixty to seventy-five dollars a week depending upon their ability and knowledge. A man earns from seventy-five to one hundred twenty-five dollars depending on his working ability.

Any person is encouraged to become a florist if he or she likes being near flowers and is interested in them. Girls, in particular, go into this business and boys, usually only if they have a special interest in it.

Easter and other holidays are the busiest times in the life of a florist. Spring is the busiest seasonal period.

SYLVIA HILEMAN, WHO is a junior working at Broadview Florists,

Philo To Give Play, Sing Holiday Carols

A Christmas play and carols will be the program for the Philo meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room, according to an announcement by Lissa Hoffman, president.

The play, entitled "Christmas in Her Eyes," is a one-act drama and will be directed by Elaine Cole, senior. Members of the cast are Carol Forsgren, Betsy Stephenson, Linda Neff, Joyce Pollitt, Susie Link, Pat Somers, and Julia Breidenstine.

The plot concerns a successful New York career girl and her grandmother who wants her granddaughter to return to her hometown and spend Christmas with her.

The serving committee consists of Pam Punskey, Pat Bailey, Gaynel Musser, Sharon Stettner, Karen Walker, Janet Calvert, and Annell Hoover.

YFC To Sing Carols

Group singing and musical specials will highlight the program at the meeting of the Youth for Christ Club at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. After the club members sing Christmas carols, Bonnie Smith, junior, will play a cello solo.

Joyce and Jerry Dunlap will perform a trombone and cornet duet. Tricia Miller will also play an instrumental solo on her clarinet. Following this will be two vocal numbers, a trio consisting of Elizabeth Ellis, Sue Penland, and Judy Hutchens; and a duet by Roger Vorholzer and Warren Burns.

South Star Sunoco

C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.

H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons

Incorporated

PRINTERS

Letterpress • Lithographing

613-41 High Street A-3313

Chairs and Tables That Fold

LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Anyone who thinks by the inch and talks by the yard, ought to be moved by the foot.

3720 South Calhoun St.

Phone: T-1141

The

Corner House

Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132

3201 Broadway

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Students Disclose Pro, Con Opinions About Space Race

Charge up the imagination by pondering a moment on the possibility of Isabella refusing to loan Columbus the money for a very wild venture. No doubt someone else would have taken that strange and venturesome trip but the outcome would have been much different.

Exploring space draws a certain parallel in the trip of Columbus. Whoever controls outer space will probably control the world and all its people. Being debated a great deal is the question, is America justified in spending billions of dollars for space when many citizens are in desperate need? Archers expressed their opinions on this controversy.

Kitty Fay: We should keep on with the race in space if the other countries continue to do so. If we fall hopelessly behind in trying to win this race we will be in very serious trouble; therefore, I believe America is justified in spending money for space. We should not, however, forget the people who are in need.

Steve Leitz: Considering the mounting consequences placed on the so-called winning or losing of the space race, it appears that if we spent a great deal less on space research and more on domestic difficulties, we would all lose in the end.

Judy Conley: It seems to me that the people of America are more important than the race into space. I do, however, feel that we should continue research and obtain more knowledge about outer space; but I believe that spending billions of dollars on something which we have no idea on what the outcome will be is quite senseless.

Ed Johnson: I believe it will help in the long run if we continue spending money for space research. However, I do not feel that we should finance every exploration into outer space. We should spend money on the populace as well as in space.

Kathy Branning: It appears as though we are in a definite race to win the first flight into space. I believe we should continue research but we do not have to spend such a great amount. People are in desperate need of many things, and I feel that the lives of these citizens should be thought of first.

Agents To Sell Greetings

Only 15 shopping days until Christmas! Have you taken care of all your Christmas greetings? If not, take advantage of the Times' special low-cost greeting plan. Purchase your personal greeting from any Times' homeroom agent before 3:30 p.m. today.

Dr. Elmer Singer Cures Students' Aches, 'Sniffles'

SAY "AH" . . . Dr. Elmer Singer, school doctor, checks Ann Shilling, junior B, for a sore throat. Dr. Singer visits South Side second period Monday through Friday to attend to the needs of ailing Archers.—Photo by Seaman

Stressing the physician-family relationship, Dr. Elmer Singer, school physician, battles the class-day barages of coughs and colds as head of the Fort Wayne Community School System's medical staff. Dr. Singer reasons that by aiding today's youth in maintaining a state of physical health, the staff is helping tomorrow's adult in discovering his place and pace in society.

A Hoosier by birth, Dr. Singer chose to practice in Fort Wayne after receiving a general practitioner's degree from the Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery. Assisting during South Side's second-period sick call, he has served as Archer physician for 15 years.

In addition, Dr. Singer ministers to two other Summit City schools and sees patients during morning, afternoon, and evening office hours.

HIS DAILY SCHEDULE begins at South. He then progresses to Ben Geyer Junior High School and Harman School. His office hours last from 11 a.m. to 12 noon, from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

His work as school doctor consists mainly of checking students who are ill, who have been absent and are returning, or who wish to be excused from physical education classes due to physical limitations.

Winter, according to Dr. Singer, is the school practitioner's "rush season." Bronchitis, influenza, and the common cold afflict the high school student more severely in cold months than in warm.

Dr. Singer is married and the father of two Kelly graduates. Golfing occupies his free moments, which he admits are few and far between.

PERIODICALLY DR. SINGER attends meetings and conventions and reads medical journals and other publications to keep abreast of medical progress. He feels that the greatest hindrance facing doctors of this era is socialized medicine. He believes it destroys personal initiative and lessens the time a physician can devote to each patient.

He also believes that the threat of socialized medicine is partly to blame for the decreased enrollment in medical schools. This decrease, however, is also the result of the extended duration of the medical course; the time required for school, internship, and obtaining a practice; plus the high cost of a medical education.

The satisfaction of helping those in need and experience in understanding human nature have been Dr. Singer's rewards for 30 years as a physician. He urges individuals inclined towards medicine to enter the field.

Girls Wanted!

Small capital investment required, but not very much. No experience necessary. Pleasant surroundings, congenial people, friendly atmosphere. Briefly . . . buy his Christmas gift at a men's store such as Meyers & McCarthy, 126-128 West Wayne Street. Visit the Gentry Shop where styles are strictly Ivy. By the way, sport shirts are tapered and have a cut that just can't be duplicated. Your "boy friend" prefers that his gift has the Meyers & McCarthy label.

Hall's Drive-Ins

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway

Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM

Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games

INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS

vs.

FORT WAYNE KOMETS

Saturday, December 9

8:00 P.M.

INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS

vs.

FORT WAYNE KOMETS

Wednesday, December 13

8:00 P.M.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School
Students

50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT
AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

EMPRASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC.
EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to
you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE
PRINTING PLATE
SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-5055

Candlelight, Choir Spread Bible Messages Of Our Lord's Birth, Christmas Goodwill

Clad in warm clothing, overcoats, scarves, fur coats, hats, and gloves, the members of the congregation hurried to the pews, escaping the angel-like fall of snow outside. The small children, holding the sturdy hands of their parents, were guided to their seats; although a restless evening was in store, for Santa Claus would soon be making his annual journey. It was Christmas Eve; it was a service of carols and lighting candles. The altar was adorned with Christmas candles, flowers, and greenery, but all eyes focused on the crudely-built manger scene.

A hush hovered over the congregation; the church chimes signaled the entrance of the choir boys, wearing their crimson robes. As the processional passed the worshippers, they could see the boys' freshly-combed hair, their shiny noses, and the sparkle in their eyes. The boys entered, with mouths opened widely, singing "O Come, All Ye Faithful." With special emphasis on each word, they sang, "O come, all ye faithful, Joyfully triumphant, O come ye, O come ye to Bethlehem! Come and behold Him, Born the King of angels! O come, let us adore Him, O come, let us adore Him, Christ the Lord!"

The minister, in a black robe, entered; the congregation stood. He spoke, "And God said, 'Let there be light: and there was light.'" The congregation repeated, "And God saw the light, that it was good." The minister said, "Light is come into the world, but men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil." "God is light, and in Him is no darkness," answered the worshippers. He said, "The people who sat in darkness saw a great light: and to them who sat in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung up." The people said, "And His name shall be called Wonderful! Counsellor! Mighty God! Everlasting Father! Prince of Peace" And the minister concluded, "Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the Lord is risen upon thee."

With bowed heads and closed eyes, everyone within the four walls prayed, "Almighty God, our Father, and Father of our Lord, Jesus Christ, we bow before Thee in a spirit of praise and adoration. We come to worship Thee at the cradle of the Christ Child. Thou hast revealed Thyself unto us in a like like unto our own and we give Thee thanks for that revelation. As His coming filled the skies with forms of beauty and songs of praise, so may our hearts be filled with thoughts of purity and gladness as we worship in the name of the Christ Child. Amen."

After the small choir boys sang "It came upon the midnight clear, that glorious song of old, From angels bending near the earth, To touch their harps of gold: 'Peace on the earth, good will to men, From heaven's all-gracious King' . . .," the minister read from St. Luke 1:26. He read, "In the sixth month the angel Gabriel was sent from God to a city of Galilee named Nazareth, to a virgin betrothed to a man whose name was Joseph, of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. And he came to her and said, 'Hail, O favored one, the Lord is with you!' But she was greatly troubled at the saying, and considered in her mind what sort of greeting this might be.

"And the angel said to her, 'Do not be afraid, Mary, for you have found favor with God. And behold you will conceive in your womb and bear a son, and you shall call his name Jesus. He will be great, and will be called the Son of the Most High; and the Lord God will give to Him the throne of His father David, and He will reign over the house of Jacob forever; and of His kingdom there will be no end.' And Mary said to the angel, 'How can this be, since I have no husband?' And the angel said to her, 'The Holy Spirit will come upon you, and the power of the Most High will overshadow you; therefore, the child to be born will be called holy, the Son of God.'"

"Joy to the World" rang from the altar. The choir boys sang with gleeful smiles, "Joy to the world! the Lord is come; Let earth receive her King . . ." The minister, in a dignified tone, read from St. Luke 2:1, "In those days a decree went out from Caesar Augustus that all the world should be enrolled. This was the first enrollment when Quirinius was governor of Syria. And all went to be enrolled, each to his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, from the city of Nazareth, to Judea, to the city of David, which is called Bethlehem, because he was of the house and lineage of David, to be enrolled with Mary, his betrothed, who was with child. And while they were there, the time came for her to be delivered. And she gave birth to her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling cloths, and laid him in a manger, because there was no place for them in the inn."

The crimson-clad youths hummed "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," and the minister read, "And in that region there were shepherds out in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And an angel of the Lord appeared to them, and the glory of the Lord shone around them, and they were filled with fear. And the angel said to them, 'Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. And this will be a sign for you: you will find a babe wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger.' And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace among men with whom He is pleased!'"

"Joyful, all ye nations, rise, Join the triumph of the skies; With th' angelic host proclaim, Christ is born in Bethlehem!" was heard from the altar, and then the minister read from scriptures, "And they went with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they saw it they made known the saying which had been told them concerning this child; and all who heard it wondered at what the shepherds told them. But Mary kept all these things, pondering them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all they had heard and seen, as it had been told them."

The congregation stood and joined the choir in singing "O Little Town of Bethlehem." "Above Thy deep and dreamless sleep the silent stars go by; Yet in Thy darkness shineth the everlasting Light; The hopes and fears of all the years Are met in Thee tonight." The story of the wise men was told. The choir sang "We Three Kings of Orient Are." Reading from St. Matthew 2:1, the minister said, "Then Herod summoned the wise men secretly and ascertained from them what time the star appeared; and he sent them to Bethlehem, saying, 'Go and search diligently for the child, and when you have found him bring me word, that I too may come and worship him.'

"When they had heard the king they went their way; and lo, the star which they had seen in the East went before them, till it came to rest over the place where the child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced exceedingly with great joy; and going into the house where they saw the child with Mary his mother, and they fell down and worshipped him. Then, opening their treasures, they offered him gifts, gold and frankincense and myrrh. And being warned in a dream not to return to Herod, they departed to their own country by another way. The refrain echoed once again. "O star of wonder, star of night, Star with royal beauty bright, Westward leading, still proceeding. Guide us to Thy perfect light."

Approaching the service of candle lighting, the minister spoke of the light of the world. From St. John 1:1, he read, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God; all things were made through Him, and without Him was not anything made that was made. In Him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it. The true light that enlightens every man was coming into the world, and the world was made through Him, yet the world knew Him not. But to all who received Him, who believed in His name, He gave power to become children of God; who were born, not of blood nor of the will of the flesh nor of the will of man, but of God."

The sanctuary was completely darkened, with the exception of a small candle held by the minister. He, in turn, lit the candle of one of the small choir boys; who, in turn, lit the candle of the boy beside him. They then lit the candle of the person sitting at the end of each pew. The worshippers, in turn, lit the candle of their neighbor. The congregation sang "Silent Night! Holy Night!" while every candle burned. The church was lit by the individual candles; the word was spread. They sang, "Silent Night! Holy Night! Son of God, love's pure light Radiant beams from Thy holy face. With the dawn of redeeming grace, Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth! Jesus, Lord, at Thy birth! Amen."

Before returning to the chilly outdoors and the evening preceding Christmas Day, the worshippers bowed their heads in prayer, "Almighty God, we are grateful to Thee for the many blessings bestowed upon us. We thank Thee for Christ, our Saviour, who preached and taught the plan of Salvation to the world. We pray that we may follow His teachings in leading others to know Christ as Saviour. Give joy to all people we earnestly pray, and bring peace on earth. This we ask in the name of Jesus. Amen."

Americans Lose Meaning; Christmas Symbolizes Love

The star rose in the East. An arc of celestial brilliance cleft the thick nocturnal darkness as it slowly swept across the heavens. Heads bowed and knees bent in awe and reverence as the God-sent herald traced its joyous tidings in shimmering splendor against the ebony.

When at last the star came to rest, it hovered over a small stable, beckoning the wondering populace of Bethlehem to kneel beside noble wise men and lowly shepherds in adoration of a new-born King. And so they came and looked and saw, saw the King wrapped in royal robes of swaddling cloth, attended by a host of angels and crowned by a holy haze from the star.

One by one the onlookers ventured nearer the Child, placing their most precious possessions as gifts at His tiny feet, placing before the eyes of a devoted mother gold, frankincense, and myrrh.

This was the first Christmas. This was a Christmas celebrated for love of a Savior and by love of a Savior. A Christmas that has not been equaled in one thousand nine hundred sixty-one years.

The Christmas star still shines annually on December twenty-fifth. But it is an artificial star, hung in a store window or on top of a tinsel-decked tree. Perhaps it is only fitting that it should be such a star, for it is reigning over the holiday that has become, in many cases, void of the true meaning for which it was designated.

On the first Christmas, gifts were given to Christ, gifts that were not merely material presents. These gifts represented the giver, pledging his whole life to the following of God's Son. They symbolized ways of single existence turned from sin and evil pursuits to pure and complete co-existence with the Lord.

Today many Christmas gifts have become selfish gifts, provided more to the giver than from him. They represent love, to be sure, but love of self, not love of God. Their worth is measured by volume, quantity, or cost, not by degree of personal sacrifice.

The joy of Christmas was once felt by the wise men and shepherds as they bestowed simple tokens, to receive nothing material. Now the joy is often felt as material donations are received and nothing spiritual is given, a deplorable about-face.

What has happened to the Christmas spirit of old? Surely it is not completely gone. Probably it lies buried beneath the pile of presents, or hidden behind the lights of the Christmas tree. Perhaps it is burned into the smoke of the traditional yule log, or stuffed into the Christmas turkey. At any rate, it no longer is total ruler of its own holiday. Possibly its disappearance has been more marked lately, accounting for the familiar phrase, "Christmas just isn't what it used to be."

There are those who are willing to let the spirit slip away year after year, unnoticed and unused. Others try to capture it with physical traps by purchasing a yearly increasing number of gifts and mailing larger amounts of greeting cards.

No one, however, will succeed in experiencing the true, old-fashioned meaning of Christmas until he has given of himself to God. When he has offered Christ a genuine prayer of supplication and repentance, when he has humbly asked for guidance and help, and acknowledged the fact that he is physically weak and morally corrupt, he will know the kind of Christmas that changed the course of history.

He will then realize that Christmas is a spiritual, not a material, holiday.—By Peggy Schmidt

Senior Summary

Points Per
Prominent Persons

Sharon Krakower . . . age, 17 . . . hair, black . . . eyes, dark brown . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, black . . . fad, kilts . . . sport, tennis . . . pastime, going to visit my friends . . . activity, youth group . . . subject, chemistry . . . TV show, "SurfSide Six" . . . record, "The Lions Sleep Tonight" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actress, Elizabeth Taylor . . . book, "Ann Frank" . . . future plans, nursing . . . pet peeve, people who aren't true.

Dennis Groves . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, six feet, two inches . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, brown . . . fad, going to socialite parties . . . sport, water skiing . . . pastime, "The Queen" . . . activity, "The Queen" . . . subject, metal shop . . . TV show, "Dance Date" . . . record, "Little Miss U.S.A." . . . singer, Elvis Presley . . . future plans, getting out of school . . . pet peeve, socialite girls.

Dian Leath . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: foods, chicken livers, ice cream . . . colors, red, brown . . . fad, hooded sweatshirts . . . sport, bowling . . . pastime, knitting . . . activity, Service Club, Totem . . . subject, chemistry . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "When I Fall in Love" . . . singer, Frank Sinatra . . . actor, John Gavin . . . book, "Gone with the Wind" . . . pet peeve, walking to school in cold, rainy weather.

Rich Dobson . . . age, 17 . . . hair, light brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, ten inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, chop suey . . . color, Metal Flake Red . . . fad, wearing blue jeans . . . sport, football . . . subject, speech . . . pastime, going to drags . . . activity, Ventures . . . TV show, "Andy Griffin" . . . record, "The Lions Sleep Tonight" . . . singer, Harry Belafonte . . . actress, Julie Willinson . . . book, "High and the Mighty" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who dislike car clubs.

Ann Brase . . . age, 17 . . . hair, black . . . eyes, green . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, German chocolate cake . . . color, red . . . fad, knee socks . . . sport, bicycling . . . pastime, speech meets . . . activity, Wranglers . . . subject, chemistry . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "Moon River" . . . singer, Pat Slater . . . actor, Horst Buchholz . . . book, "Compulsion" . . . pet peeve, people who don't try.

Diane Fredrick . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, macaroni and cheese . . . color, black . . . fad, short skirts . . . sport, water skiing . . . subject, chemistry . . . activity, Totem, Wranglers . . . pastime, making lists . . . TV show, "The Untouchables" . . . record, "Love Potion No. 9" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actress, Elizabeth Taylor . . . book, "Gone with the Wind" . . . pet peeve, erasers that smudge.

Alumni News

By Lynelle Dill

Bill Stellhorn, '61, former General Manager of the Times, is a freshman at Purdue University. He was a member of the marching band during the football season and now plays in the concert band. He is studying to be an engineer.

Vicki Sheldon, '60, is a sophomore at Indiana University and is playing in the orchestra. She is an active member of Kappa Delta Sorority.

Tom Cooper, '60, is a sophomore at Indiana University after spending his first year at Oberlin Conservatory. He is now majoring in literature in the Arts and Science College of Indiana.

Dave Dill, '61, a freshman at Indiana University, is pledged to Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity. He is on the Business Law Course and has joined the Marketing Club and the Young Republicans Club.

Carole Jean Oxenider, '60, is engaged to William Kevin Kos. Carole, a junior at Indiana University, is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority. Her fiancé, a graduate of Indiana University, was affiliated with Kappa Sigma Fraternity.

The engagement of Richard McBride, '58, and Eleanor Junk has been announced. Miss Junk is a graduate of Central Catholic High School and St. Francis College and is now an elementary teacher at St. Vincent de Paul. Richard attended Purdue University Extension and is a student at Indiana Technical College. The wedding will be December 28 in St. Jude Catholic Church.

Bob Shine, '61, former general manager of the Times, and a freshman at Dartmouth College, participated in the fourth annual Moosluke Lodge trip for underprivileged children during Thanksgiving vacation. Sponsored by the Dartmouth Christian Union and the Dartmouth Outing Club, the trip provides a Thanksgiving dinner and outdoor weekend for a group of 35 boys from the New York area.

Tom Bolyard, '59, Dorothy Druart, '58, and Marcia Steere, '58, are among those chosen to the 1961-62 Indiana University Student Foundation Committee. These students were chosen because of their outstanding campus records and serve as the liaison group between the student body and the Indiana University Foundation. They also handle the "Little 500" weekend in the spring.

Steve Black, '61, is a freshman at Indiana University Extension in Fort Wayne. His major subjects are English composition, zoology, Spanish, and psychology. During his free time, he is an entertainer at the Vibrato as a singer.

Speeding Sleigh Surrenders . . .

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

"I don't care who you are, buddy. Got your reinder off my roof!" With that ancient and sick bit of humor, we join in ushering in the Christmas season (only seven more shopping days!) This holiday season should be a time of worship, fun, shopping, decorating, and partying for everyone and should carry a lightness of spirit. But then, we'd probably all complain as Terry Borne does about having to write out "Jingle Bells" in Latin.

Terry's not the only composer this week. It comes to our attention that a certain Study Hall service worker has been receiving strange notes from a secret admirer. This admirer seems to think he's Heap Big Indian Chief Little Romeo because the abridged note reads as follows (don't worry, Warren Burns, we altered it a little and we'll never tell that you wrote it.) My dearest, darling Pamela Crowfoot,

It has been many moons since we last met under the arbor, and I count the minutes until I again will see my lovely little maiden from across deep, dark valley and over big, bright mountains. It has been a difficult situation since Little Pony break leg and me fall off and break both my legs. But I know we can find a way and I will once again be able to gaze deeply into your eyes and whisper sweet "ughs" into your ears with the exquisite lobes. I stay mad about you all rest of many moons ahead—

Little Feather

Next topic of discussion—SAT tests of December 2. Linda McMurty had help on hers—from the skeleton she was seated next to in the health room at Central! In their pursuit of knowledge, John McMillen, Caron Fine, Elaine Edwards, Jo Ellen Bobay, and Pat Lee had to go to Huntington to take their tests; but poor Karl Schladerman had to travel all the way to Elkhart for his!

Sue Kelley's brother is a movie star! To Sue's surprise, he appeared in an economics class movie which was filmed in Fort Wayne by the Galbreath Studios; and by the time the news traveled around the class, the message was that Sue's mother was in the film.

Karen Finrock: "Eeeks! A mouse!" Erin Rose: "Ugh, he's dead!" Sue Gerig: "Help! Mr. Weber, come back!"

Diane Petznik: "Air, please!" Marti Morrell: "Oh, somebody—Do SOMETHING!"

So somebody did. Brave Pat Bailey dispelled all their fears by calmly picking up the deceased creature. Pass the smelling salts, please! Time really does fly—walk that is. Kathy Wamsley and Mary Ann Waldrop got rid of two months of the year by simply removing them from a calendar and walking home with them.

Say, Lois Lerch, how did you like the present (a hamster) from Gail Woodruff? Speaking of gifts, we know

Yuletide Song Titles Apply To Students' Teachers' Behavior

"Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer" . . . Dian Leath after she walks to school in the morning.

"Silent Night, Holy Night" . . . when South Side does not have a basketball game.

"Jingle Bells" . . . what all Kelly couples hear!

"Away in the Manger" . . . is where I'd like to be right now—SNORE!

"Oh Little Town of Bethlehem" . . . a new suburb of our growing town?

"I Saw Mama Kissin' Santa Claus" . . . but I could tell that it was really Daddy!

"All I Want for Christmas Is My Two Front Teeth" . . . 'cause I have to eat all that yummy food!

"Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" . . . Mr. Hostetter's herald angels!

"I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" . . . but I want a green Christmas tree.

"Santa Claus Is Coming to Town" . . . Why, he's already here! I saw him walking down the street about three weeks ago.

"Silver Bells" . . . A new instrument in the band, Mr. Drummond?

"The Little Drummer Boy" . . . alias Mike Ferward.

"I'm Coming Home for Christmas" . . . say the South Side graduates.

"We Wish You a Merry Christmas" . . . from the Times staff.

Discover 'In' Ways

'The Cool Book' By Art Unger Presents Advice To Teenagers

By The General Manager

Ten days left until Christmas. Still have a teenager on the Christmas shopping list? Need a suggestion on what to buy or how to spend Christmas money? Someone once said that there is a solution to every problem. There is a solution to the purchase problem. The answer—"The Cool Book" by Art Unger, published by Prentice-Hall, Inc., Englewood Cliffs, N. J.

The cover reads, "A book that swings for real! Tells all! Discover 'in' ways to survive and thrive in a square society, break off with your steady, arrive alive at a party, dig culture, be gorgeous, be handsome, be popular, know about everything, and newest, coolest 'beatnik' and Martian 'funnies' going."

Sandy Thorn

The book, which would be equally enjoyed by both boys and girls (and incidentally, parents), does just this and more. With modern, clever illustrations by Christiane Cassan, the book becomes a handbook for teenagers. Mr. Unger, publisher and editor of "Datebook" magazine, uses a psychological approach to his writing; he suggests several negative ways to do things, hoping the teenagers will do the opposite.

REGARDING HIS book, Mr. Unger says, "It takes a great deal of maturity to be a teenager these days. Probably the most over-analyzed, under-rated, misinterpreted, downgraded segment of our entire population is the American teenager. He is regarded, to a great extent, as an unpredictable, childlike barbarian, camping out on the outskirts of adult society."

For the above-mentioned reason, the author presents his teenager's guide to survival in a square society. This survival includes "cool ways" to be the life of the party, to get to the top of the class, "cool things" to do on a date besides neck, "cool ways" to diet, to ask for a date, to talk to a date, to choose a college, to meet a new one, to choose a career, and to find a summer job.

Also, he suggests "cool ways" to baby-sit, to hold on to a steady, to break off with a steady, to get asked to the prom, to get along with your family, to start a summer romance, to stretch a summer romance, to score at the game, to meet the class dreamboat, plus cool New Year's resolutions and cool party ideas.

Mr. Unger also has sections entitled "cool poems and limericks," "daffynities," "coolquialisms," "beatnik jokes," "martian jokes," "she-was-only," "way out jokes," "cool and short ones," "postman puzzlers," "cool ways to insult your friends," and "cool ways to survive and thrive in a square society."

NOTABLY, THE BOOK will never win any Pulitzer Prize for Literature, but it is enjoyable. Its 146 pages contain many answers for teenagers; and although it can be read in an hour or so, it can be used for reference and as an aid for a friend. For fans of "Dear Abby" or Ann Landers, it can be noted that Mr. Unger employs a similar wit; however, at the same time, he presents concrete advice.

For tips on "how to be the life of the party," Mr. Unger suggests, "When you dance with a boy, tell him he dances like Astaire even though you may mutter 'Sam Astaire' under your breath. When a boy talks, look deeply into his eyes and exclaim, 'I never even realized it!' He'll love you—even though you may have been talking about the way his ears stick out. Most important, though, laugh at his jokes—chuckle, roar, get hysterical, lie on the floor and kick your feet. He'll tell everybody what a marvelous sense of humor you have."

His suggestion for "getting to the top of the class" is "Making deadlines for yourself. Then, reward yourself if you keep them and punish yourself if you don't. For instance—trig homework should be done by 8:30 p.m. and as a reward you will watch 'Bachelor Father' on television. If it's not done, no bachelor for you."

LISTED AMONG HIS "wild ways to select a college," the author says, "Choose the school with the best football team. Choose the school with the best boy-girl ratio. Choose the school that's the farthest away from home so you can escape your parents completely. Choose the school with the colors which match your eyes or the one with the cute name."

Tackling the problem of girls at sporting events which they know nothing, or little, about, he suggests, "When they yell 'down in front,' they mean you—so sit down . . . don't applaud a touchdown by the opposing team even if it was made by that handsome halfback with the curly, black hair . . . try to join in the cheers, even though you feel slightly ridiculous . . . stop weeping over injured players and applaud as they get carried gloriously off the field."

Then for the business girl—the baby sitter—he advises, "Misbehave politely. Take off your shoes before stretching out on the sofa. Wash the dishes and wipe off all tell-tale fingerprints from the refrigerator. Hang up all her clothes carefully after you've tried them on. Put the top back on that wonderful purple eye shadow."

MR. UNGER BELIEVES that New Year's resolutions are important and suggests, "Have faith. Next time a girl tells you you're handsome, believe her. Next time your mother tells you you're smart, believe her. Next time your sister tells you you're a pain in the neck, remember you can't believe everyone."

These examples aren't the funniest parts of the book. And, there are also serious parts which actually give helpful advice. Mr. Unger has written a successful teenage book. Because it is devoted to teenagers, it would be nice to see teenagers purchase the book (cost, $3.95) which might encourage other authors to write for teenagers.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know what some of the mechanical and electrical features of the supercarrier "Enterprise," the world's largest ship, are?

Answer. The "Enterprise" will carry the greatest concentration of electrical equipment ever assembled on a ship. Over one million tubes, transistors, and diodes will go into her 1,500 electronic components. The total radiating power of these electronic systems is equivalent to 300 commercial radio stations broadcasting simultaneously. The "Enterprise's" potential electrical generating capacity will be approximately enough to supply the combined needs of Boston and Detroit. It is estimated that the "Enterprise" can stay at sea for years without refueling. She could circle the world 20 times without stopping. The "Enterprise" is driven by the most powerful atomic power plant afloat. Eight nuclear pressurized water reactors provide steam for the ship's turbines. Each of the four turbines, in turn, drives a 21-foot propeller, weighing 64,500 pounds. The entire system produces in excess of two hundred thousand horsepower.

Question. American Presidents have been honored in many different ways. Do you know which Presidents have been honored by the Hall of Fame of Great Americans?

Answer. The Hall of Fame of Great Americans on the New York University Campus, New York City, has honored 12 Presidents. At the first Hall of Fame election in 1900, George Washington, John Adams, Thomas Jefferson, Abraham Lincoln, and Ulysses Simpson Grant were elected. In subsequent elections, James Madison, John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson, James Monroe, Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, and Theodore Roosevelt were elected.

Question. Do you know how many people live under Communism, and how many live in the anti-Communist nations?

Answer. About one billion forty-six million people live under Communism. This amounts to roughly one-third of the world's population living behind the Iron and Bamboo Curtains. About one billion two hundred twenty-two million people live in nations allied against Communism, and seven hundred sixty-nine million live in neutralist countries.

Question. Christmas is a time to be told in music. We all have sung the old familiar carols, but do you know the stories behind some of them?

Answer. "Away in a Manger" is a carol often ascribed incorrectly to Martin Luther. Actually it may be no older than some people who are alive today. It first appeared as an unsigned poem in a children's book published in 1885. Neither the author of the first two stanzas nor the writer of the third, added later, is known. The tune to which is commonly is sung is only one of some forty tunes that have been used. It also comes from an unknown source, but probably is of German origin.

"Good King Wenceslaus" tells the story of how the Christian king took food and fuel to a poor man. The kindness of King Wenceslaus, who ruled Bohemia from A.D. 928 to 935, became legendary. He was immortalized by troubadours and wandering minstrels after he died at the hands of his own brother. The tune is from an early Swedish-German hymn collection assembled by Martin Luther. The verses are from the Rev. John Mason Neale, an Anglican scholar.

"Silent Night" is one of the most known and loved carols in America today. It was first sung on a Christmas midnight 143 years ago at St. Nicholas Church in the snow-covered Austrian Alps. Father Joseph Mohr wrote the words after distributing food and clothing to the needy in his Oberndorf parish, and Franz Gruber, a schoolmaster, picked out the melody on a guitar.

"I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day" is an American carol. "America has known few darker days than those before Christmas, 1863. The bitter battles of Gettysburg and Vicksburg had been fought, and hopes for early settlement of the conflict were faint. Henry Wadsworth Longfellow was profoundly moved as he thought of the birth of the Prince of Peace. He wrote, 'And in despair I bowed my head: There is no peace on earth,' I said . . . Then pealed the bells more loud and deep: 'God is not dead; nor doth He sleep!' Perhaps this is something for the troubled world of today."

Christmas Assembly To Present Scenes Of Winter Day At Pokagon State Park

Choir, Dance Bands To Present Musical In Fireplace Setting

A winter scene at Pokagon State Park is the setting for the Christmas Assembly on Wednesday at 8:30 a.m. in the gymnasium.

"Although the main theme is not going to be revealed until the morning of the assembly, I can say that the assembly will simply represent a joyous Christmas," stated Sue Phillips, program chairman.

Dance ensembles will perform this year, background music will be provided by the brass choir for a dance interpretation of the "Littlest Angel" by Marla Habecker. Ann Mol, Julie Rhinehart, and Ruth Russ will also perform with Martha Dixon as their leader.

A small group of concert choir members will sing carols around the fireplace in the main lodge. Nancy Redding, Nancy Stewart, and Patty North will portray chipmunks and rabbits around the outdoor pond. Highlighting the outdoor scene will be the appearance of Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer.

VARIOUS STAGECRAFT committees have been appointed by Sue Bumgardner, chairman of stagecraft. Props such as logs, trees, and benches are being constructed by a committee headed by Nancy Robinson. This group is Gaynell Musser, Jackie Kuhns, Carol Shedron, Annell Hoover, Sally Gilbert, and Sherry Powell.

Joyce Cossairt, Brenda Arnold, Carolyn Burns, Bonnie Halubetz, Wanda Ripple, Janet Deihl, and Nancy O'Hearn are building a pond for the center of the gymnasium under the direction of Judi Hollister.

Marsha Hughes, Cindy Russell, Nancy Loughheed, Ann Henderson, Loretta Grider, and Patti Drake are working on a backdrop for the brass choir. Sue Klahen serves as chairman for this committee.

A BOX IS BEING constructed by Betsy Adams' committee composed of Ann Gallmeyer, Nancy Sprunger, Cheryl Lee, Cindy Jackson, Mary Beaudway, Kitty Fay, and Kathy DeVore, but its purpose will not be revealed.

A brick fireplace will be made by Jane Reiff, Marti Morell, Peggy Brase, Ann Arnold, Julie Breidenstein, and Ellen Stanbery. This committee is under the supervision of Linda Siebel.

Jane Augspurger's committee is working on fill-in decorations. Those helping her are Janis Sprunger, Leanna Morris, Patty Somers, Beth Burnett, Beth Bradford, and Cindy Snider.

JUDY ROGERS, Becky Harsh, Sharon Stettner, Louise Brown, Sally Adams, Schella Reynolds, and Karen Ashe are making costumes for the assembly. Their chairman is Susan Hines.

Lodge walls are being constructed by Dave Tipton's committee which includes Terry Hoff, Stan Moreo, Dave Eaton, and Kerry Nedlinger.

The well-known Pokagon toboggan slide is being made by Kay Gall's committee. This group is composed of Judi Smith, Mary Arnold, Sharon Snyder, Diane McClure, Tom Heathman, and Ann Mol.

Jane Knettle, Sally Bash, Kay Bradley, Jean Hatfield, Elaine Edwards, Sue Moyer, and Patsie Dorton are assisting chairman Elaine Cole in making snow for the outdoor scene.

Achievers Choose Junior Mike Levy As Vice-President

Mike Levy, junior, has been elected vice-president of Achievers' Association which has control over all of the Junior Achievement companies. Other officers are Tom Cripe of Elmhurst, president; Suzy Schwartz of Concordia, secretary; and Garnett Roberts of North Side, treasurer.

Projects which the officers are planning for the month of December include sponsoring a party for the children at the Westside Neighborhood House and helping two underprivileged families through the services of the Christmas Bureau.

The elected presidents of J.A. companies are Best-Co, Judy Miller; Gen-El-Co, Bonnie Summersett; Kater-Ko, Joanne Farrell; Penhoco, Jim Nash; Novelteen, Dave Kinne; Tri-R's, Becky Agner; Mendaco, Tom Jenkins; Soy-Pro-Co, Marjorie Bloom of South; J.A. Bank, Ed Strautschi; Pro-Gres-Co, Jim Trulock of South; Maja Enterprise, Larry Arnold; Art-Co, John Gressly; Wandico, Dennis Cook of South; Kitch-Kraft, Ron Walden; Pol-E-Co, John Waldrop; Sta-Chum-Er-Co, Toby Hatch; Kras-King, Jim Ottenweller; Dew-Mores, Ed Coble; Meg-A-Noise, Dave Fleming of South; Playboy Enterprise, Jim Anglin; Insto-Flame, Roger Smith; Kandi-Ko, Jesse Alvarez, Non-Ferrous Fabricated, Karen Seibert; Dor-Mat-Co, Mike Levy of South; and Marbow Products, Mike Heminger.

Thirty Orators Prepare For County Competition

Thirty South Side students, sponsored by Mr. Robert Storey, speech teacher, will attend a county speech meet at North Side tomorrow.

Many of the high schools and several junior high schools will be represented at the meet. They will be competing in dramatic, humorous, extemporaneous speaking, original oratory, oratorical interpretation, and poetry.

Last year at the North Side Speech Meet, South's orators won first place.

Students To Donate Canned Foods In Annual Drive Monday, Tuesday

Henry Persons Serves School At Rotary Club

Selected as South Side's Junior Rotarian for the month of December, Henry Persons, senior B, is attending the meetings of the Fort Wayne Rotary Club every Monday. Henry meets, and talks, with the members and representatives from other Fort Wayne schools and listens to speeches.

The purpose in having Junior Rotarians is to acquaint the students with the principals of the organization and to encourage them to join when they become businessmen of the community. The club is educational and international in scope. Membership in the club is comprised of not more than two men from each classification of business. The club itself is actually a service club originally organized to promote better business relationships.

"I was pleased to be selected from all the capable boys for this great honor," said Henry upon being appointed by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal.

Henry is a member of the Letterman's Club and is also an active member of Pilgrim Fellowship of Plymouth Congregational Church. His hobby is sports participation. This semester he played on South's football team.

He plans a college education in business administration and hopes to plan his career around selling.

Henry Persons

Daughters To Give Christmas Formal

Members of Job's Daughters will have their Christmas party next Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Masonic Temple. Gifts will be placed under the Christmas tree, and each member will donate canned food to fill up the food basket which is collected annually for the needy.

On December 22, the recently elected officers will be installed. The officers to be installed from South Side are Diane Simmers, honored queen, and Ellen Stanbery, senior princess. The next event will be the DeMolay-Job's Daughters White Christmas Formal, with the "Moonlight Mist" theme, on December 27 at the Scottish Rite Auditorium. At the dance the identity of the DeMolay Fort Wayne Chapter Sweetheart, who was elected on Wednesday, will be divulged. Brenda Dull, senior, was South Side's candidate.

Decorations for the dance will include a forest of trees with one large tree in the middle surrounded by stuffed animals of the forest. Behind the band will be a backdrop of the sky, moon, and stars. Music will be provided by the Woody Neff Band, and at the door refreshments and favors will be presented.

Those attending must be guests of a member of Job's Daughters or DeMolay.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

The South Side Times

SEASON'S GREETINGS from Woody's Shoe Repairing, Inc. 1012 S. Calhoun EXPERT SHOE REPAIRING Specializing in Dyeing and Tinting—Refinishing A-0788 Woodrow (Woody) Sullivan Manager 1311 E. Lewis St.

Beaver Beauty Salon

1112 Home Avenue

H-3363

MARTHA BUTLER, Owner and Operator Norma Humbert, Operator Linda Thomas, Operator

Lettermen Club To Give Items To City Bureau

Area Families To Gain At Least 200 Products From Each Homeroom

Conducting the eighth annual food drive for the Christmas Bureau Monday and Tuesday, the Lettermen's Club has set goals of 200 cans in each homeroom.

Canned foodstuffs will be collected from the homerooms in Room 118 by the lettermen. A letterman will speak in each homeroom today to explain the purposes and goals of the drive.

A CHRISTMAS BUREAU representative will speak to the student body over the public address system. Suggestions include baby foods, canned meats, hot cereals, instant coffee, and cocoa since these items are used easily and extensively.

In front center hall a chart will show the day-to-day status of each homeroom as well as each class. It is the purpose of the chart to stimulate competition among these groups.

Directing the drive are Lettermen's officers, Mark Hagerman, president; Ken Leakey, vice-president; Don Sievert, secretary-treasurer; and Dave Meek, sergeant-at-arms; and Mr. Richard Ober, science instructor, is sponsor.

LETTERMEN WILL lead the drive by door-to-door collections. Other students may also go on door-to-door campaigns to raise their homeroom totals. Some homerooms may wish to collect money from their students and purchase large quantities of canned foods at a supermarket.

Last year the Lettermen's Club was able to donate 19,628 cans of food to the Christmas Bureau to be distributed to the needy people of Fort Wayne. Homeroom 52 led the competition with 1,271 cans, Homeroom 4 was second with 1,267 cans, and Homeroom 2 was third with 727 cans.

The seniors captured the inter-class competition; juniors were second; and the third and fourth places went to the sophomores and freshmen, respectively.

A Christmas Prayer

I salute you. There is nothing I can give you which you have not; but there is much that, while I cannot give you, you can take.

No heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in it today. Take Heaven...

No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in the present. Take Peace...

The gloom of the world is but a shadow; behind it, yet within our reach is joy. Take Joy...

And so at this Christmas time I greet you, with the prayer that for you, now and forever, the day may break and shadows flee away.

Via Clermont, 1513 A.D.

Bonnie Bee Beauty Salon

3803 1/2 S. Calhoun K-1675

COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE

Evenings and By Appointment

Did You Know

Bob Camp

Eats at Ab's?

Ab's Drive-In

Clinton and Rudisill

11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

THE GAS COMPANY

NORTHERN INDIANA PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

serving today...building for the future

ROEHM

MARINE SERVICE

Your South Side JOHNSON Dealer 4392 Bluffton Road Telephone Sherwood 3203

Oxford Hardware

Housewares—Gifts—Paint General Hardware

1508 Oxford St.

H-3146

Library Obtains New Volumes About Spanish Land, Customs

BOOK WORMS . . . Vance Penland, Kent King, Kathleen Petty, and Lee McClymonds, left to right, make use of the facilities available in the school library to prepare their class assignments. Students may study in the library before school, after school, and during their study periods.—Photo by Seaman

Among new books in the school library are five volumes for Spanish students. They are "The Emerald Lizard," "The Land and People of Argentina," "The Land and People of Brazil," "The Land and People of Spain," and "Social Change in Latin America Today."

The book, "The Land and People of Spain," tells of Spain's history including facts about the Iberians, Greeks, Carthaginians, Alts, Goths, and Moors. The book tells of the rich cultural life of Spain, her poets, painters, bullfighters, dancers, and gypsies. The days of Spain's overseas empire are portrayed also.

Three of the outstanding books, according to Miss Willodeen Price, librarian, are "The Sound of Music," "Seven Miles Down," and "The Coming of the New Deal."

"The Sound of Music," a musical, is based on the Trapp family, who fled Austria after Hitler took over, and came to America. Here the nearly penniless Trapps won renown by converting a family hobby—group singing—into a professional career.

"Seven Miles Down" is a story of the history that was made when the bathyscaphe "Trieste" carried Jacques Piccard and Lieutenant Don Walsh of the U.S. Navy to the bottom of the Pacific off Guam. This book is a complete story of the invention and development of the bathyscaphe.

"The Coming of the New Deal" tells of the assault of the American government and people on the great depression during the years of Franklin D. Roosevelt's first term in the White House. Then the book follows the reform and recovery efforts of the New Deal in industry, in agriculture, in finance, in conservation, in labor, and in relief.

Other new books are "The Crisis of the Old Order," "The Theater," "The Play's the Thing," "The Supreme Court," "Aku-Aku," "The Dean's Watch," "Star Surgeon," "The Making of the President 1960," "The Arts of Reading," and "The Horses of the Sun."

General George Clark Conquers British To Obtain Allen County

Geronimo! What has that fierce warrior to do with Fort Wayne? Strangely enough, the rebellious Indian Geronimo is probably more widely known in this city than his capturer, Major General Henry Ware Lawton, who claimed Fort Wayne as his residence. Lawton's whole military career was given little prominence, even though he rose to be second in command of the United States.

Lawton was born in 1843 in Manhattan, O., now part of Toledo. His father, George Lawton, was a millwright and came to Fort Wayne to work on the Edsall Mill. His family's home was located on the bank of the St. Mary's River, south of the site of the Main Street Bridge.

AT THE AGE OF 13, he entered the Fort Wayne Methodist Episcopal College, a preparatory school, which later became Taylor University. Henry was also a member of the Wide-Awakes, a marching club. Another drill group, the Zouaves, was organized at his school. This background developed Lawton's military inclinations.

Having passed his eighteenth birthday just before the outbreak of the Civil War, Henry ended his schooling to become a volunteer in Captain W. P. Segur's company. Immediately he was made a sergeant who showed his ability by studying difficult tactical questions.

In the first major battle with Confederate General Robert Garnett's troops, Lawton was so eager to fight that he didn't wait for the signal and was ordered to the guardhouse. After persuasive talking, Lawton and his cohorts were released, but Lawton continued to believe that his place during battle was in the front lines.

His three-month term having expired, Lawton re-enlisted with Captain O. D. Hurd at Fort Wayne. In this outfit, he went from drill sergeant to lieutenant colonel, winning respect and honor by his presence of mind in war.

After the Civil War, Henry was commissioned to put an end to Indian raids in the Southwest. By pursuing Geronimo and his band of marauders, Lawton and his men forced the notorious Indian's surrender at San Carlos in 1887.

DOWNTOWN & NORTHCREST

A Gift that is sure to please

Young Men's TAPERED SPORT SHIRTS

by Arrow McGregor and Shapely

A wide variety of colors and patterns . . . including stripes, neat patterns and solid shades. Button-down collars in "pop-over" or button front styles.

$5.00

Others $4.00 and $5.95

WHEN THE SPANISH-American War began in 1898, Lawton went to South America under the leadership of William McKee. It was there that he was killed in battle, not actually fighting, but walking through the lines.

His death was mourned throughout the country, yet in his home town he was not remembered publicly until October 22, 1921, by a monument in Lakeside Park.

Lawton's motto during his life was "Palmas qui meruit, ferat," "Let him who merits bear the palm."

Davis Beauty Salon

Tom and Marilyn Davis
Carmen Silvius

Styling • Permanent
Waving

4039 S. Wayne K-9824

OXLEY TYPEWRITER & OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

"We carry all makes of portable typewriters" Sold on the rental payment plan.
See Us Before You Buy And Buy Where You Get Service
Proprietors: E. A. NELSON — B. M. NELSON
126-28 E. Wayne St. E-1040—E-1049

Vivian's at the Frances Shop

118 W. Wayne E-4607

Holiday Special—Permanent Waves

25.00	now 12.50
35.00	now 17.50

Open Wed. and Fri. Evenings Till 8:45 p.m.
for Your Convenience

Musical Quintet To Play Medley For Quiz Show

The woodwind quintet, including Sally Boyer, flute; Tom McMahan, French horn; Dave Flanigan, clarinet; Jim McMahan, oboe; and Nancy Stauffer, bassoon, will represent South Side on the Hi-Quiz Christmas program December 24 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on WANE-TV.

The quintet will present in the video-taped program a medley of well-known Christmas carols arranged by Mr. Richard Hickman, who adapts written music to various instruments. The woodwind quintet organized in October and has performed in a music assembly and the Sophomore Tea.

From North Side, the A Cappella Choir of seventy students will perform. The Chansonettes, nine girls from the A Cappella Choir, will sing "Away in a Manger" and "Lullabye of Bells."

THE TRIPLE TRIO, composed of nine boys from North's choir, will sing "Drummer Boy." The Madrigal, consisting of 12 boys from the choir, will sing "Song of Judea."

The entire choir will sing "Twas the Night Before Christmas," "Jingle Bells," "Winter Wonderland," and "Hodie Christmas." The story "Twas the Night Before Christmas" will be portrayed by a student and two small children while the choir sings the song.

Central High School will be represented by the Harmonettes, a girls' quartet. The four participants in this quartet are Michelle Cook, Roberta Cook, Marlene Stetzer, and Carol Garard. They will sing a special arrangement of "Silver Bells."

The girls have been singing together for over a month and have performed six times. The girls sing corsettes style, and they will also later perform with a larger group called the Centralettes.

BISHOP LUERS HIGH School will be represented by Beverly Knight, a piano soloist. From Concordia High School, the Blazers Octet, composed of eight boys, will sing.

A dance band made up of 18 members, 14 boys and four girls, will perform for Central Catholic High School. Leah Swaltney will represent Elmhurst High School by singing "The Twelve Days of Christmas."

Also performing on the program will be the Brass Choir from Concordia Senior College.

12B David Flanigan Plays Organ, Piano, Composes Melodies

Strains of saxophone music are heard. A curious investigation follows; the music is found to be radiating from the instrument of David Flanigan, senior B.

But the saxophone is not the only instrument this versatile Archer plays. He performs equally as well at the piano, organ, and clarinet. Music enters into Dave's busy curriculum in several varied ways. At school, he participates actively in band and orchestra, maintaining the important position of first-chair clarinet in both groups.

IN ADDITION, HE was recently seen in the Thanksgiving Assembly, where he joined four other boys to form a jazz combo. Dave composes and arranges music of his own. The jazz that the combo played in the assembly was arranged by Dave. This arranging of musical pieces provides him with interesting diversion in melody and tune.

Outside of school, Dave can frequently be found providing music for dances, which is good practice for the combo and acquaints them with performing for an audience. Also, Dave is the organist at the First Baptist Church and often at Simpson Methodist Church.

His musical interests, especially in jazz, are shown by his extensive record collection, which features many records of Count Basie, whom Dave enjoys greatly.

ASIDE FROM BAND, Dave is a copyreader and news writer on the Times, assistant faculty editor of the Totem, a member of the Junior Academy of Science, the Boys' Rifle Club, Hi-Y, Assemblies Workshop, and MYF, a youth group at Simpson Methodist Church.

Shampoo and Set with Young Lady Stylists
2.00

Shampoo and Set with Advanced Male Stylists
2.75

YMCA Swimmers To Compete In Meets In Three-State Area

Scheduled swim meets in which the YMCA swim team will participate have been announced by Mr. Joe Baclawski, YMCA swim coach.

Westwood Country Club in Indianapolis was the scene of the first event last Saturday and Sunday. For two days, team members competed to select Indiana's best all-around swimmer in each age group.

Team members will also participate for the first time in the Oak Park Invitational age group meet in Oak Park, Ill., on January 6 and 7, 1962. On January 13 and 14 boys 15 years of age or older will display their abilities at the Riviera Club in Indianapolis.

Boys of all ages will travel to LaFollette Park, Chicago, to race for the championship in an invitational swim meet. Winners will be chosen in each age group. YMCA girls will be received at the girls invitational age group meet on February 3 and 4.

MISHAWAKA WILL play host to swimmers participating in the 1962 northern invitational age group meet on February 17 and 18. Boys 16 years of age and over will compete in a special division limited to older boys. Swimmers will vie in the Glass City, Toledo, O., meet to try for the

Color Choice Tells Emotions Of People

Does the American public have good taste in color? This frequently asked question would bring a smile to any student in semantics. What are the references? What is the definition of taste?

Over many years, and due chiefly to a steady rise in the American standard of living, color has come to its own. The nation is no longer merely color-conscious; it has become almost completely color-minded.

People are discriminating, showing excellent taste, and striving for an individuality which they seldom achieve. In dress they have short-lived likes and dislikes, worrying more about the cut of a material than its wearing qualities.

They are extremely conscious of color co-ordination and harmony. Using the head rather than the heart, they will buy apparel for the sake of vogue.

IN HOME DECORATION, the high-fashion market is one that follows advanced trends. Everything purchased must fit in with a well-ordered ensemble. Products must match or at least blend accordingly. Choice here is dictated not so much by emotional impulses, but rather by conventions established by magazines, interior decorators, department stores, and makers of more costly merchandise. High-fashion buyers are literate and well-tutored in what goes on in a changing world, and sufficiently financed to ride high on new tides.

Color trends exist for the simple reason that people seldom purchase the same color twice. What they prefer in one year or period will later be avoided. This is because color offers a lot of emotional enjoyment to the masses, and a desire for change in color is as natural as a desire to see different movies or shows or to travel to strange places.

Human appreciation for design and form is likely to be more mental, whereas reaction to color may be more in the realm of the emotional. In other words, markets and people can be "educated" to change and will "warm up" to new products once such products become familiar. With color, however, reason is less significant than feeling, for color somehow strikes inner chords and is accepted or rejected more on impulse than on deliberation.

Creative persons are likely to have the view that the public is not getting what it wants. There is too much garishness, too much conventionality. Further, existing sales records may not mean much because they are by no means a measure of what the people have been denied. How can a new color be condemned when it hasn't even been seen?

EVEN WHEN THE public has a chance to gratify almost any color, it seldom will. There is always a tendency for a certain few colors to be favored over all others. Economically, too much stress on color variety may end in little more than waste and extravagance. If less popular colors are costly to sell, why should they be permitted to cancel the profits on the more acceptable items?

There is a certain amount of vanity among creative persons which leads them to assume that average taste is vulgar and that sophisticated taste is good. The public's taste in color is good for the mere reason that it is honest and unassuming. They cannot express their taste; someone of talent must accomplish this for them.

The responsibility of the designer, perhaps, is not too much to force his preferences on the masses but to take a more democratic interest in that which will inspire all men. The satisfaction of the masses is to be an exciting effort, for where color attains big volume one may rest assured that a lot of people have been made happier.

championship on March 17 and 18. Members of all ages will contest in the same division, and separate awards for the different age groups will not be given.

YMCA swim team members will race for the prize again on March 24 and 25 at the Hillsdale, Ill., open age group competition. Indiana swimmers and those in other states near Lake Erie will contest in an open age group meet at Lakewood, O., on April 14 and 15.

YMCAers will be guests of Berea, O., High School for the Berea Relays on May 6. Concluding the season will be an open age group distance swim at Indiana University, Bloomington, Ind., on May 19.

SOUTH SIDERS WHO are participating on the YMCA swim team are Dick Goshorn, Bill Griffith, and Berry Winn. These boys practice their swimming techniques Monday through Saturday between 5:45 and 7 a.m. and on Sunday afternoons. They swim approximately a mile each day. Students of any age, both boys and girls, who are interested in becoming members of the YMCA swim team should consult Mr. Baclawski.

The YMCA also offers classes for high school students in beginning and advanced swimming and free periods of recreational swimming. Classes in beginning and advanced swimming techniques are conducted on Monday and Thursday between 7 and 8 p.m.

Free swim sessions in which any YMCA member can participate are on Thursdays between 8 and 8:30 p.m. Membership in the YMCA costs $13.50 for high school students.

List Of 226 Phobias Includes Strangers, Stars, Ocean, Eating

Persons who suffer from phobias, aversions toward a particular object, may be happy to learn that others have the same problem. A list of 226 phobias has been compiled by one enterprising doctor. The list starts with ailurophobia, a morbid fear of cats, and ends with xenophobia, a fear of strangers or foreigners.

Chinophobia need not worry anyone for a few weeks yet, because chinophobia is the fear of snow. Almost everyone has heard of claustrophobia, the fear of being closed in. However, one would be amazed at the other unusual fears and their technical names.

Opposites in phobias are evident in some cases. While some people suffer from achluophobia, the fear of darkness; others suffer from photophobia, fear of light. One may fear objects on the right side of the body, dextrophobia, or objects on the left side of the body, lefthophobia.

TEENAGE STUDENTS may suffer from phronemophobia, hypengyophobia, and graphophobia; the fear of writing, responsibility, and thinking, respectively. Because of the ramps, South Side students need not worry about climacophobia, fear of staircases.

Moving phobias affect some people. Gephyrophobia, the fear of crossing bridges; kathisophobia, the fear of sitting down; stasisophobia, the fear of walking or standing; and siderodromophobia, the fear of railroad traveling are examples.

The reason that someone may not like another person may be blamed on erythiophobia. This only occurs if the person constantly wears red, because erythiophobia is the fear of red.

AN ASTRONOMER is doomed if he suffers from astrophobia, the fear of stars. A young person who sits at home alone all the time may be suffering from cherophobia, the fear of gaiety. Thalassophobia, the fear of the ocean, may have kept many men from becoming sailors.

A fat man at the circus does not suffer from sitophobia, for this is the fear of eating. The movie stars do not suffer from scopophobia, the fear of being seen.

Of all the rare and unpronounceable phobias, perhaps the worst would be phonophobia and pantophobia, the fear of one's own voice and the fear of everything.

Adolph's Auto Service

4220 South Clinton H-4152

Cole Realty Co.

OFFICE H-4107, H-4108

"Always Deal With a Realtor"
Service With You in Mind!

Multiple Listing Member of Trade-In Corp.

Romane Cole Res. H-2752

Old Books
111 CALHOUN STREET

If you want a book,
any book...
...ask us about it.

Gwen Welling, Andy Christon Earn Certificates For Essays

ESSAY ENTRANTS . . . Gwen Welling and Andy Christon watch while their essays "go to press" in the National Anthology Magazine. Their compositions were selected to be used from those submitted in the National Essay Contest, which was conducted at South Side.—Photo by Lowden

Sophomores Andy Christon and Gwen Welling have won certificates for their essays which were entered in the National Essay Contest. The essays, among four submitted from South Side, will appear in the annual "Essay Anthology," which is compiled on a regional basis encompassing several states.

Andy and Gwen, students in Miss Helen Burr's English 4 class sixth period, wrote the essays in compliance with a class assignment. They are the first students from South Side to have material win in the contest.

The rules of the yearly contest are: the essays are limited to 150 words or less; students in grades seven through 12 are eligible; the essays may be written on any subject and in any style and must be as a part of a class assignment or approved by an English teacher in the school.

Gwen's essay is not available; however, the following is Andy's essay:

'The Faltering Eagle'

National patriotism is dangerously lacking in America today. The world is in a precarious position, vulnerable to the conquests of Communism. Though Communism threatens our very existence, everyday Americans are too concerned with filling their pocketbooks to worry about someone

Park Board Plans Christmas Carnival

Shoaff Day Camp, sponsored by the City Park Board, provides excellent recreational programs for children, ages nine through the late teens. One of these groups, Counselors In Training, the CITs, is preparing for a fund-raised season.

On December 27, the River Lodge at Shoaff Park will be the scene of a post-Christmas dance. Mike Zehender, vice-chairman, is helping to plan the gala affair. The building will be gaily decorated, and records will provide dancing music. No definite theme has been chosen.

The Junior Leaders, Senior Leaders, and CITs are invited to attend a Carnival for Curis and Crews at Franke Park on December 29. The Junior Guards and students from McCulloch Recreation Center are also planning to be present at the event.

Festivities begin at 9:30 a.m. Boys and girls will have single sled races for distance, single ski races, and toboggan races, snow sculpturing, an ice skating derby, and other outdoor activities. During the noon hour, dancing will be enjoyed in Pavilion Number One.

A carnival king and queen will be chosen and crowned and this royal pair will reign at the annual burning of the greens on the twelfth day after Christmas. The couple will also preside at the ice skating derby.

There is no charge for this carnival. Participants are asked to bring their own lunches.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

CRESTWOOD

another outstanding community by Shirmeyer

Here is one of Fort Wayne's best located subdivisions . . . within the city limits, close to everything. Located only two minutes north of Northcrest Shopping Center on Highway 427, Crestwood is a delightful community of happy home owners . . . where friendship is found behind every door. Visit Crestwood soon.

8 MODEL HOMES OPEN
DAILY IN CRESTWOOD

Puck Replaces Basketball
Komets Coach Park Board Youth,
Suggest More Practices, Facilities

NO ICE, NO HOCKEY . . . Further emphasizing the need for more and better ice rinks in Fort Wayne are hockey players from the Fort Wayne Komets and the Park Board Hockey League. Seated left to right are Bill Whitmer, Bruins; Dave Richardson, Komets winger; Johnny Goodwin, Komets winger; and Bill Cupp, Red Wings. Standing are Mike Seaman, Rangers; and Stan Alfeld, Bruins. The scheduled game at McMillen Park was cancelled because of rain and warm weather, so the players had to pack their gear and return home. Komets hockey players coach the 14 teams in the league, which is rapidly improving.—Photo by Jones

By Sandy Thorn

For years "Hoosier Hysteria," commonly called basketball, has ruled the sports-minded youngsters of Indiana; but in recent years, a small rubber disc has caused a sensation. Ice hockey is developing in Fort Wayne, and it seems to be spreading all over the country. The Fort Wayne Komets started the trend ten years ago when they entered the International Hockey League, and now the Park Board Hockey League is well-organized.

After hockey interest developed with youngsters, boys would play out in the streets when there was ice. Desiring better facilities, more competition, and coaching, they joined the Park Board Hockey League, which has now developed into a 14-team organization divided into three divisions. Players are separated, according to their age, into either the bantam, midjet, or juvenile division.

This year, as in the past, Fort Wayne Komets players coach the teams. The players coach whenever their schedules permit; for example, the team might be playing out of town when the Park Board plays. Bantam coaches meet with their players on Saturdays at McMillen Park; and midjet and juvenile teams play on Monday nights. Also, some of the games are scheduled for the Coliseum as preliminary action before the Komets take the ice.

UNFORTUNATELY, inclement weather also plays a part in the success and schedule of the League. With McMillen Park being the only city ice rink used for hockey play, the games are played only when the weather is decent. When it rains or the weather is too warm for ice, the games are cancelled. This usually means that the players must postpone their game, possibly until the next week.

When interviewed, Komets players named this as the greatest fault of the League. They contended that the players must skate and practice more often to keep in shape and to develop into good hockey players.

Komets captain Eddie Long said, "I think the Park Board Hockey League will expand in the years to come, but Fort Wayne will need another ice rink like McMillen to accommodate all of the players." Eddie commended the Park Board for a wonderful job as well as Mel Foster, Jim Ramage, and Harry Grabner, other Fort Wayne men who organized the League. Eddie further said that if a Fort Wayne player were ever to make the Komets, he would definitely need more ice time, as skating is the essential thing in hockey.

Insufficient ice time also makes it impossible for the coaches to teach many techniques. Bert Aikens, Komets defenseman, said, "Unfortunately, due to the lack of sufficient ice time, proper techniques are not thoroughly taught. With players so young, they are pretty much left alone to develop their own styles of hockey; some players are naturally defensive players, others are naturally offensive."

Bert, a native of Winnipeg, Canada, said that there are many natural outdoor rinks in Canada and thus, he started playing in a park board league when he was nine years old. Bert recommends that players join an organized league because "the good, clean fun gotten out of such a league far outweighs any risk involved."

BARRY JAKEMAN, Komets winger, said that he started playing hockey when he was eight years old, but he observed, "I have played on such a team in Canada, but the competition wasn't quite as good."

Hockey leagues are similarly organized in Canada. Pierre Gagne, rookie winger, said, "In Canada, the youngsters play organized hockey at the age of seven. They have three age groups—the pee-wees, minor bantam, and bantams. Ages range from seven to fourteen. Then they have the mid-jets and juvenile similar to what Fort Wayne has here."

Reg Primeau, veteran centerman, noted that other American cities in which he has played did not have the minor league setup that Fort Wayne presently has.

Komets veteran centerman Len Thomson has coached for three seasons, beginning in 1958. He said, "We all started in the same manner, except we had more ice surfaces to skate on and possibly for a longer period. I recommend that the players skate as much as possible and practice a lot."

Goalie Reno Zanier said, "I don't think the organization needs improving; I think it is doing a wonderful job. The only thing I think should be done is to get more ice time for the teams. The kids will never develop into good hockey players by getting on the ice only once a week."

Reno continued, "I think the League in general is in good shape. The League is just starting, I think it's only four or five years old, and it takes time. I think the strong point is that they have good executives who are willing to work. The teams are very balanced which makes for better games and a better league."

AS MOST OF THE PLAYERS suggested, skating must be emphasized. Rookie defenseman Gary Young said, "With kids this age, I stress that they should do all of the skating they possibly can in their spare time. I also stress playing positional hockey and carrying the puck with their head erect."

All Komets players played on such a team when they were in Canada. Lionel Repka, veteran defenseman, said, "I have played organized hockey since I was ten years old. We played about three times as many games as the boys do here. That is because we have colder weather and have many outdoor rinks in which to practice. A Canadian city the size of Fort Wayne would probably have about twenty outdoor rinks."

Lionel further suggested, "The boys playing hockey should wear hockey skates or tube skates and not figure skates which a large majority of the boys wear. They should skate whenever they have the opportunity, such as at public skating sessions or on the ponds."

Ron Baryluk, winger playing his second season with the Komets, said, "In Canada, we are much more fortunate in rink facilities. One has the opportunity of playing shinny (scramble hockey as one is developing at a young age into an individual), then elementary school hockey (under 12 years of age), bantam, midjet, juvenile, junior, senior, and professional. Most players have played to the junior stage. Where one is playing after junior age, 20, depends on his skill."

Ron suggested, "A low-rate skate sharpener installed at McMillen Park

Park Board Basketball League
Serves Boys As Energy Outlet

Serving as an energy outlet and a fine recreational program for the teenage members of Fort Wayne is the City Park Board Basketball League. Coupled with the many other individual leagues throughout Fort Wayne, the Park Board basketball league offers all boys a chance to play well-officiated basketball.

Recognizing the need for a league of this sort after World War II, the Fort Wayne Park Board set up a limited weekly program of basketball games. This league is, of course, tax-supported through the vast system of playgrounds operated by the group.

It is now under the direction of Mr. Bill Sweat, and the league is entering its fifteenth year of successful operation. Mr. Sweat is directly under Mr. Harry Grabner of the City Park Board Recreation Division.

Due to increased interest among the boys of the city, the league has expanded to include nine neighborhood centers this year. Located in elementary and junior high schools, these centers serve as practice areas and organizational units for the various teams.

The gyms now being used include those at Indian Village, Adams, Price, Waynedale, Hanna, Hoagland, Bloomington, and Southern Heights public schools. McCulloch Center is also in use as a gym.

DURING THE WEEK, practice sessions are set aside at each gym and open shooting periods are allowed so the boys may sharpen up before their weekly games.

This season the regular league games for the senior divisions are each Wednesday evening at the St. Paul's Lutheran School Gym. These games are carefully officiated by men who are often regular referees for Indiana high school contests.

The games run the regular 32-minute length, with four eight minute quarters and a reduced half-time period. All games are played under the same rules that govern Indiana high school basketball play.

The League is organized with two divisions, a junior and a senior. The junior division covers all boys to 15 years of age, while the senior division includes all boys up to 18 years old. Each center carries an official roster of ten men for each team, making a total of about one hundred eighty participants in the league each fall and winter.

The league play begins about November first and lasts until Sectionals begin. This season includes eight regular games and a post-season single-elimination tournament open to all teams regardless of their season record.

AWARDS ARE MADE following the tournament to the winning team in the form of medals. The winning center receives a traveling trophy which they are allowed to keep for one year. This trophy becomes a permanent award if the center's team wins it three years in succession.

Though the regulations regarding the particular center that the boys play for are not iron-clad, the league prefers and encourages each boy to represent the center nearest his own home.

Looked upon by some people as second rate league with little standing, this is one thing the Park League is not. Many well-played and highly competitive games are played, and many players are either ex-high school team players or are bound to be in the near future.

Thus, even though lacking the team organization and set plays of more carefully coached high school squads, these Park League boys turn in performances that often rival those of lesser and smaller high schools in the state.

Boys from South Side taking part in the league are Evert Mol, Dave Tyner, Dave Haslup, Gary Tinkel, Bob Martin, Rick Burton, Steve Cook, Steve Guard, Al Schlie, Rich Clark, and Shelly Shera.

Seven 'Promising' Sophomores
Compose Reserve Aggregation

"Prospects for the all-sophomore reserve basketball team are favorable for the coming year," stated Mr. Charles Holt, coach. He added, "Judging from early indications, there are seven players who will be spending much time on the court."

These include Dave Banet, a good rebounder from his forward spot. An average shooter, Dave needs work on ball-handling.

Jim Barker, also a forward, maintains a fine jump shot. He is a little slow foot, but a good rebounder.

Mike Files, another forward, is a fine jumper. His best shot is a jump shot, and he runs well.

Howard Lowden, center for the team, is a good close shooter, who also rebounds well.

Ted Rolf will be vying for the top spot among the guards, being the fastest, best driver on the team. Although only a fair shooter, his defensive work makes up for it. Dick Robinson, a guard, needs practice on his footwork; he is an average shooter.

Bob Williams, another guard, is the team's best outside shooter; he also exhibits good speed. Coach Holt said that this team is larger than the average South Side reserve aggregation but is not as fast.

He also pointed out that at this stage, the boys could improve on shooting and defense. The team ranges in height from 5-1 Ricky Meeks to 6-2 Dale Engle. Coach Holt expects his team to finish with a record of "over .500."

Following are the members of the reserve squad.

Name	Height
Dave Banet	6-0
Jim Barker	6-1
Jerry Clark	5-8
Mark Close	6-1
Greg Dunnuck	6-1
Dale Engle	6-2
Mike Files	5-10
Steve Graves	6-0
Bill Hanke	6-1
Howard Lowden	6-1
Ricky Meeks	5-1
Dick Robinson	5-9
Ted Rolf	5-6
Bob Williams	5-6
Ken Ellingwood	5-11

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto
& Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Energetic 11B Ken Ellingwood
Enjoys Track, Cross Country

One of the most active boys of the sophomore class this year is Kenny Ellingwood. Aiding the cross country team this year as it gained the right to run at the state meet in Indianapolis, Kenny was one of the leading runners on the varsity team. During the season he won first-place honors at more than five different cross country meets. "Running four or five miles each night really gets one in condition for the big meets," Kenny stated.

Ken Ellingwood

Kenny is planning on being on the cross country team again next year. He remarked, "We should have an excellent team again next year considering we will lose only one senior, Jim Burton, by graduation."

Even though Kenny enjoys cross country a great deal, he feels track is his favorite sport. He was on the freshman track team last year and is planning on going out for this sport again next spring.

BEFORE COMING TO South Side, Kenny attended Emmaus Lutheran

Grade School. This is a comparatively small school with only three hundred students. Kenny feels that small schools are better than big schools because a pupil gets to personally know many different people.

Even though South Side is quite a contrast to his former school, Ken likes it more and more each day. He feels that the students and teachers are extremely friendly, there are a variety of sports, and South has high academic standards.

Ken has two brothers and two sisters. "We all get along pretty well and have lots of fun together," he states. Jim Ellingwood, junior, is Ken's older brother. Ken said, "It really helps to have an older brother at South. I find our situation to be very helpful and convenient on many occasions."

GEOMETRY, TAUGHT by Mrs. Mildred Luse, is Kenny's favorite subject this year. He is not in any outside clubs because he has found sports occupy too much of his time.

Ken doesn't have a great deal of extra time, but he likes to watch television when he has a spare moment, his favorite programs being "My Three Sons" and "The Untouchables." He jokingly stated, "Social gatherings are fun, and this school should have more of them. If I could start a new fad at South Side, it would be to have school dances after our cross country meets next year."

Grade Period To End

The third grade period will end Wednesday. Satisfactory and unsatisfactory grades will be issued January 2.

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete

Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2247

Marks
CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

He is only exempt from failures who makes no efforts.

3720 South Calhoun St.

Ravens Croft Beauty College

Better Training By Well-Trained Instructors Using
AUDIO VISUAL AIDS

Hair Styling, Permanent Waving, Coloring,
Hair Cutting, Hair Conditioning.

WORK DONE BY STUDENTS AT HALF PRICE

Call A-7403

and make an appointment to visit the area's finest.

1114 So. Calhoun St.

Across from the Cathedral

Pontiac Florist

914 E. Pontiac
H-2223

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY
WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete
Catering
Service

pick your color
WE DYE IT TO ORDER!

color matched to your costume

This dyeable, pliable satin pump is the perfect answer to holiday ensemble problems. Just pick out the color that will pick up your costume best and we'll dye the shoes to a perfect match. It's Foot Flairs' beloved glove-fit opera classic, the shoe style that goes with everything! Bring us a swatch if possible.

Available to Size 11

$12.95

High Heel
Mid Heel

Hardwood Corps Shellacs Comet Aggregation 60-48

Dale Hilsmier Sparks Squad, Adds 21 Points

Ken Leakey Compiles 17 Tallies; Opponents Led By Ralph Holler

The 1961-62 Archer team resembled the Archers of old last Saturday as they fought from behind to tromp the Kendallville Comets 60-48 on the home hardwood. Behind from the mid-way point of the first quarter until the end of the third stanza, the Kellys erupted for 23 points in the final period to squash the visiting cagers.

The opening minute of the game seemed to be a foreshadowing of a long, troubled night for South. The Green missed shots of every variety—eight in all—in the first flurry of action before Mart Platepu put a halt to the nonsense by dropping in a 15-footer.

Ken Leakey, who finished the night with 17 points, Gary Probst, who collected 13, and Dale Hilsmier, high point man of the evening with 21 markers, hit nice shots; but the Archers soon found themselves behind.

Big Ralph Holler, Comet forward, was the main thorn in the Kelly's side as he flipped in two nice hook shots and one turn-around jumper to give Kendallville a 14-10 lead at the quarter.

THE SECOND PERIOD, as is apparently becoming the custom, was low-scoring, each team hitting the nets for just ten points. Leakey got three of South's five buckets, the other two going to Hilsmier and sophomore up-and-comer Tom Meyers. Danny Diggins and Holler split up the Comet scoring. The score at half-time was 24-20 in favor of the visitors.

Coming out of their corner fast in the third period, the Comets moved to a 28-21 lead in just one minute of play. Then the Archer defense ground into full gear, pressing the Comets into costly mistakes.

Probst, rebounding like a 6-5 man, tipped in one shot and hit another from out; while Hilsmier drove through the Comet big men for four

City Scoreboard

City Series	W L G B O A D A
	W	L	G	B	O A D A
C.C.	2	0	—	63	47.5
Elmhurst ...	1	0	½	64	48
Central	1	0	½	64	48
South	0	1	½	55	44
North	0	1	½	48	54
Concordia ...	1	2	½	48	65
Overall
	W	L	O A	D A
C.C.	6	1	64	56.5
Elmhurst ...	4	1	69	55
Concordia ...	4	3	63	59
South	2	3	54	57
Central	2	4	53	57
North	1	4	52	61

great baskets; and Leakey hit a long shot and a free throw. Holler and John Gehring tried to contain the suddenly-hot Archers, but the offense couldn't be stopped and the defense couldn't be combated.

Holler threw in five points; Diggins, four; and Gehring, one for the Comet cause; but that didn't offset the Archer output. South made up the seven point deficit and tied the contest 37-37 going into the final quarter.

THE KELLYS WERE too hot to be stopped then; and scoring the first eight points, they went on to romp with ease. Probst got two tip-in's to start the quarter, but perhaps the breaking point for Kendallville was the foul shooting of the Green.

Tom McMahan hit two clutch free throws, followed by Leakey's two in a one-and-one situation, to give South the eight-point lead. Of the Archer's 23 points in the final stanza, 13 came on foul shots as the Archers missed on only two of the attempted conversions.

Hilsmier contributed two more of his under-the-basket shots and five free throws, while Leakey hit six charity shots without a miss, and Probst banged in three fielders. Kelly reserves played out the final minute and one-half on the clock, and even they were in the proper spirit as they allowed the Comets just one point in that time.

The Archers hit 22 of 67 shots from the field for a .328 clip, while the Comets had a nearly identical .327 percentage, hitting 17 out of 52. Overall, the South cashed in 16 of 29 free throws, 13 out of 15 in the last quarter. High-point man for Kendallville was Holler followed by Diggins with 13 and Gehring with 10.

Physicists Plan Elections

Election of a director and other officers will highlight the Physics Club meeting next Wednesday in Room 96 at 3:30 p.m. The meeting will also include a discussion of the intricacies of the atom.

Lyall Morrill, acting director of the club, stated that the discussion will be one of a series centered on the atomic structure of matter. Mr. Richard Bussard, sponsor of the Physics Club is to aid the members by answering questions on this complex subject.

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitz

South is finally starting to get the wheels turning, and victory number two last week end might prove to be a big push forward for South's rapidly improving cagers.

For the first two minutes and 50 seconds of the game it seemed as if the Archers would never start connecting from the field as they missed about seven straight shots on one trip down the floor. From that point on, South began hitting about average; and it wasn't until the last period that the Archers' offensive exploded to take a repeat victory over the Comets.

It was perhaps South's best-played game of the year. The Archer offensive attack still remained a problem despite the fact that South ended the evening with a respectable .328 shooting percentage from the field. This mark was accounted for during the latter part of the second half when South began to really click after a weak first half.

South surely didn't take advantage of their charity tosses as they converted only 15 of 29, a figure that will certainly have to rise if South wants to take a few of those close contests which are undoubtedly in store.

The Archers took another step forward defensively last week as they presented Coach Reichert a fine show of aggressive and wide-awake play. Ball handling was at a medium, but still needs some definite improvement for South's rugged schedule ahead.

Coach Reichert's boys begin to step into the thick of competition this week end and over the Christmas holidays.

Tonight South faces C.C.'s Irish, who lead the City Series race with a 2-0 record, in a critical game for both teams. If Terry Coonan's Irish win, they will be in an excellent position to win the city scramble; and if the Archers fall to the rugged downtown foe, their Series bid will be in a poor position.

Thus far, the Irish boast a 6-1 tally, their only loss to a well-regarded Decatur team. In the first UPI state ratings, C.C. placed twenty-eighth, but they are by no means unbeatable in city play. Last week against Garrett, the high-riding Irish almost fell to the up-and-ready Railroaders who held them to a one-point victory.

Saturday evening the Archers hit the road and will try to match hardwood skills with Michigan City's Red Devils. The Imps, who are in a big rebuilding year, have won only once in five starts and the Archers stand a good chance to even the score this year.

If the Archers continue to improve, they should go into the holiday tourney at Columbia City with a good chance to take top honors. The Archers face Goshen in the tourney opener in what figures to be a real battle royal. Mississinewa and host Columbia City are the other two teams involved in the tourney.

In other city action last week end, Elmhurst really established itself as a team to be reckoned with as the Trojans whipped Concordia 64-48, thus making their first City Series victory in history. The following night they trounced Arcola 84-40, giving them an offensive average of 69 in five games.

It seems as if the Trojans can just name their score, but the other city contenders won't be convinced of their power until they meet them on the hardwood, which will be over the holidays for two of the city contenders in the C.C. Invitational.

In the first UPI poll, Muncie Central was voted the top-rated team in the state, although they barely got by eighteenth-rated Richmond last week end. Lafayette was second, defending state champs Kokomo, third; Madison, fourth; East Chicago Washington, fifth.

Last week's action was marked by several interesting occurrences. Jim Ligon of Kokomo scored 53 for his team in a 98-70 win over Marion, erasing a Wildcat school record of 49 made by Jimmy Rayl in '59 and a Kokomo gym record of 48 also held by Rayl, the "tall splinter" who wrecked South Side's chances to return to the Butler Fieldhouse in 1959.

The Campellsburg-Heltonville game last week might make the IHSAA reconsider one of their new rules. This year the sudden-death decision after one extra period was changed to the standard rule of playing as many extra periods as necessary. Well, last week it took Campellsburg six overtimes before they defeated a stubborn Heltonville team 49-47.

The following are my predictions for this week's games: South vs. C.C.: From all indications C.C. looms as favorite in what should be a battle royal. I'll take the Irish by a slight margin; however, if South has the desire they can win City Series victory number one.

LaPorte vs. North: A victory will be hard to come by for the Redskins without Krieg. North takes fifth loss.

Concordia vs. New Haven: Both teams are evenly matched but well-balanced scoring will pay off for the Cadets.

Luers vs. Leo: Another close game, but I'll take Luers.

Central vs. Marion: Underrated Tigers begin to open up offensive attack with victory over Giants.

North vs. New Haven: Redskins, despite possible loss of Krieg, will find victory easy to come by at the cost of the Bulldogs.

South vs. Michigan City: Archers nip Red Devils in exciting battle.

Elmhurst vs. Huntertown: Red-hot Trojans name their own score.

Portland vs. Luers: Luers takes fourth defeat from undefeated Panthers.

Junior B Stars As Cage Guard, On Track Team

Gary Probst, junior B, has begun another successful hardwood season with the start of the Bluffton game on November 17. This 6-1 forward has sparked the Archer team against four fairly tough teams so far this season. He is a consistent performer, scorer, and a tough rebounder.

Gary has used the hardwood for a winter activity for two years and has a fine start into his third. During both his freshman and sophomore years, he was not only a leader on the basketball court but also in the classroom. Gary was one of four sophomores on last year's sectional squad. During his sophomore year Gary also gained a first team berth on a very fine Archer track squad. After a mediocre start, he soon battled his way to the number one high jumper spot and remained there for the rest of the season.

Gary Probst

When asked about this year's varsity team, Gary stated that the team needs a lot of game experience which he hopes they will gain in the next few contests. Gary picked North Side as the team to beat in the city but stated that all the teams will be tough.

Gary serves as junior class vice-president and is a very good student as well. He enjoys all sports. Gary plans to attend college to study engineering or law. Gary said that he probably would not compete in collegiate sports.

North Wins On Hi-Quiz

North Side's juniors won another round Sunday night on the I&M Hi-Quiz program by defeating Elmhurst, 320-160, Sunday at 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV.

The Redskins were represented by David Green, Gerry Nissenbaum, Jeff Mitchell, and Steve Doan.

Joan Sanders, Susan Shoaff, Mary Knaus, and Steve Kilworth competed for Elmhurst.

Senior A Tom McMahan Fills Forward Spot On Cage Squad

Contributing spirit and experience to Archer sports, Tom McMahan, senior A, has a starting berth on the Archer basketball squad this year and will undoubtedly aid the team. He has participated on Kelly basketball, track, and football teams for the last four years. During the summer months, Tom switches to baseball to balance his sports year.

On the gridiron, Tom played quarterback and did such a fine job he was elected to the All-City team. He also kept down positions during his frosh and soph years, first at guard then as quarterback. In spring, this young man's fancy turns to track where he aids Coach Don Reichert in the broad jump.

Baseball is Tom's favorite sport,

Tom McMahan

South's Teachers Spend Extra Time Doing Various Jobs

Intent on supporting their teaching abilities, several members of the faculty have accepted part-time jobs in colleges, on radio, and in other occupations.

One teacher extending his interests is Mr. Lester Hostetler, choral instructor, who is the director of the Scottish Rite Choir of Fort Wayne. His chores include the administration of one rehearsal each week in the Scottish Rite Auditorium. In this avocation, Mr. Hostetler is able to use the same musical capabilities he employs in his teaching work.

HOWEVER, Mr. Marion T. Feasel, history teacher, has a second profession more loosely connected with the subject he teaches. He is the operator of his own life insurance agency. Of course, Mr. Feasel is able to make use of his familiarity of public speaking in his work.

Another faculty member making use of his teaching skills is Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director. Before he assumed that position, Mr. Davis was an instructor of mathematics. It is this skill, then, that he employs in his part-time work as math instructor at Indiana University Extension.

TWO FACULTY members have part-time teaching jobs at the Purdue University Extension. They are Mr. Robert Davis, chemistry teacher, and Mr. Richard Sage, math teacher. At the Extension, Mr. Sage teaches first year calculus; and Mr. Davis is an instructor of beginning chemistry.

Mr. Robert Storey, speech teacher, uses his knowledge of language in his subordinate occupation as a part-time announcer for a local radio and television station. Mr. Storey has the early morning shift on Saturday and Sundays at WKJG.

the game that put his team into the championship game.

In Harrison Hill Junior High, Tom started his career in sports by bolstering the Hawks in basketball and baseball. Tom's extra-curricular activities include serving as president of both Hi-Y and his church youth group and being a member of the Letterman's Club. He also was a class officer during his sophomore and junior years.

According to Tom, the basketball team got a slow start but has a lot of potential and should be a threat in the Sectionals. He believes Central Catholic has looked very good so far and might be the team to beat in the City Series.

Tom plans to attend college and study possibly chemical engineering or math. He also hopes to continue playing football.

Senior Sue Horth Obtains Award In Purdue Contest

Sue Horth, senior, a representative of South at the Annual Indiana High School Debaters Conference and Student Legislature Assembly at Purdue University last weekend was awarded a certificate for her extemporaneous speech.

Other Archer contestants were Seniors Diane Fredrick, Logan Smith, and Lissa Hoffman, and Juniors Tom Erb and Lex Smuts. Certificates were given to the top ten speakers who had accumulated the most points throughout the judging.

Sue wrote a speech concerning nuclear testing to present in the first round. All extemporaneous speakers drew topics to be used in their second and third rounds after arriving at the meet.

Komets Coach

(Continued from Page 5)

McMahan, Jim Wuthrick, Bruce Patterson, Dave Firewood, Jim Pirrung, Dennis Nesbitt, Mike Colligan, Jim Hite, Steve Schwartz.

Zephyrs, Pierre Gagne, coach; Steve Pequinot, Louie Bornes, David Shaw, Dennis Sosinski, Raymond Schultz, Mike Ludden, Merton Lowry, Leslie Jones, Kenny Walter, Mark Lowens, Dave Stevenson, Tom Muha, Mike Shorelin, Stan Nartker.

Saints, John Russell, coach, Aug Black, Tom Falls, Jim Shank, Mike Koehl, Mike Smith, Denny Kearns, Richard Dawson, Lance Heyn, Roger Huffman, Steve Griebel, Jim Centlivre, Chans Byrseade, Terry Byroade, Mike McCrady.

Komets, Dave Richardson, coach; Jim Garvin, Jim Logan, Dennis Glas, Chris Ottenweller, Tom McCoy, Rick Danley, Mike Danley, Mike Shields, Tom Fleming, John Langas, Mike Downe, Bob Lombard, Tom Morthorst, Richard Rutkowski.

Knights, Gary Young, coach; Ronald Juncal, Terry Wiegard, Tom Shank, Gerry Junk, Jim Niezer, Bill Collins, Dick Birely, Dave Stewart.

Bisons, Ron Baryluk, coach, Jim Barker, captain; Bob Whitcombe, Bob Wisiewski, Rudy Thurman, Steve Doctor, Chuck Kampschmidt, Jim Hatfield, Joe LeBeau, Chris Holiday, Bill Hostetler, Dave Nesbitt, Bob LeSure, Ron Colone, Mark Henry.

Bears, John Goodwin, coach; Steve Parrott, captain; Dan Vail, Dick Zimmerman, Dennis DePrey, Mike Ropa, Ron Pausig, Jim Finan, Russ Clawson, Joe Gerardot, Dave Hathaway, Mike Morris, Jim Wilson, Bill Badgers, Mike Collins.

Indians, Serge Filion, coach; Dave Lindquist, captain; Tom Fabine, Bob Eley, Maerlin Marquardt, Steve Halswiler, Henry Furman, Steve Berg, Ron Bryan, John Davis, Steve Kammer, Dave Schwartz, Mike Young, Gale Hetrick.

Barons, Barry Jakeman, coach; Pete Carlson, captain; Dick Carlson, Jim Mariton, Ron Woods, Brendan Hall, Terry Yant, Gary Knight, Dave Swelzer, Reginald Johnson, Paul Byers, Bob Scott, John Monroe, Kenton Mone-smith, John Leakey.

Rangers, Reno Zanier, coach; Denny Esterline, captain; Dave Esterline, Ken Lowden, Steve Pence, Dave Minnick, Danley Bates, Joe Douglas, Mike Seaman, Bill Rastetter, Jeff Mitchell, Haulie Mee, C. Hohman, Gary Myers.

Bruins, Len Thomson, coach; Bill Whitmer, captain; Joe Colone, Jim Cavacini, Conrad Gets, Tom Bruck, Stan Colligan, Steve Meyers, Ron Richardson, Tom Ryan, Steve Ottenweller, Mike Foster, Jack Coles, Stu Black, Stan Alfeld.

Blackhawks, Eddie Long, coach; Paul Cunningham, captain; Richard Buchanan, Joe Hagadorn, Jim Smith, Dave Anderson, Richard Franke, Jack Boyd, Bill Roger, Mike Fox, Charles Joseph, Larry Schneider, Norman Hake, Larry Windmiller.

Red Wings, Lionel Repka, coach; Don Dettler, captain; Jim Nash, Len Boner, Bob Groves, Jim Griffin, Fred Topp, Bill Cupp, Merlin Overman, Cliff Greiner, Steve Mueller, Richard Small, Ron Ulyot, Bob Zimmerman.

For the Best

in Sports Equipment

MAIN AUTO SPORT SHOP

214 W. Berry

STUTZ DRY CLEANERS

4304 S. Fairfield
Phone K-4542

1213 Wells Street
Phone E-2067

Guaranteed Workmanship

EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING
ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING

Pick-Up and Delivery Service

See Lincoln Life NOW for job opportunities

... for January Graduates

- Permanent, full-time jobs for top seniors.
- Good job opportunities in stenographic, typing, calculating, and messenger work.
- Excellent working conditions and important fringe benefits.
- Hours: 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.
- Salary: From $205.00 per month.

... for June Graduates

- Part-time jobs available NOW for senior business girls who have a free morning or afternoon schedule in the Spring semester and who expect to work permanently following their graduation in June.
- Clerical, filing, typing, messenger work.
- Hours: 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m., Monday through Friday or 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.
- Salary: From $1.26 per hour.

Apply during your Christmas vacation at the Personnel Department
8:00 A.M.-4:30 P.M., Monday through Friday

THE Lincoln NATIONAL Life INSURANCE COMPANY

Its Name Indicates Its Character

NATIONAL PETROLEUM, Inc.

and

Their Friendly Pure Oil Dealers

PURE FIREBIRD GASOLINES

Quintet Gathers Strength For Grueling Battles

Spirited Irish Boast Height, Record Of 6-1

Dave Schenkel Plays Pivot Spot, Provides Rebounding Strength

South will face its second City Series opponent of the young season tomorrow night when the rugged Irish of Central Catholic bring their 6-1 record against the Archers' 2-3 slate. The game will be played at the Coliseum and will begin at 8 p.m.

The Irish do not have a lot of height; but they are experienced, having five returning lettermen, and coached well by Mr. Terry Coonan. Of the starting five, three are senior lettermen and the other two are juniors with reserve team experience.

One of the Irish's big questions in the pre-season evaluations was the ability of their pivot man to come through for them. Dave Schenkel, at 6-4, has virtually eliminated that problem. He moves well and rebounds well, and to show his offensive ability, he pitched in 17 points for C.C. in last Friday's game with Decatur.

FORWARDS MAURY BUBB and Steve Krull are the other two seniors on the first string. Bubb, a 6-0 whiz, has much finesse, developed in three years of varsity experience. Bubb is a fine shooter and an expert ball handler. Krull, the team's leading scorer, is a 6-1 ace with a polished shot and excellent defensive skills. He played on last year's squad and is highly regarded as a result of his experience.

Coach Coonan is blessed with an unusual problem at the guard positions, for he has three boys who do

Place: Coliseum.
Time: December 15, 8 p.m.
Last met: December, 1960.
Score: 52-48, C.C.
Next foe: Michigan City.

an excellent job. Dwight Craft and Tony Zych, 5-10 juniors, and John Dullaghan, 5-11 senior, have performed very well for the Irish so far. Zych picked up 14 and eight points in C.C.'s last two tilts, winning the Garrett contest by sinking a last-second shot, and is a good ball handler and a quick, accurate shooter.

Craft collected a total of 16 points in the last two games the Irish played and he appears to be the up-and-comer in the city scoring ranks. Dullaghan, who played last year as an inconspicuous junior, has been very hot for Coach Coonan, as his 10.5 point average in the last two contests indicated. He is a steady player, dependable on both offense and defense.

The Irish bench consists mainly of Seniors Pat O'Reilly and returnee Steve App, a 6-4 center. These two boys have seen enough action this year and last to be termed competent, experienced players. With App inserted in the lineup to spell Schenkel or to team up with him, the Purple and Gold have strength under the boards and in the pivot.

THE FINAL FOUR boys on the roster are juniors who, as yet, have seen just limited action. With this crop ripening next year, Coach Coonan is hoping for big things in the next season. He bases his prediction of a big year next year on prospects Carl Jacquay, 6-4; Dave Pettit, 6-0; Fred DuBois, 5-10; and football quarterback Tom Walsh, 6-0.

The Irish have accumulated their six wins this year on area teams. In the first game of the year they slipped past Kendallville by a five-point margin. In the next contest they nipped Central 49-47; then they clipped an alumni team consisting of college boys who had been coached by Mr. Coonan. In the fourth and fifth games, they walked over New Haven and Concordia to pick up a 5-0 record.

However, last Friday they felt the first sting of defeat as they were nipped by the Decatur Yellow Jacks, 71-69, in the last second of play. They won an equally thrilling game the following night as Zych hit his final-second fielder to slip past Garrett, 67-66.

The Irish have been concentrating on good ball-handling, not long shooting, for the winning combination. They play a semi-controlled type of game, working the ball to the open man for the shot. The teams are very evenly matched for tomorrow night's battle; it should be a real crowd pleaser.

Merry Christmas
from
HARRISON HILL BARBER SHOP
5 BARBERS

Will Honor Appointments, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.,
Tuesday through Friday

3803 S. Calhoun K-9519 Wm. Gernhardt

GO FORMAL!
RENT THE LATEST STYLES IN FORMAL WEAR

SPECIAL STUDENT RATES

RUSSELL'S
TUXEDO RENTAL
215 W. Washington Blvd.

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Basketball teams qualified to enter the championship games, and handball champions were determined in intramural sports last week. The annual chess tournament also began.

In heavyweight noon league basketball, the Duals and the Lox and Bagels will play in the final games of the loser's bracket. The winner will play the undefeated Bombers. The Duals, on Ed Freed's last-minute shot, squeaked out a 21-20 victory over the Netters.

Freed hit six of his eight points in the last quarter, and Bob Leininger also gained eight points for the Duals. The Netters were paced by Bill Speck with six points.

The Lox and Bagels whipped the Rejets, 39-20. Steve Cook, who sunk a mid-court shot at the final buzzer rang, led the scoring with 13 points. Dennis Berryhill garnered 12 points, and Sid Sherry and Walt Stuelpe each scored six points for the victors. The Rejets were led by Steve Graves and Mike Laughlin with seven points apiece.

In an earlier game, the Bombers romped to a 27-19 victory over the Lox and Bagels. Larry Schneider led the winner's balanced attack with eight points; and Al Zimmerman and Denny Koelinger scored seven and five points, respectively. The Lox and Bagels were paced by Steve Cook with six points and Dennis Berryhill with five.

The Mustangs clobbered the Little Ones, 29-15, in a noon lightweight game. Tom Blossom scored 10 points; Steve Gator, nine; and John Grodrian, seven for the winners. Bruce Fletler led the Little Ones, with five points.

Sparked by Bill Ausderan's 18 points and Nate Norment's 14, The Ying Yongs trounced the Excelsiors, 44-20, in a night league game. The losers were paced by Dave Rodenbeck's six points.

The Chideables turned back the Kamikazees, 26-14. Frank Lewis sparked for the Chideables, as he scored 12 points. James Smith scored six points also for the victors. Phil Bennett and Steve Page

Concordia's Cadets Coast To 38-28 Win Over South's Frosh

Concordia's Cadets piled up an insurmountable first half lead and coasted to a 38-28 victory over South Side's freshman basketball team at Tokheim Gymnasium Thursday.

Making many mistakes, the Green gave Concordia a 21-3 lead at the end of two stanzas. Despite the fact that Jan Doran led all scorers with 13 points, South could not rally enough to pass the Cadets.

Next in scoring for South was Greg Riley with nine, followed by Bob Kinsey with four. Concordia had very balanced scoring, getting ten points each from Tom Wilcoxson and Dave Pressler. Martin Veiss and John Claycomb potted nine and seven respectively.

The only bright spot for the Archers was the play of Jan Doran. Besides canning 13 points, his work in the defensive zone sparked. On some occasions he stole the ball and broke into the open for an easy layup.

The following is a summary of the scoring for each player:

South Side
Player	T
Doran	13
Riley	9
Kinsey	4
Van Ryn	2
Junk	0
Fishbaugh	0
Butz	0
Bolman	0
Vogt	0
Concordia
Wilcoxson	10
Veiss	9
Claycomb	7
Pressler	10
Schmidt	2
Ferbe	0
Messman	0
Dryer	0
Armstrong	0
Dereks	0
August	0

paced the Kamikazees with six points apiece.

New champs in Handball are Rick Meeks, Larry Schneider, Bob Hart, and Don Dawson. Rick Meeks won by beating Carl Foust, 15-1, 15-13. Larry Schneider clobbered Mike Weinraub, 21-2, 21-3. Don Dawson edged Gary Tinkel, 15-8, 13-15, 15-11. Bob Hart defeated Dave Reidenbach, 15-13, 15-10.

In other games, Jon Lyons shaded Bill Speck, 15-3, 12-15, 15-9; Jon Bill beat Jerry Thomas, 15-10, 16-14; Bruce Baldwin conquered Tom Romanowski, 15-3, 14-16, 15-10; and Jim Carnahan won over Jerry Dunlap, 15-7, 15-10. In doubles, Hofer-Galland trounced Williams-Snyder, 15-10, 15-12; Schneider-Buchanan turned back Hart-Reidenbach, 15-9, 15-17, 15-12; and Joy-Glass defeated Bartel-Carter, 15-1, 15-8.

In underclass chess competition, Dave Reinhold defeated Carl Cole; Larry Botz beat Vic Seewald; and Jerry McCorkle defeated Dave James.

Seniors Place First In GAA Tourney With Six Triumphs

The Upperclass GAA Speedball Tourney has been completed and the Seniors, with six wins, took first place honors. The Juniors tied for second with three wins and a tie. Also placing second was Sophomore III with three wins and a tie.

Third place was won by Sophomore 4 with three wins. Placing fourth was Sophomore 1 with one win and a tie. Sophomore 3 came in fifth place with one tie.

Captain for the Seniors is Janice Nahrwald. Points received were 100 points, Jean Hatfield, Ann Hechler, Virginia Kachiamenis, Susan Johns, Linda Moody, Flora Reynolds, Cynthia Russell, Jenny Slater, Jan Spuller; 75 points, Bella Dyson, Barbara Harding, Sandy Heidbrink, Janice Nahrwald; 50 points, Nancy Byers and Barbara Uhl; 25 points, Judy Godman and Lorna Spradlin.

PAT ABBOTT, Marsha Good, Loretta Kimmel, Mary Marker, Karen Plothe, Joyce Pollitt, Sherry Powell, Toni Sorensen, and Jane Whitenack received 100 points for the Juniors. Receiving other points are as follows: 75 points, Judy Koop, Nancy Miles, Virginia Rose; 50 points, Elaine Edwards and Dottie Kessler; 25 points, Pamela Foust, Mary Fremion, Krystyna Kriworotow. Captain of this team is Toni Sorensen.

Captains for the Sophomores are Sharon Karst, Team 1; Jackie Kessler, Team 2; Darlene Kissinger, Team 3; Beth Randall, Team 4. Points received by members on Sharon Karst's team are Jean Ferris, Toni Heathman, Jeanne Hoelle, Robert Hofner, Sharon Karst, Paula Klind, Linda Lowery, Jan Robson, Linda Welch, 100 points; 75 points, Margie Hubbard; 50 points, Marcia Stephens; 25 points, Anita Downing.

POINTS FOR Jackie Kessler's team are 100 points, Joleen Crumrine, Cynthia Duncan, Jane Hahn, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, Sandy Lindeman, Judy Zimere; Jan Degitz, Karen Dimmick, Diana Shilling, 75 points; 50 points, Sarah Petrie and Paulette Schmidt.

Members of Darlene Kissinger's team receiving points are Carol Doehnan, Sue Everaman, Charlene Kissinger, Darlene Kissinger, Cynthia Kock, Jean Longardner, Lois Palmer, Judy Preston, Cheri Spangle, 100 points; 75 points, Cherylene Nahrwald; Patty Cash, Janelle Jacks, 50 points; 25 points, Mary Lou Dorton and Jan McClain.

Points received by Beth Randall's team are 100 points, Cheri Davis, Shirley Listenberger, Beth Randall, Kay Symonds, Carol Uhrick, Mary Ann Waldrop; Cheri Elam, Linda Johnson, Margaret Shirley, Barbara Wirick, 75 points; 25 points, Judy Perdue.

Music Sections Sell 1,498 Boxes Of Candy

Members of the Music Department, according to Mr. Lester Hostetler, choral director, have sold 1402 candy boxes for $1 and 96 boxes for 50 cents in their annual candy sale to raise money for the department.

Bob Osborn selling 34 boxes, and Ellen Stanberry selling 30 boxes, sold the most in the choral department. Leading the instrumental department in sales was Jim Knapp with 24 boxes, and Diane Simmers led the majorettes by selling 20 boxes. These persons will receive either a wrist watch or a camera as a reward, sent to the school by the turtle company.

Mr. Robert Drumond, instrumental director, remarked, "We are very pleased with the success of this year's candy sale. If we would have ordered more candy, more patrons would have had the opportunity to buy turtles."

Squad To Play 'Tough' Indians In Tournament

Miller, Morgan Spark Goshen, Form 'Punch' Of Redskins' Defense

After a twelve-day rest from a rigorous weekend which will include ball games with both Central Catholic and Michigan City, what should be a well-rested Archer squad will compete against Goshen in the first game of the Columbia City Holiday Tournament on December 28 at 1 p.m. Late in the afternoon Columbia City and Mississinewa will play, the two winners meeting at 8:15 p.m. in the finals.

Meeting the Green and White in what may very well prove to be the feature game of the tournament, are the Redskins of Goshen. Facing a heavy holiday schedule, the Goshen team also has a tournament of their own on December 30. The Red and White will definitely be bent on opening the vacation series with a victory.

WITH A TEAM AVERAGE height of better than six feet and a front line of over 6-2, Goshen presents a formidable rebounding opponent for the Archers. With three lettermen and three juniors in the starting quintet, the emphasis is on youthful experience and plenty of spirit.

Ron Miller and Terry Morgan form the backcourt punch for the Redskins. Neither is a letterman, but both are solid offensive and defensive spark-plugs. The "M Boys," Miller and Morgan, are also excellent at setting up scoring plays and will drive for the basket at the slightest sign of daylight.

Morgan and Miller are reasonably good-sized guards, Miller is 5-10 and Morgan is 6-0, a quality that enables them to help out the big boys under the boards if the need arises. These guards also take complete advantage of the plays which are often set for them by the forwards to either drive or shoot well-aimed jumpers.

The front line is composed of 6-2 Senior James Gingerich and a pair of 6-2 Juniors Fred Hostetler and Randy Saal. All three of these boys are lettermen, top rebounders for their size, as well as very adequate scorers.

The Redskins, though, like the Archers, lacking the one big man underneath, will be rugged opposition. As a team they work very well together, do a lot of picking and screening, and handle the ball well. Goshen passes ahead and goes for the fast break whenever possible and is a good shooting team.

Leading the host Columbia City Eagles are varsity returnees, guard Mike Cook and center Larry Harvey. Coach Mark Hammel lost seven lettermen from last year's squad. Of these, all graduated except Bill Johnson, a talented junior who moved to Warsaw. A rebuilding year seems to be ahead as Harvey and Cook, the only boys on the team with any experience at all have only played one year each.

Harvey has been fairly impressive thus far, playing well against both Angola and Pierceton. The Maroon and Gold backcourt, comprised of Cook and John Sutherland, is small. However, these boys hustle and are very troublesome defensive aces. Rounding out the front line are Bob Hey and either Luther Staley or Jim Daubt. All of these boys measure about six feet in height but lack experience necessary to good rebounding. All three hit well from near the basket and it's a toss up as to which two of the three will start.

THE HOME COURT WILL offer the Columbia City quintet an advantage which they will need if they are to show well in their own tourney.

Rounding out the group of tournament teams is Mississinewa. Coach John Freidenberger brings a short but fairly seasoned group of boys to Columbia City. The Indians' success hinges on the talents of 6-4, 190-pound Herb McPherson. The lone returning starter from last year's squad, McPherson has won a letter every season, including his freshman year.

A lethal scorer and defender from the center slot, McPherson moves well and rebounds very effectively. However, he receives limited help in sweeping the boards from his comparatively diminutive teammates. Larry Jernigan, 6-0, and Ray Kughen, 5-10, offer him eager but often little assistance. Both Kughen and Jernigan hustle well but because of their lack of size have trouble fighting the bigger boys on the boards.

RONNIE KENDALL, 5-8, and Ben Crandall, 5-11 and the lone junior in the starting lineup, form an aggressive but once again short back court. Kendall is a letter winner with a good shooting eye but encounters some trouble in getting his shots off. Crandall, though lacking past experience, has shown well this year and will pose a threat both as a ball-hawking defender and an offensive sharp shooter. His scoring is rather erratic, however.

It looks as if South has a very good chance to take all the marbles in this tournament. Goshen will be the most serious obstacle, and the Kellys encounter them while fresh and rested.

Reserves Trounce Kendallville 45-24, Paced By Fine Defense

MASTER RESERVISTS . . . Members of the undefeated reserve basketball team are, left to right, front row, Dick Robinson, Jerry Clark, Rick Meeks, Bob Williams, and Ted Rolf; back row, Greg Dunnuck, Mark Close, Howard Lowden, Mike Files, Bill Hankee, Dave Banet, and Jim Barker.—Photo by Lowden

South Side's reserves breezed to their fifth victory without defeat with a 45-24 victory over Kendallville in the Archers' gym Saturday night as a terrific defensive effort by the Archers kept the Comets scoreless for over a period and a half.

After losing the opening tip, the Archers took over and chalked up a 13-0 lead in the first quarter. Aided by two members of the varsity, the Kelly defense forced the Comets into many hurried shots and numerous ball-handling errors. Dave Munson chalked up five points and Willie Files added four to lead the Archers' attack.

A new team entered at the start of the second period for the Archers and functioned even better. Led by two long jump shots by Dave Banet, the Archers piled up a 22-0 lead. Finally, with 2:31 left, the Comets broke their scoring ice with a foul shot. Then having played fourteen minutes of the game, they sank their first field goal. Two more long shots by Banet led the Archers to a 32-6 half-time lead.

With a commanding lead, Coach "Porky" Holt was able to juggle his substitutes at will in the second half as the Archers drifted toward victory. The Comets regained their shooting touch and were able to outscore the Archers in each of the final two periods. Though looking a bit lacks on defense, the second-liners gained

Carol Forsgren To Play Santa Lucia For Swedes

Carol Forsgren, junior, will portray Santa Lucia, who became one of Sweden's first Christian martyrs, at the Scandia Club Christmas party today at 7 p.m. at Cutter's Chalet. As a bride, Santa Lucia gave her dowry to the poor and became a Christian, for which she was burned as a witch on December 13, 304 A.D.

Carol is the one girl of Swedish descent who will represent the eldest daughters of Fort Wayne, following the annual custom of letting the eldest daughter in each family represent Santa Lucia. Dressed in a white robe and crowned with seven lighted candles, she will carry a silver tray of Scandinavian cookies, which will be served with the dessert.

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games
MUSKEGON ZEPHYRS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Saturday, December 16
8:00 p.m.

OMAHA KNIGHTS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Wednesday, December 27
8:00 p.m.

OMAHA KNIGHTS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Saturday, December 30
8:00 p.m.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Green Favored To Beat Devils On Foes' Court

Smith, Bannwart, Reed Lead Offensive Drive; Imps Lack Experience

With hopes of avenging last year's 63-51 loss, South Side's Archers travel to Michigan City tomorrow evening to take on a fairly respectable Red Devil team. South's second road trip of the season figures to be one of its toughest encounters thus far, although the Imps have yet to prove themselves a state powerhouse.

Last year the Red Devils traveled to the Summit City as the ninth-ranked team in the state and displayed some exceptional shooting and fine rebounding control in defending a very aggressive Archer squad.

The Red Devils are facing a rebuilding year after losing their entire starting lineup, but the young ball club can provide a very competitive ball game.

THIS YEAR'S BALL club is quite a contrast to last year's big and experienced Calumet area power. Coach Doug Adams' starting quintet averages around 6-0, which is some four inches shorter than last season's starting five.

Starting at the center slot is 6-4 Junior Phillips. The Devils' big man is somewhat inexperienced but Place: Michigan City Gym.

Time: December 16, at 8 p.m.
Last met: December, 1960.
Score: 63-51, Michigan City.
Next foe: Columbia City Tourney.

does a comparable job for the squad. Smith, a 6-1 junior, and six-foot senior Bannwart or 5-9 Junior Reed have the forward positions. All three boys have seen varsity action, although they need a lot more experience to become polished performers.

At the guard spots are 5-5 Lane and 5-8 Payne, both boys quite aggressive and quick. They are both fine dribblers and show their skills as ball hawks on defense.

Due to their height problems and experience, the Red Devils have relied on fast breaks on offense and either a screen or pick pattern to set up their players. On defense the Imps use either a 1-2-2 zone or they can use an all-court press quite well.

GENERALLY SPEAKING, the Red Devils can be considered a fair shooting team and despite their height are very aggressive off the boards.

Thus far this season the Red Devils have dropped four of their five games, although all have been against well-regarded teams, three of which were rated in the top ten in last week's UPI poll.

If the Archers play up to par and aren't affected by the long trip, they will stand a good chance of bettering their present season mark.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Dressy Dark Adds The Spark
Young Men Like In Our
Smart Blue or Black
Suits With Vest
$59.95

In Regulars And Longs

A fellow feels dressier (and looks that way) when he's "dressed up in a dark suit." The vest is an added mark of distinction—here in famed University Guild or the Cricketer natural shoulder models. Try 'em on!

LOCATED
CALHOUN AT JEFFERSON

LOCATED
CALHOUN AT
JEFFERSON

Mr. John Arnold Gives Time To Community Projects, JRC

ALL ABOARD . . . Mr. John Arnold, social studies teacher, prepares to start his tractor-snowplow while his children, left to right, John, Ted, and Mary, will "go along for the ride" in their wagon.—Photo by Lowden Participating in community activities, reading, fishing, and watching television head the list of favorite interests of Mr. John Arnold, social studies teacher.

Before coming to South Side, where he teaches U.S. history, government, sociology, and economics, he taught at Elmhurst High School.

For five years, Mr. Arnold has been the sponsor of the South Side Junior Red Cross Chapter. Under his guidance, the club has undertaken philanthropic projects such as visiting the Settlement House at Westfield Village and the Fort Wayne State School.

MR. ARNOLD HAS been elected to several offices of the Allen County Society for Crippled Children and Adults. He has served as president, treasurer, and has been elected vice-president for the second consecutive term.

One of his hobbies being reading, he enjoys all materials dealing with social studies and psychology. He received his bachelor of arts and science degree at Defiance College, Defiance, O.

Tom Erb, Junior A, Collects Political Buttons, Enjoys Plays

The days never seem long enough to Tom Erb, Junior A, who feels there are just too many things to do and not enough time in which to do them. Tom's days are filled with school work and extra-curricular activities. His activities include Assemblies Workshop, Masque and Gavel, and Wranglers.

When this busy Archer was younger, he began pursuing the things that interested him. In 1956, he took drama lessons from Lois Keller, director of the Children's Civic Theatre. During this time he appeared in school plays, assemblies, and church activities.

TOM IS AN ACTIVE member of the Wesley Church Dramatic Group.

- FOR
- Film Developing
 - Film and Flash Bulbs
 - Records
 - Sheaffer Pens
 - Papermate Pens
 - Pen Repairing
 - Greeting Cards
 - Russell Stover Candy

COME TO

HOWARD'S

Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

This club travels around the city and state presenting plays. Presently he is in a Christmas play called "The Other Shepard." Tom portrays a lowly shepherd waiting the arrival of Mary and Joseph. Most of this young actor's spare time is spent with play rehearsals, both in and out of school.

Another of Tom's interests is speech. At the present, he is treasurer of Wranglers. He has participated in numerous contests and frequently receives awards for his speech work. Tom has won ribbons at the Howe and New Haven Speech Meets this fall in the humorous and original oratory divisions.

When Tom is not busy with one of the other activities, he enjoys reading and studying about politics. In his spare time he collects campaign material. He has a collection of over fifty campaign buttons and stickers. Tom's buttons are all of recent years, but his latest one dates back to 1944. It is a senatorial button for Senator Homer Capehart of Indiana.

AFTER TOM GRADUATES from high school, he would like to attend DePauw University and study drama and speech. He expressed a desire to work in the State Department upon graduation from college.

"I feel that the United States is taking the wrong approach in its methods of Foreign Relations during the Cold War," stated Tom. He continued, "I would like to be Secretary of State and have the opportunity to improve our position."

ZINN
SERVICE STATION

615 East Pontiac H-5249

Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

- Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

VIBRATO

COFFEE HOUSE

1308 Broadway

OPEN 9:00 P.M.-3:00 A.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY

Featuring Live Folk Music
Unusual Coffees, Teas, Soft Drinks, and Fruit Punches

COME AS YOU ARE

Past Home Economics Students Fashion Allied Flag Collection

The idea for the flag collection at South Side was formulated in 1942 by Miss Erma Doctorman, former art teacher and study hall supervisor. The purpose was to acquaint people with flags of the different allied countries during World War II and make them aware of the United Nations and its work.

Each country that was an ally of

Unusual Hair Styles Reveal Male Traits, Imitate Personalities

Armed with comb, scissors, and hair tonic, the teenage boy is ready to style his hair in a mode which might reveal his personality and idiosyncrasies, his latest teenage idol, or a sudden desire to be "different."

A few side and middle parts and some conservative styles are still seen, but chances are that the boys with a flair for excitement and individuality would choose a style from five current trends of masculine hair fashions.

The first of the five styles is called the "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue." The boys selecting this hair-do must have long hair with bangs which swoop down over an eyebrow, ending in a curl. The back hairs are swept down to the nape often in curls, and the sides are brushed upward over the ears. This style requires much care, combing, and tonic.

ELVIS PRESLEY inaugurated the style which is named after him. The "Elvis Presley" is a reserve pony-tail twist, with the hair puffed into a big front curl and wave. The back is worn short; and the sideburns, although they have almost disappeared, are trademarks of this cut.

The "Poodle," a curly cut that is very short, is distinguished by a widow's peak and piquant bows on either side. Those having naturally curly hair find this style best suited to the curliness. Frequent cutting is needed for this style which is not seen too frequently.

A very new and popular style is the "Napoleon" or the newer name, the "George Maharis." Dark-haired boys prefer this cut, and straight hair is required. The hair is brushed forward in very loose curls. The length of the bangs can differ, adding variety to the style. This style looks best when it has a wind-blown and casual look.

THE "YUL BRYNNER" is the answer for those boys wanting true individuality and a flock of admiring girls. The head is completely bald, thus dispensing of comb and tonic. A bolder version of the "Brynnier," the "Cherokee," consists of a strip of hair on the middle of the head. These two styles are seen more frequently around the swimming pool in the summer.

"Butch" and "Water Carrier" belong to the more conservative branch of hair styles. In the "Butch," the hair is shaved very short all over the head, following the shape. A variation in this style comes with a slight brushing up of the front hairs.

The "Water Carrier," more commonly called "Flat-top," is level on the top, with the front hair growing up where the forehead slopes down. This is hard to care for and needs a great amount of attention and tonic.

Students Tell Ideas About Preservation Of Holiday Meaning

In the hustle-bustle atmosphere of today's society, the Christmas holiday has become more and more commercialized; and the true meaning of the Christmas season has been forgotten.

South Side students have given their opinions concerning ways to preserve the true meaning of Christmas.

Bill Kleifgen: By remembering that Christmas is the birthday of the greatest man who ever lived and not an excuse to make December the highest sales month of the year.

Bonnie Russell: By trying not to forget the glowing faith and hope that has endured since Christmas began for a peace that will be able to embody the world.

Brenda Harper: By keeping Christ in the thoughts of Christmas.

Cheryl Summers: By remembering the words of the minister who said, "Take the road to Bethlehem, not the road to Christmas."

Debby Brooke: By attending religious services to achieve a deeper insight and appreciation of the miracle of the birth of Christ.

NICKLES
BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"

Phone E-9455 1725 South Anthony

PARKWAY BEAUTY
SHOP

COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE
609 West Foster Parkway H-2244
Fort Wayne, Indiana

KESSLER
Super Market

"The Store for Quality and Personalized Service"

3102 BOWSER AVE.
Corner of Bowser at Eckart St.

21st Year in Business

the United States is represented by its flag. As the years pass, flags from member nations of the UN are being added.

Miss Doctorman sent to the War Department for pictures of the United Nations flags. Miss Pearl Rehorst, home economics teacher, and her students designed the intricate arrangements and made all the flags.

DURING THE FIRST two years, they were placed in center hall on a round platform for the benefit of the students. One year, they were used at commencement. Also, more recently, the flags have been used in assemblies.

Mr. Samuel Jackson, social studies instructor, and Larry Lee, senior class president, accepted the addition to the group, a flag from Pakistan, for South Side on October 24 at the city's UN Day and Week celebrations. Mr. Muhammad Ashraf, a student at Indiana Technical College, presented the flag at the Court House.

ALLIES REPRESENTED by flags include Australia, Belgium, Canada, China, Denmark, France, Greece, India, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Norway, Poland, Union of South Africa, United Kingdom, and Yugoslavia.

Other flags are from UN members Albania, Argentina, Bolivia, Chile, Columbia, Costa Rica, Cuba Czechoslovakia, Dominican Republic, Ecuador, Egypt, El Salvador, Ethiopia, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, Iran, Iraq, Liberia, Luxembourg, Mexico, Nicaragua, Paraguay, Peru, Philippines, Turkey, Uruguay, and Venezuela.

12B Sandra Yaggy Composes, Studies For Pianist Career

Sandy Yaggy

Sandy Yaggy, senior B, is seriously planning a career as a concert pianist. She has been studying piano since she was two years old and plans to continue lessons in college. Sandra, who now has five pupils of her own, stated, "Music is vital to everyone's life."

Having taken a first place in the State Conference of the National Federation of Music Clubs, she will represent the Eastern Central District in the National Conference of the Federation of Music Clubs in March.

She recently soloed in the Teenage Concert at the Coliseum. She also played for the Fine Arts Festival and for a number of other civic organizations.

Besides serving as vice-president of the Student Music Guild of Morning Music, and being an active member of the Indiana State Music Teachers Association, she finds time to practice as many as three hours a day. Composing also takes up much of her time. Sandra has just finished her first orchestration and is working on a piano concerto.

Sandra has composed a number of piano solos and sonatas. Last year she played with Allen Steere, '61, in a concert at the Plymouth Congregational Church which featured a violin and piano sonata that she wrote.

Oil painting, teaching, practicing, and performing are the ways in which she spends her summers and vacations. "Art," she stated, "gives me a good outlet and a chance for relaxation."

Magazine Features Story Written By Sandy Thorn

Appearing in the "School Press Review," a magazine published by Columbia University, is Sandy Thorn's editorial concerning Dag Hammarskjöld's death. This editorial which was entitled "Dag Hammarskjöld's Fight For World Peace Continues" was printed on the Times editorial page in the issue of September 21.

In commenting on Sandy's article, the "School Press Review" stated that it was the best of a number on the same topic that had come to their attention. "Not only was it timely but it shows that our student editors do know what goes on outside the school, that they have opinions on such matters, and that they can express themselves effectively and well," stated the magazine.

Ed Parrish
Servicenter

Automotive Specialists

H-5307
Hanna at Oxford

"Fort Wayne's Finest"

Students Give Ideas On Admirable Traits Of Perfect Teachers

Everyone will generally agree on the importance of a good high school educator. The influence of an elementary grade teacher in building good or bad foundations during the student's early years of association with the educational system must also be considered in preparing the student for the upper grades.

The chief aim of a dedicated teacher is to instill in students a yearning to acquire knowledge. When a teacher finds a student with a sponge-like mind, it seems a real prize has been uncovered.

The importance of a high school teacher is primary. Several Archers were asked "What traits make a teacher good, popular, and respected?"

Ted Rolf: I think that a teacher should be patient with his students. He should look at their point of view, as well as his own. He should also remember that he was once a student and treat his pupils as he would have liked his teachers to have treated him. He should be stern, but not too stern. He should know how far to let humor go. Most of all, he should know his subject well.

Linda McMurtry: I enjoy a teacher who can be serious when necessary, but who can add a touch of humor, too. A well-qualified teacher is not monotonous and can always think of interesting changes in the daily routine.

Andy Christon: I think, above all, the teacher must be interesting in order to keep the attention of the students. He should be understanding. There should be sternness to keep the class orderly, but humor should be mixed in with it. A teacher who is explicit will be popular with his students.

Fatty Somers: A teacher should be understanding with his pupils. He should be willing to sacrifice part of his time whenever a student is in need of extra help. Explaining things thoroughly and making assignments clear are very important. A teacher should be interesting in the subject, so the students will feel the enthusiasm; and then they too can be interested.

Karen Ponader: Teachers should show an interest in the pupils, an interest in the subject they are teaching, and be interesting in the way they teach. I've found that the teacher who adds a mild bit of humor, which corresponds to the subject he is teaching, is usually well-liked by the student body. A truly good teacher will know how to keep attention and order in the class without getting off the subject.

Dave Pritchard: A teacher should, above all, know his subject well. He should have a sense of humor. The instructor who is understanding and clear in his subject will be popular with his students.

Margie Winder: I feel the teacher should be interested in getting the entire thought of his subject across to his pupils. A good sense of humor would be nice, but he should also know when to be serious. The teacher should be kind and understanding. If he has these qualities, I'm certain he will be very well liked and respected by the student body.

Students Feel Fans Losing Team Spirit

"We want a basket!" These words are familiar to every loyal fan. Do too many Archers fail to take these words to heart and show a genuine concern for the fighting team? Some Archers gave their points of view to the question, "Are Archers losing their school spirit?"

Christie Counsman: Yes, I think we are losing our spirit because there seems to be less attendance at the games. Students aren't willing to support the team.

Marcia Anderson: I definitely do not think that the Archers are losing their spirit because there wouldn't be so many avid fans.

Martha Hoard: Yes, I think it's been lost for quite some time!

Paul Slick: What school spirit? It all left on November 17!

Sid Shera: Yes, because of the growing disinterest in the school sports.

Denny Berryhill: We'll find out Saturday night!

Mary Shilling: No, because of the turn-out at games.

Jim Barker: Yes, I do because no one comes to the games to cheer, as they do at other schools!

Nancy Stewart: I don't think so; but if we had some sort of an organized cheer block, the school spirit would be better. A lot of kids come to the games but only a few of them really cheer!

Auto Collision
Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.

5208 S. Hanna H-0691

McKay
Electric Co.

Contractors

ELECTRIC WIRING and FIXTURES

7671 Bluffton Road
S-4151

Sophomore Christie Counsman Hopes To Assist Latin People

To help raise the living standards, educational conditions, and health facilities of the Latin American people is the ambition of Christie Counsman, sophomore, who hopes to work as a missionary or an interpreter.

"Before beginning my career, I hope to spend at least one year in a Spanish-speaking country so that

Christie Counsman

I can obtain a wider knowledge of the Latin American's languages and customs," Christie remarked.

Christie's initial decision to become an overseas worker was made when, four years ago, her sister returned from a three-month excursion in Europe. "This first-hand account of poverty-stricken people contributed to my decision," she stated.

TO GAIN FURTHER knowledge for her career, Christie attended a conference at Hanover College, sponsored by the United Presbyterian Church, for teenagers throughout the state during the summer.

As a delegate from her church, Christie studied the religions and the barriers of poverty-stricken peoples of overseas countries. She was also able to take a course entitled "A Faith for the Nations" which further introduced her to the great need for personal American aid to the Latin American countries.

Planning to attend Purdue or Indiana University, Christie will major in speech and languages.

ACQUIRING EXPERIENCE in speech, Christie placed first in the dramatics division at the Howe Inexperienced Speech Meet and fourth in the Allen County Speech Meet last year. Her entry was a cutting from the book, "The Robe," by Lloyd C. Douglas.

Christie also enjoys reading novels, listening to records by the Brothers Four, swimming, horseback riding, tennis, traveling, and talking on the telephone which she claims is a bad but enjoyable habit.

In her freshman year, Christie was chosen for being outstanding in extra-curricular activities; and now her hobbies and activities have grown to such an extent that every school night is filled. She is secretary of Masque and Gavel, a member of Assemblies Workshop and Wranglers, and a copy reader on the Times staff. At First Presbyterian Church, she is a member of Westminster Fellowship.

Teen Centers Gain Popularity As Leisure Gathering Places

To some high school students, a teen center is a place where they can go during lunch hour or in their free time to meet their friends and have fun.

This center must have certain qualities to maintain the interest of the fast-moving teenagers of today. Do teenagers pick a certain place because of its nearness to the school, for the good food that is served, to hear their favorite records, to meet and be able to talk thoroughly with a group of people their own age; or is it for other reasons?

DICK ROBINSON, sophomore, feels that his friends go to Miller's for a variety of ice cream flavors and for quick service, and that people go to Hall's because it is known as a local meeting place.

Kent Hagerman, sophomore, said, "There's nothing to do anyplace else, so I go to Miller's or Hall's to meet friends and talk."

Lisa Hoffman, senior, said, "I believe that Fort Wayne is lacking in good places where young people can gather. The only place we have to go after games or parties is Hall's. Drive-ins only offer food and room for teens to stand around and talk."

There should be some recreation centers where we can go to dance and have fun on week-ends, either with dates or in groups."

SEVENTEEN MAGAZINE described the different teen centers they had observed throughout the country as recreation rooms where high school students, chaperoned by either parents or hired helpers, can give their own parties and dances.

It can also be used for club meetings and church groups. It is a place that the teens can fix up the way they like it. They can furnish the room with ping-pong tables or use it as a place to develop crafts and skills.

South Star Sunoco
C. F. LAHRMAN, JR.
H-5159 204 E. Rudisill Blvd.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Give them that Keds lightfooted feeling!

Teen sneakers by U.S. Rubber, are the washable, arch-cushioned fun shoes . . . now in white canvas or white, black or gold nylon cord. Narrow or medium widths in teen sizes 4½ to 10, for wear from now on! 4.95

Boys' and undergrad sneakers are the traditional daytime, playtime shoes by U.S. Rubber. Washable uppers of white duck with crepe rubber soles, comfortable arch-cushion. Sizes 2½ to 6, 4.99; 6½ to 11, 5.50.

W&D Teen and Undergrad Shoes, Second Floor

Pharmacists Sell Drugs, Develop New Medicines

VITAMINS, ANYONE? ... Junior Mary Jane Reiff and her father are preparing a brew capable of returning anyone to "high spirits." In all seriousness, a pharmaceutical career offers many exciting and rewarding experiences. The chief duty of a pharmacist is filling prescriptions.—Photo by Jones

"Johnny, run down to the drug store for this medicine." How often this is said everyday without any thought given to the man dressed in the white coat who stands behind the counter filling many prescriptions everyday. What would life in America be like without the neighborhood druggist?

Pharmacy is a venerable profession. It goes back to the eighth century to the ancient Egyptians of Baghdad. In Europe, official recognition of pharmacy as a separate profession was given as far back as 1240 when Emperor Frederick II issued a special edict divorcing pharmacy from medicine throughout the kingdom of the Two Sicilies. Today, pharmacy is among America's most flourishing enterprises.

Pharmacy is the art and science of preparing from natural and synthetic sources, suitable and convenient materials for use as drugs. It also includes the compounding, the dispensing of drugs and medicines according to prescription, and the distribution of them.

THE PHARMACIST acts as an information center on certain health questions. He is the one whom the public continually turns for information on new drugs, sickroom supplies, disease prevention, and local health facilities.

There are several different fields in pharmacy. First is the retail pharmacist. In general, he compounds prescriptions for the public. This is the type of pharmacist known by most people.

The specialists who own the pharmacies in the hospitals often work with doctors on research on new drugs for the treatment of patients. This field offers growing opportunity for a career in pharmacy.

Industrial pharmacists work in many departments of a drug manufacturing company. They deal with marketing problems, writing technical literature about new products, handling executive jobs or doing large-scale compounding.

MOST COLLEGES of pharmacy now require four years of work for graduation with a B.S. degree in Pharmacy. This requirement is being increased by many colleges to five or six years, depending upon the requirements in each state. This longer course is being planned to give pharmaceutical students both a general college education and specialized training in their professional fields.

Since pharmacists are needed everywhere, students have little trouble finding a job. Most colleges of pharmacy have placement services and give students advice about opportunities and openings.

Mr. Glenn H. Reiff, Fort Wayne pharmacist, was influenced as a young boy by his father to go into pharmacy as a career. He was graduated from the Purdue University School of Pharmacy and immediately went to work for his father. He is now in partnership with his brother, Lyle, who, together, own and operate two stores. "This field," stated Mr. Reiff, "affords many rewarding experiences for those who work and grow with their business."

Gerig Super Service

MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service

3501 Bowser H-5269

Maloley Brothers

Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

NOEL

MERRY CHRISTMAS

and a

HAPPY NEW YEAR

WATTERS

STUDIO

3121 S. Calhoun
H-9941

Students Use Unusual Methods To Gain Sentimental Souvenirs

Traveling all over the world is one method of obtaining interesting souvenirs, but Archer students have found that just by keeping their eyes open and grabbing at the right moments they too can possess valuable or even sentimental items.

Anne Flottesmesch, sophomore, has in her possession a string of the basketball net from last year's Sectional Tournament. Evidently, one of the team members is minus one.

However, Anne stated that she is not about to part with her string for any price and keeps it safely hidden away under lock and key.

On the other hand, Dick Waterfield, senior, while vacationing in Florida, brought into his possession a crude fishing net buoy. Dick stated that the buoy must be centuries old and that it looked as if it were once used in the Mediterranean Sea.

HOWEVER, DICK RAN into some rather bad luck when he tried to fish this buoy out of the ocean. Discovering the buoy at the same time as he did was another "antique collector." After a little persuasion and putting some silver in the palm of his opponent, Dick became the sole owner of his fishing buoy.

Even though it cost him quite a bit of money, Dick still claims that it has mystic powers and rubs it every night before he goes to bed hoping a genie will soon appear.

However, souvenirs can be more useful than just for decoration or sentimental purposes, for they can save time and money if purchased wisely.

PANEL OF EDUCATORS Prepare Questions For Hi-Quiz Show

Every Sunday evening on WANE-TV, from 5:30 to 6 p.m., students from the various city schools compete on Hi-Quiz. Mr. James Jackson, quizmaster, asks the questions of the eight team members from the two competing schools.

Questions for the show are compiled by a panel of librarians of the Port Wayne and Allen County Public Library and members of the faculty of Indiana Technical College. They are taken from many sources of information, and all of these sources must be listed with the questions for verification.

The questions are asked by Mr. Jackson, and the school that is the first to correctly answer it is given a chance to answer a premium question. The challenge question is worth ten points and the premiums vary according to difficulty and number of parts.

According to Mr. Jackson, the purpose of the show is three-fold. First and most important, it is to direct the public's attention to one of the better qualities of today's young people. It tries to prove that teenagers aren't mad, wild people, but conscientious workers. Secondly, it is to develop a sense of competition within another field outside of athletics. Thirdly, it provides entertainment for students, parents, and all others who may be interested.

This year for the first time, all three classes of the high schools are to be represented. The seniors ended their six-week period on November 19. Bishop Luers and Central High School had the best records for their class with only one loss each. On November 26, the juniors began their six-week round, and after they are finished the sophomores will contest. Freshmen are not represented this year because of a conflict with the junior high schools. After all the classes are finished, the schools will go into the final playoffs. Only seniors will participate in those.

Students are chosen for the show by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor. The students are chosen according to their academic ability, extra-curricular activities, and the recommendation of their teachers. Also playing an important part in the choosing are their personality, poise, and ability to win or lose gracefully.

Despite the fact that South Side lost to Bishop Luers, 165 to 120, the Kelly students who participated seem to have enjoyed and benefitted from their experience.

Sharon Carrel, senior, said, "At first I was apprehensive of the duty before me. It was only after I realized that the scholastic reputation of the school did not depend upon whether or not we won or lost, that I was able to relax and enjoy the game."

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Rogers Friendly Markets

We Give
S & H
Green Stamps

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See
JASPER
Engine &
Transmission Exchange

3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Pupils Believe High Positions Require Ability

Does the man make the position or does the position make the man? This controversial question asked of Archers brought basically the same answers with only slight variations.

Mary Ellen Bowman: A man's position should be according to his abilities. The man may have a top position; but if his abilities for this position are poor, he will be unable to successfully carry out his work.

Jim Bailey: The abilities of a man obtain a position for him. It is his duty to use his abilities well enough to retain his job.

Dianna Brown: Position makes the man. His duties either show he is mature or unfit for the work.

Mary Bowland: The man makes the position. He has to have the ability in order to get the job. After he gets the position he has to do his best in order to maintain that position.

Becky Harsch: In my opinion the position sometimes makes the man. If he has an important job, the man usually will try his best to do his work successfully.

Automobile Crashes Impair Joyous Time Of Christmas Season

Although Christmas is a joyful season for most Americans, some families have to face a tragic season because of serious accidents.

Deaths due to car crashes are rising because of the ever-increasing number of cars on the highways. In some cases, drivers have either been drinking or are fatigued. Others are in a big rush and cars are heavily loaded.

If drivers find it necessary to be on the highways during the Christmas season, they will arrive safely if they are sensible, sober, and sincere. Following are some tested rules for safe driving:

Avoid the "death hours." One can double the chances of a safe holiday trip by getting off the road by midnight or 1 a.m. At this time the care-less drivers are apt to be out "charging" around.

INSTALL SAFETY BELTS. The National Safety Council, after making a careful survey, advised, "Get into your seat belt. No one that was killed during the last holiday season had them. If one wants to be safe rather than sorry, he will have safety belts installed in his car."

Drive on good roads. Turnpikes are about six times safer than old-fashioned "main roads" adjacent to highways, filling stations, and side roads.

Beware of the first fifty miles. The National Safety Council finds that on holidays, many accidents happen during the first ninety minutes of driving. It is possible the driver is excited, talking a great deal, getting used to the driving conditions, or in a big rush; but it has been proved that the driver is not as careful in the first hour as in the second.

Keep up the initial speed. Nothing is more dangerous than the pokey driver. A slow-moving car will cause hazards for those cars who have to pass it. A poking car can also build up tension for other drivers and make them re-act in a ruthless manner.

OBEDIENT ALL TRAFFIC laws. Be a courteous driver and think of the other fellow. After all, it is better to be late than never.

During Christmas many fires are caused by faulty lighting. To prevent these fires, check all Christmas tree lights to insure safety. Do not buy the tree too early. Keep it in a tub of water so it will not become dried out. Before going to bed or out of the house, turn all Christmas lights off.

Do not overload household circuits. If the family tree is of aluminum, do not put Christmas lights on it because they will melt the tree branches. When Christmas is over, dispose of a green tree to prevent any chance of fires.

Students Use Unusual Methods To Gain Sentimental Souvenirs

Cheryl George, senior, bought a bug killer in Williamsburg, Va.

ALTHOUGH CHERYL has never put the killer to practical use, she claims it to be a very simple mechanism to operate. She would simply open the lid, and when a fly or some other insect goes into the box she would smash the lid down, bringing instant death to the creature.

Barb Heinisch, senior, while staying in South Carolina had for a companion a pet seagull. After saving the seagull's life, she named it Alley-Oop and christened it as one of the members of the family.

Upon moving to Indiana, Barb had to part with her pet; but first, she removed a feather from his wing and made it into a pen. Therefore, she could keep part of her pet with her always. This she claims as her prize possession.

These are only a few of the souvenirs that students possess. Undoubtedly, if they were pooled together, they most likely would constitute a very interesting museum.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Educational TV Informs Public On Happenings

Although educational television is often ridiculed and denounced by the average student, the fact is that this programming can actually aid him. The expression "educational television" refers to programs of an educational nature for the general public and programs planned for specific groups of students working on academic subjects.

Educational programs for the general public include numerous daily news broadcasts, news specials, history shows, educational quizzes, public affairs programs, and documentaries.

All of these programs serve the excellent purpose of informing the public and the students in particular about the state of world affairs and specific subjects.

IN ADDITION, THERE is the special morning classroom program. This has met with tremendous success in many areas, notably New York State, where a morning class achieved a viewing audience of one hundred fifty thousand persons.

Secondly, there is either open or closed circuit educational television in individual schools. This teaching by television was first used widely in the 1958-1959 school year.

At that time, 569 public school systems and 117 colleges used television for direct classroom instruction. Now, many schools, including Harrison Hill and Indiana University, make use of this medium. Subjects are widely varied. They include science, mathematics, French, Russian, Spanish, typing, speech, literature, history, and political science.

There is now an ambitious enterprise in the field called the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction. Originating at Purdue University, the Airborne Program will cover at least parts of six states—Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Kentucky.

THE COURSES, recorded on video tape, will be telecast from an airplane circling high above northern Indiana. The telecasts will reach a 150 to 200 mile radius for six hours a day, four days a week.

This television teaching, both air and land, has undoubtedly demonstrated its value. With it, far more students are given access to excellent teachers and enriched experiences, and the cost is comparably small considering the quality put forth. After high school graduation, a student can earn up to three credit years of college work by using educational TV; regular classroom work can be complemented with the television courses. TV also helps to meet the teacher shortage.

So, as school years progress, educational television plays a larger role in learning. Perhaps in the near future all schools will make use of television teaching.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Red Hair Receives Vote Of Kelly Girls

Is being a redhead a privilege or a headache? This has been a universal question for years and years and still an answer has not yet been found. Do redheads really possess the "fiery" temper some people claim they have?

Sherry Baxter, senior, says her temper is no worse than anyone else's and it doesn't have anything to do with her hair. Besides her pet peeve, being called "red," Sherry considers having red hair an honor.

Freckles are another mark of a redhead. Nancy Redding, sophomore, says that although she has freckles all year round, they are more prevalent in the summer when they are usually accompanied by a terrific sunburn. Nevertheless, even with these few disadvantages she too considers being a redhead more of a privilege than a headache.

Heredity plays an important part in having red hair. Senior Jeannie Braden thinks she has red hair because she's part Irish. Jeannie says that people kid her about her temper, blaming it on her hair and Irish descent. However, she thinks her temper is no worse than anyone else's and has nothing to do with her hair color. She also considers it an honor to have red hair because so few people possess it.

Barb Fischer, sophomore, is another of the few possessing red hair. Barb says, "Having red hair doesn't bother me like most people would think except for the disadvantage of not being able to wear the color red." Barb has also been given different nicknames concerning her hair, but taking everything into consideration, she likes having red hair because it's so different and unusual.

Accountant's Work Requires Mathematical Mind, Memory

As our American economy expands, more accountants are required to make it work and a prediction has been made that this rise will continue.

In choosing accounting as a career, one will enter an old and honored occupation. The ancient Babylonians kept accounting records in 3600 B.C. As long as 1581, when the first College of Accounting was founded in Venice, it was recognized as a specialized occupation.

Merry Christmas to the six matza
 balls: Judy, Leslie, Cindy, Gwen, Pat, and Marge.
 Merry Christmas, Steve. Tell Uncle
 Sam the ocean can't keep us apart ever.—To my Marine, from Vickie Butchkrachendspamfoustamerryristmas.
 Merry Christmas to all the mariners in the equipment room.—Have fun!
 Merry Christmas to Eesop's boys,
 nieme, Bennington, and Margerum.
 From the ex-king of Eesop

Merry Christmas and Season's Greetings to All.
 Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to Bob (Purdue).—Logan
 Merry Christmas to Linda.—Sally
 Merry Christmas to the most wonderful boy I know. That's you, Tom.—
 Love, Jan
 Merry Christmas, "King Martini."
 —Judy
 Happy Christmas and Merry New Year, Scott.—Pat
 Merry Christmas to Bella, Sharon and Donna.—Logan
 Merry Christmas and Happy Easter
 Karen and Di.—Patrick
 Merry Christmas, "King Martini."
 —Your Slave, Jeanne Price
 Season's Greetings to the cool Ca-jets in the '55 and '61 Fords.

Girls Believe Sewing Clothes Gives Sense Of Achievement

TALENTED SEAMSTRESSES . . . Four Archer lasses have acquired the skill to make many of their own clothes and, as a result, economize plus gaining a sense of satisfaction from their original, well-made clothes. They are, from left to right, standing, Sally Gilbert, Ann Shilling, and Karen Finrock. Judy Evans is seated. —Photo by Seaman

To accomplish something which is both fun and profitable is the reason Sally Gilbert, Ann Shilling, Karen Finrock, Judy Evans, and Sally Boyer enjoy sewing. Making their own clothes for any season or occasion, these girls are simply kept busy with their hobby.

Since the age of four, Sally Gilbert has made numerous items, including formal, suits, skirts, and a muu muu. She has knitted sweaters, embroidered a linen table cloth, and needlepointed a chair cover. Becoming a fashion designer is Sally's aim.

Having been accepted at Purdue for her home economics studies, she hopes to also attend Frapahagen School of Fashion Design in New York.

Having taken designing lessons at House of Hedmark, Sally learned the basic rules of design for styles and good and bad tastes in women's clothing.

PAINTING, HORSEBACK riding, and ice skating are her other hobbies. When servicing for Mrs. Lois Murphy, home economics teacher, Sally believes that she learns more by helping the girls with their class work.

Ann Shilling has been sewing since early childhood. Rarely going by a pattern, Ann decides what to make as she sews. For Ann, the fun of sewing is seeing the first piece of material that she starts with take the form of a dress. Formal, dresses, wool and summer suits, and bermudas are Ann's accomplishments.

In addition to sewing, Ann enjoys making jewelry as a hobby. From various kinds of nuts, she has made bracelets, necklaces, and earrings. Hats made from fur skins were one of her other ventures. She also gardens during her spare time.

Suits, skirts, dresses, bermudas, and a long, flannel "Gramma" nightgown compose Karen Finrock's list of sewing achievements. At South, Karen has taken Home Economics 1, 2, and 3;

Room 22 Banks High

Collecting the largest amount of money for banking December 5 is Miss Edith Crowe's Homeroom 22 with $29.25. Ranking second was Miss Pohlmeier's Room 188 with $22.60.

THE COMPTOMETER SCHOOL

Day and Night Classes Forming
305 Central Bldg. A-7217

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOK-OUT
Dining Room

BAER FIELD
FORT WAYNE, INDIANA

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Calling all students . . .
time to order your

BABER
CLASS RINGS

Phone
A-7306 . . . E-4197

BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

Bicycling Provides Enjoyment, Furnishes Healthful Recreation

In an age of speeding cars, teenagers have nearly forgotten the bicycles which so faithfully served them in earlier years. Many teenagers and adults are just now realizing the pleasures of bicycling. This healthful and pleasurable pastime is an inexpensive form of transportation and recreation, a valuable way to spend one's spare time, a means of improving physical condition, and a carefree and happy way of getting closer to nature.

Bicycling can be a way of escaping the pressures of everyday life through an inexpensive way of visiting many world-famed shrines and historical spots. Interest is growing in bicycling clubs due to the fact that it is a pastime which can be enjoyed by young and old from so many aspects.

A bicycle club consists of people who have one desire in common, the desire to enjoy the many benefits of group riding. To start a club one simply announces a meeting to form a bicycle riding club and sets up a meeting place where the interested persons can gather conveniently. The person who has taken the initiative to gather the group can be temporary chairman until the club gets under way, at which time members select a name and make up a constitution and by-laws which will govern the club.

SOME CLUBS ALREADY organized have a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and a road captain.

One of the best features of a good bicycle club is that it consists of members of varying ages, cultural levels, nationalities, and religions. Everyone who has a common love for cycling is eligible for membership. The members set a meeting place and date to keep a fairly regular schedule, and then adopt objectives for the club.

It should include increasing the individual's knowledge of bicycling; promoting the pleasure and enjoyment of this healthful sport; insuring good fellowship and lasting friendship; fostering group rides, tours, bicycle safety, and many other mutually beneficial activities; and maintaining a

Future Archerland To Contain Televisions, Push-Button Cafe

The little red schoolhouse stood serenely on the hilltop, the large willow tree swayed to and fro over the red roof, and the bubbling brook flowed past it. South Side of today is certainly a far cry from the little red schoolhouse of yesteryear, but what will South be like in the future, for instance in the year 2000?

Zip! There goes the ever-speedy track star, Karl Bandesmeier VII. Since he got his lighter-than-air, super-sonic track shoes, Karl has become an incomparable trackster. Zip, zing—that's Karl!

"A basket, a basket, we want a basket!" That is the uproarious cheer heard from the always-faithful Archer fans. "Go, Dale!" Seven-foot, four-inch Dale Killamier did it again. Killamier has been taking super nuclear-powered pep pills that enable him to match the strength of a lion. How those pills have aided the Archer team!

CRUNCH—OOOF! What on earth was that? Yes, of course, it must have been Tom McHamm tackling a member of Central Catholic's grid squad. The Archer football team has acquired new vinyl uniforms that are as clear, but thick, plastic; and they also seem weightless. Now McHamm can really travel down the field. The Archers are still winning, and that's what counts.

What's cooking in the chemistry lab? It is really amazing what a jet-propelled air deodorizer fan can do for a chemistry room after a couple of energetic students like Sadie North and Jane Ladder have matched their matted minds.

Electronic eyes and ears are set up in the history classroom. Portable trans-oceanic telephones and televisions permit the teachers and students to communicate with peoples of distant lands. These new devices enable students to keep up with current events just as they happen.

THE NEW, AUTOMATIC, push-button cafeteria is just the thing for all growing students. Available foods are innumerable, and overweight students have convenient push-button diet meals. A special container that immediately disposes of all paper and food wastes stands in the corner. What luxuries!

Along with the super-modern convenience and advantages, the courses at South have become more difficult; but then too, the students have become more intelligent. For more comfort and to further better study habits, classroom desks are cushioned; and everyone has more elbow room.

The teachers have it easier, too, for their desks are larger with more compartments for their papers and belongings. Robot grading machines are handy in many subjects, and some robot teachers conduct special demonstrations. Blackboards are more numerous; and the lighting in the rooms allows all students, regardless of where they are sitting, to see the board.

Can all of this be possible in this futuristic age? Of course, it can; but many long for the good old days of 1961 when the teachers were human and the courses were easier.

Meterites Plan Election

The Meterite Club will elect new officers for the coming semester January 2 at 3:30 p.m. in Room 112. Sally Adams is the chairman of the nominating committee, and Mary Beaudway, Alice Fruchtenicht, and Ruth Russ are working with her.

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Five Archers Write Letters To Foreigners

Writing to pen pals in foreign countries is not only an interesting hobby but is also informative. One can learn the customs, news, and history of his pen pal's country.

Sarah Finch, senior B, has a pen pal in Japan who is about her age. They have come to know each other very well through their three years of corresponding. About once a month, they describe their customs, hobbies, and family life to each other in their letters.

The Japanese think of art as a sacred treasure. Sarah's pen pal sends her many beautiful pictures which she has drawn herself. The drawings refer either to the scenery in Japan or to the Japanese customs. Sarah regards her friend's art work as very fascinating and priceless.

BETSY ADAMS, junior A, has a pen pal from England, to whom she has been writing for four years. Customs, social life, and hobbies are the main topics the girls discuss. Betsy receives a letter about once a month.

Gail Brumm, junior B, has a Swedish boy and a Swedish girl to whom she has written for two years, as pen pals. The girl is 15; the boy, 17. They both attend private schools which they like very much. Gail and her pen pals converse about school, sports, and vacations. Through writing to them, Gail has learned much about Sweden and Swedish customs; she hopes to continue writing to them.

Gwen Welling, sophomore A, writes to a 17-year-old boy from Australia. They have been corresponding for one year, writing about such subjects as social life, customs, and hobbies.

Gwen's friend hopes to attend Northwestern University next year. If he does come to America, Gwen stated that she will be anxious to meet her pen pal.

MARY ALICE TRUBY, sophomore B, has written to a boy from Japan for the past four years. He is 17 and a junior in high school. They write every two weeks about schools, studies, cities, and hobbies.

Mary Alice has several gifts which the Japanese boy has sent her which include picture postcards of Japan. He also sent her a family of dolls dressed in their native costumes that Mary treasures very much.

Tom Blossom Plans Meteorology Studies For College, Future

Meteorology, aeronautics, and operating a "ham" radio keep Sophomore Tom Blossom active, informed, and interested. Having studied meteorology for over a year, Tom is a member of the American Meteorology Society and receives the bi-monthly magazine from the society.

Pursuing his interest in aeronautics, he attends air shows and is learning about private planes. Tom has written to every airline company in the United States and received pamphlets from them and the Air Transportation Association.

At Ben Geyer Junior High School, Tom received the "Mr. Mac" Award. This is an honor received by a junior high girl and boy from Mr. Dale McMillen, for scholarship, exploratory character, good sportsmanship, and athletic achievement. Tom received the plaque by having a "B" average and being chosen as a result of a teachers' poll.

Trips all over Canada and the United States have been of great interest in Tom's life. On sightseeing trips to Canada, he has seen Windsor, Ottawa, Toronto, the Canadian National Exhibition, Quebec, Ontario, and Niagara Falls.

In the United States among the 42 states visited, Tom particularly enjoyed Washington. At Washington, he saw the Coastal Aeronautical Center with modern jets and sea planes. Tom's extra time at South is spent in the Science Club, and he is now trying to start a meteorology division of the club. Outside of school, he earns money as a Journal-Gazette newsboy. After graduation from high school, Tom plans to study meteorology in college.

Who Loses Shirts Best?

SLICK'S
H-3232

Paul Says:

Nobody knows about your integrity, your sincerity, your talent or your good will—until you give out samples.

HESS INSURANCE AGENCY

General Insurance

132 E. Berry St. (2nd Floor)
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana
Phones: E-2424—Res., H-8928

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors

For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield H-6141

Sophomore B Nancy Stewart Enjoys Showing Horses, Golf

An active, outdoor girl with interests as varied as night and day—that's Sophomore Nancy Stewart. Nancy's greatest interest is horses. Several years ago, while staying with relatives, Nancy decided to learn how to jump.

Although she had never ridden before, she took one lesson and began jumping, which lasted until Mrs. Stewart learned about it. Upon her return home, Nancy began to take lessons in earnest and has been riding regularly since.

NANCY'S FAVORITE phase of horsemanship is jumping. Nancy does not own her own horse, but rides at the Lane Stables. She would eventually like to own a hunter.

The owner of the Lane Stables decided to enter three horses in the Junior Charity Show last year, and Nancy was chosen to show one. She finished sixth in her category; this year Nancy placed first in the English Equitation category for her age. In addition to horses, Nancy plays golf at the Fort Wayne Country Club. This summer she won the Fourth Flight Ladies' Handicap. Golf is a major pastime in the Stewart household. Not only Nancy, but the entire family plays. Her older brother Dave was a member of South's golf team. According to Nancy, the thing she likes best about golf is "driving around that little electric cart."

SERVICE TO HER community is also a keynote in Nancy's life. Every Tuesday from 4 to 6:30 p.m. Nancy does volunteer work at St. Joseph Hospital. Nancy prefers working with elderly people.

Nancy is a sophomore on the college preparatory course and a member of Wranglers, Masque and Gavel, Assemblies Workshop, and the Times staff.

Concerning her future, Nancy is making definite plans to enter the nursing profession. "In this way I will be able to serve my fellow man and to make the most of any ability or interest I have."

Peace Corps Volunteers Assist With World's Social Problems

A Norwegian exchange student in the United States said, "We want to fight problems, not people." Those words perhaps best sum up the feelings of young people all over the world. And because they do feel this way, the goals of the newly-formed Peace Corps fit their imagination.

Many teenagers all over the United States are eager to know more about the Corps; how it will function, what volunteers will do, and, most important, if there is a place in the Peace Corps for them.

Who will be selected as volunteers? The standards in the Corps are very high. Candidates will be thoroughly screened (through interviews, physical examinations, written tests, and close observation) to determine their competence, maturity, and, perhaps most important their reasons for wishing to join the Corps.

WHAT WILL PEACE CORPS volunteers do? The basic idea of the Corps is to help newly developing nations to speed up their social and economic progress. Therefore, depending upon each country's individual needs, volunteers will work as teachers, librarians, nurses, medical assistants, laboratory technicians, social workers, accountants, civil administrators, and in many other capacities.

Volunteers will be sent only where they are needed and wanted. They'll work closely with the people they're helping, and they'll live very much as their counterparts in that country live.

Where will volunteers be sent? It is expected that most Peace Corps Volunteers will be sent to Africa, Asia, the Middle East, and Latin America. As a volunteer, one may request an assignment in a specific locale, but though the Corps won't guarantee he'll be sent there, it will try to match his background, knowledge, and experience to areas where he would function best.

WHAT KIND OF TRAINING will volunteers receive? The volunteer training is divided into five categories. They are the study of the language of the country to which the volunteer will be assigned; the study of the customs, traditions, history, and economy of the country to which the volunteer will be assigned; refresher courses in the volunteer's particular field; physical conditioning; health and medical practices; and refresher courses in

Choir Plans TV Tape

Making a video television tape at WANE-TV Monday, performing in the Christmas Assembly, and caroling in the halls and at the Lincoln Bank Wednesday, the choir will complete its singing engagements for the year.

why not give her what she wants . . . she says, I'll find it in

Jr. H/aven gift memo

fluff muff (slippers) 5.00	crew neck sweat shirts 3.00
scarfs 2.00 to 5.00	lace trimmed sissy shirts 6.50
fur mitts 4.00	fur blend sweaters 11.00 to 13.00
cotton gloves 2.00	dye-to-match skirts 13.00
knee socks 2.00	sheffield-type cardigans 8.00
bunny muffs 5.00 plus tax	circle pins—butterfly pins 1.00 plus tax necklaces 1.00 plus tax velvet hair bows 3 for 2.00

Frances Shop
118 W. Wayne

Students Gain Enjoyment, Poise From Lessons At Ballet School

ARCHER BALLERINAS . . . Dancing is an important interest in the lives of Archers, from left to right, Alice Fruechtenicht, Christine Fruechtenicht, Martha Dixon, and Marla Habecker. These girls have danced in productions of the Fort Wayne Ballet Company and the Festival Theater.—Photo by Lowden

As one watches the graceful body of a ballet dancer whirl across the stage, one may secretly envy her because of her beautiful body or her accomplishing feats.

Although ballet is not glamorous, easy, or beautiful behind the scenes, as Christine Fruechtenicht, sophomore, can well attest, one gains immeasurable enjoyment from long, hard hours of work. Christine said, "Ballet is extremely hard work, but the great feeling of personal satisfaction is reward enough."

At the Fort Wayne School of Ballet, directed by John Neff, five South Side students were interviewed who attend the school.

MARLA HABECKER, junior, finds that ballet has helped her posture and self-confidence. Marla believes that if one has to quickly learn new dance combinations and remember them, this ability will carry over other facets of life. She also feels that performing on stage gives one a feeling of personal accomplishment.

Marla commented, "Ballet improves one's coordination, helps one's personality, gives one a spirit of determination, enables one to meet more people, and makes one strive for perfection."

Martha Dixon, junior B, feels that taking ballet helps one understand and appreciate music and the feeling it induces a creative spirit by making one think. "Ballet is excellent for coordination," stated Martha.

FRED SLATER, sophomore B, cited ballet as a means to maintain physical fitness and coordination, to associate with good worthwhile music, to meet people, and to establish clean entertainment.

Alice Fruechtenicht, freshman B, stated that by taking ballet, one develops a spirit of hard work which can also be applied in other phases of life.

Marla and Alice display their ability as members of the Fort Wayne Ballet Company Incorporated, which performs both in Fort Wayne and Indianapolis.

Traveling Students Tell Places To Find Education, Relaxation

Whether by plane, car, bike, or by train—from sea to shining sea, this nation has much of the glory of the world to offer tourists. Some travelers prefer to sightsee the slow, easy way. Campers are in this class, pitching a tent, staying awhile and enjoying the surrounding terrain. Swift travelers—always on the run—want to see as much as possible in "the two weeks with pay."

The lucky ones are the world travelers, going beyond the confines of the shining seas. A world traveler is something almost everyone would like to be. Don't forget the stay-at-home vacationers. This group may be the wisest, doing their traveling via television, magazines, and drama.

Make a choice—salmon swimming up the Columbia, natives in the Bayous, Fisherman's Wharf, the Big Bridge, Lincoln's Memorial in Washington, D.C. These are just some of the sights by which one may be educated.

Archer students seem to enjoy traveling, and they have seen new and wonderful places which they will remember forever. One can learn a great deal by looking around him as many of the students have learned.

Anell Hoover, junior B, has commented on some of the interesting places she has seen. Last year, she made a trip to Washington, D.C., with her family and she saw many of the great monuments.

SOPHOMORE B John Varner is a steady camper. For three weeks each summer, camps in state and national parks are the home of the Varner family. John said he liked all of the 43 states he has visited. The Grand Canyon amazed him because of its different rock formations.

Detroit, Mich., is the favorite tourist spot of Paul Slick, junior, because he enjoys watching the "drag" races. Paul has also travelled outside of the United States to Cuba, Canada, and to Catalina.

Susan Lotz, junior A, liked Montana

Kellys Give Opinions On Early Advertising Of Christmas Buying

The policy of many of Fort Wayne's merchants has been to begin decorating and advertising for Christmas as soon as the Thanksgiving holiday is over. Several Archers have been asked to give their views of this practice.

Larry Lee: I feel that the merchants are playing up the commercial angle of Christmas too much. I think it's ridiculous for them to tell me there are only fifty shopping days until Christmas.

Jo Ellen Bobay: I think the Christmas decorations are put up much too soon. Storekeepers should concentrate on putting up Thanksgiving decorations.

Tom Plesniak: Store owners are not establishing a good policy. I think every holiday has its place on the calendar, and I believe that this position should not be violated.

Bob Wasson: Some people carry these early Christmas decorations to too great an extent. Christmas should overshadow Thanksgiving because it is more important, but they don't have to bring out the decorations so soon.

Mary Jane Reiff: It doesn't even give people enough time to rest from Thanksgiving until they are caught in the Christmas rush.

Nancy Redding: I think that Christmas is becoming too commercial. Because merchants begin selling Christmas merchandise in November, Thanksgiving has lost its significance.

Suzanne Link: Since this policy is followed, the proper emphasis is taken away from Thanksgiving. People are too intent on what they're going to purchase and how soon they will be able to do their Christmas shopping. Thanksgiving should be given attention on more than one day; people should be able to be thankful without Christmas merchandise being shoved at them.

Elizabeth Ellis: I don't think early Christmas advertising is a good policy, because, in the first place, the main goal of Christmas shouldn't be material gain; but it must be a time for worship. The sudden change of atmosphere takes away much of the significance of Thanksgiving, one of the most important days in our country's history.

and California the best of the 48 states she has visited. She commented about the mountains in California, "The dew in the early morning makes them look so beautiful."

Claudia Stennes, junior B, has visited 46 of the 50 states. However, she enjoyed her trip to Mexico more than to the states. She said she liked everything about the country, especially the people. "They seemed so happy," she stated.

One incident she recalled involved two small boys who made a living by shining shoes. In this way, the two boys could help at home. Claudia gave the boys 50 cents for shining her shoes; but since they had no change at the moment, Claudia allowed the boys to keep the change. "They were so thrilled; the change amounted to what their father would make in a week," Claudia reported.

DALE BLOOM, sophomore A, has been to 45 states. The Bloom family went by air to California about four years ago. Dale stated he thought it was a scenic state and that everyone should try to visit it at least once. He also said Florida was a most interesting state to visit. Since he enjoys deep sea fishing, he visited the seashore in Florida to further his hobby.

Professors, Students Discuss Assets Of Superior Schools

Students often wonder just what makes a good high school. A leading professor of education has stated that when hundreds of parents, teachers, students, and leaders were asked this same question, the answers resulted in a corporate "recipe" containing seven main ingredients.

One of the first important qualities of a superior school is having a sense of purpose. It is the duty of the teacher and principals to alert the students on how to make the most of school hours.

An average of three hours is required for homework; therefore, the student should learn both how to study properly and how to make the most of after-school hours. A student should try to be scholarly and to make a habit of neat dress and good manners at school.

Another important point is the help of the parents to improve schools. Parents must begin by teaching their children good values. They must make sure that enough undisturbed study time is allotted. They should be sure that extra-curricular activities take up only a reasonable amount of time.

IT IS ALSO THE DUTY of the student to assume responsibility and to strive for the betterment of his school. He should choose subjects that interest him and should try to learn as much as he can about all that he studies.

Excellent teachers are also necessary. Their one aim should be to teach and not to win popularity contests. They are favorably uninflected with extra jobs such as bus and cafeteria duty, which take up time that should be devoted to teaching or preparation.

Inspiring leadership in administration adds to the quality of a school. A good administration is one that keeps in close touch with the school itself, drops in on classes, talks to teachers and students individually and collectively.

Finally the school must also possess a far-sighted school board, and a supportive community.

THESE MANY FACTORS add to the merit of a high school. What makes a good high school good? When asked this same question, South Side students agreed with the experts.

Students Participate In Holiday Program

"The Other Shepherd," a Christmas play, will be presented by the youth of Wayne Street Methodist Church on December 18 at the Simpson Methodist Church. The cast includes Tom Erb, Bob Wasson, Margee Terry, Karen Simmons, and Susie Hoard.

The play centers around Ethan, a poor shepherd, portrayed by Tom Erb, who wants to be a priest, but feels he cannot be a servant of God if he is only a herder of sheep. He wants to go to Jerusalem, but he gives his money to help his friends. When Mary and Joseph ask for a place to sleep, he gives them his stable.

While he cares for his sheep, his other friend witnesses the star and the angels. He is unhappy that he has missed the coming of his Saviour. When Mary tells Ethan that she wants her son to be just like the poor shepherd, he realizes that as a shepherd he is a servant of God.

KYC To Nominate Officers

Nominations for new officers and a Christmas party are on the agenda for Tuesday's Know-Your-City Club meeting in Room 110 at 3:30 p.m.

The present acting officers of the club are Ann Rantz, president; Sharon Chase, vice-president; Ann Cheno-weth, secretary; and Marilyn Parke, treasurer. Mr. Richard Block, government instructor, is the sponsor.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974

CARRY OUTS

LAUNDRY

Dental School Graduates Find Futures In Clinics, Teaching, Private Practice

Dr. Robert Sturm, a dentist in private practice in Fort Wayne, like others in his field, finds that dentistry is a challenging but very rewarding profession. He recommends dentistry to boys and girls who are willing to take the extra years of college work.

For those going into dentistry, the first two or three years of college are spent in pre-dental study, and the next four in dental school. The last two years of college are spent in a clinic where actual dental work is performed.

AFTER SEVEN YEARS of work, unless two more years are spent acquiring a degree in a specialty such as oral surgery, there is usually no internship as a medical doctor would have. The graduate is ready to go immediately into his work.

At this time, setting up an office becomes essential. Equipment includes an x-ray machine, a dental unit, a chair, a sterilizer, instruments, and office furniture. An estimated ten thousand dollars is required for this.

The typical day for the dentist is nine to ten hours, and there are generally very few night calls. In those hours at the office, the dentist does restorative work, extractions, crown and bridge work, dentures, partial dentures, radiology, and cleaning work in his office.

BESIDES PRIVATE practice, which is very competitive, there are many other doors open to opportunities in dentistry. Teaching jobs, research jobs in industry, and clinic work is available. Some hospitals hire dentists and specialists for dentistry for patients.

The advantages of dentistry include self-satisfaction in rendering a valuable service to others, independence, and security in being self-employed, and interesting work due to meeting many people.

Dr. Sturm was highly complimentary to his profession and stated that the disadvantages, besides the high cost of education and number of years, were very few.

For girls who are interested in dental work, there are the jobs of dental assistants and dental hygienists. The assistant does office work and odd jobs around the office. A two-year college course is recommended for assistants.

The hygienist's duties are to clean teeth, take x-rays, and make mouth examinations which serve as a double check for the dentist. This job requires two to four years of college work.

For those interested in any field of dental work, Dr. Sturm highly recommends the high school courses of chemistry, physics, math, languages, and public speaking.

Tom McMahan Quarterbacks Team, Leads Religious Group

According to active Tom McMahan, senior A, the important thing for a successful life is to have a variety of things in one's life, many different interests and friends. This busy Archer follows his outlook on life very closely with all his activities.

Tom is president of the Pilgrim Fellowship at Plymouth Congregational Church, vice-president of Hi-Y, and a member of Lettermen's and DeMolay. Besides these clubs, which claim much of his time, he still manages to take a very active part in sports and keep up on his schoolwork. Tom was quarterback for this year's football team.

"FOOTBALL IS MY best game; and I like it because it's an outdoor game, a good team game, and involves body contact," said Tom.

Aside from these activities, Tom plays the French horn and occupies the first chair in the school band. For three consecutive years he has played in the all-city orchestra, a group consisting of the best high school musicians, and the summer Festival Theater Orchestra at Franke Park.

Tom has also been awarded first and second place medals in state competition as master of the French horn.

He has won top honors in Allen County competitions every year since he was in seventh grade at Harrison Hill School. This year Tom had a chance to play in the Philharmonic Orchestra but found himself unable to fit it into his heavy schedule.

BESIDES FOOTBALL, Tom plays baseball on a Junior Federation team, and enjoys basketball. Last summer his baseball team was runner-up in the Great Lakes Regional Tournament. This past summer he worked for his father, Dr. V. K. McMahan, at his veterinary clinic.

After graduating from high school, Tom plans to go on to college at Purdue or Earlham, taking either engineering or adding a doctor of veterinary medicine to his name. Tom plans on four and one-half years of math, his best subject, and feels engineering would be a good vocation.

Students Waste Valuable Time, Sacrifice Study For Television

Of all the excuses for not having one's homework done on time or not studying for a test "I was watching TV" would probably be the most honest one. Television and its place in our modern life is almost unbelievable. The family life in the average American home revolves around that little box in the den.

Families have lost the art of visiting with their neighbors and friends because of it; people have forgotten the pleasure of reading a good book and playing a game of cards because of it; students are losing valuable years in school because of it.

The school time for the average American is a brief 12 years. Within these twelve years, or perhaps a few more spent in college or a trade school, a person must prepare himself for the future. What kind of preparation does an evening spent with "The Untouchables" offer?

Can the person who spends his time relaxing with his favorite TV programs become an intelligent, well rounded adult through the antics of "Fred Flintstone"?

KNOWLEDGE IS AN investment for the future. It is the most valuable asset a person can possess. It enables him to support himself and perhaps a family; it enables him to be a responsible, respected citizen; but more important than this, it enables him to grow within himself and to benefit humanity with this growth.

Now, apparently, this belief is dying. Knowledge is no longer important. Oh, sure, it's all right for those who haven't anything better to do. Let somebody else study, let somebody else learn; it's easier, more comfortable to relax in a big chair and become engrossed in the TV set.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Is television really that important? Is it really worth the time and energy devoted to it? Can a student excuse himself from studying because, "I just can't miss this! It's my favorite show!"

IT IS TRUE THAT MANY TV programs are of an educational as well as enjoyable level. Often there are news specials, debates and the like; these can be an experience in learning. They are often history in the making. These programs are of importance to the general citizenry, but few people watch them.

Each person must make his own decision. No one can force another to learn. The decision is really a simple one. Which is more important, the future of the individual and the world in general; or the present pleasure of a TV program?

Knowledge is a commodity that can belong only to the person who earns it. Once acquired, it is a life long possession; theft proof, fireproof, and indestructible; and it is easier to gain knowledge than to conceal the lack of it.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE
202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298

Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald 4235 Fairfield
Res. K-1188 Bus. H-9661

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE

Science

Engineering

General Education

Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.

Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.

Indiana Technical College

Coney Island WIENER STAND

131 West Main A-0783

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers

The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Graves & Hageman, Inc.

Commercial Floor Covering Contractors

1602 E. Radisall Phone H-4200

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER

1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana

NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Archers To Activate Students Commence Planning Joyous Vacation's Recreation

RIBBONS AND 'RAPPING PAPER' . . . Christmas time means gift-wrapping time. Therefore, it means out with the scissors, ribbons, tape, and paper. For this year's task, Sophomores Jane Knettle, Judy Rogers, Cheri Hahn, and Susie Smith have formed a ladies' "wrapping circle."—Photo by Lowden

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN . . . With the help of master chefs, from left to right, Bob Ramage, Steve Simmons, and John Addington, bakers Susie Bumgardner, Liz Weikart, and Honey-K Martindale prepare Christmas cookies; their specialty—all sizes, shapes, and flavors.—Photo by Jones

'BRINGING IN THE SHEAVES' . . . Generous Archers, from left to right, Denny Truitt, Patty Somers, Sandy McCombs, and Rick Bear, bring in food, clothes, and toys to be turned over to the Christmas Bureau, who, in turn, distributes them to needy families in the area.—Photo by Seaman

'AND A SLED' . . . Says John Grodrian as he sums up his 17-page Christmas list to Santa. Oh, well, at least it saved him from paying for an airmail stamp! Santa Claus and small children are always a tradition at Christmas time.—Photo by Lowden

SUFFERING SHOPPERS . . . Just to make sure everyone will get a gift, from left to right, Sally Adams, Sue Moyer, Linda Seibel, and Pam Himes have spent many exhausting hours shopping. Remember, only seven shopping days left until Christmas! —Photo by Lowden

Three Pupils Place In Speech Contest

Winning first, second, and third places, respectively, at the last Wranglers' meeting in the extemporaneous speaking contest are Sally Franklin, Margee Terry, and Ken Davis. Debbie Tourkow and Jim Trulock also participated.

The contestants were given about thirty minutes to prepare their speeches from magazine articles given to them that night.

The Christmas play, directed by Logan Smith, 12B, and entitled "Star of Wonder," will be presented at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. The play is about a middle-aged couple who doesn't feel Christmas is worth all the effort that most people put into it. While waiting in a train station on Christmas Eve, their minds are changed by an orphan boy and a dream.

Characters in the play are Ann Brase, Mrs. Clark; Phil Spray, Mr. Clark; Patsie Dorton, Miss Pruett; David Jackson, Joey; Debby Decker, Mary; Ken Davis and Lex Smuts, two shepherds;

Bob Bartel, Melchior; Bob Wasson, Baltheaser; Tim Grodrian, Caper; Jim Trulock, inn-keeper; Vicki Miller, inn-keeper's wife; and Jackie Kuhns, Pat Bailey, Joyce Cossairt, and Phyllis Pierson, four angels.

Campers To Attend Christmas Reunion

Any South Side girl who attended Camp Ella J. Logan during any of the four sessions last summer is invited to attend the "All Camp Reunion" on December 29, between 1 and 4:30 p.m. at the Southwest Conservation Club, 5703 Bluffton Road. Old clothes should be worn. Counselors will be flown in from Canada and all parts of the United States to attend.

MEMBERS OF the planning board include Cheryl Cutter, Elmhurst, Portage Junior High, Abote; Charlotte McKay, Hillcrest, Kekionga; Melinda Hennina, Auburn, McKinny Junior High; Ginger DeVault, North Side; and Karen Franks, South Side.

Sophomore Margaret Shirley, in charge of invitations, will write 400 people in the United States as well as Canada.

The publicity committee is putting notices in all schools within the Limberlost Council area.

KAREN FRANKS, sophomore, is in charge of decorating the floors of the Southwest Conservation Club. Two Christmas trees will stand on either side of the stage. A Girl Scout emblem, made of chicken wire and Kleenex, will hang from the ceiling with streamers leading from it to all parts of the room.

For refreshments, punch and cookies will be served.

Archers Discuss Code Of Behavior

Four junior and sophomore class officers represented South Side at a PTA meeting December 6 in a conference to work out a teenage code of behavior for Fort Wayne teenagers.

Representing South were Tonya Hines, junior class president; Ken Davis, junior class social council member; Rick Meeks, sophomore class president; and Debby Decker, sophomore class secretary-treasurer. Students from all Fort Wayne schools were invited.

Mrs. V. K. McMahan, president of the South Side PTA, also invited several Archer parents to attend the meeting, which was an outgrowth of a November 15 PTA meeting.

At the last meeting, three committees were formed to discuss certain parts of the code to be formed. Larry Lee is in charge of discussing after-prom parties. Debby Decker and Mrs. Lane Breidenstein are on a committee concerning drinking, smoking, and the way teens dress. Ken Davis and Mrs. McMahan are discussing teenagers' driving to school.

These three committees will meet separately during the month and then will discuss their resolutions at the next meeting in January.

Alumni Plan Parties, Dance For Vacation

Sponsoring two open houses and a dance, the parents of the college students will present parties on Thursday, December 29, and 31.

The first open house will be at the Galbreath Studio, 2905 Fairfield Avenue, on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Rockhill, 1710 Forest Park, will host the second open house on December 31 from 4 to 7 p.m. for college students only.

The dance on December 29 at 12:30 a.m. is open to any college student and his date, who does not need to be in college. Tickets for the dance costing $4 may be purchased from Mrs. Sam Hunt. Jimmy Stier's Orchestra will play at the dance.

Senior B Bill Hess Wins Boy Scout Honor Award

Bill Hess, senior B, recently received the bronze palm at a court of honor ceremony at Emmaus Lutheran Church for his work in the Emmaus Lutheran Church Boy Scout organization. Bill was awarded the first bronze palm in the history of the Emmaus Lutheran Church.

During the past nine years of Scouting experience, Bill has won many awards, the last being the eagle award. Bill belongs to the Explorer Post which is Troop number 2028.

Bill feels that if he had not been in Scouts he might not have learned any of the sporting activities and other projects which the Scouts explore. "Scouting has meant much to the enjoyment of my life," stated Bill.

Christmas Season Represents Time Of Pity, Sorrow, Love

By Barrie McCombs

At the outskirts of Cherry Corners—one had hardly left the post office before he was at the outskirts of the village—stood a little white story-and-a-half cottage. It stood well back in its ample yard, and the long walk that led from the white picket-gate to the smallest of white porches, was bordered on either side with well-trimmed bushes of snowball lilac, and sourberry. The yard was one smooth, unbroken blanket of white, except where a zig-zag path had been shoveled under the clothesline.

The snow was piled at the foot of the bushes, at either side of the front gate, forming miniature Alps. Near these clean white mounds lay the stump of a cigar. It had been thrown there by the grocer who had brought the meat that morning, and it was the only untidy thing in that realm of neatness and whiteness.

Soon, Miss Phinway would notice it as she started her daily walk to the post office and would turn back to the house to ask Anna May to remove the offensive reminder of man's untidiness with the shovel. Miss Phinway prided herself on her neatness, which to those who didn't know her appeared to be quite an eccentricity.

BUT IF MISS PHINWAY was the embodied spirit of cleanliness, she had one obsession that even exceeded her neatness: to escape the noise of a slammed door. She herself had the quietness of a mouse and moved without a rustle. Satin petticoats would have driven her insane; a creaking rocking chair was such a torture to her that she once lied to escape one.

It was when the sewing circle met at Mrs. Thomas' that Miss Phinway was given a chair that creaked with every slightest movement. She changed chairs with Mrs. Dod Hemming as soon as she could; but that only made matters worse, for Mrs. Hemming was a rocker, one of those exuberant rockers who tried to make a century run for each new bit of gossip. She would rock from the cen-

Waiting For Snow, Sleeping To Occupy Students' Holi-Daze

Since Christmas is such a special season, each person associates a particular activity with it that he especially enjoys. Life during vacation can be consumed by feasting, studying, gathering with the family, or just "goofing off." Archers have mentioned their favorites among the holiday activities.

Bob Weiss: Eating!
Brenda Dull: Waiting for it to snow.
George Gilmour: Skiing.

Chuck Parker: Playing with my tinkler toys.

Susie Hines: Doing my reports for Mr. Gersmehl.

Dianne Ball: Sleeping!

Mary Jane Reiff: Riding around in a red fire engine.

Shari Busch: Ice skating and watching television.

Lyall Morrill: Resting and turning in Christmas greetings for the Times.

Jim Walker: Driving on ice.

Steve Leitz: Opening Christmas presents.

Larry Lee: Studying for my hour long and sleeping.

Evert Mol: Carving wooden shoes.

Tom Frazell: Safe driving.

Cindy Russell: Waiting on my father hand and foot.

Ann Golden: Skiing.

YFC Christmas Program To Include Skit, Music

"The Skeptic," a short Christmas play, will be the main feature at the Youth for Christ meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. This is the tale of a man who doesn't believe the Christmas story, and a boy who tries to change the skeptic's mind.

An assembly composed of club members will perform special numbers and Sally Boyer will play a flute solo.

The YFC Christmas rally tomorrow night at 7:30 p.m. at Harrison Hill will be based around a poem, written not only to portray Christ's birth but also to look ahead to His second coming. Special music will be presented by the ensemble and a 50-voice teen choir.

SUNDAY
5:30 p.m.
on
WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:
North Side vs. C.C.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

ter of the room to the door in five minutes and then wonder how she got there.

Poor Miss Phinway stood it as long as she could, and then driven to desperation arose and told her first and only lie. She, meekly and with veiled eyes, said she had a headache, and left in the middle of the most interesting gossip that had been told for a long while. That Saturday, she sent the minister's wife a cake, and let everyone hope her little lie was cancelled on the books by that charity.

Miss Phinway objected to a slammed door for three reasons. First, it bothered her nerves. Second, it was a sign of temper; and she thought temper should never be shown. Third, it was a poor reason for doing things. And yet, after forty-seven years of gently closed doors, Miss Phinway slammed one, and slammed it hard.

IT WAS ALL ON ACCOUNT of a tramp, and Miss Phinway detested tramps. Anna May had been given, some several hundred times, the strictest orders not to feed the lazy, useless, filthy fellows; and Anna May had learned her lesson well. So well, that she sent them away with a scolding and then handed them a "snack" over the back fence. This Miss Phinway never imagined, which was well for her peace of mind.

It was the twenty-fourth of December, and Miss Phinway had hardened her heart. The poor, thin minister in his shiny coat, and his not so thin wife were to dine with Miss Phinway the next day, which was Christmas. The house was so clean that Anna May said they could eat off the floor.

It did not matter that Miss Phinway had invited the minister because she believed his wife to be a poor cook and she wanted him to have one good meal. Miss Phinway had set her mind on showing the minister's wife how a house should be kept and how a dinner should be cooked. So she hardened her heart and prepared to be a model hostess, which in her estimation meant a cast-iron one.

Perhaps it is hard to imagine a cast-iron mouse, but Miss Phinway had had her great day, one of woe and tears, and it had left her soft and silent to the world. It was the old story of a love and a parting. She had sent him away and then learned that she had sent her world with him. Miss Phinway was a Miss Phinway forever, with, for an object in life, the keeping of a clean house and the prevention of slamming doors. So she stole her heart to greet the minister and his wife with all outward and visible signs of an inward and conventional iciness.

THE MINCE PIES WERE baked and put on the kitchen window-sills to cool. They were not quite what Miss Phinway had hoped they would be, and it ruffled her temper, but not too much. Nevertheless, it was a step toward anger. And then came the crisis. A little imp entered into the body of Tabby, the best behaved of cats, and Miss Phinway, when she arose from the table and entered the kitchen, found the morrow's turkey on the floor with her Tabby calmly crunching its neck bones between her white teeth.

Stockings, Yule Logs, Candles Symbolize Christmas Festivities

SANTA'S HELPERS . . . Not wanting to be without a tree in case Santa Claus forgets, Walt Steulpe, Richard Clark, Pam Punskey, Mike Tomkinson, and Shel Sherry, left to right, kindly help him out by picking out their own tree.—Photo by Lowden

"Silent night, holy night" signifies that it is again time for familiar carols to ring out from churches and homes throughout the world as Christians everywhere celebrate the birth of Jesus. Yet feasting and fasting at the beginning of the winter solstice did not originate with the celebrations for Christ's birthday.

Romans had their Saturnalia in honor of Saturn, the god of agriculture and beginnings, while the Northmen had the Yule for their powerful god Thor. In the Roman Empire rulers often had trouble with religion, and it became necessary for the Christians and non-Christians to combine their festivals.

Christmas means mass of Christ and has been celebrated since the first century. When Constantine declared Christianity the official religion of the Romans, Jesus' birthday was still considered to be at the time of the winter solstice. The actual date is unknown.

ALTHOUGH CHRISTMAS is universal, its symbols and customs differ greatly. While in America we ask a jolly Santa Claus for presents, the Dutch fill their shoes with hay and wait on December 6 for St. Nicholas to appear on a white horse. French children hand their stockings to be filled by Bonhomme Noel or Father Christmas. Norwegians have Kriss Kringle and Italians their urn of Fate.

Gift-giving is as old as Christmas because Christ was the great gift of God to the world. We show our faith in the Lord by keeping this tradition alive. Santa Claus himself is hundreds of years old. The first St. Nicholas was supposed to be Nicholas the Archbishop of Myra in 400 A.D. He was the image of Death in the north and a tall, thin man in Germany.

Hanging stockings is another custom which is different in various places. In Europe, children fill their shoes with oats, and in Spain they hide their slippers in the bushes. Here in America, we put our stockings over the fireplaces. The result is the same; if the children have been good, their shoes or stockings or slippers are filled with surprises.

St. Boniface, while converting the early warring German tribes to Christianity, wished for a symbol to replace the Thunder Oak, a tree used for human sacrifices. He finally chose the fir-tree which has become our Christmas tree. Martin Luther tried to describe the beauty of the sky on Christmas Eve and decided it equal only to candles glowing on the fir-tree of St. Boniface. Thus, Luther started a beautiful idea, and lit his tree.

German soldiers, weary from the cold and hunger of war, decided to deck their tree with dried bread to live their spirits. People through the ages have believed that horses and cattle could speak on Christmas Eve. This is because of the night of our Saviour's birth when the animals were presented to see Jesus.

THE PURITANS believed in fasting on Christmas so America was brought its first taste of gaiety at this season by the Dutch. The English had twelve days of Christmas from December 26 to January 6. Carols were sung and good wishes drunk to the wassail bowl.

Simple church services are in Germany on Christmas Eve, where only lights are candles. In Bulgaria, the head of the house blesses the household, cattle, and town on Christmas morning.

Swedes decorate bird Christmas trees covered with seed. The "Jula-fred" is the peace of Christmas in Norway and Sweden. Early on Christmas morning the children decorate the churches for their parents to attend services later. A day of feasting and storytelling follows.

A favorite custom, the kissing under mistletoe, is from the Druids of early times. This parasite plant was sacred to them. Community trees, as the one in downtown Fort Wayne, are now a symbol of brotherhood.

The most exciting fashion gifts
come from Hutner's Paris
Downtown, Rudisill Center and Northcrest

Merry Christmas
from

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Merry Christmas to VFO, Herk, and Gang from Chip.

Merry Christmas, Richie Galbreath, from your secret admirer.

Merry Christmas, Miriam, from Mike.

Merry Christmas to Janis, Kathie, Oma, Sandy, Khelia, Mr. Cramer, and 'specially Jim Ostermeyer.

Merry Christmas to all and Marty ... good night ... even.

Merry Christmas Sue and Mike.—Jenny

Merry Christmas Dave and Myra.—Jenny

Season's Greetings to one who "aims" well.—Jenny

Joyous Noel et Bonne Annee.

Merry Christmas, Benny.—From your steady

Christmas Greetings from Griff to the boys, namely Daddy G, Irm, Mac, Stern, Cupp, Weaver, Dutch, Helton, Herchberg.

A Merry Christmas and a New Year of good resolutions to all my excellent classes.—Mr. Fell

Now, it's Roger Post's syndicate don't forget.

Good tidings to Carol, Lois, Sharon, and Toni.—Miriam

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Scrooge.—With all my love, George

Merry Christmas, Rick.—Love, Cheryl

Merry Christmas to Bink and her Beaux.

Merry Christmas to "spicer" from Phil.

Dear George (Central),

May you have the bestest Christmas and New Year of all.

Love, Linda

Gary and Barrie,

Have a Merry Christmas and a very Happy New Year.

George and Linda

Marilyn and Stu are doing fine. Boy, it really took them time! Paradimetryliminozobenzenyldria-chloride.

Merry Christmas Betsy, Linda, Ginny Lou, and Keyes.—Ann

How Many—Mike Schoen

To Dick Platt from the Psychoanalysts

Big D.

Merry Christmas and likewise and he first, Barrie.—L.M.

Merry Christmas to everyone who buys a ticket to Theta Beta Chi's New Year's Dance.

Merry Christmas to J.F. from N.B.

Merry Christmas to Mike.—History Neighbor

To Jim and his brother from a neighbor.

Merry Christmas to Saxton, he'll need it.

Merry Christmas to Ken.—Your driver

Tonya, from the boy you slighted.

Merry Christmas to Bonnie, Sally, Karen, Mary Jo, Nancy, Gwen, and Judy.

From Guess Who

Merry Christmas, Jim

Merry Christmas to Karen, Elle, and Marje, also my little sister.

Merry Christmas, Jerry.

Merry Christmas to Midge and Lindy.—Shorty

Dear Monica, I send my warmest season's greetings to you with all my love.—L.T.S.

To all you South Side Archers who are plagued with the Clausian disillusion, for not too long ago I had the same disease. I hope that you will not be disappointed on Christmas morning when you unwrap all your gifts. Merry Christmas from Santa Norman.

A cool Yule and a frantic first from one cool cat to a chick who rates first.

Merry Christmas, Happy New Year, Merry Christmas, Greg.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, Gary.

Merry Christmas to my lab partner, Dave. If you want my writing to be darker, you should quit taking my Number 2 pencils. Anyway, take it easy in Physics 1 next semester (slam) and be good to poor Tom. After all he has to copy somebody's homework. (Or do you copy his?)

Merry Christmas, Tom. Here's hoping you have a real swinging time in Physics 1 next semester. (I don't really think you'll fail, but I can hope, can't I.) Best Wishes.—Sally

Merry Christmas to Ann, Sandy, Elaine, and Kenene.—Jenny

Merry Christmas to Ann Shilling, Julie, Wadlington, and Tonya Shevchenko, my three favorite luncheon partners.—Susie

Merry Christmas to Molecular.—Two chemistry enthusiasts

Merry Christmas to Cindy, who is a fellow North Sider admirer.—B.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to termine.—Peppermint or cinnamon?

Happy Hanukkah, Mike.—B.

Merry Christmas to a girl who has a secret love from one who knows, but will never tell.—C.

May God bless you all and guard you during the new year.—Steve Kratzman

Merry Christmas to the sweetest and most loveable person I know, Santa Claus.

Merry Christmas to Tom.—Maggie

Merry Christmas to Bill.—Judy

To all our friends, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year from Pat and Tom.

To my pals:

As Christmas draws

And the old year ends,

I thank the Lord

For such good friends.

—Susan Jorgensen

Merry Christmas to Mike and Gary.

Bunny and Cindy

Felicia Christ, Naticall, Omnwa, Draecipine.—F.W.H.

Merry Christmas.

Merry Christmas to Dummy.—From Big Donny Ninny Hamer

Merry Christmas to all my friends.—Jim

Happy New Year and Merry Christmas to Nancy, Jim, Mike, Dave Mills, Brad, Bob, Tom.—Anonymous

Merry Christmas, Carl. Can't wait to see you the 20. Til then, Love, Sandi

Merry Christmas Phi Gamma Delta and Pledge Alfray.—Love, Kay

Merry Christmas Gerogie.

Happy Holidays Bub "I"—Irving

Merry Christmas Mimi, Fifi, and Sally.—Phydeaux

Merry Christmas Cheri.—Gordo

Merry Christmas Cheryl Lee.—C.L.

Merry Christmas to Cheri and Rick.—Gordo

Cheri, To a real nut, just like me, Happy Christmas, and Merry New Year.—Kay

Merry Christmas to all my buddies in Homeroom 91.—Kathy

Merry Christmas to Craig Miller.—A Secret Admirer

Merry Christmas to the most wonderful husband in the world.—Love Nadine

Merry Christmas Tom.—Love Sandy

Merry Christmas to Kathy Albers.—From Rick

Merry Christmas to all the Ventures.—From Rick

Go go go Ventures.

Merry Christmas to Linda.—From Bill

Merry Christmas Dixie.—Clem

Merry Christmas to Dave and the Old Lady.

Merry Christmas to all the Qui Vive actives from two senior (devoted) spikes.

Merry Christmas to Dave.—From Judy

Merry Christmas Linda Hagerman.—Roger

Merry Christmas Rick H.

Lou says: Merry Christmas Sue.

Merry Christmas Dave and Diane.

Happy Holidays Homeroom 94.

Merry Yuletide.—From Dan Merica

Merry Christmas to Pat Wallace.—Tom

Merry Christmas Bill Ex.

Merry Christmas, Barb Ux

Merry Christmas El-Buck-O.—Love Marsha

Merry Christmas Sparkie.—Steger Lou

Merry Christmas Jim (North).—Pat Cameron

Merry Christmas Tom.—Cheri

To my steady who's in the Marines.—Merry Christmas Honey.—Bobbi

Merry Christmas Gus, Steve, Bill, Graham, and Ron.—Cheri

Merry Christmas Don.—Schelia

Merry Christmas to Lynn.—From Kathy

Merry Christmas Linda.—Cheri

All my love to Bob.—Julie

Merry Christmas, Sophomores and Juniors.—LaVerne Custance

Merry Christmas to my Best English class, Period 6.—Mr. Cowdrey

A cool yule to all sleep.

Merry Christmas Marilyn and Leslie.—From the girl with the wings

Merry Christmas to my guy in the air force.—Love Lin

Merry Christmas regnursptur.—Casey

Merry Christmas to the gang, Nancy, Gary, Kathy, David.

Jim sees Carol

Merry Christmas Susan Steegman.—Mike Nettrour

Jim likes Carol

Merry Christmas to a girl in my study hall.—T.D.

Jim dates Carol

Merry Christmas Susie, Ken Ellingwood

Jim loves Carol

Merry Christmas, Martha and Kathy from the boys on the team.

Jim will marry Carol

Cool Yule to Linda.—From Herb

Merry Christmas to all my friends and Ab and Dode.—Herk

Merry Christmas to the "coolest" hot water six in school, Mel Keisling

I can't think of anything to say.

Santa Claus, go to John Adams.

To my partner in crime, Tommy Watson.

Merry Christmas to all Junior boys except Gary Probst.

R.V. (a Big Moover) Tie Tie Tie phydeaux

Season's Greetings from the Old Boilermaker to Sue and Judy.—Greg Delong

Merry Christmas, Julie.—From the Observant one

Merry Christmas to the blond bombshell from Teddybear

Merry Christmas to Bill, Dave, Nancy, Diana, Jqn, and Mike, Jim, Jackie, Ann and Mike Carter.—Susie Steegman

Season's Greeting's and best wishes to all South Side Archers.

Love to Ray.—Marlou Cheers

Welcome home, Jim

Welcome home, Jim

Welcome home, Jim

Welcome home, Jim (Home)

Welcome home, Jim

Welcome home, Jim

Welcome home, Jim

Merry Christmas to the boys at Newsome Hall.—Larry Dawson

Greetings from J.F.K. to A.M.F.

A Happy Chanukah to all the AZA's from your Gadoi.

Greetings from Sophie Glutz to Hephazabad.

Christmas greetings to Bucky Beaver.

Joy to the world.—Charlotte Dinlus

Cool Yule Room 80

Merry Christmas

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Hi, Susie.

Happy Anniversary, Rosie.—Tim

Merry Christmas, Karen.—The Tenors

Merry Christmas to the "Fabulous Four."

Merry Christmas to Barb and Lydia.—Cheryl

Merry Christmas, Santa Claus.

Merry Christmas to Mr. Gersmehl from Period 1.

Merry Christmas to the love birds, Terry and Monica, in the band room sixth period.—Karen and Bella

To my one and only, Don.—Love, Connie

To Allen.—Love, Sue

Missing you at Christmas, Jim ... Hope you have a happy one.—Love, Judy

To Jose.—From the other half of the astronauts. Best of luck in future performances.—Jim

Merry Christmas to Jim Steed (Army).—Love, Barb

Merry Christmas, Kay (Wabash).—Barb Studley

Merry Christmas to Sig and Berseki.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Leroy (Army).—Love, Sarah

The Marine, Jim Bishop.—Love, Sue Burlage

Merry Christmas to Homeroom 172.—From Dave Blanton

Mademoiselle Smith, Nous vous souhaitons joyeux Noel et Bonne—Annee, Brigitte, Gigi, Barbe, Laure, Pierre, Nanette F., Nanette H., Julie, Roger, and Francois

Sober holidays to dishwaters' anonymous.—(Hic)

Merry Christmas, Marcia, Mike, Carol, and Herb.

Merry Christmas, Karen, Nancy, Ruth, Sue, Julie, Barbie, Sharon, Ginny, Patty, Steve, Mike, Tom, Jon, Jim, and Ken.—Liz

Merry Christmas to Nina from Gary.

To someone who better not go skating on Tuesday nights at McMillen.—From You Know Who

Merry Christmas, John.—Jane

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Merry Christmas Mary.

Linda, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. Hope you pass French.—Kay

Merry Christmas and Happy Holidays Johnny, Penny, and Gus.

I, Connie Stuff, wish Linda and Terry Hellan the Best Wishes—Merry Christmas on their happy engagement.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to Ray Juncal.—Carol Emerick

Merry Christmas to Mr. Cowdrey, we hope you never get your money back.—Two stras in period seven Merry Christmas to our beloved syndicate run by Dave Wolfe.

Merry Christmas to Danny King.—From that dumb girl that says "Hi" to him in the hall

Ahemmmmm

Nothing

Something

Merry Christmas to Mr. Cowdrey.—The hospital league in period seven Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all of my friends and Karen.

Best wishes to both my little sisters, Pam and Cheri.—Ann

This will make five years, Mr. C-Boo

Happy Yuletide, Cindy.—Ann

Merry Christmas, Al Mitchell.—Just a sophomore

Merry Christmas, Steve.—From the other Karen

Merry Christmas, Kay and Ed.—From Karen

Merry Christmas, Steve and Karen A.—From Kay

Merry Christmas, Shelly.—Bridgette

Merry Christmas, Dena (North) and George

Merry Christmas to Kathy and Jim, Judy and Fred, Sandy and Dave, Susie and Mike, Linda and Shelly, Kathy and Ted, Nancy and Charlie.

Merry Christmas to Marda.—Dave

Merry Christmas, Miss Carol Riley.

Merry Christmas, Jan Stanton, and a Happy New Year. For this, I expect a present. Yours truly, Elbert McKinney.

Merry Christmas, Bruce W.—D.M.

Merry Christmas, Toots and Family.

Yuletide Greetings to Albert Snyder and Larry Grouch.—"Love ya," Sandy (Look who's throwing words around NOW!)

Merry Christmas, Jack.—"Dallas"

Merry Christmas to Linda and all her friends.—Mr. and Mrs. Seibel

Merry Christmas to Hall's Drive-In.—Linda

Merry Christmas to Betsy, Barb, Jane, Pat, Beth, Rosie, Kay, Karen, Gwen, Sue, Susie, Cindy, Leanna, Pam, Eileen, Sally, Diane, Erin, Snyder, Sue, Sandra, and anyone else I've missed.—Linda

Merry Christmas to Steve Campbell.—Love, Kitten

Merry Christmas

Merry Christmas Lawrence and Larry.—John and Mike

Merry Christmas to my favorite someone.—Love, Jane

Merry Christmas to "Pixie"—From "Sam."

Merry Christmas to Mike and Mary (North Dakota).—Dick

Merry Christmas to Uncle Ebenezer.—Tim

Merry Christmas to all Juniors.—Jack

Merry Christmas to con-vox, tebe, aug, ect.—From Andy

Merry Christmas to all the Sophomore boys except Jim Barker.—A Sophomore

Merry Christmas to the gang at cafe J-Ann, Marcia, Kitty, Sally, Jane, Marilyn, Karen, Nadia, Sue, B.D., Toni

Merry Christmas to the wonderful kids who bought Christmas greeting.—A broke Times agent

Merry Christmas, Dave

Merry Christmas, Lyn.—Linda

Merry Christmas, Half-wit-Linda and Marsh

Merry Christmas Sandy, Lane, Marsha, Judie, Marsh, and Sparky.—Linda

Merry Christmas, Jan McMurtry

Merry Christmas to Zsa Zsa and all her friends.—Paardvark, Espirit, Parmadillo, and Tape. And a special greeting to all armadillos from Nelly.

Also Merry Christmas to Merrily.—From Simone

Happy New Year to the Claw.—Simone

Happy New Year to Nelly.—Simone

Merry Christmas to all South Side.—Miss VanGorder

Merry Christmas to Budapest.—Brace-face

Merry Christmas Al (United States Navy).—Love, Judy

Merry Christmas Linda, Sally, Karen, Diane, Erin, Kay, Sue, Susie, Jane, Pat, Rosie, Barb, Beth, and all the gang.—Pam

Merry Christmas to Gina and Scrounge (C.C.).—Marilyn

Merry Christmas Al (United States Navy).—Love, Judy

Merry Christmas, Jimmy.—Love, Diane

Greetings fellow Martins

Greetings from Texas

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, Dave.—Love, Beth

Merry Christmas to Betty and Janet.—Mary

A special Merry Christmas to Bob. See you on New Year's Day.—Love, Mary

Ha! Ha! Ha! to Santa Claus and all his fussy little reindeer. The Easter Bunny.

Merry Christmas to Mr. Weber and all his pubescent pets and desicribio nucleic acids.—A flunking botany student

Merry Christmas to Lee (80).—From a "Fool who still cares"

Merry Christmas, best friends—Mart and Ellen, and Linda.—Marilyn

A swingin' New Year to Ronnie Raindrop and Sandy Sleightfoot.—From Vicki the Vamp and Phil the Philosopher (Hee-Hee)

Merry Christmas to Phil Bonahoon.—From Carol

Merry Christmas to Sue, Vicki, Carol, and Peggy.—Jill

Merry Christmas to Kent Rohlf (Indiana Tech).—Love, Jill

To Ronine Raindrop, Merry Christmas.—Love, Sandy

To Janice and Joyce, Good luck December 30.

To me, Merry, Merry Christmas.—From me

A swingin' Christmas and New Year to Phil (N.S. '61) and his new Impala.—Vicki

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to Mary, Betty, and Ronnie.—Jan

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to Rex Bolby.—Ellen

Merry Christmas, Karen and Sue.—Ellen

Merry Christmas to Helen and Frank.—Freddie

Hank.—Freddie

Merry Christmas, Joyce Ake.—Love, Pete (Tri-State)

Merry Christmas, Pete (Tri-State). Love, Joyce

Merry Christmas to all my friends.—Cynthia Duncan

Merry Christmas to an airman who's coming home soon.—Sis

Merry Christmas to Jim and all of his buddies in Germany.—Loretta

Merry Christmas to a "Soldier Boy" in France.

How did the airport look, Julie?—Fred, Merry Christmas

How did the airport look, Julie?—Fred, Merry Christmas

How did the airport look, Julie?—Fred, Merry Christmas

Merry Christmas, all

Merry Christmas, Michael

Merry Christmas to Mike Bustos.—From his girl, Lydia Robles

How was the Stomp, Julie?—Bob

Merry Christmas to Chuck from Marty.

Greetings, Little Caesar.

Humbug.—John Saver

Merry Christmas, Janis, from Jim.

Merry Christmas to Keegs from "Nip."

Merry Christmas to Dick and Sidney.—Big Daddy

Merry Christmas to the guy with the hot car and cool girl with the N.A.—The Neat One

Merry Christmas, gang.—Peggy

Merry Christmas, Mike.—Love, Sheri

Joyce, Larry, Monda, John.—Hi

Merry Christmas, Big John, from Kool Karl S.

Merry Christmas, Judy.—Karl

Merry Christmas, Sven.—Fred

Deck the Halls with Matzo balls.—Larry

Why wasn't Dale on the Hi-Y ballot?

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to Jane.—Bill

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Judi.—Rick

A very Merry Christmas and Happy Post Grad to Iave.—Willy

Merry Christmas to the John Society from Mr. Gerg.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, Jane.—Ken

Merry Christmas to Cheryl, Ray, and Spook.—Mary

Bob, a very very Merry Christmas.—Margie

Merry Christmas to Bob (Elmhurst).—Mary

Merry Christmas, Jane.—Bill

I wish Clint Wheeler and Charlie Moore a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.—Rick Kneisley

Merry Christmas to Wanda, Jupe, and Barb from Barb Driver.

Merry Christmas to Louie Snyder (Huntington).—Love, Barb

Merry Christmas to Marilyn.—From Linda

Merry Christmas to Joe at Hanover.—Pig

To Purp, Nothing, Elephant, Bertha, Lily, and Cindy from Pig.

Happy Holidays to my problem(s);—Hope to see ya' sometime.—Me

Merry Christmas to one procrastinator from another.

Merry Christmas to Big John.—Good Buddy

Merry Christmas to S2, L2, R2, and G2.—B1 D1

Best wishes to a swell guy, Chris, from a girl who wants to be friends.

Merry Christmas, South Side.—Fran

Merry Christmas, Nadia, from me to you.

Merry Christmas to 6 from 16.

Merry Christmas to the First Presbyterian basketball team.

Merry Christmas to I-4 from J-14.

Merry Christmas, Jon.—Ann

Merry Christmas to three chemistry brains, Bill, Dan, and Chris.—From a girl who'd like some help!

A sharp vacation to my third period study hall friends.

Merry Christmas, Dave

Merry Christmas, everyone.—Mary Ann Waldrop

Merry Christmas to Steve, Ron, Diann, Jerry, Gene, Sharon, and all the jolly kids at New Haven.—Sue

Merry Christmas, Dave.—Carol

Greetings to Marla and Bonnie, Carmen and Ray, Jan and Willie.—Someone who knows

Merry Christmas to Dee and Tom.—Joyce

Merry Christmas, Gracie, you'll get yours.—The Great Avenger

Happy New Year, Renault and '54 Ford and '48 Plymouth, and '50 Plymouth.

Merry Christmas to Mike and Tonya.—Steve B.

Happy New Year, Suzie.

Merry Christmas, Scott Orum.—Kaye Gall

Merry Christmas, "Speedy."—The automatic garage door bug

Go Komets, Go Komets, Go Komets, Go Komets, Go Komets, Go Komets.

Merry Christmas, John Erskine. See you the 20. Here's hoping for the 28. Love always, Jones. Smile!

Merry Christmas to Dumb old H., Stupid old Stan, and Stinky old Tom.—From someone who is flunking Chemistry 1 because she can't take notes.

Ditto to those "old" people.—From Mary J.

Merry Christmas to Phi Delta Theta!

Merry Christmas Thomas Peck.

Marching along with Sarah Finch!

Merry Christmas to the Irish National Theater which made English 7 possible.

Merry Christmas, Love: Me.

Merry Christmas, Henny Penny, why aren't you ever home?—The two who scream.

Merry Christmas to the best liar in the world.—From those who now laugh about it.

Greetings, Becky Baughman

Merry Christmas to Barbee and my two date.

Merry Christmas, Jim

Merry Christmas, R.G.

Sandy and Dick, Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!—Jim and Patty

Merry Christmas to all Archers.

Merry Christmas to Ruth Sprunger.—Dave

Merry Christmas and a Frantic First to Darlene (Connecticut).—The most wonderful Pen Pal I know.—Mike Merry Christmas to Little Miss A.—From Mr.

Christmas Celebrations Differ Throughout Foreign Countries

ONCE UPON A TIME . . . Sue Kelley reads a Christmas story to Pete McCampbell in preparation for his going to bed. Small children and bedtime stories are a traditional part of the Christmas observance in the homes of many South Siders.—Photo by Lowden

With a mad rush to buy Christmas presents, get the decorations up, and arrange for a last minute party, millions of Americans begin to celebrate the solemn, but mirthful advent of the Christmas season.

Traditionally, the American celebrates Christmas by giving gifts, re-enacting their belief that the three Wise Men gave gifts to Christ on his birth. For the sake of the smaller set, the imaginary Santa Claus distributes their gifts and places them under the Christmas tree after landing his sleigh, drawn by reindeer, on the roof and sliding down the chimney. It is customary for the child to hang his stocking over the fireplace, or, if he has no fireplace, just anywhere.

Most Americans spend several weeks in preparation for this great holiday. Presents must be carefully selected, and the traditional Christmas tree must be decorated, and the house must be made to have the air of Christmas about it.

On Christmas Day, an exchange of presents take place and a special holiday meal is prepared. Many families attend their churches to commemorate the birth of Christ.

ALTHOUGH NATIONS all over the world recognize this annual celebration, their reasons and ways of celebrating differ greatly. In any event, Christmas is the celebration of the world; and its general spirit is shown in every country.

In England, bringing in the yule log marks the opening of the season of rejoicing. To the accompaniment of traditional music and amid shouts and laughter, the huge block is dragged in triumph to its resting place on the hearth, where it is lighted from a branch preserved from the previous year.

As the burning heart of the Christmas season, the yule log becomes the living symbol of all the warm emotions and bright thoughts of the period. Hatred and ill-will cannot thrive in the warmth of its blazing fire.

Old wrongs are forgotten, jealousies and misunderstandings yield to the log's genial spell. An unforgiving heart, however, will smother its beneficial influence; and unclean hands must not be allowed to cancel the virtuous effect of its mellow light.

THE YULE LOG ALSO symbolizes Christ, the true Light of the World, whose coming dispelled the darkness

McINTOSH
Auto Radio Service
101 S. Clinton E-3281

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY
4232 S. Calhoun Phone K-1864
SERVICE IN DRUGS

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS
818 818
CALHOUN CALHOUN
ST. ST.
KOEBERS
Jewelers
SINCE 1865

For That Very Special Occasion
When You Want To Look Your Loveliest

See our glamorous collection of . . .
Holiday Formals
Jewelry • Gloves • Evening Accessories
Fashions that are noted for their taste.

The Bridal Shop

3707 South Clinton Park in Our Lot Open Evenings

Dreams Provide Opportunities Of Escape For Klumpy Kelly

Klumpy Kelly wakes up smiling—or wakes up trembling. He has a vague feeling of having been in the mysterious world of dreams. This unknown world has finally been explored. Now such questions as "How much do I dream?" "Why do I dream?" "What do dreams really mean?" and "Can dreams foretell the future?" can be answered.

Klumpy Kelly may think that he doesn't dream, but everybody dreams. He spends at least two hours every night in dreamland. However, dreams are easy to forget.

Why does he dream? The reason is in order to stay asleep! Any night "alarms" tend to wake him. Instead of waking however, he weaves these "alarms" into dreams, giving them a logical explanation so that he doesn't have to respond to them. In dreams, the far off tinkle of cowbells can be transformed. Hunger pangs can become an anticipating pleasure as Klumpy dreams he is sitting down to a huge meal. A cramped arm is explained in his dreams by the fact that he is pushing against the sticking "dream" door of a "dream" house.

Dreams are enjoyable because in them Klumpy expresses his fondest (and sometimes his most forbidden and hidden) wishes. In adults, dream wishes are concealed in symbols, costumes, and other disguises. Dreams of children are directly expressed. From early teen years, he creates every possible disguise to hide the real meaning of his dream wishes from himself.

HE MAY USE symbols: If he dreams of the President or a policeman, this figure may represent his father or some other important adult who is an "authority" in his life.

He may use puns: Klumpy may be standing in a courtyard and talking to somebody which may represent a pun on the word "court." This may

Philosophies Of Ben Franklin Help New Year's Resolvers

With January 1 just around the corner, it is time to start compiling a list of New Year's resolutions. Most lists will be for self-improvement, and one of the best authorities on the subject is Benjamin Franklin, one of America's greatest statesmen and inventors.

It is said that no man is perfect and that each should try always to better himself. This was the constant goal of Franklin. When he was a young man he left home with little money and became an apprentice to a printer in another city. During this time his ever-pressing aim to do better encouraged him, making him the great man that he was.

Is it possible for any one person to be perfect? Franklin thought that if he tried hard enough he would arrive at a state of moral perfection. He wished to live a life without doing any wrong to himself or anyone, and he stated that he would try to conquer all natural customs, influences, or bad company that could lead him into wrong.

TRYING TO BE perfect might seem to be a rather simple task, but Franklin knew differently after attempting to reach this state of perfection. He concluded that it is not sufficient to be aware of all bad faults, but in order to be completely virtuous one must take special care in breaking all bad habits and avoid acquiring new ones. Franklin compiled a list of ten virtues he thought necessary to be completely virtuous. They were:

Silence—Speak not but what may benefit others or yourself; avoid trifling conversations.

Order—Let all things have their places.

Resolution—Resolve to perform what you ought.

Frugality—Make no expense but make good to yourself and others, that is, waste nothing.

Industry—Lose no time; be always involved in something useful.

Sincerity—Use no hurtful deceit; think innocently and justly.

Justice—Wrong none by doing injuries, or omitting the benefits that are your duty.

Moderation—Avoid extremes.

Cleanliness—Tolerate no uncleanness in the body, clothes, or habitation.

Tranquility—Be not disturbed at trifles.

Humility—Imitate Jesus and Socrates.

IN ORDER to achieve this state of moral perfection, Franklin made himself a small notebook in which he had a page for each virtue and seven columns on each page for every day of the week. Each day Benjamin examined himself, and if he had lived up to each virtue he checked the square with red ink—if not—with black ink.

mean that the person is courting him or he's courting her.

He may use parts to stand for the whole: Klumpy may see a green shirt on a perfect stranger which may mean that he's not a stranger but someone he knows who was wearing a green shirt just recently.

He may reverse the meaning: In his dream he is snubbed by someone who is his friend. This may mean that he feels a hidden hostility for or competition with the friend and actually wishes to snub him or her.

Or a person in his dream may stand for an emotion: Khrushchev might represent the emotion of fear; Queen Elizabeth might stand for happy love; Donald Duck for frustrated anger.

DREAMS ARE HIS only way to express his true wishes, his resentments, angers, frustrations, and desires. He goes to great lengths to disguise his dreams because he is now able to release his feelings he'd be ashamed to admit when awake.

Many people wonder if dreams can foretell the future. Scientists say that often they can. There is a simple explanation to their statements. Dreams express fondest wishes. These wishes are often a part of the dreamer's whole character structure. One expert called it "a prophetic dream merely reveals the kind of life situation the dreamer basically wishes to create."

Klumpy may dream of meeting a beautiful actress and going to lunch with her. Then one day while vacationing in Florida, she accidentally bumps into Klumpy spilling a tray of soft drinks all over his brand-new shirt. To make up for this mishap, she asks him to have dinner with her. It's not impossible for Klumpy to dream of the girl he wants to marry and by chance meet her in the very same way as his dream indicated.

Deciding to give a week's attention to each virtue, he first tried to avoid the least offense against temperance—eat not to dullness; drink not to elevation. If Franklin could keep each square of the temperance column marked with red marks, he felt that the good habits of that virtue were strengthening and the bad habit weakening.

This method of checking continued for all the virtues until Benjamin had attained a state of perfection acceptable to himself. "I hope my descendants may follow the examples I have set and reap the benefits," he stated.

In "Poor Richard's Almanac," Franklin listed witty sayings that pertained to his "state." Some of these that are good for all people to remember are:

Three may keep a secret—if two of them are dead.

One today is worth two tomorrows.

A lie stands on one leg, truth on two.

A sleeping fox catches no poultry. To err is human, to repent divine; to persist is devilish.

Thou' modesty is a virtue, bashfulness is a vice.

Kellys Relate Views About Blonde Hair, Parallel Popularity

"Is it true? Do blondes really have more fun?" This question may be seen jumping out of the pages of almost any well-known magazine. Is it true? Are the sayings about blondes true? Do gentlemen really prefer blondes? Are blondes really lacking in any deep emotions? Does hair coloring have anything to do with one's personality, character, or outlook? Archers, when faced with these questions about blondes, seem to be divided on the issue.

Jane Augspurger: Yes. Sayings like "Gentlemen prefer blondes" are true! Jean Holley: They sure are! Men seem to fall all over themselves to meet a blonde, but we poor brunettes have troubles.

Patty Bailey: No, I don't think they have any basis, but I certainly wish gentlemen did prefer blondes!

Bill Rastetter: No. The color of a girl's hair makes absolutely no difference.

Eileen Mayle: No, because I know many brunettes that have more fun than blondes. It depends entirely on the person, but the color of the hair has nothing to do with it.

Jane Van Buskirk: No, these sayings have no basis. Personality and character have nothing to do with the color of hair.

Rick Vanderford: These sayings may have some basis, but in this day and age, I can't be sure if it's really blonde or not.

Bob Wasson: No, personality and character are deeper than the color of hair. It's more important that a girl be outgoing and friendly than that she be a blonde.

Same Nomenclatures Cause Worry, Trial From Lads, Lassies

Everyone has some pride in his name. It is a symbol of his own character and personality. Yet sometimes this matter of names causes a great deal of trouble.

Three Archer girls may answer to Susan Smith. Susie Smith, sophomore B, and Susie Smith, junior A, have even more trouble than most. Both Susies sing in the same choir, at the same church, and go to the same dentist. At one time they both thought they had a dentist appointment—but there was only one appointment for two girls.

Susie Smith, junior B, has been called many times for school events by mistake. All three are on the college course. Sue, 11A, is taking English, U.S. history, Algebra 3, and botany. Susie is active in Times, Philo, and Assemblies Workshop. She is a member of the Luther League at Trinity English Lutheran Church.

Sue Smith, 10B, is taking English, geometry, history, and French. She is an active member of Masque and Gavel and Meterites.

Sue Smith, 11B, is taking botany, English, U.S. history, and Latin. She is a member of Philo, Assemblies Workshop, and is active in BYF, her church youth group.

Another set of "twins" is Jim Bailey, freshman B, and Jim Bailey, 11A. As of yet, these two have no trouble because of their names.

JIM BAILEY, 11A, is on the college course, taking Spanish, English, Algebra 3, and U.S. history. He is active in DeMolay and United Presbyterian Youth, the youth group at First Presbyterian Church.

Jim Bailey, 9B, is also on the college course. His subjects include English, algebra, Latin, biology, physical education, and health.

A third popular name at South is Karen Walker. In order of seniority there is Karen Walker, junior B, and Karen Walker, sophomore B.

KAREN, 11B, IS TAKING English, U.S. history, solid geometry, and physics. She sings in occasional choir, and is a member of Philo. Also, she is the Christian Growth Chairman at Emmanuel Lutheran Church.

This past summer, Karen, 10B, won a blue ribbon at the Indiana State Fair for her entry in the photography division. Karen is taking English, Latin, general history, and developmental reading. She is a member of Y-Teens, Meterites, Assemblies Workshop, and the Times. She is also active in 4-H, Job's Daughters, and BYF.

Kellys Make Plans To Work, Rejoice In Yuletide Season

Christmas vacation is a time of year when all students look forward to sleep, catching up on lost homework, traveling, and doing other things. Archers were asked their Christmas vacation plans.

Susie Horth: Eat, drink, and be merry; for after Christmas, comes finals.

Barbie Fischer: I'm going to dream. Denny Truitt: Earn enough money for the Christmas formal.

Debby Decker: Eat! Eat! Eat! Cheri Craig: I plan to eat a lot, sleep a lot, forget my studies, and exchange Christmas gifts.

Sharon Bitman: Rest up for New Year's Eve!

John Hite: Work to regain some lost money.

Margie Winder: Decide which New Year's resolution to break first.

Sharon Bass: Play house with the doll that Santa gives me.

Susie Moyer: Breathe a sigh of relief because my research paper is done.

Jane Augspurger: I'm going to water the Christmas tree.

Richie Galbreath: Practice water-skiing behind a garden tractor.

Pat Bobay: Eat, sleep, and study for finals.

Susie Klaehn: Have a blast! Rick Brown: Stay home, sleep, and be merry!

Nancy Robinson: Sitting in "la la" waiting for my "ya ya" from Minnesota.

Bill Kleifgen: Join the John Birch Society, read "Tale of Two Cities," "Ben Hur," and study my hour long.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Boys' Quartet Sings Spirituals, Folk Songs For Clubs, Parties

THE KEYS QUARTET . . . Singing one of their popular arrangements are members of the Key Quartet from left to right, Tim Grodrian, Fred Schoen, Steve McDonald, and Mike Carter. Dennis Crill is seated at the piano. The group sings at school events and parties.—Photo by Lowden

Singing with the choir, in concerts at their respective churches, at the talent show, the Junior Banquet, the Sophomore Party, the Masque and Gavel Club, and the Kiwanis Club has kept the Key quartet—Tim Grodrian, Fred Schoen, Mike Carter, and Steve McDonald, with accompanist Dennis Crill—busy during their singing career.

The quartet specializes in singing Negro spirituals, folk songs, and popular music. Some of their favorites are "Joshua," "Do Lord," "Michael," "Maria," "Bay of Mexico," and "Eddystone Light."

First tenor of the group and also the youngest member is Tim Grodrian, junior. Tim is on the college course and spends his extra time at Wranglers, Hi-Y, and Assemblies Workshop. Outside of school, Tim is interested in bowling, his highest score being 253; attending the youth meetings at his church, West Creighton Christian; and working at Brouwer's Tire and Battery.

Although Tim has been singing since he was three years old, at three he sang a Christmas solo at his church, he has no future plans for singing when the group separates.

FRED SCHOEN, WHO sings the lead part, second tenor, originated the group. Fred, a senior on the college course, attends the Hi-Y Club and DeMolay. As a soloist, Fred has sung at the Plymouth Congregational Church and with the choir at Harrison Hill. He also sang the lead part in "The King and I" at the Festival Theatre.

Horseback riding, basketball, skiing, and swimming are Fred's hobbies. He has acquired 13 swimming trophies in interclub meets at the Orchard Ridge Country Club. Fred plans to attend DePauw University and study medicine.

Senior Mike Carter, who has been singing for ten years, has bass part in the quartet. Mike played in the band at both Harrison Hill and South, and he won a superior rating in the State Vocal Contest this past summer.

MORRISON DRUGS
Maynard S. Ahrendt, Owner
Your Prescription Druggist
We deliver all prescriptions—prompt and courteous service.
"Member Retail Druggist Association"
2809 Broadway Phone H-1195

Remember To Include
Town Talk BUTTER BREAD
on your shopping list

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN ART
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET PLATES
LETTERPRESS PLATES
ELECTROS
DIES-MAVS, STEREOs

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.
COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Near-by City Churches To Present Special Christmas Religious Rites

Services To Include Children's Programs; Pastors Name Hours

Following is an alphabetical listing of churches in the area that are conducting special Christmas services:

Assembly of God . . . special Sunday School Christmas program, 9:30 a.m. Sunday . . . Christmas pantomime, "Finding for Him," 7 p.m., December 24 . . . Christmas telecast over WPTA-TV, 12:30 to 1 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. James C. Kofahl . . . 4002 S. Anthony Blvd.

Beacon Heights Church of the Brethren . . . high school and junior high school Christmas party, 7:30 p.m., today . . . special choir and family fellowship program, 7 p.m., Sunday . . . Christmas worship service, 6 p.m., December 25 . . . 2810 Beacon St.

Bethany Presbyterian Church . . . Christmas Cantata, 10:45 a.m., Sunday . . . Sunday School program, 4 p.m., Sunday . . . Midnight candlelight worship service, 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. James E. Baldwin . . . 627 Fry St.

Bethlehem Lutheran Church . . . Christmas Eve service, 8 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Arno C. Scholz . . . 3705 S. Anthony Blvd.

Christ Methodist Church . . . Christmas Eve candlelighting service, 7 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Donald F. LaSuer . . . 1100 McKinnin Ave.

Emmanuel Lutheran Church . . . Sunday School service, 7:30 p.m., Thursday . . . Christmas Eve young people's service, 7:30 p.m., December 24 . . . choral candlelighting worship service, 11:30 p.m., December 24 . . . Christmas morning matins, 10 a.m., December 25 . . . Rev. Walter M. Schoedel and Rev. Lyle D. Muller . . . 917 W. Jefferson.

Emmaus Lutheran Church . . . children's service, December 22, 7:30 p.m. . . . Christmas Eve service, special music, 7:30 p.m., December 24 . . . Festival worship, 10 a.m., December 25 . . . Rev. Erwin L. Tepker . . . 2320 Broadway.

Faith Lutheran Church . . . "Light a Candle for the Savior," special children's program, 5 p.m., Sunday . . . Christmas Eve worship, special music, 7:30 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Robert H. Heine . . . 1710 E. Pettit.

First Baptist Church . . . 6:30 p.m., special children's worship service, Sunday . . . regular unified worship services, 8:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Phillip Philbrook . . . 2323 Fairfield Avenue.

First Brethren Church . . . Christmas Eve worship, 7 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Mark E. Malles . . . 3326 S. Calhoun Street.

First Christian Church . . . Young people's service, 5:30 p.m., December 24 . . . sanctuary choir cantata program, 5:30 p.m., December 24 . . . Watch night observance, December 31 . . . Rev. George Wascovich . . . 4800 S. Calhoun Street.

First Church of God . . . White gift worship service, 7 p.m., Sunday . . . special candlelighting service, 11 p.m., December 24 . . . New Year's Eve worship service, 12 p.m., December 31 . . . Dr. V. O. Barnhart . . . 137 E. Wildwood.

First Evangelical United Brethren Church . . . Christmas Eve worship, special music, candlelighting, dramatization by youth groups, 7:30 p.m., December 24 . . . Christmas family communion services, 9:30 a.m. and 11 a.m., December 25 . . . Rev. Ervin E. Petznik . . . 207 E. DeWald Street.

First Presbyterian Church . . . vespers, special music by young people's choirs, 4 p.m., Sunday . . . Special Christmas Eve service, 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Christmas vesper service, 4 p.m., December 25 . . . Dr. John W. Meister . . . 300 West Wayne Street.

Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church . . . special candlelighting and carol service, December 24, 7:30 p.m.

KEEPING CHRIST IN CHRISTMAS . . . Two Archers, Sue Smith and Ken Lowden, pause at the altar of a local church to consider the real meaning of Christmas, Christ's birth. Many local churches are conducting special Yule worship services which students may attend.—Photo by Jones

Rev. Edward W. Drews . . . 302 West Lexington.

Holy Cross Lutheran Church . . . Sunday School program, 7 p.m., Sunday . . . parish school Christmas programs, 7 p.m., December 23 and 24 . . . Christmas morning service, 10 a.m., December 25 . . . Rev. C. E. Aurick . . . 3425 Crescent Avenue.

Immanuel Baptist Church . . . choir cantata, "Born A King," 7 p.m., Sunday . . . Young people's Christmas program, 7 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. W. Thomas Younger . . . 1201 McKee.

Lutheran Church of Our Savior . . . children's Christmas program, 4 p.m., Sunday . . . candlelight Christmas Eve services, 7:30 p.m. and 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. William L. Pifer . . . 437 West Rudisill Blvd.

Memorial Baptist Church . . . special Christmas vesper service, "Festival of Light," 6:30 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. M. Richard Mitchell . . . 2900 North Anthony Blvd.

Pence Evangelical Lutheran Church . . . children's Christmas programs, 7:30 p.m., December 23 and 24 . . . Festival worship service, 10 a.m., December 25 . . . Rev. H. M. Schween . . . 5000 Fairfield Avenue.

Plymouth Congregational Church . . . family Christmas decorating workshop with a supper and vesper service following, 4 p.m., Sunday . . . special Christmas Eve service, 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Lawrence Fairchild . . . 501 West Berry.

Redeemer Lutheran Church . . . 7:30 p.m. advent service, Thursday . . . children's Christmas Eve service, 7 p.m., and special choral eucharist service, 11 p.m., December 25 . . . Rev. Herbert Lindemann . . . 202 West Rudisill Blvd.

Simpson Methodist Church . . . special Christmas choir cantata, 7:30 p.m., Sunday . . . senior youth in charge, 10:30 p.m., December 24 . . . Dr. Evan H. Bergwall . . . 2501 South Harrison Blvd.

South Wayne Baptist Church . . . family program, white gift service,

5:30 p.m., Sunday . . . special Christmas Eve candlelight services, 7 p.m. and 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. J. Frank Lansing . . . 910 Cottage Avenue.

South Wayne Evangelical United Brethren Church . . . 7:30 p.m., children's service, "Come All Ye Faithful," social hour following, Sunday . . . Christmas morning service, special music, 9 a.m., December 25 . . . communion service, 7:30 p.m., December 31 . . . Rev. Frank L. Engle . . . 3516 South Wayne Avenue.

St. John's Evangelical and Reformed Church . . . church school play, 7 p.m., Sunday . . . Christmas Eve family worship services, 7 p.m. and 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. J. E. Yates and Rev. G. F. Kalkbrenner . . . 219 West Washington Blvd.

Trinity English Lutheran Church . . . special Christmas pageant, 4:30 p.m., Sunday . . . Christmas Eve worship, special music, 9 p.m. and 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Dr. Paul H. Krauss . . . 405 West Wayne Street.

Trinity Episcopal Church . . . Mid-night mass, special music and procession, 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. G. B. Wood . . . 611 West Berry.

Wayne Street Methodist Church . . . special choir program, Sunday . . . Christmas Eve worship services, 7:30 p.m. and 11 p.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Dallas Browning and Rev. James Powell . . . 910 Broadway.

West Creighton Avenue Christian Church . . . special baby dedication worship service, 10 a.m., Sunday . . . white gift service, gifts going to church orphanages in Marion, Ind., and Cleveland, O., special music, 10:10 a.m., December 24 . . . Rev. Clayton Gooden . . . 845 West Creighton Avenue.

Zion Lutheran Church . . . Sunday School program 7 p.m., Sunday . . . Christmas Eve nativity service, 11:30 p.m., December 24 . . . a.m. Christmas festival service, December 25 . . . Rev. Bernard W. Johnson . . . 2301 South Hanna.

Guidance Director Aids Pupils Seeking Part-Time Employment

Beginning each semester, all students interested in employment should register with Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director. The student signs up and fills out cards and sheets, the personal information. At the end of the school year, Mr. Davis endeavors to get part-time or permanent summer jobs for those desiring them.

Mr. Davis does not necessarily hunt for jobs, but he takes calls from people who wish to employ students. He secures from as many as forty jobs to two jobs in one week. The number, of course, varies with the number of employers who call.

THE MAIN DEMAND is for babysitters, but many requests come for housekeepers and those who could work at cleaners, flower shops, all types of stores, groceries, office jobs, and delivery jobs.

If a student carries three subjects he can work from 20 to 29 hours a week; two subjects, 30 to 39 hours; one subject, 40 to 49 hours. Each employee must bring a statement from his employer telling the number of working hours in each week for that particular student.

IF A STUDENT CARRIES 50 or more hours of work in one week and keeps up his grades, the student may continue in school; and withdrawal is not enforced. But if, while carrying 50 or more hours, he is failing, then he must either drop a subject or withdraw from school.

A student maintaining his grades and having work hours during seventh period may be excused providing his parents and homeroom teacher agree. Every May, Mr. Davis asks each senior if he wants permanent employment to help him get started after graduation.

Pupils To Request Permits For Lengthened Vacations

Any pupil wishing to extend his Christmas vacation either by leaving school early or by coming back late will be given an unexcused absence. The student must first see Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, to obtain permission to be absent and then notify his teachers of his coming leave.

The official vacation will begin on Thursday and end on January 1. The absent pupil will be responsible for any work which he missed and will be allowed to make it up at the discretion of his teachers.

Ingeborg's Frisior Salong

(Beauty Shop)

617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

DAN'S BARBER SHOP

1307 Oxford
QUICK SERVICE—TWO BARBERS—
HAIRCUTS—Any Style
For Men or Women

Workshop Members' Struggles Result In Holiday Assemblies

"Find the props for the living-room scene!" "Where's the narrator's script?" "Where is Miss Arber?" "Who has the blue paint for the signs?"

The above cries of distress and puzzlement might be heard four times a year at 4 p.m. Where does the action take place? If in doubt, look in the gym the night before one of South Side's assemblies, either the Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter, or Talent Assembly.

On the following mornings at 8:30 a.m., the South Side student body sees the results of many days of labor as each sequence smoothly is presented at its best.

EACH ACTOR, STAGE prop, and line in the assembly has involved the work and imagination of the Assembly Workshop, which has 150 members.

In the fall, the members attend an organization meeting where plans are immediately made for the Thanksgiving Assembly. Also, this year plans for a dance were made to raise money to help pay for props used in the assemblies.

Not only before the first assembly of the year, but also before the other three, a writing committee is chosen for selecting a theme and writing a script. This is the most important group since their ideas will be the initial plans for the entire assembly.

SEVERAL THEMES ARE submitted to Miss Ann Arber, sponsor; and her selection becomes the plan. The script is then written and is able to be cut or expanded. Much of the dialogue of the actors is ad lib and timing of the script is left until the rehearsal on the night before the presentation.

The task of choosing the actors to read the lines is next; and members of the workshop audition. Walk-ons, or non-speaking roles, are also given at this time.

Presentation, or the second phase which deals with acting, involves main speakers, narrators, walk-ons, the choir, and sound. The main speakers and narrators are given scripts and rehearse together and individually. The walk-ons must learn where and when they are to be in the assembly.

THE ACTUAL DRESS rehearsal starts at 5:30 p.m. on the night before the assembly and lasts until 9 or 10 p.m. At this time, the chosen music is timed and microphones for the speakers are erected.

The last part in presenting the assemblies is stage craft. At the head of this division are a chairman and co-chairman who must work together, using their previous experiences to guide them. A sophomore or freshman also works with the chairman in order to learn the techniques of stage craft.

The whole gym is usually divided into small scenes, and there is a committee for each of these units.

STAGE CRAFT INCLUDES building, painting, and furnishing the scenes. Often the props for furnishing are found in the assembly storeroom where such items as costumes, backdrops, paint, paper, furniture, sleighs, and cardboard animals are stored. Each costume has been cleaned and boxed just this year. In charge of the storeroom is vice-president Rosemary Capps.

Presiding over three parts, writing, presentation, and stage craft, is the co-ordinator who is chosen for each assembly. The co-ordinator's job is to see that the stage craft and presentation sections work together. Sometimes the writing of the script is the duty of the co-ordinator.

The South Side assembly is unique because original ideas are presented in an entertaining and unified sequence. Variety is also a goal of the writers who try to alternate themes of religion and entertainment. Behind these committees and chairmen are hours of planning and work in order to bring the student body entertaining and meaningful assemblies.

New Year's Celebration Dates From Festival For Roman God

New Year's Day, the time for gay parties with one's friends and half-hearted resolutions, is treated festively in almost every country of the world.

Even the earliest of ancient countries had customs that celebrated New Year's Day. Chinese, Jewish, Roman, Egyptian, and Mohammedan years began at different times, but were celebrated with elaborate ceremonies. Traditional New Year's Day was believed to have started in ancient Rome. The first day of the year was in honor of Janus, a "gates and doors, beginning and endings" god. Janus was an unusual god with two faces. One face looked back and the other looked forward.

ON THE FIRST Day of the new year, the Roman people looked back at what had happened and then thought about the future. They celebrated by giving gifts to their friends and their emperor. Thus, the familiar traditions of looking on the past, thinking about the future, and showering others with good will were started.

Left-Handed People Discover Handicaps, Lack Of Dexterity

Being left-handed presents problems; for being left-handed is often awkward, inconvenient, and embarrassing. Avoiding left-handedness is the best goal, but trying to force a child from a lefty to a righty may present difficulties.

Because there are actually five handed types, lefties aren't the only people with problems in developing hand skills. Handed patterns may be grouped into five types—the ambidextrous, the ambisistrous, and the slightly-handed, as well as the left and right-handed.

TO BE AMBIDEXTROUS, one must have skill to carry out actions with both hands. Some people can do something with their right hand and simultaneously do something with the left hand. Somewhat more common than simultaneous ambidexterity is the kind exhibited by Leonardo da Vinci, who could use either hand skillfully but not simultaneously.

The reason for ambidexterity isn't fully known or understood. Neurologists offer a partial explanation. The right half of the body is controlled by the left half of the brain and vice versa. Usually there is one "dominant" half of the brain that controls the more skilled hand. The ambidextrous individual, however, seems to have developed both halves so that they can function independently.

By trying to urge children to become ambidextrous, awkwardness, nervousness, and confusion are likely to result. Psychologists and educators agree that the best policy is to develop skills in either the right hand or left.

A SMALL NUMBER of people are ambisistrous. These people seem to have two "left hands." They remain awkward in almost all they do, despite their utmost efforts.

The late Dr. Samuel T. Orton, an outstanding neurologist, concluded that ambisistrous people can make each separate motion required for a given skill but can't blend them into a smooth function. Therefore, he broke down each complex action. After the two parts had been mastered by an Roman merchants passed on the gift-giving idea to Persians who began giving eggs to their friends. Since an egg hatches into new life, this custom meant the same as "turning over a new leaf" would mean today.

EARLY ENGLISHMEN followed the Roman celebration but added two of their own. Sprigs of mistletoe were cut from sacred oak trees and handed out as charms. The English originated the saying and habit of "cleaning out the chimney," which today means to "clean off the slate" or resolve to make the new year better.

January 1 became recognized as the real New Year's Day when in 1500 the Gregorian Calendar was made. Most countries follow this calendar.

The customs celebrated in the U.S. are hanging mistletoe, attending church, and bringing in the new year with shouts and lots of clamor. People of the Orient decorate homes, and give gifts. Visiting friends, and hosting parties is how the day is celebrated in most European countries.

ambisistrous person, he can be taught to perform them in smooth succession.

Those who are neither strongly right-handed, nor strongly left-handed are slightly-handed. A person may use his right hand to screw a cap on a jar and use his left to unscrew it. To develop into right-handers those who are slightly-handed, the best method is to help them accomplish anything they try with their right hands.

THE NATURAL right-hander is one that has a preference for the right hand without the slightest parental intervention. Right-handers are more numerous all over the world. Most tools and objects are designed for them. For example, the desks in schools are designed primarily for the right-handed person.

Lefties can be as skillful and successful as righties at almost anything, despite superstition. Pressure on them to become right-handed can result in awkwardness, poor muscle coordination, irritability, restlessness, slow thinking, confusion, muteness, slow speech, stuttering, feelings of inferiority and negativism, and trouble in learning to read.

More and more parents and teachers are aware of the pressure on lefties, and are now concentrating on helping these children develop skill with the hand they use best. Today, more manufacturers are helping the left-handed person feel less conspicuous inside and outside of school by developing new products especially for the left-handed person.

ERIE READY MIXED CONCRETE

H-2214

FUTURA TRANSISTOR PHONOGRAPH (4-Sp.)
American Made—Dual Needles—Operates on Four Flashlight Cells
Only $34.95
SMITH'S SOUTH SIDE TV & APPLIANCE
3820 South Calhoun H-2100

Hi-Y Club To Publish Directory Including Sports, Social Events

DIRECTORY DISTRIBUTORS . . . Considering the 1961-62 Hi-Y Directory are, from left to right, seated Jon Poto and Phil Spray; standing are Terry Newendorp, Bill Kleifgen, Alan Schlie, and Frank Lewis. This year's directory will have a complete list of all social and sport events.—Photo by Jones

The Hi-Y Club directory committee is compiling a list of the names, addresses and phone numbers of every South Side student and faculty and administrative staff member to be in the directory, which will be published in January. Students' class standing and homerooms, and the staff members' positions will also be listed in the directory.

The directory will cost 50 cents, and every homeroom will have a representative. Hi-Y members will also sell it in center hall fifth period after publication.

A new feature will be the inclusion of a list of all sporting events and social functions. Club enrollment, membership requirements, purposes, dues, sponsors, and meeting time will also be a part of the information in the directory.

Phil Spray is chairman of the directory committee. Sales chairman is Terry Newendorp, and Lyall Morrill is the publicity chairman. Publicity committee members are Jim Hill, Rick Vanderford, and Dave Flanagan.

Alphabetizing and copy reading the proofs for each class will be John Knight and Bill Branning, senior class; Ed Freed and Dave Tipton, junior class; Alan Schlie and Louis Culbertson, sophomore class, and Jon Poto, freshman class.

"The keynote of the 1962 Hi-Y directory will be accuracy. The Hi-Y Club is highly dissatisfied with the errors in last year's directory. This year, every effort is being made to prevent mistakes. Hi-Y's goal is a flawless directory," stated Lyall Morrill.

Any person who finds that his listing is not correct will be refunded the 50 cents he paid for his directory provided the mistake wasn't made on the card he filled out in homeroom.

The homeroom agents are Bill Branning, S-1; Jim Hill, S-2; Howard Miller, S-4; Bob Wenger, S-5; Karl Schladehan, 2; Mike Weinraub, 4; Chuck Bodenborn, 6; Steve McDonald, 8; Bart Bailey, 10; Ned Stewart, 14; Gary Probat, 22; Chris Junker, 24; Dave Rodenbeck, 26; Gary Tinkel, 28;

Terry Newendorp, 30; Tom Shine, 32; Dave Brumm, 36; Andy Christon, 45; Bob Lohman, 46; Dale Smith, 62; Jon Poto, 54; Jim Littlejohn, 58; Tom Neuenschwander, 61; Ricky Meeks, 62; Dennis Crill, 65; Tim Grodrian, 70; Warren Burns, 72; Al Mason, 74; Bob Wasson, 76; Jim More, 77;

Mike Dicker, 80; Steve Pratt, 82; Bill Kleifgen, 91; Charlie Golden, 92; Paul Cochran, 96; Dick Waterfield, 108; Dave Tipton, 116; Ken Lowden, 118; Bob Leininger, 138; Steve Jones, 140; Tom Frazell, 146; Rick Bear, 152; Ken Davis, 172; Louis Culbertson, 174; Don Hilsmer, 178; Bill Brannator, 182; and Dave Fleming, 180.

Terry Newendorp, Ed Freed, Karl Schladehan, Dave Tipton, and Steve McDonald will be in charge of collecting money from certain groups of homeroom agents.

Students To Skate, To Attend Plays, Games During Vacation

During Christmas vacation many Archers seek diversion from their usual school activities. Listed here are several of the events and opportunities for entertainment available during the holiday season.

One sport that is a favorite during this time of year is ice skating. While the Reservoir Park skating opportunities are limited by the weather, Fort Wayne has other places where one may participate in this wintery activity regardless of weather.

The ice rink at McMillen Park is ordinarily open unless the weather is unusually warm. During Christmas vacation this rink will be open every day of the week from 1 to 3, 4 to 6, and 7 to 9:30 p.m., except for Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve.

OPEN PUBLIC SKATING will be available at the Coliseum next Wednesday, December 27, and December 31 from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Also, on Saturday there will be skating from 10 to 12 a.m., and on Sunday, from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Besides ice skating, other sports such as bowling and roller skating may be enjoyed at the centers around the city.

Other events will be taking place at the Coliseum over vacation. On December 23 at 8 p.m. a fifty car "Destruction Derby," and on December 25 an All-Star Wrestling program will be featured at 8:30 p.m.

The following evening at 8:15 p.m., a pro basketball game between Detroit and Chicago will be contested. The Fort Wayne Komets will play Omaha twice during the vacation.

Faceoffs will be at 8 p.m. on both December 27 and December 30.

LOCAL THEATERS OFFER another form of entertainment to Kellys. Beginning December 22 and continuing through New Year's Eve, the Embassy Theater will feature the Walt Disney production, "Babes in Toyland," a show in keeping with the Christmas season.

At the Jefferson Theater, a double feature of "Mysterious Island," and "Twinkle and Shine" will run from December 20 to 27. Following will be two "horror" shows, "The Devil's Partner" and "Creature from the Haunted Sea." Starting December 31 and continuing through January 6 will be two teenage movies, "Twist Around the Clock" and "Loss of Innocence."

The Rialto Theater will show "Butterfield 8" and "Where the Boys Are" from December 21 to 24, and "Blue Hawaii" and "Valley of the Redwoods" until December 31.

Times To Sponsor Party

Members of the Times and Totem major staffs will have a Christmas party today at 3:30 p.m. in the Times Room.

Sue Smith is chairman of the committee for the party. Other committee members are Beth Burnett, Betsy Adams, Sally Sweet, and Leanna Morris. There will be a 25-cent gift exchange at the party. Each gift will be numbered, and the numbers will be drawn for the gift distribution.

At the close of the meeting there will be refreshments and entertainment.

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048
Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Every bite a delight

ASSOCIATE BSC DEGREES

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE
Phone A-1354 Fort Wayne, Ind.
Spring Term March 19

* Business Administration & Finance
* Secretarial Science
* Professional Accounting

With I.B.M.

Ingeborg's Frisior Salong
(Beauty Shop)
617 West Foster Parkway
Fort Wayne, Indiana
K-3305

DAN'S BARBER SHOP
1307 Oxford
QUICK SERVICE—TWO BARBERS—
HAIRCUTS—Any Style
For Men or Women

ERIE READY MIXED CONCRETE
H-2214

FUTURA TRANSISTOR PHONOGRAPH (4-Sp.)
American Made—Dual Needles—Operates on Four Flashlight Cells
Only $34.95
SMITH'S SOUTH SIDE TV & APPLIANCE
3820 South Calhoun H-2100

IT'S DREAMY and OH! SO GOOD

McDONALD'S

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.
AND NOW—NEW NO. 3
JEFFERSON
at
HARRISON

Visions Of Sugar Plum Grades Dance In Archers' Heads

Making high grades on a test on interpretive reading in Mr. Storey's period 5 speech class are Tom Erb, Ann Flickinger, Ken Leakey, Ann McCallister, and Vicki Miller.

Karen Snavey, Peggy Schmidt, Paul Mittlestadt, and Mary Esslinger received high scores on their experiment notebooks in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 3 class.

Receiving a high grade on experiment notebook in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 1 class is Mike Weinraub.

Receiving 90 or above on a test given in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 1 class are Sally Franklin, Lylal Morrill, and Karen Swygart.

Scoring high on a test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 1 health classes are Bernice Aston, Mary Sherlock, Linda Becker, Bonnie Callahan, and Lynn Raby.

High scores were earned by Mike Havlin, La Vonne Custance, and Billie Burgo on a test over indirect questions in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 3 period 3 class.

Students receiving an A grade on their skirts in Mrs. Smith's Home Ec. 1 period 3 class are Judy Arnold, Margaret Cox, Jane Finnell, Mary Karkick, Jan McClain, Pat Nettleour, Sue Palmer, Virginia Rose, and Carol Westernman.

Tom Tracey, Dian Akin, and Laurel Skinner received the highest grades on a literature test given in Miss Jeanne Smith's period 5 English 1 class.

Scoring high on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 3 speech class are Mary Ella Braden, Larry Lee, Karen Ponader, and Margee Terry.

A's were earned by Janet Deihl, Janet Dinius, Kay Falb, Annell Hoover, Sue Lohman, and Mary Sherlock on a review test in Miss Jeanne Smith's French 1 period 3 class.

Jo Ann Dixon, Christine Reid, and Barbara Wible received the highest grades on a chapter test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 6 health classes.

Those who received a grade of 90 or above on a literature unit test in Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 4 class are LaVonne Custance, Vicki Palmer, and Karen Walker.

Scoring high on a test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 3 health class are Aileen Booty, Susan Nettleour, Lydia Budowski, Sally Henderson, Cynthia Johns, and Sharon LeFever.

Joan VanOsedale and Sandy Ormiston earned the highest grades on a review test in Miss Jeanne Smith's French 3 period 6 class.

REMBRANT? PICASSO? . . . Sorry, not this time. They are Tom Ogles, left, and Jim Hill, typical, hardworking students enrolled in one of the many art classes at South Side. By completing their oil paintings, they are fulfilling one of the requirements of the course.—Photo by Lowden

Jackie Kuhns and Ann Shilling received high grades on a test in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Receiving high grades on a recent test in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 7 class are June Blessing, Lydia Budowski, Mary Sherlock, and Dick Ahlersmeyer.

High test grades in Mrs. Redmond's Latin 1 period 7 class were earned by Debbie Burr, Ralph Bolman, Lynette Downing, Jo Ellen Good, Mark Lowens, and Ron Van Ryn.

Joanne Rose received a high score in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 1 class on a test on work, power, and energy.

Mary Jane Reiff and Sally Sweet earned grades of A+ on the fourth review test given in Miss Jeanne Smith's French 1 period 7 class. Janet Calvert, Rosie Capps, and Kay Gall earned A's.

The fastest typers in Mr. Walker's typing classes are Elizabeth Hostetler, Jackie Barrie, Jean Davis, Sally Gilbert, and Ellen Low.

Cheryl Summers and Jeff Roth made the highest scores on a grammar review for the M.E. test in Mrs. Spray's English 7 period 4 class.

Receiving A's on their charcoal drawings in Mr. Smith's Art 1 period 1 class are Lola McLaughlin and Richard Ramsey.

Those receiving a grade of 90 or above on a chapter test in Mr. Roland Smith's period 1 United States history class are Nancy Brubaker, Kathy DeVore, Ed Freed, Gary Probst, and David West.

Jane Hetfield, Joy Lock, and Linda Stanger received perfect papers on a test over fundamental operations in Mr. Sage's Algebra 1 period 3 class.

Marti Morell received an A on a test over noun clauses in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class.

Sue Burdick, Janet Dinius, Sue Gerig, Linda Gernand, Sue Lohman, Mary Sherlock, and Ann McAllister earned grades of A+ on the fourth French review test given by Miss Jeanne Smith in her period 3 class. Joan Brooks, Janet Deihl, and Annell Hoover earned A's on the same test. Clark Marquart, Honey-K Martindale, and Sondra Stouder earned A-'s.

John Nickels made the highest score on a test over verbals in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4.

Receiving high ratings on book reviews in Miss Osborne's English 7 period 3 class are Cynthia Russell, Aletha Staight, Ken Leakey, Judy Merrill, and Joe Lepley.

Students in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class who received high scores on humorous readings are Rosemary Capps, Ken Davis, and Marcia Disler.

RADIOACTIVE EXPLORERS . . . Delving into the subject of radioactive materials greatly interests the biology classes. Showing how to handle such materials are, left to right, front row, Mike Hormann, Janet Gerig; back row, Marlou Figley, Dennis Love, and Beverly Malone.—Photo by Seaman

the highest grades on a test over the novel which they are studying in Miss Jeanne Smith's English 1 period 6 class.

Leanna Morris and Marti Morrell received high scores on humorous readings in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Mike Zehendner, Sally Sweet, and Victor Churchward had the best experiment notebooks in Mr. White's Physics 1 period 5 class.

Mrs. Smith's Home Economics 2 classes are preparing for holiday baking. They are now experimenting with yeast bread.

Kay Heemsoth scored 100 per cent on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 6 class.

Highest grades on a test over reading material in Miss Perkins' French 3 period 2 were made by Carol Harader, Lisa Hoffman, Larry Lee, Jenny Manth, and Ann Petrie.

Susan Jorgensen and Carol Channell received high grades on a recent test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 7 health classes.

Linda Chaney and Robert Symonds scored 100 per cent on the spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 1 class.

Receiving 90 and better on a recent geometry quiz in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 6 class are Gunther Bauer, Charles Brinenen, Sharon Hardy, John Grodrian, Eric Knabe, Red Rolf, Sue Seigel, and Tony Trice.

Doing A work on independent clauses in Miss Burr's English 3 period 4 class are Ann Henderson, Debby Love, Ricky Meeks, Charles Hager, and Jan Reynolds.

Mike Carter, Jackie Kuhns, and Ann Shilling scored high grades on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Marilyn Gerke received a high grade on a recent test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 4 health class.

Receiving the highest grades in Mr. Petty's Geometry 1 period 4 class are Michael Bruce Brown, Christine Counsman, and Charlotte Dinius.

Doing A work on independent clauses in Miss Burr's English 3 period 7 class are Sally Adams, Jim Barker, Marilyn Fishman, Lois Gallimore, Jane Knette, Janice Robson, and John Stewart.

Scoring above 90 on a test given in Mrs. Luse's college algebra period 4 class are the following students: Barton Bailey, Bill Borgmann, Chris Junker, Frank Lewis, Bob Martin, Karen McFarland, Dave Meek, Howard Miller, Dale Smith, Gary Tinkel, and Dick Waterfield.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

WESELOH'S

2302 S. Calhoun

H-6107

BOLYARD'S STANDARD SERVICE

3101 Fairfield

H-5153

KEEFER PRINTING

714 W. Washington

A-1484

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVERS

120 W. Superior

E-0505

KIDDIELAND CHRISTMAS TREES

SOUTHGATE PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER

Scotch Pines, Spruce, Balsam, Roping and Boughs

LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS

1302 Wall Street

A-9251

CUPP, Inc.

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

A FRIEND

E. J. PLANT SHOPPE

Hanna at Pettit

K-4435

CHRISTMAS TREES REASONABLE

MUNRO'S STANDARD

Southgate Plaza

H-5300

Front End Alignment

Wheel Balancing

As Jolly Old Santa Claus Prepares To Pack Bag Of Gifts

Scoring perfect papers on a test in Mrs. Luse's advanced algebra class period 4 are Barton Bailey, Mary Fredrick, Chris Junker, Dick Waterfield, Bob Martin, and Karen McFarland.

Scoring 90 and above on the same test are Bill Borgmann, Frank Lewis, Pat Nettroor, Tom Plesniak, and Dale Smith.

Janet Brenn, Elaine Cole, Bruce Hilby, and George Wilkin scored 100 per cent on a test in Miss Fortney's Algebra 3 period 7 class.

Receiving top scores in Mr. Kelly's period 6 marketing class are Sara Dickey and Joyce Moore.

Marsha Lepper scored an A+ on a test given in Mr. Kelly's period 2 BOM class over selecting a location for a business.

Scoring 100 per cent on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 1 class are Sandy Horstman, Tom Liby, and Robert Symonds.

The best grades scored in Mrs. Grimshaw's Spanish 3 period 2 class on a unit test were made by Ken Leakey, Julie Breidenstein, Bernie Van Osdale, Sandra Ellis, and Martha Grimme.

The girls' dance classes are completing their modern dance techniques.

The people who received 100 per cent on a recent test in Mr. Petty's Geometry 1 period 4 class are Tom Blossom, Bruce Brown, Tom Hollingworth, and William Powlen.

Scoring 94 per cent and above on the test on shrub identification in Mr. Pipino's Botany 1 period 7 class are Martha Dixon, Sandy Harris, Sue Lohman, Judy Merrill, Ann Shilling, Cindy Jackson, and Barrie Spear.

In Mrs. Fleck's Art 6 class the class voted on their semi-abstracts in oils. Sandra Gustafson was first and Jim Hill was second. Jim Hill was also voted first with the best oil painting of flowers.

The Art 7 class in oils also judged their paintings on the quality of semi-abstract. The scores came out with Susan Martin, first and Bill Cartright, second. Judy Godman and Michael Leaman received high ratings on their oil paintings of flowers. Judy was first and Michael was second.

Receiving a top score on a test in Mr. Kelly's period 1 marketing class is Kathie Mislis.

Students in Mr. Polite's period 1 drafting class have completed their drawings on sketching. Evert Mol, Jim Rondot, Phil Geller, Paul Sorg, Michael Young, Lyle Culbertson, and Tom Shine are going into their orthographic projections.

Those making perfect scores on a spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 6 class are Tamara Beatty, Diane Gebhard, Kay Heemsoth, and Marsha Ringle.

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Hank's Gulf Service
Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.
E-3011 1015 Taylor

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO CROWDED . . .

Call INDIANA AUTO DRIVING SCHOOL . . .

- Dual Controlled Training Cars
- Manual or Automatic Transmission
- Professional Instructors
- Convenient Door-to-Door Service
- Individual Instruction

H-3303

Tom Parrish and Chip Bolman received the highest grades on a health test in Mr. Yoder's period 6 class.

In Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 6 class Pat Bobay, Alan Ferber, B. D. Hartley, Janet Kelly, Linda Miracle, Paul Pratico, and Mary Ruth Wilson wrote excellent book reports.

Gene Morris, Dave Smith, and Mike Weinraub received perfect scores on a test in Mr. Sidell's Geometry 3 period 6 class.

Students in Mr. Storey's period 5 speech class who received high grades on a recent test are Ann Flickinger, Tom Erb, Carol Ladig, Ken Leakey, Ann McCallister, and Vicki Miller.

Receiving 90 or above on a test given in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 1 class are Ann Golden, Bill Mueller, Terry Newendorp, Barbara Uhl, Chris Junker, Mary Keegan, Dian Leath, Allen Sheldon, and Gary Tinkel.

The girls' dance classes are learning the classic ballet techniques.

Students receiving a grade of 100 per cent in Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 1 class on a recent test are James Bailey, Bob Cushman, Lynne Fraser, Tom Parrish, Ed Warren, and Kathleen Wyss.

Robert Cushman and Mike Comer received the highest grades on a recent chapter test in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 4 class.

Tom Helton received 100 per cent on a test over cubic equations in Miss Young's Math 7 class.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Havens' period 1 BOM class over chapters one through ten are Dave Riemen and Steve Cook.

Those receiving high scores on a test in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 6 class are John Rastetter and Ann Mol.

Richard Goshorn, and Gary Shank received high scores on a test over parallel and perpendicular lines in Miss Young's Geometry 1 period 2 class.

Those receiving a score of 90 or above on a unit test in Miss Perkin's French 3 period 7 class are Debby Decker, Sally Franklin, Ann Mol, and Wanda Ripple.

Receiving a score of 90 or above on a unit test in Miss Perkin's second period French class are Ann Petrie, Lisa Hoffman, Carol Harader, Jenny Manth, Karen Simmons, and Cynthia Snyder.

Scoring high on the mid-semester test in Mr. Hank's general science classes are Dick Ahlersmeyer, Vivian Hedstrom, and Margie Hubbard.

Karen Kane, Bernice Acton, and Mary Sherlock scored high on a chapter test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 1 health class.

In Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 1 period 3 class Gwen Yordy and Carol Forsgren are doing excellent work in research.

Janet Davies, Jean Davis, Karen McFarland, and Lydia Sutto scored high on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Jackie Kuhns and Ann Shilling scored high on a test in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Linda Chaney, Tom Liby, and Bob Symonds scored 100 per cent on the spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 1 class.

Receiving 100 per cent on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 1 class are Thomas Liby and Vicki Miller.

Susan Jorgenson and Jan Ruby scored highest on the fruit fly lab test in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 6 class.

CARRIAGE INN
3717 S. Clinton St.

Linda Antibus is the highest scorer in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 6 class on a test over the executive branch of the government.

Ted Rolf is the highest scorer on a recent quiz in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 6 class.

Janet Calvert, Rosemary Capps, Karen Finck, Mike Levy, and Sally Sweet received A+'s on a French 1 review test in Miss Jeanne Smith's period 7 class.

Scoring high grades on a test over the Roman civilization in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 7 class are Doris Atzeff, Ken Clauser, Marda Munson, Don Potter, and Greg Rozelle.

Sandra McCombs and Fred Plothe are doing outstanding work in Mr. Arnold's Sociology 1 period 1 class.

Receiving A's on a literature test in Mr. Coat's English 6 period 5 class are Connie Belschner, Nancy Miles, Katie Mishler, and John Oglesbee.

Students in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 6 class who received high grades on a recent test are Rosemary Capps, Marcia Disler, Dianne Hall, and Sue Johns.

Barbara Nelson received the highest grade on a test over short stories in Miss Graham's English 3 period 3 class.

In Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 2 class Harold Disler, Jackie Figel, Sandra Figg, Cynthia Johns, and Mike Willibrey received high grades on a test over capitalization and punctuation.

Receiving high grades on a test over the Roman civilization in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 2 class are Mary Beaudway, Beverly Dougherty, Ron France, and Don Hilsamer.

Grades of 90 and above were earned by Ann Petrie, Bill Mueller, Bill Kleigler, and Susie Bumgardner on a test on the executive branch of the U.S. Government in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 1 class.

Those receiving perfect scores on the spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 6 class are Kay Heemsoth, Marsha Ringle, and Barbara Stevens.

Martha Dixon, Karen Ponader, and Larry Lee scored high on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 3 speech class.

Sally Henderson and Laura Graham received high scores on a chapter test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 3 health class.

The girls' dance classes are learning the modern dance walk, leaps, and turns.

Scoring the highest grade on a grammar test in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 7 are Sharon Carrel and Diane Hall.

Students who obtained high scores on a chapter 5 test in Mr. Roland Smith's General History 1 period 3 class are Londa Babbitt, Larry Brown, Christine Fruechtenicht, Dave Hunsche, Martha Hout, Jon Lyon, Steve Riedel, and Joyce Spindler.

Mr. Hawk's general science classes are doing experiments on conduction, radiation, and convection.

Receiving the highest grades on a test over verbals in Mrs. Spray's English 8 period 4 class are Terry Hoff, Nate Norment, and Curtis Holley.

Outstanding work is being done by Terry Matthews and Jane Whitenack in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 1 period 6 class.

Receiving A+'s on a chart about the Revolutionary War in Mr. Roland Smith's U.S. History 1 period 2 class are Ron Bultemeier, Mary Fremion, and Stuart Schmitz.

Those who received grades of 95 per cent or above on a grammar test in Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 4 class are Kitty Fay, Christine Fruechtenicht, Roberta Hofherr, Sarah Petrie, and Karen Walker.

Jocquel Supply Co.
Four Generations of Service of All Types Building Material
2206 Broadway H-3141

KOEGEL JEWELERS
Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway E-7671

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Mike Carter, Cathy Houser, and Aletha Staigt received high grades recently on poetry readings in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Those who obtained A— or above on a chapter test in Mr. Roland Smith's United States History 1 period 1 class are Nancy Brubaker, Kathy DeVore, Gary Probst, Virginia Rose, and Ann Shilling.

Mike Hormann received the highest grade on a health test given in Mr. Yoder's period 4 class.

Jackie Kuhns and Victor Lewandowski received high grades on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Diane Saalfrank is the highest ranking student in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 2 period 2 class.

Receiving high grades on a test over adjective and adverb clauses in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 1 class are Evelyn Brown, David Hamilton, Marcia Hughes, Jim Long, Jim Maxson, Steve More, Bill Powlen, and Susan Smith.

The best portraits done in melted candle wax in Mrs. Fleck's Art 4 class were made by Dean Bordner, Sandra Christlieb, Marilyn Engle, and Sandra Petrie.

Receiving high grades on a chapter test in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 2 class are Susie Weinraub, Richard McVay, and Dave Jackson.

High scores on two French 3 review tests in Miss Smith's period 3 class are Sandy Ormiston, Joan Van Osdale, and Rosiland Wilson.

Jo Ann Brooks, Pat Turflinger, and Pam Richardson scored high grades on a health test given in Mr. Yoder's period 2 health class.

In Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 2 class, the following students made perfect scores on a recent geometry test: Mary Bade, Nancy Belakney, Suelien Borgmann, Mike Comer, Lynelle Dill, Bev Flanagan, Bob Markiton, and Tom Meyers.

On a test on the executive branch of government, Ken Leakey received the highest score in Mr. Berg's government class period 7.

High grades were earned by Richard Rutkowski, Mike Vogt, and John Austin on a test in Mr. Yoder's period 3 health class.

Ken Davis, Marcia Disler, Dianne Hall, and Suzanne Link received high grades on poetry readings in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Highest scorers on a test in Mr. Yoder's period 7 health class are Kerry Miller and Dick Astrom.

Scoring high on a chapter test in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class are Rosemary Capps, Marcia Disler, Dianne Hall, and Kathy Mischler.

In Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 1 period 6 class Judy MacGiehan wrote an excellent research paper on "Our Nation's Capital."

Making high scores on a test over adjective and adverb clauses in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 3 period 6 class are Kaylene Bleich, Pat Bobay, Allan Ferber, Linda Miracle, and Gary Shank.

Receiving high scores on a test in Mr. Morey's English 6 period 7 class are Jane Augspurger, Tom Marshall, and Eileen Mayle.

In Mr. Morey's English 6 period 3 class Larry Barnett and Robert Smith received the highest grades on a literature test.

Making high scores on a test over parts of speech in Mr. Coats' English 1 period 1 class are Janet Gerig, Rick Astrom, Ralph Bolman, and Rosemary Ridenbach.

Making excellent drama reports in Mr. Coats' English 7 period 7 class are Kathleen Knettle, Kerry Nidlinger, and Karen Simmons.

Scoring a 92 on a literature unit test in Mr. Knigge's period 7 English 3 class is Kathy Kias.

Scoring perfect papers on a geometry test in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 3 class are Phillip Baker, Steve Bill, Cheri Craig, Anita Downing, Ken Ellingwood, Sue Eversman, Gary Hensch, and Susan Lawry. Scoring 90 or above on the same test are Tom Johnson, Steve Smith, and Jim Watson.

Barb Spiers scored the highest on a test in Miss Fortney's Algebra 4 period 1 class.

Receiving high scores on a test given in Mr. Davis' Chemistry 2 period 7 class are Bill Branning and Jane Ladig.

Obtaining scores of 95 per cent or above on a grammar test given to Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 7 class are Jon Brown, Valerie Evans, Mike Havlin, Martha Hout, Tom Lehman, and Dick Robinson.

The highest ranking student in Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 1 period 6 class is Robert Piercy.

Receiving high grades on a quiz over capitalization in Mr. Coat's English 1 period 1 class are Lynette Downing, Rosemary Ridenbach, Nina Shevchenko, Sharon Thiele, and John Wehrenberg.

Cheryl Andrews, Tom Durnell, Jean Ferris, Charlene Kissinger, Kathleen Markoff, and Jacqueline Slater received excellent grades on a report on clouds in Mr. White's Physical Geography 1 period 7 class.

HELPFUL HISTORIANS . . . These United States history students study illustrations and maps which they made portraying different stages in the cultural and economical facets of the growth of the United States. These maps and illustrations serve as a visual means of learning the background material and statistics on the history of this country.—Photo by Seaman

Marilyn Gerke received the highest score on a test over Chapter 4 in Miss Edith Crowe's period 4 health class.

Students scoring high on a recent test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 3 health class are Sally Henderson and Nancy Enz.

On a test over Chapter 4 in Miss Edith Crowe's period 6 health class the highest grades were made by Bev Dougherty, Sally Byers, JoAnn Dixon, Janis Pfeuger, Sandra Clouse, and Linda Shadle.

Lynn Raby, Linda Weaver, and Mary Sherlock received the highest grades on a recent test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 1 health class.

Elizabeth Richter and Sharon Stettner received highest grades on a unit exam on nouns and their adjective modifiers in Mrs. Redmond's period 5 Latin 1 class.

In Mr. Arnold's Sociology 1 period 1 class Fred Plothe has the highest ranking.

Tom Erb, Ann Flickinger, Ken Leakey, and Ann McCallister received high scores on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 5 speech class.

Those who scored grades of 90 per cent or above on a chapter test in Mr. Roland Smith's period 1 United States History 1 class are Pat Dunn, Ed Freed, Marsha Larson, Jim Markiton, Gary Probst, Betsy Stephenson, and David West.

Those who made grades of A in both form and content on a narrative theme in Mr. Knigge's English 3 period 7 class are Martha Hout, Carol Lake, and Richard Wiebke.

Receiving 100 per cent on a grammar test on the complements of the verb in Mr. Knigge's English 3 classes are Donna Brandenburg, Linda Evisizer, Steve Gater, Clifford Hoshaw, and David Triplet.

Scoring 90 per cent or above on a chapter test in Mr. Roland Smith's United States History 1 period 2 class are Ron Bultemeier, Dave Eaton, Liana Elmore, Mary Fremion, Steve Gard, Jon Kokosa, Bob Leininger, Dave Meyer, Linda Neff, Sue Ann Roemer, Stuart Schmitz, and Karen Snaveley.

Steve Hopengarten has the highest average in Mr. Kelly's junior business training class.

In Mr. Arnold's U.S. History 1 period 6 class Suzanne Berk made an excellent study on the life of John Brown.

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

Receiving high grades on a test over the essay in Miss Osborne's English 7 period 3 class are Oma Ake, Max Brown, Beverly Figel, Joe Lepley, Cynthia Russel, Keith Snaveley, and Pam Himes.

Receiving high grades on a test over the Industrial Revolution in Mr. Feasel's General History 2 period 1 class are Dave Fairchild, Sharon Burr, Andy Christon, Sally McClain, and Dave Reinbold.

Receiving high grades on poetry readings in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 3 class are Margee Terry, Karen Ponader, Larry Lee, and Mary Ella Braden.

Mr. Hemmer's U.S. history classes have completed oral class reports. The reports were on various subjects in early history in the United States.

Receiving 90 and above on a test on the executive branch of the government are Bill Borgmann, Gaylene Hilsmer, Tom Wright, Bob Wasson, and Frank Lewis in the period 3 government class of Mr. Berg.

Receiving A— or above on a chapter test in Mr. Roland Smith's United States History 1 period 1 class are Ron Bultemeier, Dave Eaton, Mary Fremion, John Kokosa, Nancy Peterson, Phyllis Reaick, Sue Ann Roemer, Stuart Schmitz, Karen Snaveley, and Joe Thorpe.

Receiving high scores in Miss Ayers' period 7 commercial geography class are Nathaniel Norment, 95, and Tom Watson, 93.

Writing excellent book reports in Mrs. Emshwiller's English 1 period 3 class are Julia Merchant and Mike Ropa.

Susan Jorgenson made the highest score in Mr. Petty's Algebra 1 period 2 class.

Scoring high on a chapter test in Mr. Feasel's General History 1 period 4 class are Doug Frye, Marian Johnson, Eric Knabe, and Phyllis Pierson.

Making high grades on a test over complex numbers in Miss Young's Advanced Math 7 period 3 class are Lyall Morrill, Terry Newendorp, and Phil Spray.

Receiving 100 on a test over per cents in Miss Young's general math period 7 class are Alan Carpenter, Jerry Machamer, Mike Ropa, and Diane Aiken.

Mr. Fetter's physical geography classes are studying the different formations of clouds and short range forecasting.

Scoring high on a test in Mr. Storey's Speech 1 period 1 class are Janet Davies, Barbara Gantz, Mary Karlick, and Karen McFarland.

Scoring 90 or above on a chapter test in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 7 class are Vicki Adams, Marilyn Cole, Anita Ferber, Steve Lowens, Jackie Berry, Cheryl Summers, Larry Lee, Barb Spiers, Bonnie Russell, and Bill Wilder.

Receiving high grades on a recent test in Mr. Sage's Algebra 4 period 3 class are Bob Hendricksen, Ann Petrie, and Steve Lowens.

Rosemary Capps, Marcia Disler, Dianne Hall, Susan Johns, and Katy Mishner received high grades on a recent test in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Rosemary Capps, Dave Blanton, and Dale Hilsmer made the highest scores on a test in Miss Fortney's Algebra 3 period 2 class.

Established 1876
KLAHN FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS
Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.
BRING THEM TO— T & T TAILORING
525 Oxford H-2185

The proper lighting in your home is very important for reading and study . . . It protects your eyesight.
Better Lighting
means better grades
UTILITIES
Light & Power • Water Filtration
Sewage Disposal

Season's Greetings

JIM KELLEY BUICK, Inc.

1819 S. Calhoun

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

ROSS RADIO AND TV, Inc.

236 West Main

2430

PERFECTION V. INISH

33 Thimble St.

SOUTH SIDE LUMBER

4928 S. Hanna

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

KLAHN FUNERAL HOME

120 West Wayne

5922

THE SOUTHERN TRADING CO.

1000 S. Calhoun

WARNER BEAUTY COLLEGE

100 West Wayne

PEPSI-COLA BOTTLING CO.

1207 N. Harrison

A-7 75

"Now It's Pepsi for Those Who Think Young"

INDIANA MICHIGAN

SALESMAN COMPANY

71

DOSWELL'S FLOWERS

101 East Main St.

101 West Harrison

SAND POINT GREENHOUSES, Inc.

2922 Sand Point Rd.

"Greenest"

C. MOORE & Co.

Juniors To Compete Against Redskins In Closing Contest Of 'Hi-Quiz' Round

Program Emphasizes Scholastic Excellence In 'Question Contest'

Rosemary Capps, Sharyan Yerger, Karl Krause, and Jack Seigel, juniors, have been selected by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, as participants in I&M's "Hi-Quiz" on WANE-TV Sunday at 5:30 p.m. Barbara Altevogt and Tim Grodrian, juniors, have been named as alternates.

The Archer team will battle the champion team of North Side in South's only contest in the junior round of the program. At the beginning of the school year, senior teams of all Fort Wayne high schools competed on the program, moderated by Mr. James Jackson. After the senior round was completed, the junior session began and will continue through Sunday.

Mr. Weicker stated that members of the Archer "Hi-Quiz" teams are selected on the basis of scholarship, outside activities, and faculty recommendation. Poise and personality are also deciding factors.

Feeling that she has been honored by the choice, Rosemary Capps has been making a more careful study of current events; because, after watching the program, she has been impressed with the great stress put on this field.

A member of Wranglers, Times, Assemblies Workshop, orchestra, and the Publications Board, Rosemary is presently taking English 6, Algebra 3, U.S. History 2, Speech 2, and French 1.

THE SECOND MEMBER of the South Side team, Sharyan Yerger, feels "shocked but happy" about her appointment. She has been reading the newspaper and current events magazines more thoroughly than usual in preparation for the contest.

Studying Physics 1, Latin 5, English 5, U.S. History 2, and Special Math 5, Sharyan is also a Times copy editor and a member of band, Service Club, and is a Pegasus bookhead.

Karl Krause, stated, "I am very happy, though I'm not certain I deserve the honor." Karl belongs to the Junior Academy of Science and band. He is taking Special Math 5, English 6, U.S. History 2, and Physics 2.

The anchor man on the team is Jack Seigel. His extra-curricular activities include being co-president of Honorary Arts and a member of Math Club, band, and orchestra. Asked to comment on his appointment, Jack stated, "Frankly, I feel apprehensive about the outcome; but at the same time, I consider myself greatly honored." Jack is studying Special Math 5, U.S. History 2, English 6, and Physics 2.

THE ALTERNATES to the team will participate only in the event of illness or inability of a regular member to serve. Barbara Altevogt stated, "I feel greatly honored to have been selected as an alternate." Barb, a member of Times, concert choir, and Service Club, is taking English 6, Special Math 5, U.S. History 2, and Physics 2.

Tim Grodrian felt "really shocked" about his being selected. He is a member of Hi-Y, concert choir, a boys' quartet, and Wranglers. He is currently taking Physics 2, Algebra 3, English 6, concert choir, and U.S. History 2.

When the four selected members or their alternates play the game on the program, a "challenge" question worth ten points is first asked; and the first person who pushes a button is given a chance to answer.

The team whose member is quickest to respond with the answer receives the points plus an opportunity to answer a "premium" question worth a given number of points. When the game is over, the team having accumulated the most points is declared winner. In this case, that team will be the champion of the junior round.

Senior Brenda Dull To Reign As Queen Of DeMolay Order

Brenda Dull, senior, was crowned sweetheart of the Fort Wayne chapter of the Order of DeMolay Wednesday, December 27 at their "Moonlight Mist" formal. "It was an honor to represent the DeMolay boys, and I was very happy to win," stated Brenda.

During the last two days in June, Brenda will be competing in the Fort Wayne chapter of DeMolay State Conclave which will be in Fort Wayne. To be eligible for the title, Brenda was introduced to all the DeMolay boys along with the other girls, and the boys voted for whom they would like as sweetheart.

Last year's winner was Molly Dixon, a South Side graduate of '61. Another South Side student, Barb Wallace, '60, won first place also.

Brenda has won the title of the Bluffton Street Fair Queen. She went on to compete in a contest in Texas for the title of Miss Teenage America.

Brenda has taken dancing lessons from Ann Adams for 14 years and has taught there for three years. During the summer, she worked at the House of Venus. When she was 14, Brenda sang and danced on Ted Mack's Amateur Hour.

JUNIOR 'BRAINS' . . . Members of the Hi-Quiz Junior Team, Sharyan Yerger and Barb Altevogt, seated, Karl Krause, Jack Seigel, Rosemary Capps, and Tim Grodrian, standing, review current events and classroom subjects in preparation for their January 7 appearance.—Photo by Jones

Susan Smith Receives Position As Managing Editor Of Times

Major staff changes on The South Side Times have been announced by Mr. James Rohrabach, publications adviser. Sue Smith, junior, has been appointed managing editor; Roberta Twitchell, senior, make-up editor; and Bill Wilder, senior, editorial editor.

Circulation assistants to head the Times circulation campaign next semester are Sally Sweet, Tom Erb, Lane Grile, Sally Adams, Sharyan Yerger, Doris Atzeff, Liz Weikart, and Roberta Twitchell.

Sue Smith was previously editorial editor. Her extra-curricular activities include the Times and being vice-president of the Luther League at her church. Roberta Twitchell was managing editor before her appointments to make-up editor and bookhead. Bill Wilder was a bookhead and make-up editor before being selected as editorial editor. Bill is also the editor of his church newspaper.

The circulation campaign will begin on the first day of the second semester and will continue until February 9. Circulation meetings will be each Wednesday in the study hall at 3:30 p.m. throughout the campaign.

Sally Sweet, junior, is the only returning bookhead from the fall campaign. Lane Grile, senior, and Sharyan Yerger, junior, have been bookheads on the Pegasus staff. Doris Atzeff, sophomore, is also a news writer on the Times staff. Tom Erb, junior, Liz Weikart, sophomore, Sally Adams, sophomore, and Roberta Twitchell, senior, are homeroom agents.

Dick Parke, circulation manager, stated in regard to the selection of the bookheads, "I feel that these people will aid and inspire their homeroom agents to achieve a 100 per cent school in the upcoming campaign."

Michigan University To Give Scholarship

All applications for a four-year scholarship to the University of Michigan must be received by the University of Michigan Scholarship Club by January 22, 1962.

"Applicants will be notified of the time and place of the personal interview," stated Charles N. Walker, president of the University of Michigan Club of Fort Wayne.

The scholarship will pay the non-resident tuition fee, which is currently $750 a year, for four years. Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor, commented, "This is a very important scholarship for our top seniors who are interested in the University of Michigan."

Interested seniors may secure forms by contacting Mr. Weicker in Room 102.

Vesta Club To Present Styles At Show, 'Alice In Kellyland'

'ANIMAL, VEGETABLE, OR MINERAL?' . . . "What textile is this?" queries Delores Shadowens, hostess for the home economics style show as Sandy Karst models the suit. Other home economics students viewing the rehearsal are left to right, Corinne Silvers, Bonnie Holubetz, Mary Shilling, Judy Davis, and Mary Merrill.—Photo by Lowden

"Alice in Kellyland" is the theme of the Vesta Club style show which will be presented in the cafeteria Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. The students will model their handiwork for the two hundred twenty-five girls who are taking Home Economics 1, 3, and 5 and their mothers.

The girls will model in groups. Home Economics 1 students will show sportswear featuring blouses, skirts and slacks which they made during the fall semester.

HOME EC 3 GIRLS will model wool or cotton dresses, jackets, and slacks. The more advanced sewing students of Home Ec 5 will show the new coats, suits, blazers, and formals they have made.

Selections by a string ensemble from the Music Department will be a part of the entertainment, and choral selections by a small vocal group will also be presented. Carol Jo Becher and Nancy Stauffer, seniors, will provide the background piano music.

AFTER THE STYLE show, the Vesta members will serve refreshments. Home-made cookies, nuts, mints, and coffee will be served by Nancy Stauffer, Sharon Stettner, Ruth Sprunger, Ann McCoy, Alice Habegger, and the Vesta officers.

Responsible for invitations and programs are Carol Jo Becher and Sally Gilbert; while Miss Pearl Rehorth, Mrs. Lois Murphy, and Mrs. Mary Smith, home economics instructors, will be in charge of the program. Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, and Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will be the honored guests.

11A Diane Simmers To Lead Daughters

Diane Simmers, junior A, was installed as honored queen of Bethel number eight, International Order of Job's Daughters, on December 22, at the Masonic Temple.

Other officers that were installed from South Side include Ellen Stansbury, senior princess; Rosalie Curtis, chaplain; and Sheri Spencer, fourth messenger.

Officers were installed by past honored queens among whom was South Side's 1961 graduate, Judy English.

Photo Contest To Begin

The Camera Club is sponsoring a photography contest in which all members are urged to enter pictures taken after June 1, 1961. Ribbons will be awarded to the first, second, and third place winners.

Kellys Garner 28,023 Food Items For City Underprivileged Families

12B Phil Spray Wins Top Title In State Meet

Phil Spray, senior B, won the state Voice of Democracy Contest on December 12. He earned the right to go to state by capturing the regional and school titles on November 24 and November 8, respectively.

For his efforts, Phil received a certificate and a $100 bond in the state contest and a transistor radio and a pen and pencil set from the Press Club in the regionals.

Phil's speech on democracy began with the listing of all the restrictions, duties, and obligations of a democratic government. He also stated that disadvantages in the government were minor compared to the benefits.

Phil ended his five-minute speech with the thought that by shouldering the load of duties and responsibilities of a democracy, Americans can gain the best form of government, which they believe is democracy.

To win the school contest, Phil gave his speech over the public address system. The tape of his winning speech was then sent to compete in the regional contest against representatives from Allen, Dekalb, and Stuten Counties. The judges were from radio stations WKJG, WGL, WANE, and WOWO.

Phil's previous speaking honors include a first place in the Howe Inexperienced Meet, second in the Allen County Speech Meet, fourth at New Haven Speech Meet, and fifth in the North Side Invitational Meet.

Extra-curricular activities of this Archer include Hi-Y, Masque and Gavel, Assemblies Workshop, Wranglers, sports car racing, scuba diving, and sail plane piloting.

"I was certainly pleased that Phil won. I think he's a very deserving winner," said Mr. Robert Storey, speech instructor.

Driving Teenagers Receive 16 Tickets For Law Violations

Sixteen traffic violations were committed during the month of November, according to an announcement by Officer Robert Waldrop, high school liaison officer. Of these violations, South and Central Catholic had three; Bishop Luers, one; North Side, seven; Concordia and Central, none; and Elmhurst, two.

Students from South and North committed the two reckless driving violations. Speeding violations were committed by one C.C. student, one North pupil, and two Elmhurst drivers.

FIVE TEENAGERS made violations for having inadequate equipment. A student from Bishop Luers, two from North, and two from C.C. received this violation.

Two North students received violations for running a stop sign or signal. The only violation for improper use of an alley was attributed to an Archer. A South driver made the only violation for not having an operators' license.

The total violations charged to each school for the months of September, October, and November are South Side, 24; North Side, 16; Central Catholic, seven; Concordia, six; Central, six; Elmhurst, five; and Bishop Luers, four.

DURING THE three-month period, 21 violations were made for reckless driving, 21 for speeding, seven for not having an operators' license, five for inadequate equipment, one for failing to yield the right of way, three for running a stop sign or signal, and three miscellaneous violations were made.

"When the student accident record is lowered, it will add to the credit of the school and make driving safer and more enjoyable," stated Officer Waldrop.

Wranglers To Elect Officers For Spring

Wranglers will elect officers at their meeting Monday at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Shari Busch and Logan Smith are the candidates for president. The one receiving the most votes will become president, and the loser will receive the vice-presidency.

Competing for secretary are Charlotte Powell and Margee Terry. Debby Decker and Lex Smuts will vie for the position of program chairman. On the slate for point recorder will be Barb Nelson and Phyllis Piereson.

Rosemary Capps and Sally Franklin will compete for publicity chairman. The treasurer's job continues through the school year; therefore, no candidates for treasurer will be on the ballot.

Wranglers will participate in the state speech tourney at Ball State on January 20. Five contestants will be taken for each division. The divisions will be dramatic, humorous, extemp, original oratory, poetry, and radio.

LETTERMEN BOX CANS . . . Stacking a total of 28,023 cans for the Christmas Bureau can drive are lettermen from left to right Steve Cook, Ken Leakey, Tom McMahan, Bob Lohman, Henry Persons, Evert Mol, Tom Shine, and John Weaver; back row, Dale Hilsmer and Dick Johnson.—Photo by Seaman

Speakers Capture 19 Ribbons In Annual County Tournament

Winning 19 ribbons, Archer orators took first place in the Allen County Speech Tournament at North Side on December 16. Lex Smuts captured first place in the boys' extemporaneous division.

Sue North placed first, Debby Tourkow, third, and Sally Franklin, fifth, girls' extemp; Martha Dixon, first, Ann Brase, third, Charlotte Powell, fourth, and Shari Busch, fifth, humorous;

Diane Fredrick, second; Martha Lanning, third; and Karen Ponader, fifth, dramatics; Margee Terry, third, oratorical interpretation; Barb Nelson, second, poetry;

DEBBY DECKER, second, and Bob Wasson, third, radio; and Phil Spray, second, Marcia Disler, third, Margee Terry, fourth, and Barb Nelson, fifth, original oratory.

Other participants were Kathy DeVore and Rosemary Capps in girls' extemp; Ann McCallister, Pam Punskey, Pam Buzzard, Jackie Kuhns, Bob Bartel, and Charlotte Dimius, humorous; dramatic; Vicki Miller and Sue Penland, oratorical interpretation; and Doris Atzeff, original oratory.

Peggy Brase and Charlotte Powell, job."

Each division had three preliminary rounds and a final round. The six contestants with the lowest total points after the preliminary rounds were eligible for the finals.

JUDGES FROM South were Jo Ann High and Janet Terry, Class of 1960; Val Callahan, Annette Plesniak, Judy English, and Sue Knight, Class of 1961; Mr. Samuel Jackson and Mr. David Fell, social studies teachers.

Ten Allen County schools participated in the meet. The high schools were New Haven, Central, North Side, Elmhurst, and Huntertown. Junior high schools were Harrison Hill, Northwood, Portage, and Kekionga.

Mr. Robert Storey, sponsor of Wranglers, said, "I am extremely grateful that the students were able to repeat the winning of the Allen County championship, which Archers captured last year with 13 ribbons. I want to congratulate all the participants, for they all did an excellent job."

Four Archers To Play Leads In 'Wizard Of Oz' Production

CHILD CHARMERS . . . Bob Gargett, rear, seems to be having problems explaining his part in "The Wizard of Oz" to his fellow actors, left to right, Sue Klahn, Mr. Robert Kelly, and Pat Slater. The play will be presented for the Children's Theater at the Civic Theater next Saturday and Sunday.—Photo by Jones

Four Archers will star in "The Wizard of Oz," a fairy tale, which will be performed on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Children's Theater. Mr. Robert Kelly, business instructor, the lion; Pat Slater, junior, Dorothy; Sue Klahn, sophomore, witch of the West; and Bob Gargett, junior, the wizard, will enact the familiar story. Tickets costing 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students can be purchased at the Civic box office.

Dorothy, a girl from Kansas, is blown to the Land of Oz by a cyclone. She is proclaimed a good fairy, because she saved the people from the witch of the East, a bad witch; but the witch's sister, the witch of the West, threatens to harm Dorothy.

On her way to ask the wizard to help her get home to Kansas, Dorothy meets the scarecrow who wants a brain, the lion who wants courage, and the tin man who wishes for a heart. Dorothy tells them to follow her, and the wizard might also grant their wishes.

WHEN THE FOUR reach the wizard's palace, he tells them he will help them if Dorothy kills the witch of the West. After a great struggle, this is accomplished; and Dorothy is able to return home with the wizard. The scarecrow, the lion, and the tin man stay in Oz.

Mr. Kelly's previous experience includes appearances in "The Golden Fleecing," "Plain and Fancy," "L'il Abner," and "Brigadoon." In high school, he played Greenie in his senior play, "Best Foot Forward." He has also been a publicity manager for the Festival Theater at Franke Park.

At college he appeared in "The Tea

House of the August Moon," "Boy and of Oz," a fairy tale, which will be performed on Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. at the Children's Theater. Mr. Robert Kelly, business instructor, the lion; Pat Slater, junior, Dorothy; Sue Klahn, sophomore, witch of the West; and Bob Gargett, junior, the wizard, will enact the familiar story. Tickets costing 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students can be purchased at the Civic box office.

SUE KLAHN is acting in her first play. Her other extra-curricular activities include publicity chairman of Meterites, member of occasional choir, Assemblies Workshop, an editorial writer for the Times, and participant in her church group. In her spare time, she likes swimming, skiing, boating, and watching basketball games.

Active in dramatics, Pat Slater is also making her first appearance at the Civic Theater. Previously, she has played in "Showboat" at the Music Festival Theater, "Sign of Jonna," "Quadruplet Surprise," "Alice in Wonderland," and has sung in many recitals.

WHEN SHE IS graduated from college, Pat would like to become a medical missionary. During the coming summer, she will attend a work camp for the mentally retarded at Woodberry, Vt. She is also active in her church, Plymouth Congregational.

Bob Gargett has recently appeared in "Romanoff and Juliet," performed at the Civic Theatre, and other plays at church retreats. At Howe Military Academy Summer School, he received medals in dramatics.

At Howe and Port Wayne, Bob has also won medals and awards in swimming. He has also been a junior leader at the YMCA and a member of DeMolay. In the future, Bob hopes to study medicine.

Juniors Donate 9291 Products, Win Class Test

Homeroom 52 Leads Campaign By Getting 2,005 Canned Foods

The eighth annual food drive sponsored by the South Side Lettermen's Club December 18 and 19 resulted in an all-time high donation of 28,023 cans of foods which was distributed to the underprivileged families of Fort Wayne through the Fort Wayne Christmas Bureau.

Donations to this year's campaign exceeded by 8,395 cans last year's campaign total of 19,628 cans.

During the drive, all contributions were given a value of one can for each 15 cents of cost; and special emphasis was given to the collection of baby foods, instant coffee, cocoa, hot cereals, and canned meats, as the Christmas Bureau had cited a great need for these foods.

The juniors captured the inter-class competition crown with a total donation of 9,291 cans. The seniors finished second with 8,103 cans, followed by the sophomores and freshmen with totals of 7,679 and 2,950, respectively.

Homeroom 52 topped the homeroom competition for the second consecutive year with a total of 2,004 and one-half cans. It was followed by Room 174 contributing 1,103 cans and Room 91 adding 1,087 cans.

The following is a summation of the donations from all homerooms:

Seniors
Room	Mon.	Tues.	Total
2	621	123	744
8	29	116	145
10	80	129	209
24	70	228	298
28	40	140	180
30	442	64	506
52	1,500	504½	2,004½
68	69	183	242
72	105	60	165
75	102	167	269
82	64	78	140
91	626	461	1,087
108	356½	274½	631
118	158	132	290
146	91	80	171
182	145	200	345
S-1	4	56	60
S-2	123	107	230
S-4	61	60	121
S-5	35	257	292
Juniors
4	701	77	778
6		373	373
22	506	124	630
26	766	240	1,006
32	364	111	465
36	426	174	600
46	86	265	351

(Continued on Page 3)

Mr. Clair C. Motz To Present Speech

Speaking on the topic, "New Year's Resolutions," Mr. Clair Motz, physical education director, will deliver a talk to the YFC Club tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room.

South Side's Youth for Christ Club members who attended the annual Holiday Teen Convention in Chicago last week were Delores Harte, Liz Ellis, Roger Vorholzer, Sue Penland, Gary Harrold, Joe Zollinger, Debby Zollinger, Anita Clayton, Debby Monk, Jerry Dunlap, and Joyce Dunlap.

Approximately 2,400 teenagers from six states gathered at Chicago's Conrad Hilton Hotel to hear evangelist Dr. Billy Graham speak on the convention theme, "New Dimensions in Team Dynamics."

Other speakers and rally leaders were Dan Engram, director of YFC in Detroit, Jay Kessler, director of the club in Indiana and Illinois; and Dr. Ted Engstrom and Mel Johnson, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Youth for Christ organization. Thurlow Spurr, director of YFC music, presented the musical program.

Joyce Dunlap, sophomore, represented the South Side conclave as a contestant in the "Teen Queen" contest. Judy Dunlap, Joyce's sister, '61 graduate, won the "Teen Queen" title in 1960.

Roger Vorholzer, president of South's YFC, stated, "The speakers at the convention challenged us to work harder toward our goal of spreading Christ's word. We all thought that the convention was very inspirational, especially after hearing Bill Graham."

Air Force To Offer Senior Aptitude Test

High school seniors, both men and women, can take the United States Air Force Aptitude Test at the local USAF recruiting office at 306 West Berry Street, Monday through Friday at 9:30 a.m. or 1 p.m., or Saturday morning at 9:30 a.m.

T-Sergeant Robert A. Cobble, USAF recruiting officer stated, "The test informs a person about the field for which he is best suited and is the basis for counseling programs."

This test is given not only as a requirement for entrance to the Air Force but also for preparation for college entrance.

South Side Stresses Grades, Produces Excellent Students

It is that day, that worst of all days, affectionately known throughout the ranks of South Side students as Doodlesday! The Archers are not smiling their usual smiles or shrieking their usual shrieks. They are not humming the top tunes or popping bubble gum or even making paper wads. They are hatefully staring at white slips of paper which bear the records of their efforts during the past twelve weeks. They are mournfully surveying those awful report cards and wondering what happened.

There will be questions asked and explanations demanded. There will be answers, of course, but, the wrong answers. The Archers, like high school students everywhere, will defend their marks with such phrases as "the teacher doesn't like me," "the course is too hard," and "I got off to a bad start." But the most misused excuse of all will be, "It's the grading system. It's just too stiff!"

Is South Side really using the wrong approach in evaluating her charges? Has she been wrong all these years? Is the entire city school system actually working on an incorrect basis of grading?

To make intelligent replies to these queries, one must first consider other types of grading systems. Long ago learning was sought by a very few. These few apprenticed themselves to scholars and drew their knowledge without any elaborate process of grading.

Today in some educational institutions only one grade is given—that received on the final exam. Sometimes the exam is replaced by a term paper.

In several schools the final grade has little effect on the course grade. All evaluation of the student's work is done on the quality of class recitation.

In selecting the best grading system for South Side, the fundamental aims of the school must be kept in mind. As a public school, South Side was established to provide a source of secondary education for all, not just the interested or the scholastically gifted! It was organized to graduate students with the best possible mental preparation, to establish a sound intellectual basis from which young adults can build a future suited to their abilities and needs.

Would, then, a different grading system, a more lax grading system, furnish South Side with a better means of fulfilling her duties?

This can only be answered individually. The student who fully comprehends the importance of a good education would probably benefit from an altered system. Allowed to gather learning without the intense pressures of our present system, he would advance as quickly as his capabilities would permit, grasping as much as he wished to grasp.

But what would happen to the teenager who has not yet been awakened to the fact that his instruction today will decide his success tomorrow? He is the fellow in the cartoon who hands his parent a poor report card with the words, "Well, Dad, is it heredity or environment?" He is the horse led to the water of life who will not drink his own salvation.

Certainly without the spur, no matter how slight, supplied by our present grading system, this student would make no effort whatsoever to gain knowledge. He would become the welfare dependent, the delinquent, or the criminal.

More than likely the best change for the grading system is in the realm of addition, not subtraction. With proper counseling and guidance, both types of students could be aided in doing their best.

But decide for yourself! Ask yourself honestly, "Would I work at my present level or higher if grades were not stressed?" Then draw your own conclusions. —By Peggy Schmidt

Senior Summary

Points Per Prominent Persons

Martin Platupe . . . age, 18 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, six feet, one inch . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, blue . . . fad, bermuda shorts . . . sport, basketball . . . pastime, watching TV . . . activity, sports . . . subject, English . . . TV show, "Dobie Gillis" . . . record, "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" . . . singer, Bobby Darin . . . actress, Elizabeth Taylor . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, girls who walk down the halls three abreast.

Sandy Thorn . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, nine inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, potato salad . . . color, green . . . sport, ice hockey . . . pastime, rooting for the Komets . . . activity, Times . . . fad, charm bracelets . . . subject, French . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . singer, The Brothers Four . . . record, "Run to Him" . . . actor, Van Williams . . . book, "War and Peace" . . . future plans, journalism . . . pet peeve, people who come late to hockey games and leave early.

John Adams . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blond . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, ten inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, black . . . sport, water skiing . . . pastime, studying . . . activity, roller skating . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . singer, Shirelles . . . record, "Sooth Me" . . . subject, English . . . book, "T-model Tommy" . . . pet peeve, Chevys.

Dick Parke . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, hamburgers . . . color, green . . . sport, football . . . pastime, sleeping . . . activity, Times . . . subject, chemistry . . . TV show, "Sing Along With Mitch" . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, foreign service . . . pet peeve, smoking.

Gail Woodruff . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, two inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, green . . . fad, culottes . . . sport, basketball . . . pastime, buzzing Hall's . . . activity, Times . . . subject, chemistry . . . TV show, "My Three Sons" . . . record, "I Love How You Love Me" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . book, "Gone With The Wind" . . . actor, Paul Newman . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, two-faced people.

Becky Baughman . . . age, 17 . . . eyes, blue . . . hair, brown . . . height, five feet, six inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, light blue . . . fad, short skirts, knee socks . . . sport, swimming . . . pastime, Indiana University . . . activity, Times, Service Club . . . subject, English . . . TV show, "Thriller" . . . record, "I Love How You Love Me" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, John Gavin . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who lie.

Students List Ideas On Overprotection Of Children, Teens

With this world continually changing ways of life are also fluctuating. Children are being brought up differently than their parents were 50 years ago. As children begin to reach maturity, parents are faced with the question, "Are we overprotecting our youth?"

Raising, training, and guiding children are the greatest parental responsibilities. And, in turn, the greatest lesson parents can teach their children is responsibility. Each day of the children's lives they are faced with choices, and learning to make these choices wisely is the essence of maturity.

As Paul Slick, junior, stated, "Overprotection is needed in few cases pertaining to normal children. A child must learn by doing." Like a mother bird, a human mother must counsel and guide her child but not overprotect him. If a child were overprotected most of his childhood, when he reached maturity, he would be unstable.

YET IT IS FOUND that parents seem to retard, even prevent, their children from learning how and when to make intelligent, self-reliant decisions. This overprotection is harmful. "The concept of overprotection on the part of parental authority has come into being with post-war prosperity and is one of the most detrimental outcomes. The only mode of improvement is total analysis of authority, resulting in a non-overprotective anarchy," stated Larry Norman, junior.

It is a theory that children whose parents have confidence in them turn out to be better citizens. They know what is wrong or right or what their parents expect of them and automatically respond in a positive manner. Homes that are classrooms of juvenile achievement need have no worries about juvenile delinquency.

BUT PARENTS CANNOT have confidence in children who cannot cope with some of the more "responsible" aspects of life—like driving and dating. Such parents tend to keep their children back to secure the certainty that nothing wrong will happen. An over-abundance of this protection tends to make the child rebel against his parents.

Junior Diane Petznik states, "Overprotection is the one thing the American youth of today doesn't need. Of course, this does not mean that parents should neglect their total responsibilities of raising their children. But parents who 'protect' their darlings from the cruel world long after their children become adults only succeed in embedding false concepts and creating an unrealistic world within the minds of their children."

The most important job as a parent is the teaching of maturity and responsibility to his children. A parent who over-protects his children then, is not completing his job accurately.

Passing Presents Problems . . .

Now where? . . .

Carbohydrates Provide Energy, Cause Excess Weight Worries

The luscious and fattening foods out on the market today make it hard for the normal teenager to resist the temptation of eating foods which are not always high in vitamins, proteins, and minerals.

Carbohydrates are the most abundant in natural foods. They normally supply nothing in the way of nutrients except energy. They are the most economical form of energy.

The majority of people who have little money to spend for food are usually overweight just as people who have a great deal of money to spend for food are apt to be overweight.

People with a limited income should buy foods other than fats and carbohydrates; but unless they make an effort to buy high-protein food, they continue to eat carbohydrates—and stay fat. Low-protein spaghetti, potatoes, white bread, desserts made with a large amount of flour and sugar, and low-protein breakfast foods give energy; but too much of these foods make fat.

FOODS THAT ARE high in carbohydrates appeal to the people who haven't much money to spend. They feel they are getting a lot for their money. The slogan for these starchy and fatty foods should be "Eat and grow fat."

Members of the low-income families who are no longer young are usually fat. Children stay thin, because they are poorly nourished but active. They need everything they eat for energy and lack nourishing and building nutrients. The older people do not use up the carbohydrates which turn to fat; for their diet is not only high in carbohydrates but lacks almost every other element.

The more wealthy families tend to over-eat in a different way. They take a liking to tempting food, although it may not be high in proteins. Either way, people must know what types of foods have the highest mineral value in order to eat properly.

Following are important rules by which to abide if a person would like to have perfect weight:

An overweight person should stop fighting himself. He should never think of himself as fat in relation to anyone, nor should he use his being overweight as an excuse for doing or not doing anything.

EVERY TIME ONE finds himself thinking he can't do this or that because he is overweight he should stop and start again. One will find that he's been using weight as an

Small Snaps

The girl's a senior at our school. She thinks ice skating is real cool. For the neat guys she does flip On 77 Sunset Strip. Yellow is her favorite hue. She likes to eat fillet of beef, too. The lad, too, is now in his senior year. Berman and Newhart discs he does cheer.

Prime steak is his favorite food. He thinks Joanne Woodward's acting is good.

Waterskiing he likes to go. He also likes to ski in the snow. If their names you do not ken, To the ad page you must turn then.

excuse to retreat from the life around him. Being a little plump or excessively plump is no reason not to go bowling, dancing, to the theater, visiting, or to accept blind dates.

An overweight person should develop the ability to be interested in other people. When he is thinking outside himself, he is not conscious of his own real or fancied shortcomings. People will like him and be interested in him if he is interesting and, above all, interested.

ONE SHOULD re-evaluate himself honestly. Once a person accepts his weight as a mere part of the total person he is, he can start thinking about his personality as a whole and recognize the positive and attractive things about himself.

An overweight person should stop mentally apologizing for himself and respect himself as he is. He should also get the chip off his shoulder. He need not be on the defensive any more than he need be apologetic.

He should start to further develop his talents and expand his special personality. He should cultivate unusual interests.

Merrily Musing New Year Tempts People To Compile List Of Resolutions

On or about the first of January each year, unprovoked attacks of "Tis the Season to Be Jolly" (perhaps induced by all the good cheer floating around) prevail throughout the nation. As cries of "Happy New Year" echo up and down the holly-decked halls, a mania strikes the American people; they feel compelled to make New Year's resolutions.

Assuming, naturally, that no resolution is ever meant to be kept, people should examine more closely this holiday madness. First, there is the "Hall-Fellow-Well-Met" person, the "Good Joe be Nice to Everybody" at the New Year's Eve party. While back-slapping around the refreshment table, he selects a sure-fire way to make a smashing impression on one and all. The idea that has occurred to him is to declare that this is his last visit to the punch bowl.

Meanwhile, there's the chubby little housewife who absolutely cannot resist all those goodies in the little box in the store window. No use spending much time on her though; she's already begun her calorie cutting campaign with a chocolate fudge sundae.

Looking in on the family scene, everyone seems as contented as ever . . . that is, they were until the bills started arriving. It seems that jolly old Santa has been a mite too generous for Papa's pocket. Of course, the head of the household knows exactly what he did wrong; so he assembles the family to draw up a few little resolutions for the coming year. Unfortunately, discontentment has grown so at resolution number three ("This year everyone shall indulge in no unnecessary expenditures, such as that mink stole or those Mauler McGuire togs for the twins.") that a general outbreak of negative opinions fairly forces the family to blunder into the new year without a single resolution.

Why not abolish all these fruitless efforts to save consciences almost dead?

Alumni News

By Lynelle Dill

Thomas Halley, '61, is a freshman at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and is a member of The Crew, the group that rows boats in competitive races with other schools.

Katie Rastetter and Dan Trich are not engaged as appeared in the December 7 issue of the Times. However, they are pinned.

The engagement of Carolyn A. Johnson, '68, to Joseph L. Banet has been announced. The couple plans a January 6 wedding at Saint Joseph's Catholic Church.

Handy Andy Knocks

Wall Street Professionals Greet Unilever's Shares On Exchange

By Sandy Thorn

Employees of the New York Stock Exchange go to work and spend their day in much the same manner any American employee does, not becoming too excited about the day's work and awaiting with anticipation the moment when the hand on the clock strikes the quitting time. But before the year 1961 closed its doors, Wall Street had welcomed a new member to the Stock Exchange, and apparently it was more than a casual welcome.

Businesses are constantly welcomed to the Exchange and because new members are so frequent, little fuss is made over a newly established member. It wasn't until Handy Andy and some of his family's products knocked on the door that Wall Street greeted a new Exchange member with as much enthusiasm as was accorded the Ford Motor Company five years ago when the Ford stock first went on sale.

When Unilever placed its shares on the Big Board, the commotion began. Unilever, the world's second largest company outside the United States, posted its shares, and the traders rushed to make UN (the Exchange symbol for Unilever's Dutch shares) and UL (for Unilever's English shares) the first and second most active stocks on the market, respectively. Unilever's endeavor is ranked second in size to Royal Dutch/Shell, the biggest non-United States company.

Unilever trade dominated the Wall Street market for four days. And, to further show the sudden interest, at the end of the week some of the first buyers began selling their shares and pocketed quick profits.

WALL STREET professionals were eager and more than willing to invest in the new Exchange discovery, not actually knowing what they were investing their money into and in many cases not caring as long as the profits were increasing. Common investors were impressed with the standings, but Unilever was a hazy image.

Little did the investors realize that a quick survey of some common household products might reveal some information about the Unilever products. In fact, American housewives may be putting money into their own pockets when they visit their local supermarkets. Some popular American products include Lux, Lifebuoy, Handy Andy, Rinso and Surf soaps, Imperial or Good Luck margarine, Spry shortening, Pepsodent toothpaste, Lipton's tea and soups, and Wishbone salad dressings.

With headquarters in London overlooking the Thames River, Unilever includes 104 major companies and has 448 direct or indirect subsidiaries in 53 countries. The company sells over 1,200 different products. Last year, Unilever drew net sales of three and nine-tenths billion dollars and profits of one hundred forty-five million dollars.

Besides producing paper, plastic, and chemicals, as well as operating a fleet of ocean-going freighters, Unilever sells soap, margarine, cooking oils, toilet articles, animal feed, canned and frozen foods, ice cream, and sausages.

Its 400 Mac Fisheries stores in Britain make it the world's largest fish-monger. One Unilever subsidiary cultivates 213,710 acres of rubber, palm oil, cocoa, and coffee plantations in six countries. The world's largest advertiser, Unilever has an annual ad budget of three hundred million dollars and operates one of Britain's largest advertising agencies.

IN AN EFFORT to avoid double taxation from Britain and Holland, Unilever Limited and Unilever N.V. (for Naamloze Venootschap, or limited liability) were established. The two separate holding companies divide Unilever's assets but pool its profits. Each has a board of directors that then controls the board of the other. This "tail-chasing" organizational scheme works only because the same men are on each board. Chairman George Cole of Unilever Limited is generally considered the top man. Unilever N.V. Chairman Frederik Jan Tempel works in an adjoining office.

According to reports, the key to Unilever's present-day success lies in its management's skill in knowing when to go ahead and when to pull back. In Europe, for example, they are going ahead, particularly with frozen foods. However, in Africa they are dealing delicately with threats from the new nations to nationalize chunks of the highly profitable United Africa Company.

THE COMPANY'S philosophy is, "If they want things in their own hands, you help them do it. Then you find something else to do yourself." This explains the move to the New York Stock Exchange. Unilever wants to hedge against possible losses in its Africa trouble spots by increasing United States business.

Last April it began its American expansion by buying the Good Humor Corporation for $8,200,000. The newly acquired Wall Street listing will make it easier for Unilever to work stock-trade deals for still more United States companies and to borrow additional expansion capital from American sources.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Happy New Year! How are those resolutions holding up? Here are the probable results of many well-meant resolutions:

I resolve to go to bed early on school nights (Yawn! I meant early in the morning, of course).

I resolve not to drive recklessly (screech).

I resolve not to eat fattening foods (Please pass the Metrecal and pie a la mode).

I resolve to study (hah!). Oh well, it's fun to kid ourselves anyway.

Please don't ask Larry Lee to do anything for you—he's all tied up for a while. Tied up with 1000 feet of string, that is. It seems that Dick Waterfield, Bill Borgmann, Frank Lewis, Terry Newendorp, Barton Bailey, and Bill Kleifgen squandered 59 cents on the string and strung it all through Larry's car.

Say! Have you heard that Assemblies Workshop is awarding letter jackets for point achievement? Not really, but some certain members stuffed the ballot box when the club was voting for either pins or keys.

Speaking of letter jackets, have you noticed the proud athletes who are displaying new ones?

Dave Brumm has reverted to his second (third?) childhood. He now plays with his yo-yo at basketball games.

Well, the M.E. test is history now, thank goodness. Terry Hoff and Dave Lane have written a tribute:

M.E. Test

I think that I shall never see, An M.E. Test just made for me. An M.E. Test that I can pass, Pass along with the class, One that isn't a great big fight, That makes me stay up late at night. They say, I ain't got no cough, Here's hopin' that ain't quite the truth.

M.E.'s are flunked by fools like me, 'Cause only teach has got the key. Sight's around South: Karen Miller falling off her chair in the cafeteria.

Maria Marshall wearing earmuffs at a basketball game. Marcia Anderson combing her hair with a toothbrush.

Tim Goodrich leaping over the top of the English Office wall to unlock the door for Mrs. Spray.

Now we have another basketball team to cheer on to victory. It's the Hi-Y team, the South Side Clams. Can't you just hear it now—"Go you Clams!"

Let's continue to support our varsity and reserve teams, too! BEAT NORTH SIDE! That's tomorrow night! Thought for the day: Let this new year be the best ever for all.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Every now and then we hear about Macy's Department Store in New York. Do you know what makes this store the world's largest?

Answer. R. H. Macy and Co., Inc., is located at Broadway and Thirty-fourth Street in New York City. The store has a floor space of 46.2 acres and a staff of about eleven thousand employees. Macy's is reported to make about 45 million transactions a year.

Question. The study of the insects which inhabit the earth is a fascinating subject. The droves of warrior ants are nomadic ants which make cross-country treks. In such travels many obstacles are met. Do you know how they cross running water?

Answer. They have been seen to do this in several different ways. One method is for some individual ants to link themselves together, one keeping a secure footing on shore, so as to form a floating bridge over which the rest travel to the other side of the stream. One column was seen to cross a jungle river after sending out scouts to find a place where the current was shunted diagonally to the opposite bank. The ants formed themselves into a solid ball about the size of a coconut, rolled into the water, and were carried by the current to the other bank. Upon arrival they detached themselves and proceeded on their march, seemingly unaffected by the tossing on the water. These blind ants are found in the tropical rain forests of South America, Africa, and Asia.

Question. Did you know that International Business Machines Corporation has come out with a new electronic typewriter?

Answer. The new IBM Selectric, weighing 81 pounds, types in six type styles and in ten ink colors. It uses ribbon cartridges which type in the following colors: black, black and red, plate writing, light blue, medium blue, dark blue, medium green, dark green, medium brown, and dark brown. The carriage is stationary, and the printing takes place as a spherical typehead moves across the page. The machine cannot be jammed as conventional typewriters and will type as rapidly as a person can run his fingers across the keys. It will type either six or three lines per inch. Russia may be ahead in the space race, but I'll wager they don't have the domestic and business machines America has. This is but one example of "Yankee ingenuity."

Cage Squad Conquers Columbia City, Bows To Goshen, Michigan City, Central Catholic

Aggregation Takes Third Place In Tourney; Ken Leakey Stars

The South Side Archers stole third place in the Columbia City Holiday Tournament on Thursday, having nipped the Columbia City Eagles, 54-53, in the consolation game. Goshen arose as the tourney champion by first defeating the Archers, 56-49, and then Mississinewa, 70-58, in the championship game.

Going into the tourney, the Eagles had a four-game winning streak, but they lost both to South Side and Goshen, placing fourth in their tourney.

At the end of the first quarter in the afternoon session, the Archers led the Goshen Redskins 13-8. But in the second quarter their opponents scored 18 points making the half-time score 26-23 in favor of the Redskins. In the following two quarters, they kept the lead and defeated the Archers, 56-49.

IN THAT GAME, the top Archer scorer was Ken Leakey who racked up 12 points. The next high scorers for the Archers were Dale Hilsmier with nine and Sophomore Dave Munson with eight points. Goshen has a good group of shooters led by Saal and Jay Miller with 16 and 15 points, respectively.

Goshen led all the way in the title game with every member of the team putting in the score. Jay Miller, the accurate Goshen center, hit seven field goals and seven foul shots for 21 points. But McPherson of the Mississinewa squad hit 12 field goals and two foul shots for a total of 26 points. He also finished second in the total tournament scoring with 40 points to his credit.

SOUTH'S CONSOLATION game was a thriller with the Archers winning by only one point. Columbia City outscored the Archers in all but the third period, but the Archers managed to stay ahead. The half-time score was 28-25 in favor of the Eagles. South Side came to life in the third period to go in front, 42-38.

Probst and Leakey did fine jobs, each scoring 18 points for the Archers; but they had to share the scoring lead with Doubt of Columbia City who also scored 18 points. The final score ended in favor of the Archers, 64-53.

Three Teams Gain Dual Wins In GAA

In the GAA volleyball games on December 18 at 3:30 p.m. in the girls' gym, the Seniors defeated Team 3; the Juniors were victorious over Team 2; and Team 4 lost to Team 1. Team 1 ousted Team 3; the Juniors defeated Team 4; and Team 2 lost to the Seniors in the second round.

Members scoring points during the first games are Seniors Nancy Byers, Virginia Kachiamenis, Linda Moody, Flora Reynolds, Jenny Slater, and Barb Uhl; Juniors Pat Abbott, Jo Ellen Good, Judy Koop, Mary Marker, Karen Plothe, and Toni Sorenson;

TEAM 4, CHERI DAVIS, Barbara Shadle, Mary Ann Waldrop, and Nan Wallace; Team 3, Carol Doehrmann, Janelle Jacks, Charlene Kissing, Darlene Kissing, Jean Longardner, Judy Preston, Cheri Spangle; Team 2, Nancy Beard, Cynthia Duncan, Jane Hahn, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, and Sandy Lindeman; and Team 1, Lynette Downing, Jean Ferris, Toni Heathman, Jeanne Hoelle, Roberta Hofherr, Margie Hubbard, Sharon Karst, and Jan Robson.

The second-game scorers are Toni Heathman, Lynette Downing, Jean Ferris, Jeanne Hoelle, Sharon Karst, Linda Lowery, Jan Robson, Team 1; Nancy Beard, Joleen Crumrine, Cynthia Duncan, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, Sandy Lindeman, Team 2; Cynthia Kock, Jean Longardner, Judy Preston, Cheri Spangle, Team 3; CHERI DAVIS, Barbara Shadle, Mary Ann Waldrop, Team 4; Pat Abbott, Elaine Edwards, Jo Elynn Good, Dodie Kessler, Judy Koop, Mary Marker, Karen Plothe, Toni Sorenson, Juniors; and Nancy Byers, Virginia Kachiamenis, Linda Moody, Flora Reynolds, Jenny Slater, Barbara Uhl, seniors.

Sullins, Oberlin Colleges To Send Representatives

Miss Ruth G. Barnard from the School of Art and Music, Chicago, Ill., will interview girls interested in Sullins College, Bristol, Va., on Tuesday at 8:30 a.m. in Room 102.

Mr. William McIlrath, representative of Oberlin College, Oberlin, O., will discuss the university with students at 1 p.m. on Thursday in Room 102.

Students who wish to learn more about these colleges should sign in the Senior Guidance Office on Monday morning.

Musicians Enter Contest

The annual Northern Indiana State Band, Orchestra, and Vocal Association competition for 1962 will take place at Central High School and Harrison Hill School on January 27 and February 3.

Entrants for the piano, vocal, and string competition, both solo and ensemble, will meet at Central on January 27. Entrants applied with Mr. Robert Drummond, instrumental music director, yesterday.

The instrumental soloists and ensembles will compete at Harrison Hill on February 3.

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Heavyweight noon league basketball champs have been named, and players are vying for championships in handball.

The Bombers are the new heavyweight champions in noon league basketball. They conquered the Lox and Bagels, 27-14. A balanced scoring attack, led by Bill Joy with seven points and Dale Engle with five points, won for the Bombers.

The Lox and Bagel crew was led by Dennis Berryhill's seven points and Steve Cook's five. Members of the Bombers are Larry Schneider, Dale Engle, Denny Koehlinger, Bill Joy, Al Zimmerman, and Duane Goodwin.

To get into the championship game, the Lox and Bagels had edged the Duals, 25-24. The Duals' late rally was led by Rich Clark and Bob Leininger scoring eight points each. The victors were paced by Sid Sherry's 11 points and Dennis Berryhill's nine. Stu Schmitz also starred on defense for the winning cause.

The middleweight champions, the Nature Boys, defeated the lightweight champion Millbuilders, 24-15. The Nature Boys, sparked by Dave Rodenbeck's ten points and Bob Piercy's eight, ran away from the Millbuilders with a second-half rally. Ron Heathman led the Millbuilders with eight points.

In night league action, the Ying Yangs romped to a 38-21 triumph over the Chideables. Bill Ausderan paced the Ying Yangs, with 11 points; and Bob Wasson gained nine. Bud Lucas led the Chideables, with 14 points.

The Kentucky Four edged the Moles 33-26 to remain undefeated. Bart Bailey and Bill Kleifgen featured a balanced scoring attack, getting 11 points apiece. Evert Mol led the Moles, with nine points; and Chuck Hohmen got six.

The Royal Dukes trounced the Unmentionables, winning 69-18. Leading the Royal Dukes were Lynn Hoover with 14 points and Mike Vogt with 12. Bill Kinsey bagged 11 points; and Greg Riley, Dan Junk, and Dan Fishbaugh pulled eight apiece. Glen Billman scored eight points and Byron Prohm scored six for the losers.

The Flying Tigers then spanked the Royal Dukes, 51-19. Steve Gard sparked the Flying Tigers with 15 points, and Steve Birkenbuel scored 12 points. Shel Sherry scored eight points for the victors. Lynn Hoover scored seven points for the Royal Dukes.

In the annual chess tournament, Larry Botz, Dave Reinhold, and Brad Zieg are still undefeated. In the finals of the losers' bracket in the lower class division are Jerry McCormick and Dick Wehrenberg. In the junior-senior division, Bob Hawkins and Bob Miller are still competing.

In handball action, Bill Weinraub dropped Grodrian-Lambert, 9-15, 15-9, 15-9; Roebel-Ostermeyer conquered Botz-McMahan, 15-6, 10-10; Baldwin-Cochran subdued Raines-Goshoff, 15-3, 15-3; Joust-Fletter toppled Bill Weinraub, 15-5, 15-8;

Lyons-Fames beat Lawson-Speck, 15-0, 9-15, 15-13; Reichard-Stier shaded Hom-Astrom, 15-11, 15-12; Reinhold-McCorkle trounced Garrison-Grodrian, 15-4, 15-8; Fortney-Webb romped over Austin-Harmin, 15-12, 15-7; and Davis-Ausderan forfeited to Blossom-Mack.

The annual free throw tournament opened this week. Lightweight, middleweight, and heavyweight divisions have been formed. Last year, a total of 91 boys entered, 61 in the noon league and 30 in the night league.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete Catering Service

Tired Team Falls To Devils; Hilsmier Leads Against Irish

Suffering its fifth loss in seven starts, the Archer squadron fell to a very aggressive Michigan City team on December 16, 61-40. It was a tired Archer team that made the 130 mile trip to Michigan City.

After near victory over a tough Central Catholic quintet, the Archers were faced with a very fast, aggressive, ball-hawking team. The trip showed on the Archers' game as well as the game the previous night.

The Kelly quintet looked "dead" off the boards for the most part but suffered most from the lack of accurate shooting from the field.

SWITCHING DEFENSES could not halt the Red Devils' attack, and the home team led all the way. The Devils worked the ball fast and accurately.

The first quarter gave the Devils a good start, as they outscored the Kellys 15-10. South switched into a zone defense at the start of the second quarter which seemed to smother the Michigan City attack somewhat.

During the second and third quarters, the Imps managed to outscore the Archers by only a few points each period.

IN THE FOURTH period, the Devils caught on fire as they tallied 23 points. The Archers also racked up their biggest quarter of the night but simply could not catch the Michigan City boys.

Devil forward Terry Smith copped the overall scoring honors, with 16 points. Dale Hilsmier was second man on the totem pole with 15, while Ken Leakey accounted for 11 tallies.

As the final gun sounded, the Archers found themselves at the wrong end of a one-sided game.

Irish Take Narrow Win
For the second time in as many years, Coach Terry Coonan's Irish were able to fight back from a considerable deficit as they defeated the hapless Archers by a 55-51 score. This year, the Green maintained a six-point lead, entering the fourth quarter, only to drop the game. The game gave South their fourth defeat in six starts and their second City Series setback in as many attempts.

Experimenting with a new starting lineup which included Sophomore Tom Meyers and Junior Tom Shine as well as regulars Dale Hilsmier, Ken Leakey, and Gary Probst, the Archers got off to a fine start, with Meyers controlling the tip. Hilsmier opened the scoring with a three-point play; but these were the only Archer tallies until two minutes later when Hilsmier scored again.

However, Dwight Craft and Steve Krull then began clicking for the Irish, combining for ten of 18 of C.C.'s first-quarter markers. Hilsmier then scored on a tip-in near the buzzer to give the Kellys a 14-13 first-quarter advantage. But with Hilsmier fouling twice and Probst once in the first quarter, the problem that was later to hamper the Green seriously began to manifest itself.

THE SECOND QUARTER was a dismal one for South as they were

Riflers To Test Skill

The Girls' Rifle Club will meet at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday on the range for target shooting. New members are being taught to sight and load a rifle. They are also being taught to fire from different positions.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

What you want is a Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY OF FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Adolph's Auto Service
4220 South Clinton H-4152

Mark's CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197

A man wrapped up in himself makes a very small bundle.

3720 South Calhoun St.

Soph Joleen Crumrine Captures GAA Ping Pong Tourney Title

PING PONG PADDLERS . . . Showing how her winning serve in the singles division of the GAA table tennis tourney was executed is the winner Joleen Crumrine, right. Runner-up is Jane Whitenack, left. Joleen will receive 50 points; Jane, 25 points; and other contestants, 10 points.—Photo by Jones

Reserves Conquer Irish, Devils, Extend String To Seven Games

South Side's reserves continued their winning streak in two games of contrast on December 15 and 16. An easy 46-34 victory over Central Catholic on Friday and a 38-37 squeaker over Michigan City on Saturday raised their victory mark to seven wins and no losses.

In the Irish battle with four juniors in the starting lineup, the Archers grabbed the lead at the beginning and never trailed. Willie Files with six points and Jerry Klaehn with five led the Kellys to a 15-6 lead after six minutes of play.

After looking a bit shaky in the first period, South's defense began to jell in the second period. However, the deliberate Irish shooters began to find the mark and, playing on even terms with the Archers, concluded the period with the Archers leading 25-18.

A sluggish start by the Archers enabled the Irish to close the gap to four points as the second half began, but crisp shooting by Bob Williams kept the Archers even. In the fourth quarter, the Archers regained their finesse and completely outplayed their opposition for a 46-34 victory.

Jerry Klaehn led the scoring with 13 points followed by Willie Files with

Experimenters Dissect Pig

The Biology Experimenters Club will meet today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 91. At the last meeting, members were shown methods of dissection by dissecting a fetal pig.

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Self-Service or Drop-Offs
Washed, Dried, and Folded.
Finish Same Day.
1-Day Shirt Service.
Dry Cleaning

SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT
4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN/ART
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFFSET PLATES
LETTERPRESS PLATES
ELECTROPS
DIES/WAYS/STEREOS

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Lettermen To Sponsor Dance After Bishop Luers Cage Test

DANCE DOODLERS . . . Making plans for the Lettermen's dance are, from left to right, Dave Meyer, Don Sievert, Karl Schlade- man, and Chuck Parker. A Letterman King will be chosen at the dance next Friday after the basketball game with Bishop Luers. —Photo by Seaman

The Lettermen's Club is planning its after-game dance, "Lettermen's Twist," which will be January 12 after the game with Bishop Luers from 9:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The chairman of the decoration committee is Dave Meeks. Serving as chairman of the ticket sales committee is Tom McMahon. Tom Shine is chairman of the coat room.

The publicity committee is headed by Larry Lee. Ken Leakey is chairman of the refreshment committee. Serving as chairman of the clean-up committee are Chuck Parker and Jerry Scherrer.

The balloting committee for the

January Occurrences Include Alaska Annexation, Gold Rush

January usually claims the distinction of being the coldest month of the year. Moreover, it is famous for more than temperature, for it marks many memorable dates that have had an impact on United States history.

On January 3, 1959, Alaska, which was purchased from Russia in 1867 for $7,200,000, formally became part of the United States. Alaska now has the honor of being the largest state of the Union.

On January 8, 1815, at the Battle of New Orleans, American troops won their famous victory over the British in the War of 1812.

ONE YEAR AFTER its ratification, the eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, prohibiting transportation and sale of liquor, was proclaimed in effect on January 16, 1920. Although the 14 years of its enforcement do not mark a long period in the history of the United States, the impact on the social history of the American people was momentous.

January 17, 1706, is the birthdate of one of America's great sons, Benjamin Franklin. As a delegate to the Constitutional Congress in Philadelphia, he helped formulate the great principles that are the cornerstone of the American public. Mr. Franklin served as its first postmaster and also as an ambassador abroad. He was not only a great statesman, but he also found time to invent the lightning rod.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Mary Ann's
BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Bayre's)

The Snack Bar
SANDWICHES AND SHORT ORDERS
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.
Packard and Calhoun
One Block North of South Side
Grand Opening Soon

City Offers Nurses' Training At Hospital Schooling Centers

Almost unlimited opportunity lies ahead for the girl who chooses nursing as a career. The Parkview-Methodist School of Nursing and the Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing in Fort Wayne provide excellent facilities and instructors for the proper training in the field of nursing.

Change and growth is reflected in the history of the Parkview-Methodist School of Nursing which traces its origin back to Fort Wayne's first school providing nursing education. A two-year course was offered in 1897 with the formation of the Fort Wayne City Hospital Training School for Nurses.

As the hospital grew through the years, so did the School of Nursing; from 11 students in 1901 and 20 in 1903, to an ever-increasing number with a present enrollment of approximately one hundred eighty.

The objectives of the Parkview-Methodist School of Nursing are to select the student who shows promise of becoming a creditable professional nurse on the basis of scholastic achievement; good cultural, social, and moral standards; and potential abilities for nursing, as indicated through effective admission procedures, and to assist the student to gain the knowledge, skills, and attitudes necessary to meet the total needs of the patient, physically, socially, emotionally, and spiritually.

STUDENTS MUST BE in good health and at least seventeen and one-half years of age at the time of entrance in the school. Graduation from high school is required, with a rank in the upper one-third of the graduation class, and completion of at least 16 units of high school credit.

Suggested background subjects that are recommended include English, four units; mathematics, two units (including one year of algebra); science, two units; social science, three units; and electives, five units (speech, Latin, typing suggested).

The total fee for the first semester is $458; the second semester, $431; second year, $134; and third year, $107.

Students who successfully complete all required courses and clinical experience of the three-year program are eligible to take the examination of the Indiana State Board of Nurses Registration and Nursing Education to become certified as Registered Nurses.

THE LUTHERAN HOSPITAL was organized in 1903 by the corporation known as the Lutheran Hospital Association of Fort Wayne.

The Lutheran Hospital School of Nursing offers a basic three-year program in professional nursing. This program serves the interests and needs of qualified high school graduates who desire an educational experience that is centered in a hospital and will give them an early and continuing opportunity for being with

Seniors To Compete For Guard Positions

Senior boys desiring appointments as cadets in the United States Coast Guard must participate in the nationwide competitive examination to be given in February, 1962. Applications for the test must be made by Wednesday.

To be considered eligible for an appointment, the applicant must be at least 17 but not over 22 years of age, a male citizen of the United States, of good moral character, single, in good physical condition, and a high school graduate.

No specific grade average is required, but most applicants who were accepted in the past stood in the upper 25 per cent of their respective graduating classes.

Those who attain a qualifying score on the examination are then considered for an application by the Entrance Adaptability Board. At this time, statistics other than the test grade are considered.

Senior boys who might be interested in applying can receive further information from Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, in Room 102.

Artists To Paint Movie

To use the skills they have gained from learning to paint films, members of the Honorary Arts Club plan to paint their own films and make a sound track for it in the near future. On January 14, they will hear a lecture on the present exhibit by Mr. John Ross, the curator at the Art Museum.

WANT ADS
are for
EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers
The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.
A-5451
4133 New Haven Avenue
Fort Wayne, Indiana
NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It is fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

Rosie Capps, 11A, Hopes For Career As Social Worker

Representing her class as a member of the social council, Rosemary Capps, 11A, is active in many extra-curricular activities. As a member of the Times staff she is co-writer of "Teens and Tangles" and an editorial writer. She also participates in Wranglers, Service Club, 1500 Club, and Assemblies Workshop, of which she is vice-president.

Rosie stated, "I think a person should participate in as many extra-curricular activities as he feels possible, so that his life will be more enriched."

Rosemary, taking the college preparatory course, is undecided about the college she will attend; but she plans a career in the field of social work.

"MY CHURCH IS VERY important in my life, as I feel it should be in every teenager's life. Since I am considering a career in the field of social work, I am especially trying to develop a stronger faith and better understanding," Rosie said. As a member of the First Presbyterian Church, she serves as moderator of her fellowship group.

Presently occupying the position of concertmistress in South Side's orchestra, Rosie has been playing the violin for six years. Last summer she played in the three performances of the Franke Park Festival Theater. Rosie said, "Although the rehearsals are often discouraging, I really enjoy playing for the shows. I like to feel that as part of the orchestra I am adding to the performance."

SPENDING HER SUMMERS at Great Chebeague Island, Maine, Rosie enjoys swimming, golfing, and sailing. She also finds time to read. "The reason I enjoy going so far away is that it gives me a complete vacation from everything in the most ideal atmosphere anywhere. When we return, I'm rested and ready to start a fresh school year," Rosie commented.

Kellys Garner

(Continued from Page 1)

54	392	167	559
61	496	13	509
70	306	54	360
74	279	214	493
76	127	78	205
116	97	176	273
138	249 1/2	243	492 1/2
140	88	149 1/2	237 1/2
172	251	133	384
174	930	173	1,103
176	162	83	245
190	45	182	227
Sophomores
12	180	141	321
14		384	384
34	115 1/2	9	124 1/2
45	446	360	806
53	478	81	559
60	151	150	301
62	65	130	195
77	120	80	200
80	60	33	93
90	138 1/2	154	292 1/2
92	484		536
96	408	115	523
98	163	42	195
110	109	292 1/2	401 1/2
120	60	136	186
142	105	98	203
144	166	161	327
162		586	586
154	272	95	367
156	316	163	479
178	470	140	610
Freshmen
44	57	105	162
56	69	69	138
64	235	68	303
66		312	312
84	83	74	157
88	328	50	378
94	118	47	165
150	174	210	384
184	151	110	261
186	61	30	91
188	498	101	599

Bill Mueller To Speak

Bill Mueller, senior, will present the program for the Math Club today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 74. Dan McCroskey, senior, was recently elected president of this organization, filling the vacancy left by Chris Junker, senior.

Room 22 Tops Banking

Miss Edith Crowe's Room 22 topped other homerooms in banking on December 18, with $45.25. Mr. Clair Motz's Room S-4 placed second with $32; and four other rooms tied for third, each depositing $5. Altogether, 17 rooms banked $108.00.

COLLER'S DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Ingeborg's
Beauty
Salon
Also Electrolysis
617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

1962 Hi-Y Directory Features Activities Calendar, Addresses

POSTER PLANNERS . . . Lyall Morrill, Dave Tipton, Larry Lee, and Jim Hill, left to right, make plans for posters to be displayed announcing the Hi-Y directory which will include this year for the first time dates of all school social and sports events.—Photo by Lowden

Hi-Y's 1962 directory, which is larger and more informative, features the addition of a new activities section. The directory will also include the student's name, address, telephone and homeroom number, and his classification. Also it will include the names, positions, addresses, and telephone numbers of the administrative staff, faculty, and the custodial staff. Listed under the clubs will be the name, purpose, sponsor, dues, enrollment, and time and place of meetings of a particular club.

Items under the school activities calendar will be the beginning and ending of semesters, grade periods, holidays and vacations, important school events, athletic tournaments, and the 1961-62 football and basketball schedule, including after-game dances.

Phil Spray is general chairman; Lyall Morrill is in charge of production. Bill Branning and John Knight are in charge of obtaining information about the Class of 1962. Dave Tipton and Ed Freed are in charge of the Class of 1961.

IN CHARGE OF THE Classes of 1964 and 1965 are Alan Schlie, Louis Culbertson, Frank Lewis, and Jon Poto. Bill Borgmann is in charge of obtaining the information on the clubs. Others obtaining club information are Frank Lewis and Barton Bailey. Doing the typing of copy for the directories are Ken Lowden and Bill Kleifgen.

Assisting Terry Newendorp with the sales are Ed Freed, Karl Schlade-man, Dave Tipton, and Steve McDonald. Working on publicity is Dave Flanagan, Jim Hill, Rick Vanderford, and Ken Lowden.

The most important characteristic of the 1962 directory will be accuracy. The club goal is a flawless 1962 directory, which will be completed soon.

Any student or staff member whose directory listing contains an error will receive a copy of the book free of charge providing the cards filled out are correct.

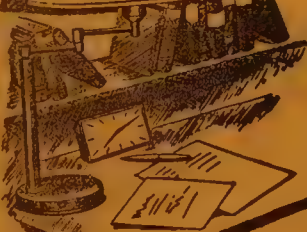

THE DIRECTORY will be sold by homeroom agents, and they will be on sale in center hall during fifth period. The homeroom agents are Bill Branning, S-1; Jim Hill, S-2; Howard Miller, S-4; Bob Wenger, S-5; Karl Schlade-man, 2; Mike Weinraub, 4; Chuck Bodenborn, 6; Steve McDonald, 8; Bart Bailey, 10; Ned Stewart, 14; Gary Probst, 22; Chris Junker, 24;

Dave Rodenbeck, 26; Gary Tinkel, 28; Terry Newendorp, 30; Tom Shine, 32; Dave Brumm, 36; Andy Christon, 46; Bob Lohman, 48; Dale Smith, 52; Jon Poto, 54; Jim Littlejohn, 58; Tom

Cardone's Pizza
"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"
2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Gerding's Drugs
3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

The proper lighting in your home is very important for reading and study . . . It protects your eyesight.

PAUL M. BURNS, MAYOR OF FORT WAYNE

Better Lighting
means better grades

Light & Power • Water Filtration • Sewage Disposal

UTILITIES T V

Team To Face North, Cavemen Over Weekend

Scrappy 'Skins To Host Green Tomorrow, Paced By Esterline

Tomorrow night is virtually South's last chance to get back into the City Series basketball race that it has for so long dominated. The Archers will face their third city foe, the North Side Redskins, at the North Side gym at 8 p.m. Having lost their first two games with in-town rivals, the Green is badly in need of a win, for the morale of both the fans and the team.

The Redskins will carry a 4-6 record into the game to match up against the Kellys' 3-6 slate so far. North has been hot and cold thus far, and right now they are in a hot streak. After slipping past Goshen in the first game, the Redskins skidded to six losses in a row. They appeared to be trying to equal the disappointing football record racked up this fall. However, fortunately for the Redskins and probably unfortunately for the Archers, the North squad has suddenly caught fire, whipping Elmhurst twice and Concordia once for a three-game winning streak.

North doesn't sport very much height in the lineup, but the scrappiness of the squad has made up for that. Three players measure up to 6-2, and four come in at 6-1. Now that the team is playing more as a unit under Coach By Hey's influence, the rebuilding is more of a squad effort. This fact, too, has improved the team considerably.

ANOTHER BIG REASON for the team's upsurge is the return of their big pivot man, Mark Krieg. Krieg was injured in the Goshen game, North's first contest of the year. After scoring 20 points in the first half, he fell victim to some sandlot playing and his already-toughy knee was injured badly. After some complications and many treatments, the big center is back. Although he is still seeing spotty action, his return alone has boosted team spirit. If his knee heals to a greater extent soon, he will undoubtedly forge to the front as one of the outstanding players in the city.

Presently playing center for the 'Skins is 6-2 Junior Dave Schumaker with Mike Aker, also a 6-2 junior, occasionally spelling him. The two forwards are Juniors Jack Aiken and Mike Painter, 6-2 and 6-0, respectively. Aiken has become the second leading scorer on the team through consistent, heads-up play and deadly accuracy on shots from the corner and near the basket.

He is also a strong defensive player. Painter is not far behind his position.

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Did You Know
Diane Porter
Eats at Ab's?

Ab's Drive-In
Clinton and Rudisill
11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

This week's Small Snaps is Linda Antibus and Tom Wright.

The Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.

Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Sta Schmitz

Now that the holiday tournaments are over, South Side and all the other city schools are ready to buckle down and start to prepare for the rugged prep games ahead. With the season at the half-way mark for most of the Summit City squads, the coaches and players realize that they will really have to bear down if they hope to be contenders for the statewide chase in February.

South, which is experiencing one of its poorest hardwood campaigns in many years, just can't seem to get in gear. The Archers, who presently are keeping the cellar spot in the city title race with an 0-2 record, and possess an overall record of 3-6, will have to do more than make New Year's resolutions to get that ball rolling in '62.

The Kellys have thus far met some fairly tough competitors, but the second half of their prep schedule will provide much keener opponents. Their rugged march begins tomorrow evening when they play the first of two contests with a red-hot North Side Redskin squad.

After losing six straight ball games, the Redskins have bounced back victoriously in their last three outings. North, who at the outset of the season looked like a fairly good squad, appeared as the team to beat after their impressive season-opening victory over a well-regarded Goshen team, a game in which North's top man, Mark Krieg, scored 24 points.

Krieg injured his knee in the contest and was out of action for the Redskins' next six ball games. When he returned, however, the morale raised on the squad; and the Redskins really started to explode, despite the fact that the ailing Krieg, who still favors his right leg, has not been too much help.

The big question right now is whether or not the Redskins have returned to their team-to-beat status after easily dumping three city squads, one in regular play and two in tournament action. Tomorrow night the Archers will be able to test their revived strength for the first time this season. Last year the Archers fell twice to their cross-town rivals.

Both squads are fairly young, and both have gained a lot of valuable experience since the start of the year. The big question for Coach Don Reichert right now is whether or not his slump-ridden squad can snap out of their losing ways and turn into a threat by Sectional time like they did last year. Coach Reichert has high hopes for an Archer victory tomorrow evening, for a loss will put the Archers out of contention for title honors.

Ball handling and shooting presently loom as the Green's greatest problems, but on paper the Archers are as good a ball club as North, or for that matter, any of the city squads. Perhaps the Archers will come to life this week end and come through with some surprising victories, an assignment well within reach for the Archers.

On Saturday night, the Archers journey to Mishawaka to battle a rugged Caveman outfit. The Cavemen have had a so-so season thus far, but they have played ball with some pretty good quintets. They have good strength all the way around and unless the Archers really give North a ride for the money the preceding evening or beat the Redskins, the Kellys are going to find themselves in real trouble Saturday.

In the city title race Terry Coonan's Irish still maintain the inside track on title honors; although unless the Irish return to their old form, their substantial lead might very easily be whittled away. Right now it looks like North, now at 1-1 in City Series action, and Central, at 2-1, will be fighting it out with C.C. despite the Irish's fine start of three wins against no losses.

The Irish play every city team one more time with the exception of South, and the way the Redskins and Tigers are going it will be a tough road ahead for the Irish. On the other hand, if North or Central falter along the line the Irish might have an easy time of it.

The state scene focuses on the defending state champion, Kokomo, rated second in the state as of last week, and their astounding 30-point victory over fourth-rated Muncie Central, the scribes' pick for the top Indiana basketball team this year. Coach Joe Platt's squad handed the Bearcats their second loss of the year by a 91-61 count. It was the worst loss the Bearcats have suffered in 18 seasons when New Castle gave the Bearcats a 67-36 trimming.

The game gave the Wildcats the Anderson Tourney crown, and Platt was so far ahead that he was able to put his son in the game for the first time, and he hit his first two points as a Wildcat. The Kokomo radio announced said, "I wonder what they'll compare this to in Muncie if that 18-point loss to East Chicago Washington was the worst thing that happened in Muncie since the flood of 1913."

The following are my predictions for this week's games: South vs. North—Unless the Archers begin to handle the ball better and begin to hit, the Redskins will stay on the war path. North wins.

Central vs. Elmhurst—A pretty evenly matched ball game; but unless the Trojans start to click again, Central will take victory number three. Central wins.

Concordia vs. Kendallville—A real close game, but I'll take the Comets.

Luers vs. South Bend St. Joseph—I'll take the out-of-towners in a real thriller.

Concordia vs. C.C.—I'll take the Irish for their fourth City Series victory.

Central vs. Peru—This will provide a real challenge for the Tigers, but the Peru Tigers will be too much for the Blue. Leo vs. Elmhurst—An easy Trojan victory.

Monmouth vs. Luers—A real battle royal, but the Eagles will be too much for the Knights.

South vs. Mishawaka—Unless the Archers get going, the Cavemen will find a victory easy to come by.

Jon VanOosten Aims For Post As Cage Pivot

Although the Archer basketball team is faced with problems, the entire attitude and style of play of the squad could change for the better if it had a big man for the pivot post. At 6-5, Jon vanOosten, senior, is the Green's best hope to fill that center slot.

Jon is working on his moves in the pivot; and if he becomes smooth enough, he will be a big asset to the Archers. He rebounds very well, holding his own under both the offensive and defensive backboards. His defensive ability is fair, although his movement is hindered slightly by a knee injury incurred in football.

BEING A SENIOR, Jon is in his third year of basketball, having played on the reserve team for two years previously. He has amassed four years of experience in football, where he has played both end and tackle.

Jon vanOosten

Last season, Jon was a starting end on the varsity gridiron aggregation. His height contributed greatly to the success of the "quickie" pass to him for good gains in the contests. The only Archer passes completed in the Central Catholic game were those thrown to vanOosten.

Jon has also put in a three-year tour of duty on the track squad. Last year, he ran both high and low hurdles, and plans to repeat in those departments in the spring track season. According to Jon, he experienced his greatest thrill in sports when he ran the high hurdles in the Sectional track meet last year and was narrowly beaten by Central's Hubbard to finish fourth.

JON FEELS THAT South does have good material on its basketball club, but he is disappointed with the play. He believes that if the squad can develop some simple style of play, keep it uniform from day to day, and develop confidence in it, the Archers might then progress to a fine season and a winning record.

The best examples of the desired type of congruity and confidence in the games the hardwood team has played this season are Southport and Goshen, according to Jon. He looks for the Central Tigers to be the roughest opponents to come.

Jon plans to go on to college, at either Indiana or Michigan State, and would like to play football and run track there.

Herman Klingler's
WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

CUPP, Inc.
Engineers and Contractors
For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING
2124 Fairfield H-6141

McDONALD'S

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.
AND NOW — NEW NO. 3
JEFFERSON
at
HARRISON

Freshman Team Beat Leo Lions By 42-24 Score

South Side's greatly improved freshman basketball team wound up a successful week by avenging an earlier loss to Leo in a game played here on December 21. The Archers soundly trounced the Lions, 42-24.

Jan Doran hit his peak for the season, potting 17 of the team's 42 points.

The margin started to widen in the second stanza when guard Ron Van Ryn sank a set shot from about twenty feet to start a seven-point rally that left the score at 20-12. Then Leo's Norr converted a free throw and Doran canned a 30-footer to round out the scoring for the first half.

THE GAME WAS never close after that as the Archers went on to outscore Leo in the second half by 20-11.

On Saturday, December 16, the Green placed second in the annual freshman tournament, bowing only to an undefeated Central Catholic aggregation, 44-34. The tourney was staged at South Side. Doran with 11 markers and Bob Kinsey with seven led the scoring for South while Mike McKee and Bill Ramp pitched in with ten and six, respectively, for the Irish.

A six-point surge in the second quarter iced it for the Purple when Greg Merriweather and Ramp hit on close-in shots to set up an insurmountable 11-point lead.

The Archers reached the finals by mauling a weak Bishop Luers contingent, 46-18. The Green put that one away in the third period, scoring 19 points to the Knights' three.

BOB KINSEY LED all scorers with nine, followed by Jan Doran and Ron Van Ryn with eight points each.

In another game, played here on December 14, New Haven squeaked to a 46-42 victory despite a 14-point streak by Bob Kinsey. A 10-point streak by New Haven proved to be the difference. In that drive, New Haven's center, Rohroacher, potted six of his 19 points.

Following are line scores of the games:

South Side 11 14 5 12—42
New Haven 5 17 14 10—46

Tournament
South Side 7 8 19 12—46
Bishop Luers 4 4 3 7—18
Central 8 4 7 17—36
Cen. Catholic 4 17 8 13—42

(Consolation)
Bishop Luers 0 0 15 4—25
Central 8 17 11 16—52

(Championship)
South Side 9 3 10 12—34
Cen. Catholic 10 7 16 11—44
South Side 5 17 9 11—42
Leo 7 11 6—24

Boy Riflers To Practice

Members of the Boys' Rifle Club will meet on the practice range Monday to practice shooting from the sitting, standing, and lying positions.

Established 1876
KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

Maroons Boast Veteran Squad, Dick Witkowski

With hopes of reversing last year's 66-49 loss, a veteran Mishawaka quintet hosts the South Side Archers Saturday evening. Coach Bill Smith's Cavemen, owners of a mediocre but misleading 6-5 season record, should provide unwelcome competition for the floundering Kellys.

Though the hosts have dropped five verdicts this campaign, only powerful Elkhart owns a convincing decision over them, a 73-48 thumping. Among their six victims are East Chicago Roosevelt, South Bend Riley, and Marion.

High-scoring Dick Witkowski, a smooth 6-3 center, heads the Maroon squad that has seven varsity returners including three starters back from the '60-'61 team. As a sophomore last year, Witkowski hit the hoops at a 17-point-per-game clip.

MISHAWAKA'S ENTIRE front line is intact for another season, as rugged forwards John Coppens and Glen Keel return to flank Witkowski. Both boys are fine rebounders and consistent scorers.

Though the two foes' front lines will be about equal in height, South's guards will outpace 5-9 Dave Nelson and 5-10 Jim Pittman. Archer guard Ken Leakey, a 6-2 hotshot, should be able to launch his favorite jumper many times with his definite height advantage.

SHOULD THE MAROONS feel the need of more rebounding strength to offset the jumping skills of Archers Gary Probst and Dale Hilsmer, they have 6-3 Al Dickson, another of the varsity returners, to substitute in the forefront.

In addition, Coach Smith has an excellent crop of towering sophomores to help out. Kevin Keel, 6-5 brother of starter Glen Keel, and Glen Williams and Dick Watkins, both standing 6-4, all have almost unlimited potential. At present they lack the experience to help the Cavemen cause.

Offensively, Mishawaka has averaged about fifty-seven points per game while maintaining a 56-point-per-contest average defensively. The team reached its scoring peak in downing Marion, 77-65. However, its best overall performance this year was in its 55-48 defeat of unbeaten Peru.

IN SOUTH SIDE'S first nine tilts, Coach Don Reichert has two platoons and shuffled his players in a futile attempt to produce a winning combination. The Kellys' most obvious weakness is their failure to work the ball for the good shot, the cause being sluggish ball handling, and the effect, low shooting percentages.

Lowrey Organs
Kimball Pianos
Costume Jewelry
JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games:
FORT WAYNE KOMETS vs. TOLEDO MERCURYS
Friday, January 5 8:00 p.m.

FORT WAYNE KOMETS vs. INDIANAPOLIS CHIEFS
Saturday, January 6 8:00 p.m.

FORT WAYNE KOMETS vs. OMAHA KNIGHTS
Tuesday, January 9 8:00 p.m.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

JANUARY

OBSERVE THE TIMES CALENDAR

SUNDAY Out of His mouth cometh knowledge and discernment; He layeth up sound wisdom for the upright . . . Proverbs 2:1-9	MONDAY 1 	TUESDAY 2 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home50 Years of Continuous Service2423-27 Fairfield AvenueH-2334 Meterites, Room 112 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Electronics Section, Room 96	WEDNESDAY 3 Dill & Dill Insurance1127 S. Clinton A-1119All Forms of InsuranceOver 26 Years of ServiceLawrence G. DillClifford D. Dill Art Club, Room 26 Red Cross Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120	THURSDAY 4 Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six YearsKeefer Printing Co.A-1484 Masque and Gavel, Room 112 Biology Experimenters, Room 91 Math Section, Room 36 Lettermen, Room 112	FRIDAY 5 It is not how old you are but how you are old.GAA VolleyballBasketball, North Side, there	SATURDAY 6 "Honesty" is the best policy! The next best is— A Policy Written ByYoung-Punsky Co.415 Central Bldg.Insurance Brokers Basketball, Mishawaka, there
7 Attend Church With Your Family	8 Top Hat Dry CleanersThree Locations1309 Oxford1604 Sherman4215 Bluffton Rd. Wranglers, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Volleyball	9 SOUTH SIDE CLEANERSA-1446 Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Astronomy, Room 96	10 Dur-Enamel Paints Dur-Enamel Co., Inc.When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.E-3011 1015 Taylor Vesta Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Honorary Arts, Room 61 Chemistry, Room 4	11 Oxford PharmacyHanna at OxfordPhone H-1373High School SuppliesGene Yoder, Prop. Jr. Academy of Science, Room 76 Safety Council, Room 178 Y-Teens, Room 112	12  GAA Volleyball Pep Session Basketball, Bishop Luers, here Lettermen After-Game Dance	13 South Side Barber ShopFIVE BARBERSAppointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments.Across from Main Entrance of South Side.Harold Henry, Proprietor3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502
14 	15 Some people are waiting for opportunity to break the door down and come in.Philo, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Recognition	16 Klaehn Funeral Home420 W. Wayne A-0228Ambulance Service Meterites Recognition, Room 112 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Electronics Section, Room 96	17 Always put off until tomorrow the things you should not do today.Grades IssuedBasketball, Central, there	18 Art's Standard Service4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025Atlas Tires—Batteries—AccessoriesPick-Up and DeliveryS&H Stamps	19 RENT A TYPEWRITER fromNEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co.723 South Clinton A-7395 End of First Semester Basketball, Madison Heights, here	20 Irmischer & Sons, Inc.1030 Osage A-8325 Hi-Y After-Game Dance Basketball, Elmhurst, here
21 He who can suppress a moment's anger may prevent a day of sorrow.Tryon Edwards	22 BABER'S JEWELRY801 S. CalhounA-7306 — E-4197 Beginning of Second Semester	23  Camera Club, Room 70 Know-Your-City Club, Room 110 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Societas Latina, Room 112	24 Use what talents you possess: the woods would be very silent if no birds sang there except those that sang best.Henry Van Dyke Times Agents Vesta Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Honorary Arts, Room 61 Astro-Physics Section, Room 96 Chemistry, Room 4	25 OXFORD COFFEE SHOPMeet me at the Oxford Coffee Shop for the Best Food in Town1502 OXFORD Safety Council, Room 178 Y-Teens, Room 112	26 It is indeed a desirable thing to be well descended, but the glory belongs to our ancestors.PlutarchGAA Volleyball Pep Session Basketball, North Side, here (To be played at North Side)	27 Munro's Standard ServiceFree Pick-Up and Delivery. Complete Motor Aid Service. Wheel Balancing.Southgate Plaza H-5300 Basketball, Goshen, there
28 Never lose an opportunity of seeing anything beautiful. Beauty is God's handwriting.Charles Kingsley	29 Schmidt's PharmacyEd Schmidt, R.Ph.Your Neighborhood Health Center4001 South Wayne Avenue H-0626 Philo, Room 112 Hi-Y Boys' Rifle Club, Range GAA Volleyball	30 Broadview Florist & Greenhouses5801 Winchester Road S-3146 Meterites, Room 112 Girls' Rifle Club, Range Electronics Section, Room 96 Astronomy, Room 96	31 Greiner'sH-2124 2802 S. CalhounLawn Boy MowersToro MowersEvinrude OutboardsGrunman Boats Art Club, Room 26 Red Cross Club, Room 112 Designers' Associated, Room 120 Physics, Room 94 Times Agents	Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them with your hands. Carl Schurz	DeRemer Florists 7111 S. Anthony H-3145

Start The New Year Right And
PATRONIZE THESE ADVERTISERS!

Lettermen To Give 'Twist' Dance, To Crown 'King Kelly' Tomorrow

Festivities To Follow
Knights Game; Girls
To Vote For Athlete

"Lettermen's Twist," the Lettermen Club's after-game dance, will be presented from 9:30 to 11:30 p.m. in the cafeteria tomorrow night immediately following the basketball game with Bishop Luers.

Tickets for the dance may be purchased from any Lettermen until 4 p.m. tomorrow evening for 50 cents per person. Tom McMahan is the chairman of the ticket sales committee.

A traditional part of the Lettermen's dance is the crowning of a senior letterman as King Kelly. As they enter the cafeteria, the girls will be given an opportunity to vote for the king.

DURING THE DANCE Evert Mol, Karl Schladerman, John Weaver, Bob Lohman, Tom Frazell, and Dick Johnson will count the votes and then announce the letterman king. This senior and his date will then lead off the next dance.

Decorations for the event will be centered around silhouettes of each member of the club. Dave Meek is serving as the chairman of the decorations committee which includes Henry Persons, Karl Bandemer, and Stu Schmitz.

Tom Shine is the chairman of the cloak room committee. He will be assisted by Sid Sherry, Sam Carter, and Dale Hilsmer.

Heading the refreshments committee is Ken Leakey. Working with him will be Steve Cook, Bill Rastetter, Bob Camp, Eddie Johnson, and Jim Lantz.

LARRY LEE AND Jon vanOosten are in charge of publicity for the event. Don Sievert is sending invitations to the invited guests, who will include Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Davis, and Miss Pauline Van Gorder.

Charlie Parker and Jerry Scherrer are co-chairmen of the clean-up committee. Members of this group are Dave Meyer, Steve Meyer, Nate Norment, Mart Platupe, Dave Platz, Al Purdy, Mike Beltz, and Richard Koch.

Officers of the Lettermen's Club are Mark Hagerman, president; Ken Leakey, vice-president; Don Sievert, secretary-treasurer; and Dave Meek, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Richard Ober, chemistry and biology instructor, is the club sponsor.

North Side Conquers Junior Team, Wins Crown On 'Hi-Quiz'

North Side participants defeated South Side's juniors on I & M's "Hi-Quiz" program, 415-185, on Sunday at 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV. Sunday was the last day of the Junior round, and North Side won every game of the round.

South Side's participants were Karl Krause, Sharyan Yerger, Rosemary Capps, and Jack Seigel. Participating for North Side were Dave Greene, Gerry Nissenbaum, Jeff Michell, and Steve Doan.

The first question of the first quarter was missed by both teams. Dave Greene answered the following question, and North Side received 25 points on the premium question about foreign cars. Jack Seigel answered the next question and received 20 points on the premium.

GERRY NISSENBAUM received 35 points on answering the challenge premium questions. The next question concerned the prime minister of Australia and was answered by Gerry. He received a total of 40 points on that question. The first quarter ended 110 to 30, in North Side's favor.

Dave Greene of North Side answered the first question of the second quarter and received 25 points. Gerry answered the following question on barometers, and North Side received 30 more points. Jack Seigel received 30 points on the next question. Gerry and Steve Doan made 30 points on the next two questions. The second quarter ended with North Side still leading, 225 to 60.

Sharyan Yerger missed the first question of the second half; but Gerry Nissenbaum answered it correctly, scoring 40 points. Dave Greene made 40 points on the second question. Jack Seigel scored 30 points on a question about presidents.

THEN KARL KRAUSE made 20 points. The next question on explorers was answered by Jeff Michell who scored 30 points. The third quarter ended with South Side still trailing, 105 to 335.

A question on naval battles was correctly answered for 40 points by Steve Doan. The next question on states' nicknames was answered by Jack Seigel, who also answered the following question for 60 points. Gerry Nissenbaum answered the last question on numerals for 40 points. The game ended 415 to 185 in North Side's favor.

Pupils To Obtain Grades

The final grading period will end tomorrow, and grades will be issued in shortened periods on Wednesday. After the second homeroom period, school will be dismissed until January 22 when students will return to school for ten-minute classes.

A MOCK HERO??? ... Practicing for the real crowning of King Kelly at the Lettermen's after-game dance tomorrow in the cafeteria, Mark Hagerman, left, attempts to reach up to one of the tallest Lettermen, Don Sievert, as Senior Jerry Scherrer watches. —Photo by Seaman

Three Junior Achievers Attend J.A. Management Conference

Sylvia Hileman, Mike Levy, and Dennis Cook attended the Junior Achievement Management Conference December 26-29 at St. Louis, Mo.

The regional conference, called Jamco, attracted 800 achievers from Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, Kansas, and Missouri.

The achievers were chosen by the advisers of their companies on the basis of whom they felt was most deserving and had worked the hardest.

The Achivers left Fort Wayne early on the morning of December 26. When they arrived at St. Louis, they went to the Chase Park Plaza Hotel where they stayed during the convention.

FROM 12 TO 6 p.m. there was registration in the lobby. From 6:30 to 8 p.m. the Achivers attended the Chuck Wagon Dinner. Dick Clayton of WIL radio was disk jockey for a "get acquainted" party that evening.

The next morning the invocation was given. C. F. Beale, Hermann S. Spoehrer, and Aloys P. Kausmann were the speakers.

At the general assembly on sales, William J. Herald spoke on "Selling as a Career"; Elliot Reed, "Approach"; and Haslett McCollough, "Sales Presentation." Other speakers included Don Epstein, "Overcoming Objections," and Dan R. Jostedt, "Motivation."

The achievers were assigned to discussion groups on sales. Later awards were given.

AFTER LUNCH THERE was a four-hour general assembly on labor management relations. Two attorneys, Charles Spoehrer and Robert Griffiths, were the speakers.

Following the general assembly was a select session period. After dinner there was a dance, "Riverboat Days."

After breakfast on Thursday a general assembly on stocks began. A. V. L. Brokaw and Charles C. Simmons were the speakers. Then there were more discussion groups on stocks.

After the discussion groups adjourned, the Junior Achievers boarded buses and visited various companies in St. Louis. After dinner there was the farewell dance where Mr. and Miss Executive were announced.

ON FRIDAY AFTER breakfast, officer workshops were attended and awards were announced ending the convention.

The group arrived back in Fort Wayne early Saturday morning.

The conferences meet yearly. Next year the parley will be in Chicago.

The Junior Achievers will report back to their companies on the program and ideas obtained.

Hi-Y Members To Elect Queen For Annual Dance January 20

'HERE HE COMES' ... Expecting to win the Hi-Y Sweetheart title by a landslide is Bill Kleifgen, third from the left. Hating to disappoint Bill by telling him he is not eligible for the title are, left to right, John McMillen, Bill Borgmann, and Ken Lowden, who is measuring Bill's head for his crown size.—Photo by Jones

The Hi-Y Queen of Hearts Dance will be January 20 after the basketball game with Elmhurst in the cafeteria until 11:30 p.m. The chairman of this year's dance is John McMillen, senior. John will also be head of the queen awards and decorating committees.

Tickets go on sale Monday for 50 cents each. They may be purchased from any Hi-Y member or from Mr. Robert Weber, adviser, in Room 76.

Assisting John will be Frank Lewis, refreshments and chaperones; Ken Lowden, publicity and music; Bill Borgmann, cloakroom and programs; and Bill Kleifgen, tickets.

THE BOYS AT the dance will elect the queen of hearts. The Hi-Y Club selected 15 girls to serve as queen candidates. The girls selected are Judy Merrill, Sandy Miller, Susi Phillips, Susi Hines, Sue Kelley, Mary Keegan, Diane Fredrick, Sue Horth, Jane Ladig, Sarah Finch, Sue Perry, Sharon Carrel, Tamara Vyhovskiy, Judy Evans, and Sally Bash.

Ken Davis will act as the master of ceremonies during the crowning and will spin the records throughout the rest of the evening. The queen and her four members of the court will be crowned by Tom McMahan, Hi-Y president. Tom will then present her with the traditional president's kiss. After the ceremony, the queen will be available for autographs at the front of the stage.

NO ONE WILL be permitted to leave the dance before 11:15 p.m. the night of the dance without first securing permission from Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls.

The decorations will consist of a large stuffed heart and other cardboard hearts. Soldiers, cupids, and queen cards will make up the rest of the decorations. The decorations will be centered around a queen's throne room.

The contest is being sponsored along with the dance. A free ticket to the dance will be given to the person correctly identifying the poster in center hall. The picture will be of some object or event pertaining to the school.

The pictures will be posted Monday through Friday of next week. A new picture will be posted each day. The people trying to identify the picture should see Mr. Weber anytime during the day.

Invited guests include Mr. and Mrs. R. Nelson Snider, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Mr. and Mrs. David Fell, Mr. and Mrs. James Rohrabach, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sage, and the parents of the Hi-Y officers.

Bill Borgmann To Participate At Rotary Club

William Borgmann, senior B, will attend the meetings of the Fort Wayne Rotary Club as Junior Rotarian on Mondays during January. Along with other school representatives, he is a luncheon guest of the club and will listen to the speakers.

The purpose of the club is to acquaint students with its principles and to encourage them to join when they become businessmen. Two men from each classification of business make up the regular club membership.

Because the club is international in scope, the students gain knowledge of many international affairs. The club was organized to promote better business relationships.

On learning of his selection, Bill said "I am very happy at being appointed by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, to serve as Junior Rotarian from South Side."

Bill is an active member of both Hi-Y Club and Chemistry Club. He is also the assistant sports editor on the Totem staff. His favorite hobby is sports of all kinds. He attends Trinity English Lutheran Church.

Through participation in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Bill earned a semi-finalist ranking. He is on the college course and plans to attend college to train for a career in dentistry.

Bill Borgmann

Local Philharmonic To Feature Works Of Great Musicians

"Long-Hair Music for Crewcuts" will be the theme for the second Philharmonic Teenage Concert to be performed January 21 at 2:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Concordia Senior College.

Teenagers from all of the junior and senior high schools in the city and county will have the opportunity to hear the world's best-loved masterworks, which will demonstrate the development of the symphony as a musical form from its beginning to its present orchestral scheme.

The program of "Long-Hair Music for Crewcuts" has been specifically designed by Philharmonic director Igor Buketoff in order to introduce the teenagers of Fort Wayne to such compositions as the Pastoral Symphony from Handel's "Messiah," Bach's "Symphony No. 4," the opening movement from "Symphony No. 1" by Beethoven, and the "Finale" from the Italian Symphony by Mendelssohn.

As a result of the reception by the teenagers to the "Music for Prepared Piano" by Mayuzumi at the first concert earlier this season, "New Horizons in Music" will this time feature a surprise composition for electronic instruments, showing the music of the future during the space age.

"Fun and Coke Time" will follow the concert. At this time the audience will have a chance to get acquainted with Mr. Buketoff and the musicians.

The tickets, which cost $1, may be purchased from Archers Logan Smith and Kitty Fay, the Philharmonic Office, or at the door the day of the concert.

Orators To Compete At Ball State Contest

Attending the speech meet at Ball State Teachers College on January 20 will be 32 South Side students. Participating will be Shari Busch, Charlotte Powell, Martha Dixon, Ann Brase, Pam Buzzard, and Jackie Kuhns in the humorous division;

Diane Fredrick, Joyce Cossairt, Marlene Lanning, Logan Smith, Karen Ponader, and Peggy Brase in dramatic.

Original oratory will include Phil Spray, Margee Terry, Marcia Disler, Tom Erb, Rosemary Capps, and Doris Atzoff; while in extemporaneous speaking, Susan Horth, Diane Hall, Sally Franklin, Kathy DeVore, and Lex Smuts will represent South.

Radio contestants will be Debby Decker and Bob Wasson. Barb Nelson, Lissa Hoffman, Ann McCallister, Vicki Miller, Patate Dorton, and Christine Fruchtenicht will compete in the poetry division.

Contestants will meet at 6:30 a.m. at the Calhoun Street entrance of the school. Two dollars to cover expenses should be paid by the entrants to Mr. Robert Storey, speech teacher, immediately.

Lyall Morrill, Daniel McCroskey Win English Achievement Awards

Lyall Morrill

Dan McCroskey

Four Sophomores To Compete On 'Hi-Quiz' Show January 21

Sophomores chosen by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, to appear on I & M's "Hi-Quiz" show on WANE-TV January 21 at 5:30 p.m. are Judy Ruhl, Christine Fruchtenicht, Stan Black, and Stanley Moreo. Billie Burgo and Bruce Baldwin have been selected as alternates.

The senior and junior teams of all Fort Wayne high schools have completed their rounds on the program, and the sophomore round will begin next Sunday with a contest between Central High School and Elmhurst High School.

"The sophomore class has so many fine students that it was hard to pick the contestants," stated Mr. Weicker. The participants were chosen for their scholarship, faculty recommendation, outside activities, poise, and personality.

Judy Ruhl commented she was honored to be chosen to appear on the show. She is planning to study more about the history of Indiana and Fort Wayne in preparation for the show.

BEING AN ADVANCED chorus member, the treasurer of Meterites, a typist for the Times, and a service worker in the library, Judy is taking English 3, Geometry 1, Latin 3, and General History 1.

The second member of the team is Christine Fruchtenicht. She stated, "I had heard about the sophomore round of 'Hi-Quiz,' and I was very pleased when I was chosen to appear on it." Christine has been studying more about current events and history in anticipation of her January 21 appearance.

Christine is the incoming vice-president of the Meterite Club. Her other outside activities are Assemblies Workshop, Wranglers, writing for the Times, and being a Totem agent. She is taking General History 1, Latin 3, Geometry 1, and English 3.

The third member of the team is Stan Black. Stan stated, "I was happy to be selected, but I feel that there are other students who deserved the honor more than I did." He is planning to read more current event magazines in preparation for the program.

STAN IS PRESENTLY taking Special Math 3, Latin 3, General History 1, Special English 3, and developmental reading.

The fourth member of the team is Stanley Moreo. His extra-curricular activities include being a member of Assemblies Workshop, Latin Club, Junior Academy of Science, and being president of Biology Experimenters. He also does service work for Mr. Nicholas Pipino, biology instructor, and Mr. Richard Ober, chemistry and biology teacher.

"I'm very grateful for being chosen and will do my best to represent the sophomore class," said Stanley. He is reading current events magazines and any other general information in preparation for the program. Stan's subjects include English 3, Geometry 1, General History 1, and Latin 3.

The alternates on the team will participate only if one of the regular members is not able to serve.

One of the two, Billie Burgo said, "I'm delighted to have been named as an alternate, and I think it is wonderful to have such a program." She is presently reviewing current events.

SHE IS A MEMBER of the Red Cross Club and Assemblies Workshop, and is taking Geometry 1, Latin 3, General History 1, and English 3.

Bruce Baldwin was also chosen as an alternate. Bruce, a member of band and orchestra, is taking Special Math 3, Special Latin 3, Special English 3, and General History 1.

Bruce stated, "It was quite an honor to be chosen to appear on the show, but I feel that there are other students who would do a better job." He is reading newspapers and magazines in preparation for the show.

Meterites Award Honor Ribbons At Annual Recognition Day Tea

TEA TOTALERS ... Planning Meterite Club's annual recognition tea are, seated left to right, Barb Nelson, club president; Nancy Ormsby, refreshment chairman; standing, Barb Bussard, chairman of the tea; Sally Adams, club vice-president; and Sharon McEachern, club secretary.—Photo by Jones

The annual Meterite Recognition Tea will be on Tuesday, at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. Barb Bussard is the chairman for the tea.

A business meeting will be followed by a talk given by Ruth Russ and Virginia Barnes concerning their trip to Europe last summer. Nancy Ormsby will give a review of the past meetings.

REBIBBONS MADE BY Barb Nelson, president, will be given to girls to be recognized. Those to be recognized for placing in the poetry contest are Sue Klaehn, first; Alice Fruchtenicht, second; and Judy Putman, third. To be recognized for placing in the spelling bee are Suellen Borgmann, first; Janet Kelley, second; and Karen Ashe, third. Karen was last year's winner.

Receiving ribbons for the highest number of points are sophomores Sue Klaehn, first; Sally Adams, second; and Barb Nelson, third. High-point freshman are Alice Fruchtenicht, first; Sally Henderson, second; and Susan Jorgenson, third. Mrs. Patrick Russ will be honored for being a past president of the club, Miss Pauline Van Gorder, Dean of Girls, and Miss Susan Peck, the past sponsor, will be special guests.

NEXT SEMESTER'S officers will be installed. The newly elected officers are Sue Klaehn, president; Christine Fruchtenicht, vice-president; Cheryl Lee, secretary; Mary Beaudway, program chairman; Lynelle Dill, point recorder; Alice Fruchtenicht, talent chairman.

Chairmen of the music are Sue Klaehn and Karen Frank. Girls from the choir will sing, and Judy Ruhl and Fran Krandel will play the piano.

Nancy Ormsby and Jenny Hammerstein are chairmen of refreshments. Serving on their committee are Sally Adams, Barb Nelson, and Roberta Hoffer. The newly-elected officers will serve. The committee will also decorate the table. A bouquet of flowers will be the main attraction.

The invitation committee, headed by Cheryl Lee, consists of Mary Beaudway, Julie Rhinehart, Joyce Spindler, B. D. Hartley, Nancy Redding, Barb Ross, and Virginia Erwin.

Students Write Autobiography, 'Truth' Theme

State Places 11 Pupils Among 870 In Nation; Winners Earn Scrolls

Lyall Morrill and Daniel McCroskey, seniors, have been selected by the National Council of Teachers of English as national winners of its annual Achievement Awards competition. They are two of 870 English pupils in the country to have been honored.

Lyall and Dan are among 11 winners from the state of Indiana in the 1961 competition. South Side is the only school in the state to have two winners.

Last spring a committee of English teachers, consisting of Mr. Marvey Knigge, chairman, Miss Mary Graham, and Mr. Ronald Gersmehl, selected them to represent South Side in the competition.

TO COMPETE for the honors, all applicants were required to write an autobiography including the major events of their lives as well as the reading they had done. Also, they took an objective test and wrote a composition on "Truth of the Human Heart," making allusions to books they had read.

The school was permitted to enter four students in the contest and the work of almost five thousand eight hundred nominees was submitted from the entire country.

One of the chief purposes of the award is to insure an adequate education for gifted students. Mr. James R. Squire, executive secretary of the National Council of Teachers of English, stated that the Council recommends all winners for college scholarships in 1962. In previous years 90 per cent of the winners entered the college of their choice; approximately eighty per cent of those applying for scholarships received financial aid.

THE NCTE SENDS to all winners and runners-up scrolls of recognition "for superior quality of achievement in high school English."

The words on the certificate read: "This scroll certifies that the writing performance and literary awareness of this student were compared with those of other able students nominated in the same state during the year and were adjudged as among those of superior quality."

Besides the certificate presented to the student himself, other notices of the awards are made. The high school department is given certificates of merit, and congressmen and governors receive the names of winners in their respective states.

BOTH DAN AND Lyall are members of Mrs. Evelyn Spray's special English class, of which they have been members during the past three years.

Mrs. Spray stated, "I was very happy and pleased for Lyall and Dan, and I believe that they certainly deserve this singular honor."

The National Council of Teachers of English, which recently had its fifty-first annual convention in Philadelphia, has about seventy thousand members and subscribers among English teachers from elementary grades through college and is the largest organization of teachers by subject in the United States.

Philo Girls To Enter Writing Competition, Choose New Officers

A humorous writing contest and election of officers will highlight the Monday meeting of Philo at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room, according to an announcement by Lissa Hoffman, president.

Original humorous writing, submitted by members, will be judged by a committee consisting of Miss Lucy Osborne, Miss Mary Graham, and Mr. Jack Morey, English instructors.

Members may enter the contest by bringing to the meeting original short stories, essays, poems, or anything else of a humorous nature. The pieces will be judged on style, originality, and content, with particular attention being paid to the quality of humor. The first-place winner will be awarded 50 points; second place, 25; and third place, 15.

Erin Rose and Kaylene Gebert are running for the office of vice-president. Sue Burdick and Julie Breidenstein are the nominees for secretary, and Judy Onley and Ann Gallmeyer compose the slate for sergeant-at-arms. Pat Bailey and Martha Dixon are the nominees for program chairman.

Martha Dixon will present a humorous declaration entitled "The Waltz."

The present officers are Lissa Hoffman, president; Kaylene Gebert, vice-president; Cheryl Summers, secretary; Ann Golden, treasurer; Bonnie Smith, sergeant-at-arms; and Erin Rose, program chairman. Mrs. Evelyn Spray, English instructor, is the sponsor.

According to the constitution of the club, the president and the treasurer retain their offices for a year. The new officers will plan the club's program for the second semester and the annual banquet. Philo's theme for the year has been a study of American humorists.

Lending, Borrowing Have Complications, Obligations

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be." That certainly is a good rule but is also one that is hard to keep. Everyone has undoubtedly borrowed something, whether it was a dollar, a sweater, or a ride home from school. And since borrowing has become a common occurrence, there are certain arts to be learned about the "occupation." But what are the obligations of a borrower?

A borrower returns what has been lent to him as soon as possible. He makes an effort and doesn't wait until he runs into the lender to remember his duty.

If the article has become damaged, a repair job is his responsibility; and if it can't be fixed, the borrower must replace it.

Even though someone is accustomed to lending an object to a friend, it is not the friend's place to take it without asking permission.

A borrowed article should never, never be lent. This may seem unthinkable, but it happens. Occasionally, the original owner has a hard time tracing down his article.

Care of whatever is borrowed is important. Although the borrowed sweater may not be in need of cleaning after one wearing, the thoughtful borrower will see that it is cleaned before returning it.

It is quite easy to get in the habit of "borrowing" services from those who are always willing to offer them. To do something for them in return is the best repayment.

A credit-rating need not apply only to money. Certainly a friend would rather lend a possession to one who is careful, thoughtful, and prompt in returning the article than to one who is unappreciative, forgetful, and takes his time to return the object. One should not only remember the duties of a borrower but also fulfill them.—By Janet Dinius

Sincere Compliment, Smile Bring Friends, Happiness

Compliments play a great part in the everyday life of many people. If each person in the world would pay a sincere compliment to three people each day, this earth would be a greatly improved place in which to live.

The first step toward a compliment is not to look for the faults in a person, but to direct attention on his virtues. A sincere compliment cannot possibly be expressed if the person paying the compliment doesn't see any good qualities in a person.

A few words at the right time can convert a person from a gloomy mood to a cheery one. Even a word about an outfit or hairdo can make the world of difference to an unhappy person.

A sincere, simple compliment is better than a rush of flattering words. This type of flattery is empty. Many times even the person being complimented can tell whether or not sincerity is meant.

A smile at a new student can give this person a feeling of confidence. A friendly comment about his clothing or possessions can provoke a new friendship.

Very popular with his students is the teacher who can laugh and say something nice about his pupils instead of always criticizing them. Classes can be more enjoyable if there is a warm atmosphere created in a classroom between the teacher and student.

How about it? Have three compliments been paid today?—By Annell Hoover

Letters To The Editor

Dear Miss Manth,

It is with a great deal of pride that the boys in Hi-Y present the new Hi-Y directory. They have, this year especially, worked long and vigorously to produce a larger and very accurate directory. I want to say just a few things more about the boys and their directory to the readers of the Times.

This year's issue will be sold for 50 cents per copy, as before, despite the fact that increased publishing costs and the new added section on important dates has made that price too low to guarantee much of a profit to the club.

Because of the later date of release this year we feel that it would be fairer to hold to the old price rather than to increase it. The profit, however, is not the only motive for publishing. The boys and I both look upon the directory as a service to the students and staff of the school just as much as a profit maker for the club. (Incidentally, most of the profits are returned back into more school and community service projects with which the Hi-Y Club works.)

As things turned out this year, the closing fury of getting copy to the linotypers and of proof-reading galley came upon us during Christmas vacation. Lyall Morrill assumed the task of organizing this effort and has spent many, many hours doing the errands and coordinating the efforts of the boys who worked against the deadlines.

Not only did the directory committee work long and patiently with the plan, but nearly every member of the club responded when asked to appear either at my home or at the school for some needed evening work. (Imagine more than twenty of them giving up Lawman and Bus Stop on Sunday evening in order to do the final collating of 10,500 units of directory pages!)

Let me add one word of caution. We'd like all of you who buy our directory to avoid letting it get into the hands of those who would use it for business purposes.

Sincerely,
Mr. Robert Weber,
Hi-Y sponsor and
Botany instructor

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

Miss Cheri Kay Henry, '57, and Larry Franklin Barnes will be married January 21 in the First Christian Church, Fort Wayne. Miss Henry was graduated from the Lutheran Hospital School of X-Ray Technology, and she is now employed at Lima Memorial Hospital in Lima, O. Mr. Barnes attended John Bible College in Knoxville, Tennessee, and now is employed by the Ford Motor Company.

Judy Willey, '59, and James Frederic were married on Saturday, December 16 at Columbia City in the Zion Lutheran Church.

Miss Mary Lynn Meily, '61, is a freshman this year at Indiana University. She and her mother gave a Christmas tea during the holidays at their home.

Miss Janice Dennis and Donald Korte, '58, have selected January 27 as their wedding date. Mr. Korte graduated from South Side, attended Purdue University, and is employed by Johns-Manville. Miss Dennis was graduated from North Side High School and is employed as a secretary for Junior Achievement of Fort Wayne and Allen County, Inc.

A spring wedding is planned for Miss Judith Egts and Mr. James M. Cox, '58. Miss Egts was graduated from Central Catholic High School, and attended Purdue University Center and the St. Joseph Hospital School of X-Ray Technology. She is employed by the Indiana Bank and Trust Company. Her fiancé was graduated from South Side and Purdue University Pre-Medical School and is attending the National College of Chiropractic in Chicago. He is a member of Delta Tau Alpha honorary fraternity.

The engagement of Karen Forrester to Timothy Freeland, '59, has recently been announced. Miss Forrester was graduated from Central Catholic High School and is employed by Ballastan Division of Telex, Inc. Mr. Freeland attended South Side and is serving with the United States Navy, stationed at Quonset Point, Rhode Island. A June wedding is being planned.

MINOR STAFF
News Writers: David Flanigan, Ann Flieckner, Kaylene Gebert, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Julie Rhinhardt, Bonnie Strehlow, Mary Jane Reiff, Susan Lowery, Karen Walker, Joe McKee, Mary Brase, Larry Brown, Pat Conney, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Kathy Kila, Jane Knettle, Mary Jane Reiff, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Bonnie Smith, Patty Somers, Nancy Stewart, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Glazer Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance, Marcia Evisizer, Debby Decker, Karen Franko, Christine Pruchtenicht, Mary Graham, Karen Hardy, Sue Klinecman, Stephen Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Mary Jo McDonald, Larry Norman, Pat North, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lisa Weikart, Feature Writers: Mary Graham, Sue Klinecman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Soellen Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Palmer, Kay Wollman, Ann Mote, Barb Rose, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harosh, Barb Bussard, Cheryl Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Meyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lowery, Karen Walker, Marie Rinzenberg, Mary Barretta, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braven, Marjorie Johnson, Karen Franko, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinhardt, Sue Borgmann, Louraine Ford, Lisa Weikart, Sue Weisner, Karen Walker, Joe McKee, Barry McCombs, Marcia Anderson, Cheryl Hahn, Jean Ann McGinley, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Karst, Myra Rubinio, Charles Atzoff, Charlotte Dinius, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Mary Jo McDonald, Ginny Erwin, Jane Knettle, Ann Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bate, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Daughman, Bonnie Russell, Carol Ladig, Gail Brumm, Karen Snavely, Janis Sprunger, Kay Bradley, Alice Haberger, Editorial Writers: Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Pruchtenicht, Sally Adams, Mary Brase, Cheryl Lee, Betty Adams, Ellen Stanberry, Sue North, Sue Klineh, Carol Ladig, Larry Norman, Paul Misteletad, Stephen Lowens, Janet Dinius, Kay Bradley, Martha Harosh, Jane Knettle, Annell Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haberger, Lynelle Dill.

Copy Readers: Beth Burnett, Bill Wilder, Kaylene Gebert, David Flanigan, Karen Minkie, Christine Connaman, Ann Gallinger, Honore Martindale, Tonya Hines, Douglas Hansen, Sharyn Yerger, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinius, Karen Snavely, Margie Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore.

Ad Solicitors: Cynthia Snider, Barb Nelson, Alice Haberger, Marjorie Rinzenberg, Dan Schwartz, Mary Graham, Karen Walker, Julie Rhinhardt, Pat Bailey, Marna Reiber, Nancy Miles, Mary Bowman, Kathy Grady, Myra Rubinio, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Julie Neumstrawder, Phyllis Pearson, Karen Pinford, Nancy Sprunger, Kathleen Otis, Cindy Jackson, Donna Summers, Linda Seibel, Louraine Ford, Sue Gerig, Kay Felt, Brenda Dull, Harriet Ochelski, Cindy Adams, Sharon Kraker, Charlotte Powell, Jane Finnell, Janis Sprunger, Karen Franko, Ruth Ross, Lisa Weikart.

Typists: Jeannie Braven, Marsha Hoard, Rosalie Curtis, Patty Phelps, Cindy Korte, Judy Ruhl, Julia Weddington, Judy Godman, Diana Orms, Classroom News Editor: Debby Decker, Proofreader: Rosemary Capps, Mailing Manager: Jean Hatfield, Auditor: Kristyanna Kivonotow, City Editor: Steve Letts, Exchange Editor: Vicki Adams.

Beaux Bring Bubbles . . .

Service Work Assists Students, Teaches Responsibility, Respect

It is quiet in the math room. An ardent Archer is silently struggling to decipher the scrawled pages of figures placed before him. In the art room a paint-smeared Kelly is sorting and labeling the bottled hues. Another Archer is carrying on a strange search in the biology room for two escaped frogs.

These are but a few of the numerous South Siders who pledge their aid in the form of service work to their school.

What is the reward for such devotion? Is it just a "thank you" from a teacher? Or a pin received on Recognition Day? Or perhaps honorable mention at the Service Club Banquet? No, the reward for the tireless efforts of the service worker is much more.

THE INITIAL BENEFIT of servicing is derived from its purpose, to help members of the faculty in need of student assistance. In performing service duties the Archer helps to fulfill his obligations to South Side. He is executing useful and necessary functions, adding lengths to his measure of spiritual growth. The service worker discovers that being of personal assistance is indeed worthy of contributing that assistance.

The service worker learns by doing. He is in intimate contact with the core of the subject which has employed his endeavors. He becomes acquainted with phases of the subject that are not included in textbooks and high-school courses.

Often the knowledge gained by doing service work repays the service by helping him in the classroom and by charging him with interest and ambition.

The service worker becomes a part of the backbone of South Side. He sees education from an entirely different angle than ever before. He develops a "behind the blackboard" view instead of a classroom conception of learning. He acquires a greater respect for education as he sees it at work and helps it to work. He realizes more deeply the importance of education to himself as well as to others.

THE PROFITS OF service work are reaped in new and better habits and standards. The service worker learns to shoulder responsibility as he carries out his tasks. He learns to make decisions as he is guided in that responsibility. He is shown the merits of honesty and hard work as

Senior Summary

Points Per
Prominent Persons

Tom Watson . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, ten inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, midnight blue . . . fad, buzzing Hall's . . . sport, hunting . . . subject, botany . . . pastime, loafing . . . activity, sailing . . . TV show, "Adventures in Paradise" . . . record, "Land of Milk and Honey" . . . singer, James Dean . . . actor, John Wayne . . . book, "House of Usher" . . . future plans, ranching . . . pet peeve, freshmen who stand by Kern's and smoke.

Sandy McCombs . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, hazel . . . height, five feet . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, hamburgers . . . color, pink . . . fad, kilts . . . sport, swimming . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Run to Him" . . . singer, Four Freshmen . . . subject, sociology . . . pastime, buzzing Hall's . . . activity, Library Club . . . actor, Vincent Edwards . . . book, "Scarlet Letter" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, people who make up excuses.

Marcia Disler . . . age, 18 . . . hair, light brown . . . eyes, blue . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . subject, government . . . sport, football . . . fad, skorts . . . pastime, reading . . . activity, Wranglers . . . TV show, "Thriller" . . . record, "The Lion Sleeps Tonight" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Rock Hudson . . . book, "Tale of Two Cities" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, gossipers.

'It's Been Tough . . .

John Kennedy Dominates News, Selected 'Man Of Year' In 1961

By Sandy Thorn

All that can be added to "Time" magazine's selection of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy as the Man of the Year for 1961 is a hearty "amen." However, some personal comments can be made showing agreement with the selection. After reading about the various candidates, I looked forward to the January 5 issue of "Time" to see if its editors would pick my choice. And when the mail came through, so did a smile; for JFK's portrait graced the cover.

In announcing its annual contest, won in 1959 by former President Dwight Eisenhower,

"Time" said, "The Man of the Year. He has been a general, a businessman, a Premier, a President, a Prime Minister. Some have been Man of the Year more than once."

And some years the Man has been a lady. But always he has been the person who, in the judgment of "Time's" editors, has shaped or dominated the news of that year. This year has been crucial and eventful—the year of The Wall, The Congo, megatons, men in space, a new administration for the U.S., new economic unity for Europe. What individual has most influenced the news of 1961?

Others to be considered, in my humble estimation, include Dag Hammarskjöld, although it proved to be a short year for the man dedicated to peace; Dr. Tom Dooley, who also lost his life while serving others; Walter Ulbricht, for his audacious attempt to also sovereign West Germany; and Navy Commander Alan B. Shepard Jr., the first American hero in space. All fashioned the news—but the 44-year-old President was never out of the running; He always managed a front-page story and usually a picture.

AND SPEAKING OF a woman being the Man of the Year, however ridiculous it may seem, Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy would rate at the top of that list. While the First Lady received the votes for the "Best Dressed Woman" for the second consecutive year, she also captured the hearts of others not so interested in her fashions. She charmed Britain's MacMillan, France's DeGaulle, Germany's Adenauer, and Premier Khrushchev. She spoke English to the English-speaking peoples, French to the French, and Spanish to the Spanish.

David Gregory, popular comedian, described Jack Kennedy as "the only President who moved into a smaller house." And that the thirty-fifth President of the United States did. He became the first President of the Roman Catholic faith, denouncing the "old wives' tale" that a Catholic would never get the top office in the United States. Kennedy really began the New Frontier.

To dramatize his "New Frontier" theme, campaigner John Kennedy often drew on a favorite anecdote about Benjamin Franklin. As his low delegates to the Constitutional Convention rose one by one to sign the new-born document, Franklin observed that for many days he had been unable to decide whether the rosy sun on the painting behind the president's chair was rising or setting.

To this, an added "amen." And until 1964—assuming that "whatever will be, will be"—John F. Kennedy is the Man of the Year, 1961, a just honor.

Sandy Thorn

"But now at length," said Franklin, "I have the happiness to know that it is a rising and not a setting sun."

THE MAN WITH the collegiate haircut started his reign in a big way, according to Kennedy tradition. It all started with Frank Sinatra's Hollywood-style gala at the National Armory, which conceivably put the Democratic Party out of the red and "into the pink." Then followed the Inauguration Day parade and the Inaugural Ball. He was in—he was following in the footsteps of his political hero, Franklin Delano Roosevelt.

Somehow it all started when Kennedy, with his now-famous Boston accent, said, "Ask not what your country can do for you, but rather what you can do for your country." And now a year later, the popular President who looks like "the boy next door" says, "This job is interesting, but the possibilities for trouble are unlimited. It represents a chance to exercise your judgment on matters of importance. It takes a lot of thought and effort. It's been a tough first year but then they're all going to be tough."

While the going may be tough, Kennedy has been little changed by the Presidency, at least to the ever-curious American eye. He has few more grey hairs and few more wrinkles. He maintains his Irish wit, his prankish casualness, as well as his zest, charm, patience, grace, and knowledge. But somehow he looks older and more mature. Naturally, Mr. Kennedy is others, gets a year older with the passing of a year; but somehow the age is totaled in experience for the young President, not the mere passing of time.

TO SAY THE LEAST, Kennedy has not lived "the life of Riley" and hasn't "slept in a bed of roses." He has suffered some setbacks; one in Cuba which might have ruined other Presidents. Discussing the Cuban setback, Richard Nixon said, "If I had been responsible for failing to make a critical decision on the Cuban business which would have brought victory, I would have been impeached." But Kennedy wasn't—and according to latest Gallup polls, whatever the significance, Kennedy is being approved by 78 per cent of the American public. And it just happens to be these same Americans who go to the polls and vote—and they will have another chance come 1964.

In concluding, "Time" magazine said, "In the years since Wilson, Americans and their Presidents have vanquished many threats from those who would abolish the 'consent of the governed.'" But the test that faces the youngest elected and the most vigorous President of the twentieth century—and all those who live under his leadership—is far greater: to meet and battle, in a time of great national peril, the marauding forces of Communism on every front in every part of the world. In his first year as President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy showed qualities that have made him a promising leader in that battle. Those same qualities, if developed further, may yet make him a great President."

To this, an added "amen." And until 1964—assuming that "whatever will be, will be"—John F. Kennedy is the Man of the Year, 1961, a just honor.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

Dear Aunt Hortense,

Thank you so much for the sterling silver ravioli-maker you sent for Christmas. It will come in very handy when I make ravioli. Ravioli is my favorite dish, so a ravioli-maker will certainly be an aid in making ravioli. Thanks again for the darling ravioli-maker; it will come in handy when I make my favorite dish, ravioli.

Your niece,
Chloe

Sound familiar?

Let's twist again (oh, no!) at the "Lettermen's Twist" after-game dance tomorrow. For all of you who do not wish to wear out your clothes from the inside out, Elaine Edwards and Janet Davies will be happy to teach you the "Continental."

Isn't it great to have that old nose back to the grindstone? But never fear, only four and a half days until the end of the semester—and graduation is near (only 97 more days).

Confucius says: people who live in glass houses better dress in basement. Congratulations to Brenda Dull, who won the honor of being DeMolay Sweetheart!

Time now for a character analysis session. Do you doodle? Research shows that a person's doodles can reveal his true character. Today we shall review three types of doodlers in hopes that we can unveil your character:

Type 1: The Neat Bricklayer—patterns are usually geometric, lines carefully parallel. This shows a planner, an organizer; one who is meticulous about detail. Sue Horth?

Type 2: The Scumgle—as a rule, squiggles flow gently and light lines are used. Your nature is easy-going, optimistic, and lighthearted. Your interests are varied, and you are able to share them readily with your associates. Stan Alfied?

Type 3: The Flower Fancier—this doodle is often repeated over and over—its creator unconsciously loves repetition. This shows that you are gentle, kind, artistic—possibly too generous, sometimes for your own good. Linda McMurtry?

Sue Phillips: Why do bees hum?

Marie Schilling: Because they don't know the words.

Freshmen, sophomores, and juniors! Have you noticed that every single name in this column is that of a member of the noble senior class? Although we could have mentioned hilarious tidbits such as seeing Martha Dinius carrying some live fish around in a paper bag, we decided to devote the whole column to seniors for two reasons.

First, they are such a great class; and secondly, they are the only people who squeal on each other. Since we are not naturally gossipers, we need informants; and if you wish to see your name or your friends' name appear in this column, by all means tell us.

Thought for the day: Don't forget to sing "Happy Birthday" to Ben Franklin next Wednesday morning as soon as you get up. He'll be 256 years old!

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. Do you know how the word juggernaut came to mean a force that can not be stopped?

Answer. Juggernaut, meaning "lord of the world," is a title of the Hindu god, Vishnu. At annual festivals meeting at the site of his temple in India, an idol representing him is placed on a large wooden cart and dragged by thousands of pilgrims from the main temple to another temple outside the city. Stories about pilgrims being crushed to death beneath the wheels of the juggernaut's carts led to the use of the word juggernaut to mean an invincible, crushing force.

Question. Have you noticed that a great many laundries have the word "Troy" in their names? Do you know why?

Answer. The city of Troy, New York, was the birthplace of the collar, cuff, and shirt industry. For many years Troy also was the center of the steam laundry interests of the nation; thus, the name has been used by hundreds of laundries in various parts of the United States.

Question. Have you ever noticed that some of your dishes have developed hundreds of tiny cracks? Do you know what caused it?

Answer. This condition is called crazing. It takes place in semi-porcelain, because the body of this ware is softer than the glaze. The glaze contracts and causes the surface to break into a network of fine cracks.

Question. We often see the emblems of the medical profession in our daily life, but have you ever stopped to think about its origin?

Answer. To the ancient Greeks, the snake represented healing and wisdom. The staff of the god Aesculapius is entwined with a single snake. According to legend, a snake once twined itself around the knotty staff which that Greek physician always carried. Another medical symbol is the caduceus, a slender stick entwined with two snakes and crowned with a pair of wings. It represents the wand given to Hermes as the messenger of the gods. It symbolizes peace and pacifism. According to mythology, Hermes once came upon two quarrelling snakes. Seeking to bring peace between them, Hermes thrust his magic wand between them; and they immediately twined themselves about his wand.

Question. The world's all-time best seller, "The Bible," has appeared in many versions and translations. Do you know what the "Printers Bible" was?

Answer. The "Printers Bible" was an edition issued prior to 1702. In this Bible, the word printers was by mistake substituted for the word princes in the 161st verse of Psalm 119, making it read: "Printers have persecuted me without a cause."

Team To Encounter City Foes, Madison Heights

Knights Sport Balanced Squad; Cletus Edmonds Leads Tigers

Attempting to bring their won-lost percentage to .333, the Archers will meet the Bishop Luers Knights tomorrow in South's gym at 8 p.m. The Knights bring a good 6-3 record to Archerland and hope to improve their second year of varsity to round out a well-balanced squad.

A leader for Luers in rebounding as well as in scoring, 6-2 Senior Tom Alt has been consistently in double figures this year. As one of the tallest men on the squad, Alt works the boards, but also lays claim to a deadly outside shot which often takes its toll on the opposition.

Another starter for the Knights is football standout Mike Burns. Though lacking height, 5-9 Burns is well-built and has a good shooting eye. He is also a very aggressive defensive ball hawk and leads the Red and Black on the floor.

ALSO STARTING for Luers are Dan Broderick and Jim Snyder. Both these boys stand 6-0 and are well-proportioned. Making up for their lack of size on the boards, both jump well but are rather erratic scorers.

Rounding out the squad before last week's Monmouth game was Steve Swanson. However, Swanson, 6-1, 165-pound senior, broke his arm in that contest and will be sidelined for several weeks if not the rest of the season. This is a serious blow to the Knights' chances as Swanson often led the Luers scoring punch as well as helping out on the backboards.

FILLING IN FOR him will be capable Junior Jim Still. At 6-1 Still has been scoring quite well this year and will represent a menace not to be taken lightly.

Bishop Luers uses a regular pass or pivot-man offense. They play both a man-to-man and zone defense, often switching back and forth during the games. As a team they are good shooters, averaging 38 per cent of their free throws and 64 per cent of their charity tosses for this season.

Last week they hit a sensational 82 per cent from the foul line which could forbode evil for the sometimes free-fouling Archers. Though tough, South should lance the Knights with the kind of heads-up ball seen in the first half of the North Side contest.

Central Has 6-4 Record
The Archers will be flung to the Tigers in the Coliseum Wednesday to do battle at 8 p.m. with their mortal enemy, Central, which is host of the game. Coach Herb Banet's Bengals are currently totting a 6-4 record, having won their last five games in succession, while Coach Don Reichert's Bowmen are laboring under the heavy load of a 3-8 slate, including an 0-3 count in city competition.

Central's losses, all early in the season, have been to Anderson, Crispus Attucks, South Bend St. Joseph, and Fort Wayne Central Catholic. The out-of-town teams are particularly strong, Attucks and Anderson having placed high in the voting for the top teams in the state. C.C., with a 9-2 record, leads all city teams in overall play, and in the City Series with a 4-0 slate.

Besides whipping New Haven early in the year, the Tigers have dumped their last five opponents by the wayside. They defeated, in order, North Side, a very tough Marion team, Concordia, Elmhurst, and Foru.

THE TIGERS ARE led by big men Rodney Haywood and Cletus Edmonds, who have excelled both on offense and defense and can probably be termed the reasons for Central's snap out of the doldrums. Last week end, as a typical example of their offensive touch, Edmonds, a 6-3 junior forward, collected 32 points in two contests and Haywood, a 6-4 senior center, picked up 30. The 16 and 15-point averages are representative of these boys' play throughout the season.

Besides being the leading scorers on the team, Haywood and Edmonds combine to form a powerful rebounding corps capable of battling off the boards with much taller teams. In the Attucks game the squads just about broke even on rebounds, even though the Indianapolis crew had fellows of 6-7 and 6-8 height opposing the high-flying Tigers.

At the other forward position is Sophomore Preston Underwood. Although he is not averaging many points a game, he has become valuable by virtue of his all-round skill. He handles the ball well, passes crisply, jumps exceedingly well, and is an excellent defensive player.

PLAYING AT GUARD are Junior Archie Smith and Senior Larry Kuhn. Neither are prolific scorers, yet each is an exceptional shot. Smith averages about nine points per contest, and Kuhn hits somewhat less often. They are good playmakers and fine ball-handlers. If the Tigers get in a tight spot, they are excellent defenders in an all-court press by virtue of their speed and agility. They don't foul often and don't commit many mistakes in bringing the ball into the front court.

Coach Banet has been grooming an excellent crop of Cubs this year, playing all 12 men on the squad as often as he can. He is trying to prevent the misfortune that befell the Bengals last year at tournament time when, despite a 17-3 record, they couldn't beat the Archers because of a sagging bench.

This year he has the Banks' brothers, Nate and Herb, Jim Martin, Jim Cress, Bob Bean, Sam Kelsey, and George Underwood to throw into the fray whenever he wishes.

NATE BANKS HAS the highest point total of the substitutes. The reserve center scored nine points against Elmhurst and six against Peru in the short time that he was in the games. His brother, Herb, plays guard, as do Martin and Bean. All are capable, steady players who right now lack only the extra measure of scoring touch to make a name for themselves.

Sam Kelsey, at 6-1, is another reserve center and is the tallest member of the second seven. Cress and Underwood play at the forward posts. They are good rebounders and adequate on defense, though they do not possess much scoring punch.

Coach Banet's boys seem to be coming on strong now. The reserves are tried and proven, and the first string is powerful. It'll be a hard fight for the Archers to stay in the same game with them.

DEFENSIVE DRIBBLERS . . . Dale Hilsmier, on the left, practices his bounce pass to teammate Jerry Klaehn, center, while Ken Leakey, on the right, rehearses the defensive measure for such a play. These boys will aid the team in its contest with Bishop Luers tomorrow night.—Photo by Seaman

Stu's Sideline Hots

By Stu Schmits

Although South Side's Archers bowed out of the 1961-62 city title race last week, they served notice to the other city squads that they will be no pushover when the Sectional Tournament rolls around next month. Despite the fact that the Archers own the poorest season tally in the city, they seem to have started the wheels in motion and have displayed what might be considered their best playing performance of the year.

Both North and South played far from what was expected, but perhaps the biggest surprise was South's fine comeback with 20 seconds of playing time remaining in the game Friday evening. Just as the majority of the spectators were putting on their coats to leave the gym, with the idea that North was victorious for the third straight meeting, substitute Jon vanOosten hit a jump shot.

Bob Lohman followed with a great interception, although he failed to hit on two foul conversions after being stopped on his lay-up. North got the ball back, and South didn't get another chance to tie or go in front. However, the rally showed good aggressiveness on the Archers' part and a never-say-die spirit which will undoubtedly pay off later in the year.

From all indications, it looks as if Coach Reichert has finally found a combination that really works well together; and by Sectional time, they should be a well-experienced quintet, and fairly tough. Last week's lineup included the usual three starters, Leakey, Hilsmier, and Probst, along with Lohman and Platupe, who have seen limited action as varsity starters this season.

Lohman in his first starting role played an exceptionally good game and should prove to be an important asset to the Archers during the remainder of the season.

Defense was really a strong point for the Archers in the North game as contrasted to the Archers' ragged ball handling. In the first quarter, the South defensive zone was nearly perfect as they stymied North's hot shooters, who didn't get much of a chance to unload until the second period. The Archers tired in the third period, however; and their defense slackened.

South's ball handling spoke for itself as the Archers made 19 miscues, a figure that the Archers will really have to shrink by Sectional time. Shooting improved somewhat from the field, but the Archers really shot a poor clip from the charity stripe. If South would have cashed in on more than nine of its 20 attempts, the game might have gone its way.

In the city scoring race Concordia's fabulous sophomore, Tom Baack, leads the pack again this week, with a total of 201 points in 13 games for a game average of slightly less than 15.5 which is just shy of bettering Steve Esterline's 15.5 plus average for 11 games.

My predictions for games this week are as follows:

South vs. Luers—The Knights have been doing fairly well this season but have had a rather easy schedule. Both teams will be up for this one, but South will have an easy time of it.

C.C. vs. North—The whole city focuses on this big game. The Irish, at 4-0, could really close in on the City Series title, but the Redskins at 2-1 are really hot and should take their fifth victory in a row.

Concordia vs. Manchester—The Cadets will really get a test tomorrow evening, but a well-balanced scoring attack should spell a victory for the Cadets.

C.C. vs. South Bend Washington—Although South Bend teams are tough, the Irish should come out victorious.

Luers vs. Riverdale—I haven't any idea of the Knights' Saturday night foes; but if this team is like most of the others on Luers' schedule, a victory should be in the making for Luers.

Central vs. Elwood—The Panthers are to be reckoned with, but those Tigers are starting to mold into a real rugged team and should finish the evening with victory number seven.

GAA Squads Begin Volleyball Tourney

In GAA volleyball December 11, the Seniors lost to the Juniors 28-9; Team 4 defeated Team 3, 26-21; and Team 2 won, with a score of 19-13 from Team 1.

Team 1 was victorious over the Juniors 24-18, while Team 3 lost to Team 2 with a score of 28-9. Team 4 defeated the Seniors 14-8 in the second round.

Members making points in the games are Team 1, Jean Ferris, Toni Heathman, Jean Hoelle, Roberta Hoffmann, Margie Hubbard, Sharon Karst, Linda Lowery, Janice Robson, and Linda Welch; Team 2, Nancy Beard, Joleen Crumrine, Janice Degitz, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, and Sandy Lindeman;

Team 3, Susan Eversman, Charlene Kissinger, Darlene Kissinger, Cindy Koch, Eugenia Longardner, and Cheryl Spangle; Team 4, Cheri Davis, Beth Randall, Barbara Shadle, Kay Symonds, Carol Uhrick, Mary Ann Waldrop, and Nan Wallace; Juniors, Pat Abbott, Elaine Edwards;

Marsha Good, Dottie Kessler, Loretta Kimmel, Judy Koop, Mary Markker, Karen Plote, and Toni Sorensen; Seniors, Nancy Byers, Virginia Kachiamenis, Linda Moody, and Jan Nahrwald. Shirley Listenberger, Virginia Rose, and Sherry Powell kept the score.

Phillip Shields Sparks Pirates; Miller, Schmutz Pace Trojans

South Side's basketball fortunes should take a turn for the better when the Archers play the Madison Heights Pirates in a game at the South Side gym on January 19 at 8 p.m. The visitors, sporting a 1-10 record, will probably provide one of the few breathers in the Archers' schedule.

The Pirates' only victory so far has been a 71-70 overtime victory against Highland. However, they have lost to several well-regarded teams including Muncie Central and Lebanon, who are ranked in the top twenty teams in the state; Noblesville; once-defeated Markleville and Franklin; and Anderson, Alexandria, and New Castle.

OPPOSING EACH other at the center positions will be Phillip Shields of the Pirates and Dale Hilsmier of the Archers. Shields is a 6-3 senior who has been the team's leading scorer with an 18-point average and the leading rebounder. Hilsmier has also been the leading rebounder for the Archers; and, although his scoring has not yet matched Shields', he is capable of much more. Their even heights should provide the top individual battle of the evening.

The Pirates' guards combine with their able center to form the nucleus of the team. Sophomore Roger Denny, at 5-10, is the second leading scorer on the team. Senior Mike Mundy, the playmaker of the team, stands at 5-7. Archer guards Ken Leakey and Mart Platupe, both at 6-1, will have a definite height advantage and should be able to shoot at will.

Completing Madison's tall front line are 6-4 Senior Roger Thompson and 6-2 Sophomore Stoe Garner. Since Archer forwards Tom McMahon, Gary Probst, and Bob Lohman do not reach more than 6-1, the Archers may have rebounding difficulties if they are not able to convert their first attempts.

BENCH STRENGTH for the out-of-towners is young but talented, with two members being possible starters. They are sophomores Roger Milles, a 6-2 forward, and Dave Carmack, a 5-11 guard or forward. Coach Paul Bradford has indicated that there is a possibility that he may start the four sophomores, Garner, Denny, Milles, and Carmack, leaving Shields at center.

The visitors' style of offense is deliberate, similar to the Archers', with few fast breaks. They are content to work for the easy, close shot, often setting up Shields in the pivot. Their weak point thus far has been defense. They have been able to score well, but their defense has led to their downfall by allowing too many easy baskets.

If the Archers are able to regain the shooting touch of which they are capable and their defense is able to collapse around Shields, they should win.

City Scoreboard

City Series
Team	W	L	Pct.	P	OP	GB
C.C.	4	0	1.000	245	188	—
Central ..	3	1	.750	231	200	1
North ..	2	1	.667	171	147	1½
Elmhurst 1	2	3	.333	178	186	2½
Concordia 1	4	2	.250	243	325	3½
South ..	0	3	.000	151	161	3½

Overall
Team	W	L	Pct.
Central Catholic ..	9	2	.810
Central ..	6	4	.600
Elmhurst ..	6	5	.540
Concordia ..	6	7	.455
North Side ..	5	6	.455
South Side ..	3	8	.280

Leading Scorers
Player	School	TP Avg.
Baack, Concordia ..	201	15.5
Esterline, North ..	169	15.5
Krull, C.C.	166	15
Edmonds, Central ..	150	15
Widenhoffer, Concordia	149	11.5
Hilsmier, South ..	142	13
Leakey, South ..	140	12.8
Miller, Elmhurst ..	127	11.5
Bubb, C.C.	127	11.5
Aiken, North ..	104	9.5

Seniors Seek Employment

Senior mid-termers desiring jobs are receiving interviews from Mr. Ora Davis, guidance director. Of approximately thirty students contacted, ten girls and six boys are being assisted in finding work. However, approximately one hundred and thirty mid-termers will remain at school for the post-graduate semester.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Port Wayne 2, Indiana

Miller's Standard Service
Rudisill and Calhoun
Port Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Miller's Standard Service

Established 1876

KLAHEHN FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service

420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0228

ZINN SERVICE STATION

615 East Pontiac H-5249

Maloley Brothers Foodland Stores

With Six Convenient Locations

Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

GLADIEUX OIL SALES, Inc.

A-5451

4133 New Haven Avenue
Port Wayne, Indiana

NEW "JET FLAME" FUEL OIL

It is pure
It is CLEAN
It's uncracked
It's more uniform
It causes less carbon
It's fresh
It's MADE IN FT. WAYNE

ROEHM MARINE SERVICE

Your South Side JOHNSON Dealer
4392 Bluffton Road
Telephone Sherwood 3203

DON SCHMIDT ACCORDION SCHOOL

Certified by Amer. Accordion Assn.
Private Instruction & Accordion Band
RENTAL PLAN—SALES—SERVICE
828 Oxford H-9606

Davis Beauty Salon

Tom and Marilyn Davis
Carmen Silvius

Styling • Permanent Waving

4039 S. Wayne K-9824

KOMET MEMORIAL COLISEUM

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Games:

MINNEAPOLIS MILLERS vs. FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Saturday, January 13
8:00 p.m.

TOLEDO MERCURYS vs. FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Sunday, January 21
7:00 p.m.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

KESSLER Super Market

"The Store for Quality and Personalized Service"

3102 BOWSER AVE.
Corner of Bowser at Eckart St.

21st Year in Business

JOHN'S EQUIPMENT CO.
Distributors for Weil Sewage Ejectors, Aurora Pumps, Skidmore Vacuum Pumps

1010 Fort Wayne Bank Bldg. E-4434

CUPP, Inc. Engineers and Contractors

For HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield H-6141

Beaver Beauty Salon

1112 Home Avenue H-3988

MARTHA BUTLER, Owner and Operator
Norma Humbert, Operator Linda Thomas, Operator

SOUTH WAYNE HARDWARE
4005 South Wayne H-3159
HARDWARE and HOUSEWARES

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS

DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

Calling all students . . .
time to order your

BABER'S
CLASS RINGS

Phone A-7306 . . . E-4197

Berry at Calhoun

Senior Jo Ellen Bobay Teaches Dancing Lessons, Enjoys Books

Having taken dancing lessons for eight years at the Cabana Dance Studio, Jo Ellen Bobay, senior B, now teaches modern dance and tap dancing to eight pupils of her own. Although she has had to give up her dancing lessons this year because of her busy schedule, she still enjoys dancing and teaching dance.

Modern dance, Totem, Assemblies Workshop, and Service Club are Jo Ellen's extra-curricular activities. As office manager of the Totem, Jo Ellen stated, "Working on a publication such as the Totem makes one realize the great amount of work that goes into all types of publications."

"I find that reading is relaxing and entertaining," commented Jo Ellen. She enjoys books that are full of action and still have some romance, such as "Exodus," her favorite book.

Jo Ellen is a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church and also a member of the Catholic Youth Organization. "Every teenager needs religion and should be active in his church and its activities. Church attendance should not be regarded as a chore," she stated.

During the summer Jo Ellen enjoys water skiing, reading, and she spends some time making her own clothes. She also works as a receptionist for her father who is the director of the Vocational Adult Evening School.

Jo Ellen Bobay

Algebra 4 is Jo Ellen's favorite subject. "I enjoy mathematics because of its exactness and because it's so logical. One is always able to check the accuracy of his work." Jo Ellen plans to major in mathematics next year at Purdue University. After college, she hopes to make a career in this field.

School Board Disposal Of 1853 Marks Community School Entry

Fort Wayne Schools marked their first century of existence in 1953. One hundred years earlier, in April, 1853, Fort Wayne's first school board resigned, when the public opposed a $1,200 tax levy.

The resignation of the months-old, three-member board started the community school system. Fierce resentment to this bill to raise money for a school stirred up tax proponents of public education.

Citizens stormed back with a zeal that ended the board and a tax that resulted in the opening of the first city school the following fall. A new board was drawn up and the first tax was levied.

AN ASSESSMENT of two mills on each 100 dollars of assessed valuation for public education was sought.

The first two schools opened in 1853 were the McJunkin School on Lafayette Street between Main and Berry Streets, and in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Mulburd on Wayne and Ewing Streets.

By 1857, the first two city-owned schools were built. Jefferson School opened in September, 1857, on the site of the present Jefferson Center. In February, 1857, the first public school, Clay School, was opened on Washington and Clay Streets.

AFTER THESE SCHOOLS were built, there was a time between August 1, 1859, and January 1, 1860, when the schools were entirely abandoned. No schools appeared until the Hoagland School was built in 1868.

Following Hoagland, came many schools including the first high school, Fort Wayne High School. This school, built on Wayne Street, was used until 1904 when it became a superintendent's office.

Other high schools, such as Central in 1903, South Side in 1922, and North Side in 1927, were later constructed under conditions of a fast rising population.

Students To Attend Special Math Class

A calculus class will be offered next semester before school from 7:10 to 7:50 a.m. in Room 70, starting on January 23. Mr. Richard Sage, mathematics teacher, will instruct the class in which analytic geometry and calculus will be studied.

Although the course is not intended to replace a calculus course in college, it will prepare and acquaint the students with college calculus.

Students enrolled in the non-credited class are Tamara Vyhovsky, Kent King, Steve Lowens, Bart Bailey, Al Sheldon, Jo Ellen Bobay, Bill Branning, Mike Ewald, Ann Petrie, Mark Hagerman, Frank Lewis, Karen Simmons, Bill Wilder, Brenda Arnold; Barb Spiers, Barb Uhl, Gary Harrod, Bill Borgmann, Howard Miller, Warren Burns, Tom McMahan, Doug Woodside, and Dave Meek.

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Sixteen Girls Organize Group To Sponsor Japanese Orphan

Tong Chin once lived in a mountain village on the east coast of Formosa. His home was a shed attached to a pig pen. He wore rags and couldn't speak Chinese, only a tribal language. He ate with his hands, and his mother was anxious to rid herself of him by saying, "He can't do anything; he only eats."

The reason he was so retarded was that he was blind. A more hopeless future than the one he faced is hard to conceive. But visit him now in a Christian Children's Fund Home for the Blind and listen to him recite his lessons and play the piano.

In just a couple of months, he has become a clean, bright, and extremely appreciated boy. Modern teaching methods for the blind have accomplished miracles. Junior Babs Fitzgerald read the article about the boy and was concerned by the thought of little children suffering in this world.

She felt that it was her duty to aid one of these unfortunate children. Babs knew she couldn't afford to make the monthly payments so she decided to ask a few girls to join in with her. The girls organized a club to sponsor a little girl. They adopted a three-year-old Korean girl named Jung Ae Suk which means "lovely."

JUNG AE SUK attends a nursery school, and her favorite subject is eating. She's healthy and is progressing fairly well. Ae Suk's chore is picking up toys, and her favorite pastime is playing dolls. Ae Suk is regarded by her nurse and little classmates as a sweet, gentle, friendly little girl.

The history of Ae Suk is sad but similar to all the other orphan children. Nothing at all is known of the home or parents of Ae Suk. She was found one day, a miserable little figure, alone and crying, in a public place.

A vain effort was made to locate the parents or other relatives, and then it could only be presumed that she had been left thus by a desperate mother, hoping that someone would find and care for Ae Suk as the mother couldn't. The child was then taken to a welfare center; and later, when no one claimed her, she was brought to the girls.

The girls in JAS Club include two seniors, Cheryl Summers and Sandy McCombs; twelve juniors, Babs Fitzgerald, chairman; Gail Brumm, treasurer; Karen Miller, secretary; Judy Conley, Sharon Bass, Karen McClemonds, Mikie Tieman, Rhonda Rhoem, Carol Ladig, Nancy Robinson, Julie Wadlington, Marla Habecker; and two sophomores, Susie Weinraub and Cherie Craig.

The JAS Club has received Christmas cards from Jung Ae Suk and the Christian Children's organization from which Ae Suk was adopted. They have sent Ae Suk a box loaded with stuffed toy animals, dolls, toys, and clothes.

THE MEMBERS ARE hoping to make a record in which they all will take part in telling a story and in

Pep Rally Features Speech, New Chant

A faculty member will give a pep talk at the pep session tomorrow in the gymnasium. The band will play the school song, "Victory Chant," "S-O-U-T-H," and the new "Fight" song.

"Clap Clap" and "Satisfied" will be led by the varsity cheerleaders, followed by a new cheer, "T-T-T-T," and a new chant. Alternating cheers with the varsity, the reserve cheerleaders will lead "Now Hey, Hey," "A Basket," and two new yells, "Grrreat" and "Beat Clap."

"Give Us the Green," "Good Luck," and "Go Archers" will conclude the pep session. Babs Jones, varsity cheerleader, assisted by Sue Harrod, reserve cheerleader, is in charge of the pep session.

Rooms Deposit $227.65

A total of $227.65 was banked by 14 rooms on January 2. Mr. Fetter's Room 14 topped others with $80.00. Miss Crowe's Room 142 and Miss Young's Room 156 placed second and third with $35.30 and $26.00, respectively.

Wm. A. Didier & Sons

Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

KOEGEL JEWELERS

Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1309 Broadway
E-7671

singing to her. They are planning to keep a scrapbook with pictures of the members and their activities so Ae Suk can see what her sixteen mothers look like and what life is like in America.

Each girl has received a picture of Ae Suk and the story of her life. At every meeting, each girl writes a portion of a letter to Jung Ae Suk.

Even though they may never see her, the warm feeling of knowing that they have helped to give her a better life will be the greatest reward they could receive.

Russian Educators Stress Nationalism, Science, Literature

Everyday there are many complaints from students all over the United States concerning grades and homework. Do they really mean what they say? Compared to the Russian educational system, Americans have the finest opportunities and schooling anywhere.

Imperial Russia had a deeply rooted cultural tradition and a high respect for learning. In those Czarist times there was always a wide gap between the few educated and the great mass of uneducated.

A beginning was made toward universal elementary education in 1908 when a new law provided three years of schooling for all. The Revolution of 1917 intervened however, and the feudal class structure was eliminated.

The Communists began to set up a school system and to train teachers. By using those who could read and write as teachers for others, adult illiteracy was almost entirely abolished. A nation-wide system of education was established which greatly stressed technological and scientific training.

IN THE PAST FEW years, the gains in science have received much notice from the West. Russia has been turning out twice as many engineers as the United States. The USSR is also spending 10 per cent of the national income on education in contrast with the per cent the U.S. spends. Russia's grim concentration and determination to excel, to lift a backward country to a level with the West in science and technology, are bringing the desired results.

These results are being achieved on a different basis than is the United States. In the United States education is for all, even those who are of average intelligence. On the other hand, Russia provides advanced education only for those who show scholastic promise after their elementary schooling.

The Russian child enters the regular school system at the age of seven for a ten year course of study which is required for his advanced training.

Late in 1958, a modification of the school program was announced by Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The course was to be shortened by two years, and the child not selected for higher education was to go to work at the age of fifteen. Others were to work for two years before entering college, with only the most brilliant excused from this requirement.

IN THE MIDDLE school, the prescribed and co-ordinated curriculum is limited to those subjects which will contribute to the national aims. In addition to mathematics, astronomy, physics, chemistry, botany, and other scientific subjects, there is strong emphasis on Russian language and literature. The study of modern language is also stressed.

There are no snap courses, and not much time is devoted to hobbies and recreation. There are about 33 hours of class instruction in the six-day week and 20 hours of homework.

At the conclusion of the ten year span, students take oral and written examinations. Students who pass the tests are given "certificates of maturity." Those who emerge near the top are admitted to one of the 33 Soviet universities.

GRADES, COMPETITIONS, and exams dominate the atmosphere. The young people are earnest workers, well aware of the penalty of failure. People, however, who escaped from Russia, denouncing Communism, still retain respect for their teachers and educational system.

The ignorance of the Soviet people today concerning happenings during the past 40 years is one evidence of how rigid and thorough the teaching of Communism has been.

American education is broader in scope, more concerned with humans and their values, and with freedom for the individual to follow his own decisions. In the Soviet Union, education is geared to carry out the government's projects and plans.

GOLLER'S

DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Archers' Grades Reign Supreme

Receiving scores of 90 or better on a test over legislation in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 7 class are Marilyn Cole, Anita Ferber, Dave Flanigan, Sue Johns, Larry Lee, Steve Lowens, Bonnie Russell, David Schele, Barb Spiers, Cheryl Summers, and Bill Wilder.

The only students receiving 90 or better on a recent quiz in Mrs. Luse's Geometry 1 period 6 class are Gunther Bauer, Charles Brinemann, and Eric Knabe.

Miss Arber's speech classes have just finished their original dice jockey shows and are beginning their 10-12 minute dramatic readings.

Rosemary Capps, Diane Hall, Marcia Disler, and Susan Johns received high scores on feature readings in Mr. Storey's period 6 speech class.

Mr. Melchi's Metal 1 class is finishing projects for the end of the semester.

Linda Chaney, Tom Helton, and Flora Reynolds received the best marks on a test in Mr. Havens' period 6 BOM class.

Scoring high on a test over the Reformation period given by Mr. Collyer in his World History 1 class period 1 were Barb Nelson, 96; Paul Cochran, 87; and Mary Ann Roach, 86.

Those scoring 100 per cent in Mr. Knigge's English 3 classes on a test of word recognition are Anita Downing, Valerie Evans, and Christine Fruechtenicht.

Receiving A's on a chapter test over unit 3 in Mr. Roland Smith's U.S. History 1 period 1 class are Nancy Brubaker, Dan Dentzer, Kathy DeVore, Ed Freed, Marsha Grabner, Jim Markinton, Gary Probst, Ann Shilling, and Dave West.

Penny Frey is high scorer in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 6 class on a test over public finance.

Those who received A's on a test in Mr. Roland Smith's United States History 1 period 2 class are Chuck Bodenhorn, Dianna Brown, Ron Bultemeir, Dave Eaton, Mary Fremion, John Kokosa, Bob Leininger, Nancy Peterson, Sue Ann Roemer, Stu Schmitz, and Karen Snively.

High scores on a test over public finance in Mr. Berg's Government 1 period 7 class are Bev Figel, Ken Lenkey, and Phil Snyder.

Receiving high grades on a classification and taxonomy quiz in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 6 class are Jim Bailey, Mike Comer, Susan Jorgensen, and Sharon LeFever.

Scoring 91 per cent on the classification and taxonomy quiz in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 3 class is Janet Gerig.

Mark Lowens made the highest score on a classification and taxonomy quiz in Mr. Pipino's Biology 1 period 1 class.

Judy Blombach, Mary Fawley, Tom Liby, and Robert Symonds scored 100 per cent on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 1 class.

Those scoring 100 per cent on the weekly spelling test in Mr. Furst's Clerical Practice 1 period 6 are Kay Heemsoth and Marsha Ringle.

Jim Mittelstadt scored 100 per cent on a test in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 6 class.

Virginia Moore scored the only A+ on a test in Mrs. Ellett's Home Ec 4 period 4 class.

Receiving 90 or better on a judiciary government test in Mr. Block's Government 1 period 7 class are Stan Alfied, Marilyn Cole, Anita Ferber, Dave Flanigan, Larry Lee, Steve Lowens, Bonnie Russell, Dave Schele, Cheryl Summers, Barb Spiers, and Bill Wilder.

ERIE

READY MIXED CONCRETE
H-2214

What you want

is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Scoring 98 per cent on a recent test, Mike Comer and Robert Cushman made the highest grades in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 4 class.

Bruce Hilby scored 100 per cent on a recent test in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 3 class.

Mark Lowens received a score of 100 per cent on a recent test in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 2 class.

Fred Rothert, Dick Robbins, and Ron Van Ryn scored 98, 97, 97 per cent, respectively, on a recent test in Mr. Brown's Health 1 period 1 class.

Receiving high grades on a recent test on tropical climates in Mr. White's Physical Geography 1 period 7 class are Steve Stefan, Marsha Good, and Sandra Ellis.

Lydia Sutto, Barbara Gantz, and Mary Karrick made the highest scores on feature readings in Mr. Storey's period 1 speech class.

Mike Carter, Jackie Kuhns, and Aletha Staigt received high grades on feature readings in Mr. Storey's period 2 speech class.

Claudia Bradley and Bob Bryant received best scores on a chapter test in Mr. Havens' period 7 BOM class.

Scoring high on feature readings in Mr. Storey's period 5 speech class are Ann McCallister and Vicky Miller.

Marian Kubay, Linda Weaver, and Leslie Edwards received high scores on a recent test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 1 health class.

Scoring high on a recent test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 3 health class are Lydia Budowski, Aileen Booty, and Laura Graham.

Lynette Downing received a high score on a test in Miss Edith Crowe's period 4 health class.

Carol Channell and Sandy Reed received high grades on a recent test in Miss Crowe's period 7 health class.

Receiving top scores on a quiz on fabrics in Mr. Kelly's period 1 marketing class are Ruth Wyatt, Dave Platz, Sally Newell, Jan Nahrwald, and Martha Jacobs.

Receiving top scores on a quiz on fabrics in Mr. Kelly's period 5 marketing class are Sue Burlage, Sarah Dickey, Barb Driver, Bob Hawkins, Paulene Marsh, Darlene McClure, Betty Russell, Diane Simmons, and Bill Syndram.

In Miss Osborne's English 5 period 1 class Janet Brenn, Annell Hoover, Peggy Schmidt, and Margee Terry received 100 per cent on a test over Milton.

Those students receiving high scores on a test over the novel in Miss Osborne's English 8 period 7 class are Bob Ramage, Sharon Carrel, Diane Hall, Dick Hirschberg, and Mary Jane Miller.

Pontiac Florist

914 E. Pontiac
H-2223

Rogers Friendly Markets

We Give
S & H
Green Stamps

Purdue University FORT WAYNE CENTER

College Credit for Developmental Reading
Available to Seniors

Classes start January 29 and end May 29. One hour credit for $30. Classes meet two hours per week. Choose one of the following times:

MW 4 p.m. or TTh 4 p.m. MW 5 p.m. or TTh 5 p.m.
MW 7 p.m.

With consent of your principal, other courses are available to graduating seniors.

Call A-3171 for details

Grand Opening

TODAY AND TOMORROW

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side
7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

FREE PEPSI

HAMBURGERS 15c
FRENCH FRIES 15c

Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

• Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

Did You Know

Bruce Fletter

Eats at Ab's?

Ab's Drive-In

Clinton and Rudisill

11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Every bite
a delight

NATIONAL PETROLEUM, Inc.

and

Their Friendly Pure Oil Dealers

PURE FIREBIRD GASOLINES

LOOK-OUT

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

GAA To Present Annual Supper To Recognize Outstanding Girls

FEAST FIXERS . . . Planning food and entertainment for the GAA Banquet are seated, left to right, Ann Hechler, Sandy Heidbrink, and Jan Nahrwald. Standing are Dodie Kessler, left, and Beth Randall. The banquet will be Monday.—Photo by Lowden

"Winter Rhapsody," the Girls' Athletic Association banquet, will be presented Monday in the cafeteria from 6 to 8 p.m. The purpose is to present awards to the members who have earned points this year.

The guest speakers for the evening are Mrs. Geneva Johns and Valerie Callahan, past presidents of GAA. Mrs. Johns will speak on previous years of GAA activities.

For other entertainment, dancers and singing groups will perform. Margie Grieser will be featured, singing "Some Enchanted Evening." Virginia Rose, junior, will perform a dance routine; while Charlotte Powell, senior, will give a dramatic declamation. Karen Ponader, junior, will play the piano; and Sandy Heidbrink, senior, will be a featured speaker.

THE GENERAL committee consists of Janice Nahrwald, chairman, Ann Hechler, Dodie Kessler, and Beth Randall.

Working on the menu committee are Linda Grimm and Jenny Slater, chairman. Jackie Kessler, Doris Hessert, Pat Abbott, Toni Sorensen, Jean Longardner, Janis Pfeuger, Nita Quinn, and Dodie Kessler, chairman, have the responsibility of arranging food on the tables and helping to serve at the banquet.

Arranging the program are Ann Hechler, chairman, Jo Elynn Good,

New Banking System To Start January 30

A new system of banking, which was approved at a recent meeting of the school board, will go into effect throughout the city schools on January 30. This plan will be used to simplify banking for the school and make banking more meaningful to the student.

According to Mr. Lester L. Grile, Superintendent of Fort Wayne Community Schools, and Mr. Earl J. Schwalm, president of Lincoln National Bank, passbooks will remain in the student's possession instead of in the school. The parents and students will have an opportunity to work together in filling out the passbook on the night before banking day.

After an entry has been made in the passbook as to the date, the deposit, and new balance, the carbon deposit slip is to be removed from the passbook and placed in the grey individual money envelope, which is sealed at home and brought to school on banking day by the student.

A student who has been appointed as the room savings officer will collect all of the sealed money envelopes and will give each student a new individual money envelope for use the following week.

All students now banking or those who wish to begin must fill out a new registration card. The final banking day this semester was Tuesday; and there will be none on January 16 or 23.

"All necessary material will be in the hands of the homeroom teachers prior to January 30," stated Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor.

Stu Schmitz Wins Award

Writer of the Week is Stuart Schmitz, 11B and sports editor of the Times, stated Mr. James Rohrbach, publications adviser. The winning article appeared in the January 4 issue. Stu will receive a one hundred-point bonus and is now eligible for the Times Writing Trophy to be presented on Recognition Day.

Junior Red Cross Picks Alice Ashton As New President

Red Cross Club members will begin next semester's activities under the following officers: Alice Ashton, president; Tamara Beaty, vice-president; Judy Hollister, secretary; Kay Carrier, treasurer; and Marsha Bechtold, sergeant-at-arms.

Enrollment of new members will take place at the club's first meeting of the new semester on January 31. The officers will take part in a panel discussion on the purpose of the Red Cross at this meeting.

February 8 has been set as the meeting at which members are to make favors for Valentine's Day to send to various city hospitals. New members may also join at this meeting.

A field trip to St. Vincent's Villa is being discussed as a possible activity for February 22.

Activities of club members consist of making favors for hospitals for each important holiday, working after school at hospitals, and taking field trips to various hospitals and orphanages.

Club members will attend a semi-formal spring banquet at the YWCA. The banquet will feature a guest speaker and presentation of pins and letters earned by club members during the year.

Thursday, January 11
Junior Academy of Science, Room 76, 3:30 p.m.

Safety Council, Room 178, 8:30 p.m.

Y-Teens, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Times Agents Meeting, Study Hall, 3:30 p.m.

Friday, January 12
GAA Volleyball, Girls' Gym, 8:30 p.m.

Pep Session, gym, 8:25 a.m.

Youth For Christ, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Basketball, Bishop Luers, here

Lettermen After-Game Dance, cafeteria.

Monday, January 15
Philo, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.

Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 8:30 p.m.

GAA Recognition Banquet, cafeteria, 6:30 p.m.

Tuesday, January 16
Meterite Recognition, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 8:30 p.m.

Electronics Section, Room 96, 8:30 p.m.

Wednesday, January 17
Grades Issued

Basketball, Central, there

Friday, January 19
End of first semester

Basketball, Madison Heights, here

Saturday, January 20
Basketball, Elmhurst, here

Hi-Y After-Game Dance, cafeteria

Physical Alteration Brings On Old Age

High school students today often consider non-teenagers as old or fast approaching that ripe age. However, Archer students, after being asked the question "When do you think a person is old?" agreed that old age is the result of physical changes.

Dave Brumm: I believe a person is considered old, or more tactfully, as elderly, when they pass that 'ol' point of no return where reaction time slows, muscles thin, hair grays, blood-shot eyes prevail, and exhaustion comes easily.

Jane Ladig: When they don't feel young anymore.

Gary Tinkel: When they get over a 36-inch waist.

Dianne Ball: A person is old when he starts each sentence with "Back in my day . . ." or "When I was a youngster . . ."

Kay Bradley: When they can't do the twist.

Tom Watson: When they don't enjoy life anymore.

COLONIAL Restaurant

E-2000

Auto Collision Service

H. JEWETT, Prop.

5208 S. Hanna H-0691

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

Also Electrolysis

617 W. Foster Pkwy.

Ft. Wayne, Ind.

K-3305

City Colleges, Business Schools Open Registration For Courses

Since classes will begin January 29, Indiana Extension has announced that orientation tests required of all new freshmen will be given tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. and Saturday at 8:30 a.m. The tests, given at the Center, will take approximately three and one-half hours.

Registration for the coming semester will be January 24-27. The average cost of the courses for a semester hour is $16, and the semester ends May 26.

Some of the courses offered at Indiana University include English, mathematics, psychology, history, chemistry, botany, education, speech, music, philosophy, German, French, and Spanish.

Foreign language placement tests are to be given on Saturday at 2 p.m. at I.U. Center, 1120 S. Barr Street. Students who plan to continue the study of a foreign language studied in high school at Indiana University must take a placement test in that language.

CLASSES AT PURDUE Extension will also start January 29. Regular registration is January 25 and 26, but registrations will be accepted until February 9.

Some of the courses offered at Purdue are English, mathematics, history, government, philosophy, chemistry, biology, psychology, speech, economics, and sociology.

St. Francis College will offer 90 courses in 26 field classifications on the undergraduate level during the second semester beginning January 29 and ending June 2. Registration for undergraduates will be January 20 and January 25 at the registration office in the administration building.

The fields open to undergraduates are art, biology, chemistry, commerce, economics, education, English, French, geography, government, history, home economics, Latin, mathematics, music, philosophy, physics, physical education, psychology, religion, sociology, and Spanish.

REGISTRATION IS open now at Indiana Technical College with enrollments continuing until January 17. Courses last 12 weeks, and the cost is $15 per credit week. Credits are achieved by hours; one hour earns one credit.

Both night and day courses are

Students To Suggest New Safety Projects

Suggestions for new projects and recommendations for safety programs for the new semester will be presented at the Safety Council meeting tonight at 3:30 p.m. in Room 182.

Members will receive a copy of the form on which requirements are listed which drivers must meet in order to be eligible for the bi-monthly Safe Driver Award. These recommendation forms will also be distributed to homeroom teachers so that they may make suggestions for the Safe Driver of January-February. The winner will be announced on February 22.

South Side students who witness unusual acts of good courtesy on the road by a fellow student driver may submit this driver's name on a recommendation form. Only drivers who have been safe and courteous "above and beyond" normal required safe driving will be considered for the citation.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974

CARRY OUTS

Stellhorn Hardware

2010 Fairfield

H-2337

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE

1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith

Phone H-1297

DAN'S BARBER SHOP

1307 Oxford

QUICK SERVICE

—TWO BARBERS—

HAIRCUTS—Any Style

For Men or Women

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald

Res. K-1188

4235 Fairfield

Bus. H-9661

BEA'S BRIDAL SHOP

Featuring New Fall and Winter Formals and Cocktail Dresses

K-2530

2426 S. Calhoun

Phone: T-1141

Soph Immigrants From Italy Compare Homeland, America

ITALIAN STUDENTS . . . Paul Pratico, on the left, and Miriam Schacter, on the right, point out their birthplaces on the map of Italy. Recalling their early childhood days, these sophomores are comparing their Italian experiences to those of today in the United States.—Photo by Jones

Claiming Italy as their homeland, Miriam Schacter, 10B, and Paul Pratico, 10B, have found points of similarity and extreme contrast between Italy and America.

Having come to the United States in 1949, Miriam lived in New York before she moved to Fort Wayne.

Commenting on the difference between the United States and Italy, she said, "I don't remember much, because I was so young. However, my parents have told me that the people in Italy have only the bare necessities in life. The United States is much more prosperous."

THE HOLIDAYS IN Italy are much the same as those in the United States, but there are more religious holidays. New Year's is celebrated in Italy but not in the same manner as in the United States.

One object that the family brought with them is something that resembles a briefcase. "We put all of our important papers in it. Whenever something of importance is lost that is the first thing that is searched. I don't know why, we just put all of these things in it. It's been in the family," stated Miriam.

Miriam's plans for the future are at the moment still undecided, but she has thoughts of being an X-ray technician.

Paul Pratico came to the United States in 1952 from Collesano, a small Italian village. Paul's family first lived in Brooklyn and then moved to Fort Wayne two years ago.

Paul, too, was young when he came to the United States. However, he does remember a few things about the farm on which his family lived.

"It was a small farm with a small house high in the mountains in Sicily."

MORRISON DRUGS
Maynard S. Ahrendt, Owner
Your Prescription Druggist
We deliver all prescriptions—prompt and courteous service.
"Member Retail Druggist Association"
2809 Broadway Phone H-1195

PARKWAY BEAUTY SHOP
COMPLETE BEAUTY SERVICE
609 West Foster Parkway H-2244
Fort Wayne, Indiana

OXLEY TYPEWRITER & OFFICE SUPPLY CO.
"We carry all makes of portable typewriters"
Sold on the rental payment plan
See Us Before You Buy . . . And Buy Where You Get Service
Proprietors: E. A. NELSON — B. M. NELSON
126-28 E. Wayne St. E-1040—E-1049

"BROASTED CHICKEN"
PHONE K-8232
YOUR ORDER READY WHEN YOU ARRIVE
Complete Catering Service
QUICK CHICK
3213 DECATUR RD.

Marks CAMERA SHOPS
Phone H-1197
When at a loss for words, say nothing.
3720 South Calhoun St.

The Corner House Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Phone: H-83591

Kaye's Koiffure

Complete Hair Care

224 W. Leith

Fort Wayne, Ind.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners

EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE

2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2350 Fort Wayne, Indiana

STUTZ DRY CLEANERS

4304 S. Fairfield

Phone K-4542

1213 Wells Street

Phone E-2087

Guaranteed Workmanship

EXPERT CLEANING AND DYEING ALTERATIONS AND REPAIRING

Pick-Up and Delivery Service

Green Team Bows To Mishawaka, North Side; Record Stands At 3-8

Leakey, Probst Score 30 Points In Series Game

Redskins' Krieg, Fry Lead Team, Achieve Last-Minute Victory

Last Friday night the Archers all but nailed the lid on the coffin containing their hopes for continued success this season. In an exciting, hair-tearing game, the North Side Redskins pinned a 47-45 reverse on the Kellys, the third straight City Series loss for the Green and the seventh of the regular season.

The teams were well matched, as predicted, and they played a strong, even contest. But, as is becoming the common occurrence, the Archers didn't pull the extra measure of luck to pull the battle out of the Redskins' win column.

KEN LEAKEY captured individual scoring honors for both teams as he collected 16 markers, eight in each half. Gary Probst was second with 14 points, all but two of them in the first half. Mark Krieg and Jack Fry each had 13 for North to place high for their team. Krieg played only half the game, not getting in until halfway through the first period and having to leave because of his injury-prone knee in the fourth quarter.

Dale Hilsmier had seven for South, matched by Steve Esterline's seven. As a result of the low-point output, Esterline lost his place as the city's leading scorer to Tom Baack of Concordia who collected 23.

The Archers started fast and grabbed a 10-6 lead by the two-thirds mark of the first quarter. Hilsmier canned two free throws and a fielder; and Leakey, Lohman, and Probst hit field goals over a pressing North Side defense. The inability of the Green to work the ball in the press proved to be a grave misfortune, for the Redskins had no trouble at all moving the ball into attacking position early in the game. Fry hit for four points and Krieg swished two free throws to set South's lead at 12-10 at quarter-time.

THE KELLYS EXPLODED into life at the second-period tip-off, passing the ball crisply and accurately to set up Lohman and Probst for a total of four points to hike the lead to six points. Mike Painter then hit his only two baskets of the night, and Leakey and Krieg traded buckets to have North breathing down the Archers' necks again.

Hilsmier ended his scoring for the night with a fielder and a charity flip, but Krieg dumped in four points and Aiken added two to shoot North into the lead, 24-21. Probst and Leakey fought back. Gary getting six points and Ken tallying four, to overpower Jack Fry's three and give the Archers the lead again at half-time, 31-27.

In the disastrous second half, the Archers scored only 12 points from the field and two from the foul line, committed 12 ball handling errors and nine fouls, including Hilsmier's fifth personal, dismissing him from the contest; yielded 20 points; and lost the game.

THE THIRD QUARTER saw South getting just six points, all the result of long shots by Leakey. Fry matched Leakey's total for North, Krieg added three, and Dave Schumaker two to give the Redskins a 38-37 advantage after three stanzas. Leakey tied the game up at 39-39 very early in the last period, but fouls began to plague the Archers and they fell four points behind in spite of Probst's goal and Platupa's free throw. Seven of North's nine points this quarter came on free throws as the 'Skins converted all but four chances from the foul stripe.

Jon vanOosten entered the game and rammed in a fielder which, with Platupa's free throw, put the Archers two points back with 14 seconds to go. The Green was unable to capitalize on breaks, bowing out, 47-45.

The Archers shot unusually well from the field, hitting at a near 400 clip; but they lost the game at the foul line, hitting only nine of 20 chances. North hit only 32 per cent of their field shots, but converted 13 of 20 charity shots to once again slap defeat on South by virtue of foul shots.

NICKLES BAKERY
"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

VIBRATO COFFEE HOUSE
1308 Broadway
OPEN 9:00 P.M.-3:00 A.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY
Featuring Live Folk Music
Unusual Coffees, Teas, Soft Drinks, and Fruit Punches
COME AS YOU ARE

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

PROMISING PUNCHERS . . . Boys who are taking part in the intramural boxing program are, front row left to right, Bob Bryant and Ron Heathman; second row, Paul Pratico, Greg Grove, Brad Zieg, Lee Meadows, and Dan Fortney; third row, Glen Billman, Jerry Young, Jim Crinshaw, Fred Plothe, and Leslie Marks. —Photo by Seaman

With the noon league basketball champions named, action is very light; and only all-star games are being contested. These games will involve the divisional champions and all-star teams including outstanding players from the other teams in the division.

The lightweight champion Mill-builders will play a team consisting of John Grodrian, Dave James, Bruce Fletter, Tom Blossom, Jerry Dunlap, Steve Gator, Jim Ostermeyer, Jim Carnahan-Harry Drake, and Dan Bercof.

The Nature Boys, reigning mid-weight champs, will play the all-star team consisting of Denny Berryhill, James Lantz, Jim Lawson, Jon Lyon, Ned Krouse, Bob Markiton, Mike Laughlin, Ken Hill, and Jim Long.

The heavyweight Bombers will then take on an all-star aggregation consisting of Matt Jackson, Ben Smith, Rick Clark, Glen Grosier, Sid Sherry, Manuel Dominguez, Gary Hensch, Doug Henachen, Ken Kleinrichert, and Tod Kubay.

The Ying Yangs moved into the championship game of the winner's bracket in the night basketball league by crushing the Crunchers, 41-17. Bob Wasson with 12 points and Billy Ausderan with 10 points led the Ying Yangs to their impressive victory.

Pacing the Crunchers was Dave Moody with 11 points. Now only the Ying Yangs and the Kentucky Four are undefeated with the Flying Tigers, Neutrons, BGWSJ's, Champs, Excelsiors, Chideables, Moles, and Crunchers vying for winning the loser's bracket.

The annual free throw tourney was Thursday, Friday, and Monday. At the end of 50 free throws, Jan Doran was leading the lightweight division; Larry Matthews was on top in the mid-weight group; and Terry Matthews was pacing the heavyweight throwers.

Other persons who were in contention in the lightweight division are Don Carlo, Ken Hill, Carl Foust, Jim Lawson, Terry Usher, Jim Carnahan, Steve Gator, Val Budowski, and Bob Bohlender.

KNIPSTEIN Pharmacy
1527 Oxford St.

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?
See JASPER
Engine & Transmission Exchange
3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

Chairs and Tables That Fold
LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.
Fort Wayne, Indiana

VIBRATO COFFEE HOUSE
1308 Broadway
OPEN 9:00 P.M.-3:00 A.M.
MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY
Featuring Live Folk Music
Unusual Coffees, Teas, Soft Drinks, and Fruit Punches
COME AS YOU ARE

Dale Hilsmier Assists Squad, Gets 13 Tallies

Witkowski, Coppers Aid Roundball Squad With Rebound Power

Their feeble fourth-period rally falling short, the South Side Archers collapsed to their eighth defeat of the season at Mishawaka, Saturday, by a 62-51 score. The Green managed to keep in striding range of the Cavemen for three periods; then they put on a bid to come within two points of knotting the score midway in the final stage, but fell apart in the last four minutes of play.

South's one-two punch of Ken Leakey and Dale Hilsmier lacked the power of Mishawaka's 6-3 Dick Witkowski and 6-1 John Coppers, who combined to tally 43 points. Hilsmier, recently elevated to a varsity berth, added nine points and many rebounds for the winners.

Leakey kept the Archers in the game most of the way with his consistent outside shooting and driving-type play; he paced the team with 15 points. Dale Hilsmier dropped in 13 points, and forwards Gary Probst and Bob Lohman each had eight.

After falling behind by six markers, 34-28, at half-time, Coach Don Reichert's forces pecked away until they trailed by only a 49-47 margin with 4:20 left in the contest.

At this point Coach Bill Smith steadied his charges, while the Kellys perhaps began to feel the effects of their grueling battle with North Side the previous evening. Consequently, the hosts proceeded to break the contest wide open.

South tried to foul in order to stop Witkowski and Coppers and to get possession of the ball. However, the strategy backfired as the Maroons sank their free throws and outscored the visitors 13-4 in the last stint.

While rebounding was about equal, each side getting 63 chances to shoot, Mishawaka had the better shooting percentage, hitting on 23 for a .365 mark. South connected on one-third of their attempts. The Cavemen were especially accurate on their free throws, making 16 of 22 for the game, including nine of 12 in the final eight minutes.

Following is the scoring summary for South:

Player	G	F	T
Leakey	16	3	15
McMahan	8	0	4
Dale Hilsmier	6	1	13
Lohman	3	3	9
Probst	4	1	9
Shine	0	1	1
Totals	21	9	51

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"
Belle Vista Lodge Motel
"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"
Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

SOUTH SIDE PHARMACY
4232 S. Calhoun Phone K-1864
SERVICE IN DRUGS

DON STROEBEL'S OXFORD MARATHON
MOTOR TUNE-UP BRAKE SERVICE
FREE PICK-UP AND DELIVERY
COURTESY CAR AVAILABLE
TIRES—TUBES—BATTERIES—ACCESSORIES
Winter and Oxford H-5243

IT'S DREAMY and OH! SO GOOD

McDONALD'S

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.
AND NOW—NEW NO. 3
JEFFERSON
at
HARRISON

Reserves Beat Maroon, Lose To North Side

With neither team racking up more than a six-point margin, the Archer reserves conquered the Mishawaka team, 42-41. After a close opening quarter which the Archers concluded with a two-point lead. The Cavemen passed the Archers and led throughout most of the game. Their lead at the half was four points, but the Archers closed the gap to two at the third period break.

The Cavemen continued a precarious hold on the advantage until Jerry Klahn pushed through a two-pointer with a minute to go. The Archers hung on to win the game 42-41 and inflict the second defeat of the year on the Cavemen.

Jerry Klahn led the Archers with 13 points while Willie Files, playing a tremendous game under the boards, pulled down 20 rebounds in two quarters.

Suffering its first loss of the season, the reserves played a heart-breaker against North Side, with a 41-40 score on Friday.

The North Side defeat was a hard pill to swallow as it broke a seven game winning streak for Coach Porky Holt's crew.

AFTER CONTROLLING the opening tip, the Archers jumped off to a quick 6-1 lead on baskets by Files, Tom Meyers, and Dave Munson, as their rebounding advantage became immediately apparent. Jack Aker led the Redskins with five points. The Archers led at the end of the first period 10-8.

Though an entire sophomore unit entered for the second stanza, the Archers were able to continue with the same proficiency that they displayed at the beginning. Dick Robinson's three points were all the Archers could muster as they got off to a slow, loose start. Midway in the period, the Green suddenly caught fire to score eight consecutive points and build up a 23-15 advantage.

The Redskins finally regained their familiarity of their home court in the third quarter as they matched the Archer's 11 points.

APPEARING TO BE winning in a runaway contest, the Archers completely fell apart in the final six minutes. After a jump shot by Dave Banet to make the lead 10 points, the Archers committed five fouls without scoring, enabling the Redskins to close the gap to 36-34. Two free throws by Files forestalled the impending doom, but the 'Skins proceeded to sink five of six free throws and one field goal.

A field goal by Dave Blanton closed the gap to 41-40, and the Archers regained the ball under their own basket with 16 seconds to go. However, time ran down to four seconds while the referee allowed the teams to adjust to the situation and a desperation shot by Files failed, leaving the Redskins a 41-40 victor.

Coney Island WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783

Cole Realty Co.
OFFICE H-4107, H-4108
"Always Deal With a Realtor"
Service With You in Mind!
Multiple Listing Member of Trade-In Corp.
Romane Cole Res. H-2752

Munson Sparks Reserve Team, Runs On Track

Dave Munson

A big prospect for the basketball team in future years is Dave Munson, sophomore. Dave, standing 5-10, has already proved to be a very valuable asset to the reserve squad. In the game against Concordia it was his shot in the last few seconds that won the game for the Green.

Graduated from Lakeside Junior High School, Dave came to South after participating in basketball, track, and cross country. He proved to be most talented in basketball as his team grabbed a second place in the city junior high tournament, and he was voted most valuable player of the tournament. Dave also had a very successful season in track, aiding his team in winning first place in the junior high track meet.

At South Side, Dave has already gained a good start in his ambition to participate in basketball, track, and cross country. He began the season with cross country and now has become a member of the reserve basketball team.

Because of his accurate shooting Dave has dressed with the varsity squad for most of its games. In the tournament at Columbia City, he saw a considerable amount of action, getting eight points in one of the games. Dave's plans for the future include participation in cross country, track, and basketball on the college level.

Academy To View Film
Showing and discussing a film, the Botany section will lead the meeting of the Junior Academy of Science today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 76.

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP
Sunny Schick Camera Shop
407 West Washington Phone A-9119

Frosh Aggregation Surges To Defeat Ben Geyer, 51-36

Winning their second straight contest, the freshman basketball team put on a great fourth-quarter surge to come out on top of Ben Geyer, 51-36. The game, played in the South gym on Thursday, was nip and tuck until Jan Doran unloaded three long cannons.

Coupled with three points by Dan Junk and two each by Mike Vogt and Dave Fishbaugh, the Archers ran up a 43-32 lead with only minutes remaining.

Guard Ron Van Ryn played his best game, leading both teams in scoring, with 18 points. Besides canning 20- and 25-footers with regularity, he also sparked at the foul stripe. On two occasions, he broke into the clear for easy lay-ups, and his work in the defensive zone was very good.

The first three quarters were saw-saw, the largest margin being five points by Ben Geyer in the first quarter when Yoder and Brown fashioned drives for easy baskets. The score at the end of three stanzas, before the Green's 13-point surge, stood at 30-29 for Ben Geyer.

Other high scorers for the Archers were Doran with 15 and Junk with eight. High point men for Ben Geyer were Yoder and Ervin with nine each, followed by Brown with six.

Scoring:

South	G	F	T
Van Ryn	6	6	18
Doran	7	0	14
Vogt	1	0	2
Bolman	2	0	1
Junk	2	4	8
Fishbaugh	2	1	5
Butz	0	0	0

Totals

20	11	51
----	----	----

Ben Geyer	G	F	T
Yoder	4	1	9
Ervin	1	7	9
Pace	0	1	1
Brown	3	0	6
Pepper	1	3	5
Buchanan	0	0	0
Grant	1	0	2
Anderson	1	0	2
Halley	0	0	0
Hapner	1	0	2

Score by quarters:

South Side	7	14	12	18	—51
Ben Geyer	10	10	10	6	—36

Graves & Hageman, Inc.
Commercial Floor Covering Contractors
1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

The Kookie shirt and thin cuffless slacks

Kookie shirts: brightly colored wool with poncho styling, assorted shades with contrasting pockets. Sizes S, M, L. 10.98

The slim slacks: hip-hugging style with narrow cuffless bottoms. Silver-olive, beige or black. 26 to 34 waist, 27 to 32 long. 5.98

W&D Squire Shop, Men's Store

Speech Meets Provide Students With Oratorical Poise, Awards

By Ann McCallister

Long ago in 80 B.C., the Roman orator Cicero stood before a togad audience to deliver his speech. Today, following the same custom, South Side's "Little Ciceros" are delivering humorous, dramatic, oratorical, poetical, and extemporaneous declamations in competition with other Indiana schools in speech meets.

Speech meets supply experience and fun for the participants, who are members of Wranglers and those taking speech. So far this year, South Side has attended meets at Howe, New Haven, New Castle, and North Side; and at each one, South Siders have won high-place ribbons.

The day of the speech meet starts with a bus or car ride to the destination, during which time speeches are hastily looked over. Each speech has been heard by Mr. Robert Storey, speech instructor, and has been practiced many times.

When the bus arrives at the host school, the students assemble with Mr. Storey and receive their assignments telling where and when they are to deliver their speeches. There are either two or three times for delivery listed in the preliminaries.

EACH STUDENT GOES to his appointed room, and there finds approximately five contestants and one or two judges. There is an hour for all the contestants to give their speeches, which are judged by trained adults, or at inexperienced meets, by students.

The divisions that a speaker can enter are many; some contestants enter two divisions and give two speeches in a one-hour period.

The humorous division is interpretive, and these declamations are memorized. The selections, eight to ten minutes long, are those such as "Auntie Mame," and "Eloise." The dramatic division is interpretive also, and subjects are blood-curdling and heart-rending.

Oratorical speakers are entered in two divisions. The first is interpretive, in which the speech is written by another. These speeches are eight to ten minutes long; and judging is based on gesturing, sincerity, memory work, and timing.

THE OTHER DIVISION is original oratory, a speech written by the one delivering it. This speech is based not only on delivery but also on content.

Poetry is the sixth division. The speaker reads a selection of poetry, which begins with an introduction on the poem. The reading must be seven minutes long, and more than one poem by the same author or on the same topic may be used. The judges base their decisions on voice and gestures.

Radio is a division which is not prepared for in advance. A five-minute program covering a given topic, a commercial, and the speaker's own thoughts is given with a microphone.

The last division, extemporaneous, is perhaps the hardest one. This, like radio, is a speech composed on the day of the meet. Each contestant draws three topics and then chooses one on which he will make a five to seven minute speech.

A MAGAZINE FILE is used to obtain information. The speaker is given at least half an hour to prepare a speech, and he is allowed one note card with fifty words and one card with quotes written for use in delivery.

The speech begins with the explanation of the purpose or with a comparison. Poise, language, fluency, and organization are used as guides for judging.

All of the participants in the divisions are rated in the preliminaries. Those with the best scores go on to the semi-final, and then the best of the semi-finalists go on to the finals.

At the conclusion of the meet, there is a general assembly where ribbons are presented to the winners of each division. There are five ribbons for each one; but even for those who do not take home ribbons, the rewards of experiences gained by each participant are invaluable.

Junior Janet Deihl Teaches Accordion To Indiana Students

Janet Deihl, junior, is constantly defying the old adage that idleness is the devil's workshop and is not allowing it to become true. She shows her aversion to idleness by busying herself with constructive activities and enjoyable hobbies.

Janet Deihl

Janet has played the accordion for seven years and for the past two years has taught music at the Indiana Music Studio. Teaching the accordion to ten and 12-year-old students each Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. is one of her favorite activities, even though it requires about one hour of practice every day.

Displaying her talents in many musical contests, Janet recently participated in an accordion contest in Chicago and came home with a first and second place trophy. Showing her musical ability in more than one area, Janet sings in the South Wayne Baptist Church choir and also is a member of the Philharmonic Choir.

Janet, as evidenced, likes to sing and often combines with her sisters, Pat and Margaret, for a trio. She also plays with an accordion trio which performs for organizations in Fort Wayne. Roller skating and drawing are enjoyed by this active junior when she finds moments to spare. She is a member of Concert Choir, Outgoing Choir, Assemblies Workshop, and Service Club.

Fast Reading Helps Comprehension Skill

Charlie is a junior in a local high school, and he seems to be a fairly average student. But Charlie is not at all average. He could, if he improved his reading habits, be one of the top students. Why doesn't he? According to Charlie, "If I read fast, I'll miss everything."

Fortunately for all the Charlies of the world, this is not true. All evidence points to the seemingly illogical conclusion that the faster people read, the better they understand. The problem for Charlie is to overcome his fear and force himself to read faster.

Although this is probably the most common lament, it is by no means the only one. "I wasn't taught to read as well as the other students. I came from a different school." "I've been doing it wrong for such a long time that I can't develop better reading habits."

ON THEY GO, MORE and more excuses for the simple fact that it is too much trouble to try to improve one's self.

For those who really want to improve their reading there is a pattern that may be followed. The first step is to get rid of all roadblocks. As the lack of a ball will handicap a tennis player there are handicaps to readers also.

Lip reading, mental crutches, such as sliding one's finger under the printed line, failing to use peripheral vision, returning to reread one line several times, saying the words in the mind, and momentarily reversing letters causing one to read incorrectly are a few of the most common roadblocks.

THE SECOND STEP is to increase the number of words seen at one time. Instead of reading one word at a time, three or four should be read at a time.

Step three is to use what is learned. No skill is worth having if it is not used to its fullest degree. Reading is a skill, to be used for profit as well as entertainment. To make the most of this skill it must be used over and over. Here it is true that "Practice makes perfect."

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS
Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.
BRING THEM TO—
T & T TAILORING
525 Oxford H-2185

'Way-Out' Beatniks Lack Requirements To Obtain Success

"You, cat, are with it; you dig; you're like gone!" Many people often wonder about that strange portion of the human race called beatniks. Exactly what is a beatnik? How did the word "beatnik" originate? Where do beatniks come from? Where do they congregate? Who are some noted members of the clan?

A beatnik is a person, usually young, who protests loudly against conformity and the normal life and proceedings. He generally dislikes any type of conformity that limits his inhibitions.

The word "beatnik" may have been derived from the word "deadbeat"; it may have come from the beat in jazz; it may mean beat in the sense of being tired; it may mean a poor start in life; or, as one beatnik proposed, it may come from beatitude, or the blessed state of being which the beatniks claim to possess.

BEATNIKS are universal. They are sometimes brilliant intellectuals who claim to be anti-intellect; sometimes they are simply mixed-up normal beings, unsure of their actual convictions, morals, and future. Often the intellectuals of the group are quite capable of achievement, but simply lack the effort and ambition required for success.

Noted beatnik centers are Greenwich Village, N.Y.; Venice, Calif.; and San Francisco, Calif. However, beatniks can actually be found almost anywhere, always conforming to a monotonous pattern of life: a search for "kicks," sloppy dress, (beards for men, tangled hair for women), and a strong dislike for regular jobs. They read Oriental philosophy, listen to hi-fi records, and drink espresso, and, generally, achieve little.

THERE ARE SIX MEN of any particular note who are confirmed members of the beatnik clan. Jack Kerouac, who is considered one of the founding fathers of the beatnik movement, is author of "On the Road," "The Subterraneans," and "Doctor Sax." Allen Ginsberg is a leading poet and author of the book "Howl." Kenneth Rexrath has set forth the manifesto of beatniks.

A talented member of the San Francisco group is Lawrence Ferlinghetti. Lawrence Lipton, biographer of the movement, is author of "The Holy Barbarians." William Everson has set forth a volume of poetry expressing the peaceful aspirations of the beatniks.

Physicians, Dentists Use Hypnotic Spells To Help In Healing

"Your eye lids are growing heavy; you are very sleepy." These are some of the familiar phrases used by today's doctors trying to put a patient under hypnosis. Within the last two years, hypnology has become a legitimate art of healing, used by doctors, dentists, and psychiatrists.

Hypnosis can be very helpful when used to reduce pain, to relieve habits of smoking and drinking, and to give people who are desperately ill a reason for living.

For a specialized person who has been properly trained, hypnotizing is simple. The subject looks at a fixed object for a long period of time, while the specialist continually talks, putting the subject in a light trance.

THE THREE STAGES of hypnology are light, medium, and deep trances. In the first stage, the subject doesn't do what he is able to do because of the power of suggestion. During the medium trance, the subject can be told to do something and have the power to do it.

He can feel a fly on his hand, smell a rose, enjoy a cup of coffee—all imaginary happenings.

The last stage is a deep trance. The subject can be told he is a little boy, and he will act accordingly. He will remember things he couldn't ordinarily remember. A person in a deep hypnotic trance can be told that he can do, or say, or feel, or believe a certain thing after awakening from the trance. He will act accordingly, but he will think the idea is entirely his own.

IT HAS BEEN PROVED by doctors that not everyone can be hypnotized. These people who cannot be hypnotized include children under the age of four, the senile, the feeble-minded, certain kinds of neurotics, and many psychotics.

Hypnosis can be used to stop one bad habit, but at the same time it may start a new one. The victim, who loses one of his habits, finds that he has no outlet for his nervousness, and may soon resort to a new habit.

The effects of a deep trance can be very serious unless correctly handled by a hypnotist. Hypnosis has a valuable place in the practice of medicine. However, like any drug, it can be misused. One should not submit to hypnosis until he is positive of his doctor's basic training in this field.

Karen Miller's Musical Ability Proves Entertaining To Others

Bright lights, a dance band, and a lively girl vocalist, is the picture in which Junior B Karen Miller would like to fit herself.

Karen's interest in music is almost as old as she is. At the young age of two, Karen made her first record. It was a recording of her humming to "Bye Baby Bunting." Several years later, she recorded a second record. In this Christmas present to her father, she sang and recited a poem. These incidents began her musical career.

Karen has been surrounded by music ever since she was a baby. Her father played a trumpet in his own dance band, and her mother was a tap dancer. Karen's own first entrance into the field of music was made via ballet. Later she went on to take piano lessons, which she has continued for the past eight years. She is now taking both singing and piano lessons.

KAREN DIRECTS her talents in many varied directions. She sings in the Bethlehem Lutheran Church Choir, with a combo, and with a sextet consisting of Nancy Robinson, Tonya Hines, Bob Wasson, David Brumm, and Dave Tipton. This group was part of the entertainment at the Junior Banquet.

Having a versatile talent like Karen's brings rewarding experiences. Karen has sung at an after-prom party at the Bergoff, which she considers one of her outstanding experiences. She has also sung at dances and private parties.

According to Karen, the greatest advantage is being able to meet so many different kinds of people. To be an entertainer at one party and a guest at the next gives one a chance to make new friends.

Although Karen is planning to be an English teacher, she is also planning to continue with her music. In college she would like to participate in musical comedies and to sing with a dance band.

Karen Miller

KAREN COMMENTED, "If I am fortunate enough to get a chance to go on stage professionally, I will take it. If I could make the grade, it would be thrilling beyond words; if not, I don't think I would be too disappointed. Music would still provide much personal enjoyment for me."

Interests in fields other than music also occupy her time. One of her most unusual activities involves a group called the JAS. This group is made up of girls from South Side who have "adopted" a small Korean orphan. Each month the girls send the little girl gifts, letters, and the money for the necessities she would not otherwise have.

At school, Karen is a member of Assemblies Workshop, a Totem agent, a Times writer, and song leader for Philo. She is also a member of the Service Club.

When asked for a philosophy of life, Karen answered, "To do the best that is possible each day in each task is the most important thing to me."

Retailing Provides Opportunities For Merchandising, Promotion

Retailing offers many career opportunities for interested young people while providing chances for promotion. A college education is not required for this business of distributing products to the public. The merchandising department includes division and department managers and buyers.

There are many advantages that people in the retailing business have, which others do not. Chances for promotion are faster than in other professions, since the population of the United States is constantly growing, and more stores will be needed to meet public demand.

FREE CLASSES ARE given to train employees for higher-paying jobs. Anyone is eligible for promotion, because a person is recognized for his ability.

Finally, skills learned in one store are useful in another. If a person who has learned retailing in one store moves to another city, he will still have the advantages he had before.

However, there is one disadvantage to retailing: the hours are long. A good retailer always has to be thinking of new and better ways to sell his products.

AN EXAMPLE of the retailing business is food retailing. The opportunities are practically unlimited. In 1929, 723,407 persons were employed in food retailing; and the annual sales volume was $10,837,400. In 1959, 200,000 persons made their livings in food retailing; and the annual sales volume was over $48 billion.

By 1975, there will be 30 million more people in the United States; and many more stores will be necessary to meet their needs. In 1959, over 2,500 super markets were opened, providing jobs and promotions for many people.

Over the years, the cost of food distribution has gone down. It is now easier for a person to open his

Students Tell Ideas Concerning Removal Of Old Court House

With a new civic square and court house in the planning stage, the problem of what to do with the present Allen County Court House has arisen. Civic-minded Kellys are interested in the question of whether the building should be removed or kept as a historical site. The following is a sampling of student opinion.

Mary Ann Waldrop: Yes, Fort Wayne must maintain heritage; a city just doesn't seem complete without an old court house.

Sue Robinson: They definitely should keep it. It looks more like a court house than these new ones.

Mike Zehender: It should be removed. It has served its purpose, and it in no way improves or even helps the appearance of the city.

Marge Terry: It should be removed, because I can't see that it has any great sentimental value. It could not very well be useful for anything else.

Jon Poto: It should be removed, and the material could possibly be used for something else. This part of the city should be rehabilitated and modernized.

Barrie Spear: It should be removed, because it would have no valuable use. It would probably fall to pieces.

Common Cold Cures Baffle Medical Men

More than half of the people in this country suffer at least two colds a year, costing the nation annually two billion dollars. Many people connect the illness with cold weather, but this theory is not always true. Being over-tired and getting wet or chilled seem to have much to do with contracting a cold, but the true cause is unknown.

Modern doctors are in agreement that mental tensions can provoke a cold. A child who doesn't want to go to school might develop a running nose and prolonged sneezing.

Another mystery of the common cold is that its duration is not certain. It may last two weeks or a day. So far no medicine has been discovered to cure the common cold.

The best treatments for colds are adequate rest, an analgesic, a light diet, and an increase in liquid intake. If the nose is stopped up, a mild inhaler is helpful.

A victim should try to keep the cold to himself. One sneeze sends particles of moisture 20 feet. It has been found that four out of every five people catch a cold through exposure to a carrier.

Ed Parrish Servicer
Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

FUTURA TRANSISTOR PHONOGRAPH (4-Sp.)
American Made—Dual Needles—Operates on Four Flashlight Cells
Only $34.95
SMITH'S SOUTH SIDE TV & APPLIANCE
3820 South Calhoun H-2100

Hall's Drive-Ins

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsman on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-5055

Jocquel Supply Co.
Four Generations of Service of
All Types Building Material
2206 Broadway H-3141

DIGGS-H-4286

HARRISON HILL
3928 S. Calhoun

Fountain
School Supplies
Vitamins

Prescription
Specialists

ASSOCIATE BSC DEGREES

INTERNATIONAL COLLEGE

Phone A-1354 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Spring Term March 19

* Business Administration & Finance } With
* Secretarial Science } I.B.M.
* Professional Accounting }

CRESTWOOD
another outstanding
community by Shirmeyer

Here is one of Fort Wayne's best located subdivisions . . . within the city limits, close to everything. Located only two minutes north of Northcrest Shopping Center on Highway 427, Crestwood is a delightful community of happy home owners . . . where friendship is found behind every door. Visit Crestwood soon.

8 MODEL HOMES OPEN DAILY IN CRESTWOOD

NATIONAL HOMES

SHIRMAYER

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP
Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

REMODELING and ALTERATIONS OF ALL KINDS
Wide Shoulders, Wide Lapels, and Wide Bottoms of Pant Legs Are Out of Style. Don't Leave Them Hang in Your Closet.
BRING THEM TO—
T & T TAILORING
525 Oxford H-2185

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK
Available in the milk machines

Astronomy Offers Opportunities For Exploration In Atmosphere

Science is recognized as one of the great moving forces of today and as one of the chief influences which shapes culture. Astronomy offers an unlimited field for investigation of the universe and its time scale, the evolution of stars and galaxies, the origin of chemical elements, the operation of physical laws on a cosmic scale, the problem of space travel, and the origin of life in the universe.

The principle qualifications for the career in astronomy are enthusiasm, a basic scientific education, and an inquiring mind.

Courses which an astronomer should take in high school include algebra, trigonometry, physics, chemistry, German, French, and Russian. As a college or university undergraduate, he will take a more extensive course in physics; mathematics; and finally, astronomy itself.

Careers available to astronomers are teaching and research; observational research at an observatory; astronomical education at a planetarium or museum; technical work in electronics, optics, and mechanical engineering; and space technology.

CAREER OPPORTUNITIES for qualified women exist in every area of astronomy: in basic research, in graduate and undergraduate teaching, and in government.

The annual salary of a beginning astronomy instructor is about five thousand five hundred dollars for a

Suellen Borgmann Enjoys Competition In Swim Contests

"Laugh and the world laughs with you; cry and you cry alone." The world rarely finds Suellen Borgmann, sophomore, crying. Her philosophy on life is to follow the faith one believes in, and then one will find that it is all that really counts in making a success of life.

Sue finds that swimming is one of her greatest pleasures. Until about two years ago, she swam in meets with the YWCA. Now she belongs to the Fort Wayne Country Club's swim team.

Suellen Borgmann

SUELLEN FEELS that last summer she did her best in swimming events. At a meet between the Country Club and the Poochantas Swim Club, Sue won two first place and two second place ribbons. In a meet between the various members of the Fort Wayne Country Club's swim team, Sue was the champion of her age group.

Sue began her first year of competitive diving last summer. In a city meet she placed first in the novice flight. The breast stroke and free style are the two kinds of strokes in which Sue does especially well. "I owe all of my success to my coaches," stated Sue.

SUELLEN'S FUTURE is undecided at the present time. If she is still interested in swimming as much as she is now, Suellen hopes to go to Indiana University or the University of Michigan. Her greatest ambition is to belong to the Indiana University swim squad.

Besides swimming this vivacious Archer lass enjoys water skiing, football, and most outdoor sports. Sue's outside activities include Meritides of which she is sergeant-at-arms, Assemblies Workshop, and news and feature writer as well as homeroom agent for the Times. Sue also belongs to the Luther League at her church.

Pupils Tell Thoughts About Foods' Effects

In this day and age, eating seems to have gone out of style. Steak, chicken, and mashed potatoes, such delicious but fattening foods, are being replaced by dietary formulas, cookies, and soft drinks. This may have some effect on Archers who answered the question, "Is the way to a man's heart through his stomach?"

Rick Bear: Noope!!

Kathy Klas: Beats me, nobody will get that close to my cooking.

Ann Mol: If his heart is in his stomach.

Jani Brenna: If it's not the quickest, it's a real short cut.

Kathy Branning: The better the food, the better the mood.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

Gerig Super Service

MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011 1015 Taylor
This week's Small Snaps is Tonya Hines

Buried Treasures Lure Humans To Famous Volcanoes, Islands

On a summer day in 1795, three young boys were exploring Oak Island, Nova Scotia. Suddenly, they caught sight of a rusty chain hanging on a tree, the kind of chain used to lower a heavy chest into the ground! Could they have found a buried treasure by accident?

Excitedly, they fetched shovels and dug as fast as they could; shortly afterward, they uncovered some heavy wooden planks. Although the boys never reached anything because of water flooding the hole, it was an accepted fact that at the bottom of the hole lay the buried treasure of Captain Kidd.

A buried treasure—the romance and lure of this exciting subject interests million of people. Around the world priceless treasures may be buried.

A fascinating story of treasure involves the ancient Inca Indians and the Spanish conqueror, Pizarro. Pizarro invaded Peru and carried away half-a-billion dollar's worth of gold, silver, and jewels. The Incas, thoroughly frightened, knew that they had to keep the rest of their treasure from Pizarro, so they buried it inside the crater of an extinct volcano.

THE ONLY WHITE man who was allowed to know about the buried treasure was Valverde, a Spanish ex-soldier. He was led to the volcano by his Inca wife. Inside the crater, Valverde was almost blinded by what he saw; gold idols, coins, precious gems, and silver bars dazzled him. Aware of the value of the treasure, he drew a map to the crater before he died.

Twice afterward, two men tried to find the fortunes; but both failed, and the treasure is still known to a few Incas.

Then there is the story of the real

Kelly Students Should Observe Historic Places Of Fort Wayne

One should not be a resident in a town without knowing something about the surrounding community and its most outstanding places of interest. Fort Wayne has a very interesting and exciting history which has left some notable landmarks in this area.

Fort Wayne's namesake "Mad Anthony Wayne" became famous by one act of heroism, the storming of Stony Point, even though he had several exploits. Wayne gave his whole life ungrudgingly to his country. In memory of him, a statue was dedicated on July 4, 1918 in Hayden Park.

The area now comprising McCulloch Park, which is on Broadway near the General Electric Company, was once the Broadway Cemetery. Used as a burial ground from 1837 to 1855, the cemetery was then closed and many of the graves were transferred to the Lindenwood Cemetery. The small park, however, is still the burial site of Samuel Bigger, seventh governor of Indiana. The cemetery was abandoned in 1855, because it was being invaded by owls, bats, tramps, and vagabonds.

THE PATRIARCH of Fort Wayne's apple trees was bearing fruit long before General Anthony Wayne appeared on the scene. When Chief Richardville of the Miami Indians was born near a tree in 1761, the apple tree stood in the midst of the village, Kekongia. Late in the nineteenth century the venerable tree perished at an estimated age of 150 years. Although the exact location is unknown, it stood in the Lakeside residential district and in 1860 measured twenty feet in diameter.

Among Fort Wayne's families of opulence and culture was that of Franklin P. Randall, lawyer and politician. Mr. Randall was the author of the city charter and designer of the city seal. He was elected for five terms as mayor of Fort Wayne. The family's estate was on the block between Clay and Lafayette streets on East Berry Street. The stately palms

GIL PERRY, SENIOR, also enjoys certain phases of modern art. He feels that a person can express himself equally well in abstract or realistic creativity. In Mrs. Fleck's Art 4 and 5 classes, Gil is working on oil paintings and block printing.

Gil entered an ink sketch in the Red Cross contest at the Fort Wayne Art Museum. His sketch won honorable mention, and is now part of a display on tour in Europe.

This past summer Gil worked for the city of Warsaw, painting signs. He has also done Christmas and Thanksgiving scenes on windows, as well as advertising work for various groups and companies. Becoming interested in this type of work, Gil has decided to attend Indiana University where he will study commercial art.

AS PRESIDENT of the Honorary Arts Club, Senior Judy Godman is enthusiastic about her art work and hopes to continue it after graduation. In Art 7, Judy is working with oil painting to create an abstract, a flower, a landscape, a portrait, and still life composition.

In grade school Judy entered a painting in the National Scholastic Art Contest. Her painting won a gold key and went on to New York, N.Y. Judy has also been awarded scholarships to the Fort Wayne Art School where she learned various techniques. Like Gil, Judy also had a painting sent to Europe by the Red Cross.

AS PRESIDENT of the Honorary Arts Club, Senior Judy Godman is enthusiastic about her art work and hopes to continue it after graduation. In Art 7, Judy is working with oil painting to create an abstract, a flower, a landscape, a portrait, and still life composition.

Remember To Include Town Talk BUTTER-BREAD

Rausch Jeweler

708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

GASS' LADIES SHOP
Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories
Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

7up

"Fresh up"

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspaper

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Allen Purdy Enjoys Competing In Tennis, Playing Instrument

Ability to swing a tennis racket with adeptness and force brought Allen Purdy, junior B, a first place trophy in the Center Tournament. Allen's prowess in this game of speed and precision gave him another first in the Northeastern Indiana Tournament. He was also runner-up in the Jaycees Tournament.

Success on the local tennis courts afforded Allen the opportunity to enter competition in neighboring states. He played in the Northeastern Ohio

Al Purdy

Archer Lassies List Treasured Articles

As the famous saying goes, "A diamond is a girl's best friend." To some girls this may be true, to others false. Most girls have at least one item which they treasure very much. Archer girls have commented about their best friend.

Pat Bohay: A girl's best friend is an economy-size bottle of hair spray.

Marica Anderson: My pillow.

Barrie McCombs: A pair of nylons without a runner.

Susie Weinraub: My hi-fi and radio.

Pam Ashton: A cat (?). Because a dog is man's best friend.

Barb Alfeld: A letter.

Kathy Branning: A rattling comb.

Cheri Craig: Rollers.

Debby Decker: Contact lenses.

Ginny Erwin: Money.

Ruth Russ: Socks that don't get away from me.

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinnie H-2217

DEIHL'S Cities Service

CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.

Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

Home of eatin' treats!

NEW!
HOT FUDGE
ICE CREAM
CAKE!

Next to South Side High
3701 South Calhoun
K-6278
"Order by Phone"

Aggie's BIG BOY

DRIVE-IN RESTAURANTS
Also at 2440 W. Washington Rd. and U.S. 427 at Calif. Rd.

Headquarters For
OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818 CALHOUN ST.

KOEBERS
JEWELERS
SINCE 1925

818 CALHOUN ST.

CHOOSE A CAREER WITH A FUTURE

Science
Engineering
General Education

Regular 4-year program for Bachelor of Science degree completed in 36 months; special engineering degree program in 27.

Five scholarships are awarded annually to seniors in the Fort Wayne high schools. The Scholarship Testing Program of Indiana Colleges and Universities will screen applicants. See your principal for details.

Indiana Technical College

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011 1015 Taylor

This week's Small Snaps is Tonya Hines

7up

"Fresh up"

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspaper

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspaper

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

WHEN DRIVER TRAINING IS A MUST, BUT CLASSROOMS AND SCHEDULES ARE TOO CROWDED . . .

Call INDIANA AUTO DRIVING SCHOOL . . .

- Dual Controlled Training Cars
- Manual or Automatic Transmission
- Professional Instructors
- Convenient Door-to-Door Service
- Individual Instruction

H-3303

Seniors To Review High School Days At 'Impressions' Banquet February 2; Students To Give Skits Of Past Events

Mr. R. Nelson Snider
To Talk; Entertainment
To Consist Of Singing

"Indelible Impressions," the senior banquet, will be February 2 in the cafeteria starting at 6 p.m. Larry Lee, president of the senior class, will be toastmaster.

"Unforgettable Footprints" was chosen as the theme of the decorations which will be carried out by black, white, and gray colors. The decorations will be on the tables, the programs, and on the main decoration behind the speaker's table. These decorations will remind the seniors of the impressions they have made and how they have been influenced.

The meal will consist of swiss steak or fish, mashed potatoes, green beans, roll, salad, pumpkin pie, and coffee or milk. Tickets will be sold for $2 starting tomorrow and ending on Friday. They may be bought from any senior homeroom representative.

The invocation will be presented by Tamara Vyhovsky. Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, will be the speaker. Entertainment will be provided by a review of the past three years. It will be in skit-form. The choir will sing.

Suits or jackets and ties and good dresses will be acceptable clothing at the banquet.

THE GENERAL chairman is Larry Lee. Mrs. Mildred Luse, mathematics teacher; Mr. Samuel Jackson, and Mr. Alfred Hemmer, social studies instructors, are the senior class advisers. The other class officers, Debbie Brooke, Mark Hagerman, Cheryl Summers, Sharon Carrel, and Diane Fredrick are also helping with the preparations.

"Work on our banquet is moving along steadily. The officers and committees are working hard and all indications show that our banquet will be a success," stated Larry.

Ticket chairman is Mark Hagerman who is being assisted by Dave Meek. Cheryl Summers, publicity chairman, is working with her committee which includes Linda Antibus, Marjorie Bloom, Ann Brase, Joyce Cossairt, Sue Johns, Sue Korte, Peggy Lee, Sally Gilbert, Marti Morell, Sally Smart, and Lydia Sutto.

Decorations will be headed by Sharon Carrel. Her committee includes Brenda Arnold, Alice Ashton, Cindy Christman, Liz Ellis, Sue Harrod, Jim Hill, Jane Ladig, Judy Merrill, Lola McLaughlin, Mary Jane Toby, Bill Kleifgen;

TERRY NEWENDORP, Gail Woodruff, Tom Watson, Ron Ehrman, Sue McGinnis, Lane Grile, Barb Spiers, Nancy Nichols, Judy Evans, Marna Reiber, Shari Busch, Mary Keegan, Lois Lerch, Judy Godman, Brenda Dull;

Karen Fine, Kay Carrier, Elaine Edwards, Sue Perry, Janet Davies, Mary Jane Hake, Suzanne Link, and Bob Hendrickson.

The program committee is headed by Cheryl Summers and Debbie Brooke. Their committee consists of Judy Godman, Judy Merrill, Marilyn Cole, Linda Newell, Sally Franklin, and Liz Hostetler.

Diane Fredrick and Mark Hagerman, co-chairmen, are working with Sue Horth on plans for the entertainment for the banquet.

In charge of invitations is Debbie Brooke. Ann Golden, Jenny Manth, Kaylene Gebert, Dian Leath, Diane Hess, Ann Petrie, Bonnie Russell, Judy Hollister, Becky Baughman, Pam Himes, and Gaylene Hilsmer will also assist Debbie.

BIRTH OF THE BANQUET . . . Beginning to discuss decorations for the Senior Banquet are left to right Cheryl Summers and Diane Fredrick, while Larry Lee and Mark Hagerman think of ways to re-arrange the scene. The annual affair will take place in the cafeteria on February 2.—Photo by Jones

Students To Follow Program, Rules Reported For First Day

1. The program for today will be
8:05-8:35 . . . Homeroom 9:55-10:15 . . . 4th period
8:40-9:00 . . . 1st period 10:20-10:40 . . . 5th period
9:05-9:25 . . . 2nd period 10:45-11:05 . . . 6th period
9:30-9:50 . . . 3rd period 11:10-11:30 . . . 7th period
11:35 . . . Second Homeroom period

All Pupils Must Attend Second Homeroom Period!

Announcements of the beginnings and ends of periods will be made by means of the public address system.

2. Program cards are to be taken to the rooms as indicated and are to be signed by the teacher in charge.

3. All program cards must be returned to the teacher in the second homeroom period.

4. a. During the lunch periods, pupils must go to the gym and remain there.

b. During the study period, pupils must go to their seats in the study hall.

c. Gymnasium pupils must report to the physical director's office to have their cards signed.

d. Health teachers will be in the gym during the gym periods. Pupils taking health will have their cards signed by both gym and health teachers.

5. No Program Will Be Changed Unless An Error Has Been Made.

6. During your homeroom period, Fill All Blanks On Program Card.

7. Lockers will be issued during the second homeroom period. These should be secured the first day. None will be issued again until Friday evening of the first week. On Friday, they will be issued in Room 112 from 3:25 to 4 p.m.

8. Pupils who live outside the city limits, or whose parents live outside must bring transfers. These should be in the office by Friday of this week.

9. Pupils who do not have chorus, orchestra, or band on their cards and who want to take one or all of the subjects, should contact the Music Department in Room 40. Periods for these subjects can be arranged only if the pupils have vacant periods at the proper times.

10. Attention of all pupils is called to the method of handling absence excuses. For absence excuses, pupils will report to the Attendance Office. A written excuse, giving the date or dates of absence, the reason, and signed by a parent or guardian must be brought by a pupil after an absence. Admit slips will be issued on presentation of the excuses.

11. Arrangements can readily be made to secure books for those pupils who cannot secure their own at the present time. Students who want help in securing their textbooks should take their lists to Room 104 between 1 and 2 p.m. the first day of the semester.

12. Students who want lockers furnished them are to get permission in Room 104 the second day of the semester. Lockers will be issued in the office on presentation of this approval.

Times Staff To Launch Campaign; Goal For First Day Set At $1,100

Harrison Company To Sponsor Grants For Eight Students

Eight scholarships for deserving Indiana students for use in Indiana colleges and universities will be presented by the Harrison Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Ind.

Providing encouragement and financial assistance to Indiana high school seniors desiring a higher education but lacking sufficient financial resources to continue is the purpose of the scholarship program.

The scholarships are offered to all Indiana high school students without distinction to age, religion, sex, or race. All applicants must have taken the Preliminary Scholarship Aptitude Test and have ranked in the 90th percentile or above in both the verbal and mathematical sections. The students should also rank in the upper 10 percent of their graduating class.

Qualifications of all applicants will be evaluated by a College Scholarship Qualification Board. Of the original applicants, twenty finalists are selected. These finalists are awarded an expense-paid week end in Indianapolis, Ind., to determine the eight winners and four alternates.

During their stay in the capital city, the finalists are treated to a special sight-seeing excursion, sponsored evening entertainment, professional photographs, prizes, and a climax dinner, at which the winners are announced.

Applications for the scholarship must be made by next Wednesday. The completed forms, including a family financial report, completed by the parent, a complete transcript of all high school work, and three letters of commendation from the homeroom teacher, the high school principal or counselor, and a minister, must be in the possession of the director of the College Scholarship Award Program by February 15.

Applications must be made by the applicant personally in a hand-written letter to the director requesting the official College Scholarship Award Application Forms. Correspondence should be forwarded to: Mr. Dee M. Royer, Director, College Scholarship Award Program, Harrison National Life Insurance Company, The Harrison National Life Building, 129 East Market Street, Eleventh Floor, Indianapolis 4, Indiana.

Nine Boys To Serve In DeMolay Offices For Next Semester

Nine Archers were installed as officers of the Fort Wayne Chapter of DeMolay on January 6 at 7:30 p.m. in the Egyptian Room of the Masonic Temple.

The officers for the new term include Alan Haney, master counselor; James Tennant, senior counselor; John Roscoe, junior counselor; Bob Quick, South Side, treasurer; Lyman Wible, scribe; Mike Shirk, senior deacon;

Richard Galbreath, South Side, junior deacon; Dudley Wass, South Side, senior steward; Tom Ice, junior steward; Duane Traster, chaplain; David Flandt, sentinel; Dave Reidenback, South Side, almoner; Paul Boergert, South Side, marshal; Sam Carter, South Side, orator.

Steven Poiry, South Side; Tom Errington; Denny Miller; Mike Kelly; Matt Cornacchione, South Side; Dick McVay; and Larry Bushkill were installed as preceptors.

NOW IS THE TIME . . . Striving for the highest sales record for the Times circulation campaign are seated, Doris Atzeff, left, and Dick Parke, circulation manager. Standing are Roberta Twitchell, Sharyan Yerger, Lane Grile, Liz Weikart, Tom Erb, Sally Sweet, and Sally Adams.—Photo by Seaman

Elaine Snow Represents School In State Betty Crocker Contest

Elaine Snow, post-graduate, has been selected to represent South Side in the state contest in the 1962 Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Elaine achieved the highest score in an examination on homemaking knowledge and attitudes given December 5

City, Washington, D.C., and Colonial Williamsburg, Va.

In Williamsburg the 1962 All American Homemaker of Tomorrow will be named. Her scholarship will be raised to $5,000; and the second, third, and fourth place winners will receive scholarships of $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000, respectively.

The test which Elaine took was prepared by Science Research Associates of Chicago, Ill. Personal observation and interviews will also be used in the national judging.

"I WAS VERY HONORED to be chosen, and hope that I can represent South Side well," stated Elaine.

Miss Pearl Rehorst, head of the Home Economics Department and the adviser who would accompany Elaine on the trip if she were the state winner, said, "I certainly hope Elaine is successful in the state contest; I would just love to go with her to Washington."

Elaine has taken three semesters of home economics. She is a member of Philo and the Service Club. She is active in the Temple Youth Group and B'nai B'rith Girls. In her sophomore year, Elaine was treasurer of BBG, and last year she was vice-president of the organization.

Elaine Snow

to senior girls who wished to take the test. Elaine's test paper has been submitted with other papers of winners in Indiana high schools to choose the State Homemaker of Tomorrow.

The state winner will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, the sponsor of the contest; and the state runner-up will receive a $500 scholarship.

IN ADDITION, The state winner and her school adviser will have an all-expense paid tour of New York

SAT Deadlines Listed

The remaining dates for students to take the Scholastic Aptitude Tests are March 3 and May 19. The final days to apply for these two tests are February 3 and April 21, respectively. After these dates, a fine of $2 must be paid. Interested students should consult Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, in Room 102.

Librarians Choose Heads, Earn Pins

Recently-elected officers of the Library Club are Cindy Christman, president; Dayna Harader, vice-president; Rhonda Roehm, secretary; and Susan McGinnis, point recorder.

Library workers who have recently been awarded their bronze pins for 75 points of service are Brenda Arnold, Mary Barretta, Carolyn Burns, Pamela Buzzard, Dayna Harader, Sandy McCombs, Susan McGinnis, Linda Newell, Harriet Ochstein, and Judy Ruhl.

Silver pin receivers have 150 points are Sarah Barker, Suzanne Berk, Shirley Daves, Pam Orchard, Nancy Robinson, and Joanne Rose.

Two members having 300 points who received gold pins are Kaylene Gebert and Ann Golden. Those receiving pins will officially get their pins on Recognition Day.

Pupils To Buy Paper For $1 Per Semester

Two Highest Agents To Receive Awards Of $3, $2 For Sales

Attempting to reach the goal of $1,100 for the first day, the Times circulation staff is launching its subscription campaign today. The campaign will continue for three weeks, and the first three issues will be distributed without charge to the entire student body and faculty.

Subscription price is $1 for the semester. A student may purchase a subscription by making a down payment of 25 cents. All subscriptions must be paid in full by March 3.

Circulation meetings for all homeroom agents will be at 3:20 p.m. in the study hall each Wednesday during the campaign. Circulation assistants who will direct the agents during the campaign are Liz Weikart, Doris Atzeff, Roberta Twitchell, Tom Erb, Sharyan Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grile, and Sally Sweet.

Awards of $3 and $2 will be presented to the two agents who sell the highest number of subscriptions on the first day.

The homeroom agents and the number of subscriptions each must sell for 100 per cent homerooms are as follows:

Book I—Liz Weikart, head

S-1	Alice Ashton-
	Tamara Beatty	26
S-2	Kaylene Gebert-
	Ann Golden	29
S-4	Sandy Miller-
	Sue Phillips	24
S-5	Sandy Thorn	29
	2 Bonnie Russell	21
	4 Sharyan Yerger	26
	6 Sue Berk	30
	8 Sharon Bitman	29
	10 Joyce Lockwood-
	Becky Baughman	29

Book II—Doris Atzeff, head

12	Joyce Dunlap	32
14	Nancy Stewart	29
22	Cynthia Jackson	27

Times Agents To Meet

Times homeroom agents must attend two circulation meetings which will be conducted Wednesday and January 31 at 3:30 p.m. in the study hall, according to Dick Parke, circulation manager.

24	Babette Jones	29
26	Peggy Schmidt	27
28	Roberta Twitchell	25
30	Terry Newendorp	28
32	Barrie Spear	30
34	Susan Robinson	31
36	Sue Burdick	27
38	Nancy O'Connell	31
40	Gunther Bauer	29
42	Leanna Morris-
	Eileen Mayle	21
52	Karen Simmons	26
54	Diana Ornas-
	Harriet Ochstein	29
56	Doris Hessert	31
58	Susan Lavry	31
60	Larry Brown-
	Sue Borgmann	31
62	Book IV—Tom Erb, head
64	Linda Seibel	22
66	Karen Miller	29
68	Nancy Enz	31
	Suzette Glass	33
	Brenda Dull	21

(Continued on Page 3)

Spring Regional Anthology To Contain Poems By Archers

Pupils Compose Original Works, Get Certificates

Twenty-Three Students
Receive Awards; Four
Have Special Mention

Twenty-three poems written by Archer students have been selected by the National Council of English Teachers to appear in the spring Regional Poetry Anthology. This is the highest number of works ever to be chosen from South Side.

The winning poems were written by Cheryl Summers, Sandra Yaggy, Jeff Roth, Dan McCroskey, Tom Turflinger, Bonnie Russell, Dayna Harader, Sarah Finch, Judith Chapman, James Hill, Kaylene Gebert, Robert Wenger, Ellen Williams, Tom Wright, Susan Perry, and Susan Penland, seniors; David Eaton, junior; Marilyn Fishman, sophomore; and Linda Handy, freshman.

The poems of Dennis Crill, Shirley Davis, Sandra Hadley, and Sandra Thorn, seniors, were given special mention making them eligible for inclusion in the National Anthology printed each summer from the best poems of the various regional anthologies.

The 23 winners are students of Mrs. Evelyn Spray, Mrs. Robert Sosenheimer, Miss Helen Burr, Miss Ann Arber, Miss Lucy Osborne, and Miss Mary Graham, English instructors.

Poems entered in the contest were to be original and written during the school year either as a class assignment or as an outside project. Any subject and poetic form was acceptable with 20 lines being the maximum length for any one poem.

RHYME SCHEMERS . . . Reading a book to obtain ideas for additional poems which might earn prizes in the future are, front row, left to right, Kaylene Gebert, Sue Penland, and Sue Perry, and, back row, left to right, Tom Wright and James Hill. Works of poetry composed by these seniors have been selected as winning entrants for the high school Anthology.—Photo by Jones

Certificates of recognition have been sent to the pupils whose entries were accepted, and each will be recognized on Recognition Day.

Sonnet I
O day of youth, O fair of my boyhood,

Pass not by me, but stay to ease my vow;
Each hour flows by much sooner than it should;
O gorgeous day of youth, please do not go.

For in the spring tide of this life am I,
To live the joy and revelry of sorts,
For which old men of my time do cry.

And seek in the presence of younger courts.

As days pass on I realize this truth:
That age will not go by and leave me young,
But pirate from me my most treasured youth
And close my mind just as a trap
once sprung.

And then upon me my youth sheds
new light,
For this great change shall be like day to night.

—Dave Eaton

Autumn
That age is disguised
In robes of burnished gold
And red, to shake them off revealing Winter.

—Cheryl Summers

Dead But Not Forgotten
When I'm alone I often ask
Just why you act as if you were
A stone, so cold and hard. The mask
Of rock that you put on can blur

PROMISING POETS . . . Proud to be among the 23 Archers whose poems were chosen by the National Council of Teachers of English to be published in the spring issue of the high school Regional Poetry Anthology are, front row, left to right, Linda Handy, Sandra Thorn, and Marilyn Fishman, and, back row, left to right, Jeff Roth, Dan McCroskey, and Tom Turflinger.—Photo by Jones

METER MEASURERS . . . Six students who have also written poems which will be contained in the Anthology are, front row, left to right, Judy Chapman, Dayna Harader, Sarah Finch, and Bonnie Russell, and, back row, left to right, Bob Wenger and Dave Eaton. Winners absent for the picture are Dennis Crill, Shirley Davis, Sandra Hadley, Cheryl Summers, Sandra Yaggy, and Ellen Williams.—Photo by Jones

Your real true self from others' sight
Then those to whom you mean so much.

Who think you want to do what's right,
Who love your presence, vision, touch.

Feel-pain at seeing your pretense
Of cutting coldness, harshness, hate.
To those around it makes no sense,
Your fast-decaying life of late
That you should hurt the one who tried

Befriending you, because he could
Not lock his tender thoughts inside
Is cruel, although you think it good.

—Jeff Roth

Grey Eyes

So bright,
So very gay
They sparkle, in glowing grey—
As if they planned some mischief, Yet
Are kind.

—Sandra Yaggy

(Continued on Page 6)

Dollar Deal, Times, Offers Something For Every Taste

Tillie the Times agent and Eggbert the Economist are at it again! The opening of every new semester marks a fierce verbal battle between the two, as Tillie points out the benefits and pleasures Eggbert will receive by purchasing a subscription to The South Side Times.

Eggbert is informed that the Times is written with him in mind. Each publication is composed of current news articles which keep the reader informed on high school happenings, excellent sports stories which foster his athletic inclinations, features which offer interesting facts about his friends and interests, and editorials which help him to interpret his world.

Moreover, the Times is the best in its field! Not just a second-rate gazette, but a top-rated medalist newspaper that has to its acclaim scores of trophies, plaques, and citations.

The Times is backed by a competent, trained staff. Its members are representative of the student body as a whole, thereby insuring that the publication has something for everyone in it.

The Times will spare no effort to give the reader the best weekly journal possible. Every page of the paper is alive with pictures. Holidays and special occasions are treated with issues equal to their importance in size and content. The reader is given the opportunity to participate in the newspaper by answering polls and submitting holiday greetings. In addition, the Times maintains only the highest publication standards.

Therefore, when Eggbert finally presents his dollar to Tillie he does it with a smile, knowing he is getting the very most for his money. Won't you greet your Times' agent with a smile and a dollar?—By Peggy Schmidt

Start Of Second Semester Gives Students 'Clean Slate'

With the new semester at hand, everyone may consider himself the proud owner of a "clean slate." But this situation is bound to change after the first few days; then it is important to make any marks on the slate good ones.

Seniors know, juniors think, sophomores are finding out, and freshmen by now have an inkling, that one must work from the beginning. To make this semester a successful one, a student must get a good start.

The teacher, of course, is a major factor in any course taken; yet, a pupil often needs to compromise in order to obtain the full benefit of that study. It is also best to find out what work is required by the teacher and his method of conducting class in order to generally adjust to the standards he expects.

At the same time it is not unwise to make certain resolutions and follow them. The most outstanding one would be not to procrastinate. It seems now as though there is plenty of time to go before June rolls around. However, that time approaches steadily; therefore persistent work is necessary in order to be ready for it. If constant preparedness is practiced, there will be no need for homework turned in late or "cramming" for tests; besides, there will be more time left to do more pleasant things.

Another "must" is the ability to control oneself. The temptation to talk, daydream, or be otherwise inattentive is frequently great. To overcome the tendency, one must want to do the right thing and put irrelevant things out of his mind. In this case will power and the power of concentration are useful.

In conclusion, the first days of the semester are vitally important to the student. They serve as a time to become acquainted with his new teachers, the requirements of his courses and fellow classmates.

To make a good start is to lay a firm foundation for the whole semester's work. One should make the best of the beginning days, for their value is long-range when they are used judiciously.—By Janet Dinus

The South Side Times

Founded October 6, 1922

CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International

Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.

Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Second-class postage paid at Fort Wayne, Indiana. Postmaster: Please send address changes to The South Side Times, c/o South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana 46804. Subscription price per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF
General Manager.....Jenny Manth
Managing Editor.....Susan Smith
Copy Editors Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Mallow, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twichell
News Editor Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor Peggy Schmidt
Editorial Editor Bill Wilder
Boys' Sports Editor Stuart Schmitz
Girls' Sports Editor Janice Nahrwald
Make-Up Editors Sue Kelley, Roberta Twichell, Betsy Adams
Picture Editor Betsy Adams
Photographers Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist Leanna Morris
Business Manager.....Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager Sue Moyer
Advertising Manager Pat Bailey
Circulation Manager Dick Parke
Circulation Assistant Nancy Redding
Liaison Officer Lisa Welkart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twichell, Tom Erb, Sharyn Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet, Janet Dinus, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Photos, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Welkart.

MINOR STAFF
News Writers David Flanigan, Ann Flickinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McGeehan, Dick Parke, Nancy Redding, Bonnie Strohlow, Margie Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Bruce, Larry Brown, Pat Conney, Ronnie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Karst, Jan Reynolds, Nancy Robinson, Kelly Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Custance, Karen Franka, Christine Fruehnticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowens, Jan McClain, Sally McClain, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Photos, Judy Rogers, Ruth Russ, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Liz Welkart.
Feature Writers Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strohlow, Debby Draker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suelen Borgmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hozkes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wollman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Susterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Ruessard, Cheri Craig, Dan Schwartz, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann McCallister, Jean Simpson, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lowry, Karen Miller, Marlene Hingenberg, Mary Battista, Jeanne Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Franks, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Liz Welkart, Sue Weinsrub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Harrie McGeehan, Mary Henderson, Carmen Wilson, Sharyn Yerger, Rosalind Wilson, Sally Morris, Mary Bode, Cynthia Duncan, Becky Baughman, Bonnie Russell, Carole Ladle, Gail Brumm, Karen Savelle, Kay Bradley, Jani Springer, Alice Haezger, Mary Schilling.
Editorial Writers Peggy Schmidt, Ann McCallister, Martha Lanning, Rosemary Capps, Christine Fruehnticht, Sally Adams, Mary Beaudway, Cheryl Lee, Betsy Adams, Ellen Stanbery, Sue Horth, Sue Kluehn, Carole Ladle, Paul Mittlestadt, Steve Lowens, Janet Dinus, Kay Bradley, Marytha Hoard, Annel Hoover, Gail Brumm, Alice Haezger, Lynelle Dill, Sue Harrod, Dick Parke.
Copy Readers Kaylene Gehert, Dave Flanigan, Karen Minkin, Christie Coatsman, Honey-K Martindale, Tonya Hines, Doug Hansen, Bonnie Smith, Janet Dinus, Karen Savelle, Margie Terry, Sally Sweet, Leanna Morris, Kathy DeVore, Sarah Finch.

Merrily Musing

Modern Hairdos, Dinners Illustrate Conformity Trends

By Martha Lanning

In this, the great melting pot of TV dinners, bouffant hairdos, driveways, credit cards, and Metrecal, there is a trend that manifests itself increasingly in all modes of life: conformity is "in"; independent thinking is "out."

Everyone must be middle-of-the-road; no one can even express an opinion without being labeled "leftist" or "right-wing," "conservative" or "liberal." It is difficult to get many to reveal themselves pro or con about something, because they are actually afraid of being different! Being an individual isn't in vogue anymore.

This vacillating attitude is extremely common. There are countless instances of it. For example, in the recent election, even in the Hoosier hotbed of staunch Republicanism, how many people "hadn't made up their minds yet?"

Except for a few traditional yuletide recipes, cooking, under the influence of ready-made and frozen foods, has become less creative. Any aspiring adolescent may easily learn the effective way to puff languidly on a cigarette by watching a glamorous, televised blonde demonstrate some. Also, any wrong can become a right—if "Joe" does it. Our would-be collegians, even at South Side are quickly initiated into the ranks by rampant exercises in high school cheating, thus making dishonesty the rule rather than the exception.

NATURALLY, CONFORMITY has developed an opposite extreme. We know advocates of it as "beatniks." Unfortunately for their egos, however, being "beat" itself has almost become a form of conformity. It is a pity that the strong young nation founded by struggling pioneers and hardy frontiersmen long dead has chosen to let the ideals and morals of her forefathers lie dead also.

The invasion of home privacy by television commercials may in a large part be responsible for the trend to conformity in American living. Not even radio advertising could so eloquently portray My Lady gooling her face with some vile lotion; on television you can see it, and none who watches can escape.

GOOD ADVICE TO follow: Smoke a pipe instead of cigarettes; it's more individual. Don't comb your hair 11 inches high as everyone else does; shave your head! Take lessons in yoga or judo to show your lack of devotion to Metrecal and Debby Drake. Don't bother to become a beatnik; that's old stuff. Start a new cult of your own. Seriously, when something controversial appears in the news, don't sit back in an easy chair and loudly proclaim what you "think" or what should be done; do something yourself! Use your intelligence and be "well-read" enough that you don't lack opinions. Be original and enlarge your personal vocabulary instead of reverting to such plebeian and overworked expressions as "sharp," "cool," and "neat."

Above all, remember this: You can best influence people by doing what you know is right.

As juniors we become more energetic, but some of us decide that as upperclassmen we really don't have to yell because the freshmen and sophomores can handle it. Then in our senior year we sit just above the gym floor and are seen by all the students. But instead of taking advantage of this arrangement, we sit like brick walls and feel it beneath our dignity to cheer at the games or pep sessions.

The exceptions to this rule, fortunately, outnumber the examples. The finest example of someone with real school spirit is Larry Lee, President of the Class of 1962. Although I don't know him personally, I have great respect for him. He depicts the type of people South Side needs to show that we think our school is great and aren't afraid to show it. Referring back to the North-South game, it seemed that when our team was falling behind half of the Archer delegation would cheer, while the other half would just watch afraid to show any feeling. Yet the North Siders were cheering whether they were ahead or behind. And even if they hadn't had their female cheer block, I'm sure the fans in the rest of their section could certainly have out yelled us.

So as members of South Side, I hope we will forget these illusions of being undignified if we cheer for our team. And in the remaining games of the year show the team we're behind them all the way.

Sincerely,
Sharon Chase, 11B

Editor's Note
Although the Times concurs with the content of this letter, a slight error must be corrected. Although Mr. Hostetler did an excellent job of conducting the practice song session over the public address system, it was the Times which printed and distributed the song sheets free of charge to every student.

On January 5, Miss Arber went to Boyne Mountain in Michigan to spend the weekend skiing. Mr. Roland Smith, social studies teacher, after entertaining his family during the holidays, went to his cottage at Lake James.

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

"Go, Archers, beat Redskinal! Oh, let's not yell any more. Look at that cute boy over there! Oh, don't you wish the half-time would come so we can get something to eat? Hi, Ann! Look! There are the rest of the kids. Now we won't have to save these seats anymore. My hair got so messy when we ran in. By the way, are we the home team or the visitors?"

Does our little monologue convey its meaning? If not, we'll spell it out for you—our school spirit has been terrible and it's getting even worse. The monologue seems to pertain more to girls than to boys, for the most part, boys do pay attention to the games. However, it seems that they too might be able to yell with the cheerleaders occasionally. Keep up the good work, Hi-Y.

Maybe our team isn't likely to win the state championship this year, but our players are trying to win games, and the least we can do is support them. How can we expect the team to have much incentive to win if we don't? Let's try to remember this maxim: Be enthusiastic—it's contagious.

Congratulations to His Majesty, the King of the Lettermen!

Would you like to be queen for a day? "Yes!" shrieked all fifteen contestants for the Hi-Y Queen of Hearts. Congratulations to the nominees, Sue Kelley, Sally Bash, Sarah Finch, Judy Merrill, Sandy Miller, Susi Phillips,

Letters To The Editor

Editor's Note: The South Side Times welcomes letters from its readers, BUT all letters must have an authorized signature and should be left on the desk of the General Manager in Room 16. Names will be withheld upon request; however, the Times reserves the right to edit all letters submitted.

Dear Miss Manth:

As often as we are reminded, it still seems necessary to point out that South Side has a lack of school spirit among its students.

Attending the North-South basketball game of January 5, I became fully aware of this fact which just two months ago Dr. Lohman had spoken of in a football pep session.

The lack of spirit begins at the pep session and is carried on until the last quarter of the game. Then, a majority of the students come alive; but it's almost too late.

When we come to South Side as freshmen, we sit at the top of the gym and yell as little as possible. This is because we don't know the songs or cheers. However, Mr. Hostetler solved this problem last month by seeing that every student has a copy of the four songs used at every game and pep session. And by listening to our cheerleaders we can pick up most of the chants in a few weeks practice.

As sophomores we begin to put more feeling into it, yet some still lack any enthusiasm.

As juniors we become more energetic, but some of us decide that as upperclassmen we really don't have to yell because the freshmen and sophomores can handle it.

Then in our senior year we sit just above the gym floor and are seen by all the students. But instead of taking advantage of this arrangement, we sit like brick walls and feel it beneath our dignity to cheer at the games or pep sessions.

The exceptions to this rule, fortunately, outnumber the examples. The finest example of someone with real school spirit is Larry Lee, President of the Class of 1962. Although I don't know him personally, I have great respect for him. He depicts the type of people South Side needs to show that we think our school is great and aren't afraid to show it.

Referring back to the North-South game, it seemed that when our team was falling behind half of the Archer delegation would cheer, while the other half would just watch afraid to show any feeling. Yet the North Siders were cheering whether they were ahead or behind. And even if they hadn't had their female cheer block, I'm sure the fans in the rest of their section could certainly have out yelled us.

So as members of South Side, I hope we will forget these illusions of being undignified if we cheer for our team. And in the remaining games of the year show the team we're behind them all the way.

Sincerely,
Sharon Chase, 11B

Editor's Note
Although the Times concurs with the content of this letter, a slight error must be corrected. Although Mr. Hostetler did an excellent job of conducting the practice song session over the public address system, it was the Times which printed and distributed the song sheets free of charge to every student.

Susi Hines, Mary Keegan, Diane Fredrick, Sue Horth, Jane Ladig, Sue Perry, Sharon Carrel, Tamara Vyhovsky, and Judy Evans, and special congrats to the Queen and her court. Why is Susie Smith becoming such an avid hockey fan? Why is she spending Monday evenings at McMillon Park?

1. Kenny Lowden plays for the Rangers.
2. She has a crush on Colin Lister.
3. Babers' furnishes the pucks.

They say that if you really want to have a "hang-up" time at a hockey game, you should go with Sandy Thorn.

Notice: If the person who removed Sharon Eitman's slacks from the home economics room will kindly return them, no further questions will be asked.

Speaking of slacks, Maria Marshall reports that a very close friend (don't worry, Margy Winder, your secret is safe) of hers has a new way of wearing them.

Mothers in the news: Mrs. Max Lee was nominated for Hi-Y Queen of Hearts. Mrs. Charles Harrod, who made the tops of the reserve cheerleaders' outfits early in the season, was duly rewarded with a Christmas corsage from Martha Dixon, Sharon Bass, and Nancy Robinson.

Why were Jane Augspurger and Susie Moyer the only South Side girls at the Mishawaka game?

Welcome back to Barbie Rea! At last we will have all five peppy reserve cheerleaders again.

"This is Your Speech Life, Logan Smith" was presented at Wranglers by Sharyn Yerger, Margie Terry, Kathy DeVore, Debby Decker, and Barb Nelson. Result—Logan was elected president. Congrats!

Charge! Come on! Let's get him! Watch out, Kenny Davis, Cheryl Summers is still trying to fulfill her New Year's resolution to run you down.

Send these boys to camp (Columbia University, that is). Allen Steere, '61, is valiantly seeking donations to help finance a trip for Tom McMahan and Howard Miller. Could it be he's trying to sell a few more South Siders on Columbia?

Two! Two! Is it a pair of birds? Nope, just Sally Sweet and Danny Schwartz tooting their high-powered whistles at each other.

Steve Leitz: Where is the English Channel?

Celeste Riemann: I don't know—we can't get it on our set.

Latest pastime for library service workers: playing "fish" with old five-in-one cards. For the rules, see Betsy Adams or Sandy McCombs.

Here's another quiz for you. Why is the general office so popular for Barb Altevogt and Karen Miller during their lunch periods?

1. They like to talk to Marsha Kluehn.
2. They, like many others, are constantly losing dimes in the coin machine.

Good luck to all the participants in the NISBOVA contests January 27 and February 3.

Maybe Beth Burnett should tie a string around her finger, but then maybe she'd forget why it was there. It seems she was sent to Lehman's for some envelopes; and after buying out the rest of the store, she had to be reminded by the clerk to remember the envelopes.

Say, Carol Peters, where do you live anyway? Bill Branstator who'd just knocked on the doors of every house on a street and then discovered that his failure was due to being on the wrong street!

Attention! all baby sitters! Keep Bill Capp away from little girls in the age group from two to four years. He is very popular with them, and he might steal your job.

Thought for the Day: The greater the obstacle, the more glory in overcoming it.
P.S. Revenge on the Redskins!

Kellys Define Word As Peculiar Disease

Everyday throughout the country the need to increase one's vocabulary is stressed. The following Archers were asked their opinions concerning the definition of the longest word in the dictionary, pneumonoultramicroscopicsilicovocanokionosis.

Binky Beaudway: It's what doctors call the "common cold," with a few complications, of course!

Ann Henderson: A new disease or some kind of an exotic food is my definition of this gigantic word!

Barb Bussard: A disease caused by microscopic dirt particles in the lungs sounds like a good meaning!

Karen Minkin: This word defines a smell coming from the chemistry lab!

Kitty Fay: Surely Webster made up this word!

Marcia Hughes: It just sounds like another Latin word designed to get me more confused!

Judy Rogers: If you really want to know a good definition, "it's Greek to me!"

The meaning of this word is a miner's lung disease.

Apron Strings Untied

Canada Worries About Britain's Involvement In Common Market

By Sandy Thorn

There is a breaking off point for everything, or so it seems. There comes a time in practically everyone's life when one must break away from "mother's apron strings" and face the world. Or, so to speak in the modern world of records, one must turn from "Small Sad Sam" to "Big Bad John"—our neighbor to the north has reached this point.

Canada will be forced to face the other nations in an economic contest. Canada can no longer crawl home to mother Britain and expect sympathy, or even understanding. Mother wants to enter the European Common Market, and young Canada seems to be out of the picture—and even more out of the picture if Britain cuts the apron strings.

It isn't the Canadian-British relationship that is hurting—it is the possible end to Canada's cozy Commonwealth tariff exemptions. Canada is fortunate in having vast natural resources as well as vast land—having only 18 million people in its large area, Canada is considerably underpopulated. A trip through the scenic country further proves this. While Canadian cities resemble any American city, a U.S. visitor not realizing that he has even crossed the border, there is much "wide, open space" presently filled with much greenery, lakes, mines, and few homes. In order to expand, Canada must trade.

CONCERN IS GROWING in Ottawa. Even last fall at a Commonwealth conference in Ghana, a Canadian Cabinet minister warned the British that their Common Market entry "could weaken the Commonwealth to a point where it exists in name only." But, in reality, the Canadians have a right to get worked up—they have a lot to lose.

Canada has yearly sales to Britain of 915 million dollars, and it is estimated that two-thirds of the sales will be seriously affected by Britain's entry into the much-publicized Common Market. And what is the usual response of someone who is down and almost counted out?

~~~~~
Senior Summary
~~~~~

~~~~~
Points Per Prominent Persons
~~~~~

Cheryl Summers . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, one inch . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, broiled swordfish . . . color, turquoise . . . fad, knee socks . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, government . . . pastime, reading . . . activity, class officer . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "Moon River" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Paul Newman . . . book, "Hawaii" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, sprung car doors.

Dave Flanigan . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, eight inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, black . . . fad, beatnik hats . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, listening . . . activity, Hi-Y . . . TV show, "Perry Mason" . . . record, "Avenue C" . . . singer, Jimmy Rushing . . . actor, Ray m o n d Burr . . . book, "For Whom the Bells Tolls" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, social climbers.

Linda Antibus . . . age, 17 . . . hair, light brown . . . eyes, green . . . height, five feet, two inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . fad, furry house slippers . . . sport, golf . . . subject, art . . . pastime, collecting records . . . activity, Assemblies Workshop . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Free Me" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actress, Bette Davis . . . book, "A Summer Place" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, snobs.

Lissa Hoffman . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, four inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, lamb chops . . . color, blue . . . fad, square-toed shoes . . . sport, football . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, knitting . . . activities, Wranglers, Philo . . . TV show, "Twilight Zone" . . . record, "Moon River" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actress, Audrey Hepburn . . . book, "Gone with the Wind" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, slush and mush.

Bill Borgmann . . . age, 17 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, nine inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, beige . . . fad, low-cut shoes . . . sport, basketball . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, messing around . . . activity, Hi-Y . . . TV show, "Surf-Side 6" . . . record, "Cotton Fields" . . . singer, Kingston Trio . . . book, "Ben Hur" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, basketball players who throw their elbows around.

Naturally, one strikes back at someone else—puts the blame on someone else. Canada, as recent as last winter, underwent a recession; and the result was a strong verbal attack against the United States for economic domination.

But it is encouraging to note that Canada isn't sitting back and letting it all happen. The younger generation has become interested; businessmen realize that it is about time for the final curtain call—the days of protective family arrangements are numbered. They are doomed to be recorded in the history books. But there will be a new signal—"lights, action" (this time will mean that the Canadians will have to compete in freer world trade and establish their own markets. In short, get out on their own and think for themselves.

THIS SEEMS TO BE a year for comebacks. "The Twist" returned, Judy Garland hit a new high, and raucous coats became the style. Even in Canada, the Canadians themselves staged a comeback—the Montreal Canadiens returned to first place in the National Hockey League after a year's absence, bowing to the Chicago Blackhawks. Thus, Canada staged a comeback from its recession.

Skyrocketing into 1962 with a gross national product at a record 36.8 billion dollars annual rate, Canada's unemployment has dwindled, a welcome sight to some of last winter's sufferers. It was 11.3 per cent, but is now resting at a more comfortable 5.4 per cent. Steel, automobile, housing, oil, and gas production are all strong. But the winner in increases—foreign trade.

Last year, Canada smothered its imports, and exports gained 7.5 per cent, reaching a 5.8 billion dollar mark—enjoying its first merchandise trade surplus since 1956. Canadian sales to Eastern Europe are up 90 per cent; Latin American, 36 per cent; and Asia, 61 per cent. Canada has gone into the world, made new acquaintances; and as a result, is trading with new partners like Red China. Canada's sales to its number one and two customers, the United States and Britain respectively, are off three per cent. In 1954, Canada ranked as the third trading nation in the world and now ranks in fifth. Previously tagging behind the United States and Britain, Canada now falls behind West Germany and France also.

~~~~~
BRITAIN HAS promised to safeguard Commonwealth interests, but Canada's hopes are turning to the United States and President Kennedy's appeal to Congress to lower U.S. tariffs in order to obtain matching reductions in the Common Market wall.

The Canadian alternative—"If we find it impossible to come to satisfactory terms with the European Economic Community, then we should certainly explore the possibilities of more intimate trade agreements with the United States."

This appears as the better idea for both countries. It seems that, although the time has come for Canada to think for itself, a closer economic friendship between Canada and the United States is desirable. As stated, Canada trades more with the U.S. than Britain, so it seems like time to better the association.

The Common Market, with both its pros and cons, seems to be creating trouble everywhere. It appears as though the world wasn't ready for the economic step. On the other hand, it might prove interesting and good for young and rather dependent nations like Canada. Only time will tell the outcome.

Alumni News

By Annell Hoover

~~~~~
Recently announced was the engagement of Linda Jane Helms, '58, and Ronald Rogers of South Bend, Ind. They plan to be married in the summer.

Engaged are Judy Hauser of Columbia City and Joseph Roth, '59. The wedding will be February 24.

Dick Tipton, '59, was one of several sophomores to receive a varsity letter in sports at Valparaiso University.

The engagements of Suzanne Ehrman, '59, and J. Richard Boeger, '59, has been announced. Suzanne attends Northwestern University, and Richard, Indiana University.

Ens. William Rothert, '57, finished first in a class of 46 which was completing special post-graduate work on a nuclear propulsion course at Mare Island Naval Shipyard in Vallejo, Calif. William is the grandson of Martin Rothert, a former South Side teacher.

Engaged are Mary Johns, '57, and Carl Rinne. Mary is doing graduate work at the University of California.

~~~~~
Recently announced was the engagement of Nancy Pfeiffer, post graduate, and Stephen Jones, '57. Stephen studied at Purdue and is now serving with the Thirty-Second Army Division in Ft. Lewis, Washington.

Sue Burdick To Assume Position Of Junior Editor For 1963 Totem

Draft To Include Idea For Centralized Theme For Next Year's Book

Sue Burdick, junior A, has been named to serve as a junior Totem editor by Mr. James Rohrabugh, publications adviser. Sue is the third of five juniors, Barb Altevogt and Beth Burnett being the first and second, respectively, to be selected to serve as an apprentice under Baba Jones, editor, and Diane Fredrick, associate editor of the 1962 Totem.

Sue's tasks will include learning about the yearbook and submitting a sketch on her proposal for the 1963 Totem. Her duties will in no way be connected with the 1962 Totem.

AFTER THE FIVE chosen juniors have submitted sketches, the 1963 editor will be chosen by Mr. Rohrabugh. The chosen editor will not necessarily be one of the five junior editors or will not be one who compiles the best draft. Students will also be judged on grades, dependability, recommendations of teachers, and previous positions and achievements in the area of publications.

This method of selecting the Totem editor was introduced this year because of the need for increasing the size and volume of the yearbook. Also, the book because of the increase in

Junior, Senior PSAT Scores Place Among Top in Country

Results of the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test taken last October indicated that South Side students rank among the nation's top students. One hundred forty juniors took this test which consisted of verbal and math sections. Of these juniors 46 per cent placed in the top ten per cent, and 79 per cent of all students taking the test placed in the upper quarter. Only 16 per cent placed below the 70 percentile of juniors in the nation who completed in the verbal section.

The average national raw score of junior boys who took the verbal test is 41. Archer boys had an average score of 45.58. South's junior girls have an average of 47.39. The comparable average of female juniors who took the verbal test is 41.

IN THE MATHEMATICAL section 52 per cent of the school's juniors placed in the top ten per cent, and 15 per cent of them placed in the top quarter. Only 20 per cent placed below other juniors who took the test. The average of the boys is 56.04, compared with a national average of 48.

The girls, who placed lower than the boys in the mathematical section, have an average of 47.62. The national average of all female juniors who took the test is 42.

One hundred seventy-two seniors took the PSAT. Of these seniors 31 per cent ranked in the top ten per cent, 64 in the top quarter bracket, and 28 per cent below the 70 percentile of the verbal section.

THE MEAN SCORE in the verbal section of the Kelly boys is 49.02. The national average of male seniors who took the test is 45.

South's senior girls have an average of 48. The national average of seniors who took the test is 45.

In the mathematical section one-third received scores in the top ten per cent of all seniors who took the school enrollment is becoming a large undertaking; and therefore, it is becoming impossible to train an entirely new staff each year.

Sue Burdick

UPON BEING appointed junior Totem editor, Sue said, "I think this new plan of selecting and training junior Totem editors is an excellent one and should produce better yearbooks in the coming years. I am certainly very honored to have been chosen, and I shall do my best to learn the necessary procedures from Habette and Diane."

Sue has previously been a Times room agent, bookhead, news and feature writer, and last semester's circulation manager. She is also a member of Philo, Assemblies Workshop, and choir; the vice-president of the Safety Council; publicity chairman for the Allen County Teenage Safety Council; and secretary of her church's youth group, Westminster Fellowship, at the First Presbyterian Church.

Preparing for a college background, Sue is on the college preparatory course and is taking English 6, United States History 2, French 2, Physics 2, and choir. In college, she plans to major in journalism, social work, or physical therapy at Hanover College, or Blackburn College, or the University of Missouri.

Monday, January 22

Beginning of second semester

Beginning of Times Campaign

Tuesday, January 23

Camera Club, Room 70, 3:30 p.m.

Know-Your-City Club, Room 110, 3:30 p.m.

Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

Societas Latina, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Astronomy Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, January 24

Vesta Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Designers' Associated, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.

Honorary Arts, Room 61, 3:30 p.m.

Astro-Physics Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Chemistry Section, Room 4, 3:30 p.m.

Times' Agents Meeting, Study Hall, 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, January 25

Safety Council, Room 178, 3:30 p.m.

Y-Teens, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Friday, January 26

GAA Volleyball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Youth For Christ, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Pep Session, gym, 8:25 a.m.

Basketball, North Side, here (played at North Side)

Saturday, January 27

Basketball, Goshen, there

Monday, January 29

Philo, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Boys' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

GAA Volleyball, Girls' Gym, 3:30 p.m.

Hi-Y, YMCA, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, January 30

Meriters, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Girls' Rifle Club, Range, 3:30 p.m.

Electronics Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, January 31

Art Club, Room 26, 3:30 p.m.

Red Cross Club, Room 112, 3:30 p.m.

Designers' Associated, Room 120, 3:30 p.m.

Physics Section, Room 96, 3:30 p.m.

Times' Agents meeting, Study Hall, 3:30 p.m.

South Side Violates Five Driving Laws

Seventeen traffic violations have been committed by high school students during the month of December, according to Officer Robert Waldrop, high school liaison officer.

Of these 17 violations, South Side and Central Catholic had the highest totals, with five violations each. North Side received four violations; Bishop Luers, two; Central, one; and Elmhurst and Concordia received no violations.

Six violations involved speeding. Of these six violations, South Side students made two; Bishop Luers, one; and Central Catholic, one.

South Side received one of the two violations for reckless driving. The other violator was from Central Catholic. South Side was also involved in one of three violations for inadequate equipment. In addition, North Side and Central each received a violation of this type.

An Archer and a Redskin each committed one failure to yield the right-of-way. One Central student and one Central Catholic student were charged with improper registration.

One student from Bishop Luers and one from Central Catholic received violations for running a stop sign or stop signal. There were no violations for failure to have an operator's license during the month of December.

Established 1876

KLAHN
FUNERAL HOME

Ambulance Service

420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0223

Opening Day Book List Relates Rental, Sale Prices To Students

In order that classroom operations for the first day of the semester will run smoothly, Archer students are asked to provide correct change for their book rental fees whenever possible.

To simplify the task of renting and purchasing textbooks, students are provided with the book rental price list. To rent texts, each student will receive a book rental card during the first homeroom period from his homeroom teacher, in return for a dollar rental fee.

The student rents his text in each class, where he is required to have the instructor of the class sign the book rental card as the book is rented. The card should then be returned to the homeroom teacher during the second homeroom period.

Students who wish to purchase their books may obtain new copies from Mrs. Jack Weicker, secretary, in the book store at the south end of the gym.

Students will be fined for book damage at the end of the year.

Rental fees are:

| Book                           | English | Rental | Sale |
|--------------------------------|---------|--------|------|
| Building Better English 9...   | 38      | 3.02   |      |
| Building Better English 10...  | 38      | 3.02   |      |
| Enjoying English 11...         | 37      | 2.95   |      |
| Guide to Modern English...     | 40      | 3.13   |      |
| Warner's Eng. Grammar...       | 36      | 2.81   |      |
| Adv. for Americans...          | 49      | 3.92   |      |
| Adv. in American Lit...        | 51      | 4.07   |      |
| Adv. in English Lit...         | 52      | 4.10   |      |
| Adventures in Living...        | 45      | 3.56   |      |
| Adv. in Modern Lit...          | 49      | 3.92   |      |
| Adventures in Reading...       | 45      | 3.56   |      |
| Adventures for Today...        | 45      | 3.56   |      |
| Exploring Life Through Lit...  | 46      | 3.64   |      |
| Good Times Through Lit...      | 44      | 3.49   |      |
| Prose and Poetry for App...    | 48      | 3.78   |      |
| Prose and Poetry of Amer...    | 49      | 3.92   |      |
| Read. in Contemporary Lit...   | 56      | 4.50   |      |
| Essays and Drama...            | 30      | 1.50   |      |
| Fiction and Poetry...          | 30      | 1.50   |      |
| Hie to the Hunters...          | 50      | 2.02   |      |
| Jane Eyre...                   | 34      | 1.36   |      |
| Jonathan Goes West...          | 58      | 2.30   |      |
| Les Miserables...              | 54      | 2.16   |      |
| Odyssey of Homer...            | 54      | 2.16   |      |
| Ramona...                      | 94      | 3.75   |      |
| Scarlet Pimpernel...           | 84      | 3.36   |      |
| T Model Tommy...               | 46      | 1.80   |      |
| Johnny Tremain...              | 48      | 1.94   |      |
| The Virginian...               | 58      | 2.30   |      |
| The New American Speech...     | 43      | 2.42   |      |
| Contrasts, Idea, and Tech...   | 100     | 4.00   |      |
| English Sentence, Null...      | 50      |        |      |
| Thread That Runs So True...    | 86      | 2.43   |      |
| Health                         |         |        |      |
| Your Health and Safety...      | 45      | 3.56   |      |
| Science                        |         |        |      |
| Modern Chemistry...            | 63      | 5.04   |      |
| Modern Biology...              | 55      | 4.39   |      |
| Modern Physical Science...     | 47      | 3.74   |      |
| Earth and Its Resources...     | 70      | 5.58   |      |
| Botany...                      | 97      | 7.75   |      |
| Physics...                     | 62      | 4.93   |      |
| Physics Lab Book...            | 30      | 1.23   |      |
| Modern Physics...              | 54      | 2.28   |      |
| Home Economics                 |         |        |      |
| Clothing Const. & Ward. Pl...  | 47      | 3.77   |      |
| Experiences With Food...       | 52      | 4.14   |      |
| Manage for Better Living...    | 45      | 3.60   |      |
| Languages                      |         |        |      |
| First Year Latin...            | 49      | 3.85   |      |
| Second Year Latin...           | 55      | 4.25   |      |
| Third Year Latin...            | 58      | 4.61   |      |
| Aeneid of Vergil...            | 52      | 4.14   |      |
| Latin Grammar...               | 10      | 5.0    |      |
| Latin 4 Pamphlet...            | 45      | 3.53   |      |
| Le Francois, Book 1...         | 52      | 4.14   |      |
| A New French Reader...         | 58      | 2.34   |      |
| Premiere Etape...              | 32      | 2.50   |      |
| El Camino Real, Book 1...      | 48      | 3.78   |      |
| El Camino Real, Book 2...      | 49      | 3.58   |      |
| Mathematics                    |         |        |      |
| General Mathematics...         | 41      | 3.24   |      |
| Algebra, First Course...       | 45      | 3.56   |      |
| Algebra, Second Course...      | 36      | 3.67   |      |
| New Plane Geometry...          | 47      | 3.74   |      |
| New Solid Geometry...          | 43      | 3.42   |      |
| College Algebra...             | 142     | 5.71   |      |
| Trigonometry With Tables...    | 96      | 3.78   |      |
| Analytic Geometry...           | 102     | 4.08   |      |
| Social Studies                 |         |        |      |
| Civics...                      | 54      | 4.32   |      |
| Our American Economy...        | 49      | 3.92   |      |
| History of a Free People...    | 60      | 4.79   |      |
| History of Our World...        | 63      | 5.04   |      |
| High School Sociology...       | 50      | 3.96   |      |
| Our American Government...     | 53      | 4.14   |      |
| Story of Our Country...        | 47      | 3.74   |      |
| Commercial                     |         |        |      |
| Gregg Transcription...         | 70      | 2.81   |      |
| Gregg Shorthand Manual...      | 62      | 2.45   |      |
| Gregg Speed Building...        | 70      | 2.81   |      |
| Gregg Dictation Simplified...  | 72      | 2.84   |      |
| Most Used Sh. Words, Phra...   | 86      |        |      |
| Consumer Econ. Prob. G-16...   | 36      | 2.88   |      |
| Fundamentals of Selling...     | 35      | 2.81   |      |
| Econ. Geography G-89...        | 42      | 3.35   |      |
| Econ. Geog. Workbook G891...   | 90      |        |      |
| General Business G-10...       | 36      | 2.88   |      |
| Gen. Bus. Workbook G-101...    | 79      |        |      |
| Gen. Bus. Workbook G-102...    | 79      |        |      |
| Effective Bus. Eng. E-15...    | 68      | 2.70   |      |
| Business Prin. and Mt. G-24... | 36      | 2.81   |      |
| Business Law L-78...           | 32      | 2.52   |      |
| Bus. Law Workbook L-781...     | 79      |        |      |
| Typewriting Prac. Set E-83...  | 187     |        |      |
| Book. Texts, 1st Year, E-83... | 32      | 2.52   |      |
| Book. Texts, Adv. B-68...      | 36      | 2.88   |      |
| Book. Working Papers B-682...  | 97      |        |      |
| Book. Workbook B-611...        | 72      |        |      |
| Book. Gro. Sets B-613...       | 75      |        |      |
| Business Workbooks B-641...    | 61      |        |      |
| 20th Cen. Typing, Com. T-50... | 35      | 2.81   |      |
| Clerical Office Practice...    | 62      | 2.45   |      |

In addition, students will pay the following fees:

English—7x pupils, 45 cents per semester.

Social Studies—9B, 10B, 11B, 11A, 12B, 12A, 25 cents per semester.

Business—Secretarial Practice, 25 cents per semester; Clerical Practice, 25 cents per semester.

Industrial Arts—All Students, 50 cents per semester.

Home Economics—All students, 50 cents per semester.

Art—All students, 50 cents per semester.

During the past two weeks, information about several scholarships has been received by Mr. Jack Weicker, senior guidance counselor. Scholarship offers ranging from honorary to full payment of college expenses have been received from DePauw University, Hillsdale College, Wittenberg University, and the National College of Education.

DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind., has sent offers of 136 scholarships. These include 100 Edward Rector Scholarships for men paying up to $1,000 a year for four years, two General Moten scholarships for men or women paying from $200 to payment of full college expenses for four years, ten McMahan scholarships for women paying up to $3,200 for four years, and five National Methodist scholarships for Methodist men and women paying $500 for two years.

Also offered by DePauw are ten President's Music scholarships for men and women enrolling in the School of Music paying up to $800 on tuition the first year, one Procter and Gamble scholarship for a man or woman paying about $1,225 a year for four years, and ten miscellaneous scholarships paying up to $1,000 a year. To be eligible for these awards, applicants must be in the upper ten per cent of their class, though those entering the Schools of Music or Nursing may be in the upper third.

Hillsdale College of Hillsdale, Mich., offers four Leadership Awards to incoming freshmen. The stipend is $1,000 payable in the amount of $125 per semester toward tuition costs. The applicant must have attained at least a B average during his four years of high school and demonstrated leadership qualities within and beyond high school.

The School of Music, Wittenberg University, Springfield, O., has announced scholarship auditions for instrumentalists and vocalists at 1 p.m., February 10, at the School of Music. Aida Atwell-Smith Music Scholarships and Springfield Symphony Orchestra Scholarships will be awarded. The National College of Education, Evanston, Ill., offers two $3,600 scholarships to present high school seniors interested in teaching in the elementary grades. To qualify, the applicant must rank in the upper quarter of his graduating class, show intent to enter the elementary teaching profession, and obtain the recommendation of his high school principal or senior adviser.

The annual competitive examination will be given on campus March 10, 1962. Other scholarships and grants-in-aid are available in amounts up to $600 a year.

Additional information about these and other scholarships is available in Mr. Weicker's office, Room 104.

Students To Claim Misplaced Articles

Miss Pauline Van Gorder, dean of girls, has requested that students report their lost and found articles in Room 104.

"My pet peeve," stated Miss Van Gorder, "are students who don't label their belongings or don't come to see me about their lost articles. Our biggest problem is carelessness."

The articles most frequently lost or found are notebooks, textbooks, jackets, sweaters, gloves, and jewelry of all types. Glasses of all sizes and shapes have been turned in, but have not been claimed.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Did You Know

Sue Sales

Eats at Ab's?

Ab's Drive-In

Clinton and Rudisill
11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Even if you are on the right track, you'll get run over if you just sit there.

3720 South Calhoun St.

Sandra Yaggy Writes Score; Pupils Play For Music Guild

'MORNING' MUSICIANS... Rehearsing a number for the Junior Morning Musical Recital tonight are Pam Walker, Barb Nelson, Doris Atzeff, and Fran Krandlell, with Sandra Yaggy directing. They are members of the Student Music Guild, an organization of high school students interested in music.—Photo by Jones

The annual recital of the Student Music Guild will be tonight at 7:30 p.m., in the auditorium of the Fort Wayne Art School. The Music Guild is affiliated with the State and National Federations of Music Clubs, the National Federation being the largest organization of its kind in the country.

Featured in the recital will be the guild orchestra, which will play a composition written by Sandra Yaggy, South Side senior, and directed by Mr. Loren Yaggy. The Guild orchestra is made up of high school students from the various city schools.

SOUTH SIDE STUDENTS who will play in the orchestra are Rosemary Capps, violin; Doris Atzeff and Carol Lake, viola; Fran Krandlell, Barbara Nelson, and Bonnie Smith, cello; Pam Walker, bass; Sally Boyer, flute; Donna Squires, clarinet; Tom McMahon, French horn; and Allen Purdy, trumpet.

The orchestra, consisting of 25 members, started rehearsing last summer. Sandra's composition consists of four cryptograms, whose tempo change from Moderato in the first to Tranquillo and Andante non troppo in the second and third and, finally, to Presto vivo in the fourth.

A cryptogram is a symbolic figure or representation having a hidden significance. Each of Sandra's cryptograms has a hidden meaning that represents different personalities.

IN ADDITION to the orchestral performance, there will be piano solos by the various Guild members. Included among the soloists of the evening will be the following Archers: Carol Shedron, "Scherzo" by Mendelssohn; Bill Mueller, "Rhapsody"

Seniors To Give Talks

Kerry Nidlinger and Lyall Morrill, seniors, will speak at the meeting of the chemistry section of the Junior Academy of Science Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 4. This section is headed by Frank Lewis, senior, and Mr. Robert Davis, sponsor.

Plaza Beauty Salon
H-6298
Open Evenings Till 9
Southgate

Plaza Beauty Salon

H-6298

Open Evenings Till 9

Southgate

FRUIT JUICES AND PUNCHES—Delivery Service—Bowls, Ladles & Cups Without Charge

HOME JUICES
1816 Riedmiller E-6483

Hall's Drive-Ins

DESIGN/ART PHOTOGRAPHY OFFSET PLATES LETTERPRESS PLATES ELECTROS DIES, MATS, STEREOS

EMPRASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems, at no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Fort Wayne Engraving Co., Inc.

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET

TELEPHONE E

Bengals Top South In 43-40 Game To Tie With Irish In City Series, Green Hands Knights 79-61 Defeat

Central Tiger Coach Herb Banet's generosity nearly cost him a ball game last Wednesday night, but his classy first string outshot, out-rebounded, and generally overpowered the hapless South Side Archers to pull out a 43-40 victory.

It was the 107th meeting of the two arch-rivals of the courts and Central's 52nd victory. The Archers have claimed 55 of the contests and 13 of the last 17 games. It turned out to be an exciting game, typical of the thrillers that these schools have produced for years.

It appears that only Coach Banet's desire to play all his boys, a practice which has become a regular routine with him rather than to have a good game, prevented the Tigers from mopping up the floor with Kellys, in the first half.

AFTER THE BENGALS jumped to an 11-point advantage in the first quarter, Coach Banet put in an entire new squad for the second period. After the Archers had narrowed the gap to two points at half-time, the first-stringers traipsed back into the game to keep the Green at bay.

High-point man for the night, and undoubtedly the most impressive player on the floor all night, was 6-4 Rodney Haywood of Central. He was followed by a balanced scoring punch in an Archer trio—Ken Leakey with 12, Gary Probst with 11, and Dale Hilsmer with 10. Second high for the Tigers was leaping Cletus Edmonds, collecting eight.

The first quarter was a combination of a frustrating lack of rebounding and shooting accuracy on the Bowmen's part and a remarkable abundance of both on the behalf of the Bengals. The Archers picked off just one offensive rebound in the entire first eight minutes of play. They also cashed in just three of 10 shots from the field and one of three from the charity stripe.

CENTRAL HIT SEVEN of their first 19 shots and had no trouble in flipping in four points in four tries from the foul line, tearing off to an 18-7 lead at the end of the first period.

Probst got three points and Platupe and Hilsmer each turned in two in the first stanza in a futile attempt to offset Haywood's six, Edmonds' six, Sam Kelsey's four, and Larry Kuhn's two.

For the first four minutes of play of the second quarter, South and Central traded bucket for bucket, neither picking up any ground. Probst got four points early in the period and Ken Leakey hit for two to negate three Tiger baskets.

Then Shepard Jefferson fought his way under the boards and, with Probst and Hilsmer, managed to reclaim some of Kelly's lost rebounding prestige. Hilsmer converted a lay-up, Leakey swished two shots from out, and Jefferson picked up three tallies. All this action brought the score up to 24-22 in favor of Central at half-time.

THE BOWMEN CAME roaring out of the locker room after the intermission, fired up enough to tackle Tigers; and they did. The third period was raggedly played.

Probst and Hilsmer continued to put up a fine fight under the boards with the help of Jefferson, and each contributed four points to the Kelly cause in this quarter. Leakey got the only other points for South on two free throws, giving South a total of four conversions out of 13 attempts from the foul line for the contest. Central hit on 9 of 14.

Haywood got just four points in the third stanza, and the Bengals collected just six altogether to account for the 32-30 count in favor of the Green going into the fourth period.

In one minute of play Central had forged into a 34-32 lead. Leakey came right back with two quick buckets to give the Archers a 36-34 lead with over five minutes to play. Then, in spite of South's sticky man-to-man defense, the one-man wrecking crew, Rod Haywood, dumped in six points in one and one-half minutes. With 3:07 left, Central had a 40-36 lead and was not to be headed again.

HILSMER HIT FROM close-in after long maneuvering to get the ball in play and Bob Lohman, for the second week in a row, stole the ball in an aggressive, head-up play and connected to tie the score 40-40.

With just a minute to play Haywood dunked another two-pointer to ice it for Central. Actually, South had the ball at least twice more but couldn't score. The Archers worked the ball for 30 seconds to set up a shot, only to lose the ball. Gary Probst, in order to get the ball; fouled Sam Kelsey with 14 seconds left, but Kelsey hit one of two tries and the Archers once again failed and fell.

South ended the evening with 18 from the field, or a 286 per centage, a far cry from the .504 of the Luers game. Central shot a little better, just 17 of 54, or .414.

SLICK'S
H-3232

Who Legends
Shirts Best?

CARRIAGE INN

3717 S. Clinton St.

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Game:
MUSKEGON ZEPHYRS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Wednesday, January 31
8:00 p.m.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School
Students
50c

Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

Designers Finish Plans

Designers' Associated will meet January 24 at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120. At this meeting a film, "Meeting the Challenge," concerning the contest will be shown.

STEPHENSON DRUG STORE
1101 East Pontiac, Corner Smith
Phone H-1297

Remember To Include Town Talk BUTTER BREAD
— your shopping list —

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

Also Electrolysis

617 W. Foster Pkwy.
Ft. Wayne, Ind.
K-3305

7up

"Fresh up"

A much-improved Archer basketball team scored a decisive victory over a sharp Bishop Luers quintet on January 12 in the home gym. Led by senior guard Mart Platupe, who dropped in 22 points for the Archer cause, and Gary Probst and Ken Leakey who hit for 18 and 20 points, respectively, the team hit for 57 per cent of their total shots. Dale Hilsmer was held to 14 tallies, but he along with Probst and Bob Lohman brought South's share of the rebounds off the boards.

The Archers' ball handling looked greatly improved, although they led the game in errors as well as points. South racked up 13 errors to Luers' ten. The Kellys' many errors in previous games have been very poor passing which resulted in stolen balls; however, the mistakes in this game were lesser ones, and they were compensated for or corrected almost immediately.

South's accuracy started almost on the opening tip. The Archers jumped to an eight-point lead in the first few minutes of play. Luers pulled to within one point of the Green late in the first quarter in a four-point play by Bishop Luers' Tom Blasing. The Archers potted another to end the first quarter with South in the lead, 20-17. Leakey and Probst looked especially good from outside during this quarter, as did Hilsmer on the inside. Luers matched the Archer threats as Still and Blasing worked well together.

THE SECOND PERIOD was fairly even as Mart Platupe entered the game, and started his slow addition of points. The scoring went exactly the same as in the first quarter, as the Archers marked up 20 to Luers' 17. Platupe accounted for ten of these second-period markers to climax the first half with South building a lead of 40-34.

At the start of the second half both teams seemed to have cooled off noticeably. The Archer fans were particularly worried as similar stories have been seen this year in which the Kelly five tired in the final quarters of a game. This, however, was not to be the story as South caught fire again in the third quarter. Luers could not seem to muster up enough points as South started to increase its lead and began to put Luers in a serious hole. The Archers held the Knights by 11 points, 66-45, at the beginning of the fourth and final stanza.

South stayed in the lead the rest of the way out, and the closest Luers could get was six points as the Green kept burning the nets. Leakey was particularly lethal from outside in this period, as was Platupe. With a large lead both coaches started to substitute freely. South closed out the quarter and the game with an 18-point topping for their fourth victory in 12 games, 79-61; one of the highest point totals reached in some time by South.

FOUR PLAYERS contributed all but five points for the Archer cause; Mart Platupe made 22 (undoubtedly a pleasant surprise for Coach Don Reichert); Ken Leakey, 20; Gary Probst, 18; and Dale Hilsmer, 14. Tom McMahan and Bob Lohman contributed three and two points, respectively.

South hit for 57 per cent of their total shots while Luers managed a fair 33 per cent. Shooting was not the Archers' most improved field, as ball handling improved amazingly.

Jim Still, Tom Alt, and Tom Blasing all looked good for Luers. The Knights were undoubtedly hurt by the loss of their regular starting forwards, Steve Swanson and Jim Snyder. Swanson will be out for some time with a broken arm suffered in the Monmouth game, and Snyder will be back after absence because of family illness.

All in all the Archer team looks as if it will shape up a bit ahead of the predicted Sectional time and show some tough future competitors a hard fight.

Auto Collision Service
H. JEWETT, Prop.
5208 S. Hanna H-0691

REIFF PHARMACY

Complete
Prescription Service

Fairfield at DeWald H-1251
Lafayette at McKinzie H-2247

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

Martin Platupe Assists Quintet In Rebounding

Proving to be a great asset to the vastly improving Archers is forward Mart Platupe, senior. Mart, in his second year of varsity play, has been a great asset to Coach Don Reichert's squad, and has been partly instrumental in getting the Archers back to the victory trail.

After a somewhat mediocre start this season, Mart has really come to life in recent games and has sparked South's offensive attack. In the Bishop Luers game on January 12, Mart stripped the nets ten out of 17 times from the field and hit two of five shots from the foul stripe for a game high of 22 points, his best output of the campaign to that date.

The 6-1, 170-pound forward saw varsity action as a sophomore and performed well enough to make the Sectional 12. Mart bowed out of basketball in his junior year but came back this season with tremendous success.

Before entering South, Mart participated in baseball and basketball at James Smart School. As a freshman, Mart began to show his promising talents on both the football and basketball squads. During the past grid season, Mart saw considerable action in the fullback position and performed notably well on defense.

Mart feels that the City Series battle is still an open chase despite the fact that C. C. has a slight lead over North and Central. Although South is practically out of contention in the title race, Mart feels that the Archers might very well be spoilers in their remaining series contests.

When asked of South's chances in the up-and-coming Sectional Tournament, which starts on February 21, Mart predicted that South will be a real tough club if they overcome some of their early season problems which are still prevalent.

Mart Platupe

Senior Squad Beats Two GAA Opponents

In Upperclass GAA volleyball tilts on January 8, the Seniors ousted Team 1, 30-18; Team 3 lost to the Juniors, 34-20; and Team 2 and Team 4 tied at 18-18. In the second round, Team 2 was victorious over Team 1, 23-17; Team 4 defeated Team 3, 30-11; and the Juniors lost to the Seniors by one point, 18-17.

Players obtaining points at the 3:30 p.m. games are Jean Hatfield, Ann Hechler, Sandy Heidbrink, Sue Johns, Virginia Kachiamenis, Linda Moody, Jenny Slater, Seniors; Pat Abbott, Jo Elynn Good, Loretta Kimmel, Judy Koop, Karen Plothe, Virginia Rose, Toni Sorensen, Jane Whitenach, Juniors;

Cheri Davis, Vivian Hedstrom, Beth Randall, Barbara Shadle, Margaret Shirley, Jean Symonds, Carol Uhrick, Susan Robinson, Team 4; Sue Eversman, Janelle Jacks, Cindy Koch, Vicki Palmer, Judy Preston, Cheryl Spangle, Team 3; Nancy Beard, Joleen Crumrine, Cindy Duncan, Jane Hahn, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, Judy Zimmers, Team 2.

Second-round scorers are Anita Downing, Jean Ferris, Jean Hoelle, Roberta Hofherr, and Sharon Karst, Team 1; Nancy Beard, Joleen Crumrine, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, and Judy Zimmers, Team 2; Janelle Jacks, Lois Palmer, Pudy Preston, and Cheryl Spangle, Team 3; Judy Davis, Vivian Hedstrom, Beth Randall, Barbara Shadle, Margaret Shirley, Jean Symonds, Carol Uhrick, and Nan Wallace, Team 4; Pat Abbott, Judy Koop, Mary Marker, Karen Plothe, and Virginia Rose, Juniors; Ann Hechler, Sandy Heidbrink, Sue Johns, Virginia Kachiamenis, Linda Moody, and Sandy Russell, seniors.

Rausch JEWELER

708 S. CLINTON ST.

Cardone's Pizza

"To Be Imitated Is Our Finest Compliment"

2020 Fairfield H-8974
CARRY OUTS

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield H-6141

'PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT'... Gary Probst, left, and Shepard Jefferson are practicing various techniques to be used against North Side, Friday. Hoping for revenge, Coach Don Reichert is "pepping" up the team for the big City Series game.—Photo by Seaman

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

Night league basketball is narrowing down to the final games and the underclass chess tourney is in its finals.

The Kentucky Four, sparked by Mark Hagerman, moved into the finals of night league basketball by shading the Ying Yangs, 37-33. The Kentucky Four is now the only undefeated team. Mark Hagerman broke loose for 16 points; and Bart Bailey potted six points. Only four men scored for the Ying Yangs, with Bill Ausderan getting ten points, Bob Wasson, nine; Larry Barnett, eight; and Nate Norment six.

In the loser's division of night league basketball, the Moles ran roughshod over the Crunchers, winning 65-24. Evert Mol and Chuck Hohman turned in brilliant performances, getting 23 and 21 points, respectively. John McMillen also chipped in with 11 points as the Moles completely dominated the game. Dave Moody paced the Crunchers with nine points.

The Champs then routed the BGWST's to the score of 65-20. The Champs placed four men in double figures with Dave Haship getting 10 points; Jerry Boyer, 16; Gary Tinkel, 13; and Larry Hinderer, 11. Jim Wolfe led the BGWST's with six points.

The Chideables then turned back Excelsiors, 41-35. Frank Lewis led the victors with 14 points and both Ken Lowden and Vistor Lewandowski chipped in with eight points. Dave Reidenbach paced the Excelsiors with 12 points and Tim Grodrian also pitched in nine points. Thus, the only teams still not eliminated are the Kentucky Four, Chideables, Ying Yangs, Champs, Flyin' Tigers, and the Moles.

In the first all-star game, the Mill-builders trounced the All-Stars, 41-9. An incredible defense and the scoring of Jan Doran led the lightweight champs to their victory. Doran hit for 17 points and Ron Heathman and Jim Watson chipped in with eight points apiece. Other members of the Millbuilders are Don Carlo with five points and Mike Beltz with four. Jerry Dunlap led the All-Stars with four points.

In the annual chess tourney, with the upperclass division already decided, Brad Zeig and Dick Astrom have moved into the

LAUNDRY

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON WEEKDAYS

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For
HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield H-6141

Frosh Cagers Bow To Central's Squad By Score Of 49-30

Snapping a two-game win streak, South Side's freshman basketball team bowed to Central's Tigers at Central's gymnasium on January 11, by a score of 49-30.

The score was close until Central introduced a full-court press that completely stymied high-scoring guard Jan Doran and goaded the whole squad into committing 20 ball-handling errors.

The Tigers outdid the Green in almost every department, beginning with their press in the second quarter. Barnett, the Bengals' 6-4 center, pulled down numerous rebounds besides scoring 14 points. A flashy forward, Whitt, topped both teams in scoring with 19 of his team's 49 points.

High scorers for South were Mike Vogt with nine and Ron Van Ryn with eight.

Following is a summary of the game:

| Player         | G  | F | T  |
|----------------|----|---|----|
| Chip Bolman    | 1  | 0 | 2  |
| Mike Vogt      | 3  | 3 | 9  |
| Dan Junk       | 1  | 0 | 2  |
| Dave Fishbaugh | 2  | 2 | 6  |
| Jan Doran      | 0  | 3 | 3  |
| Ron Van Ryn    | 4  | 0 | 8  |
| Steve Butz     | 0  | 0 | 0  |
| Totals         | 11 | 8 | 30 |

Frosh GAA Teams End Cage Tourney

As the freshman GAA basketball tournament ended on December 15 at 3:30 p.m. in the girls' gym, Teams 1, 3, and 6 tied for first place with four victories each. Team 5 won once and tied once; Team 2 won once; and Team 4 tied once.

In the first round on the final day, Team 1 trounced Team 3, 22-7. Marcelle Flandrois scored eight points; Candy Greiner, two; Diane Nordblom, two; and Bonnie Post, ten, for Team 1. Sharon LeFever, Sharon Lynch, and Suzette Glass each scored two points; and Linda Thornburg scored one for Team 3.

Team 4 lost to Team 2, 17-0. Lynette Downing scored five points; Nita Quinn, 11; and Jo Richter, one. Team 6 whipped Team 5, 11-0. Alice Fruechtenicht scored nine points, and Janet Miller scored two for Team 6.

In the second round, Team 1 won over Team 2, 15-1. Marcelle Flandrois, Diane Nordblom, and Bonnie Post each compiled five points for Team 1. Jo Richter of Team 2 made a free-shot for her team's only point. Team 3 topped Team 6, 6-3. Linda Thornburg scored four points, and Lydia Budowski made two for Team 3. Alice Fruechtenicht, Leslie Froebe, and Sally Henderson each scored a point for Team 6.

Because of brilliant defensive play, the game between Teams 4 and 5 ended in a 0-0 tie. Mary Marker, Judy Koop, Marsha Good, and Janice McClain kept score and refereed the games.

Mary Ann's BEAUTY SHOP

Evening Appointments
4236 S. Calhoun St. Phone H-6129
BETTE HABIG, Owner

International Motor Trucks

Trucks—Service—Parts—Accessories

International Harvester Co.
333 S. Clinton A-8411

Lowrey Organs Kimball Pianos Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

STEIGERWALD CATERERS, Inc.

Private and Industrial Catering

Phil A. Steigerwald Res. K-1188 4235 Fairfield Bus. H-9661

Phone: T-1141

ALLEN DAIRY

FOREMOST IN QUALITY CONTROL

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side

7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

Archers To Battle North In City Series Friday

Team To Travel To Goshen Court On Saturday

Quintet Makes Revenge Plans Against 'Skins

Indians Boast Height, Forward Line, Lack Rebounding Strength

The resurging Archers get a chance to avenge an earlier-season loss when they travel to Goshen to battle the Redskins Saturday at 8 p.m. Goshen topped the Green, 50-49, in a first-round game at the Columbia City Holiday Tournament on December 23.

Last through graduation from last year's powerful quintet which posted a 16-7 mark, is 6-5 center Jay Mark. One of the top performers in the state in '60-'61, Jay averaged 30 points per game for Goshen.

No doubt Coach Cosgrove has sorely missed Mark's services this winter. He also lost De Var Miller, a pesky all-around guard, and Howard Burkholder and Dick Claybaugh, two front-liners, via diploma route.

FILLING THE GAP left by three departures are 6-10 guard Ron Miller and 6-2 center Randy Saal. Both boys are juniors; both looked quite impressive in the Columbia City Tourney victories.

Miller is the sparkplug for the Redskins. His heads-up play and uncanny consistency with his 25-foot set shots spelled defeat for South in the first meet game. Saal, who happens to be two inches taller than his listed height of 6-2, scores well and s n a g s more than his share of the rebounds.

Playing from the forward position for the tall, lean-looking Goshen squad are Senior Jim Ginterich and Junior Fred Hostetler, both standing 6-2.

THOUGH BOTH seem to lack the brawn to battle for rebounds with the likes of the Archers' Dale Hilsmer, Gary Probst, and Bob Lohman, they have nevertheless teamed up with Saal to form a formidable front-line crew so far this season.

The only other senior besides Ginterich on the starting five is Terry Morgan, a 6-0 guard. Reserve strength is provided mainly by beefy Mike Kettlebar, a 6-3, 225-pounder, and slender Charlie Cotton, a 6-5, 170-pounder.

Goshen and South have played a common foe in North Side. The local Redskins upped the out-of-town boys by three points, the Archers by two. Another encouraging point for Kelly fans, Coach Don Reichert used his first five for only one-half the game in South's loss to Goshen earlier this year.

APPARENTLY NOW he has found a new offensive punch in senior guard Mart Platupe. Mart had 22 points in the Green's recent 79-61 win over Bishop Luers as the team reached its offensive peak of the season.

If South can continue to get higher scoring from Ken Leakey, Platupe, and Probst plus strong rebounding by Hilsmer, Probst, and Lohman, it has a fine chance of turning the tables on Goshen.

Probable starting lineups:
Goshen Pos. South
Gingerich (6-2) F. Probst (6-2)
Hostetler (6-2) F. Lohman (6-2)
Saal (6-2) C. Hilsmer (6-2½)
Miller (5-10) G. Platupe (6-0)
Morgan (6-0) G. Leakey (6-2)

Gerig Super Service
MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service
3501 Bowser H-5269

Ed Parrish
Servicenter
Automotive Specialists
H-5307
Hanna at Oxford
"Fort Wayne's Finest"

What you want
is a
Coke

COCA-COLA BOTTLING
COMPANY OF
FORT WAYNE INDIANA

Stu's
Sideline
hots
By Stu Schmits

This Friday evening South Side's five hopes to even the score with its arch-rival, North Side, by playing the role of spoilers in another important City Series contest. The high-riding Redskins, who have been victorious in four of their last five outings after a drastic start, are looking more impressive every game.

They looked nothing short of impressive in their incredibly easy victory over Terry Coonan's Irish on January 12. By Hey's Redskins are presently holding a 3-1 City Series record and are in a fine position in the series race along with C.C. and Central.

However, unless the Tigers, who have also been on the victory trail since their early season losses really hit a rut, it looks as if North and Central will have to settle the City Series question when they meet on the hardwood for the second time this season on February 2, on the former's court.

North, who squeaked out a hard-fought victory at the beginning of the month against the Archers, played far from their level best; and the Archers took good advantage of the situation and presented the Redskins with one of their toughest games of the year.

Friday the revived Archers will really be up for their return match and hope to break the jinx which the Redskins have seemed to put on South over the past two seasons. In their last game the difference between victory and defeat was ball handling and the foul line.

The Archers made 20 miscues during the course of the contest and went only 9-20 at the foul stripe, while the Redskins had far fewer errors and hit at a slightly better mark at the charity line. If the Archers unload a shooting attack anything like they did against Bishop Luers, North will need more than good support to pull out their fourth series victory.

Looking back to that Bishop Luers game of January 12, Archer fans got just what they came for—a victory. South, who had nothing on its mind but coming out victorious at the sound of the final buzzer did just that and shot at a tremendous .500 clip from the field, a mark unmatched in the city and undoubtedly a mark which many state-ranked teams have yet to match this season. Luers' offensive power took no back seat either as the Archers were unable to stop Luers from reaching the 60-point mark.

Here are this week's predictions:
South vs. North: North will be hard to beat at their present pace, but I'll take the Archers on a hunch in a big City Series upset.

Luers vs. Decatur Catholic: If Luers continues with a 60-point-a-game offensive attack they should be victorious Friday night.

Concordia vs. Bluffton: Concordia will find a victory hard to come by when they meet the red-hot Tigers.

C.C. vs. Columbia City: Columbia City provides a good match for most of its opponents but the Irish all-around strength should spell out another C.C. victory.

Central vs. Elkhart: The Tigers have beaten or given many well-regarded teams a run for their money, but Elkhart will prove too much for Herb Banet's Blue.

Luers vs. Bryant: Luers should find an easy victory.

C.C. vs. South Bend Riley: C.C. seems to play well against out-of-town foes, and they should take another victory in perhaps their hardest fought battle of the year.

Concordia vs. Portland: Those Panthers are one of the toughest teams in the area, and the Cadets will find a victory hard to come by.

South vs. Goshen: The Redskins defeated South in the holiday tourney, and unless the Archers hit at a good clip they will fall again.

North vs. Mishawaka: Both teams are well-matched, but I'll take North by a close margin.

Elmhurst vs. Garrett: The Trojans just haven't been clicking lately, but they should be victorious Saturday.

George and Kate's Colonial Shop
George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35c per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35c plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

LOOKOUT
"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Reserve Squad Defeats Tigers By 49-36 Tally

South Side's reserve basketball team continued to be the single shining star on the Archers' athletic scene by posting their third straight victory and their tenth in eleven games in defeating Central 49-36 at the Coliseum Wednesday.

The Archers got off to a slow start, falling quickly behind at 2-0 and 4-2; but Don Hilsmer and Tom Meyer hit two field goals apiece and the Archers gained a lead that was never overtaken. Central closed the gap momentarily to 10-9, but a three-point play by Dave Munson and a fielder by Ted Rolf gave the Archers a 15-9 lead at the end of the first quarter.

The second period showed a marked drop in finesse by both teams, with the Archers still outplaying the Tigers. Dave Banet's two field goals were mingled among several ball handling errors. With less than half of the period left, forward Dave Blanton entered the game and brought the team to its senses. Aided by some fine passwork, Blanton sank three buckets from up to 15 feet to bring the Archers to a 25-16 halftime lead.

The third period combined the second period laxness with moments of brilliance. Four of the Kellys' seven two-pointers came on a driving layup, a clever fake, or a precision pass. The Archers almost doubled the score in the period, outscoring the Tigers 15-8 for a 40-24 lead at the end of three stanzas.

Jelling too late, the Tigers made a doomed fight back in the last quarter. Though they did outscore the Archers, their rally fell short. Blanton sank a fielder to ice the decision and Ricky Meeks' first fielder of the season at the buzzer finished the scoring in the 49-36 conquest.

South's defense and rebounding proved to be the deciding factors as the Bowmen's play in these departments was outstanding. For the first time this season, Coach Porky Holt stayed with one lineup for more than one period and the starters' stamina held up well.

Individual scoring:

| Player  | G  | F | T  |
|---------|----|---|----|
| Meyers  | 4  | 4 | 12 |
| Hilsmer | 4  | 0 | 8  |
| Munson  | 2  | 3 | 7  |
| Rolf    | 2  | 0 | 4  |
| Banet   | 4  | 0 | 8  |
| Blanton | 4  | 0 | 8  |
| Meeks   | 1  | 0 | 2  |
| Totals  | 21 | 7 | 49 |

Reserves Upset Luers' Knights In 37-27 Battle

South Side's reserves romped to an easy 37-27 win over the Bishop Luers Knights in a game at the South Side gym on January 13. The Archer quintet built up a ten-point lead in the first period and played the Knights on even terms the rest of the way.

Coach Porky Holt was able to substitute freely and used all fifteen players. Twelve players scored in the fine team victory.

In the first period, the Archers ran up a 12-2 score by producing their second-best defensive period of the year. This one was topped only by their shut-out of Kendallville in the first period of a previous home game.

BISHOP LUERS' Tim Burns scored the Knights only field goal of the period in the opening minutes of the game to bring the visitors into a momentary tie at 2-2, but the Archers took over from there to score ten consecutive points. All five starters connected as the Archers pulled away.

In the second period, as has been his custom, Coach Holt substituted an entirely new unit. While not equaling the first team's defensive show, the second-stringers matched their offensive output in connecting for another twelve points.

THE KNIGHTS found their shooting aim, but still came up short of the Archers, scoring 11 points. Balance continued to pay off for the Archers as no player scored more than three points.

The game settled into a scrappy defensive show in the second half as both coaches substituted to give all their players as much experience as possible. The Archers showed occasional flashes of brilliance as they broke free for easy layups.

Bob Williams and Dave Banet led the Archer's scoring with six points each. Krouse with ten and Burns with seven led the Knights. Both Don Hilsmer and Tom Meyers played outstanding defensive games adding several rebounds to their season's totals. Williams and Mike Files also displayed fine ball-handling movements.

DEIHL'S
Cities Service
CALHOUN and LEXINGTON
H-5119 Fort Wayne, Ind.
Motor Tune-Up—Brake Service
Washing
Battery and Tire Service

114, Tom Shine Shows Skill, Aids Squad At Guard Position

Any basketball team needs both depth and a dependable well-composed reserve to get the ball in play in pressing situations in stages of a contest. Through his all-around skills, Tom Shine has performed well in these positions this year. The sturdy junior guard has quick reflexes and strong wrists and arms that enable him to Tom Shine work: the ball into attacking positions during even the slightest lapse in the enemy's defense.

A multi-sport man, Shine has participated in three years of football and track here, and baseball at Harrison Hill. He still plays baseball during the summer months. This fall he was second-string quarterback on the Archer pigskin corps, and he hopes to be the number one man at that position next year.

Last year, as a sophomore, Tom ran in the mile relay and the 440-yard run, as well as an occasional 880-yard relay for the flying feather-fingers. He went all the way to state on the mile relay team and performed admirably there. He plans to return to

City Scoreboard

(Games Recorded to Jan. 13)

| City Series | W | L | Pct. | O   | P   | GB |
|-------------|---|---|------|-----|-----|----|
| C.C.        | 4 | 1 | .800 | 306 | 259 | —  |
| North Side  | 3 | 1 | .750 | 242 | 209 | ½  |
| Central     | 3 | 1 | .750 | 231 | 200 | ¾  |
| Elmhurst    | 1 | 1 | .333 | 170 | 186 | 2  |
| Concordia   | 1 | 4 | .200 | 243 | 328 | 3  |
| South Side  | 0 | 3 | .250 | 230 | 220 | 3½ |

Overall

|               | W  | L | Pct. |
|---------------|----|---|------|
| Gen. Catholic | 10 | 3 | .770 |
| Central       | 7  | 4 | .637 |
| Elmhurst      | 6  | 5 | .540 |
| Concordia     | 7  | 7 | .500 |
| North Side    | 6  | 6 | .500 |
| South Side    | 4  | 8 | .322 |

Leading Scorers

|                  | Pts. | Avg. |
|------------------|------|------|
| Bauch, Concordia | 210  | 15   |
| Krull, C.C.      | 206  | 15.8 |
| Esterline, North | 184  | 15.5 |
| Edmonds, Central | 174  | 15.8 |
| Widenhofer, Con. | 168  | 12   |
| Leakey, South    | 160  | 13.2 |
| Hilsmer, South   | 156  | 13   |
| Bubb, C.C.       | 148  | 12   |

the cinder track this spring to continue his fine records in the events. Making few ball-handling errors, Tom, who has ability to shoot well, handle the ball, and set up plays, has nailed down a job at the guard position for Coach Reichert's boys.

He likes this year's team and believes it has a lot of potential. He feels that the breaks just haven't been going South's way. Like Coach Reichert, Tom believes that the Green is going to be a strong team by Sectional time, strong enough to cop that event.

Frosh GAA Initiates Volleyball Action

Girls in Freshman GAA picked new teams for volleyball Friday night. Janice Bates, Candy Greiner, Cathy Hughes, Lydia Budowski, Jo Ellyn Good, and Alice Fruechtenicht were chosen as captains.

Team 1 consists of captain Janice Bates, Sally Henderson, Vicki Moore, Diana Nordblom, Judy Putman, and Pam Ensley. Janet Miller, Bev Dougherty, Sue Glass, Jo and Sue Richter, and Kathy Wyss are on Team 2. On Team 3 are Lynn Raby, Bonnie Post, Julie Merchant, Linda Thornburg, Doris Hessler, and Diane Porter.

SHARON LEFEVER, Lynette Downing, Valentina Harabosky, Janis Pflueger, Laura Graham, and Martha Moore are on Lydia Budowski's Team 4. On Jo Ellyn Good's Team 5 are Darlene Neireiter, Sharon Lynch, Nancy Markin, Linda Grimmer, Carol Brooks, and Mary Ann Stults. Leslie Froebe, Sandra Reed, Susie Knox, Nita Quinn, Joy Locke, and Carol Channell compose Alice Fruechtenicht's Team 6.

Each team played one game to open the tournament. Team 1 topped Team 2 by a 29-24 margin. Bates scored 10 points; Henderson, six; Moore, two; Nordblom, three; Putman, six; Ensley, two. For Team 2, Greiner scored one point, Miller, four; Dougherty, four; Glass, three; J. Richter, seven; S. Richter, one; and Wyss, four.

TEAM 4 WHIPPED Team 3 with a score of 49-23. Scorers for Team 3 were Hughes, one point; Raby, ten; Merchant, four; Thornburg, three; Hessler, two; and Porter, three. Budowski scored five points, LeFever, one; Downing, 27; Harabosky, three; Pflueger, four; Graham, four; and Moore, five, for Team 4.

Team 6 chalked up Team 1 with a 36-28 score. Good scored four points, Lynch, eight; Brooks, six; and Stults, 10, for Team 5. For Team 6, Fruechtenicht scored eight points; Froebe, six; Reed, six; Knox, three; Quinn, seven; Locke, one; and Channell, five. Pat Abbott, B. D. Hartley, Judy Koop, Beth Randall, Mary Marker, Barbara Shadle, and Ann Henderson were the scorers and referees.

Munro's Standard
SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

Redskins Pose Grave Threat, Seek City Title

Green Plans To Don Role Of City Spoilers, Hopes For Revenge

Having lost too many games to be considered a serious contender for the city crown, the Archers now take on the role of potential spoilers. Meeting North Side Friday night at the cross-town gym, South will attempt to go all the way against the Red.

In their last meeting the Green ran out of gas in the fourth quarter and couldn't chalk up the win. This week Coach Reichert's chargers are sure to be primed and ready for a contest that could decide North's fate in the City Series.

North now has a 3-1 City Series record, having defeated Central Catholic soundly in their last Series outing 71-61. That game was North's almost all the way as they showed fine shooting, rebounding, and bench strength. The Redskin defense that stymied the Archers in the second half of the last game also gave the Irish fits and will prove a large factor in the final North-South meeting.

Lending the Redskins in the last few games has been 6-1 Junior forward Jack Fry. Tying Krieg for high scoring honors against South with thirteen, Fry scored seventeen against the Irish and did a remarkable job off the boards. A fine shooter, Fry is very deadly from the foul line and fouls little himself, enabling Coach By Hey to use him throughout the entire game.

Playing center and seeming to serve as the chief morale builder for all of North Side in 6-2 Senior Mark Krieg. Though playing only about three-fourths of the last North-South tilt, Krieg scored thirteen tallies and received a standing ovation on entering the game. Although he is seriously hampered by an injured right knee, Krieg does reasonably well under the boards and peps up the whole North squad with his presence.

IF KRIEG'S KNEE holds up he will be a thorn in Archer flanks both on offense and defense. Also aiding Krieg and Fry on the front line quite frequently is 6-1 Junior Mike Painter. He has been developing steadily all season and turned in an outstanding performance against C. C. in the rebounding department as well as scoring eleven points.

Even though he is not particularly tall, Painter jumps well and is very aggressive, allowing him to fight successfully with the bigger men underneath.

In the backcourt North has the leading average scorer in the city in the person of Steve Esterline, a 6-10

(Continued on Page 6)

Phone: H-83591
Kaye's Koiffure
Complete Hair Care
224 W. Leith
Fort Wayne, Ind.

SECOND SEMESTER MEANS
NEW SUPPLIES

Lehman Book Store Has
All School Supplies

Lehman Book Store
(Across Calhoun Street from South Side)

Societas Latina To Distribute Book Covers, Discuss Dinner

EMITIS NUNC! . . . or buy now, as English would say. The Latin Department is selling book covers this week at five cents each or six for 25 cents. Looking at the sign held by Paul Mittelstadt are Marcia Disler, left, and Mrs. Anne Redmond, Latin instructor.—Photo by Jones

Three thousand book covers will be sold by the Latin Club in the center hall during fifth period tomorrow, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. These covers, which have a green Archer emblem on them, are used to protect school books from wear throughout the semester.

The Latin teachers, Mrs. Anne Redmond, Mr. Fred Hellman, Miss Mary Reiff, Mr. Earl Sterner, and Mrs. Grace Welty, will have a supply in their rooms, also. They can also be purchased from any Latin club member.

The members are Marcia Disler, Anita Ferber, Bill Mueller, David Allen, Ken Clauser, LaVonne Custance, Patsie Dorton, Doug Hansen, B. D. Hartley, Maxine Hecht, Janet Kelley, Fran Krandell, Paul Mittelstadt, Stanley Moreo, Lyall Morrill, Bob Quick, Jim Riden, and Kathy Walsh.

Neptune's Den will be the theme of this year's Latin banquet. The banquet will be March 9, from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. in the cafeteria. The price of the tickets will be approximately $1.50. The cafeteria will be decorated like the ocean floor.

Entertainment will be in the audience and will be called upon by Neptune. This will include a magician; singers; Roman games; wrestlers; gladiators; and dancers, doing the "Dance of the Water Carriers."

Marcia Disler, president, dressed like Amphitrite, will give a talk on the Roman festivities during the month of March.

Marcia stated, "Since this is our third banquet and the other two were successful, we are looking to a big turnout this year. We are sure it will be a success because of the decorations and entertainment."

Decorations committee members are Patsie Dorton, chairman; Marcia Disler, Anita Ferber, Bill Mueller, LaVonne Custance, David Allen, Ken Clauser, Doug Hansen, B. D. Hartley, Janet Kelley, Fran Krandell, Stanley Moreo, Lyall Morrill, Bob Quick, Jim Riden, and Kathy Walsh.

The other committee chairmen are Fran Krandell, invitations; Maxine Hecht, food; Paul Mittelstadt, entertainment; and gods and goddesses, LaVonne Custance. Tickets will be sold by all the club members. The boys in the club will be in charge of cleaning up.

Lettermen Crown Nate Norment As 'King Kelly' At Twist Dance

Senior Nate Norment was crowned King Kelly at the Lettermen's after-gate dance, "Lettermen's Twist," January 12 after the Bishop Luers game. "I was very surprised and very honored," stated Nate. The dance is an annual affair of the Lettermen's Club sponsored by Mr. Richard Ober.

Each year a king is chosen of all senior lettermen by tallying votes of the girls attending the dance. Last year's king was Jim Dawson, '61.

Nate participates in track and football. He hurdles, runs in the half-mile relay, and the 440-yard dash. He is a halfback on varsity football, winning All-City honors. Nate also participates in intramural basketball.

THE CAFETERIA WAS decorated with the traditional silhouettes of the Lettermen, which were white on green. The cafeteria was lit with red, green, and orange lights.

Assisting with decorations, headed by Dave Meyer, were H. Persons, Karl Bandemer, and Sid Sherry. Chairman of the ticket committee was Tom McMahon. Working in the cloak room for Tom Shiner, chairman, were Sid Sherry, Sam Carter, and Dale Hillsmier.

LARRY LEE WAS chairman of the publicity committee, with Jon vanOosten aiding. On the committee were Steve Cook, Bill Rastetter, Bob Camp, Eddie Johnson, Jim Lantz, and Don Sievert.

On the clean-up committee, headed by Chuck Parker and Jerry Scherrer, were Steve Myers, Dave Meyer, Nate Norment, Mark Platpu, Dave Platz, Al Purdy, Mike Beltz, and Dick Koch.

Evert Mol, aided by Karl Schlade-man, John Weaver, Bob Lohman, Tom Frazell, and Dick Johnson, was in charge of the ceremony. Mark Hagerman, president of the club, was in charge of presentation.

Verses Describe Youth, Nature Scenes, Express Religious, Political Perceptions

(Continued from Page 1)

To The Semantic Anarchists
Now bounce your rubber vocabulary,
And watch it fly willy-nilly here and there,
But always with a sinister, ugly purpose.
Call lovers of freedom "reactionaries,"
And fighters for independence "imperialists."
Piling your blob of rubber
At any obstacle in your obnoxious path.
Call tyranny "freedom,"
And liberty "servitude."
But remember to duck,
Should the crazy ball
Bounce back into your face.
—Dan McCroskey

My Faith
My faith is like a tree,
Standing bold and strong.
My faith is like a cold wind,
Ever pushing on.

My faith is like a mountain,
Soaring to the sky.
My faith is like the morning sun,
Gently rising high.

My faith is like a rainbow,
With its lovely golden hue.
My faith is like a river,
Always flowing true.

My faith is like a star,
Shining high above.
My faith is like an altar,
Revealing God's true love.
—Marilyn Fishman

He Doeth All Things
Raindrops gently falling down,
Beauty like a shimmering gown,
As dying grass turns emerald green
With a lovely, brilliant, dewy sheen.

God makes lovely things, you know,
And more beauty than we can show
Is in everything that God doth make,
The trees, the hills, and each lake.

Sunshine shining oh, so bright,
And then the stars come out at night;
God supplies our every need,
For into green pastures He doth lead.
—Linda Handy

The Tree
Stood in the changing world,
He knew not how or why.
He only lived and was
But could not sing nor cry.

A mirror of the seasons,
Obeying God's set rule
Until he was no more,
Struck down by some smart fool.

Now lies his mortal body,
All shattered on the ground.
Still lives his soul on earth
In every sprout around.
—Tom Turfinger

The Hymn
The hymn
Chimes on unshined
Within my troubled mind,
Resounding everlastingly
God's words.
—Bonnie Russell

A Night
On a clear, cool night in Autumn,
We stood above the lake
Enjoying the beauty of the scene.
The Milky Way was swirled
Softly through the sky
And, with the moon, gave to the Night a luminous glow.
The waters of the lake,
Reflecting the starry light,
Silhouetted the trees
On the opposite shore.
—Dayna Harader

Rhapsody
Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

Crushed,
Down into depths of eternity,
Expended,
Borne into realms of infinity,
Rapt
In the madness of music,
I heard its song in the roar of the
thunder,
Sensed its movement in the rush of
the wind,
Felt its rhythm in the palpitating air.
All the universe moved
Under Euterpe's spell as the music
Of the spheres swept the heavens and
its passion
Called me,
Lulled me into sleepless slumber,
Tossed me,
Lost me in its dreamless dream.
—Shirley Davis

A Tear
Crystal of love,
Moistens black lashes,
Pauses . . .
Dangles silently . . .
Falls . . .
Sears the powder,
Curls softly in a fold of expression.
—Judith Chapman

The Wind
The sign says, "Do Not Pick The Flowers."
But the wind cannot read.
To the sign it pays no heed
And blows the petals about for hours.
The messenger of the sky will carry a seed
To the place on earth of its greatest need.
This is but one of the wind's many powers,
Beautifying nature's bowers.
—James Hill

The Refuse of the World
Wasted . . .
A life wasted.
A crime worse than murder—
Life lived in pain and solitude.
Wasted . . .
—Kaylene Gebert

Night
Observe . . .
The night is God's
Protector of His flocks,
Surrounds and covers us each dusk
Till dawn.
—Robert Wenger

Idols
Be watchful, O young
And eager mind.
Don't give your head
And heart so soon
To him who first your Fancy seizes.

Idols soon will prove Themselves to be
As human, full of vices
As the next;
And you will hate as Blindly as you loved.
—Ellen Williams

Indigenous
A gnarled old maple, a babbling brook,
A grizzled mountain that seemed to look
On its surrounding forests with a parental view.
The dazzling sun with its glowing hue
Reflected upon lakes of a placid blue.
The time-aged forests of birch and oak Enhanced the mountains like an emerald coat.
A glistening church spire in a grassy dell,
A snow-weathered barn, a broken-
down well,
A dense blanket of white through win-tertime spread
Adorning the hillsides in a land of the dead.
The original beauty of this Green
Mountain range
Symbolizes the Yankee who resists any change.
—Tom Wright

Autumn's Loneliness
I feel
In autumn's warmth
The loneliness of life's
Eternal drudgery that ends
In death.
—Susan Perry

San Francisco
I love a city upon a bay,
A white Athena at the dawn of day.
By night a fog veils many people:
Buddhist, Catholic, and Protestant steeples.

Modern and ancient, it climbs the hill.
On the bridge, noise; and by the sea,
still . . .
Gold ocean to the west and beyond is land
Ancient like the city; yet they stand,
Rapt

To the east are mountains high
Touching even the moon-bright sky.
Far away now I be,
But this city of contrasts still I see.
—Sue Penland

My Request
Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Death will come some day, they say;
But I don't want to see that day.
The things on earth are all too young
For me to be on my death-bed flung.
I want to see the things God made:
The precious stones, like pearl and
jade;
The coolness of the pure-white snow;
The power of the winds that blow;
The grandeur of a tall, stout tree
That stands all day for us to see;
The slapping of the sea all day;
The flocks of birds that are so gay.

Friendship
Friendship to me is a wonderful treasure,
To be cherished and nurtured with extravagant measure;
It's longed for by all, but few of us
know
That to have its true joys one must help it to grow.
One cannot buy it for it's never for sale.
Even though we search for it on hill
and through dale,
We cannot touch it or will it to stay;
It only is ours when we give it away.
If you find it, hold fast to it for it's ever one's fate
To cry when it's gone, but then it's too late.
It's nurtured by kindness, sometimes watered by tears;
It grows with thoughts shared all through the years.
It's more precious than diamonds,
brighter than gold.
Give thanks if it's yours to have and to hold.
—Sandra Hadley

Solidude
I like to stand upon the shore
And look o'er the ocean wide,
With not a soul around me,
No one by my side.

I like to stand upon the shore
And watch the blue-green foam,
Each drop splashing a different way,
No place to call its home.

I like to stand upon the shore,
The wind ruffling my hair,
My heart set free as the ocean's breeze.
Knowing God is there.
—Sarah Finch

Choirs To Perform
For Organizations,
Music Assemblies

The choirs of South Side, under the leadership of Mr. Lester Hostetter, vocal music director, announced their engagements for the coming months, after having completed their concerts for 1961.

The first period choir consisting mainly of freshmen, and the second period choir of girls, won't participate in any of the events, but are in training.

The fourth period choir, called "occasional choir," participates in some of the assemblies. Members are then chosen from this choir to sing in the fifth period, or Concert Choir. The Concert Choir is the largest of the choirs at South Side with sixty-five to seventy students singing in it.

Last year the choir sang for as-semblies, Open House, the PTA Teas,
Senior Reception, Winter Concert,
Plymouth Church, and the faculty party. They appeared on tape on WPTAA-TV and WANE-TV. They sang
Christmas Carols in the halls on December 20 and also caroled at the Lincoln Bank the same day. On January 8 the group sang at Cutter's
Chalet for G.E. employees.

On January 20 the choir will sing at the YWCA; February 2 at the Senior Banquet; February 6, 13, and 20 at PTA Study Groups; and February 14 in the music assembly.

The choir will perform March 25
at First Baptist Church, and on March 30 at the Mizpah Temple for the Summit City Lodge. During April the Easter Assembly will be on the agenda. May 1 is the Talent Show and the Quarter Century Club Banquet;
May 9, Music Assembly; May 10,
National Honor Society Banquet; May 11, Spring Concert; and May 25, Ivy
Day. Winding up the year for the choir will be Commencement on June 6.

Pianist for the choir is Sandra
Yaggy; and the organist is Dennis Crill, who also plays the piano for the other periods. A boys quartet, with members Tim Grodian, Steve McDonald, Mike Carter, and Fred Schoen, have appeared in several assemblies and outside events.

AllenWood Products
Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets
1013 Wells E-2865

KOEGEL
JEWELERS
Diamonds
Watches
Watch Repair
1809 Broadway E-7671

FOR
• Film Developing
• Film and Flash Bulbs
• Records
• Sheaffer Pens
• Papermate Pens
• Pen Repairing
• Greeting Cards
• Russell Stover Candy

COME TO HOWARD'S
Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

Piqua Barber Shop
TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

DIGGS—H-4286
R HARRISON HILL
3828 S. Calhoun

U Fountain
School Supplies
Vitamins

G Prescription
Specialists

Ten Nursettes Receive Awards For Parkview Hospital Service

Ninety-two nursettes from 14 area high schools, including ten South Side students, were awarded pins for service at the Parkview Memorial Hospital.

Sally Newell, senior, received the second highest award possible, a 750-hour pin. Others from South Side receiving pins are Susan Lots, Sondra
Stouder, and Cynthia Russell, 500-hour pins; Mary Jo Kraus, 400-hour pin; Sharon Graffis and Elaine Snow,
300-hour pins; and Sheila Dailey,
Lois Gallimore, Susan Seigel, and Linda Hake, 100-hour pins.

The highest award that can be achieved in the nursette program is the 1000-hour pin. If Sally achieves the 1000-hour pin, she will be the first South Side lass to win it.

The nursette program began in 1955. At that time there were only 19 girls participating. This past year the Parkview Hospital had a total of 165 active nursettes. Now they have about one hundred.

THE NURSETTES work four hours a week. The hours they work may be 4 to 8 p.m. or 1 to 5 p.m. on weekdays, or 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays.

To become a nursette, the interested girl with her mother must make an appointment at Parkview. She then must fill out an application.
Nursettes are chosen through school records, health, days present at school, ability to co-operate with others, vocational interests, and scholarship. The applicant must have above average grades.

Money Management Rules Aid New Collegiate With Finances

When young Robert goes off to college as a freshman, a vital subject in his home, as in millions of homes across the land, is money. "What's the best way for Robert to handle his college allowance?" asked his mother, as she gazed at her son. "Should he get a fixed allowance or write home when he is in need of money? Should he open a checking or savings account?"

Fundamental rules have been made to guide Robert and his parents as well as youngsters; these rules apply whether the student is a boy or a girl. Here are some major money ABC's which may help anyone with a money problem, especially the new collegiate.

One should decide in advance with his parents for what his allowance is supposed to pay. If the allowance is to pay for clothes and important supplies at school, this should be clearly understood; and funds should be allowed for this purpose.

ONE SHOULD NEVER say, "Sure, $25 will do," only to discover in a few weeks that the $25 simply won't do and that the weekly "please, I need more" refrain must be started. If the allowance is to cover ordinary expenses, such as laundry cleaning, and grooming, this should be understood.

The vital secret to spending an allowance wisely is a seven-days-a-week plan under which available cash is divided into a spending kitty for each day. If this is practiced, there will be feasting on the first days and a famine on the last days. It would be wise to start a day-by-day plan right after school begins.

Open a checking account as soon as possible. Do not use a desk drawer or a pocket as a "bank." The chances of a loss or a feast-famine pattern are overwhelming. Open an account, learn how to make deposits; draw checks; balance a checkbook; and keep service charges to a minimum. It will be invaluable training for later life.

If it can be managed, begin a rainy-day account in a savings bank nearby and build on it throughout the term. There will always be extra expenses, a special event, or a crisis for which extra money will be needed.

THIS SAVINGS account should be earmarked for only extraordinary expenses and remain otherwise untouched. If it is not possible to start with this savings nest egg, try to juggle the seven-day-a-week spending plan so some money can be saved and then try to build one.

Don't try to figure expenses down to the penny. No plan ever should be that precise. There must be a margin or safety over regular spending to cover "regular emergencies."

Maintain some simple records on where the money is going. Check stubs will help, but also keep a notebook so that it is easier to jot down every day how the allowance is being spent. Don't be too detailed because it may be easy to become mixed-up, but don't neglect it either.

Look for ways to stretch money by finding free entertainment and by using leisure time to save on expenses. Many people have found that it is a great deal more fun to do something which costs nothing than it is to find entertainment which costs money. A lot can also be saved with a needle and thread.

LEARN SENSIBLE buying methods and then apply them. If one is handling a wardrobe at school, take advantage of neighborhood store sales and off-season clearances. Buying essentials in bulk or on sale can save large amounts of money over a period of time.

During the first reunion with your parents, show them your record books, and discuss what's right and wrong with the allowance setup. If, despite all efforts and records to prove responsible management, the money is still running short, it is a good time for a raise.

Once these rules have been learned, stick with them. Actually, these are money guides for life, not just for college. No matter what the age, these rules can be applied to help out with money matters.

Duties Of Actuaries Involve Calculating Insurance Figures

An actuary's duties are among the most important to an insurance company. He is responsible for determining the premium rates on all of the company's policies, calculating reserves, and doing nearly any other job involving figures.

By definition an actuary is a person proficient in the science of mathematics of life insurance. In actual practice, there is more study than that; because to qualify properly as an actuary, a person must pass eight rigid examinations conducted by the Society of Actuaries. The Society of Actuaries in the United States has a total membership of 1,420.

To get a job as an actuary a person should have a naturally analytical mind and a capacity for hard and exacting work. If a person has both of these qualities and is interested in preparing for an actuarial position, he should take all mathematical courses offered in high school and major in mathematics in college.

Actuarial work is very exacting, and only the person who is well above average in all mathematical studies could ever succeed in this position.

Advancements for those in actuarial work are comparatively rapid, depending on the person's success with the Society of Actuaries' examinations. The financial return is generally in keeping with the position held.

Actuaries who have completed all eight examinations, and are maintaining a position of executive nature with a large life insurance company receive $15,000 and more per year. The average size company often pays only slightly less than this figure. Positions other than those as a fully qualified actuary carry very favorable salaries.

Colleges and universities offering advanced mathematics in the actuarial science include the University of Michigan, University of Wisconsin, University of Iowa, Drake University, University of Toronto, and the University of Manitoba.

Senior Skevos Pavlou Speaks Four Languages, Likes Sports

Anything which is "Greek" to most of the students at South Side will be completely understood by one pupil. He is Skevos George Pavlou, senior. Skevos is a native of Athens, Greece, where he lived until two years ago.

When asked what he missed the most from his native land, Skevos said that he missed the country in general. He wishes to return after his graduation from college to visit his Greek neighbors and friends.

When he first came to this country, Skevos found the American way of life and the English language were difficult for him. He had trouble in speaking English the first few months, because he had had no English training in Athens. Now English and college algebra are his favorite subjects.

HE ENJOYS LANGUAGES, having studied both Latin and French for three years in his Greek school. Knowing these languages made it much easier for him to learn English.

Skevos mentions that annual celebrations in Greece include two holidays commemorating independence. These liberation days, March 25 and October 28, celebrate the attainment of freedom from the Germans and the Turks.

The festivities on these days are much like ours on the Fourth of July. The celebrations include vacation from school, parades, and the decorating of statues.

KEVOS HAS MANY extra-curricular interests. He especially enjoys sports. Football and soccer, a sport that is very popular in Greece, are the ones in which Skevos participates.

Past Clubs Encourage Interest In Travel, Etymology, Puppets

A glance through the Totems of yesterday reveals bygone clubs in which students participated for enjoyment and knowledge. Many of these are the forerunners of today's organizations.

Twenty years ago, all extra-curricular activities were represented in the Inter-Club Congress of South Side. Each club sent a member to discuss its projects and subjects which would aid the entire school. The decisions reached the student body through club meetings and home-rooms.

The Inter-Club Congress took charge of the distribution of Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets collected by the homerooms; just as the Lettermen do now. Other projects such as Courtesy Week, after-game dances, and Ivy Day were instigated by the club. In this way, one club did not duplicate the efforts of another.

ANOTHER CLUB was the Philatelic Club, a stamp club, which promoted the interest of collectors. Whenever a new stamp was issued, the club was usually the first to get it. The club became one of the best known in the school. The members learned to be aware of the importance of postage stamps.

Students wishing to ride a magic carpet to far-away places joined the Travel Club. The purpose of the club was to create interest and gain knowledge of foreign peoples. The programs at the meetings covered different countries with reports and outside speakers.

Besides having a Latin Club, South Side also had Le Cercle, a French club, and the German Club. Both of these clubs tried to acquaint students studying the languages with writers, customs, musicians, clothing, food, scenery, and folklore of the country.

A VERY UNUSUAL club which provided an outlet for various talents was the Marionette Club. Puppet shows were staged; and through this work, members learned the crafts of art, sewing, electricity, dramatics, and writing.

Plays such as Dickens' "Christmas Carol" were given. The workshop was located in the basement, and the walls were painted with pictures of marionettes.

In 1937, the Three E's, technically the Embryo English Etymologists, was organized. The club investigated the field of English etymology and interesting English words.

FROM THIS STUDY came an increased vocabulary, better spelling, better pronunciation, pride in the joys sports. Football and soccer, a sport that is very popular in Greece, are the ones in which Skevos participates.

Skevos Pavlou

Teenage customs in Greece are similar to ours. Skevos adds that there are many parties, movies, theaters, and night clubs. One great difference is that the teenagers in Greece have fewer cars than American teenagers. However, Greek youths, as well as American youth, are lovers of American popular music. Because they are unable to understand the words of the records, they enjoy primarily the rhythm of the songs from this country.

language, and an increased interest in the study of foreign languages. Requirements of the club were a "B" grade in English and two years of foreign language study.

The club differed from others since it had no constitution, dues, or officers. A host or hostess directed each meeting.

In 1939, the Social Science Club, an Indiana Student Forum, drew attention from all over the nation. The first meeting was attended by delegates from thirty schools who were interested in the club's purpose, stimulating interest in current social, political, and economic problems. Guest speakers from Washington, D.C., and colleges addressed the students.

ANOTHER CLUB, THE Spanish Club, was just one chapter in the United States, serving the community. Once a year, members from all over the state met to discuss the projects of the chapters. Programs were based on the themes of leadership, worship, scholarship, comradeship, sportsmanship, and citizenship.

The Wo-Ho-Ma Club, like Vesta, was a club for girls interested in home economics. Demonstrations were given by club members, advisers, and outside speakers. A semester was devoted to one topic such as "The Home Beautiful."

One hundred frogs, preserved in formaldehyde, are ready to be dissected by Mr. Nicholas Pipino's biology students. Besides the frogs, there are also one hundred worms and one dozen starfish. On further inspection, the curious biology student will also see three jars of microscopic animals, a jar each for the euglena, the paramecia, and the amoeba.

Funds For Supplies Buy Paper, Animals, Cleaning Equipment

Then there are fifteen neatly numbered jars of fruit flies. The biology department must purchase these necessities for biology students. The Carnegie Institution of Washington supplies some of these biology samples for the department, while the Stanski and the Carolina Biological Laboratories supply the others.

Fifteen hundred dollars is spent annually for the chemistry department supplies from the Central Scientific Company. Half of this amount pays for the basic equipment which includes test tubes, holders, crucibles, evaporating dishes, beakers, and tongs. The other seven hundred fifty dollars takes care of the chemical supplies such as sulphuric acid, sodium hydroxide, hydrochloric acid, and nitric acid.

During the school year, the various classrooms use up 22 boxes of white chalk, 12 boxes of yellow chalk, and five boxes of assorted chalk, which are all supplied by the Fort Wayne City School office.

South Side uses 224 reams of mimeograph paper and 727 reams of ditto paper. One hundred cartons of paper towels usually last throughout the school year.

In order to make the school a warm and comfortable building, each year, thirteen thousand five hundred dollars is spent for oil. The rooms and halls of South Side are kept clean by three thousand dollars which is spent for soap, detergents, wax, and special solutions for the floors.

The aromas coming from the school cafeteria and the home economics department emanate from food that is prepared on gas burners. The chemistry department also has its own typical odors that come from compounds heated over gas burners. Sixteen hundred dollars a year is spent for natural gas.

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE
202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

Majority Of Pupils Say Fashions Rule Consumers' Ideas

In this fashion-conscious world, some people believe that fashion authorities dictate to the consumer what to buy. However, this can be very easily turned around, because many consumers may demand what they want from the producers. The following Archers gave their opinions on this subject.

Sharon Carrel: Actually it depends upon the individual. There are always those conformists who wear the latest, if not the most becoming, fashions merely to belong and show their "fashion sense."

Marna Rieber: It goes both ways. The consumer buys what he likes. The producer of fashion puts out what he hopes the consumer will choose. However, the consumer can choose only from what the producer produces, and so forth.

H. Persons: The up-coming "Jackie Kennedy" mode is a very good example of fashion ruling the consumer.

Susie Mowery: It is mostly the individual. Some wear all the fads while others stick to the more tailored look. If the person looks better in the latest fashion, he by all means should wear them; but if the person has more the tailored look, he should wear them. So fashions can rule the consumer and consumers can rule fashion.

Sue Perry: I believe in sticking to one's own convictions in buying one's clothes. One should always concentrate on wearing what is the most appealing.

Jim Hill: I think that fashion rules the consumer. In order to be one of the group one must be wearing the latest fashion. If he or she isn't wearing the latest fashion, they are as you might say "out of it." I must however, give three cheers for the non-conformist.

Gail Woodruff: I believe that fashion rules the consumer. Everyone wants to follow the latest fashion trends. The people choose the styles they like and the consumers produce them.

John Sauer: I must yield to the immortal words of Bruce Hilby, "People will little note nor long remember what we wear."

Delores Shadowens: My fashion is governed by my pocketbook, but I wonder about others.

Bonnie Russell: It goes both ways. Manufacturers provide what the public demands.

Ken Lowden: I think consumer rules fashion because like many, my financial problems determine the type of fashion I buy.

Sandy McCombs: It is my opinion that fashion rules the consumer, because we buy the item that is on the market whether we like it or not.

Mary Jane Hake: As a rule, I would say that fashion rules the consumer. Of course, there are exceptions. It really depends upon the individual who may have different tastes or set ideas about fashion. Then there are others who will buy something, because they are afraid of not being accepted.

Inferiority Feelings Trouble Teenagers

In a recent survey, it was discovered that most teenagers have inferior feelings, at least some of the time. High school students worry about school work and popularity, feeling that perfection is a must; and if anything goes wrong or anyone disapproves of them, they are depressed.

It is most important to "belong" to the crowd and do just as everyone else does. Teenagers wish to be stereotyped; and because everyone is different, they are discouraged. Common complaints are, "Nobody likes me," or "Even though I try my best, I'm a failure."

Teenagers tend to forget their good points and only remember the bad. Many are afraid they won't live up to their parents' and friends' expectations.

A teenager mistakenly feels inferior, because his personality and mentality are not all that he would wish them to be. Since competition and ambition are necessary and important, most teenagers realize that they can and should be satisfied with the results of working to their individual capacities.

Honest self-evaluation reveals one's weak and strong points. One should write down weak points, ideas that correspond with friends', good points, unusual assets, and specific talents.

After one has honestly written and studied these lists, he can try to improve weak points one by one and concentrate on displaying good points.

Mike Ewald Excels In Music, Teaches At Instrumental Shop

Mike Ewald, senior, not only excels at playing the guitar, but he also teaches at the Fort Wayne Music Center. In 1958, Mike was one of the contestants from the Music Center

Mike Ewald

Mike likes all kinds of music, classical or popular, although he prefers not to listen to the Dixieland type. He favors Montavani among the light classical composers and Ricky Nelson among the popular singers. His favorite song is "Moritat," the theme from the "Three Penny Opera."

Although practicing his guitar takes up a lot of his free time, Mike also plays the accordion. Listening to records is another one of his musical hobbies.

"I don't think civilization could exist without music," Mike stated. Mike is not solely preoccupied with music during his leisure hours. He is very interested in photography and is a former member of the Camera Club. Football and hockey are his favorite sports, and swimming is a favorite pastime.

Mike plans to study architecture at the University of Cincinnati, where he will participate in the special course for architects offered at that school. Six months of the year he will study in the classroom, and the other six months he will spend in an architect's office applying his knowledge to actual conditions. After five years of study and application, he plans to receive his degree.

TV Shows Include Drama, Education

Throughout the month of January, the television stations have scheduled programs featuring education, news, information, religion, and culture.

Starting Wednesday will be the "United States Steel Hour" at 10 p.m., on WANE. Also David Brinkley will present a report on the Austrian capital, Vienna, and its people at 10 p.m., on WKJG.

Thursday on WANE at 10 p.m. will be "The CBS Report." Friday at 10:30 p.m. will be "Eye Witness" and "Chet Huntley Reporting" on Channels 15 and 33, respectively.

On Sunday, WPTA will feature "Meet the Profession" at 2:30 p.m. and at 3 p.m., "Directions '62." WKJG will present the NBC opera, "Don Giovanni" starring Leontyne Price and Cesare Siepi at 2:30 p.m.

"Hi-Quiz" at 5 p.m. will feature North Side challenging the winners of the South Side match last night. "The Twentieth Century" will present the "1955 Crisis at Suez" at 6 p.m. on Channel 15.

Next Wednesday, Channel 33 will present "David Brinkley's Journal" at 10:30 p.m. At 6:30 a.m. every weekday morning on "Continental Classroom" is on Channel 15. "Vista '62" at 10:30 p.m. is also featured on this station.

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Joequel Supply Co.

Four Generations of Service of All Types Building Material
2206 Broadway H-3141

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY CAMERA SHOP

Sunny Schick
Camera Shop
407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

Beauty Salon

Distinctive Individual Hair Styling

A Staff of Eleven Hairdressers

• Open Evenings •

2723 South Calhoun Street
H-1171

IT'S DREAMY... and OH! SO GOOD

McDONALD'S

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.

AND NOW — NEW NO. 3

JEFFERSON

at

HARRISON

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers find the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from stoles to clothes.

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspapers

The News-Sentinel
THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"

Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Graves & Hageman, Inc.

Commercial Floor Covering Contractors

1602 E. Rudisill Phone H-4200

Dur-Enamel Paints

When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices.

Dur-Enamel Company, Inc.

E-3011 1015 Taylor

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

DRINK

PURE SEALED DAIRY MILK

Available in the milk machines

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP

1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5292 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With Dyna-Vision

Calling all students . . .
time to order your

BABER'S

Berry at Calhoun

BABER CLASS RINGS

Phone A-7306 . . . E-4197

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

WE WISH YOU

SUCCESS IN THE COMING SEMESTER

Jim Kelley Buick

1819 S. Calhoun K-6211

Boerger South Wayne Pharmacy

3004 South Wayne H-0481
Neighborhood Prescription Pharmacy

Indiana & Michigan

122 E. Wayne A-1331

Ross Radio

236 W. Main A-2433

Dale's Drive-In

U.S. 24 West at Covington Rd. K-8451

Klaehn Funeral Home

420 W. Wayne A-0228

Clauser Standard Service

1701 S. Anthony A-0503

Fort Wayne Engravers

120 W. Superior E-0505

Dehnert's Lanes

5214 Decatur Rd. H-5141

D. J. Brandenberger, Inc.

General Contractors
4839 S. Lafayette H-2245

South Side Jewelers

2709 S. Calhoun H-1162
Richard C. Kowalski

Fort Wayne Window Cleaning & Building Maintenance Corp.

1802 S. Harrison H-1115
"Let Us Lighten Your Panes"

Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co.

1207 N. Harrison A-7175
"Now It's Pepsi For Those Who Think Young!"

Main Auto Sport Shop

214 W. Berry A-2139
Everything In Sports

Dur-Enamel Paints

1015 Taylor E-3011

Broadview Florists

5801 Winchester Road S-3146

C. & H. Shoe Co.

121 W. Wayne A-0185

South Side Lumber

4928 S. Hanna K-2468

Superior Fuel Co.

919 Wells E-8141

Plaza Apothecary

3610 Brooklyn H-2351

Seniors To Attend Annual Dinner, 'Indelible Impressions,' Tomorrow

WOW disc-jockey John Signa played the records for the dance.

"As our first venture, the dance was a real success, but we're looking forward to much greater successes in the future," stated Mr. Irwin Bandemer chairman of the dance.

Goshen Defeats Cage Squad 66-44; North Gains 76-40 City Series Win

Krieg Scores Twenty Points To Top Team

Indian Crew Connects On 31 Of 56 Attempts; Archers Hit 12 Of 56

By Terry Newendorp

Having suffered their previous four City Series losses by a total of 13 points, the Archers went all the way last Friday night to suffer one of the worst defeats in recent years, a 76-40 loss to North Side's Redskins. The 36-point margin was the greatest that any North Side team has ever piled up over a Kelly team; and this was the same Redskin team that nearly, and by all rights, should have lost to the very same Archer crew just three weeks earlier.

Several causes are evident for the Archers' drop from a two-point loss to a 36-point squashing. One is clearly evident from the percentages. North hit 31 of 65 field attempts on its home floor. The Archers managed a puny 12 of 56, for a .218 percentage compared to the 'Skins' .477.

Accuracy, hustle, spirit, and inspiration were motivating forces behind the lopsided victory. Coach By Hey had his team and school greatly keyed up for the game. The scrappiness of Jack Fry and Steve Esterline had those boys running circles around Archers in scrambles for the ball.

The big Redskin center, Mark Krieg, apparently unhampered by his knee injuries, showed unusual finesse both on offense and defense and strengthened the squad with his pivot play.

THE ARCHERS KEPT pace with Redskins only the first ten minutes. The Green started off the first quarter well, holding leads of 3-0, 5-2, and 7-4. Then Krieg tied it up 7-7 on a lay-up, and Fry hit a jumper to put North ahead 9-7 with 4:32 left in the quarter. Although they tied it up early in the second period, the Green were never again in the lead.

Mike Painter hit two quick buckets to give North a 13-8 lead, but Mart Platupe got the sum total of all his points for the night as he picked up the last four points of the quarter to bring the score 13-12, North's favor.

Following Krieg's foul shot opening the second stanza, Gary Probst connected to tie the score at 14-14. Esterline collected four in a row then, and Krieg got four more after Probst's second basket to vault the 'Skins into a 22-16 lead.

NORTH QUICKLY OPENED up that lead as South went dead on its shooting, hitting just three of 17 attempts from the field in the entire period. Esterline got three more points, and Fry cashed in three rapid fielders to explode North into a 35-22 lead at half time.

The Archer troubles were just beginning. If the fans had known before the second period that the Kellys were destined to make just one field goal in the entire third, and only four more in the fourth quarter, they would have probably gone home then.

The Archers shifted into a zone at the start of the second middle and kept Krieg and Fry from slipping through. Unfortunately, the Red proved that they could shoot with uncanny accuracy from outside as they rifled in seven attempts over the Kelly zone to leap into a commanding 51-32 lead as the third act closed.

IN THE FOURTH period the Bowmen seemed to just heave a big sigh and then die. As Krieg slammed in three fielders and Painter added one to offset Ken Leakey's second and last field goal of the night, the Redskins were suddenly in possession of a 26-point lead with almost six minutes left in the rout.

Even the benchmen connected for North, with Herbie Summers and Jim Keller each picking up five points in the last four minutes of play. Only two blasts from nearly 30 feet out by Tom Shine in the last minute prevented the Big Red from doubling the score of the Green as Krieg and company outdoing the Archers 25-8 in the final quarter to establish the 76-40 verdict.

Krieg got 20 points for the winners, followed by Esterline and Schumaker with ten and Fry with eight. Hilsmer had 11 for South, and Leakey potted ten.

Athletes To Elect Speaker

Selection of a speaker and appointment of committees for the Lettermen's Banquet will be the central purpose of the meeting of the Lettermen's Club today in the Greeley Room at 7:30 p.m.

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET

One Block North of South Side

7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

NOON CHAMPS . . . The Nature Boys became the Noon League Intramural Basketball Champions by defeating the Wild Kats in the final game. Members of the team are front row Bob Piercy, left, and Pat Fiske. Back row are, left to right, Dave Rodenbeck, Jon Knight, Tom Wooding, and Steve Jones.—Photo by Lowden

Handball and basketball have practically finished action, and entries are being taken for badminton and volleyball.

The annual badminton tourney in which there are three weight divisions, will be played at noon and after school. Those persons entered in noon league action are Jim Carnahan, Joe McKibben, Jerry Dunlap, Val Budowski, Rick Meeks, and David James, lightweights;

Carl Foust, Russ Wickham, Bill Ausderan, Ray Rodenbeck, Gary Tracey, Fred Plothe, and Dan Dewald, middleweight; Josy Shank, Larry Dawson, Larry Ingram, Bob Hart, Bob Hawkins, Bob McKinley, William Joy, Alan Schlie and James Lambert, heavyweights.

Lightweights entered in night league action are Dan Berco, Don Carlo, Don Slane, Larry Boltz, and Bob Horn. Middleweights include Bob Peirce, Steve Shambaugh, Bob Lee Bryant, Tim Grodrian, Jim Knapp, Doug Trier, Jerry McCorkle, Bob Holmway, Dave Reinhold, and Vic Seewald.

Entered as heavyweights are Denver Druesdow, Ronald Bakalar, Don Dawson, Larry Schneider, Steve Petty, and Steve Chen.

The annual volleyball tournament began last week with Mike Dicker's Wildcats playing Charlie Parker's Packers and Tom Meyers' Sophomore Rejects facing Gary Tinkel's Champs. These teams are all heavyweight noon league teams. Other heavyweight teams in Noon League include Walt Hadley's BAHLL's, Walter Stuelpe's Meat-Eaters, Rick Bear's Twisters U.S.A., Dave Riemen's The Mighty Few, and Louie Baughman's Clods.

Night league teams entered are Jim Maxson's Phonies II and Dale Smith's One-Tacks.

Congratulations to the handball champions. Night league singles experienced winners are lightweight, Jon Lyon; middleweight, finals between Bill Ausderan and Dave Reinhold; and heavyweight, Don Dawson.

Night league doubles experienced winners include lightweight, Jon Lyon-Dave James; middleweight, Mike Hofer-Tom Galland; and heavyweight, no entrants.

Night league singles novice winners are lightweight, finals between Tom Galland, Mike Horman, and Jim

Artists To Make Film

Honorary Arts Club will meet in Room 61 at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday to finish painting their film and making the sound track for it. The film, started at the last meeting, will contain abstract designs and cartoons.

Boys To Finish Cars

Working on entries for the Fisher Body Automobile designing contest, the Designers' Associated Club will continue to complete its projects at the February 7 meeting at 3:30 p.m. in Room 120.

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Dale Hilsmer Tops Archers With 24 Points

Kellys' Loss To 'Skins Gives Record Of 6-11; Miller Sparks Victors

Following the same pattern that they had used the night before against North Side, Archer cagers dropped their second game to Goshen this season, 66-44. After a close first quarter that found South down only 17-15, the tired Kellys fell to a spirited onslaught by the whole corps that sent them to the half-time dressing room, trailing 35-23. During the second half, Goshen padded their first-half lead, defeating the Green, 66-44.

As was expected, Ron Miller, Randy Saal, and Jim Gingerich led the victors. In the first match between the two squads, Miller was dandy with his 25-foot bombs, stunning the Archers with 20 markers. He was followed by center and fine rebounder Randy Saal with 12 points and guard Joe Gingerich also with 12 points. The other guard, 6-0 Terry Morgan, scored 11 for the Red and White. This balanced scoring spelled defeat for the Green.

Although Archer Dale Hilsmer led all scorers with 24 tallies, he received little aid from his mates. The next highest scorer was Ken Leakey with only eight points. Platupe, Probst, and Lohman were generally ineffective in what proved to be a dismal game.

South experienced none of its frequent trouble from the foul line in this game, getting as many points on free throws as Goshen.

| Summaries |    |   |    |  |
|-----------|----|---|----|--|
| Goshen    | G  | F | T  |  |
| Saal      | 6  | 0 | 12 |  |
| Morgan    | 5  | 0 | 11 |  |
| Cotton    | 3  | 1 | 7  |  |
| Gingerich | 5  | 2 | 12 |  |
| Miller    | 8  | 4 | 20 |  |
| Edson     | 0  | 2 | 2  |  |
| Lech      | 0  | 2 | 2  |  |
| Probst    | G  | F | T  |  |
| Platupe   | 1  | 2 | 4  |  |
| Hilsmer   | 10 | 4 | 24 |  |
| Lohman    | 0  | 3 | 3  |  |
| Leakey    | 3  | 2 | 8  |  |
| Meyer     | 0  | 1 | 1  |  |
| McMahon   | 0  | 0 | 0  |  |
| vanOosten | 0  | 0 | 0  |  |
| Shine     | 0  | 0 | 0  |  |

City Scoreboard

| Team          | W  | L  | Pct. | P   | OF  | GB    |
|---------------|----|----|------|-----|-----|-------|
| Central       | 5  | 1  | .833 | 336 | 289 |       |
| C.C.          | 4  | 1  | .800 | 306 | 250 | 1/2   |
| North         | 4  | 1  | .800 | 318 | 249 | 3/4   |
| Elmhurst      | 1  | 3  | .250 | 217 | 238 | 2 1/2 |
| Concordia     | 1  | 5  | .167 | 292 | 390 | 3 1/2 |
| South         | 1  | 5  | .167 | 283 | 327 | 3 1/2 |
| Overall       |    |    |      |     |     |       |
| Central       | 9  | 5  | .643 |     |     |       |
| Con. Catholic | 10 | 6  | .625 |     |     |       |
| Concordia     | 8  | 9  | .470 |     |     |       |
| North         | 7  | 8  | .466 |     |     |       |
| Elmhurst      | 7  | 8  | .466 |     |     |       |
| South         | 6  | 11 | .353 |     |     |       |

| Leading Scorers |         |      |
|-----------------|---------|------|
| Player          | School  | Pts. |
| Edmonds         | Central | 206  |
| Esterline       | North   | 217  |
| Baack           | Con.    | 266  |
| Krull           | C.C.    | 236  |
| Hilsmer         | South   | 224  |
| Leakey          | South   | 222  |
| Bubb            | C.C.    | 191  |
| Widenhoffer     | Con.    | 202  |

RIALTO BEAUTY SHOPPE

202 Rialto Theatre
H-1183

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"
Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

Phone: H-83591

Kaye's Koiffure

Complete Hair Care

224 W. Leith

Fort Wayne, Ind.

3717 S. Clinton St.

Headquarters For

OFFICIAL HIGH SCHOOL RINGS

818
CALHOUN
ST.

818
CALHOUN
ST.

Archers Grab First City Series Win In 52-47 Elmhurst Battle, Overcome Taller Madison Heights' Five, 60-41

The Archers bagged their first City Series victory and second win against a city school January 20 by defeating Elmhurst by a 52-47 score, eliminating the Trojans from the City Series contest. The game, played in South's gym, was highlighted by a thrill-charged fourth quarter, a 54-foot shot, and outstanding board work by Junior Gary Probst.

The game opened with South employing a man-to-man defense and Elmhurst using a rather ineffective 2-3 zone. The Green jumped to an early 6-1 lead on three points by Probst before being halted by the Trojans. Dave Foreman, exhibiting a very aggressive defense, fouled three times in the first stanza and left the game with over two minutes remaining. The low scoring quarter closed with the Archers in possession of a slim 12-9 lead.

At the opening of the second quarter Ken Leakey traded baskets with Miller and Beard, as well as boards with the latter, before the Trojans tied the game at 16 apiece with 5:35 remaining in the half. During the remainder of the period, the Kellys traded the Red basket for basket ending the half in a 26-25 deadlock.

MART PLATUPE WAS outstanding on defense and off the boards during the whole game and especially during this period. Shep Jefferson relieving the ice cold Dale Hilsmer, did well. He scored on a three-point play but also committed three fouls in as many minutes, one of which was a double.

In the third period, well over a minute elapsed before Hilsmer dropped a foul shot and then a field goal, putting the Green ahead 28-25. Then slim, high-jumping Terry Baker scored four straight points, bouncing South from the lead.

However, the Archers roared back in the last 2:30 of the quarter outscoring Elmhurst 9-4. This drive culminated in a beautiful 54-foot last-second shot by Ken Leakey which touched the rim before splitting the mesh, giving South a 37-33 advantage.

THE SIZZLING fourth period, featuring scoring streaks by both squads opened with the Kellys jumping to a 41-34 lead. Then the Trojans blasted the hapless and shaken Archers with 13 straight points in a little over three minutes. This three-minute period featured extremely shaky ball handling and passing by the Archer five and deadly shooting accuracy by Beard and Foreman of Elmhurst.

Thus, with only three minutes left in the contest the Archers were down 47-41. Hilsmer then closed the gap to four and drove lay-ups that resulted in his fifth foul.

Next Probst stole the limelight by scoring five consecutive tallies. His second basket was the result of heads-up basketball as he snatched a lost ball under the Kelly rim and converted on a three point play giving South a 48-47 advantage. Tom McMahon, doing an excellent job filling in for Hilsmer, then iced the game with a terrific driving lay-up through the shattered Trojan forward wall. Leakey then put the contest completely out of reach with two free throws.

Leakey topped the Archers in scoring with 14, followed closely by Probst with 12, and Platupe with 10.

Miller and Beard both managed 10 for the Trojans. Though hitting at a .315 percentage from the field, the Archers improved tremendously on charity tosses, sinking 18 of 22. Platupe and Probst were both outstanding, as was Leakey. This victory was truly a team effort, however, and showed the results of superior teamwork and spirit.

Bowmen Crush Pirates

Boosted by a great display of school spirit, South Side's Archers jumped to a fast 14-point lead in the first period and won running away whipping Madison Heights of Anderson 60-41 in the home gym on January 19.

The Pirates' cold shooting was the key factor in the victory. During the Archers' first-period spree, the Pirates could connect on only a field goal and a free throw at the beginning of the quarter and another two pointer near the gun. Their shooting percentage for the game was 22.9; 15 points less than the Archers.

Ken Leakey led the opening barrage with six of the Archers' first eight points, each one a 15 to 20-foot jump shot. After two foul shots by Mart Platupe, Bob Lohman connected on two 20-foot set shots, and the Archers were on their way. A foul shot by Gary Probst and a driving lay-up by Dale Hilsmer concluded the first quarter scoring with the Archers ahead 17-5.

AFTER STARTING the second stanza on the same note, the Archers hit a momentary lapse that allowed the Pirates to close the gap slightly. The Green picked up the first five points on a tip-in by Platupe, a steal in the backcourt and a lay-up by Leakey, and a foul shot by Hilsmer. Finally, after 10 futile minutes, the Pirates found their shooting eye and collected eight points while the Archers were held to two. Steve Garner led this short rally with two jump shots. The Archers came right back with a spree of their own, scoring six points to the Pirates' two, running up a 32-15 lead.

Cooled off by an extended halftime rest, both teams had trouble getting into the groove in the third period. In three and one-half minutes, the Archers clipped the meshes for only two field goals; and the Pirates hit three. Both teams played very liberally and had trouble penetrating each other's defense. However, the Archers outscored the Pirates nine rest, both teams had trouble getting into the groove in the third period. In three and one-half minutes, the Archers clipped the meshes for only two field goals; and the Pirates hit three. Both teams played very liberally and had trouble penetrating each other's defense. However, the Archers outscored the Pirates nine

Skaters To Compete In YMCA Contention

The annual ice-skating derby, sponsored by the Park Board and YMCA, will be Tuesday at the McMillen Park rink from 7 to 10 p.m. Registration will be at the park on the evening of the races. There is no charge for entering the races or for admission.

Competition will be divided into several groups. Boys and girls through 12 years of age are the Midgits; Juniors, boys and girls from 13-15 years of age; and Seniors, boys and girls 16 years of age and over.

This year the derby has been split into two classes. There will be a novice class open to anyone, and a championship class which is limited to winners of previous derby events.

GAA Team 1 Wins In Frosh Volleyball

Defeating Teams 6 and 4, respectively, Team 1 won its second and third games of Freshman GAA on January 12. Pam Ensley tabulated 20 points to become high scorer.

In the first game Team 1 whipped Team 6 with a score of 33-21. Team 2 chalked up Team 3 with a 46-23 margin. Team 4 won over Team 5 with a score of 40-24.

In the second game Team 1 won over Team 4 with a 22-10 margin. Team 6 then outscored Team 2, 25-21. Team 3 won over Team 5 with a score of 28-14.

Fellows! Here's the New Twist!

Not the dance, but a zip-lined trench coat made especially for the young high schooler, and sold in Fort Wayne only in the famous Gentry Shop at Meyers & McCarthy . . . the store with the weather tower. Here's a coat that "knocks 'em dead for style" . . . has a special alpaca lining for warmth. Zip the lining out and you have a perfect spring coat. Colors are the new olive black plaid and also charcoal blue plaid. Sizes in regulars and longs. This double duty coat called the "new twist" sells for only $29.95 and is a real buy. From time to time visit the Gentry Shop . . . many high schoolers do just to see what's new!

Haag Drug, Inc.

5016 Old Decatur Rd.

Reg. 98c

45 R.P.M. Records 84¢

Complete Selection of Long-Play Albums

Azar's February Feature! CHERRY PIE 'N' ICE CREAM

. . . the best thing that's happened to cherries since George Washington! Try this taste treat soon at . . .

Azar's

BIG BOY

2440 W. Washington
Calif. Rd. at 427

3701 S. Calhoun
S. Calhoun at Berry

WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY!

Teenagers And the WANT AD is a Salesman that can sell anything from skates to clothes

PHONE E-0111

Your Favorite Newspaper

The News-Sentinel

THE JOURNAL-GAZETTE

Green To Battle Gary Froebel Saturday, Hosting Quintet Maintains 14-2 Standing

'Little O' Sparks Blue Devils; Squad Boasts Superior Height

Fresh from a convincing win over the number one team in the state, East Chicago Washington, the Gary Froebel Blue Devils play host to South Side Saturday evening at 8 p.m. The Devils, owners of a sparkling 14-2 record, look for an easy win when they face the visiting Archers.

Froebel was voted in a tie for nineteenth spot in last week's A.P. state rankings. However, it will undoubtedly rise to the top ten after last Friday's stunning 57-49 upset over East Chicago.

TOUGH LITTLE Lebanon and perennial powerhouse Gary Roosevelt are the only two quintets to down Coach Mike Solfiak's forces and then only by a combined total margin of five points. Froebel had whipped Roosevelt earlier in the season as they did city rival Tolleston and Valparaiso, two other top squads.

South has played one common foe of the host squad, that being Michigan City. Froebel trounced the Imps, 68-58, while the Archers lost by more than twenty points to the same team. Thus, needless to say, Coach Don Reichert's outfit will need one of their better nights to even make a contest out of their Saturday encounter.

The boys from "The Region" are led for the second straight season by 5-11 Orsten Artis, a high-scoring, do-everything guard. So talented is this lad that he has been nicknamed "Lit-

Six Boys Play Roundball On Local DeMolay Team

Members of the Fort Wayne Chapter of DeMolay basketball team coached by Mike Truitt includes six boys from South Side. These DeMolay members play church leagues and other leagues. Last Thursday they were victorious over Bethlehem Lutheran by a score of 63-48.

Last Saturday they participated in a three-team sectional tournament which took place at Zion Lutheran's gym. The other two teams in the tournament, Bluffton and Auburn, played in the morning game and the DeMolay team played the winner at 3:30 p.m.

The members of the DeMolay team are Al Sheldon, Bill Kleifgen, Barton Bailey, Denny Truitt, Dave Meek, and Mark Hagerman from South Side. Also on the team are Jon Roscoe, Central; and Larry Thompson, Bob Cummings, and Rick McClean, North Side.

Hank's Gulf Service

Fairfield and Maxine
Phone H-9440
Fort Wayne, Indiana

DIGGS-H-4286

HARRISON HILL
3328 S. Calhoun

Fountain
School Supplies
Vitamins

Prescription
Specialists

Did You Know

Tony Rydell Eats at Ab's?

Ab's Drive-In

Clinton and Rudisill
11 a.m. to 12 p.m.

tle O" in comparison with "Big O" Oscar Robertson, ex-Indianapolis Att-lucks great, and now star of the professional Cincinnati Royals.

GARY'S FRONT LINE averages just slightly taller than South's, but its jumping ability cannot be matched. Center Rufus Smith and forward George Reveter both stand 6-3 and have had three years of varsity experience.

Robert Eskero, a 6-2 sophomore wonder, plays from the other forward position. In his first year on the squad, Eskero has been able to beat out second-string forwards Willie Green and Harry Pickett, two of Froebel's seven varsity returnees from last year's outstanding team.

Playing opposite Orsten Artis in the guard slot is 5-11 Robert Grochowski. Both boys have competed on the varsity for four years and are excellent floor generals as well as dead-eyed shooters.

In its fearsome array of power, the Blue Devils have, then, four returning lettermen on their first five plus three on the second team. Green, Pickett, and James Miles return to join the newcomers, 6-4 Dick Mayerik and 5-5 Sam Gates on the reserve team.

South Side's main chores Saturday will be trying to limit Artis' scoring output and to outbottle Gary's jumping-jack front line off the boards. In addition, it will have to fight the dulling effects from the long trip to the Calumet area.

The following are the probable starting lineups:

| Froebel    |        |   |
|------------|--------|---|
| Eskew      | (6-2)  | F |
| Reverter   | (6-3)  | F |
| Smith      | (6-3)  | C |
| Artis      | (6-11) | G |
| Grochowski | (5-11) | G |
| South      |        |   |
| Platoue    | (6-1)  | F |
| Probst     | (6-2)  | F |
| Hilsmier   | (6-2)  | C |
| Leaky      | (6-2)  | G |
| Lohman     | (6-2)  | G |

GAA Members Host Recognition Dinner

Members of the Girls' Athletic Association and invited guests met for a Recognition Buffet Banquet at 6 p.m. in the Cafeteria January 15. The theme was "Winter Rhapsody." To follow the theme, cut-out snowflakes were placed on the tables along with candle snowmen and dolls. The dolls were dressed to symbolize different sports, and the snowflakes were sprinkled with glitter.

INVOCATION WAS given by Janice Nahrwald, president of GAA. Following the dinner, Ann Hechler acted as master of ceremonies for the entertainment. Freshman Doris Hessert spoke on her feelings about GAA; Sandy Heidbrink told of outstanding events in the past four years and unbroken records.

Karen Ponader, accompanist, and Jan Nahrwald lead the songs. Since last year's president, Valerie Callahan, couldn't be present, Rita Hessert, last year's vice-president, made a brief speech. Virginia Rose presented a tap dance. Mrs. Geneva Johns, honored guest and a graduate of '41, spoke on her days in GAA.

Charlotte Powell presented a declamation, "Araenic and Old Lace." Soprano soloist, Margie Greiser, sang "Hello, Young Lovers." One of the sponsors of GAA, Mrs. Alice Keegan, completed the banquet with presentation of awards.

THE FOLLOWING girls received awards: Senior Jean Hatfield received a numeral for 305 points; Sandy Heidbrink, senior, was awarded a letter for 1611 points; and Janice Nahrwald, senior, received a gold pin for having made 2144 points. For 1,713 points scored, Junior Dodie Kessler received a letter. Sophomore Sue Eversman received a numeral for 319 points.

Boys' Rifle Club To Meet

The Boys' Rifle Club will meet Monday, on the range, at 3:30 p.m. New members may join at this meeting.

Self-Service or Drop-Offs

Washed, Dried, and Folded. Finish Same Day.

1-Day Shirt Service.

Dry Cleaning

SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT

4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

Stu's Sideline Shots

By Stu Schmitz

Disappointments were in order for Coach Don Reichert and his Archers last week as they were handed a double loss and experienced one of their worst hardwood setbacks in history.

South, who was expected to keep pace or possibly spill the tables on their cross-town rivals, North Side, played what might be considered their poorest performance of the year, while on the other hand, By Hey's Redskins displayed one of their classiest games of the season. The Redskins outclassed the Archers in every department and their torrid shooting pace of .477 as compared to the Archers' weak .218 mark just added to South's woes.

All in all, the Archers played a fine first quarter but after that their defense fell apart; their outside shooting hit a rut; and they just couldn't seem to do anything right. Had the Archers capitalized on more than 16 of 30 foul attempts and had they taken more advantage of those plentiful one-and-one situations early in the game they might have been able to keep pace with the Redskins longer and consequently their winning spirit might not have dwindled so early in the game.

The following evening the Archers were again the victims of a run-away affair, as the Redskins of Goshen handed the Archers loss Number 11. The only consolation of the night was a 24-point performance by Dale Hilsmier.

The big job which faces the Archers right now is to restore confidence and spirit before the Sectional Tourney which is only three weeks away. South has shown that it is capable of turning in a hard-to-beat performance, but it just hasn't been able to do the trick when the pressure was on. Part of the problem lies in the terrible school support.

The student body doesn't realize that the Archers can't win ball games on past laurels, and they don't realize how much a strong school spirit helps win these games. In last week's game with North, the Redskin section was raising the rooftop during the entire game even while they were behind in the early stages of the game, while the Archer section tended to "hush up" during the second half.

Upsets and disappointments seemed to be the trend last week in high school basketball. Top-ranked East Chicago Washington fell to nineteenth rated Gary Froebel by a 57-49 count, leaving Madison as the only undefeated team in the state. Another astounding upset was the 68-62 loss handed to third-ranked Lafayette by an up-and-coming power, Logansport. The Froebel victory stopped Washington's victory string at 14. Incidentally, this is the same squad which the Archers face on the hardwood this Saturday night.

The big area upset last week was Concordia's 61-59 victory over Bluffton, the News-Sentinel's top-rated team in the surrounding area. Tom Baack scored 21 points to lead all scorers. The Cadets weren't able to outclass the second-rated team in the area, however, as they fell hard to a strong Portland team.

Jimmy Rayl was the big talk in Big Ten basketball last week as he climaxed a record-smashing 56-point scoring performance with a 20-foot desperation shot which gave Indiana a 105-104 victory over Minnesota.

That victory shot probably reminded Rayl of the 1959 Indiana high school Semi-State when his desperation shot enabled Kekomo to defeat South, 92-90. His performance erased the previous Big Ten high of 52 held by Purdue's Terry Dischinger who nearly outdid his record that same day with a 50-point performance against Wisconsin.

Congratulations to the Fort Wayne DeMolay basketball team for winning the Sectional DeMolay Tourney with a 65-63 victory over Bluffton. Those who played in the title game from South were Bill Kleifgen, who led all scorers with 20, Dave Meek, Al Sheldon, Mark Hagerman, and Barton Bailey.

Highlighting the world of track last week end was 22-year-old Peter Snell of New Zealand, who cracked Herb Elliot's previous 3:54.5 record by a tenth of a second. Snell set the record on a grass track, which is considered slower than the cinder surface on which Elliot ran.

My predictions for the week's games are as follows: Central vs. North—This one will be merely a guess. Central beat North by a 54-48 count at the beginning of the season, but the city lead is at stake and the game figures to be a real battle royal. I'll take Central.

Concordia vs. Columbia City—The Cadets have been riding high after their Bluffton victory, but I'll take Columbia City.

C.C. vs. Elmhurst—Both squads are experiencing slumps presently, but the Irish have to win to stay in the city title race. C.C. wins.

Angola vs. Luers—The Hornets have a 14-3 record at stake, and Luers won't blemish their record further. Angola wins.

C.C. vs. Luers—This rival game should result in a C.C. victory.

Michigan City vs. North—North will be too tired from the Central game to outplay the well-regarded Red Devils.

Decatur vs. Elmhurst—A hard-fought Decatur victory. Central vs. Richmond—The Tigers will put up a good battle but will find themselves on the short end of a victory.

South vs. Gary Froebel—What can be expected? South is playing the team that defeated the state's top-ranked teams and will be doing well to stay within 15 points.

Freshman Five Defeat Knights, Bow To Irish

Mauling Bishop Luers and dropping a heart-breaker to the Irish of Central Catholic, South's freshman team broke even in two recent contests.

January 18 found the Archers' trouncing the Knights by 41-21. The Bishop Luers squad took the lead only once in the first quarter, at 4-1. Dave Fishbaugh took care of that lead by pouring in two drive-in shots. Coupled with buckets by Ron Van Ryn and Dan Junk, the Green piled up a five point lead before the Knight's Farrel canned a 12-footer to close the gap to three.

In the second quarter, a basket by Luers' Burgette and two charity tosses by Cavacini wiped out the Archer lead. Later, after failing to report, the Knights' Miller was tabbed for a technical. Jan Doran converted the attempt, and that left the score at 12-10 for South. The two teams traded baskets, and the half ended with the score standing at South 14, Luers 12.

The third quarter saw the Green start to pull away. Mike Vogt started a six-point rally on a layup after a pass from Van Ryn. Bob Kinsey and Van Ryn sank foul shots; and Doran, after stealing the sphere, potted a six-footer to vault the Archers into an eight-point lead at 20-12. Five points by each team, including a 25-footer by Van Ryn, rounded out the scoring in the third period.

MUCH OF THE SAME followed in the fourth quarter, the Green being led by a five for six foul shooting exhibition by Mike Vogt and another five contributed by Dave Fishbaugh went on to outscore Bishop Luers 16-4. The final score was 41-21.

High scorers for South were Dave Fishbaugh with ten and Mike Vogt with nine.

In a game played on January 25, South Side barely missed avenging two earlier losses to Central Catholic, losing by 48-47. The whole game, particularly the fourth quarter, was a see-saw battle. The biggest lead in the second half was four points by South, that lead being cut quickly by the Irish.

A key play late in the fourth quarter concerned a very questionable call by the official. Bob Kinsey was completing a clean break with a layup when he was called for traveling. South Side's bench protested so vehemently that it was awarded with a technical foul. However, the free shot was missed by Carl Brink of Central Catholic.

SOUTH LED BY ONE point with 51 seconds remaining, but could not hold the lead.

Another factor that hurt the Green was that both Bob Kinsey and Dave Fishbaugh, who along with Mike Vogt, are the best rebounders on the team, fouled out late in the game.

High scorer for South was Jan Doran with 12. Following were Bob Kinsey with 11 and Mike Vogt and Dave Fishbaugh with nine.

Following are summaries of South Side scoring for the two games.

| South vs. Bishop Luers |    |      |
|------------------------|----|------|
| Player                 | G  | F T  |
| Van Ryn                | 2  | 1 5  |
| Doran                  | 1  | 2 4  |
| Kinsey                 | 1  | 3 5  |
| Junk                   | 1  | 0 2  |
| Butz                   | 0  | 0 0  |
| Bolman                 | 1  | 0 2  |
| Fishbaugh              | 4  | 2 10 |
| Vogt                   | 7  | 0 4  |
| Totals                 | 17 | 32   |

| South vs. Central Catholic |    |       |
|----------------------------|----|-------|
| Player                     | G  | F T   |
| Vogt                       | 2  | 5 9   |
| Van Ryn                    | 2  | 0 4   |
| Junk                       | 1  | 0 2   |
| Hoover                     | 0  | 0 0   |
| Kinsey                     | 4  | 3 11  |
| Fishbaugh                  | 2  | 5 11  |
| Doran                      | 5  | 2 12  |
| Bolman                     | 0  | 0 0   |
| Totals                     | 16 | 15 47 |

AllenWood Products

Plywood—Doors—Formica
Custom-Built Cabinets

1013 Wells E-2865

Plaza Beauty Salon

H-6298

Open Evenings Till 9

Southgate

George and Kate's Colonial Shop

George and Kate Dehnert, Owners
EARLY AMERICAN FURNITURE
2730 South Calhoun St. Phone H-2380 Fort Wayne, Indiana

CUPP, Inc.

Engineers and Contractors

For

HEATING AND AIR CONDITIONING

2124 Fairfield

H-6141

Reserves Beat Goshen, North; Season Record Stands At 14-1

Matching their previous winning streak earlier this year, the reserve basketball team posted their seventh consecutive victory by defeating Goshen on Saturday, 43-40. The previous day, they had conquered North Side, 40-30; and their record stands at 14-1.

The reserves traveled out of town to trade arrows with the Goshen Redskins, and they started fast by piling up a big lead. However, they had to hang on for their lives as the Redskins rallied but never quite caught the talented Archers.

THE LARGE ADVANTAGE was built up in the first half. The Archers had a five point lead at the end of the first quarter and led 31-22 at halftime. The key factor in the margin was the fine rebounding of Dave Banet and Tom Meyers. Banet wound up with 11 rebounds in the game, and Meyers had ten.

The big lead vanished in the third quarter as the Redskins applied an all-court press that caused the Archers' attack to fall apart completely. The Archers were able to score only 12 points in the entire second half, but they never surrendered the lead.

The Redskins fouled repeatedly in an attempt to get the ball; and three foul shots near the end iced the decision in favor of the Archers, 43-40.

Playing his best all-round game of the season was guard Bob Williams who led the scoring, with ten points. Banet and Meyers each contributed seven points to the Archers' cause to go with their fine rebounding. Dave Munson and Don Hilsmier chipped in with six points apiece. Dave Blanton and Ted Rolf rounded out the Archer scoring with four and three points, respectively.

Team Trounces North
In avenging their only loss of the campaign, the Archers had to fight hard for three quarters before finally running away from North Side's Redskins. Leading by only one point at the end of the third quarter, the Archers outscored the 'Skins 1-7 in the final stanza to fashion an easy victory.

Both teams had trouble getting started as they combined for a very scrappy first period. After playing almost half the quarter, the teams were tied at only 2-2. Dave Munson then connected for a three-point play, and the Green scored the next three points for an 8-4 lead at the end of the first six minutes.

The squad's passing picked up in the second quarter as the team rolled up an early 11-4 lead. This gain in finesse proved to be necessary as the cold-shooting Redskins began a slow comeback. Three points each by Tom Meyers and Dave Blanton kept the Archers in the lead as the Redskins closed an eight-point lead to five points, 18-13, at the half.

THE THIRD QUARTER was controlled by North Side. The Archers lost their shooting eye almost completely as the Redskins outscored them 10-6. After the Archers built up an apparently comfortable 21-14 lead, the Redskins scored eight straight points to gain their only lead in the game.

A jump shot from the corner by Don Hilsmier after the Redskins' spurge gave the Archers the lead that they maintained for the rest of the game, 24-23.

Three quick baskets at the beginning of the fourth quarter left the Redskins in the dust as the Green rolled up a 30-23 lead. The Northerners fouled in a vain attempt to get possession of the ball, but this only enabled the Archers to add to their margin. Hitting six of nine foul shots, the Archers won, 40-30.

Dave Banet led the Archers' scoring, with ten points, followed by Blanton with seven and Meyers and Hilsmier with six each. North was led by Underwood with nine and Fryer with six.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto & Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-5916 K-4909

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Munro's Standard SERVICE
Free Pick-Up and Delivery
Complete Motor Aid Service
Wheel Balancing
SOUTHGATE PLAZA H-5300

GOLLER'S DRY CLEANERS
608 E. Pontiac St. H-2102
4037 S. Wayne Ave. H-3364
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Coney Island WIENER STAND
131 West Main A-0783

Established 1876
KLAEHN FUNERAL HOME
Ambulance Service
420 West Wayne Street
Phone Anthony 0225

KOMET

MEMORIAL COLISEUM
Phone Trinity 31111

KOMET'S ICE HOCKEY

Next Home Game:
ST. PAUL SAINTS
vs.
FORT WAYNE KOMETS
Thursday, February 8
8:00 p.m.

Special General Admission
Price to All High School Students
50c
Reserved Tickets from
$1.00 through $2.50

HOCKEY

"Fresh up"

7up

PERFECT REFRESHMENT

"BROASTED CHICKEN"

PHONE K-8232

YOUR ORDER READY
WHEN YOU ARRIVE

Complete
Catering
Service

Four Students From Germany Enjoy South's Classes, Clubs

EIN, SWEI, DRIE . . . As Nina Shevchenko, center, points to her homeland, Germany, on the world globe, two other freshmen from that land, Lydia Budowski, left, and Valentina Harabosky, show pictures of outstanding buildings in the country divided between democracy and communism.—Photo by Jones

Being well-represented at South Side, Germany claims at least four members of the student body. Lydia Budowski, Val Budowski, Nina Shevchenko, and Valentina Harabosky are all German-born students and freshmen at South Side.

Lydia, who is a freshman on the business course, has not only been out of the United States; but has traveled to seven different states, including New York. New York City impressed her the most because, she said the people there seem to live differently than they do here. In addition to dancing and participating in a gymnastic club, Lydia spends her time tanning and painting.

In true American style, Lydia spent her entire summer at the lake. She has received recognition in such fields as gym, writing, English, art, and health. After being graduated from high school, she plans to go to college to train for an office job.

STAMP COLLECTING and playing baseball claim much of the time of Val Budowski. Val also has a paper route. A freshman on the business course, Val was most impressed with New York, because it's the largest city. When asked how the United States paralleled with Germany, he stated, "I don't know, because it's been a long time since I've been to Germany."

Valentina Harabosky, a freshman on the college course, has visited eight American states, being most impressed with Washington, D.C. She belongs to the Astro-Physics Section, and GAA, where she is a speedball captain. This active girl finds time to play the piano, paint, write, interpret languages, and delve into science. After being graduated, Valentina plans to become a mathematician. She hopes to attend Purdue University.

Valentian feels that the people in Germany are no different from Americans, although their customs are different.

NINA SHEVCHENKO, a freshman on the college course, spends most of her time reading, especially old magazines but she does many other things too. She is a member of the orchestra and has received a certificate for working on the school newspaper at Smart School. Nina is also a member of Meteorites and the Biology Club. Nina's future plans are undecided, but she plans to go to college.

Nina stated, "Although I like the United States, I like Germany better, because the people are friendlier. It feels more like home there for the people are always smiling and jolly." "Of course, as in any two different nations, customs in Germany are different from those in America. Germany is a beautiful country; it has many beautiful parks, and the people have time to enjoy it. They do not constantly rush around as Americans do."

Woodchucks Predict Weather, Determine Spring's Beginning

The woodchuck, or commonly called the ground hog, is thought to be able to predict the weather. In the United States, on Ground Hog Day, also known as Candlemas, amateur weathermen try to predict the weather for the next six weeks.

The custom of observing the weather and the ground hog on this day to discover the future weather was brought to America by immigrants from Great Britain and Germany. In Germany, however, it was the badger which broke its hibernation to observe the skies; in the United States the belief centers around the ground hog.

According to the legend, the ground hog awakens from his long winter sleep on February 2. He pokes his head out of his burrow, supposedly to observe the weather.

IF THE SUN IS shining and the ground hog can see his shadow, he is frightened and crawls back into his hole. This is supposed to mean six more weeks of winter weather.

But if the day is cloudy and the ground hog cannot see his shadow, he stays out of his hole, indicating that spring weather will soon come.

The superstition has no basis, except that the woodchuck does hibernate during the winter and that it does live in a burrow. Scientists decline to verify the ground hog's accuracy.

IN THE EARLY PART of the present century, a group of men in Pennsylvania organized the Slumbering Ground Hog Lodge. On the morning of February 2, its members go into the fields seeking a ground hog burrow. When one finds a burrow he calls to the others, and they all assemble to wait for the animal to emerge.

Girls To Hear Speaker

Mrs. Lois Murphy, teacher of home economics and sponsor of Vesta Club, announced that at the meeting, Wednesday, at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room, a speaker from the Beauty College will talk to Vesta members concerning make-up, hair styles, and one's general appearance.

Herman Klingler's WATCH REPAIR SHOP
1412 Broadway
Fort Wayne 2, Indiana

The
Corner House
Beauty Salon Inc.
Kenmore 0132 3201 Broadway
Fort Wayne, Indiana

GO TO CHURCH ON SUNDAY
AND SHOP ON
WEEKDAYS

Students To Enter Scientific Projects In Annual Contest

Students who wish to compete in the annual Science Fair must enter through their science teachers. The instructors will choose the school's representatives to the seventh annual Northeastern Indiana Science Fair, March 24 and 25, 1962.

Applications for entrance must be sent to Mr. Ronald K. Lewton, director of the event, before March 1, 1962. Winners in the regional event will compete in the National Science Fair in Seattle, Wash., next May.

Volunteers from the Fort Wayne Medical Society, Issac Knapp District Dental Society, Northeastern Indiana Veterinarian Association, Fort Wayne Center of Purdue University, and other industries will help the students with their projects.

An exhibit on any scientific subject made by a student may be entered if the pupil is enrolled in the first through twelfth grades in any public, private, or parochial school in Adams, Allen, Wells, or Whitley Counties.

A CONTESTANT may enter only one exhibit, either as an individual or in a group. All work on exhibits must be done by an individual or a group. Teachers may advise but must not build any part of the exhibit. An exhibit must not be a duplication of one shown by the same exhibitor at a science fair of a previous year.

Exhibits must be confined to a table or floor space 30 inches deep by 48 inches wide, or smaller. Oversized exhibits cannot be entered in the National Science Fair. Table space will be provided for each exhibit.

Construction must be durable; movable parts must be firmly attached and safe. All switches and cords for electrical operation must be provided with six or more feet of cord and the popular style of parallel plug.

The only electrical power provided in the exhibit area will be 110-volt a.c. Electricity will be furnished only when it is absolutely necessary for the exhibit.

DANGEROUS CHEMICALS, open flames, explosives, poisonous reptiles, or starvation experiments on animals must not be exhibited. Live animals must be fed, watered, and cages cleaned daily. Plants must be watered.

Exhibitors must bring their displays to the Regional Science Fair on March 23, from 3:30 to 9 p.m. They must be set up before 9 a.m. on March 24; and they must be removed by 10 p.m., March 24.

Judges will evaluate exhibits after they are set up. Scoring will be on work done by exhibitors, not on value of accessory equipment either borrowed or purchased.

Criteria for judging will be on scientific thought, originality, technical skill, thoroughness, clarity, and dramatic value. If they desire to do so, judges may interview some or all exhibitors. Decisions of the judges will be final.

EACH EXHIBITOR must have a concise explanation of the objective of his project work, the method he used, and how the project operates. The paper should be placed with the exhibit.

Exhibits will be placed in the elementary division, grades one through six; junior division, grades seven through nine; or senior division, grades ten through twelve. They will be classified as biological sciences, chemistry, engineering, mathematics, or physical sciences.

National Science Fair finalists will be chosen from the senior division only. Each school in the senior division may enter 20 exhibits or two per cent of the school's total number of students enrolled in grades 10, 11, and 12, whichever is larger.

Organization To Entertain

Moms' and Dads' Night is on the agenda for the Fort Wayne Order of Job's Daughters next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Egyptian Room of the Masonic Temple.

Each parent who attends this meeting will receive a special gift. There will also be entertainment by the Shrine Chanters under the direction of Mr. William Wetzel, music instructor, and refreshments.

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

DRINK
PURE SEALED DAIRY
MILK
Available in the milk machines

Reorganized Civil Defense Units Prepare For Disasters, Attacks

The United States and Allen County Civil Defense Program was completely reorganized in August, 1961. President John F. Kennedy received the full responsibility of the defense program. His main assistant became the Secretary of Defense, Robert Macnamara. Frank Ellis, who had his office in Battlecreek, Mich., made Mr. Macnamara his immediate aid in the Office of Emergency Planning.

The assistant of defense for Civil Defense is Stuart Pittmans. Under him is the state organization. Originally national and state governments worked as a joint administration. Now Richard Bates is the state director of Civil Defense, and there are 92 county directors.

Elwood Ross, director of Civil Defense in Allen County, works to organize non-military defense to minimize the disaster damage. The unseen missile attacks are now being coped with by erecting moderation towers to measure fall out. There are 95,000 of these towers in the United States, 30 of which are in Allen County.

During the attack it is the job of the Civil Defense team to warn the city of the path of the enemy, and also to warn other cities of the advancing attack. They advise having mass shelters for 50 or more people that could serve as a dual purpose in the city.

A national wide survey is to begin soon. First, towns will be quickly checked for possible shelters. Secondly, there will be a comprehensive survey of every possible building to measure height and thickness of walls. A computing machine will tell how many people could be saved. Finally, the Civil Defense Unit will build, assist, or finance new buildings so that eventually all people could be saved.

It is necessary for people to know in their own minds what to do in case of an attack. They should have a place to go and also have necessary supplies available. All Fort Wayne people should obtain the free booklet, "Information on Fall Out," which is available at all post offices and the Office of Allen County Civil Defense, 328 East Berry.

Agents Sell

(Continued from Page 1)

|                                 |      |
|---------------------------------|------|
| Book IV—Tom Erb, head           |      |
| 61 Linda Seibel                 | 100% |
| 62 Karen Miller                 | 11   |
| 64 Nancy Enz                    | 9    |
| 66 Suzette Glass                | 16   |
| 68 Brenda Dull                  | 5    |
| 70 Tom Erb                      | 100% |
| 72 Cindy Christman              | 4    |
| 74 Ann McCallister              | 1    |
| 75 Susi Hines                   | 3    |
| Book V—Sharyan Yerger, head     |      |
| 76 Sue Smith                    | 5    |
| 77 Barb Nelson                  | 1    |
| 80 Lynelle Dill                 | 13   |
| 82 Marla Reiber                 | 3    |
| 84 Cheryl Trulock               | 22   |
| 88 JoAnn Dixon                  | 27   |
| 90 Phyllis Pierson              | 1    |
| 91 Sue Korte                    | 13   |
| 92 Doug Hansen                  | 1    |
| Book VI—Sally Adams, head       |      |
| 94 Julia Merchant               | 10   |
| 96 Christie Counsman            | 7    |
| 98 Gwen Welling                 | 19   |
| 108 Gal Woodruff                | 9    |
| 110 Sharon Karst                | 100% |
| 116 Sally Sweet                 | 100% |
| 118 Sue Horth                   | 100% |
| 120 Nancy Redding               | 100% |
| 138 Carole Ladig                | 100% |
| Book VII—Lane Grile, head       |      |
| 140 Tonya Hines                 | 13   |
| 142 Bev Flanagan-Karen Franks   | 1    |
| 144 Jane Knettle-Marion Johnson | 11   |
| 146 Diane Fredrick              | 100% |
| 150 Sharon Lynch                | 27   |
| 152 Nancy Augspurger            | 17   |
| 154 Joyce Spindler              | 4    |
| 156 Sue Weiraub-Liz Weiraub     | 100% |
| 172 Rosie Capps                 | 100% |
| Book VIII—Sally Sweet, head     |      |
| 174 Ann Gallmeier               | 4    |
| 176 Kathy DeVore                | 100% |
| 178 Marsha Hoard                | 7    |
| 182 Ann Brase                   | 16   |
| 184 Phyllis Bixby               | 25   |
| 186 Linda Thornburg             | 6    |
| 188 Liz Richter                 | 7    |
| 190 Ann Flickinger              | 10   |

South Side PTA To Attend Reorganization Discussion

South Side High School PTA urges all parents and neighbors to attend the county-wide hearing on the school reorganization plan for Allen County tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the North Side High School gymnasium.

The State Commission will hear a plan providing for two administrative school units in Allen County, after which they must approve or reject this plan, technically known as F-1.

Since a show of hands by township will be called for by the State Commission, it is imperative that as many as possible appear from the different townships to be counted. "Every taxpayer should be vitally concerned since every school girl or boy will be affected with the outcome of the decision of the State Commission," stated Mrs. V. K. McMahon, president of South Side's PTA.

FORT WAYNE'S FRIENDLY
CAMERA SHOP
Sunny Schick Camera Shop
407 West Washington
Phone A-9119

OPEN BOWLING
9 A.M. TO CLOSING DAILY
Students Under 16 Bowl for 35¢ per line. No Shoe Rental Charge.
Monday thru Friday—9 a.m. to 6 p.m.
Students 16-18, 35¢ plus shoes, till 6:00 every day.
FREE BOWLING INSTRUCTIONS
DEHNERT'S LANES
Your Neighborhood Bowling Center
AIR CONDITIONED . . . AUTOMATIC PIN SETTERS
5214 Decatur Road (Next to Eavey's)

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

look out

"We Serve the Best"

FOOD • FOOD • FOOD • FOOD

Chemistry Laboratory Acquires New Balances, Current Outlets

NEW ATOM ABODE . . . The remodeling of the chemistry laboratory having just been completed, chemistry students, from left to right, Pat Bailey, Allen Sheldon, and Larry Lee, work on experiments. Also receiving a face-lifting were the two lecture rooms and the supply room.—Photo by Jones

Chemistry students have begun work this week in an almost entirely new laboratory. All the equipment and fixtures in Room 2 were torn out and replaced between Christmas and mid-term vacations.

Improvements include eight new lab tables each with two sinks. These replaced the three long tables previously used.

Four students work at each table so that each student has access to a sink. At each work space are A.C. and D.C. current outlets, new additions enabling students to do a greater variety of experiments.

Each table contains 32 drawers, eight underneath a single working place. These drawers will replace lockers. They can be locked, and the keys will be kept in Room 2 on special panels that can be closed and locked for each class.

OTHER NEW EQUIPMENT consists of five balances, four balance tables, two centerfuges, a heating oven, three sets of shelves for salts and reagents, and two hoods to carry out fumes.

The lab was painted; and a new floor, ceiling, and lights were added. A new ventilating system and a safety shower were installed.

"One of the big advantages of the new improvements is the greater safety afforded by them. There will be fewer accidents and injuries," stated Mr. Robert Davis, chemistry instructor.

"FOR EXAMPLE" HE continued, "students will no longer have to walk back and forth to get equipment out of lockers in the back of the room. The equipment and acids are more conveniently placed. This constant movement disturbed other students and caused accidents."

Senior Sarah Finch commented, "The lab, now being more up-to-date,

11A Peggy Schmidt Wins Third Writing Recognition

Peggy Schmidt, Junior A, has been named Writer of the Week for the third time this year for her editorial in the January 22 issue of the Times. Peggy will receive a 100-point bonus and will be eligible for the Times Writing Trophy to be presented on Recognition Day.

EMPHASIS

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

DESIGN / ART
PHOTOGRAPHY
OFF-SET PLATES
LETTERPRESS PLATES
ELECTROS
DIES, MATS, STEREOS

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.

COMPLETE PRINTING PLATE SERVICE

120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-5055

Ken Davis Displays Speaking Talents In Meets, Assemblies

His speaking ability has brought Ken Davis, senior, honors at speech meets in Newcastle, Peru, Howe, and New Haven.

"The fact that I did join speech activities has brought out and developed my speech abilities, which in turn have opened new doors for me," states Ken.

AT SCHOOL, KEN has demonstrated his ability in public speaking by narrating the Thanksgiving assembly, and giving the invocation at the service banquet.

Active in Wranglers, Hi-Y, Assemblies Workshop, and the Service Club, Ken states, "I enjoy participating in everything." He has served as program chairman for Wranglers, and, at present, he is filling the post of sergeant-at-arms in Hi-Y.

Outside of school, Ken is actively interested in the Methodist Youth Fellowship. Last summer, he attended camp at Epworth Forest, North Webster, Ind., where he addressed a group of 500 Methodist young people. This privilege was given him because of his proven speech ability.

LAST SUMMER HE spent three days at Purdue University, participating in a workshop for young men preparing for the ministry. He also attended the National Conference for

Ken Davis

Methodist Men at DePauw University. After he graduates from South Side, Ken plans to become a minister.

At present, Ken's most interesting activity is playing in a Folk Trio with Tim Grodrian and Jack Sander. Tim and Ken play the guitar and Jack, the banjo. Ken's musical ability also includes the piano and trumpet, which he plays in the school band.

Aviation Provides Opportunity, Requires High School Diploma

The field of aviation offers many wonderful opportunities. One could be a pilot, co-pilot, steward, flight engineer, or flight navigator.

Aviation offers many attractive occupational features. A pilot who is in airline work has opportunities for advancement to executive positions with the company. Flight personnel who give efficient service are promoted and receive an increase in their salaries. Salaries of flight personnel are good, usually far above average for similar work in other transportation fields.

OTHER PERSONS WITH the highest personal and professional qualifications can obtain flight jobs. The man who has a flight job finds excitement and variety in a life of travel. A pilot's work is never monotonous; the scenery is always different.

As always, along with the good there is the bad. Changes in the regulations, in design and construction, in equipment of all kinds, and in skill amid techniques demanded of employees occur rapidly in aviation. Flight personnel must study constantly to keep up with new developments. The Civil Aeronautics Board and transport companies issue revised regulations almost daily. This maze of rules and regulations, considered necessary for flight safety, and the penalties against pilots for infractions of them, create mental hazards that are not conducive to peace of mind.

THERE ARE THREE major essentials for success in aviation; excellent health, above average intelligence, and exceptional personality. A person lacking any of these qualifications will find his progress in aviation barred. Undoubtedly there is also more nervous and mental strain than in most lines of work. Sometimes a person who has been steady and reliable breaks under the responsibility and strain of piloting.

There are age limits. Usually an airline pilot is not able to continue his job after he is 60. In some ways the anticipated romance connected with flying, especially with piloting, is a disadvantage for it blinds many young men in their beliefs of aviation.

In order to acquire any job in airline work, high school graduation is virtually essential. College-trained men are particularly needed.

Five Colleges Provide Region With Advantages In Education

Fort Wayne has five colleges dating back to 1846 that have helped increase the educational advantages available to area residents. The five colleges are Taylor College, Manchester College, Tri-State College, Huntington College, and Defiance College.

Taylor College is the oldest, having been founded as the Fort Wayne Female College by the Indiana Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church in 1846. It became co-educational in 1890 when it received its present name.

Taylor was moved to its present location in Upland, Ind., in July, 1893. Today, Taylor College is an independent, interdenominational liberal arts college and currently has over six hundred students.

Manchester College, located in North Manchester, Ind., is a co-educational, church-related college of liberal arts and sciences. Its beginning dates back to 1889 when it was moved from Roanoke, Ind.

IN 1895, THE CAMPUS and one building were purchased by representatives of the Church of the Brethren. Mount Morris College merged with Manchester in 1932; and the emphasis of study was switched to peace studies, education, and rural life.

The enrollment averages about one thousand students each year. Many states and a few countries are represented. There are 65 teachers on the faculty.

The third institution of higher learning in the area, Tri-State College, had its foundations in Angola, Ind., in 1894. A group of Angola citizens began organizing it in 1893.

The School of Engineering was established in 1902 by George G. Nicholas. The School of Commerce was started in 1927. All the other departments were discontinued, and emphasized.

Senior Sandy Yaggy Earns Pianist Honor

Senior Sandy Yaggy was one of four finalists January 21 in the Young Pianists' Contest sponsored by the Women's Committee of the Indianapolis Symphony. The winner, David Matthews of New Castle, Ind., will appear in two concerts of the Indianapolis Symphony, Sunday. Itzler Solomon is conductor of the Indianapolis Symphony.

On January 7, 33 pianists competed for this honor. Each one played three minutes of a selected musical composition. On January 21, the four finalists played the accompaniment of a composition by Cesar Franck.

Sandy has appeared as a soloist with the Fort Wayne Philharmonic Orchestra in a teenage concert here, and she has placed first in the Indiana Teachers Contest in Terre Haute, Ind. As a result of this contest, she will represent the Eastern Central District of the Country in another concert in March.

Miller's Standard Service

Rudisill and Calhoun
Fort Wayne, Ind.
H-5232 K-8048

Motor Tune-up With
Dyna-Vision

- FOR
- Film Developing
  - Film and Flash Bulbs
  - Records
  - Sheaffer Pens
  - Papermate Pens
  - Pen Repairing
  - Greeting Cards
  - Russell Stover Candy

COME TO

HOWARD'S

Calhoun at Rudisill
112 West Wayne

General G. R. Clark Defeats Englishmen, Gains Allen County

Historically, Allen County was once a possession of France; it was also once a part of the domain of Spain. From 1763 to 1778, it was a part of the British dominion. In 1778, General George Rogers Clark defeated the British and ended their occupation of the Northwest Territory.

By right of General Clark's conquest, and by the terms of her charter, which defined her eastern and western boundaries as "from sea to sea," Virginia then assumed sovereignty over the vast Northwest Territory. Finally, in 1784, Virginia ceded her claims to the government and jurisdiction of the United States.

The land, which is now Allen County, was included within the boundaries of the west; new county or Washington; Northwest Territory, which also contained all of Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, and the fourteen counties of Minnesota lying east of the Mississippi River.

ON JULY 4, 1800, the Indiana territory was divided into three counties, Knox, St. Clair, and Randolph. In four years' time, since the population was now exceeding 5,000, three more counties were formed. They were Clark, Wayne, and Dearborn. Fort Wayne was in Wayne, extending from the Ohio River north to the British possessions, and westward indefinitely.

A census taken in 1815 shows that "Wain County" now had 6,406 inhabitants, but there was not a house north of Fort Wayne, nor between Fort Wayne and Chicago. Captain Riley, author of "Riley's Narrative," who visited Fort Wayne in 1819, wrote that there were less than 30 houses around the fort.

By 1823, the population had increased; and in December of that year the county of Allen was formed within its present boundaries. The act organizing Allen County went into effect on April 1, 1824.

THE ACT READ, "Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the state of Indiana, that from and after the first day of April next, all that tract of country included within the following boundaries, shall form and constitute a new county, to be known and designated as the county of Allen, to-wit:

"Beginning at a point on the line dividing this state and the state of Ohio, where the township lines dividing townships Twenty-eight and Twenty-nine north, intersect the same; thence north, with said state line twenty-four miles, thence west to the line dividing ranges Ten and Eleven east; thence south to the line dividing townships Twenty-eight and Twenty-nine north; thence east to the place of beginning."

"THE SAID NEW county of Allen shall, from and after the first day of April next, enjoy all the rights, privileges and jurisdictions which to separate counties do and may properly belong and appertain."

The new county was named after Colonel John Allen, of Kentucky, who was killed at the battle of the River Raisin on July 22, 1813.

On May 24, 1824, the commissioners to locate the county seat met in Fort Wayne. They accepted from the proprietors of the town plot the gift of an oblong square of ground, bounded by Main, Court, Berry, and Calhoun Streets, as a public square on which would be built the public buildings for the county.

College Representatives To Interview Prospects

Students who are interested in Olivette College, Chatham College, University of Michigan, and Illinois Institute of Technology may be interviewed by representatives from these colleges next week.

On Monday, Mr. Owen Whitkopf will represent Olivette College in Michigan. Miss Cordia Suran from Chatham College, Pittsburg, Pa., will interview students on Tuesday; also, Mr. Dwight Flowers, '60, will talk to students about the University of Michigan Tuesday after school.

Mr. Russell Ballard will represent Illinois Institute of Technology on Thursday. Anyone wishing to see these representatives should sign up in Room 102.

Chairs and Tables That Fold

LOUIS RASTETTER & SONS CO.

Fort Wayne, Indiana

Calling all students . . .
time to order your

BABER
CLASS RINGS

Phone
A-7306 . . . E-4197

BABER'S
Berry at Calhoun

Lydia Robles Studies Spanish Background, Works On Cars

To always strive to better oneself is the goal set for herself by Lydia Robles, senior.

Lydia has an ability not common in the Archer halls, she speaks Spanish and English, both with equal fluency. Although she has taken Spanish here for three years, Lydia's ability stems from her earlier environment. Both Lydia's mother and father are able to speak Spanish, so it was especially easy for Lydia to learn the language.

Lydia Robles

"I enjoy Spanish, not only the language but also learning more about the life and background of Spanish-speaking peoples," says Lydia. "It has helped me to become more interested in the world around me."

CARRYING THIS into her future, Lydia plans to become a Spanish

Calendar Suggests Rhythmic Patterns

What would it be like to celebrate national holidays on Mondays? This is just one of the new ideas for a different calendar that people with hopes of a more uniform plan for keeping track of the days and weeks have suggested. A new World Calendar has been proposed where days, weeks, and months would fall into a rhythmic and orderly pattern.

The calendar of today is the one which Pope Gregory XIII planned back in 1582 to remedy an error of ten extra days left over from the Julian calendar of the Romans.

Every hundredth year was no longer to be a leap year; every fourth year would be one. Spain, Portugal, Italy, and France adopted this idea first; and in 1752 England copied the idea.

TODAY THE YEAR OF 365 days, except for every fourth year of 366 days, has been proposed as to the arrangement of the number of days in a month.

In 1916, a year of 13 months of 28 days each was suggested to help industry. Months would begin on Sundays, and the name of the added first month would be Exember. Between the end of the one year and the beginning of the next there was to be a two-day holiday; leap years would have one extra day.

The proposed World Calendar year would start on Sunday, January 1, 1967. Each quarter of the year would contain 13 weeks made up of 91 days. The first month of the three in the quarter would have 31 days, and the other two would have 30 days each.

THIS WOULD ADD up to 364 days, and the remaining day would be called World Day. Leap years would add days between June 30 and July 1.

All national holidays would fall on Monday except for Columbus Day and Thanksgiving Day.

Another plan, the Monday Holiday Plan, would have all holidays on Monday to help business and industry. Many states have already adopted parts of this plan; but critics say that patriotic sentiment would be lost, and the traffic problem would be increased by more long week-end trips.

AUTO REBUILDING
COMPANY
2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

teacher. In this capacity, Lydia feels she will be able to help others understand not only the language but also the customs and mode of living, thus establishing better relations between American and Spanish-speaking people.

In regard to parents who speak a foreign language and teach it to their children, Lydia stated, "I feel it is up to the child himself. If he wants to learn it, there is a golden opportunity. If not, no amount of force can gain his interest or desire to learn."

Another way that is being introduced as a method of teaching foreign languages is to begin in the early school years, in about the third grade. Through personal experience, Lydia has proved that younger children are more willing to learn and more susceptible to new, unfamiliar ideas. In these cases, there is more attention given to details and background, thus a natural interest is developed in regard to the language itself.

LYDIA FEELS THAT the Spanish instruction at South Side offers excellent opportunities. She believes that in the more advanced classes Spanish should be spoken exclusively, with a great deal of emphasis placed on pronunciation.

In a completely varied field lies Lydia's hobby, working on cars. Although it is an unusual hobby, it is a method of learning; and "learning," says Lydia, "is a method of self-betterment."

Kellys Relate Views About Driver's Age

Many teenagers are eagerly anticipating the day they can get their driver's license. The proposal to change the age limit from 16 to 18 has been met with controversial answers. When asked if the age limit should be changed to 18, Archers voiced their opinions.

Susie Lawry: No! I think you wait long enough for 16 years, let alone 18.

Peggy Brase: No! If it ever gets to be 18 in Indiana, I'll move to another state!

Larry Norman: No! Karen Ashe: I disagree! You don't want your parents to transport you everywhere until you're 18.

Pat Slater: No! It would be miserable having your date take you in a cab—maybe a bus—Oh, how awful!

Jon Poto: No! Teenagers are expected to pay adult prices and must be able to drive when they get their work permit at 16.

Sue Perry: Yes, because this would prevent juvenile delinquency!

Mary Jane Tobey: No, teenagers wait long enough to drive. If you can pass the tests, you should be a capable driver.

Matt Cornacchione: No, I'm sure someone wants to be able to drive a car before they become a senior.

Karen McClymonds: No, because boys should be able to drive on dates at 16. It is bad enough having to wait six months.

Linda McMurtry: No! Teenagers under 16 would resent this action, and laws would be broken by kids trying to drive too soon.

Sue Smith: Teenagers can drive, on the whole, better than the elder adults. I don't think they should wait any longer.

Judy Merrill: The only ones in favor of raising the age limit are the insurance companies.

Gerig Super Service

MOBILE GAS PRODUCTS
One-Stop Service

3501 Bowser H-5269

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista
Lodge Motel

"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"

Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

SUNDAY

5:30 p.m.

on

WAYNE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday:

South Side vs. C.C.

INDIANA & MICHIGAN
ELECTRIC COMPANY

Gerding's Drugs

3414 Fairfield H-1185
2638 South Anthony H-3381

Automatic Transmission or Engine Trouble?

See

JASPER

Engine &
Transmission Exchange
3504 S. Calhoun H-1224

Men can live without air a few minutes, without water for about two weeks, without food for about two months . . . and without a new thought for years on end.

3720 South Calhoun St.

Piqua Barber Shop

TWO BARBERS
4204 S. Clinton Street

IT'S DREAMY and OH! SO GOOD

McDONALD'S

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.

AND NOW — NEW NO. 3

JEFFERSON
at
HARRISON

FEBRUARY

THE MONTH OF PRESIDENTS

| SUNDAY                                                                                                                                              | MONDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                             | TUESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | WEDNESDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | THURSDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | FRIDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | SATURDAY                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| There is only one religion, though there are a hundred versions of it. George Bernard Shaw                                            | Dur-Enamel PaintsDur-Enamel Co., Inc. When you get your own home, see us for quality paints at factory prices. E-3011 1015 Taylor                                          | Art's Standard Service4382 Bluffton Rd. S-9025 Atlas Tires—Batteries—Accessories Pick-Up and Delivery S&amp;H Stamps                                                                                                         | When one will not, two cannot quarrel. Proverb                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 1 Bobbi RayFinishing School 124 E. WashingtonE-4704 Masque and Gavel, Room 112Biology Experimenters, Room 91Math Section, Room 36Lettermen, Room 112                              | 2 GROUNDHOG DAY  GAA VolleyballSenior Banquet                                                                   | 3 South Side Barber ShopFIVE BARBERS Appointments Taken from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. Open Saturday. No Appointments. Across from Main Entrance of South Side. Harold Henry, Proprietor3604 S. Calhoun St. H-9502 Basketball, Froebel, there |
| 4                                                   | 5 Broadview Florist &amp; Greenhouses 5801 Winchester RoadS-3146 Wranglers, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Tumbling                          | 6 Chalfant-Perry Funeral Home 50 Years of Continuous Service 2423-27 Fairfield AvenueH-2334 Camera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110Girls' Rifle Club, RangePTA Study Group, Cafeteria | 7 "Honesty" is the best policy!The next best is—A Policy Written By Young-Punsky Co. 415 Central Bldg.Insurance Brokers Vesta Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Honorary Arts, Room 61Astro-Physics Section, Room 96Times' Agents | 8 A crisis is an international incident that lasts long enough for us to locate it on the map. Bill Vaughan Jr. Academy of Science, Room 76Safety Council, Room 178Y-Teens, Room 112Times Homeroom Period | 9 Serving Fort Wayne and Vicinity with Quality Printing for Forty-Six Years Keefer Printing Co.A-1484 GAA TumblingPep SessionBasketball, Central, here (to be played at Coliseum) | 10 Man's capacity for justice makes democracy possible; but man's inclination to injustice makes democracy necessary. Reinhold Niebuhr                                                                                                                                                             |
| 11 Faith is a higher faculty than reasoning. Philip James Bailey                                                        | 12  Philo, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Tumbling                                  | 13 RENT A TYPEWRITER from NEEDHAM'S Typewriter Co. 723 South Clinton A-7395 Meterites, Room 112Girls' Rifle Club, RangeElectronics Section, Room 96PTA Study Group, Cafeteria                        | 14 Klaehn Funeral Home 420 W. Wayne A-0228 Ambulance Service Art Club, Room 26Red Cross Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Music Assembly                                                                                                              | 15 Do you realize we can no longer teach that everything that goes up must come down? Dr. John J. Theobald Masque and Gavel, Room 112Biology Experimenters, Room 91Math Section, Room 36                       | 16 Greiner'sH-2124 2802 S. Calhoun Lawn Boy MowersToro MowersEvinrude OutboardsGrumman Boats GAA TumblingBasketball, Logansport, there                                  | 17 OXFORD COFFEE SHOP Meet me at the Oxford Coffee Shop for the Best Food in Town 1502 OXFORD                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 18 Worship This Sunday At The Church of Your Choice                                                                            | 19 Top Hat Dry Cleaners Three Locations1309 Oxford1604 Sherman4215 Bluffton Rd. Boys' Rifle Club, RangeHi-YWranglers, Room 112GAA Tumbling | 20  PTA Study Group, CafeteriaCamera Club, Room 70Know-Your-City Club, Room 110Girls' Rifle Club, RangeSocietas Latina, Room 112         | 21 BABER'S JEWELRY 801 S. CalhounA-7306 — E-4197 Vesta Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120Honorary Arts, Room 61Astro-Physics Section, Room 96Sectional Tournament                                                                                  | 22  Safety Council, Room 178Y-Teens, Room 112Sectional Tournament                                                                       | 23 Oxford Pharmacy Hanna at OxfordPhone H-1373 High School SuppliesGene Yoder, Prop. GAA TumblingGrade Period EndsSectional Tournament                                | 24 Advice is like snow; the softer it falls, the longer it dwells upon and the deeper it sinks into the mind. Samuel T. Coleridge Sectional Tournament                                                                                                                                      |
| 25 Man then, has not invented God;He has developed Faith,To meet a God already there. Edna St. Vincent Millay | 26 Tom Berry Music Co. 213 West WayneE-1947 Philo, Room 112Hi-YBoys' Rifle Club, RangeGAA Tumbling                                                   | 27 Somers Bakery 220 E. WallaceH-2261 Meterites, Room 112Girls' Rifle Club, RangeElectronics Section, Room 96Issue Grades                                                                              | 28 And the loud laugh that spoke the vacant mind. Oliver Goldsmith Art Club, Room 26Red Cross Club, Room 112Designers' Associated, Room 120                                                                                                                                         | Schmidt's Pharmacy Ed Schmidt, R.Ph.Your Neighborhood Health Center 4001 South Wayne AvenueH-0626                                                                                                                     | Munro's Standard Service Free Pick-Up and Delivery.Complete Motor Aid Service.Wheel Balancing. Southgate Plaza H-5300                                                                                | Dill &amp; Dill Insurance 1127 S. Clinton A-1119 All Forms of InsuranceOver 26 Years of Service Lawrence G. DillClifford D. Dill                                                                                                                                                  |

BE SMART
SHOP AND SAVE
WITH THESE ADVERTISERS

PTA To Offer 'Brainwashing' As Topic For Study Meeting

STUDENT BRAINWASHING . . . Preparing a panel discussion, "Can Our Students Be Brainwashed?", to be presented at the Parent-Teacher Association meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria are, left to right, Mr. George Wright, Mr. John Hoffman, and Mr. Gathings Stewart, members of the study group.—Photo by Jones

South Side's Parent Teacher Association will present the topic, "Can Our Students Be Brainwashed," Tuesday at 7:45 p.m. in the cafeteria.

In the second meeting in a series of study meetings, a tape, "Brainwashing," by Major William E. Mayer, M.D. will be played. This tape is a study of the brainwashing techniques used by the Communists on prisoners in the Korean War.

FOLLOWING THE PLAYING of the tape, which lasts approximately an hour, a panel of parents including Mr. John E. Hoffman, Mr. Gathings Stewart, and Mr. George Wright will discuss brainwashing techniques as they apply them to present-day society and, more specifically, to South Side students and their ability to be "brainwashed" to conformity.

The chairmen of the program for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. John

E. Hoffman. Members of the hospitality committee headed by Mrs. Judson West, are Mrs. Roger Neff, Mrs. Jean Spear, Mrs. Willard McCoy, and Mrs. Wendell Wasson. The committee will serve refreshments after the meeting.

MRS. ROBERT SPENCER heads the committee that will collect dues at the meeting. Members are Mrs. Herbert Dixon, representing the freshman class, Mrs. D. Robinson, representing the sophomores; Mrs. E. Stanbery, the juniors; and Mrs. William Kleifgen, seniors.

This year the PTA is putting forth special effort to win the Oak Tree Award, which requires one hundred per cent membership.

Preceding the meeting, some instrumentalists chosen by Mr. Robert Drummond, music director, will perform the selections they played to win superior gold medals at the district music contests.

Room Agents Near Sales Goal With Close Of Times Campaign

BRAVO! BRAVO! . . . Proudly displaying their 100 per cent signs earned on the first day of the Times campaign are, left to right, Sue Burdick, Sue Horth, and Nancy Redding in the front row. In the back row, left to right, are Rosie Capps, Kathy DeVore, Diane Fredrick, and Sally Sweet.—Photo by Jones

With one week of the South Side Times subscription campaign remaining, 27 homeroom agents have attained 100 per cent homerooms. The campaign will continue until Friday, with this issue being the last issue distributed free of charge to all students.

The price of a subscription for one semester is $1; however, a subscription may be purchased on a time payment plan with a down payment of 25 cents. All promissory notes must be paid by March 23.

Students who purchase a subscription will receive in addition to the Times, the monthly "Roto" magazine.

All subscribers will also receive a candy bar after the complete payment of all promissory notes.

Eight bookheads are working under the direction of Dick Parke, circulation manager. They are Liz Weikart, Doris Atzeff, Roberta Twitchell, Tom Erb, Sharyan Yerger, Sally Adams, Lane Grile, and Sally Sweet.

The homeroom agents and the number of subscriptions they must sell to obtain 100 per cent homerooms are as follows:

Book I—Liz Weikart, head
S-1 Alice Ashton-
Tamara Beaty . . . . . 2
(Continued on Page 3)

Two Senior Boys To Compete For Motor Corporation Grants

PICK OF THE CROP . . . Rating among the 1,000 semi-finalists for the General Motors Scholarships, Terry Newendorp, left, and Lyall Morrill examine college catalogs. Upon winning, they can pick any college or any course they wish, and the scholarship is still valid.—Photo by Jones

Terry Newendorp and Lyall Morrill, senior A's, have been selected as semi-finalists in a nation-wide General Motors scholarship program. They are two of 1,000 seniors in the country who have been selected as possibilities for the scholarship.

One hundred grants ranging from $200 to $2,000 per year for the use in higher education will be offered. No restrictions are placed on the college that the student attends, no specific course of study is forced on the student; and no requirements are placed on the profession to be followed upon completion of college.

Of the original applicants, 1,000 students are selected as semi-finalists on the basis of their scores on the December Scholastic Aptitude Test. These semi-finalists are narrowed to 100 finalists on the basis of recommendation by teachers and advisers.

The national program, the plan in which Terry and Lyall are entered, is set up partially on the basis of residence. This plan requires that one winner must come from each of the fifty states, one from the District of Columbia, and one from Puerto Rico. The remaining 48 scholarships are awarded to students at large.

The South Side Times

"No man is free who is not master of himself."—Epictetus

Vol. XL—No. 18

South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, Thursday, February 8, 1962

Price Ten Cents

French Teacher Advises Juniors In Spring Term

Miss Jeanne Smith, English and French instructor, will join Mr. Richard Sage and Mr. Robert Petty, mathematics teachers, as the junior class advisers. Miss Smith is replacing Mrs. Marlene Schang, who was transferred to Portage Junior High School.

Miss Smith, an alumna of Central Catholic High School, was graduated from St. Mary's-of-the-Woods College in June, 1960, where she received her bachelor of arts degree. She majored in French and minored in Latin and English.

DURING THE SUMMERS, Miss Smith attends McGill University in Montreal, Canada, to work on her masters of arts degree. This summer she plans to attend the University of Paris.

Miss Smith is a member of the Indiana Teachers' Association, the Fort Wayne University Club, and her alumnae groups. Her interests include reading, listening to classical and jazz music, playing tennis, ice skating, and sewing.

Joining the other class advisers and the junior class officers, Miss Smith will help plan for the Junior Prom which will be May 4, from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m.

THE CHAIRMEN for the various committees include: Jerry Klahn, program and chaperons; Nancy Robinson, refreshments; Ken Davis, publicity; Gary Probst, music and cloakroom; Rosemary Capps, decorations; and Tonya Hines, tickets.

Mrs. Marlene Schang helped plan the Junior Banquet, "Project III," before she was transferred to Portage. Mrs. Schang taught General Business I and personal typing and also worked in the school library.

A 1955 graduate of Tipton High School, Mrs. Schang attended Ball State Teachers College, where she received her bachelor's degree in 1959. Mrs. Schang came to South Side last year after teaching one year at Lake-Side Junior High School. She is now the head of the school library at Portage Junior High School.

Psi Iota Xi Sorority To Offer Scholarship For Speech Therapy

Psi Iota Xi Sorority will offer 30 speech scholarships to superior high school students who are graduating this spring. These scholarships are offered due to the success of a two-week summer college course in speech correction which has been at Indiana University for the past three years.

Students who attend the two-week institute at Indiana University starting June 17 will learn to understand and treat speech and hearing defects of the handicapped people. The causes and methods of treating disorders of stuttering, articulation, voice, cerebral palsy, and cleft palate also will be studied.

At Indiana University, an excellent opportunity is provided for students to study clinical work at the residence Speech and Hearing Clinic where handicapped children from many states spend all day in therapy programs and live in the University Exchange Home. Contact with these handicapped children will give students needed experience in working with children of all ages and disorders of speech and hearing.

Students taking this accredited course will receive three hours of college credit and will live in regular dormitories following rules designed for all college freshmen. Only $20 from the student, plus $60 from Psi Iota Xi scholarship, will pay the total cost of tuition, board, room, and books.

The course begins on June 17, and final examinations will be given June 30. Students will attend lectures for three hours a day and will have supervised demonstrations and observations of handicapped children in the clinic for an hour and a half each day. Time for guided study will be provided by the lecturer, Professor Mary Mann.

Interested seniors should see Mr. Jack Weicker, senior counselor, for application blanks. The deadline for filing is February 19.

Hi-Y Plans Bus Trip To Logansport Game

On February 19, Hi-Y is sponsoring a bus trip to the South Side-Logansport basketball game. All people going are requested to eat before they go as the bus is leaving South Side at 5:30 p.m. The bus will leave immediately after the game and stop for a short snack on the way back.

The trip will cost $2. Students wanting to go are to sign up in Room 76 and pay their $2 to Mr. Robert Weber, club sponsor, before 4 p.m. Wednesday.

There is room for 40 people. All money will be refunded if the trip is disbanded. Since Logansport is an hour slower the bus will arrive in time to see both games. Mr. Robert Weber will ride the bus as chaperone.

Hi-Y sponsored a trip to Michigan City and an enjoyable time was had by everyone. It is hoped that another evening of fun will ensue all. "We are also hoping to see the team victorious over a well-regarded Logansport team," stated Paul Johns, chairman of the Athletic Booster Committee.

Valentine's Day Theme, Sing-Along To Prevail At Program Wednesday

'Hi-Quiz' Team Conquers Irish, To Face Cadets

South Side defeated Central Catholic 480 to 30 Sunday at 5:30 p.m. on I & M's "Hi-Quiz" program on WANE-TV.

The Archer participants are Judy Ruhl, Stan Black, Chris Fruechtenicht, and Stan Moreo. Participating for Central Catholic were Robert Barton, Henry Maceniak, Henry Dedtak, and John Connell.

The first question of the first quarter, a question on Aesop's Fables, was correctly answered by Stan Black who scored 40 points. Chris Fruechtenicht answered the second question and scored 55 points.

THE NEXT QUESTION was missed by both teams. The next two questions were answered by Chris. She scored a total of 40 points. Then, on a question about poems, Stan Black scored 40 points. He also answered the next question on "Hiawatha" for 30 points. Then Judy Ruhl scored 20 points. The first quarter ended with South Side leading 235 to 0.

The first question of the second quarter was missed by both teams. Chris Fruechtenicht scored 20 points on a question about the Welland Canal. The following question was correctly answered by Judy Ruhl for 15 points. Thus, the first half ended with Central Catholic still trailing 0 to 270.

Lawyer James Jackson, quizmaster, interviewed each participant about school activities, hobbies, and future events.

THE SECOND HALF started with a question about the seasons of the year, which Judy Ruhl answered correctly for 30 points. John Connell of Central Catholic missed the next question, but it was picked up by Judy Ruhl who scored 40 points. The next question was missed by both teams. A question on the British terminology for weights was answered by Chris Fruechtenicht for 20 points. Chris answered the next question for 20 points. The third quarter ended 380 to 0, in South Side's favor.

Henry Redtak scored 30 points for Central Catholic on the first question of the last quarter. Stan Black then scored 10 points. The next question was missed by both teams, followed by Judy Ruhl who scored 40 points on a question about the United States governmental departments. The game ended 480 to 30 with South Side victorious.

Next Sunday South Side sophomores will meet Concordia's sophomore team.

University To Offer Education Workshop To Future Teachers

For students interested in the teaching profession, a program is being offered by Northwestern University of Evanston, Ill., consisting of a month-long summer workshop on campus from July 1 to August 4.

The Educational Division, which is sponsoring the sessions, will offer courses on methods and materials, dynamics of discussion, critical thinking; and an introduction to educational philosophy, psychology, and history.

In addition to the course work, the division will provide leadership recreational experiences for those interested in the elementary level. Two evenings a week all students will attend seminars led by outstanding experts in such fields as human relations and international education.

Other activities will include visits to the cultural spots of the Chicago area and the many dormitory and social activities associated with five weeks of college campus life.

Because of the large number of students that apply, the quota for admission will be 30 high school juniors. To qualify, students must achieve good academic ranking and express leadership qualities in school and in community activities.

Any student interested in learning by experience about the teaching profession on any level should contact Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal.

Boys To Volunteer

All boys interested in photography for the school paper and year book should report today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 14 to Ken Lowden, head of the South Side publications photography department.

The present photographers are Ken Lowden, Steve Jones, and Mike Seaman. Because two of these photographers are post-graduates, there has arisen a need for more student photographers.

No experience is needed, and cameras will be furnished by the school. Anyone interested but unable to attend the meeting today should see Ken Lowden or Mr. James Rohrabough, Times adviser, before 4 p.m. Friday.

SWEET STRAINS . . . Preparing for the music assembly next Wednesday are seated, left to right, Sandra Stouder, French horn; Ken Davis, trumpet; Carol Jo Becher, oboe; and Bonnie Smith, cello. Standing is Mike Young, gong. The assembly will feature music played and sung by the various divisions of the music department.—Photo by Jones

Mr. Jack Weicker Announces Hall Rules For Lunch Periods

Because students have different lunch periods than last semester it is necessary once again to state school rules for general hall use during the fourth and fifth periods. These rules were read and discussed in all homerooms Friday.

Three particular hall violations should be given immediate attention:

(a) Running in the halls has become a serious problem and one that is dangerous. Therefore, this practice is to be stopped.

(b) Yelling and shouting in the halls are hardly suitable forms of behavior and are generally disturbing to everyone.

(c) Eating in the gym during fifth period has also become a problem. Students are to eat only in the cafeteria; any student eating in the gym is breaking a general school rule.

SOME OF THE BASIC rules and regulations applying particularly to periods four and five are as follows:

Period Four
1. Students who go home for lunch are to be out of the building before the bell rings at the beginning of period four.

2. No student is to be in the halls fourth period without a hall pass.

3. Students who return before the end of this period are to remain outside the building on the public sidewalks away from doors and windows until the bell rings.

4. However, a student may enter the main Calhoun Street entrance and go directly to Room S.

5. Students who eat in the cafeteria must be inside the cafeteria when the bell rings at the beginning of fifth period. They may remain there during the entire period or they may leave the building by way of the north Darrow Street door when they have finished eating.

Period Five

1. "NO PASSAGE" signs are to be observed carefully. These signs are placed to close off areas where classes are in progress.

2. No student is to go to his locker until the end of period five if his locker is located in a restricted area. This applies to those students whose lockers are located in the halls.

3. The locker rooms are closed by "No Passage" signs until 1:05 p.m. No students are to be in the locker rooms until these signs are removed. From 1:05 p.m. until the end of the period, students should be as quiet as possible in using the locker rooms. Any noise there disturbs those studying in Room S.

4. The entire upper floor is closed during fifth period.

5. No student is to leave the gym by any of the upper level exits during this period.

6. Students who need to go to any of the offices during this period must use the center ramps only.

7. Students who are outside the building during this period are to remain as quiet as possible.

"It is hoped that each student at South Side High School will understand the reasons for these rules and regulations and that he will do his best to see that they work out well for all concerned," stated Mrs. Jack E. Weicker, guidance counselor.

Colorful Outfits To Emphasize Program Motif

Assembly To Feature Sandra Yaggy; Horns To Play Bennett Song

The traditional colors of red and white of St. Valentine's Day will be the prevailing color theme of the band and string orchestra's apparel in the music assembly February 14. The gay color theme will be matched by a program in keeping with the "hearts and flowers motif" characteristic of the day.

The string orchestra will start off with "Polk Tune," which consists of a theme and variations by the prominent English composer, Percy E. Fletcher. "Fiddle Dance" by the same composer will be the second selection. A suite for strings, it portrays a pastoral mood.

The small band will then play "Hands Across the Sea," a brisk march by John Philip Sousa.

TOM McMAHAN, Sandra Stouder, Linda Becher, and Beverly Flanagan, featured members of the horn quartet, will be accompanied by the band when they play the "Four Horsemen" by David Bennett. In composing this new French horn quartet, Mr. Bennett recognized the need for a modern work for horn quartets that would have student appeal and still be of professional caliber.

The composer fulfilled this need by writing a composition in which all four parts require players with the same amount of ability. Each part also offers an equal amount of musical appeal to the player.

A sing-along, led by the band, will follow with the choir and audience singing "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

MR. ROBERT T. DRUMMOND, director of instrumental music, urges all students to learn the words of the song before assembly time so they can have more fun singing.

Mr. Lester Hostetter, director of vocal music, will direct the choir in a group of sacred numbers, "Be Still and Know That I Am God" by L. Stanley Glarum; "In Thee, O Lord, Do I Put My Trust" by L. Stanley Glarum; and "How Firm a Foundation" by Maurice Gardiner.

Sandra Yaggy, head accompanist for the choir, will play a piano solo.

The choir will also have a sing-along. It will demonstrate how two songs can be sung at the same time; then the student body will join in the singing. There will be song sheets for everyone. The songs will be "In the Good Old Summertime" and "East Side, West Side."

"I think that this will be one of South's liveliest assemblies," stated Mr. Hostetter in discussing the music assembly program.

Roberta Twitchell Chooses Personnel To Manage Third Edition Of Pegasus

Associate Editor, Staff To Discuss Campaign, Edit Works Of Pupils

The staff for the spring Pegasus includes Tamara Vyhovsky, associate editor; Barbara Uhl and Janet Brenn, editorial staff; Beth Burnett and Barbara Nelson, copy staff; Bob Englehart, art editor; Sonya Flagg and Marcia Kuhn, typists; Lane Grile, circulation manager; and Ken Lowden and Steve Jones, photographers, according to an announcement by Roberta Twitchell, editor-in-chief.

Celeste Riemen, Ann Henderson, Leanna Morris, Sue Harrod, Sharyan Yerger, Sandy Farmer, Ann McCallister, and Nancy Redding are circulation assistants.

TAMARA'S JOB will include reading articles from English, Latin, French, Spanish, and social studies classes and selecting those that are to be published in the literary magazine. As a senior, Tamara has written stories for the Times and served as copy editor for the winter '61 issue of the Pegasus.

"This semester's Pegasus will be new and different, and I'm sure everyone will want a copy. I hope that there are many literary works contributed," stated Beth Burnett, senior. Beth and Barbara Nelson will help the editors read and select the articles to be published. They will also read and correct the first draft of the Pegasus.

Barbara is a sophomore and serves on the writing and circulation staffs of the Times and is also a copy editor. Beth has been a news writer, news editor, feature editor, and editorial editor of the Times. She is presently copy and make-up editor of the Times, and a junior Totem editor.

Barb Uhl and Janet Brenn will not only read all copy for punctuation errors and misused words, but also help read the first draft made by Roberta and Tamara. Junior Janet

COLOR COLLABORATORS . . . Mrs. Ruth Fleck, art instructor, center, confers with the Pegasus editors, Roberta Twitchell, editor-in-chief, right, and Tamara Vyhovsky, associate editor, concerning the most appropriate color to be used in the spring edition of the literary magazine.—Photo by Jones

Brenn has been a feature and news writer and a copy editor for the Times, and a copy editor for the spring '61 Pegasus.

SENIOR BARB UHL, who was a homeroom reporter for the Times, stated she was very happy to be appointed and is looking forward to the pleasure and educational values this position will present her. Juniors Sonya Flagg and Marcia Kuhn will type all copy. Sonya, who is taking journalism and is librarian and assistant credit manager for the Times, said that she was glad to receive this job and hopes to do more work on the Times.

Senior Lane Grile will be the head of circulation and distribution of the Pegasus. Lane has served as a Totem homeroom agent and a Pegasus bookhead, and is now a Times bookhead.

Ken Lowden and Steve Jones will take all pictures for the book. Steve, a junior, joined the photography staff this year. Ken is head of the photography for the Times, and is a member of the Intercom staff. He also helps junior high schools with their newspapers and yearbooks. He has also been an ad solicitor and news writer for the Times.

Times Extends Sympathy

On behalf of the faculty and student body, The South Side Times wishes to extend its deepest sympathy to Mrs. Alice Keegan, girls' physical education teacher, on the untimely death of her husband, Mr. John R. Keegan.

Mr. Keegan, who passed away January 31, was employed as a fireman for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, A World War II veteran, Mr. Keegan will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D.C.

True Club Members Offer Co-Operation In All Plans

Many students are finding themselves too busy with new courses to become involved in any other activities. However, others will be choosing a club they would like to join in order to round out their high school education.

Too many times students feel that they must have a hand in every club to be successful and well-known. These people fail to remember that they can only succeed by helping themselves.

A considerable number of students join clubs without any intention of contributing anything to the group. They expect the club to present them with entertaining programs and refreshments while they sit back and offer little co-operation.

Clubs support many high ideals for their "true" members. In any club a person gains a sense of responsibility. Not everyone can be an officer, but if elected an officer or committee chairman, leadership is provoked. True members will attend the meetings, serve willingly on committees, and contribute or participate whenever they are able.

Some students feel that by paying their dues to an organization they are contributing all that is necessary. These students must stop and realize that they hinder the club more than help it.

When selecting a club choose the one you know you are sure to enjoy and to which you will be faithful as a true member. Don't just be a "club-hopper"!—By Annell Hoover

Academic Letters Promote Contest Of Brains, Brawn

Exponents of the philosophy that a "brains vs. brawn" battle is incessantly raging in our society and who stand staunchly on the side of the intellect have recently been promoting an innovation in the American high school: the academic letter.

They contend that the academic letter having equal status with its counterpart, the athletic letter, would provide a more adequate recognition for achievement in the scholastic realm. Others subscribing to this theory maintain that it would create a needed incentive for intellectual accomplishment.

Examining another standpoint of this idea, one wonders could this be replacing the intellectual goal of understanding with that of recognition, which is a desirable but subordinate objective? Many feel that such a program would transform the function of intelligent study into a memorization by rote rather than a comprehension of ideas, and that popular acclamation would be yielded to a new concept of the scholar—a "walking encyclopedia"—rather than an individual capable of accurate analysis and meaningful evaluation.

Also, might this particular program be unfairly capitalizing on an established symbol of athletic prowess—the high school letter—and detracting from its worth in the eyes of the athlete? To him, the letter (corresponding to the laurel wreath of the ancient Greeks) is a meaningful attainment representing both public and personal victories.

As I see it, the academic letter serves only to add to the imaginary battle of "brains vs. brawn," two qualities which can, and usually do, complement each other.—By Larry Norman

Senior Summary

Points Per
Prominent Persons

John Weaver . . . age, 18 . . . hair, brown . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, eight inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . fad, putting stars on letter jackets . . . sport, football . . . subject, chemistry . . . pastime, "Twisting" . . . activities, Lettermen's Club, track, football . . . TV show, "Adventures in Paradise" . . . record, "A Song for Young Love" . . . singers, Lettermen . . . actor and actress, Rock Hudson and Sandra Dee . . . book, "Tale of Two Cities" . . .

Sue Korte . . . age, 17 . . . height, five feet, three inches . . . eyes, brown . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, roast beef . . . color, blue . . . fad, short skirts . . . sport, snow skiing . . . subjects, chemistry, home economics . . . pastime, letter writing . . . activity, being a Times agent . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actress, Tammy Grimes . . . book, "The Ugly American" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, two-faced people.

Jill Leonard . . . age, 17 . . . hair, dark brown . . . height, five feet, five inches . . . eyes, blue . . . course, business . . . favorites: food, pizza . . . color, blue . . . fad, short skirts . . . sport, skating . . . subjects, home economics, typing . . . pastime, music . . . activity, Service Club . . . TV show, "Ben Casey" . . . record, "Moon River" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor and actress, John Gavin and Elizabeth Taylor . . . future plans, secretary . . . pet peeve, stuck-up girls.

Steve Jugloff . . . age, 17 . . . hair, light brown . . . height, five feet, seven inches . . . eyes, hazel . . . course, general . . . favorites: food, fried chicken . . . color, tawny red . . . fad, pegged pants . . . sport, ice hockey . . . subject, sociology . . . pastime, going to the Doghouse . . . TV show, "The Garry Moore Show" . . . record, "Let's Go" . . . singer, Everly Brothers . . . actress, Elizabeth Taylor . . . book, "The Lost Horizon" . . . future plans, mechanical drafting . . . pet peeve, people who don't like girls that smoke.

Dave Lipp . . . age, 17 . . . hair, black . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, seven inches . . . course, college . . . favorites: food, steak . . . color, red . . . subject, government . . . sport, basketball . . . fad, the twist . . . pastime, sleeping . . . activity, Hi-Y . . . TV show, "Twilight Zone" . . . record, "The Twist" . . . singers, The Highway Men . . . actor, Marlon Brando . . . book, "The Enemy Within" . . . future plans, lawyer . . . pet peeve, my car.

Kaylene Gebert . . . age, 17 . . . hair, blonde . . . eyes, brown . . . height, five feet, six inches . . . courses, stenographic, college . . . favorites: food, filet . . . color, light green . . . subject, algebra . . . sport, football . . . fad, pleated skirts . . . pastime, swimming . . . activities, Philo, Times . . . TV show, "Dr. Kildare" . . . record, "Star Bright" . . . singer, Johnny Mathis . . . actor, Lawrence Harvey . . . book, "Mila 18" . . . future plans, college . . . pet peeve, boys who rush through doors before girls.

Merrily Musing Ancient Valentines Lose Significance In Modern Times

By Martha Lanning

The observance of St. Valentine's Day grew out of an ancient spring festival in Rome called the Lupercalia, during which the names of maidens were inscribed on tablets and put into an urn. Each youth would draw a tablet, thus devoting himself for a year to the maiden whose name appeared upon his tablet. In 270 A.D. on the pagan festival, Bishop Valentine was beheaded as a martyr; and February 14 was dedicated to his memory.

During the past century, the purpose of Valentine's Day has become quite obscured. To many a common observer, it would appear that the day is solely devised for two reasons: (1) to provide an excuse to devour candy, such as the tiny candy hearts affectionately inscribed "Slick Chick," "Dream Girl," "Buzz Me," and "Flat Foot"; and (2) to conceal identities of secret admirers who send their idols such fond notes as this:

Roses are pink,
Violets are red.
You'd look better
Minus your head.

Also, there is another reason for the existence of Valentine's Day, often overlooked by the layman. It is to make money for card manufacturers who rake in a great profit by the sale of valentines for grade school youngsters.

Of all the little animals featured on these valentine cards, ducks are the most common. Undoubtedly, the kiddies don't realize that calling someone a "ducky" is tantamount to accusing him of having webbed feet.

Cupid, the symbol of love, really has a workout on Valentine's Day, for it's his duty to carry all the "billet-doux" hither and yon. Unfortunately for some, however, his arrows miss their marks, increasing the need for armor in certain spots instead of amour.

An old children's story book printed in England in 1896 expresses regret that with the increased use of Christmas and Easter greeting cards, sending Valentines is no longer in style. If only the authors of "The Chatterbox" could sneak a look into 1962! They would be mightily surprised at the sight of valentine cards, flowers, and candy on display in every corner store as soon as the Christmas decorations have been dismantled.

Cards Cause Confusion . . .

Teens and Tangles

By Rosemary Capps and Sue Harrod

To start the semester off right, this magic formula for scholarship will be worth remembering:
P + 2A + 2T + C = SS (Satisfactory Scholarship)

P—Place
A—Atmosphere
T—Time
C—Concentration

Larry Lee's method of scholarship is a little less complicated because whenever he is late for class and doesn't have a hall pass, he places an apple on the teacher's desk. By the way, Larry, what are your footprints doing on the ceiling of the bus you rode to Goshen?

"I can't go huntin' with yew, Jake" was Janet Davies theme song as she drove around Hall's (backwards, of course) in an old black hat and Black Jack gum-covered teeth.

Neil Scheiman had a choice seat in the gym at the last North Side game—only trouble was that it was the wrong gym! He got a ride to South Side, but since the game was at North he was stranded on the wrong side of town . . . but at least he didn't have to pay for a ticket, because the janitors let him in free.

Most people try to avoid walking in this kind of weather, but Martha "the Radiator" Lanning deliberately stood in the snow with her shoes off after the Elmhurst game! The reason was that she thought it would be a cure for the aches that resulted from standing in high heels all day at the Ball State speech meet.

Even Gary Probst's mother can twist! You wouldn't believe that's how she broke her arm, but it's the truth.

Congrats to the members of the Sophomore Hi-Quiz team, who have been victorious three times. At last "The Curse of North Side" has been broken! The New York Yankees could use Judy Ruhl—she sure knows her baseball records!

Roses are red
Violets are blue

Some poems rhyme

Some don't.

Meow! Meow! A cat? No, it's just Ron Heathman riding (as usual?) in the trunk of his car! His catlike noises thoroughly mystified Sally Adams, Toni Heathman, Ann Henderson, Jane Knettle, Sue Smith, and B.D. Hartley, who were riding in the car.

"Cryptograms," a composition by Sandy Yaggy, was presented by a small orchestra comprised of musicians from several Fort Wayne schools at the Art School. Of course, complications were created by some South Siders. For example, Barb Nelson broke a string on her cello just before the performance, but Doris Atzoff made that seem trivial when she pulled a smashed viola from her case. These temperamental musicians!

"Be prepared" is Bonnie Smith's motto. After the same performance on cold, icy January 22, she produced from the trunk of her car a bucket of stones and a shovel to help her get the car up an icy hill. No luck!

Newest fad: Using eyeshadow for lipstick. Right, Margy Winder and Maria Marshall?

Congratulations to the recipients of superior rating in the local NIS-BOVA contest. Good luck at the Indianapolis contest!

What'll we do with her? Hang her? Burn her at a stake? We've got it—we'll submit her to Chinese torture methods. Who? Sue Horth, of course. Why? for loaning South Side letter jackets to the North Side pep session! No wonder they beat us!

Welcome to Tony Webb, who has just come to South Side from England.

David Allen might just as well be known as Johnny Applesseed, II. For lunch he eats one-half pint of apple sauce and an apple.

"Hey, Joe, have you got any paper? I'm hungry!" What!!? Oh, it's only Dave Koehlinger, whose favorite diet is colored paper. The different favors taste so good, you know.

Thought for the Day: Smile, and the whole world smiles with you.

Do You Know . . .

By Dick Parke

Question. We do not often see a "sandwich man" nowadays, but you probably all have read about them. Do you know how they were named?

Answer. A "sandwich man" is a man carrying two advertising boards. In the 1760's the word "sandwich" was a noun having the denotation of two slices of bread enclosing meat or other filling. "To sandwich" soon came to be used colloquially to describe any two similar things enclosing a third and different thing. Charles Dickens seems to have been the first to use the idea of a "sandwich man." In his "Sketches" he wrote: "He stopped the unstamped advertisement—an animated sandwich composed of a boy between two boards."

Question. Many significant events occurred during the administration of James Knox Polk, eleventh President of the United States. Do you know some of the events which happened between 1845 and 1849?

Answer. The first event was the opening of the United States Naval Academy, October 10, 1845. On December 29, 1845, Texas was admitted to the Union as the twenty-eighth state. In 1845 Elias Howe patented the sewing machine. Then on March 4, 1846, Michigan became the first state to abolish the death penalty. Also in 1846, the Mexican War began. On June 15, 1846, a treaty was concluded with Great Britain establishing the Oregon boundary on the forty-ninth parallel. The year 1846 was concluded with the admission of Iowa as the twenty-ninth state on December 28. The American Medical Association was organized on May 5, 1857. January 24, 1848, is the date gold was discovered in California by James W. Marshall, beginning the great gold rush. On May 29, 1848, Wisconsin joined the Union as the thirtieth state. President Polk, on July 4, 1848, laid the cornerstone of the Washington Monument. August 14, 1848, marked Oregon's becoming a United States territory. Then on President Polk's last day in office, March 3, 1849, the Department of the Interior was created.

Question. Who is the eighth President of the United States, and what do you know about him?

Answer. The eighth President, from New York, was also the eighth Vice-President and the last Vice-President to succeed to the Presidency through election and not upon the death of the President. He was Martin Van Buren, the first President born in New York State and the first born an American citizen. President Van Buren was a widower when he became President; and after his term of office, he lived to see eight Presidents from eight different states succeed him. Before his election to the Presidency, Van Buren was a New York State Senator, New York State Attorney General, United States Senator, Governor of New York, Secretary of State, and Vice-President of the United States. At one time during the course of 14 weeks, he had three important public offices. He resigned his seat in the Senate, 11 days later he became Governor of New York, and 64 days later he was made Secretary of State. Van Buren's inauguration was of great political importance. Chief Justice Roger Brooke Taney, a man whose two earlier appointments as Secretary of the Treasury and Associate Justice were not confirmed by the Senate, administered the oath of office to a man whose appointment as United States minister to Great Britain was likewise not approved by the Senate. Martin Van Buren served four years beginning March 4, 1837 and ending March 3, 1841.

City Lacks Entertainment

Fort Wayne's World Premiere Inspires 'Determined' Minority

By Sandy Thorn

Mr. Richard Galbreath, local movie producer, has been congratulated time and time again for his recent production, "Night of Evil." However, the production itself must take a back seat to the importance of the world premiere and the fact that the movie was filmed in Fort Wayne.

Fort Wayne was fortunate enough to have a world premiere, and while, to say the least, it would have been "bigger and better" had it been in Hollywood, it was a spectacular event in contrast to the city's cultural history.

Amid the roving floodlights, press, and stars arriving in cars, there was the excitement which would be a common happening in Hollywood. Why? The answer is simple—while Fort Wayne is labeled the Summit City, it is far from being at this same high peak in cultural pursuits and entertainment. It is uncommon to have a world premiere out of the "Movie Star Capital"; but it isn't just the fact that Fort Wayne has never before had a world premiere—it is the idea that Fort Wayne offers little or no entertainment for its inhabitants.

One of the better attempts to help the situation has been made by the Fort Wayne Fine Arts Foundation. Civic Theater productions are exceptionally well done; but—certainly not to condemn the city's actors and actresses—the so-called "big names" are missing.

MAYBE ONE is being idealistic to hope that some of Broadway's and Hollywood's big names could come to perform in this area. The big names are few and far between. "My Fair Lady," which recently hit this area, received raving press coverages and was well-accepted by its patrons—despite the box-office acceptance.

Theater attractions in the city are usually poor—and again, this is not to condemn local managers. Either all of the theaters are billing the very best movies or none of them offer good ones. One has little opportunity to make a big decision as to which movie should be attended when the only attractions up for grabs are at the Embassy, Clyde, Rialto, and Jefferson. The closing of the Paramount was bad for all concerned. While it may be true that the majority of the people are content to sit at home staring at the television set, one must also consider the minority.

For in this minority are the people who enjoy seeing good films. Some of the more recent productions, which dig into the deepest trash, cannot be blamed upon theater management. But when good movies are being produced, they should be shown. If there is any kind of entertainment, be it on the stage, screen, or whatever, the minority should be given an opportunity to see it.

THE PEOPLE OF Fort Wayne have a hard time if they desire entertainment any night of the week. However, there are the out-of-the-ordinary entertainments scheduled at irregular times. "Holiday on Ice," while it doesn't appeal to all who would also enjoy the stage, answers some of the Fort Wayne desires. But, like most everything which appears in the city, it lasts only a few nights. When the few nights are over, so is the entertainment.

As culture goes in Fort Wayne, the Philharmonic tops the list. It would be slightly short of disastrous if the city didn't offer this.

That is about it for culture. Sports-wise, Fort Wayne also has limited opportunities. However, local athletic clubs have helped. With the appearance of such interests as the National Bowling Tournament in the city, the townfolk can at least "bask in the sun" for a while.

ICE HOCKEY is left to carry the burden of the city. The Fort Wayne Komets is the only team representing the city as a whole. And, as witnessed by home crowds, hockey appeals to a very few. But it is fortunate that the city has a team to represent it whether the team enjoys a good or bad year. And it is remaining for the few who enjoy it. If the Komets were to leave the Summit City, there would be disappointed fans in the minority.

So, needless to say, in a city of 169,000 people the tastes are quite different. While some are content watching television, others are content not owning a television set. While some will not be happy until Fort Wayne has an opera, others won't be happy until Dick "The Bruiser" is scheduled at every wrestling match in Fort Wayne.

It was nice to have a world premiere in the city and it would be nice to see it happen again. The only bad thing was its result—it made the minority think of the things which are lacking in the city's entertainment. But the important thing is that the play was made for the minority, and it pleased the minority. May more producers and promoters in this area consider the minority.

School Observer Notes Couples In Basketball, Tricycle Contest

The minute I walked into school that fateful morning, I knew something was drastically wrong. As I charged through the door, a nice, round, rather rotten tomato hit me right in the face. Splat! What could have happened to the school over a period of one night?

After wiping the tomato from my face, I gazed around to find its heaver and saw Sue Moyer, Dale Hilsmer, Diane Hall, and Don Sievert standing in the corner sheepishly watching me. The guilty ones! However, I decided not to prosecute. Instead, I sized up the situation and prepared to take necessary action.

However, before I could do anything, a group of sophisticated seniors consisting of Susie Bumgardner, Bob Ramage, Judy Evans, Dave Wallace, Jo Ellen Bobay, Al Sheldon, Louise Brown, and Terry Hoff joyously roller skated down the ramp and whizzed right past me!

WHAT IN THE world was going on in this school? Honey-K Martindale, John Addington, Jane Augspurger, Kenny Leakey, Kathy Kula, Ted Rolf, Ellen Mayle, and Curtis Holley were running races in center hall; and none of the teachers seemed to be doing anything about it.

It looked as if the racers were trying to catch up with Martha Dixon, Karl Bandemer, Jane Ladig, Bill Kleifgen, Joan Lambert, and Steve Tharp, who were already a couple of halls ahead of them. Marian Johnson and Rick Bear galloped along behind everyone, they were skipping rope as they went.

I decided that I should talk to some of the kids as my first step and ask them what was taking place. Seeing Nancy Augspurger, Dave Meyer, Sue Burdick, Jon Poto, Val Evans, Rick Brown, Janet Wening, and Tom Bear standing around the drinking fountain, I waddled over to them.

However, no sooner had I arrived than I was emulsified by water splashed by Cindy Snider, Bob Gifford, Kay Carrier, John Tholen (B.L.), Linda Anitbus, Tom Donahoe ('61), Trudy Estep, and Jerry Stout ('61), who were having a gay fight over the drinking fountain. All were dripping, but that didn't seem to bother them as they proceeded with their devilment.

THE BELL RANG, but no one paid any attention. They just continued on with their merriment, now led by Bob Lohman, Kaye Gal, Jane Finnell, Jerry Scherrer, Mary Jane Hake, and Tom Fraxell, who were doing cartwheels down the hall. Following close behind were Carol Ladig, Gary Tinkle, Mary Keegan, John Somers, (DePauw), Dianne Ball, Kenny Kleinfert, Sharon Graffis, and Dave Meek.

I gave up on them and started toward Linda Newell and Joe McComb (N.S. '60), who seemed to be acting fairly normal. However, before I reached them, Joe whipped out his squirt gun and doused Linda with it. This started a full-scale war, as Bill Honeck (N.S.) and Sid Sherry pulled their tiny weapons out and thoroughly drenched Dian Bright and Judy Gill (B.L.).

After this episode, everything seemed to quiet down. Oops! Spoke too soon! Silence prevailed, but everyone was looking at the ceiling. As I followed their glances, I saw to my amazement Sue Gerig, Steve Morley ('61), Kay Falt, Dick Emerick (Freemont), Steve Smith, and Jim Ellingwood walking around up there dropping peanuts to the onlookers as they went by.

Just then Christie Counsman and Gunther Bauer waltzed in and began doing the bunny hop. Grabbing each other's waists, Sandy Farmer, Dave Fleming, Patty Menze, and Jerry Morning ('61), joined in. This gay procession continued down the corridor into the study hall.

THERE, ALSO DOING lively dances, were Nancy Nordeen, Don Eisenacher ('61), Erin Rose, Jan VonGuten ('61), Karen McClmonds, and Bob Evans (Roanoke). However, they were executing their jigs on the tops of the desks.

They held everyone's attention until a loud shriek belonging only to Babs Fitzgerald echoed throughout the school from back center hall, and none of the teachers seemed to be doing anything about it.

They held everyone's attention until a loud shriek belonging only to Babs Fitzgerald echoed throughout the school from back center hall, and none of the teachers seemed to be doing anything about it.

By now I was so mystified I didn't know what to do. Never had I seen anything like this. Hoping to find some sensible people in the gym, I made my way there. The first ones I met were Diane McClure, Tom Shirmeier (Dayton), Janet Johnson, Bob Mills (N.S. '61), Burrie Spear, and Jim Grove (N.S.). They were swinging on ropes tied to the gym's rafters and seemed very content.

HOWEVER, THEY did interfere with the new kind of basketball game which Ann Henderson, Jon vanOosten, Barrie McComb, Gary Gemmer (Central), Maria Marshall, and Tad McKay were playing against Judi McKay, Tom Neuenchwander, Ruth Russ, Jim More, Karen Franks, Jon Lyon, Judy Rogers, and Tom Meyers.

In addition, the referees, Liz Weikart and Steve Simmons, were having trouble officiating the game because they could not figure out why in the world the players were just playing catch with a ping-pong ball. Oh well, wonders will never cease!

As I left the gym, I was almost smashed by two small cars, driven by Dave Tipton and Mike Sledge, and a tricycle, powered by Ben Smith, who were dragging racing through the halls, while Annell Hoover, Barb Spiers, and Sandy Stigall cheered them on to victory.

After that I just completely gave up. I guess I will never know exactly what happened that day; but in a way, I guess I am glad I never will. It might scare me!

The South Side Times
Founded October 6, 1922
CSPA: Medalist; Quill and Scroll: International
Honor Rating, George Gallup Award
Member of the Better Business Bureau

Entered as second class matter December 11, 1922, at the post office at Fort Wayne, Indiana, under the Act of March 3, 1879. Acceptance for mailing at special rate of postage provided in Section 1103, Act of October 3, 1917, authorized December 19, 1922.
Published weekly by the pupils of South Side High School, Fort Wayne, Indiana, except during the months of June, July, and August. Subscriptions per semester, $1.00. Composition and make-up by The School Press.

MAJOR STAFF

General Manager . . . . . Jenny Manth
Managing Editor . . . . . Susan Smith
Copy Editors . . . . . Ann Golden, Sue Kelley, Bill Wilder, Beth Burnett, Larry Lee, Janet Brenn, Sally Mallow, Sharyn Yerger, Barb Nelson, Roberta Twitchell.
News Editor . . . . . Kathy DeVore
Feature Editor . . . . . Peggy Schmidt
Editorial Editor . . . . . Bill Wilder
Sports Editor . . . . . Stuart Schmitz
Girls' Sports Editor . . . . . Janice Hahnwald
Make-Up Editors . . . . . Sue Kelley, Roberta Twitchell, Beth Burnett
Picture Editor . . . . . Betsy Adams
Photographers . . . . . Ken Lowden, Mike Seaman, Steve Jones
Head Typist . . . . . Leanna Morris
Business Manager . . . . . Barb Altevogt
Assistant Business Manager . . . . . Sue Moyer
Advertising Manager . . . . . Dick Parke
Circulation Manager . . . . . Marcia Kuhn
Outside Circulation Manager . . . . . Marcia Kuhn
Circulation Assistant . . . . . Lis Weikart, Doris Atzoff, Roberta Twitchell, Janice Hahnwald, Sally Adams, Lane Grille, Sally Sweet, James Rohrbach
Faculty Adviser . . . . . James Rohrbach

MINOR STAFF

News Writers . . . . . David Flanagan, Ann Flidinger, Ann Golden, Sharon McEachern, Dick Parke, Nancy Reiding, Bonnie Strehlow, Marzee Terry, Bill Wilder, Sally Adams, Doris Atzoff, Peggy Brant, Larry Brown, Pat Coad, Rosalie Curtis, Ann Henderson, Sharon Kari, Jan Reider, Doris Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chestnut, Karen Francis, Christine Fruenticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowen, Jan McGlin, Sally McCall, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Joan Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbourn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leif, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Boxmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Sauer, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Steve Lowen, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barrett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McComb, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jess Ann McGlin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kari, Mary Reider, Doris Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chestnut, Karen Francis, Christine Fruenticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowen, Jan McGlin, Sally McCall, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Joan Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbourn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leif, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Boxmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Sauer, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Steve Lowen, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barrett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McComb, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jess Ann McGlin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kari, Mary Reider, Doris Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chestnut, Karen Francis, Christine Fruenticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowen, Jan McGlin, Sally McCall, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Joan Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbourn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leif, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Boxmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Sauer, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Steve Lowen, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barrett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McComb, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jess Ann McGlin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kari, Mary Reider, Doris Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chestnut, Karen Francis, Christine Fruenticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowen, Jan McGlin, Sally McCall, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Joan Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbourn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leif, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Boxmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Sauer, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Steve Lowen, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barrett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McComb, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jess Ann McGlin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kari, Mary Reider, Doris Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chestnut, Karen Francis, Christine Fruenticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowen, Jan McGlin, Sally McCall, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Joan Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbourn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leif, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Boxmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Sauer, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Steve Lowen, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barrett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McComb, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jess Ann McGlin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kari, Mary Reider, Doris Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chestnut, Karen Francis, Christine Fruenticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowen, Jan McGlin, Sally McCall, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Joan Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbourn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leif, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Boxmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Sauer, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Steve Lowen, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barrett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McComb, Marcia Anderson, Cheri Hahn, Jess Ann McGlin, Judy Shadle, Beth Bradfield, Nancy Miles, Sharon Kari, Mary Reider, Doris Nancy Robinson, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Virginia Barnes, Sue Borgmann, Ginger Brown, Pat Cameron, LaVonne Chestnut, Karen Francis, Christine Fruenticht, Sharon Hardy, Steve Lowen, Jan McGlin, Sally McCall, Jim McCall, Larry Norman, Patty Phelps, Judy Rogers, Ruth Ross, Donna Squires, Karen Walker, Lis Weikart, Joan Hatfield, Debby Brooke, Chuck Bodenbourn, Allen Purdy, Steve Leif, Mary Graham, Sue Klingerman, Bonnie Strehlow, Debby Decker, Mary Jane Reiff, Suellen Boxmann, Sue Smith, Sue Harrod, Martha Lanning, Marcia Hughes, Nancy Ormsby, Sandy Farmer, Kay Wallman, Rae Ann Mote, Barb Ross, Sue Peters, Diane Smith, Erin Rose, Vicki Suetterlin, Becky Harsch, Barb Bussard, Cheri Craig, Dan Sauer, Terry Hoff, Patty Somers, Ann Weber, Steve Lowen, Susan Moyer, Peggy Schmidt, Susan Lawry, Karen Miller, Marlene Ringenberg, Mary Barrett, Sue Smith, Jeannie Braden, Marian Johnson, Karen Francis, Dian Bright, Ruth Ross, Julie Rhinehart, Sue Borgmann, Lis Weikart, Susie Weinraub, Karen Miller, Judi McKay, Barrie McComb, Marcia Anderson, Ch

Academy Of Science Sections Promote Individual Research

'NOW HERE IS' . . . Explains Karl Krause, far right, as he demonstrates the method used to measure the wave length of water waves to the heads of the Junior Academy of Science, left to right, Stan Moreo, Lyall Morrill, Ann Schilling, Dan McCroskey, and Linda Moody.—Photo by Jones

One of South Side's largest organizations, the Junior Academy of Science is the parent club that associates all South Side science clubs. Each individual science club is called a section of the Academy; and every student who joins a section is automatically a member of the Junior Academy.

Operating as an independent unit, each section has its own meetings and carries out its individual business. None of the sections charge dues, however; each member is required to pay the dues of the Junior Academy of Science.

Once each month, all Junior Academy members assemble at a general meeting. Here they learn about the activities of the various sections and participate in a program relating to science.

The Junior Academy of Science is based on the principle of study and research on the individual initiative of the members. "We do not force learning on the members; we merely attempt to offer the best possible opportunities for broadening scientific knowledge," says Mr. Robert Weber, adviser.

FOLLOWING this principle, the Academy provides an organization within which science-inclined Archers may share knowledge and may benefit from learning opportunities beyond the scope of the classroom. The club makes laboratory facilities and faculty assistance readily available to its membership.

Having formed three new sections this year, The Junior Academy of Science now includes a total of six science clubs. These active sections are Astronomy, Biology Experimenters, Botany, Chemistry, Mathematics, and Physics.

Sponsored by Mr. Robert White, physics teacher, the Astronomy Section is designed to promote understanding of the heavenly bodies and of the techniques of observing them. This section meets on alternate Tuesdays at 3:30 p.m. in Room 96. Its section head is Dave Schele.

Biology Experimenters Section is sponsored by Mr. Nicholas Pipino, biology instructor. The purpose of this section is to increase knowledge of biology and to promote understanding of the importance of science in our everyday lives. Led by Stan Moreo, section head, Biology Experimenters meets on alternate Thursdays at 3:30 p.m. in Room 91.

MEETING ON alternate Tuesdays at 3:30 p.m. in Room 76, the Botany Section especially emphasizes individual study on the initiative of the members. The group meets and takes field trips. Its section head is Ann Schilling; and its sponsor is Mr. Robert Weber, botany instructor.

Although the Chemistry Section is designed primarily for seniors who want to study chemistry more advanced than that covered in South Side courses, any student, regardless of grade level, is permitted to join. The club meets on alternate Wednesdays at 3:30 p.m. in Room 4. Its sponsor is Mr. George Davis, chemistry teacher; and its section head is Frank Lewis.

The purpose of Math Section is to learn mathematics beyond the scope of the classroom and to enjoy recreational mathematics. Sponsored by Mr. Robert Petty, mathematics instructor, the club meets on alternate Thursdays at 3:30 p.m. in Room 74. Dan McCroskey is the section head.

Any student may join the Physics Section, which is intended to provide an opportunity for studying advanced topics in physics. Meeting on alternate Fridays at 3:30 p.m. in Room 96, the club is led by Karl Krause, section head. Its sponsor is Mr. Richard Bussard, physics teacher.

Tom Watson Represents South As February's Junior Rotarian

Representing South Side as Junior Rotarian for February is Tom Watson, senior A. Tom and other high school representatives will be the luncheon guests of the Rotary Club every Monday noon at the Chamber of Commerce.

As a Junior Rotarian, Tom will listen to various speeches presented by Rotary Club members. He will also have a chance to talk to the representatives and members. The purpose of Junior Rotarians is to acquaint students with the function and principles of the club.

THE ROTARY CLUB, a service club, was originally started to encourage better relations in business interests. Membership is composed of not more than two men from each classification of business. The club itself is international in scope.

Upon being chosen Junior Rotarian by Mr. R. Nelson Snider, principal, Tom stated that he was very pleased and happy at being chosen for this honor.

TOM IS A MEMBER of South Side's Service Club. Outside of school, Tom is a member of DeMolay. He also belongs to Pilgrim Fellowship of Plymouth Congregational

Tom Watson

Church. Tom also enjoys hunting and sailing.

On the College Prep Course, Tom is taking English, botany, speech, sociology, and art this semester. His favorite subject is botany.

In the future, Tom hopes to attend Montana State College and become a rancher. Remarking on this ambition, Tom said, "Last summer when I was on a ranch in Montana, I decided that ranching would provide a very interesting vocation for me."

Room Agents

(Continued from Page 1)

|     |                                  |      |
|-----|----------------------------------|------|
| S-2 | Kaylene Gebert                   | 100% |
|     | Ann Golden                       | 100% |
| S-4 | Sandy Miller                     | 2    |
|     | Sue Phillips                     | 2    |
| S-5 | Sandy Thorn                      | 1    |
|     | Bonnie Russell                   | 1    |
|     | Sharyn Yerger                    | 100% |
|     | Sue Berk                         | 100% |
|     | Sharon Eitman                    | 100% |
|     | Joyce Lockwood                   | 3    |
|     | Becky Baughman                   | 3    |
|     | Book II—Doris Atzef, head        | 5    |
|     | Joyce Dunlap                     | 5    |
|     | Nancy Stewart                    | 4    |
|     | Celeste Riemann                  | 100% |
|     | Babette Jones                    | 100% |
|     | Peggy Schmidt                    | 100% |
|     | Roberta Twitchell                | 100% |
|     | Terry Newendorp                  | 5    |
|     | Barrie Spear                     | 1    |
|     | Susan Robinson                   | 5    |
|     | Book III—Roberta Twitchell, head | 5    |
|     | Sue Burdick                      | 100% |
|     | Nancy O'Connell                  | 18   |
|     | Gunther Bauer                    | 8    |
|     | Sharon Grafis                    | 8    |
|     | Leanna Morris                    | 100% |
|     | Eileen Mayle                     | 100% |
|     | Susan Simmons                    | 100% |
|     | Diana Ormas                      | 1    |
|     | Harriet Ochstein                 | 1    |
|     | Doris Hesser                     | 7    |
|     | Susan Lawry                      | 100% |
|     | Larry Brown                      | 10   |
|     | Sue Borgmann                     | 10   |
|     | Book IV—Tom Erb, head            | 10   |
|     | Linda Seibel                     | 100% |
|     | Karen Miller                     | 8    |
|     | Karen Minkin                     | 8    |
|     | Nancy Enz                        | 7    |
|     | Suzette Glass                    | 7    |
|     | Sally Henderson                  | 4    |
|     | Brenda Dull                      | 100% |
|     | Tom Erb                          | 100% |
|     | Cindy Chittman                   | 100% |
|     | Ann McCallister                  | 100% |
|     | Susi Hines                       | 5    |
|     | Book V—Sharyn Yerger, head       | 5    |
|     | Sue Smith                        | 5    |
|     | Barb Nelson                      | 100% |
|     | Lynelle Dill                     | 6    |
|     | Marna Reiber                     | 22   |
|     | Sharon Trulock                   | 27   |
|     | JoAnn Dixon                      | 100% |
|     | Phyllis Pierson                  | 100% |
|     | Sue Korte                        | 11   |
|     | Doug Hansen                      | 100% |
|     | Book VI—Sally Adams, head        | 10   |
|     | Julia Merchant                   | 10   |
|     | Christie Counsman                | 4    |
|     | Gwen Welling                     | 11   |
|     | Gail Woodruff                    | 5    |
|     | Sharon Karst                     | 100% |
|     | Sally Sweet                      | 100% |
|     | Sue Horth                        | 100% |
|     | Nancy Redding                    | 100% |
|     | Carole Ladig                     | 100% |
|     | Book VII—Lane Grile, head        | 5    |
|     | Tonya Hines                      | 5    |
|     | Bev Flanigan                     | 1    |
|     | Karen Franks                     | 1    |
|     | Jane Knettle                     | 10   |
|     | Marian Johnson                   | 100% |
|     | Diane Fredrick                   | 100% |
|     | Sharon Lynch                     | 24   |
|     | Sandra Clouse                    | 29   |
|     | Nancy Augspurger                 | 100% |
|     | Joyce Spindler                   | 100% |
|     | Sue Weinraub                     | 100% |
|     | Liz Weikart                      | 100% |
|     | Rosie Capps                      | 100% |
|     | Book VIII—Sally Sweet, head      | 2    |
|     | Ann Gallmeyer                    | 2    |
|     | Kathy DeVore                     | 100% |
|     | Martin Hoard                     | 4    |
|     | Ann Brase                        | 15   |
|     | Debby Brooke                     | 15   |
|     | Phyllis Bixby                    | 17   |
|     | Linda Thornburg                  | 4    |
|     | Liz Richter                      | 7    |
|     | Ann Flickinger                   | 5    |

Totem Editor Sets March 1 Deadline

March 1 is the final deadline for purchasing a Totem according to an announcement by Babette Jones, editor. The balance of $3.50 must be paid by this date for a student to receive his Totem in May.

Any student still owing money on his Totem must pay an additional 25 cents to have his name imprinted on it. A student who does not pay the remaining balance by March 1 will forfeit his Totem and the money previously paid. If a student wishes to purchase a Totem after March 1 he will be placed on a waiting list.

Only a small number of extra Totems have been ordered and the number to be sold in May is limited. Names will not appear on these Totems.

A STUDENT MAY pay the remaining balance to the homeroom agent from whom he purchased his Totem. Also the circulation managers or office managers will accept payments in the Totem Office after school.

Babette Jones is editor-in-chief of the yearbook and Diane Fredrick is associate editor. The circulation managers are Susi Hines and Barb Spiers. The office managers include Sharon Eitman, Sue Harrod, Marilyn Cole, Elizabeth Ellis, Jo Ellen Bobay, Sue Perry, Sue McGinnis, and Sarah Finch.

Sue Horth is senior class editor; Debby Brooke, junior class editor; Mary Keegan, sophomore class editor; and Sally Bash, freshman class editor. Assistant class editors are Ann Golden, junior class; Bonnie Russell, sophomore class; and Cindy Christman, freshman class.

KAREN SIMMONS is the faculty editor with Dave Flanigan as her assistant. Lissa Hoffman and Ann Petrie are the club and assistant-club editors, respectively. Heading the boys' sports is Terry Newendorp with Bill Borgmann as assistant editor. Sandy Thorn is index editor. Filling the position of girls' sports editor is Louise Jackson, and Bill Kleifgen is the boys' intramural editor. The picture editor is Dian Leath, and the music editor is Sally Franklin. Copy editors include Lyall Morrill, Cheryl Summers, and Sharon Carrel.

Real Estate & Insurance
Robert H. Carto
& Associates
3414 South Calhoun Street
H-8916 K-4909

Wm. A. Didier & Sons
Incorporated
PRINTERS
Letterpress • Lithographing
613-41 High Street A-3313

Maloley Brothers
Foodland Stores
With Six Convenient Locations
Office Located at
631 W. Jefferson A-6371

Jenny Slater Wins YMCA Swim Meet For Best Lifesaver

Winning the title of the swimmer most skilled in lifesaving techniques at the YMCA is Jenny Slater, senior A. Fifteen swimmers who have lifesaving certificates and are 15 years old or older competed January 21 and to determine the two winners of this title.

On January 21, swimmers demonstrated their abilities on a written examination covering methods of lifesaving, and a water test which included a cross-chest stroke rescue, diving for a ten-pound weight in water six feet deep, a saddleback or fireman's carry, throwing a ring buoy, and swimming five lengths against time in the approach stroke.

At the end of the day, four boys and four girls were chosen on the basis of points accumulated to compete in a second meet on January 23. Archers participating in this group were Virginia Rose, Dick Vaughn, and Jenny Slater.

In this competition, swimmers displayed their talent by demonstrating a cross-chest carry, a front and rear hold release, a double wrist grip release, front and rear surface approaches, and a front underwater approach.

Based on points accumulated both on January 21 and 23, Jerry Walters and Jenny Slater were chosen as winners. In each event the swimmer had a chance to earn ten points.

Jenny is active in GAA, majorettes, advanced tumbling, Junior Guard, Jr. Red Cross, and YWCA.

Speakers To Enter Manchester Contest

Participating in the Manchester speech meet on Saturday, February 10, will be 25 Wranglers. Contestants will leave South Side at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday morning. Everyone attending must pay 50 cents to cover transportation cost.

Attending will be Martha Dixon, Pam Buzzard, Shari Busch, Ann Brase, and Jackie Kuhns in humorous; Diane Fredrick, Logan Smith, Joyce Cossairt, Karen Ponader, and Martha Lanning in dramatic;

Tom Erb, Marcia Disler, Phil Spray, and Margie Terry in original oratory; Patsi Dorton, Bob Wasson, and Ken Davis in oratorical interpretation; Barb Nelson, Ann McCallister, and Christine Fruenticht in poetry; and Lex Smuts, Susan Horth, Rosemary Capps, Kathy DeVore, and Sally Franklin in extemporaneous speaking.

A mistake was made in the presentation of ribbons at the Huntington Speech Meet which was January 27. Ann Brase received a third place ribbon; but since that time, the speech meet officials have written to explain that Ann earned a second place ribbon, and Pat Slater earned a fifth place in oratory.

Philo Cabinet To Present Humorous Valentine Skit

Philo officers will present a humorous skit at the Monday meeting of the club at 3:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. The skit will concern St. Valentine's Day but will feature a surprise. Refreshments will also be served.

The officers are Lissa Hoffman, president; Erin Rose, vice-president; Ann Golden, treasurer; Julie Breidenstein, secretary; Martha Dixon, program chairman; and Ann Gallmeyer, sergeant-at-arms.

Erin, Julie, Martha, and Ann were elected at the January 15 meeting and installed on January 29. The president and treasurer keep their offices for the entire year.

Any junior or senior girl with an English average of at least a B is eligible to join the club. Dues are 35 cents.

"We are planning our banquet, which is about a month away, so all those who would like to work on committees should come to the next meeting," stated Lissa.

Lowrey Organs
Kimball Pianos
Costume Jewelry

JACK LOOS
MUSIC CENTER
1213 S. Calhoun St.
Phone E-2337

School Gains Freedom Shrine From National Exchange Club

FOUNDATIONS OF FREEDOM . . . Pat Slater, left, and Julie Breidenstein examine the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights which are part of the Freedom Shrine, the series of documents upon which American government is founded, presented to the school by Central Soya Company.—Photo by Lowden

The National Exchange Club presented a Freedom Shrine to the school on December 7, 1961, in commemoration of the twentieth anniversary of Pearl Harbor Day. Dr. K. L. Krider, on behalf of the Central Soya Company, presented the shrine, which is in the upper northwest hall.

The Freedom Shrine contains 28 authentic reproductions of documents which relate principles of America or are particularly important in American history. The Freedom Shrine includes the Thirteenth and Nineteenth Amendments to the Constitution, the Charter of the United Nations, Theodore Roosevelt's Letter on Cuba, and the Japanese and German Instruments of Surrender in World War II.

ALSO INCLUDED are Robert E. Lee's Letter accepting the Presidency of Washington College, McCallister's Christmas Message to his troops in 1944, the Gettysburg Address, and the Commission of General Eisenhower as Supreme Commander of "Overlord," the Allied invasion of Europe.

Other documents are a letter to Josef Stalin informing him of "Overlord," the Emancipation Proclamation, the Bill of Rights, the Declaration of Independence, the Monroe Doctrine, Washington's First Inaugural Address, Washington's last official letter, the Star Spangled Banner, and the Treaty of Paris of 1783;

DEPOSITION OF WOMEN soldiers of the Revolutionary War, Andrew Jackson's letter describing the battle of New Orleans, John Paul Jones' letter to Governor Morris, and the log of the U.S. Frigate "Constitution."

Patrick Henry's instructions to George Rogers Clark, Washington's copy of the Constitution, Benjamin Franklin's Epitaph, and the Northwest Ordinance, constitute the remainder of the Freedom Shrine.

Purdue Drama Club To Sponsor 'Gidget'

The Harlequin Club, a drama club, at Purdue Extension will present the play "Gidget" February 16 and 17 in the Purdue Center Auditorium from 8:30 until 10 p.m. The admission cost is 75 cents per person; however, high school students may purchase tickets for 50 cents apiece. Tickets will be on sale tomorrow, Wednesday, and Friday from 12:30 p.m. until 4 p.m. at Millers.

Two South Side graduates Annette Plesniak, '61, and Fran Hoffman, '61 have been cast in the play.

AUTO REBUILDING COMPANY

2316 S. Calhoun St. Phone K-8623
Fort Wayne, Indiana

Rausch
708 S. CLINTON ST.
JEWELER

Ingeborg's Beauty Salon

Also Electrolysis

617 W. Foster Pkwy.

Ft. Wayne, Ind.

K-3305

NICKLES BAKERY

"Service to Your Home"

Phone E-0455 1725 South Anthony

"Welcome 24 hours—365 days"

Belle Vista Lodge Motel

"Let Your Guests Be Our Guests"

Routes 1 and 3 South
5720 Bluffton Road
S-4950
Fort Wayne, Indiana

IT'S DREAMY and OH! SO GOOD

No. 1 HI-WAY 30 EAST
No. 2 CALIFORNIA RD.

AND NOW—NEW NO. 3

JEFFERSON
at
HARRISON

Hall's Drive-Ins

*THE FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING COMPANY, INC. EMPHASIZES ITS CAPABILITIES IN PRODUCING YOUR PRINTED PIECE TO YOUR SATISFACTION.

FORT WAYNE ENGRAVING CO., INC.
COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE
120 W. SUPERIOR STREET TELEPHONE E-0505

Consultation with master craftsmen on any of your graphic arts problems. At no obligation or cost to you. We are interested in your "job" in part or as a complete unit. May we be of service?

COMPLETE PRINTING SERVICE

Twist On Down to Join the Haag Record Club

5016 Decatur Road only

Join our record club today. No initial fee necessary—just purchase one of our many fine selections in either 45 rpm or long-play album. Your purchase will be recorded at the time of purchase in the price range selected. After purchasing ten records in a particular price range, you will be entitled to a FREE record of your choice in the price range qualified for. Join today and save the easy HAAG WAY.

Gary Froebel Conquers Roundball Squad, 73-59

'Second' String Of Devils Plays Three Quarters

Dale Hilsmier Scores 18 Points; Team Gets .433 Shooting Average

It's a good thing for Archer pride that Coach Mickey Sofiak of Gary Froebel doesn't believe in running an opponent into the ground. South can be happy that it suffered only a 73-59 thrashing at the hands of the Blue Devils and not a humiliating steam-roller treatment.

Playing all his bench-riders, Coach Sofiak kept the Bowbenders under control with constant substitutions, a fiery offense, and a sticky defense. Even though Kellys connected with much greater accuracy than has been the case recently, they couldn't keep the ball in play when the points were direly needed.

Just four tallies behind at half-time and eight at the three quarter pole, the Green was trampled by the Froebel starting five, playing for the first time in the game in the fourth period.

THE ARROW-FLINGERS crept off to a 15-11 lead in the first quarter as the starting five handled the Devils' second string with comparative ease. Somewhat dazed by the lack of competition off the boards, the Bowmen little realized what a long night it was going to be.

Sofiak's boys began hitting in the second quarter with much greater regularity than in the first stanza. They were aided by a multitude of fouls called on South and the correspondingly monstrous number of gift tosses from the charity stripe. Outpointing the Green 20-12 in that period, the home team rolled out in front to stay, still not having fielded the big five.

Even though the Devils weren't hitting well, 27 for 81 or .333, they had pretty solid claims on the territory of backboard and allowed fair claim jumpers to escape with the treasure, the ball. Senior Fred Morris, who led the Horned-men with 12 notches, paced the squad the third quarter to a 49-41 lead after 24 minutes of play. The Bowmen were in foul trouble, and the defense was a little shaky; but they were worked up enough to try to overcome that slight lead.

THE REICHERT-MEN were surprised to find, as the fourth period progressed, that Sofiak had pulled out the little Devils and their fire-crackers had rolled in the big Devils.

South responded to the higher-class opponents favorably, but not favorably enough to prevent being outscored 24-18 in the closing second. "Little O," Orsten Art's connected at a Devilish clip to pot ten points in the eight minutes he played. Kelly fans shudder to think of what he could have done if he had played the full game.

The Green did not play a bad game; Froebel was merely a much superior team. The Archer's snipers tore the cords for 26 of 60 shots, a .433 average. They were unlucky at the foul line, getting just 7 of 13, but that made no difference in the score. Dale Hilsmier led all scorers with 18, followed by Mart Platue with 13. Tom McMahan and Ken Keakey were also in double figures, getting 11 and 10 respectively.

City Scoreboard

| City Series       |      |     |      |     |     |       |
|-------------------|------|-----|------|-----|-----|-------|
| Team              | W    | L   | Pct. | P   | OP  | GB    |
| Central           | 5    | 1   | .858 | 405 | 352 | —     |
| C.C.              | 5    | 1   | .835 | 381 | 322 | 1/2   |
| North             | 4    | 2   | .668 | 381 | 318 | 1 1/2 |
| Elmhurst          | 1    | 4   | .200 | 280 | 313 | 4     |
| Concordia         | 1    | 5   | .167 | 292 | 390 | 4 1/2 |
| South             | 1    | 5   | .167 | 283 | 327 | 4 1/2 |
| Overall           |      |     |      |     |     |       |
| Team              | W    | L   | Pct. |     |     |       |
| C.C.              | 12   | 6   | .672 |     |     |       |
| Central           | 10   | 6   | .620 |     |     |       |
| Concordia         | 9    | 9   | .500 |     |     |       |
| Elmhurst          | 8    | 9   | .464 |     |     |       |
| North             | 7    | 10  | .406 |     |     |       |
| South             | 6    | 12  | .333 |     |     |       |
| Leading Scorers   |      |     |      |     |     |       |
| Player            | Team | P   | Avg. |     |     |       |
| Baack, Con.       |      | 230 | 15.1 |     |     |       |
| Krull, C.C.       |      | 265 | 14.2 |     |     |       |
| Hilsmier, South   |      | 242 | 13.7 |     |     |       |
| Esterline, North  |      | 241 | 14.2 |     |     |       |
| Leakey, South     |      | 232 | 12.8 |     |     |       |
| Edmonds, Cen.     |      | 224 | 14   |     |     |       |
| Bubb, C.C.        |      | 217 | 12.1 |     |     |       |
| Widenhoffer, Con. |      | 216 | 12   |     |     |       |

Red Cross To Make Gifts

With the coming of St. Patrick's Day, members of the Junior Red Cross will make favors for the disabled at the Veterans' Hospital on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Room 12.

Central Downs Archers 49-34 In Freshman Basketball Game

HARDWOOD FRESHMEN . . . Composing the freshman basketball squad which is coached by Mr. Preston Brown are, front row, left to right, Chip Bolman, Ron VanRyn, Lynn Hoover, Jan Doran, and Steve Butz; back row, Dan Junk, Mike Vogt, Dave Fishbaugh, Bob Kinsey, and Greg Riley.—Photo by Lowden

Loss of one of their star players did not hinder Central's Tigers as they whipped South Side's freshman team by a score of 49-34. High scoring forward Whitt, who canned 19 points in the last South-Central frosh game, was out with a broken finger.

The first quarter was close, the biggest lead being five points. Nate Miller sacked Central's first pair as he caught the opening tip from 6-4 Center Bob Barnett and popped it in from 20 feet for a quick two points. Dave Fishbaugh took care of that lead by faking out two Tigers, laying it in, and drawing a foul on Central's Tielker.

He capitalized on the opportunity and left the score at South three and Central two. Then Tielker tipped in a foul shot, and Barnett potted two short shots to give the Blue a five-point lead. South chalked up eight more, including a three-point play by Ron Van Ryn, and Central

Two Netball Squads Triumph In Contest

During the January 29 volleyball games, the Juniors defeated Team 1; Team 4 won victoriously over the Seniors; and Team 2 ousted Team 3. During the second game, the Seniors captured a victory over Team 3; the Juniors defeated Team 2; and Team 4 won over Team 1.

Members making points during the first game were Sue Johns, Jan Nahrwald, Cindy Russell, Barb Uhl, Jan Spuller, Seniors; Pat Abbott, Marsha Good, Judy Koop, Mary Ann Marker, Karen Plotte, Virginia Rose, Toni Sorensen, Juniors; Cheri Davis, Vivian Hedstrom, Beth Randall, Barb Shadle, Margaret Shirley, Kay Symonds, Mary Ann Waldrop, Nan Wallace, Team 4; Carol Doehrmann, Darlene Kissinger, Jean Longardner, Judy Preston, Vicki Palmer, Team 3; Mary Hahn, Jackie Kessler, Sandy Lindeman, Judy Zimmers, Team 2; Jean Hoelle, Roberta Hofherr, Sharon Karst, Paula Kline, Linda Lawry, and Janice Robson, Team 1.

During the second game, the Seniors making points were Sue Johns, Jan Nahrwald, Cindy Russell, Barb Uhl, Jan Spuller; Juniors, Pat Abbott, Dodie Kessler, Loretta Kimmel, Judy Koop, Mary Ann Marker, Joyce Politt; Team 4, Judy Davis, Vivian Hedstrom, Beth Randall, Margaret Shirley, Kay Symonds, Mary Ann Waldrop, Nan Wallace; Team 3, Carol Doehrmann, Charlene Kissinger, Cindy Koch, Jean Longardner, Judy Preston; Team 2, Joleen Crumrine, Linda Hicks, Jackie Kessler, Judy Zimmers; Team 1, Jean Ferris, Jean Hoelle, Roberta Hofherr, Sharon Karst, Linda Lawry, and Janice Robson.

FRUIT JUICES and PUNCHES —Delivery Service— Bowls, Ladles & Cups Without Charge

HOME JUICES 1816 Riedmiller E-6483

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Ready-to-Wear, Sportswear and Accessories

Southgate Plaza Ph. H-3282

The Snack Bar

3236 S. CALHOUN STREET
One Block North of South Side

7 A.M. to 10 P.M.

HAMBURGERS . . . . . 15c
FRENCH FRIES . . . . . 15c

Self-Service or Drop-Offs

Washed, Dried, and Folded. Finish Same Day.

1-Day Shirt Service.

Dry Cleaning

SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT

4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

Hi-Quiz

SUNDAY 5:30 p.m. on WANE-TV, CH. 15

The whole family will enjoy the new I & M Hi-Quiz, featuring teams of Fort Wayne high school students. Jim Jackson is the Quiz master. Be watching.

This Sunday: South Side vs. Concordia

INDIANA & MICHIGAN ELECTRIC COMPANY

Mural Men

By Dave Rodenbeck

The annual volleyball tournament is underway and wrestling action is beginning.

In the noon league volleyball, six games were played. In the only lightweight game, the Scrubs edged the Dukers, 15-13 and 12-12. John Grodrian came through with 12 points on serves to lead the Scrubs. Chris Raptis scored five points also for the Scrubs. Leading a balanced attack for the Dukers was Tom Parrish with seven points.

In heavyweight action, the Clods clobbered the Mighty Few, 15-7 and 15-2. The scoring for the Clods was very balanced, with Dan Junk and Louis Baughman each scoring seven points and Lynn Hoover getting five. Steve Nutman was the only potent scorer for the Mighty Few, accounting for seven.

The Meat-Eaters then routed the Bahh's, 15-2 and 15-4. Dennis Berryhill paced the Meat-Eaters with nine points and Dave Meyers scored six points. Gary Gerhold scored three points to lead the Bahh's.

Three Teams Win In GAA Volleyball

Last Friday ended the freshman volleyball tourney with Teams 1, 4, and 6 as victors. Linda Churchward tabulated 20 points to be the high scorer for the week.

In the first game Team 1 won over Team 2, 33-16. Team 4 chalked up Team 3 with a score of 49-14. Team 6 conquered Team 5 by a score of 38-26. In the second game to close the tourney, Team 1 beat Team 4 with a 28-16 margin. With a 29-21 victory, Team 2 won over Team 6. Team 5 was the winner over Team 3 with a 31-21 margin.

THE ANNUAL wrestling workouts began with an organizational meeting February 5, in Room 118. Those signed up for wrestling were Bill Roebel, Ron Woods, Roger Post, Rodger Meadows, John Rastetter, John Grodrian, Bob Horn, Don Potter, Don Carlo, David James, Mark Lowens, Maurice Snyder, Richard Burnside, and Tom Fryback, lightweights.

Those in middleweights are Dan Bishop, Dan Smith, Bill Ausderan, Bill Paris, Bob Bryant, Steve Campbell, Dave Smith, Steve Miller, and Doug Henschen. Entered as heavyweights are Bob McKinley, Ron Arance, Ron Brewer, Glen Crosier, Philip Baker, Jim Maxson, Leslie Marks, James Car-nahan, Dave West, Fred Plotke, and Steve Shroyer.

The purpose of wrestling is to create good sportsmanship, help in body development, and teach the basic fundamentals of wrestling.

Academy To See Film The Indiana and Michigan Electric Company will present a film on science in the light and power industry for the Junior Academy of Science meeting today at 3:30 p.m. in Room 76.

"Since this promises to be one of our best programs of the year, the Junior Academy invites all students interested in science to be present. Moreover, those who wish to do so will have an opportunity to join the club during the meeting," stated Lyall Morrill, president.

FOR TEAM 4 Lydia Budowski scored ten points; Sharon LeFever, four points; Lynette Downing, 13 points; Valentina Harabosky, seven points; Laura Graham, two points; Martha Moore, 13 points; Susan Haycox, five points; Jan Pfueger, 11 points.

Team 5's points were scored by Jo-Ellyn Good scoring five points; Darlene Neireiter, five points; Mary Ann Stults, nine points; Linda Stanger, five points; and Linda Churchward, 20 points. Alice Fruechtenicht scored 16 points; Leslie Froebe, 12 points; Sandra Reed, ten points; Susie Knox, nine points; Nita Quinn, eight points; and Phyllis Bixby, four points for Team 6.

Plans for the Class of '37 reunion are getting underway, according to an announcement by the co-chairmen of the affair, Miss Louis Kaplan and Mr. Don Reichert. A meeting to discuss the reunion will be Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Greeley Room. "All '37 graduates are welcome," stated Mr. Reichert.

Graduates Plan Reunion

Self-Service or Drop-Offs

Washed, Dried, and Folded. Finish Same Day.

1-Day Shirt Service.

Dry Cleaning

SOUTH SIDE LAUNDROMAT

4234 S. Calhoun K-1559

FRUIT JUICES and PUNCHES —Delivery Service— Bowls, Ladles & Cups Without Charge

HOME JUICES 1816 Riedmiller E-6483

GASS' LADIES SHOP

Willie Files Assists Hardwood Five, Keeps Record Collection

Willie Files, senior B, gives strength to the Archer cause through his experience gained in many basketball-playing years. Willie has attended South for one and a half years and has made a respectable hardwood record for himself.

Before coming to South, Willie attended Central High School. Basketball that it is in fair shape now and by Sectional time South should make a very fine showing.

He feels that Michigan City has been the Archers toughest opponent so far and cited Central as their toughest up-coming foe. He also placed Central in the number one position in the city at the end of the season.

Willie is on the general course and hopes to attend Ball State College. He plans to major in math or English and is undecided about continuing sports there.

Cheerleaders To Review, Stress Cheers Tomorrow

Old cheers will be reviewed and emphasized at tomorrow's pep session in the gymnasium at 8:20 a.m. in order to prepare the student body for participating in the yells at the Sectional games. Sharon Eitman and Marla Habacker will be in charge of this pep session.

The varsity cheerleaders will begin with "Give Me an S," "Victory Chant," and the school song. Spelling out South Side will follow. The varsity will continue with "Roll Call," "Beat Clap," and "Go, Fight, Win." Alternating cheers with the varsity, the reserves will lead "We're From South Side," "2, 4, 6, 8," "Two Bits a Peso," and "Give Us the Green."

The "Fight Song" and "Over Hill" will be played by the band. The yell contest with "Little Pep" will highlight the pep session. In conclusion, the varsity and reserve will lead "Go Get'em," "Good Luck," and "Go Archers."

When commenting on the purpose of this session, Miss Helen Pohl-meyer, cheerleader adviser, stated, "This pep session is important in the fact that the enthusiasm shown by the student body will be a great factor in determining our chances for winning the Sectional."

Safety Guest To Speak

Mr. Dale E. Amstutz, representing the Amstutz Insurance Agency, will be the guest speaker at the Safety Council meeting tonight at 8:30 p.m. in Room 182.

